

Chapter: 2104

I have to say that this Lai Shao looks very imposing, young, with extraordinary temperament, and a handsome guy.

The most important thing is that he is very energetic, not as soft and weak as those little fresh meats.

Many young people now hang around in bars and night clubs all the year round. At a young age, they hollowed out their bodies and looked particularly vacant. And this one is called Lai Shao, and it doesn't, this is rare.

When Lin Ziming saw him, he raised his eyebrows, hey, he caught his attention!

Originally, he didn't even think of this so-called Lai Shao in his eyes. After all, to him, no matter how big the boss of the group was, in his eyes, he also had an ant-like existence.

He was a fierce existence that killed even the strongest in the beautiful country, and he really didn't care about the small brother of the group.

However, what really caught his attention was the core of Lai Shao.

This so-called Lai Shao is not as simple as it seems to be very energetic on the surface, he is also a master in his own right, at least to the realm of the congenital realm of great perfection.

I'm afraid it's not far from the half-step Tongshen Realm.

This is a bit interesting.

Although Lin Ziming himself is now a half-step divine realm, he himself has seen a lot of half-step divine realm masters, and even a lot of connected divine realm masters, but that does not mean that half-step divine realm masters are flooded. Can be seen everywhere.

In fact, let alone a half-step master of the divine realm, even a master of the innate realm, there are very few existences.

Someone has counted that the proportion of masters of the innate realm in society has reached one in a million, that is to say, only one master of the innate realm can come out of an average of one million humans!

There are seven billion people in the world, and there are only seven thousand people above the real innate realm.

As for those who can cultivate to the innate realm of Dzogchen, they are even rarer.

Now Lin Ziming only stopped in the middle, and he met a master of Innate Realm Dzogchen, which was quite interesting.

And this guy is very young, he seems to be in his thirties, he is already a genius.

Such an Innate Realm Dzogchen master is actually still the son of a big group, which is also a rare thing in itself.

Lin Ziming also clearly discovered that when the so-called Lai Shao saw Ning Yuning, his eyes clearly flashed with covetousness and greed. The red heat already regarded Ning Yuning as his prey. .

No wonder Ning Yu Ning Yintang was so black that it turned out to be in serious trouble.

It is conceivable that if he did not happen to be returning to China today, and he happened to be on this flight, he would not have met Ning Yuning, and Ning Yuning would definitely be pushed into the fire pit.

This is the so-called fate.

It seems that the fate between him and Ning Yuning is still inexhaustible.

Lin Ziming laughed bitterly, and he didn't act rashly immediately. He planned to observe for a while to see how Lai Shaohui made things difficult for Ning Yuning.
