

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 846

"I will do my best too," Zhang Mengyao muttered in a low voice, "Have the Elven Kingdom pick the territory they want, Origin?"

[They haven't decided which territory they want to live in, Ma'am. However, the Elven Kingdom has narrowed it down to two territories, between Ningbo and Hangzhou. I think they will come up with a decision within one or two days.] Origin replied right away. The AI called Zhang Mengyao Ma'am under her request because Origin had called her Mistress before. She felt like Mistress had a different bad meaning, so she came up with this because the AI did not want to call her name.

"What about the Moonlight Tribe?" Zhang Mengyao turned around and left the office. The migration was quite more complicated than she thought it would be, especially for the elf. They loved to live in the territory with trees, so they had already been looking for that place for over a week.

[The Moonlight Tribe have decided to live in the main territory. There's an island to our northeast, and Legion Commander Moonsong asked our permission to live there.]

Zhang Mengyao stopped her steps for a second as she thought about something for a moment. It piqued her interest as to why the Moonlight did not want to manage a territory with a smart base. Without a doubt, the smart base was a huge help for the people from Lukan, yet the Moonlight Tribe still chose to stay in the main territory.

"Arrange me a meeting with Legion Commander Moonsong," She decided to talk it out with Moonsong. "Also, tell the other girls that Your Majesty is taking The Trial of Ancient right now, so he will be away for a week to a month. What about the dwarf's progress?"

[The dwarf is indeed amazing, Ma'am. They have built the houses for them to live in our underground. They ask us for the secrecy, so I haven't told anyone the secret passage to the underground. I can lead you there if you want, Ma'am.]

"Mnn, let's visit the dwarf after meeting Moonsong," Zhang Mengyao nodded.

[Hmmm, we have uninvited guests, Ma'am. Chief Park of Korea Sub Region wants to meet with Your Majesty along with the guests. Do you want me to decline the request, Ma'am?]

Zhang Mengyao furrowed her brow when she heard Park Nam Hoon brought guests and wanted to meet Tang Shaoyang. Declining the request was the right decision because she could not let the Chief of the sub-regions find out that Tang Shaoyang was not here. However, she was curious about the guests.

"No, delay the meeting with Legion Commander Moonsong. I will meet Chief Park first," Zhang Mengyao turned around and walked to the exclusive lift.

Waiting Room

"Are you sure about this, Nam Hoon!?" Yoo Kwang Sung questioned his guild leader's decision to bring the eleven people to The Tang Empire's main base. This was so stupid because they were leading the enemy into the Tang Empire's main territory.

"I am not going to lie, but this is so stupid, the stupidest decision you have ever made in your life, Park Nam Hoon!" Song Shi Eun voiced her discontent clearly and loudly for the guests invited by Park Nam Hoon. She did not bother to lower her voice at all.

"Hah...." Park Nam Hoon let out a sigh and helpless smile. "We can't be ungrateful, right? The Haven has helped us a lot in the past. This is the last thing I can do for them. Don't worry, I am not going to help them with the talk. I am just helping them to meet Your Majesty Emperor."

That was right; the eleven guests were the members of Haven. They came to the Legion Guild and begged Park Nam Hoon to meet them with Tang Shaoyang for a discussion. Yeah, it was eleven, not twelve. With Yeon Hee following Tang Shaoyang, the Haven should have been left with twelve members, but there were only eleven members. Dae-Jung was not with them, the missing member.

"Yeah, your silly sympathy will incur His Majesty's wrath by inviting them to the main base. Even if you want to help them, at least, you must ask Your Majesty first if you are allowed to bring them to the main base," Song Shi Eun was so frustrated with Park Nam Hoon. "You didn't even talk this out with us either. I should let Cha Hyuk punch your face."

Park Nam Hoon did not discuss this with his friends either, as he one-sidedly decided to bring the Haven with them when they decided to visit the main base. Thanks to that, Cha Yuk and Yu Jin Sang were upset. Cha Hyuk almost punched Park Nam Hoon's face, but Yoo Kwang Sung stopped in time. If not for that, Park Nam Hoon's left eye would have turned blue by now.

Despite the obvious snappy remark directed toward them, The Haven members remained silent. Not because they were guilty of the Legion Guild, but because this was Tang Shaoyang's home. They were inside the devil's home, so they did not want to cause any commotion as they came to talk, not fight.

TEID office

TEID was the newly established division headed by Lu An. TEID stood for Tang Empire Intelligence Division, and that was the third name for this new division as Lu An kept changing it. The third name lasted longer than the two previous names, about three days by now.

Lu An was sitting behind the table, reviewing the report from his subordinates. After a while, he slammed the papers on the table and massaged the space between his eyes, "This is so tedious. I would rather become a soldier and fight in the front line rather than reading all these reports."

"Then you should resign from your position and join the army instead," Yeon Hee helped tidy up the messed up table. Overnight, Lu An managed to convince Yeon Hee to be his personal secretary. While her position was personal secretary, in fact, Lu An was watching her. Yeon Hee accepted her current situation and took the offer; of course, it did not mean she was loyal to the Empire. Rather than staying in the confinement room, she would go outside and help with a little work while thinking about her own future.

"Your Majesty has trusted me with this position, and I will not disappoint him," Lu An shook his head and took the new paper. His eyes gleamed when he read the recent report. "Interesting, my people spotted your friends in the main base." He then handed the report to Yeon Hee.
