

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 566

There was no need for Tang Shaoyang to have a second thought about it. He immediately chose to continue the trial. There was no hesitation in his decision.

[Are you sure you want to continue the Trial of the Epic? Yes. No.]

The system did not immediately grant his wish to continue the trial as it asked for affirmation for the second time. He did the same, immediately choosing yes.

[The Trial of the Epic will continue to the eighth wave!]

[Eighth Wave]

Composition: 120,000 Stage 4 Monsters, and 90,000 Stage 5 Monsters, 25,000 Stage 6 Monsters, 11,000 Stage 7 Monsters, 3,500 Stage 8 Monsters, 1,000 Stage 9 Monsters, 1 Epic Rank Monster

Countdown: 00:04:56

The eighth wave interface showed up. The wave was still in his capacity but there was one thing that bothered him. How could Duran Ambrose and Derekh Malone pass the trial? Not that he underestimated Duran Ambrose's strength but he had fought the man, and he felt that the man was not capable of finishing the seventh wave with an hour of rest with the number of monsters they had to face.

"Roan did mention that the difficulty of the trial depended on the class. A better class would have to face a more difficult trial of the Epic," Tang Shaoyang rubbed his chin, "Maybe I get the harder trial. My Class is quite strong even though it is useless now that I can't form a connection with my spirits,"

He could not get the answer as the system did not tell him the difficulty of the trial. There was no measurement for the difficulty. Roan did some research and reached that conclusion.

Tang Shaoyang shook his head and looked at his surroundings. Now he had to do something for an hour before the eighth wave came. He checked the interface once again and realized that he did not need to wait for an hour for the eighth wave.

"Three minutes?" He rubbed his eye, making sure that there was nothing wrong with his eyes before he checked the interface once again. It showed him that the eighth wave would spawn in three minutes and thirty-one seconds.

"I see..." Tang Shaoyang nodded his head as he realized something. For the additional wave, it would start immediately right after he agreed to continue the trial. The next wave might be the same for him, "Then there's no need to waste my time anymore," He then flew up to the sky and headed toward a direction. He wanted to choose the battlefield.

After seven waves, he realized that the monster wave would come to him instead of heading toward the stone trial. The monster wave was not attracted to the stone pillar but to him. It was as if they could smell him and chase him. Running away from the wave was impossible.

He waited for the eighth wave in the sky. Standing in the air, he scanned his surroundings. Three minutes was not long at all. It did not take a long time until he saw the swarm of monsters rushing toward him.

Tang Shaoyang did not stay still and rushed toward the horde of monsters. This time he did not immediately dive into the swarm. He was searching for the Epic Rank monster. It did not take long for him to find one Epic Rank Monster in the hundreds of thousands of monsters. The Epic Rank was noticeable because of its big size that reached five meters.

The monster had the head of a bear as crimson-brown fur coated the back, hands down to the legs. The monster was standing with two furred legs and a big claw within its two pairs of hands. Its crimson eyes locked on Tang Shaoyang who was in the air.

"Let's finish the big one first!" Tang Shaoyang did not want to risk his back being exposed to the Epic Rank Monster so he aimed for the strongest first. Even though the Epic Rank Monster was still weaker, it might hurt him, and maybe the only one who could hurt him amongst the hundreds of thousands of monsters.

He took out the Dragon Destroyer and dived toward the Epic Rank Monster. He quickly arrived before the monster and slammed his battle-ax downward to the monster's head. He did cast his skill at the same time, [Thousand Blast].

The Epic Rank Monster raised its four hands and a crimson barrier formed. The barrier surrounded the five meters tall figure as the battle-ax slammed at the barrier.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

A thousand of Blast hit the crimson barrier. The barrier could not withstand the blast. It disintegrated into pieces and the blast landed at the Epic Rank Monster.

"HUWOOOO!" A pained growl filled the atmosphere. Tang Shaoyang then retreated after landing the hit. He flew backward and waited for the explosion to disperse. At the same time, he checked the information about the Epic Rank Monster. As he attacked the Epic Rank Monster, he cast [Basic Detection] on it.

As he checked the Epic Rank Monster, the Epic Rank Monster interrupted him. The deafening roar came from the explosion, dispersing the explosion with and showed the Warbear behind the explosion.

"UWOOOO!"

"Epic Rank Monster and Epic Rank Beast are weaker than an Epic Rank Human," Tang Shaoyang concluded after he saw what happened to the Warbear. The crimson-brown fur was coated in blood as a thousand blasts hurt the Epic Rank Monster. Duran Ambrose and Derekh Malone could receive his [Thousand Blast] without being injured but this Epic Rank Monster sustained injuries from the blast.

He drew this conclusion based on his experiences. All the Epic Rank Beat, Epic Rank Zombie, and Epic Rank Beastmen were weaker than Epic Rank Human.

"Let's quickly finish the fight," Tang Shaoyang had a reason that he did not finish the Epic Rank Monster. It was to estimate how strong the Epic Rank Monster was in this trial so he could measure the difficulty for the next wave. Now he had found out how strong the Epic Rank Monster was. He felt that he could face even a thousand Epic Rank Monsters.
