

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 203

Tang Shaoyang opened the door, and he encountered a weird scenario. Behind the door was just a blank white piece. It was not a street in town or for that he had expected.

He furrowed his brows and contemplated for a moment. Hesitating for a while, he stepped out of the room.

Whoosh!

The scenery instantly changed, he was now standing on the sidewalk. A river of people and carriage walked bypassed him. People wore armor like him and people with normal clothes mixed in the street.

The street was paved neatly, and right to him was a big wall. The tall wall was around twenty meters or maybe even thirty meters high. He looked away from the wall to the building to his left.

The building was made of stone, while the second floor was made of wood. Even though he never saw what western medieval buildings looked like, he was sure it would be like the one he was seeing right now.

He looked back and was dumbfounded to see nothing. He just came out of a room, there should be a building behind but he saw nothing. In the next moment, his four subordinates appeared out of thin air.

It was the same reaction as him, they looked at the surroundings curiously. After satisfying their curiosity, then they met with their Boss's gaze. They were maintaining a respectful stance to their Boss which made things a little bit awkward.

"It seems we have to earn money for a hotel first, we don't have room to stay!" He pointed to their back, the four turned around were dumbfounded to see flat land behind them.

"Let's not waste our time! Let's go to the Adventurer Guild if you don't want to sleep on the street!" They looked toward the street.

The main street was big enough for ten cars to pass together. The sea of people, carriage, and unfamiliar buildings left them at loss. Cao Yuntai was quick with the uptake, "I will ask the guard!"

They were near the gate, and there were around eight guards stationed at the gate. Checking carriages and people who wanted to enter the city.

"Do you know their langua-" Tang Shaoyang had been hearing foreign languages earlier, and he did not understand a single one of them. However, when he spoke, he was speaking the foreign language these people spoke.

[You have learned Arkania Language!]

"It seems we don't have a problem here. Go ask the guard," he ordered Cao Yuntai to ask while he scanned the surroundings once again.

The guard was not an arrogant prick or typically someone that abused his status as a guard. A normal guard liked to help as he told Cao Yuntai where the Adventurer Guild was.

'The Adventurer Guild really existed...' the older man somehow could not believe what Gu Yingjie was true. Even though His Boss took the words seriously, he took that as nonsense.

"We just need to follow the main street," Cao Yuntai pointed at the main street with a stream of people, "The Adventurer Guild is at the plaza."

"Good, let's get going. I don't want to sleep in the street," the street certainly looked clean, but that was not a place for him to sleep. Not with his current status.

The group joined the stream of people in the street. He scanned the surroundings curiously, looking at the building with various kinds of signs. Tang Shaoyang took note of the building with an anvil sign, and sword spear crossed sign.

Blacksmith, he wanted to find a blacksmith to upgrade his weapon. He was so reluctant to change his battle-ax so he wanted to find a blacksmith to upgrade The Destroyer. He thought he could find one from the shop with those two signs.

"I guess that's an inn!" Gu Yingjie pointed at the building with the "Furias Inn" sign. Not every shop used a symbol for their business, "But I want to find a shop that sells Class Change Scroll and or even Skill Scroll," Fan Rui replied to his new friend.

Within the group, Fan Rui could only converse with Captain Cao and Gu Yingjie with ease. However, Captain Cao was staying next to his Boss. As for Liang Suyin, he remembered the warning for his captain, this kind of girl was Boss, not for him. He tried to maintain a distance from the girl, just in case, his Boss misunderstood him.

"Even if you can find the shop, we will not be able to afford one I am sure!" Gu Yingjie poured cold water to his friend with a smirk. Something like that would cost a lot.

"I wonder where's the other? Do they get teleported to the Arkania Continent? It will be much better if all of us get teleported to this town," Fan Rui nodded and changed the topic.

While exchanging conversation, soon they reached the plaza. The plaza was more crowded and large, many stalls were opened on the side of the street, selling various kinds of items. It was more like a traditional market, but much more bustling than a market.

There was a big fountain in the center of the plaza. Despite the crowd, the plaza was still neat and organized. Despite the crowd and how large the plaza was, the Adventurer Guild was easily spotted. The biggest and tallest building around the plaza was the Adventurer Guild.

A stream of armored people came in and out of the building, becoming the crowdest place in the plaza. There was a big sign with "Waskin Adventurer Guild" written on it.

"Waskin Adventurer Guild!" Gu Yingjie repeated the words.

Tang Shaoyang entered the adventurer guild while the four followed closely. The big double-door was opened, and there was no guard or staff greeted them.

Inside the adventurer guild, the big hall was divided into two. In the left-wing, he could see many people were drinking and chatting merely on their tables. As for the right-wing, the people were serious as they discussed something.

The boisterous atmosphere filled the hall, and at the end of the hall, there was a long counter that divided into two as well. The left-wing counter served the drinks while the right-wing counter more liked to be the official counter for the adventurer.

There were stairs to the second floor at the end of the side of the counters. However, each stair had two guards stationed, it seemed not everyone could go up there.

"Gu Yingjie, you know more about the Adventurer Guild. Get us the job with the highest pay!" Tang Shaoyang was unsure what to do hence he asked his subordinate to lead them.

"Alright, Boss!" Gu Yingjie made his way toward the right-wing counter.

"Guide Counter" was written on the counter and Gu Yingjie approached a lady staff behind the counter.

"Hello, how can I help you?" The lady that looked like in her early twenties greeted Gu Yingjie with a sweet smile. Showing two dimples on her cheek.

Gu Yingjie was smoothened by the smile and froze. Cao Yuntai shook his head and stepped forward, "Hello, we are adventurers looking for a mission," The older man cast a gentle smile on the lady.

The staff lady nodded, "Are you in a party? or are you looking for an individual quest?"
