

Chapter: 2311

If this is heard, Lin Ziming will definitely become the public enemy of all mankind.

Unfortunately, in this case, it is impossible to spread it.

In fact, even Lin Ziming himself didn't know this at all. He now has all the distracting thoughts at all, and now he is experiencing unprecedented pain!

When he swallowed the pill of good fortune and broke through the innate realm, he was already suffering enough, and the suffering was deep enough, but compared with the current suffering, the suffering of that time was nothing at all.

Now he is constantly being destroyed, and constantly being built.

It may be said that this can no longer be said to be painful, but to fall into hell and be tortured in all kinds of ways!

And this kind of torture, even someone like Lin Ziming couldn't help but screamed constantly!

It was so painful. He had thoughts many times. It's better to die. If this goes on, it's really better to live than to die.

At the same time, he also knew that once his will was relaxed and he couldn't hold his last breath, then he would really die.

When I thought that he still had many things to do, when he thought that he still didn't have a child with Chu Fei, when he thought that the future martial world would attack the world, he would go back to earth to protect these relatives.

He kept gritting his teeth, not daring to die.

Bang bang bang...

In his body, there were still explosions. He didn't know how to calculate it, but he probably felt it. His left leg exploded more than 150 times, and his right leg exploded at least two hundred times. Times or more.

And his hands exploded at least three hundred times, and his torso and neck exploded at least four hundred times!

This is nothing. What makes him most painful is that his head has exploded more than 500 times!

This kind of explosion was not just a slight explosion, but the entire head was exploded, and then blood grew rapidly, so repeated...

It can be said that he is no longer the same body he used to be, but has gone through thousands of tempers and is already a completely different body!

Finally, after three full hours of the explosion, he could feel that he had digested more than half of the energy of the fruits in his body, and the power and frequency of the explosion had slowly decreased.

At the same time, the pain was not as strong as before.

Now his consciousness is slowly regaining consciousness, not as vague as before.

And he can also re-perceive his body, regaining his intuition.

And as soon as he recovered in this way, he immediately felt that there was a huge amount of energy in his body!

It's not the same body at all.

Moreover, if his previous body was made of clay, then his current body is made of stainless steel and is indestructible! !

His strength has increased by at least a hundred times!
