

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 292

Tang Shaoyang slowly got up, he looked up to the dragon. The Dragon's body remained still, he gazed into the closed eyes for a moment before focusing his gaze on the transparent screen in front of his eyes.

[Do you want to process your Class Advancement? Yes/No?]

He chose yes, he had chosen his path and he had to live with it even with the regret and the guilt. He was not as excited as before.

Tang Shaoyang was prepared to enter the white room, but it was the same for the second class advancement.

After the class advancement, he pressed on the Talent Advancement. He could see the exclamation mark next to his talent, a sign for the next advancement for his talent. He tapped the exclamation mark and his talent tree opened.

He had Divine Body (Strength) and Divine Body (Vitality) opened, but from the choices, he could not choose the next talent before he completed the Divine Body.

[Divine Body (Agility)] [Divine Body (Stamina)] [Divine Body (Magic Power)] [Divine Body (Sense)]

He had to open all these four first to complete the Divine Body before he could upgrade his talent. But this time, it did not take him a long time to choose. He chose to open [Divine Body (Magic Power)] as he realized that all his power and skill centralized on Magic Power.

—This... He could be a lot stronger than us when he resurrected us later...

Zowen whispered, thinking Tang Shaoyang might not hear her. Of course, Tang Shaoyang heard her, she was talking in his head.

—That is for sure he will be a lot stronger than us. It's a Dragon Bloodline, added with his talent and absurd Class, it is just a matter of time he would surpass us.

Zaneos replied without lowering his voice. He did not care if Tang Shaoyang became a lot stronger as he believed Tang Shaoyang was a man with a principle.

—But he is already stronger than you, Lightning B*tch. You lost against him even before he got the bloodline.

Karan could not help but to join the conversation too. Of course, he always tried to mock the prideful Zowen.

—Shut up, C-Tier Spirit! You are weaker than me!

—But I never lost against him while you lost, the grade could be misleading and it does not tell us who's stronger in the battle. Between you and Zaneos, I believe you will be killed by him if you meet Zaneos on the battlefield.

At Karan's harsh rebuttal, Zowen fell into silence. Her silence was the fact that she indirectly admitted that she did not necessarily win against Zaneos.

—Rather than that nonsense rank, I am more interested in our Master's future path. The Dragon and his wife have seen our Master's future path and he said it will be a tough path. Aren't you guys curious what he will face that even with his absurd class and talent, he will still have a rough path? At this point, I don't even care about my vengeance, I just want to watch his journey.

The bickering suddenly stopped when they heard a sinister chuckle from the Demon Swordsman. For some reason, the two could feel the Demon enjoying and anticipating the future.

—Let's stop the talk, shall we? The upgrade is not over yet.

Tang Shaoyang ignored the chat between his spirits as he tapped the next advancement for his second class.

[Do you want to proceed with the second class [Slayer] advancement? Yes/No?]

He tapped yes as more notifications rang in his head.

Looking at the numbers, it consoled Tang Shaoyang a little bit. He got a lot in return, more than he expected. Then he allocated the points, he allocated evenly between Strength, Agility, Stamina, and Vitality. At this point, his allocation did not really matter.

"At this point, my plan of sending those heads becomes useless. If I become this strong already, I don't need that trick," Tang Shaoyang muttered in a low voice.

The reason he kept sending those heads was to terrorize the guard and the people in the city. It was to demoralize them, so it would be easier to break the defense when the Beast Stampede attacked. That was the plan, but now he felt that he could easily destroy the city alone.

—That's true, Second class and bloodline boost your attribute so much. You can easily kill the Templar Knight with your brute force already.

Zowen agreed immediately. She saw that his attributes were increased by five times, this kind of attribute should someone at level four hundred or even over.

—You can't be overconfident, we don't know what those Gods still have on their sleeve. Even though you have grown far stronger, those Gods are still far stronger than you. It's just a pity that the advancement prevented you from growing stronger. If not for the cap, your level should be higher from killing a dragon.

Zaneos' voice followed up. He was someone who always reminded Tang Shaoyang in this kind of moment.

"I know," Tang Shaoyang nodded as he walked closer toward the Dragon's body. The reason he asked for the body was to use the bodies as a sacrifice to call a new spirit. But after their short conversation, he was kinda reluctant to use his benefactor body for the sacrificial.

—Remember, you need his body for his interest too. You need his body so you can grow even stronger and avenge him! That's why he surrendered his life to you, so if you don't use his body, you disappointed him.

"You are right, I can't be soft after what I asked from him. It's my idea anyway," Tang Shaoyang nodded as he extended his hand toward the dead body.

[Spirit Summoning]

A hole appeared on the top of the dragon's body, the black hole sucked the gigantic dragon body along with the ice coffin. Each summoning was giving off a different phenomenon. Four times [Spirit Summoning], and it was never the same.

In a few seconds, the gigantic body disappeared into the black hole. The black hole suddenly enlarged, it expanded and slowly filled the space. Tang Shaoyang even subconsciously took three steps backward. He was afraid that he would get sucked into the black hole but his worries were baseless.

The black hole exploded into black particles, and the bright crystal cave blackened. His vision blackened by the black particles, he activated his [Spirit Eyes]. He thought the [Spirit Eyes] could see through the black particles, but it could not.

Tang Shaoyang was panicking a little bit, he thought his body was sucked into the black hole. But soon the black particles formed a giant sphere, covering the spot where Rumru's body was laying down before.

Tang Shaoyang furrowed his brows, this kinda took a longer time than before. Once again, the sphere broke into particles and revealed a figure behind the black sphere.

—It seems too soon for the farewell!
