next morning.

When Zijin Villa was still shrouded in a thin layer of white mist, Lin Wan'er (Alani), who had not put on makeup, tied her long hair into a ponytail and put on an unremarkable summer dress, and headed to Qixia Mountain alone.

Both Qiu Yingshan and Sun Zhidong suggested that bodyguards go with her to ensure her safety, but both were rejected by Lin Wan'er (Alani).

Dayin lives in the city. For her, since she has decided to study in Aurous Hill, she must live in this city with confidence and boldness from now on.

A lone girl, even if she looks more beautiful, will only attract attention, not suspicion.

But once the girl is accompanied by bodyguards, or secretly followed all the way, once someone sees it, it will inevitably arouse the suspicion of the other party.

Seeing her resolute attitude, the two of them didn't insist anymore.

After Lin Wan'er (Alani) went down the mountain, she didn't choose to take a taxi. She checked the route on her mobile phone last night. From the north of Zijin Mountain, there is a direct bus to Qixia Mountain. The journey takes about 30 minutes. Not much, this time she decided to stabilize in Aurous Hill for a period of time, so she simply came to fully integrate.

Half an hour later, Lin Wan'er (Alani) got off the bus at Qixia Station and walked to the entrance of Qixia Temple.

This was Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s first visit to Qixia Mountain, but she had heard from her father that the ancestors of the Lin family were buried in Qixia Mountain since she was very young.

More than 600 years ago, when Ming Taizu Zhu Yuanzhang established the Ming Dynasty and established Aurous Hill as the capital, the ancestors of the Lin family were officials in Aurous Hill.

After the Battle of Jingnan, King Zhu Di of Yan succeeded to the throne and decided to move the capital to Yanjing, so the Lin family was also ordered to prepare to move the family north with the court.

However, the ancestors of the Lin family died of illness on the eve of moving the capital due to their advanced age. When explaining the funeral, he specified that he would be buried with his wife who had been buried in Qixia Mountain for ten years, so his descendants buried him in the same place. On Qixia Mountain.

According to the genealogy records, on the second day after the ancestors of the Lin family were buried, the descendants of the Lin family went north with their whole family. Since then, until Lin Wan'er (Alani), for six hundred years, the descendants of the Lin family have never been able to return to Aurous Hill to settle down. , there is no Lin family buried here, and only the ancestors and husband and wife are left here.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) hiked up the mountain and searched around the mountain, but she never saw any graves or tombstones. After hundreds of years, she has no way of knowing where her ancestors' graves are located in Qixia Mountain. After all, the age is too long, even if Just exposure to the sun and rain is enough to make the tomb disappear.

Therefore, in Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s mind, this Qixia Mountain is the tomb of her ancestors.

In Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s handy canvas bag, she put some high-quality Laoshan sandalwood. Originally, she wanted to find a secluded place on the mountain to worship her ancestors, but she didn't expect that there were warning signs prohibiting fireworks everywhere on the mountain, and there were surveillance cameras everywhere. In the video, Lin Wan'er (Alani) knew that if she burned incense and worshiped here, she would not only be at risk of fire, but also at risk of being arrested.

Thinking of this, she decided to go to Qixia Temple on the middle peak of Qixia Mountain to burn incense and worship. Although it is a temple, after all, her ancestors were buried here, and burning incense there is also regarded as worshipping ancestors.

Qixia Temple was built more than 1,500 years ago. It is one of the four famous Buddhist temples in China and the most famous temple in Aurous Hill and even the whole province.

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5390 -

Lin Wan'er (Alani) is proficient in the Book of Changes and gossip, and at the same time respects the Buddha and Taoism. She is in awe of this ancient temple with a long history.

When Lin Wan'er (Alani) arrived at Zhongfeng where Qixia Temple is located, Claire and Elaine also arrived just in time.

In fact, the two had already parked the car, but Elaine had trouble walking, so with Claire's support, she climbed the stairs with crutches, and finally reached Qixia Temple with difficulty.

Because it is a working day, there are not many pilgrims and tourists who come to Qixia Temple in the morning. Lin Wan'er (Alani) walked to the main hall, but did not rush in.

Instead, she took out three sticks of incense from her handbag, ignited them, and went outside the gate of the hall in front of the incense burner.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) put the three sticks of incense on her forehead with both hands, bowed slightly, and said in a low voice, "The ancestors of the Lin family are here, Lin Wan'er (Alani), the unfilial descendant of the Lin family, came to worship, and now only Wan'er is left in the lineage of the Lin family. There are countless hardships, it is not easy for Wan'er to survive to this day, I hope you two know, don't blame my father and other ancestors and elders for failing to let the Lin family flourish..."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) was slightly taken aback, Then he said, "Perhaps, they are over there... They have already met you two, and explained to you two in person..."

Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s eyes were slightly red when she said this.

Over the past six hundred years, the ancestors of the Lin family have indeed gone through extremely difficult times. During this process, there were many crises for the family and country, and many sudden changes in the situation. Many wealthy and famous families of the past have interrupted their inheritance during this process. To this day, in Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s opinion, she is indeed very lucky.

After a moment of silence, Lin Wan'er (Alani) inserted three sticks of incense into the incense burner, then held back her tears and turned to enter the Daxiong Hall.

In the main hall, a ten-meter-high statue of Sakyamuni stands in the center.

On the ground in front of the Buddha statue, there were three futons for pilgrims to worship. When Lin Wan'er entered, the pilgrim on the left futon just got up, so she stepped forward and knelt down devoutly in front of the Buddha statue, with her hands folded and her eyes slightly closed, meditate in my heart "My Lord Buddha, my disciple Lin Wan'er (Alani), I implore the Buddha to bless my disciple, so that I can avenge my father's killing in my lifetime. After my disciple takes revenge, I will return to Qixia Temple to offer you incense and reshape your golden body!"

Just as Lin Wan'er (Alani) made a sincere wish, Elaine With Claire's support, Elaine limped into the Daxiong Palace.

Since Elaine's broken right leg was broken, Claire supported her on the right side. At this time, the futons in the middle and right side were also free, so Claire walked to the front with Elaine's support.

Elaine had a plaster cast on her right leg, and it was not easy to kneel down, so she simply stretched her right leg behind her back, like an athlete starting a run, and knelt on one knee with her left leg.

Afterwards, Elaine said with a pious face, "Buddha, please be sure to bless my live broadcast popularity in three days, and bless me to make a lot of money by live streaming. In addition, please open your eyes to see souna, that stinky bitch." What is it like now! Let this kind of person stand up, God bears the unshirkable responsibility! "Journey to the West" said that the relationship between the Buddha of the West Heaven and the Jade Emperor is very good, and I hope you can remind him, if he doesn't Open your eyes, please open your eyes..."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) was praying devoutly, but she didn't expect a woman next to her to say so much, and the words became more and more outrageous. , couldn't help opening his eyes, glanced to the right, and then saw Elaine muttering solemnly there, "Buddha, you don't know, souna, that stinky bitch, is not a thing at all! She was the one who died in the first place." Trick me..."

Claire couldn't help but look at her mother at this time, and reminded in a low voice with embarrassment, "Mom... what are you talking about here..."
