

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5395 -

Through Claire and Elaine, she found out all the information about charlie's dual identity, which really made Lin Wan'er (Alani) very excited.

She felt that when she came to Aurous Hill this time, it seemed that there was help from heaven in the dark, making everything extremely smooth.

However, she didn't intend to get close to the mother and daughter, let alone charlie.

She felt that she had to stick to her plan yesterday and never take the initiative to contact charlie until after school started and she became friends with Claudia.

At this time, charlie didn't know that the little girl who was accidentally rescued in Northern Europe had already checked all the information about her two identities.

At this time, Isaac Cameron called him and respectfully said on the phone, "Master, I have already confirmed it with Master. The old lady you are looking for has just returned to Shunan with her son a while ago." I have already got the specific address of my hometown in the countryside, when do you plan to go there?"

charlie said without hesitation, "As soon as possible, it will be done before Zayne's wedding."

Then, charlie said again, "You arrange the plane and leave tomorrow morning Come with me."

Isaac Cameron immediately agreed, "Okay young master, I will arrange the plane and the vehicle after arrival now, because the old lady lives in the mountains, we have to fly to Zunhuai in your province first, and then follow Zunhuai Drive to Shunan, after the plane lands, there are still about four hours to drive."

"Okay." charlie responded, and said, "You arrange someone to go to Shudu today, and buy a set that is closer to the top three hospitals. A more prosperous second-hand small villa, and then buy a front house suitable for opening a small supermarket near the villa."

The phoenix bone vine given to charlie by the old lady is an invaluable treasure to charlie, not only helping him refine Twenty Remodeling Pills were produced, and the rest would be of great use in the future.

Therefore, charlie was also very grateful to the old lady.

Even though he was in Mexico and saved her and her son's lives, charlie still felt that he still owed the old lady a favor.

When he went to see the old lady this time, in addition to fulfilling his promise that day, he also hoped to give the old man and her son a stable life for the rest of their lives.

Shu is the provincial capital of Sichuan and Shu, and it is also the best-developed city in Sichuan and Shu. The elderly live in the mountains, not only in poor conditions, but also in the future as they get older, there will inevitably be many inconveniences.

Therefore, Charlie planned to ask Isaac Cameron to arrange someone to buy a cozy small villa in Shudu first, and then buy a front house.

Although the old man's son has no skills, he even traveled thousands of miles to Mexico to become a seaman in order to let the old man live a good life. Although he was deceived, it can also prove that he is indeed willing to endure hardship and work hard.

If he wants to do something, he can open a small supermarket directly in front of his house in the future.

Opening a small supermarket now does not make a lot of money, but the advantage is that the process is simple and the threshold is low, and if the front door is your own, you can basically make a steady profit without losing money. Isaac Cameron heard it, and said without hesitation, "Okay young master, then I will arrange for someone to go there first, and try to get it done before we see the old lady tomorrow."

Send me a copy of the old lady's information background, I'll take a look first."

"Good sir." Isaac Cameron said without thinking, "Send it to your WeChat immediately."
After

hanging up the phone, Isaac Cameron sent the information file to Charlie.

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5396 -

After Charlie looked it up, he found that the old lady's background was very simple, but there seemed to be something extraordinary about it.

The old lady's surname is Jiang, and her name is Lola. She was born in the mountainous area of southern Shu, and grew up in the mountainous area of southern Shu. She didn't even marry far away, but married a young man from the same village.

In the next 50 years, she rarely left this small mountain village with a high probability, because she was a permanent resident of the family in every census, and it was clearly marked on the information that she cooperated with the census.

And that village, in its heyday, had only about 40 households with more than 300 people, but now the population loss is serious, and only a dozen households with more than 40 people are still living here, and most of them are middle-aged people. the elderly.

From this point of view, the old lady should be the most ordinary left-behind elderly in mountain villages, living a life that cannot be simpler and ordinary.

But the reason why charlie felt that she seemed a little extraordinary was because of her name, Lola.

charlie read a lot of books under the influence of his father when he was young, so he could tell at a glance that this Lola came from a sentence in "The Book of Songs·Guofeng·Hanguang" "There are trees in the south, and you can't stop thinking about it.

" For a ten-year-old lady, if her parents were not scholars, it would be impossible to give her such a name.

Scholars eighty years ago, the gold content is not the same as today.

Moreover, charlie still remembered that when she met the old lady in the underground prison in Mexico, she once told herself about the origin of the phoenix bone vine bracelet. Her ancestors were famous doctors in the Tang Dynasty, and the phoenix bone vine was passed down by her ancestors Unfortunately, although her family passed down the phoenix bone vine, the inheritance of medical skills was cut off during the Anshi Rebellion.

Passing one thing is simple, passingA skill is too difficult. The inheritance of the former only needs to "hand over" things to the next generation, while the latter needs to "teach" the next generation what he has learned all his life. Although both are friends, the former may only need a second , but the latter may take a lifetime.

Moreover, although the old lady only briefly described the origin of the phoenix bone vine that day, it can prove that the old lady's family has been passed down in an orderly manner since 1,500 years ago.

This is extremely rare.

In other words, during the more than a thousand years of turbulent feudal society, the orderly inheritance of the family can still be guaranteed, which proves that the family is very strong.

Those who are not strong enough, even if they can survive all kinds of disasters, it is difficult to guarantee the continued inheritance of the family. For example, after a turmoil, only a child is left in the family. A person was adopted and raised and given a new surname and a new name. In this case, if he can still remember his original surname, it is already extremely rare. Let him remember the basic information of his ancestors and the whole family. The core point of inheritance is completely idiotic.

But if the strength is strong enough, it will be different. Even if there is only one child who died in the turmoil, but the family has ancestral property, gold and silver, a collection of books, and a family tree, plus the help of relatives with foreign surnames, this child will grow up. The queen can still pass on the family.

Of course, this kind of strength does not necessarily mean having enough money and social status. It can also be a special ability. If a certain craft is passed down from generation to generation, so that every generation can have enough food, then the family, there is a high probability that it can be passed down forever.

However, the old lady once said that the medical skills of their ancestors have long been broken, so presumably their ancestors should have other extraordinary abilities.
