

Chapter: 522

“Well, I’m in the West End. It’s a bit far to come to the Weston Hotel. Or maybe I’ll make another appointment next time.” Lin Ziming tactfully refused.

Guo Junyi’s even more disappointed voice was heard on the phone, “Ah? You are in the Western District, why did you get there?”

Lin Ziming said apologetically: “I happened to come here to discuss business, and I won’t be able to go back for a while, so I’m embarrassed, I’d better make an appointment next time.”

“Okay, let’s make an appointment next time.” Guo Junyi sighed with endless loss and resentment in her voice, “Ziming, if you are here, you can take me out of the sea of suffering.”

When Lin Ziming heard this, he moved in his heart and frowned slightly and said, “Is there any trouble with you?”

He is at the Weston Hotel. If Guo Junyi is really in trouble, he can send someone to solve it.

Guo Junyi said: “Forget it, I’m entangled, so annoying.”

Lin Ziming probably could hear other people talking on the phone, indicating that there are many people in Guo Junyi’s place, and it is probably just some party they are attending.

Now Lin Ziming is a bit repulsive when he hears the word party. After these two days, he has already attended several parties.

After chatting for two more words, it was determined that Guo Junyi was in any danger, he hung up the phone with confidence, and then drank a few drinks with the employees of the new company. It was not early, so he went back first.

However, when he came out of the box and walked towards the elevator, he suddenly saw a group of people coming from the opposite side. Among them was a graceful figure, which looked very familiar.

Who else is it not Guo Junyi?

The worst thing is that Guo Junyi also saw him, and the two people looked at each other.

In the air, something called embarrassment appeared.

Lin Ziming was stunned for a moment, then he hurriedly lowered his head, turned and walked in the other direction.

This is too embarrassing, no matter how thick-skinned he is, his old face can’t help but turn red when he encounters such a situation of being caught on the spot! Isn’t it? Just a few minutes ago, he told Guo Junyi on the phone that he was not here, but met him a few minutes later, which was too shameful!

The most important thing is that with Guo Junyi’s personality, now that he meets him, he will definitely be entangled in him, which makes him the most headache.

So the best way is to pretend that he didn't see it, he quickly left, flashed it away and talked about it!

However, his method simply didn't work, because Guo Junyi had already seen him, and now opened his eyes wide, showing an expression of astonishment.

Recently, Guo Junyi missed Lin Ziming very much. After that night, she could be sure that she had fallen in love with Lin Ziming and missed a disaster. If she didn't know where Lin Ziming lived, she would have already found Lin Ziming's house. Up!

During this period of time, she would send information and call Lin Ziming almost every day, but Lin Ziming never responded to her very much, and the information often did not reply, which made her extremely uncomfortable. On several occasions, he even cried under the covers.

Because she was so bored and bored, she agreed to meet new friends at the invitation of her best friend and see if she could make herself happy. In the end, she was deceived by her best friend. It was a blind date party in disguise. A man had been pestering her and was so annoying.
