Hearing that Charlie agreed to his request, Liu Jiahui was so excited that he couldn't add more.

The richest person he has ever met in his life is the Li family on Hong Kong Island.

However, the Li family was nothing in front of the Fei family.

Therefore, Liu Jiahui felt that if he had the opportunity to get to know the Fei family, it would also be a huge breakthrough for himself.

So, he happily said to Charlie: "Mr. Wade, we will go to the restaurant for dinner later, I will ask my wife to prepare in advance, and Mia will also come with us. After eating, I will bring my wife and you go to the airport to meet Miss Fei!"

Charlie nodded and said, "The arrangement is quite reasonable, just do as you said."

Lau Ka Fai smiled and hurriedly asked again: "By the way, Mr. Wade, where is Miss Fei planning to stay when she comes to Hong Kong Island this time? I remember that Hong Kong Island does not seem to have any property of the Fei family. It's a bit neglectful, if it's convenient, Mr. Wade can invite Miss Fei to live in Xia's house as well, there are more than a dozen rooms in Xia's house, which is definitely enough for Miss Fei and his party."

Charlie smiled slightly: "This, I can't make a decision for her, let's wait for her to come."

"Okay!" Liu Jiahui nodded cheerfully and said with a smile: "Mr. Wade wait a moment, I'll call my wife and ask her to dress more grandly!"

At noon, Charlie and Liu Jiahui came to the high-end Cantonese-style restaurant he had reserved for a long time.

At this time, Fang Jiaxin had already put on a very dignified dress and was waiting outside the restaurant.

Seeing the arrival of the convoy that Charlie and Liu Jiahui were riding in, she immediately came forward, and after the car stopped, she took the initiative to open the door on the right for Charlie.

Charlie was a little surprised. He didn't expect that Fang Jiaxin, who was pampered, would take the initiative to open the door for himself.

Just as he was about to say a few polite words, Fang Jiaxin said flatteringly, "Mr. Wade, the banquet is ready, just waiting for your visit."

Charlie smiled and said, "Mrs. Liu is too polite."

Fang Jiaxin hurriedly said, "This is what it should be."

After speaking, she quickly said: "By the way, Mr. Wade, I don't know what you like to eat, so I said hello to the boss here and asked him to prepare a copy of all the dishes. Taste them all and see what you like best."

Seeing that Fang Jiaxin's attitude towards herself was a little better than this morning, Charlie knew that it must be because of Fei Kexin's matter that her strength in her eyes had improved a lot, so she would so flatteringly.

But Charlie didn't care too much. What he was thinking about now was that Fang Jiaxin was dressed in such a dress and was going to meet Fei Kexin with Liu Jiahui in the afternoon, but if she received Arman at the airport, how would she feel.

At this time, Charlie and Liu Jiahui both got out of the car, and Liu Jiahui said with a smile, Jiaxin, the other side, "I almost don't recognize the way you dressed today, it seems that you are a lot younger."

Fang Jiaxin smiled shyly and said, "Since you want to see a distinguished guest, you must dress up carefully, and I can't embarrass you!"

At this time, Mia 's Tesla also drove to the door of the restaurant.

After the car stopped, she got out of the car, and when she saw charlie, her expression subconsciously floated to a burst of joy, and then she ran two steps to the front, and said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Wade, I'm late."

charlie smiled and said, "It's not too late, we just arrived."

Lau Ka Fai looked at his daughter and said with a smile, "Mia , Mr. Wade has a distinguished guest coming to Hong Kong Island this afternoon. Would you like to go to the airport to meet him?"

Mia asked in surprise, "Is it Mr. Wade's friend?"

charlie said, "It's a friend of mine from the United States, but Miss Mia still has a charity sale, so don't follow her to the airport."

For charlie, he just wanted to take Liu Jiahui to the airport.

If Liu Jiahui wanted to take Fang Jiaxin, or if Fang Jiaxin wanted to go with him, charlie didn't think there was any problem.

Anyway, the moment Uncle Arman came out of the airport customs this afternoon, when he and Liu Jiahui were showing off their swords, there was nothing wrong with letting his wife witness with his own eyes.

However, charlie only did not want Mia to follow him.

After all, after these two days of getting along, charlie recognized Mia quite a bit, and charlie didn't want her to see her conflict with her father with her own eyes.

What's more, when charlie came to Hong Kong Island and approached Liu Jiahui this time, he concealed something, so he didn't want to tear off his disguise in front of Mia .

According to his plan, after he has properly dealt with all the problems at the airport, he will no longer have further contact with the Liu Jiahui family. The intersection between himself and Mia will also come to an end after this meal.

Mia didn't know what charlie was thinking. She originally hoped to go there together. It doesn't matter who she picks up, the important thing is to be with charlie.

But when she heard that charlie didn't want to be with her, she could only nod her head and said, "I have to go back to Tsim Sha Tsui after dinner, so I won't be with you."

"Alright." Liu Jiahui didn't feel anything wrong, he said with a smile, "If Mr. Wade's friends are willing to live in our house, they can prepare a family dinner at home in the evening, and then you can come together."

Mia hurriedly asked charlie, "Mr. Wade, do you still go to the snack street at night?"

charlie didn't give a clear answer, but said, "Let's see the situation in the afternoon."

"Okay." Mia also knew that since there were guests coming and he might live in his own house, his plan to go to the snack street alone with charlie could only be postponed, so he said, "Then I'll wait for your news in the afternoon."

"it is good."

One p.m.

After eating, charlie and Liu Jiahui's family of three walked out of the restaurant together.

Liu Jiahui said to Fang Jiabin: "Wife, you should take a car by yourself, and I will take a car with Mr. Wade."

Fang Jiabin agreed without hesitation: "Okay, I'll take the car in front."

At this time, charlie said to Mia , "Miss Mia , pay attention to safety on the road."

Mia nodded, smiled at charlie, and said, "Mr. Wade remember to give me a reply in the afternoon."

"no problem."

Seeing Mia sitting in the Tesla, charlie suddenly felt a little unbearable and reluctant to part.

Regardless of whether he leaves Hong Kong Island after finishing his work today, Mia will know the real purpose of his visit to Hong Kong Island this time after the matter is over.

At that time, she will definitely be very disappointed with herself, thinking that she is just playing on the scene these two days, or even deliberately deceiving her.

charlie didn't want her to be hurt because of what she did.

However, he also knew very well that this time, if he wanted to completely solve Uncle Arman's troubles without hurting Mia , it might be an impossible task.

No matter what the relationship between Mia and her father is, she first deceived her, and this alone will definitely disappoint and hurt her.

At this moment, charlie somewhat regretted his decision to accept Liu Jiahui's invitation and live in Liu Jiahui's house.

If he didn't go to Liu's house, at least he wouldn't have anything to do with Mia .

And now that the boat is done, even if I regret it, it is impossible to choose again...

at 2 pm.

Arman's flight landed at Hong Kong Island International Airport on time.

At this time, Arman, sitting by the window, had mixed feelings in his heart.

He has been away from Hong Kong Island for too long, and the scenery outside the window is no longer half familiar. The only thing he is familiar with is the traditional Chinese characters that can be seen everywhere.

These traditional Chinese characters all reminded him that after 20 years, he finally returned to his long-lost hometown.

However, what he regrets is that when he comes back this time, he probably won't have the chance to get acquainted with Hong Kong Island, which has been separated for 20 years. From the moment he landed on Hong Kong Island, his life will probably start to count down.

At this time, a male flight attendant came to him and reminded: "Mr. Arman, according to the regulations, don't get off the plane in a hurry, and after the other passengers get off the plane, I will take you and yours in person. I will hand you over to the Hong Kong Island Customs, and I hope you can understand."

Arman nodded and said with a slight smile, "Okay, thank you."

Although Arman was forcibly repatriated by the United States, he was not a prisoner, so repatriated, and there is no US police or immigration staff to escort.

According to the process in the United States, since it is a repatriation, the passport information of the deportee will be blacklisted, and he will be banned from entering the United States for five years, ten years or life, and then directly arrange him to board the return flight.

The rest has nothing to do with the United States.

Therefore, the US Immigration Service sent him to the departure plane, and handed him and his information to the staff of the airline. The staff of the airline would hand him and the information to Hong Kong Island after he got off the plane. Customs, the repatriation process is complete.

After all the passengers got off the plane, the flight attendant came to Arman again and said politely, "Mr. Arman, come with me."

"Okay." Arman nodded slightly, stood up, and took some of his carry-on luggage from the luggage rack above his head.

Then, he followed the staff and got off the plane.

After crossing the covered bridge, he saw that two customs staff were already waiting at the end of the covered bridge.

The staff brought Arman to the front of the two, handed over Arman's information, and said, "Two, this is Mr. Arman."

One of the staff nodded and said, "It's hard, leave it to us later. That's fine."

After that, he walked up to Arman and said, "Is that Mr. Arman?"

Arman nodded lightly: "It's me." The customs officer said, "Welcome home, Mr. Arman, please contact me first. Let's go to the customs and go through the process."

Arman hurriedly asked: "Sir, what is the next process?" The customs officer explained: "It's actually very simple. You were only repatriated by the United States, but you are still a citizen of China Hong Kong Island. And we have checked your situation in advance, you do not have any criminal record on Hong Kong Island, you are a law-abiding citizen, so you only need to do a routine registration with us, and then you can enter freely."

Said, the customs officer again Said: "Oh yes, you can call your family now and ask them to come and pick you up. We will speed up the work schedule here, and it will be over in an hour at most."

Arman smiled slightly: "It's still unnecessary, trouble. Let's go through the process first."

"Okay." The customs officer nodded and said, "Please come with me."

At this moment, charlie and Liu Jiahui have also arrived at Hong Kong Island International Airport.

The convoy stopped outside the arrival hall of Hong Kong Island Airport, and Liu Jiahui said to charlie excitedly, "Mr. Wade, Miss Fei should be arriving soon, right?"
