

Chapter: 2142

This is a bit interesting.

To be honest, Lin Ziming often hears that who is a genius, but in fact, besides him, there are no geniuses who are too much in his eyes, such as Shangguan Rufeng. In his opinion, it is nothing but genius. No genius.

Bu Jingyun and Shakyatuni, who had previously met in the beautiful country, were considered geniuses, but compared with him, they were still a little distant.

But the young man in front of him made him feel genius for the first time, and his talent for martial arts was probably not inferior to him.

He began to look at the young man, and the other party was still wearing ancient clothes, looking like a knight who came out of ancient times. This is really rare.

This young man seemed to have just done a trivial thing, the expression on his face didn't change much, and then put down the little girl in his hand, and left proudly. From beginning to end, he didn't say anything. A word.

Those who stood in front of him didn't dare to stop him, and quickly stepped aside. After a while, he left the crowd.

After he left, the crowd suddenly broke out.

"Wow! That person was a knight! He was hit by a car and nothing happened. It's amazing!"

"Yeah, yeah, and he looks very handsome, so cold, he must be the kind of super master in the movie."

"You just didn't see that he is still wearing ancient clothes. Is it possible that he has traveled to the modern age? Now many novels and movies are written in this way."

"Ho ho, in my opinion, it must be some Internet celebrity, deliberately hyping it! There are no knights, martial arts masters, they are just ordinary humans."

"Hope? No, the car was hit and flew just now. Why is this hype?"

"Nowadays, technology does not know how advanced it is, and the way it is hyped is so strange. What's so surprising about this."

Many people started to discuss it. Some people think that the young man just now must be a master of martial arts, like the one shown on TV. There are also some people who think it is hype. In this world, there are no martial arts masters. They are all deceiving from TV and novels, and they have problems with their beliefs.

Lin Ziming didn't have any interest in such a topic. He took his gaze away from the young man, shook his head, and then started to go to Shangguan's stalwart compound.

After half an hour, he finally arrived at Shangguan Wei'an.

"Hahaha, Ziming, you are here, come in quickly."

After seeing Shangguan's stalwart, he was particularly enthusiastic, and pulled Lin Ziming for a while.

His enthusiasm made Lin Ziming smile. Lin Ziming respected the old man Shangguan Weian from the bottom of his heart. If it were not for the painstaking efforts of Shangguan Weian over the years, China would not be so peaceful.

He is a martial artist, who only knows how to fight, but does not know how to govern the country, and who can really benefit the people and create a peaceful and prosperous world, he still has to be a person like Shangguan Weian.
