

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 98

SZ City was on the north of SH City, different from SH City, there was a big establishment established in SZ City. An establishment made by the survivors and watched by the military. At least, that was what spread around the people.

After the meeting with Tang Shaoyang, Yu Shun and Luo Lan fled toward SZ City. Now they arrived at the outermost SZ City establishment.

Yu Shun knew that his Class might bring trouble for the couple hence they decided to stay at the outermost establishment. They bought a decent abandoned building from the management team of the establishment.

He bought a two-floor house with the coins he had gathered from killing zombies and mutated beasts. Since the establishment was being watched by the military force, he thought this place would be a decent place to stay. However, it was just the same, in the end.

Sitting in front of the window while holding a glass of juice, Yu Shun watched the unusual empty street in front of his house. The street usually would have people passed, especially in the morning. But this morning, no one passed the street in front of their house.

Kreak!

The bedroom door opened and Luo Lan came out with her loose sexy dress. She just woke up, noticing her boyfriend sat at his usual chair, she came over and kissed his cheek, "Good morning, Honey~,"

Yu Shun kissed her back on the cheek, "Morning," she could feel her boyfriend was a little enthusiastic than usual, but she thought it was because it was still morning.

"We are going to the market this morning. We are going after I wash my face," Luo Lan told her plan to her boyfriend, "No, we are leaving!" To her surprise, her boyfriend made an unexpected decision.

"But why? I thought this place is decent," this was so absurd for Luo Lan. He did not speak anything either to her that they were going to move out.

"You will know soon. Just get dressed up and fill your belly with the sandwich I have prepared," Yu Shun did not immediately tell her the reason.

Even though she was clueless, Luo Lan followed her boyfriend's words. She went back to the room and dressed up. She brought out a backpack and went to the kitchen.

While eating the sandwich, she brought the food that could fit into the backpack, such as bread, cane food, and drinks.

Yu Shun stood up from the chair, he drank all the juice in one gulp. He then stood in front of the window and looked down at the empty street. A sigh came out of his mouth while shaking his head. He then entered the bedroom and when he came out, he brought two black cloaks in his hand.

"I am ready!" Luo Lan reported to her boyfriend with a backpack full of food. Yu Shun smiled at her and took the backpack. He then put the cloak to cover her girlfriend, "I am starting to think to go back to meet that crazy man,"

The crazy man in his mouth was Tang Shaoyang. He regarded the man as a crazy man, maybe only that guy who jumped into a wave of thousands of zombies hence he called him a crazy man.

Luo Lan who was still confused as to why they had to move out nodded her head, "I have no one left in this world but you, so I will follow you everywhere you want to go!" Both had tried to look for Luo Lan's family, but they only met zombies in her old house.

Yu Shun smiled as he wore his cloak, covered the backpack and his body with the black cloak. He pulled his girlfriend downstairs with him.

The moment the couple took three steps out of their house, 9 men emerged out of the neighborhood, and they surrounded the couple. These men were wearing red plate armor with a red sword on their waist. There was a burning flame symbol right on their chest.

"Yo! Yo! Yo! Look what we have here, someone is trying to run without settling the payment!" From the 9 men, one stepped out from the group. He looked young, less than thirty with a hair combed to the right side. The man walked forward and stopped 4 meters away from Yu Shun.

"What are you talking about? We have paid for everything, 20k coins!" Luo Lan recognized this man, he was the guy from the management team. They bought the house from this man, Huo Zhengsheng.

"The 20k coins is just the down payment, you have to pay 50k coins then the house will be yours!" Huo Zhengsheng took out a paper with a bunch of words in it. There was no need to read, it was the contract.

Luo Lan wanted to argue against the shameless man, but Yu Shun pulled her back, "I will talk to him," he hid his girlfriend behind and looked toward Huo Zhengsheng, "We don't want the house any longer, you can take the house back! The deal is off!"

Huo Zhengsheng seemed to be expecting this move. He nodded his head calmly, "Since the deal is off, then you have to pay up half of the deal, pay up, 25,000 coins!" They were blatantly extorting the coin from Yu Shun.

'As I thought, I should have to think carefully before paying up,' Yu Shun thought to himself as he regretted his decision to pay the house without a second thought. These people clearly came for his coin since he could spit out 20,000 coins in one go. They thought he had more so they came to extort more from him.

"What if I don't pay?" Yu Shun suddenly smiled. Since it had reached this point, fighting these people was inevitable.

"Oh, you have a second option to pay actually," as Huo Zhengsheng said that his eyes fell to Luo Lan, "Borrow us your girlfriend for a week... Yes, let us borrow your girlfriend for a week then you can have the house," the man grinned lustfully at Luo Lan. Even though the woman was covered in the black cloak, he had seen her beautiful face and hot body.

Luo Lan's hand quivered instantly the moment she heard those words. Yu Shun could feel it, he rubbed her hand to calm her down.

"How is it? It's a great deal, right? It's just a week, I will make sure to treat her well in one week... kekekeke..." Huo Zhengsheng laughed evilly.

"Hahhhh..." a long sigh came out of Yu Shun's mouth, "I don't want to kill you guys, but since you asked for it, I have no choice but grant your wish," his voice and eyes turned cold the moment Huo Zhengsheng tried to take his girlfriend.

The reason he did not want to kill Huo Zhengsheng was because of his background. This guy was the leader of the Flame Castle's nephew. He planned to knock them down and ran away from the establishment. That was the plan, but he changed his plan now.

"Bwahahaha..." Huo Zhengsheng laughed out loud, it was as if he heard the funniest joke of the year, "Boy oh boy, you are messing with the wrong person!" He motioned his hand forward, telling his people to take Yu Shun down.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Before the eight people could reach Yu Shun, three big guys covered in a black cloak landed in front of Yu Shun. These three were about four to five meters in height, it was a massive the size of a human.

As the three big guys landed in front of Yu Shun, the ground vibrated slightly.

Huo Zhengsheng was shocked by the three big guys' appearance. Then he saw two of them raised their hands, he then noticed their hands were actually a mace.

Swoosh! Swoosh!

The mace-like hand descended to two of his subordinates' heads.

Splat! Splat!

Just like a watermelon was being hit by an actual mace. The head burst out as red juices splattered around. He gasped in shock at this gory scene.

It did not stop there, the big guy in the middle also swung his round shield-like hand to two of his subordinates. The swing to the head, this time, he saw two heads got plucked off. Two heads flew up as two blood fountains sprayed out.

Huo Zhengsheng subconsciously took two steps backward. But the scene was too shocking for the sheltered Huo Zhengsheng, his legs went weak and he fell on his butt.

"What are you doing!? Kill these monsters! Kill them!" He yelled to his remaining subordinates. However, he received no response from them, then he saw five more blood fountains sprayed from his remaining five subordinates.

His eyes widened in shock as he saw another man in the black cloak join Yu Shun's group. The last black-cloaked monster was more normal in height, a little over two meters tall, and it had sword-like hands.

Huo Zhengsheng could see blood dripping from the sword-like hand. Without a doubt, the last monster was the one who killed his remaining subordinate. At this moment, he smelled his own urine as he wetted his pants from fear.

Yu Shun walked forward, and as walked he picked the sword from the dead body. The sword had a red sheath, he pulled the handle and the shiny sword came to sight. He threw the sheath away and walked toward Huo Zhengsheng.

He stopped right in front of the shocked Huo Zhengsheng. At this moment, the guy had lost all his courage.

"Please don't kill me! Please don't kill me!" He begged for his life as he hit his head to the hard ground.

Yu Shun looked down with his cold eyes, "I don't want to kill you, but you force me!" He then slashed Huo Zhengzheng's neck.
