

Chapter: 2192

“It’s nothing, I’ll just find something to cover it.” Lin Ziming said.

However, Dilidal said something that shocked him, “My brother, who is about the same size as you, you can wear my brother’s clothes.”

Lin Ziming let out a cry, he was surprised, and said to Dilidal suspiciously: “Aren’t you afraid of me? I’m an intruder from another world.”

Faced with Lin Ziming’s question, Dilidal thought for a while and said, “I think you are different from other invaders, and you just saved my life. The patriarch told me since I was young that I got help from others. Benefactor, you have to pay back. If you are not good to the benefactor, after death, you cannot be thrown into the arms of the God of the Earth, the soul cannot get a destination, and the next life cannot be reincarnated, which is very miserable.”

She spoke very solemnly, and also made a prayer gesture, knelt down and kissed the earth, looking very pious.

Lin Ziming was still a little moved when he saw her like this.

From Dilidal’s body, he saw a pure soul. Not only Dilidal, but also the natives of this world, have this kind of aura, which is different from the people on earth.

Lin Ziming has a good impression of such a pure person from the bottom of his heart.

After thinking about it, he nodded and said, “Well, I will trouble you.”

“Well! It’s great that you were willing to agree!” Dilidal was obviously happy, and then he came directly to hold Lin Ziming’s hand, and took Lin Ziming to move forward.

Lin Ziming was taken aback by her action and asked, “Why are you holding my hand?”

Dilidal said strangely: “You are my friend now, I will take you home. Why, are you not willing?”

Lin Ziming was a little speechless, and said, “Are you guys saying that there is no marriage between men and women?”

“What is the incompatibility between men and women?” Dilidal looked very puzzled.

Well, seeing her like this, Lin Ziming knew that they didn’t have such a statement here.

It was quite comfortable to be held by Dilidal in this way. Dilidal’s hands were very tender and warm, and there was a peculiar smell on his body, which smelled particularly comfortable.

However, Lin Ziming still didn’t take advantage of her, took out his hand, and said, “I think you should first take out your brother’s clothes to me, otherwise I will be like this. When I get to you, I will definitely provoke you. trouble.”

Dilidal thought about it for a moment, and it was indeed true.

But she still feels a bit disappointed about Lin Ziming's breaking away from her hand. In her cognition, she thinks that Lin Ziming did this because she didn't treat her as a friend.

"Okay, then please follow me, our house is in front."

"Great."

After walking for about an hour, I arrived at a small city, not so much a city, but rather a tribe, a small tribe. Lin Ziming probably visually inspected the population. The total population here is only two thousand. The appearance of people is rare.

This was much smaller than the city he had just encountered.

"Diridal, where are you going with my clothes?"

There was a strong man who stopped Dilidal, who was Dilidal's brother.
