

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 253

Tang Shaoyang came out of the tent, looking at the dark sky. The moon of this world was eye-catching as it was radiating bright blue light. After he stared at the sky for some time, he looked at the surroundings.

Chief Rick said he had a place for his village to settle. They were going to that place, deep into the dangerous Orin Forest.

He looked at the surroundings, the villagers were still grieving since half of them were killed by the Royal Knights.

"It's because of you, it's you!" Suddenly a man rushed toward him, bringing a spear in his hand. He was charging like a madman. The shout attracted the attention of the others.

Tang Shaoyang easily avoided the spear by taking a light step to the right. Then he gripped the man by the neck and pinned him down on the ground. He easily took the man down with a simple move since the attack was too sloppy.

"Because of you! I lost my wife because of you! You are the one who should die, not my wife!" With his body pinned down, the man did not stop screaming. By this time, the villagers gathered around but none of them came to help the man.

Cao Yuntai and the others tried to help, but Tang Shaoyang waved his hand to them. He was telling them to not meddle.

"What now? You are going to kill me too? Kill me! Kill me!!!" The man screamed. Chief Rick looked at the situation from the sideline, but he did not try to mediate. He wanted to know how Tang took care of this.

"You said because of me your wife died, correct?"

"Yes, if not for you, the Royal Knight will not chase us and kill my wife!"

"So Royal Knight who killed your wife, not me!"

"But you are the cause, if you are not seen with us, we will be safe from the Royal Knight. You offended the Waskin Family but we are the ones who bear the consequence, why don't you die!!!"

"Looking for someone to blame for your weakness, do you know that you are pathetic? You are alive but your wife died? Then why didn't you protect your wife?" Tang Shaoyang flipped the man's body and stared him into the eyes.

"You can't protect your wife, but you blame me instead for your inability to protect your wife. Are you doing this so you can feel better?"

"You! It's you! If you didn't offend the Church and the City Lord, why would they chase after us!? All of this because of you!"

"I see, so my existence that caused your wife to die, right?" Tang Shaoyang was not angry, he was extremely calm, "If I don't exist, then you will be food for the Dire Wolf. I fought and killed the Dire Wolf King, I saved your ass, without me you will be long gone, idiot!" He punched the man's nose.

After the punch, he released the man and stood up, "I actually don't know why The Royal Knight also wants to capture me or even started killing your people, but it does not change the fact that the Royal Knight is the culprit. The Royal Knights are the ones who killed your people but you are too cowardly, thinking you can't win against them so you try to shift the blame onto me since I am easier to confront because I am alone!"

He bent down and pulled the man's hair, pulling his face closer, "That's why you are pathetic, what you can do is only shifting the blame, you never thought of avenging your wife. You are a coward, your wife died because you failed to protect her, not because of me."

Tang Shaoyang released the man's hair, "I will get my revenge, I will make the Church and also the city to pay for what they have done! I will make sure they will pay!" After saying that, he left the crowd.

No one blocked his path or shouted to blame him. As for the man who tried to kill him, he was crying while laying down on the ground.

Tang Shaoyang walked toward the dark woods, Delia tried to chase after him, but Elin held her, "Don't, let's give him some time alone."

—What are you going to do now? Will you go back to fight them?

Zowen knew that the man was serious when he said about the revenge.

"No, I will not attack them now, of course. Even though the Guardian Knight and the Royal Knight were not an issue, but Templar Knight and Grand Royal Knight are. I am confident to fight five of them at once but more than that is too risky."

Walking in the forest for a while, he found a big boulder. He hopped on the boulder, "It's a pity that I can't visit the Realm Tower," Tang Shaoyang's regret was the fact he did not manage to visit the Realm Tower.

—It's indeed a pity, but I am quite excited as well. The fact that skill such as [Revival] exists, means there is hope for us.

It was rare for Zanoes to get excited. But the Demon Swordsman could not hide his excitement as it was clear from his voice. Discovering [Revival] was a big breakthrough to their plan, meaning it was not impossible for them to get resurrected.

Tang Shaoyang was quite happy for them. He was not afraid of losing the spirits since he could summon more spirits with his skill. Zowen immediately joined the conversation excitedly, even Karan was also excited about [Revival].

'I gained so many levels from killing the knights, let's see...'

The conversation in his head suddenly stopped. Yes, Zaneos and Zowen stopped their conversation upon the sight of his status screen. All his attributes all doubled.

—At this point, I have numbed looking at your status screen. Within a day all your attributes doubled Zaneos was the first one to speak and followed by Zowen.

—At this point, offending those fake gods is worth it. Since you are their enemy, you have enough reason to attack the Realm Tower. You can plunder the tower and get all the skills from the tower.

Realm Tower was a force that was associated with the gods, the gods admitted that when they had a chat.

"That's my plan, but as I said, I have to make the preparation first. In the first month, I will level up my second class, getting the 2nd Advancement of my second class is my priority," Tang Shaoyang grinned ear to ear. Looting the Realm Tower and bringing all the skill scrolls with him back to Earth. By doing that, without a doubt, Tarrior would be an unstoppable force under his banner.

"For now, let's distribute the attribute points first," he allocated the free points to Strength, Agility, Stamina, and Vitality. He did not add his free points to Magic Power because he could get Magic Power from his class and skill.
