

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 690

"Huhu, your girl is showing a big improvement there," Zara commented as she watched the battle from Tang Shaoyang's side and added. "She killed five knights in five minutes or maybe less. It's pretty good for someone who never touched a sword until a few days ago."

Tang Shaoyang was sitting on the chair. The chair was made from the dirt, using his Elemental Manipulation. Three dead bodies were lying down in front of his feet as the whimpers of the knights filled the air. "I can't say that's a big improvement. It will be a big improvement if she can do that without the help of [Spirit Fusion]."

"You are pretty strict even though she is your woman," Zara commented, but then she nodded. "I agree with you about the improvement. However, we can only see the improvement when she reached the same level as the Revolution Army's average level. The reason you use [Spirit Fusion] on her is because of her low-level, right?"

"Yeah, we will see her improvement once she reaches that level." Tang Shaoyang nodded and looked at the counter soul. After killing three mages, he had another five Grade B Souls. "I see, a knight's soul around level 400 to level 700 is Grade B."

He reached that conclusion since the three bodies were level 500ish, level 600ish, and level 707 from left to right. Despite the difference in the level, they had the same grade of soul. He actually wanted to search for Grade A Soul, curious what he could summon with Grade A Soul.

Tang Shaoyang activated his Necromastery and summoned a new skeleton. He gave a quick check on the new skeleton's window status even though he already knew the skeleton's attributes from the Grade B Soul.

Clack! Clack! Clack! Clack! Clack!

The Skeleton made a series of noises with its jaw when it looked at the three dead bodies. The Skeleton's feelings were transferred to Tang Shaoyang. He could feel the excitement from the skeleton from the blood. Yes, the Skeleton was excited by the blood.

"What is this? I have summoned three skeletons, and three of them have different characteristics. The first one is quite greedy, the second is calm and hard to read, and the third one is a psychopath?" Tang Shaoyang muttered in a low voice.

The Skeleton then followed its gaze toward the other limbless people. The clacking noises were getting louder and faster. The skeleton was getting even more excited with more preys before it.

Tang Shaoyang extended his hand toward one of the people and used [Gravity Pull]. One body flew toward his hand, and he immediately threw the body to the front of the newly summoned Skeleton. It stopped making noises for a moment, glancing at the body in front of his feet before looking back at Tang Shaoyang.

The Skeleton was struck with confusion at first before it changed into an inquiry. Despite how psychopath it looked, it was still asking for his permission instead of acting on its own. Tang Shaoyang responded with a nod, and the Skeleton immediately lunged toward the helpless archer.

However, this one was not smarter than the first two Skeletons. The first Skeleton punched and slammed the head to kill, and the second Skeleton used a weapon to kill. This one was unique!? No, unique was not the right word; dumb was the right one to describe the new Skeleton.

The Skeleton lunged to the back of the archer and bit the man's head with its jaw bone. Yes, it was like a beast hunting its prey. The difference was that the beast had sharp teeth or fangs to tear their prey, yet this skeleton had none of it. It did not even have teeth, yet it tried to bite the man to death.

Zara was stunned when she watched the Skeleton before she burst out in laughter. The funny part was that the man was crying in pain while the Skeleton kept trying to bite the man's head even though it did not work.

Tang Shaoang put his right on his forehead while shaking his head. This was just beyond embarrassing, and he could no longer watch it. He took out a spear from his inventory and threw it toward Skeleton. The spear's shaft directly hit the skeleton's frame and bounced off.

The Skeleton stopped biting the man's head and looked at the thing that hit its frame. The skeleton looked at the spear before looking at Tang Shaoyang. It did not understand why its Master disturbed it, and Tang Shaoyang could feel the dissatisfaction from the Skeleton.

"Should I kill this skeleton and summon a new one instead?" Tang Shaoyang muttered in a low voice. "You should not kill it. You always need someone like this Skeleton in your team." Zara said some nonsense. At least, it was nonsense in his ears. "Also, what would the other Skeleton say if you kill one of them so easily?"

Tang Shaoyang rolled his eyes at Zara. "I don't think the skeletons get attached to each other." He believed that Zara told him to keep the Skeleton for fun. "Pick the spear and kill that man with the spear!"

The Skeleton picked up the spear with both of his arms. It did not immediately stab the man with the spear as it tried to get a good grip on the spear first. After a while, it nodded its head and stabbed the spear to the man's head.

The spear pierced through the man's skull and immediately died right after. However, the Skeleton did not stop. It repeatedly stabbed the man's head, then lowered the stab to the chest area. As it stabbed the man repeatedly, clacking noises of its jaw filled the air.

Tang Shaoyang was picturing a psychopath killing their target, mutilating their target into pieces or something. He frowned at the unsightly sight and stopped the skeleton. "Enough!" Only after hearing his command did the Skeleton stop.

The Skeleton turned around and looked toward Tang Shaoyang for a while before glancing at the other people. "Stay there and don't move!" Tang Shaoyang ordered the Skeleton.

Despite the disappointment he felt from the skeleton, it followed his order. It stood next to the unrecognizable corpse and held the spear tightly.

"Good." Tang Shaoyang nodded and opened the skeleton's status window. "What should I do for you?" He proceeded with the advancement and considered the option for his third skeleton... He needed the right formula before he could mass-produce the skeleton, choosing the right evolution to create a massive army of skeletons.
