For these brave knights, the poison in their bodies is a shackle that imprisons them for a lifetime and can never be broken.

But for charlie, it only takes a little spiritual energy to completely remove the poison in their bodies.

Therefore, when he patted their shoulders one by one just now, charlie had already used spiritual energy to remove the poison from their bodies one by one.

At this time, the seven people heard charlie say that the poison in their bodies had been cured. They were surprised at first, and then they closed their eyes and felt it carefully. Sure enough, the power that had gathered in the dantian before was gone!

The poison in their body is not an ordinary highly toxic substance, but an energy that cannot be controlled by the body. This energy is like a time bomb in their body, counting down on a cycle of seven days. Once the seven days are up, this energy The energy will completely destroy their meridians and internal organs.

And the so-called antidote is not able to remove the toxin, just taking it once can reset the countdown time of the seven days.

It is precisely because of this that they can clearly feel at this moment that the toxin in their bodies has completely disappeared.

This made several people look shocked for a moment. They really couldn't figure out when the toxin that they could feel just now disappeared in this moment.

The leader's mind turned relatively quickly. He remembered that charlie had patted himself on the shoulder just now, so he subconsciously asked, "Could it be... Could it be that you patted us just now, and you helped us detoxify?"

charlie nodded slightly.

The man asked in amazement, "There is no cure for this kind of poison, you... how did you do it?!"

charlie laughed and said, "The reason why there is no cure is the drama left in your body." Poison is not a real poison, but an energy that you cannot control, since you cannot control it, you must be controlled by it." The expressions of the seven people were both surprised and happy, and at the same time, they were more in awe of Charlie's heart of.

Although Charlie's words were few, they revealed a hierarchical relationship.

The strength of these Xiaoqiguards is weaker than the energy in their body that has been controlling them, and this energy is weaker than Charlie's strength.

Therefore, for them, Charlie is the most powerful ceiling in all their cognition at this stage.

The leader stood up from the chair, took a step back, walked around the chair, knelt down on one knee in front of Charlie, and said respectfully, "Thank you, sir, for saving your life!" The other six immediately got up, backed up, and knelt down without thinking, and said in unison, "Thank you, sir, for saving your life."

Charlie nodded slightly, and said to several people, "Get up, sit down and talk about your understanding of the organization, and see if you can find some valuable clues.

"The man immediately nodded and said, "Don't worry, I will know everything and talk endlessly!" Charlie looked at Li Yalin, and said,

"Inspector Li, do you have any questions?"

Fewer questions."

Charlie nodded, "Then you can ask."

"Okay." Li Yalin immediately picked up his notepad, and when Charlie talked to a few people just now, he had already listed out the questions he wanted to know.

The first few questions were actually asked by Charlie when he was in Nordic Bergen.

Such as, their identities, intelligence, the location of the resident, and some specific information about the resident.

These seven people naturally said everything they knew in one go.

Li Yalin listened carefully, and after they finished introducing the basic situation, he asked, "What is the organizational structure of you Xiaoqiguards in Cyprus?" The leader explained, "There are a total of 271 Xiaoqiguards. Divided into three banners of left, middle and right, each banner has 90 people, each banner is divided into three battalions, each battalion has 30 people, each battalion is divided into three teams, each team has ten people, Set up a command envoy, below are the banner commanders of the three banners, the battalion commanders of the nine battalions, and the captains of the twenty-seven teams, and I am the battalion commander of the first battalion of the Central Banner.”

As he said that, he continued to introduce, “Besides, there is a Jiedushi and five personal guards next to the Jiedushi, but they are people from another system, and their status is higher than ours. Much taller.”

Li Yalin asked him, “What is the official position of Jiedushi?”

The man replied, “Jiedushi is the highest commander of the entire garrison, in charge of life and death for everyone in the entire resident.”

Li Yalin frowned and asked , “Jiedushi Dushi, Commander, Xiaoqiwei, these titles of your functions seem to be very old, what is their origin?”

The man explained, “It all comes from the military system of the Ming Dynasty.”

Li Yalin blurted out, “Your organization, Could it be from the Ming Dynasty to today?”

The humane said, “To tell you the truth, the dead men who were manipulated and enslaved alone have a traceable history of at least 300 years, so the time when the organization was founded is very likely. It was really during the Ming Dynasty, but these are just speculations, and I don’t know the specifics.”

Li Yalin couldn’t help but take a breath, then he collected himself and asked, “Then do you have the identity information of this Jiedushi? “

No.” The man shook his head and said, “The internal structure of the garrison is extremely strict. Although we knight guards have a higher status than the dead soldiers, we are still the objects of the organization’s slavery. We follow orders every day. I don’t know the specific identity of the Jiedushi.”

Li Yalin pursed his lips, and then asked, “If we divide according to strength, which group is the strongest among Jiedushi, Jiedushi’s personal guards, cavalry guards, and dead soldiers?”

The man thought for a while, and said, “We have never seen Jiedushi and his personal guards attack, but our strength is generally stronger than that of the dead, because we stand out from the dead.”

Li Yalin asked him "Do your cavalry guards often perform missions?"

the man replied, "The cavalry guards only perform emergency missions."

As he said that, he further introduced, "Normal missions are usually carried out by dead men. We will select the dead men to perform the mission in advance, and then make them deeply unconscious before departure, and then hand them over to the postman to transport them to the place where the mission is to be carried out. However, this kind of preparation time is relatively long, and there is no time for emergencies, so once there is an emergency, we will be responsible for it."

Li Yalin asked again, "Then please describe to me all the details of the mission you received this time. The man thought for a while, and said in a straightforward manner, "We just received a temporary mission a few hours before departure. The Jiedushi gave the commander the pictures of the eight Nordics. The seven of us were selected based on personal characteristics, and after putting on make-up at the copper mine, he led the team and flew to Bergen."

Li Yalin suddenly felt a little tricky.

He said to charlie, "Master Wade, the structure of this organization is strict, and the information isolation between each layer is very well done. Even Xiaoqiwei, all the inside information he knows is limited to their station and some of the station. The deceitful business, and almost nothing else, so if you look at it this way, if you want to know more in-depth information, you have to find the Jiedushi."

charlie nodded, and said, "Jiedushi may not know much valuable information. Information."

Li Yalin suddenly remembered something, and quickly asked charlie, "Master Wade, you just said that the poison in their bodies needs to be taken regularly to delay the onset, right?"

charlie nodded slightly, "That's right."

Li Yalin continued Ask Wu Siqi, "Wu Siqi, you dead men living near Sri Lanka also need to take medicine regularly, right?"

Wu Siqi nodded truthfully and said, "Yes, Inspector Li."

Li Yalin then looked at the Xiao Qiwei asked him, "How do you get the medicine you take every week? Is there a large amount of it stored in the copper mine, or will someone come to deliver it every once in a while?"

The man hurriedly said, "The medicines are delivered at regular intervals, and they are all transported by freighters between us and Turkey. The large amount of supplies we need are also delivered through freighters."

Li Yalin nodded and muttered He muttered, "That is to say, if there is a way to cut off the supply of antidote, then all the dead soldiers and all the knight guards in the entire garrison will not survive seven days, right?"

" This is the case in theory, but you can't do it!"

Li Yalin looked at him, and said lightly, "I just raised this possibility."

After finishing speaking, he looked at charlie and said seriously, "Master Wade, if you want to solve Cutting off the garrison is definitely a good way to cut off the supply of the antidote. Moreover, once the supply of the antidote is successfully cut off, it will be able to enter a state of siege for reinforcements, just like a sniper on the battlefield. Instead, they use the wounded to attract rescuers from the other side, and then kill all the people who come to help them one by one."

Hearing this, Abbas couldn't help but excitedly said, "Surround the spot to help! Inspector Li's method is great !"

After that, he quickly said to charlie, "Mr. Wade, if you use Detective Li's method, while surrounding the points to fight for aid, while waiting for the seven-day deadline, after those seven days, this station may disappear by itself."

Fear 547 He said endlessly, "Mr. Wade, think twice! Once you do this, thousands of dead men and their families may die without a place to bury them!"

" Most of the dead men and warriors are forced to work for the organization, if their antidote supply is really cut off, none of them will survive, this... this is... too cruel for them..."

said After that, he looked at charlie and begged, "Sir, please see that we are all forced to do nothing, please give us, our relatives and friends a way to survive..."

charlie didn't speak, and was alone in thought After a while, he opened his mouth and said, "Although the method of cutting off the antidote is useful, it is really not humane. Once it succeeds, thousands of lives will cease to exist."

Speaking of this, charlie suddenly looked at Wusiqi and these Xiaoqiguards, and asked seriously, "If one day, you find that after you take the antidote given by the organization, the poison in your body is not delayed, but It was suddenly and completely cleared, how would you react?"
