

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 577

"You leave me with no other choices..." Tang Shaoyang shook his head. This was rape, not something he was proud of to do after what happened to his girlfriend. However, Zara did not give him other choices. He beat her in a fight but she was still unwilling to be his contracted spirit.

[Spirit Sacrifice] might be a good choice but he did not want to sacrifice a Grade SS Spirit. It took a lot of effort to summon one Grade SS Spirit. He did not want to lose the one in front of him. The only choice was [Divine Pleasure]. She was a woman even with wings on her back. However, he believed in his talent.

"I am sorry..." Tang Shaoyang's hand reached her thigh.

"NOOOO!!!" Zara screamed as she tried to fight back but she had lost all energy. Her body was too weak to fight back after enduring the pain. She could feel his hand on her thigh. Caressing her thigh.

Tang Shaoyang did not make his move directly as he waited for Zara to give up. He caressed her thigh for some time but there was no sign that the Exalted Fallen Angel would give up. No, in fact, Tang Shaoyang's action only angered her.

"Don't you dare to touch me with your filthy hands, Bastard!" Zara screamed.

"You are violating the rule of the spirit. You lost in a battle but you are still unwilling to be contracted. This is not my fault," Tang Shaoyang shrugged.

What he said was the truth. She lost in the battle against him. She was supposed to be his contracted spirit but she was using a loophole in the process of the contracted spirit. A will, if she had a firm will that she would win the fight. The magic circle for the contract would not appear, and she could not be contracted unless she changed her will.

It was two minutes of silence. The man was still caressing her thigh but Zara kept her lips shut, grinding her teeth silently as she looked at the man with resentment.

"Hah... I don't think that I will do this kind of thing one day..." Tang Shaoyang shook his head as his hand went further into the private area. There was a smooth fabric that separated his hand and the private area.

Zara's eyes widened in shock when she felt the finger reach her private area. The man really did it. She thought it was just merely a threat but the man was serious with his words. But this just confused her even more. She would not surrender even if the man did this. No, in fact, she was even more unwilling.

"You really give me no other choices, girl," Tang Shaoyang's other hand moved. He removed the armor that covered her chest and showed beneath the armor. There was a black fabric that covered her belly and chest area.

Zara gritted her teeth as tears started to gather in her eyes. Then she felt a hand reach her chest, caressing her breast gently. At this moment, she sensed a weird sensation on her body. Her mind was screaming, wanting to fight back. But there was a thing that weirded her out. It was her body that accepted what he did to her.

"Nggg~" As the man continued to caress her private area and her breasts. A soft moan escaped from her mouth. She moaned subconsciously as she felt a pleasure she never experienced before.

Her brain immediately jolted awake as her eyes widened in shock. Zara tried to fight back the urge inside her body but it was as if her body did not listen to her. Her body would not move even though her brain commanded them to move.

Meanwhile, Tang Shaoyang furrowed his brows. He was at his limit but the Fallen Angel had not given up yet. Yes, he did not plan to do it for real. It was just a threat so the Fallen Angel would give up. But his effort bore no fruit as Zara did not give up.

He was at his limit for sure. A defenseless sexy woman right in front of him. On top of that, her body was really his type. She had a huge asset, at least an E cup.

"Ahn~" Another moan escaped Zara's mouth. This time, she did the unexpected where she got up and hugged Tang Shaoyang, and whispered in a soft voice, "More~ More~"

That whisper was a trigger for Tang Shaoyang. He did not care anymore what he did was wrong or right. He ripped apart the black fabric and pulled over the battle skirt. As he fondled her breast, he ripped apart her pants as well, revealing her private area.

Zara did not know what happened to her but there was a strong desire that she could not fight back. Her mind was screaming that she did not want this but her body accepted the man.

Tang Shaoyang looked down and noticed that Zara's private area was already wet. That meant she was ready for the real action. He then canceled his transformation. There was no way he could do the deed with the scale covering his mighty rod.

The little Shaoyang had been erected tall, ready for action. Tang Shaoyang directed little shaoyang toward the wet private region and slowly the little Shaoyang entered the private region.

"Urgh!" There was a pang of pain. Zara felt that something was getting ripped apart in her private area. Then she sensed something big fully entering her body. She felt uncomfortable at first but as the thing inside her moved gently, the pleasure sensation returned. She felt an amazing sensation all over her body as the thing moved inside her.

'What is this? I never felt like this before...' She could endure pain but she could not endure the strong urge inside her. She felt that her body heated as she moaned again, "Ahn~ Ahn~ Ahn~" This time, that moan came from her subconscious thoughts.

Her mind went blank as she moved her body closer toward Tang Shaoyang and she whispered again with her sultry voice, "More~ I want more~" Yes, she wanted more. This was not enough. Faster, she wanted faster...
