

Chapter: 516

Even if Lin Ziming closed her eyes tightly, she could feel Chu Fei standing next to his bed, bending over, and leaning in front of him, her long hair falling down, and the end of her hair just touched Lin Ziming's face. It's itchy, especially when it comes to Lin Ziming's nose.

But the most itchy thing in comparison is Lin Ziming's heart!

Originally, Lin Ziming was a little sleepy and was about to go to sleep, but Chu Fei's arrival completely drove Lin Ziming's sleepiness away, and now she doesn't know how much energy.

In the dead of night, a man and a widow, living in the same room, whoever changes the man will be happy. The key is a woman no matter the size, appearance or the best, and the temptation is even greater!

Although Lin Ziming and Chu Fei have been married for four years, they are old husbands and old wives, but because of their special relationship, the two of them have been in an innocent relationship until now. They have never crossed over. In this way, once they In an ambiguous situation, the kind of stimulation brought between the two parties is even greater!

Just like Lin Ziming now, he is very uncomfortable. The temperature of his body has gradually risen. He doesn't even know how to deal with this situation. Should he continue to pretend to sleep or 'waking up'?

When he was hesitating about what to do, Chu Fei spoke again. She tried to stretch out her hand, carefully touched his face, gently touched it, and then retracted back, very timid, and then very thin. Asked loudly: "Ziming, are you really asleep?"

Lin Ziming thought for a while, and decided to continue pretending to sleep, perhaps Chu Fei would leave by herself when he saw that he was already asleep.

Chu Fei lightly poked Lin Ziming again, but she still didn't respond. Her original courage gradually increased, and she actually directly covered Lin Ziming's face with her hand, stroking it very carefully, especially tenderly.

Lin Ziming became more tense, his muscles tightened a lot!

Even his breathing started to be disordered at this moment, but fortunately, Chu Fei now focused his main attention on his face, and for a while, he did not notice that his breathing was abnormal.

Next, Chu Fei became more and more courageous, and began to touch Lin Ziming's face 'arrogantly'. Under the dim light projected from the corridor from the half-open door of the room, she carefully looked at Lin Ziming's unremarkable picture. face.

Obviously she has seen this face for four years, and she used to hate this face, but now, the more she looks at it, the better it looks. There is an indescribable charm. Looking at it, she gradually becomes a little silly. .

"Ziming, I actually know that I shouldn't have come to find you in the middle of the night. After all, we are already divorced. My behavior is inappropriate, but I really can't help it..."

Chu Fei muttered to herself.

"Fortunately for you tonight, I will definitely be bullied again."

"I can't remember how many times you have saved me. I thought it was you who caused me trouble, but now I know that the person who caused the trouble has always been me. On the contrary, you are always behind, protecting me silently. I....."

"Ziming, I always felt that I was the most unlucky person in the world. I had committed an unforgivable sin in my previous life. I will marry you in this life. It turns out that I was wrong. Marrying you is the greatest blessing in my life. Laiyue feels that it took a lifetime of luck to meet you and marry you!"

"I didn't believe in fate in the past, but now I am beginning to believe it. Perhaps the meeting of the two of us is fate. It is the best gift God has given me."

"Ziming, I'm sorry. I used to be so mean to you. I never sincerely admitted that you are my husband. I always think that you are rubbish and not worthy of me. Now I know that you are not worthy of you. It's me! And you, you obviously have a better choice, but you always choose to tolerate me."

"I now believe that sentence. I must have saved the banking department in my previous life, so I will be blessed to enjoy your care and love in this life."

Chu Fei said quietly at first, just mumbling to herself, but then she became more emotional, and she directly held Lin Ziming's hand, and she didn't even see Lin Ziming's eyelids jump a few times.