

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 732

Tang Shaoyang did not expect Rosalie to come up with something like that. It was worse than death as she wanted to break Florian. "She and her family deserve that. In fact, this is too lenient since we are sparing the dangerous seeds that may bite us back in the future. How is it, girl? Do you want to take this path?"

"Wait. Does she have a fiance? How do you know?" Rosalie's information about the remaining Kingsley Family should be the same as him as she was with him all the time. He did not know that Florian had a fiance.

"Even though you have a quick movement, your mind is slow sometimes." Rosalie slowly turned her head toward Tang Shaoyang. "Didn't you hear it from her conversation with Larry? She said something like, 'But I have Ian. We promised bla-bla-bla'."

"Also, look at her necklace. The 'I' letter necklace on her neck confirmed my guess that she has a fiance. It's just that easy." Rosalie smiled charmingly and looked at the even more shocked Florian. She was prepared to have her body sullied by the Emperor, but it was totally different if she had to do it in front of the man she loved.

"How is it, Princess? If you agree to my term, we will not kill your family." Rosalie had turned evil mode this time. "If you don't trust us, then we can sign a System Contract. That way, you can be at ease."

"Wait a minute. I haven't agreed with your crazy idea yet." Tang Shaoyang interrupted. "While I want to try a Princess and enjoy outdoor activity, I don't enjoy it when someone watches me doing it, especially if it is a man. I refuse the proposal, but if you insist on doing that, you can have someone replace me to do it. You just want her to suffer, right? You can choose one of the knights to have the reward to have a one night with the Princess instead."

"Tch." Rosalie clicked her tongue and shook her head. "The idea will not work if it's not you. I need your pervert ability to satisfy her, so her fiance can see how much she enjoys having sex with another man. That way, she will suffer more."

"I thought I was cruel enough to slaughter the children, but you are more evil than I thought." Tang Shaoyang was flabbergasted with her idea. Of course, this did not make him better than Rosalie. He was still the cruel slaughterer, but his evil idea could never think like what Rosalie proposed. He thought of physical torture instead of mental torture when it came to torture.

Someone interrupted them from outside the hall at this moment as Alton knocked on the door. "It's me, Alton, My Lord."

Tang Shaoyang glanced at Rosalie, and the latter hopped off from his lap. She then looked at Tang Shaoyang. "Can I have her while you are in a meeting with your commanders? I am still thinking about the proper punishment for her."

"You can have her. No, she is yours. You can do anything you want to her." Tang Shaoyang then pointed at the back corner to his right. "There's a small room there. You can have your time with the Princess there."

Rosalie dragged the shocked Florian toward the room, and Tang Shaoyang responded to Alton. "Come in."

The double door opened as Alton, Allan, and Ashley led the generals into the throne hall. They had captured the Lionax Kingdom within less than two weeks, much faster than they predicted. They expected a fierce resistance, but Robert Kingsley's reckless move sped up the invasion.

Of course, Tang Shaoyang's ambition did not stop there, and the next target was the Malecia Kingdom and the Warmir Kingdom. Since he had Gigante Forest under his banner, conquering the two kingdoms should not be an issue for them. That was today's meeting's topic.

Following Marshal and Vice-Marshal were the Legion Commander and Generals. Moonsong and his chosen generals, and Aleesa was among them, his new elven wife. At this point, he had used seeing the Elven and did not feel weird anymore to see the long-eared race. 'Now I look at her carefully, and she's stunning. Her figure did not lose to Elin and Zhang Mengyao.'

Aleesa was not the only female Elven he had seen, but she was one of the Elven with the biggest boobas. 'The second Elven with big boobas is the former Elven Queen and Aleesa's big sister, Ava.' Ava was walking side by side with Aleesa.

"Hail to the Great Emperor!" When everyone arrived in the throne hall, Alton suddenly raised his voice. After that, everyone knelt down to the floor. "Congratulations on your first successful conquest, Your Majesty!" The Legion Commander and the Generals followed Alton's words. Their voices echoed in the throne hall, and Tang Shaoyang felt like he wanted to dig a hole and hide in it.

Tang Shaoyang was shocked to hear this, and he almost showed it on his face. Fortunately, he endured the shock and embarrassment well and did not have a change of expression. 'I have to get used to this kind of thing from now on.'

"Rise." Everyone stood up and formed a line on the two sides at his words. There were no seats in the throne hall, so they stood next to the golden carpet.

"Let's start the first official meeting." Tang Shaoayng straightened his back and put a solemn mask on his face. "We will start with the aftermath of the war. I want to hear your report, Marshal Alton."

"Yes, Your Majesty," Alton replied sternly and continued with the report. "We have taken control of half of the Lionax Kingdom. Within three days, we can take control over the entire kingdom. The transition is also going smoothly. The noble houses accepted our terms. They will be relieved from their nobility, but they will retain their wealth. The more challenging part is to manage the territory. Since we relieved the noble from their duty and took over the territory, we quickly had to take over the management of each territory... If we are not quick, I am afraid the bandits will run wild, Your Majesty."
