

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 490

The man was almost two meters tall. Tang Shaoyang had to look up to see the man's face. There was a slice scar on his left cheek and an eye patch covered his left eye. He was bald and there was a thick ring on his right ear, his right eye was looking at the two girls behind him.

Tang Shaoyang looked toward the guard who received his Game Coin, "I don't hear him saying we have to be checked."

"I am the Captain Guard of Biaska Town. If I say you have to be checked, then you have to be checked!" The big baldy told Tang Shaoyang. Some drops of the man's saliva fell toward him, but [Mana Shroud] was active. The mana protected him from getting saliva onto his clothes.

"But I see the people ahead of me were not checked either-" Tang Shaoyang was trying to reason with the big baldy. He was trying to avoid the conflict, he was trying.

"Boy! Don't you hear me? If I say you have to be checked, then you have to be checked. My words are law in this town!" The big baldy got his face closer toward Tang Shaoyang.

Tang Shaoyang did not know what the big baldy was trying to do, intimidating him? He was not a kid to get scared by that kind of face. He had seen a worse face than him, Bai Yuan's face was scarier, much scarier than this man for sure.

"Alright then, go ahead. What do you want to check?" Tang Shaoyang relented. It took him great patience to relent but he did anyway. People said patience was a virtue.

"First of all, the girl needs to get to a separate room to be checked. I will check them thoroughly. Second..." The big baldy tried to grab his battle-ax. Not only was the big baldy eyeing his women, but this guy was also eyeing his weapon.

The big baldy's hand reached to the shaft part. When he tried to pull it away from Tang Shaoyang, it did not move. He tried harder, but the battle-ax did not even move an inch to his side. It was as if the battle-ax was glued to Tang Shaoyang.

The big baldy reached the weapon with his other hand, but it was the same. His face turned red but it was to no avail. He was about to scold Tang Shaoyang but the words never came out of his mouth as Tang Shaoyang directed the [Slayer Domination] at this big baldy.

The big baldy's eyes opened wide as his face immediately lost its color. Just like that, the big baldy plopped down with his butts first. Terror mixed with fear appeared on his face as he looked at Tang Shaoyang in disbelief.

The big baldy wanted to say something, but fear swallowed his voice. No words came out of his mouth. The Captain Guard froze in fear.

As Tang Shaoyang thought, these hunters were rogue. The reason why nobles did not have an interest in the town was that these guys were lawless. The nobles wanted the dog that could be controlled, not a wild dog that would bite them back.

Tang Shaoyang took a step forward, placed his sole on the Captain Guard's face, and pushed him backward. At the same time, he activated [Basic Detection] on the Captain Guard. Nothing came out from the skill, meaning this Captain Guard had the same thing as the knights that could prevent the detection.

"That's enough. Nothing good comes out of killing this man, there's no benefit for us." Ashley said as she looked at the man with pure disgust. Even so, the Captain Guard cast a grateful look toward the woman. This might save his life.

"There's no benefit from us, but we are doing a good deed. We don't know how many women have been raped by this man. Killing him will help the fellow women from this guy." Selena said otherwise. She still remembered what happened to her twin sister. A man like this big baldy did not deserve to be spared.

Ashley could not refute Selena's words. What Selena said was the truth. Tang Shaoyang took off his foot from the man's face. The big baldy was relieved, thinking he was spared. However, the feet then stomped toward his neck. It was an instant kill.

The big baldy's neck crushed and died. Tang Shaoyang extended his hand and activated [Spirit Advancement]. The corpse disappeared into nothingness as he sacrificed the man for Crystal. He killed the man and left no proof behind.

Meanwhile, the guard who received his Game Coin was kneeling on the ground. The guard had his face to the ground.

"Do you see where your captain goes?" Tang Shaoyang asked the guard.

"I see Captain Mat heading out but I don't see him return to the town." The guard was quick-witted. He immediately gave the reply that Tang Shaoyang wanted.

"Good!" After saying that, the group entered the town.

The town had the ambiance of the medieval era. Even though the road outside was not paved, the street inside the town was paved with gray stones. The building was made of wood and stones.

"Where should we go now?" Tang Shaoyang asked Ashley. He knew nothing about this town.

"This is my first time visiting Biaska Town, I have never been here before," Ashley shook her head as she followed the street, "We will be looking for an inn to stay in for nights while waiting for my knights to arrive."

"Sounds good to me. We need a private room to talk," Tang Shaoyang agreed and followed Ashley. After he was inside the city, he realized why Ashley chose this town over the other two towns. Aside from the lack of presence of the nobles that might be connected with the Royal Family or even the Malone Family, there were not that many people in this town.

A less populated town served better for their purpose. That was hiding from the Malone Family for the time being. Of course, the town might not have been crowded with people, but it was not empty either.

They passed many people as they followed the street. Most of them were hunters with leather armor. They were attracted by the two beauties next to him. Not a few male hunters whistled toward them. Such things are meant to be ignored.

As they went deeper into the city, they met more people. Then they arrived at the center of the town called Biaska Square. There were a lot of people and shops opened in this area with a big fountain at the center. He could see many people also opening the stall, selling herbs; even something like the eyes of an unknown beast and horns was sold in the stall.

Ashley quickly found the inn, it was called Biaska Inn. From the building, it was the biggest building they had encountered so far in the town. The group of three entered the inn and was greeted by a male attendant.

"Welcome to Biaska Inn, how may I help you?" The male attendant smiled politely at them.

"We want a big room, the biggest room you have," Ashley replied tonelessly, showing no expression despite the polite reception she received.

The male attendant nodded his head, "Alright, please follow me." The male attendant then turned around. The first floor was more like a bar and restaurant, a mixture of delicacy aroma filled the first floor, and the people conversing with each other buzzed in his ears.

The male attendant led them to the counter on the first floor and left them with a female attendant, "5,000 Game Coins for Vip Suite per night, how long do you want to stay, Mam?" The female attendant smiled at Ashley.

"We will be staying for a week!" Ashley was bothered with the price. It was not her who was going to pay it anyway.

"Then it will be 35,000." The female attendant extended her hand toward Ashley. Instead of reaching the hand, Ashley glanced toward Tang Shaoyang, motioning him to pay.

Tang Shaoyang shrugged and reached the female attendant's hand.

[Do you want to pay 35,000 Game Coins to the attendant of Biaskan Inn? Yes. No?]

Tang Shaoyang paid the coins. He did not forget to rub the female attendant's hand with his thumb, causing her to blush, and lowered her gaze before their hand parted.

"Please follow me, Sir." After saying that, she came out of the counter and guided them to the stairs. The Vip Suite was on the tenth floor. It turned out to be worth the cost as Vip Suite was half of the tenth floor.

"Since you are staying in the Vip Suite, the food and drinks will be free during your stay, Sir." The female attendant informed the group of three with a bow, "If you need any service, you can call me, Sir. Biaska Inn will do its best to satisfy their guests!"

It was just a slight rub with his thumb, the female attendant wanted to throw herself at him. However, Tang Shaoyang was not surprised though. Because he had the money, the girl did not mind since he could afford a Vip Suite for a week.

Bam!

However, someone was unhappy about that. She slammed the door against the female attendant's face, giving them no chance to speak further, "Can you be serious and not flirty?" It was Ashley who did that.

Tang Shaoyang rolled his eyes at the woman and smirked at the woman, "What's wrong with me being flirty? Even my girl Selena says nothing about it. Who are you to rebuke me?"

Ashley opened her mouth as she almost blurted out that she was his woman too. But soon she realized that was something wrong to say. In the end, the girl turned and left Selena and Tang Shaoyang at the entrance.

"You should not tease her, Ashley just does not know how to express her emotion." Selena shook her head.
