

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5429 -

At this time, Lin Wan'er (Alani) walked over from the main hall with a light gait.

The moment Mia (Liu Manqiong) saw Lin Wan'er (Alani), there was only one thought in Mia (Liu Manqiong)'s mind, "How could there be such a beautiful girl?"

In fact, because of her romantic father, she was extremely beautiful at a young age.

Hong Kong Island, and most of the Asian entertainment circles, were my father's s*x hunting grounds back then. Instead of catching a lot of scandal-rumored female stars in the media reports, which one is not a sinking fish and a wild goose, a closed moon and a shameful flower?

What's more, Hong Kong Island has always been the fashion and financial center of Asia in the past few decades. In that narrow and cramped city corner, I don't know how many handsome men and women from all over the world have gathered, so Mia (Liu Manqiong)'s aesthetics has long been Already a little tired, even a little numb.

But even so, when she saw Lin Wan'er (Alani) for the first time, she was still shocked.

Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s beauty was a type she had almost never seen before.

It's not perfect enough to be impeccable, it's even perfect beyond imagination.

In other words, let Mia (Liu Manqiong) imagine what she thinks is the most beautiful woman in her mind, and then compare that woman with Lin Wan'er (Alani), there will still be an insurmountable gap with Lin Wan'er (Alani).

When Lin Wan'er (Alani) came to Mia (Liu Manqiong), Mia (Liu Manqiong) was still in shock by her appearance.

Qiu Yingshan on the side said, "Mia, let me introduce you. This is my granddaughter, Lin Xiaowan. She just came from Malaysia and is a freshman majoring in archeology at Aurous Hill University.

" Asked in surprise, "What did you say? Archeology major?"

"Yes." Qiu Yingshan nodded and said with a smile, "It's archeology major. My cousin likes traditional Chinese culture, and then I'm interested in those cultural relics and historic sites. So I chose archaeology."

As he said that, he introduced to Lin Wan'er (Alani), "Xiao Wan, this is the granddaughter Mia (Liu Manqiong) I just told you about. She will go to your school to interview the lecturers in the afternoon."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) smiled slightly, and stretched out her hand very politely. , smiled and said, "Sister Mia! I will be in the same school as you in the future, and I have to ask you to take care of me!"

Mia (Liu Manqiong) also quickly reached out to shake her hand, and then said seriously, "It is not 100% sure that we can go well. I was admitted to Aurous Hill University, but don't worry, as long as I am admitted, I will take care of and help as much as I can in the future!"

Lin Wan'er (Alani) nodded, and asked with a smile, "I don't know what major Sister mia is studying at school?"

Mia (Liu Manqiong) said, " I am majoring in Chinese language, and I mainly focus on Chinese language and literature and ancient Chinese."

Lin Wan'er asked curiously, "I wonder if archeology majors should take Chinese language courses?"

Mia (Liu Manqiong) shook her head, "I'm really not sure about this, because archeology majors are average. It is a category of history, and it stands to reason that there should be a certain amount of Chinese language courses, but the specifics depend on the specific teaching arrangements of each school."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said with a smile, "It would be best if there is, and I will go to Take Sister Mia's course."

Although Mia (Liu Manqiong) is not good at communication, but facing the smile of a perfect girl like Lin Wan'er (Alani), she suddenly became more cheerful, and said with a pleasant smile, "Okay! If I am hired, when the time comes You must come and support me!"

Seeing that the two met happily, Qiu Yingshan couldn't help but said with relief, "It's rare that you two are so speculative, let's go in and sit down and talk slowly." The two readily agreed, and together Everyone immediately moved to the living room.

In the living room, after Mia (Liu Manqiong) and Lin Wan'er (Alani) sat down, Lin Wan'er (Alani) asked her curiously, "Sister Mia, why did you choose to develop in Aurous Hill from Hong Kong Island? There is still a big gap between the international first-tier cities and the inland second-tier cities. "

Mia (Liu Manqiong) smiled slightly, and moved out on the road again. The set of arguments she said to Sister Xian was nothing more than feeling that Hong Kong Island was too fast-paced, with too many people and too little land, and the city's resources were severely squeezed. The overall feeling was that life in second-tier cities in the Mainland was more comfortable. .

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5430 -

Lin Wan'er (Alani) nodded in agreement after listening, but she didn't think so at all in her heart.

She felt that Mia (Liu Manqiong)'s remarks sounded right at first glance. Hong Kong Island, a first-tier international city, naturally has a slow pace, and it is true that Hong Kong Island has a lot of people and a lot of land. Many people work hard all their lives and can't afford a set of three A small house of 40 square meters, so many young people from Hong Kong Island have gradually started to develop in the mainland, especially the special zone adjacent to Hong Kong Island, which has attracted many young people from Hong Kong Island.

However, Lin Wan'er (Alani) is also very clear that Hong Kong Island is a place where heaven and hell coexist.

There, it is normal for a poor family of six or seven to squeeze into a ten-square-meter room, and some people even live in places where there is not even room for a bed.

However, also on Hong Kong Island, the top rich can build super luxury houses that look like palaces on the mountainside of the bay, and live in luxury flats with hundreds of thousands of square meters on skyscrapers.

Over the past few decades, Hong Kong Island has been a paradise for the rich. Mia (Liu Manqiong)'s family is extremely wealthy. The pace of Hong Kong Island, the size of the population, and the amount of land have almost nothing to do with her.

Her reason is like a top rich man declaring that he decided to leave the United States because of the poor law and order in the United States and frequent shootings.

At first glance, this reason does not seem to be a problem at all.

In a country like the United States, everyone is armed with guns, and armed robberies happen every day, and zero-dollar purchases are happening all the time. Major shootings can happen hundreds or thousands of times a year. Living there, you really have to face the unknown every day. security risks.

But in fact, these dangers are all for the middle and lower classes in the United States.

In other words, ordinary people living in the United States do face the danger of guns, but for the top rich people living in the United States, they are much safer in the United States than in any other country.

Because they have enough money to build their own fence high enough and connect it to the grid, and at the same time they have enough money to hire enough people and carry enough guns to guard their safety 24 hours a day .

Moreover, in the top affluent areas in the United States, the police station can't wait to open one at the south gate of the community and one at the north gate, and then each police station will send eight police cars and 16 patrolmen with guns around the community 24 hours a day patrol.

If a gunman wanted to engage in a shooting, he would never choose a top wealthy area, because he was stopped by the patrolling police on his way into the wealthy area because his car was not good enough.

In this case, let alone taking out a gun, even if he puts his hand in his pocket to take a piece of chewing gum, he will be beaten into a hornet's nest within a second.

And even if he has the ability avoiding police patrols, but as long as he dares to get close to the manors of the super rich, dozens of guns will be aimed at him in secret.

In such a situation, wanting to engage in a shooting case is simply a dream. He might not even have the chance to shoot himself.

And the sense of security of the super-rich is exactly what other countries cannot give, because most countries do not allow ordinary people to hold guns, and rich people want to find dozens of gun-armed bodyguards to protect themselves, which is simply It's a dream, even if you usually hire some bodyguards, it will be futile once you encounter gangsters with guns.

The young master of the Li family was kidnapped on Hong Kong Island because the gangsters had guns, but the young master of the Li family and his bodyguards did not.

If the same thing happened in the United States, as long as the security company has enough budget, they can equip the young master with a few bulletproof Cadillacs that are comparable to armored vehicles and a dozen bodyguards with assault rifles for personal protection on the way home. Those gangsters like Qiang and A Huan might not be enough to give these bodyguards their teeth.

Therefore, if an ordinary person says that life in the United States is not safe enough, it is probably what he really thinks.

But if a super-rich person says the same thing to the outside world, it must be his excuse, not his real thoughts.

Therefore, Lin Wan'er (Alani) concluded that there must be other reasons for Mia (Liu Manqiong)'s visit to Aurous Hill.

Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s thinking logic is that everything should look at the rationality first, and once this matter goes against common sense, then there must be a demon.

Moreover, just like multiplication, the larger the base and multiple, the larger the result will naturally be, and vice versa. If the result is large, the base and multiple will not be small.

Therefore, Lin Wan'er (Alani) couldn't help thinking to herself, "Mia (Liu Manqiong) is a wealthy daughter with a family fortune of hundreds of billions, if she can make such an abnormal behavior with a wealthy daughter of hundreds of billions, then this "monster" is definitely not an ordinary "monster". It must be a big monster... This basic logic also applies to me. I will come here not really because I like it, or what kind of relationship my ancestors have with this place, but because there is a hidden here. The big monster, that monster is charlie!"

Thinking of this, Lin Wan'er (Alani) frowned and said to herself, "On the bright side of Aurous Hill, there are almost no 'monsters' who can be worthy of Mia (Liu Manqiong)'s identity. Could it be that... this Mia (Liu Manqiong) also came for charlie?"
