

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 743

Tang Shaoyang let out another sigh and lowered his head, rubbing his forehead. It was not that he was not interested in Ava, but she had a complicated status within the Empire. On top of that, her husband was still alive, and her husband was his subordinate.

“So you insist on this deal? Seventy years of your life to guarantee your husband and son’s lives? Is that what you want? Does that mean you want me to pull them back from the frontline?” Tang Shaoyang raised his head, grinning as he scanned Ava from top to bottom.

“I don’t think anyone could kill my husband aside from your and your subordinate, the angel, the Guardian Beast Kirin, Sir Moonson, and Sir Alton.” Ava was well aware that only these handful of people could kill her husband. “I want these people’s names in the contract, including your name. They are not allowed to harm and kill my family.”

“If you want your husband and son to be safe, pulling them back from the frontline is the best option.” Tang Shaoyang shook his head as he genuinely did not understand this Elven woman’s train of thought.

“If my husband is not on the battlefield, then he might discover our deal...” Ava said in a low voice.

There was no need for her to fill the blank as Tang Shaoyang immediately understood the meaning behind those words. “You want to keep the deal a secret, including my women. Does that mean you bring the System Contract with you?”

Ava took out a scroll from her inventory. She brought out two scrolls and checked them one by one before handing one of them to Tang Shaoyang. “This is the contract; you can read it.”

‘She even prepares two contract systems for this. That means she has thought of the worst.’ Tang Shaoyang thought to himself. ‘The other one must be the one-night contract.’

“The contract is fine, but let me ask you one more time. Do you really want to do this? This is the last chance for you to back down.” Tang Shaoyang reminded the former Elven Queen. “I am not going to refuse a beauty who throws her body at me.”

“Stop being wishy-washy.” Ava was determined to sell her body only to secure her husband and son’s lives. “Sign the contract, and we have the deal.”

“I have heard the saying ‘Love is blind,’ and now I witness it with my eyes.” Tang Shaoyang bit his thumb and placed the blood on the contract. Ava took the contract from Tang Shaoyang, checking the content once more to make sure Tang Shaoyang did not change the content. After ensuring the contract’s content, Ava bit her thumb and signed the contract.

The scroll burst out into particles of lights before the particles of lights entered Tang Shaoyang and Ava’s forehead. It was an indication that the contract had been established between the two.

“The deal is made, and you are mine.” Tang Shaoyang circled his hand on her slim waist and pulled her onto her lap. Ava was startled, but she did not reject his advance.

He looked up at the Elven, who was hundreds of years older than him. If it were before, he would never touch this woman. After asking Alton and Allan a lot about the beastmen and Elf, he felt it was normal now.

A typical elf before the game could live up to a thousand years, and they should be able to live longer with the System now.

He looked at Ava's green eyes, and the latter was embarrassed. She tried to look away, but she felt his hand enter her gown from the back. It startled and caused her to look at him again. "You are more like an anxious rabbit right now. Calm down and relax, I will do everything for our first time."

Tang Shaoyang caressed her smooth back as he started to kiss her neck. She tried to resist at first, but she was reminded of the contract. She reluctantly circled her hands on his neck as she tried to resist the weird feeling that started to invade her body.

Yes, the moment Lord Tang Shaoyang started to caress her back, she felt something stirred up inside her. After her neck, he began to go down to her chest. Tang Shaoyang lifted the revealing nightgown, taking off the barrier between his lips and breasts. He sucked the red nips as his left hand played with the other one.

"Ahhh~" Without realizing it, she moaned. When she realized that, she immediately covered her mouth. 'What's wrong with me? How can I make that kind of noise?' She started to question herself.

"Don't hold back, Ava. You can just let it out." Tang Shaoyang got off her big breast and grinned at the former Elven Queen. "You don't have a bra, but you guys get panties." His left hand was rubbing her wet panties. "It seems you are ready for the actual action."

Tang Shaoyang stood up and took off his pants. The former Elven Queen could feel something big rubbing her cake. He sat back on the chair with Ava on his lap once again. Since this was their first time, he would not flirt with the embarrassed woman. That would make her even more awkward.

Tang Shaoyang did not bother to take off the panties as his hand moved the fabric that covered the goalpost. He held the erected Tang Shaoyang and raised her waist a little bit for positioning.

Ava's body trembled as she hugged the man tightly. She would be doing it with her second man in her life while her husband was still alive. The guilt forced her to close her eyes and grit her teeth. 'This is for my husband and son.'

Without saying anything, Tang Shaoyang let the little Shaoyang enter Ava. The latter immediately shot her eyes open as she could not hold the moan. "Ahhhhnnng~"

Ava's mind blanked for a moment as the guilt and her worries disappeared for a moment. She did not have time to think or do anything as Tang Shaoyang moved her waist up and down.