

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5524 -

Seeing that when Charlie threatened to slap him, he even stretched out his hand to gesture around his face, Hong Changqing really wanted to tear him into pieces, because he had never suffered such humiliation in his life.

However, when he thought that he still had important matters in Aurous Hill, and that he would go to the police station when he went out, even if there was a huge hatred in his heart, he could only suppress it desperately at this moment.

Seeing that his face was livid and his whole body was like a pressure cooker about to explode, Charlie sneered and sarcastically said, "What's the matter? Don't you dare to give me the pulse? I see you old bastard, yesterday you cheated and won the miracle doctor! Otherwise, Why don't you dare to give me the pulse?"

Charlie originally suspected that this Hong Changqing had set up a trick for Dr. Simmons, but seeing that he turned out to be an eight-star warrior today, he confirmed his guess even more.

An eight-star martial artist must spend most of his time practicing martial arts every day. Even if such a person has the talent to become a top Chinese doctor, he absolutely does not have the time and opportunity to become a top Chinese doctor.

In this world, there are many top scientists who can win the Nobel Prize, and there are also art masters who can study a certain musical instrument or a certain painting to perfection, and there are also many athletes who can practice like sports to become world champions.

However, who has heard of a Nobel Prize winner who can become the world's top pianist and Olympic champion at the same time?

Human energy is always limited. Since Hong Changqing is an eight-star martial artist, it is doomed that he does not have much time and energy to become a leader in other fields.

At this moment, seeing Charlie being aggressive all the time, Hong Changqing felt a little nervous in his heart.

Although he is a Daoist celestial master, he can be considered a great figure, but for so many years, his main energy has been devoted to practicing martial arts, and his secondary energy has been used to study the refining of some low-level Daoist elixir, and he has not gone deep into it at all. He has studied Chinese medicine.

However, it's not that he doesn't know anything about medical skills. After all, the Taoist school is good at medical skills, so he is still better than most Chinese doctors with limited levels, but compared with Dr. Simmons, a master of Chinese medicine, there is still a big gap.

When he fell in love with Dr. Simmons's Jishi Hall, and at the same time wanted to occupy the magpie's nest and step on Dr. Simmons to quickly gain a foothold in Aurous Hill, he thought of digging a hole for Dr. Simmons.

It is precisely because his own medical skills are not as good as Dr. Simmons's, so he deliberately found a few nurses, and then took the opportunity to compete with Dr. Simmons in medical skills. All the female patients who came to see the doctor yesterday were arranged by him. As long as Dr. Simmons agrees in the competition with him, no matter who Dr. Simmons chooses to be the benchmark of the competition, he is doomed to lose.

But at that time, I had been leading Dr. Simmons by the nose, and using the witnesses on the scene to put pressure on Dr. Simmons, Dr. Simmons didn't think about it at all.

But charlie is not Dr. Simmons.

Dr. Simmons may feel that everything is fine because he chose the benchmark for the competition from a few patients.

But charlie felt that this sounded a little tricky.

Seeing that Hong Changqing still didn't speak, he frowned and said, "Don't dare to compete, right? I think you are a liar! Before I call the police and arrest you, get out as far as you can!" Hong Changqing gritted his teeth and said, "Who said

I Don't dare? It's just that you are Dr. Simmons's person, and you are all in the same boat, what's the point of me giving you the pulse? Even if I guess correctly, you will say that I didn't guess right!" charlie smiled and took out his ID card Come out, buckle it on the table backwards, buckle My name and date of birth, and say lightly, "Come on, my ID card is here, you give me the pulse number, as long as the date of birth in your number is different from my ID card Within seven days, I will count you as the winner."

Hong Changqing suddenly became nervous.

Things like age itself are not that simple.

Yesterday, I was afraid that Dr. Simmons would have the ability to determine the age of the other party, so before I asked them to act, I found the person who issued the fake certificate in advance, gave them fake IDs, and deliberately deviated the birthday from the actual age by a year or two, for double insurance, not only let Hong Changqing know the answer in advance, but also confuse the real answer, so that even if Dr. Simmons is very capable, the age on the number cannot match the age on the ID card.

So now that Charlie suddenly launched an attack, how could he dare to fight casually.

So, he said in a cold voice, "Huh! What is an ID card? ID cards can also be faked. If you make a fake ID card to deceive me and change the date of birth, even if I am older it's impossible to guess the age on your ID card, so you won't lose?"

After hearing his question, Charlie asked curiously, "It seems that you don't like this kind of indiscretion. The matter is clear! Did you win Miracle Doctor by such a trick?"

Hong Changqing immediately denied it, "Of course I didn't! I won Dr. Simmons because of my own real ability! I just think, you kid it doesn't look like a good person, it is probably designed to trick me on purpose!"

Charlie nodded, "You are afraid that I will collude with Doctor to trick you, right?"

Hong Changqing immediately said, "That's right!"

"Okay!" Charlie slightly with a smile, he said to Xyla, "Xyla, invite all the people I asked you to invite in!" Xyla quickly said, "Okay, Master Wade!"

There were more than a dozen women of different ages, some of whom looked to be in their early twenties, and some who looked at least sixty or seventy years old.

After these people came in, they all stood in a row, and Charlie looked at the dumbfounded Hong Changqing, and said with a smile, "Come on, Hong Tianshi, these ladies, I asked Xyla to hire them. You come and give them a pulse number to see if you can guess their age correctly, or the rule I just said, your error cannot be greater than seven days." Hong Changqing was very flustered in his heart, but sarcastically said on his mouth "How do I know if these people are your new babysitters?!"
