

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 394

"What the..." Fan Rui's subordinate was shocked to see the explosion. He was not expecting that Commander Liang could shoot a fireball that big, "Even thousands of zombies can be burned with the fire, she alone should be enough to face a zombie horde!"

"Stupid! There's a limit to what one person can do. For an Elementalist like Commander Liang, she needs a lot of mana to continuously shoot the fireball," Fan Rui rolled his eyes to his subordinate as he imparted some knowledge, "Get ready, it's our turn now!"

Meanwhile, Su Hong's eyes shone brightly as he watched Liang Suyin shoot the fireballs, 'I know now what class I want. Mage, the Flame Mage!'

Su Hong knew there was a unique class called Flame Mage. He wanted that class, the destructive power from the Mage. He wanted the class, with that kind of class, he could easily level up.

"Attack!" Su Hong snapped out of his thoughts when he heard the cry from Wei Xi. He led his people to follow Wei Xi and the other Commanders.

Meanwhile, Zhang Mengyao, Yu Shun, and Liang Suyin quickly approached the gate. She wanted to destroy the gate before the main force arrived.

As the three and Yu Shun's zombie army were about to reach the gate, the gate was opened from inside. The three halted their charge and waited for the gate to open fully.

"Huh!?! They are quite confident they will win against us if they dare to open the gate," Yu Shun smiled. He planned to let the three Hammers and Crushers crush the gate. But it was not needed since the host opened the gate for them.

"General, do you need protection from my zombies?" Yu Shun glanced to the right and asked Zhang Mengyao, "I can have a few zombies to protect Sister Suyin."

"There's no need, I will protect her instead," Zhang Mengyao shook his head, "You can do your own thing."

"Hehe," the young man let out a chuckle, "Okay then, I will do some research with my zombies," after saying that, Yu Shun charged at the swarm of zombies with his own zombies.

Heron and Shredder were in the front while the nine Keepers circled Yu Shun. The other zombies created another layer to protect the nine Keepers and Yu Shun.

The group charged toward the swarm and the swarm could not stop the group. Yu Shun's group easily entered the city despite the swarm of zombies flocked out from the gate.

Zhang Mengyao shook her head at the sight. She stayed still and proceeded with the information from Wen. Most of the zombies were around stage-2 and stage-3, while the remaining were stage-4 and stage-5.

The Militia and the newly recruited Tarrior would have a hard time fighting against the stage-3 zombie while it should not be a problem for the experienced Tarrior.

"The stage-5 zombies are the main problem," she muttered in a low voice, "You follow me, Suyin. We will hunt the stage-5 zombies!"

"Huh!? Shouldn't we wait for the main force?" The purpose of the battle was to help the army. They needed them to level up and gain experience.

"I know, but stage-5 zombies are still too much for them. We should take care of the stage-5 zombies and let them fight the remaining. There are more than twenty thousand zombies in the city," Zhang Mengyao wanted to avoid casualties, taking care of the dangerous zombies by herself.

"Alright then, I will follow you, General," Liang Suyin smiled as she followed Zhang Mengyao closely from behind.

Countless zombies poured out from the city wall, and a thousand armies clashed against the swarm of the zombies.

Ten men squad, meaning a team of ten people would fight together. The ten people should stick together and fight the zombies. Even though the battlefield was chaotic, the Tarrriors were battling organizedly.

In the ten men squad, the Captain was the experienced Tarrrior with at least at level 70. And the squad would be composed of five Elite Guards and five Elite Warriors. A balanced group within the attack and the defense.

"Healer! Healer!" Amidst the battle, one Squad Captain shouted, asking for a healer.

A man with leather armor, holding a short sword rushed toward the shout, "Where's the injured?"

The Squad Captain pointed at his subordinate who got pierced on the thigh.

The man with leather armor approached the injured and extended his hand toward the wound, "[Heal]," he cast the spell on the injured.

Yes, the man who was holding the short sword was a healer. Even though they were healers, they were trained to fight, to use the weapon, and asked to invest their tributes in Stamina and Agility so the healer could have high mobility on the battlefield.

After healing the injured, the healer would maintain the distance from where the battle took place. The healer would avoid the zombies and be ready at the call.

Fortunately for the Healer Division, they had a capable leader. Kang Xue practically joined the fight in the frontline, leaving the command to Arina and Selena.

They were adventurers before, so they were experienced. The two took command and deployed the healers smartly, making sure that thirty-six healers managed to do their duty efficiently.

Despite the difference in the number, a thousand people pushed through their way into the city. Of course, it was thanks to Tang Shaoyang who managed to attract half of the zombies. If not, it would take longer for them to enter the city.

Two hours, it took them two hours to annihilate the zombie armies near the city wall and step into the city. The zombies in the city were sparse, they easily stomped their way to the center of the city.

However, as soon as they arrived at the center of the city, they were shocked by the scene. Two men and a beastmen were standing in the fallen building.

The thing that shocked them was not the three figures, but the things around them. Thousands of zombies were laying on the ground, limbless. The zombies were still alive as they squirmed around on the ground.

The three figures were Tang Shaoyang, Yu Shun, and Wen.

Wen watched the battle from the sky. After seeing the zombie armies posed no threat to the army, the Jade Eagle joined his Lord.

As for Yu Shun, he was looking for the Zombie Lord and the zombies near the Zombie to add them to his collection. He kept moving forward without caring about the other zombies until he met Tang Shaoyang.

The guy could not stop smiling as Karan had subdued Doron. The gap between the two was too big to the point Karan was toying with the stage-7 Zombie.

So as soon as Yu Shun arrived here, he easily captured Doron with his [Zombie Authority]. Aside from Doron, he had two new stage-6 zombies as well. He was happy with the harvest.

"What took you guys so long? I thought half of the zombies were already here?" Tang Shaoyang asked the people who just arrived loudly, making sure everyone heard them.

Two hours was too long. In the end, he had to decapitate the zombies' limbs instead of waiting for them to arrive.

'It seems I overestimated them too much...' Tang Shaoyang thought to himself, "Alright, kill the zombies! I need their body to perform Spirit Summoning!"
