

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 657

However, Tang Shaoyang did not immediately interfere with the situation. He looked at the old Moonlight Rabbit, Auron, and then he looked at the Crown Prince Virion. "Do you have a specific reason to appoint Auron to be the second Vice-Legion Commander?"

There must be a reason for Chief Moon to push his own people to the position even though he said they could decide that by themselves. On top of that, Alton told him that The Elven and The Moonlight Tribe were in alliance, so they should not be fighting like this for no reason.

"It's for the following battle, My Lord." Chief Moon looked Tang Shaoyang in the eyes and explained. "I presume we will be fighting the three human kingdoms after we conquer Gigante Forest, right?"

Tang Shaoyang did not know why Chief Moon asked that, but he nodded his head. Everyone in the meeting hall was his people now, so letting them know was the best. "Yes. After we get all the tribes under our banner, we will start attacking the three human kingdoms. We will start with The Lionax Kingdom."

"Therefore, I proposed Auron for the second Vice-Legion Commander. He has a lot of experience under his belt, and I think he is the right person to lead an army in the war. I need someone like him to assist me in leading the army." Chief Moon expressed his thoughts. Yes, he never planned to fight for the position. "While at that, since Grand Elder Auron is old, we can nurture someone from our subordinate to succeed his position after the war."

Tang Shaoyang glanced at the group with The Elven. The Elven King and The Elven Elders were retiring from their position, and the new Elven Elders were relatively young. It could be said that they were a bunch of inexperienced. Moonsong's reasoning was right on the spot, but he did not agree immediately to it.

Since Chief Moon brought up this here, he might as well involve everyone in the discussion. He looked at Ashley, Alton, and Aki. "What do you guys think?" He involved the only Marshal and Vice Marshal in his force. Of course, there was a reason for this, even though he could agree immediately to Moonsong's proposal. It was to give The Elven some face. He had to pay attention to this kind of thing from now on.

"I don't see a problem here, My Lord." Alton looked at Auron before he replied with a nod. He agreed for Auron to take the position.

"Unless you have someone better than Auron, I don't see an issue as well. We need the experienced one to lead the army." After Ashley said that, everyone in the meeting hall looked toward Virion. Even though her words were not direct, everyone got the message. Unless you, The Elven, had a better candidate, Auron was the right person to hold the position.

Crown Prince Virion wanted to fight out the second Vice-Legion Commander so The Elven could integrate quickly into the Tang Empire's military force. However, when he glanced at his father, the latter nodded his head. The current Elven King told him to agree with the proposal.

'Hah. Even though my first son knows when to fight and surrender, his vision is still lacking. How can he not see that Moonsong only wants Auron to take the position until the war is over? On top of that, Lord Tang was clearly inclined to agree with the proposal. You should not go against Lord Tang, son.' King Revalor thought to himself. At the same time, he glanced at Aleesa. The fact that she did not voice any words in this meeting, meaning Aleesa had not gotten Lord Tang Shaoyang's affection yet. Things did not go as they expected.

Crown Prince Virion took a deep breath and replied. "I agree with Chief Moon's recommendation. We need someone at Grand Elder Auron's caliber in the war. I think this is the best for the new legion."

"Good, then it's decided that Auron will hold the Vice-Legion Commander." Tang Shaoyang smiled as he appointed Auron to be the second Vice-Legion Commander. "Then we will continue with the next topic. I want to hear your plan to absorb all the tribes in Gigante Forest into the Empire."

The first one to raise his hand was Chief Moon. Tang Shaoyang let the Moonlight Rabbit speak. "Before we come to that topic, I have a question, My Lord. What's the name of the new legion?"

"Name for the legion?" Tang Shaoyang creased his forehead. The first time he heard such a thing. He did not think that a name was necessary for a legion. "Yes, the name of the legion is the spirit for the army. I think it's important for a legion to have a name."

"If you think a legion must be named, then you can decide the name by yourself. You can tell me after you have come up with a name." Tang Shaoyang thought it was best for the one who led it to name their legion instead of him.

Chief Moon secretly glanced at Alton. He asked Lord Tang to name the new legion, but the latter replied flatly as if he was not interested. He asked Alton for that. Alton shook his head and nodded afterward. He got the message that Lord Tang would not want to name the legion, and he had to name it by himself as per Lord Tang's words.

"I have a good name in my mind. It's the Luminous Legion, the legion that will light the path of The Tang Empire." Chief Moon said the name with a smile on his face.

'That's a good name.' Tang Shaoyang said to himself. "That's a decent name."

'It seems I brought up something unnecessary to the table.' Chief Moon thought to himself as he heard the indifferent reply from Lord Tang.

"For the next plan, it's actually quite easy since we have The Elven, The Moonlight Tribe, The Beast Coven, and The Dark Tribe surrendered to The Empire. We just need to send a group of representatives to the remaining tribes. The group comprised for an individual from the great four tribes. I think they will surrender to us if we do this and if you want to conquer the forest without violence." Alton voiced out his thoughts.

"Of course, if you want to show off our military force, we can gather up the elite and attack the remaining tribes until they surrender. Either way, it is just a matter of time before they surrender to The Tang Empire."

With Alton opening the topic, every one, one by one, voiced their thoughts in this regard. The Crown Prince Virion did not want to lose to Chief Moon as he kept expressing his thoughts in the meeting.

Three days later

Tang Shaoyang arrived at Elven's territory with his four wives. Of course, the ladies dressed him again with the suit. They came to The Elven's territory for Virion's coronation as the new Elven King. The coronation was quite simple. The old King would put the crown on the new Elven King. However, today's coronation would be different because King Revalor asked him to do that instead.

As they entered the territory, a group of Elven greeted him at the entrance. Revalor welcomed Tang Shaoyang in person, but the unexpected happened when Tang Shaoyang just took his fifth step into The Elven's territory.

"Die! You lowly Human!" Everyone looked toward the voice. There was a figure on the tree with a bow in his hand, and he directed the bow toward Tang Shaoyang... The tree was just around twenty meters away from Tang Shaoyang, not too far for the arrow to miss.
