

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 4369 (The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 4369)

After Kazuo Hattori thoroughly inspected the scene, the first thought that came to his mind was that this task seemed a bit too simple.

You must know that when they helped Ryoto Matsumoto kidnap Fitz and Zara, the task was much more difficult than this.

That time, all the followers of the banks family were silently killed, and then the brothers and sisters of the banks family were taken away from the dozens of high-rise buildings. Overall, this task was much simpler than that time.

Hattori Kazuo also participated in the operation against the banks brothers and sisters, but after the mission was successful, he did not take the brothers and sisters to Kyoto.

Therefore, in his eyes, this task is not technically difficult.

After surveying the site as a whole, Kazuo Hattori asked Qiao Feiyun: "Mr. Yun, can you tell me the relevant information about the target person this time?"

Qiao Feiyun said lightly: "You don't need to know the identity of the target for the time being. I will tell you on the 11th."

According to Qiao Feiyun's plan, the matter of inviting Stefanie sun to the charity dinner must always be kept strictly confidential.

Even when communicating with Stefanie sun, she was invited to attend as a mysterious guest, which not only increased the mystery of the charity dinner, but also ensured that when Stefanie sun came, she would not be followed and disturbed by the media and fans.

After Stefanie sun arrives, the pre-arranged staff will take her and her entourage directly into the lounge, and a special passage is specially prepared for her.

Stefanie sun's motorcade can park directly in the backyard of the banquet hall, directly into the lounge from the back door.

As a result, even the members of the New York Chinese Chamber of Commerce who were going to attend the charity dinner that night did not know that the famous Stefanie sun would be under the same roof with them.

Therefore, Qiao Feiyun is even more unlikely to let Hattori Kazuo know the target of the kidnapping in advance.

Moreover, what Qiao Feiyun didn't know was that Kazuo Hattori not only knew about Stefanie sun, but also liked Stefanie sun's works very much, and could be regarded as a fan of Stefanie sun.

Not only that, Kazuo Hattori saw Stefanie sun appear next to Charlie on Yeling Mountain back then.

If he knew that the target of this kidnapping was Stefanie sun, he would definitely leave the United States without saying a word.

He knew very well in his heart that although money was a good thing, it had to be spent with life.

Hattori Kazuo, who was kept in the dark, saw that Qiao Feiyun was unwilling to disclose the target information, so he stopped asking, but changed the subject and asked, "By the way, Mr. Yun, what are the bodyguards of the other party? Are there any ninjas? Or a Chinese martial arts master?"

"No." Qiao Feiyun said firmly: "Her bodyguards are all from security companies in the United States, and they are basically retired US military special forces and special police.”

Hattori Kazuo nodded slightly.

The overall strength of the Iga ninja is the highest among the four major ninja families in Japan, so the only thing he is afraid of is actually the martial arts master of China.

In the past, he did not take Chinese martial arts masters in his eyes. It was not until he saw Charlie's strength on Yeling Mountain that he realized at that moment that Japanese ninjutsu was not worth anything in front of Chinese martial arts.

After confirming that there is no martial arts master around the target person, Kazuo Hattori's only worry was completely dispelled.

In his opinion, he can easily complete this task and return home triumphantly.

On the second day after Kazuo Hattori led Iga Ninja to New York, Stefanie Sun and her performance team of more than 100 people arrived in New York by chartered flight.

For a time, the enthusiasm of Chinese people in the United States was high, and many fans in the United States were also excited.

When the plane arrived at JFK, thousands of fans went to the airport to greet him.

Due to the size of the scene, it once caused chaos in traffic and order at the airport.

From JFK Airport to the Shangri-La Hotel in New York where Stefanie Sun stayed, it took a total of 40 minutes by car.

However, due to the fanaticism of the fans, it took Stefanie Sun two and a half hours to arrive at the hotel.

Before she arrived at the hotel, many local American media had already reported the riots at the airport.

However, these media basically can't believe that a Chinese female singer has such a strong fan base in the United States.

After all, they have always felt that American singers are the leaders of global pop music.

Therefore, the arrogant and self-righteous think that a Chinese female singer cannot have such a great influence at all.

Some local media even deliberately asked questions, thinking that the fans who picked them up at the airport must be group performers hired by Stefanie Sun's brokerage company.

And Stefanie Sun also used her strength to respond to the doubts of these Western media.

Tickets for her New York and Boston concerts were billed on time three hours after she arrived in the United States.

The two concerts, with a total of 90,000 tickets, were snapped up in less than a minute, setting a sales volume of over 100 million US dollars!

Although the performance market in the United States is very mature, the star base is also very large, so it is difficult for most of the performances to be sold out at the box office, and even if they can be sold out, they cannot be sold out in such a short period of time.

This news instantly made the headlines of all entertainment media in the United States.

Even Stefanie Sun's North American partner for this tour did not expect her concert to have such a strong box office appeal.

All of a sudden, Stefanie Sun has become the hottest topic in the entire American entertainment industry, no one.

The day after arriving in the United States, Stefanie Sun attended a press conference organized by her agency, which was her first public appearance after arriving in the United States.

The live broadcast by major media in the United States, on TV and multiple online platforms, gathered tens of millions of people to watch it simultaneously, and once again let the American society see the influence of this Chinese queen. When Hattori Kazuo saw the news on TV, his first thought was to regret that he had no chance to stay in New York and see Stefanie sun's concert with his own eyes.

After all, Stefanie sun's concert will start on the 15th, and he will leave the United States overnight after the task is completed on the night of the 11th. With this regret, Kazuo Hattori led seven subordinates to kidnap Weston, the general manager of the banquet hall of the Palace Hotel, and his family of nine from their home in New York.

After the nine people were taken to the suburbs, Qiao Feiyun arranged for a container truck, loaded all the nine people into the car, pulled them out of New York in one breath, and parked in an abandoned container freight yard.

After getting off work, when Weston drove his Mercedes-Benz back home, he was surprised to find that the house, which was noisy all the time, turned out to be empty.

His wife was absent, his four children were absent, his parents, and two Chinese-born nannies were also missing.

However, the whole house is very tidy, and it doesn't look like an accident has happened.

Just when Weston took out his cell phone and wanted to call his wife to ask what happened, his cell phone rang first.

It turned out to be a video call from my wife.

Without any hesitation, Weston immediately pressed the answer button. The moment the screen was switched on, his whole body felt as if he had been struck by lightning, his legs went weak, and he fell to his knees with a thud.

In the video, his parents, wife and children, as well as the two nannies at home, were all hung in a container, their mouths were wrapped in black tape, and they could only struggle and whimper in pain.

At this time, the voice of a ninja came from the video: "If you want your family to live, then don't call the police, and don't alert anyone. Everything follows our instructions. After the matter is completed, I will naturally let you go. family."

Having said that, the other party changed the subject and said coldly: "However, if you dare to call the police or tell anyone else about this, then this is their fate!"

As soon as the voice fell, in the video screen, a dagger flew out instantly and inserted into one of the nanny's eyebrows at an extremely fast speed!

The nanny, who was still struggling, stopped all movements in an instant and died completely.

And her expression at this time was extremely distorted due to fear, and she couldn't rest her eyes...

At this moment, Weston was so frightened that he almost burst into tears. He had no time to mourn the tragic death of the nanny, so he begged on the phone like crazy: "I beg you not to hurt my family, no matter what conditions you put forward, I will definitely agree to you..."

The other party said with satisfaction: "I hope you can cooperate as you said. If you dare to be careful with us, I guarantee that you will not even see the bodies of your family members!"

Weston cried and said, "I will cooperate... I will cooperate! Please tell me what you need me to do!"

The other party said lightly: "Go open the door now, my leader will communicate with you in person."

After Weston heard it, he was slightly taken aback, and then he heard the doorbell.

He said to the phone in a panic, "I... I'll open the door now..."

The other party said coldly: "Weston, remember what I told you, if you dare to be careful, all your family members will die miserably!"

After all, I hung up the phone directly for convenience.

Weston, who was completely paralyzed, rolled and crawled to the door, struggling to open the door.

As soon as the door opened, he saw Kazuo Hattori standing outside the door. Hattori Kazuo had been waiting near Weston's house for Weston's return, so they could pinpoint the time and call Weston as soon as he got home to prevent him from calling the police or notifying others.

However, before Kazuo Hattori came over this time, he had already made a disguise on his face.

Japanese ninjas have been studying disguise since hundreds of years ago. With the help of various technological materials, their disguise has become so perfect that it is impossible for ordinary people to see any clues.

That's why Hattori Kazuo dared to come to see Weston generously.

The moment Weston saw Kazuo Hattori, he knelt on the ground with a thud and cried, "I beg you to let my family go... I beg you..."

Hattori Kazuo stepped forward directly, helped him up with one hand, closed the door with the other, dragged him to the living room sofa.

Afterwards, Kazuo Hattori threw Weston on the sofa, and he sat opposite him, indifferently said: "Weston, if you want to save your family, the only chance is to cooperate with me, as long as you cooperate with me obediently, After this is done, I will definitely send your family back."

Weston said quickly, "Just tell me, as long as you can send my family back safely, I can do anything!"

Kazuo Hattori nodded and said lightly, "What I want you to do is very simple. On the evening of the 11th, there will be a charity dinner in your banquet hall. I need you to arrange me and my people to serve as waiters. We arrange it in, even if the task is completed."

When Weston heard this, his face turned pale with fright.

He didn't know that this charity dinner, Stefanie would be one of the guests, he only knew that this charity dinner was organized by his young master Jamura and the Chinese Chamber of Commerce.

So when he heard Kazuo Hattori's words, his first thought was that these people must be trying to harm Jamura!

Thinking of this, he said in a panic: "The behind-the-scenes boss of the Wangfu Hotel is very powerful. You'd better not provoke... otherwise..."

Hattori Kazuo rudely interrupted him and said coldly, "If you still want your family to live, don't tell me these nonsense, just tell me, can you fulfill my request?!"

Weston said with a weeping voice: "If you guys want to do something bad, I'll take you in, they won't let me go afterwards..."

Hattori Kazuo smiled and said, "Then maybe you can sacrifice yourself in exchange for the safety of your family."

Weston asked him back: "Even if I do as you say, how can you guarantee that my family will be released?!"

Hattori Kazuo smiled and said, "You can only choose to believe me in this matter. I can't give you any guarantee other than promises."

Having said that, Kazuo Hattori changed the subject and said sternly: "Start, if you don't do as I say, your family will surely die!"

Immediately, Kazuo Hattori's expression instantly softened, and he said seriously: "Weston, I'm not a perverted murderer either, I just want to complete my mission and leave the United States safely with the money, so I don't need to kill your family."

Weston said vigilantly: "Who knows if you will kill people after the incident is completed? In most kidnapping cases, the kidnappers will kill the hostages in order to avoid exposure!"

"Quiet?" Hattori Kazuo smiled contemptuously and said, "Take your head Weston, I will see you today with a real face, and I will also appear at the banquet hall with my real face on the evening of the 11th, and I will also be there at that time. It will be captured by all the surveillance cameras in the banquet hall. Since it is definitely going to be exposed, why should I kill people? Isn't that self-deception?"

Hearing this, Weston somewhat believed in Kazuo Hattori's words.

According to his conventional understanding of criminals, the reason to kill and silence is to avoid exposure, and Kazuo Hattori's words are indeed very reasonable. Since it is to be exposed, killing and silence is equivalent to hiding one's ears.

Thinking of this, he looked at Kazuo Hattori and blurted out, "Okay! I promise you! Please don't hurt my family!"

"Don't worry." Hattori Kazuo smiled and said seriously: "On the night of the 11th, my people will give your family enough food and drink, and then hide the container in an absolutely safe place. After I leave the United States, I will put The location of the container will be sent to you, and you will be able to rescue them that night."

Speaking of this, Kazuo Hattori said very thoughtfully: "Weston, after we leave, the police are likely to look for you to investigate, and even list you as a suspect, you don't have to be afraid, you just need to tell the truth, even if you You can directly tell the police the location of the container, and let the police help you save your family, so that they will believe what you say more. I believe that even if they hold you accountable, it will not be too serious. At most, you will go to prison. It will take a few years, but your family will be able to survive safely."

Hearing this, Weston felt a little more grateful to Hattori Kazuo.

Because he did not expect that these kidnappers would consider themselves so meticulously, it seems that there is indeed a bit of benevolence.

It was also Kazuo Hattori's attacking words that completely dispelled Weston's doubts.

So, he looked at Kazuo Hattori and said, "On the evening of the 11th, I will take you to the banquet hall as a waiter. That's all I have to do, right?"

Hattori Kazuo smiled and said, "It's not just me, but eight people. As long as you put the eight of us in, your mission will be completed."

Having said that, Kazuo Hattori said again: "You don't have to worry that others will find it awkward. As far as I know, your charity dinner on the night of the 11th was very large. At least two or three hundred guests will be present at that time, and the dinner The specifications are very high, and more manpower is definitely needed. At that time, you can tell others that the eight of us are temporary help from other departments or other palace hotels, and others will definitely not be suspicious.”

Weston nodded slightly.

In order to maximize profits, hotels do not usually have very sufficient manpower, which are generally temporary needs and temporary symptoms.

And temporary signs are also very easy. In the free labor market in New York, there are a large number of temporary workers who work for three days a day. As long as they have no money to eat, they will work as part-time workers to earn some living expenses. As long as they are paid an hourly wage of 15 dollars, No matter what kind of job, the other party will grab the head and apply for it. This group of people is very mobile. Today, they work as waiters in hotels, and the day after tomorrow, they may be cleaning dishes in restaurants. In two days, they may work as porters at a construction site.

Therefore, when I arrange for eight temporary workers to come in, I will definitely not arouse suspicion from others.

Thinking of this, he gritted his teeth and said to Kazuo Hattori: “Okay! I promise you! I will definitely arrange you in there!”
