

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 444

Li Shuang felt uncomfortable down in her private region. When she tried to change her sleeping posture, she felt pain down there. Her eyes shot open and immediately sat up.

The blanket fell from the body, exposing her naked body. She sat there in a daze for a moment as she recalled last night's memory. It was fuzzy as if she was drunk but she quickly remembered everything.

Her cheeks flushed red when she remembered last night's action. She was embarrassed because she enjoyed it. Who expected that would be soooo d*mn good. Her reasoning was because she had not done it for a few years, but it did not explain why she never felt that good when she did it with her husband.

'Wait...' she realized that she was sleeping on the couch. The man was not here. She panicked and started to look around only to find her daughter sitting not far from her.

Her daughter was drinking the same strawberry milk. In her panic, she raised her voice and asked her daughter, "Where's the uncle!?" She rushed toward Jiaying and gripped her tightly.

"It's hurt, Mom," when those words flowed out from her daughter's mouth, only then she released her daughter. She did not realize that her subconscious action would hurt her daughter.

"Daddy is right. He told me that you will panic right after you wake up," Jiaying mumbled in a low voice as she rubbed her upper arm.

"Daddy!?" Li Shuang jolted awake and raised her voice with a hint of anger in it.

"Yeah, Daddy. The uncle told me to call him Daddy from now on because he has to be responsible for you," Jiaying nodded innocently as she observed her mother's naked body. It was as if the child came to an understanding.

Li Shuang's anger subsided. She thought her daughter was talking about her husband, but she was not. But then she realized the severe issue behind this, which meant her daughter was aware of what she did with the man last night, "Responsible for me? What do you mean?" Her face got even redder.

"Daddy said that you slept in the bathtub last night. For you to not get sick, he carried you out but then he saw your naked body so he has to be responsible for seeing your naked body," Jiaying explained patiently.

The explanation from her daughter caused her to smile. She was not aware of her mother's action last night and was relieved inside. But then, she looked at her daughter, "You don't mind having a Daddy like him?"

"I don't mind. Daddy is handsome and has pretty eyes. He is strong as well that he can beat the monster dogs away, and he is very good to me too," as she said that Jiaying waved the carton of milk in her hand.

'A carton of strawberry milk for your mother, huh!?' Li Shuang smiled while shaking her head. But she was relieved that the man that did not bat an eye to take people's lives would be so considerate to her daughter, 'Did he fancy me?' She could not help but think so.

'Wait a minute, it's not time for this...' Li Shuang realized that she was off the track, "Where's your Da- the Uncle?" She almost subconsciously mentioned "Daddy".

The thing she was most concerned about was that the man was running away after the deed. Sure, it was not that big a loss for her since last night would be an unforgettable experience, but hers and her daughter's future were dependent on the man. The man she did not even know the name was.

"Daddy is downstairs. He is going to organize the baddies, he said. Also, you should wear your clothes, Mom. Daddy says he will send someone to deliver the food for us," after saying that, she continued to suck the straw, slowly. Enjoying each drop of the strawberry milk, "There, Daddy put your new clothes there," Jiaying pointed across her seat with her tiny finger.

Following her daughter's direction, she found folded clothes on top of the single couch. Panties and bras were included. She was about to grab the clothes until she heard her daughter speaking again, "Daddy said don't forget to take a bath first before you wear the new clothes, otherwise it will get smelly."

Li Shuang froze, her hand stopped midair and turned toward her daughter. Her little girl looked at her innocently with a face, "I am just conveying Daddy's words."

For a second, the role between the daughter and the mother seemed to be switched between the two. Throwing away such thoughts, she grabbed the clothes and ran toward the bathroom.

Even though she was in a hurry to find the man, it still took her ten minutes to finish showering. By the time she finished taking a shower, someone knocked on the door.

Li Shuang immediately rushed toward the door and opened it. A young woman with a trolley was waiting in front of the door. The young woman was wearing an attendant's attire, having a good look despite lacking in a certain department.

For some reason, she was nervous and afraid. She was afraid that the man would choose the young one and left her behind. While she had a good body, she was thirty-one now. A lot older than the woman in front of her who looked around in her twenty.

The female attendant smiled sweetly at Li Shuang, "Good Afternoon, Big Sister. I am bringing lunch for you and your daughter."

While the female attendant was smiling sweetly, Li Shuang could tell it was a fake smile. She had been in the business world for years, she could easily tell that the smile was not heartfelt.

Li Shuang made her own fake smile that was even more professional than the young female attendant, "Thank you. I will bring the food by myself, you can go now."

The female attendant's smile froze for a moment. It was a quick three seconds before she forced a smile and nodded.

'Heh, playing a trick with me? Don't think I don't know what you want. That girl must want to seduce the man, and I will not let that happen,' with those thoughts in mind, Li Shuang pulled the trolley into the room.
