

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 423

The first thing Tang Shaoyang did after hearing the Dacian Kingdom had fallen was to check the Territory War Game interface.

The Dacian Kingdom's name was gone from the participant list. Then he looked further down to see the Lionax Kingdom had a city under their names. That meant the Dacian Kingdom was destroyed by the Lionax Kingdom.

King Rudin was killed by the people of the Lionax Kingdom. This was bad news to him, indicating the Lionax Kingdom was stronger than the Dacian Kingdom. A stronger force to fight while his armies were not ready for that battle.

Tang Shaoyang closed the interface and gazed at the group in front of him. It seemed King Biron received the same notification. Through the Spirit Eyes, he could see the Zombie King was shocked.

He did not expect his long rival would be killed and the kingdom to be destroyed within this short time. It was not even a day that had passed since he left the enemy territory, now they were destroyed for eternity.

Happy? Of course not, King Biron was not happy even though his enemy was reduced by one. That was because a stronger enemy was waiting for him. It took some time for King Biron to collect his thoughts and come up with a new plan.

He ordered his subordinates to continue to walk after the man. King Biron eyed the man who was surrounded by the knights and also an infant dragon?

'That's why Sheron lost to him, he has this little dragon,' King Biron thought while his feet kept marching forward, closer to the man.

When the distance was ten meters away, King Biron stopped his advance. His subordinates made a path for him to take a few steps closer to the man.

Meanwhile, Tang Shaoyang immediately activated his [Basic Detection] on the zombie he suspected to be King Biron.

Name: Biron

Race: Zombie

Affiliation: Daian Kingdom

Evolution: Epic

Class: Undead King

Level: 421

Skill:???

King Biron was not a stage-10 zombie or even a stage-11 zombie. The zombie was at Epic Evolution. This was Tang Shaoyang's first time encountering Epic Evolution.

"This will be the true test of how strong I have become," Tang Shaoyang grinned. Instead of being nervous, he was excited to have the battle against King Biron.

He then observed the other zombies as well. King Biron had around twenty attendants that accompanied him. Five Stage-9 Zombies and fifteen Stage-8 Zombies.

This group should be the strongest bunch from the Daian Kingdom.

"Ruler of Humans! This one is the Ruler of Undead, Biron!" King Biron initiated the conversation.

Tang Shaoyang did not respond to the conversation. He merely observed King Biron.

Receiving no response, King Biron continued, "This King has a proposal! You should know that the Dacian Kingdom has fallen, and they have fallen from a strong foe! This King proposes that we work together to expel the foreign force before we decide who will become the winner of the game! Ruler of Humans, do you want to work together with this King?"

Tang Shaoyang was stupefied as he looked at King Biron. This guy was smarter than he thought of for thinking such a strategy. Alas, he was choosing the wrong partner. Never crossed his mind that he would work together with the zombies, not even once.

"Unfortunately, you are looking for the wrong person! I am not someone who will work together with my sacrifice," Tang Shaoyang saw the zombies as the sacrifices instead of enemies he had to slay.

From the little information he had, the Lionax Kingdom was far stronger than the Dacian Kingdom who was about the same power as the Daian Kingdom. Meaning, he had to be prepared to fight this Lionax Kingdom.

As for the Daian Kingdom, they were a stepping stone for him and his subordinates. They were the resources needed for his kingdom to get stronger. It was ridiculous to work together with the zombies.

'Heh, it seems resting is impossible for them now! They have to fight the zombies now if they don't want to get killed by the Lionax Kingdom's force,' Tang Shaoyang changed his mind.

The fall of the Dacian Kingdom was an alarm for them to get ready for the fierce encounter against the Lionax Kingdom.

'Before that, I have to kill King Biron first. The chaotic zombies are easier to kill than the organized zombies!' Tang Shaoyang sent a message to Zhang Mengyao. He was telling her to get Tarrrior ready for the battle.

King Biron stunned for a moment before he smiled, "How stupid of me to ask you to work together. I can turn you into a zombie and have you and your subordinates fight for me! Why bother wasting my time talking?"

King Biron pulled the silver spear from his back as he walked forward. His eyes were observing Aereion, the only thing he was concerned about.

"You should not get distracted during the battle, or you will lose your head," Tang Shaoyang appeared right in front of King Biron with his battle-ax. Dragon Destroyer whistled through the air, slashing toward the neck.

King Biron was caught off guard but reacted quickly. He crossed the spear to block the incoming ax.

Dang!

The collision caused a loud noise. At the same time, King Biron was flung backward, crashing into one of his giant subordinates. The King and the subordinate fell together.

"As expected of a King, he's not something I can take down in one hit," Tang Shaoyang hoped to end things quickly before the Lionax Kingdom to their door.

King Biron was not easily taken down. He got up immediately after the first exchange. His face was telling Tang Shaoyang that he was furious. King Biron showed his white teeth as dark energy slowly rose from his feet.

The Dark Energy slowly formed into a spear. One spear, two spears... a hundred spears made of dark energy floated around King Biron.

Of course, those spears hardly intimidate Tang Shaoyang, "Come!" He motioned toward King Biron to come at him, angered the Zombie King further.
