

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 642

"I will deliver your order to Marshal Alton, My Lord." After saying that, Aki rushed away from the house. 'Hihihi, I made the right choice. Fortunately, I can't cancel the oath, or else I will regret it.'

Tang Shaoyang was waiting in his dwelling for half an hour. Of course, he was not idle as he tried his new skill, [Demon Eye]. During his evolution to a new race, his left eye turned into a Demon Eye.

But thanks to Zaneos, his left eyes that turned into Demon Eye inherited The Demon Swordsman's innate ability to read enemy movement. Just like that, half an hour passed quickly.

"It's been half an hour, I guess? I can't let them wait too long." Tang Shaoyang dressed up. It was just a normal long sleeve black shirt and black pants.

—Don't forget your eye patch! As the two tribes have fought the demon, they may change their mind and fight you to death if you show them the Demon Eye.

Rosalie reminded Tang Shaoyang to cover his Demon Eye. Lukan had a deep history with the demon. If he showed them the demon eye, they might fight him, thinking he was a demon. He had to be careful about that. That was why they asked the dwarf to make an eye patch for him.

He wore the black-eye patch to cover his left eye and muttered in a low voice. "So it's two weeks until the dwarf finishes the Dimensional Gate. Shall I bring the Tarrior here to level up?" He thought about it, but most of them were around level 50 to level 100. "I don't think it's a good idea. They will die instead of getting stronger, but Zhang Mengyao, Li Na, Yu Shun, and Lu An can survive well here."

"Let's talk it out with them after the Dimensional Gate is finished." Tang Shaoyang was about to open the door, but Selena woke up. "Where are you going?" She was sitting on the bed with the blanket covering half of her naked body.

"We have guests from The Elven and The Moonlight Tribe. They agree to surrender, but with a condition. I am going to meet them right now. Do you want to join me?" Tang Shaoyang thought about it, and it was not bad to let the two tribes know her women.

Selena squinted her eyes. For some reason, her sense tingling and something 'bad' was about to happen. She was about to answer no, but she changed her mind. "Ashley, wake up! We need to greet our guests."

Thanks to the two girls, he had to wait another fifteen minutes before they were ready to leave the house. He looked at the two girls weirdly, and even Ashley was confused about why she had to dress up. What was weirder was that he did not know where the two girls got the evening gown from.

Ashley had a light blue evening gown, and Selena had a red evening gown. Both had the same long off-shoulder evening gown. "Where do you get the dress from?" He never saw them with those dresses before.

Instead of answering him, Selena pulled Ashley to his right side. She moved Ashley's left hand to hook into his hand. After that, she moved to his left side and hooked his left hand. Just like that, both walked toward the Beast Coven's meeting hall. Tang Shaoyang looked at Selena, there was something weird with the girl, but he did not ask it as they proceeded toward the meeting hall.

When he arrived at the front building of the meeting hall, Tang Shaoyang saw two carriages parked there. He furrowed his brows as he sensed someone inside each of the carriages. He widened his senses and sensed four individuals inside the meeting hall. He recognized two of them, and one of them was familiar as well. As for the fourth one, this was the first time he sensed this individual. They were similar to the Elven but also different.

Tang Shaoyang glanced at the carriage as he bypassed them. 'What is this? Why do they separate like that? Do they want to save the hostage by baiting me with the discussion? Let's see what they will do.'

Tang Shaoyang entered the meeting hall. Inside the meeting hall, he saw Lusha, who was looking down at the ground. The bunny girl did not wear her armor this time, but a formal attire similar to the Japanese kimono. Her face paled slightly.

Next to Lusha, he saw a handsome man with white hair. The man had a top-class gigolo, someone that could live by selling his face. The weird thing was his pointy ear, but of course, he could tell that this man was The Elven. He wore a white shirt inside and a green vest outside. He was surprised that the Elven had the same attire as the modern clothing on Earth. 'At least, they are not behind in clothing, I guess?'

At the same time, Crown Prince Virion turned his head toward the entrance. A man entered the meeting hall with two women on his sides. He had a chat with Chief Alton, who was now becoming Marshal Alton. He tried to get the information about The Emperor, but Alton was very tight-lipped. The only thing he got from Marshal Alton was a name, Lord Tang Shaoyang.

Virion assumed the man was The Emperor since they were scheduled to meet the Emperor at this time. His guess was confirmed as Marshal Alton and Vice-Marshal Aki knelt toward the man.

Lusha immediately stood up and bowed her head toward the man. "Lusha greets The Emperor." She addressed the man respectfully.

The Crown Prince Virion was forced to bow as well since everyone did it. He got up and bowed his head slightly toward Tang Shaoyang and greeted. "The Crown Prince of The Elven greets The Emperor."

Tang Shaoyang motioned everyone to get up as he sat at the seat of honor where usually Alton sat. He waved his hand at the Crown Prince Virion and Lusha. "Let's skip the formality. Say the condition for you to surrender and wrap this up quickly."

Virion furrowed his brows... 'Sloppy' That was his first impression of The Emperor.