

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 961

"I don't know since when, but I have changed for the worse," Tang Shaoyang muttered, but clear enough for Li Shuang to hear, "Even if you say you want to reunite with your husband, I will not allow that to happen. I have become more selfish. I don't want to lose you; I don't want to lose anyone in my life anymore, even if that makes me a worse person."

Tang Shaoyang simply accepted that he had become a worse person. At least, that was his lens of perspective about himself. Even so, he did not want to lose anyone in his life, all his women. He had become more selfish than before, but he simply accepted it and moved on. If there was anything he needed to do, it was to prove to all his women that he loved them all equally.

"You will not lose anyone; at least, you will not lose me. I will stay on your side, clinging tightly. I will not leave even if you want me to leave," Li Shuang raised his head, holding his cheeks, and lowered her head, kissing him on the lips.

She did not know what happened to Tang Shaoyang to apologize to her, but that was a huge relief for her. There was no need for her to worry about being replaced again. He would not abandon her regardless of her circumstances. That was enough for her.

The talk with Li Shuang helped Tang Shaoyang a lot. He knew that all his women liked him, or else they would not want to accept each other. They left long ago, but they stayed with him until today. He also knew the reason why they stayed with him. The main reason was because of the wonderful little Shaoyang. Even though he had known Li Shuang would stay with him instead of looking for her husband, he still felt like he was a manipulative bastard.

'That's bad, but I don't want to lose them. The best thing I can do is to treasure them, ensuring their happiness,' He thought to himself as he enjoyed the kissing. Their tongues intertwined as his hands started to move dishonestly. His right hand crept through her thigh, entering the crotch area, while his free hand moved to her blazer, taking off the blazer. Li Shuang opened her arm, making it easier to take off the blazer, revealing the thin white shirt underneath.

Tang Shaoyang's left hand entered the white shirt from the bottom, pushing up the bra and fondling her supple breast. Moan started to escape Li Shuang's mouth as she felt the sensation. He stood up from the chair, making them in a comfortable position, so Li Shuang did not need to bend her upper body down. Her nether region was wet already a few seconds after the foreplay, but he did not rush it up. He pulled his hand from the nether region and took off her thin shirt, revealing the pair of mounds covered by the red bra.

With a swift motion, the bra fell off, and he immediately got rid of the layer from his treasure. His left hand fondled the left side as he sucked the right side with his lips gently. Li Shuang moaned louder. She did not need to worry people outside would hear her because the room was soundproof. Tang Shaoyang pulled off his pants and uncaged the little Shaoyang after a minute of foreplay.

Li Shuang breathed in a hurry while her face reddened, "Hurry...." She whispered in a sultry voice.

Tang Shaoyang raised her skirt and pulled the panties to the side, revealing her pinkish nether region. He held the little beast, directing it toward the nether region, and thrust forward.

Li Shuang's eyes rolled up in pleasure. She could never get enough of this feeling, never get bored of this. This was completely different from when she did it with her husband. Most of the time, she felt pain from how rough her husband was, which was completely different when she did it with Tang Shaoyang.

She circled her legs on her waist as her hands circled his neck. She knew her man loved her breast, so she pulled Tang Shaoyang to her breast as he started to move. Even though they just did it recently, she could not hold on. She reached orgasm in five minutes. Her legs stiffened as her toes twitched in pleasure. Her man stopped moving for a while, realizing she had reached her first climax.

Li Shuang opened her eyes and met his gaze. It was the gaze filled with desire which made her proud. All her skin care did not go for naught; the man still longed for her even though she was older than him. Of course, the gaze was an inquiry, too, asking her if they could go for another round. She still could feel the little Shaoyang inside her, hard and straight.

"More, Babe," She whispered to his ear.

Tang Shaoyang carried her from the battle, carrying her while they were still connected. His hands were on his thigh, then she realized what kind of position he wanted. She held her neck tightly as the man started to rock her up and down. Her mind went blank in that instant as the pleasure came back for her. Her toes kept twitching as moans escaped from her mouth.

Three minutes later, he put her down on the table again, but this time, she faced the table instead of sitting on the table. This was one of her favorite positions. Tang Shaoyang started to ram her from behind. They stayed in the same position for another five minutes before she felt a gasp from the man. At the same time, she felt warm liquid inside her womb. Many of them as it dripped out of her nether region.

'Around twelve to thirteen minutes before he comes....' She estimated the time, and deep inside, she was proud to make him come within that time as it was faster than usual. That meant she satisfied Tang Shaoyang better than usual.

Of course, the little Shaoyang was still hard even though he had come. She was about to say he could go on, but the man started it before she could say anything. He lifted her right leg to his shoulder and started to push her again.
