

Chapter: 564

Gu Hanxing went to retreat with the determination to revenge this time. He was determined to break through to the congenital realm. It was shameful! When he returned to Beitian, his father Gu Xuan gave him a severe lesson. It took two billion before he bought a first-grade marrow pill, while other people spent 300 million to buy the best marrow pill. This time Gu's face was lost by him.

So his father Gu Xuan gave him a death order, and he must break through to the innate realm anyway.

With such will and determination, Gu Hanxing believes that he will definitely be able to successfully break through to the innate realm. As long as he reaches the innate realm, he will be a fish jumped over the dragon gate. From then on, his status will be different, the sky is vast, let him soar! Even if his determination is firm enough, when it comes to breakthrough, the pain it brings is still unbearable for him!

The medicinal properties of Xisui Pill are too strong, and for ordinary people, it is a deadly poison. That is, only the super strong whose body strength has reached the peak of the acquired day can withstand the medicinal power of Xisui Pill.

But even if he could bear it, the severe pain it brought was unbearable enough. Gu Hanxing only took a little bit of his finger and it made him sore, rolling on the ground and sweating all over his body.

If it were not for his father Gu Xuan to supervise the scene, it is estimated that he would have given up. It would be too painful, and it is simply beyond the reach of people!

This is more painful than having a baby.

Although he is at the pinnacle of the day after tomorrow, it doesn't mean that this martial art has been cultivated on his own. In fact, his martial arts mainly relied on his father, Gu Xuan, to cooperate with drugs to forcibly elevate him to this level. If he relied on his own talent and will, it would be impossible to cultivate to the peak of the day after tomorrow.

So he is taking Xisui Pill now, and the pain and destruction caused to him has broken his mentality.

It took half an hour before he stopped screaming, the effect of the medicine was digested by his body, and he was gasping for breath, and he was covered in stinky sweat.

"Too, it's so fucking painful." Gu Hanxing cursed with lingering fear.

Gu Xuan said: "Now is just the beginning. Next, you will continue to eat the marrow pill, one a day, for ten days. As long as you get past it, you will be a strong person in the innate realm."

Gu Hanxing shuddered severely when he heard these words, his face was pale, and he shivered and said, "Ten, ten days? Guru!"

The sharp pain just now was enough to scare him, and if he had to go through it nine times, he couldn't keep going!

Gu Xuan's eyes widened, and angrily cursed: "What are you shaking! How high is the innate realm, and you have jumped into the innate. From then on, you are extraordinary. There are billions of people in the world. There are less than a hundred people who can truly reach the innate realm. If you can reach the innate realm, you will be a land immortal from now on, a little Lin Ziming, you can easily crush!"

Gu Hanxing was agitated at once, and he couldn't help being excited when he thought of the beautiful scene after he broke into the innate realm. But immediately, he thought of the pain he had experienced, and he immediately persuaded himself again. It was not that his will was not firm enough, it was too damn pain!

Gu Xuan saw Gu Hanxing's trembling, and he said coldly: "In any case, you have to persevere and break through to the innate realm, otherwise I can't spare you!"

Gu Hanxing slapped his spirits again. He was not afraid of anything. He was afraid of the stern father in front of him. He quickly said, "Yes, father."

By the next day, he started taking Xisui Pill for the second time to exercise his body.

Washing marrow pills, as the name suggests, is to wash the marrow of the body. This marrow washes the bone marrow, the meridians, and the five internal organs. It almost transforms the body on one side, which is equivalent to ordinary people suffering from severe pain, all kinds of damage to the body, and painful desire.

Without breaking or standing, how difficult is it to break through from the acquired realm to the innate realm? It is equivalent to unlocking the genetic code of the human body, in a sense, it is equivalent to modifying the gene. It's not a person with great will and great courage, even if there is a marrow pill, it is impossible to break through, because it can't stick to it.

By the next day, Gu Hanxing felt more painful, and his body felt like being torn apart forcibly. That kind of pain, even more than the first time, was too painful to describe.

Moreover, he persisted for longer. Several times, he couldn't keep going and wanted to give up. He had no choice but to have his father Gu Xuan guarding him. No matter how painful he was, he didn't dare to give up easily, so he had to gritted his teeth!

When it was finally over, he lay motionless on the ground, as if he had just walked out of hell.

"Yes, I persisted for the second time. Now your physique has been significantly strengthened. Continue to persist. After taking the whole marrow pill, you are a strong person in the innate realm." Gu Xuan nodded and said with satisfaction.

Gu Hanxing looked unlovable. After a few minutes of rest, he stood up sharply with a carp, clenched his fists, and his eyes were bright, like two light bulbs that could glow.

He punched a set of punches in situ, with great power and power. Obviously punching in the room, he manipulated the airflow in the room, as if a tornado appeared out of thin air, and made all the furniture and windows in the room. It's screaming, especially scary.

“Dad, am I in the congenital realm now!? I feel that I have infinite strength in my body, and one punch can kill all the elephants!” Gu Hanxing said excitedly.
