

Chapter: 2203

Innate realm, if this is in the secular world, then it is the overlord of one party, who can look down upon the heroes, but in Killing Heaven Sect, it is flooding everywhere.

If these hundreds of innate realms go out and invade any country, then it will be devastating. There is absolutely no country that can withstand their invasion!

And on a tall mountain of Killing Tianzong, there is a small pavilion in which two people are playing Go.

At the same time, a person said: “Tian Jue, your disciple is pretty good. He is known as the first martial arts genius in a thousand years. Now after entering the secret realm, within such a short time, he has already obtained two fruits. I believe that soon, Collecting ten fruits, you have stabilized the God-passing realm in one fell swoop. With your disciple’s talent, once you reach the God-passing realm, I believe there are few people in the world that will be his opponents.”

The person who is speaking holds Baizi, wearing a gray plain clothes, looking at Dao Bone Fairy Wind, his whole body is fair, except for his hair, there is no trace of hair all over his body, obviously this is a weird person, but in him It doesn’t look weird in the slightest on his body.

On the contrary, it gave him a bit of immortality.

The man opposite him, wearing white clothes, with very long hair, looks very young at first glance, but his eyes are extremely vicissitudes and deepness. In his pupils, it seems to be filled with sun, moon and stars. After thousands of years, it seems that he has experienced the entire civilization of mankind in his life.

He smiled faintly and said: “Xiaoyao is the chosen son of this era. It is reasonable for him to reach the current achievements. There is no surprise. This trip to the secret realm is full of threats to others, but it is For Xiaoyao, it’s just an ordinary journey.”

He spoke with a dialect flavor, very pleasant, as if it were the sound of heaven, the will of the world, and the sound that could be emitted.

“You have confidence in Xiaoyao.”

Tian Jue did not speak, but settled down.

After a pause, the person opposite said: “Tian Jue, you have been in the world frequently in recent times. But have you found Ling Qianjin?”

When Tian Jue heard these words, his movements paused for a while, his face showed some strange colors, and then he said, “Yes.”

“But have you found it?” The other party looked at him tightly, seeming to be very interested in this question.

Tian Jue raised his head at this moment, looked at the other party and said, “Kunlun, just say anything you want to say.”

Kunlun smiled and said: “Tianjue, we are also old friends over a century. If we get our daughter back, we might as well be a relative, what do you think?”

“In-law?” Tian Jue was a little surprised, then shook his head, and said, “Let’s find it first. In case she is already married, it’s hard to do this in-laws.”

Kunlun’s eyes flashed, but his mouth smiled and said: “If the daughter is married, I believe you will not spare the man, will you?”

Tian Jue’s eyes were cold, and he said lightly: “That’s natural.”
