

Chapter 1

Decorative lights and illuminants lit up the extravagant Wilson family mansion. Tonight was the 70th birthday banquet of Lady Wilson, the head of the Wilson family. Her grandchildren and their spouses gathered around her to hand her their luxurious gifts.

"Grandma, I heard that you love the Chinese tea. I looked high and low for the century-old pu'er tea worth half a million dollars to present it to you."

"Grandma you are a devout Buddhist this Buddha statue is carved from aesthetic hetian jade, it is worth seven hundred thousand dollars..."

Looking at the nicely wrapped gifts in front of her, Lady Wilson laughed heartily. The entire ambiance was harmonious and happy.

Suddenly, Charlie Wade Wade, Lady Wilson's eldest grandson-in-law, spoke, "Grandma, could you lend me a million dollars, please? Mrs. Lewis from the welfare home is diagnosed with uremia and I need the money for her treatment..."

The entire Wilson Family was cast in extreme shock. Everyone Stared at Charlie Wade with bewilderment and surprise. This live-in grandson-in-law was overly atrocious and bold! Not only did he not prepare a gift for Lady Wilson on her birthday but he actually had the audacity to ask her for one million dollars!

Three years ago, Lord Wilson, who was still alive and well, had come home with Charlie Wade one day and insisted on marrying him to their granddaughter, Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson. Back then, Charlie Wade was as poor and miserable as a beggar.

Lord Wilson had passed away after they got married. Ever since then, everyone in the Wilson family tried to kick him out of the family. However, Charlie Wade was always indifferent and nonchalant like a statue despite the insults and ridicule, and he spent his days in the Wilson family quietly as a live-in-son-in-law.

He was at his wit's end that he had to borrow money from Lady Wilson today.

Mrs Lewis, who had taken him in and saved his life, had uremia. She needed at least one million dollars for dialysis and a kidney transplant. He had no other ideas except for asking for lady Wilson's help.

He felt that since it was her birthday today, she might be delighted to have some mercy and provide her assistance. However, Lady Wilson was still laughing gleefully when abruptly her lips curled downward and her eyes furrowed indignantly.

She hurled the teacup in her hand to the floor and ground, "Bastard! Are you here to celebrate my birthday or borrow money?"

Claire Wilson Wilson hurried forward and said "Grandma, Charlie Wade is not thinking straight, please forgive him." She then pulled her husband aside frantically.

At this moment, Wendy, Claire Wilson Wilson's cousin sneered in disdain. "Claire Wilson Wilson, look at the piece of trash you're married to! Gerold is only my fiance and we haven't even gotten married yet but he gifted Grandma the Jade Buddha. Look at your good-for-nothing husband not only did he come empty-handed but he also has the nerve to ask Grandma for money!"

"You're right! Charlie Wade, we're both the Grandsons in law of the Wilson family but you're such a disgrace!"

The man who was talking was Gerald white, Wendy's fiancée who was also the son of the wealthy family in town. Although Gerald was about to marry Wendy, in his eyes, Claire Wilson Wilson was so much more beautiful and elegant and his fiance. Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson was the famous goddess of beauty in Aurouss Hilll, but Gerald was very frustrated and irritated when such a beauty got married to a loser.

"It's best for this useless loser to get out of the Wilson family now!"

"Yes! He is such a disgrace to our family!"

"Perhaps his intention is not to borrow money but to spoil the joyful ambience of Grandma's birthday instead!"

Charlie Wade clenched his fists tightly as the entire Wilson family was humiliating and ridiculing them. If it wasn't for the sake of the urgency, he would have left this annoying place.

However, his father's words echoed in his head. He had taught him to be grateful for the help he received and to return the favor tenfold. Hence, he suppressed the fury and humiliation slowly building within him and said to Lady Wilson, "Grandma, whoever saves one life saves the world entirely. Please, I beg for your mercy."

Someone in the room snorted loudly. "Mr. Wade, stop force-feeding chicken soup to Grandma. If you want to rescue someone, you can find a way on your own. Who do you think you are to ask for money from Grandma?"

It was Wendy's brother, Harold Wilson.

The sinister brother and sister had always been prejudiced against Claire Wilson Wilson, who was Superior to them in every aspect. Hence, they would always attack Charlie Wade at any chance they could seize.

Claire Wilson Wilson, who was wearing a slightly awkward expression on her face, started, "Grandma, Charlie Wade's father died when he was eight. It was Mrs. Lewis at the welfare home who had brought him up. He is utterly grateful for her graciousness and that is why he wants to return the favor so badly. Could you please help him..'

Lady Wilson ground with an indignant face, "You want me to help him? Okay, divorced him now and marry Mr. Jones! If you do as I say, I'll give him one million dollars right away!"

The Mr. Jones that Lady Wilson was referring to was Wendell Jones, a man who was always pursuing Claire Wilson Wilson despite her married status. The Jones family was one of the prominent families in the upper social circle in Aurouss Hilll, which was much more powerful than the Wilson family. Lady Wilson had always wanted to get on their good side.

At this moment, the butler sprinted in and said, "Mr. Jones sent a birthday gift to Lady Wilson! It is a Buddha talisman carved from the jadeite stone worth three million dollars!"

Lady Wilson broke into a large smile and quickly blurted, "Bring it to me! Let me see!"

The butler immediately presented the emerald green Buddha talisman which sent waves of exclamation across the living hall. The emerald talisman was crystal clear with its vibrant and sharp colors, without any trace of impurities. It was of the finest Jade quality.

Gerald, who had gifted the Buddha statue, gloomed in irritation instantly. He didn't expect Wendell Jones, who had nothing to do with the Wilson family to be so generous and lavish!

Lady Wilson caressed the talisman cheerfully and said, "Oh, Mr. Jones is so sensible! It would be a sweet dream come true if he were my grandson-in-law!"

Then, she lifted her gaze at Claire Wilson Wilson and asked, "So, how's that? Do you want to consider my terms and conditions?"

Claire Wilson Wilson shook her head decidedly. "No, Grandma. I will never divorce Charlie Wade."

A dark stormy Cloud instantly hovered beneath Lady Wilson's eyes. She shouted angrily, "You ungrateful thing! What good is that loser? Why do you want to waste your time on him? Kick that loser out of my house! He is not allowed at my birthday banquet! I don't want to see his face!"

Charlie Wade heaved a sigh of dismay and regret. He didn't want to stay with the Wilson family anymore, so he said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I am going to the hospital to visit Mrs. Lewis."

Claire Wilson Wilson said quickly, "I'll go with you."

Lady Wilson shouted again, "If you leave now, you're no longer my granddaughter! You can take your mom, your dad, and that loser and get out of the Wilson family!"

Claire Wilson Wilson stared at her grandmother. She did not expect to hear such a harsh coming from her.

Charlie Wade interjected, "You stay here, don't worry about me."

Before Claire Wilson Wilson could compose herself from the trance, he turned and left.

Harold laughed behind him. "Hey, my dear Charlie Wade, if you leave with an empty stomach, will you go on the streets and beg for food? If you do so, you'll tarnish our family name! Here, I have a dollar, you can buy a bun or something to eat!"

Harold produced a one dollar from his pocket and threw it at Charlie Wade's feet .

The entire family's thunderous laughter echoed across the house. Charlie Wade gritted his teeth in annoyance and left the house without looking back.

When Charlie Wade arrived at the hospital, he immediately went to the cashier department to try to negotiate an extension of payment for another two days.

However, when he approached the nurses, he was informed that overnight, Mrs. Lewis had been transferred to Fairview Hospital, Eastcliff's top hospital, for treatment.

Charlie Wade gasped in shock and quickly asked, "How much does it cost? I'll find a way to settle it!"

The nurse said, "The bill is three million dollars in total. One million dollars has already been paid, the remaining two million dollars needs to be settled within a week

"Who covered the one million dollars?"

The nurse shook his head. "I have no idea."

Charlie Wade frowned in confusion. Just as he turned around to figure it out, a man of about fifty years of age in a black suit with gray hair was standing behind him.

They exchanged glances, and the man bowed before him and said, "Young Master! We've finally found you! Sorry for all the troubles and misery you've suffered for all these years!"

Charlie Wade furrowed and asked coldly as if he was a completely different person. "Are you Stephen Thompson?"

The Man gasped in surprise. "Young Master, you still remember me."

Charlie Wade startled slightly and murmured, "Of course I do! I remember each and everyone of you! You forcibly drove my mom and dad out of Eastcliff along with me and we fled the city. My parents died along the way and I became an orphan. What do you want from me now?"

Stephen grimaced sorrowfully and said, "Young Master, Lord Wade was very sad when he learned about your father's death. He never stopped looking for you. Come, let's go home and meet him!"

Charlie Wade said coldly, "Just go, I don't want to see him."

Stephen said, "Young master, are you still mad at your grandfather?"

"Of course!" Charlie Wade said loudly. "I'll never forgive him in my entire life!"

Stephen sighed dejectedly. "Before I came here, the Master did say that you will not forgive him."

"Good! Luckily he still has some sense in him!"

Stephen continued, "Lord Wade knows that you've had a hard life for so many years and he's asking me to compensate you if you don't want to go home, he will buy the largest company in Aurouss Hilll and give it to you. Besides, here, take this card, the pin number is your birthday."

Stephen handed over the premium black card from Citibank.

"Young Master, there are only five of such cards in the country."

Charlie Wade shook his head sternly. "No, I don't want it, take it away."

"Young Master, Mrs. Lewis is still two million dollars in debt for her medical bills. If she doesn't pay up, she might be in danger..."

"Are you threatening me? Is this part of your sinister plan?"

Stephen waved his hands frantically. "Oh no! We wouldn't dare to do such a thing! Keep the card, then you'll have enough money to pay the bill."

Charlie Wade asked, "How much is on this card?"

"Lord Wade said that he deposited some pocket money for you on this card. It's not much, just ten billion dollars!"

Chapter 2

Ten billion dollars?! Charlie Wade was shocked. His eyes wide open, his mouth wide agape.

He knew that his grandfather was very wealthy, but back then, he was too young to understand the concept of money. He only knew that the Wade family was one of the wealthiest families in Eastcliff and even the country, but he wasn't sure what his network was.

Right now, he finally knew. If ten billion dollars were just pocket money, it meant that the entire Wade family had a net worth of more than one trillion dollars.

Frankly Speaking, at this moment, he was slightly touched and swayed. However, when he thought about his deceased parents and how his grandfather was part of the reasons why they had died, he knew he could never easily forgive him.

Sensing his frustration, Stephen quickly said, "Young Master, you are one of the Wade family members, so the money is yours. Besides, technically speaking, it belongs to your father."

"The Master said that if you're willing to go home, he will let you inherit the family's one trillion dollar business empire. If you don't want to go home yet, use this money for your living expenses."

"Oh yes, another piece of news Aurouss Hilll's Largest and most profitable company, the Emgrand Group with a market value of one hundred billion dollars, had been wholly acquired by the Wade family yesterday. All the equities are now under your name, you can claim your right at the company tomorrow!"

Charlie Wade listened to him in a daze, completely in disbelief. Wasn't it a little too much investment from the Wade family for his sake? A premium black card with ten billion dollars, Emgrand Group with the net worth of one hundred billion dollars!

Although Aurouss Hilll was a land of talents, the only constant honorable existence was the Emgrand Group. It was the champ of Aurouss Hilll's business industry! Any prominent and influential family had to bow before the Emgrand Group including those families that humiliated him today the Wilson family, the White family, and even the Jones family who was still trying to pursue his wife! They were nothing but lowly servants in front of the Emgrand Group! And this magnificent company was his now?

Stephen handed him a business card and said, "Young Master, you might need some time to calm down and think about it, so I'll excuse myself now. This is my card with my number on it, please call me if you need anything!"

At that, Stephen Turned and Left. Charlie Wade was still in a daze after he left.

He didn't know whether he should accept the compensation from the weight family. However, he recalled the past decade of misery and hardship in the humiliation he had experienced when he married Claire Wilson Wilson. This was the compensation that the Wade family was giving him for his suffering, so I shouldn't take it? Besides, Miss Lewis urgently needed two million dollars for her treatment.

He gritted his teeth as he clutched on the card tightly, then turned back to the cashier department. "Hi, I would like to settle the bill."

The card was swiped, the password keyed in, and the transaction was complete. Two million dollars was credited into the hospital's account just like that. Charlie Wade felt like he was still hovering in the clouds. Did he just become a billionaire in the blink of an eye?

He went home in a trance. At this moment, the house was fueled with the wrath of fury. Claire Wilson Wilson and her parents did not live in the Wilson family villa but they stayed in an ordinary house instead. Since Claire Wilson Wilson married Charlie Wade after Lord Wilson died, they were kicked out of the villa.

His mother-in-law was screaming in great dismay, "Charlie Wade Wade, that loser! He's such an embarrassment! If you don't divorce him now, your grandma might kick you out of the Wilson group!"

Claire Wilson Wilson said calmly, "If she does, I'll just find another job."

"You..." Her mother growled angrily, "what's so good about that loser, anyway? Why can't you just divorce him and marry Wendell? If you marry Wendell Jones, our whole family can hold our head up high!"

Her father added, "Your mom's right! If you marry Wendell, our family will immediately become a precious treasure in the family. Your grandma will cherish you and pamper you every day!"

Claire Wilson Wilson uttered, "Just stop. I won't divorce Charlie Wade."

"You!" Both parents had wanted to keep on persuading clear when Charlie Wade pushed the door open and walked in.

His in-laws gave him a dirty look when they saw him. His mother-in-law snorted in disgust "I thought you'd forgotten the way home, loser!"

Charlie Wade sighed quietly inside his heart. His mother-in-law had always looked down on him, but what would she do if she were to know that he was now the owner of Emgrand Group and had ten billion dollars in cash?

However, this was not the time to reveal his true identity. He had left the Wade family for a long time now, who knew how the family was doing now? What if someone from the family targeted him if he exposed himself? Staying in the dark was the best option for now.

Hence, he lowered his head and said humbly, "Mother, I'm sorry for all the troubles I've caused today."

His mother-in-law shouted, "Trouble? This is more than trouble, you're putting us at stake! Can't you have the slightest decency and get out of our house?"

Claire Wilson quickly interjected, "Mom, how could you say that? Charlie Wade is your son-in-law!"

"Bullsh*t" her mother growled, "I don't have such a loser as my son-in-law! It's better if he can go as far away as he can!"

Claire Wilson nudged Charlie Wade and said "Hurry, let's go back to the room."

Charlie Wade nodded gratefully and fled back to the room.

They had been married for three years, but they had never consummated the marriage, not even once. Claire Wilson slept in bed while he slept on the floor at the side.

Tonight, Charlie Wade found it hard to fall asleep. What unfolded today was a real shock and consternation and he had yet to digest it.

Before going to bed, Claire Wilson said, "How is Mrs. Lewis doing? I have about one hundred thousand dollars with me now, you can use it tomorrow."

Charlie Wade said, "It's okay. Someone paid her bill and transferred her to Eastcliff for treatment."

"Really?" Claire Wilson exclaimed in awe. "Wow! So, Mrs. Lewis will be fine then?"

"Yes," Charlie Wade said, "Mrs. Lewis has done good deeds throughout her life and helped so many people. Now, someone is returning her favor."

"Glad to hear that." Claire Wilson nodded with a smile. "You can have peace of mind now."

"Yes."

"I want to sleep now. There's a lot to handle and the company lately, I'm exhausted."

"What's happening in the company?"

"It's not doing very well lately. Grandma wants to collaborate with Emgrand, but Wilson group is too weak as compared to their scale. They wouldn't even bat an eye at us."

"Oh? Has there not been a collaboration between Wilson group and Emgrand before?"

Claire Wilson laughed sarcastically. "Of course not! What are we in the eyes of Emgrand? I bet we look like a speck of insignificant dust to them! Even Gerald's family, Wendy's fiance's family, could barely scratch the tale of Emgrand's business empire. This is also why Grandma is eager for them to be married soon so the White family can help our family build some connections with Emgrand"

Charlie Wade nodded knowingly. The Wilson family had used all the tricks up their sleeves to collaborate with Emgrand Group. However, Lady Wilson never would have thought that he owned Emgrand Group now...

Thinking of this, Charlie Wade decided to take over Emgrand Group and lend Claire Wilson Wilson a hand in her business. The Wilson family did not treat her fairly and they bullied her too much. As her husband, he had the responsibility to help her improve her status in the family.

He said in his heart earnestly, "Claire Wilson Wilson, your husband is different now! I will not let anyone look down on you again! I will make the entire Wilson family down to you!"

Chapter 3

The next morning, after preparing breakfast, Charlie Wade rode his scooter to Emgrand Group's office. He parked his scooter on the side of Emgrand's parking lot. As soon as he locked his scooter, a black Bentley slowly parked in a spot across from him. He looked up inadvertently and saw a young couple getting out of the car.

The man was wearing a branded suit, looking very handsome and smart. Meanwhile the lady was dressed up in a flamboyant style. Although somewhat gaudy, she was considered a beauty. As it turned out, the lady was Wendy Wilson, Claire Wilson Wilson's cousin, and the man was her fiancé, Gerald White. Charlie Wade didn't know why they were here, but he knew that the best way to avoid trouble was to stay away from them. However, the more eager he wanted to hide from them, the higher chances they would see him.

Wendy caught sight of him from the corner of her eyes. She yelped loudly, "Hey, Charlie Wade!"

Wendy called out his name in a friendly manner, but Charlie Wade felt goosebumps all over his back.

Out of courtesy, he could only stop where he was and wait for them to approach him. He smiled and asked, "Wendy, hey why are you here?"

Wendy chuckled. "Oh, Gerald is here to see Doris Young, vice-chairman of Emgrand Group! I'm here to keep him company."

Then she turned to look at Gerald with affection and said "The White family has a lot of projects with Emgrand Group. Not only would it help the White family but also our Wilson family in the future."

Charlie Wade didn't know that the White was one of Emgrand Group's business partners. After all, he had just taken over the company and he hadn't had time to get through the details.

He didn't show anything unusual on his face. Instead, he simply said with a polite smile, "Mr. White is very talented and magnificent, both of you make a great couple!"

Gerald glared at Charlie Wade contemptuously, feeling a surge of anger within him. This loser had been scolded so badly by Lady Wilson yesterday in front of everybody, how was he able to smile like a clown as if nothing had happened today? Why did Claire Wilson Wilson, such a stunning and wonderful lady marry such a loser?

If this loser never existed, he would certainly have pursued Claire Wilson Wilson with great effort! Who would want to be engaged to Wendy, the girl who paled in comparison in every aspect?

Gerald huffed a breath in dismay and asked in a pretentious tone, "Why are you here?"

"I'm here to apply for a job." Charlie Wade said.

"Apply for a job?" Gerald sneered disdainfully. "You? The loser who can't do anything wants to apply for a job at Emgrand Group? Are you kidding me?"

Charlie Wade frowned. "What has it to do with you?"

The reason why Wendy called Charlie Wade in the first place was to humiliate him. Now that Gerald had started, she immediately mocked, "Why? Gerald is right, isn't he? In terms of educational background, do you have any achievements or results to show them?"

"Trust me, they wouldn't even entertain a loser like you even if you've come to apply for a security job. Know your place, you're better off going to the streets to scavenge for trash, you might earn two or three thousand a month at least!"

Then, she hurled a water bottle to Charlie Wade's feet and smirked, "there you go, pick it up and sell it for money! Don't say that I don't care about you."

Gerald laughed sinisterly. "You are a piece of trash, but, we're still relatives after all. I'll have your back. It happens that I know the vice-chairman of Emgrand Group in person, why don't I say a few good words on your behalf and see if she can arrange a toilet cleaning job for you?"

Charlie Wade curled his lips sneer and said, "What kind of job I'm applying for is none of your business, you should mind your one business instead. Emgrand Group is a big company, I believe that they wouldn't want to collaborate with lowly garbage like you."

Gerald's face flushed with anger. "Who are you calling garbage?"

Charlie Wade replied disdainfully, "You, garbage!"

Then he turned and walked towards the building, ignoring Gerald's indignant screams behind.

"Damn you! Stop! Stop right there, do you hear me?"

Very soon, Gerald strode quickly and caught up with Charlie Wade at the elevator hall.

He wanted to teach Charlie Wade a lesson, to give him at least two slaps on his face to let him know the consequences of offending him, but they were inside Emgrand Groups building now. He was worried that harsh action would tarnish his reputation and infuriate his business partner, so he had no choice but to dismiss the idea.

He gritted his teeth and warned, "I'll let you go today, but you won't be so lucky next time!"

Charlie Wade snorted and walked into the elevator. Before the door closed, he said, "Gerald White, do you really think you're so powerful? Trust me, you will soon know the price to pay for being so cocky and arrogant!"

"You little..."

Gerald's face turned into an ugly shade of red. He wanted to rush into the elevator but Wendy pulled his arms and said, "Gerald, don't take the same elevator as that loser, we might suffocate from his stench."

He nodded, fully aware that it wasn't wise for him to lay his hands here. Hence, he snorted coldly. "Hah, you're lucky today. I'll teach you a lesson next time!"

In the elevator, Charlie Wade went directly to the top floor where the Chairman's office was located. Stephen had already made all the arrangements for him here at Emgrand. The person in charge of the arrangements was a woman named Doris Young. Doris Young had earned her reputation as a renowned businesswoman in Aurouss Hilll. Not only was she a Charming lady, but she was also extremely capable. She had been promoted to Vice chairman of Emgrand Group at a young age. She was also among the factors behind the success of the company today.

Now that Emgrand Group had been acquired by the Wade family the former chairman had abdicated and Doris stayed back to assist the new chairman. Doris was quite shocked when she saw Charlie Wade. She didn't expect to see such a young and Charming Man when she had heard about him from Stephen!

She quickly composed herself and greeted him respectfully. "Welcome, Mr Wade. Please follow me to my office."

Chapter 4

This is also the first time Charlie Wade had ever met Doris. He Had to admit that Doris was a very stunning and alluring young lady! She was about twenty-seven or twenty-eight years of age with a slender yet curvy body figure, captivating appearance, and a very mature and honorable manner.

Sitting down in front of Doris' desk, Charlie Wade started, "I will not come into the office often, so I would like you to continue looking over the company on my behalf. In addition, please do not disclose my identity to the public."

Doris was aware that Mr. Wade, who was sitting in front of her now, came from the extraordinary Wade family. For a prominent family like theirs, Emgrand Group was nothing but a mediocre business, so it was normal for him not to manage it himself. Hence, she quickly said, "sure. Mr. Wade, just tell me if you need anything, I'll be at your service. "

At this moment, a secretary knocked on the door and said, "Miss Young, a man called Gerald White and his fiance are here to see you. "

Doris said instantly, "I'm seeing a VIP now, let them wait. "

Charlie Wade asked, "do you know Gerald White?"

"Mr. White's family is one of our partners and several of their major projects are linked to our company. They have said that they will be here to see me, they have been here several times too. "

Charlie Wade uttered in a cold voice, "From now on, Emgrand Group will no longer have any business dealings with the White family. Halt all ongoing and preparatory projects. If the White family still earns a dime from our company, I don't need you as our vice chairman! "

Doris startled in shock for a while, figuring that someone from the White family must have offended the man. So, she nodded vigorously and exclaimed, "Mr. Wade don't worry, I'll now order my staff to stop all collaboration with the White family! "

Charlie Wade nodded satisfyingly And said, "Tell them that Emgrand Group has no interest in collaborating with lowly garbage, then ask the guards to kick them out. "

Outside the office, Gerald and Wendy were waiting anxiously.

The White family had always wanted to be the key players in the collaboration with Emgrand Group, so he hoped that he could build a good relationship with Doris Young and thus bring the family closer to the connection. However, the least expected thing happened. Ms. Young's secretary approached them with several guards.

Gerald asked in confusion, "Hi, May I know if Miss Young is available to see us now? "

The secretary Laird coldly asked him and said, "sorry our vice chairman said that Emgrand Group has no interest in collaborating with lowly garbage like you. From now on, we will cancel all the projects with your family!"

"What did you say?! "

Gerald gaped in extreme shock and his jaw almost dropped to the floor. Why did he find the remark so familiar anyway? Oh, right! Charlie Wade WadeI said the exact same thing when they were in the parking lot! What Did Doris Young mean by that? Did she really intend to halt all the collaboration with the White family? Gerald felt a surge of blood flooding his head exploding inside.

What Happened? canceled all projects? A large portion of the White family's profits came from working with Emgrand! If Emgrand Group terminated their ties, didn't it mean that the family's net worth would be cut by half? No, he couldn't accept such a cruel fact. He growled loudly, "I want to see Miss Young! I want to ask her in person!"

The secretary simply glared at him coldly. "I'm sorry, Miss Young will not see you and you're not allowed here in the future!"

Gerald shouted in great dismay, "Are you freaking kidding me? We are a long-term business partner of Emgrand, it isn't up to her to terminate our projects just like that! Don't mess with us! "

The secretary ignored his screaming and directed the security guards around her, "Kick them out! "

The head of the security team immediately jumped on them. He grabbed Gerald's wrist and twisted it hard behind him.

Gerald held in pain and Captain Cooper snorted coldly. "hurry up and get out of here! If you dare make a scene at Emgrand Group, I'll break you in half! "

"You're Just a security guard, how dare you raise your voice at me? Do you know who I am? "

Captain Cooper gave him a slap across his face instantly and shouted, "What are you in the face of Emgrand Group? "

Gerald felt his face burning from the slap. He was about to burst in Fury when his phone suddenly rang. It was his father

When he answered the call, a serious roar echoed from the other end of the line. "you bastard! What did you do? Emgrand Group wants to terminate all projects with us! Who on Earth did you offend? "

Gerald whined sorrowfully, "No, dad, that's not true, I didn't offend anyone. I just came here to see Miss Young, but I haven't even seen her face yet..."

Gerald's father shouted again. "The people at Emgrand Group said that they've terminated their collaboration with us because of you, the lowly garbage! It's all because of you that our family is suffering a great loss! Hurry and come back, explain this to your grandfather yourself! "

Grabbing the phone in a daze, Gerald and Wendy were forcefully escorted out of Emgrand Groups main entrance.

Suddenly, Charlie Wade's face appeared in his mind. He turned to Wendy abruptly and asked, "Wendy, is this because of your loser cousin-in-law? Does he have anything to do with Emgrand Group? "

"Huh? " Wendy was obviously taken aback by Gerald's remark. when she pondered the circumstances, it might indeed have something to do with the loser, but he was a loser !

Thus, she shook her head and uttered firmly, "no, it is absolutely impossible that he has anything to do with Emgrand Group. He's not even qualified to clean their toilets! "

"You're right..." Gerald nodded numbly. He hung his head low when he thought about his angry father. "I have to return home right away.... "

Very soon, the news of the White family being kicked out of Emgrand Group spread through Aurouss Hilll like Wildfire.

No one knew of the reason, but they were certain that the White family must have offended Emgrand Group in some way. At this rate, the White family was considered gone. Their net worth has been cut short by more than half. They were originally close to the peak of the social ladder in the city, but after the incident they instantly dropped down several levels and became a second-rate family in terms of social class

Lady Wilson was shaking with anger when she heard the news. She wanted to call off Wendy's engagement with Gerald, but even after the termination, the White family was still more prominent than the Wilson family and she couldn't afford to lose the ties, so she could only bear with it for the moment.

Meanwhile, in Doris's office Charlie Wade looked impressed and satisfied after he heard about the process. He highly appreciated her rapid and Stern attitude in it.

He said with a satisfied smile, "Doris, great job, you did well. Starting today, your salary will be doubled. "

Doris gasped in astonishment. she stood up and bowed respectfully. "Thank you, Mr. Wade! "

Charlie Wade nodded and continued, "Also, I want you to make two announcements. "

"Yes, please proceed."

"The first thing is to announce the change of Emgrand Groups ownership and nomination of the new chairman, but don't disclose my identity. Just say that he is one Mr. Wade.

"The second thing is the announcement of Emgrand Group investing two billion dollars to build a six star hotel in Aurouss Hillll, and announcing the tender bidding for partners. Construction and interior decorating companies throughout the city are welcome to bid! "

The main business of Wilson group was interior design and construction. The old lady would dream of hopping on Emgrand's train. Whoever could win the bidding with Emgrand Group would surely become the most sought-after person in the company. Now That he owned Emgrand Group, he could offer his wife some sweet deals.

Chapter 5

The two announcements released by Emgrand Group completely shook the entire Aurouss Hillll like a high magnitude earthquake. When the Wilson family learned about the ownership change in Emgrand Group, they figured out why the collaboration with the White family had been terminated. It seemed that Emgrand's new owner didn't think much of the White family.

Back to the point, who was Mr. Wade? He simply bought Emgrand Group that was worth hundreds of billions of dollars without batting an eye. He was a little too powerful, wasn't he? Even the richest man in Aurouss Hillll wouldn't be so capable!

All of a sudden, a lot of wealthy families were about to eagerly make a move. They wish to establish a connection with the mysterious Mr. Wade while on the other hand wished to marry their daughters to him.

Moreover, the announcement about Emgrand Groups' investment of two billion dollars for the hotel construction project also shook the construction and interior decorating Industries in Aurous's Hill like a great force surging the ground!

Two billion. They could make a lot of money even tendering scraps of the project! A lot of companies wanted a slice of the lucrative pie, including Lady Wilson, who loved money more than anything! Lady Wilson was over the moon at the moment. Two billion dollar project! This was the perfect opportunity for the Wilson family to get a contract from the mega project. It would bring their family to the next level!

Hence, she called for an urgent family meeting at the Villa tonight to discuss ways to achieve a breakthrough in Emgrand Group's mega project. Everyone had to attend!

Later that night, at the Wilson family Mansion, Charlie Wade tags along nicely since lady Wilson had asked for everyone's participation. He knew about the old lady's main agenda for the meeting, so he wanted to take this opportunity to boost Claire Wilson Wilson!

When Harold, Claire Wilson Wilson's cousin, saw him at the mansion, He mocked disdainfully, "D*mn! Charlie Wade Wade, you're very shameless. Where did you find your courage to see Grandma now! "

With an indifferent expression on her face, Claire Wilson Wilson uttered, "Stop your nonsense. Grandma asked everyone in the Wilson family to come. Charlie Wade is my husband, so of course he is a member of the Wilson family too!"

Harold laughed sarcastically. "He is part of the Wilson family? Haha! He is nothing but a live-in son-in-law!"

Charlie Wade rubbed his nose in slate education and said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Dear, let's just let him be, don't argue with him. Let's go in quick, grandma is waiting for everyone."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded and walked into the house without batting an eye at Harold. Harold's face twisted in an irritated grimace, anticipating their embarrassment later. After entering the meeting room, Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade found a place to sit in the corner. Very soon, Lady Wilson made a great entrance and the family meeting officially began.

Lady Wilson sat on the head of the table. She knocked on the table and started cheerfully, "We, the Wilson family, have been waiting for a chance like this for so many years, a chance that will bring us to the next level, to the peak of the social pyramid in Aurouss Hilll! The chance is finally here now!"

She continued loudly, "This time, Emgrand Group has announced a mega project of two billion dollars. If anyone can tender a project from it, it will bring great and lucrative benefits! Moreover, this is Emgrand Group's first major project after its change of ownership. It is a great opportunity for us! If we can collaborate with Emgrand Group and leave a good impression on the new chairman, we will become very powerful and prominent in the future! "

The attendees were rather indifferent and impassioned as compared to Lady Wilson's enthusiasm. In fact, it wasn't anything new for the Wilson family wanting to collaborate with Emgrand Group. However, for the longest time, Emgrand Group had ignored the Wilson family's request. What made Lady Wilson think that they could get a slice of the mega pie from them now? It was impossible.

Annoyed by the silence, Lady Wilson's face flushed with anger and she shouted furiously, "Why are all of you dumb now? Do none of you have any confidence in taking a tiny slice of pie from the 2 billion dollars project? "

Everyone exchanged nervous glances but no one dared to talk.

Lady Wilson was getting more agitated now, she gritted her teeth and declared, "All of you listen to me! Whoever is able to get a thirty million dollar deal from the Emgrand Group will be made the director of our company! "

Everyone's jaws dropped to the floor as if a bomb exploded in the room. Lady Wilson ruled the family and the company with an iron fist, so she had never once appointed a director in the company. After all, a director would have a lot of power in his hands that most of the time, only the future successor of the company would be qualified to hold the position.

Now that she used the position as a reward, she must have hoped that she would find someone to do the job with the lucrative reward. It was certain that she was extremely eager for the project.

Although the reward was very attractive, it was not an easy task to accomplish. To strike a deal with Emgrand Group and even get a thirty million dollar contract from it? It was the joke of the century in the eyes of the Wilson family members. Even if Lady Wilson herself went to talk to them, the executives wouldn't even see her, let alone talk about a collaboration.

The conference all was as quiet as a church.

Lady Wilson slammed the table furiously and shouted, "all of you are descendants of the Wilson family, can't anyone of you solve the problem for your family?"

Then, she turned and looked at Harold. "Harold, I'll pass this job to you!"

Harold managed a bitter laugh and quickly said, "Grandma, even the White family has been kicked out by Emgrand Group. Our family is a level lower than they are, how can we strike a deal with Emgrand... "

Lady Wilson chided indefinitely, "Rubbish! How dare you deny yourself before you even try ! you are even more hopeless than the loser Charlie Wade! "

Actually, lady Wilson had no confidence in this either, but she didn't want to be the head of a family that was always at the second or third level of the social pyramid. She wanted the Wilson family to climb a rung higher. Emgrand Groups Mega project was her only chance to make her dream come true now. therefore, she would not give up even if it was difficult.

She thought that as the eldest grandson, Harold, would accept the task willingly, but unexpectedly, he had refused right in her face! Harold felt dejected and depressed as well. No one in their right mind would accept this impossible task. He was certain that he would be kicked out immediately even before he could walk through Emgrand Groups door. At that time, Not only would he fail on the task but he would also be ridiculed and mocked for his failure. That was why he could never agree with his grandmother's order no matter what.

Lady Wilson glared at the rest of the crowd and shouted loudly, petition Mark what about the rest of you? Is there no one who would dare take on this challenge? "

At this moment, Charlie Wade nudged Claire Wilson Wilson with his elbow and whispered, "Darling, accept the mission!"

Claire Wilson Wilson shrieked in surprise, "Are you crazy? It is impossible for Emgrand Group to collaborate with a small company like us!"

Charlie Wade smiled lightly and said confidently, "Don't worry, you'll definitely strike the deal!"

Claire Wilson Wilson's eyes widened in surprise. "Are you sure?"

Charlie Wade nodded seriously and said, "Of course! I don't think you'll have any problems at all! trust me, seize the opportunity. Your status in the Wilson family will shoot up in the future! "

Claire Wilson Wilson couldn't explain why, but it was as if she was hypnotized by Charlie Wade's words. She stood up for she could digest what he said and said to Lady Wilson, "Gramma, I'm willing to give it a shot... "

Chapter 6

Claire Wilson Wilson's announcement sent a shock wave across the room, making everyone gasped in extreme surprise! Everyone thought that Claire Wilson Wilson must be out of her mind! It was the worst time to stand under the Limelight now! Other than failing miserably, there's nothing else she could achieve! Emgrand Group was the largest company in Aurouss Hilll and the Wilson family was nothing more than an insignificant ant to them! Whoever took the challenge would only end up failing!

Harold couldn't help but mock sarcastically, " Claire Wilson Wilson, do you really think that you can get a deal from Emgrand Group?"

Wendy continued in the same mocking tone after her brother, "Claire Wilson Wilson, who do you think you are, what do you think Emgrand Group is? You being so reckless and irrational will only humiliate us, the Wilson family! "

Someone else added, "Wendy's is right! If she is kicked out by Emgrand Group, our family will be a laughing stock in Aurouss Hilll!"

Blood rush to Claire Wilson Wilson's face and she felt her face burning in embarrassment. Her status in the family had plummeted since she married Charlie Wade. Not only did the family members ignore her and elbow her aside but they also derided her parents. She felt that if she could strike that deal with Emgrand Group, she could consolidate her position in the family.

The most important thing was that her parents could also stand up tall and be proud of who they were. But under the sarcastic comments and condemnation, she wanted to withdraw herself from her silly idea.

She glared at Charlie Wade in annoyance. How did he bewitch her and why did she listen to him? She shouldn't have made such a silly suggestion in the first place... Lady Wilson was very angry as she listened to the audience's verbal exchanges. No one dared to accept the task after she asked several times. Now that Claire Wilson Wilson courageously stood up to take the challenge, these people started ridiculing her!

Lady Wilson had always disliked Claire Wilson Wilson, but at this moment, she was glad that Claire Wilson Wilson was at least willing to walk the impossible line, unlike the rest of the members who were only good at giving her trouble! Especially Her favorite grandson, Harold! He was such a disappointment!

Because of this, Lady Wilson's attitude towards Claire Wilson Wilson changed a lot. She said immediately, "Stop your nonsense, you cowards! I'll pass the task of striking a deal with Emgrand Group to Claire Wilson Wilson!

Sheepishly, Claire Wilson Wilson mumbled, "Don't worry, grandma, I'll try my best."

Harold puffed a breath from his nose and sneered coldly, "You try your best, and then what? you'll embarrass us when you fail later!

Charlie Wade asked in a mocking tone, "Harold Wilson, why do you taunt Claire Wilson Wilson like that? Do you think that the Wilson family is not qualified to collaborate with Emgrand Group?"

Harold had never expected that the loser Charlie Wade Wade dared to speak up during the family meeting, not to mention in such a high horse manner.

Seeing the fiery slowly burning on Lady Wilson's face, he quickly explained, "No, I don't mean it like that, I just think it is impossible for Claire Wilson Wilson to strike the deal! That's all!"

Charlie Wade laughed in amusement and asked, "What if she succeeds? Should we make a bet?"

Harold grinned coyly. "Okay, let's bet then! Do you think I'm scared of your little threat? What do you want to bet? Let's hear you out"

Charlie Wade said, "If Claire Wilson Wilson Succeeds, you will grovel at my feet and admit that you're wrong in front of everyone. If she fails, I will grovel at your feet and admit that I'm wrong. What do you think?"

"Hahaha!" Harold laughed out loud. "You're really digging your own grave, loser! Alright, I'll take the bet!"

Charlie Wade nodded with satisfaction and uttered, "Everyone, all of you are our witnesses. Whoever goes back on the bet would have his father, mother, grandpa, and grandma die!" He intentionally emphasized the word 'grandma' loudly and clearly, for he didn't want Harold to break their promise after he lost.

Harold wouldn't dare to go back on his words after such a statement. If he did repent, he would be cursing his grandmother, Lady Wilson, to die! Lady Wilson would not let him off the hook so easily!

"Okay!" Harold thought that he was on the winning side, but what Harold didn't know was that he was jumping right into Charlie Wade's trap. He laughed loudly and said, "Everyone, you'll be my witness, I'll wait for you to kneel before me!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was startled by the entire event that she kept signalling to Charlie Wade with her eyes, but he turned a blind eye to her.

Lady Wilson couldn't care less about the bet. Her only concern was whether the Wilson Group could take a spot in Emgrand Group's collaboration list. If the deal was on, she wouldn't even mind if Harold called Charlie Wade his daddy, let alone kneel before him.

Thus, she said calmly, "Okay, that's all for today. Claire Wilson Wilson, you have three days to negotiate and strike the deal. Dismissed!"

After returning home, Claire Wilson Wilson's parents threw a fist at the young couple. Claire Wilson Wilson's mother, Elaine Ma Wilson, paced the living room agitatedly and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you're crazy! How could you listen to the loser and accept the task without thinking it through?"

Claire Wilson Wilson's father, Jacob Wilson Wilson, turned to Charlie Wade and chided, "Charlie Wade, you hopeless loser, you've pushed my darling daughter right into the grave this time!"

His face flushed in red as he continued, "If Claire Wilson Wilson fails this time, she will be elbowed by the rest of the family, and you! You'll have to bow to Harold like a peasant in front of the whole family! My dignity will be ruined!"

Charlie Wade said earnestly, "Dad, Mom, everything will be alright if Claire Wilson Wilson succeeds in the negotiation and strikes the deal, am I right?"

"Negotiate my a*s!" Jacob Wilson growled furiously, "Do you have any idea how powerful Emgrand Group is? They won't even bat an eye at the mediocre Wilson family!"

Charlie Wade said with a smile, "Maybe someone will bat an eye at us, you don't know that. Honestly, I have confidence in Claire Wilson Wilson, I think Claire Wilson Wilson will strike the deal easily."

Elaine Ma sneered scornfully. "You think? Who are you, do you think you are the owner of Emgrand Group? You are nothing but a loser, a piece of trash, how do you dare be so ignorant and confident?"

Chapter 7

Looking at her parents ridiculing Charlie Wade, Claire Wilson Wilson sighed and said, "Dad, Mom, don't blame Charlie Wade for this. It was my idea, I just don't want our family to be looked down on anymore. Haven't we suffered enough all these years?"

Claire Wilson Wilson's mother blurted, "But still, you can't take on such a task. It's not just you-even if your grandma goes in person, they wouldn't entertain her!"

Charlie Wade managed a bitter smile as he watched the bickering. He bet that his snobbish in-laws would never believe that he was the real owner of Emgrand Group. At this exact moment, there was a knock on the door.

"I'm coming..."

Elaine Ma heaved a distressing sigh as she walked to the door and opened it.

Charlie Wade shifted his gaze to the door and saw a young man donning an Armani suit standing at the door. The man looked very charming and alluring with a Patek Philippe watch on his wrist, which seemed to be worth at least four million dollars.

Elaine Ma shrieked excitedly, "Hey, Wendell! Why are you here?"

The man was Wendell Jones, the young man of the Jones family who had been pursuing Claire Wilson Wilson relentlessly.

Wendell donned a smile and said, "Auntie, I heard about Claire Wilson Wilson's negotiation with the Emgrand Group, so I'm here to give her some ideas."

"Wow, you really are our family's life savior!"

Elaine Ma was very excited and thrilled, and she looked at him like she was looking adoringly at her son-in-law. She quickly welcomed him into the house and said, "Wendell, could you help Claire Wilson Wilson to win Emgrand Group's contract?"

Wendell nodded with a polite smile. He ignored Charlie Wade entirely, treating him like a lowly ant. He walked straight to Claire Wilson Wilson and said gently, "Claire Wilson Wilson, why didn't you tell me anything about this? This is huge. Anyway, don't worry, my family has some connections with Emgrand Group. I'll speak to my father, let's see how we can help you with this."

Frankly, Wendell's father wasn't as influential as he claimed to be, but he was simply trying to win Claire Wilson Wilson's heart by saying so.

Claire Wilson Wilson knew that Wendell had feelings for her all along, so she said indifferently, "Wendell, I appreciate your kind offer, but no thanks, I'll find a way myself."

Elaine Ma gaped in bewilderment and chided, "Claire Wilson Wilson, are you crazy? Mr. Jones is kind and generous enough to pay you a visit and help you, how could you say such things?"

Claire Wilson Wilson remained quiet, but Charlie Wade asked Wendell, intrigued, "Mr. Jones, I'm curious, how can you help Claire Wilson Wilson? Emgrand Group is so big and I don't think you're much of an influence to them, right? And now you claim that you have a way to help Claire Wilson Wilson win the contract?"

Wendell sneered contemptuously and said, "What do you know? The Jones family and Emgrand Group have been cooperating partners for years. This time, our family can get at least one-third of their two billion dollar project! Until then, I'll ask my father to allocate ten million dollars as a subcontract to Claire Wilson Wilson. Mission accomplished, isn't it?"

Charlie Wade gaped in surprise, "Wow! I didn't know that the Jones family has such an intimate relationship with Emgrand Group!"

Wendell sneered. "Of course! Everyone in Aurouss Hillll knows about that!"

He then glared at Charlie Wade disdainfully and uttered, "Charlie Wade Wade, let me offer you a piece of advice. A frog in the well like you had better leave Claire Wilson Wilson now. A hopeless man like you can't bring her happiness, you'll only be her burden."

Claire Wilson Wilson said coldly, "I'm sorry, Mr. Jones, I don't need your help and please watch your mouth!"

Dumbfounded, Wendell said in disbelief, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I'm helping you, why are you still taking this loser's side? Why are you so protective of him?"

Claire Wilson Wilson said in a serious tone, "He's not a loser, he's my husband!"

A gloomy cloud hovered over Wendell's face. He growled furiously, "Okay! You asked for it, do as you please! I want to see how you're going to solve this problem! Don't come crying at me for not giving you a chance later on when you fail!"

Then, Wendell turned around, slammed the door, and left.

Elaine Ma went after Wendell hurriedly, but he was long gone. She slapped her thighs indignantly, pointed at Charlie Wade's nose, and screamed, "You! How dare you! What else can you do besides being Claire Wilson Wilson's burden? Mr. Jones had kind-heartedly lent a hand but you chased him away!"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "Mom, he's all talk. He can't even win a contract with Emgrand, how can he help Claire Wilson Wilson?"

"Bullsh*t!" Elaine Ma scolded, "What do you know, you ignorant fool! The Jones family can get one-third of the two billion dollar contract!"

Charlie Wade was inexpressive but deep in his heart, he was grinning as he thought, 'I don't know how powerful the Jones family is, but I know that my Emgrand Group will never have any connection with them anymore! Even if they did work together on many projects previously, from now on, all of this will be terminated!

Of course, Claire Wilson Wilson couldn't read her husband's mind. She turned to her mother and said, "Mom, don't blame Charlie Wade. Just wait until I return from Emgrand Group!"

"Huh!" Elaine Ma sighed in great dismay, feeling that God was unfair to her. She had married a useless husband, while her daughter had married an even more useless man! What had she done to end up like this!

Chapter 8

The next morning, Claire Wilson Wilson brought the file filled with proposals that she had prepared overnight and went to the Emgrand Group office with Charlie Wade. Standing in front of the 100-story building, Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly felt as if her heart was hollow and empty. How could such a magnificent company like Emgrand collaborate with the Wilson family? Not to mention that they were aiming for a thirty million dollars deal.

It was like a beggar approaching a wealthy man and asking for a thirty million dollar change. It was absolutely ridiculous. However, she had promised her grandmother and accepted the challenge in front of everyone, so she had to go for it no matter what...

Sensing her anxiety, Charlie Wade stroked her head tenderly and said, "Dear, don't worry, go ahead, you'll make it. Trust Me."

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed dejectedly and murmured, "Alright, let's hope so! Wait for me here."

She took a deep breath and walked through the door. As he watched her walking in, Charlie Wade took out his phone and called Miss Young.

"Miss Young, my wife is going up to see you as we speak. You should know what to do!"

"Yes, Mr. Wade. Don't worry, I'll fulfill your every request."

"By the way, I heard that Emgrand Group has a rather close connection with the Jones family. Is that true?"

"Yes, we did have a lot of projects with them, completed and ongoing. They wish to collaborate with us again on this new megaproject and they've submitted the proposals and materials for my review. However, it is up to you to decide, Mr. Wade."

Charlie Wade said coldly, "I don't want the Jones family to be involved in the new project and any other projects in the future."

"Yes, sure. Don't worry, I'll do as you say!"

Meanwhile, Claire Wilson Wilson walked into Emgrand Group's office building and waited for her appointment at the front desk. She didn't even know if Doris Young, the company's vice-chairman, would like to see her.

Not long after, a graceful female assistant approached her and began, "Hi, are you Miss Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson? Miss Young is waiting for you in her office, please follow me."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded in a trance. She was still waiting in line to make an appointment, how did Miss Young know she was here and call her in already? Could it be that Doris Young knew she was coming? It didn't make sense though... how could a prominent individual like Doris Young know about her? Although she couldn't figure it out, she might as well grab the rare opportunity as she was given. She quickly followed the assistant and she was escorted directly to Miss Young's office.

Doris stood up from her chair and greeted Claire Wilson Wilson respectfully. "Hi, Miss Wilson, I'm Doris Young, vice chairman of Emgrand Group, nice meeting you."

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little nervous as she met the most famous businesswoman in Aurouss Hilll. She spoke, her voice trembling anxiously but staying calm, she said "Hello, Miss Young, thank you for seeing me. I'm here to talk to you about the hotel project. Although Wilson Group is not as strong and prominent as other companies, I can assure you that we work very hard and have established a very positive reputation in the interior design and decoration industry!"

She handed over a document file and continued, "Miss Young, this is Wilson Group's portfolio, please have a look."

Doris smiled gently and took the document from her. After a brief glance, she said immediately, "Miss Wilson, I've seen your documents, I think you are the perfect partner for us."

"Really? Is it true?" Claire Wilson Wilson gaped in bewilderment. Why did it go so quickly and smoothly? It was a little too easy, wasn't it?

Doris said with a smile, "Of course. I admit that Wilson Group does not match our requirements and qualifications, but our chairman thinks highly of you and he is willing to give it a shot."

"Your chairman?" Claire Wilson Wilson said in a shocking tone, then asked, "May I know who your chairman is?"

Doris smiled faintly. "Our chairman is Mr. Wade from Eastcliff."

"Mr. Wade?"

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned in confusion. "I Don't think I know anyone by the last name of Wade except for my husband."

Doris nodded gently. Charlie Wade had ordered her not to disclose his identity, so she could only say that much. Other than Charlie Wade Wade, Claire Wilson Wilson didn't know anyone by the last name of Wade, but she would never have guessed that her useless husband, who was an orphan, would be the Mr. Wade that Doris was referring to.

Then, Doris added, "Miss Wilson, I see in your proposal that your quotation for the agreement is thirty million dollars?"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded anxiously and asked timidly, "Is it too much?"

Doris smiled and answered, "Oh no, it is actually less than what we have budgeted for."

Claire Wilson Wilson furrowed curiously. "What do you mean?"

"Our chairman told me to increase the quotation to sixty million dollars."

In the middle of the conversation, Doris retrieved a contract and handed it to Claire Wilson Wilson. "Look, we've drafted the contract in advance for a total of sixty million dollars. If you have no problem with it, we can sign the contract now."

"Huh? This..." Claire Wilson Wilson gaped, dumbfounded. She had never expected that Emgrand Group, which seemed so unreachable from Wilson Group's perspective, would prepare the contract beforehand! Moreover, the amount had doubled! Grandma's goal for the project was 30 million dollars, but the contract literally stated 60 million dollars in black and white!

Suddenly, she recalled her husband's serious and earnest face when he had asked her to accept the task at the family meeting the previous night. Why was he so confident? When they were at Emgrand Group's entrance she was very doubtful and pessimistic, but he seemed so positive and undaunted. Could it be that he had known the outcome all along? Who was he...

Chapter 9

For an instant, an abrupt and outlandish thought appeared in Claire Wilson Wilson's mind. The Mr. Wade that Doris mentioned, could he really be her husband, Charlie Wade Wade? When she processed it again, she found it to be too preposterous. How could it be! Charlie Wade was an orphan who grew up in a welfare home! However, who else in the world would treat her so well besides Charlie Wade? Thirty million dollars was an extravagant hope, but they gave her sixty million..

She couldn't help but asked curiously, "Miss Young, may I know if your chairman is Charlie Wade Wade?"

Doris's heart skipped a beat. The boss had already demanded her to keep his identity secret, only to reveal his last name to the public. She would be blamed if his wife guessed it!

She shook her hands frantically and said, "Miss Wilson, I hope you can drop it. Our chairman is the descendant of a prominent family in Eastcliff. His identity is highly confidential and I have no right to disclose it."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded gently. She composed herself upon the mention of the descendant in Eastcliff. Charlie Wade was an orphan, he was definitely not a so-called descendant from a prominent family. Indeed, she was overthinking it.

Claire Wilson Wilson still felt a little dizzy and confused when she exited Doris's office. She was holding a sixty million dollar contract between Wilson Group and Emgrand Group in her hand. Everything unfolded like a dream.

As soon as she saw Charlie Wade at the entrance, she rushed to him excitedly and said, "Charlie Wade, I did it! I did it!"

Charlie Wade grinned in his heart and thought, 'Your husband is the owner of Emgrand Group, of course you'd get the deal.' However, he pretended to be surprised and said, "Wow! You managed to strike the deal for such a tough project! Dear, you're so incredible!"

"Not really, it's not that I'm good at it, but it seems that they had given the project to me for free."

"Huh?" Charlie Wade donned a confused look. "Why do you say that?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was afraid that Charlie Wade would be jealous if she told him about the chairman's intention, so she quickly diverted his attention and said, "It's a long story. Let's go back to the office now and tell everyone the good news!"

Charlie Wade laughed. "Okay! This Time, that bastard Harold must honor the bet and kneel before me!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded. "Yes! He is always so snobbish and arrogant, let's give him a taste of his own medicine!"

Truth be told, Claire Wilson Wilson had her own temperament too. Harold And the rest of the family members had always looked down upon her and her husband, but now that she struck the impossible deal, she intended to tame them to be a little bit more humble.

Ten minutes later, they arrived at Wilson Group. Everyone was sitting in the conference room, looking strange and peculiar. They knew that Claire Wilson Wilson had gone to Emgrand Group early in the morning, but no one believed that she could make it, they were here to make fun of her. Unexpectedly, she came back way earlier than they anticipated. When Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade entered the conference room, everyone was looking at them with a sneering and sarcastic look.

Harold started ignorantly, "Hey, Claire Wilson Wilson, you've come back in half an hour, huh? You couldn't even get through their door, am I right? Hahaha!" Wendy continued, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you've failed in less than an hour. Breaking a world record, I see!"

A gloomy cloud hovered over Lady Wilson's face. She was annoyed. She knew that the project and Emgrand Group were difficult to tackle, but Claire Wilson Wilson should at least be serious and determined even if she failed! How could she give up so easily?

Lady Wilson glared at her and growled, "Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson, you disappoint me."

Charlie Wade frowned at their reactions. Could they be more disgusting than this? They were ridiculing and chiding Claire Wilson Wilson without knowing the results yet! Especially Harold Wilson, the cocky bastard! Who did he think he was? How could he be so pompous? He should be getting ready to kneel before him!

Claire Wilson Wilson was initially very excited and thrilled, but facing the crowd's mocking and teasing, the wrath of fury was burning inside her. She furrowed and said, "I'm sorry to let you down, but I've struck a deal with Doris Young of Emgrand Group!"

"What? You did it?"

"No! No way! Impossible! You couldn't even meet Doris Young!"

Everyone recoiled in shock.

"Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson, do you think we'll buy it?"

Harold regained his composure, slapped the table and said furiously, "Miss Young of Emgrand Group is a renowned elite in the city, why would she want to meet you? Are you not clear about who you are?"

Facing everyone's doubts and accusations, Claire Wilson Wilson retrieved the contract and handed it to Lady Wilson. "This is the contract. Please take a look at it."

The contract was like a bomb that exploded in the middle of the conference room, sending shock waves across everyone in the room!

Harold still refused to believe it, he shouted loudly, "She must have forged the document! I don't believe that she can handle Emgrand Group!"

"He's right!" Wendy added in great dismay. "Who does she think she is to strike a deal with Emgrand? It is a thirty million dollar project! If she can do it, I would've already gotten the deal a long time ago!"

Claire Wilson Wilson sneered. "My cousin, you're wrong, it's not thirty million dollars, it's sixty million!"

"No way!" Wendy grinned. Sixty million dollars contract? You find it funny to lie like that, don't you? You think we're all fools, don't you? If you say the deal is sixty million, I can tell everyone that I'd get a hundred million dollar contract!"

Harold curled his lips in disdain and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you're treating Grandma and us like fools!"

He then turned to Lady Wilson and said, "Grandma, this is outrageous! You can't let her go just like that!"

Lady Wilson was so angry she was gritting her teeth indignantly. She already felt it was feeble to strike a thirty million dollar deal, but Claire Wilson Wilson came back half an hour later saying that the contract was worth sixty million dollars... Did the young lady really play her for a fool in front of so many people? Did she really think that, as the head of the family, she could be bullied like this? If she didn't kick the rebellious girl out of her family, how could she control the family in the future?

Furrowing furiously, Lady Wilson slapped the table and shouted, "Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson! Go to the HR department immediately to proceed with your resignation!"

Claire Wilson Wilson gaped in extreme bewilderment. Were these people out of their minds? How Hard could it be to just flip the contract open and take a look at it? At this moment, someone shouted abruptly, "D*mn! The Official social media account of Emgrand Group has just released a statement! The sixty million dollar contract is real!"

Chapter 10

Everyone was stunned upon the sudden roar. Everyone hurriedly took out their phones and searched for Emgrand Group's official social media account! Indeed! The certified official account of Emgrand Group had posted the latest statement! A shock wave swept the conference room as the post was announced! Claire Wilson Wilson really did strike the deal! With twice the intended total value! It only took half an hour! How was it possible? How was it so easy? It didn't make any sense!

Harold was feeling shocked and regretted! Before today, Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson was comparable to himself in terms of status or identity. If he had accepted the task yesterday, he would not give Claire Wilson Wilson a chance to shine herself regardless of the results! Yet, he refused because he feared that he would fail! He refused the mission, but the crucial point was that Claire Wilson Wilson had succeeded! It was like a loud slap to his face!

Instantly, Lady Wilson picked up the contract excitedly and started reading it. Then, she let out a loud laugh. "Good! Good! Very good! Claire Wilson Wilson, you've done an excellent job!" After that, she asked, "How did you do it?"

Claire Wilson Wilson answered, "It is all thanks to Miss Doris Young. She thinks highly of us, the Wilson family."

Claire Wilson Wilson wanted to be truthful, but after a second thought, she didn't even know who the chairman of Emgrand Group was. No one would believe her if she said the truth. Upon hearing this, Harold felt as if his heart had been stabbed a million times and he wanted to die! It was no wonder Claire Wilson Wilson could win the contract! It turned out that Doris Young of Emgrand Group herself thought highly of the Wilson family! Did it mean that it wouldn't have mattered who had gone, after all? He berated himself for missing such a great opportunity!

At this moment, Charlie Wade spoke, "Harold, do you still remember our bet?"

In an instant, Harold's face twisted in a disdainful grimace. How could he forget about the bet? Whoever lost the bet must grovel at the other party's feet. Claire Wilson Wilson had won the contract, so it was obvious that he had lost... 'No! No way! How can I grovel at that loser's feet! Over my dead body!'

He gritted his teeth and sneered. "Charlie Wade Wade, who the h*ll do you think you are? You are just a useless toy boy who married into our family! Do you expect me to bow before you?"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "Yes, indeed, I'm a useless toy boy, but remember, we took an oath yesterday. Whoever breaks their promise would have his mother, father, grandpa, and grandma die!" Again, he deliberately emphasizes the word 'grandma'. Sure enough, a layer of black covered Lady Wilson's face!

She glared at Harold and asked coldly, "What about it? Do you really want me to die?"

Harold panicked and blurted, "Grandma, don't fall for his trick! He just wants to humiliate me and to deride you!"

Charlie Wade said calmly, "Harold, don't you try to fool Grandma now. Don't forget that you've made a vow. If you go against it, you'll be condemned. Do you want to curse Grandma?"

"Grandma, we were just joking, you can't take it seriously!"

Lady Wilson wore an inexpressive look on her face and said, "You know that I'm a devoted Buddhist. How dare you break the promise after swearing to God?!"

"Grandma..." Harold genuinely panicked now, because it was clear that his grandma was really angry!

Seeing Harold's reluctance in keeping his promise that involved herself to save his face, Lady Wilson slapped the table fiercely and yelled, "Are you determined to break your oath now?"

"Grandma, I..." Harold stuttered hesitantly. In his mind, he made a quick deduction.

If he abided by the betting rules and admitted his defeat to Charlie Wade, he would lose face. But if he went against the bet and enraged his grandma, he would lose everything he had in the Wilson family! He would lose more than his face!

No matter how reluctant he was, he gritted his teeth and muttered, "Alright! I'll keep my promise!"

Charlie Wade glanced at him quietly with a smile, waiting for him to come and kneel before him. Harold felt as if his legs were filled with lead. He strode slowly and with difficulty as he moved towards Charlie Wade. He was so agitated that his whole body was shivering, clenching his teeth annoyingly. But then, his legs went jelly and he knelt on the ground. Thump! Some of the busybody onlookers even quietly retrieved their phones and aimed it at them.

Harold bowed his head and said with a loud yet trembling voice, "I'm sorry!"

Then, he leaned over and knocked his head against the floor.

Charlie Wade uttered, "What did you say? I can't hear you, speak louder and clearer."

Enduring the humiliation, Harold bowed his head again and shouted, "I'm sorry!"

Charlie Wade sneered, "Oh, you're sorry. What are you sorry for?"

Inside Harold, he wanted to kill and shred Charlie Wade into a million pieces, but there was still one last bow. Thus, he bit his lips and said, "I shouldn't have doubted Claire Wilson Wilson's ability..."

Another bow to the floor! Charlie Wade felt a dash of spring breeze surging through his body! He had been holding a grudge against Harold for a long time. Now that he had the opportunity to make Harold kneel on the floor like a dog and admit his mistakes, he felt so refreshed and excited! Claire Wilson Wilson's eyes widened in astonishment as she watched the entire event unfolding, suddenly feeling that her husband was different from before! However, she couldn't really tell what the difference was.

When she recalled the confident look on Charlie Wade's face when he had made the bet with Harold yesterday, she couldn't help but wonder if he had already known that she would succeed. Where and why did he have such strong confidence all of a sudden?

Chapter 11

After the three bows, tears were swirling in Harold's eyes but he didn't dare to do anything rash now. He knew that his grandma was very disappointed and agitated at him now, so no matter what, he shouldn't enrage her any further.

Lady Wilson heaved a sigh of relief after seeing Harold bowing and admitting defeat. She didn't wish for his precious grandson to bow his head at Charlie Wade the loser, but they had made a bet that involved her. She was a very devoted Buddhist. If Harold didn't keep his promise, she would certainly be so afraid of the retribution and karma to come at her that she would have trouble eating and sleeping.

Thus, she looked at Harold and said flatly, "Harold, treat these three bows as a lesson for you. Next time, don't bet on something that you have no absolute certainty of. Even if you wish to make a bet, keep your family out of it!"

With a pouty face, Harold grumbled, "Okay, Grandma, I know better now. I'll never do it again..."

As he spoke, his eyes glared towards Charlie Wade viciously, thinking, 'You bastard! How dare you force me to kneel and bow before you. You made me lose face today, I swear I'll get right back at you sooner or later!'

Then, Lady Wilson stated, "It is a joyful day today, now that Claire Wilson Wilson has won the contract. Come on everyone, we must hurry and make our preparations now. We must take this opportunity to build a good partnership with Emgrand Group!"

Charlie Wade reminded, "Grandma, since Claire Wilson Wilson has succeeded in striking the deal, don't you think you should announce the appointment of Claire Wilson Wilson as the director of the company as you've promised?"

Lady Wilson arched her eyebrows, thoughts were running in her mind. She did say that whoever won the contract would be appointed as the company's director. However, Claire Wilson Wilson was not her favorite all this while. Her loser husband had always irritated her too and some ideas were slowly brewing in her mind again. What if Claire Wilson Wilson got out of her control after she was appointed such a high position in the company? What would she do then? In that instant, she wanted to withdraw her promise. After all, she didn't swear on an oath when she made such a promise, so she wouldn't feel bad at all if she took it back.

However, saying such a statement right after Claire Wilson Wilson struck the deal would be unwise, so she said, "Let's do this instead. Tomorrow night, I'll hold a banquet, inviting all the prominent and influential people in Aurouss Hilll to the party. At the banquet, I'll officially announce our collaboration with Emgrand Group and the appointment of the new director."

Charlie Wade was relieved with satisfaction after Lady Wilson's statement. Claire Wilson Wilson also smiled, reassured. Finally, the position of the director was hers. She didn't have to be elbowed and isolated anymore, and her parents could finally stand upright and be proud!

Lady Wilson turned to look at Claire Wilson Wilson and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I need you to do something for me."

"Yes, Grandma, what is it?"

"I want you to contact the chairman of Emgrand Group and invite him to attend tomorrow's banquet."

After a pause, she continued with anticipation, "If he is able to attend our banquet, it will be an extravagant boost to our family! It will also push our name out to the public, making us more famous!"

Claire Wilson Wilson pondered for a while and said hesitantly, "But... I only met Miss Young, the vice- chairman, I didn't see the chairman himself...By the way, don't you think it's a little too deliberate to organize the banquet when we've just gotten the contract..."

"So what? I want to tell the whole Aurouss Hilll that we're now bound to Emgrand Group. We're going to be very successful and rich!"

Lady Wilson continued, "Even if their chairman doesn't want to come, you can invite Doris Young, it's the same. She is the second person in charge of Emgrand Group, she would also be an honorable guest to have at our banquet."

She was already grinning in excitement when she thought of it. She felt her body pumping with hot blood when she imagined how those big cooperates and families who had discriminated against the Wilson family would have to humble themselves and serve under the Wilson family. The Wilson family would become more brilliant and lavish in her hands!

Claire Wilson Wilson pondered for a moment before answering gingerly, "Okay, I understand, I'll try..."

"Don't try it! You must!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded reluctantly, then turned to Charlie Wade and whispered, "What should I do? What if the chairman doesn't attend? What if Doris Young doesn't want to come too?"

Charlie Wade chuckled and said, "Just try and see. You have Miss Young's number, don't you? Maybe she'll agree as soon as you call her, who knows?"

The purpose of the banquet was not only to demonstrate the strength of the Wilson family but also to announce Claire Wilson Wilson's promotion to the director. As her husband, it would be a joyful event to support his wife and to celebrate her promotion.

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson didn't know that her husband was the chairman of Emgrand Group. She fidgetted her fingers anxiously and sighed before saying, "He is the chairman of Emgrand, I heard that he is some young master from an extremely wealthy family in Eastcliff. This kind of person must be very busy with his daily business, how would he be able to spare the time to attend some whatnot banquet..."

Charlie Wade laughed and said, "I don't think so. Perhaps he's someone who spends his time with his wife at home every day, cooking and doing the laundry all day long. Who knows?"

Claire Wilson Wilson rolled her eyes at him and teased, "Do you think everyone is like you?"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Yes, maybe the boss of Emgrand Group is just like me..."

Claire Wilson Wilson pursed her lips and snorted, "Cut it out! That's impossible!"

Chapter 12

Assuming that Charlie Wade was simply joking, Claire Wilson Wilson didn't take it seriously. She walked aside and dialed Miss Young's Number. Soon, the call was answered.

Doris' sweet and pleasing voice resonated from the other end of the line. "Hello, Miss Wilson."

"Hi, Miss Young. I have a favor to ask from you," Claire Wilson Wilson said timidly.

"Okay, what is it?" Doris Replied. .

Claire Wilson Wilson rehearsed the sentence in her head once again, taking a deep breath before she said determinedly, "May I know if the chairman is available tomorrow night? My family will be organizing a banquet tomorrow to officially announce our collaboration with Emgrand Group. I hope that the chairman would kindly accept my invitation..."

There was silence at the other end of the line before Doris spoke again, "Miss Wilson, I'm sorry but I cannot make the decision on behalf of the chairman. Or, perhaps I could ask him for you, would that be alright?"

Claire Wilson Wilson said respectfully, "Thank you, sorry for the trouble caused." After the call was ended, Claire Wilson Wilson Held her phone nervously, anticipating her reply. Right at this moment, Charlie Wade's phone suddenly rang. Charlie Wade, taken aback, quietly cursed himself for forgetting to mute his phone. It Must be Doris who was calling to ask for his opinion...

He pretended to answer the phone calmly and mumbled, "Yes?"

As expected, Doris' voice came from the phone, "Mr. Wade, the Wilson Group will be holding a banquet tomorrow night. I Would like to ask if I would want to attend the banquet."

Charlie Wade replied, "Oh, is that so? Okay, I will...Alright, that's it, bye..."

Then, he quickly hung up the call and mumbled, "These Marketing spam calls are really annoying..."

Claire Wilson Wilson didn't suspect anything, but very soon, her phone rang again.

Doris's voice echoed into her ear again. "Hello, Miss Wilson, our chairman has agreed to your invitation, he'll drop by the venue then!"

"Huh! Really...that's great...thank you so much for your help. Please thank Mr.Chairman on my behalf too..." Claire Wilson Wilson muttered in disbelief followed by an excited shriek. She didn't expect that the chairman would actually agree to come.

She hurriedly turned to Lady Wilson and said delightedly, "Grandma! The chairman of Emgrand Group has agreed to come!"

"Really!?" Lady Wilson was extremely thrilled!

She turned and ordered the family members on the floor immediately, "Quick, make the necessary preparations! Book The most luxurious hotel, order the best meals and drinks! Let's Make it big to welcome the chairman of Emgrand Group!"

"Next, contact all the big companies in the city and invite them to our banquet! Inform Them that Emgrand's chairman will be there!"

Then the office became very busy with everyone bustling here and there to make phone calls! Everyone was stoked, constantly contacting their business partners and the high-profile figures of Aurouss Hilll.The news exploded like an atomic bomb in the city that it spread like wildfire! In the blink of an eye, everyone in the Aurouss Hilll knew about Wilson Group's banquet. The mysterious chairman of Emgrand Group would appear at the Wilson family's banquet tomorrow night!

Lady Wilson responded to the countless inquiries over the phone with a wide smile on her face. She was over the moon right now, because she knew that after tomorrow's banquet, the Wilson family would surely become the most sought-after family in Aurouss Hilll!

She giggled earnestly and said, "Okay, that's it for today. Start Preparing for tomorrow's banquet. Dismissed!"

After the meeting, Lady Wilson Returned to her office. Harold looked around sheepishly and quickly followed her.

"Grandma, do you really want to appoint Claire Wilson Wilson as the director?" Harold couldn't help but speak directly when there was no one around.

Lady Wilson frowned and said in a cold voice, "I've promised Claire Wilson Wilson, why can't I appoint her?"

"Grandma, you can't make her the director!"

"Why? She has won such a lavish contract. Her contribution is significant and important and she deserves it."

"She was only able to win the Emgrand contract because Wendell of the Jones family helped her. I heard that Wendell had gone to her place yesterday and Emgrand Group signed a contract with us today. The coincidence is quite odd, don't you think? From what I see, she must have spent the night with Wendell Jones!"

Lady Wilson's face slowly turned into a shade of brewing rage. "Is that true?"

Harold uttered firmly, "Of Course it's true! Wendell did go to see Claire Wilson Wilson last night. You'll know if you look into it."

He then continued, "Grandma, Claire Wilson Wilson is a married woman. If The skeleton in the closet is revealed, with people knowing this is how we had won the contract with Emgrand, what would they say about the Wilson family? What would they say about you?"

Lady Wilson's frown wrinkles even deeper, buying Harold's Lie. She knew about Wendell's Feelings towards Claire Wilson Wilson. During her birthday, Wendell had given her a jade talisman worth three to four million dollars. It could also explain why Claire Wilson Wilson Was able to win the sixty million dollar contract.

Sensing the change in Lady Wilson's expression, Harold quickly continued, "If you appoint such a shameless woman as the director, our reputation will be tarnished! At a time like this, you must appoint another person as the director and give that person the credit of the contract too. The best choice would be a man, it's the best way to avoid gossip!"

Lady Wilson nodded slightly, pondering upon his suggestion. She believed 80% of Harold's Lies. Considering the circumstances, she should choose another candidate as the director to eliminate the rumors and gossip. If the public were to know that Claire Wilson Wilson had won the contract because of her affair with Wendell, she would state that the new director had won the project instead of it being the product of Claire Wilson Wilson's affairs.

Moreover, the old lady was biased too. Honestly, she didn't like Claire Wilson Wilson! In addition, she was a conservative woman with patriarchal thinking. She didn't like the idea of Claire Wilson Wilson slowly growing her influence and power in the Wilson family. She must stop her growth within the family to consolidate the Wilson family's assets. She had made up her mind silently as her thoughts ran wild.

She looked at Harold and said coldly, "Harold, from now on, you must listen to me. Do what I tell you to do, and don't do the things that I tell you not to do. Do you understand?"

Harold stood upright and said, expressing his loyalty, "Don't worry Grandma, I'll follow your orders like a loyal servant. I'll go wherever you point, I'll do whatever you say!"

"Okay." Lady Wilson nodded and continued, "At the banquet tomorrow, I'll announce that you're the new director and will be fully in charge of the project with Emgrand Group. But remember, you must be obedient and faithful. I can hold you up, but I can also bring you down!"

Harold shrieked gleefully and said, "Don't worry, Grandma! I'll be a good boy!"

Chapter 13

Claire Wilson Wilson's heart was still thumping excitedly when she exited Wilson Group's office. Grandma would officially announce her new position tomorrow. Finally, she could hold her head up high!

She turned to Charlie Wade and said gleefully, "Charlie Wade, thank you! If it's not for your encouragement, I wouldn't have dared to step up and take the challenge."

Charlie Wade replied with a smile, "Dear, you deserve this." He turned his head away, then turned back to her and said, "Oh yes, it's such a great and happy event. Let's celebrate, shall we?"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded. "How do you want to do it?"

"Our third anniversary is around the corner, let's celebrate it together! I'll prepare everything, you just have to sit back and relax."

Claire Wilson Wilson gaped in surprise. "Are you going to surprise me?"

"Yes!" Charlie Wade nodded and laughed. "I'm giving you a surprise!"

Claire Wilson Wilson felt a dash of warmth surging her heart. "Okay, I won't ask you for any details then."

"You don't have to, just wait!"

Charlie Wade had several plans lining up for the preparation of a special and exclusive wedding anniversary. Generally, compensation was the main objective. After all, he was very poor previously and he didn't have the money to buy presents for his wife. In fact, he couldn't even afford a formal wedding for her. Now that he was loaded, he wanted to compensate her earnestly.

After splitting with his wife, Charlie Wade went to a jewelry store called Emerald Court in the center of Aurouss Hilll alone. Emerald Court was the most popular jewelry store in town. They had gold, platinum, diamonds, jade, and all sorts of gemstones and accessories that one could dream of. You name it, they've got it. Charlie Wade wanted to buy a gift for his wife before heading to the best hotel in town to book a venue for their belated wedding.

When he walked into the stores, the sales personnel didn't bother to entertain him when they saw him wearing four- striped - a.k.a. Counterfeit-Adidas sneakers. Regardless, Charlie Wade looked around by himself for a long while until he saw a jade necklace locked in the glass cabinet. The necklace was made of the most exclusive icy jadeite. It was very elegant and exquisite, a perfect match for Claire Wilson Wilson's aura. He peeked at the price tag. Thirteen million—which was a piece of cake for him.

He ushered for one of the sales personnel and said, "Hi, please take this necklace out, I'd like to have a look."

The person glanced at him indifferently and muttered, "I don't have the key, it's with our manager." Then, he spoke through the intercom and said, "Miss Wolfe, there's a guy here who wants to see our most prized possession!"

Very soon, a very enchanting woman with a very thick makeup sprinted to the storefront enthusiastically. Her name was Jane Wolfe and she was the sales manager at the store.

"Which prestigious guest wants to see our prized collection?"

The personnel pointed to Charlie Wade and said, "This man over here."

"Huh?" Jane shifted her gaze at Charlie Wade and expressed a disgusted look as if she had just eaten a fly. How could this deadbeat loser afford the most prized treasure of the shop?

She turned to the male sales personnel and said, "Hey, Gill, you're kidding me, right?"

"No, it's true, this gentleman wants to see the necklace."

Jane chided rudely, "Are you telling me that this loser can afford the necklace? Are you blind? If you're blind, tell me so I can fire you right this instant and stop being annoyed!"

Jane thought that she could very accurately read people after years of working experience. She could see at a glance about what kind of person the buyer was and predict their purchasing power. So, from her observation, she could tell that Charlie Wade was nothing but a poor loser. He couldn't even afford a 1,300 dollar necklace, let alone the thirteen million dollar necklace! He was just a waste of her time!

The male sales personnel kept quiet after the scolding, but Charlie Wade frowned and asked her, "You opened the door to do business, right? I want to see the necklace, what's the problem?"

Jane sneered in disdain. "Yes, we did open our door for business, but we don't do business with the mentally retarded. You can't afford it, just get out of our store!"

The frown on Charlie Wade's forehead grew deeper. "How do you know I can't afford it? Which pair of eyes did you use to judge me?"

"Haha!" Jane mocked contemptuously, "This jade necklace is worth tens of millions of dollars. Tell me, how are you going to pay for it? I know exactly what you want to do. You want me to take it out so you can snap a picture of it and post it on Instagram to show off, am I right?"

Jane crossed her arms in front of her chest and stood with her head held high, looking snobbish and pompous.

There were a few shoppers in the store. When they heard the price of the jade necklace, they gaped in awe and pointed at Charlie Wade as they whispered, "That guy is so shameless. 'Why does he want to look at it when he can't afford it?"

"You're right. Didn't he look into the mirror before he left his house? How can he deserve such a beautiful and precious gem with that low-quality outfit?"

"Let me tell you, there are so many of them nowadays!"

Charlie Wade looked askance at Jane who looked back at him with the scornful smile on her face. He decided to teach the ignorant b*tch a lesson! He retrieved his phone and dialed Stephen's number.

"I want you to prepare thirteen million dollars in cash and come to Emerald Court in ten minutes."

"Okay, Young Master, right on it."

The corner of Jane's lips twitched as she teased, "Wow, you're so indulgent in your acting, I'm impressed! Thirteen million dollars in cash? Haha, don't make me laugh. I haven't seen so much cash in my life, I do hope you'd let me open my eyes today! Don't you know that you'd need to make a prior appointment with the bank for any cash withdrawals above a million dollars? Hahaha, you're so funny!"

Charlie Wade nodded inexpressively and said, "Since you haven't seen it before, you'll see it soon."

The shrill voices started to resonate across the store.

"It's okay to be poor, just don't be so puffed up..."

"Haha, this guy looks nothing like a rich guy at all! Thirteen million? I'll call him Dad if he can get thirteen thousand dollars!"

"Well, I'm curious to see what thirteen million in cash looks like!"

Listening to the crowd who was taking her side, Jane smiled satisfyingly. She couldn't wait to see how this poor loser would react when the cash wasn't here.

A few minutes later, several Rolls-Royce suddenly parked in front of Emerald Court's entrance. Immediately after that, eight bodyguards in black suits came down from the two cars at the front. They were carrying a black leather suitcase, their muscles twitching, their expression solemn, a cold and murderous aura radiating from their body. It felt as if the temperature had suddenly dropped below zero. Everyone in Emerald Court was stunned in extreme shock upon the scene! Who was this guy? What's with the charismatic appearance?

Chapter 14

Jane was taken aback by such an extravagant appearance, wondering to herself if these guys were here for him. She dismissed that thought very quickly! Impossible! The poor loser wouldn't know anyone so powerful. Stephen got out from the third car and strode into Emerald Court. Jane quickly got up to greet him, but he ignored her completely and went straight to Charlie Wade.

"Young Master, I'm here with the money."

Then, Stephen gestured with his hand. The studly bodyguards walked into the store, placed the suitcase on the floor, and opened it. It was full of cash to the brink! Everyone gaped in extreme shock! D*mn it! The loser...oh no! What the guy had said was actually true! Oh d*mn! Who was he! Many people took their phones out, trying to take a picture or record a video. They wouldn't want to miss such a shocking scene. Stephen's bodyguards immediately cleared the scene and pushed them out of the store. All they managed to snap was the back of Charlie Wade's head.

Charlie Wade pointed to the cash and said to Jane, "You said that you've never seen so much cash before, didn't you? Take a good look at it now."

In a shocked daze, Jane mumbled with vigorous nodding, "Yes, I see it, I see it now..."

Charlie Wade said to Stephen, "I want to see the manager of this store."

Stephen nodded, took out his phone, searched through his contact list, and made the call.

As soon as his call was answered, he shouted, "bastard, I am Stephen Thompson! I'm now at Emerald Court. I'll give you one minute to get here now, or I'll have someone burn down the store and then break your legs!"

Blood drained from Jane's face, her eyes filled with horror when she looked at Stephen. Who was this guy? Was he that powerful? Her boss was a man of substance in Aurouss Hilll and he was also very well connected in the 'organized' group. Everyone treated him with great respect and honor! She couldn't believe that there were people who dared to talk to him like that!

It had not even been a minute when a middle-age obese man came running from the office behind the store. He sprinted as soon as he saw Stephen and said, "Mr. Thompson, it's such an honor to have you visit my shop. Why didn't you let me know earlier, I could've come to greet you."

Stephen hurled his hand across the man's face, slapping him, and growled furiously, "You're pretty cocky, aren't you? Your staff even dared to mistreat our young master like this. Are you getting tired of breathing?"

Stephen knew that the young master had undergone a miserable life in the past decade, so he was extremely agitated when a lowly staff member treated him so poorly. The chubby man was a little aggrieved when he was slapped hard on his face, but when he heard Stephen's remark. He recoiled in shock. Stephen Thompson's young master? Oh goodness, if Stephen's existence was already like a dragon in the mortal world, his young master would be the god from the sky then!

His body trembled in fear. He turned his head to look at Charlie Wade, who stood next to Stephen. The young lad looked like an ordinary being, but he was Stephen Thompson's young master! The chubby man crawled to his knees and said, "Young... Young Master, I'm really sorry, please accept my apology."

He then turned his furious gaze at his staff and shouted, "Which ignorant bastard offended the young master? Show yourself!" All the sales personnel shifted their glances at Jane instantly.

Jane wanted to retreat, but the chubby man jumped at her, grabbed her collar, and slapped her face while cursing, "You ignorant b*tch, how dare you offend our young master! You're blind and stupid!"

Jane crouched on the floor after the slap and wailed, "Boss, I'm sorry. Yes, yes, I'm blind and stupid, please forgive me, please!"

"Forgive you?" The chubby man grabbed her hair, pulled her face up, and punched her in the face with his giant fist. With one punch after another, blood started oozing from her face.

"D*mn it you b*tch! You want to drag me to hell, don't you? Before you kill me, I'll kill you first!"

Several teeth were knocked out of Jane's mouth, the nose bridge that she had spent a fortune on plastic surgery for was broken, and her face was literally covered in blood.

She struggled and managed to break free from the chubby man. She crawled towards Charlie Wade, grabbed his leg, and cried, "Young Master, I'm so sorry. I won't do it again, I won't judge people as I had done ever again. Please, please forgive me."

Charlie Wade glared at her coldly and uttered, "Serves you right!"

The chubby man gaped in shock when he saw her grabbing Charlie Wade's leg. He quickly ran over and stomped on her head, and shouted, "How dare you touch the young master's leg! I'll kill you!" With the stomp, Jane fainted and became unconscious.

The man called for the guards at the door, "Throw this b*tch into the garbage dump in the back alley!"

"Okay, boss!" The guards immediately picked the bloody Jane up and took her out of the store.

Charlie Wade looked blankly at the chubby man and said, "My wife likes this jade necklace. Wrap it up."

The chubby man nodded vigorously and said, "Okay, I'll do it right away!"

Charlie Wade retrieved the black card and said, "Swipe this card." Then, he turned to Stephen and said, "You can take back the cash now."

The chubby man quickly interjected, "Young Master, since you like the jade necklace, just take it, it's on the house!"

Charlie Wade muttered, "I don't need you to give it to me for free."

The chubby man said timidly, "Young Master, please accept it as a token of gratitude from me!"

Stephen told Charlie Wade, "Sir, since he wants to repent for his mistake with the gift, please accept it. Otherwise, I don't think he'll be able to sleep tonight."

After hesitating for a moment, Charlie Wade nodded gently. "Okay, thank you for the generous gift."

The chubby man heaved a sigh of relief when Charlie Wade accepted the necklace. If he didn't, he was genuinely afraid that Stephen would not let him off the hook. With his influence and ability, making him disappear off the grid was as easy as flicking his fingers.

Then, Stephen asked, "Sir, do you need a lift?"

"No thanks," Charlie Wade shook his hand and said, "Where is your back door? I'll go by myself."

The onlookers felt as if they had entered a whole new world! Several Rolls-Royce came to deliver thirteen million dollars in cash just to buy a piece of jade. It turned out that the owner of the Emerald Court gave it to him for free! Who was the man who looked rather unremarkable and ordinary? What was his background? Many people posted the video of the incident on the Internet and it quickly became the hottest topic.

The people labeled the mysterious man as 'the ultra-rich man', 'willful boss', 'mysterious elite', and so on. There was even an activity called 'search for the mysterious rich man' that a lot of people were actively participating in. Fortunately, when these people were shooting the video, they were pushed out of the store by the bodyguards, so Charlie Wade's image in their videos was very vague and blurry and it couldn't be used as a reference for the manhunt.

Chapter 15

Charlie Wade didn't return home right away after leaving Emerald Court. He wanted to give his wife a full package of surprise during their wedding anniversary celebration. The surprise was not limited to the precious jade necklace—he wanted to make up for his wife a romantic wedding. As he recalled the earlier days, Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson rushed to register their marriage under the request of Lord Wilson, Claire Wilson Wilson's grandfather, and they didn't manage to hold a wedding.

Lord Wilson had intended to select a date for a lavish wedding, but not long after they got married, he was seriously ill and was admitted to the hospital. Hence, the wedding had to be delayed. Later, Lord Wilson passed away. Charlie Wade was totally ignored by the Wilson family, so the wedding plan was flushed down the drain. However, it was different now. He was rich, so he could and must give his wife a wedding!

The first venue that popped right up his head when he thought of the wedding was Shangri-La's Sky Garden! Shangri-La Hotel was the best hotel in Aurouss Hillll at present. The hotel covered a large area with extravagant and luxurious decoration and had an upscale shopping mall located within. The Sky Garden was located on the highest level inside the mall. Its name came from its unique design. The exterior was constructed with crystal glass paired with fragrant flowers airlifted from abroad. It looks like a grand garden suspended in the sky.

It was also the grandest and most luxurious banquet hall Aurouss Hillll could offer. It would cost at least several million dollars to hold a wedding here. Since Charlie Wade was rich now, several million dollars were just a piece of cake for him. The most important thing was that he could make his wife happy. Hence, there he was, standing at the entrance of the Shangri-La Hotel, intending to reserve the Sky Garden on his wedding anniversary.

However, Charlie Wade wasn't aware that the hotel was an exclusive members-only hotel. One had to be a member to dine, stay, or hold an event here. Besides, there were different membership levels with different privilege service packages. Normal members could only dine in the lobby area and stay in standard rooms. Silver members could dine in private rooms and stay in luxury rooms. Gold members could dine in the deluxe dining room and stay in deluxe suites. Platinum members could dine in the Sky Garden and stay in the executive suites.

The highest members of them all were the diamond members. Only Diamond members were eligible to stay in the Presidential Suite, and only Diamond members could reserve the entire Sky Garden for events. Moreover, one could not simply apply to be a Gold member and above. It was by invitation only and its members were only given to those with significant social status.

Before Charlie Wade could enter the hotel, he was blocked by several men in black. "Excuse me, sir, please show us your membership card."

The outfit Charlie Wade was wearing today was rather mediocre and cheap. They were a stark contrast to the other guests who dressed to the nines.

Charlie Wade quickly said, "Hi, I would like to speak to your hotel manager regarding the booking of a venue."

The man said flatly, "I'm sorry, you can't enter without a membership card!"

"Can I apply for the membership now?"

The man shook his head and said. "I'm sorry, but you need to have a referral to apply for the membership."

Charlie Wade frowned in agitation. Why was the Shangri-La so troublesome?

In the middle of this confusion, he suddenly remembered that when Lord Wilson enrolled him into the Aurous University and he was in his senior year with his wife, they had a coursemate named Sabrina Lee who worked here! Hence, he hurriedly took out his phone and called Sabrina.

After stating his situation about the application, Sabrina said, "Don't worry, class rep, I got this! I'll be there right now!" Charlie Wade quickly thanked her.

It seemed that although they had only been coursemates for a year, the friendship was still sustained to a certain level. He would definitely return the favor to her in the future. A few minutes later, a woman's high-pitched voice suddenly echoed across the hotel entrance.

"Hey, class rep!"

Charlie Wade looked up and saw a woman in an office lady outfit with heavy and whimsical makeup coming from inside the hotel. Was that Sabrina? She had transformed so much that he barely recognized her!

As the voluptuous lady approached them, the two guards in black hurriedly bowed and greeted respectfully, "Miss Lee."

Charlie Wade gaped in surprise, "Wow, Sabrina, it's been awhile since we last saw each other and you're now a manager in Shangri-La. It's so amazing!"

Sabrina replied with a smile, Class rep, you're too polite. Actually, I'm just a small-time leader of the HR department, it can only be regarded as low to middle managerial level in Shangri-La."

Charlie Wade complimented earnestly, "It's still very impressive. I heard that the requirements for the management in Shangri-La are very high, you're awesome!"

Sabrina laughed gleefully, she then turned to the guards next to her and said coldly, "Was it you who blocked my college class rep at the entrance, not letting him in?"

The guards exchanged nervous glances. One of them quickly said, "I'm sorry, Miss Lee, I didn't know that he was your college mate. Besides, he doesn't have a membership card, we're just following the hotel's protocol..."

Sabrina snorted, "The protocol is fixed, but people are not. Do You not understand this?"

Charlie Wade thought that Sabrina would punish them for the matter, so he hurriedly uttered, "Sabrina, don't blame them, they're just doing their job."

Sabrina shifted her gaze at Charlie Wade. Suddenly she laughed out loud, and at the same time, her expression changed and she started teasing, "My dear class rep, you really think you're somebody, don't you? Did you really think that I'll punish my subordinates simply because of you?"

Charlie Wade frowned in dismay. What do you mean by that?"

"What do I mean?" Sabrina said with a disdainful grin, Am I not obvious enough? Do you really think that a miserable loser like you can enter Shangri-La? Let me tell you something, don't even dream about it!"

Charlie Wade clenched his fists and asked, "What the h*ll do you mean?"

"I'm teasing you!" Sabrina grinned like a Cheshire Cat and said, "I despised you while we were in college. How could a loser who knew nothing but study and couldn't even afford a meat dish at the cafeteria be a class rep? Who were you to comment on my studies and results? Yuck! Didn't you look at yourself in the mirror?"

With a cold expression, Charlie Wade said, "Sabrina Lee, I don't think I've ever offended you or provoked you, but why do you keep ridiculing me?"

Chapter 16

Sabrina crossed her arms in front of her chest and said in a pompous tone, "Yeah, I despise you, so what? Can't you bear some criticism now, you loser? Everyone in college knows that you married Claire Wilson Wilson and became their live-in son-in-law after graduation! A miserable loser who couldn't even afford a decent meal in college and a toyboy after graduation! How dare you come looking for my help being such a big loser as you are? Who do you think you are?"

A rage of fury was slowly burning inside Charlie Wade. One would not attack unless attacked first. Sabrina was going too far this time! Right at this moment, he received a text message from Stephen. "Young Master, the Wade family owns Shangri-La Hotels and Resorts. The Shangri-La of Aurouss Hilll is just one of our many Shangri-Las throughout the world."

Charlie Wade's pupils shrink in astonishment! Did he just say that the Wade family owned Shangri-Las?

He responded reflexively, "You're not bluffing, are you?"

"Of course not. The person in charge of Aurouss Hilll's Shangri-La is Cameron Isaac, his number is 155..., please give him a call and he will settle everything for you."

"Okay."

Sabrina was a little agitated by Charlie Wade's attitude, staring at his phone and texting while she was mocking him. She felt like she was abusing a dog and of course, she wanted to hear the dog yelp.

Unexpectedly, Charlie Wade didn't say anything. It proved that in his case, time didn't change anything. He was a loser since college, and he was the same loser now who didn't even budge after being insulted.

Hence, she increased the cockiness in her tone and sneered, "Hey, Mr. Class Rep, you're pretty good at putting up with insults!"

"Oh yes, by the way. I heard that you and Claire Wilson Wilson have not slept together after being married for three years. Is Claire Wilson Wilson actually someone else's mistress and you're nothing but a smokescreen for her affairs? Hahaha!"

Charlie Wade frowned indignantly. "Not only did you insult me, but you also insulted my wife. Sabrina Lee, you're digging your own grave!"

Enraged, he called Cameron Isaac's number. He stared at Sabrina and said flatly while waiting for the call to be answered, "I'm going to ask your person in charge about how Shangri-La recruits employees, for even people with a foul mouth like you can work here!"

"What? How dare you taunt me? You really need a beating!" Sabrina growled furiously and shouted to the guards beside her, "He's here looking for trouble, beat him!"

At this moment, his call was answered. "Hello, who is it?" A charismatic male voice came from the other end of the line.

Charlie Wade said coldly, "Are you Cameron Isaac? I am Charlie Wade Wade, I'm now at the entrance of Shangri-La. I'll give you a minute to get the h*ll here or you can just get out of Shangri-La!"

Upon hearing it, the man who was originally full of charisma immediately panicked and stuttered, "Young... Young Master? Are you really at the Shangri-La now?"

"Fifty seconds!"

The man yelled over the phone and blurted frantically, "Please Wait a moment, I'll be there right away!"

Sabrina smirked as she listened to Charlie Wade's phone conversation and mocked sarcastically, "Hey, Charlie Wade, I didn't know that you're so good at blowing your own horn! Do you know who Mr. Cameron is? Even the most prestigious members of Shangri-La dare not to be so pompous in front of Mr. Cameron! Do you really think you can fool me by pretending to make a call?"

Charlie Wade glared at her and said faintly, "You'll know in thirty seconds if I'm fooling you!"

Sabrina laughed contemptuously. "Okay, our beloved class rep! I'll wait for thirty seconds! Oh no, let's make it three minutes. If Mr. Cameron doesn't show himself in three minutes, I'll let the guards tear your bluffing mouth off your face, you lying little prick! Hahaha! This is so funny!"

Twenty seconds later, a middle-aged man in a top-of-the-line bespoke suit ran towards them in a panic. He was a dog who worked for the Wade family. He was also a very powerful dog. Ever since he had been appointed as the general manager of the Shangri-La in Aurouss Hilll, he became one of the most respectable icons in the city. When was the last time he was ever so panicked and anxious? However, his panic was understandable. He had never imagined that the young master of the Wade family would appear at Shangri-La, which was under his management...

Sabrina intended to continue insulting Charlie Wade when she suddenly saw the guards looking pale and horrified as they glanced behind her. She followed their stunned gazes and turned around when she saw Mr. Cameron emerge. Her eyes opened widely as if she had been struck by lightning.

Then, she turned back at Charlie Wade, her eyes full of horror. "This... how... how is it possible"

"Who is Mr. Charlie Wade Wade?" Isaac's voice was trembling in fear and disbelief.

Everyone stared at him in bewilderment, stunned. The man who could easily shake Aurouss Hilll by simply stomping his feet had become so terrified and frightened that even his voice changed!

Charlie Wade said loudly, "I am!"

Isaac quickly rushed towards him and bowed. "Young..."

Charlie Wade interjected immediately, "Mr. Cameron, some things are not suitable to be said out loud in public."

Isaac was shaking with jitters upon the statement. "Oh, my goodness! I'm such a stupid dog! Young Master's identity must be highly confidential, yet I almost called him out! If I offend Young Master, it will be the end for me!"

Thus, he hurriedly changed the address but still spoke in a respectful tone, "Mr. Wade, welcome to Shangri-La. Please Follow me to my office for further discussion."

Sabrina was utterly stunned. She could not accept the fact but it had unfolded right in front of her eyes. Who was Charlie Wade Wade really? What was his real background? How could he make the big boss of Shangri-La bow before him like a lowly peasant? He wouldn't bear a grudge against her for her mockery, right?

Chapter 17

Sabrina hurriedly put on a coy smile and said to Charlie Wade in a flattering voice, "Class rep, welcome to Shangri-La. It's our honor for you to visit us and it's also my pleasure as your former college mate. Please Come in..."

She assumed that her compliments and gentle tone would make Charlie Wade forget her rude behavior towards him earlier. Unfortunately for her, Charlie Wade was not as kind as she thought he was.

Isaac gaped in surprise when he heard Sabrina's remark and quickly asked, "Lee, you're Mr. Wade's college mate?".

"Yes, yes!" Sabrina said frantically, "Mr. Wade was my class rep when we were in college, we're quite close!"

Isaac announced instantly, "Go to the president's office tomorrow. You'll be the HR manager of Shangri-La!"

In Shangri-La, the promotion from team leader to HR manager was at least a three-tier difference in ranking. Not only would her salary and welfare package increase by tenfold, but she would also control the manpower of most employees in the hotel. The HR manager was considered among the high-level executives at managerial level. Sabrina was so thrilled when she heard his statement that she almost fainted.

Charlie Wade uttered coldly, "Mr. Cameron, do you know what kind of relationship I have with Sabrina Lee?"

Isaac assumed that Charlie Wade was displeased with the arrangement and immediately said, "Mr. Wade, I can promote Miss Lee to vice president if it pleases you!"

Charlie Wade said abruptly, "I called Sabrina Lee for help because I didn't have a membership card, but out of nowhere, she insulted me for no reason and even urged the guards to beat me. Yet, now you want to promote her to vice president? What do you mean by that? Do you want to intentionally piss me off?"

Isaac felt blood drained off his body. He had aimed his flattery in the wrong direction! Next, the glare he pointed at Sabrina was filled with wrath and fury. He swung his hand across her face and growled in great dismay, "How dare you offend Mr. Wade? Did you borrow your courage from a lion? You wish to die, don't you?"

Sabrina was so frightful that she knelt down on the ground, shaking in great fear as she wailed and pleaded, "Mr. Cameron, I'm sorry, I'm so sorry."

Isaac lifted his leg and kicked her fiercely, sending her a distance away, and shouted, "You ignorant b*tch! I'll teach you a lesson today about the price you have to pay for offending Mr. Wade!"

He then turned to the security guards and shouted, "Give her a good beating! Don't be merciful, destroy that plastic face of hers and make an announcement to the entire Aurouss Hilll that whoever dares to hire her would indicate that they're going up against me, Cameron Isaac!"

Sabrina was extremely scared. She pleaded hastily, "Mr. Cameron, I'm sorry, please forgive me!"

Isaac's face blushed in a hot red shade as he shouted, "Now you know that you're sorry huh! What drains your brain earlier? How dare you provoke Mr. Wade? If it's not because of him, I'd kill you right now!"

Tears drenched Sabrina's face. Kneeling on the ground, she crawled in front of Charlie Wade and bowed vigorously. "Mr. Wade, I'm sorry, I'm so sorry! I beg you, please, for the sake of our friendship..."

Charlie Wade glanced at her coldly and said, "Sabrina Lee, we're friends, but why did you insult me and my wife just now?"

"Class rep, I was out of my mind just now. It's all because of my filthy mouth, please forgive me..."

"I wouldn't attack unless I'm attacked first. Since you've attacked me, I'll never spare you! You left me no choice!" Charlie Wade then snorted in dismay. "Take a dose of your own medicine, you ignorant woman!"

Isaac growled, "B*tch! Don't you dare pester Mr. Wade Again, I'll tear your mouth off your plastic face!"

Sabrina didn't dare to speak another word. She knelt on the floor and wept bitterly.

Charlie Wade ignored her completely. He looked at Isaac and said flatly, "I want to talk to you about the Sky Garden, let's go to your office."

Isaac nodded vigorously as he led the way. "Of course, Mr. Wade, please come this way!"

Before he left, he turned to the guards and shouted, "Teach her a lesson and don't stop without my order!"

"Yes, Mr. Cameron!" The guards nodded frightfully. They dashed towards Sabrina, pressed her against the floor and gave her a good beating. Behind Charlie Wade, Sabrina was wailing and screaming continuously, but he couldn't care less. Isaac escorted him into Shangri-La.

Once they were at Isaac's office, Charlie Wade cut to the chase and uttered, "My wife and I will celebrate our wedding anniversary in a few days' time. I want to book the whole Sky Garden. May I?"

Isaac answered without a doubt, "Young Master, for the sake of fairness to all the premium members, we disallow the charter of the Sky Garden entirely, not even to prominent politicians in the city. However, the Sky Garden will be reserved for you and only you in the future!"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "That's not necessary, I just need it for my wedding anniversary. In Addition, I need your help to prepare a surprise for my wife."

"No problem! Please rest assured that all the staff of Shangri-La and I will always obey your orders and requests!"

After settling the matters in Shangri-La, Charlie Wade hopped onto the bus and went home. He realized that almost all the passengers on the bus were watching videos and short clips on their phones. To his surprise, everyone was watching the same video! It was the video of him showing off the thirteen million dollars in cash in Emerald Court the other day!

The video began when Stephen and the team of security guards stepped out of the black Rolls-Royces. Then, the screen shifted to the guards carrying dozens of black suitcases into Emerald Court and hurled them all on the floor, humiliating the ignorant and cocky sales manager. The whole incident had been shot and posted on the Internet. However, the video failed to capture Charlie Wade's face.

The video spread across Aurouss Hillll like wildfire. Curiosity Filled the city as people were speculating on who was the ultra-rich man behind all this. Many girls started to daydream about their own rags-to-riches Cinderella fiction, wishing they could meet the mysterious Prince Charming soon.

Charlie Wade heaved a sigh of relief after repeatedly confirming that his face was too blurry in the video to be identified. When he finally got back home, it was filled with celebratory joy and excitement. Claire Wilson Wilson had won the Emgrand Group contract and was about to be appointed as the director of Wilson Group. Her parents burst into joyful tears.

After being taunted and ridiculed for so many years, they could finally embrace under the limelight and shine! Thanks to his in-laws' pleasant mood, they didn't find him despicable or annoying like they used to.

Elaine Ma said happily, "Hah, I'm so happy today! My girl is extraordinary!"

She then turned to Charlie Wade and said with a smile, which was an extremely rare scene, "Charlie Wade, despite your uselessness, I'll give credit where credit's due, Claire Wilson Wilson managed to succeed thanks to your motivation, so you don't have to make dinner tonight. We'll go out and celebrate!"

Claire Wilson Wilson chuckled. "Let's go to Kempinski!"

"It's too expensive!" Elaine Ma blurted in shock. "It's at least one thousand dollars per person, isn't it?"

Claire Wilson Wilson laughed gleefully and said, "Mom, the salary of the director is very high, with an annual income of one million."

"Wow!" Elaine Ma clapped her hands and cheered, "That's Awesome! My dear Claire Wilson Wilson has finally accomplished something significant!"

After a quick thought, she continued, "But you'll need to give me 70% of your salary. You Youngsters don't know how to manage your money, give me the money and I'll manage it for you. I'm sure it's more reliable than you saving it on your own!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded. "Okay, Mom. I Promise to give it to you every month, but we'll have to set some ground rules here. Don't taunt Charlie Wade again, he's your son-in-law, for goodness sake!"

"Okay, alright! For your sake, I Promise I'll not criticize him as much as I usually do!"

Chapter 18

Claire Wilson Wilson and her family went to Kempinski for dinner while Wendell was sulking at home. He saw the post from Emgrand Group's official page, feeling very depressed and dejected. He thought that it would be absolutely impossible for Claire Wilson Wilson to win the contract, but unexpectedly, it had only taken her half an hour to score a sixty million dollar contract. Recalling his harsh and scornful remarks at her place yesterday, he was extremely embarrassed as the remarks came back as a slap in his face!

Right at this moment, Harold called to whine about his situation. He said as soon as the call was answered, "Hey, Wendell, what the h*ll! I created opportunities for you to pursue my cousin, but you turned your back on me and helped her to win the Emgrand contract. How could you do this to me?"

Wendell shook his head in disdain. "What the heck? I didn't do anything!"

Harold asked again, "Wendell, be honest with me. Did you sleep with my cousin?"

At the same time, Wendell was too embarrassed to deny the fact that he had nothing to do with all this. It would mean that he was admitting his incompetence, wouldn't it?

Hence, he mumbled sheepishly, "Yeah. Harold, I'm sorry, I'll make it up to you whenever I have a chance."

"I knew it!" Harold sighed, and then hurriedly asked, "Wendell, my cousin was a virgin, wasn't she? I don't think she's ever slept with that loser. You struck the jackpot, you lucky dog!"

Wendell gasped in astonishment followed by excitement. Alright! Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson was still a virgin! Then, he might as well tell everyone that he had done the deed with Claire Wilson Wilson, in this way, he could estrange her relationship with her husband too.

As the cunning thoughts lingered in his mind, he giggled coyly and said to Harold, "Yes, your cousin was a virgin. She was so tight and cute I couldn't help it! Hahaha!"

Harold's bitter voice resonated, "If so, please don't forget about me whenever you have any benefits in hand, okay buddy?"

"Don't worry!" Wendell Exclaimed casually.

As soon as he ended Harold's Call, his father called him suddenly. His father's anxious voice entered his ear. "Wendell, we have a problem! The Emgrand Group has canceled all their projects with us! Did you offend anyone recently?"

Wendell fell into dead silence upon hearing this. Was it true? Didn't it mean that his family would suffer a great loss?!

He blurted hastily, "Dad, what's going on? No, I didn't offend anyone! Did you?"

His father sounded disbelief and bewildered. "Neither have I! I've been in the office these days so I didn't meet many people, let alone offend someone..."

"Hey, Dad, is it possible that Emgrand's new chairman is doing a major reshuffle after taking over the company?"

"Yes! You're right!" Mr. Jones exclaimed, suddenly coming to his senses. "I haven't had a chance to visit the new chairman since his appointment. I've spoken to Doris Young several times, but she said that their chairman doesn't take any visitors."

"Then what should we do?"

Mr. Jones fell into silence as he pondered the situation and then said, "Oh, yes. The Wilson family's banquet tomorrow night, they said that they've invited the chairman. Let's find a chance to meet him!"

"Alright!" Wendell agreed right away. "Let's go together tomorrow!"

The next day, the entire Wilson family was over the moon and extremely delighted. It was the most important moment in the family. Overnight, the news about the Wilson family winning the contract with Emgrand Group and the invitation of the chairman to the banquet had spread throughout Aurouss Hill!

For this banquet, Charlie Wade found his most expensive suit to wear and went to the hotel where the banquet was held. Charlie Wade got out of the car after arriving at the hotel's entrance when a Porsche stopped abruptly in front of him. Then, Wendell Jones, who donned a meticulously expensive suit and slick hairstyle, came out of the car. A waiter marched forward and greeted him diligently.

Wendell saw Charlie Wade too, apparently. There was a trace of disdain in his eyes as he scanned him and said with a sly smile. "Where did you find this counterfeit suit? You look like a dog trying to play dress-up."

Charlie Wade said flatly, "What does it have to do with you?"

Wendell twitched his lips, a dash of mockery painted his face. "You have nothing to do with me, but your wife is a whole new different story..."

Charlie Wade frowned slightly and asked, "What story?"

The bystanders couldn't help but stop as the remarks echoed within their earshot. Starting last night, there was a rumor circulating among society. Rumors had it that Claire Wilson Wilson succeeded in winning the contract because of her intimate relationship with Wendell. Otherwise, how else could they explain the collaboration with Emgrand Group based on her and Wilson Group's competency? From the current looks of it, it sounded quite legit and reasonable.

Seeing that a crowd was slowly gathered around them, Wendell said loudly, "Why do you think Claire Wilson Wilson could win the contract with Emgrand Group?"

Charlie Wade glared at Wendell coldly. "Why?"

Wendell curled his lips into a cocky smile and said, "Because Of me, of course! Because Claire Wilson Wilson is my woman now, so I gave all I could for her to succeed in her negotiation with them! If you have any sense left, be a gentleman and divorce her as soon as possible."

Although they had anticipated the reason, the people couldn't help but gape in astonishment when they heard Wendell said it outright. Sure enough! Claire Wilson Wilson had won the contract by sleeping with Wendell Jones!

"Because of you?" Charlie Wade chuckled sinisterly. "Who do you think you are?"

Chapter 19

"Who do you think you are, then?" Wendell looked askance at Charlie Wade as he said coldly, "You are nothing but a loser, you can't even watch your wife stray around. It's such a waste for Claire Wilson Wilson to be with you, why don't you let her go for her to be with me? I can give her whatever she wants!"

A layer of ice hovered beneath Charlie Wade's face. He started with a cold and deep voice, "I'll give you two choices. One, apologize to Claire Wilson Wilson and take back everything you said in front of everyone or two, I'll make your family's company go bankrupt. Decide now."

"Hahaha! Are you kidding me? Who the heck do you think you are to make my family go bankrupt?"

Wendell laughed out loud as he shot a contemptuous glare at Charlie Wade. Obviously, he did not take Charlie Wade seriously.

"Are you out of your mind, you crazy piece of sh*t? Are you daydreaming? Do you have any idea what our company's net worth is? What can you do to make us bankrupt? Haha!"

Charlie Wade wore an inexpressive expression on his face while looking at Wendell for a while as if he was looking at an idiot. Then, he retrieved his phone and called Stephen.

"In three minutes, I want to see the bankruptcy and liquidation of the Jones family's business. Let their debts hit the ceiling!"

Three minutes to make a company with a net worth of billions go bankrupt was utterly impossible!

Wendell glared back at Charlie Wade In great dismay and said, "D*mn, you are so full of lies! Do You really think you are the ultra-rich man on the Internet?"

Then, he continued coldly, "Loser, stop pretending, I'll give you two choices too. One, kneel and apologize to me, then divorce Claire Wilson

Wilson immediately. Two, I'll get someone to beat the h*ll out of you and cripple you, and let you see for your pathetic self how lovely and sweet Claire Wilson Wilson is with me. Decide Now! I'll give you a minute to consider your options!"

Charlie Wade glanced at his watch and said, "You have one minute left. Are you sure you don't want to save your company even a little?"

"F*ck off! You have thirty seconds to decide! If you don't get on your knees right now, I'll Make you regret it forever!" Wendell threatened, "Twenty seconds! Ten seconds! Five seconds! Time's up! Don't blame me for being cold blooded, you asked for it!" Wendell shook his collar and gestured at the bodyguards around him, he was ready to give the loser a good beating.

Right at this moment his phone suddenly rang. Wendell was caught by surprise. He looked at his phone and saw that it was his father, so he quickly answered it. "Dad, I'm at the hotel now, where are you?"

On the phone, Wendell's father snarled indignantly, "D*mn it! What the h*ll did you do this time? Who did you offend? Now all shareholders are selling our shares like hotcakes, our share price has fallen by more than 80%!"

Then, his growling pursued, The bank suddenly came to our door to demand debt repayment! All partners have suddenly suspended their projects with us and halted the settlement! Our capital chain is broken! We're left with declaring bankruptcy and liquidation!"

Blood drained from Wendell's face as he listened to the loud growl coming from the other end of the line. Cold sweat trickled down his forehead.

"We're screwed! Completely Screwed!"

Wendell opened his mouth, wanting to ask something when he heard through the phone a sound of a siren followed by the sound of breaking the door, and the police officers asking his father to come to the station for an investigation. Suddenly, his legs went jelly and knelt in front of Charlie Wade. His phone fell to the floor and shattered. The night breeze was blowing lightly, his body and heart were cold as ice. Seeing such a scene, the bodyguards exchange cautious glances and dared not to step forward.

Trembling in fear, Wendell asked Charlie Wade in a dispirited voice, "Who the h*ll are you, really? You did this, didn't you?"

The onlookers were equally surprised. After taking a call, Wendell Jones suddenly knelt in front of the Wilson family son-in-law. What was going on?

Charlie Wade looked down at him, then, he bent slightly and whispered, "I gave you a chance to choose your option, but you didn't choose wisely."

"I'm sorry, I'm terribly sorry. Please, please forgive me, please spare me! There's Nothing between Claire Wilson Wilson and me, I never touched her. The Contract with Emgrand Group, it wasn't me who helped her! Everything I said was just lies! I Made them up! Please, please, I beg you! Please spare me and my family!"

Wendell knocked his head on the floor and apologized profusely. Never did he expect that a lowly son-in-law of the Wilson family could have so much power and influence in his hands! A simple phone call was what it took to make his family bankrupt! When he lifted his head to look at Charlie Wade, he felt that the plain and emotionless face was more horrible than the devil! Someone who could ruin his family in a few minutes was out of his hands! He was not in the place to offend him!

Charlie Wade shook his head and said, "You should be grateful, at least I spared your life!
Otherwise, your whole family would be dead by now!"

Wendell's face was as pale as a sheet of paper and his body was trembling violently.

Charlie Wade continued in his cold voice, "To tell you the truth, yes. I am the ultra-rich man in the video. If you don't want to die, don't tell anyone about my identity or I can't promise you and your father will be alive until tomorrow morning! Mum's the word!"

Then, he patted Wendell's face, stood upright, and walked into the hall, ignoring Wendell. As for Wendell, he crouched on the floor, completely stunned. He didn't dare to resist even the slightest against Charlie Wade's act to humiliate him. He watched as Charlie Wade walked into the hall and he quickly crawled into the hall too.

He looked around frantically until he saw Claire Wilson Wilson. Then, he rushed towards her, knelt at her feet, and wailed, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I'm sorry, I shouldn't have spread such ridiculous rumors about you. I have nothing to do with Emgrand Group's project. Please, please spare me!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was taken aback by his abrupt reaction that she quickly dodged backward and stumbled into a warm embrace. Claire Wilson Wilson looked back and saw that the person who was embracing her was Charlie Wade. Charlie Wade saw her as soon as he came in. She was dressed to the nines and shone like a bright star in the crowd. She was so alluring and mesmerizingly beautiful. Seeing Wendell rushing towards Claire Wilson Wilson, he quickly hugged her in his arms to prevent her from falling and glared at Wendell in disdain. Wendell hurriedly crawled away, fearing that he might enrage Charlie Wade again.

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned in confusion. "What's Wrong with him..."

Charlie Wade whispered while holding her, "There must be something wrong with his senses, just ignore him."

Although they were a couple, they did not have any intimate contact before. Claire Wilson Wilson blushed until her ears were red as she felt Charlie Wade's warmth circling her.

Awkwardly, she wiggled her way out of Charlie Wade's embrace and said, "Erm, Mr. Wade from Emgrand Group should be here already, I'll go have a look..."

Chapter 20

When Wendell fled the scene, Harold was walking into the hall along with his sister, Wendy, and her fiancé, Gerald. Walking next to Gerald was a young man in a smart suit. There was a slight facial resemblance between the two of them. When Harold met Wendell head-on, he hurriedly approached him and said, "Hey, Wendell! When I came in just now, I heard that something happened to your family. Is it true?"

Wendell shoved him away hastily, mumbling, "I'm done, it's over, I'm done..."

Harold asked with concern, "Mr. Jones, what's wrong?"

Wendell shook his head in panic, not daring to say anything. Right now, he had no doubt that if he said something he shouldn't, he would be a corpse lying somewhere tomorrow. Thus, he pushed Harold's hands away and ran out of the hall like his life depended on it.

Harold looked the way he ran and sighed. "I bet it's really the end for the Jones family. D*mn, isn't it all a little too fast? They were still fine yesterday but they've gone bankrupt today!"

Then, when Harold saw Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson, a wicked thought appeared in his mind. He went towards Claire Wilson Wilson and ushered her with him "Claire Wilson Wilson, let me introduce you to our distinguished guests tonight. This gentleman over here is Gerald's cousin, Kevin, the eldest son of the White family."

"Kevin, this is my cousin, Claire Wilson Wilson," Harold said to Kevin with a coy smile.

Ever since Kevin walked into the hall, he had been locking his gaze at Claire Wilson Wilson at all times. Upon Harold's introduction, he quickly extended his hand and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, hi. I've heard all about the gorgeous beauty of the Wilson family, your reputation precedes you."

There was a trace of annoyance in Charlie Wade's eyes. This was the unfortunate perk of having a beautiful wife-suitors would come in all directions like flies and he couldn't stop chasing them away.

Thus, he stepped forward, shook hands with Kevin, and said coldly, "Hi, I'm Claire Wilson Wilson's husband."

"You?" Kevin eyed Charlie Wade from head to toe, disdain oozing from his expression. He retracted his hand and said flatly, "I didn't know Claire Wilson Wilson was married. Such a waste for a beauty like her marrying someone like you..."

Wendy hurriedly said, "Kevin, the loser is our family's live-in son-in-law, he does not have a job nor any skills!"

Then, she winked at Kevin and continued, "After Gerald and I get married, we will be one big family then. Let's get together more often..."

Of course, Kevin knew what she meant instantly. She was encouraging him to pursue Claire Wilson Wilson. He smiled and said, Miss Claire Wilson Wilson is so beautiful and elegant, I'm certainly willing to get together more often."

At this moment, Charlie Wade saw his in-laws, Elaine Ma and Jacob Wilson, walking towards them.

Elaine Ma hastily said when she came over, "Claire Wilson Wilson, have you heard? The Jones family has gone bankrupt!"

"Huh?" Claire Wilson Wilson gaped in extreme shock. "When did it happen?"

"Just now!" Elaine Ma continued with a sigh, "I thought that when you divorced Charlie Wade, you can be with Wendell. From the looks of it, the plan is going out of the window..."

Charlie Wade felt agitated inside. Was his mother-in-law a fool? Didn't she know that her current son-in-law was the real catch?

Kevin quickly marched forward and introduced himself to Elaine Ma. "Hi, you must be Claire Wilson Wilson's mother? I'm Gerald's cousin, Kevin. You're so beautiful, it's no wonder your daughter is as pretty and captivating as you are."

Upon hearing that Kevin was Gerald's cousin, she made a quick mental calculation-eldest son of the White family, wealthy prince charming! She blinked in excitement and said happily, "Yes, yes, I'm Claire Wilson Wilson's mother. Are you Claire Wilson Wilson's Friend?"

Kevin nodded with a smile. "Yes we are, but we've just met today!"

Joy and thrill were written all over Elaine Ma's face. She nodded vigorously and said, "Come, let's sit. Mr. White, my Claire Wilson Wilson's Beautiful, she's also as pure and honest as an angel. You Youngsters should keep in touch more often..."

"Mom!" Claire Wilson Wilson chided in agitation, interjecting her mother's words.

Elaine Ma was about to object when Claire Wilson Wilson tugged her gently and gestured to her to look at the stage. At this moment, Lady Wilson was standing in the spotlight!

She looked around in astonishment before standing in front of the microphone and said with a smile, "First of all, on behalf of the Wilson family, I welcome all our friends, partners, and esteemed guests to our banquet tonight. Next, let us welcome the vice-chairman of Emgrand Group, Doris Young, with a big round of applause!"

The spotlight shifted instantly, focusing its beam on the front seat.

Doris was wearing a black evening gown, emphasizing her perfect body figure to everyone's eyes. She dazzled like a captivating fairy that all the men in the hall couldn't help but focus their gazes on her. The vice-chairman of Emgrand Group! An absolutely stunning beauty! Each feature of hers was enough to attract everyone's attention. Doris stood up, nodding gently towards the crowd. Her glance stopped at Charlie Wade for a short while before moving away.

Then, Lady Wilson started again. "First and foremost, I Would like to express my gratitude to the Emgrand Group for entrusting us with such an important project. We will work our best and will not disappoint them."

"Next, we would also like to introduce to you an outstanding junior of our Wilson family..."

Elaine Ma shrieked excitedly, Hey, Claire Wilson Wilson! It's your turn to shine now!"

Although Claire Wilson Wilson had prepared herself mentally to get onstage, she was still very nervous. Charlie Wade cast a look of encouragement at her. Harold looked askance at the delighted Claire Wilson Wilson with a sneer at the corner of his mouth. Lady Wilson looked at their table top, smiling before she opened her mouth to speak again.

"... If it weren't for him, we wouldn't be able to collaborate with Emgrand Group. After Much consideration from our board of directors, we've decided to elect him as the director of our Wilson Group and be solely responsible for the project with Emgrand Group!"

"Let us welcome the new director of Wilson Group, Harold Wilson!"

Claire Wilson Wilson froze like a statue instantly... She shifted her gaze in disbelief but saw Harold went on stage with the cocky smile on his face. A layer of ice immediately hovered beneath Charlie Wade's eyes. How dare they burn the bridge after crossing it! After gaining their benefits thanks to Claire Wilson Wilson, the Wilson family had immediately ditched her regardless of her feelings!

Claire Wilson Wilson's eyes suddenly turned red, tears flooding in her eyes. Next, she stood up and ran out of the door without a second glance back. For her, the fall must be as devastating as the happiness she was in when she first arrived! Charlie Wade groaned even more as he watched her leave. 'How dare you bully my wife? I'll Kill you!

Harold stood on the stage and said proudly, "Thank you for the honor. I'll do my best as the new director, and also accomplish the project with Emgrand Group perfectly!"

Lady Wilson nodded with satisfaction. She took over the microphone and said, "There is one more important matter for the banquet tonight, that is, we are honored to have invited the new chairman of Emgrand Group, Mr. Wade! Please Welcome him with generous applause!"

Thunderous applause echoed across the hall! All the guests tonight we're here to see the new chairman of Emgrand Group! They couldn't wait to see his true self! Everyone was looking around like meerkats, anticipating to see who would stand up at this moment!

Someone even said, "I suspect that the mysterious chairman is the same mysterious richman in Emerald Court!"

"Yes, I think so too! His back looks unfamiliar, I don't think he is one of the upper-class social circle in Aurouss Hill!"

"Oh my god! Does that mean the chairman of Emgrand Group is the most powerful super-rich person in Aurouss Hill?"

"Argh, I can't wait to see his face!"

Under the thunderous applause and the eager attention of the people, Charlie Wade, with a cold face, slowly stood up...

Chapter 21

Charlie Wade slowly stood up as everyone gasped in disbelief. In an instant, the gaze of the entire banquet hall focused on him.

"Charlie Wade, what are you doing! Sit down!" Elaine Ma shrieked in horror.

Didn't he look at where he was at now! None of the fearsome bosses dared to stand up at a moment like this, but what did this loser aim to steal the limelight right now!

Gerald and Kevin exchanged glances and whispered, "D*mn, is he really the chairman of Emgrand Group?"

Immediately after that, they shook their head earnestly. No way, if he were really the chairman, how could he be scolded by his mother-in-law now?

"Loser, what do you think you're doing? Sit down!" Harold Shouted in an annoyed tone on the stage.

Charlie Wade glared at him coldly. Then, ignoring everyone bewildered and confused glances, he went straight to Doris and whispered in her ear. Doris nodded slightly while listening. The scene made everyone's hearts skip a beat! Doris Young! The vice-chairman of Emgrand Group! The famous symbol of beauty in Aurouss Hillll! How did Charlie Wade, the loser of the Wilson family, know her? In fact, from the looks of it, they seemed quite close. After speaking, ignoring the curious gazes again, Charlie Wade stepped out of the hall to look for Claire Wilson Wilson.

As for Doris, she stood up, took the stage and the microphone, and started as everyone stared blankly at her. "Hi, I'm Doris Young. Mr. Charlie Wade Wade bumped into our chairman outside the hall earlier and our chairman passed me a message through him."

Everyone heaved a sigh of relief when they heard that Charlie Wade was not the chairman.

Kevin murmured in disdain, "It Was just a coincidental encounter, how could he be so shameless to butter up his assistant! He's really hopeless."

Gerald shrugged indifferently and smiled. "This is what nobody does anyway."

Meanwhile, on the stage, Doris glanced at Lady Wilson and had a cold expression on her face.

"The chairman has asked me to inform you... That Emgrand Group has terminated the collaboration with Wilson Group with immediate effect. The contract is declared void!"

"What!"

A loud shout resonated in the hall in an instant. No one had expected Doris to say such a thing. Everyone was stunned and bewildered by the sudden plot twist.

Blood drained from Lady Wilson's face. She dashed towards Doris and urged, "Miss Young, What do you mean by that? Why the sudden decision? Did we do something wrong?"

She invited all the esteemed bosses and guests to come to the banquet tonight, hoping to boost their reputation in Aurouss Hillll. If the announcement of the termination of the project was done in such a venue, the Wilson family would be despised and trampled in society!

Doris said firmly, "Originally, this collaboration was established due to our chairman's recognition of Miss Claire Wilson Wilson. Out of nowhere, you took it upon yourself to appoint some average Joe to be in charge of the project! Sorry, we cannot accept such a ridiculous arrangement!"

Right after that, Doris dropped the microphone and walked out of the hall. Lady Wilson crouched on the stage, her face as pale as a sheet of paper. Never did she anticipate that her little wits would throw the extremely rare opportunity out the window! If only she knew they would end up like this, she wouldn't have traded Claire Wilson Wilson's place with Harold as the director even if someone held her at gunpoint! Harold, on the other hand, was at a loss too. What happened? It Seemed that Doris was targeting him, but he didn't remember ever offending her in any way!

He went to his grandmother and asked desperately, "Grandma, the appointment of the director has been announced, you won't regret your decision, right?"

Lady Wilson struggled to her feet. She raised her hand and gave him a slap in the face while scolding furiously, "You bastard! How could you still think about the position at a time like this! Hurry, come with me and let's find Claire Wilson Wilson right now!"

Chapter 22

After Charlie Wade ran out the door, he realized that Claire Wilson Wilson didn't go far. She was crouching in the corner of a pillar, sobbing in grievance.

He approached slowly, took his coat off, draped it on Claire Wilson Wilson and said, "Dear, don't be sad. The director of Wilson Group is just a mediocre position, you can do better than that..."

"No, you don't understand. If I become the director, my parents will be able to stand upright in the family again. How could Grandma go back on her word..." Claire Wilson Wilson whimpered dejectedly.

Charlie Wade continued, "Who knows? Maybe they'll come begging you to become the director. Look at you with your cry baby face, you won't be pretty when you go on stage later..."

"No way, it's impossible. Grandma has already made the announcement, there's no turning back. You go ahead, get back inside. Let me be alone..."

At this moment, Lady Wilson and Harold ran out of the hall too. The old lady was huffing and puffing after running, with a large crowd of busy bodies behind her to watch the drama unfold.

Harold saw Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson the minute he stepped outside. He hurried forward, looked down at Claire Wilson Wilson whose face was covered in tears, and blurred anxiously, "Claire Wilson Wilson, hurry up and pursue Miss Young, ask her not to terminate our contract!"

Claire Wilson Wilson stared at him in a daze. "Terminate our contract? Why?"

Harold growled indignantly, Stop pretending! It must be you who had instructed Miss Young to embarrass me in front of everyone! If you don't settle this, I won't let you go!"

Slap! Lady Wilson slapped Harold Again and chided angrily, "How Could you talk to your sister like that, you bastard! She is the director of our Wilson Group!"

Harold stomped anxiously. "Grandma... didn't you say that you want me to be the director?"

"If it wasn't for you brainwashing me, why would I have changed my mind suddenly? If you continue to behave like this, get out of the Wilson family!"

Harold was extremely outraged after being slapped twice, but this was not the moment for him to burst in fury. He could only swallow his irritation.

Lady Wilson turned to Claire Wilson Wilson and persuaded her. "Claire Wilson Wilson, please, I beg you. You are now the director of the Wilson family, please explain it to Miss Young. Otherwise, we're completely ruined!"

Claire Wilson Wilson looked at Charlie Wade in confusion.

Charlie Wade shrugged and said, "I told you they'd come and beg you to be the director, and you didn't believe me. See, your makeup is smeared now..."

Claire Wilson Wilson blushed timidly. She wiped her tears before saying, "Then I'll try to contact Emgrand."

She took out her phone and called Doris. All eyes were on her right now.

After a short while, her call was answered. She started, "Hello, Miss Young, my grandmother would like me to explain to you that I'll be promoted to the director of Wilson Group and also in charge of the project with Emgrand Group. I hope you can give us another chance..."

Doris said with a chuckle, "Of course, if you're the director and the person in charge of the project, then there's no problem, we can proceed. But if another person is appointed for the job, everything will be off the table..."

"Miss Young...thank you, thank you so much..."

Claire Wilson Wilson felt puzzled and bewildered about the whole thing. From the beginning, it seemed that Emgrand Group was there to help her entirely, which was bizarrely unusual.

Doris said with a smile, "It's all my chairman's idea. Perhaps he'll explain it to you personally in the near future..."

Claire Wilson Wilson was even more bewildered. Who was the chairman anyway? She had never met him, but why did he help her everywhere he could?

"So, could you please return to the hall again?" Claire Wilson Wilson asked nervously.

Apparently, Doris had left the hall because she was irritated by the family. It was a bit forceful and shameful to invite her back to the banquet. Unexpectedly, Doris agreed decisively. Soon, Doris's car returned to the hotel entrance that sent a shock wave across the crowd. At this moment, everyone's gazes were filled with awe and fear as they looked at Claire Wilson Wilson.

Everyone returned to their seats while Lady Wilson walked on stage hand-in-hand with Claire Wilson Wilson.

She gave a gentle and sweet smile as she said, "I'm really sorry for what happened earlier, I made a mistake. Actually, Claire Wilson Wilson is the outstanding descendant of our Wilson family. Thanks to her, we are able to score such a lucrative contract with Emgrand Group. She has made great efforts for such an amazing achievement."

Standing next to them, Doris glanced at the old lady contemptuously. She waved her hand, gesturing at her to stop talking, and said, "Allow me to correct something. Miss Claire Wilson Wilson has not only made great efforts for this project but she has accomplished it by her own efforts entirely. It has nothing to do with anyone."

She sounded very impolite and rude, but everyone was accustomed to it. With Emgrand Group's status in the city, even if Doris slapped Lady Wilson right there and then, she dared not say anything.

Lady Wilson nodded quickly. "Yes, Miss Young is absolutely right. Claire Wilson Wilson deserves all the credit for her efforts. From now on, she will be the director of the Wilson Group! She will be fully in charge of the project between Wilson Group and Emgrand Group!"

Eventually Doris smiled and shook hands with Claire Wilson Wilson. "I look forward to our collaboration."

Claire Wilson Wilson was still in a trance and she managed to nod in confusion. Loud applause resonated across the hall. Everyone looked at Claire Wilson Wilson with enthusiasm and admiration. What kind of background was this woman related to? How could she make the Emgrand Group so passionate about her?

Claire Wilson Wilson was equally confused and curious. She turned to look at Charlie Wade and his voice appeared in her mind again. This scene was exactly the same as Charlie Wade illustrated earlier. Grandma had appointed her as the director, which was supposed to be the role belonging to her to begin with. Claire Wilson Wilson was still in a state of bewilderment even after the banquet ended and returning home. Recalling what Charlie Wade had said earlier, she started to feel a little odd about his recent behavior.

He seemed to have changed a little over the past few days. There seemed to be something different about him. There were a lot of things she couldn't understand as if he was shrouded in a misty fog. Overnight, Claire Wilson Wilson's name spread like wildfire in Aurouss Hill! Everyone knew that the Wilson family had an outstanding descendant who could attract Emgrand Group's attention to help her relentlessly! With her around, it's just a matter of time for the Wilson family to revive!

Early the next morning, Claire Wilson Wilson Woke up early and hurried to the company in an energetic mode. Today was her first day as director and she hoped she could do the best she could and get this thing completed. As for Charlie Wade, after getting up, he started doing household chores as usual. When he was about to go to the market to buy the ingredients for lunch, he suddenly received a call from Elaine Ma, his mother-in-law.

As soon as he answered the call, Elaine Ma's anxious voice resonated loudly. "Charlie Wade, I Demand you come to Pinnacle Avenue within ten minutes. If you don't, just wait until I get home!"

She hung up the phone without waiting for him to say anything. Charlie Wade was confused. His mother-in-law had disappeared early in the morning. Based on her voice on the phone, she sounded as if something urgent had happened. Although Charlie Wade was very disgusted with her, he didn't dare disobey her. After packing up his bag, he rushed out, took a cab, and went to Pinnacle Avenue.

As soon as he got out of the car he saw a group of seniors surrounded a closed insurance company door menacingly. His mother-in-law was standing at the front of the crowd, holding a banner in her hands and shouting furiously, "D*mn you, Axel! Liar! We want our rights! Return my money!"

Charlie Wade hurried forward and urged, "Mom, why did you call me? What's going on?"

As he was talking, the loud protest was shouted right into his ears. The seniors were shouting their lungs out and they were so loud that he wondered if his eardrums were still functioning.

Elaine Ma pulled Charlie Wade over to let him take her place, and commanded, "Come on, shout these for me! I've been shouting for the whole morning and my throat hurts."

Chapter 24

Charlie Wade was totally clueless. He could only imitate the elders around him and protest. As they were chanting, he asked the uncle beside him to understand what was going on. It turned out that this Axel Insurance company was offering some insurance packages with extremely high returns. This group of elders had been attracted by the high returns that they became the company's clients by buying a lot of insurance products under the name of the company.

According to their agreement, today was supposed to be the day they received their dividends, but when these people came to claim their money, they found out that the door was locked tight and only a few employees were left at the door to block them using lame excuses. Eventually, they realized that they were victims of a fraudulent investing scam. No wonder Elaine Ma had urged him to come and help her to protest.

Charlie Wade massaged his forehead in agitation. He asked Elaine Ma, "Mom, how much did you buy?"

Elaine Ma said frantically, "They Said that we can get a lot of dividends from the insurance investment, so I was brainwashed and bought their products with all our savings..."

Charlie Wade gaped in extreme shock. "What? You used all your savings to buy participating policies?"

Elaine Ma was so ashamed by his remarks that she turned angry and shouted, "Do you think you're the only one who has a mouth? Why do you talk so loud? Do you think I'm not shameful enough? Why don't you use the speaker to announce it!"

Still furious, she continued to taunt Charlie Wade. "If you were even a wee bit successful, do you think I'd have bought these fraudulent insurance products? If I don't buy some insurance for my old days, do you think I can expect you to take care of me?"

This useless man couldn't support his own family financially, how dare he be a shit-stirrer here?!

Then, she growled at Charlie Wade, "I warn you, continue to chant, don't you dare stop for a moment!"

Charlie Wade pursed his lips and nodded. "Okay, Mom."

At this moment, several ladies came over and eyed Charlie Wade before asking, "Elaine Ma, is that your son-in-law?"

Then, they looked at Charlie Wade's Outfit again and mocked, "Oh My goodness, why does he look so pathetic? He's not even half as good as my son-in-law!"

"Yes! Look at his outfit, it's so outdated and worn out! Even Idress better than him!"

The old ladies gathered around him and exchanged ear-piercing mockery. It was very annoying. However, Charlie Wade didn't mind at all. They were just a bunch of old ladies who had lost their entire savings, there was no need for him to stoop to their level.

Elaine Ma was very angry and irritated. The more she listened to the teasing, the more uncomfortable she was as she looked at Charlie Wade, so she blurted, "Just wait and see, I'll Let my daughter divorce him in a few days and let her marry a rich husband!"

Charlie Wade smirked and thought to himself, 'A rich husband? Even If you combine all the rich sons in Aurouss Hilll, they aren't even worth the cost of my belt buckle."

Elaine Ma was very worried right now. She couldn't depend on Charlie Wade the loser and the most he could do was chant at the protest. She needed someone capable to help her in getting back the money. Unfortunately, Wendell, who had been pursuing her daughter, had gone bankrupt now. Otherwise, she could ask him for help!

Oh yes! She suddenly remembered Kevin, Gerald's cousin whom she met at the banquet yesterday. She recalled how attentive he was towards her daughter and assumed that the man had some feelings for her. Although the White family was not as prestigious as the Jones Family, they were still considered a prominent family in the city. He might have a way to help her. Luckily, Kevin left a name card yesterday. She retrieved her phone and dialed Kevin's Number.

Chapter 25

The call was answered quickly.

Elaine Ma hurriedly said, "Hello, is it, Kevin? Hi, I'm Claire Wilson Wilson's mother..."

Ever since meeting Claire Wilson Wilson at the banquet, her beauty knocked him off his feet. He couldn't get her out of his mind. He was frustrated as to how he was supposed to approach Claire Wilson Wilson when coincidentally, her mother called him. He figured that Elaine Ma must be in some kind of trouble and of course, he would not miss the chance to woo her.

Thus, he put up a sincere tone and said, "Auntie, are you in any trouble?"

"Well, there is something I Need you to help me with," Elaine Ma hurriedly said, "Kevin, some old friends and I have bought some participating policies from an insurance company called Axel and we literally used all our money to buy it. However, the company isn't paying us our dividends now and they don't even want to return us our money! Could You find a way to help me get the money back, please?"

Kevin was delighted upon hearing it, figuring that it was time for him to perform. Hence, he said confidently, "Auntie, don't worry, I'll come to you right now! I'll help you solve the problem!"

Elaine Ma was over the moon. "Oh My goodness! Thank you so much!"

After ending the call, she glared at Charlie Wade again and huffed in great dismay. "Some people are just as useless as a heap of rubbish, we can't count on him. What else can he do besides chanting?"

Charlie Wade sneered. His mother-in-law was indeed snobbish and blind. She asked Kevin to help, huh? The company had defrauded them of at least tens of millions or even more. They must have some kind of a special background for them to be so bold to have deceived them so much money. It was even possible that a big boss in the mafia world was behind all this. How could Kevin ask these ferocious scammers to split the money out?

The White family's influence was average at best. After Emgrand Group had terminated all the projects with them, their power had shrunk even more. It was basically impossible for the White family to interfere with financial fraud on such a large scale

Frankly, he could just call Isaac Of Shangri-La and the problem would be solved immediately. After all, he was the Wade family's representative in Aurouss Hilll. All the businessmen and the people from the good and bad sides had to give him away due to his power. However, his mother-in-law is annoyingly abominable. Since she believed in Kevin, then Kevin should take the stage and do whatever he planned to do! Some people had a bright smile on their faces as they saw Elaine Ma making the call. They quickly gathered around to ask if she had found a powerful man to help them.

Elaine Ma curled her lips into a proud grin and announced, "Don't worry, everyone. I've Asked Mr. White to help us. He is very influential and capable, I'm sure he can get the money back easily!"

Someone shrieked in surprise, Wow, Mr. White? Elaine Ma, you really are awesome to have found such a powerful man!"

"Yes! Mr. White must have significant networks and connections. It must be a piece of cake for him to settle our problem, right?"

"Elaine Ma, since you know such a competent young man, why don't you marry your daughter to him? Why this loser instead!"

Elaine Ma glared at Charlie Wade indisdain and said coldly, "This loser will be kicked out of our family in no time!"

Charlie Wade didn't say a word. He was waiting for Kevin to come and see how disastrous he was going to end up. Soon, a black Porsche slowly stopped in front of everyone. A handsome young man in a suit stepped out of the car. Here came Kevin White.

The seniors squeaked in awe, "Wow, look at him, handsome and smart-looking! I wonder which family is lucky enough to have him as their son-in-law!"

Chapter 26

"Yes! If my daughter can marry him, I can die in peace!"

"Phew, stop dreaming! Even if you are dead, he will not like your daughter!"

As soon as Elaine Ma saw him, she rushed to his side and said earnestly, "Hey, Kevin, you're here finally! I was so anxious waiting for you!"

Indeed, it was Kevin.

Kevin said with a smile, "Auntie, I'm very sorry to have kept you waiting!"

"Oh no, Kevin, you're too kind. I think it had taken you only ten minutes to get here, you came so fast!"

"As soon as I heard that you're in trouble, I drove over quickly. I even ran some red lights on the way here."

Elaine Ma looked very smug, but asked with concern, "Will it get you into trouble for running the red lights?"

"No," Kevin said indifferently, "The guys in the traffic department are all my acquaintances. A phone call is all I need to settle the traffic tickets."

Kevin cleared his throat and started again, "Anyway, back to your business. How much have you been scammed out of in total?"

Elaine Ma sighed dejectedly. "More Than one million dollars. They Promised that I can get two hundred thousand dollars in dividends this month, but now, I can't even get the capital fund back!"

Kevin nodded and said firmly, "Okay, don't worry, leave it to me. I'll definitely help you get all the money back."

Then, he saw Charlie Wade standing behind Elaine Ma and his face darkened slightly. He didn't expect to see the loser here. Ever since he met Claire Wilson Wilson, he had the urge to get on intimate terms with her. The desire grew stronger when he heard from Gerald that she might still be a virgin. Therefore, he couldn't help but sneer when he saw the loser husband of Claire Wilson Wilson's.

He managed a deliberate smirk and said, "Hey, Charlie Wade, I didn't know you were here too. Do you have a way to help Aunt get back the money? Do you want to give it a try first? I don't want you to blame me for stealing your spotlight."

Elaine Ma interjected hastily, "Oh stop the nonsense, what can he do, anyway? The most he can help with is to open his mouth and chant the slogans! Kevin leave him alone."

Kevin nodded and mocked, "Since Charlie Wade is not capable of helping you, let me try!"

Charlie Wade smiled slightly and said half-heartedly, "Good luck, Mr. White."

Kevin laughed disdainfully. At this time, the elders surrounded Elaine Ma and said, "Elaine Ma, we're all your friends. Could you ask this handsome man to help us too, please? It's Our hard-earned money!"

Elaine Ma said arrogantly, "Oh, it's not up to me to say. Kevin is here to help me, he doesn't know any of you."

The crowd turned to Kevin and started begging him. "Mr. White, please be merciful, please help us!"

Kevin found the crowd annoying, but he could see that Elaine Ma was a cheap and greedy person, so he said with a casual smile, "Since you are Auntie Elaine Ma's friends, of course I can help you."

Everyone was thrilled to hear him say that. However, Kevin continued in a pompous voice, "But I'm helping you because of Auntie Elaine Ma. So, for the money I get back for you, you must pay Auntie Elaine Ma a 10% commission. Is it acceptable?"

The crowd cheered, "No problem! It's much better to get 90% of our money back than to get nothing at all!"

Elaine Ma was over the moon upon hearing that. The amount of money that these friends were scammed added up to tens of millions. If Kevin could get the money back, she would earn a million dollars from the commission alone!

Chapter 27

Just as Elaine Ma was extremely thrilled, Kevin announced loudly, "Uncles and aunties, relax, I'll go speak to them now. Please wait for my good news!"

Elaine Ma felt that with Kevin's Presence here, they were the most invincible of them all, so she blurted excitedly, "Kevin, I'll go with you!"

Charlie Wade quickly interjected, "Mom, I think you'd better stay away from it. If Kevin can't solve the problem, you might get into trouble!"

"Bah!" Elaine Ma growled angrily. "How dare you doubt Kevin's Abilities, you loser?!"

The other seniors expected that Kevin could help them get back their money. Now that Charlie Wade was singing a different tune, they were irked and irritated by him.

Facing the resentful glare and murmur, Charlie Wade said flatly, "Mom, it's better for you to wait here. It's best to be a bystander."

Elaine Ma found his voice disgusting and she immediately cursed, "Shut Your stinky mouth! This is not a place for you to speak!"

Pompousness and arrogance were written all over Kevin's Face. He sneered sarcastically. "You're not good at anything but you're so easily jealous. Do you think I'm like you, a loser who just stands here and chants?"

Seeing that his mother-in-law wouldn't listen to him, Charlie Wade shrugged and said lightly, "Okay then, let's wait for your good news, Mr. White."

Charlie Wade despised his mother-in-law, Elaine Ma, a lot. She was too snobbish and ignorant, and oftentimes, she was blinded by the superficial appearances. To Put it plainly, she was an old lady with more hair than wit. Today's incident seemed to be nothing more than a common fraud dispute, but with a little foresight, one would know that it involved a much bigger sinister plot. The condescending Elaine Ma was too stubborn to listen to him and insisted on treading the line herself. By all means, it would be better for her to learn her own lesson then.

Of course, Elaine Ma didn't know that Charlie Wade was genuinely concerned about her. She glared at him fiercely before turning to Kevin and said apologetically, "Kevin, please don't take any of the loser's words seriously. I believe in you..."

Kevin laughed triumphantly and said, "No worries, Auntie, I Won't stoop down to the same level as the wimp."

Then, he turned towards the building and said in a confident tone, "Auntie, let's go!"

"Alright!"

Kevin led Elaine Ma through the crowd and strode towards the entrance of Axel Insurance. As soon as they were at the door, he immediately shouted loudly to the employees who are blocking the entrance, "Listen to me, go and tell your boss to refund the money to them immediately! Otherwise, I'll come back with my team of lawyers and security guards and I'll crash down your door, apprehending you and your boss!"

Elaine Ma added, "Do you hear him, you bunch of nitwits? I Have someone to back us up now! If you don't want to repay us, Mr. White will send you all to prison!"

The young employee who stood at the front was a little anxious. He hurriedly said, "I'm sorry, I'm just a security guard, I'm not responsible for the business!"

Kevin said coldly, "Call your boss then! Tell him, I'm Kevin White of the White family in Aurouss Hillll! Ask him to come and deal with me personally, don't say that I didn't warn him!"

Kevin was full of arrogance when he spoke. Although the White family wasn't the top family in Aurouss Hilll, they were considered middle-class on the social ladder here. Meanwhile, this person was nothing but a boss of a mediocre fraudulent company. How could he stay still after hearing his name? The young employee was a little shaken despite not knowing his true background. He quickly called his boss.

Chapter 28

Meanwhile, in Axel Insurance Chairman's office, the owner, Axel Jordan, was serving a man in his forties in a respectable manner. His face was radiant with a wide smile. He retrieved a bank card from the drawer and handed it to the man with respect and said, "Don Albertt, there are thirty million dollars in this card and the pin number is your birthday. This is the bonus for you, please check."

The middle-aged man was dressed in a smart suit. His face was quite rough and haggard but his predator-like eyes were as sharp as a lion. If there were other people present, they would definitely recognize the man immediately. He was Don Albertt Rhodes! Everyone in Aurouss Hilll knew that Albert was the mafia boss of the underworld and no one dared to mess with him!

Don Albertt looked at Axel and said with a satisfied smile, "Axie, not bad. You're Pretty tactful, I'm impressed!"

Axel said in an anxious tone, "Don Albertt, what do we do about the old folks who are protesting out there?"

Albert said flatly, "They're just a bunch of old nitwits, don't mind them. If they don't disperse later, I'll let some of my underlings teach them a lesson!"

Axel breathed a sigh of relief and hurriedly said, "Thank you, Don Albertt!"

Albert laughed and said, "Next time, just go all out on this kind of business that can bring in a lot of money. I'll Cover for you if anything happens."

Axel was extremely delighted. He bowed his head earnestly and said, "Don Albertt, thank you! With your encouragement, I'll continue to work harder. Let's make a fortune together!"

Axel didn't have a profound background in Aurouss Hilll, but he was good at one thing; his brain was packed with sinister plots. He knew of his shortcomings in keeping the large sum of money from the financial scams, so he had asked for Don Albertt's assistance by giving him part of the money and seeking his protection. He was certain that Don't Albert was a reliable protection he could find as the don was dominating the underworld in Aurouss Hilll. Also, because of Don Albertt's support, he could go on with his fraudulent business without any concerns.

Just when Axel was thrilled about having Don Albertt by his side, his employee called and said frantically, Boss, we have a problem! Some guy who claims to be Kevin White is urging us to return the money. Otherwise, he will throw you to jail!"

"D*mn!"

Axel frowned and hurriedly said to Albert, "Don, there is a guy downstairs who claims himself to be from the White family. He is leading the protesting folks to create trouble! He said that he is very powerful in Aurouss Hilll and demands that we pay them back all the money, or else he'd throw us in jail..

Axel deliberately added fuel to the fire to irritate Albert.

Then, he bent over and pleaded, "Don, the White family is quite influential in Aurouss Hilll. I can't really go against them if they get involved in this matter. Please help me get me out of trouble!"

"The White family of Aurouss Hilll?" Albert snorted in disdain and said, "In My eyes, the tiny White family is nothing but a speck of dust! Even the head of their family must bow down and salute when they see me! How dare their youngsters come to provoke me! They're looking for trouble themselves!" Albert placed the bank card in his pocket and said coldly, "Let's go! I'm Curious to see which bastard wants the money from me!"

Chapter 29

At this moment, Kevin was standing in front of Axle Insurance's main door with a proud face. He knew that today was the best opportunity for him to show off himself in front of Claire Wilson Wilson's mother. He must seize the moment to prove his worth! If he could win her mother's heart, she would be his in no time! When the time came, he could finally be with Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson, the most beautiful woman in Aurouss Hilll. He was in jitters as he thought of it!

Hence, he announced in a loud voice, "Uncles and aunties, don't worry. The boss will refund everyone!"

Everyone cheered with joy and excitement upon hearing his statement, wide smiles were plastered on their faces. Everyone but Charlie Wade, who looked at Kevin with a sneer. That dude was too full of himself right now, he wouldn't even know how he would end up being later. Just when Kevin held his chin high and enjoyed the cheers, someone suddenly pushed open Axel Insurance's door from the inside. Later, Axel and a middle-aged man in a smart suit emerged themselves at the door.

The middle-aged man had an overwhelming aura despite his age-he was Don Albertt! Behind him were a group of studly men who followed him closely. They were his personal bodyguards and they looked very fearsome and strong. Don Albertt was too overwhelming in society that despite his infamous reputation, no one had actually seen him before. Hence, no one, including Kevin, recognized him. They only recognized Axel Jordan, the owner of Axel Insurance. Suddenly, loud gasps echoed across the crowd in an instant!

"D*mn! Kevin really managed to call for Mr. Jordan! He is really amazing"

"Yes! It's all thanks to Elaine Ma that we can get our money back!"

"Elaine Ma, Kevin is definitely the most perfect son-in-law one could wish for"

Elaine Ma immersed herself in the flattery of her friends. Kevin had helped her to boost her dignity in front of her friends today. She wore a wide smile on her face. Her eyes as she looked at Kevin were nothing but satisfied and proud. At this moment, Kevin walked forward triumphantly like an arrogant hyena.

He couldn't recognize Axel nor Albert, but seeing that Axel was quite respectful towards Albert, he mistook Albert for the boss.

Thus, he looked at Albert and said proudly, "Are you the boss of Axel Insurance?"

With an ambiguous smile on his face, Albert said, "Nope, I'm not the boss. I'm just helping him with some stuff, but you can tell me anything"

Kevin arched his eyebrows in acknowledgment and smiled disdainfully. "So you're nothing but a sidekick! You're not worthy of talking to me. Get out of my way and ask your boss to come!"

Charlie Wade shook his head and looked at Kevin as if he was looking at an imbecile clown. The man in the suit not only looked fearsome, but he also had several bodyguards with him. He was obviously some tough character. Instead, Kevin was digging his own grave by treating the man so poorly.

The oblivious Elaine Ma added with a sneer, "Kevin, don't waste your time with the worthless sidekick. The man next to him is the owner!"

Axel, on the other hand, gaping extreme shock! This Kevin and the old woman were so blatantly bold! How dare they insult Don Albertt as a worthless sidekick and even order him to go away! Apparently, they didn't know how to spell the word 'die'! Who in the entire Aurouss Hilll dared to insult Don Albertt so fearlessly? Even if there were, they would have been thrown into the ocean by the outraged Don Albertt!

Just as Kevin finished his so-called intimidating threat, a studly man behind Don Albertt abruptly stepped forward, grabbed Kevin by his hair, and slapped him multiple times on his face!

"God d*mn it! How dare you raise your voice at Don Albertt! Do you wish to die?!"

Then, he grabbed Elaine Ma and slapped her across the face, and shouted, "D*mn you old coot, how dare you insult Don Albertt! I'll tear that stinky mouth off your face!"

Boom!

It felt as if Kevin and Elaine Ma were struck by lightning! What? The man in a suit in front of them was the fearsome Don Albertt of Aurouss Hilll? Yet they had ridiculed him ignorantly just now. Soon, blood drained their face, looking as pale as two sheets of paper. Cold Sweat covered their forehead and their bodies shook uncontrollably in fear.

Kevin was quick to react. He threw himself on the floor, knelt in front of Don Albertt, and cried as he pleaded, "Don, I'm sorry, it's my bad! Sorry for not recognizing you, sorry for insulting you! I have nothing to do with these d*mn old folks and their money! Please, please spare my life!"

He knelt on the floor, slapping himself and knocking his head to the floor, wailing and pleading loudly. Never did he expect that the person supporting Axel Insurance was actually the infamous Don Albertt! Not even his family dared to go up against such a prominent figure, let alone him! He regretted his action very much right now! His intention was simply to be on Claire Wilson Wilson's mother's good side so that he would have the chance to be in touch with Claire Wilson Wilson. Who would have thought that he'd offended the fearsome Don Albertt before he could even make his wish Come true! If his father knew about this, he would beat him to death!

The old folks were shocked as the unbelievable scene unfolded in front of their eyes. They had put high expectations on Kevin to get their money back, but no one had expected to see the young man kneel on the ground and plead to the man in a suit like a petty peasant... As for Elaine Ma, who was extremely cocky earlier, she stood like a statue after being slapped multiple times on her face.

Albert snorted in dismay and said to his men, "Since their mouth is so filthy, take turns and slap him ten thousand times. Don't stop before you finish slapping them ten thousand times!"

Kevin was extremely frightened by the commad. The slaps would definitely kill him!

Don Albertt's man pointed at the miserable Elaine Ma and asked, "Boss, what about her?"

Albert looked at her in disgust and said flatly, ""Same!"

Elaine Ma's legs went jelly. She collapsed on the floor, her body shaking violently. Would she still be alive after offending Don Albertt? The studly men stood up. Some grabbed Kevin while the others grabbed Elaine Ma, and everyone was in their position to begin the slapping punishment.

Charlie Wade, on the other hand, was watching the scene coldly among the frightened crowd.

He didn't want to intervene when his mother-in-law was being beaten in the first place. She had always been so snobbish and stubborn, so a lesson or two came in handy to knock some sense into her. However, if he let Don Albertt's men slap her ten thousand times, she would definitely be seriously injured by the punishment if it didn't kill her. How would his wife feel then? If Elaine Ma was in danger, Claire Wilson would definitely be very devastated! He figured that he couldn't just stay put now. Just when a strong man raised his arm and was about to swing them across Elaine Ma's wrinkled face, Charlie Wade quickly marched forward and grabbed his wrist!

Chapter 31

Elaine Ma crouched on the floor, her body trembling violently. She closed her eyes tightly, waiting to be slapped by the muscular man, but the slap never came as she had expected. She opened her eyes in confusion and was shocked! Charlie Wade, her good-for-nothing son-in-law, came out and held the man's wrist! This... She felt that her mind had gone kaput for the moment-she couldn't process the thing that's happening right now. Why was the useless Charlie Wade so brave out of sudden?

Don Albertt couldn't believe either that there's someone dared to stand up for the damn old lady at a moment like this. He growled coldly, "Who are you? Do you have a death wish?"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly. "You are Don Albertt, aren't you? You can beat the h*ll out of that bastard, but do me a favor and don't touch my mother-in-law!"

A layer of dark gloom shaded Albert's face. "This old fart is your mother-in-law? Who do you think you are for me to do you a favor?"

Albert began to huff in wrath when he said it. He was highly respected by many people in Aurouss Hill, but he suffered immeasurable embarrassment today. First, there was a foolish dude who called himself Kevin White yelling in front of him, then came the disgusting old coot that shouted along with him. Next, this young dude came out of nowhere and made such an absurd demand! Did they really think that he, Don Albertt Rhodes, was such a minion that they could push him around like a rag doll?

His face flushed with anger as he shouted to his men, "Beat the h*ll out of this snobbish thing!"

Charlie Wade still wore the faint smile on his face and said, "Not so fast, let me make a call first and I'll let him talk to you,"

He retrieved his phone and called Cameron Isaac, the general manager of Shangri-La.

Once the call was answered, the man on the other end of the line said respectfully, "Young Master, what can I do for you?"

Charlie Wade said in a casual tone, "Do you know a man by the name of Albert Rhodes, a.k.a. Don Albertt?"

Isaac laughed sheepishly and said, "Yes, I know him. They all say that he's the boss of the underworld, but to me, he is nothing but a small-time gangster."

Then, he continued, "He's been trying to curry favor with me when he knew that I work for the Wade family by asking me out to dinner and what not, but I've been ignoring him. Why? Do You know him?"

Charlie Wade said indifferently, "Oh I see, well he is trying to kill me."

A loud thump was audible over the phone, the remark obviously irritated Isaac. "D*mn it! That bastard! He's Wishing for his own death by provoking you! Where are you now? I'll send someone over right away to cripple that bastard!"

"I'll pass the phone over to him, you can tell him yourself."

Then, Charlie Wade handed the phone to Albert and said, "Pick it up."

Albert frowned curiously. What was going on? From the looks of it, he didn't seem like he was acting. Did he really have a remarkable background that he was oblivious of? Albert eyed Charlie Wade from head to toe suspiciously. Charlie Wade didn't wear anything branded and his attire didn't seem to even cost five hundred dollars. Even his phone was of a cheap brand. What was he capable of? What kind of person could he find as his support?

Despite the disdain, Albert took the phone reflexively and asked in tentative tone, "Hi, I'm Don Albertt, who are you? How dare you stand up for this man?"

Isaac on the phone screamed his lungs out, "Albert Rhodes! You f*cking bastard, are you out of your f*ticking mind? How dare you provoke my young master! Believe it or not, I will bury your entire family of twenty-five alive tonight!"

Chapter 32

As soon as the voice resonated into Don Albertt's ear, his brain processed the information rapidly and registered the voice as Cameron Isaac, the man who he had been trying to curry favor with! Did he just say that he had offended his young master? Could it be this man in front of him?! Moreover, Isaac knew that there were twenty-five members in his whole family. Did he already research his background thoroughly? Cameron Isaac was the spokesperson of the Wade family in Aurouss Hillll! The Wade family's influence and power are so enormous and strong that destroying him would be as easy as stomping an ant!

Albert's legs went jelly and he trembled in fear as he listened to Isaac's angry voice. He stuttered, "Mr. Cameron, please calm down. I... I didn't know, it was just a misunderstanding, the young master and I.."

"Shut up!" Isaac shouted, "Our Young Master's identity is highly confidential. If you leak it out even a little, I swear I'll wipe you and your family clean from the world!"

Albert's body shook vigorously, shaking more severely than a patient with Parkinson's. He hurriedly said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Cameron, I'm terribly sorry! I'll handle it accordingly.."

Mr. Cameron alone was enough for him to shit his pants, let alone the Wade family in Eastcliff! They were godlike existence that was so far beyond his level he could only look up to from afar.. But now, he had the nerve to directly offend the young master of the Wade family!

When the thought ran through his mind, Albert focused his gaze on Charlie Wade and stuttered in a panic, "Mr. Wade, I'm so sorry, I didn't know that she's your mother-in-law! It's my mistake, I'm so sorry! Please Forgive me!"

Immediately after, his legs turned to jelly and knelt in front of Charlie Wade. Everyone present gaping in extreme shock as they watched Don Albertt kneel down before Charlie Wade and apologize to him. Even Mr. White was a piece of garbage in Albert's eyes, but this young man could make the almighty Don Albertt kneel before him. Who was he, really? Albert's men were equally shocked! Don Albertt was the king of the underworld! What background did the young man have that could make Don Albertt get down on his knees?! By the way, Charlie Wade didn't intend to take Albert's life. His men were hitting his mother-in-law, not him. Besides, honestly speaking, Charlie Wade felt that watching his mother-in-law getting her *ss kicked was so freaking awesome!

Thus, he said to Albert, "I can forgive you, but you have to return every penny of the money that you scammed her, including the interest!" Albert sucked in a quick breath, surprised that Charlie Wade would forgive him. He hurriedly bowed his head and blurred, "Don't worry, I'll do it right away!"

Next, he turned to Axel and shouted, "What are you still standing here for? Move! Hurry and get it done! I'll break your leg if you don't start moving!"

Elaine Ma was stunned as she watched the whole scene unfold in front of her eyes. Was that her hopeless son-in-law? Did He literally just make the infamous Don Albertt kneel to him? For an instant, Elaine Ma felt that Charlie Wade Has suddenly become bigger and stronger than he used to be. In fact, he became unpredictable. Kevin, who had suffered several slaps, was also dumbfounded. Wasn't Charlie Wade The notorious loser in the family? How Did he make Don Albertt so afraid of him?

At this moment, Axel sprinted towards them carrying a black suitcase, his face as pale as a ghost. He went to Elaine Ma and said nervously, "Auntie, your capital fund is 1.3 million, and the dividend we promised you is two hundred thousand dollars, making up a total of 1.5 million dollars. Here is two million, the extra five hundred thousand dollars is a token of apology from us. Please accept it..."

Elaine Ma was dumbstruck and she froze like a statue! Since when did her useless son-in-law have such an amazing influence? Not only did she get her money back including the dividends, but on top of that, they were giving her an extra five hundred thousand!

Chapter 33

Elaine Ma was over the moon and a little disbelieving when she heard Axel's statement. Her money had increased from 1.3 million to two million! She asked, astonished, "Are you sure? Are you really giving me two million?"

Axel nodded hurriedly. "Of course! It's all yours!"

"Wow, that's wonderful!" Elaine Ma shrieked in excitement.

Seeing Elaine Ma not only getting back her money but also the additional five hundred thousand dollars, the rest of the elders were tiptoeing in jittery. They felt that since Elaine Ma's money was refunded, they should also receive the same treatment as well, shouldn't they? Hence, some of them started, "Mr. Jordan, what about our money?"

Axel turned to Albert, exasperated. Albert was heavyhearted to surrender all the money he had pocketed, but he was up against the Wade family who he couldn't afford to pick a fight with—he might even lose his life. Hence, he blurted, "Just refund, refund them all! For Mr. Wade's sake, they'll get back their capital and the dividends!" The crowd cheered delightfully.

Suddenly, Charlie Wade's cold voice sounded. "Don Albertt, what do you mean by 'for my sake'? I have nothing to do with these people. Are you trying to blackmail me?"

Albert was taken aback. "Mr. Wade, what do you mean? I'm sorry, I don't get it..."

"What I mean is that these people's money has nothing to do with me. It's totally up to you if you want to return their money, but if you dare say something like returning their money for my sake, don't blame me for falling out on you right now!"

These old coots had been taking Elaine Ma's side and taunting him just now, so why would he help them ask for their money now? On the contrary, not only would he not help them get their money back, but it was also a reminder to Albert that if he dared to give these seniors their money back, he was going up against his will! Of course, Albert read his mind. He nodded earnestly and said, "Okay, Mr. Wade, I understand!"

He turned to Axel and stated, "Mr. Wade and his mother-in-law are our only concern. Ignore the rest of them!"

"Huh!?" The seniors who were still in an ecstatic mode earlier suddenly gaped and stunned in shock. Some started to wail and cry loudly. Some even begged for Charlie Wade's mercy, but he turned a deaf ear to them. Didn't any of these rude seniors remember how they had insulted him just now? How dare they come to beg for his help now that they witnessed how respectful Don Albertt was towards him?

"Go to hell, all of you!" Seeing the noisy seniors pestering Charlie Wade, Albert screamed indignantly, "Shut the f*ck up! All of you! Who the hell dares to say one more word and irritate Mr. Wade, I'll kill them!" Suddenly, the noise quieted down and the seniors were as quiet as a church mouse. Albert looked at the shocked Kevin and asked, "Mr. Wade, is this Mr. White your friend?"

Charlie Wade looked askance at Kevin, and Kevin quickly pleaded when their eyes met, "Charlie Wade, Charlie Wade! Please help me! Tell Don Albertt that we're buddies! Please!"

Charlie Wade snorted indifferently and said, "I don't know this man. You can proceed to do whatever you want to do to him, let him go after you've had enough."

Albert nodded knowingly and Commanded his men, "D*mn it, beat the crap out of him! This son of a b*tch is such an eyesore!"

Kevin wailed in horror, "Charlie Wade! I'm sorry, I'm terribly sorry, please help me! Please..."

Chapter 34

Charlie Wade glared at him coldly and muttered, "I don't have any disputes nor any connections with you, but you kept making fun of me and taunting me, and now you want me to help you? Dream on!"

Kevin collapsed and wailed, "Charlie Wade, I'm really sorry, please help me..."

Looking at Charlie Wade's displeased expression, Albert shouted to his men, "D*mn it you fools, what are you waiting for it? Get your hands on him now!"

His bodyguards were startled in shock. Then, they swiftly grabbed Kevin's neck and hair, and started beating the crap out of him! Soon, blood flooded Kevin's mouth and a few of his teeth were broken, but Albert's bodyguards showed no signs of stopping. Every slap they swung towards Kevin's face was fast and hard!

Albert turned to Charlie Wade and asked with a flattering smile, "Mr. Wade, are you satisfied with our work?" Charlie Wade nodded casually. "Very good. Okay, that's it, I have to go now."

Albert handed his name card to Charlie Wade respectfully and said, "Mr. Wade, this is my number. Please call you if you have any business to settle, I'll always be just a call away."

Charlie Wade nodded slightly and put the card into his pocket. Then, he then turned to Elaine Ma and said, "Mom, it's getting late now, let's go home!"

Although Elaine Ma's face was still burning from the slaps earlier, she smiled gleefully as she glimpsed at the suitcase and thought about the extra seven hundred thousand dollars that she had earned! Her eyes were filled with pride too when she looked at her son-in-law-he was truly amazing!

Charlie Wade picked up the suitcase and was about to leave with Elaine Ma when the seniors gathered in front of Charlie Wade and said in an earnest tone, "Hey, Charlie Wade, it's my fault for barking up the wrong tree. I didn't know you were so powerful, you're such a brilliant and promising young man!"

"Yes! Charlie Wade, look at you, smart and handsome-you're the role model of the youngsters nowadays. My son-in-law is nothing compared to you."

"Erm, may I ask if you can help us to negotiate with Mr. Jordan to return our money, please? It's our hard-earned money!"

Charlie Wade frowned in annoyance and said coldly, "Why should I help you? You all sounded so cocky and pompous just now. If you can't get your money back today, go ask your own son-in-law to help!" Then, he turned in a huff and left. All the seniors were sighing dejectedly, very regretful upon Charlie Wade's harsh statement. They regretted teasing and taunting Charlie Wade.

Great...the only chance for them to get their money back was thrown out of the window.. Upon this thought, some slapped themselves twice on the face in agony, some crouched on the floor in a daze, while others rolled around wailing hysterically. The money was all they had and now, it was all gone! However, that was all they could do for now. They only had their blabbering mouths to blame, and also not having an amazing son-in-law like Charlie Wade.

On the way home, Elaine Ma smiled coyly and asked Charlie Wade, "Charlie Wade, how do you know Don Albertt? Why is he so polite towards you?"

Charlie Wade replied in a casual tone, "No, I don't know him. Who am I to know someone like him? I just called a friend who is powerful enough to make Axel refund the money."

Elaine Ma was a little disappointed when she heard it. She thought that Charlie Wade possessed some extraordinary influence that she wasn't aware of, but in the end, he had asked someone to help. The disappointment extinguished the enthusiastic fire that was burning inside her. Fortunately, though, she got her money back with an extra seven hundred thousand dollars. This outcome had improved her prejudice towards Charlie Wade in some way.

She started, "Charlie Wade, I hope you can keep a secret for me about what happened today and not tell anyone. I'm old, but I have dignity. Okay?"

Charlie Wade smiled weakly and agreed. Okay, Mom, I understand."

Chapter 35

After settling Elaine Ma's problem, Elaine Ma and Charlie Wade parted ways. Hugging the suitcase happily like a child holding a lollipop, Elaine Ma went to the bank to make a deposit while Charlie Wade went home. Upon entering the house, Charlie Wade saw Claire Wilson Wilson's shoes in the hallway, so he knew that she had returned and went straight to their bedroom. As soon as he entered the room, he saw his wife just hanging up the phone, her face painted with surprise and excitement.

He asked curiously, "Dear, who was it on the phone?"

Claire Wilson Wilson shrieked excitedly, "It's my bestie, Loreen! Do you remember her?"

"Yes, I do," Charlie Wade nodded and continued, "She used to study in Aurouss Hilll and was very close to you. In fact, if I recall correctly, she is the daughter of the wealthy Thomas family in Eastcliff, isn't she?"

"Yes!" Claire Wilson Wilson said, "Loreen's family is quite prominent in Eastcliff."

Charlie Wade smiled and asked, "So what is it about? Is she coming to Aurouss Hilll for a visit?"

"Not just for a visit, she's coming to work here!"

Charlie Wade frowned, confused. "She is the daughter of a prominent family in Eastcliff. Why doesn't she work for her family's company but come to work here instead?"

Claire Wilson Wilson shrugged. "I don't know either. She told me that she is going to start working for Emgrand Group. As for why she has come all the way to Emgrand, I'm not sure."

Charlie Wade nodded in acknowledgement but there was a thought running through his mind. 'Although the Thomas family was not on par with the Wade family, they have a strong foundation in Eastcliff. Loreen has no excuse to ditch her family business and come to Aurouss Hilll to work with Emgrand.' Hmm, does she have another hidden agenda that I'm not aware of?' Skeptical thoughts filled Charlie Wade's mind and he hadn't had a clue for the moment, so all he could do for now was to wait until Loreen joined Emgrand Group and let Doris investigate her background and motives.

Meanwhile, Claire Wilson Wilson patted her forehead as if an abrupt thought struck her head and said, "Oh yes, Charlie Wade, I have a meeting with Emgrand Group tomorrow, but I don't think I can make it. Could you pick up Loreen at the airport, please? Find a place for lunch too."

Charlie Wade nodded. "Alright, I'll make some arrangements tomorrow."

"Find a nicer place while you're at it and don't mind the expenses. Here, take my card."

She was grabbing her purse and was about to hand it to him when Charlie Wade hurriedly stopped her. "Nah, it's okay. I have a friend who runs quite a decent restaurant, let me arrange for it."

Charlie Wade took out his phone and was about to send a text message to Isaac in Shangri-La, asking him to reserve a table for him. On second thought, Shangri-La was a surprise for his dear wife, so it would be better to entertain Loreen in another venue. Hence, he sent the message to the next person in his mind--Don Albertt.

"I Want to host a dinner to entertain a friend. Help me arrange for it at a high-end hotel, excluding Shangri- La."

Soon, he received a reply from Albert. "Mr. Wade, I own a place called Heaven Springs, it is one of the most exclusive restaurants in Aurouss Hilll that is comparable to Shangri-La. I'll reserve the best Diamond Suite tomorrow as well as the best feast for you and your guest. I'm honored to have you in my restaurant."

Charlie Wade simply replied with an 'okay'.

The next day, Claire Wilson Wilson spent the entire day at the Emgrand Group headquarters, dealing and arranging matters related to the project and their collaboration. Charlie Wade called Doris and asked her about Loreen's job appointment. Doris was genuinely surprised that Charlie Wade knew about this. She told him that Loreen had applied for an administrative director post, which was a middle-level management position. After reviewing her resume, they found that she was an excellent candidate for the job. Hence, they decided to hire her and her first day work would be in a few days' time.

Chapter 36

Charlie Wade ordered her to keep an eye on Loreen after she started working and to always report to him if there were any abnormalities.

After talking to Doris, Charlie Wade took a taxi to the airport to pick Loreen up. When he was at the airport, Charlie Wade disembarked the taxi and was about to go to the arrival hall when a Mercedes-Benz G-Class braked abruptly and stopped in front of him. Harold, Claire Wilson Wilson's cousin, stretched his head out of the car window and frowned when he saw Charlie Wade. "Why are you here?"

"I'm here to pick Claire Wilson Wilson's friend up. Why are you here?" Charlie Wade frowned too when he saw the familiar faces sitting in the car- besides Harold, there were Gerald and Wendy.

Harold sneered. "Do you mean Miss Thomas? We're here to entertain her, you're nothing but redundant, get lost!"

Charlie Wade snorted indifferently and said, "You get lost." Thus, Charlie Wade ignored them and walked directly into the airport's arrival hall.

Harold's face turned into an ugly shade of red and he was about to swear at Charlie Wade when Wendy tugged his arms hurriedly and said, "Hey, Miss Thomas will be here soon. Grandma reminded you to leave a good impression on her, remember? If you can make her your wife, your status in our family will be unmatched! Just leave the loser alone for now."

Harold gaped in surprise, processing his sister's sense of urgency. He had almost forgotten the main reason he was here today. In fact, welcoming Loreen to the city was the second agenda. His most important duty was to leave a good impression on her and tackle her heart. The Thomas family was prominent and influential in Eastcliff. If he could be with her, his status would skyrocket and the Wilson family would have a great boost in their reputation. Hence, he endured his displeasure with Charlie Wade. They hurriedly got out of the car and rushed to the arrival hall.

Right at this moment, a conspicuous young and elegant lady stood among the crowd. Her long maroon hair cascaded on her back like a waterfall and she wore a white dress that outlined her exquisite body. She was wearing sunglasses, but that couldn't conceal her alluring beauty. Her skin was as smooth and white as a porcelain china doll with her fiery-red lips. Upon a closer look, her facial features and physique were by no means worse than Claire Wilson Wilson's, and in fact, they had their own merits in terms of their beauty standards.

Everyone who waited outside the arrival hall focused their gazes on her for a stunning moment. Harold was equally dumbfounded by the sight. Even Gerald, who was there as a plus one, was amazed by her beauty. He couldn't help but sigh. "She really lives up to the reputation of the daughter of Eastcliff's prominent family. Her beauty and temperament are extraordinary."

At this time as well, Loreen saw them among the crowd, so she quickly strode across the people as she waved at them. "Harold, Wendy, and also Charlie Wade, hey, long time no see!"

Harold felt a fiery flame slowly burst inside his heart. He uttered swiftly, "Hey, Loreen, long time no see. You've become more beautiful now."

Charlie Wade smiled politely and added, "Hi, it's been a while."

Harold interjected, "Loreen, I specifically booked a suite at the best hotel in Aurouss Hilll knowing that you're coming, to welcome you to our city. Come, let's go."

Loreen glanced at Charlie Wade before she said to Harold apologetically, "Harold, I'm so sorry, I've agreed to Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade's invitation in advance. Let's take a rain check on the drink, shall we? I'll stay in Aurouss Hilll for a long time, there are plenty of chances for us to meet."

A layer of irritating wrath slowly built in Harold's heart, replacing the passionate flame earlier. Charlie Wade the loser had come to ruin his important moment on such a crucial day, he was the worst! Hence, he said in a sarcastic tone, "Loreen, I've booked a suite at Heaven Springs, the most famous restaurant in Aurouss Hilll, just for you. By the way, the suite I reserved is the Golden Suite with a minimum spending of three hundred thousand dollars!" He glared at Charlie Wade contemptuously and said with a vicious grin, "I wonder which restaurant did my lowly cousin-in-law book? It will be very disrespectful and insolent if he'd simply booked a mediocre place!"

Charlie Wade was a little surprised when he heard that Harold had also booked a suite at Heaven Springs. What a coincidence. Didn't Don Albertt say that he owned Heaven Springs? He had prepared a suite for him in the restaurant as well, hadn't he? Meanwhile, Gerald gaped in shock. "Wow, Harold, did you actually manage to make a reservation for the Golden Suite in Heaven Springs? Not everyone can do it!"

Harold laughed triumphantly. "Honestly speaking, apart from the Diamond Suite that's really out of my reach, other suites are a piece of cake." Despite his pompous statement, it was nothing but Harold's bragging. Truth be told, in order to make a reservation for the Golden Suite, Lady Wilson herself had requested for a lot of favors from many people to book it.

Loreen had heard about Heaven Springs even in Eastcliff. She hurriedly said, "We're all friends, you don't have to make such extravagant arrangements just for me."

Harold uttered coyly, "Oh no, you are our distinguished guest, how could I treat you like an ordinary friend?" He then turned to Charlie Wade and asked, "Hey, I wonder which restaurant you booked?"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "Well, what a coincidence, I made a reservation at Heaven Springs too."

"Hahaha!" Harold laughed out loud. "Charlie Wade, aren't you worried about choking yourself for bragging so senselessly? I doubt you can even book the lowest suite at Heaven Springs with your status! Please stop your nonsense here!"

Charlie Wade smiled indifferently. "Even if I'm bragging, what does it have to do with you? I'm not inviting you to dinner, why do you worry so much about me?"

Harold snarled in disdain, "Huh! I don't think you can even walk through the door!"

Loreen who witnessed the whole scene couldn't bear to see Charlie Wade being targeted. She was aware of Charlie Wade's status in the Wilson family—he was financially and emotionally discriminated against in the family due to his status. It was quite unrealistic for him to book a suite at the top restaurant in town for her sake. She figured that Charlie Wade had deliberately told the lie because he wanted to defend his dignity and she didn't want him to be too embarrassed so she quickly said, "Hey, let's just stop the argument, shall we? Since both of you have made the reservation at the same place, why don't we go there together?"

Harold glared at Charlie Wade and huffed, "Alright, for Loreen's sake, I'll let you have a free meal today and let you see what a high-end restaurant looks like!"

Charlie Wade simply smirked and ignored his sarcastic remark. The infamous Don Albertt would kneel down when he saw him, what kind of amazing effect would his restaurant give him anyway? It's a pity that the snobbish Harold was blinded by his cockiness!

Heaven Springs was a quaint and classic European-style restaurant. The interior decoration and design were full of exquisite classical charm and exclusively expensive, and even the signboard at the door was made of high-quality yellow rosewood. Charlie Wade couldn't help but gape in marvel as he looked at the decorations in the restaurant. He didn't expect to see such luxurious settings and ambiance in Albert's restaurant and he contemplated bringing Claire Wilson Wilson to try it out one day.

Loreen looked around and exclaimed, "I've heard about Heaven Springs back in Eastcliff, and sure enough, it lives up to its reputation."

Harold said with a smile, "Loreen, I have to bring you to the best place for your visit here, of course." Then, he glanced at Charlie Wade mockingly. "Unlike someone here. If not for your sake, he'd probably never have the chance to visit such an upscale restaurant in his entire lifetime."

Chapter 38

Wendy asked with a coy smile, "Charlie Wade, didn't you also make a reservation here? Which suite? Bring us to check it out!"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "I didn't think about which suite to reserve, to be frank. I just sent a text message to their boss and asked him to arrange it for me. I'll check the message now, give me a minute."

Harold sneered disdainfully, "Shut your mouth! Do you know who the boss here is? It's the famous Don Albertt Rhodes! How dare you talk such bullsh*t here? Careful, if he hears you, he will squeeze you to death with his fingertips."

Charlie Wade ignored their heinous remarks and proceeded to check his message on the phone. "He said he reserved the Diamond Suite for me."

Harold laughed instantly. "Hahaha... Diamond Suite? Charlie Wade, don't make me laugh, will you? Do you know who can enter the Diamond Suite? No more than ten people in the whole Aurouss Hill! You're nothing but a fart!"

Loreen stayed silent in the midst of the commotion, although a thought was slowly brewing in her mind. She didn't expect that Charlie Wade would be such a sore loser, who did he think he really is to be offered the privilege of dining in the Diamond Suite? She used to think that the man had no money, no power, and was a little hopeless, but she never knew that he was such a vain person. She's utterly disappointed in him!

Charlie Wade simply smiled at their senile attacks. In his eyes, these people were nothing but snobbish fools and he didn't have to lower himself to their level.

Gerald started too. "Charlie Wade, even my dad is not qualified to dine in the Diamond Suite. You're so full of sh*t!"

Wendy added after him, "Gerald, that kind of loser is not even qualified to eat leftovers from the Diamond Suite, let alone dine there!"

Charlie Wade glanced at Gerald and managed a cold sneer. "You stupid dog, Don Albertt had just beat the crap out of your cousin yesterday, who gave you the courage to dine in his restaurant today?" With that flowing in his mind, he asked, "Gerald, I heard that something happened to your cousin brother yesterday, is it true?"

Gerald frowned curiously. "How do you know about it?" He then continued without waiting for Charlie Wade's answer. "He was assaulted yesterday and is still in coma. We're investigating who the assailants are and will skin them alive for revenge! Do you have any idea?"

Charlie Wade shook his head and played dumb. "I don't know what happened, I just heard that something had happened to him, that's all."

"Huh!" Gerald huffed in dismay, "Don't you dare ridicule the White family behind our back! If I hear about it again, I'll kill you!"

Charlie Wade ignored him completely. Sure enough, one big foolish family! It hadn't come to their attention that Albert was the one who had caused his cousin's injury? It was getting interesting.

At this moment, a man in a black suit marched towards them and stood in front of Charlie Wade. Looking at the familiar face, Charlie Wade realized that he was one of Albert's bodyguards. The man recognized Charlie Wade instantly. He wore an eager and polite smile on his face and almost bowed before him when Charlie Wade hurriedly shook his head at him. The man froze for a while. Thinking that Mr. Wade liked to keep his identity low profile, he said directly, "Hi, your suite is ready, please follow me."

Harold was stunned. He hadn't even mentioned his arrival to the ringmaster yet and someone had come to greet him in person. Since when did the Golden Suite diners of the Heaven Springs get such an attentive and personalized service? Frankly, it was pretty awesome! Gerald gaped in astonishment. "Harold, you're quite incredible. He seems to be a guy working directly under Don Albertt, and it looks like the Don appreciates you very much. Do you know him personally? I haven't heard you talk about it, you low-key man!"

Harold laughed delightedly and said with a smug face, "There's no need to show off my friendship with him, it's better to keep a low profile! Hahahaha!"

Chapter 39

Loreen was taken aback in astonishment and bewilderment. She didn't expect Harold to be so well connected in Aurouss Hillll. He was so much more reliable as compared to Charlie Wade. She contemplated that it would be more convenient for her to get close to Harold for her daily routine. The man in a black suit escorted the group respectful to the door of the Diamond Suite. He took out a bill, handed it to Charlie Wade directly, and said softly, "Sir, please sign here."

The Diamond Suite was specially reserved for Charlie Wade and his signature was needed for confirmation. Charlie Wade smiled and took the pen and paper, but before he could sign his name, Harold's loud shriek echoed. D mn it! Put the pen down!"

Harold marched forward with a gloomy face. He snatched the pen and paper from Charlie Wade's hands, signed his name quickly, and yelled at Charlie Wade, "You shameless rat! Do you really have no f*cking idea who reserved the room? Who do you think you are to sign your name here!"

The man in black was taken aback by Harold's abrupt and rude interference. He looked at Charlie Wade and gave him a questioning look as if to ask him if he needed help to teach the bastard a lesson right there. Charlie Wade shook his head lightly. "Never mind, let him sign it if he wants to sign it so badly."

Charlie Wade didn't want to turn the situation awkward in front of Loreen; she was his wife's best friend, after all. Then, they entered the room and everyone took a seat. Harold ushered Loreen to sit in the main position of the table, while Charlie Wade sat alone in the corner. Loreen was the only one who spoke to him from time to time. Soon, exquisite dishes and wine were presented by the waiters one course at a time. All the dishes used very fine and luxurious quality ingredients. Even the top-quality abalone and the Australian lobster could only be served as side dishes. Even the wine was a century-old fine wine worth one hundred thousand dollars a bottle. Coming from a wealthy family, Loreen was shocked by the extravagant spread of the meal.

Gerald said with an envious sigh, Harold, how much is your budget for the meal?"

Harold replied pompously, "Three hundred thousand dollars."

Gerald gaped in surprise. "Are you sure? This is not your usual price range, even the bottles of wine alone exceed your budget."

Harold had a casual smile on his face but inside, his heart was thumping nervously. He suddenly felt something was amiss. As he recalled how the man in black treated him outside the room, he couldn't help but wonder if Don Albertt was giving him special treatment. But he didn't even know him!

Loreen's beautiful eyes flickered in awe. She glanced at Harold and said, "Thank you, Harold!"

Harold's confused thought was wiped away by the warmth Loreen's words brought him. He smiled widely and said, "You're welcome, it's my pleasure." Then, he turned to Charlie Wade and asked with a coy smile, "Charlie Wade, I bet you've never eaten such good food in your life, right?"

Charlie Wade smirked sarcastically. "Who gave you the confidence to be so Cocky?"

Harold growled in disdain, "You have the honor of dining with me and your filthy mouth is still so stubborn! D*mn it, I dare you, if you've ever eaten such fine food in the past, you can make my head a ball and kick it!"

Charlie Wade simply smiled. The days he lived when he was a child were so extravagant that ordinary people couldn't even imagine. In the Wade family, these dishes were just meals for the servants.

Looking at Charlie Wade's arrogance, Wendy huffed indignantly. "Charlie Wade, what is that attitude, you loser! Believe it or not, I'll kick you out of the room now! We're giving you a free meal and is this how you treat us? You f*cking loser!"

However, right at this moment, the door of the suite was kicked open harshly and a hoarse and fierce voice resonated through the suite. "Where did you idiots come from? Who the h*ll let you in this room!"

Suddenly, a pudgy man stood at the door. He was in an Armani suit with a big gold chain around his neck and he had a centipede-like scar on his face that spread from the corner of his eyes to his chin. The man grabbed the bill in one hand and a bat in the other, his face as fierce as a lion's. Immediately after that, a dozen burly men with scarred tattoos barged into the room and lined up next to him, surrounding the table. Everyone was extremely startled by the scene.

What was going on The leader was Bill The Bear, Don Albertt's right-hand man. He had worked for Don Albertt in his early years and had earned an infamous reputation in Aurouss Hilll. Don Albertt had informed him today that the Diamond Suite was specially reserved for the extremely noble Mr. Wade and made sure he made the proper arrangements for him. Yet, when he inspected the guests of the suites, he found out that a bugger named Harold Wilson had signed the bill for the Diamond Suite. He was very furious and scared when he discovered it. He was furious because of the d*mn Harold who had come out of nowhere and occupied the suite he had prepared for the esteemed guest.

On the other hand, he was scared because there was only one set of the extravagant banquet menu ready in the Diamond Suite and it had already been served to these people. What should he do when the real honorable guests were here?

Harold raised to his feet and shouted in dismay, "What are you doing? I reserved this suite, who do you think you are to create trouble here?"

Bill pointed at Harold and asked, "You're Harold Wilson?"

Harold nodded and said proudly, "Yes, I am!"

Bill commanded coldly, "Bring him to me!"

Two sturdy men immediately pulled Harold out of his seat and dragged him away.

"What do you think you're doing? Let me go!"

"F*ck, shut up!" One man kicked Harold's knee and he knelt directly in front of Bill as he shrieked in pain. Bill eyed Harold from head to toe with his cold and dagger-like glare, making him shiver like a scaredy-cat. Slap! The signature bill was thrown directly at Harold's head. Bill shouted loudly, "Who gave you the right to use this room?"

Harold cleared his throat to compose himself and said, "It's a misunderstanding. I made a reservation at this Golden Suite in advance, I've even paid the three hundred thousand dollar deposit!"

Gerald interjected, "What are you doing? Harold booked the room. Do you not have rules here?"

Bill spat. He slapped Harold across his cheek and growled, "Golden Suite? Hello? This is the motherf*cking Diamond Suite! It is not for you, bastard!"

Everyone was stunned when his voice echoed across the room. Diamond Suite? No wonder the room was so luxuriously designed and even the dishes and wines were exclusive. As it turned out, it was not the Golden Suite at all! Cold sweat drenched Gerald's forehead. The Diamond Suite was so exclusive and he was not even qualified to enter, let alone dine in it!

Wendy said hastily, "Harold, didn't you say that you know Don Albertt? Hurry, explain to them!"

Harold huffed dejectedly. "Shut up! How would I know Don Albertt?"

"But, didn't you just say..."

Loreen glanced at the siblings coldly as their conversation took place, realizing that Harold was nothing but a cocky liar. She was a little disappointed in him suddenly.

Bill sneered cruelly and said, "How dare you mention Don Albertt's name, you hopeless f*cker. You have a death wish, don't you!" He straightened his body and ordered his men, "Grab him! I want to teach him a lesson." Harold was held down to the ground, unable to move even an inch! In the blink of an eye, Bill grabbed the bat and smashed it down directly!

"Argh..my hand! My hand!" Harold was screaming frantically, his body drenched by his own sweat. Even his pants were wet at an embarrassing spot. He passed out in a shameful manner. Watching the horrifying scene, Gerald and Wendy were as pale as two sheets of paper, their hearts thumping vigorously. Harold, who had still been so full of himself earlier, was beaten back to his normal self in an instant. They were scared of the consequences that would befall them.

Loreen was equally terrified by the incident and her whole body was shaking violently. She hid behind Charlie Wade and muttered, "What do we do? Will they kill us?" Charlie Wade patted Loreen on her shoulder to offer some comfort and said, "Don't Worry, I'm here to protect you. No one will touch you." Loreen looked at Charlie Wade gratefully. Although she was certain that Charlie Wade could not solve the problem, his words did work wonders to calm her nervous heart.

Meanwhile, Bill kicked Harold, who had fainted on the floor like a log, and cursed, "What a coward!" He turned his head and stared at Gerald. And you! You said that we don't have rules here, didn't you? Come here, you f*cker!"

Chapter 41

Gerald was so frightened that he shivered uncontrollably and almost pissed himself. His stuttering voice sounded, "Big Boss Bill, I'm the White family's..."

"The White family?" Bill grinned sinisterly. "What the heck? Don't make me laugh, okay!" Bill spat disdainfully. He kicked Gerald to the ground and snarled, "The Don just finished teaching an idiot from the White family a lesson yesterday, that fool was slapped by one of our guys ten thousand times in the face! You still have the nerve to mention the White family to me, huh!"

"Huh?" Gerald recoiled in extreme shock. He thought that Kevin had been beaten while being robbed, but it turned out that it was actually Don Albertt who had beaten him up! Just as he was still in the midst of extreme shock and terror, Bill raised the bat and slammed it down against his head! Bang Gerald felt the world spinning around him. A buzzing voice kept humming inside his head, blood flowed from his mouth and nose, his vision was getting blurry and eventually, he lost consciousness.

Wendy shrieked in horror! Gerald was his fiancé and her only chance to marry into the White family. She would be doomed if anything happened to him. "Ambulance! Call the ambulance now!" Wendy yelled in a panic. She took out her phone with her trembling hands, but she was so shaken that she couldn't press anything and could only scream desperately.

Bill frowned in annoyance and cursed. "F*ck, can you shut up! Guys, slap her until her mouth is torn from her face, keep her quiet!" Yes, boss!" The men grinned like a cackle of wicked hyenas when they heard the command. What they liked to do most was to torment a beauty, especially a fierce and savage girl like Wendy. Wendy panicked as she watched the men with sly grins approaching her. She tried to move back frantically but very soon, she hit a wall and there was nowhere to hide.

"Come here, b*tch!" A one-eyed man tugged Wendy's hair viciously and pulled her towards him abruptly. Then, he raised his hand, aimed it at Wendy's face, and started slapping her, followed by the men behind him. These men were all ruthless people who had been fighting in the underworld with Bill for many years. They were merciless when they started their actions. Very soon, Wendy's face was as swollen as a swine's head and blood mixed with saliva dripped down from her mouth. After such a ferocious beating, it would leave indelible scars on her face even if treated in time and it was almost equivalent to disfigurement!

Loreen, who had witnessed the horrifying scene and Bill's cruelty, shuddered in fear. She leaned against Charlie Wade's back and stuck very close to him. At this moment, Bill saw Charlie Wade and Loreen hiding in the corner and urged, "Them too! Beat them to death! How dare they occupy the Diamond Suite as they please! Today is your day to die!"

A man, who was as ferocious as a hungry hyena, marched towards Loreen and was about to grab her. "How dare you!" Suddenly, a layer of ice hovered over Charlie Wade's face as he kicked the brawny man to the floor. Bill's face sank upon the scene and growled, "Who the f*ck are you?"

Charlie Wade said calmly, "You don't want to speak to me like that, you'll be sorry."

"That's it, f*cker!" Charlie Wade shook his head and called Albert immediately. "Albert Rhodes, I'm in the Diamond Suite right now. Get here, you piece of dead meat!" Then, he ended the call and glared at Bill coldly.

Loreen stared at him, her face as pale as snow. Didn't he see what happened to Harold after bragging and lying about knowing Don Albertt? How did he still dare to say such rude remarks in front of Bill? He would be dead for sure! Wendy, whose face was swollen from the beating, turned even more horrified and jittery after hearing Charlie Wade's phone call. How could he still be so stupid at a time like this? Was he trying to get them all killed?

Bill smirked contemptuously. "You little prick, how dare you provoke the Don in front of me? You're digging your own grave!" He waved at his men and urged viciously, "Kill him!"

Suddenly, Albert's furious growl came from outside the room. "D*mn it, Bill! You f*cking want to die, don't you? How dare you lay your hands on Mr. Wade? I'll chop you up and feed you to the dogs, do you hear me! Bill froze abruptly as if he was struck by lightning!

Chapter 42

Don Albertt was here! Mr. Wade? Who was Mr. Wade? Albert marched into the room and pounded Bill to the floor. "You f*cking idiot, how could you not recognize Mr. Wade! I'll f*cking kill you!" Albert cursed while kicking Bill frantically. Bill, who was so invincible and pompous earlier, was crouching on the floor yelping like a dog being beaten.

Loreen was genuinely bewildered. What was going on? All the men were also panicking. Was the young man actually Mr. Wade? They had almost laid their hands on him too. They were literally digging their own graves!

Albert growled at the rest of the gang "And you fools too! What are you standing there like stupid logs? Apologize to Mr. Wade now!"

"Mr. Wade, we're so so sorry. We were a bunch of fools to not have recognized you! Please forgive us!" All the men knelt down simultaneously and apologized profusely. Bill was equally terrified. He slapped himself in the face while begging for mercy. "Mr. Wade, I'm terribly sorry, please forgive me for my rudeness and Spare me!" Albert slapped himself in the face too as a punishment and said nervously, "Mr. Wade, I'm so sorry for my incompetence that resulted in my boys offending you and your friends."

Charlie Wade took a glimpse at Loreen and said calmly, "I'm just here to treat my wife's friend to a meal." He then turned to the rest of the crowd and said coldly, "They are not my friends."

Loreen was completely shocked! Charlie Wade wasn't bluffing after all. He did make a reservation in Heaven Springs and it was indeed the most luxurious Diamond Suite. The most important element of all was that this suite was reserved for him by Don Albertt himself! When she recalled how she had looked down on Charlie Wade before, her face blushed timidly. She was very ashamed of herself.

Meanwhile, Harold trembled in horror when he heard their exchanges! What was going on? Charlie Wade the loser was really Don Albertt's friend? How was it possible? Wendy was equally shocked. As it turned out, Charlie Wade really did know Don Albertt! Not only that, but Albert was so polite to him! She then turned to look at Gerald again. He had fainted in the middle of his own blood at the moment!

The Don wiped the cold sweat from his forehead and said firmly, "Mr. Wade, don't worry, this will never ever happen again. You can come to Heaven Springs and use the Diamond Suite any time you please. If my men still can't recognize you, I'll gouge their eyes out myself!"

Charlie Wade nodded and said to Loreen, "Hey, we've had our meal, so why don't we get out now? It's so chaotic and messy here!"

Loreen regained her composure by Charlie Wade's voice and asked reflexively, "What about them?" She was a little worried as she looked at Harold, Gerald, and Wendy's miserable state.

Charlie Wade replied calmly, "Let Albert handle them."

Albert said instantly, "Mr. Wade, don't worry, I'll call for an ambulance and send them to the hospital immediately!"

"Okay," Charlie Wade nodded and continued, "I'll leave everything to you, that's all."

Loreen, who was still in a daze, followed Charlie Wade out of Heaven Springs. Her heart was still thumping vigorously, her breathing heavy even after they exited the restaurant. She took a peek at Charlie Wade, who had an inexpressive expression on his face as if nothing had happened. She felt as if he was covered with a layer of fog that made him even more mysterious and profound.

"Charlie Wade, about today..." Before she could finish, Charlie Wade interjected in an indifferent voice,

"Loreen, I hope you can keep what happened today a secret, please. If Claire Wilson Wilson finds out that I'm connected to someone in the underworld like Don Albertt, she will be very angry."

Loreen nodded reluctantly. "Alright, I understand."

After Charlie Wade and Loreen left, Albert called the ambulance and sent the injured people to the hospital. Wendy sustained fractures on the facial skeleton due to the assault that resulted in a deformed face. It could be said that she was disfigured now. One of Harold's arms was completely broken too and he needed a long time for it to return to its functional state. As for Harold, he suffered a severe concussion due to the heavy blow to his head. Although he was out of danger after the emergency rescue, the subsequent effect from the brain damage would be his worst nightmare for the rest of his life.

Chapter 43

Loreen had agreed with Doris Young of Emgrand Group to start working tomorrow. After leaving Heaven Springs, Charlie Wade sent her back to the hotel where she was staying and then left. Loreen was still in shock from what happened at the restaurant earlier while pondering about her future prospects. She was assigned an important mission for her trip to Aurouss Hilll this time. From the obvious perspective, she was here for her new job at Emgrand Group, but she had a much larger hidden agenda from her family. Her father had told her that according to top secret information, the Wade family, the most prominent family in Eastcliff, had found their young master who had been missing for many years. They had even bought the entire Emgrand Group as a gift to the young master to practice and sharpen his entrepreneurship skills. In other words, the young master of the Wade family was in Aurouss Hilll now and he was the new chairman of Emgrand Group.

In Eastcliff, which was filled with mysterious and powerful families, although the Thomas family was at the upper-level of the social pyramid in Eastcliff, they were still on the second rank of the pyramid. The Wade family was much more powerful and prestigious than they were. Now that the identity of the young master of the Wade family had not been revealed yet, the Thomas family hoped that Loreen could grab the opportunity to be in touch with him in advance. It would be even better if she could be in a relationship with him and get married. Loreen was a little repulsed by and reluctant about such an arrangement, but she didn't dare to oppose it when she was given such an important duty of revitalizing her family status.

The sole purpose of her coming all the way to Aurouss Hilll to work at Emgrand Group was to get in touch with the mysterious chairman and find a chance to attract his attention. Loreen was regarded as one of the beauty icons of Eastcliff's upper-class circle. She was confident that with her appearance, knowledge, abilities, and elegant figure, she would have a chance with the young master of the Wade family. If she could marry him as she had anticipated, it would bring the Thomas family to the next level! This would move them to the top of the social pyramid in Eastcliff! She began to have a thrilling sensation in her heart regarding tomorrow's appointment when she thought of this. At the same time, she was equally anticipating meeting the mysterious Mr. Wade. She couldn't help but imagine him. How old was he? What did he look like? Was he tall and handsome like a prince charming?

She took out her phone and clicked on a video streaming app. Then, she clicked on the video in her collection folder that had been viewed tens of millions of times. It was the popular video where Charlie Wade had humiliated the sales manager at Emerald Court with several suitcases of cash. She had analyzed the video numerous times. The incident took place in Aurouss Hillll, which happened to coincide with the time that the young master of the Wade family had been found. Therefore, she concluded that the mysterious ultra-rich man in the video was actually the young master of the Wade family, who was also the new chairman of the Emgrand Group. She scrutinized the video carefully, watching and observing the mysterious man whose back was the only part visible in the video. From the vague video, she deduced that the man was in his twenties, tall and thin, although his face was blocked. Nevertheless, his body figure was very studly and athletic, which was comparable to long-legged K-pop idols. With such a body figure, he must be quite smart and handsome looking!

However, out of nowhere, a peculiar feeling suddenly appeared in Loreen's heart. Why did the man look a bit like Charlie Wade? Very quickly, she shook her head, denying her own thought. Charlie Wade was the son-in-law of the Wilson family, which was absolutely incomparable to the Wade family at all. If he really was the young master of the Wade family, why would he still stay with the second-rate Wilson family? She must be overthinking this!

The next day, Loreen arrived at the Emgrand Group headquarters early in the morning. Miss Young, the vice-chairman, personally handled her appointment letter. She took her to the administrative department for a brief tour, introduced her job scopes, and then added, Loreen, if you have any queries, you can ask me directly or come to my office to see me."

Loreen nodded gratefully and asked tentatively, "Miss Young, may I know if I would have a chance to meet the chairman? I will be in charge of the company's administrative affairs and if I don't consult him directly, I'm afraid that I might mishandle his requirements."

Doris became alert and cautious as soon as Loreen said that. Charlie Wade had just asked her to keep an eye on Loreen the day before yesterday. As soon as Loreen reported to duty, she asked about the chairman. It seemed very odd and unusual. Doris eyed the pretty young lady and thought to herself, 'What is your purpose of coming all the way to Emgrand Group?'

She said with a smile, "Our chairman rarely comes into the office, but if he does, I'll tell him and I'll notify you if he wants to see you."

Loreen was a little disappointed, but she kept a smile on her face and said, "Okay, thank you, Miss Young!"

As soon as Doris returned to her office, she immediately reported the matter to Charlie Wade. Charlie Wade became more vigilant as well when he heard that Loreen had requested to see him as soon as she reported to work. Sure enough, the lady had literally come for him. What was her purpose in approaching him? Was she trying to harm him or seduce him? Regardless of her purpose, Charlie Wade felt irked and irritated. Hence, he decided to keep his distance from Loreen, especially since he couldn't let her discover his true identity!

On the night of Loreen's first day of work, Claire Wilson Wilson made a reservation at a high-end restaurant for dinner with Loreen. As Claire Wilson Wilson's husband, Charlie Wade had to come along, which made him a little depressed. He wanted to keep a distance from Loreen but they had to have dinner together tonight. Despite the reluctance, he prepared himself and went to the restaurant with Claire Wilson Wilson. It wasn't until they arrived at the venue that Charlie Wade realized that Claire Wilson Wilson booked a table at the Sky Garden of Shangri-La!

The Sky Garden Ballroom was usually reserved for the prominent guests and members of the hotel, so they had never provided any kind of private suite service. However, Charlie Wade's action of booking the entire place on his wedding anniversary was unprecedented for Shangri-La. The wedding anniversary was only three days away. There was a big and eye-catching notice at the entrance of the hotel that said, "The Sky Garden is reserved for honorable guests and the venue will be unavailable for all guests during this period of time. Thank you for your cooperation!"

Everyone was shocked when they saw the notice! Did someone book the whole Sky Garden of Shangri-La? They had never done this before! Rumors had it that the children of several leaders in the city wanted to hold their wedding banquet here but were rejected without exception. Who had such an influence and power to reserve the Sky Garden with Shangri-La?

Claire Wilson Wilson gaped in surprise when she saw the notice. "Wow, someone actually booked the Sky Garden? That is so incredible!"

Charlie Wade chuckled in amusement. "What's so incredible about it? It's just a ballroom, why can't people book it?"

"No, you don't understand," Claire Wilson Wilson said in a serious tone, "This Shangri-La is not some local enterprise but a luxurious global hotel chain. The Sky Garden is its unique and major feature and is exclusively for their top members. If they allow everyone to make a reservation, each top member would take turns to reserve it on a daily basis, causing the other members to miss out on the privilege to use the venue. Thus, they've simply prohibited reservation of the ballroom." Then, Claire Wilson Wilson sighed and continued, "I wonder who the person who can reserve the place is. He or she must be someone extraordinary!"

Charlie Wade said with a deliberate smile, "Maybe he's someone who really loves his wife and wants to hold a wedding here for her!" Claire Wilson Wilson said in an astonished tone, "Wow! Holding a wedding for his wife here?! Then he must really love his wife. It must be nice to be his wife!"

Chapter 45

Charlie Wade was very happy to hear his wife say so. It seemed that he had picked the best venue for their wedding anniversary. She must be so thrilled and happy on that day! They walked into the Sky Garden and sat down in the reserved seats. Soon, Loreen arrived. "Claire Wilson Wilson!"

"Loreen!" The two best friends hugged each other, happiness flooding their expressions. Then, they reminisced about their past excitedly while holding hands. It took them a while until they finally calmed down from the excitement.

Loreen chided, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you're such a spendthrift. You actually booked the Sky Garden for dinner!"

Claire Wilson Wilson giggled gleefully, "You're here! Of course I'd need to spend some money!"

Loreen grinned. " You're my best friend!"

"Frankly speaking, I'm not qualified to dine here. I'd asked Miss Doris Young to make the reservation for me with her membership card!"

Loreen sighed. "The Sky Garden sets quite a high requirement, doesn't it? I heard that it's only for their Diamond members or something, right?"

Yes." Claire Wilson Wilson nodded. "Honestly, this is my first time here!"

Loreen smiled. "Thank you so much, my dear Claire Wilson Wilson!" She then continued, "By the way, on my way here, I saw the notice at the entrance that said the Sky Garden is booked three days later. Is that true?"

"Yes," Claire Wilson Wilson replied, "That's very odd. The Sky Garden has never approved any reservations or bookings before. I wonder what's up with them now."

Loreen nodded and said, "Some time ago, there was this video online about a mysterious rich man in Aurouss Hillll that came with dozens of Rolls-Royces, men in black, and suitcases with cash just to buy a necklace. Have you guys watched the video?"

Charlie Wade shook his head. Claire Wilson Wilson said, "I have, it's quite a big deal." "Everyone is guessing who he is." What is there to guess.." "

For gossip, of course! Everyone is eager to know who he is, so domineering and handsome. Some say he's the new chairman of Emgrand Group."

Charlie Wade suddenly froze in shock for an instant but quickly regained his Composure. Loreen continued, "Now, someone has booked Shangri-La's Sky Garden. That's an unprecedented decision, isn't it? I think that the person who booked this place is the same person who bought the necklace in the video."

Claire Wilson Wilson heaved a helpless sigh. "We haven't seen each other for so long and you're still the same old busybody!"

Loreen laughed and said, "Gossip is the driving force for women to survive!" She then continued, "Tm going to come here three days later to see for myself the person powerful enough to book the Sky Garden!"

Charlie Wade, who had been listening to the entire conversation quietly, suddenly felt a headache incoming. All he wanted to do was to give his wife a surprise and a wedding that he couldn't honor her. He didn't want any of the unwanted attention. However, he seemed to have underestimated the influence of the Sky Garden. He figured that there were many people in Aurouss Hillll who shared the same idea as Loreen--they wanted to see who the person who booked the Sky Garden was.

Chapter 46

This was starting to get a little tricky. Charlie Wade felt that he needed to talk to Isaac in advance and arrange for full protection on the day. He couldn't reveal his identity no matter what. In the middle of the dinner, Loreen started, "Before I came to Aurouss Hillll, I talked to some of our college mates about it and they suggested holding a class reunion. What do you think?"

Charlie Wade said immediately, "No thanks, I won't attend."

"Why?" Loreen asked curiously. "Although we were not college mates for four years, we spent a year together nonetheless!"

When Charlie Wade was taken in by Lord Wilson, he sent him to Aurous University in order to let him know Claire Wilson Wilson in advance. He and Claire Wilson Wilson spent the final year together in the same class. After graduation, they got married immediately. He didn't build a friendship with anyone in the class. Besides, most of them looked down on him, so he wasn't interested at all when he heard about the reunion. Claire Wilson Wilson shared the same reluctance. She said to Loreen, "Charlie Wade and I will pass on this one. I haven't been in touch with most of our classmates after graduation."

Loreen quickly said, "The main reason for the class reunion this time is because of Douglas Adams. He's opening a restaurant that will start its operations tomorrow. He's openly inviting everyone to visit his restaurant and have a gathering together." She continued, "Don't you think it's a little rude to not attend the opening ceremony?"

As soon as her voice halted, their phones beeped simultaneously, it was the notification of an incoming message. Immediately afterwards, a lot of conversation boxes popped up on the Screen. They took out their phones and looked at it. It was Douglas who had created a chat group and added more than thirty people into the group. In the group chat, Douglas posted, "Dear old classmates, my restaurant will officially open at noon tomorrow, it is located in Aurouss Hillll. I invite anyone in Aurouss Hillll to come and enjoy a feast, it can also be our class reunion! It just so happens that Loreen Thomas, one of the two belles in our class, has come to work in Aurouss Hillll and she will be attending the reunion too! Guys, I heard that Loreen is still single and available, all the lonely bachelors in this group had better hurry up and make your move!"

Immediately afterward, endless replies started flooding the group. "Hey, congratulations!"

"Oh, Loreen is here in Aurouss Hillll? Why haven't I heard anything about it? I'll surely be there!"

"What about Claire Wilson Wilson, the other belle? Will she attend?"

"I heard that Claire Wilson Wilson married Charlie Wade, the transfer student, right? Also, I heard that Charlie Wade is a live-in son-in-law, is it true?"

"Yeah, I heard about it too, but I'm not sure if it's true since I haven't seen them both since graduation..."

"I heard that they haven't consummated their marriage although they are married, I wonder if that's true..."

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned at the contents of the text messages and said to Charlie Wade, "Don't take it seriously."

Charlie Wade smiled. "It's okay, what they are talking about is the actual fact anyway, I'm already used to it."

Loreen quickly replied in the group, "Hey, don't simply blabber about them! I'm having dinner with the couple now as we speak! They are very lovely!"

"Wow, it's Loreen! All the simps quickly gathered around, amazed by Loreen's message. Someone in the group tagged Charlie Wade at this moment. It's Douglas, the group creator. "Charlie Wade, although you spent a short time with us, I remember we were quite buddies back in college. You and your wife must come tomorrow!"

To be honest, Charlie Wade had a pretty good impression of Douglas. He was a very nice person who treated everyone kindly and never badmouthed others. He was indeed one of the few classmates whom he was close with. Looking at his sincere invite, Charlie Wade instantly replied, "Okay, we'll definitely be there tomorrow."

Douglas quickly replied, "That's great! It's going to be an awesome reunion!"

Chapter 47

Since Charlie Wade had agreed to attend the class reunion, Claire Wilson Wilson reminded him, "We have to prepare some gifts for the opening of Douglas's restaurant, we can't go empty-handed."

Charlie Wade nodded. "Alright, I'll go and buy a gift from him tomorrow morning."

"Great," Claire Wilson Wilson said, "I have to go to the Emgrand Group office tomorrow morning."

Loreen said in surprise, "Is that so? Then stop by my office when you're done, I can carpool to Douglas's restaurant with you at noon."

Claire Wilson Wilson smiled coyly, "Well, you can throw your wishful thinking out the window! I don't have a car. I usually take the taxi or bus, and sometimes Charlie Wade will fetch me with his scooter."

"What?" Loreen blurted, exasperated. "Young lady, you're a director of a company now, why don't you buy a car for yourself?"

"I've just started working and haven't made any money yet. My salary is usually used for our expenses and I have to give my mom an allowance. I'm only left with a thousand dollars or so at the end of the month and it's not enough for me to buy a car." Then, Claire Wilson Wilson continued, "By the way, frankly, I enjoy taking the bus, it's quite convenient. A ride on Charlie Wade's scooter on a fine day is awesome too."

Loreen said in an earnest tone, "Excuse me miss, you don't have to be ostentatious, but you have to be aware of your status now. You are the director of Wilson Group now and also a partner who works directly with Emgrand. Some people might badmouth you if you don't even have a car."

Charlie Wade felt that Loreen was right. His wife had always been too frugal. What's more, she handed most of her salary over to her mother and she didn't leave much money to herself. On the other hand, his mother-in-law was a big spender who kept most of Claire Wilson Wilson's salary to herself. She would rather use one million dollars of the family savings to invest in some fraudulent financial insurance than to give Claire Wilson Wilson two or three hundred thousand dollars to buy a car. He felt that he should buy a car for his wife. It would be convenient for her to go around and also would look better for her reputation when she went to business meetings. After making up his mind, he decided to visit the car shop early the next morning.

After dinner, the couple parted ways with Loreen and took a taxi home together. On their way home, the DJs on the radio were discussing the charter of the Shangri-La Sky Garden. The DJs were all amazed as this was the first time in history that Shangri-La was making an exception to close off the entire Sky Garden. They were equally curious about the person behind this and his background. The taxi driver started, "In my opinion, it must be the mysterious rich guy on the Internet!" Charlie Wade remained silent but he was a little astonished! It seemed that after the news that the Sky Garden on the top floor of Shangri-La was announced, it caused a sensation throughout Aurouss Hill! This matter spread like wildfire and being discussed all over the place in Aurouss Hill overnight! Very soon, each and everyone in the city knew about it! Everyone knew that the Shangri-La Hotel adopted membership service and only top-class members had the privilege to use the Sky Garden! As for the charter, not even Diamond members were eligible to do so! It was absolutely impossible! Thus, the person who managed to charter the Sky Garden had suddenly become a hot topic that everyone was utterly curious about! Someone said that the person was the mysterious guy on the Internet. Someone said that the person was a wealthy man from abroad. Someone said that the person was a mysterious man who wanted to hold a lavish and romantic wedding... The third rumor was more convincing than the rest! The news created a massive wave throughout the city!

A lot of women were envious and curious after hearing the news. Everyone was wondering who was so lucky to have a man spend millions of dollars in one night to charter the whole Sky Garden and confess his love to her! Many people were looking forward to the day to come so that they could go and have a look for themselves! In order to keep his identity secret, Charlie Wade ordered Isaac to make a special transformation to the Sky Garden on the day of the event. At the same time, he anticipated the arrival of the day! He wanted to give Claire Wilson Wilson a once-in-a-lifetime grand wedding on their wedding anniversary!

Charlie Wade went to the car shop early the next morning. He had a bank card with a balance of ten billion dollars that he hadn't used much of yet. This time, he wanted to spend it on a luxury car for Claire Wilson Wilson that was classy and presentable. He intended to buy her a Rolls-Royce right away, but on second thought, he was worried that Claire Wilson Wilson would not accept it. First, it would not be easy to explain to her how he could afford such an expensive car and second, she might be averse to driving the car based on her low-key personality. After taking in all the factors and considerations, he decided to buy a sedan that was about five hundred thousand dollars.

The cars in this price range were presentable yet not too shabby, and they were quite practical for daily use too. It would not be so distressing if she bumped or scratched the car. The car that fitted such a price range and specification was an Audi A6. It was a popular car used among businessmen that were very posh and exclusive. Moreover, the A6 was an extended sedan which was very suitable for his wife. When he came to the Audi 4s shop, he parked his little scooter at the door and walked in. Two sales executives in the shop quickly spruced themselves as they saw a customer coming in. A Woman behind them huffed in annoyance. "Yikes, that guy came by scooter, he must be here for the air conditioning or WiFi. Just ignore him."

They all lost interest in an instant as soon as they heard that the customer had come by scooter. Due to the hot weather, many poor buggers loved to barge into the shop for the free air conditioning. Some even shamelessly sat in the cars in the showroom and refused to get off. The executives who were at their wits' end had to send the security guards to kick them out. Charlie Wade did seem out of place with his scooter and mediocre outfit. He didn't look like someone who could afford an Audi at all. Charlie Wade couldn't care less when no one came to serve him. He went directly to the showroom where the different models of A6 were displayed and found out that the price of the car ranged from three to six hundred thousand. The model with the price tag of six hundred thousand dollars was the top-spec model-the long wheelbase executive version. Honestly speaking, this car looked really good! He figured that Claire Wilson Wilson would be accepting of its reasonable price. Hence, he said, "Do you have ready stock for this top-spec A6? I want to take it right away!"

The sales executives looked at him as if they were looking at an idiot. One of them said in a contemptuous tone, "Have you seen the price tag? Did you count the zeros wrongly?"

Charlie Wade frowned. "Six hundred and eighteen thousand dollars, I saw it."

The person sneered. "If you did see it, then why are you still asking for it? Can you afford it? So many people are watching right now. When we print the bill and ask you to swipe your card but there's not enough credit, it will be so embarrassing!"

Charlie Wade said coldly, "Are you sick? Did you forget to take your medicine before coming to work this morning? Do you need me to call 911 for the ambulance to take you away?"

The person snorted disdainfully. "Huh, stop bluffing here! I'll ask the guard to kick you out of here, mark my words! You're nothing but a poor loser who came in for the free air conditioning and WiFi! Drop your act!"

Chapter 49

Charlie Wade plastered a sarcastic smile on his face and asked, "How much commission do you make on this Car?"

The person snarled, "Ten thousand dollars!"

Charlie Wade nodded as a sign of acknowledgment. "Okay, very well, you've just lost ten thousand dollars." He then turned and went out. Coincidentally, he bumped into the manager of the shop with a name tag on his suit that read Arthur Walsh. He asked the man directly, "Are you in charge of this shop?"

"Yes, I am." Arthur nodded. "May I help you?"

Charlie Wade pointed to the rude sales executive and said, "You'd better fire that person now. He is a rotten apple that will do no good to your business here."

The person quickly dashed forward and said, "Mr. Walsh, don't listen to his nonsense, he is crazy! He is just a poor bugger who comes to use our WiFi and air conditioning!"

Charlie Wade smiled coyly. "A poor bugger, you say? Just wait and see." He immediately went out of the door and walked into the BMW showroom next door. As soon as he walked into the showroom, he saw the BMW 760, the luxurious model displayed in the center of the vast hall. It was the most expensive model of BMW with the top specs of the 7 series. The BMW 760 was equipped with a 12- cylinder engine which was very powerful and its interior was extremely luxurious. Truth be told, he was being irrational too. How dare those Audi idiots look down on him? Alright, he would buy the top-spec BMW for them to see! I have the money, you fools! He waved at a sales exec and asked, "Do you have ready stock for this 760?"

The young lady was startled. "Sir, this car has just arrived in the showroom today. Are you sure you want to buy it?"

"Yes." Charlie Wade nodded. "I'm absolutely sure, let's go ahead and seal the deal now!"

"Huh? It costs 2.6 million!" The lady was even more stunned. She had been working at the showroom for quite some time now but this was her first time seeing a customer who came in and bought a car on the spot! He was just fooling her, wasn't he?

Charlie Wade said with a smile, "I know, I've seen the price, just tell me if you want to sell it!"

"Err.. yes, yes, of course..." the lady stuttered and slowly smiled gleefully. "Please follow me!" `

In a blink of an eye, his car was swiped, the payment was made, the car key was handed to him, everything went on smoothly and rapidly. When the BMW 760 was driven out of the showroom, everyone in the Audi showroom blinked in astonishment. Charlie Wade drove the BMW to the entrance of the Audi showroom, opened the trunk, folded and stored his scooter inside, then drove away casually. The sales exec who had mocked Charlie Wade stared at the scene in bewilderment. Arthur glared at him and said coldly, "Go to the HR department right away, you're fired!"

"Manager.. .. "Get lost!" The rest of the Audi sales executives were stunned in shock. Who would have thought the man came in a scooter would be so arrogant that he would just buy a 2.6 million dollar car without hesitation? The sales exec who was fired even cursed himself out of regret. Not only did he lose a wealthy customer and his lucrative commission but he had also lost his job! If he could rewrite his past, he would not look down on anyone...

Meanwhile, as Charlie Wade was driving the BMW 760, he slapped his forehead in agitation over his impulsive action. He wasn't frustrated because of the money spent but because of the car's price tag. It was way over his initial budget, how would he explain it to Claire Wilson Wilson? Could he say that the 2.6 million dollars dropped from the sky? It sounded ridiculous, didn't it?

He thought about what he could do until an amazing idea suddenly struck his mind! He drove to the nearby car repair workshop, then spent twenty bucks to replace the BMW 760 logo with a 520. The main differences between these models were their engines and interior layouts. The exterior of a BMW 5 series looked very similar to the 7 Series that it was quite difficult to distinguish between them other than through the rear tail label. The 520 was the lowest spec model in the 5 Series-with an average engine and average technology, it was an all- round average car. On the other hand, the 760 was the highest spec model in the 7 Series with a top-notch engine, awesome maneuver control. It was a very powerful car. Charlie Wade grinned triumphantly as he drove the 760 with the 520 logo at its back. Claire Wilson Wilson didn't know much about cars and wasn't enthusiastic about them. She would buy it without a doubt if he told her this was a BMW 520.

The owner of the workshop smacked his lips in amusement as he watched the BMW leave his shop. He didn't expect the young man to be so mischievous despite his honest look. He must have a cunning plan playing in his mind that he deliberately changed the 760 logo to a 520!

After car shopping, Charlie Wade remembered his second mission-to buy a gift for the opening of Douglas's restaurant at noon today. As Douglas was the one and only classmate who was nice to him during college, he wanted to give a generous gift to him. He drove to a large consignment shop gallery and spent two hundred thousand dollars for an early painting by Rachel Ruysch, the painter from the Dutch Golden Age. Rachel Ruysch's fame was lost to much of the art history world nowadays, so most people wouldn't recognize her paintings. He selected an ancient painting as his gift to Douglas for two reasons-he wanted to give Douglas a meaningful and expensive gift but he didn't want the others to know how much the painting was worth. If someone were to ask about it, he would simply say that it had only cost a few thousand dollars.

After shopping, it was almost noon. He called Claire Wilson Wilson and told her that he would pick her and Loreen up from the Emgrand Group headquarters. Claire Wilson Wilson gaped in surprise when Charlie Wade drove a BMW 5 series! She stared at him, dumbfounded, and asked in shock, "Where did the car come from?"

Charlie Wade said with a warm smile, "I bought it for you!"

"You bought it?" Claire Wilson Wilson was even more surprised. "Where did you get the money?"

"Private savings, of course," Charlie Wade said with an indifferent shrug. "Look, I didn't spend a penny when we got married, and all these years, all my expenses have been covered by you and your family. What's so weird about saving some pocket money?"

"It's your savings, you should use it on yourself. Why did you spend on such an expensive car? It must have cost four hundred thousand dollars, right?"

Charlie Wade chuckled. "You're my wife, what's wrong with me spending my pocket money on you? Do you want me to spend it on my mistress? Besides, you are a director now and people might tease you for not having a car."

Loreen quickly interjected, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you do need a car for your daily commute. This car is quite suitable for you, by the way. Charlie Wade loves you so much, you should be happy!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded and said gratefully, "Thank you, Charlie Wade!"

Charlie Wade grabbed her hand gently and said, "You're welcome, my dear." Then, he urged the ladies, "Let's go to Douglas's restaurant now!"

Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly asked as if a thought suddenly struck her, "Did you buy him a gift?"

"I did," Charlie Wade answered, "I bought him a painting."

"A painting?" Claire Wilson Wilson asked curiously, "What kind of painting?"

"An ancient painting I saw on Antique Street. It's a painting of pomegranate, which symbolizes righteousness. It looked pretty good, so I bought it."

"How much did you buy for?" Several thousand dollars."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded and chuckled, "I think you might have been scammed! You can't buy an authentic painting for that price."

Charlie Wade smiled casually. "Never mind, it's the token of our heart that is the most important."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded in agreement. "You're right, it's our courtesy that is the most important. Let's go!"

Chapter 51

Douglas's restaurant was located at a new redevelopment zone of Aurouss Hill. It was quite a distance from the city and was sparsely populated. Charlie Wade felt a little peculiar as to why Douglas chose to open a restaurant here.

Claire Wilson Wilson told him that several large manufacturing companies would set up their companies and factories in the redevelopment zone including multinational companies like Foxconn, so the area would prosper and flourish in no time.

In other words, it was quite a wise and clever choice for Douglas to open a restaurant here now.

Douglas's restaurant, named The Charm, was at the corner of a wide new street. From the exterior, it looked quite big, occupying two floors. The name of the restaurant suggested an artistic conception.

When Charlie Wade drove the car to the door of the restaurant, there was already a row of cars parked near the entrance and several people were standing in front of a golden BMW, smoking and chatting.

Charlie Wade recognized them. They were his classmates from college, but they weren't close.

Charlie Wade still remembered the guy who seemed to be the head of the group. His name was Clinton Tucker and was a famous rich kid back in college. He had feelings for Claire Wilson Wilson but she never acknowledged his feelings.

At the moment, Clinton was leaning against the golden BMW and accepting the compliments his friends had been showering him. The guys exclaimed in awe as they admired his car, "Clinton, you are such a champ! How long has it been since we've graduated? You're already able to afford a BMW! I think this is 540, right? The top-spec of the 5 Series?"

Clinton laughed pompously and said, "Haha, this 540 is just, what, seven or eight hundred thousand dollars! I use it for my daily commute, it's not a big deal."

"D*mn it! 540? This is the most expensive imported car of the 5 Series!"

"Sigh, I can't even afford the down payment for a BMW 1 Series. Clinton, you are so awesome!"

"Clinton, your ride must be very powerful, right?"

Clinton pasted a smug grin on his face and said, "Nah, it's just nice, the thrust and acceleration is pretty strong, I can't find a car that can go as fast as mine on the street so far."

"It's so cool! If only I can afford a BMW. My girlfriend always looks down on me, criticizing that I can't afford a good car. She's so annoying!"

Suddenly, someone noticed another BMW was coming their way and gasped in surprise. "Wow, another BMW, is this one of our classmates too?"

"Oh, my f*cking god! Is that Charlie Wade the loser?!"

"I think the girl who's sitting in the co-driver's seat is Claire Wilson Wilson! What the f*ck, the loser drives a f*cking BMW! It must be Claire Wilson Wilson's car, not his. D*mn loser!"

Clinton saw Charlie Wade in the car too and his face was covered with a layer of gloom. "Oh, it's the b*stard! D*mn it, he is so lucky!"

Meanwhile, someone asked, "Hey, which series is he driving?"

Charlie Wade drove the car near the crib and reversed into the parking lot. Clinton saw the 520 on the back of the car and smirked contemptuously. "Huh, 520, the lowest model of the 5 series! Only a pretentious loser like him would drive this model!"

The guy next to him nodded and said, "Clinton, your car is the top spec model of the 5 Series while his car is the lowest model of the 5 Series. Your car must be a lot more awesome than his, right?"

Clinton snorted in disdain. "I can buy two of his cars with its price!"

"Clinton, you are the best!"

In the meantime, Charlie Wade had parked the car, Claire Wilson Wilson and Loreen got off and walked towards the restaurant first.

The guys blinked in surprise and greeted them in a stampede. "Wow, it's two of our beauties!"

Chapter 52

Claire Wilson Wilson and Loreen greeted everyone warmly. Clinton gritted his teeth in great dismay as he looked at Claire Wilson Wilson, who was getting more radiant and beautiful.

When they were in college, he desperately tried to win her heart, but she simply ignored him.

However, she chose to marry a deadbeat loser who mooched off her.

D*mn it, why?!

God must have been blind!

He squinted his eyes in agitation and sneered. "Hey, Charlie Wade, you seem to live a good life after marrying Claire Wilson Wilson! You can even drive a BMW now! Did Claire Wilson Wilson buy it for you? You really are the role model of a toyboy!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was annoyed by his remark while Loreen quickly said, "Clinton, you're wrong, it's not Claire Wilson Wilson who bought the car but Charlie Wade who had bought it himself!"

"Wow!" Clinton twitched his lips. "Awesome, you can even afford a BMW 5 Series now!"

Then, he said in a provocative tone, "Hey, the streets are very quiet here and also very straight and wide, how about we have a race down the street to see who can drive faster?"

Charlie Wade frowned in annoyance, getting a little sulky at Clinton's malicious intention.

'Why couldn't you just leave me alone? I don't have anything to do with you,' Charlie Wade thought quietly to himself. 'Besides, whose car is faster than mine? This is BMW 760, the most expensive and fastest BMW model! I'll be branded as a bully if I take up the challenge.'

Clinton assumed Charlie Wade's silence as unease, so he immediately sneered. "Hey, Charlie Wade, why are you still the same coward as you were when you were in college? It won't use much of your fuel! I'll pay you a full tank later."

Loreen grumbled, exasperated. "Hey, Clinton, drop your act! Your car is a 540, Charlie Wade's is a 520, even I know there's a huge gap between the engine power of both cars! Do you think the street race that you suggested is fair?"

Clinton shrugged indifferently. "Well, it depends greatly on the driver's skills! A good car doesn't necessarily mean it can go fast, it depends on the driver's skills and courage. I wonder if Charlie Wade has the courage to take up a challenge? I can understand if he doesn't want to, he's always been a loser who can never do anything. Everyone knows that."

The guys standing around him immediately interjected, "Yes, Clinton's right! Just say it if you're afraid, there's nothing to be ashamed about."

Charlie Wade was not agitated by the scene, instead, he smiled and said, "I don't mind a race, but where's the fun if we just talk about the bet? Let's come up with something fun as a punishment to make it interesting."

"Alright!" Clinton was worried that Charlie Wade would not fall for his trick, so when Charlie Wade made such a suggestion, he blurted excitedly, thinking that Charlie Wade was digging his own grave, "Let's make a bet then—whichever loses the race must kneel on the ground and apologize to the winner. What do you say?"

Charlie Wade shook his head. "Nah, it's such a childish bet. We're all adults, let's think of something more mature."

At this moment, Douglas, donning a smart suit, walked out of the restaurant with a large pile of fireworks. As soon as his sight fell on Charlie Wade, he marched forward ecstatically and said, "Hey Charlie Wade, you're here!"

Charlie Wade nodded with a warm smile and replied, "Douglas, congratulations on the opening of your new restaurant!"

"Thanks, buddy!"

Clinton began again in a cold voice, "Charlie Wade, don't change the subject. Tell me, what's on your mind?"

Douglas asked curiously, "What's up? What are you guys doing?"

Charlie Wade looked at the fireworks in Douglas's arms and asked, "Doug, how long are those firecrackers?"

"Three meters!" Douglas laughed. "It's not cheap, I spent six hundred something dollars on them!"

Charlie Wade nodded as he turned to Clinton and said, "I have an idea. Let's go on with the race and whoever loses, we'll put the fireworks in his car and ignite them. What do you think?"

Chapter 53

Clinton couldn't hold back his thrill when he heard the term of their bet.

His car was the 540 model while Charlie Wade's was the 520. The loser could not possibly win even if he tried.

He was impressed by Charlie Wade's audacity to make such a big bet with him!

His car would be a total waste when the three-meter fireworks were ignited in his car. Everything—the interior, seats, and dashboard—would be ruined in an instant.

Charlie Wade was digging his own grave, so he might as well give him a good push!

Clinton nodded without hesitation and shouted, "Guys, you'll be our witnesses! We'll race to see whose car is faster. Whoever loses, put the fireworks inside his car and ignite it!"

Then, he added, "If anyone dares to violate the bet, his whole family will die!"

The guys standing at the side of the road cheered loudly. The rest of the classmates who were inside the restaurant rushed out after hearing what was going on. About twenty to thirty people gathered around the door, waiting for the race to start.

Everyone thought Charlie Wade was such a fool. How dare he challenge his 520 with Clinton's 540? It was a straight road and didn't have anything to do with skills to win the race—rather, it depended entirely on the performance and engine power of the car.

Even if Schumacher drove the 520, it was impossible for him to overtake the 540!

Unfortunately for Charlie Wade, his brand new BMW 520 would soon be declared total loss!

Claire Wilson Wilson tried to stop Charlie Wade as well. "Charlie Wade, he did it on purpose. Don't be agitated by him, let's not race."

Charlie Wade plastered a warm smile on his face. "Don't worry, my dear, your husband will never lose."

Clinton laughed out loud. "Oh wow, Charlie Wade, I admire your courage! Hahaha! Let's stop the crap and just start our race already!"

"Okay." Charlie Wade nodded. "How do you want to start?"

Clinton pointed to the intersection at the end of the road and said in a cocky voice, "We'll start at the same time, go towards the end of the road then turn around. Whoever crosses the line first wins. What do you say?"

Charlie Wade smiled confidently. "No problem!"

"Alright!" Clinton shrieked excitedly, "Guys, be our witness! Let the race begin!"

He got into his BMW 540 and drove onto the road.

Despite Claire Wilson Wilson's objection, Charlie Wade got into his car as well and drove to Clinton's side, the fronts of the two cars aligned.

One guy stood out and said with a gleeful smile, "I'll count down!"

"Alright!" Clinton shouted, "Let's start when you are ready!"

Charlie Wade nodded and switched on the sport mode of his BMW 760.

The 760 used a 6.6-liter displacement and 585-horsepower engine.

Meanwhile, the 540 next to him used a 3.0-liter displacement and 340-horsepower engine.

After comparison, the displacement of the 540 was twice as small as the 760, and there was a difference of 245 horsepower between two cars! They were incomparable in terms of performance and speed!

However, how would Clinton realize that Charlie Wade's 520 was actually the top-spec 760? The naive and cocky dude still assumed that he was sure to win.

The count-down guy started enthusiastically, "Ready! 3, 2, 1, go!"

As soon as the voice fell, Clinton stepped on the accelerator pedal immediately!

He knew that Charlie Wade was set to lose but he wanted to humiliate him further!

Hence, he wanted to create a huge gap and drive much faster than usual!

However, little did he expect that on his right-hand side, a black shadow would quickly sprint out and leave him far behind in the blink of an eye!

It was Charlie Wade's BMW 520! Clinton could hardly believe what he saw! D*mn it! How could that be! It was impossible!

Chapter 54

Charlie Wade's 520 had a mere 184-horsepower engine while his 540 had 340 horsepower. His car should be much faster and powerful than Charlie Wade's! How could he overtake him so easily?!

Similarly, the people watching the race were dumbfounded!

No one would have thought that Charlie Wade, whom they assumed was bound to lose, would overtake Clinton in a swift motion like an arrow released from the bow! In fact, Charlie Wade's car sped off and left Clinton far behind instantly!

Clinton wasn't even halfway through the race and Charlie Wade had already turned around at the intersection at the end of the road!

When Clinton reached the intersection, Charlie Wade had already driven the car back to the starting line!

Charlie Wade had won!

A landslide victory at that!

After turning around at the intersection, Clinton saw Charlie Wade already at the finish line and he almost fainted!

What was going on!

What the h*ck was going on!

Since when could the BMW 520 surpass the 540 so much?

No, it couldn't be! That b*stard must have modified his car!

D*mn it! How dare he use a modified car to screw him over? D*mn it!

When he finally drove the car back in front of everyone, gritting his teeth in agitation, Charlie Wade was standing with Claire Wilson Wilson, clapping and celebrating his victory.

Everyone was extremely shocked. No one could figure out why Charlie Wade's 520 was so fast!

Clinton stopped the car. He barged out angrily and roared, "D*mn it, Charlie Wade! You modified your car, didn't you! That's why your car is so powerful! You screwed me over with your modified car! It's not fair, this round is void!"

Charlie Wade curled his lips into a smirk and said, "Dude, you said it yourself that skills and courage are more important than the car's specs, did you forget that? Now that you've lost, you want to go back on your words?"

"No, I don't!" A hint of panic flashed across Clinton's expression as he tried to come out with a lame excuse. "You cheated, it's not fair!"

Loreen looked at him contemptuously and said, "Clinton, you're breaking your promise, you disgusting dude! Don't forget what you said earlier— whoever goes back on his bet would have his whole family die!"

"That's right!" The people who were anticipating to see Charlie Wade being humiliated mumbled in the background, irked by Clinton's reneging. They could see that Clinton was a sore loser that dared not honor the bet that he started!

Someone started, "Clinton, you're such a coward, man! Everyone here is a witness that you wanted to do this racing and betting thing with Charlie Wade. You even said that the car's engine has nothing to do with it, whoever breaks his promise, his whole family will die, blah, blah, blah."

Now, you want to break the promise, are you saying that you won't honor your bet even if your family's life is at stake?"

"Yeah!" A girl said, "Clinton, we've always thought that you're very manly and responsible, I didn't know that you're actually a coward who goes back on your words!"

Someone added, "Well, I finally see what kind of person he actually is! He is nothing but a double-standard dog! If Charlie Wade loses, he certainly wouldn't let Charlie Wade off the hook so easily! Now that he's lost, he's starting all this nonsense. Coward!"

Clinton's face turned into an ugly shade of green and red.

To be frank, he had just bought this car for less than a month and he had spent more than seven hundred thousand dollars on it! If he really ignited the 3-meter fireworks inside the car, the car would be doomed!

It was his precious darling! On usual days, he wouldn't even allow any small scratches or dust to appear in any corner of his car, so why would he be willing to throw fireworks into it?

However, from the looks of it, his friends obviously despised him for his shameless and dishonest act. These people would keep themselves away from him if he continued on.

In fact, they might even spread the malicious comments around about how he had gone back on his own words and would never honor his bet after making such a horrible swear.

His heart was shaken by the consequences as his thoughts ran wild.

If he didn't ignite the fireworks, his reputation would be ruined!

Suddenly, Charlie Wade spoke, "Clinton, we're all friends. Some jokes are not meant to be taken seriously. Your car is quite expensive, so if you don't want to do it, then let's just forget it."

Clinton heaved a sigh of relief instantly.

However, the surrounding people started to murmur, "Wow, Charlie Wade is such a gentleman! Clinton is such a jerk, don't you think?"

"Yes! Charlie Wade is giving in simply because Clinton is a sore loser!"

These vicious comments made Clinton's blood boil. He growled angrily, "Who says I'm a sore loser? Where are the fireworks, give it to me! I'll honor my bet right in front of you all!"

A flash of a coy smile appeared from the corner of Charlie Wade's lips...
Chapter 55

Clinton had lost his mind at this moment.

He didn't want to be humiliated by Charlie Wade the loser in front of his friends.

So, he bit his lips, grabbed the fireworks from Douglas, and threw them into his car.

Then, as he picked up a lighter and grabbed the end of the firework, he shouted, "Look here, all of you! I'm not a sore loser! I don't need Charlie Wade's sympathy!"

Then, he lit the lighter and lit the fireworks!

In an instant, the fireworks were ignited and burst into cracks in the car!

At first, flames were burning inside the car, but very soon, the car was filled with thick white smoke. The sound of the constantly exploding fireworks made Clinton's heart bleeding in agony, but it made the onlookers extremely excited and thrilled.

Many of them took out their phones to record the bizarre scene. They planned to post these videos online to share it with the netizens.

The 3-meter fireworks continuously exploded and popped and soon, the cushion seats of the BMW 540 were blown up. The seats were filled with a lot of flammable sponges, very soon, these sponges caught on fire with the help of the ignition by the fireworks.

No one had expected to see the fireworks igniting the car. Furthermore, it was filled with white smoke and impossible to see if it had caught fire.

However, when the explosion of the fireworks was about to end and the smoke slowly dispersed, suddenly, a spark exploded and the entire compartment was caught on fire!

A loud and shrill shriek resonated across the street, Clinton blurted in a panic. "Oh my! F*ck! The fire! Help!"

Initially, he thought that the fireworks would only damage the seats and the interior. He could just fork out tens or even hundreds of thousands to repair the car.

Never did he expect that the fireworks would cause an explosion and set fire to the car!

He shouted desperately, but no one was able to help him put out the fire. He frantically called the firefighters and watched helplessly as the fire slowly burned and swallowed his car whole.

When the fire truck came eventually, what's left on the spot was the frame of the burned BMW 540. One could not even recognize that it was once a BMW based on the frame alone.

Clinton slumped on the ground, helplessly looking at his beloved BMW turn to ashes, his heart was bleeding painfully.

If he had known this would be the outcome, he would never have provoked Charlie Wade and suggested street racing even if someone pointed a gun at his head.

Not only did it soil his reputation, but he had also lost his car in the process...

There was not much of an expression on Douglas's face but he found the whole scene rather amusing and gave Charlie Wade a thumbs up quietly.

Then, he turned to Clinton and said, "Hey, buddy, don't be so sad. It's about time, why don't we go in for dinner?"

After what happened, Clinton wanted to leave immediately, but on second thought, it would mean that Charlie Wade had totally won! He wouldn't have that!

Charlie Wade was the main reason why his car had suffered a total loss. No matter what, he had to revive his reputation by all means!

Hence, he stood up, cleared his throat to calm himself, and said, "There's nothing to be sad of! A bet is a bet, I'm just honoring it, that's all."

The guys that were coaxing him earlier quickly added, "Clinton is so rich, what's a BMW to him anyway?"

"Yes! For him, it's just a normal car for the daily commute!"

They knew about Clinton's arrogant character, so they stopped mentioning the matter in unison and entered the restaurant with Douglas for the opening ceremony.

In the restaurant, several banquet tables had been set up in the main hall. Banners celebrating the reunion and the opening of the restaurant were hung on the small stage in front.

Chapter 56

Many guests gave Douglas their gifts. With the painting in tow, Charlie Wade walked towards Douglas and said, "Congratulations, buddy. This is a little gift from us to celebrate your opening ceremony."

Claire Wilson Wilson said with a smile, "Douglas, congratulations and best wishes on your grand opening. May your business be prosperous with many years to come!"

"Thank you, thank you!" Douglas said hurriedly. Then, he leaned to Charlie Wade's ear and whispered with a mischievous smirk, "Hey, I see that you and our belle have a pretty close relationship, unlike what the rumors say! When do you plan to have a baby?"

Claire Wilson Wilson blushed timidly when she heard the whisper. Charlie Wade answered, "Stop it. If we are pregnant, you'll be the first to know and I expect a gift from you!"

"Of course!" Douglas laughed and nodded. "I'll give the kid a big present!"

At this moment, an average-looking woman with heavy makeup came up to Douglas and asked, "Douglas, who are they?"

"This is my college buddy, Charlie Wade! This is Claire Wilson Wilson, our class belle and also Charlie Wade's wife."

After introducing them, Douglas introduced the woman next to him, "This is my fiancée, Lily Lewis."

"Oh? He is the deadbea..."

Lily blurted, but soon realized that she had misspoken. Hence, she cleared her throat and said with a smile, "Douglas talks about you all the time, both of you really are a match made in heaven!"

Charlie Wade ignored her remark and handed the painting to Lily. "This is our little token of affection."

Lily smiled. "Oh, you didn't have to!"

Despite what she said, she hurriedly accepted the large gift box.

Charlie Wade replied, "Go along with your business, we'll entertain ourselves."

"Okay," Douglas said apologetically, "I'm sorry, Charlie Wade, I have to greet the other friends too."

As soon as Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson left, Lily quickly opened the gift box and found that there was a scroll in it. She frowned in dismay and asked, "What is this? What did your friend give us?"

Douglas answered, "Can't you see it? It's a painting!"

"Duh!" Lily clicked her tongue in disdain. She opened the scroll and sneered as she looked at it, "What the h*ll is this! Some old and rotten painting, I bet it's only worth one or two hundred dollars."

Douglas said in a stern voice, "You can't put a price on everything! It's their sincerity and goodwill that is most important."

"Argh, enough with your holy speech! I warn you, don't keep in touch with these kinds of friends! They have the nerve to give us such a sh*tty little drawing that's not even enough to cover their bills!"

Douglas's face darkened in irritation. "Lily, are you really that much of a snob?"

Lily growled indignantly, "Douglas Adams, how could you say that? I'm a snob? If I really am a snob, why would I be with you, pauper! Don't you forget that my dad invested most of the money in this restaurant!"

Douglas blinked awkwardly, somewhat speechless and embarrassed.

Clinton walked towards them at this moment. He seemed to be feeling much better after the car burning incident, his pompous and cocky expression reappearing on his face again.

He handed over a thick envelope and said flatly, "Doug, I don't know what to give you for the grand opening, so here you are, some 'financial assistance.'"

Lily thanked him profusely while accepting the envelope. She squeezed the envelope and estimated that it was at least eight or ten thousand dollars in cash, so she put on a coy smile and said, "Thank you so much!"

Clinton waved his hand indifferently and asked, "I see that Charlie Wade gave you something just now, what is it?"

Lily snorted contemptuously. "Uh, a painting, it must be from one of the junkyard sales or flea markets, some one or two hundred dollar rubbish!"

Clinton smirked. "Once a loser, always a loser!"

Chapter 57

Charlie Wade, Claire Wilson Wilson, and Loreen sat together at the same table. Clinton joined them and sat beside Loreen.

He asked Loreen with a wide smile as soon as he sat down, "Loreen, I heard that you've come to Aurouss Hilll to work for Emgrand Group, is that true?"

Loreen nodded. "Yes, I just started."

Clinton smiled even wider. "What a coincidence! My dad is the deputy general manager of a department in Emgrand! I'll ask him to look after you at work."

Many people exclaimed in surprise, "Wow, Clinton, your dad is the deputy general manager of Emgrand Group?"

"Yup!" Clinton nodded proudly. "He was promoted last year."

Someone quickly said in a flattering tone, "The annual salary of a deputy general manager must be several million dollars, right? That's amazing! It's no wonder your family is so rich!"

Clinton laughed and said, "That's just the wages. My dad has quite a vast authority and a lot of side incomes. You guys must have heard about the luxurious hotel project from Emgrand Group, right? When the project is done, my dad can earn at least ten to twenty million."

A guy sitting opposite him hurriedly asked, "Clinton, I want to join Emgrand Group so badly but I never did get any news from them after submitting my resume several times. Could you please talk to your dad and see if he could perhaps make an internal recommendation?"

Clinton nodded and said casually, "Sure! Forward me your resume, I'll talk to my dad about it."

Charlie Wade couldn't help but frown. He didn't know that Clinton's father held such a high position in Emgrand Group. It was quite surprising news.

This was getting more and more interesting. He would send Doris a message later, telling her to fire Clinton's father.

He asked tentatively, "Clinton, since your father is so powerful in Emgrand Group, why doesn't he get you in?"

Clinton sneered disdainfully. "What the h*ll do you know, loser? If I join Emgrand Group, I can't hide my relationship with my father and people will keep their eyes on me every time. It's no fun."

Then, he shifted into a smug position and said, "So, it never crossed my mind to join the group. I own a company that supplies building materials now, so I can get a deal with the group through my dad and provide them building materials!"

"D*mn!" Someone exclaimed, "You must be making a lot of money by then?"

Clinton snorted. "Nah, it's nothing worth mentioning, maybe several million in a year."

Then, he turned to Charlie Wade and asked in a pretentious tone, "Charlie Wade, what do you work as right now? Don't tell me you've been doing household chores ever since you 'married' Claire Wilson Wilson, huh?"

Everyone on the table laughed at his remark.

Charlie Wade simply shrugged and said flatly, "Yes, in addition to doing laundry and cooking, I can send my wife to and back from work and give her massages every day. It's fun and enjoyable."

Clinton almost exploded inside like his car. How dare this shameless b*stard be so proud and casual about it?

He succumbed his anger, gritted his teeth, and said, "Charlie Wade, I didn't know that you were such a happy moocher!"

"So?" Charlie Wade answered smugly, "I didn't steal, I didn't rob, I mooch off her with household chores, why can't I be happy about it?"

The people that were laughing suddenly fell silent, dumbstruck.

They hadn't seen such a shameless person before!

The most important point was that they were envious of him!

After all, Claire Wilson Wilson is so beautiful and elegant. It was a dream of many to be able to mooch off such a goddess-like woman!

They were so jealous and resentful!

What's wrong with being a live-in husband if there was a chance to be with a beauty like Claire Wilson Wilson? It could be considered a success too!

Clinton almost choked on his own blood after Charlie Wade's remark.

At this moment, Lily, Douglas's fiancée, took the stage. She thanked everyone with a welcoming smile and said, "I'm so happy that you've all come to celebrate our grand opening today and for the gifts that you've brought us. Both Douglas and I are very moved and grateful. In order to express our gratitude, we've decided to announce the details of the gifts as a token of appreciation!"

It was a rather natural procedure to announce the pricing details of the gifts during an opening ceremony.

Chapter 58

Douglas had no intention to do such a thing, but Lily was overpowering his decision and he had no choice but to compromise to her shenanigans.

However, the attendees were not surprised at all. When she announced how much each gift was worth, they could judge how well or bad their old classmates were doing after graduation. After all, comparison and jealousy were human nature.

Then, Lily started the announcement.

"Thank you, Jack Brown, for your one thousand dollars!"

"Thank you, Bella Walsh, for the pair of gold ingots!"

"Thank you, Ola Rivers, for the beautiful vase!"

"Thank you, Clinton Tucker, for your ten thousand dollars!"

The first few gifts, whether money or physical items, were mostly worth around one thousand dollars. Suddenly, when it came to Clinton, his ten thousand dollar monetary gift sent a shock wave across the restaurant.

Ten thousand dollars were a big amount for the opening ceremony!

Many people looked at Clinton with amazement and praised his generosity.

Clinton had the layer of smugness on his face. It seemed that he had easily become the icon of admiration among his old classmates.

Then, Lily continued, "Thank you, Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson, for the old painting!"

Sinister laughter echoed across the main hall upon her announcement!

Old painting? Was it even worth a hundred dollars?

Those two were a little too stingy, weren't they? Douglas had prepared such a lavish banquet for the opening ceremony as well as the class reunion that cost a few hundred dollars per person, how dare they come with an old painting? How could they be so shameless?

Clinton started sneering. "Charlie Wade, you can afford a BMW 520 and its modification, why are you giving such a tattered thing on your old pal's opening day?"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly. "You don't even know its origin, why do you say it is tattered?"

"Don't think I don't know what you're thinking about. You've bought the fake and nasty stuff to pass off as good stuff so we can't figure out how much it costs!"

Then, he continued in an interrogative tone, "Honestly, how much did that old painting cost you? One hundred? Or eighty dollars?"

The faint smile remained on Charlie Wade's face. "The painting is more valuable than the total amount of all the gifts today!"

"Hahahaha!" Clinton laughed wickedly. "Did you rehearse the bragging part before you came here? I gave them ten thousand dollars and we have about twenty-something classmates here. If each of them has given Douglas one thousand dollars, it would add up to twenty-something thousand dollars. Do you mean to say that the painting is worth more than thirty thousand?"

"More than that."

"Hahaha!"

Suddenly, thunderous laughter amplified inside the restaurant.

All of them thought that Charlie Wade was too ignorant and pompous!

How dare he boast about the price of that and what's more, in front of everyone? An ancient painting that was worth tens of thousands of dollars? Was he trying to fool them all?

Lily, who was standing on the stage, was annoyed and agitated by Charlie Wade's reaction. She curiously asked, "Mr. Charlie Wade, I wonder whose painting is it you've given us that is so worthy?"

Charlie Wade answered in a monotonous voice, "A painter from the Dutch Golden Age, not very famous."

Lily chuckled and said, "Oh, what a coincidence. My father is a renowned cultural relic appraiser, his name is Lawson Lewis, who knows his antique very well. I believe you have heard of his name before."

Loreen exclaimed in surprise, "Lawson Lewis? The Lawson Lewis, the antique expert? I remember him, I saw him on TV! He's your father?"

Lily smiled. "Yes, he is my father. He's upstairs right now. Why don't I ask him to come down and appraise this ancient painting that Charlie Wade has given us?"

Clinton stood up and uttered loudly, "Yes, please! Lily, please invite your father down and get him to help us identify the painting. If the value of that painting really exceeds the amount of all the gifts today, I, Clinton Tucker, will eat this table right away!"

Chapter 59

When everyone heard that Lily's father was a cultural relic appraiser, they immediately cast a contemptuous and sympathetic gaze at Charlie Wade.

All of them shared the same thought—Charlie Wade was so unlucky!

His show-off moment was interrupted by the presence of an expert! It was like a slap right across his own face!

It would be so humiliating if Lawson Lewis, Lily's father, came downstairs!

Claire Wilson Wilson blushed timidly. She leaned closer to Charlie Wade and whispered, "So many people are watching you. You'd better not be stubborn, it would be so embarrassing otherwise!"

On their way here, Charlie Wade did tell her about the painting he bought but he said that it didn't cost him a lot of money. Right now, however, he changed his attitude and claimed that it was very expensive. His sudden change of reaction made Claire Wilson Wilson a little doubtful and skeptical, figuring that Charlie Wade might have lied for the sake of his reputation.

On the contrary, Charlie Wade was indifferent. He blurted, "If you don't believe me, let the expert do his job then."

Then, he added, "Oh yes, by the way, everyone, remember what Clinton said, okay? He is so stubborn that he wants to bet with me again and this time, he's going to eat the table."

Clinton gritted his teeth in agony when the image of his burning car reappeared in his mind. He growled angrily, "Charlie Wade, you f*cking snobbish dude! The racing thing was a trap and I've paid my price for it! I'll do the same this time! If that painting of yours is really worth that much, I'll eat this table right away! If it's worthless crap, would you eat it?"

Charlie Wade nodded casually. "Alright, if it's worthless, I'll eat it."

Although the painting was not a famous painting, it was indeed the work of the Dutch Golden Age painter Rachel Ruysch. Moreover, the antique store that he bought the painting from was a popular antique store that had franchises all over the country with genuine guarantees. Hence, he was certain that the painting was authentic.

Claire Wilson Wilson wanted to stop Charlie Wade, but he had already agreed to the bet before she was able to respond, so she could only sigh in desperation.

Loreen, on the other hand, was feeling rather odd and peculiar. Why did Charlie Wade seem so confident?

When she recalled the incidents that happened around him lately, she realized that the man was very mysterious and enigmatic. She was still very shocked after what happened in Heaven Springs the other day. The infamous Don Albertt bowed at him like a lowly servant! Why? She hadn't figured out yet.

One thing she was certain—it must have something to do with his identity!

Clinton quickly blurted, seeing his chance to bounce back, "Okay, again, all of you be our witness! Let's bring Lily's father down and help us appraise the painting!"

As everyone focused their gazes on Lily, she took out her phone and made a call right away, "Dad, could you come downstairs for a while, please? Douglas's friend gave us a painting and we want you to appraise it."

A minute later, an old man slowly walked down the stairs from the second floor.

He was Lawson Lewis, the renowned cultural relic appraiser in Aurouss Hilll.

Today was the opening ceremony of his daughter and future son-in-law's restaurant. He had invited an old friend for a simple gathering in a private room upstairs. When he heard that there was an ancient painting that needed to be appraised, he hurried down to take a look, a result of his work habits.

He walked swiftly onto the stage and Lily quickly handed him the gift box containing the painting. "Dad, please appraise this painting. Someone claimed that it is worth tens of thousands of dollars!"

She shifted her disdainful gaze at Charlie Wade while saying that.

Who would have believed that a deadbeat loser who mooched off his wife could afford such a pricey painting?

It must be fake!

Frankly, the rest of the attendees shared the same thought.

No one believed that Charlie Wade could actually buy such an expensive painting as a gift.

Under everyone's curious glances, Lawson took the gift box, took out the scroll, and opened it carefully.

The old painting was a little yellowish and it didn't seem very extravagant or impressive. Many who liked to judge someone or something by the look said instantly, "Duh, it doesn't look that expensive!"

"Yeah! I bet it's only worth fifty dollars."

"I think the box is more expensive than the painting!"

Lawson studied the painting gingerly for a few minutes before he raised his head and asked with a smile, "Did you say this painting is a gift from Douglas's friend?"

Chapter 60

"Yes," Lily answered. "They've been buddies since college!"

As she was saying this, in her mind, she was thinking, 'Charlie Wade, you and Douglas are good buddies but you have the nerve to give him a worthless piece of sh*t, let my dad expose and humiliate you in front of everyone!'

However, beyond everyone's expectation, Lawson said with a grateful sigh, "Indeed, it seems that he is a good friend! Why would one give such a precious gift otherwise?"

Everyone was dumbfounded upon the statement!

What did he mean by 'precious'? Was he saying that the yellowish drawing was expensive?

Exasperated, Clinton cursed inside his head, 'F*ck you! I can go to Antique Street, buy a fake painting, pee on it to make it look old and yellowish, and it will still look more authentic than that piece of sh*t!'

Lawson cleared his throat and said in an earnest tone, "This is the authentic work of Rachel Ruysch, a painter from the Dutch Golden Age. Although she is not as famous nowadays, she was one of the most outstanding painters that ever existed in the world and the first female member of the Confrerie Pictura."

Then, he looked back at the picture and said, "Hmm, I estimate that the market value for this painting is approximately two hundred thousand dollars."

"What? Two hundred thousand dollars?" Lily was dumbfounded, her eyes were as big as golf balls. The painting that she assumed was less than a hundred dollars was so valuable!

Douglas was taken by surprise as well. He turned to Charlie Wade and stuttered, "Hey, Charlie Wade, why do you give me something so expensive? I can't accept this, it's too valuable..."

Charlie Wade said with a smile, "Doug, it's just my token of affection, let's not put a price on everything."

Douglas was very touched and grateful. He had never thought that his good buddy in college would be so generous with him!

On the other hand, Clinton's face was as pale as a sheet of paper.

What was going on? That crappy piece of drawing was worth two hundred thousand? D*mn it, it was cheating!

The rest of the people were equally shocked.

No one dared to look down upon Charlie Wade anymore!

After all, he was someone who was so generous that he would buy a painting priced at two hundred thousand dollars as a gift!

Everyone was envious of Douglas for receiving such an expensive gift at the opening of his restaurant! He had hit the jackpot!

Meanwhile, Lily was also shocked. She instantly changed her opinion of Charlie Wade!

She knew her father's appraisal level very well. If her father claimed that the painting was worth two hundred thousand, then it must be true!

She couldn't help but look at Charlie Wade with awe, her eyes sparkling when she looked at him. She was very impressed by his generosity!

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned in confusion and asked, "Charlie Wade, how much did you actually spend on that painting?"

Charlie Wade smiled and said in a low voice, "Honestly, it didn't cost me much. It was an acquaintance who sold me the painting. He got it at a low price from a collector, so the price he offered me was low too."

Claire Wilson Wilson pursed her lips in disbelief. "Is that so? He was willing to sell a two hundred thousand dollar painting at only a several thousand? It sounds like a free lunch to me."

"Not everyone takes money so seriously. I'm one of them. Otherwise, I wouldn't have given the painting to Douglas, would I?"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded lightly. Charlie Wade was right. He wouldn't have given such an expressive present if he put money before friendship. It seemed that her futile husband was quite charismatic and charming!

At this moment, Charlie Wade stood up and looked at the flustered Clinton with a coy smile. "So, Mr. Clinton, how would you like the table to be prepared? Do you want to gnaw at it directly or should I chop it into pieces for you?"

Chapter 61

At this moment, Clinton felt like he wanted to die right there and then!

D*mn it!

What was going on!

He couldn't catch a break, could he?

How did he get repeatedly humiliated by Charlie Wade the loser?

Never did he expect that the painting would turn out to be authentic and worth two hundred thousand dollars!

He had already given his word, what should he do now? Did he really have to eat the table?

That was absolutely impossible!

He could buy a new car after his car perished in the fire, but how could he eat a table?

He would really die if he did!

The crowd teased him, "Hey, Clinton, you said it yourself that you will eat the table if you lose. Do you want to break your promise again this time?"

"That's right! Everyone is still waiting for your freak show!"

Someone slapped on the table hard. "Hey, please start your act now!"

Clinton's face turned into an ugly shade of red and green. He blurted sheepishly, "We're all friends, do you guys really have to kick me when I'm already down?"

"Do we?" Charlie Wade chuckled. "You started it and they are just urging you to fulfill your promise, so why do you sound so bitter?"

Clinton hung his head down. He knew that he couldn't be easily spared this time, so he suppressed his anger and mumbled in a timid voice, "I'm sorry, I was being impulsive and agitated. Charlie Wade, I'm sorry for looking down upon you. Guys, I'm sorry, I hope you can forgive me."

Everyone was extremely startled to listen to Clinton's sudden change of tone. Was he really the arrogant Clinton Tucker? None of them could remember when Clinton was so chicken before!

But Clinton had no choice.

What else could he do?

If he did not concede, he would have to eat the table, which was absolutely impossible.

If he shamelessly broke his promise, it would irritate the crowd and they had thousands of ways to humiliate and ridicule him then.

Therefore, being humble and timid was the only way out in order to dismiss the ridiculous bet.

Sure enough, as soon as he apologized, someone started, "Wow, it's not easy for Clinton Tucker to apologize. Besides, you can't really force him to eat the table, can you? Let's forget about it, shall we?"

"Yes, he's right! Forget about the table, we're still waiting for our lunch! Let's get started!"

Charlie Wade knew that it was impossible for Clinton to eat the table, but he needed to have his a*s kicked for being so cocky and pompous. His goal had been achieved now that Clinton apologized.

However, there was a limit to his cockiness. This lesson was not enough for him to learn from his mistake. It was just the beginning, something more miserable and devastating was waiting for him later.

Hence, Charlie Wade started, "Since Clinton has apologized, I'll forget about the table-eating bet. It is Douglas's restaurant's opening ceremony today, let's not steal his limelight!"

Clinton heaved a sigh of relief. On the other hand, his blood was boiling within him and he wanted to kill Charlie Wade to relieve his resentment.

Charlie Wade didn't plan to let him off the hook so easily either. He sent a message to Doris, "Do we have a deputy general manager with the last name Tucker? His son is Clinton Tucker. Please check on this for me."

Very soon, he received a reply from Doris, "Yes, Joseph Tucker. What's the matter, Chairman? Any orders?"

"Fire him right away."

"On it!"

Clinton didn't know that his father had been expelled from Emgrand Group and was going through the employee termination procedure right now.

He could finally feel relieved after getting over the bet, but he was secretly anticipating how he could take revenge on Charlie Wade!

Chapter 62

More importantly, he had to find a way to clean up his reputation among his former collegemates. Otherwise, how could he show off in front of his friends in the future after being humiliated by Charlie Wade twice?

Just when he was pondering about how to restore his dignity, there was a sudden commotion at the main entrance of the restaurant.

The noise attracted everyone's attention and they looked towards the door.

A group of youngsters with malicious looks barged into the restaurant. They had tattoos all over their limbs and body, holding baseball bats, galvanized water pipes, and the like in their hands. They didn't look like they were here for a meal at all.

Everyone was extremely shocked upon the horrid sight, especially Douglas and Lily, their eyes full of fear.

A man with the visible scar on his face was obviously the head of the group. He stepped forward, scanned the hall, then pointed at Douglas with an evil grin. "Boss, why didn't you come and say hi before the opening ceremony? Are we invisible to you?"

Blood drained from Lily's face. She squeezed a bitter smile and said, "What... what do you want from us?"

Before the opening, Lily heard that there were protection racketeers lurking in this neighborhood. The previous owner of this restaurant was said to have been harassed by these gangsters that he went bankrupt and had to sell this shop.

Despite this, Lily decided to rent the place at a low price and manage it as she felt that these people wouldn't dare to be so pompous as to ask money from them in broad daylight.

However, never did she expect these gangsters to appear at their opening ceremony!

Scarface grinned. "If you want to do business here, you'd have to be on good terms with our boss, Bill the Bear. We don't want much, just give us a 20% share of your profits and you'll be under our protection forever. You can just call us if anything happens in the future."

Then, Scarface continued in a cold voice, "However, if you don't agree, I'm sorry to say that we'll make sure your restaurant won't be able to operate starting today!"

Douglas and Lily sucked in a nervous breath upon hearing the fee.

Twenty percent share!

It was a freaking daylight robbery, period!

"I'll give you a minute to think about it."

Suddenly, Clinton saw it as a chance to make himself a hero!

He stood up immediately and said, "Who's your boss?"

Scarface grinned viciously. "Who are you? Why do I have to tell you that?"

Clinton sneered. "I'll tell you this, my father knows people from the legal forces and the underworld in Aurouss Hill! I'll call the boss of the developer and ask right now!"

Scarface's expression shifted a little. He looked at him cautiously and asked, "You know him?"

"Of course!" Clinton shouted arrogantly, "Get lost if you don't want trouble!"

Scarface frowned in agitation. "Well, if you can find someone whom I can talk to, I'll leave this place alone. But you can't, I'll have your a*s whooped right now!"

Lily glanced at Clinton nervously and said, "Clinton, please make the call, please!"

Clinton smiled faintly and said, "Don't worry, I'll call the boss right now!"

Emgrand Group had some projects here in the redevelopment zone, which was under Clinton's father's jurisdiction. Hence, the head of the developer mingled frequently with his father and that explained why he was familiar with the man too.

Clinton retrieved his phone, called a number, and said in an arrogant tone, "Mr. Lee, why are there a bunch of protection racketeers in the redevelopment zone? They even came to my friend's restaurant!"

The voice on the other end of the line stuttered and said, "Oh, Clinton, what's going on?"

"A friend of mine opened a restaurant in the redevelopment zone, and some gangsters have barged in to ask for a protection fee. I'd like to ask if you can handle it for me."

The man on the other side of the line was silent for a moment before speaking in a low voice, "I'm sorry, Clinton, it's not for me to handle those things you've mentioned. I'm in a meeting now, bye."

Before Clinton could say anything, the man on the other end ended the call.

Clinton was utterly stunned.

What happened? Mr. Lee used to curry favor with his father in order to get more investment from Emgrand Group, why did he shut him up so quickly now?

What Clinton didn't know was that the news that his father was fired from Emgrand Group had circulated throughout the business circle in Aurouss Hill!

Chapter 63

Clinton was extremely dumbfounded by the abrupt reaction from Mr. Lee and was very annoyed, but as his friends were still watching him, he gritted his teeth and searched for another contact.

This time, he called the director of the district police branch.

He remembered that this person also had a close relationship with his father.

When his call was answered, he immediately started, "Hi, Mr. Kent, it's me, Clinton, Clinton Tucker. I have some problems in the redevelopment zone..."

He illustrated the matter all over again.

The man at the other end of the line cleared his throat awkwardly and said, "Clinton, he is Bill's guy, and Bill is Don Albertt's guy, I think you'd better not get involved in this matter."

Clinton asked in confusion, "Don't you want to do something about it?"

"You should know Don Albertt's status in this city, it's not within my control."

Clinton was a little flustered by the response that he said, sounding panicked, "Can't you do me a favor and talk to him for a bit?"

The guy chuckled. "I'm sorry but my hands are tied."

Clinton was agitated and growled, "Mr. Kent, I remember that you still hope for that police car donation to your branch from Emgrand Group, am I correct? Don't you want it anymore?"

The man huffed in disgust, refusing to be pretentiously polite anymore, and sneered coldly. "Clinton Tucker, don't you know that your father has been fired from Emgrand Group?"

"Fired?! When?!"

"Half an hour ago!"

He added before ending the call, "Think it through before calling anyone again."

Scarface's lips twitched in amusement when he saw Clinton's dumbstruck face and smirked, "Why? You can't find anyone?"

Clinton was about to say something when Scarface swung his arm and slapped his face hard! It was such an abrupt slap that he couldn't withstand its force and he fell back, knocking down the tables and chairs!

Everyone gaped in shock and their faces as pale as snow! However, no one dared to stop the scary Scarface.

"How dare you slap me?"

Clinton covered his face which was painted with a layer of hatred and resentment.

"So what?"

Scarface giggled wickedly and kicked Clinton's stomach, making him fall to the floor. Then, he jumped on him and beat him violently!

Clinton howled in pain when he was beaten but no one came forward to help him.

Soon, Clinton's face was as swollen as a pig and was drenched with blood. The scene was absurdly horrifying.

Frightened, Clinton wailed and pleaded, "Boss, boss! Please, I'm sorry, please stop!"

"Sorry?" Scarface snorted coldly, "How worthy is your apology anyway? After how you treat me, how do you expect me to survive in the underworld if I don't beat you to death!"

Then, he urged his gang and shouted, "D*mn it, go, kick his a*s!"

The group of youngsters surged forward, punching and kicking Clinton!

Some even smashed him with a baseball bat. It was too tragic and horrible that everyone covered their eyes in horror.

As Clinton was being beaten, Scarface walked up to Douglas and threatened, "Since your friend is so cocky towards me, I'm increasing the original 20% to 40%! If you don't agree with my terms, you'll face the same fate as your friend does!"

Douglas was panicked, but if he gave them the 40% share, it would be like working for them!

So, he mustered the residue courage that he had and said, "If you want 40%, you'd better just kill me now!"

Scarface frowned and blurted, "Alright! Suit yourself!"

Then, he produced a bright, sharp knife from his pocket.

Everyone was horrified by the scene and the ladies even screamed in panic.

Seeing that Scarface was slowly moving towards Douglas, Charlie Wade blurted, "Put the knife down!"

Scarface turned his head and cursed, exasperated, "Who the f*ck wants to die this time?"

Chapter 64

As Scarface turned his head and stumbled upon Charlie Wade, he was puzzled at first, and then suddenly, his expression had a drastic change! He was extremely shocked and quickly knelt on the floor!

Before anyone could regain their composure, Scarface threw away the knife, started slapping himself, and cried, "Mr. Wade, I'm so sorry! I didn't know you were here, I'm terribly sorry!"

Charlie Wade was taken aback by the sudden shift in reaction. "Do you know me?"

Scarface nodded profusely and said, "Yes, Mr. Wade, Bill is my boss, I saw you the other day at Heaven Springs..."

Charlie Wade was suddenly enlightened.

Interesting.

It was Bill, Don Albertt's man, who had tormented Gerald and Harold at the Heaven Springs the other day. This man was Bill's guy.

No wonder he was so afraid of him.

Even Don Albertt's legs went jelly when he saw Charlie Wade, let alone the guy of his guy...

Everyone was shocked by the scene! Lily had her mouth agape as well!

They couldn't understand why a fierce gangster, who just beat up Clinton, would kneel down in front of Charlie Wade? Moreover, he seemed like he was very scared of him!

Claire Wilson Wilson was equally dumbfounded. She tugged Charlie Wade's arm and asked, "What's going on? Do you know him?"

Charlie Wade quickly shook his head, worrying that she might misunderstand the scenario. "No! I don't know him!"

Scarface immediately interjected, "No, he doesn't know me! I don't know him, he doesn't know me! It's just that Mr. Wade's reputation precedes him and I'm honored to meet him..."

The flattery was a perfect ten!

He was honored to meet him? Who? Charlie Wade?

No one could accept this reality, it was too magical and strange!

Scarface frantically turned to Douglas and muttered, "As you are Mr. Wade's friend, you'll have my full protection from now on and I won't charge you any fee! If anything happens, I'll have your back!"

Astounding awe echoed the restaurant like a shock wave upon Scarface's remark!

Lily was so excited she almost cried. The stark contrast between Clinton and Charlie Wade was so thrilling and amusing!

Because of Charlie Wade, not only could she keep the 40% share but they were even receiving full protection for free since Scarface wanted to curry favor with Charlie Wade!

They could finally operate their business with peace of mind!

Charlie Wade was their savior!

Douglas was very grateful too. He held Charlie Wade's hands and said sincerely, "Charlie Wade, thank you so so much."

Charlie Wade smiled gently. "You're welcome, I'm just lending a hand."

Scarface looked at Clinton, who was unconscious after the vicious beating, and said with worry, "Mr. Wade, I'm sorry for beating up your friend..."

Charlie Wade said flatly, "It's ok, he's not my friend, he's just an acquaintance."

Then, he added, "Send him to the hospital. Don't disturb the opening ceremony here."

Scarface nodded immediately. "Don't worry, we'll take him to the hospital right away! Mr. Wade, please proceed with the party! Excuse us!"

He turned and urged his men to pick up the unconscious Clinton and ran out the door.

When they had gone, everyone turned their gaze at Charlie Wade, the original disdain was replaced by surprise, then with admiration.

No one knew why Charlie Wade had such an influence and power out of sudden. It seemed that the guy had become someone else overnight!

As the gathering proceeded, many people came forward to butter Charlie Wade up, including Lily, who had always treated Charlie Wade with contempt since the beginning.

Now, Lily worshipped Charlie Wade like a godlike deity. She expressed her gratitude profusely and even offered him a lifetime free meal in their restaurant.

Charlie Wade didn't mind any of this. His intention was simple—he wanted to lend a hand to solve a problem for his friend, Douglas, and that was all.

However, in the eyes of others, his doings today had a layer of extraordinary mystery and magic in it!

Everyone wanted to know what actually happened to the deadbeat loser?

Chapter 65

Claire Wilson Wilson was very curious about the series of strange events that had happened today.

First was the car racing incident. Why was Charlie Wade's BMW 520 twice as fast as Clinton's 540?

Second, the ancient painting that was worth hundreds of thousands of dollars!

Third, how and why did Charlie Wade know the people of the underworld? Not to mention how polite and respectful they were towards him.

On their way home, Charlie Wade provided some explanation about the whole string of events.

Firstly, the BMW 520 was a test drive car that was modified by the showroom in order to make buyers mistakenly believe that the model was very powerful.

Claire Wilson Wilson didn't know much about cars, so she believed him.

Secondly, he explained about the painting when they were at the restaurant. He had bought it at a low price from an acquaintance out of courtesy and he gave it to Douglas as a gift as a token of affection.

However, the matter about Scarface was a bit tricky. He had to find a solid and believable explanation to disclose their connection since Claire Wilson Wilson saw it firsthand how diligent Scarface was towards him.

Lastly, he could only claim that Scarface's brother was a relative of a friend that they had met at a gathering before. He recognized him at the restaurant, so he showed respect on behalf of the mutual friend.

Initially, Claire Wilson Wilson felt something was off and didn't want to buy it, but since Charlie Wade was very serious and earnest, she knew that that was all the answers she was going to get and so, decided to stop questioning him.

Meanwhile, Loreen had been observing Charlie Wade all along. The more she watched him, the more she felt that Charlie Wade was not that simple of a person, so she decided to keep an eye on him to find out his secrets!

Clinton had been terribly beaten. He was in a coma when he was sent to the hospital.

His father was fired from Emgrand Group and he was found to have abused his power for personal gain. He was apprehended by the police and was sued by Emgrand Group's legal department.

In short, the Tucker family was done.

However, as Clinton and his family were not well-known in Aurouss Hilll's social circle, no one cared about them much.

Instead, everyone's attention was focused on the mysterious rich man on the Internet and the man who booked the Sky Garden of Shangri-La.

They wanted to know who they were and if they were the same person!

Soon, the day of their wedding anniversary arrived.

Way before the big day, Charlie Wade had told Claire Wilson Wilson that he wanted to give her a surprise. Therefore, before they walked out the door, Charlie Wade urged her to put on the elegant white evening dress.

Claire Wilson Wilson reluctantly agreed and mumbled, "We're just going out for dinner, why do I have to put on such formal dress? Even if it is our wedding anniversary today, do I really have to dress up so lavishly?"

Charlie Wade smiled warmly and said, "It's our third anniversary, I want to make it formal and exclusive. I've already booked the place for our dinner, I'm sure you'll be very happy about my arrangements for tonight."

He had kept the secret of tonight's surprise so perfectly that Claire Wilson Wilson didn't have any doubts about it.

Claire Wilson Wilson smiled gently. She was genuinely touched.

They had spent the previous two anniversaries at home, having casual dinner. Charlie Wade was broke at the time, but despite the casualness, he would prepare some small gifts for her.

However, this year was very different. Charlie Wade was unusually mysterious that even at this moment, she couldn't tell what was playing in her husband's mind about tonight's event.

After a while, they got changed, hailed a taxi, and went all the way to Shangri-La.

Charlie Wade stepped out of the car. When he looked at Claire Wilson Wilson standing next to him, warmth and passion radiated from his eyes.

"Claire Wilson Wilson, we are here to celebrate our third anniversary tonight. What do you think?"

Chapter 66

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned in confusion. Was this where Charlie Wade had booked their anniversary dinner tonight?

She couldn't help but ask suspiciously, "You're not bluffing, are you?"

Charlie Wade chuckled gleefully. "Of course, not!"

Then, he continued, "I made a reservation a few days ago. Let's go in and check if you don't believe me."

Claire Wilson Wilson shook her head. Charlie Wade had never once deceived her after being married for three years, especially not on such an important day as today. So she said, "Nah, I believe you."

She tilted her head curiously and asked, "Did you reserve the seat in the Sky Garden? There's some VIP guy who booked the whole place for today, right?"

Charlie Wade quickly explained, "The seat I reserved is next to the Sky Garden, it happens to have a view of the inside of the garden. We can peep to see who on earth booked the place later! What do you think?"

Claire Wilson Wilson giggled. "I'm not such a busybody like you are!"

Then, they walked into Shangri-La Hotel.

As when they were waiting for the elevator, an ear-piercing shriek echoed into their ears. "Hey, Claire Wilson Wilson, why are you here?!"

Claire Wilson Wilson lifted her glance and saw a pair of a young couple walking towards them.

The man was donning a luxurious suit, which was obviously a look of a rich young man from a wealthy family, while the woman wore branded attire from head to toe with beautiful makeup. Her eyes were filled with arrogance and hubris that reflected on her apparel to be tacky and kitsch.

Claire Wilson Wilson knew the woman. She was Julie Downs, her roommate when she was in college, though they were in different classes.

Although they shared the same dorm, Claire Wilson Wilson and Julie were not very close mainly because Julie was a very prideful and jealous woman.

She always thought that Claire Wilson Wilson did not deserve to be crowned as the belle of the college instead of her. However, the fact was that she paled in comparison to Claire Wilson Wilson in terms of appearance, body figure, temperament, and personality.

Credit where credit was due, this woman had a strong point—that was, in flirting and hooking up with guys. Rumors had it that she had hooked up with many wealthy guys that those men paid for all her expenses during her four years in college.

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned in irritation, but she still politely greeted them as they walked close out of courtesy. "Julie, long time no see. My husband and I are having dinner here, what about you?"

Julie gasped in a surprised tone. "Wow, so are we! What a coincidence!"

She managed a curious tone and asked, "By the way, which suite did you book? The normal suite, the premium suite, or the luxury?"

Claire Wilson Wilson knew nothing about Charlie Wade's arrangement, so she answered honestly, "I'm not sure, it was my husband who made the reservation."

At this moment, Julie finally noticed Charlie Wade, who had been standing quietly by Claire Wilson Wilson's side. She covered her mouth and giggled as she said sarcastically, "Oh, so this is your husband, Charlie Wade, huh? He was famous as a deadbeat loser when we were in college!"

Her contemptuous sneer was particularly harsh and unpleasant.

Claire Wilson Wilson blushed in embarrassment.

Julie composed herself and hurriedly said apologetically, "Ah, I'm so sorry, I'm too straightforward and outspoken, I hope you don't mind..."

Charlie Wade frowned in annoyance. This Julie seemed like a nasty person!
Chapter 67

Julie didn't notice how Claire Wilson Wilson's expression suddenly changed. She pulled the man next to her with a smug smile on her face and said, "Let me introduce you to my husband, Kyle!"

Then, she complimented, "He is the young master of the Sullivan family and also the heir apparent to his family's fortunes worth hundreds of millions!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded politely.

Charlie Wade, on the other hand, glared at the young couple in annoyance.

He brought his wife here for their wedding anniversary, who knew such an annoying blockhead would appear in their way!

Julie continued in her smug tone, "Oh, by the way, my husband is a platinum member, so he has a lot of benefits and privileges here. I guess the best Charlie Wade could get is the normal suite, am I right? Why don't I let Kyle upgrade you guys to the luxury suite?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was about to reject her offer when Charlie Wade chuckled and said, "Well, I booked quite a nice place, so thanks but no thanks."

He had booked the entire Sky Garden to make up a grand wedding for his dear wife, why was she so proud of being a mere platinum member?

Besides, his family owned the entire Shangri-La hotel chain. It would be a disgrace to his status if he took his wife to the luxury suite for platinum members.

There was an obvious expression of displeasure on Julie's face as she sneered, "Claire Wilson Wilson, just look at your rude and ungrateful husband. How do you normally lecture him?"

She then wrapped her arms around Kyle's, nestled her head on his shoulder, and said with a coy smile, "With that attitude, Charlie Wade doesn't deserve to be at such an elegant and lavish occasion. I suggest that you let my husband guide him about aristocratic etiquette and how to carry himself. After all, my husband has spent some time studying in the UK."

Kyle glanced disdainfully at Charlie Wade and smirked. "Dear, please don't assign me such an impossible task. Mr... Mr. Wade here is so maverick and unique, it is a tough row to hoe."

Julie nodded in agreement. She then turned to Claire Wilson Wilson and sighed, "In my opinion, I think you'd better divorce him as soon as possible. I feel so sorry that you'd have to spend the rest of your life with a loser like Charlie Wade!"

Julie blurted her remark in a straightforward manner without considering Claire Wilson Wilson's feelings at all.

Claire Wilson Wilson pursed her lips indignantly and growled, "What do you mean by that? You don't have the right to comment on my husband."

Julie muffled her coy giggle and said, "I've despised you ever since we were in college. If it wasn't because of your family's wealth, do you think you deserve to be crowned as the belle of the college? Am I not allowed to talk about it now that you're married to such a loser?"

Charlie Wade was in great dismay when he heard it.

Julie Downs had been a promiscuous and profane girl since she was in college. She hooked up with rich men, regardless of their age, using her young body and beautiful face. She was lucky to marry a wealthy man as she had always dreamed of, did she really think of herself as a wealthy young mistress?

Moreover, how dare she ridicule his wife?

She was digging her own grave!

A burst of anger surged inside him.

He took out his phone and texted Isaac, the general manager of Shangri-La. "I want all the information of Julie Downs, the daughter-in-law of the Sullivan family in Aurouss Hill! Three minutes!"

Seeing Charlie Wade looking down at his phone quietly, Julie smirked. "Just look at your deadbeat husband. I'm mocking you but he doesn't even dare to speak up and defend you. He really is a joke, hahaha!"

Right at this moment, Charlie Wade received Isaac's reply. "Young Master, I've sent you the information about Julie Downs."

Charlie Wade looked at the content of the long text message, then he looked up at Julie and Kyle with an amused smile and asked, "I have some interesting information here, do you want to hear it?"

Julie frowned and asked, "What information?"

Charlie Wade uttered loudly, "Julie Downs, 26 years old, graduated from Aurous University."

Chapter 68

"During your freshman year, according to records, you checked into different hotel rooms no less than a hundred times with eight different men, including Brett Cooley, Jack Pierce, and Austin Cannon."

Julie's face turned pale, her eyes wide and her mouth agape in extreme shock. She blurted angrily, "What the h*ll are you talking about! I'll sue you for slander!"

On the other hand, deep frowning wrinkles started forming on Kyle's forehead. He was obviously shocked and traumatized.

Charlie Wade started again, "Wow, this one is amazing. There were a few times that you checked in a hotel room with two men, Ben Decker and Jay Decker, at the same time. They were brothers, weren't they? Were you in a threesome?"

Julie shrieked in horror, "Shut up! Shut up! It's all bullsh*t!"

Charlie Wade ignored her and continued, "Also, during your sophomore year, you had a sugar daddy. He was the vice president of Herolutions Enterprise and paid you thirty thousand per month for three years. During this period of time, you had four abortions, you did all of them at the Aurous Women's Hospital. During the last abortion, the doctor declared you infertile."

He looked at Kyle and asked curiously, "Mr. Sullivan, if I'm not mistaken, you guys still don't have a child together, am I right?"

Kyle's face twisted in a disdainful grimace. He glared at Julie and shouted, "What is this?!"

Cold sweat drenched Julie's face. She said in a panic, "Kyle, don't listen to him. I was a virgin when I got with you! You know that!"

Charlie Wade managed a knowing smile. "Relax, more exciting stories coming up next!"

Julie tugged Kyle's arm, trying to drag him away as she said in a panic, "Stop it! Let's go, dear! We're going to be late for dinner!"

Kyle stood as still as a rock. He frowned and said to Charlie Wade in a monotonous voice, "What else?"

Charlie Wade smiled. "Listen carefully. After Julie graduated from college, she underwent a total body makeover at a plastic surgery clinic. A month later, she worked at Sullivan Group. Then, she got to know you, Mr. Sullivan, by scratching your Bentley."

Charlie Wade looked up at Kyle. "Am I right?"

Kyle was astounded.

Yes, he was right, it was all true facts. In other words, did it mean that those other things were facts too?

Julie was shaking tremendously, her face ghastly pale. She pleaded, "Charlie Wade, please, I beg you, please stop!"

Charlie Wade smirked contemptuously. "You're begging me now, huh? I'm sorry, it's too late!"

Then, he continued reading the text, "Half a month after knowing Kyle Sullivan, during a business trip to Lancaster, she visited a plastic surgery clinic there to perform a hymen reconstruction surgery. After the trip, she officially became Kyle Sullivan's girlfriend and they got married half a year later."

Julie's legs went jelly. She crouched down to the floor and stared blankly in a daze. She didn't know how Charlie Wade would know all her secrets and expose them all right in front of her husband!

Kyle's face turned into an ugly shade of red. He glared at Julie and shouted, "So you lied to me that night. You claimed that it was your first time, but it was actually your hundredth or thousandth or millionth time, wasn't it?"

Julie quickly denied, "No, I didn't lie. Kyle, you are my first!"

Charlie Wade smiled viciously. "Don't worry, I can get you her medical records for when she had undergone the hymen repair surgery. You'll know when you check with the hospital."

Kyle grabbed Julie by the collar and slapped her hard. "You still don't want to tell me the truth, do you? Wait until I verify all of it. I'll kick you out of my house, along with your dad, your mom, and your brother! I can tell you now, your brother is fired from my company! I'll make sure you and your family wind up on the streets!"

Julie burst into tears. She knelt on the floor and cried, "Dear, please don't be angry. I'm sorry, they were all mistakes I made when I was young and ignorant. After knowing you, I've repented for my mistakes. All I want to do is spend the rest of my life with you!"

Charlie Wade smirked as he added, "Don't trust her. After marrying you, she had a few breakup sex sessions with her sugar daddy. Once, he even recorded a video as a memento. I can forward the video to you if you want!"

Chapter 69

Kyle's face was as green and ugly as it could get, suppressing his outburst.

He finally felt how it was like to be cheated on by his wife repeatedly!

Eventually, he couldn't hold it anymore and started slapping Julie hard while cursing, "You b*tch! You've been lying to me all along! You cheated! I'm going to kill you, sl*t! I'm going to kill you!"

Julie screamed in agony and wailed loudly, her hair flying all over the place.

Kyle shouted while slapping her, "I want a divorce right now! You won't get a penny from me! Otherwise, I'll get someone to make your parents and your brother perish from this world!"

Julie was completely devastated!

She tried, by all means, to marry into the Sullivan family and she finally succeeded. She was dreaming of becoming a rich wife for the rest of her life, but today, her dream was totally shattered!

It was all because of Charlie Wade Wade!

She hated Charlie Wade so much, but Charlie Wade simply grinned contemptuously and said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Dear, let them fight each other. Let's go."

He took Claire Wilson Wilson's hand and walked to the elevator.

Claire Wilson Wilson's sparkling eyes trembled slightly, she was still recovering from the utmost shock that she couldn't regain her composure. How did Charlie Wade know so much about Julie's dark secrets?

She turned to Charlie Wade and asked in disbelief, "You had someone investigate her for you, right?"

"No! Who am I to do something so impossible?" Charlie Wade laughed sheepishly and continued, "There's a friend who was hurt by Julie. He's been digging and collecting Julie's secrets for all these years. I never knew that it can come in handy at times like this."

Charlie Wade pulled her hand and walked into the elevator. As he pressed the top floor button, Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly asked, "Charlie Wade, did you press the wrong floor? The top floor is the Sky Garden, isn't it?"

Charlie Wade smiled gently. "Dear, there's exactly where we're going—the Sky Garden on the top floor!"

Claire Wilson Wilson stood in a daze, feeling as if she had been struck by lightning!

Sky Garden? How was it possible?!

Everyone in Aurouss Hilll knew that the mysterious man had made a reservation for the entire Sky Garden tonight!

It was impossible for Charlie Wade to book a place at the Sky Garden for their third wedding anniversary even if he had superpowers!

The next moment, a bold idea suddenly appeared in Claire Wilson Wilson's mind—was Charlie Wade the mysterious man?!

It sounded like a ridiculous fantasy, but there were no other possible explanations other than this!

As the idea was rummaging her mind, she looked at Charlie Wade and asked, "Hey, did you book the Sky Garden?"

"Yes! This is the surprise I want to give you! I want to give you a lavish wedding that no one can imitate!"

"Huh?"

Claire Wilson Wilson felt like her brain had been toasted!

If this was really the big surprise Charlie Wade had prepared for her, she would be the happiest woman in Aurouss Hilll tonight!

Claire Wilson Wilson couldn't catch her breath. She was panting nervously, her brain was blank, and she couldn't think of anything.

Chapter 70

Just as turbulent waves were tossing in her confused mind, the elevator reached the top floor of Shangri-La Hotel.

A waiter standing next to the door bowed respectfully and said with a smile, "Ms. Wilson, on behalf of our Shangri-La Hotel, I would like to extend my heartfelt blessings to you and Mr. Wade for your wedding anniversary tonight."

Charlie Wade waved his hand and said, "Okay, you can go off now!"

All the staff nodded and left.

In an instant, only Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade were left in the empty Sky Garden.

Claire Wilson Wilson felt like she was in the middle of a sweet dream.

In front of her was a vast space with luxurious decoration.

The gorgeous crystal chandelier was hanging on the ceiling, casting bright and clear sparkles that emphasized the elegant and serene ambiance of the lavish Sky Garden.

The soft sound of piano masterpieces echoed across the Sky Garden that slowly warmed the heart of its listeners, easing away the tension and anger within them.

Fresh and rare flowers delivered directly by air from abroad decorated the walkway and the entire hall, exuding bursts of divine and aromatic fragrance that somehow shifted people's mood. It was an unspeakably quiet and beautiful moment.

At this moment, as the playlist of the piano changed, the most classic wedding march, Midsummer Night's Dream, was suddenly played. The melodious voice resonated on and on.

While Claire Wilson Wilson was admiring the dazzling scenery, Charlie Wade had put on a smart suit and was walking towards her with a bouquet of flowers.

Every step he took, a series of thumping gorgeous red hearts wafted up from the floor made of crystal glass. It was as if the red hearts were dancing along with the tempo of the music, providing a very powerful visual impact.

Outside the Sky Garden, many people stretched their necks, trying to see what was happening inside through the crystal glass exterior wall and floor.

Despite the curiosity, all the glass in the Sky Garden had a blurring effect to a certain extent that the onlookers could only see a young couple inside, the beautiful flowers that decorated the hall, and also the red hearts that kept popping up from the floor.

Many women sighed dreamily. "Wow, it's so romantic! I've never seen such a romantic scene in my life..."

"If I were that woman, I would die right now!"

"Gosh! The man looks like the mysterious rich man on the Internet!"

"Too bad I can't see his face! Argh! This is so tormenting!"

The onlookers were completely immersed in the endless romantic scene happening in the Sky Garden.

Thousands of people who were watching right now couldn't help but feel envious at this moment. Their eyes were filled with blessings as they kept their eyes at the grand garden that seemed to be suspended in the air.

Many women burst into tears as the uncontrollable and overwhelming envy flooded their hearts. They were so jealous as they wished they were the bride of the lavish wedding tonight.

Although they couldn't see the faces of the couple tonight, they could feel that the bride was extremely happy and full of love.

Inside the garden, Charlie Wade was walking slowly towards Claire Wilson Wilson and stood in front of her. He pointed at the night view of Aurouss Hilll outside the window and said with affection, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I love you! I'm sorry for not being able to give you a wedding back then. I hope you like this wedding where there's only the two of us!"

Claire Wilson Wilson regained her composure from all the distracting features that distracted her. She covered her mouth in awe, tears flooding her eyes that they flowed down her radiant cheeks and fell to the floor like pearls.

Claire Wilson Wilson couldn't resist the vigorous waves in her heart any longer. She threw herself into Charlie Wade's arms and said in her sobbing voice, "I like it! I like it very much! Thank you, Charlie Wade! Thank you!"

She cried even harder after saying that. At this moment, she felt that all the grievances she had suffered in the past three years were worth it!

No matter how Charlie Wade had done all this, at least for now, she was very happy. In fact, she was the happiest woman in Aurouss Hilll tonight!
Chapter 71

The whole Aurouss Hilll was watching the extremely lavish wedding through the hazy frosted crystal glass.

While they were extremely envious of the couple and their setting, they couldn't help but wonder who the couple who held their wedding in the Sky Garden was.

Moreover, they were so mysterious that there were only two of them at their wedding. Not a single relative nor friend was present, not even a witness!

On the crystal stage, Charlie Wade took Claire Wilson Wilson's hand and retrieved the jade necklace he had prepared for a long time.

"Claire Wilson Wilson, this is my wedding anniversary gift for you. I hope you like it!"

Claire Wilson Wilson stared at the crystal-clear jade necklace and exclaimed, "This...isn't this the prized possession of Emerald Court? Charlie Wade, how and where did you get this?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was astonished when she said it.

Was Charlie Wade the mysterious billionaire in the video?

How else could he have had this jade necklace?

But...

But it didn't make any sense!

She was very clear about Charlie Wade, how could he be the mysterious man?

The word wealthy didn't exist in him, period!

Charlie Wade could see the surprise and bewilderment in Claire Wilson Wilson's eyes. He had the sudden urge to reveal himself to her, to tell her who he really was. He wanted to tell her so badly that he was the descendant of the Wade family in Eastcliff, the heir of trillions in family fortune.

However, a horrid and serious thought struck his mind.

He had no clue about the Wade family's current situation!

In his memory, he remembered meeting his uncles when he was young—that was to say that his father was not the only son of his grandfather.

If so, his uncles must have their offsprings too. These people would inevitably regard him as a thorn in their fleashes in terms of succession of inheritance.

If he hastily disclosed his identity before he got hold of any information about his family and the ability to protect himself and Claire Wilson Wilson, it would put Claire Wilson Wilson's life in danger!

Inheritance disputes and the ploys involved were very treacherous and cruel, and he didn't want his beloved wife to face such risks because of him.

Hence, he quickly came up with a lie. "This necklace may look exactly like the prized treasure of Emerald Court, but it's actually a counterfeit that I paid someone to make. It is made of good jade material, but it is different from the one at Emerald Court, this necklace only costs me tens of thousands of dollars in total."

He looked at her anxiously and asked, "Claire Wilson Wilson, do you still like it now that you know it's a fake?"

Claire Wilson Wilson heaved a heavy sigh of relief!

It made so much sense now!

She quickly smiled gleefully and said, "Dumdum, of course, I like it! You've done so much for me, I'm very touched!"

Charlie Wade was relieved and hurriedly put the jade necklace on for Claire Wilson Wilson.

He looked at Claire Wilson Wilson earnestly and uttered, "Claire Wilson Wilson, we've been married for three years but I've given you nothing but trouble and humiliation, I'm sorry. But from now on, I can assure you that no one can bully you anymore!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded, feeling very glad and happy. At this moment, she realized that her husband was finally going to straighten his back and be a man!

After the wedding, Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson left quietly from the exclusive elevator in the Sky Garden.

The onlookers were dumbfounded and bewildered.

Did they leave just like that?

After showing so much romantic affection to the world, they simply left?
Chapter 72

Overnight, the grand wedding at the Sky Garden became the hottest topic in the city.

However, the bride and groom of the wedding remained unknown.

Charlie Wade drove the modified BMW 520 and went home with Claire Wilson Wilson.

Claire Wilson Wilson was still immersed in great happiness, almost as if she was laying in the center of cloud nine. She couldn't help but ask, "How did you book the Sky Garden? They've never allowed that ever."

Charlie Wade smiled coyly and said, "Frankly, the senior executive of Shangri-La is a good friend of mine back at the orphanage. We used to share our hard and difficult times together and I always shared half of my steamed bun with him, so when I asked him for a favor, he said ok."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded lightly. "Oh, I see. Why haven't I heard about this before?"

"I have a lot of friends at the orphanage, I might need at least three days to talk about all of them. I've never mentioned anything because I thought you didn't like listening to it."

Claire Wilson Wilson uttered in an earnest tone, "You are my husband, of course I'm interested in your past. I'm very curious."

Charlie Wade laughed gladly. "Okay then, I'll tell you more!"

"Alright!"

Back in their block, Charlie Wade parked the car downstairs.

Just when they got off the car, they bumped into Claire Wilson Wilson's parents walking back from outside.

Elaine Ma, Claire Wilson Wilson's mother, shrieked when she saw them, "Claire Wilson Wilson, where did the BMW come from?"

Jacob Wilson, Claire Wilson Wilson's father, had sparkles in his eyes when he saw the car!

"Wow! BMW! Claire Wilson Wilson, it's this your new car? You're quite a big spender huh!"

Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly clarified, "Mom, Dad, I didn't buy the car, it's Charlie Wade's."

"Charlie Wade?" Jacob Wilson frowned, curious. He turned to Charlie Wade and asked, "Where did you get the money to buy this car? You used Claire Wilson Wilson's money, didn't you?"

Charlie Wade waved his hands frantically. "No, Dad, I bought this with my private stash..."

Elaine Ma pulled Jacob Wilson and circled the car to take a better look, and then pouted, "Huh! You're staying under our roof and we pay for your food, but you don't even know to flatter us when you have the money to buy a BMW! You ungrateful b*stard!"

Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly said, "Mom, don't say that about Charlie Wade..."

There was a hint of jealousy in Jacob Wilson's tone as he said, "Huh, he even bought a 520, does he think he deserves such a good car? I think the 3 Series is enough for him to show off!"

Elaine Ma said coldly, "I'm telling you, your dad doesn't even own a car yet! At his age, you'd better let him enjoy life more. Otherwise, it will be too late!"

Then, she added with a demanding tone, "Why don't we do this? Give the car to your dad as a gift and let him use it!"

Claire Wilson Wilson looked at Charlie Wade as she pursed her lips and asked, "Charlie Wade, what do you think?"

In Charlie Wade's thought, he didn't mind the idea but the car was not a 520, it was a 760!

Frankly speaking, he thought BMW 760 was a waste for his father-in-law as he was a henpecked husband and was not on the favored side of Lady Wilson too...

As he thought of this, he quickly came up with a flattering excuse. "Hmm, Dad, this is a BMW 520, the cheapest model of the 5 Series that they've named the beggar version of the Series. I'm afraid that people might tease you when they see you drive it."

Elaine Ma frowned in displeasure. "Why? You don't want to give it to us, do you?"

Charlie Wade waved his hands hurriedly. "Oh, no, no! I don't mean that! It's just that I can't let you drive such a cheap model. What about this? Let Claire Wilson Wilson use this car and I'll buy you a 530. It's one class higher than 520 and it'll boost your reputation more, don't you think?"

Elaine Ma frowned again, curious this time. "You still have money to buy 530?"

"Yes, I still have some money in hand since I only made a down payment for this car. Don't worry, I'll bring you to the showroom for car shopping tomorrow morning!"

Chapter 73

Wide and radiant smiles were plastered on the in-laws' faces when Charlie Wade said that he would buy a better car for them tomorrow.

What Jacob Wilson didn't realize was that he had just missed out on the top-spec 760.

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little worried. After returning to their room and washing up, she quietly asked, "Do you really still have the money to buy a new car? I have some secret stash here, take it tomorrow!"

Charlie Wade waved his hands quickly. "No, I don't need your money. I still have some, it's enough."

Claire Wilson Wilson mumbled apologetically, "I'm so sorry, I didn't know my dad and mom would be like this..."

"What are you talking about? Your parents are my parents too. We are a family, I'm glad to be able to shower them with gifts once in a while."

Charlie Wade lay on his tiny bed on the floor and said with a gentle smile, "Don't worry, I'll go and get a new car for dad tomorrow morning!"

Claire Wilson Wilson smiled warmly. "Thank you, Charlie Wade!"

Charlie Wade chuckled. "The pleasure is mine, my dear!"

Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly blushed when she asked, "Will you be cold at night if you sleep on the floor?"

Charlie Wade blurted without a second thought, "No, it's not cold at all. Don't worry, I'm alright!"

Claire Wilson Wilson smacked her lips in annoyance. "Then go ahead and sleep! Dumdum!"

She finally had the urge to ask him to sleep in the bed, but the dumdum didn't take her cue...

Suddenly, Charlie Wade realized that he seemed to have accidentally missed her point...

So he frantically uttered, "Uh, dear, it's so cold, I'm shivering now!"

Claire Wilson Wilson huffed in irritation, "If it's cold, add a quilt!"

"Sigh..."

Charlie Wade felt extremely regretful and depressed.

After a short while, he tried again, "My dear, I think it's getting colder now, I'm so cold!"

Claire Wilson Wilson kicked off a quilt to the floor and said angrily, "How cold can it be in the summer night? If you're still cold, I'll get a jacket for you!"

Charlie Wade was so disappointed at himself and cursed himself quietly. It seemed that his wife would not let him go to bed tonight!

The next morning, Claire Wilson Wilson got ready to go to work early in the morning.

Charlie Wade made breakfast for her. He passed the car keys to her and said, "Drive to the office today."

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little uncertain. "It's your car. Can I use it?"

"Why not? You're my wife. Besides, I bought the car for you and not for myself."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded gently and said as she took the keys from him. "Thank you!"

Jacob Wilson was very envious as he watched their interaction and said, "Charlie Wade, you do remember about buying me a car today, don't you?"

"Of course!" Charlie Wade blurted quickly. "I'll go and buy it right away. Just wait for me to drive the brand new car home!"

Jacob Wilson was grinning from ear to ear. "Then I'll wait at home! BMW 530, you promised it yourself, don't get the wrong car!"

Charlie Wade chuckled in amusement and said with a nod, "Dad, don't worry, I'll buy you a BMW 530 today!"

He went downstairs with his wife. He opened the trunk of the BMW 760 and took his little electric scooter out.

Claire Wilson Wilson drove the car to work while Charlie Wade rode his little e-bike and went to the BMW showroom again.

He passed by the Audi showroom as he was approaching his destination.

Chapter 74

The people in the Audi showroom spotted Charlie Wade as soon as he was getting closer and closer. One of the salespersons blurted, "F*ck, it's the e-bike guy who bought the BMW 760!"

"D*mn, I'm going to stop him and persuade him to buy the top-spec Audi A8 even if I have to lick his boots!"

"Yes!"

All of a sudden, a large number of Audi salesmen rushed out and surrounded him.

"Sir! Please come and see the latest top-spec Audi A8 in our showroom!"

"Sir! Our A8 is very powerful. It uses a W12 engine, which is much better than the BMW 760 V12 engine!"

Charlie Wade arched his eyebrows curiously. "Really? Is it that great?"

"Yes!" An Audi salesman marched forward hurriedly and started, "Boss, let me explain to you. Our W12 engine is divided into two sides and one side can be turned off as you please. It is more fuel-efficient when you turn off half of the twelve cylinders!"

Charlie Wade growled contemptuously, "Are you out of your mind? Why would I buy a twelve-cylinder car and turn off six cylinders for the sake of fuel saving? I can just buy a six-cylinder car!"

"Erm... Ah... I..."

The salesman's face turned into an embarrassing shade of red when he realized that he had misspoken.

Charlie Wade smirked at them and said, "I know what you're thinking. You are frustrated that I bought a BMW 760 next door yesterday and you want me as your customer today no matter what, am I right?"

The group of salespersons nodded profusely.

Charlie Wade snorted. "Let me tell you, it's too late! You ignored me and treated me indifferently yesterday. Today, I'm way out of your league!"

Honk honk!

He pressed the horn of his little scooter and said, "Get out of my way, I would like to go to the BMW showroom to buy a car!"

The BMW salespersons rushed out of their door and shouted, "You Audi losers, what do you think you're doing? Are you trying to steal our customers? Don't you see he doesn't even want to listen to you? Get out of his way! If you block his way again, I'll call the reporters and expose you!"

The Audi salespersons sighed regretfully and walked away in despair.

The manager of the BMW showroom came to greet Charlie Wade in person and asked respectfully, "Good morning, Mr. Wade, would you like to buy another car today?"

Charlie Wade nodded and said, "Do you have a BMW 530? Cash and carry!"

"Yes! We do!"

The manager was over the moon.

A 760 yesterday, a 530 today, he was indeed a generous customer!

He hurriedly said, "Sir, please follow me, I'll show you the car."

Charlie Wade hummed and followed him into the showroom.

There was a BMW 530 in the exhibition hall. Charlie Wade sat in to feel it and realized that although the exterior was very similar to the 7 Series, it was a lot worse inside. However, it was considered luxurious enough for his aging and pompous father-in-law.

He was about to take out his card and go on with the transaction when he heard a familiar voice coming from nearby, "Oh my dear, I really like the BMW X6! Could you buy me one, please?"

Charlie Wade, who was sitting in the car, looked towards the direction of the voice when he saw Lily, Douglas's fiancée, wrapping her arms around a stranger's arm and speaking in a coy and intimate manner.

Charlie Wade frowned in agitation and thought, 'Lily called the man 'dear'. Is this woman cheating on Douglas?'

Suddenly, a surge of fury wrath slowly burned inside him. He hated unfaithful women who had no moral boundaries.

Moreover, Douglas was working hard to build his career while this woman was cheating on him! She was so disgusting!

He listened to the man teasing her with a lustful face, "If I buy you the X6 now, how would you explain this to Douglas?"

"Douglas?" Lily blurted with a look of disgust. "Don't mention his name, he is nothing but a loser! He is not rich, he has no skills, he has nothing! I wouldn't be with him if not for his honest and down-to-earth personality!"

Chapter 75

The man grinned. He pinched Lily's face and said, "You're my woman now, why do you still want to be with him? I don't allow other men to touch my woman!"

Lily hurriedly persuaded with a coy voice, "Don't worry, Jerome, I haven't let him touch me since we got together. He's so filthy! My body is always yours and only yours, it's exclusively for you alone!"

Then, she continued, "Actually, I wanted to break up with him as soon as the restaurant started operating, but I didn't know that the loser has a friend who is quite resourceful and helped me get rid of Scarface at the redevelopment zone. Wait until the business is on track—I'll ditch him and kick him out of the restaurant then!"

Jerome Hunt laughed pompously and said, "It's just Scarface! If you'd told me earlier, all I need is a phone call and his boss would come to kneel and apologize to you directly!"

Lily giggled delightedly and said, "Oh, Jerome, you're my hero! It was quite urgent at that time, so I didn't manage to contact you. Besides, Douglas was there, I was afraid that you'd be annoyed to see him!"

Jerome pinched her waist seductively and laughed. "You're such a good girl!"

Lily rubbed her breast against his arms like a cat rubbing itself on a pillar and said, "Jerome, could you buy me the BMW X6 now? Please..."

Jerome smiled haughtily and said, "Later, baby. We'll go to my place first, let me feed you several rounds. Then, you go ditch that loser and I'll buy you the X6 tomorrow!"

Lily shrieked joyfully, "Jerome, is it true? Will you really buy me X6 tomorrow?"

"When have I ever lied to you?" Jerome grinned. "But you need to make me happy first!"

Lily looked at him coquettishly and said, "You naughty dog! Don't you worry, you'll be in cloud nine when we get to your place later!"

Then, they turned and left the BMW showroom.

Charlie Wade was extremely agitated by the disgusting couple. Immediately, he took out his phone and called Douglas.

Douglas's surprised voice could be heard on the line as soon as the call was answered. "Charlie Wade, how are you? Why did you call me so suddenly?"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "I just want to say hello. What are you doing now?"

"I'm busy at my restaurant, of course. Lunch hour is around the corner and the customers will come anytime soon, so I'm here to lend a hand."

"Do you go to your restaurant every day?"

"Of course! We're just starting our business and there are many matters for me to handle. Besides, more than half of the restaurant's capital was Lily's father's money. They will look down on me if I don't work harder."

"How much did you put in the restaurant?"

"A hundred grand. That is all my savings since graduation."

"Who is the owner of the restaurant?"

"Me, of course!"

"Was your name written in the business registration?"

"No, Lily's father's name is used to register our business. Lily and I are not married yet, so it's not nice to put in my name since he invested the majority of the capital."

Then, Douglas continued, "But her father promised that he will change the ownership of the restaurant under my name once Lily and I get married."

Charlie Wade shook his head in dismay as he listened to Douglas's remark. This fool didn't even know that he was taken advantage of!

Lily treated him like a slave. She was letting him get busy with the restaurant's affairs while she cheated on him with a rich man and was even thinking of kicking him out of the game!

Now, Douglas had no legal attachment to the restaurant since it was not registered under his name. Once Lily betrayed him, he would get nothing! Not only would all his hard work be in vain but he also wouldn't even get back his hundred grand!

Charlie Wade was getting more and more disgusted with Lily. He asked Douglas directly, "Where is Lily now?"

Chapter 76

Douglas said with a gentle laugh, "She has gone to the hair salon. Why?"

Charlie Wade smirked. "Hair salon? Was that what she told you?"

"Yes!"

"And you believe her?"

Douglas asked in a peculiar tone, "Charlie Wade, what are you trying to say? Just spill it out, stop beating around the bush."

Charlie Wade gave a hum and started, "Alright. I saw Lily at the BMW showroom with a man named Jerome Hunt. They were cuddling and hugging, and she even called the man 'dear'. I think she's cheating on you."

"No way!" Douglas blurted loudly. "Lily is not like that at all! Did you get the wrong person?"

Charlie Wade said firmly, "No, I didn't. It was her."

"No! I don't believe it!" Douglas growled coldly, "Charlie Wade, we are good buddies but you can't say bad things about my fiancée just because we're close!"

"Douglas, wake up! Your fiancée is cheating on you with another man and that piece of crap Jerome even promised to buy her a BMW X6. They've gone back to his house now and she's going to break up with you tonight! As your old friend, I advise you to be prepared!"

Without waiting for Douglas's response, Charlie Wade continued, "You'd better move that painting that I gave you first. Keep it somewhere safe, it will be the capital for you to start over. But if you still don't buy what I'm saying, then my hands are tied."

Douglas was stomping his feet anxiously. He muttered, "Charlie Wade, stop your nonsense! Lily is my fiancée. I know her, she'd never betray me! I'll kick your a*s if you badmouth her again!"

Charlie Wade frowned in dismay and said flatly, "Alright then. As your friend, I've already given you the heads-up that I should. I can't do anything if you don't believe me. Good luck!"

Charlie Wade ended the call right away.

He shook his head indignantly as he cursed to himself. "That fool, blinded by love! I should've recorded a video and sent it to him when I had the chance!"

At this moment, the manager of the BMW showroom knocked on the window and asked, "Sir, how do you feel about the car? Do you like it?"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Yes, it's very good, I'll take this one. Get me a new one from the warehouse."

A wide grin was plastered on the manager's face. "Yes, certainly! Please give me a minute, I'll have someone drive the car out front."

Soon, a black BMW 530 stopped at the entrance of the showroom, driven by a salesman. Charlie Wade retrieved his card, swiped and paid for the car, then folded his little scooter, stuffed it into the trunk, and drove away casually.

On his way back, his in-laws kept calling to ask when he would be back.

Charlie Wade found out that his in-laws were waiting outside the gate when he arrived home.

Excited and nervous grins appeared on their faces when they saw Charlie Wade drive back a BMW 530.

Jacob Wilson circled the car several times and sighed pleasantly, "Wow, it is a very nice car! Very nice indeed! Wow, I never would have dared imagine that I would ever drive a BMW in my life!"

Charlie Wade said with a smile, "Dad, maybe you can even drive a Rolls-Royce in the future, who knows?"

Jacob Wilson chuckled delightedly. "Well, my hope is on you and Claire Wilson Wilson!"

Elaine Ma was extremely happy too. Her eyes were becoming more gentle and kind when she looked at Charlie Wade.

Jacob Wilson hopped into the car and drove around the neighborhood. When he got back, he said, "It's a very nice car and it's very comfortable too, but the car is slightly too long for me to maneuver. Charlie Wade, be my driver in the afternoon. I have some business to attend to and also an appointment to see something."

Charlie Wade nodded. "Alright, Dad."

Elaine Ma added gleefully, "Be my driver too, and send me to have afternoon tea with my friends! I want to show them that I have someone to chauffeur me in a BMW!"

"Alright, Mom!"

Chapter 77

After lunch, Jacob Wilson, Charlie Wade's father-in-law, was already dressed up neatly and urging Charlie Wade, "Hey, hurry up and get ready, we're going to drive in our new car and go to Antique Street. A shop there has imported a Tang Dynasty kiln vase and I want to check it out."

Charlie Wade persuaded, "Dad, you're starting with the antique thing again? We don't have much money and it's a lavish hobby to have right now."

Jacob Wilson didn't have money-earning skills but he dreamed a lot about get-rich-quick schemes. He loved hanging out at Antique Street for the hope of getting a rare piece of antiquity at a low price but in the past few years, the experiences he gained were nothing but scams and deceit.

He had stopped for a while but now, not only did he pick up the hobby again but he also started to get itchy hands again.

Jacob Wilson was annoyed by Charlie Wade's goodwill remark. He snorted in disdain and said, "Stop your nonsense, just drive me there now."

Charlie Wade was helpless but he could not disobey his father-in-law, so he could only succumb to his request and drive the old man to Antique Street.

Aurouss Hilll was a famous historical city. Antique Street, which was located outside the tourist attraction spot, was well-known to the local and international antique dealers and shoppers.

Due to its popularity, the local tourism department invested a lot of money to revamp the Antique Street and turned it into another tourist attraction.

When arriving at Antique Street, Jacob Wilson went up to the door of an antique shop and told the receptionist by the door that he had an appointment. The receptionist nodded and invited them to the VIP room at the back.

Charlie Wade was already stepping his feet out when Jacob Wilson turned around and said, "I think you'd better stay here, you don't know about these things anyway. Just wait for me by the door of the VIP room!"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Okay, Dad!"

Putting his hands behind his back, Jacob Wilson entered the VIP room while Charlie Wade sat in the rest area.

A few minutes later, there was suddenly a sharp sound coming from the VIP room.

Immediately afterward, Jacob Wilson ran out of the room in a panic. He was muttering, "Oh my god, I'm screwed!"

Charlie Wade marched forward and looked behind Jacob Wilson. He saw a tall and thin ceramic vase on the floor, broken into two parts, and many small ceramic fragments all over the floor.

Judging from the size of the fragments, he could see that the broken vase was a Yuhuchun vase from the Tang Dynasty.

When he grew up in the Wade family, he was quite knowledgeable about antiques and the likes due to the constant influence and education. At a glance, he could tell that the vase was genuine and it could make up to several million in the market value.

It looked like his father-in-law was in big trouble this time.

In the VIP room, a middle-aged man said with a gloomy face, "Mr. Wilson, we bought our Yuhuchun vase at five million dollars. Since you broke it, you must compensate for it!"

The man was Raymond Cole, the manager of Vintage Deluxe.

Jacob Wilson pulled Charlie Wade to stand in front of him and said in a shaky voice, "This is my son-in-law, do you know how rich he is? Five million? He can even pay you fifty million! You guys go through the compensation thing with him! I have something to attend to, I have to go now, goodbye!"

Jacob Wilson shoved Charlie Wade into the room and ran away quickly.

Charlie Wade was in an astonishing daze. This father-in-law of his had the nerve to make him a scapegoat!

Raymond looked at Charlie Wade coldly and asked, "Sir, the bill is a total of 5.38 million. Would you like to pay by card or bank transfer?"

Charlie Wade spread his hands indifferently. "I don't have any money."

It wasn't that he couldn't afford to pay for it, but he wanted to teach his father-in-law a lesson so that he would stop asking him to come to Antique Street in the future.

"No money?" Raymond gritted his teeth indignantly. "You smashed our shop's stuff and all you have to say to avoid trouble is 'I don't have any money'?"

Charlie Wade shrugged. "I don't intend to avoid it but honestly, I don't have money with me. Besides, I didn't break that vase, so you can't force me to pay."

Chapter 78

Raymond stomped his feet furiously. "He's your father-in-law, isn't he?"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Yes, he is my father-in-law, but he's the one who broke it, not me. You go and look for whoever is responsible for the broken vase. 'Find the real perpetrator, don't involve their family'—have you heard of that saying before?"

Raymond's blood was boiling, but he pondered upon what Charlie Wade had said and figured that he was right.

If the news of him asking compensation from innocent people spread out, then Vintage Deluxe's reputation would be tarnished.

Hence, he urged his men standing at the side, "You, go and get the old man back here!"

Charlie Wade curled his lips into a silent smirk as he watched the guys chasing after the old man in a hurry.

Actually, he could simply swipe his card and get it over with, but it would be too easy for his shameless father-in-law then, wouldn't it?

It would be better to let the old man suffer and learn his lesson rather than cleaning his a*s for him. Otherwise, he might throw him into the dungeon again if he were to stumble upon such trouble in the future.

Everyone in Vintage Deluxe was dispatched to pursue Jacob Wilson. Charlie Wade was alone at the shop, so he looked at the broken vase on the floor gingerly.

The vase was about half a meter tall and it had now been broken into two halves and a pile of fragments, which was really a pity.

Suddenly, he noticed a hidden compartment at the bottom of the lower half of the vase.

He hurriedly reached in to grab it and he retrieved a small wooden box!

Never did he expect that the vase had a mysterious secret compartment in it!

The signature spatial feature of the Yuhuchun vase was that it had a small opening with a large body. The wooden box was obviously two or three times larger than the opening of the vase, so it could be concluded that the box was not stuffed in the later stage, but it was built into the vase when the vase was made!

As a result, the box had been left in the vase since the Tang Dynasty!

Putting the box carefully in his hands, he observed it first before popping the box open with a little force.

As the wooden box opened, an extreme breezy fragrance dispersed from the box and Charlie Wade felt very refreshed and soothed when he took a sniff.

Inside the wooden box was a yellowish ancient book that was no larger than the size of a palm!

Charlie Wade took out the pocket-sized book carefully and saw 'Apocalyptic Book' written in ancient script on the title page.

"The name is quite interesting, I wonder what is written inside." Charlie Wade flipped the book and read its contents.

The first chapter was the 'Medical Techniques', which recorded a large number of cases and treatment methods.

Charlie Wade frowned curiously. He had studied medicine briefly before and knew some basic theories, but the content in the books was obviously much better and advanced than the methods used in the medical industry nowadays.

Some methods of diagnosis and treatment were unheard of even. In fact, at the end of the 'Medical Techniques' chapter, he saw a content about alchemy and the effect of some medications, which was beyond the imagination of today's world.

Intrigued, Charlie Wade sat on the floor and constantly flipped the book.

As he read on, he realized that the book had covered various kinds of topics, including fortune-telling and mysterious methods such as treasure inspection and restoration. There were many other weird things written in the book.

Charlie Wade looked at it for a long time, scrutinizing each word in the book. He felt that the words were finding their ways into his brain and sticking themselves in it. His heart was thumping quickly as if it was hit by a massive wave.

He had found a treasure!

This was the ultimate treasure!

Chapter 79

Thrilled and overjoyed, Charlie Wade quickly stuffed the Apocalyptic Book into his pocket, but the book instantly turned into powder and disappeared into thin air.

Miraculously, every word in the book was clearly imprinted in Charlie Wade's brain.

At this moment, Jacob Wilson, who ran away like a coward, was brutally apprehended by several big and strong men and was hurled back to the shop.

Looking at his puffy and swelling cheeks, Charlie Wade figured that he must have been beaten vigorously before he was carried back here.

Charlie Wade found Jacob Wilson's piteous look very funny and amusing.

How dare this old coot label him as a scapegoat after getting into trouble! It was outrageous! A little beating was necessary as a punishment for him to learn his lesson.

Jacob Wilson was in a particularly dreaded and shaky position right now. Due to his desperate escape earlier, he was panting profusely like a dog, trying to catch his breath.

His chubby and fragile body made it impossible for him to outrun those young people. Besides, he didn't have the car key, how did he expect he could escape from this place?

Thus, it only took those guys a short while to catch him. His hands were tied behind his back, his face was swollen from a few slaps. It was extremely embarrassing and miserable to the sight.

As Jacob Wilson was taken back to the shop, Raymond, the manager, gritted his teeth in dismay and said, "Old man, do you think you can run away after smashing our things? Learn about our Vintage Deluxe's background before you do something so stupid!"

Jacob Wilson stuttered in horror, "I didn't mean it, the vase was too slippery..."

Raymond growled coldly, "Shut the f*ck up! I'll give you an afternoon to get your money ready. If you can't afford it, I'll sue you for deliberately damaging my property! The case value of five million dollars is more than enough for you to stay in prison forever!"

Jacob Wilson trembled in fright. He turned to Charlie Wade and clung on him like he was a life-saving boat. "Charlie Wade, my good son-in-law! You must help me! You can't let them do this to me!"

Charlie Wade shrugged helplessly. "But, Dad, I don't have that much money."

Jacob Wilson blurted anxiously, "Go to prison on my behalf, then! The Wilson family has supported you for so long, it's time for you to repay us!"

Charlie Wade stared at his shameless father-in-law and wondered how he had the nerve to say such things now.

Before he refused, Raymond interjected, "Stop. At Vintage Deluxe, we do business in an honest and trustworthy way. Whoever commits the mistake takes the blame. Old man, you broke the vase, so you have to pay for it!"

Then, he said to Charlie Wade, "You can go now, but I advise you to help him get the money. Otherwise, if I don't have the money by the evening, I'll send him to the police station!"

Charlie Wade nodded lightly.

Jacob Wilson wailed loudly, "My dear son-in-law, you can't leave me here! What should I do if you're gone?"

He wanted to laugh seeing his father-in-law so frightened and scared, but of course, he couldn't smile for real.

He was about to leave this place with the excuse of getting the money and left his father-in-law here to suffer a little, but suddenly, it occurred to him that there was an ancient method for the restoration of porcelain artifacts in the Apocalyptic Book. Hence, an idea struck his mind as he said, "Mr. Cole, if I can repair the vase, will you let the old man go?"

Raymond smirked, "Repair the vase? Who do you think you are? To tell you the truth, I've sent the photos to the experts of cultural relics appraisal in Aurouss Hilll and they said it is beyond repair after such damage."

Charlie Wade shook his head in doubt. "Your vase is broken anyway, what's the use of keeping around, right? Why don't you let me try?"

The disdainful smirk widened on Raymond's face. "Oh, okay, you're an overly stubborn and confident young fella, aren't you? Alright! Let's see what you can do!"

Charlie Wade said firmly, "Give me a sheet of Chinese rice paper, a brush, and five raw eggs. Raw."

Raymond complied with his request without hesitation since he was looking forward to seeing what kind of ridiculous show Charlie Wade would perform. Soon, his man brought back a basket of raw eggs for Charlie Wade.

However, he still found it bewildering that he couldn't help but tease, "Restoring artifacts using eggs, huh? Seriously, I've never heard anything so absurd before. I warn you, don't you try any tricks. You can either pay compensation or we'll sue your father-in-law. Five million—it's enough for the old man to stay in prison until he dies."

Chapter 80

Charlie Wade nodded. "What if I fix it?"

Raymond snorted. "I'll need to check with the appraisers. If they verify that you've fixed it and recovered most of the damage, I'll let both of you go!"

"Alright!" Charlie Wade nodded. "It's a deal!"

He quickly turned back to the workstation and quietly started his work. He took the brush and sketched the outline of the vase on the Chinese rice paper.

Then, he knocked the egg lightly to crack a small opening, dipped his index finger into the egg to get some egg white, wiped it on a fragment of the vase, and pressed it against the paper model. Then, he repeated the same process for the next fragment, and another, until the paper model was gradually covered with the vase's pieces...

Everyone watched silently while holding their breaths in for fear of interrupting his restoration process.

Half an hour passed very quickly.

When Charlie Wade stood upright again, what appeared in front of everyone was a Tang Dynasty Yuhuchun vase that seemed to be rejuvenated with new life.

He smiled at Raymond and said, "Take a look and see if there are any flaws."

Raymond picked up the vase and looked at it a few glances before he grimaced disdainfully. "You're kidding me, right? Do you f*cking think that you've repaired it after putting some egg liquid on it? F*ck you! Why don't I break your leg and glue them back together with egg liquid, huh?!"

"Don't touch the vase!"

At this moment, a crisp and anxious voice resonated from the door abruptly.

A glamorous young lady in a white casual suit stepped in immediately afterward.

The lady had a very beautiful face paired with her tall and perfect figure, who looked about 1.7 meters tall. Standing by the door, she was scanning the room with her cold and arrogance gaze, radiating an elegant and radiant aura just like a snow queen.

Raymond's expression shifted drastically when he saw the lady. He bowed his head respectfully and said, "Miss, why are you here?"

The lady was Jasmine Moore, the owner of Vintage Deluxe and the young missus of the Moore family, one of the prominent families in Aurous Hill.

Jasmine growled angrily with a furious blush on her face. "If I hadn't come, I'm afraid that you would've single-handedly ruined this shop! What is going on?"

Raymond smiled sheepishly and answered, "A customer accidentally broke the vase while looking at it. His son-in-law repaired it with eggs, which is utterly ridiculous. I am about to discuss the compensation with them."

Jasmine leaned towards the vase and observed it closely. Then, there was a dash of shock on her face!

She immediately growled at Raymond, "Put it down, you fool! Don't touch it if you don't know anything!"

Raymond was stunned by her sudden reaction. "Miss, what are you..."

"This is an artifact that has just been restored. No one is allowed to touch it with their bare hands except for the restoration experts! Don't you know the rule?"

Raymond stuttered hesitantly. "I... he simply used some eggs to glue it together, it doesn't count as restoration, does it?"

There was the wrath of fury burning on Jasmine's eyes. She scolded indignantly, "You dumb fool! After the restoration, the price of the vase will at least double but because you've touched it with your bare hands, it'll lose at least two million of its value! Pack up your things, you're fired!"

She had seen a porcelain plate in the same period as the Yuhuchun vase at an auction in Shipton.

The history of the porcelain plate was very interesting. It was a relic of the Tang Dynasty but it had broken into pieces a few decades later during the Song Dynasty. A skilled craftsman in the Song Dynasty had restored the relic using the same method.

Due to the rarity of the restoration method that had long been lost in time, the final auction price of the porcelain plate was 13 million dollars, which far exceeded the actual value of the plate.

Right now, the Yuhuchun vase had been restored by Charlie Wade with the same rare method, so the value of the vase would undoubtedly rise!

Blood drained from Raymond's face upon hearing Jasmine's order. He didn't expect that a simple touch of the vase would have caused such a big loss as well as his job.

Then, Jasmine asked, "Who is the master who repaired this vase? Take me to see him now!"

Chapter 81

Raymond was dumbstruck!

He never would have imagined, not even in his wildest dreams, that the vase would transform into a more precious treasure after being restored by a few eggs!

He pointed to Charlie Wade and said, "Miss, this is the man who fixed the vase..."

As Jasmine glanced at Charlie Wade, she couldn't help but wonder how such a young man would know the long-forgotten cultural relic restoration technique!

Despite her doubt, she managed a polite smile and asked, "Hi, I am Jasmine Moore. How should I address you? May I know from whom you have learned the relic restoration technique?"

Jacob Wilson, who was still shivering at the side, was dumbfounded when he heard Jasmine Moore's name!

The Moore family!

The Moore family was the most elite family in Aurouss Hillll! Their influence was not comparable to those of Eastcliff's elite families, but in Aurouss Hillll, they were at the top of the pyramid where no one could ever reach!

He didn't expect that he would meet one of their family members here!

Meanwhile, Charlie Wade had a lukewarm reaction towards Jasmine's status. The Moore family was powerful, but their net worth was valued at hundreds of billions. They paled in comparison to the Wade family with their net worth of a trillion dollars.

He said flatly, "My name is Charlie Wade Wade and I don't have any masters. You can say that I'm self-taught."

Then, he continued, "I have repaired the Yuchunhu vase that my father-in-law broke, Please appraise it for its specific value on your side and let us know if we still need to compensate for it."

Jasmine shook her head with a smile. "After the restoration, this vase has far exceeded its original value. So, it's the other way around—we owe you instead."

Charlie Wade smiled faintly. "It's my pleasure. Since we've resolved the matter, we shall get going, then."

Jasmine's eyes shifted mischievously, not wanting Charlie Wade to leave so soon. She said with a smile, "Sir, your name skips my mind. May I know how I should address you? Could you leave a contact number so we can keep in touch in the future?"

She retrieved her own card and said as she handed it over. "This is my card, you can call me at the number above."

Charlie Wade nodded as he accepted the card. "My name is Charlie Wade Wade but I don't have a name card."

"It's okay," Jasmine said, "Could you please leave me your phone number, then?"

Charlie Wade eyed her cautiously. He felt that it would be good for him to have his own connections. Besides, this lady, Jasmine Moore, looked very polite and humble, unlike an arrogant and dominating person. It would bring no harm if he made friends with her.

Hence, he exchanged phone numbers with her.

After the exchange, Jasmine said, "Mr. Wade, would you like me to send you home?"

Charlie Wade waved his hand and said, "Thanks but no thanks, I came here by car."

Jasmine nodded. "I'll see you off then!"

Jasmine escorted Charlie Wade and Jacob Wilson to the BMW 530. She watched them drive away before heading back to Vintage Deluxe.

On their way home, Jacob Wilson asked curiously, "Charlie Wade, where did you learn the craft of cultural relic restoration?"

The content of the Apocalyptic Book was running through Charlie Wade's mind like violent waves. Of course, he couldn't tell his father-in-law that he had found the magical and mysterious book inside the broken vase. He needed time to slowly digest all the amazing content in the book. In fact, he couldn't tell anyone about it.

So, he simply blurted a lie. "I learned it from the cleaner at the orphanage."

Jacob Wilson nodded. "Thank god you were there, or else, I may be in prison now..."

Then, he quickly said as if a thought suddenly struck his mind, "Oh yeah! Don't tell Claire Wilson Wilson and your mother-in-law about this, do you understand?"

Chapter 82

Charlie Wade nodded. "Understood."

The old man let out a deep sigh. Rubbing his face, he grumbled, "If I knew that you had such skill, I wouldn't have rushed to you! Now, I'm not just tired to the bone, I was even slapped multiple times! Damn, how unlucky!"

He then continued, "Is my face still red?"

Charlie Wade replied, "A little."

The old man grumbled once more. "Tell your mother that I ran into a pole if she ever asks."

Upon reaching home, Charlie Wade immediately rushed to the supermarket to get some groceries and make dinner for the family.

He then called his wife, Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson, in case she was craving for something. However, it turned out that she had to plan an upcoming project with Doris Young that night and so, she had invited Claire Wilson Wilson to have dinner at Emgrand Group.

Upon hearing those words, Doris had tested him at the same time as well by saying, "Sir, the project is in progress, so your wife might be quite busy from now. I hope you don't mind."

Charlie Wade was an understanding person, and knowing that the project was important to her, he replied, "The company had better serve good food and treat her well."

Doris immediately replied, "Don't worry, I'll treat her to the best dinner the company has to offer."

"Okay, good." Charlie Wade texted back. If his wife wasn't going to be home, Charlie Wade didn't need to be too specific with the menu, thus, he randomly chose some ingredients and made a simple dinner for his in-laws.

After dinner, the old couple went out square dancing while Charlie Wade, on the other hand, stayed at home and indulged in the wondrous world of .

Suddenly, he received a call from Douglas Adams.

Charlie Wade was reluctant to take the call. This little brat was just so stubborn. Charlie Wade had once given him advice out of good heart, but Douglas had just started yelling at him like a maniac. It had been rather infuriating.

However, on second thought, he was but a pitiful man. Hence, Charlie Wade decided to pick up the call and asked, "What's up?"

On the other end of the phone, Douglas was sobbing uncontrollably. "Charlie Wade, my dearest brother! I'm so sorry, I have wronged you!"

Upon hearing his crying, Charlie Wade's expression softened and he asked, "You found out about the truth?"

Douglas cried, "After our fight, I felt more and more uneasy about it, so I followed the tracking system in her iPhone and ended up at a villa in the suburban areas. However, when I knocked on the door to catch the cheater, I was beaten up by the man's chauffeur and butlers, and then I was sent to the hospital by 120..."

At this moment, Douglas broke down crying again. "Charlie Wade, it was my fault for being so blinded, I was wrong! Please don't be angry with me, you're my best friend, my only friend! If you cut ties with me too, I won't have anyone here in Aurous with me anymore..."

Charlie Wade let out a sigh and said, "I don't blame you. Which hospital are you admitted in right now?"

"I'm in Silverwing Hospital," Douglas sobbed. "He fractured my legs with a baseball bat. The doctor said i wouldn't be able to walk for a few days. Can you please help me sell the drawing you gave me the other day? I brought it along when I went to catch that cheater. I spent all of my money on the restaurant, I'm completely broke now, so I don't have any money on me to pay for the hospital bills..."

As soon as he heard this, Charlie Wade asked, "They didn't give you any money for medical bills?"

"No..." Douglas let his words trail off.

"Did you call the police?"

"I did, but the police said that I was the one who broke into their house, they were just defending themselves..."

"How dare they!" Charlie Wade was extremely infuriated. "Wait for me, I'll be there in just a few minutes!"

Upon arriving at Silverwing Hospital, Douglas could be seen lying on one of the beds in the ward, covered in wounds and bruises. There was a cast on his right leg as well, and he looked miserable. Charlie Wade couldn't help but sympathize. This fully grown man had been cheated on, had his heart broken, and was now covered in wounds.

At the sight of Charlie Wade's arrival, Douglas's swollen eyes began to tear up, tears flowing down his cheeks like a river stream.

"Charlie Wade..." Douglas broke down crying.

Charlie Wade approached him slowly and said softly, "It's okay, she's just a b*tch, she's not worth it."

Douglas continued, "I pursued her for three years, basically throwing my dignity into the dumpster for her! I feel like a lowly dog trying to latch on to everything I could, but now, I realize that I've never had anything in the first place..."

Douglas seemed to be choking on his tears. "That b*tch didn't just break up with me, she wanted me to lose absolutely everything! I've spent every penny I've earned over the past few years, even using up all my savings of ten thousand in that restaurant, yet now, she's refusing to pay me back! I was so blinded, how could I have possibly fallen for such a wicked woman!"

Charlie Wade comforted him. "Douglas, as a man, you have to know how to let go. You can just start over! What about the painting I gave you? It is worth at least twenty thousand dollars, that would be sufficient for you to start a small business."

Douglas nodded. "It's with me. Thank you for reminding me to bring along the painting, otherwise, she would've taken that away from me too!"

Charlie Wade sighed. "That settles it then. You should get some rest and forget about all this. I'll get you something to eat and pay for your hospital bills."

Tears streamed down Douglas's cheeks again. "Charlie Wade, my dearest brother! Thank you so much... Don't worry, I'll be sure to repay your kindness!"

"Yeah, yeah. We're brothers, there's no need to thank me," He replied softly as he left the ward.

He hadn't been able to buy anything when he was on the way to the hospital because he had been in a rush earlier, however, seeing Douglas's pitiful face, he couldn't bear to leave him in that state. Hence, he went to buy some fruits and paid the ten thousand dollars worth of medical bills for him in advance.

When he got back to Douglas's ward, Charlie Wade realized that the door was wide open. Upon entering, Lily Lewis, who was clinging to Jerome Hunt, was standing in front of Douglas's bed.

Douglas yelled at the sight of them. "What are you doing here? To laugh at me?"

Lily laughed sarcastically. "Who has the time to do that?"

Lily spat on the floor in disgust before adding, "I'm here for that painting! Where have you hidden it? Hand it over now!"

Douglas shouted angrily, "Lily Lewis, that painting was a gift from my brother, who are you to take it from me!?"

"A gift?" Lily scoffed. "Use that puny little brain of yours for once. Why would Charlie Wade give that painting to you? It was to celebrate the opening of the restaurant! And who owns that restaurant? News flash, my dad does!"

Douglas hadn't expected Lily to be so shameless, and his voice trembled in anger, "Lily Lewis, don't you dare cross that line! I have still invested ten thousand dollars in that restaurant as well, but you still have yet to pay me back! As for the painting, it was gifted by my brother to me. Do you need me to repeat that? It was gifted to me!"

Lily scowled. "Stop this bloody nonsense. The restaurant has nothing to do with you. Don't go hoping that I'll pay you even one penny! That painting belongs to the restaurant, if you don't hand it to us now, I'll have to call the cops and report you for theft!"

Jerome, who was standing next to Lily, scoffed as well. "Listen up, kid. I'd advise you to cooperate with us. My connections within Aurouss Hill are not something you would like to challenge now, is it? If you don't hand over the painting, I will just have to pay a visit to the public security bureau and they'd lock you up immediately! With what it's worth, you will be sentenced to at least ten years of jail-time!"

Douglas's tears poured down like rain, and he questioned Lily, "I've been nothing but good to you for the past few years, I gave you everything I had! It's fine if you don't really love me, but why do you have to do this to me!?"

Lily let out a cold chuckle. "Love you? Who are you to expect such a thing? Listen up dumbass, I've never loved you! You don't deserve it! I would only fall for a man like Jerome darling, a man who actually deserves my love!"

Jerome smiled sarcastically. "I forgot to mention this as well. We are very much capable of satisfying each other's needs in bed!"

Lily blushed. "Aww, come on, Jerome, why are you mentioning this? I'm so embarrassed..."

"Embarrassed?" Jerome chuckled. "Why don't we shut the doors and show this useless piece of trash how it's done? Show him how you usually satisfy me."

"Jerome darling, no! That would be so embarrassing!" Lily gushed.

Douglas couldn't bear to watch the scene in front of him any longer and threw a pillow in their direction as he yelled, "You maniacs! Get out!"

However, Jerome caught the pillow and scoffed. "I'm warning you, hand over the painting. Otherwise, I'm breaking your other leg and sending you to jail!"

Charlie Wade, who was at the door listening in on everything that was said, immediately walked into the ward and yelled, "You dare to hurt my brother? Do you have a death wish?"

Jerome turned his head and looked Charlie Wade dead in the eye. "Who are you?"

Lily replied, "He's Charlie Wade Wade, the one who gifted the painting."

Jerome laughed out loud. "Ah, it's just the useless toyboy! You are indeed quite famous for that, you know? Everyone in Aurouss Hill knows who you are!"

Jerome then stared at Charlie Wade coldly. "I'll give you three seconds to get out of my sight. I'll pretend you were never here, and I won't lay a finger on you."

Annoyed, Charlie Wade scoffed. "Get out of your sight? Who do you think you are?"

Jerome clenched his teeth. "Are you trying to challenge me, kid?"

Charlie Wade replied in a cold tone. "I don't care who you are, but you've pissed me off today. I'll give you a second chance, though. Apologize to my brother this instant and let him break one of your legs as an apology for what you did to his leg. If you don't, you'll die the most painful death!"

Upon hearing this, Jerome began laughing like a maniac, his expression suddenly turning dark as he scowled. "What did you just say, punk? Me, Jerome, apologizing? Do you have a death wish?"

Chuckling, Lily also added, "Charlie Wade, are you an idiot? Challenging my darling Jerome? Do you really want to die that badly?"

Charlie Wade spoke coldly, "Keep your mouth shut, b*tch!"

"You..." Lily's blood boiled, and she turned to Jerome. "Jerome darling, he just called me a b*tch! Have someone rip him into shreds!"

Jerome clenched his teeth once more. "Just you wait, you incompetent swine! I'll have someone kill you this instant!"

Charlie Wade smiled coldly upon hearing those words. "Sure, but remember. If you fail to kill me, both you and this b*tch will have to pay a great price later on."

Chapter 85

Jerome immediately punched in a number on his phone and yelled into it, "Zaz, I'm in Silverwing Hospital right now. Bring along a few of your underlings, we have a brat to kill!"

Charlie Wade, on the other hand, didn't bother calling anyone. Instead, he texted Albert Rhodes: [Come to Silverwing Hospital, someone is trying to kill me.]

Don Albertt immediately called him.

"Mr. Wade, who is this son of a b*tch?"

Charlie Wade then replied dismissively, "Less talking, just come over."

Don Albertt replied, "Don't worry Mr. Wade, I'll be there in a few minutes."

When Jerome realized Charlie Wade was talking on the phone as well, he scoffed. "Hah, don't tell me you had someone to come over as backup. What a joke!"

Charlie Wade ignored his remark and smiled. "As I said earlier, I'll have the both of you die the most painful death."

Jerome laughed as though he had just heard the funniest joke on earth. "Who the hell do you think you are? No one in Aurouss Hilll dares to defy me!"

Douglas, who was struggling to sit up straight on the bed, panicked and said, "Charlie Wade, just leave. You can't win this b*stard, just don't."

Charlie Wade walked up to him and tucked him back into bed. "Just lie down."

Still panicking, Douglas insisted, "You don't know how powerful he is! His family is very well-known in Aurouss Hilll..."

Charlie Wade peeled a mandarin and shoved a piece into Douglas's mouth. "There is no one whom I don't dare to defy just yet."

Lily laughed. "Really, now? You're so deluded! Do you even know who you're dealing with?"

Charlie Wade interrupted her before she could continue. "I don't care who he is, I just know that he's going to be disabled for the rest of his life!"

He paused before continuing, "Oh wait, your fate will be the same as his!"

Lily's expression immediately darkened. "Fine! If you want to die that badly, just you wait!"

Charlie Wade then turned to Douglas. "Did you inform her father, Lewis Rhys, about this?"

"Yeah," Douglas replied. "I called him."

Charlie Wade nodded. "Well, what did he say?"

Douglas furrowed his eyebrows. "He said that this was none of his business! He just wanted to find an excuse so that I wouldn't go looking for him anymore!"

Charlie Wade pressed on further. "What about the ten thousand dollars you invested in the restaurant? Did you ask him to pay you back?"

"I did!" Douglas grew even more frustrated and clenched his teeth. "That old bastard... he told me that the money wasn't an investment, it was a gift from his future son-in-law! He said that I didn't have the right to get it back, so he's not going to give it back to me!"

"How dare he!" Charlie Wade huffed. "No wonder he has such a b*tch of a daughter seeing as he himself is the scum of the earth!"

"What did you just say, Charlie Wade?" Infuriated, Lily yelled, "How dare you speak ill of my father! Death is just at your doorstep if you don't watch that mouth!"

She then immediately clung to Jerome and pleaded, "Jerome darling, look what he said about my father! Beat him up for me!"

Jerome was nothing but a mere player. He wasn't tall, nor was he built. He was at least half a foot shorter than Charlie Wade, and moreover, Charlie Wade handled everything around the house, even living a healthy lifestyle. If Jerome were to pick a fight with Charlie Wade, it was clear as day as to who would win.

Not only that, but Charlie Wade's father had also taught him Wing Chun ever since he was a young child. Even after the death of his parents, he had not missed a day of training in the orphanage. It was because of how much he trained that no one in the orphanage had dared to bully him.

Hence, if they were to engage in a fight, Jerome definitely didn't have a chance. Even if there were to be five of him, Charlie Wade would still easily win the fight.

Jerome understood the situation that he was in. He knew that if he fought him now, only defeat awaited him. Therefore, he held Lily's hand and comforted her. "Don't worry, babe. Zaz is already on his way with his men. When he arrives, we'll have him dead in a ditch!"

Chapter 86

Charlie Wade then texted Cameron Isaac from the Shangri-La: [Who is this Jerome Hunt?]

Isaac replied almost immediately: [His family runs a business, they're mostly involved in the jade industry. They buy stocks or put them up for bidding. His power within the area is just as everyone claims as well. Why do you ask? Did he piss you off?]

Charlie Wade responded: [Yeah. I've already asked Albert to handle this. But I do need a favor from you.]

Isaac replied: [Anything, young master!]

Charlie Wade ordered: [I need you to bring Jerome's father to the hospital. Oh, and another old man who identifies antiques, his name is Lewis Rhys. Bring them to me.]

Isaac replied: [Yes, young master, I'll have them brought to you this instant!]

Charlie Wade then responded: [You don't have to, just have someone else do it. I don't want people to notice that we know each other.]

Another text from Isaac showed up on his phone: [Alright then, young master. Do they need to be taught a lesson?]

Charlie Wade texted back: [Give them a good beating first, then have them tied up and sent to me.]

Isaac complied instantly: [Yes, young master! I'll have someone carry out your orders right this instant!]

Shoving his phone back into his pocket, Charlie Wade turned to Jerome and Lily, speaking in a cold tone. "The parent would need to take the blame of a child's fault. I'll have both of your fathers brought here, let's see what they have to explain about your behaviour!"

Jerome's expression was grim. "I would advise you to not cross certain boundaries, punk, otherwise you'll really end up dead in a ditch once my men arrive!"

Charlie Wade huffed. "Have you men hurry up, I'm very much impatient."

Just as Jerome was about to yell at Charlie Wade, the door to the ward was flung open to reveal a beef-faced man with seven to eight underlings standing behind him.

Upon seeing Zazpi, Jerome immediately pointed at Charlie Wade. "Zaz, it's this little brat! Teach him a lesson!"

The man named Zazpi furrowed his eyebrows, speaking in a cold tone. "So, you're the one who pissed my brother off?"

Charlie Wade smiled coldly and nodded. "So what? Are you going to beat me up like he asked you to?"

Confused, Zazpi stared at him. It was an unfamiliar face. He had never seen Charlie Wade before let alone know anything about him, and so, he didn't understand why Charlie Wade did not fear him.

After a long pause, he asked cautiously, "Hey punk, where are you from?"

Charlie Wade replied dismissively, "I'm from home."

Jerome then added, "Zaz, this brat is a boytoy. He lives off of women!"

Subsequently, Jerome whispered into Zazpi's ear, "Zaz, this brat has no background, you can beat him up as much as you want. If anything happens, I'll take responsibility."

"A boytoy?" Zazpi laughed sarcastically. "Sure! Let's see if he'll still be able to live off women after I break his pen*s off!"

Without waiting for a reply from Charlie Wade, Zazpi gestured to his underlings. "Let's kill this punk, d*mn it!"

Jerome shot Charlie Wade a cold smirk. "Hey, Wade, any last words?"

Charlie Wade ignored him, merely staring at Zazpi and finally, he said coldly, "Kneel down and I'll consider forgiving your sorry ass."

Stunned, Zazpi dug his ear and furrowed his eyebrows. "What did you say? Repeat that and I'll promise you a swift death!"

At that very moment, a loud yell came from outside the door. "Zaz, Mr. Wade told you to kneel down, are you freaking deaf?"

Zazpi was startled. Don Albertt had arrived!

Chapter 87

Just as the voice echoed through the room, Don Albertt, followed by Bill and a large group of men, entered the room.

Upon entering, he ordered Bill, "Shut the doors, don't let others in this room!"

Bill nodded. "Understood, Don Albertt!"

Zazpi stared at Don Albertt, still in shock. It was as if his brain had been short-circuited.

It was Don Albertt Rhodes!

The underground overlord of Aurouss Hilll!

Zazpi was just one of the mere leaders within the area. However, Don Albertt was the overlord of this very area! Everyone within the city knew that Don Albertt was the absolute power!

He would never have expected that he would meet Don Albertt just because he had been asked to handle such small matters for Jerome!

Jerome didn't know who Don Albertt was, however, seeing how shocked Zazpi was, he furrowed his eyebrows. "Zaz, what is going on? Who is this old man?"

As soon as he heard those words, Zazpi was so scared that he started trembling.

In the next second, Zazpi had grabbed Jerome by the hair and smashed his face to the ground, fracturing the latter's nose from the impact. As the blood was flowing out of Jerome's nose, Zazpi clenched his teeth and yelled, "If you have a death wish, Hunt, don't bring me into it as well! This is Don Albertt!"

"What?!" Jerome was shocked to his core.

Don Albertt?!

The underground overlord of Aurouss Hilll?!

Why was he here?!

Don Albertt approached them with a grim expression and then kicked Zazpi in the crotch. Immense pain shot up Zazpi's body, forcing him to his knees on the ground, the color slowly draining from his face.

Don Albertt stared at him and said coldly, "You're just asking for it, aren't you? How dare you piss Mr. Wade off?"

He then turned to Charlie Wade and bowed in absolute respect as he apologized. "Sorry I was late, Mr. Wade. Please punish me!"

Upon seeing Don Albertt's respectful attitude toward Charlie Wade, everyone's jaw dropped. Jerome finally realized that he had pissed off such an influential figure, and his body started trembling.

Charlie Wade nodded before at Zazpi. "You know this man?"

Don Albertt replied, "Yes. He is merely one of the smaller leaders in the area, but he dared to have pissed Mr. Wade off. Just give out the order on how you would like him punished, Mr. Wade! We will do everything as you say!"

Charlie Wade nodded. "What a tyrant. He claimed he would have me disabled as soon as he entered the room. Such a person is a danger to society. I say we should break his kneecaps so that he will need a wheelchair from now on."

Zazpi's soul immediately left his body. He was a man who was used to earning his living by fighting. If he were to become disabled, how could he continue to lead this area? Wouldn't that mean that this was over for him?

Zazpi kneeled to the ground and crawled to Charlie Wade on his knees. He cried, "Mr. Wade, this is all my fault! Please give me another chance! I will never dare to offend you ever again!"

Charlie Wade stared at him coldly. "I gave you a second chance. You were the one who didn't accept the offer."

Zazpi was then reminded of what Charlie Wade had told him earlier.

"Kneel down and I'll consider forgiving your sorry ass..."

He had thought that that was just a mere bluff, but now, he realized that the one who had had a death wish wasn't Charlie Wade... it was Zazpi himself!

Fearing for his life, Zazpi groveled at Charlie Wade's feet and cried, "Mr. Wade, please just give me another chance, please spare me!"

Charlie Wade ignored his pleas and turned to Don Albertt. "Well, what are you waiting for? We don't have all day, do we?"

Don Albertt stiffened and immediately ordered his men, "You guys! Break his kneecaps this instant!"

Without warning, a few of his men rushed toward Zazpi and pinned him down to the ground.

Chapter 88

Right then and there, Bill took a metal rod out and approached Zazpi. Although the latter tried to beg for his life, Bill did not hesitate to raise the metal rod above his head and swing it down at a great speed.

Crack!

Zazpi's right kneecap was smashed into pieces instantly. Such a comminuted fracture was almost impossible to recover from!

Zazpi yelped in pain, but Charlie Wade did not stop there. "We're not quite done yet. We have only broken one leg, he would still be able to limp with the other. I want him crippled forever!"

Bill nodded and raised the metal rod once more, and in no time, another loud crack came from Zazpi's left knee. Zazpi rolled on the floor, screaming for help, his body about to go into shock.

Don Albertt barked out an order. "Bill, shove something into his mouth. His loud whining is going to annoy Mr. Wade!"

"Yes, Don Albertt!" Bill complied and shoved a few pieces of gauze pads into Zazpi's mouth as the latter was already curled up into a ball on the ground.

Jerome's face was pale-white as he kneeled to the ground and groveled. "Charlie Wade... no, I mean, Mr. Wade. I was wrong! I shouldn't have let my stupid mouth run, please forgive me!"

Lily was scared to death as well. As soon as Jerome started begging for his life, she immediately got on her knees and apologized profusely as well.

However, Charlie Wade merely scoffed. "Do you really think that begging is going to do you any good? You guys are just so cute!"

The two of them were frightened to the core. Suddenly, a few men dressed in black entered the room as well, bringing along with them two middle-aged men who had been tied up.

The two middle-aged men looked as though they were just one step away from hell.

As the men-in-black flung them onto the floor, they bowed to Charlie Wade and said, "Mr. Wade, we've brought who you've asked for!"

Jerome and Lily almost fainted at the sight of this. The two middle-aged men were none other than their fathers, Dylan Hunt and Lawson Lewis.

Charlie Wade took a bucket of cold water and dumped it over their heads. Once they had recovered their consciousness, Charlie Wade then questioned Lawson. "Mr. Lewis, were you aware that your daughter was being a wh*re and that she was cheating on her fiance?"

Lawson was terrified. Having been beaten up just a while ago, he knew that his daughter had gotten into trouble. To protect himself, he shook his head. "I didn't know, I didn't know....."

Charlie Wade nodded. "You didn't know? Then, isn't that your fault as a father? Bill, break his left kneecap! Just like what you did to that other son of a b*tch!"

"Understood!" Bill immediately turned to his men. "Hold him down!"

Lawson cried out of fear, "No! Someone please help me!"

Lily screamed for him as well. "Dad!"

However, without faltering, Bill smashed Lawson's kneecap as soon as he had been held down.

"Ah..." Lawson would have rather died a swift death. Instead, his kneecap had been shattered, it was impossible for him to heal from this.

Charlie Wade then repeated his question. "Let me ask you again, were you aware that your daughter was being a wh*re and that she was cheating on her fiance?"

Lawson sobbed uncontrollably. "I was aware, I was. It's my fault, I'll be sure to discipline her from now on..."

Charlie Wade huffed. "So you did know. In that case, why didn't you stop her? You knew that your daughter had caused trouble and yet, you didn't do anything. Doesn't that show how big of a failure you are as a father?"

He then ordered Bill, "Bill, cripple his other leg!"

Chapter 89

Lawson had not expected that admitting to his faults would not do him any good either. He had just fainted out of shock, however, the pain from the impact woke him up in a mere second.

"Ah!!!" Lawson had never experienced such torture in his entire life.

Tears streamed down the wrinkles on his face as he cried out desperately, "Mr. Wade, it's all my fault! I'll never overlook her faults ever again, I won't let her do such vile actions."

Disgusted, Charlie Wade said, "Well, aren't you good at blaming others for your faults?"

Just this sentence was enough to send chills down Lawson Lewis's spine.

Charlie Wade then demanded, "Lawson Lewis! Regarding the ten thousand dollars that my brother invested in your restaurant, why did you refuse to pay him back? Why did you claim that it was a gift?"

Lawson's face drained of color, and he tried to explain. "I was wrong, I was wrong for doing that! I was greedy, and I was shameless, I'm so sorry!"

He then looked over to Douglas, who was enraged. Lawson begged, "Douglas, I was blinded by greed. Don't worry, I'll pay you back the ten thousand dollars, please tell Mr. Wade to let me go! My old bones can't handle this anymore..."

Charlie Wade stared at Douglas. "Are you going to help him?"

Douglas immediately shook his head. "No! I will not help anyone here!"

"Alright!" Satisfied, Charlie Wade nodded. "That's my man!"

Charlie Wade then turned to Lawson who was drowning in despair. "Not only are you a terrible father, you even tried to take my brother's life savings. What's the difference between you and a lowly thief?"

Lawson cried and stumbled over his words. "Mr. Wade, I'm a b*stard! I'm inhumane! I should go to hell! Please let me go, please! I'm begging you! I'll do anything! I'll call you Boss! Boss Wade, please let me go!"

Charlie Wade let out a cold laugh. "Let you go? Hah! In your dreams, you ugly b*stard!"

After that, he turned to Bill. "Cripple his right arm! See if he can steal from others after this!"

Desperate, Lawson cried out, "No, Mr. Wade! Please, no..."

Bill smashed Lawson's arm in one swing.

"Ah, my arm... my arm!!!" Lawson yelled.

Charlie Wade turned to Bill. "Shut him up and throw him aside!"

"Yes, sir!" Bill shoved a ball of gauze into his mouth and threw him toward Zizpa.

Lily was on the verge of insanity, as was Jerome.

His father, Dylan Hunt, was going insane as well! He turned to Jerome and slapped him angrily. "You piece of sh*t! Who told you to f*ck around with someone else's woman! Why did you pull me into this!"

Charlie Wade smirked. "Why? Didn't you know that your son was f*cking my brother's fiance? Aren't you his father?"

Fearing for his life, Dylan was tearing up, completely clueless as to how to answer that question. Lawson was already an excellent example of what his fate would be.

If he said that he knew, his right leg would be shattered; if he said that he didn't, his left leg would be crippled...

Chapter 90

After a long pause, Charlie Wade turned to Bill. "This old man seems to be quite sharp. He thinks that he won't be punished as long as he doesn't answer. Bill, shatter both of his legs!"

"Yes, Mr. Wade!" Bill obeyed.

Looking at Dylan, who was now panicking, Charles spoke in a cold tone. "You only have your son to blame."

Following two horrifying screams, Dylan Hunt was now crippled as well. At the sight of his father being beaten up, Jerome felt as though he had lost control of his body. In just a few moments, he was sitting in a pool of liquid that had a strong and unpleasant smell.

He had actually wet his pants!

Charlie Wade chuckled. "Well, won't you look at that? It looks like you can't control that thing of yours! It's the main cause of everything that has gone down up till now! I'd say that you would no longer be needing it anymore!"

He then ordered, "Since that's the case, destroy the one thing that makes him a man!"

Bill seemed to hesitate. As a man himself, upon receiving such an order, he couldn't help but flinch.

Don Albertt then grumbled, "What are you doing just standing there? Do as Mr. Wade says!"

Bill snapped back to reality and ordered his men, "Spread this b*stard's legs!"

Jerome begged Charlie Wade in desperation. "Mr. Wade, Boss Wade, please spare me! You can cripple me, but please don't destroy my..."

Charlie Wade laughed. "Do you think this is a multiple-choice question? To let you choose if you'd like me to take away your arms and legs or that thing of yours? Wrong! You can't escape both of these fates!"

What came next was a hard stomp from Bill...

... and Jerome was now a eunuch!

However, that was not the end of his suffering just yet!

Bill carried out Charlie Wade's orders and crippled all of his limbs as well!

Hooking up with someone else's fiance and beating them up afterward, Jerome, who was once an arrogant jerk, was now a completely useless piece of human garbage! No one would sympathize with him, he deserved this!

All that was left to deal with was Lily Lewis alone.

On the verge of losing it, Lily crawled over to the bed and latched onto Douglas's hand. Crying, she begged, "Hubby, I'm so sorry hubby! I shouldn't have cheated on you! I really did love you! It's just that Hunt raped me! He even took pictures of me, and there wasn't anything else I could do! He manipulated me!"

Jerome yelled angrily, "Lily Lewis, you wh*re! How dare you blame it on me! You were the one who came to my pawnshop with your father! You approached me because of my wealth and slept with me out of your own will! Otherwise, I would have never hooked up with you!"

Jerome then turned to Charlie Wade. "Mr. Wade, please don't believe a word this b*tch has said. I have receipts! She was the one who added me on WeChat, and she was the one who told me that it was love at first sight! She even sent me quite a number of nudes and explicit photos to seduce me! All of those pictures are still in my phone's gallery, you can take a look!"

Lily's face turned pale. "Hunt, you b*stard! Didn't you promise to delete them right after?"

Jerome clenched his teeth. "You evil b*tch! Thank God I didn't listen to you and saved them on my phone, otherwise, I would've been killed because of you!"

Lily then tried to explain. "Hubby, I was an idiot for doing this! Can't you spare me? After all the years we've spent together? Can't you just spare me?"

Charlie Wade asked Douglas, "What do you think?"

Douglas glanced at Lily before pushing her aside. "I don't know this woman."

Upon hearing those words, Lily Lewis broke down crying.

Charlie Wade ordered, "Well then, why don't we break both of her legs and leave a scar on her face? Let's see if she'll be able to seduce any more men from now on!"

Charlie Wade was not sympathetic toward wicked women like Lily Lewis, not even one bit.

Following Charlie Wade's order, Bill then crippled Lily and scarred her face, even going as far as to cut her hair off with surgical scissors.

In the end, the five of them had paid the great price that Charlie Wade had promised them.

Chapter 91

Charlie Wade then had his men carry the five of them out, adding before they left, "I'll spare your lives for now. However, if any of this is leaked to anyone else, I'll kill all of you, understood?"

The five of them nodded without hesitation. It was pure luck to be still able to walk out alive after this, how could they dare to defy Charlie Wade even further?

Knowing that the five of them no longer dared to defy him, Charlie Wade nodded in satisfaction and turned to Lawson Lewis. "Trying to manipulate my brother comes at a great price. I want you and your daughter out of the restaurant and for it to be transferred under my brother's name by tomorrow, understood?"

Lawson nodded repeatedly. "Understood, I'll be out of the restaurant by tomorrow for sure!"

Charlie Wade then turned to Dylan Hunt. "Your son hooked up with my brother's fiancee, even going as far as to beat him up this badly. You'd better prepare two million dollars as a compensation fee to him, and don't you dare try and cut corners, understand?"

Dylan agreed immediately. "Mr. Wade, I'll have the money transferred to your brother by tomorrow!"

Satisfied, Charles turned to Don Albertt's underlings. "Okay. You can take the trash out now."

Thus, the whole group of men carried the five of them out of the room.

As they were being disposed of, Charles turned to Bill. "Bill, you have done a great job this time around."

A smile was plastered on Bill's face. "I was just following orders, Mr. Wade!"

Charlie Wade then spoke softly. "I'll have two million transferred to your bank account, take it as a reward."

Bill was overwhelmed with joy, and he bowed. "Thank you, Mr. Wade!"

Although he had been following Don Albertt for quite some time, Don Albertt was not as generous as Charlie Wade. He would never have given Bill that grand of an amount.

At the same time, Charlie Wade texted Isaac and asked him to transfer the money to Bill. Although his debit card had plenty of money, it was inconvenient for him to use it in this case.

In just a minute, the money was transferred into Bill's bank account. Overjoyed, Bill bowed to Charlie Wade repeatedly.

Charlie Wade then turned to Don Albertt. "Albert, you must not be interested in money, I suppose?"

Don Albertt replied, "Mr. Wade, it is my honor to tend to your needs."

Charlie Wade responded dismissively. "I'll keep this favor in mind. I'll be sure to promote you once the opportunity arises."

Upon hearing those words, Don Albertt immediately knelt on the ground and kowtowed to Charlie Wade. To Don Albertt, money was not his ultimate goal. What he wanted was more power. However, people like him didn't get many opportunities to be promoted.

He had been dreaming of working with Cameron Isaac, but Isaac looked down on him. He was just a man from humble beginnings. To Isaac, he was of a lower class. However, now, with Charlie Wade's help, Cameron Isaac might promote him greatly. His future was nothing but bright, he would be one step closer to success!

After rewarding everyone, Charlie Wade turned to Douglas. "So, are you satisfied with this outcome?"

Douglas was still in deep shock. He couldn't understand how Charlie Wade had become so powerful overnight to the point that even the underground overlord was kneeling by his feet!

He was stunned for a split second but managed to return to reality. "Yes! Yes, I am!"

Charles continued, "I've dealt with those people and got the restaurant back for you. As for fees for the damage, I've asked for two million dollars for you as well. But now, you have to walk on your own two legs!"

Douglas replied, "Charlie Wade, I will be sure to repay this favor no matter what! I'll do anything you say without hesitation!"

Chapter 92

Charlie Wade nodded. "Just get some rest. Once you've recovered, you can then run the restaurant. If I need anything, I'll be sure to find you."

Douglas exclaimed, "Whenever you need me!"

Charlie Wade then added, "Oh, by the way, don't tell anyone about what happened today. I don't want people to know who I am, understood?"

Douglas nodded. "Understood. Don't worry, I'll be sure to take this secret with me to the grave!"

Charlie Wade smiled. "I'll have two caretakers to take care of you, just get some rest. I'll be off."

Upon reaching home, Charlie Wade didn't plan on telling Claire Wilson Wilson about what had happened since he didn't want her to know too much. It was safer if she didn't know anything about his identity.

The next day, as he was buying groceries, Charlie Wade received a call. When he picked up the phone, he realized it was the daughter of the boss of Vintage Deluxe, Jasmine Moore.

Confused, Charlie Wade couldn't help but wonder what Jasmine wanted from him.

As the call went through, Jasmine spoke, "Mr. Wade, I'm so sorry for disturbing you like this."

Charlie Wade asked, "Are there any problems with the Yuhuchun Vase that I fixed?"

Jasmine replied, "Oh no, not that. I'm calling Mr. Wade for other matters."

Charlie Wade responded, "What is it?"

Jasmine then revealed her intentions. "Well, it's just that something has caught my eye lately, however, I'm not quite experienced in this field, but I heard that Mr. Wade was. Would Mr. Wade fancy helping me identify these antiques?"

Charlie Wade was not particularly interested in antiques, but he was indeed lacking some unique collectibles, hence, he probed further. "And might I ask, what type of antique has caught your eye this time?"

Jasmine replied, "It's a jade. According to the sellers, wearing it can help to calm your soul and success will come your way as well."

Suddenly, it was as if a lightbulb had lit up in Charlie Wade's mind. In the , such mythical relics had been mentioned.

These mythical relics had the utmost benefits for the one who possessed them. Charlie Wade wanted to know if he would be able to find such a treasure, and so, he accepted the offer. "Okay, I'll go with you."

Jasmine replied, "Thanks, Mr. Wade. I'll pick you up at 8 am sharp tomorrow."

"Sure." Charlie Wade hung up and lost himself in his thoughts.

Rich men like him were incredibly attracted to collecting such mythical relics that were said to have the ability to bring you prosperity and calm the soul. Charlie Wade had decided to dive into this world of collectibles so that he might find what he was looking for all this time.

The next morning, Jasmine arrived at Charlie Wade's doorstep just as scheduled.

As soon as Charlie Wade got into the car, Jasmine began to brief him. "Mr. Wade, there will be quite a competition to obtain this piece of jade. I've heard that quite a few people from Aurouss Hilll are going to be bidding for it as well!"

Charlie Wade nodded. "It doesn't matter how many competitors we have, it depends on the item itself. If it really is worth the price, I'm sure Miss Moore will be able to obtain it without fail."

Jasmine smiled. "Thank you, Mr. Wade, but we don't know what kind of people we are up against. There might be several powerful figures hiding in plain sight in Aurouss Hilll."

Pretending to be surprised, Charlie Wade asked, "What? How could that be? Isn't the Moore family the most powerful family in Aurouss Hilll?"

Jasmine smiled once more. "That's just what everyone says. Let's see, for example, the new chairman of Emgrand Group alone can overpower the whole of the Moore's, hence, let us not underestimate the power a person can hold."

Jasmine then sighed. "Well, to be honest, I really do want to get to know this powerful figure. However, he's too secretive. For some reason, no one has been able to reveal his true identity."

Chapter 93

Jasmine had only told the truth. She really did think that the new chairman of Emgrand Group was a mysterious man.

After all, he had been able to acquire a group that was worth over a hundred billion just because he wanted to. Moreover, he hadn't shown his face at all throughout this process. It would seem that his net worth was much grander than that of Emgrand Group.

In comparison, the Moore family would seem quite insignificant.

However, she had not realized that the chairman of Emgrand Group was currently sitting in her passenger's seat.

Charlie Wade, on the other hand, was a man who liked to keep things as low-profile as possible. Although he would dismissively respond to Jasmine, he never once revealed any information about his identity to her.

In a fast but steady speed, they had arrived at a small garden near the river in just a few minutes. The garden was elegant and tranquil. On the outside, it seemed quite worn and crude, however, it was extremely grand on the inside.

From a small bridge over crystal clear water to a Suzhou styled garden and even to the elegant pavilions, it was everything a man would dream of.

After parking the car, a butler greeted them and led them inside. Walking past the garden, they walked into the lobby which was decorated in traditional Chinese furniture. A crimson round table was set in the middle of the area where several fauteuils were arranged around it.

Upon entering the lobby, a white-haired old man stood up and greeted Jasmine. "You have arrived, Miss Moore."

A look of awkwardness flashed across Jasmine's face, but she nodded at the man. "Uncle Quilt, you're here as well."

The old man smiled. "Master said you would be coming, so I decided to come over and check up on you!"

Jasmine nodded and turned to Charlie Wade. "Uncle Quilt is the appraiser of the Moore family. I'm guessing someone from my family sent him here just in case something goes wrong."

Charlie Wade nodded, fully acknowledging that he was too young and inexperienced. It was understandable for them to take precautions.

Quilt glared at Charlie Wade. "This is the appraiser that you hired? Isn't he a little too young to be an appraiser?"

A middle-aged man who was standing next to Quilt snarled, "You hired a little brat to appraise? Do you not have enough hands back in the Moore family? Do you need me to introduce some appraisers? Hahahaha!"

Jasmine's expression turned cold. "Travis Lane, this is Aurous, not Lancaster. Don't you dare run your mouth here."

Travis shrugged. "Guess the Moore's have quite the temper."

"Now, now..." A middle-aged man who was sitting at the round table furrowed his eyebrows. "We're just here for business, not to start a fight, let's all calm down. You too, young man, sit down."

Jasmine huffed and sat down at the round table.

As Charlie Wade sat down as well, Jasmine leaned toward him and whispered, "That's Travis Lane, the richest man in Lancaster. The guy next to him is Matthew Gibson, a powerful geomancer. The one who just spoke up is Graham Quinton, the head of the Quinton family in Aurous. His family has been..."

Charlie Wade then noticed that there was an old man in green traditional Chinese clothing sat next to Travis. The old man had a full head of gray hair and he looked unworldly, carrying an unapproachable aura. His eyes were closed shut, and even when Charlie Wade and Jasmine had arrived, it didn't seem to catch his attention.

Suddenly, Jasmine let her words trail off and stopped talking. Charlie Wade was still curious about what she was going to say next, but he decided not to push her.

As everyone finally sat down, a fat man in glamorous clothing chuckled. "Since we're done with the fighting, why don't we get down to business? Take a good look at this beauty! All of you are from wealthy families, I'm sure a billion is just mere pocket change, so let's now dwell on it for too long."

Travis scoffed. "If it really is what you claimed it to be, that it can regulate geomancy and calm our soul, a billion really isn't a big deal." Chapter 94

The fat man glanced at Travis before placing a simple wooden box onto the round table. Inside the box was a crimson red jade, seemingly an ancient treasure. As soon as the box was opened, everyone present felt as though the lobby had been filled with a hint of warm energy.

Everyone's eyes lit up.

Jasmine turned to Quilt. "Uncle Quilt, what do you think?"

Quilt stared at it and nodded. "I think it's the real thing. It seems to be the Bloody Jade from the Zhou dynasty. It also appears to have been blessed by a very powerful monk!"

Jasmine nodded and then turned to Charlie Wade. "What do you think, Mr. Wade?"

Charlie Wade, on the other hand, scowled in disgust. "It's a fake....."

Quilt glowered at him. "You're just a youngster, who gave you the right to lie through your teeth in front of this many people?"

Matthew Gibson, the elderly man who was sitting next to Travis, opened his eyes and stared at the piece of jade. "May I hold it?"

The fat man let out a cold laugh. "Mr. Gibson, are you kidding me? Don't you understand the rules of an appraisal? Jades should never be touched, let alone this piece of Bloody Jade from the Zhou dynasty. Who would be the one to blame if it were to break?"

Startled, Matthew flinched. "Ah, pardon my recklessness..." He then leaned toward the jade and scrutinized it. Closing his eyes once again, he nodded. "I can't say for sure that the jade is from the Zhou dynasty, but I can assure you that the rumors of it being able to regulate geomancy and calm souls is true."

Upon hearing this sentence, everyone was fired up. To them, the history of this piece of jade was not significant. It was what it could do that mattered to them.

Quilt smiled. "Mr. Gibson has quite a sharp eye, unlike those who are inexperienced and nothing but a sham."

When she heard this, Jasmine couldn't help but feel slightly disappointed in Charlie Wade. He indeed seemed to be too young for such delicate work. Although he was quite skilled in restoring antiques, he was clearly far more inexperienced as compared to these old men.

Charlie Wade decided not to interfere with this. It was clear that these people were willing to be scammed, and he didn't want to be nosy.

The fat man then closed the lid of the box after the appraisal and smiled. "Well, since the jade has been appraised, isn't it time to bid for it?"

Graham immediately responded, "I'll bid one billion..."

"One billion and three thousand." Travis proposed.

The fat man had noticed that Jasmine had yet to make a bid, and so, he asked, "What about Miss Moore?"

Realizing that Jasmine still had her doubts, Quilt whispered into her ear. "Miss, this really is a rare treasure to find. This jade is worth around three billion. If you manage to get it within two billion, the benefits will outweigh its cost!"

Jasmine was almost persuaded, but then, she turned back to Charlie Wade. His expression was calm, almost as if he didn't have a care in the world, and this made her doubts arise again.

Quilt shot Charlie Wade a cold glare, knowing that Jasmine was under his influence, causing her to have yet to make a bid. Hence, he suggested, "Well, since Mr. Wade mentioned that this jade was a fake, I'd like to know how he came to that conclusion. Let's see what you've got!"

He knew that if Charlie Wade tried to bluff his way through this, Jasmine would realize that he was just pretending and would then make her bid without further hesitation.

The others murmured in dissatisfaction as well, "He's just a good-for-nothing brat, what would he know..."

"Yeah, who gave him the right to bluff like that?"

"If you guys aren't interested, don't waste our time."

Facing everyone's insults, Charlie Wade merely stared at Quilt in amusement. "Are you sure you would like me to explain?"

Chapter 95

"Of course! Just speak your mind!" Quilt chuckled. "I would also like to see how you con artists lie to others!"

Charlie Wade shrugged. "I didn't want to expose you guys, but if you insist, it would be rude for me to ignore you."

"Expose? So you're saying that we have overlooked something?" The calm and collected Matthew Gibson laughed.

Charlie Wade took a glance at him and laughed. "He is the most idiotic one out of all of you..."

"Do you have a death wish, you brat?" Matthew was infuriated.

"The jade is real, don't get me wrong." Charlie Wade then added, "But it's not some bloody jade from the Zhou dynasty, nor was it blessed by a powerful monk. This is just a high-quality nephrite, but it is worth around fifty thousand maximum."

"Bullsh*t. Can't you see that the jade is red in color!?" Quilt scowled.

Charlie Wade continued as if he had never been interrupted. "The red color of the jade is due to it being corrupted by potassium permanganate minerals. Did you really think that it was doused in the blood of some powerful monk?"

"What about the warm aura that it just radiated?" Graham asked, his eyebrows furrowed tightly.

Charlie Wade shook his head. "This little thing doesn't have any power of that sort. One merely has to saturate the jade in a solution made from the African Gholag Weed for half a year for it to possess such an effect. Plus, it's not that it radiates a warm aura, it's just a hallucination caused by the drug. It's fairly easy to get rid of it. You'd just need to burn the jade."

"You brat! How dare you speak such foul lies!" The man slammed his hand on the table and stood up.

Travis's expression darkened as he glared at the fat man. "Then, why don't we test it out?"

The fat man began sweating bullets. "What do you mean 'test it out'? This brat is obviously lying! Why are all of you buying into his crap?!"

Graham tapped his finger impatiently. "If it still radiates a warm aura after burning, I'll buy it from you immediately. However, if the effect wears off, you know what's coming for you... Although us Quintons are facing certain problems right now, we will never let anybody walk all over us!"

Jasmine nodded in agreement. "If what Mr. Wade says is false, carrying out the test won't be much of a problem. After all, jades are inflammable. However, if it turns out that he was right, you would owe us an explanation!"

The fat man was now panicking, cold sweat running down his chubby forehead. All three of these families were not people he should ever piss off. He had only agreed to set this up because Quilt would be there to convince Jasmine. That way, they could split the money from this scam. However, he hadn't expected Charlie Wade Wade to expose this set-up!

In actual fact, Charlie Wade had absolutely no clue on how to appraise jades. However, being able to spot the problem in this piece of jade was all because of the . He didn't understand why, but the answer just came to his mind naturally when he saw this piece of jade. It would seem that appraisal was one of the abilities listed in the .

Noticing that the fat man had not said a word, Charlie Wade smirked. "Well? Are you guilty? Why aren't you defending yourself?"

The fat man's face was pale, but he refused to speak up about carrying out the flame test.

Chapter 96

Charlie Wade was now furious. "Do you think you can get out of this by not talking, fatso? I'll have you know, this is Aurous! Don't you know that the people in this room are all just as powerful within this area? They can have you die in a ditch as long as they say so! I'd advise you to tell us the truth this instant, otherwise, you won't even be able to save yourself!"

Jasmine knew that Charlie Wade was trying to manipulate him, hence, she put on a stern expression and played along. "The Moore family is fairly powerful. If anyone intends to scam any of us, we will surely teach him a good lesson. After all, if we were to spare them, our reputation in the public's eyes would certainly be damaged!"

The fat man was shocked to his core. He knew that the Moore's indeed held extreme power in this area. If he were to piss Jasmine Moore off, he would surely die in Aurous!

Panicking, he turned to Quilt in desperation. "Quilt, help me out! This isn't what we agreed on!"

Quilt's facial expression changed. "You... What are you talking about? Scamming the Moore's and wanting to put the blame on me?! I'll kill you!"

Pulling a dagger from his pocket, Quilt's stare was cold and chilling as he rushed toward the fat man's direction.

The fat man glared at him. "F*ck, you backstabbing b*stard! You were the one who told me the Moore's trusted your appraising abilities fully! You were the one who said this piece of sh*t would be sold as long as you said so! You've framed me!"

Jasmine stared at the two coldly as they fought before turning toward Charlie Wade. "Please excuse me, Mr. Wade. Thank you for accompanying me here, let's leave now. My family will send someone here to clean up this mess."

Charlie Wade nodded. "Okay, let's go then."

The two stood up and prepared to depart. As Jasmine walked out of the lobby, Quilt groveled at her feet, visibly terrified. He didn't even bother trying to kill the fat man anymore. "Miss, please spare me! For the sake of all the years that I have served your family, please just spare me this one time..."

Before Jasmine could respond, Travis stood up and scoffed. "Hah, do you have a death wish, you old fart? You wanted to scam me, and you wanted to scam your master! Even wanting to scam as much as two to three billion dollars! Do you really think the Moores will spare you?"

Quilt's face drained of color and he froze in shock, paralyzed on the ground.

Travis then added, "Even if they did, I, Travis Lane, will never let you off this easily!"

Quilt immediately broke down into tears as his body fell to the ground.

At the sight of this mess, Jasmine shook her head in disappointment. "Pardon me, Mr. Wade. It was our mistake to have hired such an incompetent b*stard, how embarrassing."

Charlie Wade replied, "There's always darkness as long as there is light, you don't have to blame yourself, Miss Moore."

Right then, Travis and Matthew who were from Lancaster walked out of the lobby, followed by Graham from the Quinton family in Aurous.

Upon seeing Charlie Wade, Travis rushed up to him and grabbed his hands, pumping it up and down. "Thanks to you, Mr. Wade, I've avoided being scammed by that b*stard!"

Ashamed, Matthew, who was standing next to him, exclaimed, "Mr. Wade is certainly a prodigy! I truly didn't notice that they had made any changes to the jade at all! I am very much ashamed of myself..."

Graham then saluted him as well. "This is all thanks to you, Mr. Wade. If it weren't for you, the three of us would be at each other's necks to bid on this faux. Not only would we be sustaining a huge loss, but our families' reputation would also be at risk!"

Charlie Wade smiled. "Don't sweat it. I was invited by Miss Moore to appraise the jade anyway. I was just doing my job."

After having a short and polite conversation, Charlie Wade and Jasmine then got into the car, and the garden reverted to its tranquil state.

As they were leaving, Charlie Wade noticed that there were a few men who were dressed in black attire that rushed in. It would seem that Quilt and the fat man's fate had been decided.

Chapter 97

Jasmine had a very indifferent expression on her face as they sat in the car.

For her, the fact that there was such a useless scumbag in her family was extremely frustrating. Moreover, what was even more vexing was the fact that Uncle Quilt had tried to set her up in front of so many outsiders.

If he had fooled her into giving him the money today, Uncle Quilt would have escaped with all that money. Jasmine would have been really embarrassed if she had discovered the fact that she had been cheated only after losing a vast fortune that belonged to the Moore family!

Fortunately, Charlie Wade was present at that time and had saved her, helping her avoid losing her family fortune.

Jasmine took out a bank card from the glove box in her car before she handed it over to Charlie Wade. "Mr. Wade, there is about one million dollars in this card. The passcode is six 'eights'. Please accept this as a form of my gratitude."

Jasmine could not help but sigh as she spoke. Why had Charlie Wade chosen to join such a small family when he seemed to be so professional and skillful? If he had come out and started his own antique appraisal business, he would have been able to create a massive career for himself after a few years.

Charlie Wade hesitated for a moment as he looked at the bank card in her hand.

One million dollars was not a small amount, but it was nothing to the Moore family.

At first, Charlie Wade had no care for the one million dollars at all. After all, he had more than nine billion dollars in his own bank card, so to him, one million dollars was just a drop in a bucket of water.

What was the point of accepting it?

However, when he thought about it, he was just not a trillionaire. He was merely the son-in-law of the Wilson family.

He was simply someone's son-in-law. If he turned down the offer of one million dollars as a reward, this would definitely seem suspicious to Jasmine. Hence, Charlie Wade took the bank card from her and said, "Thank you, Miss Moore."

Jasmine smiled before she replied, "Mr. Wade, you are way too polite."

After speaking, Jasmine asked again, "Where are you heading to, Mr. Wade?"

Charlie Wade smiled as he replied, "Can you drop me off at the vegetable market? I have to buy some vegetables so that I can go home and cook."

Jasmine was stunned upon hearing his reply and could not stop herself from asking, "I have heard about you in the past, but Mr. Wade, in my honest opinion, you have a very good set of skills that you should put to good use. There is no need for you to be a stay home son-in-law. Why don't you come and work for me instead? I promise to give you a basic salary of one million dollars a year. What do you think of my offer?"

Charlie Wade quickly waved his hand as he smiled and said, "I am already used to living like this."

Jasmine was startled at his reply, but she could only sigh in response.

It seemed as though the rumors were true. She had already heard the rumors stating that Charlie Wade was a son-in-law who lived off his wife.

In the past, Jasmine used to think that this was simply a rumor. She had initially thought that he had not been given the opportunity to prove himself.

However, now, she finally understood that Charlie Wade was the one who chose to waste his life away, and she found this truly unacceptable.

Therefore, her attitude and impression of Charlie Wade changed immediately.

Charlie Wade knew that she would definitely look down on him. However, that would be best for him. In fact, it would be better if everyone around him had the wrong impression of him. That way, he would be the one to have the last laugh in the end.

When they finally arrived at the vegetable market, Charlie Wade got off the car after bidding farewell to Jasmine. After that, he bought some vegetables before heading home.

As soon as he stepped into the house, Charlie Wade could hear the old man laughing wildly as he shouted out loud.

"Hahaha... come, come. Come and look at what I've found!"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson had already gotten off work, and she was sitting on the sofa while reading some documents. She turned around to look at her father as soon as she heard Jacob Wilson shouting. "Dad, you almost scared me to death."

"Hurry up and take a look at this!" Jacob Wilson did not notice the expression on Claire Wilson Wilson's face at all. Instead, he held out a pair of palm-sized celadon cups, as though he was trying to show them off. "This is the blue and white celadon cups that I found in the antique market today! I heard that they found it in the late emperor's coffin and it is worth more than five hundred thousand dollars!"

"More than half a million dollars?" Claire Wilson Wilson stood up as she blurted out immediately. "Dad, where did you get so much money?"

Chapter 98

Charlie Wade felt completely helpless at this time. Jacob Wilson had just broken the Yuhuchun vase in the morning, and yet, as soon as he had stepped out of the house, the old man had actually taken advantage of his absence to sneak out and explore Antique Street again.

That was just so typical of him. He would never learn from his mistakes.

Jacob Wilson laughed as he asked them in a mysterious manner, "I meant that these celadon cups are worth more than half a million dollars! Why don't you guess how much I bought them for?"

Claire Wilson Wilson hesitated for a moment before replying, "Three hundred thousand dollars?"

"No! Guess again!" Jacob Wilson replied as he waved his hand.

"Two hundred thousand dollars?"

"That's not right either!"

Charlie Wade glanced at the pair of celadon cups in his father-in-law's hand and he instantly knew that the cups were fake and only worth a few hundred dollars.

Just then, Jacob Wilson smiled as he exclaimed excitedly, "Haha! I bought it for only three hundred dollars! Isn't that amazing?"

Claire Wilson Wilson's eyes widened in surprise as she looked at him in disbelief. "Are you serious?! These cups only cost you three hundred dollars?"

At this time, Elaine Ma walked out of the kitchen, attracted by Jacob Wilson's excitement and joy. "Are you sure these cups are so valuable and that they are not fake?"

Jacob Wilson patted his own chest as he replied, "Don't worry! The person who was selling these cups was not an expert in this field. Therefore, I already got someone to check and verify the cups for me. He said that it was a genuine and authentic product!"

"Is that true?" Elaine Ma asked as she picked one of the cups up in her hand, smiling from ear to ear.

Charlie Wade stood aside as he nodded with a calm expression on his face.

He knew that the cups were fake, but he did not want to expose the truth since it was rare for the old man to be so happy.

Jacob Wilson was overjoyed and looked like a cat that had just stolen a fish! As he continued to celebrate, Jacob Wilson spoke once again, "The seller also told me that this is not the complete set. In fact, he said that his boss would bring the rest of the cups to the shop tomorrow. I will head over to his shop to have a look again tomorrow. I want to try and buy the whole set! If I have the whole set of celadon cups in my hand, the value of the cups will be multiplied several times! If we are lucky, we can even sell the whole set for six million dollars!"

Charlie Wade frowned before he quickly stopped Jacob Wilson. "Dad, you should not be too greedy when you are trading in antiques. I think that it is enough to own two of these celadon cups. Let's talk about this..."

Jacob Wilson glared at Charlie Wade before reprimanding him. "What gives you the right to teach me anything about antiques? Are you trying to stop me now?"

Charlie Wade quickly replied in an apologetic manner, "No, no, you can do whatever you like."

After saying that, Charlie Wade could not be bothered anymore.

After all, even if the old man was cheated, it was not his personal money anyway.

Claire Wilson Wilson also spoke up and said, "Dad, why do you want to buy so much? We can't eat or drink with these cups anyway. Besides, there is such a huge difference between the price of the cup and the value of the cup. We have yet to determine whether the cups are authentic."

Claire Wilson Wilson did not believe that a pie would just fall from the sky. If her father could just buy the cups for three hundred dollars and sell it for five hundred thousand dollars, wouldn't everyone be rich?

When Jacob Wilson saw that they had doubts about his purchase, he said contemptuously, "You guys do not understand this at all. This is definitely an antique, and only a person with insight would be able to pick it up!"

Jacob Wilson then continued admiring his celadon cups as he spoke to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Don't worry too much about this. There were also several other people who were fighting with me to buy the cups today! I might not even be able to buy the cups tomorrow."

Elaine Ma hurriedly cut in, "If the cups are so valuable, you have to make sure that you find a way to get them tomorrow!"

The two elders continued admiring the cups while Claire Wilson Wilson quietly pulled Charlie Wade to the side.

"I don't think that this seller is very reliable. Somehow, it feels like a scam to me. Dad will definitely try to go back there tomorrow, can you accompany dad to Antique Street tomorrow to make sure that he does not get scammed?"

Charlie Wade nodded immediately. Honestly, if Claire Wilson Wilson had not said anything, he would not be bothered at all. However, since his wife had already spoken up, he could not just sit by and watch his father-in-law get scammed.

Chapter 99

The next day was already the weekend.

Jacob Wilson dragged Charlie Wade out of the house and they drove to Antique Street early in the morning.

The old man looked very refreshed and energetic, and upon stepping out of the car, Jacob Wilson waved his hand at Charlie Wade as he said, "Come! Let me show you how you can pick up a good product!"

After that, both of them started walking down Antique Street.

Charlie Wade had to walk quickly to keep up with Jacob Wilson. Regardless, he continued to look around him as he walked along the street.

Since it was the weekend, there were a lot more people on Antique Street as compared to usual.

Antique Street was very dense on both sides of the street as there were many vendors who came out to set up their stalls during the weekend, and so, the whole street was very packed.

Many vendors simply placed a plastic sheet on the ground as they welcomed guests and customers to check out all the various kinds of antiques and jades placed on the ground.

Charlie Wade looked around casually and realized that there were barely any genuine products in the entire market. In fact, most of the vendors here set up their stalls to trick laymen, tourists, and foreigners.

Most of the tourists who bought the antiques did not know the value of the item, and they would often be grinning as they held the imitation product in their hand, thinking they had gotten a good bargain for themselves.

"Over here!"

Jacob Wilson stopped in front of a simple stall, his face filled with excitement and expectations.

A few tourists were standing around the stall at this time, looking through the variety of antiques. Jacob Wilson quickly joined the crowd because he was afraid that he might lose out on a good deal.

Charlie Wade took a good look around the stall. The stall was nothing more than a piece of oiled paper that had been spread over the ground with several dozen mud-stained antiques placed on it. There were blue and white horses, some copper coins, copper wine cups, jade bracelets, and yellowed calligraphy paintings.

Even though there was a dazzling array of items, Charlie Wade could tell that it was all fake just by glancing at the items.

The owner of the stall was a skinny and dark-skinned man who was dressed in a simple and casual dark blue t-shirt. His hair was very greasy and disheveled, and yet, he had a straightforward and honest appearance.

"Look at this!" Jacob Wilson said to Charlie Wade excitedly as he pointed at a colorful bottle that had a big mouth. He then spoke in a low voice, "This is the wine bottle that will complete my celadon cups! If I buy this wine bottle today, I can make my celadon cups a set so that the price can be doubled!"

Charlie Wade glanced at the wine bottle before picking it up and turning around to face the owner of the stall.

"How much is this?"

The owner of the stall stared at the wine bottle before replying, "Well, my father said that I could only sell that for at least twenty thousand dollars and not a cent less!"

Jacob Wilson almost laughed out loud when he heard the price of the wine bottle. Subsequently, he quickly said to Charlie Wade, "The owner of the stall does not even know the value of the antiques that he is selling! Let's hurry up and buy it before anyone else does."

After he was done speaking, Jacob Wilson hurriedly took some money out from his pocket.

At this time, Charlie Wade quickly stopped Jacob Wilson before he smiled and said, "Dad, this thing is definitely not worth twenty thousand dollars. We are not buying it."

"What?" Jacob Wilson was taken aback. "Then... how much do you think it is worth?"

Charlie Wade stretched out his hand before shaking his hand in front of the owner. "This number."

"Five thousand dollars?" The boss asked as he stared at Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade shook his head. "No. Fifty dollars at most."

The owner of the stall stared at Charlie Wade as though he was looking at an alien before he suddenly shouted, "Do you even know the value of antiques? This is an antique that was left behind by my grandfather! It is a rare piece of treasure that you cannot find anywhere else today. Are you trying to bully me just because you are from the city?!"

Jacob Wilson became anxious and tried to stop Charlie Wade from challenging the owner of the stall. "Charlie Wade, don't talk nonsense. You are interfering with his business."

Charlie Wade smiled before raising the wine bottle and turning it around. After that, he wiped the yellow mud stain from the bottom of the wine bottle with his hand and pointed to the wordings at the base of the wine bottle. "Dad, take a look at this."

The wordings were very small, and an ordinary person would not have noticed it if Charlie Wade had not pointed it out. There were a few words written in English at the bottom of the wine bottle.

"Made in China."

Jacob Wilson was so stunned that he froze in place for a brief moment, at a loss for words.

After a short while, he regained his composure and his face flushed red as he yelled and pointed his finger at the owner of the stall.

"You... you cheater!"

Charlie Wade took the wine bottle and waved it in front of the owner of the stall before saying, "The manufacturer will not blatantly allow the sale of fake antiques, and that is the reason why they printed this in the fine print. You are quite clever to cover everything with mud. Will you sell this for thirty dollars now?"

"This..."

The owner of the stall was stunned for a moment before the smile on his face disappeared completely.

Chapter 100

"Boss, I think I must have brought the wrong wine bottle out since I rushed out of the house in a hurry today."

"So, you brought the wrong bottle out today?" Charlie Wade smiled as he picked up another wine bottle that was covered in mud. He wiped the mud off with his hand before looking at it under the sun. After inspecting it, Charlie Wade said, "What about this bottle, then? It seems as though this wine bottle was made in Suzhou."

Sure enough, there was a row of small characters written below the bottle.

"Made by Suzhou Craft Factory."

"I don't know what is written on it since I am illiterate," The owner of the stall smirked as he replied. After that, he rubbed the sole of his feet against the oil paper, making it seem as though he was not interested in doing business with them at all.

Jacob Wilson became angry and annoyed when he saw that he had been fooled.

Grabbing hold of the owner of the stall, he shouted angrily at him.

"You liar! Give me back my money!"

"What money are you talking about?! I have never seen you before in my life!" The owner of the stall shouted back as he struggled to set himself free. Just then, the fake copper coins and jade horses that he had put on display fell to the ground.

However, when the jade horse fell to the ground, it did not break at all! In fact, it seemed to be made out of hardened plastic.

"I will call the police if you refuse to return my money to me!" Jacob Wilson yelled as he exploded in anger.

Both of them continued struggling, and during their tussle, something fell from the owner's sleeve.

Charlie Wade frowned when he saw the fallen item.

Staring at it, it turned out to be a fist-sized white pebble that looked just like any regular pebble that could be found by the river or beach.

However, the only difference was the fact that there were a few words carved on the pebble—Peace and Wealth!

The font was very crude, and at first glance, it was evident that these words had been manually carved onto the pebble.

This kind of pebbles with engravings could be found anywhere in the city, therefore, it was usually not worth any money at all. It was no wonder why the owner of the stall did not display the pebble along with the other items.

Charlie Wade walked up to the pebble before picking it up. As soon as he touched the pebble, he could feel the blood boiling within his body.

He could feel a completely different vibe exuding from this object!

It was not just a vibe, it felt more like some kind of energy and magnetic field that was producing a very powerful attraction force, attracting Charlie Wade to it.

Charlie Wade knew that this must be the spiritual energy that was recorded in the , also known as reiki.

Reiki was a mysterious energy that had already been lost for a long time. Even though it could not completely transform a person's physical body, it could cultivate and produce many incredible effects on the human body.

Charlie Wade was thrilled. He weighed the pebble in his hand before asking the owner of the stall calmly, "Does this belong to you?"

The owner of the stall was taken aback. Then, he nodded subconsciously.

"How much are you selling this for?"

Jacob Wilson was also surprised, and he quickly asked, "Why are you buying this useless pebble from him? Don't you know that everything he is selling is fake?"

"It's just a pebble, anyway. It should be fine to buy a pebble so that I can ward off some of the bad energy," Charlie Wade replied as he smiled.

The owner of the stall quickly took advantage of the situation to break free from Jacob Wilson before sneering at Charlie Wade. "Are you really interested in buying the pebble?"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Yes, I want to buy the pebble."

The owner of the stall suddenly became very energetic as he spoke eloquently. "Brother, you are really very insightful. Even though this looks like an ordinary pebble, it comes from a rather extraordinary origin. It was initially used as a paperweight in a wealthy lord's study room..."

Charlie Wade interrupted him impatiently as he did not have the time to listen to his rubbish.

"Don't waste your time explaining its origins to me. I just want to know the price of the pebble."

The owner of the stall smiled as he replied, "Since you have such good taste, I will charge you... twenty thousand dollars for this!"

Charlie Wade stared at the owner of the stall in disdain before replying, "Are you really crazy over money? I will give you three hundred dollars for this pebble. If you refuse to sell it to me for this price, I will call the police to arrest you for selling fake imitation goods!"

"Three hundred dollars?" The owner asked as he smiled. "Brother, since you are someone who knows the value of antiques, I will sell it to you for three hundred dollars."

Charlie Wade smiled before he pinched the pebble that he was holding in his hand.

Jacob Wilson, on the other hand, was very puzzled because he could not understand why Charlie Wade would buy a useless pebble. Just as he was about to question Charlie Wade regarding his purchase, a voice came from behind him.

"Well, that pebble looks perfect. I want to buy it!"

Chapter 101

As soon as he heard the voice, Charlie Wade turned around to look for its source.

He saw a young man wearing a white linen suit and a pair of black cloth shoes walking toward the stall. There were all sorts of bracelets on his hand, and as it was broad daylight and sunny, he was wearing an antique pair of gold-rimmed glasses with two round black lenses. The young man's glasses looked like the type of glasses young children would wear during the Qing Dynasty in China.

About four to five bodyguards were walking behind the young man, and compared to the young master, the bodyguards looked more fierce and evil, driving everyone around to move away quickly in order to avoid causing any trouble at the scene.

"Oh, it's Mr. Quinton!"

The owner of the stall widened his eyes and started smiling as soon as he saw the young man. After that, flattering words came out of his mouth as though he was a tap with running water flowing from it. "Mr. Quinton, why didn't you tell me in advance that you were going to be coming today? I would have gone out and walked you in."

"Don't talk nonsense. I am just here to have a look around Antique Street today," The young man replied as he waved his hand impatiently.

He strode forward before looking at the pebble in Charlie Wade's hand. He then raised his head and said, "Zachary, pack this pebble up for me. I am buying it. I want to buy a paperweight for my father's desk, and this seems like the perfect fit."

"This..." The owner of the stall looked at Charlie Wade in embarrassment before he continued speaking. "Mr. Quinton, this is really unfortunate, but this brother has already bought the pebble. In fact, there is nothing special about this pebble. It has only ever been used as a paperweight and it does not hold any significance at all. I have specially reserved some better and more precious antiques for you. What do you see in that worthless pebble, anyway? You deserve something that is more befitting of your status."

Through this exchange, Charlie Wade discovered that the name of the owner of the stall was Zachary. Also, it seemed as though he knew this young man very well.

Charlie Wade was also very impressed with Zachary's ability to talk.

He could come up with all sorts of stories without even blinking an eye.

Zachary quickly picked up one of the jade horses that was made out of hardened plastic before holding it out in front of the young man. "Mr. Quinton, this is the beloved item belonging to one of the late imperial concubines in the palace. As you can see, the jade is crystal clear, and this means that it is a good and expensive jade. So, I do not need to explain any further. Since we are already such close acquaintances, I will sell this jade horse to you at the same price you paid for the celadon cups yesterday! Just nine thousand dollars!"

Jacob Wilson was dumbfounded when he heard that the young man had purchased the same fake celadon cups as he had. The owner of the stall was already taking advantage of him when he had sold it to him for three hundred dollars, but Mr. Quinton had actually paid nine thousand dollars for it!

"Stop talking nonsense and get it done already!" Mr. Quinton was starting to lose his patience, and he kicked Zachary in the leg before saying arrogantly, "The only thing that I am interested in today is the pebble. Sell it to me, and I will give you twenty thousand dollars for it."

Zachary was shocked when he heard the offer of twenty thousand dollars. Hence, he quickly turned around to face Charlie Wade and said, "Brother, do you mind if I sell the pebble to Mr. Quinton instead?"

Charlie Wade frowned as he replied coldly, "I have already bought this pebble, and I do not wish to transfer it to anyone else."

"Who is asking you to transfer it? You have not even paid for the pebble! That pebble belongs to anyone who pays for it!" Mr. Quinton cut in impatiently as he took his wallet out from his pocket. Following that, he pulled out a stack of cash before waving it in front of Zachary's face.

"Here, take this. This is definitely more than twenty thousand dollars. You can keep the change."

Zachary's eyes lit up as soon as he saw the stack of cash. He quickly took the money from Mr. Quinton before smiling at Charlie Wade and saying, "Brother, I have a better offer for you. I can sell you the paperweight that was used by the king in the past. It is definitely better than this!"

Charlie Wade smiled before replying, "Zachary, you know that you are not allowed to break the rules of trade, right? I bought this pebble first, and I am not interested in giving it up to someone else."

Zachary had no other choice and was left helpless, seeing as Charlie Wade refused to give up the pebble.

After all, according to the rules in an antique trade transaction, the antique would always belong to the first person he was serving if that person chose to purchase the item. If he broke that rule, he would not be able to continue setting up his stall on Antique Street.

Thus, Zachary turned around and lowered his head as he said, "Mr. Quinton, it seems as though there is nothing that we can do about the pebble. Regardless, it is just a useless paperweight. Why don't I bring you something better from my house.."

Before he could finish his sentence, Mr. Quinton had already kicked Zachary in his waist as he started cursing at him. "When have you ever been so righteous?! I have already bought so many different antiques from you, yet now, you are actually turning your back on me because of a poor man?"

Mr. Quinton was glaring at Charlie Wade as he spoke because he wanted to force him to hand over the pebble.

This was because he assumed that Charlie Wade was not from a wealthy family based on his dressing, and so, he figured that Charlie Wade did not have much authority or power.

Chapter 102

Nevertheless, Mr. Quinton was completely different. This was because he was born with a silver spoon in his mouth, seeing as he came from a famous second-generation rich family. He had not experienced any shortage of money ever since he was born.

Zachary did not want to offend Mr. Quinton, but he did not want to break the rules for antique trade either, and so, he continued looking at Charlie Wade, hoping that the latter would change his mind.

Charlie Wade knew that Zachary was pleading with him, but he simply ignored his plea and replied coolly, "No."

Zachary was left utterly helpless and could only sit on the ground and grunt in case Mr. Quinton kicked him again.

"Look at how useless you are!"

Mr. Quinton yelled as he scowled at Zachary. After that, he glanced at Charlie Wade before saying arrogantly, "You bought this pebble for three hundred dollars? I will pay you thirty thousand dollars if you give it to me!"

The people who had crowded around them exhaled loudly as soon as they heard Mr. Quinton's words, only able to look at Charlie Wade with an envious expression on their faces.

He had bought the pebble for a mere three hundred dollars, and now, the price of the pebble had already increased by a hundred times in just a matter of minutes! This was clearly a very profitable deal for Charlie Wade.

Furthermore, anyone could tell that the owner of the stall had obviously picked up the pebble from a river or by the beach because there were thousands of similar-looking pebbles around those areas.

Jacob Wilson was also very excited when he heard Mr. Quinton's offer. After all, Charlie Wade would be able to make a profit from this sale, and he would be able to make up for the money that he had lost to the owner of the stall yesterday.

However, Charlie Wade raised his head and smiled at Mr. Quinton before replying, "As I have already told you earlier, I am not selling this pebble. Even if you pay me three hundred thousand dollars, I am still not selling this pebble to you."

"You!"

The expression on Mr. Quinton's face immediately turned ugly as anger flashed in his eyes.

The crowd around them became boisterous as they whispered amongst themselves, debating if Charlie Wade was publicly refusing to sell Mr. Quinton the pebble because he wanted to embarrass him.

"Lowlife! Are you trying to pick a fight with me now?" Mr. Quinton asked as he sneered at Charlie Wade. "Do you really think that there is anything on Antique Street that I cannot afford to buy?"

"Today, if I do not get what I want, no one is getting it either!"

After he was done speaking, Mr. Quinton turned around and signaled at his bodyguards.

As soon as they received his instruction, the bodyguards quickly ran forward and surrounded Charlie Wade.

The crowd was also shocked at the scene that they were witnessing.

Jacob Wilson was also stunned.

The Quinton family?

They were even more influential and wealthy compared to the White family!

It was no wonder why Mr. Quinton was willing to spend nine thousand dollars on a pair of fake celadon cups. It was because this was just a small sum of money to him, and it did not mean anything to him at all. He did not care whether the antique was authentic or not, he was simply buying it because he could!

Meanwhile, the bodyguards surrounded Charlie Wade aggressively.

Afraid that things would escalate and get out of hand, Jacob Wilson looked at Charlie Wade and tried to ask him to hand the pebble over to Mr. Quinton.

However, Charlie Wade simply stared at the bodyguards before saying, "I still stand by my words. I am not selling my pebble. No matter what you do, I will not sell this pebble to you. What is mine is mine. No one in this world can ever take my belongings even if he is God."

"I will prove to you that I can take this away from you, then," Mr. Quinton replied arrogantly. "Let me tell you something. I am God. You are just a nobody who has barked up the wrong tree. Are you sick of living?"
Chapter 103

When everyone saw the arrogant expression on Mr. Quinton's face, the surrounding crowd held their breaths because they were certain that Charlie Wade would lose in this confrontation.

However, Charlie Wade had a calm expression on his face, and he smiled as he replied, "I think that this is not your first time participating in an antique trade. Do you have any idea what is the most important thing in the antique trade industry?"

Mr. Quinton looked at Charlie Wade with a cold expression on his face as he replied, "What?"

Charlie Wade laughed before answering, "Of course it is the rule governing antique trading!"

After that, Charlie Wade raised his voice slightly before he continued speaking. "In antique trades, it is always a first come first served basis. I came first, and I was the first person to buy this pebble. Therefore, this pebble belongs to me already. Even if you kneel before me and beg me to give it up to you, I will not give it to you, otherwise, I will be allowing you to break the rules today. Who would want to continue doing business with you on Antique Street if you are going to break the rules to get what you want? You will be barred from coming into Antique Street, Mr. Quinton."

Mr. Quinton was stunned upon listening to Charlie Wade's words, and anger flashed across his face.

He knew that this rule indeed existed in the antique trade industry, even proclaiming himself to be an educated person, and yet, here he was, evidently trying to break the rules.

If rumors of this incident were to spread, no one would want to deal with him anymore in the future out of fear that they would be offending their other customers.

Mr. Quinton did not expect Charlie Wade to render him speechless with just a few words!

Therefore, he glared at Charlie Wade in frustration, struggling with his urge to kick the latter in the face.

Alas, all he could do was swallow his anger and grit his teeth before saying, "Did you really think that I was interested in the pebble at all? I was just trying to put you in your place. I want you to realize that not everyone is cut out to trade antiques. Since you obviously look like you come from a poor family, you should just go home and plant some vegetables in your garden! Don't come here and spoil the market value of these antiques."

After saying that, Mr. Quinton rolled up his sleeves and raised his hand before waving it in front of Charlie Wade. "Open your eyes and look at this clearly! I bought this jade bracelet not too long ago for one million and five hundred thousand dollars! Have you ever seen such a beautiful and rare piece of jade in your life?"

The jade bracelet on Mr. Quinton's arm was crystal clear and it shone brightly under the sun. Everyone around them was staring at the jade bracelet with their eyes wide open because it was really very beautiful.

Zachary also stared at Mr. Quinton's hand as he exclaimed, "Wow! What a beautiful piece of jade!"

"Of course!" Mr. Quinton responded arrogantly, seemingly satisfied with everyone's reaction.

After that, he glanced at Charlie Wade contemptuously as he lowered his collar and pulled out a gourd-shaped pendant that was attached to a necklace around his neck. "Why don't you take a look at this, too?"

"This chalcedony pendant was passed down from the emperor to his son in the Sui Dynasty. Eighty-eight high ranking monks actually set up an altar to consecrate Buddha and recite the scriptures for one hundred and eight days before making this pendant. It is worth at least three million dollars!"

When the crowd heard that the chalcedony pendant was worth that much, they craned their necks to take a closer look at the pendant.

Meanwhile, Zachary rubbed his nose in excitement as if he had just seen something priceless. He was staring right at the chalcedony pendant, itching to get his hands on it.

Mr. Quinton toyed with the chalcedony pendant in his hand as he sneered at Charlie Wade. "If you are just a poor man who cannot even afford to buy a decent piece of clothing, stop trying to take part in an antique trade. It makes people want to laugh at you."

His tone was very sarcastic, and because of his words, the people in the crowd started glancing at Charlie Wade.

Indeed, Charlie Wade did not look like a wealthy person at all. He was wearing a very casual white t-shirt, a pair of jeans, and sneakers, like any other regular young working man.

On the other hand, although it seemed as though Mr. Quinton was dressed in an effortless and casual manner, anyone could tell that his set of clothing was costly. Each piece of his clothing was handmade, and his entire outfit was probably worth at least six figures.

Charlie Wade stared at Mr. Quinton with a smug expression on his face because he felt that this man was a joke. He was not a villain. He was merely a rich young man who wanted to show off and brag about his wealth.

Charlie Wade smiled before he looked at Mr. Quinton and said, "You must be really rich, hmm? But even though your jade bracelet is stunning, unfortunately... it is a fake."

Mr. Quinton was taken aback for a moment before he roared, "You are talking nonsense! How can my jade bracelet possibly be a fake?"

"If you do not believe me, you can ask the other bosses in the antique shops around you."

Charlie Wade shrugged before he continued speaking, "If you are rich enough to invest in antiques, you should at least know the value of the item you are purchasing instead of buying fake goods. Right now, you are nothing more than a blind man who is going around the antique industry, pretending to be very well-versed in antiques when you know absolutely nothing at all."

Mr. Quinton was very irritated. Charlie Wade was obviously mocking him and calling him ignorant. Therefore, he said sternly, "If my jade bracelet is authentic, I want you to kneel before me and apologize to me. How about that?"

Chapter 104

"Okay, sure," Charlie Wade agreed immediately with an extremely relaxed attitude. "I can only say that you are really amazing because you actually believe that that artificial stone is a jade."

Mr. Quinton was getting increasingly annoyed, and his face flushed red after getting criticized by Charlie Wade. He turned around and looked at the massive crowd of people around them.

"Mr. Zeke, Mr. Lionel, I want both of you to help me appraise this bracelet and tell me whether it is a genuine product or not."

The two people who had been called out by him suddenly felt very awkward as they exchanged glances with one another.

This was because identifying the authenticity of an antique was usually very offensive toward the other party, regardless of whether it was genuine or not.

"Mr. Quinton, we also have limited knowledge in appraising antiques. We would not be able to tell the difference."

Mr. Quinton immediately got angry and quickly said, "Don't give me all these nonsensical excuses! I want both of you to give me an honest appraisal of the bracelet. Regardless of whether it is an authentic piece of jade or not, I promise not to cause any trouble for you. However, if you lie to me and an expert tells me otherwise when he appraises it afterward, I will not let you off so easily!"

"Don't be angry, Mr. Quinton."

Both men quickly stepped forward in shock.

None of the stall owners who did business on Antique Street dared to offend Mr. Quinton.

Consequently, the two antique stall owners had no choice but to bite the bullet and step forward to take a closer look at the jade bracelet.

A few minutes later, one of the men stuttered as he said, "Mr. Quinton, what this man said was true. Your jade bracelet... the jade bracelet..."

"What about it?" Mr. Quinton asked coldly.

The man was so frightened that he responded immediately. "Your bracelet really is made out of artificial stone. It is not made from pure jade."

As soon as he those words, Mr. Quinton's face turned green before his face flushed red with anger. He was so embarrassed because it felt as though he had been slapped in public.

He swallowed angrily, trying his best to control his temper.

Charlie Wade then smiled before saying, "Do you believe me now? I can't believe that you actually spent one million and five hundred thousand dollars to buy an artificial stone bracelet. Mr. Quinton, you really are a very wealthy man."

"My judgment was wrong this time!" Mr. Quinton replied as he grit his teeth angrily. "It's only one million and five hundred thousand dollars anyway, did you think I can't afford to lose such a small sum of money? Even if my jade bracelet is fake, the chalcedony gourd pendant is definitely authentic!"

Mr. Quinton was confident about his chalcedony gourd pendant solely because he had already hired an expert to appraise the pendant, and the expert had told him that it was indeed an ancient antique piece from the Sui Dynasty!

Charlie Wade snorted coldly. "I'm afraid that there will be no one as foolish as you in this world! After all, who else would carry such an evil thing on them and still treat it like a treasure."

"What are you talking about?! You are just too ignorant!"

Mr. Quinton exploded, the blue veins on his forehead protruding at this time.

Charlie Wade continued speaking, "You are very lucky that you have not perished yet even though you are keeping such an evil thing so close to your body every day!"

The expression on Mr. Quinton's face changed immediately. Having already learned his lesson earlier, he was now unsure whether Charlie Wade's words were true or not. Therefore, he could only stare at him as he asked, "Why do you say that?"

"Just look at the shape of the chalcedony gourd pendant!" Charlie Wade replied coldly. "Did you check and research on the functions of your jade pieces before actually purchasing them?"

Mr. Quinton was very confident as he responded, "This... isn't this chalcedony gourd pendant a gift from the emperor to his son for his coming-of-age ceremony? Anyone who invests in jade knows that the shape of a gourd represents auspiciousness! You are indeed just a poor man who knows nothing at all!"

Chapter 105

When Charlie Wade saw how arrogant Mr. Quinton was, he sneered as he shook his head in disdain. "You can't even tell the difference between a gourd and a jade plug? Haven't you heard of the nine orifices or the jade plugs that were used on corpses?"

"What do you mean by jade plugs and corpses?" Mr. Quinton asked with a confused expression on his face.

Charlie Wade sighed. "A child cannot be taught!" After that, he shook his head before saying, "You don't even know this? Have you heard of the 'Nine Aperture Jade'?"

"What 'Nine Aperture Jade'?" Mr. Quinton asked as he stared at Charlie Wade with a blank expression on his face.

Even though Mr. Quinton really enjoyed purchasing antiques, he had never spent any time studying any of his antiques at all. He would always buy whatever anyone said was good before going out to brag about his antique pieces.

"Idiot!" Charlie Wade sneered before he continued speaking. "The 'Nine Aperture Jade' consists of nine jade plugs that were used by people to plug the nine orifices of dead people. The first seven orifices can be found in the ears, nose, mouth, and eyes, whereas the last two orifices are our genital and excretory opening."

"Dead people!?" Mr. Quinton asked with his mouth wide open.

He glanced at the chalcedony pendant that was hanging around his neck in disbelief. Suddenly, he could feel goosebumps all over his body.

Was this chalcedony pendant really taken from a dead body?!

Charlie Wade continued mocking him. "It seems as though you really do not know what I am talking about. The chalcedony pendant in your hand is actually a jade plug that was used to plug the excretory hole of a dead person. I cannot believe that you have been wearing it around your neck all this time! Don't you find it stinky at all?"

Mr. Quinton was speechless as he continued staring at the chalcedony gourd pendant in his hand. He suddenly felt nauseated and had a strong urge to puke.

This was a jade plug that had been stuffed into the buttocks of a dead person?!

And to think he had actually hung it around his neck and treated it like a piece of treasure for the past three years...

What was even worse was the fact that he would always place the piece of jade in his mouth because he loved it so much...

Wasn't he tasting the excretory hole of a corpse?!

"Ohh!"

Mr. Quinton could not hold it in any longer and he bent over as he started to vomit.

The crowd of onlookers who had gathered to watch the scene was now casting mocking glances at him.

Some of them were even gloating and making fun of him for being so blind. How could anyone be so foolish to spend so much money on purchasing such an evil thing?

Not letting up so quickly, Charlie Wade continued speaking. "Also, this jade piece that is hanging around your neck has already soaked the 'qi' in the corpse for a long time, thus, it is no longer a piece of jade that is auspicious or brings good luck. In fact, it contains a very evil aura now. If you continue to wear it around your neck, you will definitely die within a year!"

As soon as he had spoken those words, the crowd took a few steps back immediately, fearing that the evil aura within that jade would contaminate them.

Zachary, who had initially been standing next to Mr. Quinton, also moved to the other corner of the stall.

Even though he was a swindler, he could tell that Charlie Wade's words were not groundless.

Mr. Quinton was also very frightened at this time and could only stare at Charlie Wade with a blank look on his face.

The expression on Charlie Wade's face was very cold and indifferent as he snorted. "Has this been a very disastrous year for you? Did you get involved in any bloody situations or car accidents?"

Mr. Quinton stared at Charlie Wade as his mind went over the events of the past year.

He had indeed experienced a very bad fortune this year. In fact, he had been involved in a major car accident at the start of the year. If it were not for his crash-resistant Hummer that day, he would have been dead a long time ago.

His driver had been killed on the spot in that car accident. As for Mr. Quinton, he had broken two of his ribs and had had to be hospitalized for more than half a month before he was finally allowed to go home.

Mr. Quinton began breaking out in cold sweat. Without wasting any time, he pulled the chalcedony pendant off his neck before throwing it to the ground.

The crowd backed away quickly to avoid contact with the pendant.

Charlie Wade could only sneer as he looked at the disturbed expression on Mr. Quinton's face. If he had not given him this reminder today, Mr. Quinton would definitely be dead within a year.

"Who are you?" Gritting his teeth, Mr. Quinton glared at Charlie Wade.

This person knew too much information about him. Had he been sent here by an enemy?

"I am someone that you cannot afford to offend."

Chapter 106

Charlie Wade replied coldly before he turned around to leave.

When Mr. Quinton saw that the other party was about to leave, he thought that Charlie Wade wanted to escape. Therefore, he yelled immediately, "Stop him! Who gave him the courage to do this? There must be someone backing this kid up!"

"I can't afford to offend you?! Hahaha! There is no one in the whole of Aurouss Hilll whom I cannot afford to offend!"

"Tie him up and break his legs! I want to know who actually has the audacity to provoke the Quinton family!"

In fact, Mr. Quinton believed that Charlie Wade was someone that his business rival had purposely sent to provoke him. Otherwise, how else would he know about the car accident that he was in at the start of the year?

The bodyguards acted immediately, and they rushed toward Charlie Wade without any hesitation at all.

Two other bodyguards walked toward Jacob Wilson and reached out their hands before they grabbed him fiercely.

Jacob Wilson was frightened out of his wits as he had not expected them to get into so much trouble when they had merely come out to buy some antiques.

As soon as the bodyguards caught hold of Jacob Wilson, the expression on Charlie Wade's face changed immediately. He kicked the strong and muscular man in front of him before rushing over to Jacob Wilson's side. After that, he punched the bodyguard in the face without any hesitation whatsoever.

Bam!

The bodyguard who had been holding onto Jacob Wilson dropped to the ground as soon as Charlie Wade punched his face. His nose was bleeding as he took a few steps back, covering his nose with his hand in a defensive manner.

Another bodyguard brought out an electric baton before calling out to Charlie Wade fiercely.

"Ahh!" Jacob Wilson yelled in fright when he saw the electric baton. "Run, Charlie Wade!"

Before he could even finish his sentence, Charlie Wade had already avoided the electric baton with his fast and agile moves. Moreover, he defeated the bodyguard in no time at all and clasped his hands to his back, holding them in place.

Bam!

The bodyguard with the electric baton was smashed to the ground, grimacing in pain as Charlie Wade held his hands behind his back. He could not set himself free at all.

Jacob Wilson was speechless and he could barely recognize the young man who was standing in front of him. Was this truly his son-in-law?

Had he always been such a good fighter?

Charlie Wade bent over and picked up the electric baton from the ground before asking, "Is there anyone else who would like to challenge me now?"

The crowd remained silent as they fixed their eyes on Charlie Wade.

Zachary was also dumbfounded because he did not expect Charlie Wade to be such a good fighter. "Brother, you are amazing!"

Zachary was very thankful that he had not provoked Charlie Wade just now. Otherwise, he would now be the one lying on the ground with a broken shoulder.

Upon recovering his senses and regaining his composure, Jacob Wilson looked at Charlie Wade and asked in shock, "Charlie Wade, you... where did you learn how to fight?"

"Well..." Charlie Wade smiled before he replied nonchalantly. "Dad, I am usually bored at home when Claire Wilson goes to work. So, I would always watch television at home. Isn't there a wrestling program on television every morning? I learned it from watching them."

In actual fact, Charlie Wade had already known how to fight ever since he was a young boy. Moreover, he was very skilled in boxing and wrestling. After all, his descendants were from a line of pro wrestlers.

However, he could not tell the old man the truth because he had to keep his identity a secret.

What surprised Charlie Wade himself was the fact that his strength seemed to have improved a lot.

It seemed as though his combat effectiveness was several times deadlier than usual.

This must be the effect of the .

Not only that, Charlie Wade could also feel the reiki from the pebble that he had bought earlier flowing into his body. He could feel that his overall physical fitness had improved tremendously.

The crowd could not help but cheer as they were all in awe of Charlie Wade.

He was such a skillful fighter, anyone would have thought that he had learnt how to fight professionally. Who would have expected that he had actually learned how to fight by watching a television program!

He must be really talented!

"You got your fighting skills by watching a television program!?" Zachary exclaimed with his eyes wide open. Zachary quickly ran up to Charlie Wade before asking, "Brother, can I ask which channel or television program you learned it from? I want to learn how to fight, too."

Charlie Wade looked at Zachary before he replied curtly, "The sports channel, quack!"

Chapter 107

The crowd believed Charlie Wade and all of them really wanted to go home to check out the sports channel immediately.

The expression on Mr. Quinton's face was hideous right then, and after keeping silent for a short while, he finally regained his senses.

This was embarrassing!

The bodyguards he had hired and paid so much money for were all professional fighters that he had specifically recruited to protect him. Who would have expected..

Who would have expected a young boy who came from nowhere to actually defeat all of these professional fighters, just by watching a television program?

Mr. Quinton was not a professional fighter, and so, he did not know that Charlie Wade was actually very skillful. However, his bodyguards were not stupid.

They knew that he was an expert as soon as he laid hands on them.

Even though Charlie Wade was very humble, his moves were very deadly even when he did not use any strength at all.

He was not someone they could easily defeat.

Hence, the bodyguards did not step forward, but instead, they looked at Charlie Wade with a curious expression on their faces.

Jacob Wilson, who was watching from the sidelines, did not know anything about fighting, and so, he merely assumed that Charlie Wade was simply lucky and that he was just a little more robust than the bodyguards. Jacob Wilson did not know that Charlie Wade's moves, were in fact, very professional and skilled.

Charlie Wade smiled at Mr. Quinton as he asked, "So, are you coming to get me yourself, then?"

"You! Don't come over!"

Mr. Quinton was so intimidated that he was breaking out in cold sweat. He subconsciously took a few steps back.

When Charlie Wade saw how frightened he was, he took a few steps forward and walked toward him.

Mr. Quinton stared at him in horror as he continued backing away.

If Charlie Wade threw him to the ground the way he had thrown one of his bodyguards earlier, he would definitely be hospitalized for another half a month!

Suddenly, a black BMW turned in from the corner of the street before parking not too far away.

The driver got out of the car before opening the car door for the owner of the vehicle.

Mr. Quinton was overjoyed when he saw the person who had just arrived in the black BMW. "Sister! Someone is bullying and threatening to beat me up! Come and save me!"

Charlie Wade raised his head, and he could see the crowd making way for a woman dressed in black, tight-fitting sportswear as she walked toward them.

The tight-fitting sportswear outlined the woman's figure perfectly, and she had a very fierce and heroic face.

"That's Adam Quinton's sister! Aurora Quinton!" Someone in the crowd suddenly yelled in shock before there was an uproar in the crowd.

Adam pleaded once again, "Sister, this young boy is threatening to beat me up! Please help me teach him a lesson."

After Aurora approached the both of them, she glanced at the bodyguards who were lying on the ground before glaring at Charlie Wade with a cold expression on her face. "Were you the one who beat them up?"

Charlie Wade replied flatly, "So, what if I did? What is wrong with that?"

Aurora sneered before she replied, "I want you to apologize to my brother immediately!"

"What if I refuse to do so?"

"Then, I will beat you up until you apologize to him!"

Before she had even finished her sentence, Aurora had already raised her leg to kick Charlie Wade in the face.

Charlie Wade was taken aback because it seemed as though this woman's fighting skill was much better compared to the previous bodyguards that he had fought.

Her kick was very powerful and fast, and it seemed as though she was a professional fighter.

Adam looked at this scene before saying, "My sister will definitely kick your ass!"

His sister had been training on how to fight for many years. She was a very professional fighter who was very skillful and talented, and not many people could defeat her if they were to engage in a fight with her.

However, Adam's eyes suddenly widened at the very next moment.

Chapter 108

"Too weak!"

Charlie Wade became furious and moved aside in an instant as he tried to avoid her kick. After that, he lifted his leg and kicked Aurora straight on her ass, causing her to fall to the ground.

Adam's jaw almost dropped to the ground as he stared at the scene before him. He muttered to himself, "This... how could this be possible?!"

Aurora was feeling even more embarrassed. Ever since she had started fighting, she had never felt more humiliated than this. Moreover, the spot that Charlie Wade had kicked her on was way too embarrassing!

Filled with anger as she stood up, Aurora prepared to rush toward Charlie Wade and attack him immediately. She had already decided that this b*stard would definitely pay the price for his actions today!

"Aurora, stop what you are doing! Do not be rude to Mr. Wade."

Just then, a middle-aged man suddenly ran up to her and grabbed hold of Aurora's hand.

Aurora, still utterly embarrassed, yelled, "Dad! Get out of my way! I'm going to kill him!"

'How dare he? Who gave him the guts to actually kick me in the ass? My ass is hurting now because of him!'

"Shut up!"

The middle-aged man yelled as he glared at Aurora.

After that, he walked toward Charlie Wade with a humble expression on his face. After taking a deep breath, he spoke respectfully. "Mr. Wade, we meet again. I am really sorry about my daughter and nephew who are incapable of behaving themselves. I will get them to apologize to you and I will definitely ask them to reflect on themselves when we get home later."

Aurora and Adam were stunned as they watched the scene play out in disbelief.

Aurora's father was a very important and well-respected person in Aurouss Hilll, so why was he being so polite toward this young man?

Charlie Wade recognized the middle-aged man as soon as he saw him.

He had met him when he had accompanied Jasmine to appraise her previous antique. His name was Graham Quinton.

Charlie Wade nodded in acknowledgment before replying, "Mr. Quinton, it seems as though you should really discipline your nephew."

Graham nodded his head repeatedly before glaring at both Aurora and Adam. After that, he quickly commanded them, "Come over here and apologize to Mr. Wade immediately!"

"I will never apologize to that b*stard! He kicked me in the ass!" Aurora replied furiously.

Graham was already starting to lose his patience. "I want you to apologize to him now! Right now!"

Aurora was instantly discouraged when she saw that her father was already losing his temper, thus, she could only bite her lips aggrievedly and mutter softly, "I am sorry..."

On the other hand, Adam was extremely irritated and quickly asked, "Second uncle, this kid tried to humiliate me and even kicked Aurora! Why should we apologize to him?! You should be teaching him a lesson on our behalf! If you cannot deal with him, I will get someone else to deal with him instead!"

Slap!

Finally, Graham lost his patience and slapped Adam across the face without any hesitation at all. "A*shole! Get on your knees right now and apologize to Mr. Wade!"

Adam was caught completely off-guard because he did not expect his uncle to slap him in front of so many people. As droplets of blood oozed from the corner of his lip, Adam lifted his hand to cover his face in horror. He could not comprehend how things had turned out this way in the end.

But... asking him to kneel before someone else in public...

Wouldn't that be compromising the dignity and reputation of the Quinton family? How would he be able to lift his head up high in Aurouss Hill in the future?

Gritting his teeth, Graham continued yelling at Adam, "You b*stard! If Mr. Wade had not told you about the origins of the chalcedony pendant that you have been treating as a treasure all this while, the pendant would not have just taken your life! The entire Quinton family would have been killed because of you!"

After saying that, he continued, "I had been wondering why the Quinton family has been having such bad luck and so many misfortunes lately. It seemed as though misfortunes were falling upon us, one after the other. It turns out that it is all because of you! You were the one who brought all of this bad luck upon us because of that pendant! Imagine what your grandfather would do to you if he found out about this!?"

When Adam realized that his uncle was indeed furious, he quickly got on his knees and knelt before Charlie Wade with a frightened expression on his face.

Graham continued shouting, "I do not hear any apology from you!"

"Yes! Yes, I am sorry..." Adam apologized to Charlie Wade as he trembled in fear.

Graham looked at Charlie Wade before speaking respectfully. "Mr. Wade, I don't know if there is anything else I can do to appease you. Could you accept their apology?"

Charlie Wade responded immediately. "Forget it. Since he has already knelt and asked for my forgiveness, I will let him off this time."

Graham heaved a huge sigh of relief before asking, "Mr. Wade, there is something else that I would like to ask you. Since Adam has already thrown the chalcedony pendant away, will the Quinton family be able to avoid any future misfortune?"

As soon as Charlie Wade heard Graham's words, he sneered before saying, "Did you really think that things would be that simple? That jade plug was very powerful, and it was not only affecting Adam alone. If you are asking for my honest opinion, I think that the Quinton family will be ruined within a year!"

Chapter 109

Graham was startled by Charlie Wade's words.

His whole family would be ruined?

Did he really have to pay such a huge price?

Graham turned pale before he sighed and said, "I have never done any bad deeds in my life. I've tried to do good deeds and help the people in need every day. So, how did I end up in this state?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he asked, "Was this the reason why you wanted to buy that piece of topaz previously?"

Graham nodded. In fact, he had already tried all sorts of different methods, but none of it seemed to work until he met Charlie Wade.

Previously, he thought that Charlie Wade only knew how to appraise antiques, and so, he had not paid much attention to him.

However, today, Charlie Wade had actually pointed out the reason for their misfortunes without any hesitation. Now, Graham knew that Charlie Wade was not an ordinary person at all. In fact, Charlie Wade might be their only hope, and the fate of the Quinton family was in his hands.

Graham quickly clasped his hands together as he pleaded with Charlie Wade. "Mr. Wade, please help me and my family!"

After he was done speaking, he hurriedly gave some instructions to his assistant beside him. The assistant turned around and left as soon as he received his instructions.

Charlie Wade smiled faintly before replying, "Mr. Quinton, I think that you should resolve your family affairs on your own."

He did not have any connections or relationships with the Quinton family at all. Graham was merely an acquaintance that he had met once in the past, moreover, Adam had already offended him earlier because of the pebble.

Even though Aurora was quite beautiful and had a very perfect figure, she also had a very aggressive and reckless character.

Besides, her beauty had nothing to do with him. She was not his wife, and she was not going to sleep with him.

Hence, there was no reason for Charlie Wade to help the Quinton family.

Nevertheless, Graham was not willing to give up on this perfect opportunity to save his family just like that. He quickly bowed down before Charlie Wade as he said, "Mr. Wade, I am begging you. Please tell me how I can save my family."

Graham was very respectful toward Charlie Wade and assumed a very humble posture as he bowed at a ninety degrees angle in front of Charlie Wade.

Still, Charlie Wade remained unmoved.

When Graham saw that Charlie Wade was indifferent to his request, his heart flipped, and he knelt down on the ground immediately.

When Aurora saw what her father was doing, she knelt down beside him without any hesitation at all.

As she knelt in front of Charlie Wade, she pleaded very pitifully, "Mr. Wade, I was too reckless earlier. I am sorry if I annoyed or offended you in any way, please forgive me. The fate of the Quinton family is in your hands. Please help us."

After saying that, Aurora turned around and looked at Adam who had a blank expression on his face. She slapped him across the face before scolding him. "Adam! This is all your fault. You caused all these disasters by bringing that weird and evil thing into our family! You even offended Mr. Wade when he is the only one who might be able to help us! Kneel down before Mr. Wade and ask for his forgiveness and mercy right now!"

Adam was really frightened and at a loss for words.

He would never have expected that the chalcedony pendant that he owned would be the cause of all the disaster and misfortune the Quinton family had faced over the past year. There was no way he could push the blame to anyone else. Furthermore, he had even offended Charlie Wade, and it seemed as though he was the only one who would be able to help his family. Adam was afraid that he would really be beaten to death by his grandfather and relatives if they ever found out about this.

Consequently, Adam knelt down and begged Charlie Wade in a shaky voice. "Mr. Wade, I was wrong. Mr. Wade, please forgive me and have mercy on my family! I did not know what was right or wrong. Please forgive me and help the Quinton family avoid this misfortune that is befalling us. I am begging you..."

After that, Adam knocked his head against the ground as he continued begging Charlie Wade.

At this point, Graham's assistant suddenly came back with a gift box in his hand.

Graham took the gift box from his assistant before handing it over to Charlie Wade respectfully. "Mr. Wade, this is the most expensive jade bracelet in Emerald Court. It is worth more than six million dollars! Please accept this gift as a token of my gratitude, Mr. Wade."

Charlie Wade glanced at the gift box in Graham's hand. It was a fine piece of jade bracelet with an excellent finish, as clear as crystal glass.

The people around them could not stop themselves from gasping when they saw the jade bracelet. Everyone knew that this was the most expensive jade bracelet in Emerald Court and that it cost at least six million dollars!

Yet, Graham had actually instructed his assistant to purchase the jade bracelet so that he could give it to Charlie Wade, even going as far as to beg Charlie Wade to accept his gift.

It was undeniable that Graham's opinion of Charlie Wade was extremely high.

However, what was Charlie Wade's identity?
Chapter 110

Charlie Wade's father-in-law was also feeling dumbfounded. This was the first time that he had ever encountered such an unexpected situation in his life.

Charlie Wade looked at the jade bracelet but did not accept it immediately. After glancing at it, he looked at Graham before he smiled and said, "Mr. Quinton, how can you be so sure that I will be able to resolve this matter for you?"

Graham replied piously, "If Mr. Wade has no way to deal with it, no one else in this world will be able to handle this matter anymore!"

Charlie Wade could only smile because Graham was right. He indeed knew how to resolve this matter and divert the misfortune away from the Quinton family.

This was because he had already read about this evil spirit in the , and the method to resolve this issue was actually very clear and simple.

Charlie Wade glanced at the jade bracelet before he took it in his hands in a casual manner.

He examined the jade bracelet and realized that the crystal was really very clear and transparent. It would definitely look stunning on his wife, Claire Wilson Wilson's hand.

As for Graham..

To be honest, he was not a bad person.

His only wrongdoing was the fact that he had failed to discipline the descendants of his family properly.

Since Graham was also begging him, it would not cost him anything to help him.

Therefore, Charlie Wade replied, "Since you are begging me, I will give you face and help you."

Saying that, he took the jade bracelet from Graham.

Graham was thrilled when he saw Charlie Wade accepting the jade bracelet. He quickly bowed again as he thanked him. "Mr. Wade, thank you so much. Thank you for helping us get out of this messy situation. The Quinton family is very reputable in Aurouss Hilll, if you need any help in the future, please do not hesitate to ask me for help. I will definitely do my best to help you."

The crowd was surprised at the turn of events.

There was hope for the Quinton family!

Charlie Wade thought for a moment before replying, "Alright, then. If that is the case, I will help you this time."

Graham shook Charlie Wade's hand excitedly before he said, "Yes, please, Mr. Wade. Please!"

Charlie Wade then asked for a piece of yellow talisman and cinnabar from the owner of the antique stall next door. After drawing a few strokes on the piece of yellow paper, he handed it over to Graham immediately.

"Put this talisman on the jade plug and bring it home with you. Make sure that you burn incense every day. After seven to forty-nine days, the evil spirit will be completely purged from the jade plug."

"During these seven to forty-nine days, your entire family should be vegetarian and avoid killing and blood. Remember to take a shower every day, and you have to remember to burn incense every day without fail."

"Mr. Wade, thank you for your advice. I will definitely keep it in mind."

Graham accepted the talisman from Charlie Wade with both hands, extremely grateful toward Charlie Wade. He carefully placed the talisman on the jade plug before wrapping it up in a yellow paper bag.

As soon as he had placed the talisman on the jade plug and wrapped it up in the yellow paper bag, Graham suddenly felt as though his whole body had gotten so much lighter. He also felt much more refreshed in an instant, and that was how he immediately knew that Charlie Wade's method was working.

He was ecstatic!

It was such a stroke of luck that he had managed to run into Charlie Wade today, otherwise, the Quinton family would have been completely destroyed!

Meanwhile, Zachary could only stare at Charlie Wade with awe written all over his face. As soon as he saw that Graham was already packing up, Zachary hurried over to Charlie Wade with a sly smile on his face.

"Big brother, could you do me a favor? Could you tell me what I should do so that I would be able to get a beautiful wife?"

Charlie Wade frowned as soon as he heard Zachary's words. After that, he shook his head before replying, "If you really want to find a beautiful wife for yourself, the first thing you have to do is to get plastic surgery done first."

Aurora, who was standing at the side, could not help but smirk.

Zachary was really ugly indeed, so it was impossible for any girl to fall in love with him.

Charlie Wade, on the other hand, was really handsome...

Chapter 111

Graham smiled before he spoke again respectfully, "Mr. Wade, we will never forget your kindness toward the Quinton family. It might be a little rushed today as we did not have any time to make any preparations at all, however, I would like to invite you to the Quinton family mansion for dinner tomorrow. I would like to host a banquet to personally thank you for your kindness, Mr. Wade."

"It's okay, I have something on tomorrow." Charlie Wade replied indifferently as he shook his head. "The only reason why I helped you today is because I know that you have always done a lot of good deeds for others. Otherwise, I would not have helped you at all. Do you understand what I am saying?"

Graham was taken aback at this. Still, he laughed before nodding. "I understand! Mr. Wade, please do not hesitate to come and look for me if you need any help in the future. The Quinton family will always welcome you."

After that, Graham hurriedly took out a gold-plated business card that contained his personal contact information on it.

Charlie Wade took the business card from Graham without even looking at it before turning around and leading his father-in-law out of the place.

Graham continued staring at their backs as he watched the two of them slowly leave the place. After that, he turned around and glared at Adam. "From now on, I want you to bow and greet Mr. Wade in a respectful manner if you ever run into him in Aurouss Hilll. Do not cause me any more trouble!"

Adam replied in an aggrieved manner. "I did not know that I would be offending someone like him on this street..."

Aurora had a cold expression on her face, and she gritted her teeth as she watched Charlie Wade walk away.

Even though she really respected Charlie Wade for his skills and knowledge, she could not forget nor forgive him for kicking her on the ass.

After all, for an arrogant girl like her, this kind of thing was simply unforgivable.

Graham sighed as he tried to comfort her. "Aurora, don't try to retaliate against Mr. Wade, okay? Our family is counting on him to pull through this misfortune..."

"Do you think it will really work?" Adam muttered.

Graham could not stop himself from scolding Adam yet again. "If you continue to spout nonsense, I will break your legs immediately!"

Adam kept quiet because he did not dare to provoke his uncle further.

Aurora too stomped her feet bitterly as she said, "I know dad... I will not provoke him..."

However, the more she thought about it, the angrier and more uncomfortable she felt.

"It is really such a pity..." Graham suddenly sighed as he shook his head.

Aurora turned around to look at him before she asked, "What is a pity?"

Graham glanced at her before he said, "Unfortunately, Mr. Wade is already married. Otherwise, I think that the both of you would make a perfect match..."

"Dad, what are you talking about?!" Aurora replied in embarrassment and annoyance.

Jacob Wilson was still very surprised as they made their way back home.

He could not believe that the head of the Quinton family would actually be so respectful toward his son-in-law who was a nobody at all.

"Charlie Wade, was anything you said to Mr. Quinton true at all?"

Jacob Wilson could not help but ask Charlie Wade because he was very confused. It seemed as though his son-in-law was becoming more and more of a liar.

Charlie Wade chuckled before replying, "Well, half of it is true, and half of it is probably false. Isn't it interesting to keep it as mysterious as possible?"

Jacob Wilson was shocked at Charlie Wade's reply and reprimanded him immediately. "Oh my God, what have you done? I can't believe that you would actually dare to lie to the Quinton family. You even accepted such an expensive jade bracelet from them! Do you know what they could do to us if they found out that you were lying to them?"

Charlie Wade shook his head as he replied, "What's the big deal? At most, I will just return the jade bracelet to them. What can they do to me? Kill me?"

Jacob Wilson could only sigh as there was nothing else that he could do. He was obviously worried, but after thinking about it, there was really nothing much that the Quinton family could do to them. Perhaps, Charlie Wade's method would really work to help the Quinton family. They could only take that gamble.

Upon returning home, Charlie Wade went into his bedroom before taking out the 'Peace and Wealth' pebble that he had bought from Zachary.

Suddenly, he felt a surge of energy from the pebble penetrating into his body.

It made him feel very warm, but his chest and stomach felt extremely uncomfortable.

Shortly after that, Charlie Wade began sweating excessively, and there were black impurities that were discharged from his body. After that was done, Charlie Wade could feel his body gradually relaxing itself.

Chapter 112

After a while, Charlie Wade felt a burst of energy surging through his body as if stimulating all of his senses, bones, and blood.

It was Reiki!

When he looked at the stone again, Charlie Wade found that the stone seemed to be absorbing all the spiritual energy that it didn't look any different from a normal lifeless stone.

He tried to perform the cultivation method recorded in the "Apocalyptic Book" but he couldn't extract the Reiki from the stone anymore.

Dejected, he put the stone back in his pocket. Intuitively, he felt that the stone was extraordinary, but he had no way to examine it now. It seemed that he had to sharpen his skills first before he could work on the stone again.

He hurried to take a bath as he was sticky from the profuse sweating. It was already over 5 pm when he finished the bath, and that's when Claire Wilson called him.

On the phone, Claire Wilson Wilson told Charlie Wade that she was in the middle of the meeting with the Emgrand Group about the project details and that she didn't drive today due to the road space rationing restriction, hence, she wanted Charlie Wade to fetch her at the Emgrand Group with her father's BMW 530.

Charlie Wade obliged to his wife's request wholeheartedly. He asked Jacob Wilson for the car key and drove straight to the Emgrand Group.

He took out his phone and called Claire Wilson Wilson's number as soon as he arrived at the main entrance of the company. Claire Wilson Wilson didn't answer his call, instead, she quickly sent him a text message that said, "Charlie Wade, I'm still in the meeting with the project team, please wait for me downstairs for a while, thank you."

"Alright, I'll wait for you downstairs," Charlie Wade replied, then went outside the car and smoked while waiting.

At this moment, Doris, the vice-chairman of the Emgrand Group, called him and asked, "Mr. Wade, are you here at the company?"

Charlie Wade asked curiously, "How do you know?"

"I'm in my office, I saw your car."

Charlie Wade looked up instinctively and asked again with a smile, "Is there something you want to discuss with me?"

"Yes, indeed. Your wife is still in the middle of a meeting, it may take a while, so I want to ask if you have time, I would like to report to you about the company's recent development."

Charlie Wade pondered her remarks. Indeed, he hadn't gotten involved with the company lately. As the chairman, he couldn't be oblivious about the company's business and progress, so he said, "Okay, wait for me, I'll come up right away."

"Please go directly to your office, I'll meet you there."

"Okay."

After ending the call, Charlie Wade strode into the building, got on the elevator, and went straight to the chairman's office on the top floor.

As he exited the elevator and headed towards his office, a door behind them suddenly opened.

It was Loreen, she wanted to go to the washroom when she bumped into a familiar figure as soon as she left her office.

She didn't recognize that the figure was Charlie Wade, but felt that the figure was unusually similar to the mysterious man on the video!

Could he be the chairman that she had been always eager to meet? Did he finally come to the office?

Loreen was overjoyed!

After all, the main reason for coming to Aurouss Hilll and Emgrand Group was to know the mysterious chairman and then worked her way up to become his companion. If she succeeded, she would bring the entire Thomas family to the next level.

This was an important mission entrusted to her by the whole family, it was also the sustenance of the family to her.

However, Loreen was very frustrated. She had been working here for so many days but she hadn't even seen the chairman's face, how could she make her move to the next level with a man she hadn't met?

Hence, when she finally got to see the chairman's figure, she was absolutely thrilled!

She quickly jogged after the man, wanted to catch up to him to say hi, and then introduced herself!

Chapter 113

Charlie Wade heard the rustling footsteps coming from behind him. He stealthily looked at the glass window with the corner of his eyes and discovered that Loreen was following behind him!

Oh, shoot!

If Loreen saw him here, she would have thought that he was the chairman of the Emgrand Group!

Worse, she might even connect the dots and know that he was the young master of the Wade family!

It was indeed very bad!

As Loreen was about to catch up with him, he walked faster, entered the chairman's office, and quickly locked the door behind him.

Never did Loreen expect that the man would suddenly speed up. When she wanted to pursue him, he was already in the office.

Loreen sighed in disappointment and muttered under her breath, "That's weird, why do I feel like the chairman is running away from me on purpose..."

She refused to give up on such a golden opportunity just yet. She took a deep breath, went to knock on the door, and said, "Hello, Mr. Chairman, I'm Loreen Thomas, the new administrative director. I would like to report to you on the department's progress."

Charlie Wade deliberately lowered his voice and replied, "Have you reported to Miss Young? The company does not allow employees to go over their direct superior's head, don't you know that?"

"I'm sorry, I forgot..."

Loreen was slightly shaken by his intimidating tone, and thought, 'The chairman is so fierce... Is he angry of me going over Doris's head, or he doesn't want to see me at all?'

However, Loreen didn't dare to stay in front of Charlie Wade's office any longer. She walked away sheepishly.

Charlie Wade heaved a sigh of relief when he heard Loreen's footsteps getting farther and farther away.

She nearly caught up with him! It was a close call!

He pondered about his circumstances. He had to come to the company from time to time. As the administrative director, Loreen's office was on the same floor as his, the chance of stumbling upon her in the future increased.

Right at this moment, Doris came to his office.

Charlie Wade immediately said to her, "Doris, I need you to do something for me."

Doris nodded. "Please, what is it?"

"Switch Loreen Thomas's position."

After a short pause, he asked, "What kind of position in our company that doesn't need to stay in the office all the time?"

"Sales, commercial affairs," Doris replied, "These two positions often have to go out for business, basically, they won't be in the company."

"Good," Charlie Wade nodded and said, "Then transfer her to be the sales director."

"No problem, I'll have it arranged once I get back to my office," Doris answered.

Then, Doris reported on the company's recent development to Charlie Wade.

The new six-star hotel project had started. The site was located at the foot of Discana Hill, with breathtaking scenery and an exclusive environment.

Once the hotel was completed, it would be the first six-star hotel in Aurouss Hillll that would certainly be the trademark of elegance and luxury.

The progress of the hotel-related project went on very smoothly. The construction of the hotel was expected to be completed within two years and could start its operation in two and a half years. By then, the hotel would be another lucrative revenue for the Emgrand Group.

Charlie Wade instructed Doris, "If my wife is doing a good job in the project and has some spare time in her hands, assign some side projects to her."

"No problem at all, don't worry!"

Checking his watch, his wife was about to finish her meeting, so Charlie Wade said, "Call Loreen to your office now, it'll be good timing for me to go."

Doris nodded. She returned to her office and called Loreen.
Chapter 114

Loreen immediately went to Doris's office when she received the call. Charlie Wade grabbed the chance and quickly went downstairs.

He saw Claire Wilson Wilson walking out, looking worn out and weary, as soon as he reached his car.

She was exhausted from the heavy workload of the hotel project. She said helplessly, "I have too much work on my hands, 24 hours are not enough."

Charlie Wade said heavy-heartedly, "How about dividing some of the works to other people? Or maybe just don't do it."

"No way," Claire Wilson Wilson said, "I was appointed as the director only recently, I need to work hard to strengthen and solidify my foundation at the company, otherwise, my cousin will swoop in whenever he sees a chance."

Claire Wilson Wilson was extremely annoyed when Harold's disgusting look appeared in her mind. The bothersome man kept going against her and always did things detrimental and inimical.

On the way home, Claire Wilson Wilson closed her eyes to rest while Charlie Wade focused on driving without disturbing her.

Meanwhile, in Doris's office.

Doris informed Loreen of the new appointment, which made Loreen a little surprised and bewildered.

It hadn't been long since she was appointed as the administrative director, and now she was transferred to the sales department. Why?

The explanation that Doris gave her was, "I think you are very capable and talented, it is a waste of your talent to work in the administrative department. I take a second look at your resume, you have the background of business management and marketing as your degree, that's why I think sales are the most suitable position for you. Besides, sales and marketing are more important to the company than any other division. I can assure you, if you commit a good job in the new position, you'll have a better prospect."

Truth be told, Doris wasn't bluffing.

The sales position was indeed much more important than the administration.

The sales department was an important department that generated income and revenue for the company, whereas the administration was more of a housekeeper of the company where it was in charge of trivial matters.

Loreen didn't give it much thought nonetheless. She felt that if she could perform excellently in the sales department and bring actual profits to the company, the chairman might notice her eventually!

So, it was great news for her!

The first thing Loreen did after coming out of Doris's office joyfully was to call her good friend Claire Wilson Wilson.

As soon as the call was answered, she said excitedly, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I'm the sales director now!"

"Really?" Claire Wilson Wilson sat up, apparently happy to hear the news as well. "That's really great! You should be working in the sales department since the beginning, it's an overkill for you to work as the administrative director! Now you have more room to showcase your capabilities, I'm sure you'll be able to yield something great soon!"

"Hehe!" Loreen blurted in her gleeful tone, "What about we have dinner together later to celebrate? Invite Charlie Wade too."

Claire Wilson Wilson said in an exhausted tone, "Frankly, we're arriving at our home soon, besides, I'm really worn out today. We'll take a rain check on the celebration, okay?"

Loreen knew that Claire Wilson Wilson was busy with the project lately, so she quickly said, "Of course! You've been working too hard recently, with all the meetings and overtime. Go home and rest, we'll celebrate when the project sails smoothly!"

"Okay," Claire Wilson Wilson said, "Once I'm done with the workload, let's get together and have fun!"

Loreen chuckled. "Deal!"

Loreen felt slightly dejected when she ended the call.

She didn't have many friends in Aurouss Hilll, her only friend was Claire Wilson Wilson.

Now that she was transferred to the position of sales director, she was given a much bigger stage to prove herself, but she couldn't find a person to celebrate her achievement together.

Just as she sighed, disheartened, her phone rang suddenly.

It was from Harold!

Chapter 115

Loreen didn't want to pick up the call as she stared at Harold's name on her phone.

She didn't have a good impression of Harold, and she could see right through his superficial motive of approaching her. He simply wanted to get close to her and tackle her heart.

She was very annoyed by this person's existence and immediately hung up the phone.

However, Harold couldn't take no for an answer. He attempted several times until Loreen reluctantly picked up the call and asked coldly, "What's up, Harold?"

Harold, on the other end of the line, hurriedly said, "Loreen, I heard that you are appointed as the sales director, is it true?"

Loreen was surprised. "How do you get the news so fast?"

Harold chuckled. "I have some friends who work in Emgrand Group, they told me that they received the official announcement about the appointment, so I called to congratulate you."

"Oh," Loreen said, "Yes, I'm appointed as the sales director."

"Congratulations!" Harold shrieked in delight. "It is a position with a lot of real power in your hands! You are so lucky!"

Loreen said flatly, "Thanks."

"Loreen, you've been in Aurouss Hillll for some time now but we haven't met often. I'm sorry for the unfortunate incident in Heaven Springs the other day, so, to express my apology, I would like to invite you to dinner tonight. It's a joyful day too since you are appointed as the sales director. We should really celebrate the joyful moment. What do you say?"

Loreen started declining his offer, "But, I might have to work overtime tonight..."

"Loreen, we must celebrate when it's still fresh, otherwise, the joyful feeling will fade tomorrow. Besides, you don't have many friends here in Aurouss Hillll. Why don't I book a table just for the two of us and have a quiet celebration? What do you think?"

Loreen was touched at the moment.

Honestly, she was eager to celebrate her joyful achievement, but Claire Wilson Wilson couldn't come, and she couldn't find any other person to celebrate with her.

Now that Harold took the initiative to call, he was the second-best alternative choice despite his hypocritical personality. It was better for two people to celebrate than being alone.

Loreen succumbed to his request and said, "Okay, send me the address then."

"Okay, I have reserved a table at Aurous Bistro, just say my name when you arrive."

Loreen nodded. "Okay, I'll be there in a while."

Loreen left the office and took a taxi to Aurous Bistro. It was one of the top restaurants in Aurouss Hilll although it paled in comparison to Heaven Springs.

Harold was standing at the door, tall and straight, waiting for Loreen. He donned a suit with a slick hairstyle, trying to look smart and elegant. However, the bandage on his arm was such an eyesore that it completely destroyed the casual look that he was trying to portrait.

Loreen was wearing a casual T-shirt and a pair of jeans, radiating the youthful and energetic aura. She attracted all the attention around her the moment she got out of the taxi.

Harold grinned sheepishly. Then, he hurriedly marched forward and greeted Loreen, "Hi, you're so beautiful today. Let's go in, our table is ready."

"Thank you." Loreen smiled politely.

They took their seats, and very soon, the food was served.

Harold asked the waiter to bring a bottle of fine red wine. Then, he turned to Loreen and complimented, "It's such a happy day today, why don't we drink some wine to celebrate!"

Loreen shook her hands instantly and said, "I think I'll pass, I'll just have some juice."

"No can do!" Harold shrieked.

He wanted to make Loreen drunk and see if he could find a chance to jump on her, but Loreen immediately refused his request to drink that made him utterly disappointed.

Loreen said apologetically, "I'm so sorry, Harold, I'm not feeling well today, so I can't drink. Let's find a chance next time to get together and have a glass or two."

Chapter 116

Actually, Loreen could tell what was playing in Harold's mind, and she wanted to protect herself from any unwanted scenarios, hence, she made up her mind not to drink with him tonight.

Harold was bummed out after his request to drink was rejected, but he didn't dare to express himself, so he said instead, "It's okay, let's just drink juice then."

Loreen nodded. "Thanks for being so considerate!"

Meanwhile, a seemingly gracious young man sitting at the table next to them was staring at Loreen. He was attracted by her elegant temperament and aura after he saw her walking into the restaurant.

'The lady is so beautiful and extraordinary, she looks like a fairy descending to earth!' thought the young man when he first laid eyes on Loreen.

After observing their interaction for a while, he realized that the lady and the man were not a couple, so he decided to grab his chance to get to know the beautiful lady.

He mustered enough courage before he stood up, walked towards their table, and said to Loreen, "Hi, I couldn't help but fall in love with you at first sight as soon as you walked into the restaurant. May I get your number?"

Loreen was stunned by the sudden approach.

She didn't expect to have someone hitting on her in the restaurant tonight.

On the other hand, Harold was extremely agitated.

Where did this fool come from? Couldn't he see that he was sweet-talking her? How dare he come and cut him off, bugger?

Before Loreen could answer to the abrupt request, Harold said coldly, "Who the hell are you? What are you doing, bugging us at our table?"

The young man said lightly, "I'm talking to this fine lady here, stay out of it."

Then, he turned to Loreen again. "Miss, I've been watching you for a long time. I didn't want to disturb your dinner, but I couldn't help it, for fear of missing the opportunity to get to know you, so please forgive me for my abruptness."

Harold's blood was boiling right now!

Where the f*ck did this dog come from? How dare he steal his woman?

Harold glared at him indignantly and growled, "I warn you, get away from us when I talk nicely! If you dare to talk or even peek at our direction again, I'll gouge your eyes out!"

The young man frowned in dismay and asked Loreen, "Is he your boyfriend?"

Loreen shook her head.

The young man then turned his head back at Harold and said, "Since you are not her boyfriend, what's wrong with me confessing to her?"

Harold grinned coyly. "I don't like you watching her, keep your eyes away from her!"

The young man frowned again. "Why are you so cocky? You think you're so great, don't you?"

"Boy, I'm from the Wilson family, get lost when I talk nicely if you don't want any trouble!"

Loreen was a little annoyed and disgusted by now.

Firstly, she didn't like how the young man was so direct and blunt in his confession.

Secondly, she didn't like Harold's pompous and overbearing attitude.

The young man glared at Harold in irritation and said coldly, "The Wilson family? You? Don't make me laugh! I warn you, stop your pretentious act right now, otherwise, I'll make sure you won't be able to walk out of this restaurant!"

Harold gritted his teeth in angst like a bear in a sore head.

He became an easy target for anyone now!

He had already embarrassed himself the first time he had invited Loreen to dinner. If he failed to prove himself this time and embarrassed himself again in front of Loreen, he wouldn't have a chance to pursue her anymore.

He grabbed the wine bottle on the table and yelled, "Quiet, f*cker! You ask for this!"

In a blink of an eye, he slammed the bottle on the young man's head!

With a loud bang, blood gushed out of the man's head and spilled onto the floor!

Chapter 117

The young man felt light-headed and dizzy from the smash and almost collapsed to the floor.

The diners around them were also shocked by the sudden commotion.

Harold glared viciously at the young man whose head was drenched by his own blood and sneered, "Get lost, or I'll break your leg!"

The young man held the wound on his head and growled, "Alright, tough guy, wait and see!"

Then, he ran out of the restaurant.

Harold grinned disdainfully and said, "F*cking loser, who does he think he is to threaten me? I am Harold Wilson, f*cker!"

Then, he put on a smug look as he said to Loreen, "There's always these annoying bugs everywhere you go, don't let him ruin our night. Come, let's enjoy our dinner."

Loreen's celebratory mood was totally destroyed after the disturbing moment. She simply nodded without a word.

Throughout the dinner, Harold tried to lighten up the mood by striking conversations, but Loreen wasn't entertained at all.

In her opinion, Harold was nothing but an incapable and reckless man. He wouldn't even be on her list even if he was the only man left in the world.

Harold, on the other hand, assumed that Loreen would fall for his charisma when he got his hands on the stupid bugger in front of her, but it was the complete opposite. Loreen seemed to be a little more repulsive and disgusted with him.

He was feeling depressed when he saw the annoyed expression on Loreen's face. If she didn't like men who used violence, it would mean that he had dug his own grave by smashing the wine bottle on the young man's head, wouldn't it?

Harold was equally dispirited throughout the meal.

After their meal, he thought that they could go for a second round to get to know each other better, but Loreen frowned at his suggestion and said, "It's getting late, I have to go back now. Thanks for dinner."

A dash of gloom hovered under Harold's eyes. "Let me send you home then!"

Loreen shook her head. "It's okay, I'll just take a taxi back." She couldn't be more clear that she wanted to draw a line with Harold.

Harold felt the wrath of fury burning inside him, but he suppressed it and said in a polite manner, "Let me see you off then, at least I'll know which car you're in."

Loreen didn't refuse him this time. She nodded and walked out of the restaurant quietly. Harold quickly pursued.

He was extremely agitated by the turn of events. Initially, he wanted to have a romantic date and confess to Loreen, but the f*cking bugger came along and ruined his chance! In fact, he seemed to have left a bad impression on her too! It was not his day.

"If I see that f*cking dog again, I'll kill him!" Harold cursed under his breath.

Meanwhile, Charlie Wade had just finished his dinner and was clearing the dishes away.

Claire Wilson Wilson shrieked anxiously, "Charlie Wade, there is a supplier quotation in my bag, did you see it?"

Charlie Wade shook his head. "No, I haven't touched your bag since we came home."

Claire Wilson Wilson fell silent for a moment, trying to trace her memory, then, she slapped her forehead and sighed. "Ah, I think I left it in the meeting room! I need to use it tomorrow morning. Mind driving me there to take it?"

Charlie Wade chuckled gently. "Look at you, you're so exhausted. You go and rest, I'll get it for you."

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed gladly and said, "Indeed, I'm worn out. Thank you, dear, the file number is GY20191101."

"You're welcome, my dear."

Charlie Wade grabbed the car key and went out of the door.

On the other hand, Harold and Loreen had just left the restaurant and were standing by the road.

Loreen was looking out for empty taxis when a group of studly men stormed out of three white vans parked on the side of the road and ran towards them aggressively.

The men covered their faces with black cloth, holding steel pipes in their hands. They seemed to be coming after them for revenge!

"Damn it!" Harold trembled in horror when he saw the men running towards him.

Blood drained from Loreen's face when she saw the scene too. She figured that these men were here because of the young man, and from the looks of it, they would probably die!

Sure enough, the young man with the bloody bandage on his head stood up and shouted, "Damn it, go!"

Suddenly, as soon as the voice fell, the group of ferocious men stampeded toward Harold.

"I'm from the Wilson family! Don't you dare touch me!"

Harold was extremely panicked and flustered, but he managed a haughty tone and yelled.

A brawny man grinned contemptuously. He lifted the steel pipe and slammed it at him.

Chapter 118

As Harold watched the steel pipe was aiming at him, he was so frightened and panicked that he almost wet himself.

Suddenly, he grabbed Loreen's hand and pushed her out towards the men then he ran towards his car, opened the door quickly, got in, and drove away without a second look at his back.

Loreen screamed hastily as she was pushed towards the ferocious men, and she blew up when she looked at Harold running away like a scaredy-cat.

Damn it! Harold Wilson was such a wuss and coward!

After causing a scene, he had the nerve to push a lady forward as his shield in such a critical moment and escape by himself!

He was the most disgusting scum in the world!

The young man cursed out loud as Harold escaped.

"Damn it, that f*cker! Left the lady here and ran! What a loser!"

Then, he turned to Loreen and snarled coldly, "Beauty, call that bastard back, otherwise, you're next!"

Loreen blurted in a panic, "He and I, we're just acquaintances, please don't involve me in your affairs."

The young man pointed to his bandaged head and growled, "Damn, I have sixteen stitches on my head! I won't be satisfied until I have my revenge! If he doesn't come back for you, I'll take you home and spend the night together as a f*cking compensation!"

Loreen shrieked in horror. "What? You can't do that! It's illegal!"

"Illegal?" The young man growled, "Do you think you can talk law to me? I'm the law! After I'm done with you, you'll know what the real law is!"

Loreen felt a sudden chill surging her heart as horror and despair crippled her.

"I'll... I'll call him now!"

She took out her phone with her shaking hands and dialed Harold's number.

Harold was behind the wheels and desperately driving away, wanting to go as far as he could before those men could tail him. His heart skipped a beat when Loreen called him.

Damn it!

Earlier, all he could think of was to run away and ditch Loreen at the scene in the process. The woman must despise him very much now!

Damn, what a stroke of bad luck!

His initial intention was to tackle her, connected with the Thomas family in the process, and brought his entire family to the next level.

However, as the events unfolded, he had offended Loreen to the very core!

How could he answer the phone right now?

The only reason she called was to ask him to go back, even an idiot could think of it.

But, would he still be alive if he went back? Those men were so hostile and intimidating with the steel pipes in their hands, even if their beatings didn't kill him, it would paralyze him for life.

Compared to the relationship, staying alive was more important!

Thus, he decided to ignore her calls and kept on moving!

Loreen was utterly desperate and disappointed when her calls went unanswered. She begged the young man, "I can give you money, please let me go, it's really none of my business."

The young man grinned wickedly. "I don't want your money! I want you!"

Loreen's whole body was shaking in fear. She knew that if she didn't do something now, this man would never let her go.

So, she gritted her teeth and kicked between the young man's legs when he wasn't looking.

The young man didn't expect that she would dare to resist. He screamed in agony and loosened his grip of her, then, involuntarily, he swung his knife towards her!

Loreen wanted to run away when she felt a sharp pain coming from her thigh. She screamed and collapsed on the floor.

A sharp dagger pierced her leg, blood oozing out of the horrifying wound.

"B*tch, do you think you can run from me?!"

The young man grabbed her by the hair and sneered. "Congratulations, you've triggered me. My brothers and I will take good care of you tonight!"

Loreen's cheeks were drenched with tears of despair.

She had foreseen her own death in her heart. She knew that this young man would not let her go, and she was afraid that her life would end here, in his hands.

At a moment like this, no one would be there to save her from them..

Yet, she failed to notice that there was a black BMW gradually approaching them. Charlie Wade, who was behind the wheels, frowned when he saw her at a glance!

Chapter 119

Sharp and agonizing pain in her leg sent shocking waves throughout Loreen's body. She was extremely desperate and in despair, tears kept streaming down her cheeks.

The young man grinned slyly as he looked at her tearful yet beautiful face. He cleared his throat and shouted, "Get her in the car!"

Someone's voice echoed from the side, "Mr. Westbrook, when will you let us get a taste of the sweet lady?"

The young man said coldly, "When I'm done with her, you can do whatever you like!"

Then, he extended his arm and wanted to grab her into the car when there was an abrupt scream coming from behind the men!

"Argh!"

Suddenly, loud and painful screams violently resonated.

The young man turned around angrily and shouted, "What's wrong?"

But when he lifted his head, he felt a sudden strong wind coming his way! Before he could dodge, he felt a sharp pain in his face, blood sprayed right in front of his eyes, his nose bridge snapped with a loud 'crack', and blood oozed out from his nose in an instant.

As if his face was hit by a sledgehammer, he screamed in excruciating pain, his body swayed and fell backward.

When he fell down on the floor, he saw his men lying on the ground lifelessly like a group of dead dogs.

Loreen raised her head in horror—her large sparkly eyes widened in shock.

She saw a man in a black mask standing in front of her, his eyes as cold as a pair of daggers.

Loreen was surprised and happy at the same time. 'Who is he? Is he here to save me? Yes, it must be it, he must be here to save me!'

The young man was lying on the floor with blood covering his face.

The man in the mask was moving so fast that he subdued four guys in a blink of an eye. The rest of the men was in a daze due to the sudden attack. Finally, they regained their composure and rushed at him while roaring at their pals.

"Who.. Who are you?" Sitting on the floor, Loreen looked up at the man like she was admiring a superhero.

The man didn't answer her, instead, he picked her up quickly and ran deep into the alley.

Loreen panted, trying to catch her breath. Her heart was thumping profusely as she was still in shock.

Behind them, the stern shout of the brawny men and the roar of motorcycles echoed across the air, they were pursuing them by all means apparently.

The whistling night breeze blew past her face as the man was running away from the gang. She had lost too much blood on her legs coupled with the panic from the incident, she could only hold onto the man weakly.

For some reason, she vaguely felt that the breath radiated from the man seemed somehow familiar.

However, she didn't know that the mysterious man who was carrying her was actually her good friend's husband, Charlie Wade.

When Charlie Wade drove past the area, he saw Loreen being surrounded by a group of thugs. He was afraid that Loreen might be in some kind of trouble, so he quickly wore a mask and came to rescue her.

After the transformation and enhancement by the Reiki from the white stone, Charlie Wade's skills improved by several folds, even his stamina and speed was much faster than before.

He ran zig-zag and crossed the multiple alleys in the area until he had lost sight of the pursuing men.

With Loreen in tow, Charlie Wade ran a great mile before stopping deep in a park.

It was getting darker and the park was surrounded by dense plants and bushes which would be a great hiding spot if they caught up to them.

He put Loreen on the floor and frowned when he saw that her pants had been stained red with blood.

Despite losing so much blood, Loreen desperately tried to stay conscious. Her face was as pale as a sheet of paper as she said gratefully, "Thank you for rescuing me, may I ask... who... who are you?"

Chapter 120

Charlie Wade glanced at Loreen silently and thought, 'You've always looked down on me, what's the point of revealing myself? It will only give more trouble to both of us.'

So, he decided best to keep it a secret.

Likewise, he rescued her for the sake of his dear wife Claire Wilson Wilson, it's not that he had a special treatment for her anyway.

Seeing that the man didn't say a word, Loreen understood that he didn't want to reveal his identity, so she stopped her curious question.

However, she was a woman with a masculine personality that refused to cling to men in any circumstances. She felt awkward and uncomfortable for not being able to express her gratitude after his help.

When she wanted to ask again, a hoarse and cold voice echoed in her ears.

"Take off your pants."

Loreen looked up in bewilderment. She suddenly felt ashamed and agitated when she saw the masked man was eyeing her from head to toe.

She thought that she had escaped the tiger's lair, but she fell right into the wolf den!

Glancing at her surroundings, she was in the middle of nowhere, the man was so skilled and strong, no one would hear her even if she shouted at the top of her lungs.

Desperate, Loreen gritted her teeth in despair and warned sternly, "Don't you dare touch me! I won't be abused by anyone! I would rather die before you can do anything to me!"

Charlie Wade was stunned by her sudden repulsion. Again, he lowered his voice and said while pointing at her leg, "The stab wound on your hamstring is very close to the aorta, if it is not treated in time, your leg will be damaged. If I take you to the hospital first before stopping the bleeding, you'll lose too much blood and it will be too late. What do you think I should do?"

Loreen stared at him in astonishment, her cheeks were blushing red-hot suddenly.

She thought that the man was trying to jump on her, but..

Charlie Wade sighed quietly as he looked at Loreen who looked back at him, dumbfounded.

Loreen cleared her throat and asked timidly, "Can... can you help me stop the bleeding?"

Charlie Wade nodded and said, "Yes, I've studied traditional Chinese medicine and can use acupuncture techniques to stop the bleeding and minimize the injury. Then, you'll have enough time to go to the hospital for the follow-up treatment."

"Th... thank you," Loreen mumbled quietly, her face was as red as a cherry tomato.

She looked at her wound and felt contradictory and embarrassed.

The stab wound was inconveniently on the upper thigh, she had to take off her pants before he could treat her wound.

But wouldn't it mean the man would see her bare legs if she did as he had told?

Loreen underwent a strict upbringing from the Thomas family. Loreen kept her distance with other men physically in the usual days, she wouldn't let any men have physical contact with her either.

Besides, the family doctor of the Thomas family was a renowned doctor abroad, she doubted that simple acupuncture could stop the bleeding and treat her injuries.

Loreen pondered of the circumstances and finally said, "Thank you for your help, but please take me to the hospital, I think I can make it."

Charlie Wade frowned in exasperation, knowing full well what was she thinking about.

Loreen must have thought that her injury was not serious that going to the hospital was the better option, but she didn't know that the reason why she felt alright now was that he secretly interjected a trace of Reiki into her body when he was carrying her.

Otherwise, how else could she have survived until now? She would have died from losing too much blood!

Truth be told, Loreen really thought that the injury she sustained was not serious, so she wanted to stand up. However, as soon as she moved, the wound tore open and a burst of hot blood spurted out of the wound.

Stars and blackness suddenly overtook her sight. Her legs went jelly and she collapsed on the floor, her face as pale as snow.

Charlie Wade frowned and said, "See? I told you, if you move around again, you can say goodbye to your leg. Even if you go to the hospital now, it's impossible to treat it. Besides, you're losing too much blood, you'll die in hypovolemic shock before the ambulance comes. So, treatment or die, choose now!"

Chapter 121

Clutching her leg, Loreen knew the man wasn't bluffing as she saw blood leaking in between her fingers. But her mind was struggling when she thought about taking off her pants in front of a strange man.

In the face of life and death, Loreen hesitated for a while and finally compromised to reality.

She didn't want to die, let alone become disabled.

Loreen looked up at the masked man, her face was turning into an embarrassing shade of red, her heart was pounding violently, her whole body wiggled awkwardly.

Finally, she said faintly, "Okay, thank you."

Charlie Wade nodded at her compliance. He squatted down, grabbed her pants with both hands, and tore it forcefully.

Loreen lowered her head and looked the other way, she sucked in a deep breath, her face was hot to touch, her heart almost escaped the ribcage due to the violent thumping.

Charlie Wade was as calm as the lake. Seeing that the stab wound was on her left leg, he put his index and middle fingers together, aimed at the acupoints, and pressed on it hard.

A hint of Reiki transferred from his fingers into the injury.

Charlie Wade focused his gaze at the wound and nowhere else.

He was as fast as the bullet. After a few acupoints, the blood in the wound gradually stopped.

According to the medical techniques illustrated in the Apocalyptic Book, he could easily heal Loreen's injuries and reconnected her veins and tissues, he could even close the wound right there and then, but he didn't want to overwhelm her.

He simply used his fingers as the acupuncture needles to stop her bleeding and healed her severed veins and muscles. She only needed to go to the hospital for superficial wounds and be discharged.

Loreen's heart was thumping nervously as the masked man worked on her injury. Surprisingly, after he tapped his fingers on her leg, the pain was reduced and the blood stopped that made her extremely shocked.

She didn't expect that Chinese medicine, which her family thought was useless and futile, was more effective and efficient than Western medicine!

"Okay, all done," Charlie Wade said flatly and stood up without a second glance. "Try to stand up and see."

As suggested, Loreen tried to stand up and was genuinely surprised as her legs had stopped bleeding.

She lifted her blushing face and said timidly, "Since you don't want to tell me your name, can you at least give me a chance to repay your favor?"

"No thanks," Charlie Wade said firmly. He didn't want to reveal himself.

"But you saved me. If I can't even properly thank you, I'll owe you the favor forever," Loreen said stubbornly. She took off a necklace from her neck and said, "This necklace was a gift from my grandpa at my coming-of-age party. You save my life, I want to give it to you."

In her palm was a platinum chain with a crystal clear pink diamond inlaid on the pendant.

Charlie Wade wanted to refuse the gift but he felt a light Reiki radiating on the pink diamond, so he changed his mind and accepted it.

Then, he took off his jacket, tied it around her waist, and said, "I'm sorry for tearing off your pants just now. I've called the nearest hospital using your phone, the ambulance will arrive in a few minutes' time. You're safe now. I have something else to do, excuse me."

Then, Charlie Wade turned and disappeared into the dense bushes without looking back.

"Hey, wait..." Loreen shouted but the man disappeared in her sight.

At the moment, she heard the ambulance's siren ringing outside the park.

She looked down at the jacket wrapping her waist and then at the direction in which the masked man disappeared, feeling lost and confused.

Suddenly, she felt that the man looked very familiar when he turned around and left.

She dug through her memory, trying to impose the image, and suddenly remembered that the figure looked exactly like the chairman!

"Is he the chairman of Emgrand Group?" Loreen's heart skipped a beat.

But she didn't get his name, nor did she see the man's look, how could she know that her guess was correct?

Right at this moment, Loreen found a gray-white pebble at the spot where the man had just squatted, the pebble with the words "peace and wealth" on it.

Chapter 122

Who did this pebble belong to? Did it belong to the masked man? Did he drop the pebble by accident?

Loreen clutched the pebble tightly as if she was holding a precious diamond.

If she never saw him again, this stone would be the only thing he had left her.

The ambulance took Loreen to the hospital. After a series of diagnosis, the doctor was genuinely surprised to find that her injuries were not serious, without knowing Charlie Wade had attended to her wound previously.

Judging from the stab wound on her leg, it would either rupture her hamstring or worse, damage her muscles and blood veins.

However, other than the superficial wound, the veins and tendons inside were intact as if they were reconnected and much firmer than before.

The doctor said, "Your wound will heal after a few days of rest. By the way, this is very incredible. Did you do something to the wound?"

Loreen was thinking about the mysterious masked man, but she said, "No, I didn't do anything."

The doctor exclaimed, "It's a miracle!" Then, he continued, "Oh yes, I've notified the police, they will come soon. You can tell them about the attack."

Loreen nodded gently.

The police came pretty soon. They took the case very seriously since the fight occurred in the downtown area that involved weapons and the injured victim was the top executive of Emgrand Group.

Among the police officers who came, someone knew the Wilson family and that Loreen was their guest, so he notified the Wilson family about it.

Meanwhile, at the Wilson family villa, the family members were discussing what they should do.

Harold told them about Loreen's incident, but he didn't say that the incident had happened because of him. Lady Wilson thought that this was a great chance for her family to act. They must find a way to get to Loreen and save her from the demise. At the same time, they should help Harold create a heroic scene into it so that he could tackle Loreen's heart.

When they heard that Loreen was in the hospital, Lady Wilson was utterly disappointed. "It would be great if only Harold was there for the damsel in distress moment!"

Then, she urged them, "Hurry, let's go to the hospital to check her out!"

Harold was treading on thin ice, he could only bite the bullet and go to the hospital with his family.

On the way to the hospital, Harold had drafted a series of speeches on his own, but he didn't know if Loreen would believe him.

Upon arriving at the hospital and seeing Loreen, Harold put on a surprised look on his face and said earnestly as he approached her, "Loreen, are you alright? I'm about to call my dad and bring a team to save you!"

"Save me?" A hint of irony flashed across Loreen's cold face. "You almost killed me!"

Harold frantically explained, "Loreen, please don't get me wrong. I was trying to distract them. After all, they were after me, not you, I thought they wouldn't harm you."

Loreen snorted in annoyance. She turned her head away from him and was reluctant to converse with him anymore. She had already seen the man inside out, she only wanted to stay as far away from him as possible.

Since Loreen had stopped chiding him, Harold assumed that she bought his statement, so he eyed Loreen carefully and saw a man's jacket was wrapped around her waist. He frowned and asked, "Loreen, where are your pants? What did they do to you?"

Loreen sighed in irritation, she didn't want to talk to him at all. "It's none of your business!"

Alerted, Lady Wilson glanced at Loreen and saw the male jacket on her. She walked forward and asked, "Loreen, you can tell me anything. Did they do something to me?"

Loreen said in an emotionless face, "They stabbed me. Fortunately, a young man who passed by the scene saved me. He helped me treat my stab wound, and because my pants were torn, he gave me his jacket to cover myself. Why? Is there a problem?"

"A young man?" Lady Wilson was taken aback.

A young man saved Loreen? Oh no, it's not good! If Loreen fell for the young man, her precious grandson Harold would lose his chance!

Harold asked in an envious tone, "How did he treat you? Did he take off your pants and treat you?"

Loreen sneered sarcastically. "Again, it's none of your business!"

Chapter 123

Harold felt like he was being hit behind his head, his brain was filled with nothing but jealousy.

He couldn't even touch Loreen's hands yet but some strange guy came out of nowhere stripped her and touched her naked!

The audacity!

Harold couldn't care less about how disappointed Loreen was in him, he gritted his teeth enviously and growled, "I don't think the guy was there to save you at all! He just wanted to take advantage of you and harassed you!"

As soon as Harold's voice fell, everyone in the room turned to glance at Loreen.

To be frank, they all shared the same thought.

A beautiful and gorgeous woman lying without her pants on in front of a strange man and let him touched her for the sake of treatment. It couldn't help but intrigue the people to imagine the hidden agenda in a lustful way.

Loreen was so angry she was trembling furiously! She was extremely disappointed in Harold!

Not only did he leave her there and run away by himself in the first place, but he was maliciously defaming her in front of so many people! He was unscrupulous and shameless!

Loreen shot dagger eyes at Harold and said coldly, "Harold, the man who saved me didn't do anything to me. I took off the pants myself! It's none of your business!"

Then, she continued in an indignant tone, "But you, Harold Wilson! You caused everything that happened tonight! It's because of you that they came to seek revenge! You escaped so fast, left me there all by myself, I was stabbed, and you're accusing me now? Are you still a man?!"

Harold choked. He was embarrassed and speechless.

Ignoring him, Loreen got off the bed, got out of the hospital, hailed a taxi, and returned to the hotel where she was staying.

The Wilson family's members were equally dumbstruck. No one guessed that this was the actual truth of the event! It was Harold who had caused the trouble and left Loreen there, which had led to her being stabbed..

Right after Loreen left, Lady Wilson slapped Harold.

He was utterly stunned by the slap. Lady Wilson chided in great dismay, "What did I tell you over and over? Get to Loreen Thomas's good side! You, on the other hand, did an even more terrific job! You dumped Loreen there and escaped on your own! How could she still like you after what you did, you bastard!"

"Grandma, sorry, I didn't mean it." Harold suddenly realized his mistake and regretted it greatly while caressing his flushed face.

He realized that there was no future between him and Loreen!

Charlie Wade didn't tell his wife what happened tonight after returning home. His wife knew nothing about what had happened to Loreen either.

The reason was simple. Lady Wilson had always despised Claire Wilson Wilson and her family, so they didn't get to live in the Wilson family villa, so of course, they wouldn't know any news about this.

The next morning, as soon as Claire Wilson Wilson woke up, she received a call from Lady Wilson.

The old lady told her, "Claire Wilson Wilson, go to Elite Vault Enterprise today and talk to their boss, see if we can buy the 10 million dollars building material on credit. We'll settle the payment once we close the deal with Emgrand Group."

Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly said, "Grandma, Elite Vault has done a lot of business in the industry and they have the utmost right to speak, they don't accept credit."

"I know but our hands are tied. Wilson Group has some problems with the capital fund, it's hard to get a loan now and we can't afford to pay for the material expenses now. The only way out was the Elite Vault Enterprise."

Then, Lady Wilson sighed and continued, "Claire Wilson Wilson, the family is suffering from internal and external troubles now. Your cousin is totally useless, you are our only hope now. Please, try and talk to Daniel Koch, the boss of Elite Vault. If he says yes, it'll be great for us!"

Claire Wilson Wilson hesitated and finally agreed reluctantly, "Okay, Grandma, I'll try and see."

"Very good!" Lady Wilson sighed in relief. "I know you can do it!"

Chapter 124

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little dispirited after ending the call.

Charlie Wade asked out of concern, "What's wrong?"

Claire Wilson Wilson briefly told Charlie Wade about Lady Wilson's request.

Charlie Wade nodded and suggested, "Why don't you ask Emgrand Group to prepay 20 million dollars for the project?"

Claire Wilson Wilson gasped in shock and said, "How can I do that?! They are out of our league, it's a pleasure to work with them, we will be looked down upon if we ask them to pay before the execution of the project."

Charlie Wade shouted internally, 'Your husband owns Emgrand Group, how dare anyone look down on you for the mere 20 million dollars?!'

But Claire Wilson Wilson couldn't read his mind, she had no idea what he was thinking.

After a sigh, she said, "I think I'll better go and talk to Mr. Koch."

"I'll go with you."

"No, you can't," Claire Wilson Wilson uttered, "Who brings their husbands to meetings? It's so unprofessional."

Then, she added, "Just stay at home, go out if you're really bored. There's nothing much to do at home anyway."

Charlie Wade decided to keep quiet after seeing her firm attitude.

He knew that his wife had always been an independent and dedicated businesswoman, she hoped that she could achieve many accomplishments with her own efforts.

It wasn't any harm to let her try her best. If it didn't work, he was always there to help her secretly.

After breakfast, Claire Wilson Wilson made an appointment with Daniel Koch and drove to Elite Vault Enterprise alone.

Elite Vault Enterprise was one of the largest building materials companies in Aurouss Hilll and even in the South Region. It mainly engaged in various aluminum building materials and it was the indispensable supplier for large-scale real estate projects.

Daniel Koch was born to an impoverished family, however, he struck the jackpot when he married a wife from a rich and powerful family. Thanks to the help and support from his wife and her family, he was able to start and develop his business on such a massive scale.

Daniel was also famously known as a hen-pecked husband. Although his wife was very ugly, he never had any sorts of affairs or rumors. Hence, he had built quite a good reputation in town as a good husband.

His company was located on the outskirts of the city with a large factory that occupied thousands of acres of land.

Claire Wilson Wilson drove to the entrance of the office building and Daniel was already there waiting in the lobby.

Daniel put on an enthusiastic smile as soon as his eyes fell on her. He walked to Claire Wilson Wilson, offered his hand, and said, "Hi, Miss Wilson, welcome! I should have sent a car to you instead, I'm so sorry!"

Claire Wilson Wilson took his hand and shook it politely. "Mr. Koch, you're welcome."

She wanted to withdraw her hand but Daniel clutched on her hand tightly and refused to let go, in fact, he held it tighter and tighter.

Claire Wilson Wilson used a lot of strength to finally pull her hand off his grip. She glared at him and said with a wary expression, "Mr. Koch, you..."

Daniel scratched his head and laughed coyly. "I'm so sorry! I've heard a lot of rumors about how gorgeous and beautiful Miss Wilson is, and I'm completely mesmerized now that I get to meet you in person today. I'm sorry for scaring you, please forgive me!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little relieved to see he was so frank about his behavior and the immediate apology.

Daniel extended his arm towards the office and said with a smile, "Miss Wilson, let's go to my office!"

Chapter 125

Daniel escorted Claire Wilson Wilson into his office. The moment the door was closed, a flash of lustful desire appeared in Daniel's eyes.

He locked the door quietly and invited Claire Wilson Wilson to sit on the sofa.

Claire Wilson Wilson was feeling a little awkward and gawky. She sat opposite him with her hands folded on her thighs.

Daniel started with a smile, "Miss Wilson, may I know what is the occasion of your visit today?"

Claire Wilson Wilson managed a timid smile and said, "Frankly speaking, Mr. Koch, our company is having some problem with our cash flow recently, so I would like to ask if you can let us buy the first batch of materials on credit please?"

"On credit, huh?" Daniel withdrew his smile and replaced it with a frown. "Miss Wilson, I'm sure you must be aware of my company's policy. We never allow credit payment or deliver the materials first. It's always-pay first and materials are delivered later..."

"I know," Claire Wilson Wilson said apologetically, "My hands are tied right now, but don't worry, the project we're working on is a collaboration with the Emgrand Group, which is the largest company in Aurouss Hilll. They will definitely not default on our project payment. So, when the payment is settled, we'll pay you back immediately!"

Daniel chuckled twice and said, "Yes, you are right, but you have to know that it's nothing personal. Miss Wilson, do you know why I set the rule of not allowing credit payment?"

Claire Wilson Wilson shook her head. "Why?"

"I was a soft touch in the past. My customers wanted to get the goods first then settled the payment later. I agreed because I wanted to build a solid network with them and also expand my business. All of them claimed that they would settle the payment once the other party settled theirs, and as a result, I have more than 300 million dollars in my credit account that have yet returned!"

"What? So much?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was surprised by the number.

The net worth of the entirety of Wilson Group was only over 100 million dollars.

But the debts that were owed to Daniel was more than 300 million!

Daniel shrugged helplessly and sighed. "Well, what can I do? The partners that owe me money, they all said the same thing, 'Oh, I'll pay you soon, I'll settle it soon', but they never did."

Then, he shook his head in dismay. "Lastly, I have no choice but to cut off all the collaborations that were on credit. You can get the goods here, I have all the stocks that you want, but you must pay first."

Claire Wilson Wilson pursed her lips in disappointment. It seemed that her request was rejected.

However, she also knew that since he had this principle, it wasn't nice to ask him to go against his own principle. So she stood up and said, "I'm sorry to bother you today, Mr. Koch. I'll go back and talk to my grandmother and see if we can raise the money as soon as possible for your goods."

Daniel instantly said when she got up to leave, "Hey, Miss Wilson, what's the hurry?"

Then, he raised to his feet and continued, "The things I said just now, it refers to the common partners, but you, Miss Wilson, are a different case!"

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned in confusion. "What do you mean, Mr. Koch?"

Daniel squinted seductively at Claire Wilson Wilson.

Honestly speaking, Claire Wilson Wilson was so beautiful!

She was so beautiful that he couldn't breathe!

For the past few years, all he saw was the old nagging witch at home. That ugly and shriveled woman was nowhere close to Claire Wilson Wilson's beauty.

Claire Wilson Wilson's impeccable look paired with her hot figure, her physical feature made her the perfect woman ever existed!

Why didn't he have such luck to have her as his wife?

Why did such a superb woman marry the infamous loser in town?

What did her deadbeat husband have that he didn't? He had a lot more than the loser could offer!

Daniel's heart itched with lust and passion when he thought of it.

Chapter 126

Looking back at his dull and stale life, he hadn't had a chance to have an affair, let alone be physically involved with such perfect beauty. He dedicated half of his life to that disgusting hag that he despised so much.

Today was the day for him to break the restricted chains of fate!

Yes!

He wanted a taste of Claire Wilson Wilson!

He wanted to jump on the gorgeous that all men in the city were crazy about!

As his thought ran wild, he pasted a smile and said, "Miss Wilson, we can talk it out since you've come all the way here with such request. I'm not that hard to deal with as you think."

Claire Wilson Wilson quickly sat back down, thinking that there was a chance to reverse the situation, and asked excitedly, "Mr. Koch, will you sell us your materials on credit?"

He didn't say it specifically, but rather vaguely, "I will definitely refuse them if it is someone else, but if it is you, Miss Wilson, that's a different story..."

Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly said, "Actually, our collaboration with Emgrand Group is very close and specific. If you agree to a credit purchase, when we get the first batch of settlement from Emgrand, we will pay you immediately."

He nodded and said, "Wait a minute, I'll go and make us tea."

He got to his feet and went to take out a teapot from the cupboard.

Turning his back to Claire Wilson Wilson, he put the tea leaf in the pot while taking out a box of sleeping pills from his pocket.

It was his medicine. Due to recent insomnia, the doctor had prescribed him some powerful sleeping pills that he could basically sleep all day with just one pill.

In order to do the deed with Claire Wilson Wilson in his office, he put six sleeping pills in the pot, diluting them with hot water. In this way, a cup of tea was equivalent to one pill, then she was all his to enjoy!

He could have sex with her first, then take erotic photos and videos as the evidence to blackmail her in the future!

If she ever thought about calling the police or telling anyone about it, he could simply blackmail her by threatening her that he would publish those photos and videos on the internet that would tarnish her reputation for life!

He bet that Claire Wilson Wilson wouldn't dare to call the police or tell anyone anymore.

By then, he would be the mastermind in this game! He could have sex with her at any time, and if she disagreed with his request, he would simply threaten her with the videos and photos!

In this way, he would have the most gorgeous sex partner! It would be so damn awesome!

He grinned wickedly as the imagination ran wild. He composed himself after making the tea and returned to the sofa.

He poured Claire Wilson Wilson a cup of tea as he said, "Miss Wilson, relax, let's have some tea and talk things out."

Claire Wilson Wilson was quite thirsty from all the talking, so she picked up the teacup without hesitation and gulped it down.

Daniel was so excited as he watched Claire Wilson Wilson empty the cup!

He stared at Claire Wilson Wilson with fiery eyes, then slowly eyeing her body—her slender legs, her hourglass waist, her perfect figure, her pretty face...

Alluring charm was exuding endlessly from this woman's body, it made his heart thump more and more violently.

He had struck a jackpot today!

He felt as if his entire body was on fire when he imagined his hands running through the pretty woman's face and body later!

Chapter 127

Daniel was bouncing off the wall as he watched Claire Wilson Wilson gulp down the tea.

Now, all he had to do was wait for the sleeping pills to take effect!

After drinking the tea, Claire Wilson Wilson soon realized that something was off!

She felt like her head was spinning, it was very dizzy and heavy.

What was going on?

She was utterly shocked as a thought crossed her mind!

Did Daniel drug her?!

She trembled in shock and fear when she thought of such circumstances!

She wanted to get up, but her legs were giving way. From the looks of it, it was impossible for her to escape by herself!

While she was still conscious, she stealthily took out her phone, searched for Charlie Wade's contact in her chatting app, and pressed the audio record button.

As the phone was recording her voice message, she said to Daniel, "Mr. Koch, I feel a little dizzy, is there something wrong with the tea?"

Daniel chuckled. "No, nothing's wrong! This tea is the top PG Tips Diamond tea bag that I got from England, fifteen grand per tea bag, it's very smooth and nice. Would you like another cup?"

"No, no thanks, Mr. Koch. I'm not feeling quite well right now, I have to go now, sorry."

A sly and cunning grin appeared on Daniel's face. He was sitting on the couch next to Claire Wilson Wilson, but now, he stood up and sat next to Claire Wilson Wilson.

Looking at the restless and nervous Claire Wilson Wilson, Daniel smiled and said, "Miss Wilson, everyone says that you are the most beautiful woman in Aurouss Hilll. Your reputation precedes you, really. I'm so honored to meet you today!"

Claire Wilson Wilson inched away from him as he leaned closer to her and said while shaking her head repulsively, "Mr. Koch, can you please stay away from me?"

Daniel laughed. "Why, Miss Wilson? We are business partners, it doesn't hurt to know each other better, does it?"

Then, he leaned even closer to her.

Claire Wilson Wilson wanted to stay away from him but she was already at the edge of the sofa. She crouched and shrank her body so that Daniel couldn't touch her.

Daniel was inching closer and closer towards her while his eyes running flirtatiously on her body. His vile intention was speaking loud and clear from his actions.

Claire Wilson Wilson felt her head heavier and heavier as she tried to fight the dizziness. Her hands lost the grip and the voice message was sent to Charlie Wade.

Meanwhile, Charlie Wade was at home, doing house chores when he suddenly received the voice message. Instinctively, he pressed play and his eyes widened in fury!

Damn it!

The damned Daniel Koch was trying to lay his hands on his wife! He signed a death wish today, that f*cker!

He strolled the contact list and called Isaac right away, his face was as gloomy as a thunder cloud. "Get everyone that you can get to Elite Vault Enterprise right now, I want to burn it to the ground today!"

Isaac asked, sounding astounded. "Boss, what happened? The wife of Daniel Koch, the owner of Elite Vault, is quite influential. Their family has a little business connection with us. If we ransack them abruptly, it is hard to control the other minor families that work for us."

Charlie Wade growled coldly, "That f*cker wants to assault my wife! Are you telling me that razing them to the ground is an abrupt action?! Huh?!"

Isaac was so shocked, his jaw almost fell to the floor!

He assumed that it was the boss whom Daniel had offended, but he didn't expect that the guy was targeting the boss's wife!

He deserved every last bit of the punishment for what he did!

So, he quickly said, "Boss, I'll get my people to go there right away!"

"Okay! I'm going there too!"

"Boss, where are you? I'll have the helicopter to pick you up, it'll be faster!"

Chapter 128

"Okay!"

A while later, an exclusive civilian helicopter roared thunderously in the sky.

Inside the helicopter were Isaac and ten men in black.

Isaac was donning a gloomy look. That stupid f*cker, how dare he make his move on Mrs. Wade? This was Aurouss Hillll! He had just signed his death wish!

The helicopter flew at high speed, and before long, it arrived above Claire Wilson Wilson's house.

Charlie Wade rushed to the rooftop, climbed directly into the helicopter, and hurriedly demanded, "Get to Elite Vault Enterprise as soon as possible!"

Meanwhile, at Elite Vault Enterprise.

As Claire Wilson Wilson was slowly lying down with no strength to struggle, Daniel grinned excitedly and stretched out his hands, trying to take Claire Wilson Wilson's clothes off!

At this moment, the door was suddenly kicked open!

An ugly woman with an aggressive look stamped into the room along with a few big and brawny men!

Seeing Daniel's hands on Claire Wilson Wilson's clothes, the woman cursed furiously, "Daniel Koch! How dare you cheat on me!"

Daniel recoiled in shock!

Why was the old shriveled hag here? How did she know?

Little did Daniel realize that everyone around him, including the staff and bodyguard, had been bribed by his wife. His wife knew everything that happened to him like the back of her palm, where he went, who he met, etc.

When she heard that Claire Wilson Wilson was here to meet Daniel, she was instantly alerted and vigilant.

Claire Wilson Wilson was famously known for her beauty in Aurouss Hilll. Because of her ugly appearance, Daniel's wife hated beautiful women the most. She came as soon as she heard Claire Wilson Wilson was here.

Sure enough!

When she got here, she found out that her husband was trying to make out with Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson!

Daniel was so shocked, his heart was thumping violently. He hurriedly said, "Dear! Dear, please listen to me! She seduced me!"

Looking at Claire Wilson Wilson's flushed face and disheveled attire, the old hag's face was turning into an ugly shade of red and growled, "Damn it! You dog! None of you can get away with this today!"

Then, she ordered her bodyguards, "Get them!"

The brawny men marched forward immediately, clasped Daniel's arms, then went to Claire Wilson Wilson and held her hands behind her back.

The old hag stood in front of Daniel and slapped him multiple times on his face as she cursed, "You bastard! We treat you so well! Without us, you'll be living in some slums eating shit! How dare you betray me!"

The woman slapped him as hard as possible as she cursed at him, her body was shaking in fury.

Daniel wailed in pain and shouted, "Dear, no, you misunderstand! You can't blame me for this! It's that Wilson b*tch, she tried to seduce me!"

The woman stopped and asked coldly, "What is going on? Tell me clearly now!"

Daniel hurriedly started, "This Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson, her family has some cash flow problems, so she wants to buy 10 million dollars of building materials on credit. We never sell our stuff on credit, you know that, and I never accept any purchase on credit..."

Then, he pointed at Claire Wilson Wilson angrily, "Then this shameless b*tch tried to seduce me when I rejected her request! She said that she can spend the night with me so that I can sell her the materials on credit..."

The woman asked coldly, "So you want to spend the night with her?"

"No!" Daniel cried, tears drenching his face. "I was confused, but nothing happened between us!"

The woman was extremely annoyed and agitated. She walked to the confused Claire Wilson Wilson, grabbed her hair, and slapped her hard on the face. "You b*tch! How dare you seduce my husband! I'm going to kill you today! You can say goodbye to your slutty face too!"

Chapter 129

The battleax gave Claire Wilson Wilson a slap across the face that sent Claire Wilson Wilson spinning but made her a little soberer.

Cupping her swollen face, Claire Wilson Wilson looked at the fierce-looking woman and asked, "Who are you? What are you doing?"

The woman gritted her teeth. "What am I doing? I want to kill you, you little b*tch!"

Then, she turned to the bodyguard next to her. "Where's the knife? Give it to me! I want to destroy this slut's face!"

"Yes, Miss!"

The bodyguard produced a sharp knife and said, "Miss, don't stain your hands with the slut's blood, let me do it!"

The woman raised her hand and slapped him. She snatched the knife off his hand and shouted, "Shut up, idiot!"

The bodyguard knelt on the floor, petrified. "Miss, I'm sorry, please forgive me!"

The woman stomped him and growled, "Get out of my way, fool!"

She held the knife firmly in her hand, turning to Claire Wilson Wilson and was about to jump on her.

Claire Wilson Wilson was so frightened, her body was shaking violently. She struggled desperately but the brawny men were holding her tight. Besides, she was extremely weak due to the drug's effect.

At such a crucial moment, someone's loud yell came from the door, "Put away the bloody knife!"

The woman turned and saw a young man rushing in with ten men in black!

"Who the f*ck are you, damn it! How dare you mess with my business? Do you know who I am?"

Charlie Wade snarled furiously, "I don't f*cking care who you are!"

Then, he stepped forward, lifted his leg, and kicked the woman right on her belly.

Upon seeing Charlie Wade, Claire Wilson Wilson burst into tears and wailed, "Dear, help me..."

Based on the technique written in the Apocalyptic Book, Charlie Wade gathered the Reiki in his body onto his fists and hurled them towards the two bodyguards who were holding his wife.

Boom!

The two men were blasted out in an instant and hit the wall directly!

Claire Wilson Wilson was free of the restrain, but her legs went jelly and she collapsed on the floor.

Charlie Wade immediately dashed forward and held her into his embrace. He could feel his heart bleeding when he saw the palm print on her swollen cheek.

"Claire Wilson Wilson, don't worry, I'll make them pay for what they did to you!"

Claire Wilson Wilson wailed bitterly. She hugged Charlie Wade tight and cried, "Dear... Dear, take me home, please..."

Charlie Wade patted her back to offer some comfort and said gently, "Don't worry, I'll take you home right away, no one can hurt you!"

Then, he generated a pool of Reiki in his palm and slowly infused it into Claire Wilson Wilson's body, making her fall asleep deeply.

He put Claire Wilson Wilson on the sofa and said to Isaac, "Protect my wife!"

Isaac nodded and said, "Don't worry, boss, my life is yours if anything happens to your wife under my watch!"

Charlie Wade turned and glared at the battleax who was clutching her stomach in pain. He grabbed her from the floor and punched her in the face. "You slapped my wife, didn't you?"

Blood dripped on her face. The woman screamed ferociously, "How dare you hit me! Do you know who I am? You're so dead!"

She turned to her bodyguards and yelled, "Kill him! Kill him! I'll give you one million if you kill him!"

The bodyguards were thrilled to hear it and immediately rushed towards Charlie Wade.

He commanded Isaac's men with an impassive look, "Kill them! Kill them all!"

The men in black took out the dark pistols from their pockets, aimed at those bodyguards, and pulled the trigger!

Those bodyguards didn't expect, not even in their dreams, that these men in black would come with guns!

In fact, their marksmanship was excellent!

Each and every shot they fired targeted the bodyguards' head, and it's a perfect ten!

In a blink of an eye, all the bodyguards lay on the floor, dead!

Bloody red gunshot wounds were distinct on all of their heads.

The woman was shocked by the scene. "Who... who are you people?"

Charlie Wade grinned. "I'm Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson's husband!"

Daniel, who was standing like a shocked mannequin, was trembling in fear. "You... you are the live-in son-in-law... but... how... why..."

Charlie Wade pasted a wicked smile. "What? Are you curious as to why I, a lowly live-in son-in-law, have such a powerful background?"

Daniel nodded.

Chapter 130

The battleax caught her breath and blurted, "Listen carefully, idiot! My name is Sharon Frye! I'm the daughter of the Frye family in Lancaster! Have you heard of the Frye family? Our boss is the Wade family of Eastcliff! No matter how strong you think you are, if you mess with me, our Frye family will never spare you! The Wade family will hunt you!"

"Oh?" Charlie Wade grinned. "Listen carefully shrew, I AM the son of the Wade family in Eastcliff! I AM your boss! My name is! Charlie Wade! WADE!!!"

"Huh!!!"

Sharon's eyes were so wide, it almost fell off her eye sockets, her jaw dropped!

She stared at Charlie Wade like she was looking at a ghost.

"You... you... you are the young master of the Wade family? How could it be! Why is the son of the Wade family in a small place like Aurouss Hill!"

Isaac marched forward and yelled, "Sharon Frye! Watch your tongue! He is Charlie Wade Wade, the young master of the Wade family!"

Sharon finally saw Isaac!

Cameron Isaac!

He...

He was the spokesperson of the Wade family in Aurouss Hill!

He was also the man whom her father had been trying to be on good terms with!

Why... why was he here?

Could it be...

Could it be...

The young man was really... really the young master of... of the Wade family?!?!

The woman collapsed on the floor on her knees and pleaded desperately, "Young master, young master, I'm so sorry! Please, please forgive me! Please! If I knew she was your wife, I wouldn't dare to even touch her finger!"

Daniel was so shocked that he pissed his pants. He also knelt down on the floor and wailed, "Young master, please forgive me..."

A dash of gloom flashed across Charlie Wade's face. "Do you really expect me to forgive you after what you did to my wife?"

He turned to the men in black and commanded, "Shoot that little birdy in his crotch!"

Bang!

A man in black raised his gun without hesitation and shot.

In an instant, there was a surge of blood drenching Daniel's pants in the crotch area.

His little birdy was done!

Then, Charlie Wade ordered again, "Break his spine, I want him paralyzed from the neck for the rest of his life!"

Two brawny men in black stepped forward and punched hard on Daniel's lumbar spine.

Snap!

A sharp pain surged over Daniel's body!

But the pain only lasted for a second!

The next second!

Daniel couldn't feel anything from below his neck! He couldn't sense his limbs!

Quadriplegia?

Did it mean that he could only be bed-ridden for the rest of his life?! He couldn't even have the ability to turn his body in bed! He couldn't even control his bowels anymore!

Was this how he was now? Was he considered a living dead now?!

Daniel was extremely frustrated! He wanted to kill himself right there and then, but he couldn't even do that now!

The man in black turned to Charlie Wade and asked, "Boss, what about the shrew?"

Donning a gloomy face, Charlie Wade ordered, "Same! Let them be the living dead couple!"

Sharon shrieked in shock. She grabbed her hair and screamed for mercy desperately!

But Charlie Wade was determined.

They had only one ending after offending his soft spot—misery!

No!

It was too easy to just kill them!

The best revenge was for them to be in a living hell for the rest of their lives!

Chapter 131

A crisp snap resonated!

Sharon's spine also broke!

Another one!

Both husband and wife were quadriplegics!

There would never be a chance of recovery!

Isaac walked forward and said respectfully, "Boss, the three hundred excavators and bulldozers I've mobilized have arrived. We will flatten the entire Elite Vault Enterprise to the ground with just one order from you!"

"Good!" Charlie Wade nodded and said coldly, "Notify all the workers to evacuate this place in ten minutes! Ten minutes later, bring this place to the ground like it never existed!"

Both Daniel and Sharon gaped in extreme shock.

All the hard work that they've been fighting and building, and this was how it ended?

They were done, for sure. They could only be a living dead. If they didn't have any money, who would take care of them?

Charlie Wade couldn't care less.

He asked his man to turn on the fire alarm, and immediately, the entire factory began to evacuate.

Charlie Wade carried Claire Wilson who was in deep slumber, and asked his men to carry Daniel and Sharon who were paralyzed.

When they walked out of the office building, the entire factory was almost evacuated. The workers ran out as if they were fleeing for their lives, thinking that there was a fire.

At this time, three hundred excavators and bulldozers had surrounded the factory.

Thousands of men that Isaac summoned were outside the factory perimeter, evacuating all the workers to the safe zone.

Standing in the square, Charlie Wade said to Daniel and Sharon, "I want you to see with your own eyes as your hard work turns to ashes!"

Then, he immediately said to Isaac, "Let the excavators and bulldozers in! Tear it down!"

The floor shook like there was an earthquake when the three hundred excavators and bulldozers were driven into the factory area.

The booms and the buckets on the excavators made huge movements like a team of heavy-duty tanks as they smashed into the rooftop and walls of the entire factory and tore them apart. The bulldozers came in and pushed the rubbles away, flattening the area entirely.

Daniel and Sharon watched the entire process in horror.

These were all their hard work!

All those workshops and factories, every brick, every tile, every beam, everything was the result of the hard work half of their lives.

It could be said that the factory was like their child.

Now, they had to watch their child being torn down which was as tormenting and horrible as if they were being tortured!

Both of them didn't want to live in this world anymore at this moment, all they could think of was to just die!

However, it didn't work.

Charlie Wade would not let them die so easily!

He wanted them to taste the pain for the rest of their lives!

He glanced sideways at the couple and said, "I'll spare your lives, but remember, if anyone dares to reveal my identity, I'll kill them and their entire family! I won't even spare a dog's life! Do you understand me?"

They wailed in fright. "Oh no, we will not dare to disobey you, young master! Please! We will not tell anyone about you..."

Charlie Wade nodded.

Looking at the paralyzed couple and then the Elite Vault Enterprise that had become ruins and rubbles, Charlie Wade felt the ill breath in his heart finally release.

He ordered Isaac, "Send the helicopter here, I want to take my wife home!"

Isaac nodded respectfully, then asked, "Boss, I think your wife has been drugged, do you want to send her to the hospital first, or I'll get a doctor to your house?"

Charlie Wade shook his hand. "No, just send us home!"

When they were finally home, Claire Wilson Wilson was still unconscious.

This was mainly because Charlie Wade didn't extract the Reiki from her body.

Chapter 132

Charlie Wade slowly put Claire Wilson Wilson on the bed and carefully extracted the Reiki from her body.

Immediately afterward, Claire Wilson Wilson slowly opened her eyes, waking up.

"Dear!" As soon as Claire Wilson Wilson lay eyes on Charlie Wade after opening her eyes, she got up quickly and hugged him excitedly. Then, she started to cry.

Charlie Wade hurriedly comforted her, "It's okay baby, don't be afraid, we're home now."

"We're home?"

Claire Wilson Wilson lifted her head and looked around.

She was surprised that it was their room. She turned to glance at Charlie Wade and asked curiously, "What did Daniel and his wife do to you?"

"No, they didn't do anything to me," Charlie Wade said calmly, "Both him and his wife have paralyzed, the entire Elite Vault was nothing but ruins and rubble now. As the old saying goes, he who is unjust is doomed to destruction, literally."

Claire Wilson Wilson was utterly shocked. "What? How come? What happened?"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly. "I asked a few friends to help and save you, then we found out that the entire office building and the factories in Elite Vault Enterprise were all jerry-built. When we left, one of their workshops exploded and the entire factories were blown up and collapsed! It's a pity you fell asleep, otherwise, you could see the dramatic scene, the whole factory collapsed like domino pieces! It was like straight out of a movie scene!"

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned in confusion. "They've been in operation for so many years, and it was razed to the ground when one workshop exploded? It's quite unbelievable."

"It is true." Charlie Wade nodded. "And it's quite awesome too! I think they were being punished for their misbehavior!"

Then, he quietly sent a text message to Isaac.

"Go to the media and tell them that Elite Vault Enterprise's factories are jerry-built and they collapsed because of the chain reaction caused by the explosion in one of the workshops!"

He received an immediate reply from him, "Okay, boss, don't worry, the news will be up soon!"

A few minutes later, when Claire Wilson Wilson was still trying to recall the details of the incident before she went unconscious, suddenly, there were a lot of news notifications popping up on her phone.

She glanced at the title and was startled!

The headlines of all the news wrote "An accident occurred in Aurouss Hilll's Elite Vault Enterprise. The accident led to the collapse of the poorly constructed factory and workshops. The death numbers were yet to be reported. Their owners, Daniel Koch, and his wife were seriously injured. From the preliminary diagnosis, the doctor stated that they were quadriplegic!"

Charlie Wade glanced at her and said, "See, I didn't bluff, did I?"

Claire Wilson Wilson finally bought the story and sighed, "Hmm, karma really is a b*tch!"

Then, she hurriedly asked, "When you were there, did the bad guys do anything to me?"

Charlie Wade shook his head and answered, "No, when I was there, your clothes were intact. Daniel's wife was there first, she stopped him from assaulting you."

Two streaks of tears flowed down Claire Wilson Wilson's cheeks. "Charlie Wade, I'm sorry, I didn't mean it..."

"Silly girl, what are you talking about? I won't blame you! It's my fault, I can't protect you well and let this bastard come in and almost hurt you."

A touch of warmth radiated inside Claire Wilson Wilson's heart. She curled her arms around Charlie Wade and hugged him tight silently.

At this moment, she realized Charlie Wade's deep and profound feelings towards her, she was utterly happy and touched by his affection and love.

The news about the collapse of the Elite Vault Enterprise dropped like a bombshell in Aurouss Hilll. Everyone was talking about it.

Although the news reported that it was an accident, everyone knew it was just a PR stunt, it must be a whole different scenario.

They started to speculate as to who did such massive destruction.

None of them could think of a single person in Aurouss Hilll who was capable enough to do so.

Who would that be?

Instantly, people thought about the mysterious events that happened in Aurouss Hilll and began to connect the dots.

The mysterious ultra-rich man who had become popular on the Internet thanks to his stunt at the Emerald Court with the dozen of Rolls Royce and the enormous purchase;

The chairman of Emgrand Group who had acquired the company and invested two billion dollars to build a six-star hotel;

The mysterious man who had made the unprecedented reservation at Shangri-La Sky Garden and held a two-person wedding ceremony;

Last but not least, the powerful man who had razed Elite Vault Enterprise to the ground in a single morning..

All these clues pointed to one person—the mysterious chairman of Emgrand group!

Who else had this kind of abilities apart from him?

Because of all the bizarre events, the identity of the chairman had become even more unfathomable and baffling!

Chapter 133

Surprisingly, regarding the incident that happened at Elite Vault Enterprise, the saddest person was Lady Wilson.

Due to Wilson Group's sluggish financial condition, she hoped that Claire Wilson Wilson could persuade Elite Vault Enterprise to allow them to buy building materials on credit. It would have solved the current financial constraint that they were facing.

Out of the blue, the entire Elite Vault Enterprise disappeared out of thin air in one afternoon!

Right now, Lady Wilson's worst concern was the capital fund issue. Her greatest desire was on how to raise a sum of capital funds for her company.

Claire Wilson Wilson didn't tell her grandmother what had happened yesterday. After the experience, she decided that she would focus her entire attention on the project with Emgrand Group and would not bother herself with the family affairs now, not even if her grandmother begged her to.

After a night of rest, Claire Wilson Wilson was feeling rejuvenated and energetic the next morning and went to work excitedly.

Charlie Wade went out in the morning to the market, and when he returned home, he saw Jacob Wilson, his father-in-law, sitting on the sofa, heaving endless sighs.

He frowned slightly and asked, "Dad, what's wrong? Did someone bother you again? Or did someone scam you again on the antique stuff?"

Jacob Wilson took a sip of jasmine tea and said angrily, "Argh, don't mention the word 'antique'! I'm so frustrated when I heard it, damn!"

"What's wrong?" Charlie Wade asked curiously, "Someone scammed you again, didn't they?"

"No! It's about the name list of the auction sales organized by the Treasure Pavilion!"

Charlie Wade was even more confused than before. "What is the Treasure Pavilion?"

"It is a hall of the Aurouss Hilll Antique and Cultural Relic Association. It often holds high-end auction sales of cultural relics and antiques that are scarce and rare in the market. Every family has a name on the name list."

There was a trace of fascination on Jacob Wilson's face as he spoke.

Then, he hung his head low and muttered, "The Wilson family has only one invitation card, and your grandma gave it to Harold! That bastard doesn't know anything about antiques and relics. He will be a fool there, why send him?"

Charlie Wade knew that his father-in-law was very obsessed with antiques. It must be heartwrenching for him to lose such a precious opportunity.

So, he managed a smile and said, "Dad, if you really want to go, just buy one from the scalper."

Jacob Wilson shook his hand. "No way. The Moore family is the organizer of the Treasure Pavilion auction, they are the most powerful family in Aurouss Hilll. A lot of people hope for an invitation card from them, there's no other way to get it."

Charlie Wade chuckled.

It turned out that the Moore family was organizing the auction.

Jasmine Moore, the missus of the Moore family, once pleaded him to verify antiques for her, didn't she?

It would be as simple as a phone call to get an invitation card from her.

Charlie Wade said flatly, "I know a friend who knows someone from the Moore family. It will be a piece of cake to get two more invitations for the auction."

Jacob Wilson shook his head in disbelief. "Forget it. What kind of friends do you have anyway? Know someone from the Moore family? Hah!"

Charlie Wade ignored him. He went upstairs and called Jasmine, "Hello, Miss Moore, can I get two invitation cards for the Treasure Pavilion auction please?"

Jasmine said directly, "Hi, Mr. Wade, are two enough? I can give you more if you want."

"Nah, two will be enough, it's just me and my father-in-law."

Jacob Wilson was a fan of antiques and cultural relics. Claire Wilson Wilson and her mother knew nothing about them and were not interested at all. It would be a waste of time for them if they went anyway.

Besides, after the Antique Street incident, Charlie Wade knew that he had to be there to watch his father-in-law in case he was scammed again.

By the way, he wanted to go over and see if there were some sort of rare elixir or treasures at the auction that was worth buying.

Speaking of treasure, he couldn't help but think of the pebble with 'peace and wealth' written on it.

The pebble disappeared after saving Loreen. He figured that he must have dropped it in the process of the rescue.

After the incident, he went back to search for the pebble to no avail.

Fortunately, he had absorbed all the Reiki from the stone, otherwise, he would really regret losing it.

Since the auction items in the Treasure Pavilion were rare and precious, maybe he could gain something out of it.

Chapter 134

Even until Claire Wilson Wilson came home from work, Jacob Wilson was still looking sulky and lifeless.

Charlie Wade knew that he was sulking because of the invitation card of the auction.

At this moment, Jasmine called and said, "Hi, Mr. Wade, I'm sorry, I was at Lancaster for some business affairs this afternoon, and now I'm at the downstairs of your house, can you please come and get the invitation card from me?"

Charlie Wade answered straight away, "Okay, I'll go now!"

He hurried off the door and went downstairs.

Jasmine was in her Rolls Royce, waiting for Charlie Wade. When she spotted him, she hurriedly got out of the car and handed him two invitation cards.

Charlie Wade thanked her graciously and returned home.

Back home, Jacob Wilson was still sulking and angry.

Claire Wilson Wilson tried to persuade him, "Dad, please, calm down. Grandma gave Harold the invitation card for him to know a few people in the business industry and the upper-class social society, and also to build his own social network."

Jacob Wilson sighed. "Huh, your grandma is always biased towards Harold and his father since young, she always looks down on me, it's always been that way since! Argh! I'm so pissed!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded helplessly. She also knew that her grandma favored her cousin and uncle more than her family.

At first, her grandma was biased towards her uncle because grandma thought that her father was incapable and soft.

Then, as a girl, grandma felt that she had no inheritance right to the family business, hence she was more indulgent towards Harold.

Her family's status basically went down the drain after she married Charlie Wade.

At this moment, Charlie Wade walked forward and handed two golden invitation cards to Jacob Wilson, and said, "Dad, I have the invitation card you dream of."

"What!!"

As if a spring was installed on his buttocks, Jacob Wilson jumped up from the sofa in surprise!

He snatched the invitation off Charlie Wade's hand, hurriedly opened it and glanced at it. For a short while, he was so excited that he couldn't utter a word.

Claire Wilson Wilson, who witnessed them, was utterly surprised too. She took the invitation card from her father and realized that it was the genuine invitation card from the Treasure Pavilion.

"Wow, that's amazing! Charlie Wade, you really are my good son-in-law!" Jacob Wilson's face was flushed with thrilling red, his voice was filled with astonishment.

He patted Charlie Wade's shoulder and said, "My daughter is so lucky to be your wife."

"Huh, it's just an invitation card, what's so special about it?" Elaine Ma snarled sarcastically.

Jacob Wilson glared at Elaine Ma in annoyance, clutching the invitation card tightly. "What do you know, you dimwit? This is the invitation card from the Treasure Pavilion!"

Then, he turned to Charlie Wade and said, grinning ear to ear, "Come, sit down, let's eat!"

He waved his hand at Claire Wilson Wilson and said, "Go and get the bottle of fine whiskey from the cabinet, I want to have a couple of drinks with my good son-in-law tonight."

Elaine Ma glared at Charlie Wade when she saw her husband was happy and continued her dinner quietly.

Claire Wilson Wilson was also very happy for her father but she was a little skeptical. When she came back with the whiskey, she bumped Charlie Wade's elbow as she sat down and asked, "Where did you get the invitation card from, anyway?"

She heard about her father's sulking when she was at the office earlier today and wanted to get one for him. Then only she realized that the invitation card from the Treasure Pavilion was limited to every family!

How did Charlie Wade do it?

Charlie Wade smiled warmly and said, "I asked a friend, he received two but he didn't want to go, so he gave it to me."

"Really?" Claire Wilson Wilson frowned, still not convinced. "How come I never heard you say that you have a friend with such a good family background? What's his name?"

Charlie Wade said faintly, "His last name is Quinton, I helped him once in Antique Street the other day. Dad knows him..."

Jacob Wilson nodded. "Oh yes, he's right, the Quinton guy even gave Charlie Wade a jade bracelet that is worth five or six million!"

Chapter 135

When Elaine Ma heard about the bracelet that was worth five or six million, her eyes opened wide and there was a dash of sparkles in it!

"Bracelet? Where is it? Show me!"

Charlie Wade was getting a little cautious. He said calmly, "Mom, the bracelet is in my bedroom, but I plan to return it."

"What? Return it?" Elaine Ma frowned in dismay. "Are you out of your mind? Why do you want to return such a precious gift?"

"It's just a small favor, I don't deserve such an expensive gift."

"Shut up!" Elaine Ma blurted, "Since he already gave it to you, then just take it! Where is the bracelet? If you don't want it, I want it!"

Charlie Wade knew what was playing in his mother-in-law's cunning mind. He actually wanted to give the bracelet to Claire Wilson Wilson, but he couldn't think of a suitable excuse for it, so he put it aside for the meantime, who knew that his father-in-law would blurt it out so casually!

It's not that Charlie Wade was reluctant to give away the bracelet. He had nearly 10 billion dollars in his card, he could afford all the bracelets in the world!

But the main point was because his mother-in-law was too shrewd and tacky to wear such precious accessories. She would be more suitable for cheaper accessories with her style.

However, Elaine Ma didn't want to miss out on the opportunity. It would be such an honor and pride to wear a six million dollars bracelet!

Hence, she kept on pestering Charlie Wade, "Where is the bracelet? Come on, show me!"

Claire Wilson Wilson knew that if her mother got hold of the bracelet, it was impossible to take it back, so she started, "Mom, we think we better keep it since we want to return it in case we damage or spoil it. It won't be nice to return a spoiled thing to them."

"What? Do you really want to return it?" Elaine Ma raised to her feet and chided loudly, "Are you insane?"

Claire Wilson Wilson knew that her mother would throw a tantrum next, so she said firmly, "Mom, just stop, I've already discussed it with Charlie Wade, the deal is sealed."

As a mother, Elaine Ma was very clear of Claire Wilson Wilson's temperament. She couldn't stop her if she insisted on returning the bracelet, yet, she couldn't help but sigh, her eyes were wet with tears. "It's bad enough to have a wuss as my son-in-law, my daughter doesn't even want to take my side! Boohoo, this is not fair!"

Claire Wilson Wilson cut a piece of chop on Elaine Ma's plate and comforted, "That's enough, Mom, I'll get you a bracelet later."

"Yes! You promised, no going back on your word!"

On the day of the auction.

When Charlie Wade came out of his room early in the morning, Jacob Wilson was already waiting anxiously in the living room and greeted him as soon as he saw him.

"Charlie Wade, let's go, don't be late!"

Jacob Wilson was so excited when he thought about the auction, he couldn't sleep. He waited for Charlie Wade in the living room before the sun came out and tugged him to go when Charlie Wade emerged.

The Treasure Pavilion was an antique and cultural relic association that was established by a group of cultural relic enthusiasts in Aurouss Hill. Its base camp was a manor located in a scenic suburb of the city.

Rumors had it that the president of the association was a real estate mogul in the province who loved antiques and cultural relics. He sponsored 100 million dollars as capital and gathered a group of business tycoons who shared the same interest to form the Treasure Pavilion.

Charlie Wade and Jacob Wilson arrived at the entrance of the Treasure Pavilion manor and parked the car at the designated parking lot. When they got out of the car, they looked around curiously.

The surrounding scenery was very breathtaking and serene with a sense of luxury. Besides, all the cars parked outside the manor were luxury cars, and the worst among them was Porsches.

However, Charlie Wade's BMW 5 Series had become the eye-sore among the shining and expensive cars.

Jacob Wilson started walking in.

Chapter 136

Jacob Wilson was extremely thrilled. This was his first time coming to such a high-end occasion. He couldn't stop looking around but his limbs were moving awkwardly due to his anxiety.

He clutched the invitation card tightly and handed it at the entrance of the venue, worrying that the invitation that Charlie Wade had gotten them was fake.

However, the security at the door scanned the card and verified them. Then, he turned to both of them and said respectfully, "Welcome, please enjoy yourself!"

Jacob Wilson heaved a sigh of relief and walked in with Charlie Wade.

As soon as they entered, Harold, who dressed up as if he was at a beachside party, walked in with a swagger.

Upon seeing them, Harold frowned, as a dash of shock flashed across his face.

Charlie Wade and Jacob Wilson were here too!

What were the two deadbeat losers doing here? The Wilson family had only one invitation card and he was holding it! Had they tried to sneak in without anyone noticing?

When he thought about the misery he suffered because of Charlie Wade, the wrath of fury started burning inside him. He barged towards them and growled, "Charlie Wade, how did you get in here? Do you know where this is?"

Charlie Wade frowned in annoyance when Harold's shrill voice echoed into his ears.

Jacob Wilson smiled triumphantly at Harold, "Hey, Harold, you're here too."

Not only did Harold despise Charlie Wade, but he also looked down on Jacob Wilson, his uncle. He frowned and demanded, "What are you doing here? Do you have the invitation?"

"Of course!" Jacob Wilson blurted.

Harold demanded again, "YOU, of all people? Where do you get it?"

Charlie Wade glared at him in irritation and said flatly, "Harold Wilson, where do we get the invitation is none of your business."

Harold smirked. "You are just some deadbeat losers, how can you get the invitation from the Moore family? From what I see, you must have stolen it from someone to get in here, right?"

"Crazy." Charlie Wade didn't want to talk to him anymore. He turned around and said nothing.

His ignorant attitude infused Harold's anger even more.

In his eyes, Charlie Wade was nothing but a coward loser, he was equivalent to a servant in the Wilson family, a nobody!

But now, he could also come to Treasure Pavilion, Harold saw it as an insult and humiliation!

How could an inferior moocher stand side by side with him?!

Harold glared at Charlie Wade agitatedly, he pointed at his nose and demanded, "Spill it, how do you get in here?"

Charlie Wade frowned in exasperation and said to Jacob Wilson, "Dad, ignore the idiot, let's go."

"Stop!"

Harold stepped forward, blocking their way, and demanded arrogantly, "What's the hurry? Why, I caught you, didn't I? You must have used some shameless means to get in here! You don't deserve to be in such a prestigious place! Show me your invitation!"

Charlie Wade was also burning in fury. Although he had been tolerating his irrationality, it didn't mean that he would be provoked again and again.

He said coldly, "Show you my invitation? You don't deserve to see it! Get lost!"

Harold frowned in great dismay. His face was turning into an ugly shade of red.

Charlie Wade had always been a soft-spoken wimp, how dare he asked him to get lost!

Harold grabbed Charlie Wade's arm and warned, "If you don't clarify yourself today, don't you dare walk away from me!"

Chapter 137

Harold was fast, but Charlie Wade was faster. He avoided the grab and in a swift action, he clasped Harold's wrist, shook it slightly, and sneered. "What? Is the injury on your hand healed? Pain is forgotten where gain follows huh?"

Harold suddenly felt an enormous force surging into his body. He took two steps backward, feeling furious and shocked at the same time.

This loser's strength was quite powerful!

Knowing that he was out of Charlie Wade's league, Harold growled coldly, "Damn it, you wait here, I'll get the manager and kick you out!"

Then, Harold turned his head and shouted for the manager to come.

Soon, a middle-aged man in a suit and leather shoes walked quickly, with two security guards tagging along.

The man managed a diplomatic smile on his face and said to Harold respectfully, "Yes, Mr. Wilson, how can I help you?"

"Manager, check their invitation." Harold pointed disdainfully at Charlie Wade. "I suspect that theirs are fake."

For privacy and security reasons, the guest's name was not stated on the invitation card. Instead, it displayed a string of exclusive passwords. By using a specific app on the phone to scan the password, it would display the name of the attendees.

Judging from Harold's luxurious suit, the manager knew that he was from a prominent family, whereas Charlie Wade was dressed in mediocre clothes. His lips curled into a sheepish smirk and said to Charlie Wade, "Sir, please show me your invitation card and I'll check it."

He donned a polite and diplomatic tone but there was a trace of contempt in his eyes.

As the old saying went, 'don't judge the book by its cover', but the manager did. From Charlie Wade's ordinary attire, the manager assumed that he didn't look like the distinguished guest who could walk into the Treasure Pavilion.

Charlie Wade was furious and annoyed by the contemptuous look in the manager's eyes, and he said coldly, "What if I don't want to?"

The manager cleared his throat, restored his professional gaze, and asked, "May I know which family are you from?"

Before Charlie Wade could speak, Harold blurted rudely, "He is from our Wilson family. Oh no, my mistake, he is a live-in son-in-law of the Wilson family. I can't say that he is a member of our family, he's more like a dog!"

The term 'live-in son-in-law' was enough for the manager to make all kinds of speculations. How could a person with an honorable status become a live-in son-in-law?

The manager donned a gloomy look and said, "Tell me, how did you get in here?"

Charlie Wade had lost all the patience when he faced the scrutiny from these people. He was also utterly disappointed at Treasure Pavilion's attitude of dividing their guests into different classes.

He said coldly, "I walked in here, of course."

Knowing Charlie Wade's lowly status, the manager stopped probing him further, instead, he said, "If you don't follow the rules and hand me the invitation card for verification, then I have to ask you to leave."

Then, he gestured with his hand and the two security guards stepped forward and watched Charlie Wade like eagles watching their prey.

Jacob Wilson was a little panicked by the scene. He tugged Charlie Wade's shirt and said nervously, thinking that their invitation cards were fraudulent, "Charlie Wade, I think we better stay out of trouble, let's go back."

Charlie Wade frowned in confusion. "Dad, you don't want to watch the auction anymore?"

Jacob Wilson shook his head profusely. "No, we shouldn't come in the first place. If we are kicked out of here later, it will be so embarrassing..."

Since his father-in-law had already decided, Charlie Wade nodded and walked out together.

It was just an auction, what was so great about it anyway? If his father-in-law didn't want to stay, he had no reason to stay either to suffer the insults by these people.

As for Jasmine Moore, if she asked him about it, he would just say that the Moore family's event was too prestigious to have him there!

He turned and left with Jacob Wilson.

Behind them, Harold laughed slyly, "Hahaha, deadbeat losers, You're scared now, huh? How dare you sneak into the Moore family's auction sales! Losers!"

Charlie Wade ignored his taunt and walked towards the door.

At this moment, there was a sudden uproar in the crowd.

Chapter 138

The crowd suddenly made way to form a passage in the middle, a man and a woman slowly walked into the hall.

The woman wore a black evening dress that hugged her perfect and slender figure.

Under the bright illumination, she was utterly beautiful and elegant, every move she made, even her walking posture, was exceptionally gracious.

The woman was so beautiful that Harold couldn't remove his gaze off of her.

Jasmine walked into the venue, scanned around, saw two empty seats in the VIP section in the front row, and asked, "Where are my two VIP guests? Have they not arrived yet?"

Finn Baxendale looked through the guest's information and frowned. "Miss Moore, the scanner from the entrance indicated that the invitation cards of the two VIPs have been verified, they must have entered our hall, but we don't know where they are right now."

Then, he ordered his staff, "Call the manager to see me."

Soon, the manager sprinted to them and asked, "Mr. Baxendale, what's the matter?"

Finn pointed at the vacant seats in the VIP section and asked, "There are two VIP guests that have verified their invitation, why are they not in their seats?"

"Two VIP guests?"

Suddenly, the image of the old and young man who he had just kicked out appeared in his mind.

Could it be...

No way...

If they had the invitation and they were the VIPs, why didn't they show him to verify it?

Had he agitated them?

Oh no...

Looking at the panic look on the manager's face, Finn glanced at the security guard by his side and said, "You, talk."

Fearing that he would offend Mr. Baxendale even further, the security guard cleared his throat and quickly recounted what had happened earlier.

Jasmine frowned in annoyance as she listened to him, then, she glanced at Finn and said, "Mr. Baxendale, I'll go and see Mr. Wade. I'll leave this to you to handle. I hope you can resolve this matter wisely, I don't like disappointment."

Finn nodded. After Jasmine left, a layer of gloom hovered under his eyes and he glared at the manager. "Are you an idiot? How dare you offend Miss Moore's guests??"

The manager's legs went jelly from the stern growl, he knelt on the floor and pointed to Harold who stood not far away and cried, "Mr. Baxendale, I didn't mean to do that, it was that bastard who provoked me!"

Finn kicked the manager's face fiercely and cursed, "Snobbish fool! Go now, you're fired, I don't want to see you again! Moreover, according to the terms of the labor contract, you'll be responsible for all the losses today. I'll kill you if you owe us even a penny!"

"Mr. Baxendale... Please... I beg you..."

The manager was shaking in horror. It was estimated to be a big loss, he wouldn't be able to pay it even if he surrendered all his property.

"Our lawyer will inform you of the compensation," Finn said coldly.

The manager felt as if the world was spinning, he knelt on the ground and pleaded Finn profusely.

Finn kicked him away with disgust. He turned to the security guards and said in a low voice, "Take him out and break his legs! Snobbish idiot!"

After all those years of business ventures, Finn was not a kind and soft-hearted person. It was inconvenient for him to lash out at the manager in public, but he would never be merciful in private!

"Mr. Baxendale, please, I'm sorry, it's a mistake, please forgive me..."
The manager wailed desperately, trembling in shock.

The two security guards rushed forward, grabbed his arms, and dragged him away.

Finn turned his attention to Harold and said to his staff, "Go, bring that Harold Wilson to see me now!"

Meanwhile, Harold was still very delighted that he had kicked Charlie Wade and Jacob Wilson out of the hall. He was even more pleased and thrilled to hear that the president of the Treasure Pavilion wanted to see him.

Everyone knew that the man was very powerful and influential in Aurouss Hilll, if he could be on good terms with him, benefits and privileges would definitely come his way in the future!

When he came to Finn, Harold started with his coy and flattering smile, "Oh, hi, Mr. Baxendale! Your reputation precedes you! I'm honored to finally meet you, indeed, you are very talented and charming!"

Gritting his teeth in agitation, Finn kicked Harold in the stomach and cursed, "Damn it! You're Harold Wilson, right? How dare you offend Miss Moore's guests! I think you need a beating!"

Chapter 139

Harold wanted to take this opportunity to establish a friendship with Finn, but never did he expect that Finn would suddenly kick him without a warning.

He rolled on the floor several times before he could stabilize himself. He sat on the ground and blurted in a daze, "Mr. Baxendale, what is going on, there must be some misunderstanding..."

The crowd was instantly shocked by the sudden commotion.

"That's the guy from the Wilson family, right? How did he offend Mr. Baxendale?"

"The Wilson family? They are so insignificant already. Now that they've offend Mr. Baxendale, I think that's it for them in Aurouss Hilll, huh?"

There was a lot of shrill and gossiping whispers going on in the hall.

Most of them were there simply to watch how Finn would beat the crap out of Harold.

Finn glared at Harold and snorted, "Misunderstanding? F*ck you!"

He lifted his legs again and stomped it hard on Harold, which sent the man wailing in agonizing pain.

Finn was still burning in wrath. He stomped on Harold's chest and growled sternly, "Asshole, do you know who you've offended?"

Confused, Harold wailed in pain and cried, "No, Mr. Baxendale, I didn't offend anyone! It's a misunderstanding..."

Finn raised his hand and slapped Harold twice, then chided angrily, "Asshole, the two men you offended are Miss Moore's VIP guests! Oh my god, I want to kill you right now!"

Then, he turned to his men and yelled, "Drag this bastard outside and give him a good beating! In addition, from now on, apart from the two VIP guests, no one from the Wilson family and this Harold bastard is allowed in Treasure Pavilion, do you understand me? Whoever dares to let them in, I'll break their legs!"

Immediately afterward, Harold was being dragged to the outside of the compound. The security guards surrounded him and beat him hard.

Then, they simply threw him out of the entrance!

Swollen and bleeding, Harold was in the midst of shock. He was trembling in fear and couldn't blurt a word.

He knew that he had caused a big trouble to himself and the whole Wilson family!

But how could he have known that Charlie Wade was Miss Moore's guest?

How did Charlie Wade know Miss Moore in the first place?!

What did Miss Moore see in that deadbeat loser anyway!

After Charlie Wade and Jacob Wilson went out of the Treasure Pavilion, they immediately drove home.

In the car, Jacob Wilson sighed and mumbled, "Charlie Wade, why did you do such a thing? It's okay if you can't get the invitation, but why did you have to steal someone else's?"

"Dad, there's no problem with the invitation cards, it's them who are so pompous and snobbish..." Charlie Wade explained, which in turn agitated Jacob Wilson and he growled, "If you are a wee bit smarter and capable, would they dare to treat us like this? It's all because you are a useless wuss!"

Charlie Wade shook his head, reluctant to go on.

At this moment, a Rolls-Royce from the rear speeded up and caught them. When it overtook their car, it slowed down and stopped on the side of the road.

Charlie Wade knew that they were here for him, so he also stopped his car.

Jasmine stepped out of the car with a pair of long slender legs, and said apologetically to Charlie Wade, "Mr. Wade, I'm so sorry for what happened at the auction just now, I didn't go through them clearly, I hope you don't take it personally."

Charlie Wade shook his head and said, "It has nothing to do with you, but I suggest the Treasure Pavilion to train and observe their staff carefully."

"Of course, Mr. Wade, the Treasure Pavilion has fired the manager who was involved in this matter. Let's go back to the auction, shall we?"

Chapter 140

Charlie Wade rejected Jasmine's offer. "I'm sorry, Miss Moore, but my mood today had been ruined by those two irritating flies, so I won't go back to the auction. Let's keep a rain check on it."

Jasmine said apologetically, "I'm so sorry, Mr. Wade."

Then, she returned to her car to retrieve a wooden box and put it in Charlie Wade's hand. "Mr. Wade, this is a little token of my affection as an apology..."

The moment the box was on Charlie Wade's hands, he could sense traces of Reiki from it, so he accepted it wholeheartedly.

Jasmine was very glad that Charlie Wade accepted her gift, so she continued, "Well, I'll suspend today's auction and ask Finn to regroup and observe his team of staff in the Treasure Pavilion. When he is ready, we'll hold another auction sale, and I hope Mr. Wade and Mr. Wilson will be willing to join us then."

Jacob Wilson was astounded since he stumbled upon the woman. She was Miss Moore who appeared at the Vintage Deluxe when he smashed the antique vase, wasn't she?

She was so polite to his son-in-law. She was even willing to suspend the auction and rearrange everything just for him! That was such a huge honor, wasn't it?

Was it because of the vase that he had restored the other day?

'Oh my goodness, I have to see my son-in-law in a different view now,' Jacob Wilson muttered under his breath.

Charlie Wade saw Jasmine's sincerity in handling this matter, so he nodded and said flatly, "Okay then, when you reorganize the auction, we'll join you."

Jacob Wilson hurriedly agreed, "Yes, yes, definitely, we'll be there."

"I'm glad to hear it. Again, I'm very sorry for what happened today. Please drive safely."

Jasmine bowed and apologized again before she bid her farewell and left.

After Jasmine left, Jacob Wilson pointed to the wooden box in Charlie Wade's hands and said eagerly, "Charlie Wade, what did Miss Moore give you? Open it!"

Charlie Wade nodded and slowly opened the wooden box.

Suddenly, a strong Reiki spilled out of the box that instantly rejuvenated him.

"Huh, what is it?" Jacob Wilson stretched his neck to take a curious glimpse and suddenly, his face was twisted in a confused grimace.

He saw a black thing in the box that was about the size of a fist. It looked like a piece of coal at first glance but it had a rough surface and some soil on top of it.

As soon as Charlie Wade saw what was in the wooden box, his heart skipped a bit and was surprised at Jasmine's generosity.

Jacob Wilson squinted at the black thing again and again. Finally, he huffed in disappointment, "I thought it is some sort of a precious treasure, but it is just a piece of wood."

Charlie Wade smiled, "Dad, it is indeed a wood, but it's not the ordinary wood, this is very rare."

Jacob Wilson was even more confused. "What the hell is it?"

"This is a lightning-struck wood."

"It's formed by the trees when they are struck by lightning, right?" Jacob Wilson said, "But this kind of woods are very common in the mountains whenever there are thunderstorms, what makes this so precious?"

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "Dad, of course, it's easy to find ordinary trees that being struck by lightning, but look at this wood, it has been charred into black onyx texture. Wood can only be instantaneously charred under extremely high temperature. It means that the lightning packed an extraordinarily huge amount of power, it was very likely to be the rare massive lightning in centuries."

"Besides, this section of the wood is black and shiny with faint bloodline patterns, indicating that it is the core of the 'Raja Kayu', the king of wood, which makes it even rarer."

Jacob Wilson tutted disdainfully and said, "I don't buy it. How much can a lightning-struck wood cost anyway? It's nothing but a gimmick. The most valuable thing is an antique cultural relic. If you say the wood was touched by Louis XIV of France, it might be worth some money."

Charlie Wade simply smiled without saying anything. For him, this thing was of high value and extremely precious. Not only did it have ample Reiki, according to the Apocalyptic Book, but it could also even be refined.

But then, of course, Jacob Wilson wouldn't understand any of it.

Thus, Charlie Wade didn't explain much to him and kept the box away.
Chapter 141

Neither of the women were at home when they returned. Elaine Ma was still out playing cards, and Claire Wilson Wilson had not gotten off work yet.

Charlie Wade went back to his bedroom and carefully took the lightning-struck wood out of the box.

He could sense a dense Reiki radiating from the wood.

Sitting on the floor cross-legged, Charlie Wade put the wood in his palm, closed his eyes, executed the mental strength written in the Apocalyptic Book, and slowly inhaled the Reiki into his body.

When he opened his eyes, he felt that his eyes were sparkling and rejuvenated. The aura in his body had a dramatic change.

On the other hand, the Lightning Strike Dragon Blood Wood in his hand became a little dim.

Although it lost its Reiki, there was still some strong thunderous breath remaining, which proved that the wood was a treasure.

If he had other magical things with him right now, he could use it to refine some simple magical artifacts.

It was already dark when he came out of the room.

As soon as he arrived in the living room, Elaine Ma snorted coldly, "Oh, VIP, now that you're so cocky and arrogant, you don't even cook dinner and you expect me to serve you, huh?"

Charlie Wade smiled wryly and said, "Sorry, Mom, I was so tired and fell asleep."

"Oh, tired because you went to the auction, or because you framed Harold?" Elaine Ma said irritably.

Charlie Wade frowned in confusion. Then, he shook his head and said, "I didn't frame Harold, what are you talking about..."

Elaine Ma growled furiously, "Lady Wilson called me! It's enough that you're embarrassing yourself, but you caused Harold to be kicked out of the venue! Grandma called and scolded me! Loser, can you stay still and don't cause any trouble for us?"

Claire Wilson Wilson interjected, "Mom, I think Harold must have done something that caused him to be kicked out. It's none of Charlie Wade's business."

"What do you mean it's none of his business?" Elaine Ma slammed her fork and spoon down. "After Harold came home, he complained that Charlie Wade got the invitation card by improper means, the Treasure Pavilion found out about it and they were infuriated. As a member of the Wilson family, he was kicked out of the venue too! The president even announced that the Wilson family is not welcomed there. He'll break our legs if we do! The Wilson family is done for!"

Jacob Wilson started, "Huh! The invitation cards are absolutely genuine. I think that Harold kid must have caused some trouble himself and he purposely blamed Charlie Wade for it because he didn't want Mom to punish him..."

"You dare to take the loser's side, huh! If it wasn't because of you who wanted to go to that stupid auction so badly, do you think any of this would happen?" Elaine Ma glared indignantly at Jacob Wilson, which made Jacob Wilson bury himself into his plate quietly.

Elaine Ma continued impatiently, "He is just a deadbeat loser, how can he get the invitation anyway? Now that he has offended Harold too, I'll see how he's going to handle it..."

Before she could finish, there was a knock on the door followed by a low voice.

"Excuse me, is Mr. Wade home?"

There was a flash of anxious green on Elaine Ma's face, she glared at Charlie Wade and chided, "Oh no, it must be Lady Wilson! She must have sent someone to interrogate you! Look what you've done!"

"Let's see who is it, okay?" Looking solemn, Claire Wilson Wilson raised to her feet and walked to the door.

The living room was as quiet as a church. Elaine Ma and Jacob Wilson stood nervously, thinking about how to respond to the confrontation.

Meanwhile, Charlie Wade was looking gloomy and intense. If it were really Lady Wilson who turned things upside down and came to question him, he wouldn't have to show mercy to the old lady anymore!

Chapter 142

Claire Wilson Wilson opened the door in a careful manner before she asked in a vigilant manner, "How can I help you?"

Charlie Wade frowned before he walked towards the door immediately. At this time, he pushed Claire Wilson Wilson behind him before he asked in a calm and cold manner, "Are you looking for me?"

At this time, a middle-aged man dressed in a suit stood outside the door. As soon as he saw Charlie Wade, he smiled before he greeted him in a respectful manner. "Hello, Mr. Wade. I am the new manager of Treasure Pavilion. I just started working this afternoon. My boss feels very sorry about the way you left Treasure Pavilion earlier today and he sent me here with a gift to specifically apologize to you."

Charlie Wade looked at the man with a shocked expression on his face. "You're from Treasure Pavilion?"

"Treasure Pavilion?"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson, who was standing behind Charlie Wade, was also very surprised.

The middle-aged man hurriedly explained, "Our boss felt very bad about the way you were forced to leave Treasure Pavilion today Mr. Wade. In fact, he even drove the troublemaker, Mr. Harold, out of the place before he suspended the auction immediately. I would like to apologize for the poor hospitality that you experienced at Treasure Pavilion today. I hope you will be able to forgive us, Mr. Wade."

After he was done speaking, the middle-aged man quickly waved his hand behind him

At this time, a few strong men dressed in black hurried forward as they carried the gifts in before they placed it at their doorstep.

Charlie Wade looked in their direction and he saw that the man had brought many gifts along with him!

There was even a box of limited edition Yellow Crane Tower cigars and a box of thirty years old Moutai Flying Fairy liquor!

Besides that, the man had also brought a pair of antique vases that were obviously worth a lot of money.

These gifts were worth more than a million dollars!

"Mr. Wade, these are some of the gifts that my boss has asked me to bring over from Treasure Pavilion. My boss is currently preparing for a new auction with Miss Moore. Therefore, he is unable to come here in person today. He sent me here on his behalf to apologize to you personally. Please accept our sincere apology."

After he was done speaking, the middle-aged man bowed before Charlie Wade immediately.

Charlie Wade nodded before he replied, "Alright then. You can leave the gifts here."

The middle-aged man also took out two golden invitation letters from his pocket before handing them over to Charlie Wade in a respectful manner. "These are invitation letters for you to participate in our upcoming auction and I hope you will attend the auction with your father-in-law. I promise that we will not let you down this time. Please give us a chance to make up for our mistake today."

After that, he continued explaining, "I am also giving you a special VIP card for Treasure Pavilion. We have only issued ten of these VIP cards to date and it is valid for life. With this VIP card, you can enjoy special privileges whenever you come to Treasure Pavilion."

Charlie Wade glanced at the VIP card that the middle-aged man had in his hand. The card was gold in color and filled with golden leaves and diamonds.

Charlie Wade replied indifferently, "I am not a big fan of auctions. Perhaps you could ask my father-in-law if he would be interested in the VIP card and in attending the auction."

"Okay." The middle-aged man hurriedly held the card towards Jacob Wilson as he smiled and said, "Mr. Wilson, I am really sorry for what happened today. I hope that you will attend our auction in two days' time."

"This..." Jacob Wilson could not stop himself from gulping as he glanced at the VIP card in the middle-aged man's hand.

He immediately knew that this was a limited edition VIP card for Treasure Pavilion, which was only issued to people with the highest status in Aurouss Hilll. This VIP card could not be bought at all.

Anyone who had this VIP card could enter and exit the Treasure Pavilion freely and they usually received the best treatment from all the employees. Moreover, anyone with the VIP card could have access to all the antiques and would also be given a huge discount should they choose to purchase any.

Jacob Wilson could not resist such a huge temptation.

As Jacob Wilson was about to accept the VIP card, someone suddenly stretched her hand out and grabbed the VIP card from the middle-aged man in a cheeky manner.

At this time, Charlie Wade's mother-in-law, Elaine Ma had already taken the VIP cards in her hands as she smiled and said, "Since you've already come here to personally apologize, we will accept the gifts and the VIP card. My husband will definitely attend the auction the day after tomorrow!"

Chapter 143

Elaine Ma was extremely excited.

All of those gifts were money to her!

She did not know how much those antique vases cost but she knew that each bottle of Moutai Flying Fairy liquor was worth at least thirty to forty thousand dollars! Moreover, there were twenty bottles of liquor in this box. This meant that this box of liquor was worth a few hundred thousand dollars!

There was also a box of Yellow Crane Tower cigars. The cigars cost five thousand dollars each and there were fifty cigars in the box! That would mean that the box of cigars was worth more than two hundred thousand dollars! Just the liquor and cigars were already worth at least one million dollars!

Why shouldn't she accept it?

Moreover, if she had the VIP card from Treasure Pavilion, she would be able to show off in front of her friends!

When Claire Wilson Wilson saw how obsessive and materialistic her mother was, she called out in a reluctant manner, "Mom..."

Elaine Ma glared at her before she replied, "What's wrong? Are you going to say that I shouldn't accept these gifts?"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson replied, "I mean, we should not accept these gifts just like that. After all, we don't know what is going on. So, how can we accept these expensive gifts just like that?"

Charlie Wade quickly responded, "Since it is an apology gift, we should accept it."

The middle-aged man was finally relieved.

Before he came here, his boss had told him that he no longer needed to go back to work if Charlie Wade refused to accept the gifts.

When Charlie Wade turned around, he saw that Elaine Ma had already moved the box of liquor and cigars into the house. At this time, Elaine Ma was holding the pair of antique vases in her hand as she was observing it under the lamp. Charlie Wade could only shake his head as he told the middle-aged man, "Thank you for sending the gifts over. You can leave first."

"Alright then, Mr. Wade. I will not bother you anymore."

After that, Charlie Wade closed the door before he turned around to walk into this house. He was taken aback at this time. "Why are you guys staring at me?"

At this time, all three of the people in the living room had their eyes fixed on him.

Elaine Ma gave a dry cough before she smirked and asked, "Charlie Wade, since when did you become friends with the owner of Treasure Pavilion? Why did they bring gifts and come all the way to our house just to apologize to you?"

Charlie Wade shook his head before he replied, "Mom, I think there's some misunderstanding here. I'm not friends with the owner of Treasure Pavilion. I think the reason they have come all the way here to apologize today is simply because they provide very good customer service. Since their employees have made a mistake, I guess the boss simply wants to apologize and compensate us to protect the reputation of Treasure Pavilion..."

Elaine Ma suddenly scowled as she replied in a frustrated manner, "Well, I actually thought you had become a decent man overnight. I thought that you had become friends with someone with good connections. In the end, it turns out that their good customer service is the only reason we're receiving all these gifts..."

However, Claire Wilson Wilson was still a little puzzled at this time. Even if Treasure Pavilion had a very good customer service, why would the other party give them such an expensive gift as compensation?

At this time, Elaine Ma was in a very good mood after receiving a lot of gifts. Therefore, she finally stopped attacking Charlie Wade and she was thinking of how much money she could make by selling off the liquor and cigars.

After they were done with dinner, Charlie Wade was doing the dishes in the kitchen when he suddenly received a phone call.

The phone call was from Graham, the man whom Charlie Wade had helped not too long ago.

In fact, Graham was the one who had given him the jade bracelet.

On the other end of the line, Graham greeted him in a respectful manner, "Mr. Wade!"

Charlie Wade replied, "Yes? Is there something I can help you with?"

At this time, Graham quickly replied, "I really want to thank you for your advice the last time I saw you. Thanks to you, the Quinton family seems to be in a better condition nowadays. I really want to thank you for your guidance. Otherwise, the Quinton family would have been completely destroyed."

Charlie Wade smiled before he asked, "I think that things aren't going that smoothly now, am I right? Otherwise, you wouldn't be calling me at this hour."

Graham choked before he replied in an awkward manner, "Mr. Wade you really know everything. I can't seem to hide anything from you at all."

Charlie Wade continued smiling without saying a single word.

Sure enough, Graham stuttered as he continued speaking, "Mr. Wade, I would like to ask you to save the Quinton family again. I know we owe you a lot and the Quinton family will never forget what you have done for us."

Chapter 144

Graham's face was pale and his body trembled slightly, as though he was really in fear.

Charlie Wade frowned before he asked in a faint manner, "Did the jade plug crack?"

"Mr. Wade, you really are a master! I can't believe that you've actually guessed it right."

Graham's voice was very soft as he sighed, "Initially, we followed all of your instructions without fail. After sealing the jade plug off in the yellow bag, our entire family ate vegetarian food for seven days without seeing any blood at all."

"However, one day, my stupid nephew Adam secretly ate some stewed pigeon soup. Moreover, he accidentally stained pigeon blood on the yellow paper bag that the jade plug was sealed in. As soon as the blood fell on the yellow paper bag, the jade plug cracked immediately. I've already beat Adam up and locked him up at home but strange things are still happening!"

Charlie Wade frowned before he asked, "What kind of strange things have you encountered?"

Graham hurriedly replied, "Last night, there was a violent thunderstorm. Unexpectedly, lightning actually struck and scorched the century old osmanthus tree in the Quinton family courtyard."

"Besides that, the tablet of the Quinton family's ancestors, which was enshrined in our ancestral hall, actually fell to the ground and broke into half for no reason at all. This is a terrible omen!"

Charlie Wade frowned as soon as he heard Graham's words. From the perspective of Chinese Feng Shui, planting an osmanthus tree in the courtyard was a symbol of wealth and good fortune.

However, since the osmanthus tree was scorched because it was struck by lightning, this indicated that misfortune was about to fall upon the Quinton family.

Moreover, a broken ancestor tablet signified that a member of the Quinton family will die.

Charlie Wade really did not expect the spirit contained in the jade plug to be so evil and ominous. Moreover, he did not expect it to be so powerful just because of a drop of pigeon blood.

When Graham did not get a reply from Charlie Wade, he could feel his heart beating frantically. He continued pleading over the other end of the line, "Even though the Quinton family has been involved in the business industry for many generations, I've always been kind towards others. I've never done anything to harm nature or hurt anyone at all. Mr. Wade, please help me save my family."

At this time, Charlie Wade could only reply, "Mr. Quinton, I would really like to save you but it seems as though the spirit in the jade plug is really very powerful. Since Adam has been carrying the jade plug on him for so many years, it seems as though it has already bound itself to the Quinton family. Therefore, there is no way that we can deal with it by just using a simple talisman."

"What should I do now, then? The Quinton family is suffering from so much misfortune. This is really unfortunate for the entire family!"

Graham sighed as his voice trembled.

Charlie Wade replied at this time, "The evil spirit gains strength when it gets blood. Now that it has made contact with pigeon blood, I am afraid that the only way we'll be able to subdue this spirit is by borrowing the power from the heavens."

"Alright then, Mr. Wade. I will definitely get you anything you need even if it means losing my entire fortune."

At this time, Charlie Wade replied, "Well, it so happens that I will be participating in an auction held at the Treasure Pavilion tomorrow. I will check out the auction and see if there are any spiritual relics we'd be able to use to help you and your family. As for whether we will be able to win the bid for the items, that will really depend on your luck."

"Alright. I'm really sorry to have caused you so much trouble, Mr. Wade." Graham could not stop thanking Charlie Wade.

After that, he quickly continued, "Mr. Wade, I will come over to drop off my black card tomorrow. You can just use the black card to purchase anything you need."

Charlie Wade snorted. Since he was doing the Quinton family a favor, he should obviously not have to spend his own money.

At this time, Charlie Wade simply replied, "Mr. Quinton, you should be mentally prepared. It is not so easy to obtain any spiritual relics and sometimes, we will not be able to purchase it even if it is available. Therefore, whether we will be able to purchase the spiritual relics at the auction tomorrow or otherwise would really depend on your luck."

Graham answered, "Yes, I will also look for the spiritual relics on my own. However, I'm afraid I'd still have to trouble you, Mr. Wade."

After the incident at Antique Street, Graham had already sought out a number of well-known spiritual masters to get rid of the evil spirit. However, they would simply take one look at the Quinton family mansion before waving their hands and leaving in a hurry because they did not even dare enter the mansion.

Therefore, Graham's only hope was Charlie Wade.

In fact, Charlie Wade did not understand why this was happening.

Graham should have a peaceful and happy life because he had never done anything to harm anyone else in this life.

Unexpectedly, in a twist of fate, his nephew, Adam turned out to be someone who would turn his entire family upside down. If Charlie Wade had not saved him the other day, the entire Quinton family would have been destroyed within a year.

Moreover, Graham and Adam would not be the only ones gone from the face of this earth. His beautiful and hot Aurora would be dead too!

Chapter 145

Graham arrived at Charlie Wade's house early the next morning.

He waited outside Charlie Wade's house until Charlie Wade finally stepped out of the house as he headed to the market to buy some vegetables. After that, Graham greeted him before he handed his black card over to Charlie Wade.

At this time, Graham told Charlie Wade that there were more than a few hundred million dollars in the black card. It seemed as though Graham was really willing to spend all of his fortune to save the Quinton family.

Aurora had accompanied Graham but this time, she was not as arrogant and haughty as she had previously been.

In fact, she was very respectful towards Charlie Wade.

Ever since Adam got into trouble, the Quinton family had encountered a lot of strange and unpredictable events. Her grandfather had also fallen ill and his body was deteriorating for no reason at all. Aurora knew that Charlie Wade was the only one who would be able to save her family!

After handing the black card over to Charlie Wade, Graham knelt down in front of Charlie Wade as he cried and begged, "Mr. Wade! Please help me save the Quinton family. It does not matter if I die but my daughter is still so young..."

Aurora also knelt down next to her father with red and swollen eyes as she cried and said, "Mr. Wade, please save the Quinton family. If it's possible, I'm willing to give my life in exchange for my father's longevity."

Graham got angry at this time and he yelled at her, "What nonsense are you saying?"

Charlie Wade shook his head in a helpless manner as he stretched out his hand to help them both up. When he held Aurora's soft and demure hands in his own, Charlie Wade could not help but feel a little uneasy.

After standing up, Aurora blushed as she felt a little embarrassed at this time.

Charlie Wade said, "Don't worry. I will definitely try my best to help the Quinton family avoid this misfortune and survive this catastrophe. I will try my best to keep your family safe."

Both the father and daughter were so touched that they wanted to kneel again but this time, Charlie Wade stopped them immediately. "Please stop kneeling in front of me, that's not very nice. You can both leave first, I will give you a call once I have any news."

"Thank you, Mr. Wade!" Both the father and daughter thanked him again before they turned around to leave.

When Charlie Wade returned home after buying some vegetables from the market, Jacob Wilson hurried over to him before he asked in a nervous manner, "Charlie Wade, were you talking to Mr. Quinton outside the house earlier today?"

"Yes, he wanted to discuss something with me."

At this time, Jacob Wilson could not help but say, "I could see the ugly expression on his face. It didn't seem like it was anything good. Is there a problem because of what you told him to do the last time at Antique Street?"

Jacob Wilson had always felt very worried about this matter because he did not believe that Charlie Wade knew exactly what he was doing.

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "Dad, don't worry. Mr. Quinton stopped by because he wanted me to help him get rid of the evil spirit in his house. He also gave me his bank card and told me to use it to buy anything that would be useful to him at the auction tomorrow."

Jacob Wilson was stunned for a moment before he asked, "How much money is in that black card?"

Charlie Wade replied in a casual manner, "A few hundred million dollars."

"That much?"

Jacob Wilson's eyes widened in shock at this time. He was so shocked that he clutched onto his chest tightly because he was at a loss for words. He had almost suffered a heart attack!

At this time, Jacob Wilson held onto Charlie Wade in an anxious manner. "Charlie Wade, you should not be lying to others anymore. The Quinton family is giving you so much money to help them, but what if something goes wrong? What if they find out you're just lying to them? Will they kill our whole family? I want you to return the money."

"Dad, don't worry. I know what I should do. I promise there will be no problems at all."

After that, Charlie Wade spoke up again, "Dad, this is a matter of great importance so I hope that you will not tell Claire Wilson or mom about this matter. Otherwise, I'm afraid that things will get out of control..."

"I know, I know..."

Jacob Wilson knew his wife very well.

That woman was a lunatic who cared about money even more than her own life.

If she were to find out that Charlie Wade had a bank card with a few hundred million dollars inside, she would definitely spend all of that money without any hesitation at all. How would they be accountable to the Quinton family then?

That was a few hundred million dollars!

Jacob Wilson could feel his heart pounding when he thought about that huge sum of money. He continued persuading Charlie Wade to return the money to the Quinton family. However, after a short while, he realized that his persuasion seemed to have no effect on Charlie Wade at all. Therefore, he could only sit down on the sofa as he sighed.

All that he could do now was to keep a close eye on Charlie Wade at the auction tomorrow so he could stop him from purchasing something random.

If the Quinton family found out that Charlie Wade had been lying to them, Mr. Quinton would definitely kill his entire family!

Chapter 146

Early the next morning, Charlie Wade prepared to attend the auction.

Jacob Wilson could not sleep well the previous night because he was so worried about the matter related to the Quinton family. Therefore, he continued nagging at Charlie Wade in the living room.

At this time, Charlie Wade asked Jacob Wilson, "Dad, I heard about the special treasure that will be up for auction at the Treasure Pavilion today. Am I right?"

"Yes," Jacob Wilson replied immediately. "I've heard that it's a valuable treasure that is unparalleled in this world."

After he was done speaking, Jacob Wilson suddenly thought of something. After that, he quickly pulled Charlie Wade aside before he said, "My dear son-in-law, please don't get any ideas about this treasure. The starting price for this treasure is ten million dollars! We should just take a look at the treasure from afar."

Charlie Wade knew that his father-in-law was simply worried that he would be using the Quinton family's money for his own purposes. Therefore, he smiled before he replied, "Dad, don't worry about it. You're right, I'll just have a look at it and not try to bid for it."

"That's good," Jacob Wilson replied as he was afraid that he would not be able to convince Charlie Wade. "But even if you wanted to bid for it, you won't have the chance to do so."

"Why?"

"I was out yesterday to inquire about the auction that would be held today, and I heard that the owner of Mystery Court will also be attending the auction today as he is interested in the final treasure that is up for auction."

Charlie Wade was surprised as soon as he heard Jacob Wilson's words. "The owner of Mystery Court will also be here?"

No one knew much about the Mystery Court.

Its owner, Jack Yalman, was a famous Feng Shui master in the country.

Many celebrities would always line up and pay a huge sum of money just to get him to read them their fortune. Moreover, he was also famous because he had given a lecture on meta-physics on television.

It would cost at least seven figures to get him to read someone's fortune for them.

If any celebrity had wanted to purchase any items from Mystery Court, then his charges would be doubled or tripled.

However, even though the prices of his items were extremely high, none of the items that he sold were fake—all of them were authentic.

Moreover, rumor has it that Jack's predictions and fortune telling had always been very accurate.

He once predicted that a famous and well-known celebrity couple would get divorced in November that year.

At that time, the two celebrities had just gotten married and they were extremely affectionate and in love. Therefore, at that time, no one believed his predictions at all.

Unexpectedly, in mid-November, the couple actually announced their divorce on their social media accounts.

Ever since then, Mystery Court had gained a very good reputation all over the country and the number of people who had tried to consult his services had increased since.

Anyone in the entertainment industry would always be in awe whenever Jack's name was mentioned.

Mystery Court was located in the center of town and it was obvious that the owner had spent a lot of money to purchase that building.

Charlie Wade did not expect Jack to attend the auction at all. It seemed as though this treasure was truly something very valuable and amazing.

Therefore, Charlie Wade couldn't help from asking, "What is this final treasure?"

"I don't know. We won't be able to afford it anyway."

Jacob Wilson continued speaking and at this time, Charlie Wade's cell phone started ringing.

As soon as he answered the call, he could hear Jasmine's voice over the other end of the line.

"Mr. Wade, my car is parked in front of your house. I've come to pick you up since it is on the way."

In fact, Jasmine was afraid that something else would happen at the reception this time. Therefore, she decided to pick Charlie Wade and his father-in-law up instead.

After walking out of his house, Charlie Wade saw a big red Bentley parked at the side of the road as it gleamed under the bright sun.

Jasmine was leaning against her car and she was wearing a tight-fitting red dress which showed off the exquisite curves of her body. Her long, wavy hair was draped over her shoulders and she was wearing a pair of sunglasses.

As soon as she saw the both of them coming out of the house, Jasmine took off her sunglasses before she said, "Hello Uncle Wilson and Mr. Wade. I'm also heading to the auction at Treasure Pavilion so I've decided to pick you up since it is on the way."

"Oh, thank you, Miss Jasmine," Jacob Wilson could recognize her immediately. "Miss Jasmine, you are too nice."

"Alright then, please get in," Jasmine replied in a polite manner as she opened the car door for the both of them,

At this time, Jacob Wilson was in disbelief because he could not believe that the eldest daughter of the Moore family would actually take the initiative to open the car door for his son-in-law!

Chapter 147

Shortly after, they finally arrived at the exhibition center.

The exhibition center was a building with a circular dome. The outer circle was filled with shops selling all sorts of different goods from flowers to birds and the auction house was located at the center.

The exhibition center was built last year and it looked absolutely magnificent.

Charlie Wade followed Jasmine into the glass elevator as they headed to the sixth floor.

As soon as the elevator door opened, an artistic exhibition hall with various antique calligraphy and paintings hung on the walls suddenly appeared in front of them. This was the auction house.

The auction table was placed right in front atop a red carpet. There were numerous sofas below the stage and the tables were filled with wines and fresh fruits for the enjoyment of the guests.

As compared to the last auction, it seemed as though Treasure Pavilion had put in a lot of effort to the auction this time. It had probably cost them more than one million dollars to lease and prepare all the decorations for the auction.

Jasmine's seat was in the middle of the front row and as they were about to move forward, they suddenly heard a huge commotion behind them.

Charlie Wade turned around and at this time, he was forced to step aside because there were several people who were trying to squeeze into the auction hall at this time.

Charlie Wade frowned as he watched the group of people rushing into the auction hall. There were also a few bodyguards leading the way at this time.

"Oh, is Mr. Yaleman already here?" Jasmine exclaimed as she stared at the crowd of people.

In fact, the crowd of people were all distinguished guests who were attending the auction. However, at this time, they were all surrounding a middle-aged man who was wearing a blue suit and had a cold and arrogant look on his face.

Charlie Wade looked at the man before he said, "So, this is the reputable Mr. Yaleman. He has a pretty good posture..."

The crowd of people continued leading Jack forward and at this time, he suddenly wrote a few words on a yellow piece of paper before he handed the talisman over to the man standing next to him. After that, he said in an indifferent manner, "It seems as though we have both been destined to meet today. I am giving you this peace talisman for free today. It will keep you safe, and you and your family will be prosperous in time to come."

"Thank you, Mr. Yaleman."

The man was very surprised and flattered as he took the peace talisman in his hand. After that, he began carrying the talisman around as though it was a piece of treasure as he kept telling the people around him, "Mr. Yaleman's peace talisman is really amazing. I've been seeking his services for the past few years and thanks to his talisman, my business has grown more and more successful!"

The crowd of people could only look on enviously. At this time, some of the people also cheekily begged Jack to give them a talisman but he simply ignored them.

Jack's assistant snorted as he yelled at the crowd, "Do you really think that just anyone can get Mr. Yaleman's talisman just because they want it? Don't you know that people are paying at least two hundred thousand dollars for each peace talisman that they get from Mystery Court?"

Everyone was silent for a moment before someone suddenly shouted.

"It's really rare for Mr. Yalerman to specifically make a trip to Aurouss Hill! I will be more than willing to pay two hundred thousand dollars for a peace talisman. Please give me one, Mr. Yalerman."

"Me too! I want to buy one too. I want a peace talisman from Mr. Yalerman too."

"It is very difficult to get a peace talisman from Mr. Yalerman! Two hundred thousand dollars is nothing. I want five pieces of the peace talisman."

The crowd of people were very excited and many of them transferred money over to Jack immediately just to get their hands on one of his peace talisman.

"Please stand in line."

Jack's assistant instructed as he registered them one by one. It was a very chaotic scene.

At this time, Charlie Wade could not help but exclaim, "What sort of peace talisman is that? It's so expensive. It really is a good way to make money."

He did not speak very loudly but at this time, Jack suddenly raised his head as he stared at him with his brows knitted together.

Jack pushed the crowd of people aside as he walked towards Charlie Wade. "My friend, did I hear you having an opinion about my peace talisman?"

Charlie Wade simply replied in a casual manner, "I simply do not think that any peace talisman in this world should be worth so much money."

At this time, someone in the crowd yelled out immediately, "Who do you think you are? What do you know anyway? Mr. Yalerman is already selling his peace talisman at a low price of only two hundred thousand dollars!"

"Yes, it is only two hundred thousand dollars! That is why everyone is lining up to buy one."

"You can get the exact same peace talisman for just two dollars at the temple."

At this time, Jack snorted as he glared at Charlie Wade, "You can eat rice anytime you want, but you shouldn't be spouting nonsense here. The reason why people speak without thinking is because they are pretending to understand something that is above their understanding."

After he was done speaking, Jack curled his lips in disdain as he walked into the auction hall.

Charlie Wade had an indifferent expression on his face because Jack was not a threat to him at all.

Chapter 148

At this time, Jasmine felt a little awkward as she said, "Mr. Wade, please don't take it to heart. Mr. Yaleman has a rather short fuse."

Charlie Wade shook his head indifferently before he said, "Let's head inside now."

The guests entered the venue one after the other. The host was none other than Finn Baxendale, the owner of Treasure Pavilion. He went on stage and gave a routine speech to start the auction section.

After that, the auction officially began!

Due to the sudden cancellation of the last auction, there were twice as many guests present at the auction today.

The first item that was placed on stage, courtesy of two ladies, was an antique copper incense burner covered in white mist and a fragrant smell.

At this time, the auctioneer introduced the first item. "This is a Reverse Incense Burner, which is one of the treasures used by the king in the past. No one was allowed to use it without authorization from the king himself. Moreover, the production method for this incense burner has already been lost for generations and it is almost impossible to reproduce the same item today!"

As soon as he finished speaking, he motioned for his assistant to light the incense.

At this time, the assistant, who was dressed in a cheongsam, carefully dug a handful of incense with a silver spoon before she lit it up.

As the white smoke slowly cascaded down the incense burner like a waterfall, the pine cranes on the incense burner looked extremely vivid, as though they were faintly flapping their wings.

The faint smell of incense filled up the auction hall and it was very refreshing.

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "This is indeed authentic ambergris made out of sperm whale. It is almost impossible to buy this kind of handmade incense nowadays."

The auctioneer knocked the gavel twice before he said, "The starting price for this Reverse Incense Burner is eight hundred thousand dollars and the price increase for each bid is one hundred thousand dollars."

The incense burner was indeed exquisitely made and it was a rare collectible. Therefore, the auction price was very reasonable.

After a short while, the incense burner was auctioned away for 1.6 million dollars.

After that, the auctioneer began auctioning several other high quality antiques.

The atmosphere in the auction hall was very tense as the guests continued bidding for items that caught their interest.

Jacob Wilson watched the auction excitedly. He would have participated in the auction a couple of times if he had the money to do so.

However, Charlie Wade had no interest in those items at all.

Even though they were all very rare and precious antiques, all of these items carried little to no value to him at all.

At this time, the assistant suddenly brought out a necklace with purple pearls that seemed to be glowing.

The auctioneer introduced the item. "These natural purple pearls are from the East China Sea. Only one of these purple pearls can be picked out from one thousand pearls. The beads are round and uniform in size and this is an extremely rare product."

The auction price for this string of purple pearls was not too expensive, with its starting price being only four hundred thousand dollars.

Charlie Wade raised his hand immediately to bid for the necklace.

"Five hundred thousand dollars!"

Jacob Wilson's eyelids twitched as he said, "What are you doing? The pearl necklace is probably worth just tens of thousands of dollars. Why are you paying five hundred thousand dollars for this? Don't be ridiculous!"

Charlie Wade stared at the purple pearls and he could only think of Claire Wilson Wilson at this time. After that, he smiled before he said, "I think that Claire Wilson Wilson will definitely look very beautiful in that pearl necklace. Purple pearls help to calm the nerves. Claire Wilson Wilson has been under a lot of pressure and she has not been sleeping well lately."

As soon as he heard that Charlie Wade was buying the pearl necklace for his daughter, Jacob Wilson closed his mouth because he did not have anything else to say.

As the value of the pearl necklace was not too high, no one else bid for the necklace.

Just as the auctioneer was about to hit the gavel, a voice suddenly sounded from the back of the auction hall.

"Six hundred thousand dollars!"

Charlie Wade searched for the sound to look at the person who made the bid.

At this time, he saw Adam from the Quinton family staring at him as he sneered. After that, he told Charlie Wade, "I'm sorry but I'm also in love with this necklace!"

Charlie Wade could not help but frown as soon as he saw Adam. What was he doing here? Didn't Graham say that he had already locked him up at home?

Chapter 149

Adam had led a very miserable life for the past few days.

After getting into trouble a few days ago, he had been severely beaten up by his second uncle. Moreover, his uncle also banned him from leaving the house,

However, due to his extreme love for antiques, it was impossible for him to miss out on this auction.

Therefore, he tried his best to escape the house before he participated in the auction today. However, he did not expect to see Charlie Wade here today.

He had always been very disdainful and doubtful of Charlie Wade's skills. In his opinion, his second uncle had been completely deceived by this young man.

However, he did not dare to provoke Charlie Wade face to face. When he saw Charlie Wade making a bid for the pearl necklace, he made a bid immediately because he wanted to challenge Charlie Wade.

At this time, Charlie Wade glanced at Adam before he turned around and faced the auctioneer again. After that, he continued his bid. "Seven hundred thousand dollars!"

Adam followed in his footsteps. "Eight hundred thousand dollars!"

Jacob Wilson could no longer sit still. Therefore, he stood up before he told Charlie Wade, "Charlie Wade, forget it. There's no point in fighting him."

Charlie Wade simply smiled before he said, "Just look at how I am going to play with him."

After that, Charlie Wade raised his hand directly and said, "Eight million dollars!"

Everyone in the auction hall was dumbfounded at this time.

The other party was bidding for eight hundred thousand dollars and he had actually bid for the necklace at eight million dollars? Was he insane?

At this time, Adam was also dumbfounded because Charlie Wade was not playing by the rules. Since his bid was eight hundred thousand dollars, the other party would usually call for nine hundred thousand dollars or one million dollars at most. Why would he bid eight million dollars on the pearl necklace?

Was he really insane or did he have too much money to burn?

Charlie Wade raised his brows as he smiled at Adam. "Mr. Quinton, please go on!"

Adam coughed before he said, "Do you think I'm crazy? Why would I buy this useless pearl necklace for eight million dollars? Forget it! You can have it."

Even though Adam did not want to lose face, he was very unwilling to pay eight million dollars for the pearl necklace.

The value of the pearl necklace was seven hundred dollars at most. If he really spent more than eight million dollars just to buy the pearl necklace, his second uncle would definitely break his legs when he went home!

It was a complete waste of money!

Charlie Wade stared at Adam as he said disdainfully, "Mr. Quinton, you are giving up so soon? You look like you can't afford it."

Everyone started laughing as soon as Charlie Wade's words fell.

Adam blushed as he replied, "You're so irritating! Who says that I can't afford the pearl necklace? I'm just not stupid enough to pay eight million dollars for this useless necklace. I'm really interested to see where you are going to get the money to pay for the necklace!"

Charlie Wade smirked before he replied, "If you can't afford it, just admit it. What is the point of such lengthy explanations right now?"

After that, the auctioneer dropped his gavel.

"Eight million dollars. Deal. Congratulations to Mr. Wade!"

At this time, the assistant came over to Charlie Wade with a wireless credit card machine in her hand as she said, "Mr. Wade, please pay with your card now."

Everyone was staring at Charlie Wade at this moment. Adam sneered before he said, "Charlie Wade, why don't you try swiping your card now? I'd like to see how you can afford to pay eight million dollars!"

Everyone else was also curious to see how things would turn out. Since Charlie Wade was so confident in his bid for the pearl necklace, would he really be able to pay for it?

Charlie Wade smiled before he took out Graham's black card from his pocket and swiped it on the credit card machine immediately.

There was no password needed.

He swiped the card successfully!

At this time, the assistant handed the receipt over to Charlie Wade before she said, "Mr. Wade, your pearl necklace will be delivered to you before the end of the auction!"

"Perfect!" Charlie Wade replied as he nodded.

Everyone was shocked at this time.

It seemed as though Charlie Wade was really rich!

This man was really bold for buying a pearl necklace at the price of eight million dollars when it was really only worth seven hundred thousand dollars at most!

At this time, Charlie Wade looked at Adam before he smiled and asked, "Mr. Quinton, are you satisfied now?"

There was a burst of laughter as someone ridiculed Adam. "I think Mr. Quinton cannot afford to pay for the item because he's caused so much trouble to his family, am I right?"

"Hahaha. I think that Mr. Quinton is too weak to even lift a knife!"

"Hahaha!"

Adam could feel his face burning.

Damn. That young man actually had the money to pay for the necklace!

He was really embarrassed now!

After that, Adam gritted his teeth before he said, "Charlie Wade, I will not lose to you in the next bid!"

Charlie Wade nodded before he replied indifferently, "Okay, then let's compete for the next item."

Adam did not know why Charlie Wade could be so courageous, nor did he know that his uncle had given Charlie Wade his black card..

Within a short while, a few more collections were auctioned off, followed by the introduction of a semi-finished topaz jade.

Half of the jade was wrapped in a rock to show that this was natural and authentic. The starting bid for the jade was eight hundred thousand dollars.

Chapter 150

The naturally formed jade contained a certain amount of spiritual energy. Charlie Wade felt that this was the perfect item for Graham to expel the evil spirit from his home. Therefore, he raised his hand immediately.

"Nine hundred thousand dollars!"

As soon as his voice fell, the familiar voice sounded again.

"One million dollars!"

Charlie Wade turned around and he met Adam's provocative eyes immediately.

Charlie Wade did not say anything but he continued raising his hand.

"One million one hundred thousand dollars!"

"One million two hundred thousand dollars!"

After bidding several times, the price of the jade had already doubled and under Adam's deliberate bidding, the price of the jade soared to two million dollars!

Everyone in the auction hall knew that Adam had deliberately raised the price of the jade because he wanted to provoke Charlie Wade.

Therefore, everyone was waiting to watch another good show as they watched Charlie Wade raise his hand again.

At this time, Charlie Wade slowly raised his hand as he said, "Twenty million dollars!"

What?

This was insane!

Did two million dollars become twenty million dollars in a blink of an eye? This was a repetition of the situation just a short while ago. The price of the item had already increased tenfold!

Adam had a very ugly expression on his face.

What was wrong with Charlie Wade? Even if he had the money, why was he wasting it away like this?

Even though Adam was a famous prodigal child in Aurouss Hilll, he was not willing to pay ten times the price for something...

Therefore, he started hesitating.

Should he follow in his bid?

If he followed after Charlie Wade's bid, then he would be throwing eighteen million dollars away for nothing.

However, if he refused to follow, then Charlie Wade and everyone else would make fun of him.

He had already lost and embarrassed himself earlier. If Charlie Wade defeated him again, he would really lose face in this city.

Therefore, Adam gritted his teeth before he blurted out, "I will pay twenty million one hundred thousand dollars!"

The crowd of people could not help but exclaim in excitement.

Adam had added another one hundred thousand dollars!

He was up for the challenge!

Charlie Wade smiled before he raised his hand again. "Thirty million dollars!"

"What?"

"This is crazy!"

"This brother here is insane!"

Two million dollars had become twenty million dollars and from twenty million one hundred dollars, he called for thirty million dollars. Charlie Wade was scaring everyone present at the auction hall today.

Adam almost collapsed.

What was Charlie Wade trying to do? Was he really so rich? Thirty million dollars? He could buy fifteen pieces of this jade for that price. No matter who paid the price for the jade in the end, he was definitely at the losing end.

Charlie Wade started to challenge Adam again at this time. "Mr. Quinton, aren't you going to continue bidding against me?"

Adam started panicking.

Thirty million dollars to buy a piece of jade? He would be dead meat if his family found out about it!

His sister, Aurora, would definitely make him a cripple.

But so many people were watching him..

What should he do now?

Adam's face was flushed red as he was at a loss.

The auctioneer said, "Thirty million dollars once!"

"Thirty million dollars twice!"

The lively audience began shouting:

"Mr. Quinton, place your bid!"

"Mr. Quinton, you have to continue bidding!"

"Mr. Quinton, don't let us look down on you!"

"Mr. Quinton, are you really giving up already? Were you pretending to be tough when you're actually afraid?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Mr. Quinton, if you do not bid, you are going to lose to me again!"

Chapter 151

Everyone was watching Adam at this time. He hesitated for a moment before he finally decided that reason defeated impulse.

He said in a furious manner, "I give up!"

"Ha!"

"Lousy!"

"What a shame!"

"Such an embarrassment!"

Everyone continued scolding and making fun of Adam as they laughed at him. Adam was left embarrassed and he did not know where else to hide his face.

He regretted his actions. He regretted coming out today. Otherwise, he would not have been so embarrassed.

Adam was very angry as he felt very embarrassed at this time. After a short while, Adam turned around and he was even angrier when he saw Charlie Wade laughing at him.

At this time, he could not stop himself from rushing over to Charlie Wade immediately.

"The one with the last name Wade! Are you doing this on purpose?"

Charlie Wade picked up the glass of wine from the table before he took a sip and said, "No one forced you to bid against me. You wanted to bid against me, so why are you mad at me now?"

Jasmine also spoke up in a cold manner, "Mr. Quinton, the rules of auction have always been this way. If you cannot afford to place a bid, then you should not be here at all."

Adam gritted his teeth in anger but he did not dare to offend Jasmine.

"Just you wait!" Adam yelled as he pointed his finger at Charlie Wade before returning to his own seat.

Charlie Wade could only shake his head as he looked at Adam. It must have been difficult for the Quinton family to have a family member like Adam.

After that, Charlie Wade swiped his black card once again as he paid for the jade under everyone's watchful eyes.

Anyway, this was Graham's money. Therefore, Charlie Wade did not feel any pain at all.

Moreover...

Charlie Wade could not help but wonder what Graham would do if he finds out that Adam was the reason why he had to spend so much money in the end.

He would probably beat Adam up again.

That would be really interesting...

About an hour later, the auction was approaching its end.

During this period of time, Adam did not bid for any other item because he was probably afraid that Charlie Wade would outbid him again.

At this time, several helpers struggled to push a trolley up on stage. It seemed as though there was a huge item inside the trolley.

Charlie Wade held his breath as he looked at the stage.

He could feel a strong and mysterious aura!

At this time, Mr. Yalaman, who was sitting on the next table, was also staring directly at the trolley.

So, this was the final treasure!

However, as soon as Finn Baxendale unveiled the curtain covering the treasure, everyone in the auction hall sighed in disappointment.

It turned out that there was a big, tattered reef with seaweed and dried seashells attached to it placed inside the trolley.

At this time, there were a lot of private discussions going on below the stage. No one could understand why Treasure Pavilion would actually treat this broken stone as the finale of the auction.

Finn Baxendale took this opportunity to provide the crowd with an explanation.

"Everyone, please stay calm! This is the final item up for auction tonight!"

"This clam had been naturally generated on the seafloor. Experts have already identified that this shellfish is actually hundreds of years old and it has been immersed into the seafloor for more than thousands of years after its death. The shell has a natural '卍' symbol on it and it is definitely a unique, one of a kind treasure!"

After he was done speaking, he asked the assistant to wipe the coral reef for the audience.

Sure enough, the exposed palm-sized area was actually a transparent golden red color like amber and the pattern on the clam was really beautiful.

Everyone could not help from gasping when they saw it.

The price of clams was usually measured in grams internationally, ranging from thirty thousand dollars to fifty thousand dollars, with their lifespans usually between twenty to a hundred years. However, this clam was already more than a few hundred years old. It was not easy to find any other treasures like this.

Moreover, what made it even rarer was the fact that it had laid on the seabed for over thousands of years. Its golden red and transparent color and natural pattern on its shell made it a top treasure among all clams!

The starting price for this item was nine million dollars.

Chapter 152

The crowd started bidding and very soon, the price of the clam increased to twelve million dollars.

Many people stopped bidding as soon as the price exceeded their limit. However, the people who knew the value of the clam continued bidding for it.

At this time, Jack suddenly stood up before he said, "I bid fifteen million dollars for it!"

After that, he turned around before he bowed and said, "Dear friends, the reason why I am here at the auction today is because of this clam. Therefore, I hope everyone will give up on bidding for this item so I can bring it home with me today. I will give everyone here today a peace talisman as a token of my gratitude."

Most of the guests who were present today were bosses and businessmen who knew of Jack's reputation. No one dared to offend him.

If he was unhappy, he could probably do something that would cost the other party his entire fortune or family!

Besides that, he would also be giving out a peace talisman worth two hundred thousand dollars to all the guests here today. Therefore, even though many of the guests felt unhappy, they chose to bear with it as it seemed as though their trip here was not in vain.

At this time, Finn had a calm expression on his face even though he was very unhappy.

Initially, the rules of an auction was that the item would always go to the highest bidder but it seems as though Jack was trying to break the rules.

If he could really pay fifteen million dollars for the clam, earning less money would not be a big deal for Finn but if this news got around, it would definitely affect the reputation of Treasure Pavilion. Moreover, this would also be very damaging to the auction industry.

However, Finn knew that Jack was very skilled and powerful. Therefore, it would not be wise to offend him. It seemed as though he could only give up and hand the clam over to him.

Jack was initially very arrogant but at this time, he could not hold back his excitement at all.

He had flown all the way to Aurouss Hilll just to obtain this treasure and even though there were several setbacks, he finally got what he wanted!

Why would fifteen million dollars matter to him?

As long as this clam belonged to him, he would definitely make a fortune!

Moreover, everyone was silent at this time as it seemed like no one else dared to bid against him.

He was indeed the master!

Who would not give up anything for the great and reputable Mr. Yalerman?

It seemed as though he had gotten a good deal for just fifteen million dollars!

At this time, a faint voice suddenly sounded again.

"I will pay thirty million dollars for it!"

As soon as this voice rang out, everyone was quiet again.

However, everyone was staring at the bidder in shock.

It was him again!

It was the young man who was dressed in ordinary and casual clothing. At first glance, there was nothing extraordinary about him at all. However, he won in two impressive bids against Adam.

Moreover, he simply swiped his black card and paid for his purchases on the spot. He was really awesome.

However, no one would have expected him to have the courage to challenge Jack.

As soon as Jack saw Charlie Wade's face, he could not help but glare at him.

At this time, Adam stood up as he rubbed his eyes vigorously as he was clearly in shock.

Jasmine also did not expect Charlie Wade to make an offer against Jack.

She knew that Charlie Wade was very skilled and had an amazing ability to appraise antiques. However, she never knew that Charlie Wade had so much assets and money.

In fact, Jasmine did not dare to offend Jack but she could not help but wonder why Charlie Wade was so courageous. Wasn't he afraid that Jack would take revenge against him?

Jacob Wilson was the first person to regain his senses and he quickly tugged at Charlie Wade's sleeves before he said, "Charlie Wade, what are you doing? Sit down!"

"Dad, I know what I am doing."

Charlie Wade turned around and raised his head with a calm expression on his face.

"Charlie Wade, what are you trying to do? Why are you snatching Mr. Yaleman's belongings?" Adam took the initiative to question Charlie Wade in a cold manner.

At this time, Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "This is an auction. Everyone has the right to bid for the item. What do you mean when you say I am snatching something belonging to him? Don't you understand the rules of an auction?"

After he was done speaking, Charlie Wade sneered before he continued, "You...you should just sit there and keep your mouth shut. Aren't you ashamed after embarrassing yourself twice in a day?"

Adam felt embarrassed as soon as he heard Charlie Wade's words. Therefore, he sat down immediately without even retaliating at all.

Jack had a gloomy expression on his face as he continued glaring at Charlie Wade. "It's you again! Do you know who I am and where I came from? I am Jack Yalman! You dare snatch something belonging to me?"

Charlie Wade sneered before he asked, "I don't care who you are but I am going to outbid you today! What are you going to do about that?"

Chapter 153

Jack was going crazy!

He was well-known in his own city and all over the country. Everyone here today respected him with all their hearts but this young kid was actually so arrogant towards him. He had even tried to trample all over him several times already. This was really annoying!

What was even worse was that he actually dared to scold him!

He must have a death wish!

The people present at the auction were also shocked at this time.

Who was this young man? Who gave him the courage to challenge and scold Jack? Was he already tired of living? Jack was a Feng Shui master who had more than ten thousand ways to kill him without involving any blood at all!

However, even though Jack was very furious, he remained calm and composed as he wanted to get the clam at a lower price. Therefore, he still maintained his demeanor before he smiled and said, "My friend, I know that we've both had a misunderstanding before the auction earlier but this is a little too much. If you are bidding against me just because of that slight misunderstanding, that would be too revengeful, right?"

Jack was preparing to take home the clam at fifteen million dollars. He knew that if he went straight into a heads on confrontation with Charlie Wade, the next bid will definitely exceed thirty million dollars.

He did not want to spend so much money today!

Therefore, he swallowed and waited with the hopes that Charlie Wade would withdraw his bid.

He would settle the score with him as soon as he bought the clam over for fifteen million dollars!

Charlie Wade could see right through his intentions. Therefore, he said contemptuously, "Stop talking nonsense, I'm also interested in this clam. If you cannot afford to pay the price I'm asking for, you can back out of the bid!"

Things were getting out of hand again!

Oh my!

This young man had actually asked Jack to back out of the bid..

That was a little too much, right?

Jack had a cold expression on his face but in order to save money, he continued speaking in a gentle tone. "I really like this clam. Can you give me face and just let me have it?"

Charlie Wade glanced at him before he replied flatly, "Why should I? Do I even know you?"

After that, Charlie Wade asked again, "Hey, can you just let me know if you can afford to bid against me?"

The expression on Jack's face was very ugly at this time. No one had ever dared to speak to him like this!

Moreover, the other party was only about twenty years old at most! He was even younger than all of his disciples and grandchildren!

Jack was so annoyed that he could not be bothered to maintain his demeanor any longer. Therefore, he replied coldly, "It is unexpected that someone would refuse to respect me when I am the reputable and well-known Mr. Yalerman! Alright then. Since this is a fair competition, then whoever pays the higher price gets to take the treasure home with him! I really want to see how wealthy you are and how you are going to take this clam away from me!"

After that, Jack raised his hand and shouted, "Fifty million dollars!"

As soon as he placed his bid, the audience started whispering among themselves again.

It seemed as though the auction hall had turned into a gambling den and the atmosphere in the auction hall was very lively at this time.

The rules were simple!

It all depended on who had more money!

The one with more money was the king of the battle!

Jack had a very simple thought in his head. He thought that if he fought with Charlie Wade bit by bit, the battle would definitely go on endlessly. Therefore, he wanted to scare him off with a price that would be too suffocating for him. That was the reason why he had called for fifty million dollars immediately. Jack was certain that Charlie Wade would not be able to match his price!

However, Charlie Wade had a straight expression on his face before he spoke up again.

"One hundred million dollars!"

The auction price doubled again!

The atmosphere in the auction hall was extremely intense.

Within a few minutes, the price of the treasure had already increased tenfold! This was really a significant and unforgettable moment in auction history!

At this time, Adam could not help but shout, "Charlie Wade! Are you sure you have that amount of money or are you just pretending to be rich?"

Charlie Wade could not stop himself from laughing out loud at this time. "Yes, I have the money with me now. Why? Are you still not convinced? Well, I might as well tell you the truth, then. In fact, the black card that I've been using to pay for all my purchases belongs to the Quinton family. Your uncle gave me the black card. So, is this really unexpected? Are you surprised?"

Chapter 154

"You! You!" Adam's face was flushed red as he yelled, "You b*stard! How dare you cheat the Quinton family's money? I am going to crush you sooner or later, you liar!"

Jack turned around at this time before he looked at Adam and asked, "Mr. Quinton, do you know this person?"

Adam snorted before he replied "All I know is that he is the son-in-law of the Wilson family. He does not have a job and he lives off his wife. Recently, he managed to coax my second uncle into giving him some money..."

"Is that so?"

Jack asked as he raised his brows. At this time, he snorted because he felt completely reassured at this time.

"Alright then, young man. I would advise you not to be so arrogant. Otherwise, you'd be the one to suffer in the end. I am not looking down on you, but are you sure you can afford to pay one hundred million dollars?"

Charlie Wade's face was very cold as he replied, "You don't have to worry if I have enough money or if I can afford to pay the money. If you want to fight against me, then you should continue bidding. Otherwise, you should just shut your mouth and back out right now."

Jack could not tolerate him any longer and he started cursing immediately. "Young man! You're really seeking death!"

Charlie Wade laughed before he said, "I am seeking death? Is it really up to you? You can't even afford to pay for the things that you want to buy and you're already thinking of how you can get rid of me? Hahaha. You're really such a fool!"

Jack finally reached his limits because Charlie Wade kept ridiculing him. Therefore, he suddenly shouted out loud, "Young man, you'd better give me what I want and let me have the treasure now! Otherwise, it will be useless for you to have the treasure when you'll be losing your life!"

As soon as he said that, the expression on Finn's face changed immediately because Jack was obviously trying to break the rules and tarnish the reputation of Treasure Pavilion.

His face turned blue and he felt very uncomfortable but he did not dare to refute the Feng Shui master.

Charlie Wade smiled slightly as he said, "If you really want to take my life, you still have to wait for the auction to end, don't you? The auction is not over yet and I'm willing to pay one hundred million dollars for the clam. If you want to fight for it, then you'll have to continue bidding against me!"

Jasmine was very surprised at this time because Jack was not an ordinary person. Even the Moore family did not have the power or capacity to deal with someone like him.

However, she could not understand why Charlie Wade was so intent on offending Jack. Where did he find the confidence and courage to do so?

Jacob Wilson fell to the sofa as he held his hand against his chest. He could feel his heart beating frantically at this time as he panted in shock. "It's over. This time, everything is over. My son-in-law is done for and the entire Wilson family will be completely destroyed."

Jack's face was stiff and Charlie Wade did not move an inch after saying those words to him.

However, Charlie Wade was right. This was an auction and if he wanted to get his hands on the clam, he would have to continue bidding for it.

But, one hundred million dollars...

Who would be able to afford that?

At this time, everyone had their eyes fixed on Jack as they waited for his response.

Jack was very furious at this time but for the sake of the treasure, he calmed himself down and suppressed his anger before he said in a low voice:

"My friend, if I've ever offended you in any way before this, I'm really sorry about it. It was unintentional and I hope that you can forgive me."

"But this clam is something really useful to me and I really need it. Please do me a favor and let me have it instead. I promise to return the favor!"

Jack's eyes flickered under the lights because he could not believe that this young man actually had the guts to embarrass and humiliate him in front of everyone else. After this matter was resolved, he would have to teach him a lesson!

Charlie Wade replied faintly at this time, "I'm really sorry but it is also very useful and valuable to me. I can't let you have it."

"Furthermore, I believe I've already mentioned this earlier, but you're just a bully and your favor means nothing to me at all!"

Jack broke down at this time.

All that Jack could think of right now was that he would have to find a way to kill Charlie Wade as soon as the auction was over!

He had to kill him!

The people at the auction hall could not help but sigh at the situation that was unfolding before them. They did not expect this young man to challenge Jack all the way to the end.

After that, the auctioneer finally dropped his gavel and Charlie Wade succeeded in the bid for the clam for the price of one hundred million dollars.

Jack was so angry and he glanced bitterly at Charlie Wade before he left the auction hall immediately.

He wanted to kill Charlie Wade on the spot but circumstances did not allow it. He had to resolve this matter slowly.

Jasmine stared at Jack's back as he walked away slowly before she reminded Charlie Wade, "Mr. Yalman is not an ordinary person. I don't think he'll give up so easily. He'll definitely try to cause some trouble for you. You should be careful and look out for yourself and your family."

Charlie Wade smiled as he replied, "I'm just afraid that he won't come for me!"

Chapter 155

One hundred million dollars in exchange for a clam.

Everyone thought that Charlie Wade was insane but Charlie Wade did not care at all.

On the way back home, Charlie Wade explained to Jacob Wilson that he need not worry because the one hundred million dollars that he spent at the auction had already been authorized by the Quinton family. Charlie Wade was afraid that Jacob Wilson would be frightened and worried about what the Quinton family would do to them.

After arriving home, Charlie Wade began studying the clam immediately since Claire Wilson Wilson had not returned home from work yet.

The size of the clam was about the size of a regular tyre. It had already been cleaned up and after a simple polishing work, it revealed a golden-red and transparent smooth shell.

Charlie Wade managed to break it into several pieces without much effort at all.

He picked up one of the pieces as he began inspecting it.

As expected, there were three white beads attached to the back of the shell.

This was the Holy Pearl of the Ocean, one of the Seven Treasures of Buddhism, and since it was enclosed in this clam shell, it was even more spiritual.

Moreover, only shellfish with a life span of more than a hundred years would have any psychic and spiritual powers contained within them. They were formed by absorbing the essence of the ocean.

The Holy Pearl of the Ocean was one of the rarest and most spiritual treasures in the world that could not be easily found. This was the reason why Charlie Wade had to purchase it no matter how much it cost.

Charlie Wade was very satisfied because he had found a total of three Holy Pearls of the Ocean in the clam.

Charlie Wade subsequently brought out the Lightning Stricken Dragon Blood Wood before he used reiki to print several of his handprints on the wood according to the Apocalyptic Book.

As soon as he printed his handprints on the wood, he could immediately feel a strong and thunderous breath emitting from the wood.

When the Holy Pearl of the Ocean encountered the thunderous breath, a golden light enclosed the holy pearl as it absorbed the thunderous breath continuously.

Charlie Wade picked up the Holy Pearl of the Ocean before he began to chant in front of the artifact.

Very soon, the Holy Pearl of the Ocean gradually formed to perfection as it shone in his hand.

After that, Charlie Wade took the purple pearl necklace that he had won at the auction that day and took some pearls from it before mixing it up with the clam shards and one of the Holy Pearl of the Ocean. Finally, he formed them into a bracelet.

The remaining Holy Pearl of the Ocean were also in top condition.

Charlie Wade picked up one of the holy pearls before he refined it into a stun talisman as he planned to bring it to Graham.

Charlie Wade was certain that the Quinton family would definitely be able to deal with the evil spirit after he gave them the stun talisman made out of husk shell and combined with the thunderous breath that specialized in getting rid of evil spirits.

After he was done with all of these, Charlie Wade realized that he still had a lot of clam shards left. Since it was still early at this time, Charlie Wade held the clam shards in his hands as he tried to make a Thunder Order.

According to the Apocalyptic Book, the Thunder Order was a low level magic weapon that could be used mainly to summon thunder and rain.

As soon as he was done practicing the skills needed for the Thunder Order, Charlie Wade heard some movements in the living room.

It seemed as though his wife was already home.

Charlie Wade hurriedly kept the remaining pieces of the clam shards under the bed before he walked out of the bedroom with the bracelet freshly made out of the purple pearls and the holy pearl.

As soon as he raised his head, he saw Claire Wilson Wilson standing in the living room as she looked helplessly at her mother, Elaine Ma.

When Charlie Wade walked over to the both of them, he saw Elaine Ma showing off her wrist because she was wearing the jade bracelet that Graham had given to him when they met at Antique Street.

Elaine Ma was very excited as she exclaimed, "Claire Wilson Wilson, this jade bracelet is really amazing! Everyone was praising me when I wore it out today. I felt so delighted!"

Claire Wilson Wilson stared at her mother in a helpless manner as she replied, "Mom! Isn't this the jade bracelet that Charlie Wade brought home a few days ago? How could you wear it out without saying a word? I thought I'd lost it!"

Elaine Ma stared at Claire Wilson Wilson before she replied, "I'm your mother! What's wrong with me wearing your bracelet? Just let me wear it for a few more days. I'm very happy with the attention that I am receiving because of this jade bracelet!"

When he saw that the mother and daughter were arguing, Charlie Wade quickly hurried over to them before he said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, it's okay. Your mother can have the jade bracelet if she likes it. I've just made a new bracelet and I am planning to give it to you."

"What bracelet is it?" Elaine Ma asked as she grabbed it from Charlie Wade's hand.

However, when she saw that it was simply a bracelet made out of pearls and clam shells, she threw it at Claire Wilson Wilson before she said, "Oh, it's just another one of those worthless things again!"

Chapter 156

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson took the bracelet in her hand before she asked, "Charlie Wade, you made this yourself, right?"

"Yes."

Charlie Wade nodded before he replied, "This pearl and clam shard necklace has the effect of calming the nerves and it will help you to sleep well at night. If you wear it often, it will also help you to ward off evil. It was a little too rushed today that is why the workmanship is a little rough. I promise to make you a more beautiful bracelet when I have the opportunity to do so in the future."

Before he could even finish his sentence, Claire Wilson Wilson smiled and said, "Thank you, Charlie Wade. I like it very much."

"I am glad that you like it."

Charlie Wade heaved a huge sigh of relief at this time.

The jade bracelet that he gave to Claire Wilson Wilson before this was in fact very precious and valuable. However, Claire Wilson Wilson did not wear it much.

In fact, Claire Wilson Wilson was a very simple and casual person. She did not care much about gold or silver jewelry and she did not like to wear anything that is too showy.

However, Charlie Wade could tell that Claire Wilson Wilson really seemed to like this handmade bracelet.

When Elaine Ma saw that Claire Wilson Wilson was really impressed and in love with the broken handmade bracelet, she muttered under her breath, "It is not even gold or jade. It is just a bracelet made out of worthless shells and pearls. What is the use?"

Charlie Wade smiled because he did not want to argue with her.

Moreover, it was fine even if Claire Wilson Wilson did not know the value of the bracelet. If Claire Wilson Wilson were to find out that this was a magic bracelet that the rich would bid at least a billion dollar for, then she would not want to wear it at all.

After giving the bracelet to Claire Wilson Wilson, Charlie Wade went out to look for a courier in the city in order to mail the stun talisman and return the black card to Graham.

This way, he would at least have a satisfactory explanation for Graham.

...

At the Quinton family mansion, Jack was sitting on the sofa in the living room at this time and he had a very gloomy expression on his face. He had not said a single word since he entered the house.

His main purpose in making this trip to Aurouss Hilll was simply to get this treasure. He knew that the Holy Pearls of the Ocean was embedded in the clam and he knew that if he used the clam to make magical artifacts, he would be able to make a lot of money out of it. The value of the treasure was immeasurable!

However, he did not expect Charlie Wade to disrupt his plans. He could not stop gritting his teeth in anger.

Adam was standing beside Jack with his hands by his side in a respectful manner.

Mystery Court was a very well-known place and everyone in the Quinton family recognized Jack immediately. Therefore, all the members of the Quinton family came out to greet him respectfully.

Graham also smiled as he complimented Jack. "Welcome. I really did not expect you to make a trip to our humble house, Mr. Yalerman. The Quinton family is really fortunate to have you here today."

Jack took a sip of the tea in his hands before he placed the cup on the table and spoke up.

"I ran into Mr. Quinton at the auction today and he invited me to come to your house to read your fortune for you."

In fact, Graham was already prepared to teach Adam a lesson for sneaking out of the house. However, when he saw that Adam had invited the reputable Jack to their house, he was a little less furious at him.

"Mr. Yalerman, please take your time and make yourself at home."

Jack nodded before he said, "If I am not wrong, the Quinton family has already experienced bad luck and misfortune over the past two years. I am afraid that someone in the family had contact with an ominous thing. One of you has also gotten into a bloody disaster last year. As for this year..."

After that, Jack glanced around the mansion with a mysterious expression on his face before he sighed. "I think that the Quinton family's fortune is really at risk right now. If this situation persists, the entire Quinton family will be completely destroyed!"

Graham turned pale as soon as he heard Jack's words. After that, he pleaded in a respectful manner, "Mr. Yalerman, you are indeed an expert from Mystery Court. The Quinton family has really experienced a lot of bad luck and misfortune in the past two years. Please help us!"

Everyone in the Quinton family was also surprised!

Jack was truly an expert in this matter.

Since he had not gotten a response from Charlie Wade, Graham was starting to get a little impatient.

When Jack appeared at his house today, Graham felt as though he had finally met his lifesaver! Therefore, he quickly asked, "Mr. Yalaman, do you have a solution?"

"Of course, there are ways."

Jack replied slowly before he frowned suddenly. "However, it seems as though someone had used a magic trick to confuse your family lately. It seems as though whatever this person did has messed up the Feng Shui in this house and hastened the demise of the Quinton family. If you allow this person to continue to harm your family, I'm afraid that all the Quinton family members will die within half a year!"

Chapter 157

"What? A trick on the family?"

Graham was stunned for a moment.

Charlie Wade was the only one who had done anything to change the Feng Shui of the Quinton family recently.

Graham was very convinced with Charlie Wade's skills and abilities. Therefore, he quickly asked, "Mr. Yalaman, are you sure about this? There has indeed been someone who has recently helped to deal with the Feng Shui in my house. His name is Mr. Wade. However, it seems as though his methods had been working well so far. I don't think that he'd cast a spell or magic trick on us."

Jack snorted before he shouted, "There are some people who pretend to be God and they're the best at deceiving ignorant people! If you are willing to continue trusting him, then I will just leave immediately!"

"Mr. Yalaman, please stay." Graham panicked as he tried to stop Jack from leaving. "Could you please enlighten me, Mr. Yalaman? Could you please tell me what is wrong with his methods?"

At this time, Jack reached out his hand and pointed towards the hall without even raising his head. "Ask someone to bring me a bowl of water."

Graham quickly ordered his servant to bring a bowl of clear water before them.

After that, Jack dipped his finger in the bowl of water before he placed a few talismans in the bowl of water. After he was done, Jack flicked the water at Graham's eyes.

As soon as Graham opened his eyes, he was suddenly filled with fear as he backed away from Jack.

"Mr. Yalerman, what...what is this?"

Graham suddenly saw the Quinton family mansion covered in a strange layer of black smoke.

Furthermore, there was a wisp of lifeless gray smoke above the heads of the Quinton family members and all of their faces were as pale and lifeless as zombies!

Jack snorted before he said, "I am opening your eyes for you. You are looking at the future of the Quinton family. All of you will drop dead soon!"

Graham was so frightened that he fell onto the sofa before he muttered, "What should I do about this?"

"I guess it is fate that I am here today, so I will help you because this seems to be our destiny."

Jack took out a peace talisman from his pocket before he handed it over to Graham.

When Graham took the peace talisman in his hand, he saw that it was glowing and there was a faint golden light emitting from it.

Moreover, the vision that Graham was seeing disappeared and everything returned to its original state as soon as Jack handed the peace talisman over to Graham.

"This...this..." Graham was breaking out in cold sweat at this time as he hurriedly said, "Mr. Yalerman, you really are incredible. Please save the Quinton family and help us to get out of this misfortune that we have landed ourselves into. I am willing to pay however much it costs to get rid of all this bad luck!"

"It is my mission to save people and give them peace. That is the reason I am here today."

Jack continued speaking as he took out a dozen more peace talisman before he handed it over to Graham. "Give this to all of your family members and tell them to carry it on them at all times. This way, you will be able to get rid of all your bad luck."

Graham took the peace talisman from Jack before he hesitated for a moment. "How can I repay you for your kindness, Mr. Yalerman?"

Jack waved his hand before he replied, "Helping someone to get rid of his misfortune is also a form of merit. I do not wish to accept any money from you today. However, if a swindler tries to convince you to spend a lot of money to purchase any magic weapon, you must remember to reject it at all cost."

At this time, Adam, who was standing next to Graham, quickly spoke up. "Second Uncle, look! I already told you that Charlie Wade is a liar! He took our family's money and he doesn't even know what he's doing! He must return us all the money that he took! Otherwise, I'll sue him for fraud and make sure that he spends the rest of his life in prison!"

Aurora frowned as she thought about the entire situation. She did not know why but she felt as though Jack was the one who was lying to them.

Apart from being a little cold and having no EQ, Charlie Wade did not seem like a bad person. Moreover, Charlie Wade gave her a sense of security and warmth even without doing anything at all.

Chapter 158

"You, shut up!" Graham said as he glared at Adam. After that, he turned towards Jack before he said in a respectful manner, "Thank you for your advice. I will definitely pay more attention to these things in future."

Jack nodded in a meaningful manner before he got up and left.

As soon as Jack left the mansion, Adam immediately said, "Second Uncle, Mr. Yalerman is a very well-known master from Mystery Court. How can a liar like Charlie Wade even be compared to him? This time, Mr. Yalerman is even willing to help to solve our family problems without even taking a single penny from us!"

"Mr. Yalerman did not even take a single penny from us but Charlie Wade has already cheated our family of so much money! He even spent more than a hundred million dollars just to buy a broken clam at the auction today! This is a scam! This is definitely a scam! Second Uncle, why are you so willing to give him so much money? Why do you trust him so much? If word about this matter gets out, wouldn't the people in Aurouss Hilll treat the Quinton family as fools?"

Graham was silent at this time but he had a doubtful expression on his face.

He knew that Jack was indeed very reputable in the country. Moreover, he could not forget the vision that Jack had shown him earlier. It was so vivid and real and he had no choice but to believe what he saw.

Most importantly, Jack did not take a single penny from them today. On the other hand, Charlie Wade had spent so much of the Quinton family's money at the auction today...

The more he thought about the situation, the more he felt that there was something wrong with Charlie Wade!

At this time, the Quinton family's butler suddenly knocked on the door before he stepped in after getting permission from Graham.

"Mr. Quinton, there is an express delivery for you."

After he was done speaking, he handed a paper box over to Graham.

Graham frowned as he unpacked the paper box. After that, he found a talisman inside the paper box.

He took a closer look at the talisman at this time and he found out that it was just a thin piece of shell about the size of a matchbox. Moreover, there it was attached to a piece of cheap red string and it looked just like any other shell sold at random tourist attractions.

Graham looked at the sender's information and he realized that it was from Charlie Wade.

There were also a few words written on a piece of paper in the box: "Stun talisman. Hang it up in the main hall to break and get rid of the evil spirit."

Adam cursed out loud as soon as he saw the talisman. "Damn it, Second Uncle! Charlie Wade is taking you for a fool! He's sent you a broken piece of clam shell and this could be a clam shell bought from any random place! Do you really think that this would help us to get rid of any evil spirit?"

"Moreover, do you really think that this broken shell should be worth one hundred million dollars? He does not care about you and he's not giving you any face at all! The fact that he sent you this talisman by courier proves that he does not have the guts to face you! If Charlie Wade is not a liar, why else is he doing this?"

Adam continued shouting, "Second Uncle, why don't we get someone to beat Charlie Wade up so that we can get our money back? Otherwise, if Charlie Wade runs away, we will suffer a huge loss!"

"Shut up and let me think this through," Graham said as he rubbed his brows. He stared at the symbol on the shell and he was not certain whether it had any magical or spiritual powers at all.

After hesitating for a moment, Graham summoned all the members of the Quinton family before he said, "This is a matter of life and death for the Quinton family. Therefore, it is of great importance to me. I will visit Charlie Wade personally tomorrow to ask him what is going on exactly. For the time being, I want everyone to carry the peace talisman that Mr. Yalaman has given to us at all times! Do not take it off!"

"Yes!"

"Second Uncle, I want to come with you!" Adam said as he gritted his teeth. "That Charlie Wade had done a lot of harm to me and our family. I have to go over there and break his legs myself!"

"You? Are you sure you can do it?"

Graham frowned before he replied, "If you really want to come along, make sure that you bring a few more bodyguards with you tomorrow. I want you to inquire about Charlie Wade's whereabouts tomorrow so we can be prepared to confront him."

After he was done speaking, Graham paused for a moment before he reminded Adam again, "Remember, I'm not asking you to cause any trouble for Charlie Wade. I do not want you to act recklessly and get beaten up again!"

Adam was overjoyed at this time and he replied immediately, "I understand."

Graham continued speaking in a serious voice, "Even though the Quinton family is not the most prestigious family in Aurouss Hilll, I won't tolerate anyone who tries to deceive me. If anyone tries to deceive me, I'll also retaliate in the most appropriate manner! Therefore, I must get to the bottom of this matter and find out if Charlie Wade is really a liar. If he has been lying and treating me as a fool, I'll not let him off so easily!"

Chapter 159

After leaving the Quinton family, Jack started planning his next course of action.

Of course, he wanted to take revenge on Charlie Wade. He wanted to take back what Charlie Wade had stolen from him. However, what he had done so far was not enough!

The reason why he came to Aurouss Hilll this time was to establish a strong connection in Aurouss Hilll. He planned to recruit a group of believers so that he could establish his career further.

Therefore, he had to come up with a masterplan to kill two birds with one stone.

He wanted everyone in Aurouss Hilll to think of Charlie Wade as nothing but a swindler!

Charlie Wade did not know that Jack was planning to use him as a sacrificial lamb to advance his own career.

As he was busy buying vegetables to prepare dinner in the evening, Charlie Wade suddenly received a phone call from Jasmine.

After answering the call, Jasmine spoke to him in a serious manner as she said directly, "Mr. Wade, it seems as though Mr. Yalaman has invited some antique, Feng Shui, and metaphysics masters to attend a banquet that would be held at the White family mansion. He wants me to ask you if you have the time to attend this banquet."

"The White family? Who are they?"

Jasmine replied, "The White family is a middle-class family with two male descendants, Gerald White and Kevin White."

"Why would Mr. Yaleman choose to hold the banquet at the White family mansion?" Charlie Wade asked in suspicion.

Jasmine continued explaining, "Things have not been going well for the White family recently. His son, Kevin, and his nephew, Gerald, have been getting into trouble, one after the other. Therefore, the White family's business has also been deteriorating. The White family has begged Mr. Yaleman to make a trip to their house because they want him to help change the Feng Shui and fate of their family."

Jasmine continued, "Since Mr. Yaleman also invited a bunch of metaphysics masters to the banquet tomorrow, I believe that he has some other intentions in mind aside from making some money from the White family."

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied nonchalantly, "I guess he's trying to retaliate and take revenge against me because I snatched the clam from him at the auction earlier. I guess he's trying to set me up. Don't you think so?"

However, Charlie Wade continued speaking, "But I will still attend the banquet because I want to see what kind of tricks he has up his sleeves."

As soon as he promised to come, Jasmine replied, "Alright then. I will pick you up in the morning tomorrow and we will head to the White family mansion together."

"That sounds perfect to me."

...

Early the next morning, Jasmine drove to Charlie Wade's house to pick him up.

The White family mansion was located in a suburban area on the mountain and surrounded by spectacular scenery.

All of the pavilions and terraces in the White family garden was built in an antique style. It seemed as though the White family had spent hundreds of millions of dollars to renovate their mansion so that they could receive and entertain guests in a distinguished and stylish manner.

There were also dozens of yellow rosewood chairs outside the pavilion by the lake. More than a dozen guests were sitting down as they chatted with one another and laughed from time to time.

The person sitting at the main seat was a fat, middle-aged man. He was none other than Zeke White, Kevin's father.

Moreover, Jack was sitting beside him at this time.

Aside from these two persons, Charlie Wade also met two acquaintances, Travis Lane, the richest man in Lancaster and also Matthew Gibson, the man accompanying him.

As soon as the both of them saw Charlie Wade coming in, Travis and Matthew nodded to acknowledge his presence immediately.

However, Zeke only glanced at Charlie Wade with a cold expression on his face when he saw him.

He obviously knew that Kevin and Gerald had suffered a loss because of Charlie Wade. Therefore, he was not very pleased to see him.

When Finn saw the both of them, he quickly stood up before he said, "Mr. Wade and Miss Moore, you're finally here."

Chapter 160

Charlie Wade nodded before he smiled and said, "I've come to meet all the masters here today."

A middle-aged man dressed in a long gown asked in surprise, "So, is this the buyer who bought the final treasure at the auction for one hundred million dollars?"

Finn smiled before he introduced Charlie Wade to the crowd. "Yes, this is Mr. Wade."

"What? Can he be considered a master too?" Zeke asked as he glanced at Charlie Wade disdainfully. After that, he smiled before he said, "It seems as though anyone can call themselves a master nowadays. Any piece of trash on the street can also call themselves a master. However, though Mr. Yalman is truly a master, he is so humble and he always keeps a low-profile."

The crowd of people felt very awkward as soon as Zeke finished speaking.

Even though Zeke was belittling Charlie Wade on purpose, everyone else agreed that Charlie Wade could not be called a master, whether because of his age or the way he dressed.

Almost all of the guests present here today were masters in the metaphysics world. Therefore, many of the guests felt that it was really inappropriate for Finn to call Charlie Wade a master because that would place him on an equal footing with them.

At this time, Jack stood up before he smiled and said in a calm manner, "It's okay. Calm down, everyone. I'd like to take advantage of this banquet to get to know each one of you better. I believe that all of us will know who the real master who's worthy of this title and reputation is at the end of the day."

Everyone who was present could not help but stare at Charlie Wade as soon as Jack spoke those words.

What was this young man doing here today?

Jasmine could not stop herself from frowning at this time. She had already expected Jack to make Charlie Wade a target in an attempt to get back at him. However, she did not expect the atmosphere to be so solemn as soon as they had arrived.

Charlie Wade had a cold and indifferent expression on his face as he walked towards his chair and he sat down as he ignored everyone around him.

When Zeke saw that all of the guests had already arrived, he quickly said, "Since everyone is already here, I would like to explain that the reason why Mr. Yalman decided to hold the banquet at the White family mansion today is because he wants to get to know every one of you. Secondly, he would like to compare everyone's skills and abilities."

"How do we compare our skills?" someone asked.

"Naturally, it is based on the magical and spiritual level."

Jack stood up at this time before he explained, "The rules are very simple. As we all know, there are five disciplines in the metaphysics circle. You can select the category you are good at and choose any of the opponents you wish to compete with!"

"In order to make this a formal event, the funds will be sponsored by the White family. The winner of the competition will walk away with five million dollars and the loser will also receive fifty thousand dollars as a consolation prize."

The rules seemed pretty reasonable and most of the guests nodded in agreement because they could actually make money from this competition.

In fact, all the masters in the metaphysics field would always keep to themselves because no one wants to reveal their skills and abilities just like that. Moreover, everyone present at the banquet today was all extremely capable and reputable people in the metaphysics circle.

If they competed against one another, they could explore each other's skills and abilities and they could also get a bonus cash reward in return. This was equivalent to killing two birds with one stone!

"Just to learn from one another?" Charlie Wade sneered as soon as he heard the rules of the competition. He knew that Jack did not simply organize the competition just so he could prove that he was superior to others.

As the guests were whispering among themselves, Zeke suddenly added another sentence, "We understand that the cash reward alone might not arouse everyone's enthusiasm as a few million dollars means nothing to everyone here."

"Therefore, we've decided to add another condition to the competition. The winner of the competition is entitled to choose to walk away with the five million dollars cash reward or to take away something belonging to the loser!"

"The winner of the competition will always be superior over everyone else and all other guests would have to show utmost respect to the winner. In the future, everyone is required to obtain the consent and agreement of the winner before doing anything in the metaphysics, Feng Shui, or antique industry!"

Everyone was silent when he finished his sentence.

After a short while, people started talking with uneasy expressions on their faces.

"What if the challenger chooses a category that the other party is not good at?"

"The metaphysics department in Newton University is the best of the best. Isn't this simply an attempt to grab territory from others?"

"Is this a joke? Newton University has always been accustomed to our own ways. It's really ridiculous to expect us to take orders from others! Moreover, there are also some people here who aren't from Newton, right?"

There were plenty of discussions among the crowd and no one had expected this so-called banquet to be an attempt by Jack to dominate the metaphysics circle!

Chapter 161

At this time, Zeke suddenly spoke up, "Everyone, please calm down. Mr. Yaleman is also doing this in consideration of the metaphysics circle! In the past, all of us were scattered all over the place. Now, if we choose to organize ourselves and form an alliance led by a single leader, it will definitely be more convenient for us to deal with any enemies in future. Moreover, if the challenger chooses a category that you aren't good at, wouldn't it be best for the rest of us? Our leader should be someone who is qualified and proficient in all aspects and disciplines in metaphysics."

After he spoke, some of the people sternly objected to the idea while some of the guests actually felt that this was indeed a good opportunity.

After all, the winner would be given the opportunity to demand something from the loser. Moreover, if they got the first place, they would also be regarded as the leader of the metaphysics world.

Metaphysics was not solely an academic term!

If someone was seriously skilled in metaphysics, then there would also be several wealthy and influential people who would cling onto them!

Therefore, not many people could refuse or turn down the temptation of power and money! Some of the guests were very excited at this time.

"Of course..." Jack stood up as he continued speaking, "I will not force anyone to participate in this competition. Anyone who is too afraid to take on the challenge can choose to withdraw immediately. However, this person will be directly excluded from our circle and he will not be given the opportunity to join any of our metaphysics alliances in future."

Everyone hesitated for a moment. Even though the risks were high, the benefits were equally rewarding.

The guests started contemplating at this time. After all, who would not be tempted to take on the leadership role of the metaphysics circle?

Charlie Wade did not say anything as he continued sitting in his chair.

He felt that Jack was too ambitious.

Charlie Wade did not have any interest in the metaphysics alliance but he planned to stay behind just to watch the show.

Very soon, a middle-aged man with a beard stood up.

After that, the man took out a piece of jade before he placed it on his palm. The jade shone brightly as the wind blew against it. At this time, the man suddenly spoke up, "I am Jared Young from Dayton. I would like to challenge Mr. Yaleman."

The Young family had always been focused on metaphysics and their main focus was on divine forecast. In fact, their skills and abilities had been passed down from generation to generation.

Jared was the forty-sixth descendant of the Young family and he was also very famous and well-known in Dayton for his abilities. Therefore, he was very proud and confident. That was why he chose Jack as his opponent even in the first challenge!

"Alright then!"

Everyone started applauding at this time.

Jared raised his head arrogantly as he said, "This piece of jade in my hand has been passed from generation to generation and it is definitely the best of the best relics for divine forecast in metaphysics. Therefore, I believe that the Young family should be ranked first in the metaphysics circle!"

At this time, Jack also walked towards the other party as he nodded at Jared before he smiled and said, "Yes, the jade that you are holding in your hand is indeed one of a kind but I am afraid that it will not belong to you soon..."

After that, Jack reached into his pocket before he took out his wallet. He looked around for a short while before he took out a small one inch long rune paper from his wallet. The rune paper had a bright luster and it seemed as though it had been marked with a cinnabar."

"The Arhat Golden Talisman!"

The crowd exclaimed excitedly as soon as they saw the golden talisman.

Jasmine took this opportunity to explain to Charlie Wade, "The Arhat Golden Talisman was made by eighteen eminent monks who chanted for forty-nine days before making the consecrated and refined talisman. It is a very powerful talisman to use against evil."

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "So, it's not a good thing."

Everyone glanced at Charlie Wade in disgust as soon as they heard his words.

At this time, Jack snorted before he said, "I might be the best at divine forecast but I trust in the abilities of this talisman."

Everyone knew that the Arhat Golden Talisman was a very rare treasure. It was made after gathering eighteen accomplished monks at a favorable time, place, and condition. Therefore, the rate of enlightenment that a person would have after using this talisman was more than ninety percent!

Moreover, the golden talisman in Jack's hand was emitting a golden light. It was probably worth at least a million dollars!

"Stop talking nonsense already. Let's open a hexagram now..."

Jared snorted before he started making a few gestures as he started chanting a few formulas in his mouth. After a short while, he said, "After an hour, there will be heavy winds and thunder coming from the west."

Jack smiled slightly as he raised his head and said, "Yes, there will definitely be some rumblings but it is not due to the wind or thunder. To be precise, the shock is caused by an explosion on the mountain and it is caused by man. Someone will pay the price for his actions today."

Jared frowned before he shook his head and said, "No! That is impossible. I do not see anyone in the hexagram."

Chapter 162

Mr. Yaleman simply smiled without saying anything.

Everyone was curious as they waited for the results.

An hour passed by quickly and at this time, Jared was staring into space as he was feeling a little nervous.

Suddenly, a loud bang was heard from the west! After that, a strong wind swept across the garden and there was a slight vibration from the ground.

Zeke smiled as he looked at his cell phone and said, "Based on the news feed that I have just received, it seems as though someone tried to move some quarry rocks and it caused an explosion and a 2.4 magnitude earthquake in the west. The police have already arrested the culprit."

At this time, Jared raised his head and he no longer looked as arrogant as he was before this. He smiled awkwardly before he said, "Mr. Yalaman, you're really incredible! I admit defeat. Today, I, Jared Young, have lost to you. I will withdraw from this banquet immediately."

After that, Jared picked up his jade before he turned around as he was prepared to leave.

"Slow down!" Zeke suddenly shouted. "Mr. Young, since you've already participated in the competition, then you should abide by the rules."

"What rule are you referring to?" Jared asked with a sullen expression on his face.

"According to the rules, if you lose, the winner has a right to take something belonging to you! Moreover, you have to make a public declaration stating that you will show utmost respect to and obey all of Mr. Yalaman's instructions in future."

"Nonsense! This is just a banquet. There is no way I will allow you to rob me of my magic weapon just like that. Moreover, you are dreaming if you expect me to respect and follow someone else's orders."

Jared was very annoyed at this time. He was so arrogant and he had such a bad temper. How could he ever succumb to someone else's orders?

Jack raised his hand as he brought out another talisman and he started chanting before he yelled, "Abide by the law!"

Crack!

At this time, Jared's jade suddenly broke into two halves as it fell to the ground.

"You!"

Jared's treasure was destroyed in front of everyone's eyes and Jared was trembling with rage at this time.

Jack said in an arrogant manner, "If you refuse to abide by the rules, then it is only right for us to destroy the magical weapon! Don't stand there and give me all these nonsensical excuses!"

Jared's face was gray as he was in shock right now. He knew that he would never be able to defeat Jack.

Jack had destroyed his family treasure in just one blow and he did not even have the power to fight back at all.

Therefore, Jared glanced at the jade on the floor before he gritted his teeth and said, "Forget it! I will not fight with this kind of despicable person!"

After that, he turned around and left with a black face without even bothering to pick up the piece of jade on the ground.

As soon as everyone witnessed this scene, the expressions on their faces changed immediately. Jack was unfathomable. Those who were initially very confident suddenly hesitated at this time.

Travis also frowned as he whispered to Matthew in a low voice.

Immediately after that, Travis stood up before he waved his hands bitterly and said, "This is such a boring banquet that I am not enjoying at all. I will take my leave first."

After that, Matthew also stood up as they both of them started making their way out of the banquet.

At this time, four strong and muscular men suddenly jumped out from left and right to block their way.

Travis asked in an angry manner, "What do you think you are doing?"

"Mr. Lane, since you are already here at the banquet today, then why are you leaving halfway through the banquet?"

Jack stepped forward as he smiled and said, "This banquet I've hosted is not a place that you can come and leave as you please. If you choose to leave now, wouldn't that be a violation of the rules?"

Travis snorted before he said, "I'm not a member of the metaphysics circle. Whoever you choose as your leader is none of my business!"

Jack sneered before he replied, "You can leave right now if you want to but you'll have to show your respect to me and leave a valuable item of yours behind!"

Chapter 163

Travis was a man with a very high status and reputation. Therefore, he felt very irritated by Jack's words. "What do you mean?"

"Mr. Lane, let me deal with him!"

Matthew said in a deep voice at this time as he stepped forward to defend Travis. "If you dare to stop Mr. Lane from leaving, then do not blame me for being merciless."

Everyone started cheering when they saw that Matthew was about to make a move.

"Mr. Gibson, let this despicable man taste the power of your fists!"

"An outsider actually wants to be in control of the entire metaphysics circle. He must be crazy! I think he should stop daydreaming."

"Hold him back. Don't let him get his way!"

At this time, Jack smiled as he glared at Matthew with a cold expression on his face. "If you really think you can defeat me, then bring it on."

Matthew was furious at this time and he launched himself towards Jack as he aimed his fist at his face. This was obviously a very powerful punch because Matthew was not an ordinary man.

"Do you really think you could do anything to me?" Everyone felt a swift movement and at this time, Jack was already standing on the other side of Matthew as he stretched out his hand and stuck a yellow talisman on his forehead.

"His movements are so quick!" Jasmine exclaimed in surprise.

At this time, Matthew stood still as though he was currently under a spell. He was stiff and motionless and the only thing that he could move at this time were his eyes.

Jack smiled slyly before he suddenly shouted.

"Get on your knees!"

"Squat down!"

Matthew suddenly fell to the ground and he was on all fours, as though he was submitting to an order.

"Mr. Gibson!" Travis yelled as he stared at the man on the ground.

The crowd of people were also exchanging glances with one another in shock.

As he was already under Jack's spell, Matthew could not resist or disobey any of his orders at all. This was how powerful Jack's spell was.

Matthew was standing on all fours on the ground and he looked extremely annoyed and frustrated at this time but it seemed as though he had no control over his body at all. At this time, he suddenly yelled in a furious manner, "You are a dog! What kind of witchcraft did you just use on me?"

"You actually thought that you could defeat me with such a low skill level?" Jack suddenly asked in a mocking tone. "I want you to bark like a dog now!"

Matthew was horrified and he tried to keep his mouth shut.

However, he could not even control his own reflexes and in the next second, he was already barking like a dog.

Travis was so shocked at this time and he almost fell to the ground.

Matthew was almost sixty years old but he was actually standing on all fours in front of Jack, acting and barking like a dog obeying its master's instructions.

This would have been a funny scene if not for the deadly silence in the background.

The crowd of people were horrified and they could feel fear creeping up their backs.

Jack had actually defeated two of the masters in a row in less than ten minutes. How could he be so powerful?

"Puppetry! This is the puppetry skills from Xenia that had been long lost!" Finn suddenly murmured with a shocked expression on his face.

After he finished speaking, there was some whispering in the background.

The puppet technique was initially a secret art technique that was passed down from the older generations in Xenia. However, it had already been long lost and this technique had not been seen in the longest time.

None of the guests would have expected to witness this puppetry technique with their own eyes. This proved that Jack's skills and abilities were limitless and it felt as though there would not be anyone here who could challenge him.

Chapter 164

At this time, Matthew was still lying on the ground and his face was flushed red with embarrassment. He could not control his own body or reflexes and he really felt like dying right then.

Jack waved his hand and Matthew lost all of his strength and he collapsed to the ground immediately. He felt extremely ashamed of himself at this time.

"Well, so are you finally convinced now, Mr. Gibson?" Zeke asked as he laughed.

Matthew gritted his teeth and blood oozed out of his gums as he murmured bitterly, "Fine, you win...you win..."

When Matthew finally lowered his head as he was utterly defeated, the whole courtyard was silent as no one dared to say anything anymore.

After that, Jack turned his head to look at Charlie Wade before he said, "So, you snatched the valuable clam that I wanted to buy at the auction the other day. Since you've already witnessed my skills and magical abilities today, do you still dare to be so arrogant now?"

Charlie Wade shrugged before he said, "Just two simple strokes and you really think that you can't be defeated?"

At this time, Jasmine hurriedly pulled Charlie Wade aside before she said in a low voice, "Mr. Wade, do not go against him at this time. Mr. Yaleman does have some skills and abilities. Do not lose your life just because of your pride and dignity."

Jack sneered before he said, "You're still so young and ignorant. Do you really have the courage to compete against me? If you lose, I want you to return the clam to me since it is rightfully mine. I also want you to go down on your knees and apologize to me!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "Competition? Who do you think you are? Do you really think that you are worthy enough to compete with me?"

The expression on everyone's faces turned solemn at this time. This young man was really courageous. Who gave him the guts to speak in that manner to Jack? Was he really tired of living?

At this time, there was dead silence in the courtyard.

Jasmine was also so shocked that she stood up immediately. She knew that things would definitely get out of hand because of Charlie Wade's words.

Jack was even angrier after listening to Charlie Wade's words. Therefore, he walked towards Charlie Wade before he said, "I've already met many different types of people in my life but none of them are like you. You seem to be deliberately courting death."

Charlie Wade smiled again before he said, "And who are you to decide who lives and die? Whatever you decide is not necessarily going to happen."

The look on Jack's face was as cold as ice as he glared at Charlie Wade.

At this time, a group of people suddenly rushed in through the door in an aggressive manner.

The men were led by their leader, Adam. As soon as Adam saw Charlie Wade, he yelled at him immediately, "Charlie Wade! You are a liar and a swindler! You pretended to be helping the Quinton family when you were just trying to deceive my second uncle and cheat the Quinton family of our money! You used the Quinton family's money to buy the treasures that you like at the auction but fortunately for us, Mr. Yaleman saw right through your deceit! Hand over the money that you owe the Quinton family now or I will not spare your life today!"

As soon as he finished his sentence, Graham and Aurora walked through the door. Graham felt very embarrassed after listening to Adam's words but it was too late to stop him.

Charlie Wade glanced at Graham but he did not say anything at all.

However, his glance made Graham feel uneasy and he hit Adam on the head before he tried to explain the situation to Charlie Wade. "Mr. Wade, so this is what happened..."

Graham did not try to hide anything from Charlie Wade but he told him everything from beginning to the end.

After listening to Graham's words, Charlie Wade frowned slightly before he asked in a cold manner, "It's just a little more than one hundred million dollars anyway. So, if you have any regrets, I can always refund you the money any time you want."

"Oh! Mr. Wade, please do not say that. Why would I dare to ask you for a refund after everything you have done for my family? I am just here today because I want to meet with the rest of the masters."

Graham could not decide whether Charlie Wade was really a very skilled and capable person or whether he was just a fool. However, since Graham was a smart man, he did not plan to turn against Charlie Wade immediately.

Even though he was complimenting Charlie Wade, there was a hint of hesitation in his voice. Graham knew that he would not be able to test Charlie Wade's skills on his own. Therefore, he planned on using Jack to do it on his behalf.

If Charlie Wade could be easily defeated by Jack, then he would not treat him so politely anymore. He would definitely force him to return all the money that he spent on his purchases, with interests included!

Therefore, he told Charlie Wade and the rest of the masters, "Then, I will not disturb and interfere in the situation right now. We will discuss this matter later. You guys should continue whatever you're doing and deal with the important things at hand first."

Adam wanted to say something but he did not dare to do so because Graham was glaring fiercely at him.

When Jack saw this, he smiled at Graham before he said, "Mr. Quinton, you came at the right time! I know how the Quinton family has been dealing with a lot of problems lately. I also understand that Charlie Wade had tried to use some talisman to help you to deal with your problem. Today, I will compete with Charlie Wade to see which one of us can come up with the best solution to help the Quinton family get rid of the evil spirit that is latching onto your family! Charlie Wade, if you do not dare to accept my challenge, then I will make sure that I do everything in my capacity to destroy you in the future!"

Charlie Wade frowned before he replied, "Since you want to die so badly, then I will grant you your wish."

Chapter 165

When Jack saw that Charlie Wade was persistent to the end, he could only sneer as he instructed Zeke. "It seems as though some people are really tired of living. No matter what it is, I will teach him where he stands. Zeke, please get me a three-pillar sandalwood, a purple gold incense burner, and a peach wooden sword. I will show him what a true master is."

Zeke did not dare to react slowly. Therefore, he quickly prepared all the items that Jack asked for.

After a short while, Jack placed the sandalwood into the incense burner. At this time, thick clear smoke from the incense filled the air.

Mr. Yaleman raised the peach wooden sword before he started chanting immediately.

At this time, Graham, who was standing next to him, suddenly felt very dizzy as though someone had just given him a few shots.

He endured it for a short while before he pleaded, "Mr. Yaleman, how long will this last..."

"The 'yin' energy in your family is very heavy right now. That is the reason why it might take some time for my magic to work. Please bear with it for a short while."

Since the master had already spoken, Graham could only bite his lips as he endured the pain he was going through.

However, the more he endured it, the more uncomfortable he felt. After a short while, he was not only feeling giddy and nauseous, but he also felt severe pain in his head.

Fortunately at this time, Graham suddenly felt something on his chest exuding a strong and warmth protection over his heart in an instance so that he would not collapse on the spot.

Graham was shocked at this time. "Is this the work of the stun talisman that Charlie Wade had given to me?"

Jack did not know what Graham was talking about. Therefore, he took a sip of water before he spit it on the wooden peach sword before he slashed the sword towards the rising smoke.

As soon as the sword swept through the smoke, Graham suddenly felt as though something had hit him hard on the head. After that, he felt something bittersweet in his throat and he vomited a mouthful of blood at this time.

"Second Uncle!"

Adam rushed forward in shock as he held Graham in his hands.

At this time, Graham's face was completely pale and he no longer had the strength to speak at all.

"Mr. Yaleman, what is happening to my second uncle?" Adam asked anxiously.

Jack had a straight expression on his face as he said, "Since the 'yin' energy of the Quinton family is too heavy, I broke it with a fierce and strong magic charm. The blood that he vomited out is from the bad energy in his body."

Graham tried to stand up straight at this time as he struggled to thank Jack. "Thank you, Mr. Yalman. I do not know how else to thank you for your kindness."

In fact, Graham felt a lot better and much more comfortable after spurting out the blood.

Moreover, Adam could also feel immediate changes in his body.

At this moment, Finn could only frowned as he said, "Mr. Yalman is really capable. The evil spirit latching onto the Quinton family is so strong but he can alleviate it so easily."

Everyone present here today were Feng Shui masters so there is no need for any explanation because anyone could tell that Jack had already gotten rid of the evil spirit that was latching onto the Quinton family. Therefore, everyone in the crowd was looking at Jack with admiration in their eyes.

"Second Uncle, let's have a seat over there," Adam said as he helped Graham to walk towards the side. At this time, he turned around to look at Charlie Wade before he said in a provocative manner, "So, what else do you have to say right now? When will you return the Quinton family's money?"

Charlie Wade curled his lips before he said, "I have no issues returning the money back to you. However, I'm afraid that Graham is going to lose his life..."

"What?" Graham exclaimed in shock.

Charlie Wade glanced at him with a cold expression on his face before he said, "Take a look at your palm right now. Is there a red line there?"

Graham was very shocked at this time and he quickly turned his palm around. After looking at his palm, he was in a state of shock.

He could see a faint red line on his palm.

The red line started from the lifeline on his palm and it extended all the way to his arm!

Graham was stunned. "What is this? It wasn't here before."

Chapter 166

Charlie Wade replied coldly, "That is your lifeline. The reason why the evil spirit could be appeased so easily is because Jack is using your life as a trade-off! Within three days, this red line will extend all the way to your elbow! After that, you will drop dead immediately. Jack is using all the virtues and good deeds that you have accumulated in your lifetime, and he is sacrificing your life in exchange for the lives of the rest of the Quinton family members!"

Graham was shocked when he heard Charlie Wade's words. He froze in place because he was utterly shocked.

Adam was also panicking at this time as he looked at the people around them.

All of the masters who were present nodded slightly as they witnessed this scene. Graham will not live for more than three days.

Adam knelt on the ground before he begged Jack, "Mr. Yalman! Please, please save my second uncle's life!"

At this time, Jack stared at Adam with an arrogant expression on his face as he sneered and said, "I have already used my magic to appease the evil spirit. How do you expect me to take it back? I am using Graham's life in exchange for the safety of the rest of the Quinton family members! You should be thanking me right now."

Aurora turned pale immediately as she bit her lower lip. After thinking for a short while, she knelt down before Charlie Wade and said, "Please, Mr. Wade. Please help my father..."

Charlie Wade glanced at her before he replied indifferently, "Since the Quinton family chose to trust in Mr. Yalman instead of me, then this has nothing to do with me anymore. Why should I help you now?"

Aurora's eyes were red as she could not stop crying at this time. She gritted her teeth and said, "Mr. Wade, if you save my father, I promise to fulfill any requests you have..."

Charlie Wade chuckled before he replied, "I have nothing that I want from you..."

At this time, Graham also ran over to Charlie Wade and knelt down before him as he cried, "Mr. Wade, I'm sorry I was blinded. Adam was the one brainwashing me..."

After that, Graham dragged Adam over to him before giving him a tight slap across the face.

Adam quickly dodged and moved aside before he could give him another slap.

Out of desperation, Aurora grabbed hold of Charlie Wade's legs as she pleaded, "Mr. Wade, please save my dad. Please help him..."

At this time, Charlie Wade sighed before he replied, "Okay, you can get up now. I was just scaring you just now. Fortunately, your father is wearing the talisman I had given him earlier. Nothing is going to happen to him now."

Graham was doubtful and he held the stun talisman that he was wearing over his neck in his hand before he said, "Is this talisman working?"

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "Yes, take a look at your palm. The red line must be fading quickly because of the talisman. Mr. Yalerman needs to try harder to defeat the power of my talisman."

Graham looked at his arm and he saw that the red line had dimmed a little and it was gradually fading away. He was overjoyed at this moment and he quickly said, "Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Wade. If it wasn't for you today, I would have..."

Charlie Wade waved his hand and said, "You are lucky that you came here with the stun talisman on you today. Otherwise, there is nothing I would be able to do for you either."

After he was done speaking, Charlie Wade turned around and looked at Jack before he said, "The result is obvious now. Aren't you going to admit defeat?"

After realizing the situation, Adam finally came over to Charlie Wade and knelt down before him before he apologized to him without saying anything else.

Jack's face turned blue and he glared at Charlie Wade before he said, "How can you say that you've won just because of that talisman? Do you know that I really wanted to spare your life but it seems as though you are very stubborn and persistent? I am giving you one last chance to live. I will let you off today if you hand the clam over to me and kneel down and apologize to me right now!"

Jack did not want to play his last card but since Charlie Wade had already defeated him, he had no other choice but to do so. Otherwise, the banquet that he planned today would be all for nothing.

However, once he were to play his last card, everyone here could die if he could not control his powers completely!

At this time, Charlie Wade stared at him before he said, "And what if I refuse to do so?"

"You've forced me to do this!" Jack said as he took out a black porcelain jar from the box next to him as soon as he was done speaking.

A few mosquitoes flew out of the altar before they instantly pounced on the meat on the table before they started chewing on the meat.

Jasmine was very skeptical as she said, "This...is Mr. Yalerman raising mosquitoes?"

Everyone watched as the mosquitoes continued pouncing on the meat. They found this scene very strange and inexplicable. All the masters had no idea what was going on and they could only whisper among themselves.

However, within a few seconds, the meat that had been eaten by the black mosquitoes suddenly changed color and countless smaller black mosquitoes started emerging from the meat!

Chapter 167

In less than five minutes, all the fresh dishes on the table had already turned rotten and countless black mosquitoes started emerging from the rotten food.

There was a rooster that the White family had raised ever since it was a chick in the White family courtyard.

A few black mosquitoes flew to the rooster at a very fast speed. After less than ten seconds, the rooster started screaming as it flapped its wings frantically. After that, it fell to the ground and started convulsing until it dropped dead.

Within a few seconds, many large black mosquitoes started emerging from the feathers of the dead rooster.

At this time, the black mosquitoes were densely packed in the sky as they rushed towards the crowd of people like a whirlwind.

It was very chaotic in the courtyard as the crowd of people tried desperately to avoid the black mosquitoes, as not only were the black mosquitoes extremely poisonous but they could also enter a person's flesh through a wound on the skin.

Even though the mosquitoes were very small as it was only the size of a grain of sand, their bites were very painful.

The person bitten by the black mosquitoes would be in extreme pain and their skin would start swelling immediately.

At this time, all the masters in the courtyard started using all of their magic skills to get rid of the mosquitoes. Some of them were even throwing out amulets and talismans as they chanted some mantras.

Some people hid under the table while several others jumped into the pool to avoid the mosquitoes.

"What is this?" Jasmine asked as she was utterly shocked at this time.

"This is corpse magic!" Finn yelled as he was very shocked and angry at that moment. "These mosquitoes have been raised from the corpse of a baby! This kind of black magic originated from Julesburg! I really would not have expected Mr. Yalman to raise this kind of insidious thing!"

Jack laughed before he said, "These mosquitoes are raised from the corpse of a dead fetus! Since you refuse to show me any respect, then I will teach all of you a lesson today!"

The number of black mosquitoes continued increasing and at this time, the body of one of the old men who was bitten by the mosquitoes started swelling and puffing up before he dropped to the ground.

The black mosquitoes filled the sky and Jasmine was also flustered at this moment.

However, when Jasmine turned around, she realized that there were no mosquitoes around Charlie Wade at all!

As soon as the black mosquitoes approached Charlie Wade, they would instantly turn into black coal, as though they had just encountered something extremely terrifying!

At this time, Charlie Wade sneered as he walked towards Jack without encountering any obstacles. He was also holding a white clam shell in his hand.

This was the Thundering Order that he had practiced earlier!

The shell talisman exuded a faint light with a hint of thunder surrounding it.

Jack was stunned when he saw Charlie Wade and he exclaimed in disbelief. "Why are you...no, what is happening? How is this possible?"

Charlie Wade seemed to be wrapped in a halo at this time and it seemed as though he was sent by god.

"Impossible! This is completely impossible! It is impossible for anyone to counter my corpse magic!" Jack yelled as he stared at Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade sneered as he stared at Jack. "Do you really think you are undefeatable? I will show you what true power is today!"

Immediately afterwards, Charlie Wade yelled, "Thunder!"

As soon as his voice fell, there was a loud sound.

Boom!

Within a few seconds, there was a loud thunderbolt from the sky and black clouds suddenly started piling up in the sky that was clear earlier.

In the blink of an eye, the entire sky was covered in dark clouds!

"This!" Finn looked up at the sky and he was too shocked to even speak.

Everyone, including Jasmine, had the same expression on their faces.

Graham could only mutter, "Miracle. This is a miracle!"

In the next second, lightning suddenly shot down from the sky!

"Pop!"

The lightning hit the mosquitoes immediately and a large number of mosquitoes turned to coal at this time.

The tables and chairs split in half, trees fell, and there was a strong burning smell in the air.

Charlie Wade stood still with his hands at the side of his body and he was staring at Jack with a cold expression on his face as lightning flashed around his body as though he was a god who was descending to earth!

At this time, a strong wind blew past the courtyard as rain started falling and washing the courtyard clean.

A few seconds later, the crowd of people finally regained their senses as they started seeking shelter out of fear that they would be struck by lightning.

Chapter 168

"No, no! He, he is not human! He is a god!"

"No, don't let the lightning strike me! I will kneel down and apologize to Mr. Wade immediately."

"Help me. I was wrong!"

A few of the guests got down on their knees as they started bowing in front of Charlie Wade.

Graham was frozen in place from shock.

However, the lightning only struck the black mosquitoes, turning them into coal without hurting anyone at all.

At this time, Jack was extremely shocked and terrified!

He would never have imagined that Charlie Wade would have such tremendous powers!

He was only an ant compared to Charlie Wade!

If he was struck by the ferocious lightning, he would definitely drop dead in seconds!

Jack started panicking at this time. Therefore, he quickly got up before he scrambled to escape out of the courtyard. He wanted to escape from Aurouss Hilll and never come back to this place again! How could there be such a venerable person in Aurouss Hilll?

"Are you trying to escape?"

Charlie Wade smiled as he stretched his hand towards the sky and said, "Thunder, fall!"

Boom!

At this time, thunder rumbled and lightning struck the black porcelain jar in Jack's hand as he fell to the ground immediately.

Jack could feel severe pain in his hands and he was so scared that he could only shiver as he begged for his life.

"Mr. Wade...Master...please spare my life."

Charlie Wade looked at Jack with a cold look on his face as he walked towards him, step by step.

"How could you use corpse magic from a dead fetus? Do you know that this is really damaging to the world? I can't believe that you could actually be so corrupt! This is an unforgivable offense!"

"The devil should be punished by the heavens! I am punishing you using thunder and lightning today! Do you accept your punishment?"

Jack could only stare at Charlie Wade with his mouth wide open at this time. He could not say anything at all. Jack could only watch the thunder and lightning in the sky flashing among the dark clouds as he held back his grief and sorrow. It seemed as though it was already the end of his life...

Why? Why was there such a terrifying existence in Aurouss Hilll? Why did he have to bark up the wrong tree?

Boom!

Before Jack could even understand the cause and effect, several lightning strikes hit Jack continuously.

Jack, who was arrogant and aggressive, was struck to the ground before he could even scream.

At this time, his human form was no longer visible and he was completely burnt. A disgusting burning smell permeated the courtyard.

"Stop the rain and the winds!"

Charlie Wade waved his hands and the thunderstorm stopped miraculously. A gust of wind blew through the courtyard and swept away the smell of the burnt corpse in the middle of the courtyard.

Charlie Wade had a calm expression on his face, as though nothing happened at all.

However, everyone in the courtyard had their mouths wide open in shock.

Adam was trembling at this time and he was at a complete loss for words. If Charlie Wade had chosen to strike him with lightning, he would have been dead a long time ago. He finally understood that Charlie Wade's grace and mercy was the reason he was still alive. That was the reason why he survived.

"Mr. Wade, you...you are a god!"

Graham's voice trembled as he knelt to the ground and started worshipping Charlie Wade.

At this time, Zeke was so frightened that he quickly knelt to the ground before he started bowing down in front of Charlie Wade.

"Mr. Wade, please forgive me. I was so obsessed with Mr. Yaleman that I didn't know what I was doing...I am sorry for everything that I've said and done. Please forgive me, Mr. Wade. I will do anything that you ask me to from this point onwards. Please feel free to give me your orders..."

Charlie Wade glanced at him indifferently and he walked past Zeke without even turning back.

At this time, Finn suddenly said in a respectful manner, "I think that Mr. Wade should be the leader of the metaphysics circle from now on! From now on, everyone in the Newton metaphysics circle will follow Mr. Wade's instructions and guidance!"

Everyone was fighting for the position of the leader of the metaphysics circle just a short while ago. However, none of the guests had any objections right now. They were all convinced and they agreed with Finn's suggestion immediately.

"Yes, Mr. Wade, please guide everyone in Aurouss Hilll!"

Chapter 169

Everyone had been fighting for the leadership position with their lives earlier but right now, all of them were eager for Charlie Wade to lead the entire metaphysics circle in Aurouss Hilll and even the Newton area. None of the guests had any objections at all as they have all been completely convinced by Charlie Wade's skills.

They have never seen anyone else like Charlie Wade who could command heavenly thunder and lightning with just one word!

This was indeed the realm of metaphysics. Charlie Wade had supernatural power beyond everyone's imagination!

When they looked at Jack, who was lying on the ground after being scorched by lightning, they knew that Charlie Wade's powers and strength were unfathomable. Therefore, they wanted Charlie Wade to be their leader so he could lead and give them the best advice and guidance.

Charlie Wade frowned before he said, "I am not a member of the metaphysics circle and I do not usually study Feng Shui. I am also not really interested in metaphysics. Therefore, I hope you'll allow Finn to lead and guide you in the future instead."

Everyone's mouth fell wide open in shock as soon as Charlie Wade spoke.

He had already shocked them completely with the thunder and lightning earlier and Charlie Wade was actually saying that he had no interest in Feng Shui or metaphysics at all? He was not a member of the metaphysics circle?

So, did Charlie Wade summon the thunder and lightning simply because he had momentary interest in metaphysics?

Respect!

Utter respect!

The crowd of people was silent at this time as they exchanged glances with one another.

At this time, Finn glanced at Charlie Wade with a hesitant look on his face as he said in a respectful manner, "It is indeed a great honor to share the worries on your behalf, Mr. Wade. From now on, I will definitely take good care of all the members in the metaphysics circle. I will make sure to handle all the minor matters on my own but I will definitely ask for your advice on any major issues, Mr. Wade."

The atmosphere was much more relaxed and at this point, the richest man in Lancaster, Travis, suddenly walked towards Charlie Wade as he said respectfully, "Mr. Wade, I would like to thank you for what you've done for all of us today. Therefore, I would like to offer you an eighty million dollar reward as a token of my appreciation."

Matthew also stepped forward to thank Charlie Wade even though he was still feeling very embarrassed. "Thank you, Mr. Wade, for helping to divert harm away from us. From now on, anyone under my care will also be respectful towards you!"

"We will definitely obey your commands!"

The crowd of people did not want to be left behind when they saw the two men stepping forward to thank Charlie Wade. Therefore, they flattered Charlie Wade, offered to buy him dinner, and some of them even offered to give him some cash rewards.

Finn also said, "The White family has already promised to sponsor a total of one hundred and fifty million dollars for all of the winners at the banquet today. Since you are the ultimate winner, I think that this cash reward should naturally be awarded to you, Mr. Wade."

Zeke was still kneeling on the ground as he did not dare to get up at all. At this time, he hurriedly said, "Mr. Wade, I am sorry for looking down on you and supporting the villain instead. I have almost caused harm to all the other guests here today. I hope that you will be able to forgive me!"

Charlie Wade frowned before he said, "Mr. White, didn't you have complete trust in Mr. Yalerman before this?"

Zeke quickly lowered his head before he replied, "Mr. Wade, I was completely blinded by Mr. Yalerman! I know that he is nothing more than a bug in front of the real master now! I promise to keep my eyes open in the future and I will never go against you again! I promise to follow your orders and respect you for the rest of my life."

After that, Zeke continued speaking, "Mr. Wade, in order to show you how sorry I am, I would like to give you a villa as a gift. I will pass you the key to the villa as soon as I send someone to clean the place up for you! Please accept my gift and forgive me for my actions, Mr. Wade!"

"A villa?"

Charlie Wade could only frown as he thought about it.

A villa was nothing much to him.

However, it would be inappropriate for him to buy the villa on his own as he would not have any ways to explain the source of the funds to Claire Wilson Wilson.

So, why should he turn down the offer if someone wanted to give him a villa?

After all, his family was currently living in an old and run down house. It would be great for them to live in a better environment.

Even though Zeke was a little hateful, it seemed as though he was truly repentant and he felt very guilty and remorseful.

Therefore, Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "Alright then, I will accept your gift. However, please remember that I will not let you off so easily should something like this happen again in the future."

Chapter 170

Zeke was overjoyed and he clasped his hands together as he thanked Charlie Wade. "Thank you for your kindness, Mr. Wade. I will definitely reflect on myself and I promise this will never happen again!"

"Okay." Charlie Wade nodded in satisfaction.

After that, Charlie Wade looked at Graham who was still in shock at this time.

Charlie Wade asked him in a faint manner, "So, Graham, tell me. Did you really think that I lied to you so that I could cheat the Quinton family of your money?"

Graham's legs softened immediately and he knelt down before he said, "I dare not! I wouldn't dare to! I was just confused for a moment but I've never lost confidence in you, Mr. Wade. I am now completely convinced that you are the true master in the metaphysics circle! Please forgive me, Mr. Wade!"

After he spoke, Graham grabbed Adam by his collar before he yelled, "A*shole! Kneel down and apologize to Mr. Wade now!"

Adam was already trembling in fear at this time. As soon as Graham yelled at him, Adam knelt down before Charlie Wade and he started trembling as he apologized. "Mr. Wade, please forgive me! I really did not mean to doubt you or cause any trouble for you. I did not intentionally do it..."

Graham shook his head before he slapped Adam a couple of times until his cheeks started swelling.

Adam did not dare to move at all. He continued kneeling on the ground as he cried. At a time like this, Adam was not afraid of getting beaten at all. Instead, he was afraid that Charlie Wade would summon thunder and lightning from the sky to strike him, and that he would drop dead like Jack Yalaman.

Aurora's face had also turned pale from shock.

She would never have imagined that Charlie Wade was actually a master with such extraordinary powers.

Initially, she was so mad at Charlie Wade because she thought that he really lied to her father, and she was planning to look for an opportunity to avenge her father. However, now it seemed as though she could only worship him because he was really incredible!

Aurora was also afraid that Charlie Wade would still be mad at her younger brother. Therefore, she hurriedly knelt down before she said, "Mr. Wade, my younger brother is still young and ignorant. Please be magnanimous and forgive him."

When Charlie Wade saw the three members of the Quinton family kneeling before him and begging for forgiveness, his heart softened immediately. Therefore, he told them to stand up before he said, "Since all of you are willing to repent and admit your mistakes, I will not take this to heart. However, if something like this happens again in the future, don't blame me for being cruel!"

As soon as they heard his words, the Quinton family quickly bowed their head and thanked him.

At this time, Jasmine had mixed feelings as she stood among the crowd of people as she witnessed the scene unfolding before her.

Previously, she had always thought that Charlie Wade was simply very well-versed and knowledgeable in antique trades because he was just an ordinary man with an ordinary background.

Unexpectedly, he was actually hiding his strength!

Jasmine was really shocked by what she had witnessed today. She had never seen anything like this.

At this time, Charlie Wade took a step forward before he looked at the crowd of people and said, "Listen to me!"

As soon as he started speaking, everyone raised their heads and looked at Charlie Wade respectfully. No one dared to make any sound at all.

Charlie Wade looked around the crowd before he said in a stern manner, "I do not want anyone to mention anything that happened here today to anyone else! I want this to be kept a secret among us. If anyone leaks this matter out to the public, I will make sure that he ends up with the same fate as Jack Yaleman!"

All of the guests were shocked because it seemed as though Charlie Wade did not want anyone to know about his strength and power!

He was really a very humble man.

He was nothing like Jack, who only wanted attention and publicity wherever he went.

Jack was nothing compared to Charlie Wade!

At this time, everyone clasped their fists together as they bowed before Charlie Wade and said, "Yes, we will obey your instructions, Mr. Wade."

Charlie Wade nodded in satisfaction before he said, "In that case, everyone can be dismissed now!"

Charlie Wade left the White family mansion as everyone continued staring at him in awe.

Jasmine could not stop herself from staring at him from time to time as she sent him home.

At this time, Charlie Wade had already turned into the same ordinary person that he had always been. He no longer looked like the powerful and strong man that he looked like earlier.

Jasmine could not stop herself from feeling a little suspicious at this time.

When Charlie Wade was in the courtyard earlier, he exuded a very superior and mysterious aura.

However, the Charlie Wade who was sitting in the passenger seat next to her looked like an ordinary passer-by.

Jasmine did not know whether this was intentional or whether it was just an illusion.

Therefore, Jasmine could not help but asked, "Charlie Wade...were you really the one who summoned the thunder and lightning just now?"

Charlie Wade looked at her before he smiled.

"Why don't you make a guess? Will you believe me if I told you that it was just a mere coincidence?"

At this time, the image of Charlie Wade summoning the thunder and lightning suddenly flashed through Jasmine's mind.

Charlie Wade was standing so confidently as he summoned the thunder and lightning.

Any woman would fall in love with him if they saw how cool he looked.

At this time, Jasmine could feel her heart beating a little faster. However, she quickly shook her head as she thought about it.

What a joke!

Even the world's most powerful physicist would not be able to control lightning!

If Charlie Wade could summon thunder and lightning whenever he wanted to, why would he be the poor son-in-law of the Wilson family?

Was the thunder and lightning really just a coincidence?

...

As soon as Charlie Wade arrived at his doorstep, he could hear the voice of his mother-in-law, Elaine Ma, coming from inside the house.

"I already told you to find a capable husband but you refused to listen to my advice! Look at how capable Rachel's son-in-law is! He can even afford to put them up in a four-bedroom house! Her house is more than one hundred and eighty square meters large! Just look at our house. It is at most one hundred and twenty square meters. Do you know how embarrassing it is for me?"

After that, Elaine Ma continued speaking, "Other people can count on their son-in-law but the guy you married is just useless! How can I count on Charlie Wade? If I have to depend on him, I'm afraid I'll never be able to live in a big house my entire life!"

At this time, Claire Wilson suddenly spoke up in a dissatisfied tone, "Mom, why are you always envious of other people's belongings? I have already been promoted to the role of director! If we save for a few more years, we will definitely be able to afford a new and bigger house."

At this time, Charlie Wade's mother-in-law sneered as she said, "You want me to wait a few more years? I might already be dead by then! Ever since you married Charlie Wade, we have never experienced a single good day in our life! Why are we still living in the same house that you grew up in? All of my friends are living a better life than I am!"

Claire Wilson Wilson simply replied, "Mom, why do you always have to make such comparisons? Does that make you any happier?"

"I am sick of this!" Elaine Ma continued complaining. "I hate that fact that I am always losing to my friends! I hate this!"

Charlie Wade shook his head before he opened the door and walked into the house in a helpless manner.

Elaine Ma snorted as soon as she saw that Charlie Wade had already come home. "So you're finally home? Do you know what time it is now? When are you going to start cooking? I am already starving!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Okay, Mom. I will start cooking now."

After that, Charlie Wade went into the kitchen immediately.

Charlie Wade understood Elaine Ma's character very well. She would always feel very uncomfortable and envious of others whenever someone else had something that she did not.

If Elaine Ma knew that Zeke was going to give him a villa, she would definitely rush over to Charlie Wade and say all sorts of sweet nothings to him just so she could get in his good books.

Chapter 172

However, Charlie Wade did not want to say anything about the villa he was about to receive because of Elaine Ma's current attitude.

As Charlie Wade was busy in the kitchen, Claire Wilson Wilson walked over to him before she said in a low voice, "Charlie Wade, please don't take my mother's words to heart. She is just too vain and idealistic."

Charlie Wade deliberately asked, "What did your mother say? I didn't hear anything at all."

"Alright then, you can continue pretending. It would really be strange if you truly didn't hear anything at all," Claire Wilson Wilson replied as she poked Charlie Wade's forehead with her finger.

Charlie Wade took advantage of this opportunity to hold Claire Wilson Wilson's hand at this time.

Claire Wilson Wilson started blushing immediately and she looked around the kitchen before she retracted her hand immediately.

However, Charlie Wade refused to let go of her hand. Instead, he brought his hand closer to him as he took a closer look at her hand. Charlie Wade smiled when he saw that Claire Wilson Wilson was wearing the bracelet that he made her. After that, he asked, "Is the bracelet effective?"

"Yes." Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she said, "I think that it's really effective. Ever since I put on the bracelet, my body seems much lighter and more relaxed. I also feel much more comfortable today. What is this bracelet made of? Why is it so effective?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "It's just made out of pearls."

The Holy Pearl of the Ocean that was on Claire Wilson Wilson's wrist right now made her wrist look so fair and tender just like snow.

As Charlie Wade held her smooth and warm hand, he did not feel like letting go at all.

When Claire Wilson Wilson realized what he was thinking, she blushed before she glared at him and retracted her hand immediately.

Charlie Wade smiled before he asked, "Are you also interested in moving into a new house?"

"Of course! Who wouldn't want to live in a newer and bigger house? Ever since my mother moved out of the villa, she has been complaining all the time because she feels that this house is too small and shabby..."

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed before she continued, "But the new houses are too expensive now. Since we do not have so much money on hand, we should just forget it."

After that, Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly recalled something and she blurted out, "By the way, we could go and check out some new properties and houses first. We can calculate the price difference between this house and the new house. If the price difference is not too great, then we can get the new house as soon as possible!"

Claire Wilson Wilson said excitedly before Charlie Wade could even speak, "Alright then. It is decided. Since it is a weekend tomorrow, why don't we check out some new houses tomorrow?"

Charlie Wade nodded because he could tell that Claire Wilson Wilson was really very interested and excited about this matter. Therefore, he simply replied, "Sure. If you want to check out some new houses, I'll definitely accompany you."

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson took out her cell phone to research some real estate information before she finally decided to look at one of the districts with a good environment.

After dinner, someone came and knocked on their front door. Someone from the courier company delivered a small parcel to Charlie Wade before the person said, "This is an express city delivery for you. Please sign to receive it."

After Charlie Wade signed for the receipt, he opened the small box and found that there was a suite key and several golden key cards with the words 'Thompson First Villa A05' written on it.

Charlie Wade also received a phone call from Zeke, the head of the White family. Zeke greeted Charlie Wade respectfully over the phone as he said, "Hello, Mr. Wade. Have you received the key and the room cards for the villa? Thompson First has been developed by the Thompson First Development Company in Aurouss Hilll. It is one of the most high-end projects around the city right now. The villa that I've given you, Villa A05, is the largest villa consisting of one thousand square meters excluding the courtyard! I hope that you will enjoy my gift to you and your family."

Charlie Wade heard of the Thompson First Development Company before and he knew that they were developing many villas and high rise buildings in Aurouss Hilll. Thompson First was indeed one of the highest-end projects in Aurouss Hilll at the moment.

The market price for one of these villas is at least one hundred million dollars.

It seemed as though Zeke was really being very generous.

Therefore, Charlie Wade replied in a light manner, "Thank you for your generosity."

Zeke was ecstatic as he exclaimed, "No, no! It is an honor for me to be able to do something for you, Mr. Wade!"

After returning to the bedroom, Charlie Wade suddenly asked Claire Wilson Wilson, "My dear wife, do you like the villas at Thompson First?"

"Thompson First?!" Claire Wilson Wilson exclaimed in surprise. "How will we ever be able to afford any of the villas there? The prices for an ordinary residential house developed by Thompson First Development Company is already twice the price of any other residential houses! However, I must say that the properties developed by this group are really the best in Aurouss Hilll!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "We can have a look at the villas tomorrow before we decide if we're interested in buying one."

Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly waved her hand before she said, "Forget it. We should just forget it. Let's be more pragmatic and check out the ordinary residential houses instead."

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "I did not tell you about this before but I actually have a friend working for Thompson First Development Company. He said that he'll be able to get me one of the villas at cost price, so why don't we check it out first?"

Chapter 173

Early the next morning, Charlie Wade brought the villa key and access cards that Zeke had given him as he drove to the Thompson First sales center with his wife.

After driving for a short while, they arrived at the entrance of the Thompson First sales center.

At this time, the sales center was extremely crowded. It seemed as though the residents of Aurouss Hilll were very interested in the properties developed by Thompson First Development Company even though they might not be able to afford it.

When Claire Wilson Wilson saw the huge crowd of people, she pulled Charlie Wade aside as she said, "Charlie Wade, there are so many people here today. We will not be able to afford any of the properties here anyway, so why don't we go somewhere else instead?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "My dear wife, since we are already here, then why don't we just head in and take a look? We have nothing to lose anyway. I really want to take a look at the properties developed by this company. Will you accompany me?"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson could only reply helplessly, "Well, I guess it is finally time for us to have a look at the properties developed by Thompson First Development Company."

After entering the sales center, many people were gathered in front of a huge table as they listened to one of the property guides as he explained the general living situation in the Thompson First Villas community.

The area of real estate developed by the company in Aurouss Hilll was very large indeed.

The periphery of the land was filled with high-rise residential buildings and ordinary residential houses. The area ranged between one hundred and twenty square meters to two hundred and forty square meters. The prices for these houses were also very high, with a starting price of eighty thousand dollars for each square meter.

As for the deepest, most comfortable and prime location of the real estate, it was the area for the Thompson First villas.

The sizes of the villas ranged from three hundred square meters to more than one thousand square meters per unit. Since each of the villas came with a yard and a basement, the prices of the villas were very high, costing one hundred and thirty thousand dollars per square meter.

In other words, the villa that Zeke gave to Charlie Wade was worth a hundred and thirty million dollars!

At this time, the property guide also said, "We provide separate property and security services for the distinguished villa owners. Despite the fact that the ordinary residential houses and the villas are situated within the same community, there is additional fencing surrounding the villa! This means that it is a completely separated community from the ordinary residential houses!"

"The ordinary residential houses are already very safe and heavily guarded. No outsiders are allowed to enter the community and this means that the villa area would be even safer! To put it simply, it would be absolutely impossible for any thieves or burglar to break into the villas at all. Therefore, you can rest assured if you would like to own one of these villas!"

At this time, one woman suddenly voiced out her opinion in an angry manner. "Isn't this a little too much? Do you mean to say that the residents of the ordinary residential houses and high-rise buildings are supposed to take the bullet for the residents of the villas?"

Many people who were gathered around the woman nodded their head in agreement. It seemed as though what she said really made sense.

Charlie Wade felt that this voice was a little familiar. Therefore, he raised his head to look towards the direction of the women. He realized that it was a woman with very heavy makeup on her face.

That woman was none other than Claire Wilson Wilson's cousin, Wendy!

Why was she here?

Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson were both very surprised to see her at the sales center.

When they looked in her direction again, they realized that her father, Christopher, her mother, Hannah and also her brother, Harold were all standing beside her!

Was their family here to buy a house?

Claire Wilson Wilson turned around before she whispered to Charlie Wade, "Since Uncle and his whole family are here, let's leave now!"

Charlie Wade shook his head before he asked, "Where should we go? Why should we leave just because they're here?"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied, "I'm just afraid they'll cause trouble for you again..."

Chapter 174

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he said, "Don't worry. Your husband has already been bullied for so many years. I'm already used to it!"

"Okay then..." Claire Wilson Wilson nodded.

At this time, the property guide smiled before she told Wendy, "Miss, it's true and it's common knowledge that the Thompson First Development Company has always regarded the villa owners as our most distinguished customers. Therefore, our private swimming pool, high-end gymnasium, high-end sports club, golf courses and Michelin star restaurants from Italy are specially opened in the villa area to specifically serve the villa owners!"

Wendy replied angrily, "What do you mean by that? So, are the owners of the high-rise condominiums not human? We're spending a lot of money to buy your property too! Why can't we enjoy these facilities?"

The property guide could only reply, "I'm sorry but we also have a clubhouse in the high-rise condominium area. If you choose to buy one of the high-rise condominiums, you can use the clubhouse there."

Wendy asked, "So, does that mean that I won't be able to use any of the facilities in the villa? Will I not be able to use the golf course too?"

"No." Then, the property guide continued, "The facilities in the vicinity of the villas are specifically prepared for the villa owners. I'm really sorry."

At this time, Harold was extremely annoyed and he said, "What do you think you're doing right now? Do you know that we're already planning to purchase one of the two hundred and forty square meter units in your high rise building? Do you know how much that would cost? We're about to spend so much money to buy your property but you won't allow us to use the facilities inside the villa area. Do you believe that I will change my mind about buying from you, then?"

The property guide continued smiling before she said, "Sir, let me tell you the truth now. Initially, when we first started this project, we only built the outer circle of ordinary residency areas because this was a requirement stipulated by the city council. We did not have the permission to solely develop a whole plot of land just for villas since it would be a waste of land!"

"That is the reason why we built these ordinary residential houses and high-rise buildings surrounding the villas. Our priority has always been the owners of the villas."

"If you cannot accept our conditions and rules, then you can choose to buy one of the villas instead. Otherwise, you can also choose not to purchase any of our properties. To be honest, our properties are selling very well. Even though we've only recently opened the sale for the ordinary residential housing area, almost eighty percent of the properties have already been sold!"

At this time, the expression on Harold's face turned ugly immediately.

He originally thought that the property guide would have no choice but to give in to his request if he threatened not to buy the property.

However, he did not expect her nonchalant attitude at all.

Her meaning was clear and simple: "If you love it, you can buy it. If not, feel free to leave any time you want."

At this time, a furious Harold turned around to look at his parents before he blurted out, "Let's go! I no longer want to buy any of the properties here. We can buy properties somewhere else, since it's not as though we don't have any money!"

Hannah stared at her son before she said, "Why should we leave now? I want to buy one of the houses here. I don't wish to live anywhere else."

Harold continued persuading his mother. "Mom, do you really want to be one of those people standing guard and taking the bullet for the wealthy people living in the villas? You should be treated differently! You should not settle for less! What's so great about the residential houses here?"

"You don't know anything at all!" Hannah replied immediately. "Even if the environment and the facilities in the ordinary residential houses and the high-rise condominiums are not as great as those in the inner villas, this is the best high-rise condominium in Aurouss Hill! The villa that your grandmother has left behind for us is too old. I'm already bored after having lived there for such a long time."

Christopher also nodded before he said, "Your grandmother's villa is really very old and the surrounding area is too remote. We do not have any facilities nearby and we have to travel such a long distance just to buy a pack of cigarettes! How can we even compare that to the facilities that we'll enjoy here?"

"I'm supportive of your mother's idea. Let's buy one of the units here!"

Harold sighed at this time because he had been so rude and forceful towards the property guide earlier but now, he looked like a joke to the crowd of people.

Even though he was very irritated, he suddenly saw two familiar faces that intrigued him immediately. After that, he yelled, "Claire Wilson Wilson! Charlie Wade! What are you doing here?"

Claire Wilson Wilson did not expect to be spotted by Harold. However, as soon as Harold called out their names, his entire family turned around to look at the two of them. At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson had no choice but to smile as she replied, "Charlie Wade and I are here to have a look at the properties."

Harold laughed before he said contemptuously, "Why? Can you even afford to buy any of the houses here? Your husband doesn't even have a job and he's living off you! Why are you still dreaming of buying a house at such a high-end place like Thompson First?"

Chapter 175

It was obvious that Harold looked down on Charlie Wade.

Moreover, he was full of resentment towards Claire Wilson Wilson, who was a company director.

When Harold saw that the couple were actually here to view the properties at Thompson First, he wanted to seize the opportunity to satirize and make fun of them.

Charlie Wade sneered as soon as he heard Harold's satirical tone towards Claire Wilson Wilson and himself. "What? If someone like you is able to view the properties at Thompson First, then why can't we come here today?"

Harold sneered before he said, "The reason why my family and I are able to come here today is because we can afford to purchase one of the houses here! Can you even afford any of the houses here?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "How sure are you that I can't afford any of the houses here?"

Harold snorted at this time. "If you can afford to buy any of the properties here, then I am a ghost! Do you know how much the houses here cost? Even the smallest house in Thompson First is one hundred and twenty square meters and it costs at least ten million dollars! Do you even have ten million dollars?"

Charlie Wade laughed. "Why would I even look at one of the smallest houses? If I want to buy a house, I'll definitely get the biggest one."

"Boo!" Harold said as he laughed. "The biggest two hundred and forty square meter house? You're really too ambitious for your own good."

At this time, Wendy also laughed as she said, "Yes, Charlie Wade. Do you really think you'd be able to afford the two hundred and forty square meter house? Even our family will not be able to afford to buy that house! Who do you think you are? How will you ever be able to afford it?"

Charlie Wade looked at her before he smiled and said, "Who says that I want to buy the two hundred and forty square meter house?"

Wendy snorted before she asked, "So, what are you saying then? Didn't you say that you're interested in the biggest house? Are you trying to go back on your words now?"

Charlie Wade laughed before he replied, "Wendy, you really don't know much, do you? Don't you know that the largest property in the entire Thompson First is the villas in the center of the community?"

"Hahaha!" Wendy started laughing out loud. "The villas? The smallest villas would also cost tens of millions of dollars! Moreover, the most expensive villa is at least one hundred million dollars. You'll never be able to save up that amount of money even if you worked hard for eight lifetimes!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Coincidentally, I happen to owe one of the biggest villas here!"

"Hahaha!" Harold and his entire family started laughing as soon as Charlie Wade finished his sentence. After that, Harold pointed his finger at Charlie Wade before he said contemptuously, "You? You're telling me that you owe one of the biggest villas in Thompson First? Are you really trying to make a fool out of yourself, Charlie Wade?"

At this time, many of the customers who were here to look at the properties were also staring at Charlie Wade because they heard what he had just said. "He's dressed so casually and he doesn't look like a wealthy person at all. Do you really think he could afford to buy a villa in Thompson First?"

"If he's actually the owner of one of the villas here, then I'd definitely be able to buy the entire Thompson First community!"

"He's really good at bragging!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was also a little pale at this time and she quickly leaned towards Charlie Wade as she whispered in his ear, "Charlie Wade! What are you talking about? Why are you talking nonsense? Aren't you afraid of getting embarrassed?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Why would I feel embarrassed if I'm telling the truth?"

Harold laughed as he said, "Look! Even your own wife does not believe what you're saying right now! All the people here today aren't dumb. Anyone can tell that someone like you does not deserve to be in this sales center!"

After that, Harold continued speaking, "Wait! I'll get a sales person to drive you out immediately!"

Shortly after, Harold dragged one of the staff members over to Charlie Wade before he pointed at him and said, "Miss, what's the matter with you? Why did you allow this kind of trash to enter the sales center and spoil the value of the properties here? Did you know that this person actually said that he owns one of the largest villas in Thompson First? He's really decreasing the value of the properties here!"

At this time, the sales lady glanced at Charlie Wade and she could see that Charlie Wade was indeed dressed in very casual clothing.

Charlie Wade would certainly not be able to purchase even the smallest three bedroom house in Thompson First, let alone the largest villa.

The crowd also started shouting at this time. "Hurry up and chase this young man out! He's really affecting our mood right now!"

Chapter 176

At this time, the sales lady walked up to Charlie Wade before she said, "Sir, if you're not going to buy a house today, then please leave now. Do not affect the other customers who are here to purchase our properties today."

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed before she tugged at Charlie Wade's sleeves and said, "Let's go, Charlie Wade. Let's have a look elsewhere instead."

Other people also started booing Charlie Wade at this time. "If you are poor, then please leave instead of being an embarrassment here!"

Charlie Wade remained motionless before he said with a smile, "Do you know why all of you cannot afford to live in the villas here? It's because you're all short-sighted and there's no way any of you will be able to afford to live in a villa in this lifetime!"

Harold continued insulting Charlie Wade at this time. "Hahaha! Charlie Wade, are you really going to continue to lie here? Is there anyone here today who isn't richer than you?"

Charlie Wade raised his brows before he said, "Harold, you keep saying that I'll never be able to afford any of the properties in Thompson First. What are you going to do if I really do own one of the villas here?"

At this time, Harold laughed before he pointed at the tallest high rise building on the table before he said in an arrogant manner, "If you can afford to own any of the villas here, then I, Harold, will jump from the top of this building!"

Many people who were surrounding them also followed suit as they shouted, "Yes! If you can afford to own any of the villas, I'll jump off that building too!"

"That's right! I'll jump off the building if you actually do own one of the villas in Thompson First! I can't tolerate anyone who pretends to be someone they're not!"

Claire Wilson Wilson had never felt more embarrassed than this in her life! Therefore, she started complaining as she reprimanded Charlie Wade, "Charlie Wade! Do you really want to challenge them and embarrass yourself now?"

At this time, Charlie Wade remained calm as he smiled and said, "My dear wife, why are you so sure that your husband will end up embarrassing himself?"

After that, Charlie Wade took the key to the villa and the access cards out from his pocket before he said, "Look at this. This is the key and the access card for Villa A05."

Wendy laughed as she replied, "Charlie Wade, do you really think that we'll believe you just because you are holding a random key in your hand? Do you really think that we're mentally retarded?"

Charlie Wade handed the key and the access card over to the sales person before he said, "Well, why don't you check if this key and access card is real?"

The sales lady could recognize the key and access card as soon as Charlie Wade took it out from his pocket. She knew that this was the key and access card that was exclusive to the owners of the villas in Thompson First. She was really shocked at this moment.

Was this person really an owner of a villa in Thompson First? If he really owned one of the villas, she would definitely lose her job because she had just tried to kick him out of the sales center a few minutes ago.

As she thought about this, she took the key and access card from Charlie Wade before she scanned the card on the information reader in the sales center. At this time, the reader suddenly exclaimed in a robotic voice, "Hello, Mr. Wade, the distinguished owner of Villa A05. We welcome you home!"

At this time, the sales lady suddenly exclaimed in shock. "Are you Mr. Wade?"

"Yes," Charlie Wade nodded immediately. It seemed that Zeke had already transferred the villa's ownership over to Charlie Wade.

The sales lady quickly handed the key and access card back to Charlie Wade before she panicked and said, "Mr. Wade, I am so sorry for my behavior earlier. I really did not know that you are the distinguished owner of Villa A05. Please forgive me for what happened earlier."

Everyone present at the scene was stunned.

Charlie Wade was actually the owner of the biggest villas in this community? Was this a joke? How could someone like him afford to purchase a villa in Thompson First?

The expression on Harold's face was also extremely ugly. What was going on? He really could not believe that Charlie Wade could actually afford to buy this villa.

But the sales lady would not be lying, would she?

Moreover, she had even scanned his access card and it seemed as though the machine recognized Charlie Wade as the owner of the villa..

What was happening?

Chapter 177

The sales lady was panicking because she was worried that she would lose her job since she had offended Charlie Wade. However, Charlie Wade simply waved his hand before he said in a faint manner, "Don't worry, this is a small issue. I won't hold this against you."

After that, Charlie Wade continued speaking, "By the way, could you please explain what Villa A05 is to all these short-sighted people here today?"

The sales lady hurriedly explained, "The villas in Thompson First are divided into four different categories: A, B, C, and D. The scarcest category is category A, which has the largest area. The villas in category A consists of three levels, including a basement. There is also a private elevator within each villa, with each villa measuring more than one thousand square meters large. It also consists of a front and rear courtyard. The price of one of these villas is over one hundred million dollars. This is the most expensive villa in Thompson First and perhaps even in the entire Aurouss Hill!"

Everyone's jaws dropped as soon as the sales lady finished her explanation.

Charlie Wade owned a villa that was worth more than one hundred million dollars? How could a person dressed in such casual clothing actually own such a luxurious villa?

Harold's expression was extremely ugly and his parents and sister were already dying of jealousy at this point.

Wendy suddenly asked, "Charlie Wade, how did you manage to buy this villa?"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly before he replied, "Someone gave it to me."

"Why would anyone give you this villa?" Wendy asked in a furious manner. Her heart was sinking at this time because she knew that she would never be able to live in such a luxurious villa in her entire lifetime, but how could someone like Charlie Wade possibly live here?

Charlie Wade was too lazy to even respond to her question. However, at this time, he simply stared at Harold as he asked, "Harold, didn't you say that you would jump off the highest floor of the building if I owned one of the houses here? When will you be jumping?"

Harold's face turned pale immediately as he clenched his fists tightly together. "Charlie Wade, you rat! Don't try to be smug with me! I still don't believe that you can afford to own this villa, nor do I believe that someone would actually give you this villa. It is completely impossible! Tell me the truth. How did you get this villa?"

Charlie Wade shook his head and smiled before he exclaimed, "It seems as though some people really cannot afford to lose in a confrontation."

After that, Charlie Wade looked at Harold again before he said, "Harold, with your abilities, the most expensive thing you'd ever be able to afford is one of the ordinary high-rise units around the vicinity of the villas. It seems as though you'll be one of those to take the bullet and stand guard for me. Anyway, the most important thing you need to know today is that you'll never be able to afford to live in this villa in this lifetime!"

"You..."

Harold's face turned very dark at this time.

This was the first time he had ever been insulted by Charlie Wade. However, what was even more hateful was the fact that he could not retaliate at all!

How could he retaliate? Even if they used all the money they had, the most expensive house they could afford to buy was the two hundred and forty square meter house. If they chose to purchase that house, his family would be under a great deal of stress. That was the reason why they were still hesitating to make the purchase. However, Charlie Wade actually owned the biggest and most luxurious villa here! The gap between them both was just too big!

Moreover, Harold could not tolerate Charlie Wade's calm and arrogant attitude at this time. He was really provoking him.

Harold gritted his teeth before he said, "Charlie Wade, don't you have any respect for the Wilson family at all? You own such an expensive and big villa but you didn't say anything to the Wilson family."

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "I thought you've always said that I am not a member of the Wilson family? Why should I tell you anything, then?"

After that, Charlie Wade turned around before he said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "My dear wife, why don't we check out our new villa now?"

Claire Wilson Wilson could not stop herself from blurting out, "This...Charlie Wade, what's going on?"

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "I'll explain everything to you later."

As soon as he finished his sentence, Charlie Wade suddenly heard a familiar voice.

"Oh! Eldest Brother and Sister-in-Law, are you guys buying a house in Thompson First? That is amazing!"

Chapter 178

It was Charlie Wade's mother-in-law, Elaine Ma!

The person accompanying Elaine Ma at this time was none other than her husband, Jacob Wilson!

Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson were a little surprised at this time. Why were they here?

Claire Wilson Wilson hurried forward before she asked, "Mom! Dad! Why are you here?"

Elaine Ma replied, "Your aunt and uncle called us to inform us of their intention to check out the houses at Thompson First as they're intending to buy a house here. They invited us here to help them look around today."

In fact, Elaine Ma glared at Charlie Wade as she said this sentence because she felt a little annoyed at this time.

Elaine Ma did not want to come here today because she had just gotten into an argument with her daughter last night as she wanted to move out of their house.

Unexpectedly, she actually received a phone call from Christopher, asking her and her husband to come over to check out the properties with them.

What did they want them to check out? Weren't they just trying to show off the fact that they were going to purchase a house at Thompson First?

Elaine Ma felt very uncomfortable at this time but she did not dare to reject her elder brother's invitation. Therefore, she rushed over with Jacob Wilson as soon as she received the phone call.

This was also the reason why she was so upset with Charlie Wade. If she had a capable son-in-law, then she would be able to live in Thompson First!

At this time, Elaine Ma looked at Hannah with a flattering expression on her face as she said, "Sister-in-Law, you're really amazing! I cannot believe that you are buying a house in Thompson First! I'm really very envious of you right now. You are actually buying the two hundred and forty square meter house in Thompson First. Do you know how luxurious that is? I really don't know if my family will ever be able to afford to live in such a luxurious house in this lifetime!"

Even though she was very upset with her elder brother and his family, Elaine Ma knew that she had to flatter and butter up to them.

Harold's mother, Hannah, had a very ugly expression on her face at this time. She glared at Elaine Ma before she said in a cold manner, "Elaine Ma, what do you mean by this? Are you looking down on us?"

Hannah was so furious that she felt as though she was going to explode anytime!

In fact, the reason why they had called Jacob Wilson and Elaine Ma over here today was because she wanted them to witness her purchasing the first grade high rise condominium unit at Thompson First. This way, she would be able to act smug and cocky in front of them.

However, she would never have expected Elaine Ma's son-in-law to be so capable. He actually owned the biggest villa in Thompson First!

Elaine Ma was so envious and she was already dying of jealousy.

Now, Elaine Ma was deliberately complimenting her for buying a two hundred and forty square meter house. Was she trying to mock her?

Her family was moving into a villa that was worth at least one hundred million dollars! How could Elaine Ma say that she was envious of her? Moreover, Elaine Ma was going on and on about how she could never afford to live in such a luxurious place. Was she being sarcastic?

Elaine Ma did not know what was going on. Therefore, she tried to flatter Hannah as soon as she saw her but Hannah actually thought that she was looking down on her. Elaine Ma felt seriously wronged at this time. Why would she look down on them? Why would she be praising them if she really looked down on them?

Elaine Ma hurriedly bit the bullet as she continued flattering Hannah, "Oh! Sister-in-Law, how could I ever compare to you? It would be the same as comparing a candle to the sun! Why would I ever look down on you? You have such a good life and you will be moving into Thompson First soon! Look at me. I'm still living in a small and broken house. Do you know how rotten and dilapidated our house is? How can it compare to your new home? Of course, I envy you!"

Hannah was extremely irritated at this time and she was so furious that she was at a loss for words.

At this time, her husband, Christopher was gritting his teeth in anger as he stood next to her. "Elaine Ma, is it really so fun for you to continue provoking and making fun of us? Aren't you going to be living in a villa at Thompson First? What are you trying to prove here?"

After that, Christopher glared at his younger brother, Jacob Wilson before he said, "Jacob Wilson, do you still regard me as your brother? Do you have any respect left for your mother? How could you keep something like this to yourself? You own a villa here and you did not even tell us about it?"

Jacob Wilson was stunned at this time. "A villa? What villa are you talking about? Brother, are you going to buy a villa instead? You're so rich!"

Chapter 179

When Christopher heard his words, he thought that Jacob Wilson was deliberately trying to mock him. Therefore, he could only glare at him as he said in a furious tone, "Jacob Wilson, enough is enough! Why are you saying all this? I know that you are going to move into the villa at Thompson First. Are you trying to show off now?"

Jacob Wilson was stunned at this time. "Huh? I am going to live in a villa at Thompson First? What are you talking about, Elder Brother?"

Elaine Ma was also very confused at this time. "Brother, is there a mistake here? Are you sure there's no misunderstanding on this matter?"

At this time, Christopher pointed his finger at Charlie Wade before he said with a dissatisfied expression on his face. "Your son-in-law is the owner of the biggest villa in Thompson First! You can ask him all about it!"

Elaine Ma and Jacob Wilson were dumbfounded at this time. After that, they stare at Charlie Wade in astonishment before they asked in disbelief, "Charlie Wade, is what your uncle said true? Are you really the owner of the biggest villa in Thompson First? Is that true?"

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "Yes, Mom and Dad. Someone gave me this villa to thank me for helping him out."

"Who gave you this villa?" Elaine Ma blurted out with a look of ecstasy in her eyes.

Charlie Wade replied, "I helped a friend solve some Feng Shui problems he was facing. Therefore, he decided to give me this villa in return for my help."

Elaine Ma was extremely excited at this time. "Charlie Wade, bring us to view the villa now! Wow! We're going to live in a villa at Thompson First! This is really a dream come true!"

At this time, Claire Wilson quickly pulled Charlie Wade aside as she asked in a low voice, "Charlie Wade, can you tell me what is going on?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Someone really gave this villa to me. If you don't believe me, we can go and check it out now."

Elaine Ma was very satisfied because she finally had a sense of superiority over her brother and sister-in-law now.

This was perfect!

Since they wanted her to be jealous when they were planning to buy a big house, then it is time for them to be envious of her now. She was going to live in Thompson First soon! It was finally time for her to brag and show off instead!

Therefore, she deliberately smiled before she said, "Oh, Eldest Brother and Sister-in-Law, Harold and Wendy, since all of you are here, why don't you come and see the villa with us? What do you think?"

Christopher shook his head and he was planning to leave immediately but at this time, Hannah quickly stopped him. After that, she winked at Elaine Ma before she said, "Okay then! We would love to see the villa too!"

As soon as she said those words, Hannah lowered her voice as she whispered in her husband's ear, "I'll take some photos and videos of their villa later before showing it to your mother. As soon as she sees those pictures, she'll definitely ask them for the villa. Don't you think that this is a good plan?"

Christopher's eyes shone immediately!

It turned out that his wife actually had a plan in mind.

This was wonderful!

Therefore, Charlie Wade brought the group of people into the villa area at Thompson First.

As soon as they entered the guarded villa community, everyone kept looking around them. The environment in this area was indeed several times better than the environment at the ordinary residential housing and high-rise condominium areas. It was much more refined.

"Charlie Wade, which is your villa?" Wendy asked loudly on purpose.

Charlie Wade took his key and walked past Wendy before stopping in front of a huge villa. "This is my villa, A05."

Charlie Wade was very calm and composed as he used the key to open the main gate leading into the villa, before gently pushing it open.

The gate opened with a squeak and an exquisite garden appeared in front of everyone.

Click!

The main door was opened.

Wendy was stunned!

Harold and his parents were also dumbfounded at this time!

Claire Wilson Wilson also held her breath and rubbed her eyes vigorously with her hands as she looked inside.

In the center of the garden was a magnificent and spacious luxury villa surrounded by pavilions, flowers, and trees.

"This...this is way too luxurious..." Christopher was the first to recover from the shock.

Harold had a very ugly expression on his face as he said angrily, "Who would give you such a good and luxurious villa? I don't believe it!"

"I can't help it if you don't believe me but this villa is indeed a gift from a friend," Charlie Wade simply replied as he could not be bothered to explain himself.

Wendy stared at Charlie Wade before she said in an envious manner, "Charlie Wade, do you really think that someone like you is worthy of such an expensive villa?"

Charlie Wade smiled as he replied, "That has nothing to do with you."

The crowd was silent as they stood in the open space in the garden.

No one could believe that the owner of the most expensive villa in Aurouss Hilll was none other than Charlie Wade!

Chapter 180

Wendy and Christopher could not accept this fact at all. It felt as though they were being slapped and humiliated in public! They really wanted to bury themselves in a hole right then.

This was insane!

Just then, an old man suddenly walked out of the villa.

The old man walked towards Charlie Wade before he asked in a respectful manner, "Hello, are you Mr. Wade?"

Charlie Wade nodded before he replied, "Yes, I am. May I know who you are?"

The old man replied, "Hello, Mr. Wade. I am Mr. White's butler and I am responsible for taking care of this villa. I am Barry Landon but you can call me Barry. I am in charge of the maintenance of the villa."

"Barry?" Wendy stared at him in shock as though she had just been electrocuted.

Wasn't Barry her fiancé, Gerald's butler? Why was he here?

Did this villa belong to the White family?

If that was the case, then why was it given to Charlie Wade?

Wendy quickly asked, "Barry, what is going on? Does this villa belong to the White family?"

Barry replied, "Yes, it used to belong to the White family but it belongs to Mr. Wade now."

After that, Barry looked at Charlie Wade again before he asked, "Mr. Wade, the renovation in the villa has not been completed yet. When do you plan to move in? I will ask the workers to work faster and I will make all the necessary preparations for you in advance."

Charlie Wade quickly replied, "We will not be moving in for the time being. You can continue looking after the villa on my behalf. I will call you once I am ready to move in."

"Okay, Mr. Wade!"

After he was done speaking, Barry bowed to Charlie Wade before he stepped aside as he waited for him to enter the villa.

Wendy was still in shock and her family members were also very surprised at this time.

"The White family's butler?" Wendy said in shock. "Are you talking about Gerald's family?"

Charlie Wade looked at her before he smiled and said, "Yes. I am talking about Gerald's family. His uncle gave me this house."

"What?!" Wendy felt that her brain was going to explode!

This villa originally belonged to her fiancé's family?

In other words, she would have been the owner of this villa in the future?

Why did they give the villa to Charlie Wade?

This was her villa!

Wendy's parents were also very puzzled and angry at the same time.

Their daughter was marrying into the White family in the future. The White family should have left the villa to their daughter. So, why did they give it to Charlie Wade instead? This was ridiculous!

Hannah quickly asked Wendy, "Wendy, what is going on? Did you know that the White family owned this villa?"

Wendy shook her head before she said, "No, I did not know about it. Gerald did not mention it to me..."

At this time, Hannah quickly shouted, "Hurry up and give Gerald a call! Ask him what is going on!"

"Alright."

Wendy quickly took out her cell phone to call Gerald immediately.

As soon as Gerald answered the phone, Wendy asked him, "Gerald, does your family own a villa in Thompson First?"

Gerald replied, "Yes, we own one of the villas there. What's wrong?"

At this time, Wendy replied in a dissatisfied tone, "Why didn't you tell me about this? Was this villa supposed to be our matrimonial home?"

"No," Gerald replied immediately. "My uncle bought that villa so he can use it as his retirement home in the future. He really likes the environment at Thompson First. Why would he give us that villa?"

After that, Gerald continued asking, "How did you know about the villa?"

Wendy felt so aggrieved that she started crying at this time. "Did you know that your uncle gave his villa away?"

"Gave it away?" Gerald asked in surprise. "Who did he give it to?"

Wendy continued crying before she replied, "He gave it to Charlie Wade! My useless brother-in-law, Charlie Wade!"

Chapter 181

Gerald was also stunned.

The villa at Thompson First was the most valuable property owned by the White family.

This house was owned by Zeke, the current head of the White family, who was Gerald's uncle.

Zeke was Kevin's father, and Gerald's father was only second-in-command.

Even though Gerald and his father really loved Thompson First, there was no way they could afford such an expensive villa!

Therefore, Gerald felt extremely shocked and uncomfortable when he heard that his uncle had actually given this villa to Charlie Wade. He immediately told Wendy over the phone, "Wendy, give me a minute. I will ask my uncle about this."

Wendy hung up the phone before she glared at Charlie Wade as she gritted her teeth and asked, "Charlie Wade, what did you do? How did you trick Uncle White into giving you this villa?"

At this time, Charlie Wade replied in a light manner, "Mr. White offered me this villa on his own accord."

"You are lying!" Wendy suddenly blurted out. "You're not related to the White family at all! Why would Uncle White give you such an expensive villa for no reason? You must have gotten this villa from him using some sort of despicable means!"

At this time, Wendy suddenly received a phone call from Gerald. "Wendy, it seems as though my uncle is very busy right now. He hung up on me without saying anything at all."

Charlie Wade sneered before he took out his cell phone. After that, he turned on the speaker before he called Zeke directly.

As soon as the phone started ringing, the other party answered the call immediately.

Wendy was stunned.

"Mr. Wade!" Zeke exclaimed in a flattering manner over the other end of the line. "Mr. Wade, have you gone to Thompson First to check out the villa that I gave you? Are you satisfied with the villa?"

Charlie Wade responded immediately, "Yes, I'm looking at the villa right now. It's a really beautiful villa. Thank you."

Zeke quickly replied, "Mr. Wade, there's no need to thank me. I'm glad that you like it!"

Charlie Wade continued speaking in a calm manner, "The reason I'm calling today is to let you know that I'm very satisfied with the villa."

"Mr. Wade, please do not hesitate to let me know if there's anything else you need. I'll definitely try my best to get things done for you. I'll make sure that you're satisfied!"

Everyone around Charlie Wade was shocked at this time.

They did not expect to hear that Zeke had given this villa to Charlie Wade voluntarily. Why did he do that?

Moreover, Zeke was Wendy's future father-in-law but he actually had to be so respectful and humble in front of Charlie Wade. Wendy could not stop herself from feeling extremely frustrated at this time.

Finally, she could not hold her anger in any longer. Therefore, she suddenly spoke in a loud manner as she interrupted Charlie Wade's phone call, "Uncle White, I am Gerald's fiancée, Wendy. Why would you give Charlie Wade this villa for no reason at all? Could you tell me the reason why?"

"What? Who do you think you are? Do you really think you have the right to ask me about my personal affairs?"

Zeke replied in a cold manner.

Wendy's face flushed red immediately.

At this time, Charlie Wade simply replied, "Mr. White, I think you should give them an explanation on this matter. Otherwise, they're very convinced that I've tricked you into giving me the villa."

"Okay!" Zeke replied immediately. "Since Mr. Wade wants me to explain myself, then I will explain it to you because I am giving him face. I owe Mr. Wade a huge favor because he saved my life. Therefore, I'm giving him this villa as a gift and token of my gratitude. I hope that you clowns will stop doubting Mr. Wade because if you continue to doubt him, I won't let you off!"

Wendy felt very aggrieved at this time. Her face turned red because she felt so embarrassed that her future father-in-law actually scolded her in front of everyone else.

When Christopher saw that Wendy was so aggrieved, he coughed before he said, "Mr. White, Wendy is still a young child. She only asked you about the villa out of curiosity. She had no other intentions."

Zeke ignored Christopher and he simply said in a respectful manner, "Mr. Wade, is there anything else you would like me to explain?"

"No, that is it," Charlie Wade replied.

"Okay then. I won't bother you anymore, Mr. Wade. Please call me whenever you need my help."

After that, Charlie Wade immediately hung up the phone.

Chapter 182

"Charlie Wade, is this... did the White family really give this villa to you?" Jacob Wilson asked Charlie Wade in surprise when he finally regained his senses.

"Yes, dad," Charlie Wade replied as he smiled.

"This... you..." Jacob Wilson stuttered. He felt as though he was still dreaming.

Claire Wilson hurried over to her father before she said, "Dad, why don't you sit down and rest for a while? Since Mr. White has already explained the situation to everyone, everyone should know clearly now that this villa rightfully belongs to Charlie Wade."

Claire Wilson specifically emphasized the words 'rightfully belongs' because she wanted her relatives to hear her loud and clear.

Hannah held her hand against her chest in disbelief before she muttered, "The White family must be really insane! If they wanted to give this villa to someone else, why didn't they give it to me instead?"

Hannah was not the only one in disbelief because the rest of them were also very shocked at this time. In fact, Harold was extremely jealous of Charlie Wade.

He could never afford to buy this villa even if he worked hard for ten lifetimes, but how did this good fortune fall on someone like Charlie Wade?!

What kind of luck did he have?

Christopher's face was still pale, and the fact that Zeke had ignored him did not matter anymore. He felt that this villa should have been his daughter's property in the future, but unfortunately, it had ended up in Charlie Wade's hands instead. This was totally unacceptable!

He looked at his daughter who was still crying miserably before he looked at Charlie Wade, and he could feel his heart sinking immediately.

He had always looked down on Jacob Wilson for the longest time, but now, the latter was actually so many steps above him because of his son-in-law. How could he accept this?

Christopher suddenly spoke up and asked, "Charlie Wade, what kind of favor does Mr. White owe you? Are you going to help him under the Wilson family's name?"

Charlie Wade replied lightly, "Well, this is my personal business, so there is no need for me to explain myself to you!"

After that, Charlie Wade turned around and spoke to Barry. "It is already getting late. Please help me to see the guests off."

Even though Christopher claimed to be his 'elder', he was nothing at all in Charlie Wade's eyes!

Barry nodded respectfully before he said to the crowd, "Excuse me, and please follow me. I will lead everyone to the door."

Christopher glared at Charlie Wade furiously before he calmly walked out of the villa.

Wendy also shot Charlie Wade a look of resentment before following after her father's footsteps.

They felt extremely broken at this time.

They could not imagine how a useless son-in-law who depended on his wife could actually run into such good luck!

Finally, Barry closed the door behind him before going back to the guest room without disturbing Charlie Wade and his family.

After Harold's family had left the villa, Claire Wilson suddenly asked, "Charlie Wade, it is time for you to tell us the truth now. Why don't you tell us what you did for the White family and why they owe you for this favor?"

Charlie Wade hesitated for a moment because he did not know how he should explain himself.

A few days ago, the White family had helped Jack to hold a banquet and competition where they wanted to unify the entire metaphysics community in Aurouss Hilll. However, Jack had been struck to death by Charlie Wade's own Thunder Order, and the White family had been so afraid that he would also condemn them. Therefore, Zeke had decided to give him the villa as a token of their appreciation and to show how grateful he was toward Charlie Wade. In fact, they were simply afraid that Charlie Wade would be so angry that he might kill them without any hesitation at all.

After thinking about it, Charlie Wade finally replied, "I helped the White family with their Feng Shui matters. Therefore, they decided to repay me by giving this villa to me."

"What?!" Claire Wilson Wilson and her parents were shocked.

"Charlie Wade, you helped other people to look at their Feng Shui?" Claire Wilson Wilson's eyes widened in disbelief.

Charlie Wade nodded. "Yes."

Claire Wilson Wilson continued questioning him with a puzzled expression on her face. "Where did you learn about Feng Shui anyway?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "By watching the television! There are so many Feng Shui programs on television nowadays!"

Upon hearing that, Claire Wilson Wilson began panicking as she blurted out, "Charlie Wade, are you insane?! Who gave you the courage to give Feng Shui advice to other people just because you watched some Feng Shui programs on television?! Moreover, you actually dared to accept such an expensive villa as a token?"

Chapter 183

When Charlie Wade saw that Claire Wilson Wilson was panicking, he smiled before assuring her. "My dear wife, don't worry about the villa. Mr. White will never come and cause any trouble because of this villa."

Jacob Wilson continued shaking his head. "No. Last time when you helped the Quinton family with their Feng Shui problem, you already spent one hundred million dollars of their money just to bid on the clamshell. Now, the White family is actually giving you a villa just to thank you! These two families are both extremely famous and prestigious in Aurouss Hilll. I am afraid that they will regret their decision in the future, and sooner or later, they will come and demand that you give everything back to them!"

Jacob Wilson continued speaking, "You should return the villa to the White family as soon as possible. Otherwise, I am afraid that all of us are doomed if they try to settle the score with us!"

At this time, Charlie Wade's mother-in-law suddenly blurted out, "What do you mean?! Why should we return the villa to the White family? After all, Mr. Zeke was the one who gave this villa to Charlie Wade. Charlie Wade did not steal this villa from anyone! This villa will be our home in the future!"

Elaine Ma had never imagined that she would ever have the opportunity to live in such a luxurious villa. Now that they had finally acquired the villa, Jacob Wilson was asking her son-in-law to return the villa. Wasn't this equivalent to killing her?

Claire Wilson Wilson replied helplessly, "Mom! We should not be accepting this kind of gift from others! It will definitely be very troublesome in the future."

"There will not be any trouble at all!" Elaine Ma snorted as she looked at Charlie Wade before saying, "Oh, Charlie Wade, I really did not expect you to be so capable. I would not have expected you to have such a great ability to actually earn such a big villa for us to live in!"

Elaine Ma smiled and said excitedly, "I really have a terrific son-in-law! You should have started giving Feng Shui advice to other people earlier. That way, we would have been rich a long time ago!"

Jacob Wilson could not tolerate his wife any longer. Thus, he quickly spoke up and said, "Wife! This is not just about the villa! Even if Charlie Wade really gave them some Feng Shui advice, how is it appropriate for him to accept a villa like this? Wouldn't we be in a lot of trouble if the White family regrets their decision in the future?"

Elaine Ma jumped up in anger as soon as she heard Jacob Wilson's words. Then, she pointed a finger at Jacob Wilson before she said, "Don't give me all these unnecessary excuses! I have been suffering and living in poverty all my life with you! I finally have the opportunity to live in a big and luxurious villa, and yet, you are asking me to give it back? Let me tell you something, Jacob Wilson. If you force your son-in-law to give this villa up, I will divorce you immediately!"

"You... you... you really are the most materialistic woman I have ever seen in my life!"

Jacob Wilson was so angry and at a loss for words that he simply sat down on the sofa.

Charlie Wade smiled before saying, "Dad, don't worry about it. This villa will not be taken away."

"My good son-in-law, you are really very capable!"

Elaine Ma continued looking around the villa as she touched the antiques and calligraphy paintings that were hanging on the wall. Overjoyed, she said, "Christopher can show off as much as he wants! Now, I am the one living in this beautiful and luxurious villa while his family can only afford to buy one of the units in the high rise condominium outside! I am really very happy today~"

Claire Wilson Wilson could not take it anymore, finally pulling Charlie Wade aside and whispering, "Charlie Wade, tell me the truth. What is going on?"

Charlie Wade replied, "My dear wife, don't worry too much about it. I assure you that this is a legitimate income and I did not cheat or lie to get it. However, it is rather inconvenient for me to explain everything to you right now. I promise I will tell you everything when I have the chance to do so in the future."

"Alright then. I will believe you since you say that there is a reason for all of this," Claire Wilson Wilson replied after thinking it over for a short while. "But Charlie Wade, I don't think that you should continue giving Feng Shui advice to others. Otherwise, my dad and I will be very worried."

Charlie Wade took this opportunity to hold her hand and say, "Don't worry, Claire Wilson Wilson. I will not do anything to make you worry. Dad is still pushing us to have a child, what would you do if something were to happen to me?"

"Don't be silly."

Meanwhile, Elaine Ma was exclaiming excitedly as she walked down the stairs.

"When I come back from my trip next week, I am going to invite all the people that I know to come and visit this new villa that I have just bought!"

As soon as she heard her mother's words, Claire Wilson Wilson replied immediately, "Mom! This villa was given to Charlie Wade..."

"He is our son-in-law, so the villa that is given to him naturally belongs to us too."

Chapter 184

Elaine Ma felt very triumphant as she shook the jade bracelet on her hand. "I have already sent a text message to some of my friends. Many of them are already jealous of me because of this jade bracelet, and now, I even have a big and luxurious villa!"

Charlie Wade looked at the jade bracelet on his mother-in-law's hand. In actual fact, that was the bracelet that Graham had given to him, and he had been planning on giving it to Claire Wilson Wilson in the first place. However, who would have expected that Elaine Ma would take it for herself instead.

At the White family mansion.

Gerald was standing in the hall as he reported what he had just found out to his father over the phone.

After he was done speaking, Gerald hesitated for a moment before he raised his head and said, "Dad, is uncle confused? He did not even stay a single day in that villa, but he did not hesitate at all to give it to Charlie Wade! You have to persuade him to take it back from Charlie Wade!"

Gerald's father had a solemn expression on his face as he continued to sit on the sofa.

Gerald had just informed him that his uncle had given the villa at Thompson First to Charlie Wade.

He did not believe it at first, and so, he had gone to verify this information with his brother, Zeke, only to find out that Gerald's report was true after all.

Moreover, Zeke had refused to tell him the reason why he had given the villa to Charlie Wade. Instead, he simply stated that he owed the latter a favor.

What kind of favor could Zeke possibly owe Charlie Wade that would make him give away such an expensive villa when he had always been an extremely stingy man?

At this time, Gerald's father simply said, "I have already called your uncle. It seems as though he is very determined about giving the villa to Charlie Wade. Therefore, it is highly unlikely that he would ask Charlie Wade to return the villa to him."

Gerald gritted his teeth before saying, "Dad, don't you think that there is something wrong with Charlie Wade? We have been investigating and looking into his background for such a long time, but it seems as though we can never find any news or information about him at all. Don't you find that extremely strange?"

Gerald's father pondered for a while before he replied, "Well, your uncle has always been a shrewd person throughout his entire life, and he would never reward Charlie Wade for no reason at all. So, no matter what it is and even if there is really something wrong with Charlie Wade, you should not provoke him in any way. I will check with your uncle tonight to find out everything about Charlie Wade."

"Okay."

At the same time, Christopher and his wife were also very unhappy with Charlie Wade. Consequently, they were complaining about Charlie Wade to Lady Wilson right then.

Wendy snorted as she cried in front of Lady Wilson. "Grandma, I do not know what Charlie Wade did to deceive the White family into giving him the biggest villa in Thompson First! That villa is worth more than one hundred million dollars! Moreover, he did not invite you to live in the villa, but he even drove our whole family out of the villa just now! Don't you think that is too much?"

Lady Wilson was sitting on the sofa, and currently, she had a very displeased expression on her face as she snorted, "Yes! I agree that Charlie Wade does not have any respect for his elders at all!"

"Yes, mom! Charlie Wade is so shameless!" Christopher agreed with a calm expression on his face. "As one of the sons-in-law of the Wilson family, he should have naturally offered to share any good things that he has with you! The villa that you are living in, as well as the furniture, is already so outdated. We should have moved into a newer place with better furniture a long time ago. If Charlie Wade really respects you, he would offer to give you the villa at Thompson First! He should allow you to enjoy and live in the villa."

Lady Wilson's eyes lit up as soon as she heard Christopher's words.

After all, they had already been living in this villa for more than ten years. Even though the exterior of the villa was still very stylish, it was already an old property. Since it was situated in a bad location, the villa was worth at most ten to twenty million dollars.

The villa at Thompson First was definitely a hundred times better than this villa. Therefore, the old lady felt greedy immediately because she could never afford to live in a villa like that.

However, as soon as she heard the news that Charlie Wade was the owner of the biggest villa in Thompson First, she had the same opinion as Christopher. She felt that as the head of the Wilson family, she should be given the privilege to enjoy the villa!

Chapter 185

As Lady Wilson was dreaming about moving into the villa at Thompson First, Christopher suddenly rubbed his hands and sighed before he said, "Mom, I am planning to send someone to invite Loreen's family to come over as our guests. After that, I am hoping to propose to the Thomas family for Loreen and Harold to be married. What do you think about my suggestion?"

"The Thomas family..." Lady Wilson sighed as she replied, "Previously, Harold left Loreen behind and ran away by himself! I believe that Loreen does not have a good impression of him."

At this time, Christopher said, "I think that something like that is actually harmless. Since both of our families are business partners, I believe that the Thomas family will be more focused on the future development prospects if our children were to get married. Even though the Wilson family cannot be compared to the Thomas family, we have the Emgrand Group to support us. Moreover, there are still a lot of things that we could do to enhance the future collaboration between our families. Therefore, I think that the Thomas family will definitely agree with this marriage proposal."

Lady Wilson pondered for a moment before she nodded and said, "In this case, let's try to extend our invitation to them to see whether the Thomas family would be interested in coming to Aurouss Hilll as our guests."

"Okay!" Christopher replied in a hurry. After that, he continued speaking, "Mom, the Thomas family is a very reputable and wealthy family. If we do not live in a decent villa when they visit us, we will definitely lose face in front of them. If that is the case, they will definitely turn down the marriage proposal."

"However, if you can get Charlie Wade to hand over the big and luxurious villa in Thompson First to us, the Thomas family will definitely agree to visit Aurouss Hilll as our guests. Moreover, they will also think very highly of us when they see us living in a villa at Thompson First. Don't you agree with me?"

Lady Wilson nodded her head immediately.

Living in a villa that was worth one hundred million dollars would significantly improve other people's perceptions and impressions of the Wilson family.

Therefore, she quickly replied, "Ask your brother to bring his family here tomorrow! I will speak to them personally."

Harold and Wendy exchanged glances with one another, feeling extremely delighted.

Jacob Wilson's family relied on the family company to earn their living. Moreover, Lady Wilson was still the head of the Wilson family. Would Jacob Wilson and his family have the audacity to turn down her request?

If the old lady asked him to surrender the villa over to her, could he say no?

Since the old lady had always had a preference for Christopher, as long as Charlie Wade handed this villa over to Lady Wilson, the villa would eventually belong to Christopher's family in the future!

Jacob Wilson led his daughter and son-in-law to the Wilson family villa early the next morning.

After opening the car door, Claire Wilson Wilson could not help but ask, "Dad, did grandma tell you the reason why she wants us to go over to her house today? Is there anything important?"

"She said that we will talk about it when we get there," Jacob Wilson replied after getting into the car. "Your uncle, Christopher, and his family will also be there."

Charlie Wade frowned immediately because he knew that it would not be a good situation.

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson spoke furiously, "Why else do you think she has called us over there today?! It must be because of the villa!"

"Well, if it's regarding the villa, Charlie Wade can explain the situation to your grandmother."

Jacob Wilson did not think too much of it and simply got into the car before urging Charlie Wade to drive as fast as he could.

They finally arrived in front of the Wilson family villa at half-past nine in the morning.

Charlie Wade could not help but raise his brows as soon as he stepped into the living room.

Lady Wilson was sitting on the sofa, and Christopher was standing next to her. Harold and Wendy were standing on the other side of the living room.

Not only that, but several other relatives and elders from the Wilson family were sitting in the living room as well. Right then, the entire young and older generation of the Wilson family was staring at Jacob Wilson and his family.

Wasn't this an intervention?

Jacob Wilson had always been an honest and kind man, and he would never have expected his mother to do this to him.

Chapter 186

When Jacob Wilson saw that everyone was waiting for his family, he quickly lowered his head as he greeted his mother and elder brother with a smile on his face.

Christopher pretended not to hear him and simply ignored him without saying anything at all.

Lady Wilson nodded lightly.

Jacob Wilson quickly asked, "Mom, why did you ask us to come over here today? Is anything the matter?"

"I want to ask you something. Do you own one of the villas in Thompson First?" Lady Wilson asked coldly.

At this time, Jacob Wilson quickly replied, "Yes, mom. Mr. White gave the villa to Charlie Wade because he gave him some advice regarding some Feng Shui matters."

"Feng Shui advice?" Harold snorted before he said, "If Charlie Wade really got the villa because he simply gave someone some Feng Shui advice, everyone in the Wilson family should just quit their jobs and work as Feng Shui masters, then!"

Everyone in the living room snorted upon hearing this.

Jacob Wilson could only force a laugh when he heard his relatives ridiculing him.

On the contrary, Christopher laughed before he said, "Mom, no matter what kind of person Charlie Wade is, and no matter what he did to get the villa, Mr. White himself has called to clarify that he was the one who gave Charlie Wade the villa as a gift. Therefore, there is no need for you to force Jacob Wilson to explain how they got the villa."

Jacob Wilson looked at his bother gratefully because he felt very thankful at this time.

His elder brother would usually disregard him and put him down, but unexpectedly, he was actually speaking up for him today!

Christopher continued smiling as he carried on talking to Lady Wilson. "Mom, you don't have to ask Jacob Wilson how the villa came about. We have nothing to worry about since Mr. White has already clarified that he gave Charlie Wade the villa as a gift."

"Okay." Lady Wilson nodded before she turned around to look at Jacob Wilson. "Jacob Wilson, your elder brother is planning to arrange for a marriage proposal with the Thomas family. He intends to matchmake Harold with Loreen. What do you think about this matter?"

"That is a good thing," Jacob Wilson replied as he smiled. "The Thomas family is very reputable and famous in the capital. If Harold can really marry Loreen, it would definitely be very beneficial for the Wilson family."

"Yes, it would really be a good thing for the Wilson family." Lady Wilson sighed before she continued speaking. "However, I feel as though the Wilson family can never be compared to the Thomas family. Even if your brother has the heart to ask for Loreen to be matchmade to Harold, he does not dare to approach the Thomas family."

Jacob Wilson nodded seriously before he said, "Mom, to be honest, I think that Loreen will not be interested in Harold either."

The expression on Harold's face changed immediately, and he burst out, "Second Uncle, what do you mean by that?!"

At this time, Jacob Wilson suddenly realized that he had said something wrong, and he quickly tried to rectify it. "Oh, what I meant is that the Wilson family really cannot be compared to the Thomas family at all."

Lady Wilson simply replied, "If we were to live in the biggest and most luxurious villa in Aurouss Hilll, the Thomas family would not look down on us when they come to visit Aurouss Hilll as our guests."

Jacob Wilson stared at his mother with a surprised expression on his face. "Mom, are you intending to buy a new house?"

Lady Wilson quickly responded, "How I wish that I could move into a bigger and newer house, but unfortunately, I do not have enough money to do so."

As soon as Jacob Wilson heard his mother's words, he quickly said, "Mom, if you need money, I still have about one million dollars that I can give to you."

Lady Wilson snorted immediately. "Do you know that the cost of a villa can range from tens of millions to hundreds of millions? What could I possibly do with one million dollars?"

After that, she deliberately said, "Jacob Wilson, doesn't your family have a villa that is ready in Thompson First?"

"Yes, we do," Jacob Wilson replied in a daze because he did not know what she was implying. "What about it?"

"What do you mean?" The old lady replied unhappily. "I am your mother! Can you really bear to see me living in this old house for so many years? Now that you own the biggest and most luxurious villa in Thompson First, wouldn't it be right for you to honor me and give that villa to me so that I can live there instead?"

Chapter 187

Jacob Wilson was taken aback, and he quickly replied, "Mom, I am sorry, but the White family gave the villa to Charlie Wade, not to me."

Lady Wilson started to lose her patience at this time, and she could not even be bothered to hide her intentions anymore. Upon hearing that, she said, "Charlie Wade is the son-in-law of the Wilson family! Therefore, the villa that the White family gave to Charlie Wade also belongs to the Wilson family! As the head of the Wilson family, don't you think that I have the right to live in that villa?"

Right then, Charlie Wade could not help but sneer at the old lady's words. He had not said anything before this because he had already expected nothing good would come out of this family gathering today.

It turned out that the old lady was trying to take the villa away from him.

When Jacob Wilson finally understood what his mother really wanted from him, he started sweating profusely and stammering as he looked at Charlie Wade with a face filled with embarrassment.

Christopher suddenly spoke triumphantly. "Jacob Wilson, you are Charlie Wade's father-in-law. If he does not obey even your commands, isn't he a little too arrogant? What status do you have, then?"

"That's right!" Lady Wilson replied as she nodded in satisfaction. Her eyes were filled with greed, and she could not help but feel excited at the thought of living in the big and luxurious villa in Thompson First.

Claire Wilson Wilson could not stand it anymore and decided to speak up. "Grandma, the villa does not belong to the Wilson family. If you want to take the villa, you will have to ask for Charlie Wade's opinion first. If Charlie Wade is unwilling to give it away, no one can take it away from him!"

Lady Wilson frowned before glaring at Claire Wilson Wilson. She was very annoyed and unhappy right now.

"Who gave you the right to talk?"

The old lady then looked at Charlie Wade with a cold expression on her face as she said, "The villa was given to you by the White family. You are just a son-in-law of the Wilson family, and therefore, you are not qualified to enjoy it. Go to the company's finance department tomorrow and take one hundred thousand dollars as a reward for giving the villa to me."

Lady Wilson spoke in a commanding manner, as though there was no room for any discussion at all.

At this time, Christopher said, "Charlie Wade, one hundred thousand dollars is a lot of money. You are nothing but a useless brat who is living off his wife. I bet you have never seen that much money before, anyway."

Charlie Wade raised his head, and he glared at Christopher before sneering and saying, "You want to snatch the villa in Thompson First from me for a mere one hundred thousand dollars?! My villa is worth more than one hundred million dollars! Lady Wilson, don't you think that you are too shameless?"

His voice was powerful and resonant, and everyone in the living room could hear him loud and clear.

The crowd of people was shocked, and the atmosphere in the living room became completely silent at this time.

Everyone's eyes were fixed on Charlie Wade.

Surprise...

Shock...

Awe...

Claire Wilson Wilson was also shocked at this.

She did not expect Charlie Wade to be so tough and courageous!

The expression on Lady Wilson's face changed immediately as she slammed her hands on the table before yelling, "Scumbag! How dare you talk back to me?! Men! Come and throw Charlie Wade out of my house right now!"

"You do not know how to be humble, and you have no respect for your elders at all! You are such a rude and arrogant person!" Harold also reprimanded Charlie Wade at this time. "Grandma, I think that you should teach Charlie Wade a lesson according to the rules laid down by the family! He is just a son-in-law of the Wilson family. How could he be so rude and arrogant to you?"

Jacob Wilson could only stare at Charlie Wade, but he did not dare to say anything at all.

"Humble and respectful?" Charlie Wade asked as he sneered. After that, he replied coldly, "There is no need for me to be respectful to anyone here today! You are all not worthy of my respect. In fact, the only person here today who is worthy of my respect is my father-in-law, Jacob Wilson!"

These people were all extremely greedy and materialistic. He was already sick of them ever since a long time ago!

Not to mention, even though she was Jacob Wilson's mother, Lady Wilson was always very mean and disrespectful toward her own son.

Also, Christopher was Jacob Wilson's elder brother, but he had always looked down on him. Furthermore, Christopher always wanted to take away anything that belonged to his younger brother.

Chapter 188

In regards to his status as the son-in-law of the Wilson family, this group of people had never treated him as one of them.

They did not even bother about Charlie Wade at all.

Jacob Wilson was the only one who would put up with their attitude simply because he was affectionate and cared about family ties.

Moreover, Claire Wilson Wilson had always been bullied. The entire Wilson family had always despised Claire Wilson Wilson because of her position as the director of Emgrand Group.

Therefore, the Wilson family had always been trampling all over his family.

They had always been bullied!

Charlie Wade had always turned the other way for his wife's sake. He had endured their bullying for a long time, but he really did not expect this group of people to be so shameless. He would never have expected them to try and snatch his villa away from him!

"Charlie Wade, how dare you talk to grandma in that manner?" Harold yelled angrily at Charlie Wade. "I have to teach you a lesson today!"

"Do you really think that is up to you?" Charlie Wade snorted before he said contemptuously, "Harold, to me, you are nothing but a bug that can not even be compared to an ant!"

"Presumptuous!" Lady Wilson suddenly stood up as she yelled, "Charlie Wade! If you kneel down and beg for my forgiveness as well as hand the villa over to me, I will forgive you this time. Otherwise, I will ask Claire Wilson Wilson to divorce you immediately before driving you out of the house so that you can die on the streets!"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson, who had been keeping her head down all this while, suddenly raised her head and stood in front of Charlie Wade protectively before she said, "I refuse to do so! Are you my grandmother, or are you the patriarch of the Wilson family?! You have always been oppressing and mistreating my father, bullying my husband, Charlie Wade, and you have never once treated my family like your own family! I will never divorce Charlie Wade!"

"You..." Lady Wilson was extremely furious, and she pointed her finger at Claire Wilson Wilson before she yelled at Jacob Wilson, "Look! Look at how your daughter has turned out! Is this how you educate your daughter?! I want her also to kneel and beg for my forgiveness!"

At this time, Jacob Wilson slowly raised his head as he glared at Lady Wilson.

Jacob Wilson had a very dissatisfied expression on his face.

Christopher was stunned for a moment because his younger brother had always been very meek and submissive. Moreover, he had always given in to his own wife. Throughout his entire life, Jacob Wilson had never dared to talk back to his mother, but this time, he was actually glaring at his mother with such a contemptuous expression on his face!

Christopher yelled sharply, "Second Brother, why don't you hurry up and tell your daughter and son-in-law to kneel and beg for mother's forgiveness so that she can calm down?"

Jacob Wilson, who had always been very timid, was suddenly very bold as he said, "Brother, someone gave the villa to Charlie Wade. He can do whatever he wants with it. Moreover, how is it any of your business who my daughter is married to? Who gave you the right to control our lives? That villa is worth more than one hundred million dollars. It is worth more than all the assets owned by the Wilson family. What gives you the right to occupy it?"

"You... you... are a useless son!" Lady Wilson was trembling in anger, and she grabbed the teacup in her hand before throwing it directly at Jacob Wilson.

Jacob Wilson did not hide or dodge, but instead, he simply stood still. The teacup hit his head before it fell to the ground, shattering into pieces.

The tea dripped all over his face and body as he stood there motionlessly.

"Dad!" Claire Wilson Wilson cried out loud, and her eyes flushed red.

She could tolerate it if anyone tried to humiliate her, but she would not tolerate it if anyone humiliated her father!

Jacob Wilson stood still as the tea flowed down his head, and after that, he raised his head before he said coldly, "Mom, if there is nothing else, we will go back first."

After he was done speaking, he looked at Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson who were standing next to him before he said, "Let's go." After that, he turned around and walked toward the door without looking back at all.

Claire Wilson Wilson wiped the tears off her face and glanced bitterly at the people in the living room before she turned around and walked away without any hesitation whatsoever.

Charlie Wade did not even bother looking at the crowd of people. Instead, he simply turned around and left without saying a word.

Christopher was so furious that he felt as though he was about to explode!

Chapter 189

In actual fact, Christopher had already carefully planned out everything with Lady Wilson last night.

Moreover, he had intentionally invited all the respected elders in the Wilson family to attend the family gathering today.

Christopher initially thought that Jacob Wilson would voluntarily hand over the villa if they forced him to do so.

He had also planned to force Jacob Wilson to hand the villa over by threatening him if he refused to do so.

Jacob Wilson had always been very timid, and he would always shiver in fear whenever his mother reprimanded him. Therefore, Christopher was confident that Jacob Wilson would certainly hand the villa over to Lady Wilson if she demanded him to do so.

Besides, Christopher had no respect for Claire Wilson Wilson at all. She was a married woman, thus, she did not have any right to say anything.

Moreover, she was even married to a piece of trash!

As for Charlie Wade, he could not even be bothered about him.

He was just a mere son-in-law of the Wilson family who had no status at all, and he did not have any qualifications to speak or talk back to them!

He should just hand over the villa if he was asked to do so!

However, Christopher did not expect Jacob Wilson to actually have the courage to talk back to the old lady because he was pushed to a dead end!

Also, Claire Wilson Wilson, as Lady Wilson's granddaughter, did not even bother to obey her grandmother's instructions.

Even Charlie Wade, that piece of trash, was courageous and disrespectful enough to point his finger at the old lady and call her shameless!

"Your family is really incorrigible!" Christopher yelled as he grit his teeth. After that, he turned around and said, "Mom! You cannot let them leave like that! If you let them go just like that, they would definitely think that they are higher than the Wilson family in the future! What power will you have as the head of the Wilson family, then?"

The expression on Lady Wilson's face was extremely ugly. She had always had a strong desire to be in control of everything.

After the death of the old man, she had taken over the position as the head of the Wilson family, and, she had never allowed anyone to challenge her authority.

Yet, she had never expected Jacob Wilson and his family to publicly disobey her today, and this really made her very furious! She resented them!

Hence, she yelled, "You really are a disgrace to the Wilson family! All of you are members of the Wilson family, and as long as I am still alive, you have to obey me!"

After that, the old lady instructed the bodyguards, "Close the doors! I have to teach the three of you a lesson today!"

Her granddaughter and her grandson-in-law were here, but they did not have any respect for her at all.

She did not know how Jacob Wilson could have educated his child to be so rude and disrespectful toward her elders.

If she did not punish them severely today, how could she continue to be the head of the Wilson family?

Furthermore, if she allowed them to leave just like that, she would never be able to take the villa at Thompson First from them.

She had already lived such a long life, but she had never dreamt of living in such a big and luxurious villa. Now that the villa was finally in her son's hands, she had to do anything in her power to take it from him so that she could enjoy it herself.

The only way they could ever leave the Wilson family was if they gave the villa to her!

Following that, a group of bodyguards suddenly appeared and surrounded the three of them.

Charlie Wade stood in the courtyard and glared at the bodyguards coldly before he said, "If anyone of you dares to take another step forward, don't blame me for being ruthless."

"You are just a piece of trash, and you still dare to make empty threats here!?"

One of the bodyguards yelled angrily as he rushed toward Charlie Wade with a baton in his hand.

Charlie Wade snorted coldly as he grabbed the baton from the other party's hand before striking him on his leg.

The bodyguard fell to the ground immediately after Charlie Wade attacked him, and he could not help but kneel in front of Charlie Wade in an awkward position. Judging from the angle of his leg, his leg was already broken!

"How dare you!"

At this time, Charlie Wade threw the broken baton onto the ground.

Chapter 190

Everyone in the courtyard was shocked at this time.

The baton was made out of the hardest yellow elmwood and was extremely tough. Even two sturdy men would find it very difficult to break this baton even if they used all of their strength.

However, in Charlie Wade's hands, the baton appeared to be as weak as a strand of noodles!

After practicing the fighting skills in the , Charlie Wade's strength had already significantly increased, and so, these bodyguards did not pose a threat to him at all.

Jacob Wilson heaved a huge sigh of relief when he saw that Charlie Wade had already taken action.

He did not expect his son-in-law to be so capable! It seemed as though the three of them would be able to leave the Wilson family villa safely today.

The bodyguards at the Wilson family villa were all hired by Christopher, and he was very confident with their skills. However, the bodyguards were a little flustered when they saw how strong Charlie Wade was.

Christopher grit his teeth before saying, "Charlie Wade! I really did not expect you to have some fighting skills, but let me see how you are going to deal with so many people at once! I want all of you to attack him right now!"

"Yes! Attack him together! You can even kill him if you want to!" Harold yelled as he ground his teeth in anger.

He had already suffered a loss because of Charlie Wade not too long ago, therefore, he planned to get his revenge today.

The group of bodyguards quickly rushed at Charlie Wade as soon as they received the command to do so.

Charlie Wade had an indifferent expression on his face and simply ignored them. However, when a few bodyguards suddenly rushed toward the three of them, Charlie Wade raised his foot and kicked two of the bodyguards in one strike.

Immediately afterward, he threw out a few more punches and instantly knocked out all the bodyguards who had rushed directly at him.

Claire Wilson Wilson was standing beside him, and she was utterly stunned. She really did not expect Charlie Wade to be so strong and manly.

When Jacob Wilson saw the shocked expression on Claire Wilson Wilson's face, he quickly explained, "Claire Wilson Wilson, when you go to work, Charlie Wade would always practice how to fight by watching television at home."

"He is learning how to fight?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was really impressed by this.

Jacob Wilson continued explaining, "Charlie Wade is very resourceful. Mr. Graham also apologized to him because of his skills in the past!"

Jacob Wilson suddenly felt a little guilty when he saw Charlie Wade dealing with the bodyguards all by himself.

After all, the Wilson family had always underestimated Charlie Wade, only ever asking him to stay at home so that he could buy vegetables to cook and do the laundry for the family. However, Jacob Wilson knew that Charlie Wade was still a man, and he had his own pride and dignity too.

Which man would be willing to wash the dishes and do the laundry for the family for his entire life?

It seemed as though the Wilson family had really mistreated Charlie Wade.

Meanwhile, Charlie Wade fought and defeated all the bodyguards without any fear at all, turning the situation in the courtyard extremely chaotic.

Wendy and Lady Wilson had also run into the house to seek shelter a long time ago, but all the men were still waiting in the courtyard.

Harold looked extremely annoyed because he had never expected Charlie Wade to be so skillful. After seeing that Charlie Wade had already gained the upper hand, Harold grit his teeth as he bent over and picked up an ax before he secretly walked over to Charlie Wade. While Charlie Wade was focused on fighting one of the bodyguards, Harold quickly swung the ax in his direction.

"Charlie Wade, be careful!"

Claire Wilson Wilson screamed when she saw the bright reflection of the ax under the sun.

"D*mn it! You are just a piece of trash! I am going to kill you today!"

Harold rushed toward Charlie Wade, hatred filling up his heart.

Jacob Wilson was so frightened at this time, and his legs felt so weak that he almost collapsed to the ground.

They... they wanted to take Charlie Wade's life!

Right then, Harold swung the ax at Charlie Wade once again.

However, Charlie Wade's reflexes were swift, and he raised his hand before stopping the ax with two fingers as he turned around to glare at Harold.

Harold was shocked, and he used all of his strength to try and take the ax back from Charlie Wade.

Unexpectedly, even with just two fingers, Charlie Wade's grip was exceptionally strong, and Harold could not move the ax at all.

Unable to do anything, Harold started sweating, and he yelled, "You piece of trash, let go now!"

Charlie Wade stared at him before he sneered, "Harold, I think you should know better than anyone else that you are the piece of thrash!"

Chapter 191

"Are you going to stand there and watch Harold commit murder?!"

When Jacob Wilson saw Harold swinging an ax at Charlie Wade, he could not help but roar out loudly in anger.

However, at this time, Lady Wilson and Christopher could not be bothered at all. They continued to sit inside the house as they watched the fight that was going on in the courtyard, not even blinking their eyelids!

The other members of the Wilson family also remained silent, as though everything happening right then had nothing to do with them at all.

Moreover, at present, Lady Wilson was only interested in the villa.

She did not care about anything else!

Sometimes, the older a person was, the greedier he would be!

Even in the past, the king would want to build a bigger, better, and more extravagant palace, going as far as to prepare a better tombstone for himself as he got older and older.

Therefore, the older Lady Wilson was, the more she hoped that she would be able to enjoy the rest of her life better.

The old lady wanted to live in a bigger and more luxurious home, and she wanted to die and be buried in a better place.

She also wanted endless glory and wealth in her next life!

So, this was the reason why the older generation would always want to prepare a thick coffin and a gorgeous grave for themselves.

Hence, no matter what happened today, Lady Wilson had to get her hands on the villa that was worth one hundred and thirty million dollars!

Even if Harold really killed Charlie Wade in the process, it did not matter to her as long as she could get the villa.

Jacob Wilson and Claire Wilson Wilson raised their heads as they looked at this group of people who had hearts as cold as ice.

These were their so-called relatives whom they were related to by blood!

These so-called relatives did not hesitate to set up a situation to rob them of their property, and they were even prepared to kill to get what they wanted!

At this time, Christopher simply replied, "Brother, why are you so worried? Harold is just fooling around. Why are you taking this so seriously? Furthermore, it does not matter at all even if he really hurts Charlie Wade since he is not from the Wilson family anyway."

In his opinion, Charlie Wade was just a son-in-law who had no power, influence, or authority. Therefore, he felt that there was nothing that Charlie Wade could do even if Harold injured him severely.

Moreover, if Charlie Wade really died in this fight, they would be able to take the villa from him easily.

That villa was worth one hundred and thirty million dollars, and prices for properties were currently soaring!

If they managed to take the villa from Charlie Wade, they could simply allow the old lady to live there first, and by the time the old lady had passed on, the villa would probably be worth at least two hundred million dollars!

Two hundred million dollars! Who would be able to resist this kind of temptation?

"I do not have an elder brother like you!"

Jacob Wilson yelled angrily before he picked up a mop and started hitting Harold with it.

Christopher frowned immediately because he was afraid that his son would get injured. He quickly rushed forward to stop Jacob Wilson.

"This is your own doing! You don't want any way out at all, do you?"

Before he could even finish his sentence, Jacob Wilson had already hit him with the mop. Fortunately, Christopher managed to dodge his attack on time, and so, the stick only hit him on his shoulder, and he yelled out in pain immediately.

When she saw her father who was usually very kind and mild-mannered acting this way because he was so angry, Claire Wilson Wilson could not help but feel only hatred and resentment toward the Wilson family. At the same time, she was also anxious about Charlie Wade's safety.

Charlie Wade was still holding onto the ax blade, and at this point, he was staring at Harold as he ridiculed him, "Harold, let me tell you the truth. You have never been a threat to me, and you will never ever be a threat to me because you are so useless!"

"Go to hell, Charlie Wade!"

Harold was filled with anger. "You are nothing but a piece of trash, and yet, you actually dare to speak to me like this..."

Before he could finish speaking, Charlie Wade had grabbed his wrist directly before pushing it back in the other direction.

A crisp 'pop' sound was heard before Harold screamed out in pain.

Charlie Wade had broken his right hand by bending it back a hundred and eighty degrees!

Harold howled out loud before he slumped to the ground, continuing to cry out in pain.

Chapter 192

Lady Wilson was furious when she saw that Charlie Wade had broken her grandson's wrist right before her very eyes.

She was so angry that she rushed over to him immediately because she wanted to give him a tight slap across his face.

As soon as she raised her hand in the air, Charlie Wade suddenly turned around and said coldly, "Old woman! You are asking to die!"

Upon saying that, Charlie Wade slapped Lady Wilson across her face with no hesitation. The old lady was so shocked that she took a few steps back immediately.

Charlie Wade's eyes were icy, and he exuded a murderous aura from his body. Even though Lady Wilson was extremely furious, she shuddered involuntarily because she felt so much pain from the slap that had been delivered across her face.

She covered her face with her hand before she backed away in fright.

The old lady retreated, but she did not dare to raise her head to look at Charlie Wade at all. This was the first time she had ever seen him with such a scary expression on his face.

Everyone in the Wilson family was shell-shocked!

What the hell was happening?

This piece of trash actually dared to hit Lady Wilson?

But who would dare to take revenge for the old lady at this time?

Currently, the injured bodyguards were all lying on the ground, and the remaining few bodyguards who were still standing were all filled with fear, not daring to step forward at all.

Even though the old lady really wanted to take Charlie Wade's life, she knew better than to provoke him right now. She did not know where he gained his fighting skills, and she knew that she would never be able to overtake his strength.

Claire Wilson Wilson's heart was also beating profusely, and she kept her gaze on Charlie Wade the entire time. She was in a very complicated mood and could feel her cheeks burning up.

This was the first time that she had ever found Charlie Wade to be so reliable and dependable.

In fact, before this, Claire Wilson Wilson had always thought that Charlie Wade did not know much and only knew how to buy vegetables and cook for the family.

When Charlie Wade realized that no one dared to step forward to challenge him anymore, he raised his head and glanced at the crowd of people with a deadly expression in his eyes. Then, he shouted at the two bodyguards who were trying to hide from him. "If you refuse to open the door, I will not hesitate to break your necks!"

The two bodyguards were so frightened that they hurried forward to open the door immediately.

Christopher growled, "Mom, we can't let them go just like that!"

The old lady grit her teeth bitterly as she stared at Charlie Wade and said, "Let them go!"

"Grandma, how could you let them leave now?!" Harold yelled, hatred filling his eyes. "He broke my wrist! I'm going to kill him!"

Lady Wilson suppressed the anger she felt as she shouted, "I want all of you to shut up!"

Christopher stepped forward as he said viciously, "Charlie Wade, you hurt my son and broke the rules of the Wilson family today. I will definitely make sure that you regret your actions!"

Just then, Lady Wilson suddenly spoke up and said, "From now on, Jacob Wilson and his family are no longer part of the Wilson family! I will no longer regard them as my descendants!"

Jacob Wilson raised his head as he stared at his mother with bloodstains splattered all over his face.

He replied indifferently, "I do not even want to be a part of the Wilson family anymore!"

Claire Wilson Wilson also nodded before saying, "Yes! I do not care for it at all."

The old lady grit her teeth before she continued speaking, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you really are a disgrace to the Wilson family! From now on, you are also officially removed from the Wilson Group! Since the Wilson Group is in collaboration with the Emgrand Group, they will definitely obey my instructions! As you are such an unfilial granddaughter, you will have nothing to do with the Wilson Group in the future. I want you to stay as far away from me as possible!"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied firmly, "I do not care to be in the Wilson Group anyway! Dad, let's go."

After that, Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade supported Jacob Wilson as they walked out of the Wilson family villa together without any backward glances.

Claire Wilson Wilson did not have a single bit of regret after walking out of the door.

This was because she had finally seen the true colors of all her relatives today!

Their so-called relatives could not even be compared to an outsider!

If it weren't for her parents, Claire Wilson Wilson would have drawn a clear line from the Wilson family a long time ago.

Charlie Wade was also extremely annoyed.

Lady Wilson, Christopher, and Harold were three generations of idiots!

Did they really think that they would still be able to collaborate with Emgrand Group after what had happened here today?

Chapter 193

As Charlie Wade drove, leaving the Wilson family villa in the distance, Jacob Wilson angrily said, "If I knew that my mother and elder brother were so cold-blooded, I would not have helped them so much in the past!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was sitting in the passenger seat at this time, and she could only sigh as she said, "If they are going to keep this up, the Wilson Group will definitely be ruined in no time at all."

Just then, Elaine Ma said indignantly, "The main point is the fact that we have helped them so much! Didn't they obtain the contract with Emgrand Group because of us? Now, it seems as though we've helped them for no reason at all!"

Charlie Wade replied indifferently, "Mom, if they continue acting this way, they will not end up well anyway."

The only reason why the Wilson Group could survive until today was because of their collaboration with the Emgrand Group. However, they did not know that Emgrand Group belonged to him!

They had already offended him like this, and they were still thinking of making money off Emgrand Group?

They were daydreaming!

He only needed to make one phone call to Doris, and the Wilson family would be completely destroyed.

Jacob Wilson touched the half-dried blood on his forehead before muttering, "Who would have thought that the Wilson family could be so ruthless? We have not even had the chance to live in the villa that Mr. White gave to Charlie Wade, and yet, they are already trying to take it away from us! They are clearly trying to subdue and bully us into submission."

As soon as he was done speaking, Jacob Wilson's eyes lit up as he said to Charlie Wade, "My dear son-in-law, can you bring us to the villa at Thompson First now? I keep thinking about that villa, and I really want to see it again."

Claire Wilson Wilson quickly responded, "Dad, we are almost home! Why do you want to see the villa now? Besides, Barry is still overseeing the renovation of the villa because it has not been completed yet."

Jacob Wilson sighed as he replied, "Oh. I just want to go and have a look at it now. Otherwise, I will not be able to sleep tonight!"

Charlie Wade could understand Jacob Wilson's mentality. After all, this was the same as a situation where a person who could not afford a car was suddenly given the most expensive luxury car. Even if he were not driving, he would always want to take a look at the car that was in the parking lot.

Therefore, Charlie Wade quickly said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Since dad wants to take a look at the villa, let's go and check it out. Moreover, we can talk to Barry if you have any ideas for the interior renovations."

Jacob Wilson smiled before saying, "Charlie Wade understands me the most."

Claire Wilson Wilson could only sigh helplessly before she said, "All right, then, let's go and have a look now."

Charlie Wade immediately turned his car around at the traffic light and drove to Thompson First immediately.

After parking his car in front of the villa in Thompson First, Charlie Wade frowned as soon as he stepped out of his car.

Even though the gates were closed, there seemed to be a huge commotion inside the villa.

When Claire Wilson Wilson saw that Charlie Wade was frozen in place, she quickly asked him, "What's wrong?"

Charlie Wade replied, "Something is not right. Let's go in and have a look!"

After saying that, Charlie Wade led the way and walked into the courtyard without hesitating.

As soon as he stepped into the courtyard, he saw several bodyguards dressed in black throwing some furniture out of the villa.

Jacob Wilson exclaimed immediately, "Those are the bodyguards from the Wilson family!"

The expression on Charlie Wade's face changed immediately. The Wilson family really did not know when to stop. He had not even started dealing with them, but they were already here to cause trouble for him.

"Who allowed you to come in here?"

Charlie Wade yelled as he rushed up to the bodyguards.

As soon as they saw Charlie Wade, the bodyguards started panicking.

Just then, Harold's voice sounded from the living room.

"I was the one who let them in!"

Harold was holding a crowbar in his left hand, and he had a thick gauze wrapped around his right hand as he walked out arrogantly.

Chapter 194

"Charlie Wade, you piece of trash! Now that all of you have already been driven out of the Wilson family, this villa will have to stay in the Wilson family. I came here to collect the villa on behalf of the Wilson family today!"

Claire Wilson Wilson gritted her teeth before she said, "You guys are simply too much! You are trying to snatch the villa by force simply because you failed to get Charlie Wade to give it up to you?!"

Jacob Wilson also yelled angrily, "Harold! This villa belongs to my son-in-law. No one can take it away from him!"

Harold spat and began cursing, "Who the hell do you think you are, Claire Wilson Wilson? You are now just someone who has been chased out and disowned by the Wilson family. Do you think you are qualified or worthy enough to talk to me?"

Then, Harold raised the crowbar in his hand as he pointed it at Jacob Wilson and continued to speak, "And you, old man. Do you think you are still my second uncle? Hurry up and get out of this villa now. Otherwise, I will break your legs!"

Charlie Wade was extremely furious, and he asked coldly, "Where is Barry?"

Harold stepped forward and laughed before saying, "Oh, you mean the old man who was guarding the villa? Well, I got rid of him after giving him a good beating. From now on, he should know clearly who the true owner of this villa is."

"You hit Barry?" Charlie Wade asked with a cold expression on his face.

Even though Barry was a butler who previously worked for the White family, since Zeke had already placed him in charge of this villa, he was one of Charlie Wade's people.

Moreover, Uncle Barry had always been very loyal and respectful to him.

What was even more important was the fact that Barry was already more than sixty years old this year. Charlie Wade could not believe that Harold would not even let an innocent old man off.

Harold sneered before he said, "Why? If a dog cannot recognize his own master, shouldn't I beat him up nicely? Otherwise, how would he ever know who his true master is? I have to beat him up so that he knows who his master is and where his loyalty should lie."

After saying that, Harold started laughing sinisterly.

Charlie Wade became extremely angry, and without holding back, he punched Harold.

Bam!

Harold could not dodge on time, and Charlie Wade's fist hit him directly on his nose bridge. Harold screamed in pain as blood started gushing out of his nose.

"Why are you still standing there?! I want this piece of trash dead!"

Harold yelled at the bodyguards with a wild and crazy expression plastered on his face.

Immediately, the bodyguards took out some long knives before they started rushing at Charlie Wade viciously.

"Charlie Wade, I know that you are very good at fighting, but I really want to see how you are going to get out of this alive! Let's see whether your fists are harder, or whether your skin is thicker than the knives!"

Claire Wilson Wilson and Jacob Wilson turned pale as soon as they saw the bodyguards rushing at Charlie Wade with knives in their hands.

Yes, Charlie Wade was undoubtedly a good fighter, however, at the end of the day, he was still made of flesh. He was only human. How could he possibly win against his opponents who were all brandishing long knives in their hand?

Charlie Wade had an indifferent expression on his face.

"You think you can take my life just like that?"

Having said that, Charlie Wade moved at such a fast speed as he fought against the bodyguards working for the Wilson family.

Even though the bodyguards were all holding a long knife in their hand, they could not even touch Charlie Wade's clothes at all.

Moreover, Charlie Wade was simply amazing because he could even launch an attack while evading their knives.

He would throw a punch casually, and when his fist hit his target, the sound resounded loudly in the air.

The bodyguards were all members who had retired from the special force, but they were no match for Charlie Wade at all.

In the blink of an eye, Charlie Wade had already taken all the bodyguards down.

No one knew how he did it because Charlie Wade's moves had been so quick and swift. Even before they could see him coming, the bodyguard had already been knocked down to the ground!

Furthermore, Charlie Wade was feeling infuriated as he fought with these bodyguards, and so, he did not hold back as he did not feel any sympathy for them at all. He attacked them brutally, and most of them were lying on the ground as they screamed in pain because of their broken hands or legs.

Chapter 195

Harold was stunned by the sight in front of him!

He knew that Charlie Wade was good at fighting, but he really did not expect that the bodyguards who had been armed with knives could not even defeat Charlie Wade.

Harold started shaking when he saw the murderous look on Charlie Wade's face.

To be honest, the only reason why Harold had come to claim the villa as a property of the Wilson family was because the old lady had given him instructions to do so. Since he had an enmity with Charlie Wade, Harold was more than willing to take advantage of this opportunity to abolish and destroy Charlie Wade.

However, he really had not expected Charlie Wade to actually defeat all of the bodyguards so easily. Moreover, he was not hurt at all!

Was Charlie Wade really human?

At this time, Charlie Wade had already walked toward Harold with a deadly expression on his face.

He had to teach this dumbass a good lesson today so that he could finally understand who he was dealing with.

Harold trembled in fear when he saw Charlie Wade walking toward him, and he quickly blurted out, "You can't kill me! I am the only grandson of the Wilson family! If you dare to even touch a single strand of my hair, the Wilson family will never let you off!"

Charlie Wade had a ruthless and indifferent expression on his face as he walked towards Harold, step by step. When he was finally standing in front of Harold, he grabbed him by his collar before he said in a cold voice, "In my eyes, the Wilson family that you just mentioned is nothing to me at all!"

"Claire Wilson Wilson, Second Uncle, please... please tell Charlie Wade to stop..."

In a state of desperation, Harold pleaded desperately for Claire Wilson Wilson and Jacob Wilson to help him, completely forgetting how he had treated them before this.

Claire Wilson Wilson glared at Harold with a cold expression on her face before she said, "You deserve to end up the way you did today! You asked for it!"

Jacob Wilson stared at Claire Wilson Wilson before he looked at Harold, struggling internally.

In fact, Jacob Wilson was very disappointed with the Wilson family. Even though Harold was his nephew, he did not care about their family ties at all. If so, why should he care about him?

However, Jacob Wilson knew that the Wilson family still held some power in Aurouss Hilll. If Charlie Wade really ended up murdering Harold today, the Wilson family would definitely seek revenge for him.

Nevertheless, Jacob Wilson replied helplessly, "Charlie Wade, just teach him a lesson."

Charlie Wade thought for a moment before he nodded and pressed Harold against the ground. The gravel cut deep into Harold's face, and the blood would not stop flowing out of the wound.

"I can spare your life, but since you have annoyed me and caused so much trouble to my family, I will make sure that you live a life worse than death itself!"

Then, Charlie Wade punched Harold hard in his lower abdomen. This punch hit Harold directly in his pubic area.

Harold was an ordinary person with no fighting skills at all, and Charlie Wade's punch was sufficient to destroy his manhood. From now on, Harold would become an impotent man.

As soon as Harold felt Charlie Wade's punch in his lower abdomen, he could not help but to lie down on the ground as he rolled around in pain. It was the worst pain he had ever felt in his life! Not only that, but Harold did not know the consequences of this punch and how it would completely change his life.

Charlie Wade then called for security before calling the police to arrest all of these people. After that, he checked on Barry's injuries.

Fortunately, Barry only suffered some external injuries and did not suffer any major injuries at all, and Charlie Wade immediately felt relieved.

However, Charlie Wade was still furious at the Wilson family. Since they chose to provoke him, they should not blame him for being cruel!

After arriving home.

Jacob Wilson sat on the sofa, the bloodstains on his face already having dried up completely. He had a bruise on his nose and forehead, and his face was already slightly swollen from his injuries. Jacob Wilson was also in a trance, and he felt very dizzy.

His elder brother had ordered the bodyguards to beat him up today, and he felt really angry and frustrated because of that.

Claire Wilson Wilson rubbed some medicine on his forehead before she said, "Dad, Charlie Wade has already avenged you. So, please do not take it to heart, okay?"

Jacob Wilson could only sigh as he replied, "I am okay. I am just really disappointed to know that my mother, my brother, and none of my relatives have ever treated me as one of their own."

After that, Jacob Wilson continued speaking, "Claire Wilson Wilson, since they have already driven you out of the Wilson Group, what are your plans for the future?"

Chapter 196

Claire Wilson Wilson replied, "What plans would I have? I will look for another job!"

Charlie Wade did not say anything else when he heard Claire Wilson Wilson's words. Instead, he simply walked to the balcony as he gave Zeke a phone call.

As soon as Zeke answered the phone, Charlie Wade asked him immediately, "Your nephew, Gerald... is he engaged to Wendy?"

"Yes." Zeke replied in a hurry before he asked, "What can I do for you, Mr. Wade?"

Charlie Wade replied coldly, "I have already broken all ties with the Wilson family. If the White family decides to accept a bride from the Wilson family, that would mean that you are not giving me any face at all. Therefore, if you insist on doing so, do not blame me for not being polite when there are any conflicts in the future."

As soon as Zeke heard his words, he panicked and blurted out immediately, "Mr. Wade, please don't get me wrong. The White family has already regretted this marriage arrangement for a long time. If it weren't for the fact that you were the son-in-law of the Wilson family, I would never have allowed someone from my family to marry someone like Wendy! Don't worry, Mr. Wade. I will send someone to go over to the Wilson family villa to notify them about the annulment of the engagement immediately!"

Charlie Wade nodded in satisfaction before he said, "Okay, then. I am glad that I can count on you."

Zeke hurriedly replied, "Mr. Wade, don't worry. The White family looks forward to working with you in the future."

"Okay," Charlie Wade replied immediately. "Go and get it done now."

"Okay, Mr. Wade!"

Wasn't the Wilson family dying to be part of the White family? Well, in that case, he would destroy all of their wishful thinking!

After that, Charlie Wade made a phone call to Doris.

Since he was teaching the Wilson family a lesson, he would have to make it a memorable one for them.

As soon as the call connected, Charlie Wade said coldly, "Doris, please make a public announcement immediately stating that Emgrand Group will suspend all future collaborations with the Wilson Group and we will dissolve any of the contracts that we have with them, effective immediately."

Doris was extremely surprised. "Mr. Wade, isn't the Wilson Group the company owned by the young lady's family? Wouldn't you be hurting her feelings if you choose to do this?"

Charlie Wade replied, "My wife has already broken all ties with the Wilson family, and they will have nothing to do with my wife in the future!"

Doris understood Charlie Wade's words immediately. "Okay, Mr. Wade. I know what I have to do. I will go and prepare the official statement now."

This way, the Wilson family would be completely destroyed!

Wasn't Lady Wilson a very arrogant woman? Well, he would leave her with nothing at all, then!

After hanging up the phone, Charlie Wade returned to the living room where he saw Jacob Wilson, who was resting on the sofa. He noticed that Jacob Wilson's eyes sockets were swollen, and the bruises on his forehead were getting worse, and Charlie Wade became worried that his injury would become increasingly worse.

He could tell that Jacob Wilson did not only suffer physical injuries, but it seemed as though he had sustained some impacts on his brain.

Charlie Wade suspected that there might be a slight blood congestion in his brain, and it would be best for Jacob Wilson to go to the hospital and have a craniotomy in order to remove the blood clots.

Otherwise, this intracranial hematoma would become a ticking time bomb that would suddenly erupt, causing Jacob Wilson to die a sudden death.

However, Charlie Wade did not want Claire Wilson Wilson to panic. Therefore, he decided to conceal this matter temporarily.

He stood up before saying, "I am going out to buy some herbs so that we can treat dad's injuries."

Many medical techniques were recorded in the , and Charlie Wade had seen a prescription that could relieve depression and activate the blood circulation in the brain. He had a feeling that this would definitely cure his father-in-law.

Claire Wilson Wilson asked him curiously, "What kind of herbs are you going to buy? Will it work? Wouldn't it be better if we sent him to the hospital?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "I don't think that we should go to the hospital now. After all, the doctors will deliberately make his condition out to be more serious than it is just so they can scare us into receiving additional treatments. I know of a prescription that is very good for bruises."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded in acknowledgment, and Charlie Wade headed toward the door.

As soon as Charlie Wade opened the front door, he saw an acquaintance arriving outside his house.

It turned out to be Graham from the Quinton family.

Charlie Wade frowned as he stared at Graham and asked, "Why are you here?"

Chapter 197

Graham smiled as soon as he saw Charlie Wade. "Mr. Wade, I heard that you encountered some unexpected situations today. Therefore, I gathered some herbs and medicine, and I decided to send them over here for you to take a look."

After he was done speaking, a bodyguard appeared behind Graham before he presented Charlie Wade with a red wooden box respectfully.

Graham opened the lid of the wooden box before he smiled and said, "Mr. Wade, please take a look at this."

Charlie Wade saw that Graham had brought him a wooden box filled with old and thick wild ginseng, some purplish-red shiny Ganoderma lucidum, and a few other medicinal herbs that could not be found in any ordinary herb shop.

Although these medicinal herbs were very precious and expensive, they did not contain much spiritual energy. However, these herbs were definitely better than nothing.

Moreover, these medicinal herbs would also come in handy since Charlie Wade needed to prepare some pills for invigorating Jacob Wilson's blood circulation.

Charlie Wade nodded slightly before saying, "Okay, give it to me."

Graham hurriedly closed the box before handing it over to Charlie Wade. "Thanks to Mr. Wade's guidance, everything has been going well for the Quinton family. Also, our business has improved tremendously over the past two days. This is all thanks to you! Please do not hesitate to ask the Quinton family for any herbs or medicine that you might need in the future. I will definitely send it over to you immediately."

Charlie Wade replied, "Alright, then. If there are any good medicinal herbs, please send some to me. It will be very useful to me."

"Okay!" Then, Graham quickly asked, "Mr. Wade, if you have nothing on, would you like to come over to the Quinton family mansion to enjoy some noodles and a home-cooked meal?"

Charlie Wade simply replied indifferently, "Maybe another day. There is something that I need to do for my family now."

"Okay," Graham hurriedly replied. "I will not bother you any longer."

After saying that, Graham left immediately, and Charlie Wade also turned around and walked back into the house.

Jacob Wilson was currently experiencing an unbearable headache, and so, Claire Wilson wanted to walk him to a massage center nearby so that he could relieve his headache and promote the blood circulation in his brain.

However, Charlie Wade simply said, "Dad, you should not be walking around now. You should take a break and rest more. One of my friends has just delivered some medicinal herbs to me. I will prepare some pills for you, and I believe that it will be very effective in relieving your headache."

Jacob Wilson could not help but ask, "Charlie Wade, do you know how to prescribe medicine and cure diseases as well?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "I learned a bit of medicine in the past."

He could not tell his father-in-law that he had learned about this secret pill from the .

This was a long lost medicinal prescription, and it could not only remove the blood congestion in the brain, but it also had a miraculous effect on any severe brain diseases such as cerebral infarction or stroke.

If Charlie Wade could successfully formulate the secret pill, Jacob Wilson would definitely be cured.

Nevertheless, Jacob Wilson was still a little worried. He could only awkwardly speak to Charlie Wade and said, "Charlie Wade, I am saying this not because I do not trust you. I know that you are very good at fighting as I have witnessed it personally. However, I don't think that you will be able to treat illnesses and save people just by watching television..."

Then, Jacob Wilson coughed slightly before he said, "Well, I think I will just ask Claire Wilson Wilson to take me to the hospital!"

Charlie Wade smiled before replying, "Okay, dad. If you do not believe me, you can go to the hospital and seek treatment first. It would be great if they could treat you immediately."

Jacob Wilson quickly replied, "No, it is not that I do not trust you. I am just in a lot of pain, so I would like to go to the hospital to get checked by the doctors."

After that, Jacob Wilson turned around and said, "Let's go, Claire Wilson Wilson."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she helped Jacob Wilson to stand up, and they headed out immediately.

At this time, Charlie Wade walked into the kitchen as he began preparing the prescription for his secret pill.

According to the , this medicine was very effective. Since Jacob Wilson only had a slight blood congestion in his brain, Charlie Wade subtracted a few medicinal herbs from the prescription before he began preparing it so that it would not be too strong for Jacob Wilson.

Chapter 198

The secret pill was developed by a famous Chinese physician, Sun Simiao, during the Tang Dynasty. His widely circulated works were all but lost. His most famous was a memorandum containing the history of all the clinical experience and medical practices in the past dynasties, and these were also included in the.

This one was more clinically valuable compared to the other two medical books. However, not many people knew about it nowadays. It seemed to have been lost completely, and many medical practitioners had never even heard of this name before.

Charlie Wade quickly prepared a box of six walnut-sized honey pills according to the prescriptions in the medical books.

As soon as he was done preparing the pills, Jacob Wilson and Claire Wilson Wilson had also just returned.

Jacob Wilson was in a lot of pain, and it was becoming increasingly uncomfortable for him to walk and move around.

Claire Wilson Wilson was also becoming more worried, and she quickly asked, "Dad, if the massage did not work, should we head to the hospital so that you can get a check-up instead? What do you think about that?"

Jacob Wilson simply waved his hand as he said, "Oh, I do not want to go to the hospital anymore. It is so troublesome. I will have to do a blood test and a urine test. I am fine now. I just want to sit down and rest for a while."

Claire Wilson Wilson had brought Jacob Wilson out for a massage to enhance his blood circulation. However, Jacob Wilson had not expected it not to have any effect whatsoever. In fact, he felt that his head was hurting even more right now. He just wanted to sit down and rest. Otherwise, he was afraid that he would really faint.

Just then, Charlie Wade walked out with the pills that he had just prepared.

Claire Wilson Wilson could smell the scent of medicinal herbs floating in the air. Looking at Charlie Wade with a shocked expression on her face, she asked, "Charlie Wade, are you really making some medicine?"

Charlie Wade pointed at the pills in his hand before he said, "Dad, this pill can invigorate your blood circulation and remove any blood clots in your brain. It is very effective. Why don't you try one?"

Jacob Wilson looked at Charlie Wade as he picked up one of the pills and observed it carefully. He could smell a particularly fresh medicinal scent passing through his nostrils, and he instantly felt refreshed.

He looked up at Charlie Wade in surprise as he asked, "You made this pill yourself?"

"Yes!" Charlie Wade replied immediately. "I just made it."

Jacob Wilson asked again, "Have you studied medicine before?"

Charlie Wade quickly replied, "I learned it from an old man who used to work as a cleaner at the orphanage. His ancestors were all Chinese physicians."

Jacob Wilson looked at Charlie Wade in disbelief before he asked, "Are you sure about this? Will something that a cleaner taught you actually work?"

"I guarantee that it will definitely be effective. Dad, why don't you take one of the pills? I am sure that you will feel better in an instant."

Jacob Wilson felt a little nervous, but as he thought about his current situation and the pain that he was feeling right then, he made up his mind and quickly swallowed the pill.

Before Claire Wilson Wilson could even ask Charlie Wade about the origins of the pill, Jacob Wilson had already taken it. Thus, Claire Wilson Wilson quickly looked at him and asked, "Dad, how are you feeling?"

"It seems as though... my head is no longer hurting that much even though I have just taken the pill." Jacob Wilson was also pleasantly surprised at the effectiveness of the pill.

Even though the pills looked plain and unremarkable, he felt as though he was completely refreshed and energized as soon as he took the pill. It was much easier to breathe, and he felt that his head was much clearer. Moreover, Jacob Wilson could feel the pain that he had been feeling at the back of his head slowly disappearing.

Jacob Wilson then looked at Charlie Wade happily as he asked, "Charlie Wade, where did you buy this medicine?"

Charlie Wade replied, "Mr. Quinton delivered some medicinal herbs over to me just now."

Jacob Wilson was very pleased, and he praised Graham. "Mr. Quinton is such a good person! He delivered medicinal herbs over to us as soon as he heard that I had suffered some injuries."

Claire Wilson Wilson also said, "Mr. Quinton is really a very kind and humble man even though he has such a high status in Aurouss Hilll. If only uncle were half as nice as Mr. Quinton, things would not have ended up this way."

As soon as she mentioned Christopher, Jacob Wilson had a somber expression on his face. He then waved his hand and said, "Don't mention him anymore."

Jacob Wilson returned to his bedroom to rest after taking the medicine.

At this time, Charlie Wade noticed that Claire Wilson Wilson also looked a little unhappy. Therefore, he tried to cheer her up immediately. "You should rest too. Don't be angry anymore. The Wilson family will definitely pay for what they did today!"

Chapter 199

At this time in the Wilson family villa.

Lady Wilson and Christopher were waiting for Harold to bring back good news that he had successfully taken over the villa at Thompson First.

However, they did not expect to receive news that Harold was gravely injured and that he had been arrested by the police, currently being detained on the grounds that he had broken into private property and caused intentional harm to others!

This made Lady Wilson extremely angry!

Lady Wilson spoke angrily, "This must have been done by Claire Wilson Wilson and her family again! This is really unacceptable!"

Christopher was very nervous and started panicking when he heard that his son was seriously injured. He quickly said in agitation, "Mom! Jacob Wilson is being too arrogant! You have to claim justice for Harold! After all, Jacob Wilson has always listened to anything you say. If you tell him to stop whatever he is doing right now, he will definitely listen to you and act according to your instructions."

"Of course!" Lady Wilson snorted before she said, "So what if that family managed to keep the villa for themselves? Isn't it just an empty shell, anyway? They have no money or power in Aurouss Hilll. How can they ever fight against us? I am not only going to take the villa away from them, but I am going to make sure that they pay a painful price for their actions today!"

As both of them were talking about this, someone suddenly came in to pass a message. "Lady Wilson, Zeke White, the head of the White family, has just arrived."

"Oh?" Lady Wilson exclaimed in surprise. "Please let him in immediately. I was just about to ask him why he decided to give that villa to Charlie Wade and his family! After all, he is our future in-law, so how could he do that to us?"

As soon as she was done speaking, Zeke walked up to the front door with his nephew, Gerald.

Both of them had actually come over intending to call off the engagement.

In actual fact, Gerald was already sick and tired of Wendy from a long time ago. This was mainly because he felt that Wendy's family was really incomparable to the White family.

Therefore, as soon as his uncle had said that he wanted to annul their engagement, Gerald agreed to let his uncle call the shots without any hesitation whatsoever.

When Lady Wilson saw both of them standing at the front door, she greeted them in a hurry and said, "Oh, my in-laws are here! Why didn't you tell me that you were coming in advance?"

Zeke sneered before he spoke coldly, "Lady Wilson, you really are amazing!"

The old lady did not know what Zeke meant by his words. Therefore, she could only force an awkward smile before she said, "What do you mean by that?"

After that, Lady Wilson turned to Christopher before saying, "It's rare for Mr. White to come and visit us personally. Why don't you invite him in so that he can have a seat? This is your future in-law!"

"I will not be coming in," Zeke replied before waving his hand. "The reason why I came here today is mainly to talk about the marriage arrangements between our families."

At this time, Lady Wilson hurriedly replied, "Mr. White, please be rest assured that we will definitely be holding a wedding banquet, and we will not embarrass you in any way. Please feel free to let us know if you have any additional requests."

Zeke replied coldly, "Then, I will cut straight to the point. The White family has put some thoughts into this matter, and we feel that the White family and the Wilson family have too many differences and nothing in common at all. Thus, the reason why I am here today is to inform you that I would like to annul the engagement between Gerald and Wendy."

"What?! You mean you want to cancel their engagement?!" Lady Wilson and Christopher were both in shock.

Wendy was also taken aback, and she immediately burst out, "Why?! Gerald and I have already booked the banquet for our wedding!"

Then, Wendy looked at Gerald before she asked, "Gerald, what is going on?"

Gerald simply shrugged before he said, "This decision was made by the members of the White family. There is nothing I can do about it."

The Wilson family felt as though they were about to collapse!

This engagement had already been arranged a long time ago, and the Wilson family had made all the necessary preparations for the wedding. They had already informed all of their friends and families regarding Wendy's engagement because the wedding was supposed to be held next month.

Yet, the White family actually wanted to annul their engagement now?

Lady Wilson had been looking forward to this marriage arrangement because she wanted to use their connections to the White family as leverage to further the Wilson Group.

Now that the White family had decided to annul the engagement, wouldn't all her efforts be for nothing?

Chapter 200

Even though Gerald and Wendy were not officially married, both of them had already been together for the longest time. Some time ago, Gerald and Wendy had been careless, and she had even got pregnant unexpectedly. In order not to invoke any gossips or rumors, the old lady had asked Wendy to have an abortion and wait to have a child only after they got married.

Unexpectedly, the White family was seeking to annul their engagement now!

Didn't this mean that Gerald had been playing around with her granddaughter all this while?!

Not only that, but he was thinking of leaving after getting her granddaughter pregnant?

Lady Wilson was furious, and she asked in a trembling voice, "Mr. White, what do you mean by this? The Wilson family has never offended you in any way! Moreover, we had always regarded Gerald as our own son even before he got together with Wendy. Wendy was even pregnant with Gerald's child. Still, I asked her to get an abortion because I was considering our families' reputation since it would not be good for her to be pregnant before both of them are married. So, how can you do this to her now?"

Wendy suddenly burst into tears after her grandmother spoke about the child.

Zeke sneered before he said, "The only person that you can blame for this matter is yourself! You cannot blame anyone else. You can only blame yourself for being so shameless, Lady Wilson!"

"This..." Lady Wilson was surprised that Zeke would suddenly humiliate and insult her in this manner. "What did I do?"

Zeke simply replied, "You and your family tried to snatch and take over the villa that I gave to Charlie Wade. How could I ever become relatives with people who are as shameless as your family?"

Lady Wilson was dumbfounded. Then, she blurted out, "This is a problem between the Wilson family and Charlie Wade. Why are you interfering in our family matters?"

Zeke replied coldly, "You really are shameless, Lady Wilson! I gave that villa to Charlie Wade to express my gratitude and thanks to him, but you actually tried to snatch it away from him? Why don't you take a look at yourself in the mirror?!"

Lady Wilson felt a sharp pain in her chest.

Zeke really did not give her any face at all. She knew that the White family was extremely wealthy, but how could they insult her like this?

However, Lady Wilson did not dare to refute Zeke's words at all.

This was because she knew that she was already at the losing end in this matter.

Moreover, she really did not expect Zeke to have so much respect for Charlie Wade, that piece of trash!

How had things turned out this way?

Meanwhile, Wendy was sitting on the ground as her mind went completely blank, and she did not know what she should do anymore. She simply looked at Gerald as she continued crying, "Gerald, I was pregnant with your child! You cannot leave me just like this!"

Gerald replied, "If you want to blame anyone, the only person that you can blame is your grandmother, your father, and also your brother!"

Then, Gerald continued speaking, "I also cannot forgive the Wilson family for beating Uncle Barry up. Do you know that Uncle Barry has already served the White family for more than forty years? Moreover, my father owes his life to him! When I almost drowned after falling into the water when I was young, Uncle Barry was the one who saved me. If it weren't for him, I would have died a long time ago. Uncle Barry is like a grandfather to me, but the Wilson family actually beat him up just because you were greedy and wanted to rob Charlie Wade of his villa! That is absolutely outrageous! I do not want to be related to anyone as shameless as your family! I do not want to be the Wilson family's son-in-law, and the White family does not want a daughter-in-law like you!"

Christopher was standing at the side, his face completely pale. Lady Wilson also had a terrified expression on her face.

They had thought that Barry was simply a mere subordinate who was working under the Whites. Who would have known that he would be someone that was so important to them?

Lady Wilson was filled with regrets. If she had known that this would happen, she would not have bothered to snatch Charlie Wade's villa at all.

In the end, she had not managed to snatch the villa from Charlie Wade, but she had also ruined her granddaughter's marriage!

She had been dreaming of using the White family to become even more powerful and influential, yet now, that was all it was... a dream!

The old lady wanted to burst into tears when she thought about this.

Just then, Wendy, who was sitting on the ground, glared at Lady Wilson before she yelled, "This is all your fault, old woman! You are the one who ruined my happiness!"

Chapter 201

Lady Wilson was in utter shock.

How had this happened?

She could not believe that Charlie Wade actually had the power to influence the White family to break the engagement with the Wilson family!

She felt as though her heart was hurting as she thought about this.

Lady Wilson wanted to beg Zeke not to abandon the Wilson family. However, the other party ignored her completely. After announcing that they would be annulling the engagement between Gerald and Wendy, Zeke turned around and left the Wilson family villa with Gerald immediately.

Wendy broke down entirely and could not stop crying.

She had been following Gerald around for so many years, giving him everything that she had. She had even been pregnant with his child, but still, he chose to abandon her at this time!

She could not help but feel hatred and resentment toward her grandmother.

Christopher was also feeling very depressed right then. He had acted and dealt with his brother's family according to the old lady's instructions, but it seemed as though he had not obtained any benefits at all.

Most importantly, his son had been heavily injured and arrested by the police, and his daughter was abandoned by her fiancé and his family. Christopher felt that he had suffered more losses than gains!

He voiced his complaints to the old lady. "Mom, I have always listened to you and acted according to your instructions, but at this point, my family has already lost everything that we have!"

Lady Wilson calmed herself down and regained her composure before she started to reassure them. "Do not panic. What is the hurry? We can spend some money to bail Harold out of the police's custody. As for Wendy's marriage, there is nothing else that we can do about the White family, but we have nothing to worry about. After all, Wendy is really beautiful, and there will be many young men from rich families who would be lining up to ask for her hand in marriage!"

Then, Lady Wilson continued speaking, "Don't forget that we still have a contract with Emgrand Group, and we can definitely rely on them at a time like this. The Wilson family will definitely pull through this, and once we win this battle, the Wilson family will not need to depend on anyone else in the future! Why would we need to depend on anyone else if we are extremely wealthy on our own?"

Christopher hurriedly asked, "Mom, the person in charge of the contract with the Emgrand Group is that wench, Claire Wilson Wilson. Now that we have already kicked her out of the Wilson Group, don't you think that we should get someone to take over this project as well as the position of the director of Wilson Group?"

"Of course! Of course, we have to replace her with someone else!" The old lady blurted out immediately. "Don't worry about it. I will let Harold take over the position of the director as soon as he comes out of police custody. As the director of the Wilson Group, he will be fully responsible and in charge of the project and any future collaborations between the Wilson Group and Emgrand Group!"

Christopher was very happy, and he finally felt a little comforted.

Even though his family had suffered a great loss, the old lady was already willing to compensate them for these losses. If Lady Wilson decided to hand this project over to his son, he would have a chance to turn his life around in the future.

After that, Lady Wilson continued, "We cannot afford to make any mistakes in our collaboration with Emgrand Group. When the time comes, I want Harold to give his best so that we can secure many more projects and collaborations with Emgrand Group!"

Christopher replied immediately, "Mom, don't worry! I will make sure that Harold does his best!"

As soon as they were done talking, the doorbell rang.

Not long after, a man dressed in a suit walked into the courtyard.

"Excuse me, is Lady Wilson at home?"

Lady Wilson quickly greeted the man before she asked, "I am Lady Wilson. May I know who you are?"

The other party replied, "Hello, I am the lawyer representing Emgrand Group."

As soon as Lady Wilson heard that the other party was from Emgrand Group, she replied enthusiastically, "Oh! Oh! So, you are a lawyer from Emgrand Group? Please come in!"

"No, thank you," the man replied coldly. "I am just here to give you a letter in person."

"A lawyer's letter?" Lady Wilson asked in surprise. "Why are you giving me a lawyer's letter?"

The other party replied immediately, "This letter is a letter for the termination of the contract and all the collaborations between Emgrand Group and Wilson Group. After some discussion, Emgrand Group has decided to terminate all projects and collaborations with the Wilson Group. Moreover, Emgrand Group will never work with the Wilson Group again. Please make a trip to Emgrand Group within the next three days to complete the termination agreement."

"What?!"

Chapter 202

This was a bolt out of the blue for Lady Wilson and Christopher!

They had just been saying that they would have to rely on Emgrand Group to get out of this crisis, and yet now, a representative from Emgrand Group was actually here to terminate the contract and any other collaborations with them! Moreover, they even went as far as to say that they would never work with them again!

This...

This was a huge blow to the Wilson Group!

The old lady trembled as she asked, "Lawyer, what is going on? Why is this happening? Hasn't all of our collaborations been very successful all this while?"

The lawyer replied coldly, "Yes, indeed we have worked and cooperated very well with Miss Claire Wilson Wilson in the past. However, we heard the news that Miss Claire Wilson Wilson has already left the Wilson Group. Therefore, we are no longer interested in collaborating or working together with the Wilson Group anymore."

Lady Wilson then realized that this was all because of Claire Wilson Wilson!

She was furious!

Why!?

Why did she have this kind of useless granddaughter?

The girl was just a piece of trash and had even married a piece of trash!

She was the head of the Wilson family and she had the final say for every decision made by the Wilson Group! They should give her face instead of Claire Wilson Wilson!

Lady Wilson became increasingly angry and burst out, "Isn't the Emgrand Group a huge company with a very good reputation? Aren't you afraid that we will go to court to sue you if you terminate the contract so casually without any reasons or justifications at all? Aren't you afraid that the reputation of the Emgrand Group will suffer terribly because of this?"

The lawyer smiled indifferently before replying, "Lady Wilson, did you look through the terms of the contract before this? There is a term stating that we have the right to unilaterally stop any external projects or collaboration that any external party has with Emgrand Group. This is the privilege of being a huge company. Haven't you heard of this?"

Upon saying that, the lawyer continued speaking, "I believe that everyone in Aurouss Hillll and even the whole country already knows that Emgrand Group has decided to terminate our contract with the Wilson Group. Everything that we are doing is reasonable and legal in the eyes of the law. I am not trying to scare you, Lady Wilson, but since Emgrand Group has already decided to sever all ties with you, other companies will generally be afraid to collaborate with you in the future. Thus, I wish the Wilson Group good luck!"

"You... you..." Lady Wilson was very shocked at his words.

How would the Wilson Group survive now that they had already been blacklisted by Emgrand Group?

Was the Wilson Group going to end just like that?

If no one was going to work with them, there was only one ending for them!

Bankruptcy!

No! No way!

Lady Wilson was hysterical at this time.

The Wilson Group belonged to her!

The Wilson Group had to be prosperous so that she could be respected by everyone in Aurouss Hilll! She wanted to enjoy endless glory and wealth!

She could not go bankrupt! The Wilson Group must not go bankrupt!

As this thought flashed through her mind, the old lady burst into tears before she pleaded, "Lawyer, I am begging you. I am already an old lady, so please help me beg Miss Doris for mercy! The Wilson Group has to depend on Emgrand Group to continue sustaining our operations. You cannot abandon us at a time like this!"

The lawyer sneered before he replied, "I am sorry, old lady, but the person who made the decision to terminate the contract with the Wilson Group is none other than Miss Doris. Miss Doris also said that she does not wish to work with someone as disrespectful and shameless as you!"

After he was done speaking, the lawyer threw the termination letter to the ground before he turned around and left immediately.

Lady Wilson was so angry that she spat out a big mouthful of blood before falling unconscious to the ground!

Chapter 203

The news that Emgrand Group had blacklisted the Wilson Group spread around Aurouss Hilll quickly.

At this time, everyone in Aurouss Hilll already knew that the Wilson family was finished. News that the old lady had been admitted to the hospital as soon as she heard about the fate of the Wilson Group also spread very quickly.

Charlie Wade's father-in-law, Jacob Wilson, was not even surprised when he heard the news.

He calmly told his daughter and son-in-law, "My mother has always been like that. She has always felt the need to control other people throughout her entire life. It was only a matter of time before she suffers from her own actions! There is no need for us to feel sympathetic at all. We should give her some time to reflect on herself in the hospital. Perhaps she will finally understand what she has done wrong in her life!"

Charlie Wade was relieved because it was rare for Jacob Wilson to finally look aside when it came to matters related to his mother.

After heaving a sigh of relief, Claire Wilson Wilson began to secretly look for a job.

When Charlie Wade was done cooking dinner later in the evening, he suddenly heard the sound of the door opening behind him.

He turned around and saw Jacob Wilson walking in, looking extremely happy.

Charlie Wade looked at the expression on Jacob Wilson's face and could not help but to ask, "Dad, why are you so happy after taking a stroll? Did something good happen?"

"Hahaha! I have really good luck today!" Jacob Wilson replied as he laughed. "After taking the pill that you gave me, all the pain that I was feeling vanished completely. Moreover, I am feeling extremely refreshed and energetic right now!"

"Do you want to guess who I met at Antique Street just now?"

"Who?" Charlie Wade was very worried. Did his father-in-law get cheated by the counterfeit dealers and stall owners at Antique Street again?

Charlie Wade glanced up and down at Jacob Wilson before heaving a huge sigh of relief.

Fortunately, Jacob Wilson had come home empty-handed today.

Jacob Wilson sipped the cup of tea in his hand before speaking mysteriously, "Son-in-law, do you remember the owner of the antique stall that we went to before this? I am talking about Zachary, the swindler at Antique Street. Do you remember him?"

"Yes, I do. What happened?"

"Haha! I met that kid when I went to Antique Street today!"

Charlie Wade was shocked, and he hurriedly asked, "Dad! Did you buy anything from him again?"

"No!" Jacob Wilson replied as he waved his hands happily. "Zachary knows that I am your father-in-law, and he does not dare to cheat me of my money anymore. He not only gave me a piece of jade pendant today, but he also helped me to sell some medicine!"

Charlie Wade frowned at this time. He was not worried because the jade pendant that Zachary gave to his old man was probably a fake anyway, but he found it really strange that Zachary would offer to sell medicine for him.

"What medicine are you talking about?"

"The pills that you made for me to treat my traumatic injuries! I know that it's a pill to relieve the heart," Jacob Wilson replied as he slapped his thigh excitedly. "My injuries are completely healed! As soon as Zachary heard about my injuries and the effectiveness of the pills, he told me that he had a way to sell the pills for me. I gave two of the pills to him, but I did not expect him to really be able to sell the pills!"

Charlie Wade was dumbfounded.

The pill was not a rare or precious item and he would have allowed the old man to throw it away if he did not finish it. However, Charlie Wade was amazed because Zachary was really good at taking advantage of any loopholes that he could find. He was even able to sell leftover medication!

"Dad, there is no authentication for these pills. How could you sell it?"

Jacob Wilson simply replied, "I don't know about that, but Zachary helped me to sell the pills anyway. Do you want to guess how much I sold it for?"

"Over a thousand dollars?"

"No, you are not even close!" Jacob Wilson laughed triumphantly. "I sold it for half a million dollars!"

"Pfft!"

Charlie Wade had been drinking water at this time, and he spurted the water out of his mouth as soon as he heard Jacob Wilson's words.

He could not believe it. The pills probably cost less than a hundred dollars, but Zachary had actually managed to sell it for half a million dollars?!

Chapter 204

Who was this unfortunate person who actually had so much money to be fooled by this profiteer?

Charlie Wade could not help but ask Jacob Wilson, "Who did Zachary sell those pills to?"

"I'm not sure. Zachary told me that he had to maintain his professional ethics and keep his client's information confidential."

After he was done speaking, Jacob Wilson shook his head before sighing. "Zachary gave me the five hundred thousand dollars and told me that he was doing me this favor to honor you. I tried to give him some commission for his hard work, but he refused to accept any money from me. He is really a very talented salesperson, but it is a pity that he is a swindler. I advised him to try to make a living by getting a decent job."

Charlie Wade shook his head. It was completely impossible for Zachary to change his occupation!

He had already been a swindler trading in antiques ever since he was young, and it had already become a habit for him. If he had to work a decent job in an office, he would probably give up on life immediately.

However, since Zachary had managed to sell the pills at such a high price for Jacob Wilson, Charlie Wade was relieved because Jacob Wilson could use that sum of money to subsidize their living expenses.

After all, they had already been kicked out from the Wilson family and Claire Wilson Wilson would probably be unemployed for the time being. Moreover, Jacob Wilson would no longer be receiving any dividends from the Wilson Group since they were no longer part of the company. Thus, Jacob Wilson could use the money to help them through this transition.

No longer depressed because he had made five hundred thousand dollars out of nowhere, Jacob Wilson smiled before he started humming as he walked into his bedroom.

Charlie Wade also returned to his bedroom to tell Claire Wilson Wilson about this matter.

Claire Wilson Wilson jumped out of bed before asking nervously, "Charlie Wade! The other party spent so much money on the pills! What if something bad happens after taking the pills? Would you be able to get away with it if the pills did not work for them at all?"

"Don't worry, Claire Wilson Wilson," Charlie Wade replied as he smiled. "Those pills work to treat blood stasis and promote good blood circulation. The medicinal herbs used to make the pills are not expensive or valuable. Even if anyone used it for the wrong purpose, the only side effect is that they would suffer from a nosebleed for about two days at most. Anyway, even if there are any side effects, they can only blame themselves for buying medicine without any prescriptions at all! How could they waste money like that?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was still not convinced and fretted over it. "In that case, why don't you tell me who on earth would be willing to spend five hundred thousand dollars to buy those two pills?!"

Charlie Wade replied casually, "Probably someone suffering from cerebral obstruction or someone with a family member suffering from the cardiovascular or cerebrovascular disease at home. That pill would also be very effective for people suffering from these illnesses."

Claire Wilson Wilson finally felt a little more relieved after listening to Charlie Wade's explanation.

After all, these were all terminal illnesses that would cost no less than five hundred million dollars if they were to treat their condition in the hospital.

After they were done with dinner, Charlie Wade received a phone call from Don Albertt as he was washing the dishes.

Even though Albert was a very well-known mobster boss in Aurouss Hilll, he had been rather depressed and had maintained a very low profile ever since meeting Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade did not look up to him at all, but he felt that Albert was actually very sensible. When Douglas was bullied at the hospital, Albert had helped Charlie Wade to solve the problem.

Therefore, Charlie Wade promised to give him a second chance to act like a man. However, Charlie Wade did not expect him to actually call him personally.

Upon answering the phone, Charlie Wade asked, "Albert, why are you looking for me?"

Albert smiled before he replied, "Oh! Mr. Wade! I called because I heard about what you did during the metaphysics competition at the White family mansion. I would like to congratulate you..."

At this time, Charlie Wade simply spoke coldly, "Get straight to the point and tell me why you are calling me today."

Albert hurriedly replied, "Oh, Mr. Wade, you're incredible! You could see right through me."

Charlie Wade was getting quite impatient and said, "You are still talking nonsense now?"

Thus, Albert quickly explained himself. "Mr. Wade, this is why I am calling you today. The Moore family has always treated me very well for so many years. However, the eldest daughter of the Moore family recently ran into some trouble, and I would like to ask you to come over to take a look and see if you could help her."

Charlie Wade paused. "The Moore family? Are you talking about Jasmine?"

"Yes!" Albert replied immediately. "Miss Jasmine is in trouble!"

Chapter 205

The Moore family was one of the top families in Aurouss Hilll.

However, the Moore family could not be compared to the Wade family in terms of their status or prestige.

Jasmine did not know about Charlie Wade's true identity, and in her eyes, Charlie Wade was just a young man who had some skills and abilities in antique trade as well as some knowledge on metaphysics.

When Charlie Wade had called for the Thunder Order and used thunder and lightning to strike Jack to death at the White family mansion, he had indeed scared many people to death. Therefore, everyone regarded him as the master of metaphysics. However, Charlie Wade hid the truth from Jasmine and intentionally told her that everything was just a coincidence. After all, how could an ordinary person like him actually call for thunder and lightning whenever he wanted to.

Hence, Jasmine was also very confused and thought that Charlie Wade was probably just really lucky.

Ever since that day, Jasmine disappeared from Charlie Wade's world completely.

Charlie Wade initially thought that she had already gone missing, however, he did not expect her to be in trouble.

Charlie Wade asked Albert, "What is the matter? What is wrong with Jasmine?"

Albert quickly replied, "Miss Moore has encountered a lot of bad luck and misfortune lately. I think that something might be wrong with her Feng Shui because she has really been very unlucky..."

After that, Albert continued speaking, "The young lady already tried to seek advice and help from many Feng Shui masters in Aurouss Hill, but they could not help her at all. So, I would like to ask for your help. I want to ask if you can pay her a visit so that you can help to solve this predicament that Miss Moore is facing."

Charlie Wade replied indifferently, "Can you tell me about some of the problems that she has encountered so that I will be able to make a judgment on this matter?"

Albert hurriedly replied, "The young lady has experienced many injuries lately. She has gotten into several small car accidents and even sprained her ankle when she was walking down a hill. Miss Moore also burned her hand when she was drinking a cup of coffee, and she was bitten by her own dog yesterday. Apart from that, the Moore family has also encountered some problems with some of their business partners, and this has impacted her family business greatly."

Albert then continued explaining, "What saddened the young lady the most was when she lost the precious diamond necklace she had been wearing for more than ten years. That was a relic that her mother gave to her before she passed away. Miss Moore cried for a few days after losing that necklace."

Charlie Wade chuckled before replying, "It seems as though Jasmine is really facing some bad luck because of bad Feng Shui lately..."

"Exactly!" Albert exclaimed before saying, "Mr. Wade, you are a metaphysics master. I believe that you will definitely have a way to resolve this matter, right?"

At this time, Charlie Wade asked him, "Albert, why are you so concerned and worried about Jasmine? What is your relationship with the Moore family?"

Albert quickly responded, "Let me tell you the truth, Mr. Wade. Miss Moore's grandfather was my benefactor. The reason why I was able to stand up and support myself in Aurouss Hilll was that her grandfather helped and supported me. Initially, I really wanted to thank the old man for everything he had done for me. Unfortunately, the old man left this world early. As a result, I have always kept in close contact with Miss Moore's father and I have always helped them to resolve any matter that is inconvenient for them to handle personally."

After that, Albert spoke up again. "To put it bluntly, the Moore family is my benefactor, and I am doing everything that I can to repay the favor."

"Okay," Charlie Wade replied as he nodded. "I can tell that you are very sincere about helping them. Since Jasmine and I are also friends, I will do her this favor. Why don't you come and pick me up tomorrow and we will go to her house to take a look together?"

"Okay!" Albert replied excitedly. "Thank you, Mr. Wade. I am really very thankful for your kindness."

Early the next morning, Don Albertt gave Charlie Wade a phone call.

Chapter 206

After Charlie Wade went downstairs, Don Albertt, who was sitting in the car, quickly beckoned for Charlie Wade to come over immediately. "Mr. Wade, get in the car!"

Charlie Wade nodded before walking over to the car quickly. Albert started driving as soon as Charlie Wade got into the car and then headed toward the outskirts of the city.

On the way there, Albert suddenly said anxiously, "I heard that a very famous and reputable Feng Shui master will also be coming from Hong Kong today. Mr. Wade, you cannot let him steal your limelight!"

After that, Albert continued speaking. "Miss Moore is the eldest daughter of the Moore family, and she will be taking over the Moore family business soon. If we manage to save her from this predicament, she will definitely take care of us in the future!"

Charlie Wade laughed before saying, "Albert, you are not so kind after all. Yesterday, you told me that the reason why you were so worried about Jasmine was that you wanted to repay her grandfather's kindness. However, now your true colors are finally exposed! It seems as though you just want to get into Jasmine's good books?"

Albert quickly replied embarrassedly, "Well, repaying their kindness is just one aspect of it. However, getting closer to them and getting into their good books is a whole different story! I know that you have some skills and you know what you are doing, Mr. Wade. Therefore, it is also not a bad thing for you to get closer to Miss Moore. After all, Miss Moore is very young and attractive, and she also has a strong family background. If both of you were to become good friends and join forces in the future, don't you think that it would be a good thing for you?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied faintly, "If the Feng Shui master that the Moore family hired from Hong Kong is really good, there is nothing else that I can do."

Albert sighed as soon as he heard Charlie Wade's words. "Well, let's go over and have a look anyway. You are a master of metaphysics with real skills and abilities. Let's see if we can use this opportunity to take this business deal away from that man from Hong Kong!"

Charlie Wade did not reply because he was thinking about this matter in his heart. If Master Lennard from Hong Kong was really a descendant of the Lennard family, Charlie Wade was certain that he would have some skills and an appropriate level of expertise in Feng Shui.

Therefore, he might as well make the trip to the Moore family to take a look at what Master Lennard was capable of. Perhaps, he could even have some enlightenment to further comprehend and study the contents of the !

Miss Moore's villa was located in the most luxurious villa area in the suburbs.

Albert finally stopped the car in front of a super luxurious and beautiful villa.

At this time, a man who looked to be the Moore family's butler came out to see who it was. Albert hurriedly raised his head and asked, "Uncle Oscar, is the eldest young lady home?"

The butler nodded indifferently before he asked, "Albert, what are you doing here?"

Albert laughed before he replied with a smile on his face. "Uncle Oscar, I invited a Feng Shui master here today to have a look at the young lady. He is truly a very skillful master of metaphysics!"

The butler glanced at Charlie Wade who was sitting in the passenger's seat. He obviously did not take the young man seriously and simply replied coldly, "Albert, Master Lennard from Hong Kong is already here to take a look at Miss Moore and give her advice on her Feng Shui matters. If there is nothing else, I think you should go home first."

Albert quickly replied, "Uncle Oscar, since Mr. Wade is already here, can't you just let him in so that he can just take a look at Miss Moore? Besides, Mr. Wade is also friends with Miss Moore!"

Oscar then replied mildly, "There are so many people who always say that they are friends with Miss Moore. I am already immune to it. Besides, would anyone you bring here today be better than Master Lennard from Hong Kong? The Moore family has spent a lot of money and effort just to bring Master Lennard all the way here. I am not going to let you in so that you can cause any trouble for Master Lennard!"

Charlie Wade was a little surprised when he heard Oscar's words. He was not surprised because of the identity of the Feng Shui master, but he was surprised because Albert was a well-known mobster boss that everyone was scared of in Aurouss Hilll. However, it seemed as though the Moore family's butler was not afraid of him at all.

Moreover, Albert even talked to him in such a respectful and polite manner...

At this time, Charlie Wade could not help thinking to himself that if news about the way Oscar spoke to Albert traveled across Aurouss Hilll, no one would be afraid of Don Albertt anymore!

Chapter 207

Even though the butler obviously despised Albert, the latter was not offended at all. On the contrary, he continued speaking to Oscar respectfully with a smile on his face. "Look here, Uncle Oscar. The issues that Miss Moore is facing are getting more and more severe. All of us are worried about her! Moreover, we can't be certain that Master Lennard from Hong Kong will definitely be able to resolve the problems that Miss Moore is facing."

Upon hearing that, Oscar replied coldly, "Do you really think that you will be able to find anyone as capable as Master Lennard? Please leave immediately. You will never be able to pay the Moore family back for their losses if you interrupt Master Lennard while he is reading Miss Moore's Feng Shui for her!"

Albert scratched his head anxiously because he did not expect Oscar to stop them from entering the villa. If Oscar refused to let them in, how would Charlie Wade be able to help Jasmine?

As he thought about it, Albert suddenly blurted out, "Uncle Oscar, have you heard about Jack Yalaman? He was also a Feng Shui master who was extremely arrogant, but when he overstepped his boundaries in Aurouss Hilll, Mr. Wade was the one who called for thunder and lightning to strike him to death!"

Oscar was dumbfounded after listening to Albert.

He then looked at Charlie Wade in awe.

He had already heard about what had happened to Jack.

Unexpectedly, it was done by the young man in front of him now!

Oscar immediately developed a sense of respect for Charlie Wade.

Looked at Charlie Wade respectfully, he said, "I have already heard of your skills and ability, and I truly admire you, Mr. Wade."

Then, Oscar hesitated for a moment before he said, "If this is the case, please go in and take a look at Miss Moore, but Mr. Wade, this is a first come first serve basis. Therefore, I hope that you will not bother Master Lennard before he is done looking at Miss Moore's Feng Shui. After all, Master Lennard came before you. Moreover, I hope that Mr. Wade will not interfere if Master Lennard has already successfully resolved Miss Moore's problem."

Charlie Wade nodded indifferently before he replied, "No problem."

Oscar then used the remote control to open the gate before he told Albert, "You may drive the car in."

As Albert was driving into the compound of the villa, he exclaimed excitedly, "Mr. Wade, you were totally awesome just now! Uncle Oscar has never been so polite or given face to anyone aside from the Moore family members."

Charlie Wade was indifferent as he said, "Just look at how unpromising you are right now. I cannot believe that you actually have to butter up to the Moore family's butler. I just can't understand how you became a mobster boss in Aurouss Hilll."

Albert smiled before he replied, "Mr. Wade, you do not understand. No matter how great we are, at the end of the day, everyone works for money. How could I be disrespectful toward a big and prestigious family such as the Moore family? If I did not take their status into consideration, I would be jeopardizing my future!"

After that, Albert parked the car and said, "Mr. Wade, let's take a look at what Master Lennard is capable of!"

Oscar led both of them into the villa. The villa was renovated in an extremely luxurious manner, and it seemed as though the royal family lived here.

Upon arriving on the second floor, Oscar led them to a room with the door wide open before he knocked gently on the door.

Then, he led them straight into the room.

Chapter 208

At that moment in the room, a lean middle-aged man who was wearing a blue shirt was holding a compass as he looked around the room, muttering some words. Jasmine was standing with her back facing the door. However, as soon as she heard someone knocking on the door, she turned around before asking, "Uncle Oscar, is there something wrong?"

Oscar hurriedly replied, "Miss Moore, Albert brought Mr. Wade over here to help you look at your Feng Shui."

Jasmine turned around and she was extremely surprised when she saw Charlie Wade. "Charlie Wade, why are you here?"

When Charlie Wade looked at Jasmine, he realized that she truly did look a lot more haggard as compared to when he had seen her a few days ago. According to the , there were shadows on her forehead, and it seemed as though something was really wrong with her fortune at this time.

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he said, "Albert told me that you were in trouble, so he brought me here to have a look at your Feng Shui."

Just then, the middle-aged man who was holding the compass in his hand turned around and said, "Miss Moore, I am a Master from the Lennard family, and I do not allow anyone else to interfere when I am looking into any Feng Shui matters. Otherwise, any interference will definitely interfere with your Feng Shui."

Jasmine was aware that Charlie Wade knew a little about metaphysics, but somehow, Feng Shui was a completely different field as compared to metaphysics. Even though she knew that Charlie Wade was a master of metaphysics, she felt that Charlie Wade could not compare to Master Lennard when it came to matters involving Feng Shui and luck.

Thus, she quickly said apologetically, "I am sorry, Mr. Wade, but Master Lennard is currently checking out my Feng Shui for me. If you don't mind, could you please follow Uncle Oscar downstairs and wait for me there? I am sorry, but I will come down and entertain you in a short while."

Charlie Wade simply replied, "Miss Moore, isn't it better if there is another person here to help you? As your friend, I would be more than happy to help you solve the problem that you are facing. However, if Master Lennard can resolve your problem without my help, I would still be very happy. I will only step in to help you if Master Lennard is unable to solve your problem for you."

The middle-aged man snorted as he continued holding the compass in his hand before speaking arrogantly, "I am Master Lennard who comes from twenty-two generations of Feng Shui masters! Do you really think that something as trivial as this will be a challenge for me? You are just a young kid, but you actually dare to call yourself a Feng Shui master? I am afraid you are nothing but an arrogant liar!"

Charlie Wade smiled as he looked at the black and red aura lingering around Master Lennard's body with a bloody scent. He then said, "Master Lennard, since you are a Feng Shui master, why didn't you predict your own fortune today? Don't you know that a bloody disaster will befall you today?"

Master Lennard laughed before saying, "What? Are you saying that I will encounter a bloody disaster today? You must be crazy, young man!"

Charlie Wade shrugged before replying, "I am telling you the truth. There is a gloomy darkness on your forehead, your eyes are white and swollen, and your pupils are red. This is an obvious sign of your fortune. If you do not pay attention to resolving your own fortune, I am afraid that you will be unable to avoid this bloody disaster!"

Master Lennard sneered as he said, "Young man, I am a descendant of the Lennard family! So, don't you brag and act as though you are a master of Feng Shui in front of me!"

Charlie Wade smirked before he replied, "You think I am just bragging? You are not the first Feng Shui master I have ever met. To be honest, I think that you are nothing but a sham!"

Master Lennard cursed out loud at this time. "What? You dare to call me a sham? You are ridiculous!"

Charlie Wade smiled before speaking again. "Have you heard of a man called Jack Yaleman? Do you know what happened to him?"

"I do not know anything about anyone called Jack Yaleman, and I am not interested to know anything about him!" Master Lennard shot back as he glared at Charlie Wade with a cold expression on his face. Then, he looked at Jasmine before he said, "Miss Moore, if you will allow it, I would like to proceed to help you reverse your fortune immediately. I want this young man to witness and see for himself, the greatness of my family's Feng Shui mastery!"

Jasmine nodded slightly and she glanced at Charlie Wade before saying, "Master Lennard, please do it as soon as possible!"

Without further delay, Master Lennard took out a few pieces of talisman paper before he gestured at the void and yelled out, "All those who are fighting the battle arrayed in front of them, listen to the law now!"

He then threw the few pieces of talisman paper into the air and looked around him as he observed the direction and speed of the talisman paper that was scattered on the ground. After that, he pointed at a green potted plant that was placed in front of the window before he said, "Miss Moore, I have found the problem! This window is facing the east, and your good fortune should be flowing in from the east. However, since you've placed this potted plant in front of the window, it was blocking all of your good fortunes from coming in!"

Chapter 209

When Jasmine heard that Master Lennard had already discovered the source of all her problems, she was very excited and quickly exclaimed, "Master

Lennard, since you have already identified the source of all my problems, will my fortune improve after I remove that potted plant?"

"Unfortunately, no." Master Lennard replied with a serious expression on his face. "You should understand that a Feng Shui formation is an invisible formation. Even if you remove the green potted plant, you will not be able to remove the influence that it has left on the Feng Shui formation."

Jasmine hurriedly asked, "In that case, what should I do?"

Master Lennard replied, "You should place an exorcism transporter refined by a Feng Shui master by the window instead of that potted plant. That way, you will be able to completely eradicate all of your problems, and at that time, your good fortune will continue to flow in from the east!"

Jasmine then asked, "What is an exorcism transporter?"

Master Lennard quickly took an egg-sized stone out from his pocket before he said earnestly, "Miss Moore, this is a chalcedony stone that has been eroded and weathered for millions of years. It is a magical product used for exorcising and transporting evil. If you place this chalcedony stone in the spot where you used to place the green potted plant, all the evil aura in this place will dissipate immediately. Then, your fortune will keep flowing in from the east."

Jasmine was filled with joy as she listened to Master Lennard's explanation, after which, she quickly asked, "Master Lennard, how much is this chalcedony stone? I will buy it from you!"

Master Lennard's eyes lit up as soon as he heard that Jasmine would buy the stone from him.

He quickly replied with a serious expression on his face. "Miss Moore, this chalcedony stone is worth at least eighty million Hong Kong dollars, but since we have an affinity to meet, I will sell it to you for just ten million dollars!"

Jasmine nodded before replying, "Money is not a problem as long as it will be able to help me resolve the problems that I am facing."

Master Lennard replied without any hesitation, "Miss Moore, don't worry. If you put this chalcedony stone in front of your window today, your fortune will definitely change completely tomorrow!"

Jasmine heaved a huge sigh of relief before taking out her checkbook and writing a cheque for ten million dollars in cash. After that, she handed it over to Master Lennard immediately. "Master Lennard, I will buy the chalcedony stone from you. Please help me to do the necessary preparations now."

Jasmine wanted to resolve the problem she was facing as soon as possible.

She had really been tortured by her bad luck lately.

Her bad luck had started ever since she celebrated her twenty-fourth birthday last month.

She had gotten into various car accidents, and all of the five cars in her house had been damaged to varying degrees.

Not long after that, she had sprained her ankle and could still feel pain until today.

Not only that, but just a few days ago, Jasmine had lost the one and only precious heirloom that her mother had left to her. Jasmine really cherished that diamond necklace.

She had been wearing that diamond necklace for more than ten years which was almost half of her lifetime! She was offering a reward of several million dollars if anyone returned the diamond necklace to her, but alas, there had been no news about it at all.

She had been crying for many nights over this matter.

Moreover, one of the business partners that the Moore family had been working with for many years had suddenly ended their partnership with the Moore family yesterday.

Both parties had initially undergone a negotiation process and were just about to sign the partnership contract. However, the other party had suddenly decided to work with someone else instead. They did not just refuse to sign the new partnership contract with the Moore family, but they also revealed that they would be terminating all of their existing agreements because they were going to work with another partner instead.

Jasmine felt as though she had lost everything when it was already placed in front of her.

This was a huge loss to the Moore family.

After being plagued by bad luck and misfortune continuously, Jasmine found it unbearable and wanted to get rid of her bad luck as soon as possible so that she would not suffer any more losses.

Hence, spending ten million dollars to solve her Feng Shui issue and put an end to all of her problems was in fact, very cost-effective for her.

Master Lennard was trembling in excitement when he received the cheque of ten million dollars in his hand.

Chapter 210

Master Lennard quickly put the cheque away before walking over to the window and removing the green potted plant. Then, he placed the chalcedony stone by the window as he continued chanting his mantras.

Charlie Wade scoffed as he witnessed this scene.

He realized that Master Lennard did not know what he was doing at all. Moreover, he had even caused a catastrophe by making the situation worse than it originally was!

From the , Charlie Wade had already studied a strange scenario that was similar to what he was witnessing in Jasmine's room.

He could feel a terrifying Feng Shui formation in this room, and he realized that the Feng Shui in this room was a 'dragon encapsulation formation'.

As the name suggested, even if a dragon was living under this Feng Shui formation, it would also be trapped. If so, how could an ordinary person escape this?

Therefore, no matter how good a person's fortune was, those who lived in a 'dragon encapsulation formation' would inevitably lose their good fortune and be plagued with continuous bad luck and misfortune.

As Jasmine was living in this room, it was only natural for all of her good fortune to be trapped, and this was also the reason why she was suffering from continuous bad luck.

Fortunately, this 'dragon encapsulation formation' was just beginning to take shape and had not been perfected yet.

If they allowed the Feng Shui formation to continue taking shape, it would not only change Jasmine's fortune, but it would also change her fate.

When that happened, Jasmine would not only suffer because of bad luck, but she would also possibly lose her life!

What was even more of a coincidence was the fact that the only loophole in this 'trapped dragon formation' was none other than the green potted plant!

Green plants symbolized wood, which represented life and vitality!

The green plant was the only thing preventing the 'dragon encapsulation formation' from perfecting its shape.

This was also the only reason why Jasmine still had a little bit of luck.

However, Master Lennard had taken the green potted plant away and replaced it with his broken stone instead..

Stones symbolized gold, which represented the unbreakable!

After removing the potted plant and replacing it with the chalcedony stone, the 'dragon encapsulation formation' was almost completed.

At this time, Master Lennard finally finished chanting his spell, and he spoke to Jasmine in a deep voice. "Miss Moore, you can rest assured that I have already restored the Feng Shui in your room for you."

Jasmine quickly asked, "Will my good fortune be restored immediately? Does that mean that I will not be suffering from any more bad luck?"

"Yes!" Master Lennard nodded before he said, "I have done the same procedure for some very famous people in Hong Kong and Macau, and I have restored their wealth greatly! Thus, you don't have to worry about anything, Miss Moore."

Jasmine asked again, "Master Lennard, in that case, do you have any way of helping me to find the diamond necklace that my mother gave to me? I am willing to pay you another ten million dollars if you help me get it back!"

Master Lennard scratched his head before replying, "Miss Moore... I am only good at Feng Shui mastery. Finding lost items is not my area of expertise..."

Jasmine could only nod in disappointment. "It's okay, Master Lennard. I am already extremely grateful to you for reversing my bad luck for me."

As soon as she was done speaking, her cell phone suddenly rang. A woman spoke to Jasmine over the phone anxiously. "Miss Moore! Something terrible has happened!"

Jasmine quickly asked, "What happened?"

The other party replied, "The shipment that we exported over to the United States has just arrived at the port. Upon inspection, however, the company said that our products are not up to their standards, and they want to return the products according to the contract. They are also asking for three times the original price of the product as compensation!"

Jasmine's eyes widened in horror as she panicked and blurted out, "They want to return the five thousand tons of goods that we shipped out to them?! I will lose tens of millions of dollars in transportation and custom declaration fees alone! Moreover, if they are demanding three times the cost of the goods as compensation, that would cost me another several hundred million dollars!"

Chapter 211

Jasmine could not understand what was happening. Why was she suddenly facing such a huge problem even though Master Lennard had already changed her fortune for her?

Just then, the other party replied over the phone, "There is nothing we can do now, Miss Moore. The other party is demanding for us to pay compensation to them immediately. They refused to accept any of the goods at all."

Jasmine hurriedly asked, "Are you sure you are not making a mistake? Can you ask them to verify this issue again?"

The other party quickly replied, "I have already asked them to verify the situation. However, even after checking the products twice, they insist that the products were not up to their expectations whatsoever."

Jasmine blurted out immediately, "I want you to check our export records immediately and find out who produced this batch of goods! I want you to find the person responsible for this matter so that they can explain everything to me as soon as possible!"

After that, she instructed the woman, "As for the company in the United States, I want you to drag it out as long as you can. Make sure that you send a few people over there to check out the situation."

"Understood, Miss Moore."

Jasmine had a very confused expression on her face after hanging up the phone.

She turned around and looked at Master Lennard before saying, "Master Lennard, it seems as though I have encountered another very unfortunate incident. If I fail to resolve this issue, my losses will exceed five hundred million dollars! Didn't you say that you have already reversed my fortune for me?!"

Master Lennard dodged Jasmine's eyes before replying vaguely, "You also need time to get rid of your bad luck and adversity. This cannot be done overnight."

Not feeling very convinced, Jasmine asked yet again, "Even if it would take time for my fortune to improve, how could I receive such bad news as soon as you said that you have changed my fortune for me?"

Right then, Jasmine suddenly received a phone call from Mr. Lambeth, her business partner from Hong Kong.

Jasmine quickly answered the phone. "Hello, Mr. Lambeth!"

"Miss Moore." The other party spoke in a cold voice. "We have thought about it and have decided to cease all collaborations and partnership with the Moore family. We want to unilaterally terminate and dissolve our partnership."

"Terminate our partnership?!" Jasmine blurted out anxiously. "Mr. Lambeth, you can certainly see that we are superior in every aspect compared to the other party! It would be most beneficial to you if you choose to continue working with the Moore family..."

The other party chuckled over the other end of the line before he replied, "To be honest, my father hired a Feng Shui master to read his fortune for him, and the master told him that the fortune of the Moore family was not compatible with the Lambeth family at all. If we continued our partnership with you, this would undoubtedly affect the fortune of the Lambeth family. Therefore, we have no choice but to terminate our partnership with you. Sorry, Miss Moore."

The other party hung up the phone as soon as he was done speaking.

This...

Initially, Jasmine had been planning to use this opportunity to take the Moore family to the next level. Who would have expected that she would only be met with disappointment?

Master Lennard was already beginning to panic at this time. He had originally intended to lie to Jasmine and make some money out of her, leaving as soon as possible. Unexpectedly, just a few minutes after he had conducted his sham ritual, Jasmine was plagued with even more misfortune and bad luck.

He knew then and there, that he should not continue to remain here. He had to leave as soon as possible! And so, Master Lennard hurriedly said, "Miss Moore, you should understand that it takes time for a person to change their fortune. Therefore, you should not panic, but stay calm. I assure you that everything will definitely be better tomorrow. If there is nothing else that I can help you with, I will leave first."

Master Lennard walked toward the door as soon as he was done speaking.

However, Jasmine suddenly stopped him. "Wait a minute! Master Lennard, I think that there is obviously a problem with the current situation. Why am I encountering two huge problems as soon as you finished performing the ritual to reverse my fortune for me?! I want you to give me a proper explanation for this!"

After she spoke, Jasmine suddenly felt a sharp pain in her lower abdomen. She almost screamed out loud in pain and could not even stand up straight.

She was only able to stand at all because she happened to be leaning against the television on the wall.

She could not understand what was happening. Why was she...

Before she could even figure out what was going on, Jasmine felt the sharp pain in her lower abdomen again. The pain was so intense that she could feel her legs going soft immediately, and so she continued to hold on to the television to keep her balance and continue standing up.

Suddenly, there was a loud sound, and the metal bracket of the television that was attached to the wall broke!

Chapter 212

When Charlie Wade saw the sixty-inch television falling toward Jasmine's feet, he quickly took a step forward and grabbed her hand before pulling her into his arms.

The television set fell and hit the ground with a crash!

The television casing and screen smashed to the ground, a piece of shattered plastic flying out and slashing Jasmine's slender and fair leg.

"Ahh!" Jasmine yelled out in pain as soon as she felt the sharp pain in her calf. When she lowered her head, she realized that there was a two to three centimeter-long cut in her calf, and blood started gushing out of the wound in a flash.

Charlie Wade hurriedly took out a piece of tissue from his pocket before kneeling down beside Jasmine and pressing the piece of tissue against her calf. After that, he asked, "Jasmine, do you have any first aid kit at home? We need to disinfect your wound immediately."

Jasmine was a little irate when Charlie Wade touched her leg and she wanted to yell at him. However, when she recalled that Charlie Wade was the one who rescued her, she suppressed her anger and tried to calm herself down.

After that, she glared angrily at Master Lennard before saying, "Master Lennard, you are not going anywhere unless you give me a reasonable explanation today!"

As soon as he heard Jasmine's words, Albert grabbed Master Lennard by his neck before he asked, "Speak up! Tell me, what have you done to Miss Moore?!"

Master Lennard replied, the fear evident in his eyes. "I... I did not do anything to her! I was just performing a ritual to help her reverse her bad fortune..."

"Stop lying to me!" Albert responded angrily. "Did you change Miss Moore's fortune for the worse instead?"

Don Albertt grit his teeth as he cursed, "Tell me! Did someone pay you so that you could come and deliberately cause harm to Miss Moore?"

Master Lennard trembled in shock as soon as he heard Albert's words. "Big brother, I did not receive money from anyone! I have no intention to harm Miss Moore at all..."

Albert continued to pressure him, "If you refuse to tell me the truth, I will chop you up into pieces and feed you to the stray dogs!"

Albert then looked at Jasmine before he said, "Miss Moore, leave this matter to me. I will deal with this b*stard on your behalf."

Jasmine was also extremely annoyed and frustrated at this time. She glared at Master Lennard with a cold expression on her face as she said, "Master Lennard, if you refuse to give me an explanation right now, I will leave Don Albertt to deal with you."

Master Lennard hurriedly knelt in front of Jasmine before he cried out, "Miss Moore! I am sorry. I did not intend to hurt you at all. I was just trying to cheat some money out of you."

Jasmine continued asking, "So, you were just putting on a show when you were performing the ritual earlier because you wanted to fool me?"

"Yes..." Master Lennard replied tremblingly as he took out the cash cheque from his pocket and begged for mercy. "I will return the money to you! Please let me go..."

Jasmine looked at him for a moment, and she could tell that he was not lying to her. However, this only made her feel even more desperate.

What was happening? Was her fortune truly worsening?

She had suddenly suffered such heavy losses, and if this continued, her family business would be destroyed in her hands!

All this while, Charlie Wade, who had been silent, suddenly said, "As a matter of fact, Jasmine, it is not entirely true that Master Lennard did not do anything at all."

Jasmine looked at Charlie Wade curiously before she asked, "What do you mean?"

Charlie Wade replied calmly, "The layout of your room combined with your five elements form a very terrifying and unfortunate Feng Shui alignment known as the 'dragon encapsulation formation'."

"The 'dragon encapsulation formation' will lock and trap all of your good fortunes. However, the formation was not completed because there was a small loophole in your room. That green potted plant that you had by the window left you a way out in this 'dragon encapsulation formation'."

After that, Charlie Wade glanced at Master Lennard before he smiled and said, "Unfortunately, Master Lennard decided to remove your green potted plant and replace it with a stone instead. Since a stone symbolizes gold, the 'dragon encapsulation formation' was finally completed, and that's the reason why you are facing even worse misfortune and bad luck. Even if you remove the stone now, you will still be faced with more bad luck..."

Jasmine was utterly shocked, and she hurriedly put aside all the contempt that she felt for Charlie Wade before pleading for his help. "Mr. Wade, please help me!"

Chapter 213

Master Lennard only realized the huge catastrophe he had caused after hearing Charlie Wade's explanation. Therefore, he hurriedly said, "Miss Moore, I am so sorry! That was not my intention! Master, please take that stone away immediately..."

Charlie Wade shook his head before he replied, "It is already useless to take that stone away now. After all, the 'dragon encapsulation formation' is already completed, and it is equivalent to throwing a stone into water. Even if you took the stone out from the water, the waves generated by the stone cannot be undone anymore."

Jasmine looked at Charlie Wade with a dumbfounded expression on her face. She suddenly felt a little more respect for him, and she quickly asked, "Mr. Wade, can you help me to resolve this problem caused by the 'dragon encapsulation formation'? I will not hesitate to pay you no matter how much money I have to spend to resolve this issue!"

As soon as Albert heard Charlie Wade's words, he quickly said, "Mr. Wade, you have to help our young lady!"

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "Miss Moore, the Feng Shui in your room was originally not a 'dragon encapsulation formation'. However, this is your birth year, and your fate will change this year. Therefore, it is incompatible with the Feng Shui formation of this room. That is how the 'dragon encapsulation formulation' started to develop."

Charlie Wade then continued to say, "I am going to change the Feng Shui of your room, but I am afraid that this will cause some damage to your bedroom. I hope that you will not mind that."

At this time, Jasmine replied immediately, "Mr. Wade, I will have no opinions or objections at all even if you want to demolish my entire house!"

Charlie Wade nodded before he instructed the butler, "Uncle Oscar, could you please find me a crowbar?"

Oscar nodded immediately before saying, "I will go and get it now."

Shortly after, Oscar came back with a metal crowbar in his hand. "Mr. Wade, will this be okay?"

"Yes."

Charlie Wade looked around the room carefully and started calculating with his fingers before walking a few steps around the room. After that, he pointed at a piece of plywood under his feet before saying, "Albert, can you pry this wooden floor open for me?"

Albert nodded but he did not get to work immediately. Instead, he looked at Master Lennard before punching him hard in his abdomen.

As Albert was a mobster boss, he had a lot of practical experience. Therefore, Master Lennard could not even sit up, let alone escape, after Albert had punched him in the stomach.

After punching Master Lennard, Albert took the crowbar from Oscar before prying the wooden floor open according to Charlie Wade's instructions.

The wooden floor was eventually pried open, and the concrete floor below it was exposed.

Albert quickly asked Charlie Wade, "Mr. Wade, what should I do next?"

Charlie Wade replied casually, "There must be a central axis for the 'dragon encapsulation formation'. So, I am deducing that the central axis for this Feng Shui formation is right below this concrete floor. The central axis of the 'dragon encapsulation formation' is driven by water. When water flows through this central axis, that is when all the good fortune will be trapped. Therefore, if I am not mistaken, there should be a water pipeline directly below the cement."

"Really?" Albert asked in surprise. "Mr. Wade, can you see through the concrete floor?"

Charlie Wade replied indifferently, "I cannot see it with my naked eyes, but I can deduce it through the five elements of Feng Shui. For instance, when you see lights on the roof, you would be able to guess that there must be an electrical line embedded in the roof."

Whatever Charlie Wade had mentioned was all written and recorded in the . Most people did not know anything about Feng Shui formation, thus, they would not be able to decide where the elements of water or fire were.

At this time, Charlie Wade said again, "I think that the cement floor above the water pipe should be very thin. You should be able to see the water pipes if you hit the cement floor hard with the crowbar a few times."

"Okay!" Albert replied before hitting the concrete ground hard with the metal crowbar. After a few strokes, Albert successfully cracked the cement floor.

Everyone held their breaths as they watched Albert break through the concrete floor. Sure enough, as soon as Albert broke the cement floor, they saw a PVC water pipe as thick as a thumb below the cement floor!

This kind of PVC water pipe began from the main water source all the way to all the bathrooms in the villa. However, there was only one of this main pipe in this huge villa, and this particular water pipe couldn't be located easily in the house.

Nevertheless, everyone was shocked because Charlie Wade had been able to directly point out the specific location of the water pipe!

Chapter 214

"He really is a God!" At this time, Albert was not the only one who was stunned, but Jasmine and Oscar were also dumbfounded.

It was really amazing that Charlie Wade was able to find the water pipe that was hidden inside the cement floor.

Charlie Wade spoke up again. "Albert, break the water pipe open and let the water spill out immediately. As soon as the water gushes out of the pipe, the 'dragon encapsulation formation' will break down immediately, and this Feng Shui formation will no longer exist!"

Jasmine hurriedly urged, "Albert, hurry up and break the water pipe open!"

Albert nodded before he started hitting the water pipe with the metal crowbar until it finally broke.

A large pool of water spewed out in an instant, and Charlie Wade, Jasmine, and Oscar backed away immediately to avoid the water from getting all over them. Unfortunately, Albert did not manage to escape in time, and the water splashed all over him.

After the water gushed out, Charlie Wade realized that he had already broken the 'dragon encapsulation formation' because of the fatal damage they had done to the water pipe.

Charlie Wade quickly told Oscar, "Turn off the main water valve. The 'dragon encapsulation formation' has already been broken."

"It has already been broken!?" Everyone asked with a curious expression on their faces.

Charlie Wade replied calmly, "Yes, I have already broken the terrifying Feng Shui formation. Therefore, I think that Jasmine's fortune has already been turned around, and she will enjoy many good fortunes soon."

As soon as he was done speaking, Jasmine received a phone call.

"Miss Moore, someone from the company in the United States called to inform us that they had made a mistake and there is nothing wrong with our products whatsoever. All of the products that we shipped to the United States have passed the inspection process."

"That is great news!"

Jasmine was utterly amazed. It seemed as though her fortune had indeed changed as soon as Charlie Wade broke the 'dragon encapsulation formation' for her.

After hanging up the phone, Jasmine quickly thanked Charlie Wade with a grateful expression on her face. "Mr. Wade, you truly are a God! Thank you so much for what you have done for me!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "Miss Moore, you are welcome. The only reason I came here today was because Don Albertt asked me to come and help you out. I am only doing what I can."

Albert was very touched and almost burst into tears when he heard Charlie Wade's words. He truly did not expect Charlie Wade to remember to speak up for him at a time like this. This way, he would certainly be able to get into Jasmine's good books!

He had always wanted to get into Jasmine's good books, but the young lady of the Moore family would never allow someone like him to get closer to her. Therefore, he had been helping the Moore family out whenever he could because he wanted to get her attention and win her favor. Since Charlie Wade had given him this credit, Jasmine would undoubtedly give Albert more attention and opportunities in the future.

Jasmine then looked at Albert before saying, "Thank you for looking out for me. I will definitely remember what you have done for me."

Albert hurriedly replied, "Miss Moore, I am merely doing what I should do."

Jasmine nodded slightly. She was the young lady of the Moore family in front of Albert, but she was still very respectful and polite toward Charlie Wade.

After a brief moment, Jasmine's cell phone started ringing again.

It was Mr. Lambeth from Hong Kong!

"Mr. Lambeth? Why are you calling me again?"

Jasmine was somewhat dissatisfied because Mr. Lambeth had just called to terminate their partnership with the Moore family not too long ago.

At this time, Mr. Lambeth quickly spoke on the other end of the line, "Miss Moore, I am so sorry! There seems to have been a misunderstanding before this. My father's Feng Shui master told him that your fortune had changed suddenly, and your good luck and wealth will be soaring overwhelmingly! Therefore, I would strongly suggest that we continue the business partnership between the Lambeth and the Moore family. I sincerely hope that we will be able to sign a partnership contract as soon as possible. I will fly in to Aurouss Hill tomorrow if it is fine with you. Will I be able to meet you then?"

Chapter 215

Jasmine was so surprised that her jaw almost fell to the ground due to Mr. Lambeth's drastic change in attitude.

Even though she was still furious because of what Mr. Lambeth had done before this, she still wanted to shout out excitedly right now!

However, she remained calm and maintained her composure as she said, "Alright, then. If that is the case, let's make an appointment at a time and place to sign the partnership agreement."

Mr. Lambeth quickly replied, "Alright, the sooner, the better! I will fly in to Aurouss Hill tomorrow to meet up with you in person, Miss Moore!"

Jasmine stared at Charlie Wade in awe as soon as she had hung up the phone.

She could already see Charlie Wade's skills and power through Mr. Lambeth's phone call.

Previously, when Master Lennard had destroyed her fortune by completing the 'dragon encapsulation formation', Mr. Lambeth had called to tell her that he wanted to terminate the business partnership between their families. At that time, Mr. Lambeth's father's Feng Shui master had also told Jasmine that he could tell that her fortune was not good at all. However, as soon as Charlie Wade broke the Feng Shui formation, Mr. Lambeth had called back immediately to tell her that his father's Feng Shui master had said that her fortune had changed drastically and she was going to have very good fortune and wealth from now on. This was proof that Charlie Wade was not just a swindler.

While Jasmine was still amazed at what Charlie Wade had done, she suddenly received a phone call from an unknown number. Upon answering the call, the other party asked over the other end of the line, "Hello, is this Miss Moore?"

"Yes, who is this?"

The other party quickly replied, "Miss Moore, I am the manager of the Hermes boutique in town. Do you remember coming to our boutique to try on some clothes and accessories last week?"

Jasmine replied, "Yes, I remember. What's wrong?"

The other party quickly explained, "Miss Moore, I am calling to inform you that we found a diamond necklace in the corner of the fitting room, and your name is engraved on the necklace. I think you must have dropped it when you visited our boutique last week."

Jasmine was trembling in excitement as soon as she heard the other party's words. She quickly asked, "So, where is the necklace now? Do you have it with you?"

"Yes, it is at our boutique."

"I will come over to pick it up right now."

Upon hanging up the phone, Jasmine burst into tears immediately. Then, she looked at Charlie Wade with a grateful expression on her face as she said, "Mr. Wade, I have finally found the diamond necklace that my mother gave me. Thank you so much..."

Charlie Wade simply smiled before replying, "You should go and get your necklace now. If you are in a hurry, please leave now!"

Jasmine nodded before she took out her checkbook and hurriedly wrote a cash cheque for twenty million dollars, handing it over to Charlie Wade as she said, "Mr. Wade, please accept this as a token of my gratitude. I am genuinely grateful for everything that you have done for me today."

Charlie Wade smiled as he waved his hands.

Twenty million dollars?

He really did not need that money at all.

He had more than tens of billions of dollars to his name, so why would he need twenty million dollars from her?"

Charlie Wade simply replied, "Jasmine, we are friends. There is no need for you to pay me for my help."

However, Jasmine kept insisting. "Mr. Wade, please accept this twenty million dollars as a token. Otherwise, I will feel bad."

Charlie Wade replied, "Jasmine, who knows if we might need each other's help in the future? So, I think there is absolutely no need for us to be so calculative with one another."

As soon as Jasmine heard Charlie Wade's words, she suddenly realized her mistake, and she quickly put away the cheque before apologizing, "I am sorry, Mr. Wade. I am so stupid. Please do not hesitate to call me if you need my help in the future."

Charlie Wade smiled as he said, "Okay! Hurry up and get your diamond necklace back as soon as possible!"

Jasmine nodded. She really could not wait to get her diamond necklace back. Thus, after she had thanked Charlie Wade, she asked Oscar to drive her out in a hurry.

After Jasmine and Oscar had left the Moore family villa, Don Albertt looked at Charlie Wade gratefully. Albert grabbed hold of Charlie Wade's hand before saying, "Mr. Wade, you are truly a very incredible person! If you ever need my help in the future, do not hesitate to call me! I would be willing to climb a mountain or walk over a fire just for you!"

Chapter 216

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Remember what you have said today! I might need you to do something for me in the future!"

Albert nodded before he replied, "Mr. Wade, don't worry! You can give me orders to do anything for you!"

At this time, Master Lennard who had been lying on the ground as he held onto his stomach suddenly began crying and begging for mercy. "Big brother, please let me go! I will not dare to do this anymore in the future. Please, forgive me and let me go."

Albert sneered before he said, "You are a liar! I must teach you a lesson. My subordinates are coming to get you now!"

Charlie Wade asked in a low voice, "How are you going to deal with him?"

Albert replied coldly, "I've already said that I will chop him up into pieces before feeding him to the dogs! How could I not keep to my word? I have a friend who owns a dog shelter. He has so many dogs there, they could probably finish eating ten scumbags like him!"

As soon as Master Lennard heard Albert's words, he was so frightened that he started trembling in fear. Then, he cried as he continued begging for mercy. "Big brother, I have a family that I have to look after. Please just let me off this time! I will certainly remember your kindness..."

Charlie Wade glanced at him but did not feel any sympathy for him at all.

After all, he was nothing but a deceitful liar who would only cause more harm to this world. If he continued messing around in the Feng Shui industry, he could cost some innocent people their lives!

To put it bluntly, he was just a deceitful liar who deserved to die.

Moreover, Master Lennard had completed the 'dragon encapsulation formation' today simply because he wanted to scam Jasmine of her money. If Charlie Wade had not been there today, Jasmine would undoubtedly have lost her life.

Furthermore, the Moore family owned a very big business, and if such a huge enterprise were to collapse, Charlie Wade could not imagine the number of people who would be affected by this! If so, Jasmine would not be the only one affected because of what Master Lennard had done!

Hence, Charlie Wade felt that there was no need for a scumbag like this to remain in this world.

Before long, some of Albert's subordinates showed up and dragged Master Lennard away.

Master Lennard continued crying and howling, complaining about how miserable and pitiful he was. He even said that he regretted his actions, but no one sympathized with him at all.

Charlie Wade simply stared at him before he shook his head. He had already told him that a bloody disaster would befall him today. Unfortunately, Master Lennard refused to believe him, and so, he could only accept the consequences of his actions now.

After solving all the problems, Albert quickly thanked Charlie Wade for everything that he had done before he drove Charlie Wade home.

Upon returning home, Charlie Wade realized that Claire Wilson Wilson was still looking for a job.

Charlie Wade did not say much because even though he really wanted to start up a new company for Claire Wilson Wilson, she did not seem interested in the idea at all. Therefore, he did not want to say too much.

Besides, he did not want Claire Wilson Wilson to tire herself out. If he started a company for her, she would have to deal with a lot of work at the early stage of the business. With Claire Wilson Wilson's character and persistence, Charlie Wade knew that she would definitely push herself, and she would only be suffering in the end.

Later that evening, Charlie Wade received a phone call from his good friend, Douglas.

Ever since Charlie Wade had helped Douglas teach the adulterous pair a lesson at the hospital, Charlie Wade had not seen Douglas again. The main reason was simply that there were too many things that had happened at home recently, and he really did not have any time to visit him at all.

Douglas informed Charlie Wade over the phone that he had recovered and could finally be discharged from the hospital today.

Since Charlie Wade had helped him to reclaim his hotel and get a compensation that was worth a few million dollars, the first thing Douglas wanted to do after getting discharged from the hospital was to treat some of his close friends to dinner.

Charlie Wade agreed immediately because he was glad that his good friend was finally going to be discharged from the hospital.

Just then, Claire Wilson Wilson walked out of the bathroom after taking a shower and asked Charlie Wade casually, "Who is calling you so late at night?"

Charlie Wade replied, "Douglas has just been discharged from the hospital. He wants to treat us to dinner. Let's go together tomorrow."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded and replied, "Okay."

Chapter 217

At noon the next day.

Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson went to the Maple Hotel by car.

The Maple Hotel was not the most expensive in Aurouss Hilll, but it was among the most exclusive and luxurious in town, indicating Douglas's sincerity in treating them.

In fact, he spent quite lavishly on this meal as he had booked the premium dining suite in the hotel. It was luxuriously decorated and was spacious enough to accommodate twenty people with the minimum spending of seven to eight thousand dollars.

Many people had already arrived in the suite when Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson arrived. Besides Douglas and Loreen, there were also a few college mates.

Loreen hadn't had a good time lately.

She had come to Aurouss Hilll from Eastcliff for some time now for the main purpose of getting to know the chairman of Emgrand Group. However, she had never had a chance to even see the man himself after working for so long in the company.

Moreover, although she had gotten to stay in the office when she was the administrative director, after she was transferred to the sales department, she had spent less and less time in the office which critically reduced her chances of meeting the chairman.

However, she had stumbled into another dilemma now. She had been obsessed with the mysterious man ever since she was rescued by him the other day. If truth be told, she even felt as though she had fallen in love with him at first sight. Hence, her desire to meet the chairman was not as great as before, and on the contrary, she was more eager to meet her savior.

Yet, she would never have guessed that the chairman of Emgrand Group and her mysterious savior was actually the same guy—Charlie Wade.

As Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson walked into the suite, Douglas rose to his feet quickly and greeted them, "Hey, buddy! Claire Wilson Wilson! Welcome! Come, have a seat."

Douglas greeted the couple very respectfully. His heart brimmed with admiration and appreciation toward this good buddy of his.

Loreen looked a little haggard and depressed as she held a lot of secrets inside her. When she saw Claire Wilson Wilson, suddenly, she had the urge to spill the beans.

She barged forward, and holding onto Claire Wilson Wilson's wrists, she said weakly, "Claire Wilson Wilson, come, sit with me. I want to tell you something."

Claire Wilson Wilson replied with a warm smile, "What is it? What happened to you? Why do you look so listless?"

Loreen sighed. "It's all because of my mysterious savior! You know what, I think I've fallen in love with him! I see him everywhere... Whenever I close my eyes, I see him. He is even in my dreams, but I can't find him! What should I do..."

"Umm... I don't know how, either..." Claire Wilson Wilson shrugged helplessly. Ever since Loreen had been rescued by that mysterious guy, she had wanted to find him and marry him, but where and how could you find a guy amongst the crowd of people? That was like finding a needle in a haystack.

Cold sweat drenched Charlie Wade's forehead as he listened to the ladies' conversation. Had Loreen truly fallen in love with him? That was preposterous! He could never ever let Loreen know that he was her savior, otherwise, all hell would break loose!

After a few drinks and a hefty meal, Douglas stood up, beginning to liven up the atmosphere. "Guys, thank you all for coming today! I would like to make a toast to you all! Cheers!"

Then, he drank bottoms-up.

A few of them who were quite close to him also yelled, "Cheers!"

Charlie Wade smiled lightly and took a sip from his wine glass.

"Douglas, I heard that you are a big boss now, with the fancy new restaurant of yours and two million in cash in your hands. In fact, you know someone from the underworld, don't you? You must look after us in the future."

A coquettish woman dressed in enchanting clothes with heavy makeup on her face smiled charmingly.

Chapter 218

"Joanne, do you ever listen to yourself? Douglas is our best buddy, he will undoubtedly give us a hand if we need help."

A man with a square face spoke up. He picked up his glass and downed it in one go.

Charlie Wade glanced over at them briefly. He remembered them as his collegemates. The woman's name was Joanne Hampton, and the man's name was Jerry McLean.

Douglas replied timidly, "Oh no, I cannot take credit for all of that. Sigh, it's a long story, just forget about it!"

He then looked at Charlie Wade, feeling grateful with a tinge of emotion.

It had been a stroke of misfortune to have been with a cheater and sl*t that he had almost lost everything to her, even getting beaten up for that.

Luckily, thanks to Charlie Wade's help, he was able to reclaim ownership of the restaurant and receive two million in compensation. Thus, everything that he owned now was literally because of Charlie Wade. He couldn't take any credit for that.

Hence, he changed the subject and started, "Anyway, Jerry, you're pretty well off now, aren't you? I heard that you are one of the top executives in your company! I bet you must be making six figures a year."

Jerry answered with a sigh, "Ah, forget it. The company doesn't treat me fairly. I'm about to resign and send my resume to Spikeworth Corps to try my luck. Remember George? George Harris? I heard that he is a senior manager there, a solid position! Who would have thought that the kid is doing so well now!"

"Oh, George..." Douglas managed an awkward smile. He was not on good terms with George, which was why George had not been invited to tonight's dinner.

However, Jerry and George were quite close. If Spikeworth accepted him, he would be appointed to a distinguished position with George's recommendation.

Loreen spoke after pondering for a while, "I heard that Spikeworth is a big company in Aurouss Hilll that has very good reviews. Wow, I didn't know that George is doing so well now, either."

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little stunned when she heard the name of Spikeworth Corps being mentioned.

After breaking her ties with the Wilson family and was kicked out from the Wilson Group, she had been sending out her resume to a lot of companies over the past few days in hopes of a new job, one of which was Spikeworth Corps.

Claire Wilson Wilson said with a smile, "Hey, I also sent my resume to Spikeworth. If we ace the interview, we will work in the same company."

Joanne was a little surprised. "Claire Wilson Wilson, you've been working in your family company all these years, why would you suddenly want to apply for a job at Spikeworth?"

Claire Wilson Wilson's smile became a little bitter as she continued, "I've cut ties with my family now, so I need to find a new job. Otherwise, I can't support my family."

Upon hearing this, Joanne glanced at Charlie Wade, her gaze full of contempt and disgust. "Charlie Wade, look at your wife. She has to work so hard for the family. As a man, you are so useless and ignorant to allow your woman to be so desperate and depressed."

Jerry was not very close to Charlie Wade, so he laughed unscrupulously. "Charlie Wade, why don't you try your luck in George's company, too? Maybe, based on your qualifications, you are only qualified as the cleaner, but for the sake of our time spent back in college, he should be able to make you the head of the cleaning crew."

Charlie Wade replied flatly, "No thanks, you should keep the benefit for yourselves. I'm not interested."

Jerry was agitated by Charlie Wade's indifference, and his tone became more sinister as he said, "Charlie Wade, I know that you are very egotistic, but just look at yourself now. Everyone is doing better than you. Take my word of advice, don't set your expectations too high! Get real!"

Douglas frowned at the bantering and interjected, "Alright, that's enough! It's our class reunion today, don't bully Charlie Wade like that."

Then, he turned to Charlie Wade and said apologetically, "Dude, don't take it personally. You know them, they have a quick tongue."

Joanne snorted insolently. "Douglas, we are so frank because Charlie Wade is always laid-back and passive. He has no ability whatsoever, but he's pretty good at pretending."

Jerry added disdainfully, "This is what a deadbeat loser looks like..."

Chapter 219

Charlie Wade stared daggers at them, but for Douglas's sake, he couldn't be bothered with these two idiots.

Despite Charlie Wade's silence, Joanne and Jerry despised him even more for not defending himself after being ridiculed and insulted! What a loser!

Jerry continued his insults, "Hey, in my opinion, Claire Wilson Wilson was truly blind. So many fine gentlemen in our class and yet, Charlie Wade the loser was her final choice? Huh, such a waste!"

In the middle of their banter, suddenly, the suite's door was pushed open.

Bang!

Several brawny men in black barged into the room, and one of them, a young man with a crew-cut head and a cigarette in his hand said coldly, "Get out of here. I want this room."

Jerry frowned in annoyance. "What do you think you're doing? Can't you see that we're having our dinner?"

Then, he slammed the table fiercely and growled, "This is the Maple Hotel, first come first serve! Don't you know the rules?"

"First come first serve?"

The fierce-looking young man came over to Jerry and slapped him on his face without any warning. Jerry fell to the floor, his face swollen and bright red.

"Who the f*ck do you think you are? I am Rambo, Don Albertt's underling! F*ck off!"

"Rambo?"

Clutching his swollen face, panic and anxiety flooded Jerry's eyes. Rambo was infamously known to own the block around here. Although his rank was considered menial in the whole Aurouss Hilll, he was still feared by commoners like them.

"I'm sorry, Rambo! We'll go now! We'll get out of here right away!"

Rambo sneered triumphantly and shouted at the crowd, "What are you still doing here! Get out, f*ckers!"

Loreen and Claire Wilson Wilson were shocked by the sudden altercation and they hid behind Charlie Wade submissively.

Charlie Wade looked at Rambo, his eyes as calm as the lake, but his tone as cold as ice when he spoke. "For Albert's sake, I'll spare your life if you get out of here right now!"

"F*ck, Charlie Wade, are you f*cking crazy! That's Rambo Miller!"

"We're extremely sorry, Rambo, we don't know this guy! You can do whatever you want with him but please don't hurt us..."

Jerry and Joanne cursed Charlie Wade inside out with their gritted teeth and panicked gazes. What the heck did he think he was doing right now? That was Don Albertt's man, Rambo Miller! A murderer who had seen blood! Could he just dig his own grave away from them and leave them all alone!

However, despite their panic, Rambo paused as he looked back at Charlie Wade, trying to search that face in his memory. Suddenly, his expression changed, and he asked hesitantly, "You are... Charlie Wade? Charlie Wade Wade... Mr. Wade?!"

Rambo had been under Don Albertt for a long time, and so, he had heard of Charlie Wade's name before. Thus, the memory struck his mind.

Charlie Wade responded coldly, "Is there another Charlie Wade Wade in Aurouss Hilll that I am not aware of?"

As if struck by lightning, Rambo widened his eyes in extreme shock and then knelt on the floor immediately. "Mr. Wade, I'm so sorry! I didn't recognize you, sorry for messing up your dinner! Please accept my apology!"

Jerry was utterly dumbstruck by the abrupt change of situation that he mumbled, "Rambo, there must be some misunderstanding here. Yes, his name is Charlie Wade Wade, but he's just some deadbeat loser! You don't have to address him so formally!"

Blood drained from Rambo's face upon hearing such an atrocious remark, and he kicked Jerry to the floor, yelling, "Shut the f*ck up! How dare you insult Mr. Wade! I'll kill you today!"

Rambo could be regarded as the leader of the underworld in this block, but he knew full well that he was nothing but Don Albertt's lapdog. Charlie Wade was someone that even Don Albertt had to flatter and coax! He didn't even qualify to be so close to him!

"And you, b*tch, how dare you to insult Mr. Wade!"

Rambo raised his hand and slapped it across Joanne's face, forcing blood to ooze from the corner of her lips.

Chapter 220

"That's enough, Rambo. We're having dinner here, get lost!"

Charlie Wade couldn't care less about a small character like Rambo, so he waved his hand lazily and asked him to leave.

Rambo bowed respectfully and said, "Okay, Mr. Wade. I'll get out of here right now!"

Then, he quickly retreated from the room like a pug.

Jerry and Joanne were feeling extremely agitated and annoyed. Charlie Wade, whom they had mocked and ridiculed in every possible way, had turned into Mr. Wade! What the hell was going on?!

There had to be some sort of misunderstanding here. Charlie Wade was just a deadbeat loser! Why did Rambo address him as Mr. Wade?! He wasn't worth it!

Douglas turned to them and said sternly, "You two, watch your mouth. Stay low-key and humble. You are wise enough to know what you can or cannot say out loud. Luckily Charlie Wade was here today, otherwise, you guys would be in big trouble!"

Jerry and Joanne stayed as quiet as mice after being beaten by Rambo.

Douglas then turned to Charlie Wade and said gratefully, "Charlie Wade, thank you so much! I would like to make a toast to you on behalf of everyone, thank you!"

Charlie Wade smiled. "It's my pleasure."

The next day, Claire Wilson Wilson received an interview invitation from Spikeworth Corps.

The interview was scheduled in the afternoon. Charlie Wade discreetly called Zeke when Claire Wilson Wilson was not looking.

After the call was answered, Zeke's respectful voice resonated, "Hello, Master Wade. How can I assist you?"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "My wife is going to the Spikeworth Corps for an interview, I want to know about the company and its background."

Zeke replied in surprise, "Spikeworth? That company is wholly-owned by our White family. Did Miss Wilson apply for this company? It would be such a waste of her talent. Why don't I replace the current chairman of the company with Miss Wilson?"

Charlie Wade was surprised when he found out that the White family owned Spikeworth Corps. It was fantastic news since Zeke was on their side, but he remembered that Claire Wilson Wilson had told him firmly that she wanted to prove herself with her abilities, so he said firmly, "No, you don't have to do that. Make some arrangements so that my wife can pass her interview."

"Okay, Master Wade. I'll get on it right away."

After Zeke ended the call, he asked his assistant to send an immediate notice to the senior management of Spikeworth Corps. He had to perform Master Wade's every request wonderfully.

At two o'clock in the afternoon, Claire Wilson Wilson was getting ready to head to Spikeworth Corps for the interview, and Charlie Wade kept her company. They had to go by cab since their car was at the workshop for its maintenance service, but it was the peak hour, and they couldn't get one even after waiting by the roadside for a long time.

Claire Wilson Wilson started to get a little anxious and said desperately, "If I'm late and miss the interview, it will definitely give them a bad impression. I shouldn't have sent the car for maintenance..."

Charlie Wade glanced helplessly at the queue ahead of them. There were at least fifty people before his turn. They had made a big mistake.

At this crucial moment, a black Rolls-Royce slowly stopped in front of them. The window rolled down, and it was Zeke. He was surprised to see them and said, "Mr. Wade, are you waiting for a taxi?"

Charlie Wade was equally surprised. It was such a coincidence for Zeke to appear at this desperate moment! Hence, he uttered, "Yes, I want to take my wife to Spikeworth Corps for an interview. Why are you here?"

Chapter 221

Zeke quickly said, "Mr. Wade, it's the peak hour now, the hardest time to get a taxi. Why don't I send you there, if you don't mind?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was curious and skeptical about this coincidence, but she was too desperate to say no to the generous offer. "Thank you so much for the lift, Mr. White."

"You're too welcome, it's my pleasure." Zeke hurriedly got out of the car and opened the door for them happily.

Charlie Wade simply rubbed his nose sheepishly without a word. He was well aware that Zeke had grabbed the best opportunity to flatter him, and coincidentally, he needed his help, so he didn't refuse the offer.

The driver drove in front while Zeke sat in the front passenger seat and started a casual conversation with Charlie Wade.

On the way, Claire Wilson Wilson listened to their conversation while a puzzling sensation brewed inside her.

Zeke White was one of the successful businessmen in Aurouss Hilll that earned a much higher honor and reputation in the business circle as compared to Lady Wilson. Such a figure usually possessed a firm and stern temperament, and yet, inside the car, Claire Wilson Wilson could clearly feel that Zeke seemed to be butter Charlie Wade up and it was so obvious that it was getting a little greasy.

Then, she peeked at Charlie Wade and found that he remained natural with a stoic look, making the whole scene even more mysterious.

Logically speaking, when ordinary people got to meet a prominent figure like Zeke White, they would be very humble and try their best to please him. Yet, on the contrary, Charlie Wade looked indifferent, and he didn't even seem to care about Zeke.

What was more peculiar was that Zeke had given Charlie Wade a villa worth more than 100 million dollars! It was so bizarre and odd!

On the other hand, Claire Wilson Wilson had long heard that Zeke was very much into metaphysics and very superstitious. He would pray, worship, and give offerings to the God of Wealth at home on the fifth and fifteenth of each month. It just so happened that Charlie Wade seemed to have familiarized himself with this kind of superstitious study, and that was probably why Zeke was so polite to Charlie Wade.

Nevertheless, she did not believe in these superstitions at all.

Ten minutes later, the car parked at the entrance of Spikeworth Corps. Again, Zeke swiftly got out of the car and opened the door for them.

Claire Wilson Wilson quickly blurted a thank you and followed Charlie Wade into the company.

"Master Wade, I'll be here waiting for you," Zeke said from behind them.

Charlie Wade nodded to him and said, "Thank you for the lift, but you don't have to wait here. I don't know how long we will take."

"It's okay. I don't have anything to do today, anyway."

Zeke bowed to him and continued, "The White family's business is not doing so well recently, it has got me really worried. I would like to find some time to consult with you."

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "You were born in the year of Rooster, weren't you? Your birth sign clashes with this year's Tai Sui, which is the main reason for your misfortune and disturbances. Buy some herbs such as mugwort, caltrops, atractylodes, and Poria. Put them all into a bag and bath in the herb-infused water to treat eczema. After the eczema is gone, you won't be as unlucky as you are now. The eczema is caused by the blocked internal circulation that is not only affecting your body but also your luck."

Zeke was so shocked as he listened to Charlie Wade's remark, his jaw almost dropping to the floor.

Charlie Wade turned and left after he had finished speaking. Zeke slowly regained his composure from the daze and mumbled, "Genius, Master Wade. You are a godlike genius! You even predicted eczema on my thigh, even my wife doesn't know about it!"

He bowed respectfully to Charlie Wade with a look of worship on his face as Charlie Wade walked away. It looked as though he had made the best decision by buttering Charlie Wade up!

Zeke stood upright and snorted. "Huh, Graham Quinton. You were so d*mned lucky when you hopped on Master Wade's wagon, but so did I! I'll catch up to you with my own wagon and do better than you!"

Charlie Wade walked into the lobby and sent Claire Wilson Wilson into the interview room.

As Claire Wilson Wilson entered the interview room, she saw several candidates making a line for the interview, so she joined the queue.

Charlie Wade strolled around the hall to pass his time. As he glanced downstairs from the window, he shook his head with a bitter smile as he saw that Zeke was still waiting by the entrance. He couldn't help it if the White family insisted on worshipping him like a God.

Chapter 222
In the office.

Sitting behind his desk with his legs on the table, George stared at his phone intensely as he flirted with several women on a dating app.

Just then, his phone buzzed, and a text message popped up.

George pursed his lips in annoyance. As he reluctantly opened the text message, he saw that it was the interview schedule from the HR department.

He frowned as soon as he laid eyes on it with a tinge of shock, and then he sneered sarcastically, shaking his phone at the people sitting next to him. "Hey, guess who came to Spikeworth?"

Sitting on the sofa with George were Jerry and Joanne who were here to meet George in hopes of currying favor with him.

Seductive enchantment radiated from Joanne's body as she sat with her leg crossed in a low-cut body-hugging skirt and her wavy long hair cascading down her shoulders. She checked her nails arrogantly and asked, "Who is it?"

"Charlie Wade Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson!" George clicked his tongue in disdain and sneered, "Claire Wilson Wilson applied for a job here, that's weird."

Jerry asked in a displeased tone, "Why are they here?"

Joanne answered, "Last night, I heard Claire Wilson Wilson say that she and Charlie Wade were kicked out of the Wilson family. She must be looking for a new job since she can't stay at her family's company any longer."

Jerry snorted. "George, last night, that loser was so cocky and pompous, causing me and Joanne to be beaten up by those crooks. You must take revenge on our behalf!"

George replied contemptuously, "I've always found Charlie Wade the loser very annoying and irritating, and now his wife wants to work here? Dream on!"

He stood up, spruced up his coat, and said flatly, "Just wait and see. I'll reject Claire Wilson Wilson's application and kick her out of here!"

Joanne and Jerry plastered a condescending smirk on their faces that said 'Keep on your pretentious act, losers!'.

George walked out of his office and went directly to the conference room where the interview was being conducted.

Meanwhile, in the conference room, three interviewers were talking to Claire Wilson Wilson right then.

"Hi, Mr. Harris."

The three interviewers stood up and bowed to George when he walked into the conference room.

George put on a surprised look when he saw Claire Wilson Wilson and exclaimed, "Oh, hey! Claire Wilson Wilson! Why are you here?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was equally surprised. "Hi, George. Long time no see."

George nodded with a smile. "Yes, it's been a while."

Then, he turned to the three interviewers and said, "You can go out now. I'll handle this interview."

"Um, Mr. Harris, I don't think that's a good idea."

"Why? Are you saying that I can't even conduct an interview?"

"Okay, Mr. Harris!"

George Harris was the senior executive in the company. The interviewers didn't dare to disobey his order, so they quickly left the room.

Claire Wilson Wilson was very puzzled at what had just happened. What was George trying to do? Did he want to accept her application under the counter since he knew her?

"Claire Wilson Wilson, I came as soon as I heard that you were attending the interview today."

George spoke as he eyed Claire Wilson Wilson coyly. She was so beautiful and elegant, and her body was so hot. She was so much better than those women on the dating app!

It was a pity that she chose Charlie Wade the loser as her husband!

Chapter 223

Claire Wilson Wilson didn't know that George was up to no good, and so, she hurriedly said upon his politeness, "George, you are too welcome."

George pasted on a pretentiously kind smile. Taking Claire Wilson Wilson's resume from the table, he flipped through it casually and said in a depressing tone, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I'm so sorry but from what I see in your resume, your qualifications don't meet our requirements, regardless of skills or experience. You do not fit our demand."

Then, he sighed and continued, "Well, I'm sorry, Claire Wilson Wilson. You've failed the interview. I suggest you try another company. Good luck!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was taken aback by his harsh rejection and hurriedly said, "But I've been working at the management department at the Wilson Group for so many years! I'm certain that my professionalism fits the criteria that your company has stated."

George shook his head and said firmly. "Oh, no. Your so-called qualifications and experiences are simply because you are part of the Wilson family. Now that you've been kicked out of the family, you're fundamentally a nobody!"

"Alright, then." Claire Wilson Wilson looked down dejectedly, a layer of gloom hovering under her eyes. She finally knew George's intention of interrupting her interview—he was waging a personal vendetta against her.

She was infuriated by George's unprofessionalism. Knowing full well that she didn't stand a chance being accepted by Spikeworth Corps, she withdrew her smile and walked out of the room in distress.

Behind her, George grinned triumphantly and muttered, "Don't you ever dream of getting into Spikeworth for as long as I'm here!"

Charlie Wade was in the lounge area, waiting. He was a little surprised when he saw Claire Wilson Wilson walking out of the elevator with an aggrieved expression. He went to her swiftly and asked, "Darling, what's wrong? How was the interview? Not good?"

Tears drenching her reddened eyes, Claire Wilson Wilson spilled out everything that had happened during the interview.

Charlie Wade was enraged and irritated after listening to her story.

George was such a d*ck! He never dared to go after him with malicious attempts but he dared to bully his wife?! How dare he!

Taking out his phone, his fingers danced around the virtual keyboard as he typed a message. "George Harris of Spikeworth is pretty powerful, huh? He dares to bully my wife. Mr. White, how are you going to solve it?" He sent it directly to Zeke.

Meanwhile, Zeke was waiting for Charlie Wade in the lobby downstairs with his bodyguard. When he received the message, he stared blankly at it first, and soon, the expression on his face was replaced by an extremely shocked gape!

D*mn it! He was trying desperately to fawn on Charlie Wade, and this George something had gone out of his way and offended Charlie Wade's wife! He had a death wish, didn't he!?

Enraged, Zeke spoke to his assistant without hesitation. "Gather all of Spikeworth's board of directors right now!"

Spikeworth Corps was a subsidiary company of the White family, hence, Zeke's existence in the company was as majestic as the emperor.

When the board of directors heard that Zeke White was here and wanted to see them, they hurriedly went over to greet him.

As the head of the White family, no one dared to upset Zeke. If he disbanded Spikeworth for any reason at all, all of them would be jobless!

George was not one of the directors, so, he didn't know how much trouble he had caused. After driving Claire Wilson Wilson away, he returned to his office, sitting on his chair and smoking a cigar with a smug smile.

After hearing that George had kicked Claire Wilson Wilson out, Jerry and Joanne were extremely thrilled. They surrounded him and praised him. "Boss, all you need is one remark and Claire Wilson Wilson is kicked out of your company! You're so awesome!"

"True that! George is a senior executive of Spikeworth. George, you are the most successful among us!"

Joanne and Jerry touted George in the hope that if they could be in good terms with him, they would at least be guaranteed with a bright future, not to mention being rich and powerful.

George said smugly, "I've always found Charlie Wade disgusting and irritating since college. Now that his wife wants to apply for Spikeworth? Dream on!"

Joanne giggled. "Ah, George, you should have taken a video just now! I want to see how sad Claire Wilson Wilson looked after being rejected!"

George laughed. "Haha, she almost cried! Oh my God, it was so funny!"

Jerry quickly asked, "What about Charlie Wade? Did he come with her?"

"I don't know. I didn't see him," George snorted coldly. "If that loser dares to step foot here, I'll f*cking break his leg!"

Joanne kept on flattering George, "Wow, you're the best! Charlie Wade seems so little and transparent compared to you!"

Chapter 224

George laughed triumphantly. "Just wait and see. When I join the board of directors, these people will look up and worship me!"

Jerry asked in surprise, "George, are you going to be one of the directors?"

"Almost," George said with a smug smile. "It's under process. If everything goes smoothly, I'll be promoted in a few months!"

"Wow, that is so great!" Jerry gave him a thumbs up and exclaimed, "George, please don't forget your buddy when you're the director!"

George nodded. "Of course! Don't worry, I'll look out for you."

In the middle of the conversation, there was a loud bang, and the door of George's office was kicked open violently.

"Who the f*ck dares to kick my door..."

George was shocked by the sudden commotion. He was about to shout when he saw all the members of the board of directors standing at his door, bowing respectfully at a middle-aged man in a suit. He stared at them in a daze as he swallowed his curse.

Zeke glared at George darkly and asked, "Are you George Harris?"

In a trance, George nodded slowly. "Yes, I am."

Without any warning, Zeke marched forward and slapped him hard across the face!

"F*ck you! How dare you reject Miss Wilson's application, you id*ot!"

Clutching his swollen face, George was stupefied. "Who the hell are you? How dare you slap me!"

"How dare I slap you?! I'll kill you right now!" Zeke kicked George to the floor, stomping on his head and growling, "Do you know that Master Wade had ordered that I must let Miss Wilson pass her interview!? And yet, you ruined it, you f*cking id*ot! If I don't make you pay today, I'll write my name, Zeke White, backward!"

George trembled in shock and fear upon hearing the name 'Zeke White'. He knew that he was in deep sh*t now.

He was Zeke White, the owner of Spikeworth, and the head of the White family!

The entire Spikeworth belonged to the White family, and he had literally upset the ultimate boss! What was going on?!

"Mr... Mr. White, I really didn't know that there was such an arrangement! If I knew, I wouldn't dare to disobey you even if someone threatened me at gunpoint. Please, please forgive me!"

George could only plead desperately as Zeke stepped on him on the floor like a bloody dog.

Meanwhile, Jerry and Joanne were even more terrified, not even daring to breathe.

Wade, as in Charlie Wade Wade? Him again?!

How did Charlie Wade know Zeke, the successful businessman?! He was just a deadbeat moocher!

What they didn't know was that the big boss standing in front of them was Charlie Wade's lapdog who had tried his best to butter Charlie Wade up.

"George Harris, from this point forward, you're fired! According to the employment contract, you've committed a major liability mistake, and you have to compensate the company for 5 million dollars!"

George was utterly stunned as if he had been struck by lightning!

5 million dollars! He wasn't worth that much money even if he traded himself!

He knelt on the floor and pleaded vigorously, "Please, Mr. White, please give me another chance! I'll apologize to Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson right now! Please! Please don't fire me!"

Zeke sneered. "Apology? Who do you think you are?"

Zeke kicked George away and announced, "Release the news. George Harris has offended Master Wade, thus, the White family now blacklists him in all the industries. This piece of trash will end up on the streets and be miserable for the rest of his life!"

Chapter 225

George collapsed to the floor, his eyes filled with despair and agony.

The reason why he was promoted to a senior executive position at such a young age had a lot to do with the strict employment contract that he had signed on his own will.

To strengthen the control of their employees, the Spikeworth Corps had issued a very demanding and biased employment contract which guaranteed a promotion after signing, but they would be fully bound by the company. The promotion was guaranteed, but they had to prove that they were worthwhile and work hard to be loyal to the company. If they failed their performance indicator or had disagreements, the company would file a huge claim against them.

Many people were afraid to sign such a contract due to its harsh and stern terms and condition, but at that moment, George was a fresh graduate who was full of ego and strived to succeed. Hence, he had signed the contract decisively despite the somewhat unfair consequences.

Indeed, he had been promoted immediately and the company appreciated him very much, but now, the bitter consequences awaited!

Kneeling on the floor, George trembled in disbelief and despair.

He had invested all his life and dedication in Spikeworth Corps, but now, not only did the company want to sue him for 5 million, but Zeke White had announced that he had shunned him..

How could he ever find a job again?! If he had no job, he would have no income, and his life would be in big trouble in addition to the 5 million dollars compensation. There would be no other possibility apart from going to jail..

He grabbed Zeke's foot and wailed desperately, "Mr. White, please, please forgive me! Please give me another chance! Please! If you blacklist me, where would I find the money to pay the compensation? Please give me one more chance to prove myself! I'll do anything for you! I'll be the slave of the company, I'll behave and be an honest man, contributing my entire effort to the company! Please!"

Zeke kicked him away in annoyance and growled, "What's the use of apologizing now? It's too late! Do you think the world revolves around you? Do you think that after all this trouble, you can just get away with a simple 'I'm sorry'? It's too late, id*ot. If Master Wade ignores me because of you, I'll kill you with my own hands!"

George was shaking with fright, his face as pale and ghastly as a ghost. He had never expected that Charlie Wade, a deadbeat loser in his eyes, had such enormous influence and power in his hands to the point that Zeke would kill him for him!

If he knew that this was how he would end up, he would have rather knelt before Claire Wilson Wilson when they had first met rather than reject her..

Alas, it was too late now. He was done..

At this moment, Zeke noticed Joanne and Jerry in the office and asked with an irritated frown, "Who are you? Are you his friends or Spikeworth's employees?"

Joanne and Jerry were utterly surprised, and they quickly said, "Oh! No, no, we don't have anything to do with George! We don't even know him."

How could they admit that they knew him at a crucial moment like this! It was best to cut their ties with him!

Zeke asked suspiciously, "Really? Then why were you in his office, chatting and laughing?"

George said furiously, "Mr. White, they are my collegemates. Failing Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson's interview was their idea, it was they who provoked me to reject Claire Wilson Wilson!"

George glared at them indignantly. Jerry and Joanne were the main culprits of his misery. They would not get away with this!

Zeke squinted at them in annoyance. "Oh, so it's a dog fight, huh? Blacklist these two as well!"

Jerry was in jitters. He jumped on George like a mad man and started punching him. "George Harris, you b*stard! How dare you drag me down with you! I'll kill you!"

Meanwhile, Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson had taken a taxi and were on their way home.

Claire Wilson Wilson was unusually quiet and deep in her thoughts. Charlie Wade took her hand and said, "You can always find another job. It's their loss for not hiring you. In fact, from what I see, the company is too small for your future development anyway. I doubt they can provide a suitable platform for you to outshine yourself."

Chapter 226

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed heavily and said, "It's hard to get a job now. I can only keep looking and see where my luck brings me."

"How about Emgrand?"

Claire Wilson Wilson shook her head. "Are you kidding? Emgrand is not a supermarket. I can't come and go as I please. Besides, they have a very strict employee evaluation and grading system, it would be awkward and embarrassing for me to start from the bottom."

Charlie Wade heaved a sigh and said in a suggestive tone, "Dear, I think that maybe you should start your own business!"

"Start my own business?" Claire Wilson Wilson asked in surprise. "But how?"

"Well, you've been in this industry for many years, I bet you have your own professional network and connections now. I see that Doris Young of the Emgrand Group seems to be very fond of you. Moreover, Zeke White is counting on me to observe and manipulate his luck, I think he will be very supportive."

Claire Wilson Wilson chuckled in a self-mocking way and said, "Dear, we have to have at least two to three million dollars in capital to start a business, and we need to pump more subsequent funds into the company to keep it up and running. Where and how would we get that much money?"

"I'll help you in terms of the funding matter! I know some people that are quite generous!" Charlie Wade smiled warmly and continued, "If you are serious, money is not a problem."

Claire Wilson Wilson lifted her gaze and said, "Charlie Wade, I know you have a lot of friends who venture in the entrepreneurship industry such as Mr. Quinton and you won't have any problem borrowing the money, but honestly speaking, it will be quite stressful if our business' capital fund is a loan instead of our own money. I might as well open my own personal studio with less capital fund and get the designing projects from the major construction companies."

Charlie Wade replied firmly, "No matter what you decide to do, I'll be there for you as always!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded gratefully and said, "I want to start the studio first and then work my way up. The Wilson family members thought that I couldn't do anything without the Wilson Group. I want to prove to them that I can!"

Charlie Wade pondered her words before he nodded with a gentle smile. "You have my full support, but you must promise to share all the problems you encounter at work with me. We'll solve them together! In fact, you can hire me as a free-of-charge employee. Your husband is not very skillful, but he can certainly drive and carry your bag."

"Alright." Claire Wilson Wilson nodded, slightly touched by his notion.

She was actually taking a big risk in making such a decision.

If she didn't go to work, her family's biggest source of income would be cut off. Even if she opened a design studio, she needed to rent an office, buy office equipment, and so on...

All of it required a certain amount of capital funds.

Moreover, the Wilson Group had a lot of business projects with major construction companies in Aourouss Hillll. They would probably shun her from potential clients, openly or discreetly.

However, as Charlie Wade was supporting her solidly without any hesitation, she felt a tinge of warmth and passion floating in her heart.

Just when she was still in that complex mood, Charlie Wade spoke. "Dear, go ahead and do whatever you want. If things don't work out as you plan, I'll find a job to support you."

Hearing his remark, Claire Wilson Wilson held her breath and felt a soreness rush to her nose, and her eyes were reddened with tears.

When she was in such a desperate and depressing situation, her husband, whom she felt was 'worthless', still firmly believed in her and supported her!

Chapter 227

Because of Charlie Wade's instigation and encouragement, Claire Wilson Wilson spent the whole night tossing and turning, thinking about her business. She looked rather exhausted and fatigued the next morning due to the lack of sleep.

After waking up, Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly freshened herself up. Charlie Wade frowned at the sight and asked, "Dear, why don't you sleep in? What's the hurry?"

"I'm going to Millenium Enterprise. I must not be late."

"Millenium Enterprise? Another interview?"

"No." Claire Wilson Wilson shook her head and said gingerly after a short pause, "I'm going to try to look for some projects for myself."

"Great!" Charlie Wade smiled happily. "If you start a construction company, I'll be your first employee."

"Do you think that starting a construction company is like making dinner? Funds and connections are the main criteria for the business to thrive and survive," Claire Wilson Wilson said. "I want to start from a small office and draw design drawings for the construction company. When I've built a significant network for myself and generated enough capital funds, I'll register the company."

Charlie Wade chuckled. "Money and connections are not a problem. I can help you start a company right now if you want."

"No thanks," Claire Wilson Wilson rejected his kind offer without thinking, and then said seriously, "I want to try it myself first. Besides, what kind of resources could you possibly have, anyway? Starting a construction company is not a child's play."

"I'm serious. I have the money to start a company as well as business connections."

Right now, the Emgrand Group's investment covered almost 70% of Aurouss Hilll's businesses. It was a piece of cake to get some designing projects from construction companies.

Claire Wilson Wilson assumed that he was just joking, and so, she waved her hand reluctantly and said, "You don't know anything about the construction industry. I'll think about the investment, just leave it to me."

To register a construction company, she needed at least 10 million dollars as start-up capital and a significant amount of circulating capital. Where would Charlie Wade get that amount of money?

Even if he did have the money, it was impossible for him to have the connections in the construction industry.

Charlie Wade was utterly speechless. His wife would rather start from scratch rather than utilize the readily available resources that were himself. He didn't know what else to say to her.

Claire Wilson Wilson had just only left the house when Elaine Ma, her mother, returned. She relied heavily on the Wilson Group for her pension, so she had often visited the Wilson Group over the past two days.

Although Claire Wilson Wilson had cut her ties with the Wilson family, Elaine Ma didn't seem to share the same sentiment. On the contrary, she wanted to reconcile with them.

"Where did Claire Wilson Wilson go?"

"She went to look for freelancing projects."

"What freelancing project! Do you really want to leave the Wilson family?" Elaine Ma huffed in irritation. "It was just a tiny misunderstanding, why do you want to make a fuss out of it and cut ties with them?! We've become the laughingstock in the city!"

Jacob Wilson stared at Elaine Ma in disbelief and bewilderment.

"Darling, what did Lady Wilson do to you when you were there? Did you knock your head against the wall after all the scolding? Are you out of your mind?"

"What? No! I didn't lose my senses, mind you!" Elaine Ma threw herself onto the sofa as she growled, "Tomorrow, go to the Wilson family villa with me and apologize to Lady Wilson. She is your mother, and Chris is your brother. Blood is thicker than water, how could you cut ties just like that?"

Jacob Wilson glared at her and said in a slightly furious tone, "They wanted to sell my house, and they wanted to rob Charlie Wade's villa. They have never regarded me as part of the Wilson family ever! If you want to apologize, you can go alone. I won't step into their house ever again!"

Elaine Ma grew angrier when Jacob Wilson, who was always so kind and mild-tempered, became so stubborn and firm. She turned to Charlie Wade and said, "Charlie Wade, your dad is an old, stubborn dog. You be the judge! They are mother and son, they are brothers. Family quarrels are soon mended! Don't you think it's a little too childish and trifling to sever ties just like that? Besides, I need to count on the Wilson Group for my pension!"

"See?! She's crazy! They want to seize my property and rob Charlie Wade's villa, they even want Claire Wilson Wilson to divorce Charlie Wade and marry another man! Don't you see how insane they are?" Jacob Wilson stood up and shouted indignantly. "Did they hypnotize you or something when you were there? How could you simply believe everything they said?"

Charlie Wade's head was tingling in pain as he stood in the middle of the feud, thus, he quickly blurted out an excuse to get out of the miserable situation. "Claire Wilson Wilson asked me to pick her up, I have to go now."

Chapter 228

Charlie Wade quickly slipped out of the house while the quarrel was still going strong inside the house.

It would be best for him to stay out of the annoying domestic disputes.

Charlie Wade went into a small cafe, ordered some snacks, and decided to spend his leisure time there until the evening.

It was a famous gourmet street in Aurouss Hillll with people bustling around.

Charlie Wade was enjoying his meal when he suddenly spotted two figures on the opposite side of the street, one of them looking extraordinarily familiar.

That was Claire Wilson Wilson, wasn't it?

Across the street was a very lavish restaurant. Charlie Wade saw Claire Wilson Wilson sitting by the huge window on the second floor, and opposite her was a middle-aged man in a suit and leather shoes wearing gold-framed glasses.

Claire Wilson Wilson was holding a folder and talking to the man non-stop as if she was showing her portfolio and her new role as a freelance designer and hoped that the man would invest in her new establishment.

Despite her enthusiasm, the man didn't seem to pay any attention to her speech. He even attempted to touch Claire Wilson Wilson's hand by taking the folder from her which she quickly pulled away before he succeeded.

Charlie Wade's blood was boiling upon witnessing this ridiculous scene!

That b*stard, how dare he try to sexually assault his wife!

Just then, the waiter came over with a plate of chips. Before he could put it down, Charlie Wade slammed a twenty dollar note on the table and got to his feet hastily.

"Keep the change."

On the second floor lounge of Little Italy.

Suppressing the disgust surging inside her, Claire Wilson Wilson plastered on a polite smile and said to the man across the table, "Mr. Murray, I've compiled all of my company's future plan and prospects in this folder that will promise a positive development in the future. If you are willing to work with me, I promise you, I'll give you the best project planning."

"Miss Wilson, I know your abilities, and I believe in you." Then, the man showed a stiff smile. "However, we have invested a lot of money into various projects recently, and our capital is quite restricted for the moment."

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little disappointed. She had spent the whole morning presenting her portfolio to him, but he had been giving ambiguous and vague answers that confused her.

Looking at Claire Wilson Wilson's disappointed expression, the man rubbed his hands deliberately and said, "Actually, it's not a dead-end yet. Let me talk to the senior executives first. Frankly speaking, your portfolio looks very interesting. How about we continue the discussion at 8 tonight? I would love to know more about your work."

"Um, Mr. Murray, that's quite late..."

Claire Wilson Wilson hesitated.

It was quite late for them to meet at 8 pm. Besides, if they went on with the discussion, they might end up talking until midnight. It wouldn't be nice for her reputation as someone's wife.

The man smiled. "No, it's not. Investment is a big deal. We need to have a deep understanding of each other before we can build mutual trust, am I right? I'll treat you to a nice dinner tonight and we'll continue with the discussion. Come, Miss Wilson. Let's shake hands for our future collaboration."

The man extended his arm toward Claire Wilson Wilson's tiny little hand, a faint flirtatious vibe hovering in his eyes.

The man's name was Peter Murray. He had long heard about Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson, the woman who had won the title of Aurouss Hilll's most beautiful lady, but he hadn't had any luck meeting her in the past.

Yet now, Claire Wilson Wilson had contacted her personally, saying that she had broken her ties from the Wilson family and wanted to persuade him to invest in her new studio. He was over the moon! He planned to sweep Claire Wilson Wilson off her feet and enjoy the night together!

Chapter 229

Claire Wilson Wilson didn't want to shake Peter's hand, but since he had offered it, it would be rude to refuse him. Thus, she pursed her lips and extended her hand reluctantly.

Just as Peter was silently thrilled and was about to grab Claire Wilson Wilson's fair hand, suddenly, a large hand came out of nowhere and grabbed his hand firmly.

Peter was stunned for a moment. Looking up angrily, he growled, "What the hell!? Who are you?"

Claire Wilson Wilson lifted her gaze as well and was a little dazed at what she saw.

"Charlie Wade! When did you come?"

She then quickly turned to Peter and explained, "He is my husband."

Peter's face turned gloomy as if a dark cloud hovered above his head when he heard the word 'husband'.

"I just arrived." Charlie Wade smiled at Claire Wilson Wilson and then turned to Peter, pretending not to see the change of his expression, and then said, "You are Peter Murray, aren't you? The boss of Millenium Enterprise?"

Peter said in a sullen tone, "Yes, that's me. So what?"

"Nothing. It's just that you're quite a lecherous, dirty old man!" Charlie Wade nodded and intentionally lengthened his tone.

Agitated, Peter tried to withdraw his hand, but Charlie Wade grabbed onto him like a pair of iron tongs that made it impossible for him to break free.

Peter hissed as his palm hurt more and more, and he felt as though his bones were about to break. "Hey, let... let go of my hand! It's very painful!"

Claire Wilson Wilson knew that Charlie Wade was very strong, and so, she urged, "Charlie Wade, let go."

Charlie Wade finally released his grip and glanced at Peter with an ambiguous smile.

Peter's face was twisted in a painful grimace. He glared at Charlie Wade angrily before turning to Claire Wilson Wilson and saying, "Tell your husband to go home. I'm not used to discussing business matters in front of outsiders."

Claire Wilson Wilson paused for a short moment and said, "Charlie Wade is my husband. He knows about my plan, he's not an outsider."

"But still! I'm not used to talking about such an important agenda in front of a third party." Peter glared at him, wanting him to disappear right then and there. "Besides, he wouldn't understand what we're talking about anyway."

Claire Wilson Wilson whispered to Charlie Wade softly. "Why don't you go home first? I'm here for official business."

"It's okay, I'll wait," Charlie Wade said and sat down next to Claire Wilson Wilson.

Peter grit his teeth in fury as he watched Charlie Wade sitting close to Claire Wilson Wilson, his arm rubbing against her delicate body. He was very frustrated that he had almost gotten his hands on Claire Wilson Wilson but failed.

He snorted in dismay. "You're the live-in son-in-law of the Wilson family, aren't you? Do you know how infamous you are in Aurouss Hilll? Claire Wilson Wilson is working hard to support the family. We're discussing our potential collaboration, please don't be a bother and get out of our way."

Peter's tone was very rude and direct because he had no respect for Charlie Wade whatsoever, and he wanted to send him away as soon as possible.

Most of the people in the social circle knew about the deadbeat son-in-law of the Wilson family. Peter lamented that a magnificent beauty like Claire Wilson Wilson was married to a moocher.

Charlie Wade, on the other hand, frowned at the annoying tone and glanced at Peter coldly.

'Claire Wilson Wilson'? Were they on the first name basis now? She was not your wife, b*stard!

Peter stared at Charlie Wade in disdain and said, "Charlie Wade, if you are a man, don't bother Claire Wilson Wilson! Can you help her? Do you have the money for her company? Can you get her a contract of architectural drawings?"

"If you can't, I suggest that you go and get a job. You can be a deliveryman or even a security guard. Don't stay at home all day long and be suspicious of your wife like a miserable loser husband!"

Chapter 230

Claire Wilson Wilson was in jitters as she listened to their banter and interjected, "Mr. Murray, Charlie Wade helps out a lot at home. Also, please call me Miss Wilson. Calling me by my first name sounds very unprofessional."

"What does he do at home, anyway? Go to the market? Cooking? Laundry?" Peter laughed sarcastically. "Claire Wilson Wilson, if your husband has a hard time finding a job, my company happens to be recruiting security now. You can let him try."

Then, he continued with a mocking grin, "Claire Wilson Wilson, if I were you, I would not have married a man who doesn't even have a secure job. I would have divorced this loser a long time ago."

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned in dismay, but before she could speak, she felt an abrupt chill coming from beside her.

She turned around and saw Charlie Wade stand up with a smile on his face as he said to Peter, "Mr. Murray, your reputation precedes you. Now that I finally have the honor of meeting you, indeed, your personality matches your reputation perfectly. I also have something to say to you, Mr. Murray."

Peter's lips curled downward into a frown. "What is it?"

He bet that Charlie Wade the loser would not dare to do anything to him!

Charlie Wade put his hands on the table, leaned forward slightly, and said with a sly smile, "What I want to say is, being a person, you can be useless or incompetent, but you must have a moral standard! Because if you don't, you're not a human, but an animal!"

He then held the mushroom soup that had just been served with both hands and poured it over Peter's head, his face blank and emotionless.

Peter wailed in pain and jumped up abruptly as the hot soup scalded his head and face.

Claire Wilson Wilson was utterly shocked by the commotion. She quickly composed herself and called the waiter to bring napkins.

The steaming hot soup had scalded Peter's face, and it ran down his neck and into his clothes. The sticky soup drenched his head and clothes, and there was even a piece of mushroom sticking to his glasses.

Peter wailed continually in agony and pain.

The manager rushed over with a few waiters and was stunned by the scene. He quickly ushered the waiters to help clean up the mess.

Peter took off his glasses and pointed to Charlie Wade, yelling, "What the f*ck!!!"

Then, he took out his phone and made a call.

"Hey, Willy, get some guys and come to Little Italy right now! I need to teach a poor bugger a lesson!"

Upon hearing him make the phone call, Claire Wilson quickly apologized to Peter. "Mr. Murray, I'm so sorry. My husband was a little agitated just now..."

"Stop your bullsh*t! He splashed me with soup! I'm going to make him kneel in front of me today!" Peter huffed angrily.

Claire Wilson hurriedly turned around and said to Charlie Wade, "Hey, go out first, let me explain this to Mr. Murray."

"Forget about him, let's go!" Charlie Wade extended his hand and tried to take Claire Wilson's hand.

Instead, she frowned in dismay and pushed him away, saying in annoyance, "Mr. Murray is the boss of Millenium Enterprise! He is very influential in the construction industry in Aurouss Hilll. He knows people, legal, and even the underworld! Never mind that I can't get his investment, but there are some things that you can't solve with just your strength."

"It's just a small company, I don't give a d*mn."

"A small company?!"

Claire Wilson rolled her eyes, exasperated.

In the civil engineering industry of Aurouss Hilll, Millennium Enterprise was ranked in the top five. Its scale was much bigger than the Wilson Group.

Afraid that Charlie Wade might offend Mr. Murray further, her face was icy as she said, "Charlie Wade, leave this to me. Go out and wait for me outside!"

Chapter 231

Charlie Wade opened his mouth, wanting to say something, but he shut his mouth and walked out of the restaurant when he looked at Claire Wilson's enraged face.

How dare the boss of a small company be so brazen in front of him? He had decided to go all out with his luck, hadn't he?

Claire Wilson even had to tiptoe around that b*stard! Didn't she know that her husband was the most powerful of them all?

Right at this moment, he wanted to reveal his true identity to Claire Wilson so desperately. He wanted her to know that she didn't have to worry about their future and that she didn't need to be bullied and tormented by a lowly boss of a mediocre company.

However, he held back the words that came to his lips.

Exposing his identity would mean that he had officially accepted the Wade family and would return to their embrace.

No, he didn't want to go back.

Standing outside the restaurant, Charlie Wade looked up toward the second floor, and then retrieved his phone and called Stephen, the Wade family's butler.

"Check the background and details of the Millenium Enterprise, and also their clients and their recent projects."

Stephen's courteous voice resonated from the other end of the line. "Young Master, Millennium Enterprise's major clients are mostly small businesses under the Wade family. They handled some of the real estate projects from the Emgrand Group this year."

"Really?" Charlie Wade snorted. It turned out that Peter Murray was nothing but a nobody who ate the scraps off his butt.

Charlie Wade wanted to laugh out loud.

He wondered if Peter knew that he was his 'daddy' who basically supported the foundation of his company. How would he feel after insulting him like that?

With this thought lingering in his mind, he said to Stephen, "I want to teach Millenium Enterprise a lesson."

"How may I help you, Young Master?"

"Hmm. Withdraw all collaborations with the company. I'm sick of it."

"Oh, did the company piss you off in some way? Do you want me to deal with its boss directly? I can make him disappear into thin air right away!"

Charlie Wade chuckled. "Oh, please. We are a civilized society. There are so many ways other than killing and fighting. How can he feel the pain if you kill him, anyway? No, I want him to go bankrupt and lead a miserable life for the rest of his life."

"Okay, Young Master. Please give me a few minutes, I'll get it done."

For Stephen, making Millenium Enterprise go bankrupt was as simple as squeezing an ant.

Charlie Wade ended the call and looked upstairs again. Claire Wilson Wilson was still apologizing to Peter while Peter leaned back against the chair like a cocky dog, mumbling something. He was probably cursing him right now.

He sat on the side of the road and waited lazily for his wife to come out.

Charlie Wade, dressed in a normal T-shirt and jeans, looked like an ordinary passerby that no one would bat an eye at. However, an ordinary guy like him could transform the renowned boss in Aurouss Hilll into a pauper with just one simple phone call.

Claire Wilson Wilson's continual bowing and apologizing to Peter slightly smoothed his grimace.

Then, both Claire Wilson Wilson and Peter exited the restaurant, Peter's face still flushed and aching from the scalding.

He glared at Charlie Wade who was sitting by the road and said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I'll forgive that loser husband of yours for your sake today. I would like to invite you to dinner tomorrow night and we'll discuss the collaboration matter again."

His indifferent and casual look was simply to impress Claire Wilson Wilson, but deep inside him, he was burning in rage.

If it wasn't for Claire Wilson Wilson apologizing on Charlie Wade's behalf, he would have called for someone to come and beat the crap out of Charlie Wade!

However, he didn't intend to let Charlie Wade off the hook so easily. When he finally got a taste of the beautiful Claire Wilson Wilson tomorrow, he would get someone to destroy him!

Charlie Wade walked over and said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Darling, let's go home. There's nothing to talk about with this b*stard who is about to go bankrupt, let alone collaboration."

Peter's expression shifted into a furious grimace, and he said, "A*shole, you do want to die today, don't you? Did you just say that I'm about to go bankrupt? Believe it or not, I'll kill you right away! You are still standing in one piece now entirely because of Claire Wilson Wilson!"

Charlie Wade curled his lips into a smirk and flung his hand across Peter's face.

Slap!

Chapter 232

Peter was stunned as he covered his cheek with his hand. After a short while, he yelled at Charlie Wade.

"You piece of thrash! How dare you hit me!"

Charlie Wade sneered before he said, "Why? Why wouldn't I dare hit you? If I want to hit you, you'll just have to deal with it."

After that, Charlie Wade raised his hand and slapped Peter again. At this time, Peter's cheek was already swollen.

Even though Claire Wilson Wilson was also very disgusted with Peter, Charlie Wade had already slapped him twice. Therefore, she was a little worried and she hurriedly said, "Charlie Wade, what are you doing? Didn't I tell you not to recklessly start a fight with anyone?"

She was not worried about herself but she was worried that Peter would exact revenge on Charlie Wade. After all, Peter was still the boss of a reputable company. How could he possibly keep calm after getting hit by Charlie Wade?

True enough, Peter was completely annoyed and irritated at this time. He pointed his finger at Claire Wilson Wilson before he said, "You, the one with the last name Wilson! If you do not compensate and appease me after what your husband has done today, I'll kill him! I'll make sure that he disappears from Aurouss Hilll immediately!"

As soon as Claire Wilson Wilson heard the word 'compensate', she started to lose her temper immediately. "You're so shameless!"

"Shameless?" Peter snorted coldly. "Don't you think I don't know that the Wilson family has already kicked you out of the family a long time ago! Do you really think that you're still the young lady of the Wilson family? Let me tell you something, I am Peter Murray and I have a very established reputation in Aurouss Hilll. If you do not want me to destroy your entire family, then you'd better crawl into my bed and try to satisfy me tonight. If I'm satisfied with your performance, I could still force myself to forgive you!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was trembling with anger and she replied in a sharp manner, "Peter! You're really a shameless b*stard!"

"I have all the power and wealth in the world. So, what's wrong with me being shameless?" Peter asked.

At this time, Charlie Wade stood up before he said, "You with the last name Murray, listen up! You're already bankrupt so don't tell me about how powerful or wealthy you are."

"What did you just say?"

Peter was taken aback and he did not know how to retaliate at all.

He was about to yell at Charlie Wade when his cell phone started ringing again.

Peter did not want to answer his phone but his phone kept ringing continuously.

"Hello, what do you want?"

"Mr. Murray, I have bad news for you! The shareholders of the company that wanted to work with us have suddenly changed their mind! They want to withdraw their partnership with us."

"What?" The expression on Peter's face changed immediately. "I'll give them a call immediately."

"Wait a minute, Mr. Murray. They are not the only ones withdrawing all cooperation with us. Emgrand Group, who has always had a long term partnership with our company, had also called to withdraw their partnership with the company. Moreover, all the other directors have also called...to request to cancel all the contracts that they have with us..."

Peter was so stunned that he was completely at a loss for words.

However, the voice on the other end of the line continued speaking.

"Moreover, currently, four other companies have already called to ask Millenium Enterprise to pay a huge sum for liquidated damages..."

"Mr. Zenith, the CEO from Prime Financial Group, also called because he wanted to recover the two hundred and eighty million dollars loan that we took from them. He wants us to transfer that sum of money to their bank account tomorrow. Otherwise, he'll lodge a legal proceeding against us and all of the real estate that we have under construction will be seized immediately."

"Besides that, the City Union Bank, the Construction Bank, the Industrial and Commercial Bank, and the Agricultural Bank have also called to collect the debts that we owe them. If we do not settle all the previous loans that we have taken from them by noon tomorrow, they will auction off all the company's assets..."

Peter was sweating profusely at this time and he was turning pale as he started to break out in cold sweat.

What was going on with the world?

Was he having a nightmare?

Why did it seem as though all the unfortunate events were coming at him all of a sudden?

It was as if all those companies had made a pact to deal with him!

What was happening?

What was really happening?

Chapter 233

After being dealt a series of blows, Peter started to sweat so profusely that he could not even stand straight and he had to use the wall to steady himself.

Claire Wilson did not know who had called Peter but she could see the change of the expression on Peter's face after answering the call. He looked as though he was going to collapse immediately.

"Charlie Wade, do you think Peter is unwell?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "Yes, perhaps there is something wrong with his brain and he can't remember who he really is."

Peter's secretary continued panicking over the other end of the line but Peter could not hear whatever she was saying at all. He could only hear a ringing sound in his ear and all he could think of was what Charlie Wade was saying earlier.

"You're already bankrupt!"

Peter was sweating all over and he raised his head in horror as he stared at Charlie Wade with a firm expression on his face.

How did Charlie Wade predict all of this?

He...he was really bankrupt!

Peter collapsed to the ground out of desperation.

Charlie Wade glanced at him with a cold and indifferent expression on his face before he said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Let's go."

Claire Wilson Wilson did not know what was happening to Peter at this time but she did not want to have anything to do with Peter anymore. Therefore, she turned around to follow after Charlie Wade immediately.

At this time, Peter suddenly regained his sense and he raised his head as he watched Charlie Wade walk away from him.

Peter suddenly stood up as he rushed towards Charlie Wade without any hesitation at all.

Just as Charlie Wade was about to get into his car, Peter stopped him and he stared at him with bloodshot eyes.

Claire Wilson Wilson was shocked to see the crazy look on Peter's face and she subconsciously took a step back as she hid behind Charlie Wade.

"You did this, right? You were the one who did all this, right?"

Peter stared at Charlie Wade as he asked in frustration.

Charlie Wade simply glared at Peter as he yelled, "Go away!"

His tone was sharp and cold, as though he was berating a dog.

A crowd of passers-by exchanged glances with one another at this time.

Oh my!

Wasn't that the boss of Millenium Enterprise?

Why would a young man who was dressed so casually have the audacity to yell at Mr. Murray in public?

Was he sick and tired of living in Aurouss Hilll?

However...

Unexpectedly, as the crowd of onlookers continued looking at them, Peter suddenly knelt down in front of Charlie Wade as he cried and said, "Mr. Wade, please let me off. I know I was wrong. Please just let me off this time."

The crowd of people were silent as they were all staring at the scene before them in disbelief.

The boss of Millenium Enterprise, Peter Murray, was actually kneeling down in front of an ordinary young man!

Claire Wilson Wilson was also stunned at this time because she did not expect Peter to kneel down before Charlie Wade.

"Mr. Wade, I know I was wrong. I deserve to die. I shouldn't have had any bad thoughts about Claire Wilson Wilson. I'll repent and I promise I'll never do it again in the future. Please forgive me and just leave me a way out. Please don't push me to a dead end..."

Peter continued begging as he kept slapping himself hard in the face.

Charlie Wade had a straight expression on his face as he watched Peter slap himself at least a dozen times. After that, when Charlie Wade saw that Peter was already bleeding from his mouth, he simply replied indifferently, "Mr. Murray, I have no idea what you're talking about."

"Mr. Wade, Millenium Enterprise is already bankrupt. I do not have a single penny left and I also owe hundreds of millions of dollars. I will never be able to repay this debt, not even in my next life!"

Peter continued kneeling and begging without the demeanor of a successful person that he had not too long ago.

All this happened so suddenly and it was too coincidental!

As soon as Charlie Wade said that he would go bankrupt, all the bad news flooded in and it seemed as though he would definitely go bankrupt tomorrow!

Chapter 234

All this felt like a coincidence but how could there be such a coincidence?

Peter had a vague feeling that all of these were definitely related to Charlie Wade. Therefore, he could only kneel in front of Charlie Wade because he no longer cared about his own reputation.

Claire Wilson Wilson did not know what the other party had told Peter over the phone. Therefore, she could only say in surprise, "Peter, isn't your company doing well? What are you talking about? Besides that, even if you're facing bankruptcy, what has it to do with Charlie Wade?"

Peter knelt on the ground as he said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I'm so sorry for offending you a while ago! I admit my mistake and I'm begging for your forgiveness. My company called me earlier to tell me that one of my biggest customers had called to terminate their contract with us. Moreover, all the banks have just called to collect the money that I have borrowed from them. I am done for this time...please help put in a good word for me in front of Mr. Wade. Otherwise, there isn't a way for me to survive in this world anymore."

Claire Wilson Wilson was taken aback at this time and she simply replied, "I think you've made a mistake, Peter. I don't think Charlie Wade holds so much power."

Charlie Wade also replied faintly, "Peter, everything in this world has its cause and effect. It's useless to ask me for help. You should reflect on yourself."

After that, Charlie Wade led Claire Wilson Wilson into the car before he got into the car.

After Charlie Wade drove away, Peter was still kneeling on the side of the road with a blank expression on his face.

A large crowd of people had already gathered around him as they stared at him in surprise. At this time, the crowd of people could not help but whisper among themselves.

However, Peter could not take it anymore.

Even though he was a highly successful and well-respected person today, he would become a beggar on the streets tomorrow!

No, he would not even be a beggar.

He did not have any money at all and he owed people more than hundreds of millions of dollars in liquidated damages.

At this time, Peter's cell phone started ringing again and his assistant's flustered voice sounded on the other end of the line.

"Mr. Murray, the usury company has called to tell us that their interest rate will increase tenfold and that they'll be collecting their money tomorrow. If you don't have the money to pay them, they said they'll chop your right hand off..."

"Mr. Murray, the landlord of the office building we're renting has also called to inform that the rental will be increased twentyfold and if we refuse to agree to that rental rate, we'll have to move out tomorrow!"

"Mr. Murray..."

Peter dropped his cell phone to the ground and he knelt on the ground with a dull expression on his face.

After a short while, Peter suddenly screamed, "Oh my god! Who on earth did I offend?"

He hit the ground frantically with his hands and he started knocking his forehead against the ground. Blood started gushing out immediately.

Peter could no longer bear the huge blow and he suffered a nervous breakdown. He started foaming at the mouth and his eyes rolled to the back of his head before he fainted.

...

Charlie Wade had a calm expression on his face as he drove.

The more Claire Wilson Wilson thought about it, the more she felt something had gone amiss. Therefore, she quickly asked Charlie Wade, "What did you do to Peter? Why does it seem like he was so afraid of you?"

At this time, Charlie Wade replied lightly, "I didn't do anything to him. I've been waiting for you outside all this time, so what could I possibly have done to him? He's probably in this state because he has offended too many people in his life. That's why everyone is out to get him!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was still a little suspicious but she thought Charlie Wade's explanation made sense. Peter had probably offended a very powerful man and he was simply putting the blame on Charlie Wade.

When she thought about it, she felt a little angry and she said, "Well, Peter's really a very shameless person. He deserves to go bankrupt!"

Charlie Wade smiled.

Indeed, he felt that Peter deserved it. Since he had provoked him, then bankruptcy was the best punishment for him. Otherwise, Peter would continue abusing his power against the weaker parties.

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed at this time before she said, "It seems like I'll have to find a new business partner to talk about our collaboration then."

When Charlie Wade heard Claire Wilson Wilson's words, he reminded himself to ask Doris to make sure that Emgrand Group would give more work and collaboration proposals to his wife.

When they both arrived at their house, Claire Wilson Wilson was still telling Charlie Wade about her next development plan for the studio.

However, as soon as they entered the house, Jacob Wilson rubbed his hands and walked towards them immediately. After that, he glanced at them with an awkward expression on his face before he said, "Um...Claire Wilson Wilson, your mother wants you to go back and work for Wilson Group tomorrow."

"What?" Claire Wilson Wilson exclaimed with a shocked expression on her face.

Charlie Wade also frowned as he said, "Didn't we already decide to draw a clear line with the Wilson family?"

"Oh!" Jacob Wilson looked very embarrassed and he could only say helplessly, "I don't know what's going on with your mother but she insists that you return to work for Wilson Group. So..."

Before Jacob Wilson could finish speaking, Claire Wilson Wilson asked her mom angrily, "Mom! The Wilson family bullied my father and they tried to snatch Charlie Wade's villa from us. Why should we go back to work for them?"

Chapter 235

When Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly questioned her, Charlie Wade's mother-in-law, Elaine Ma, lost her temper and said, "You're still the granddaughter of the Wilson family no matter what happens! Besides, your grandmother has already apologized to me and admitted that she acted that way in a moment of confusion. She said that Harold was the one who instigated the discord and she has already punished him severely. What else are you dissatisfied about?"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied angrily, "So what if they apologized to us? I understand my grandmother's character and personality. Even if she apologized, it was definitely not a sincere apology! She's only apologizing because she wants me to return to Wilson Group and fix the collaboration issues with Emgrand Group!"

Elaine Ma tried to persuade Claire Wilson Wilson at this time. "Don't think so badly of your grandmother! We're still family no matter what happens! How could you still hate her after so long?"

"I am not related to anyone in the Wilson family!" Claire Wilson Wilson replied angrily before she continued, "I'll never go back to work for the Wilson Group!"

"What do you mean by that?" Elaine Ma said in dissatisfaction. "Your grandmother has already realized her mistake. Do you really want an old woman like her to apologize to you?"

After that, Elaine Ma continued speaking, "In order to prove her sincerity, your grandmother has also given me a gold necklace and two jade bracelets..."

"Mom, you can just admit that the only reason you want me to go back and work for the Wilson Group is because you're greedy and you want to keep the jewelry Grandma has given you!"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied in a frustrated tone before she ignored Elaine Ma and walked to her bedroom immediately.

Charlie Wade followed behind Claire Wilson Wilson without saying anything at all.

At this time, Elaine Ma started complaining in the living room. "Look at your daughter!"

Unexpectedly, Jacob Wilson ignored her too as he turned around and walked away.

In the bedroom, Claire Wilson Wilson was still very frustrated and she could not help but complain to Charlie Wade. "I really did not expect the Wilson family to use jewelry to win over my mother. Don't you know that my mom is always very materialistic? As soon as the Wilson family gave her some jewelry and said some nice things to her, she got overwhelmed by greed and instantly forgot how they had insulted us back then!"

Even though Charlie Wade was also very unhappy, he knew that he should not be speaking ill of his mother-in-law. Therefore, he could only persuade Claire Wilson Wilson, "When we fell out with the Wilson family, your mother was not there with us. Therefore, she doesn't know how despicable the Wilson family are."

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson quickly asked Charlie Wade, "Then, what should I do if my mother wants me to go back and work for Wilson Group?"

Charlie Wade replied, "You should consider what you really want and make this decision on your own. I will support whatever decision you make."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she replied firmly, "I think so too! I want to start my own business so I'll be able to succeed based on my own abilities!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "I think that's a good idea. It would be great for you to start your own business and advance in your own career."

As they continued talking, Charlie Wade thought that he would invite Graham from the Quinton family, Isaac from Shangri-La, the mobster boss, Albert, Jasmine from the Moore family and Zeke from the White family out for a meal so that he could introduce Claire Wilson Wilson to them. After all, he needed them to help him to look out for his wife when she started her own business in the future.

As he thought about this, Charlie Wade suddenly received a phone call from Jasmine. Jasmine greeted him respectfully over the phone and said, "Mr. Wade, it's me, Jasmine. I was just wondering if you're busy now?"

Charlie Wade replied, "No, Miss Moore. What is the matter?"

Jasmine quickly replied, "Mr. Wade, my grandfather has fallen ill recently and no one can tell what's wrong with him. I was wondering if you could make some time to come over to my grandfather's house and take a look at him?"

After that, Jasmine said again, "Please don't worry. We'll definitely pay you well for your consultation fees."

Charlie Wade thought about it for a moment. Jasmine was the eldest daughter of one of the most prestigious families in Aurouss Hilll. When Claire Wilson Wilson started her own business in the future, he might need to ask Jasmine for help from time to time. Therefore, Charlie Wade quickly agreed to help her without any hesitation at all. "Alright then, I will come over tonight."

Jasmine quickly replied gratefully, "Okay! I'll pick you up tonight."

"Okay."

After hanging up the phone, Charlie Wade turned around and told Claire Wilson Wilson, "I will be out with a friend tonight so I won't be having dinner at home."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded and she did not ask much. However, she reminded Charlie Wade, "Do not give anyone anymore Feng Shui advice when you're out. Otherwise, you will be in a lot of trouble if anyone calls you a liar."

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "Don't worry, Claire Wilson Wilson. I know what I should be doing."

Chapter 236

Later that night, Jasmine came all the way to pick Charlie Wade up.

Upon seeing Charlie Wade, Jasmine arched her hands respectfully before him and greeted, "Mr. Wade, I'm really sorry to trouble you."

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he said, "Miss Moore, you don't have to be so polite."

After that, Charlie Wade noticed that Jasmine was wearing a diamond necklace around her neck. At this time, he asked out of curiosity, "This is the diamond necklace that you lost previously, isn't it?"

Jasmine nodded hurriedly before she replied, "Yes. This is the diamond necklace that my mother gave me before she passed away and it's more important to me than my own life. Therefore, I'm really grateful towards you because if it wasn't because of you, I would never have gotten it back, Mr. Wade."

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "Jasmine, you have a connection with the diamond necklace. Even if I did not help you, it would've been transferred back to your hands after a short while."

Jasmine knew that Charlie Wade was only being modest. Therefore, she quickly replied, "Mr. Wade, this is the first time that I've ever seen a really skilled master like you keeping such a low-profile and staying so humble."

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "Jasmine, you don't have to keep praising me! Let's get down to business immediately."

Jasmine nodded before she said, "Okay, Mr. Wade. Please get into the car!"

Charlie Wade got into Jasmine's Rolls-Royce before the driver drove the car swiftly to the Moore family's mansion in Aurouss Hilll.

It was a typical mansion that was renovated magnificently and it was enclosed within a beautiful garden. The entire villa was filled with classical beauty and really portrayed the owner's elegant taste.

Moreover, the mansion occupied a very large area. Since the Moore family could own such a large piece of land in Aurouss Hilll, it was obvious that the Moore family was really extremely wealthy.

Charlie Wade followed slowly behind Jasmine as they walked across the courtyard. As soon as he entered the living room, he saw a young man dressed in a suit and a pair of leather shoes walking around with an old man and a much younger girl.

"Sister, this is..."

The handsome young man looked at Charlie Wade suspiciously.

"This is Mr. Wade," Jasmine had an uneasy expression on her face but she maintained her composure as she introduced Charlie Wade to the handsome young man. "Charlie Wade, this is my cousin, Reuben."

"Hello," Charlie Wade said as he nodded.

"Mr. Wade?"

The youth scanned Charlie Wade up and down before he replied sarcastically, "Sister, did you invite this so-called master who looks younger than me to take a look at Grandpa? Don't you think that this is a little too ridiculous?"

Charlie Wade was a little annoyed when he heard Reuben's words.

On their way home, Jasmine had already told Charlie Wade that her grandfather was dying and his life was hanging by a thread now.

The younger generation of the Moore family had invited countless famous doctors and masters to come over to take a look at their grandfather in hopes that they would be able to make a great contribution if they help to cure the old man and save his life. After that, they would be able to hope for a bigger share in the Moore family's property when their inheritance was allocated.

This was especially so for Reuben.

Unfortunately, all the famous doctors that he had invited to the Moore family mansion had not been able to help the old man at all.

Reuben was a little hostile towards Jasmine as he glared at her.

At this time, Jasmine quickly replied, "Brother, Mr. Wade is a very skillful master. When I was plagued with bad luck previously, Mr. Wade was the one who helped me reverse my fortune. He is really a very skillful master in Feng Shui and metaphysics."

Reuben replied with contempt, "Sister, the person that we need to hire to treat Grandpa now is a doctor, not just a Feng Shui master. Does this young man even have any idea what he's doing?"

Chapter 237

Charlie Wade was very unhappy at this time.

After all, the only reason he had agreed to come here today was because he wanted to show some respect for Jasmine. Otherwise, the young master of the Wade family would not even have bothered to step into the Moore family mansion. Why would they even be worthy of his presence?

Jasmine was also furious at this time. "Brother! How could you say such things? You might choose not to believe in someone's ability but you shouldn't disrespect them just because of that!"

Reuben snorted coldly before he replied, "Respect? I only respect masters with real talents and skills. I don't think swindlers deserve my respect at all!"

After that, Reuben pointed at the old man standing next to him before he proudly introduced him, "This is Anthony Simmons, an extremely famous doctor in the South Region, and his granddaughter."

Charlie Wade was slightly taken aback and he looked at the people standing before him.

The old man and the young girl looked like a grandfather and his granddaughter.

However, their dressing was obviously different compared to that of other ordinary people.

The old man looked like he was slightly over sixty years old and he was wearing a bamboo-colored cloth robe with a pair of black-framed old-fashioned glasses. He had a long white beard and his eyes were gleaming at this time.

The young girl standing next to him looked about eighteen or nineteen years old and she was wearing a loose cheongsam. She had short hair with bangs with extremely bright eyes that sparkled upon the reflection of light. The girl had very nice white teeth and she exuded a cold and mysterious aura around her.

Charlie Wade paid more attention to the young girl's appearance because in Aurouss Hillll, there were not many people who could be compared to the top beauty, Claire Wilson Wilson.

Compared to Claire Wilson Wilson, the young girl's eyes were much sharper and she looked a little arrogant.

When the old man saw Charlie Wade staring at him, Anthony nodded faintly while the young girl was very arrogant and she did not look at Charlie Wade at all.

At this time, Reuben suddenly said to Jasmine, "Sister, I think that this young man whom you're referring to as a master should only be in his early twenties. He might not even know anything about yin and yang and he probably doesn't even know anything about the five elements. Who gave him the audacity to call himself a master? If anyone finds out about this, they'd definitely laugh at us, the Moore family, for not choosing to believe in medical skills but choosing to believe in superstition instead."

Reuben was attacking Charlie Wade relentlessly with his words and Charlie Wade was shocked because he did not know why he had suddenly turned into a liar.

At this time, Reuben clasped his fist and bowed slightly in front of the old man before he said, "Dr. Simmons, I'm sorry that my sister is so ignorant. Please ignore her and you can proceed to take care of this medical emergency."

Anthony was very humble and he quickly replied, "Being young doesn't necessarily mean that one has no true talents. Mr. Moore, please do not have so many doubts and suspicions about this young man here."

Reuben sighed before he replied, "You don't know why I am acting this way, Dr. Simmons. My sister has already been deceived a couple of times not too long ago."

The expression on Jasmine's face immediately changed before she blurted out, "Brother, what do you mean by that?"

Reuben asked, "Did I say anything wrong? I heard that you were also deceived by a so-called Feng Shui expert from Hong Kong who goes by the name Master Lennard. Did that happen or not?"

"You..." Jasmine felt very uncomfortable at this time.

She had to admit that the incident involving Master Lennard was indeed her own mistake. She really did not expect to be fooled by a swindler who came all the way from Hong Kong. Fortunately, Charlie Wade was present at that time, or she would have definitely been plagued with bad luck and bad fortune otherwise.

However, Reuben did not know about Charlie Wade's abilities. Therefore, he dared to speak about Charlie Wade in this manner.

At this time, Reuben spoke to Charlie Wade again. "Young man, I don't know how you've managed to deceive Jasmine or what you've said to her, but I'll never allow you to lie to the Moore family. Dr. Simmons comes from three generations of famous doctors and you're just a young man who probably doesn't even know what you are doing. I advise you to leave as soon as possible instead of courting trouble for yourself!"

Jasmine had a very ugly expression on her face but there was no way for her to refute Reuben's words. After all, Charlie Wade was very young indeed and it would be very difficult for her to convince others of his skills. In fact, she would not have believed Charlie Wade either if she had not seen and experienced Charlie Wade's extraordinary skills for herself. Jasmine was afraid that she would cause a huge commotion if she were to continue talking and bragging about Charlie Wade's Feng Shui skills at this time.

However, Charlie Wade remained calm and composed. He simply replied to Reuben with a smile on his face, "Hahaha. I'm sorry but please do not worry about someone like me. I'll just be standing aside to watch how Dr. Simmons is going to save lives with his healing hands."

Chapter 238

"Alright then, since you know your own place."

At this time, a middle-aged man stepped forward and said, "Jasmine! Reuben! It looks like your grandpa is not going to make it!"

Anthony quickly asked, "'Where's the old man? Please lead me to him so I can take a look at his condition."

"He's in his room at the back of the house. Please follow me," Reuben replied as he hurriedly walked ahead to lead Anthony and his granddaughter to his grandfather.

Jasmine hurriedly beckoned for Charlie Wade to follow behind them.

Everyone quickly arrived at a very luxurious and vintage bedroom at the back of the saw and they could see a dying old man lying on a bed on a bed frame made out of yellow rosewood.

The old man looked very haggard and his brows were tightly knitted together, as though he was enduring a great deal of pain.

Anthony quickly said, "The old man is in a very critical condition. Please allow my granddaughter and I to begin treatment immediately."

Reuben hurriedly replied, "Dr. Simmons, please go ahead and treat my grandfather!"

Anthony nodded but instead of attending to the old man himself, he stood by the side of the bed as he beckoned for the young woman to take action.

The young girl placed a bag of silver needles on the bedside table before she started piercing the needles into the old man.

The young girl was very proficient in performing acupuncture and her skills would probably be better than any old physicians who had practiced medicine for more than twenty or thirty years. This was the reason why the members of the Moore family felt comfortable enough to allow her to perform the acupuncture on the old man.

The young girl was not only very beautiful and charming but was also very skilled and meticulous when performing acupuncture.

Hence, Charlie Wade was not only impressed with the young girl's external beauty and appearance, but he was also very impressed with her inner qualities.

Charlie Wade could tell that the young girl was an expert from the way she handled the needles when she was treating the old man.

According to the Apocalyptic Book, there were five branches under Taoism, namely mountain, medicine, life, phase, and divination.

Under the cultivation of these five branches, there was some cultivation of reiki in the energy of the possessor.

At one glance, Charlie Wade could tell that Anthony and his granddaughter were the descendants of the word 'mountain'.

The word 'mountain' was mainly based on medical skills. Firstly, they had to learn basic medicine before they started practicing martial arts. After that, their skills were based on a combination of medical and martial arts skills.

However, even if Anthony and his granddaughter were descendants and fellow practitioners, they were still human and had mortal bodies. All mortal bodies can only exert reiki.

Charlie Wade had been reborn through the reincarnation of spiritual energy and his physical body had already long surpassed that of a mortal.

Even though it seemed as though the spiritual energy cultivated under Taoism is only a little different from the reiki in Charlie Wade's body, there is vast difference between the two.

In layman's terms, the comparison is similar to the differences between coal and diamond. Even though both coal and diamond possess the same origins, they are completely different in nature. Coal can only be used as raw material with very limited energy at a low cost whereas diamonds draw a lot of energy and cost a thousand times more than coal itself.

Many descendants of the five branches of Taoism have tried to cultivate their energy throughout their entire lifetime but have only been able to cultivate nothing more than a little spiritual energy.

Once any of the descendants cultivated that little bit of spiritual energy, they would be able to prolong their own lives.

However, ninety nine percent of Taoist disciples would never be able to cultivate this spiritual energy even before they die..

Chapter 239

"Thank you for your hard work, doctor," the middle-aged man said immediately. After that, Reuben hurriedly invited Anthony and his granddaughter to sit and have a cup of tea.

After a short while, the young girl took the needles out before she took the tea cup in her hand and finished the cup of tea at one go.

Even though the young girl had only performed an acupuncture for the old man, the color on his face had already returned and his breathing was more even at this time.

Everyone in the Moore family was extremely happy.

The young girl was also very content at this time. After drinking the cup of tea, the young girl stared at Charlie Wade with a contemptuous expression on her face, as though telling him, "Look! I've already cured the old man."

Charlie Wade did not say anything and he had a very straight expression on his face.

In fact, if her spiritual energy was very well-mastered, she would not be as tired as she would not need to put much effort into administering her skills at all.

However, Charlie Wade did not point it out because he did not want to mess with this young girl.

Charlie Wade turned around to look at the old man but after seeing the color on his face, he frowned immediately.

Even though the old man's condition seemed to improve massively after the young girl performed acupuncture for him, this was only superficial.

Lord Mooore had a lot of old injuries and wounds on his body and his muscles and veins had already been ruined a lot time ago. He also suffered from a blood deficiency syndrome and some of his organs had been somewhat exhausted because his organs had been overworking. The young girl's diagnosis and treatment only cured his symptoms without getting to the root of the cause.

Lord Mooore looked much better externally but his real condition was currently suppressed. After two days, he would definitely suffer a relapse and at that time, his symptoms would definitely be more severe and very life-threatening to him.

The so-called genius young doctor was only allowing him to live at least two to three days longer.

As soon as he saw this, Charlie Wade decided that he had to take action immediately. He stepped forward before he picked up a silver needle by the bed and said, "The old man still has a hidden disease in his body. Please allow me to perform acupuncture for him."

When the middle-aged man saw Charlie Wade attempting to perform acupuncture for the old man, he was extremely shocked and he wanted to stop him immediately. However, the man could only frown and he froze in place when he saw how skillful Charlie Wade was.

At this time, Reuben lost his temper and he yelled at Charlie Wade, "Hey! What do you think you're doing right now?"

Charlie Wade simply replied, "Lord Mooore has an old illness that had already been pent up in his body for a long time. I will try to get rid of the illness for him so his internal organs can be reshaped and function properly again. Otherwise, he won't be able to live for more than three days."

"What are you talking about?" Reuben was extremely angry at this time and he continued shouting at Charlie Wade, "Are you cursing my grandfather? I'm going to kill you!"

Jasmine hurriedly stepped forward before she said, "Brother, please do not cause any trouble. Just give Mr. Wade the opportunity to treat Grandpa."

"Am I the one who is causing trouble right now?" Reuben replied angrily. "You can rest assured leaving Grandpa in his hands but I do not have your courage! Are you trying to kill Grandpa?"

Jasmine replied in a cold manner, "I trust Mr. Wade's skills. I'll take full responsibility if Mr. Wade makes any mistakes!"

"How can you take any responsibility for this?"

Charlie Wade did not even raise his head but he simply continued performing the acupuncture on Lord Mooore. He moved his hands in a very delicate manner before supplementing his moves with a little reiki before piercing the old man's body with the needles.

When the young girl saw that Charlie Wade was really performing acupuncture for Lord Mooore, the expression on her face changed immediately. She quickly stepped forward to stop Charlie Wade. "Hey, young man! Stop whatever you're doing. If anything happens to him, you won't be able to shoulder this responsibility!"

At this time, Anthony suddenly stopped her and said in a deep voice, "Stop it! Do not disturb him!"

The young girl replied anxiously, "Grandpa, if he makes a mistake, he'll only cause more harm to the patient!"

Anthony replied in a deep voice, "Xyla, look carefully at the technique he's using to administer the needles!"

When Xyla heard her grandfather's words, she quickly turned around to observe Charlie Wade's hand.

Chapter 240

Xyla was surprised and dumbfounded when she saw that Charlie Wade was using the same technique that she had used earlier!

She hastily replied, "How can he be so shameless? He's using the same technique that I was using earlier! Did he copy and steal my technique by watching me earlier?"

Anthony had a very calm expression on his face at this time. He only spoke up a few seconds later. "Look clearly again. Pay close attention to his gestures and movement."

The young girl looked at Charlie Wade for a little longer and she muttered in shock, "He...what is he..."

Xyla immediately recognized that the acupuncture technique Charlie Wade was using was indeed the same Heavenly Thousand Needles acupuncture technique that had been passed down from generation to generation in the Simmons family. Even though his moves looked almost the same as her acupuncture method earlier, after taking a closer look, Xyla could tell that there were some differences in their techniques.

This...

Was this an upgraded version of the Heavenly Thousand Needles acupuncture technique?

Xyla was horrified and she quickly asked her grandfather, "Grandpa! How could he possibly know of our family's acupuncture technique?"

Anthony simply nodded because he was already mesmerized by Charlie Wade's skills at this time. He continued watching Charlie Wade with a look of admiration on his face before he replied, "Unexpectedly, this young man seems to be a master of a combination of medicine and martial arts! His hand was very steady when he inserted the needle and only a person with more than fifty years of experience would ever be able to have such steady internal reiki! I really did not expect someone as young as this man to be able to surpass my skills at this age!"

The young girl was very unconvinced at this time. "Grandpa, I'm certain that I'll definitely be able to surpass him!"

Anthony sighed as he continued staring at Charlie Wade in admiration. "If I am not mistaken, this young man is performing the full set of the Heavenly Thousand Needles acupuncture technique. There are a few steps of the Heavenly Thousand Needles acupuncture technique that has been missing from the Simmons family for many generations. I really did not expect there to be someone capable of performing the complete technique today!"

After that, Anthony glanced at his granddaughter before he said, "Let's not talk about you first! Even my own spiritual energy cannot be compared to this young man's even if I were to practice for another fifty years!"

"It's just a few more acupuncture steps, how much difference can it make?" the young girl muttered under her breath.

She had to prove that she was superior to Charlie Wade. "Grandpa, so what if he knows a few more steps to the Heavenly Thousand Needles acupuncture technique? I had the highest grade in medical school and I am well-versed in acupuncture and massage techniques. I don't believe that he'll be better than me in everything! I am going to demand for a one-on-one competition with him later!"

Anthony could only shake his head helplessly when he saw his granddaughter's aggressive reaction. "I don't think you'll ever be able to defeat him."

After a short while, Charlie Wade was finally done performing acupuncture for the old man. After that, Charlie Wade said lightly, "Lord Mooore will wake up in less than half an hour. After the acupuncture that I've performed for him today, I can guarantee that he'll live a healthy life for at least another five years!"

Reuben could not stop himself from blurting out, "You really are full of rubbish! The most prestigious American doctor had already said that my grandfather will only be able to live for another month or less. Do you really think you have the ability to extend my grandfather's life for another five years? How can you be so full of yourself?"

Charlie Wade replied in a cold manner, "Because I am Charlie Wade Wade."

"Boo!" Reuben sneered. "You're not a master and you're not a doctor! If anything happens to my grandfather, I'll make sure that you pay for your actions today!"

Anthony's granddaughter also stepped up and said unceremoniously, "Hey! Who are you and which medical clinic or hospital are you from? Where did you learn medicine from?"

Charlie Wade turned around and replied, "I'm not from any medical clinic or hospital and I did not learn medicine."

The young girl was very surprised and she continued asking, "What? That's impossible! Where did you learn this acupuncture technique from then?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "That is my own personal matter and I do not wish to reply to that question."

The young girl reluctantly said, "This is my family's ancestral acupuncture method that has been passed down for many generations. I have to find out where you learned it from so others will not steal my family's technique and pass it off as their own!"

"Xyla! Don't be rude to Mr. Wade!" Anthony reprimanded his granddaughter immediately. After that, he stepped forward before he spoke to Charlie Wade in a respectful manner, "Mr. Wade, my granddaughter lost her parents when she was just a young girl. I was the one who brought her up so please forgive her if she was disrespectful to you."

After that, Anthony continued yelling at Xyla. "Aren't you going to apologize to Mr. Wade now? Can't you see that Mr. Wade's acupuncture skills and technique are better than our family's technique? He's performing the original and well-perfected Heavenly Thousand Needles acupuncture technique! Moreover, can't you see the massive improvement in Lord Moore's condition after his treatment?"

Chapter 241

Xyla felt very aggrieved and she was very unconvinced at this time. Therefore, she gritted her teeth before she said, "I want to compete with him and if he's really capable, I'll definitely apologize to him then."

"How long are you going to keep up this attitude of yours?" Anthony yelled in anger as he stared at his granddaughter.

The middle-aged man from the Moore family was also stunned at this time. No one would have expected Charlie Wade to have better strength and skills compared to the famous Dr. Simmons.

Reuben was also very confused at this time. What was Dr. Simmons saying? Did he mean that this young man actually had some skills?

How could this be possible?

Could they really rely on him?

Was Anthony really convinced by Charlie Wade's skills?

At this time, Charlie Wade glanced at Xyla and he could tell that she was really unhappy. Her face was flushed red with anger and she had a very dissatisfied expression on her face. Charlie Wade found that hilarious and hence, he asked, "How would you like to compete with me?"

"We'll compete based on our medical skills, of course!" Xyla replied as she rolled her eyes at Charlie Wade. However, she had a happier expression on her face as she continued speaking. "The basis of Chinese medicine is to see, hear, and tell. Therefore, we'll compete based on this fact! Everyone in this room has their own symptoms and discomfort and we'll both have to point out what is wrong with them!

They would not be allowed to check pulses and they would have to point out illnesses just by looking at their faces. This was very challenging indeed.

In fact, even Dr. Simmons might not be able to point out someone's illness completely just by looking at their faces.

However, this was Xyla's special ability. She had been by her grandfather's side since she was just a year old and she had already seen more than tens of thousands of patients at this time.

She had an amazing memory and she could remember the symptoms of every 'illness' that she had ever seen, as well as classify all these illnesses into different classes.

Over time, she was able to tell the illness and condition of others simply by looking at their faces.

"Xyla, aren't you making things difficult for Mr. Wade?" Anthony asked in dissatisfaction.

However, no one expected Charlie Wade to simply nod and smile before he replied, "Alright then. I'll compete with you."

As soon as Charlie Wade agreed to compete against Xyla, Anthony did not say anything else and he simply got ready to see the show.

"I'll start first," Xyla replied in a delighted manner. After that, she stepped forward before she walked in front of the crowd of people as she observed their faces carefully, one at a time.

About ten minutes later, Xyla smiled before she replied, "Based on the horizontal stripes on his forehead, I'm certain that Uncle Moore has high blood pressure. He's usually on a light diet because he cannot eat too much meat and fish."

As soon as she was done speaking, the middle-aged man from the Moore family exclaimed, "You're really a genius, Miss Xyla! I do have high blood pressure."

After that, Xyla pointed at Reuben before she said, "The area below your brows are red and your eyes are cloudy. You have a pulmonary infection and you've just recovered recently."

Reuben smiled before he replied, "I really admire your skills, Miss Xyla. I was coughing a lot because I had a lung infection last week. However, I've already seen a doctor and I've already fully recovered now."

After that, Xyla continued, "As for Miss Moore, there are some irregularities in your period but this should be due to stress and because you've been overworking yourself."

Jasmine nodded and replied, "You're right."

Xyla pointed out each and every one of their illnesses and symptoms and they were all accurate.

Everyone was pleasantly surprised at this time and they could not stop praising Anthony for teaching his granddaughter so well.

Anthony was also very proud of his granddaughter.

Xyla finally looked at Charlie Wade before she smiled and said in a triumphant manner, "However, Mr. Wade, I really did not expect you to have the most serious condition here! It seems as though there are some serious issues with your heart!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Well, I really did not expect you to have such amazing medical skills at your young age and I really admire you for it. However, you've omitted some information, so let me add that on for you."

Chapter 242

After he finished speaking, Charlie Wade pointed at the middle-aged man in the Moore family before he said, "In addition to high blood pressure, this gentleman here is also suffering from diabetes and heart palpitations. Moreover, this gentleman had also suffered from a broken rib in his left chest and this is an old injury from about ten years ago."

The middle-aged man from the Moore family was very shocked and he exclaimed in astonishment, "Mr. Wade, your medical skills are really incredible! How can you tell that I'm suffering from diabetes? I'm also very amazed that you can tell that I have a broken rib in my left chest. I had a rib fracture from a car accident thirteen years old and that's the reason why I have this old injury."

Charlie Wade smiled before he pointed at Reuben and said, "Your lung infection came about because you were drinking too much and your kidneys do not have the capability to process your intake. In addition to your lung problems, your biggest problem is your kidney deficiency. You have to get your kidneys checked."

Reuben felt very embarrassed at this time and he reprimanded Charlie Wade immediately, "Who do you think you are and what are you talking about right now? My kidneys are working perfectly fine!"

Reuben was naturally not convinced because Charlie Wade was saying that he had a kidney deficiency.

Moreover, he would never admit it even if he really had weak kidneys.

Charlie Wade looked at Reuben before he continued speaking, "Your kidney deficiency is a sign of declining renal function. If you continue to leave your illness unchecked, your kidney functions will definitely worsen over time. Not only would this affect the function of your kidney but it might also lead to uremia then. So, I hope that you won't be so conceited and that you'll take some time to have this checked out by the doctors at the hospital instead. If you go as soon as possible, there might still be hope for you but if you continue delaying treatment, you'd have to get a kidney transplant!"

"You..." Reuben was extremely irritated at this time and he was preparing to refute Charlie Wade's words but the middle-aged man stopped him immediately.

At this time, Charlie Wade looked at Jasmine before he said, "As for Miss Moore, your body is actually messed up right now because of the 'dragon encapsulation formation' in your room prior to this. Even though you've been experiencing irregularities in your period, if I am not mistaken, your menstruation started last night and everything is normal now. You can rest assured that after this menstruation, all of the irregularities and symptoms that you previously experienced will disappear and your period will be timelier in the future."

Jasmine was very surprised and she felt a little embarrassed.

How did Charlie Wade figure out that her menstruation started last night? Was he really that amazing?

Xyla was also very surprised that Charlie Wade could actually point out all of their hidden illnesses just by looking at their faces. She was even more unconvinced at this point.

She could not even tell that they had these diseases simply by looking at their faces. So, how could Charlie Wade actually point out their illness and disease without even checking their pulses? Was it just a lucky guess?

Xyla bit her lip gently before she asked, "Then, Mr. Wade, was I right when I said that you have a heart condition?"

"Is that what you think?" Charlie Wade replied as he smiled. After that, he stretched out his hand before he said, "Dr. Simmons, could I please trouble you to check my pulse for me?"

Anthony hesitated for a moment before he placed his fingers on Charlie Wade's wrist.

After a short while, he put his hand down before he glared at Xyla and said, "What nonsense are you talking about? You're making a fool out of yourself! I want you to apologize to Mr. Wade immediately."

Xyla replied immediately, "Grandpa, did I say anything wrong?"

Anthony sighed before he shook his head and said, "Why don't you check his pulse yourself and see if Mr. Wade is suffering from any heart disease as you said he was? You're wrong!"

"What?" Xyla could not believe her own ears. She had never once made any mistakes in diagnosing patients in her entire life. Moreover, she had already been doing this for more than a decade! How could she possibly have gotten it wrong?

Xyla walked towards Charlie Wade and she stretched out her hand to check his pulse. After checking his pulse, Xyla was dumbfounded and her face flushed red immediately.

Charlie Wade's heart was perfectly fine. How could he possibly be suffering from any heart disease?

Was he deliberately pretending to have a weak heart earlier just so that he could make a fool of her?

If he could really do that and if he could easily disguise the characteristics of a certain illness on his face, then this meant that he had excellent control over his reiki!

If that was really true, this man was a god..

Moreover, Xyla could not even diagnose the other illnesses that Charlie Wade had pointed out after her initial diagnosis. His medical skills were definitely more superior to hers!

Even her grandfather could not be compared to him!

How could he possibly have such great skills when he was still so young?

Chapter 243

Xyla finally understood what Charlie Wade meant.

Charlie Wade was giving her face when he said that she had left some things out, but that made a lot of difference!

Anthony was also shocked at this time.

Anthony could see that Charlie Wade was deliberately controlling his own internal breath and he was deliberately allowing his spiritual energy to flow backwards in his body to create the illusion of a 'heart disease'. That was the reason why his granddaughter was fooled.

However, reversing the flow of reiki in the body could cause extreme pain and discomfort.

However, not only could Charlie Wade control the flow of reiki in his body but he was also controlling it freely in a calm and composed manner, as though he was not feeling any pain at all. It seemed as though he had already cultivated his skills for more at least fifty to a hundred years!

Anthony knew that Charlie Wade was indeed an expert.

On the other hand, his granddaughter was still trying to provoke Charlie Wade.

Fortunately, Charlie Wade was a gentleman. If Charlie Wade was angry and tried to take action against them, Anthony was afraid that the both of them would not even have the strength to retaliate against Charlie Wade.

After that, Anthony glared at Charlie Wade before he said, "Mr. Wade is really very skilled at cultivating his reiki and spiritual energy. You've given the wrong diagnosis and I want you to apologize to him now."

After that, Anthony clasped his hand together before he said to Charlie Wade, "I'm really sorry for the way my granddaughter is behaving. Please forgive her, Mr. Wade. I'll make sure I punish her when we get back home."

At this time, Xyla also regained her senses and she fully understood that the other party's medical skills were indeed several times better than her own. Therefore, she quickly lowered her head before she said, "I...I admit that your medical skills are definitely better than mine."

Charlie Wade waved his hands and he smiled as he replied, "The purpose of practicing medicine is simply to be able to save people. There is no comparison between everyone's medical skills and we cannot simply assume that someone's medical skills are better than another person's medical skills. If I encounter any illness or diseases that I've never seen before, I'd also have to ask Dr. Simmons for his advice."

This remark made Anthony feel even more embarrassed but he also admired Charlie Wade because he was such a humble man.

It was clear that Charlie Wade's medical skills were definitely way better compared to his own skills, but Charlie Wade was giving him face by taking a step down. He was not an ordinary person at all!

Moreover, Anthony could tell that Charlie Wade's medical skills were at such a high level and he believed that no one could possibly surpass his skill level.

Therefore, Anthony spoke to Charlie Wade in a respectful manner and a serious expression on his face. "I've really never expected to meet someone like you in this lifetime, Mr. Wade. I hope you'll give me your guidance and advice in the future."

Charlie Wade nodded as he smiled at Anthony.

Anthony quickly said, "Thank you, Mr. Wade."

Everyone in the bedroom was shocked as they witnessed their interaction.

Dr. Simmons was the number one genius doctor in the northern region and he was actually asking Charlie Wade for his guidance and advice.

Everyone was in disbelief.

Dr. Simmons was very highly respected in the northern region and everyone knew who he was no matter where he went. Moreover, most of the major hospitals were always inviting Dr. Simmons to be their guest speaker so he could give them some medical advice and pointers. Who would have expected someone like him to ask someone like Charlie Wade for advice instead? This was really unbelievable!

Xyla was also stunned at this time but she did not dare to say anything else.

At this time, Charlie Wade glanced at Anthony before he said, "Dr. Simmons, if I am not mistaken, you are asking your granddaughter to treat Lord Mooore on your behalf because of your internal injury, right?"

"You can tell that my grandfather has an internal injury?"

A look of surprise flashed across Xyla's face immediately.

However, she quickly regained her composure.

This was normal for someone with Charlie Wade's medical skills.

Xyla explained, "My grandfather is taking a break because he's trying to heal his body internally. Therefore, even when Reuben came to ask for his help to take a look at Lord Mooore, my grandfather initially declined his request. However, two days ago, my grandfather's friend sold him a magical pill when he came by to visit him. I heard that this magical pill originated from Aurouss Hilll and my grandfather wanted to drop by Aurouss Hillll to look for its source. This is the reason why he's decided to stop by and take a look at Lord Mooore while we are here in the city."

Chapter 244

"What magical pill is that?" Charlie Wade asked in surprise.

He was really as to what kind of rare treasure this magical pill was since Anthony was also attracted by it.

Anthony quickly took a jade box out from his pocket before he opened it carefully. After that, he said, "This magical pill cost me five million dollars but it is absolutely worth it! After taking half of the pill, I'm already feeling much better. That is why I'm carrying the other half of the pill with me. Mr. Wade, please have a look."

The crowd of people quickly gathered around him because they wanted to see this magical pill that Anthony was talking about. They really could not imagine what kind of magical pill would actually fascinate the doctor so much.

As soon as Anthony opened the jade box, the strong scent of medicine filled the air immediately.

After exposing the remaining half of the magical pill in the jade box, Anthony took out a small jade knife and cut out a small piece of the pill before handing it over for the middle-aged man and Reuben to try.

The two of them hesitated for a moment before they put the small piece of the pill in their mouths.

"Dr. Simmons! What kind of medicine is this? I often feel a very dull pain in my chest because of the fracture that I suffered long ago but the pain is now completely gone!"

Reuben was also stunned at this time. "My lungs have always felt very uncomfortable but I feel better immediately after trying this medicine."

Anthony smiled before he replied, "So, you finally understand what I'm talking about now!"

The middle-aged man from the Moore family looked very surprised as he stared at Anthony in awe. "This magical pill is really amazing. If you can reproduce this pill, I'm willing to spend a lot of money to buy it!"

Anthony smiled bitterly at this time as he said, "I have already tried to study the contents of this magical pill. However, I can't seem to get the prescription right. I'm afraid that this remaining half of this magical pill is the only one left in this world now."

When Charlie Wade saw the half of the pill in the jade box, he was stunned and he could only laugh after a short moment of silence.

"Dr. Simmons, did you buy this magical pill for five million dollars?"

"Yes."

Anthony smiled as he replied, "In fact, five million dollars is not a lot of money. I'd be willing to spend ten million dollars if I could get my hands on another one of these!"

"Mr. Wade, I believe you're also able to tell how effective and powerful this pill is. I was told by my friend that this pill was made by a very powerful master who is over a hundred and fifty years old. My friend said that he knelt down in front of the master's residence for three days and nights before the master finally agreed to sell him this magical pill for five million dollars! Moreover, he told me that the master has left his home and he is now wandering around. Therefore, it would be difficult to ever find this master again!"

The middle-aged man from the Moore family sighed as he said, "I'm afraid that this master is really an immortal being! Five million dollars is really not too expensive for a magical pill like this!"

Even though Xyla had already apologized to Charlie Wade because she was finally convinced that his medical skills were better than hers, she was still very displeased and uncomfortable with his presence.

When she saw the expression on Charlie Wade's face, as though he was trying to suppress a laughter, she felt very uneasy and she asked him immediately, "Hey! What's so funny? Don't tell me you are looking down on this magical pill?"

Charlie Wade was taken aback because of the sudden confrontation and he replied immediately, "I made this pill, Dr. Simmons. I'm afraid you've been cheated by your friend."

The atmosphere in the room was completely silent as soon as Charlie Wade's voice fell.

Everyone was staring at him in a daze at this time.

Anthony was stunned and after a brief moment, he asked Charlie Wade, "Mr. Wade, did you really make this magical pill?"

Xyla was so surprised and her mouth was wide open, as though she had already frozen in place.

Charlie Wade nodded before he replied faintly, "This isn't a magical pill. I made this pill for my father-in-law when he suffered some bruises and internal bleeding. I was afraid that his body wouldn't be able to withstand this pill and therefore, I even subtracted some ingredients from the pill. This is only a semi-finished product."

As soon as Charlie Wade spoke, everyone was completely silent again!

Chapter 245

Anthony was so shocked and he was completely at a loss for words.

His whole body was trembling at this time...

He really could not believe that the magical pill that he thought he had bought from a master was actually made by the young man standing in front of him...

Moreover, Charlie Wade even said that this was only a semi-finished product?

If the semi-product was already so powerful, then wouldn't the effect of the finished product be even more effective?

The middle-aged man from the Moore family was also dumbfounded at this time and he suddenly felt a burst of ecstasy in his heart!

He really could not imagine how Jasmine could be acquainted with a god like him!

If the Moore family could keep this young man by their side, then they would definitely be healthy and prosperous.

This was because no matter how powerful or rich a person was, they would always be most afraid of death!

No matter how much money or power someone had, they could only enjoy life if they were healthy!

If anyone was acquainted with someone like this young master here, who could easily produce a magical pill as he wished, then prolonging their lives would not only be a dream!

Moreover, if Lord Moore could live for another five years, it would definitely be a blessing to the entire Moore family!

This was because no one else in the Moore family could manage the Moore family business better than the old man and no one in the Moore family had better contacts and connections than Lord Moore!

If the old man was alive, many people would show the Moore family some respect because of him but if the old man was gone, then no one would be bothered to respect the Moore family anymore.

Therefore, the Moore family hoped that the old man would live as long as possible too.

As long as he was around to protect them, the Moore family would definitely be prosperous!

Reuben was also extremely shocked because he had looked down on Charlie Wade ever since he first saw him.

At the same time, he could not help but feel a little anxious.

He had ridiculed and insulted Charlie Wade earlier because he would have never imagined that he would really be a true master!

Anthony lowered his head and bowed before Charlie Wade as he said, "Mr. Wade, I've been suffering from my internal injuries for the longest time. If you could be so kind as to make more of this magical pill for me, I'm willing to pay you ten million dollars in cash for the pill!"

The middle-aged man from the Moore family also stepped forward as he spoke in a trembling voice, "Mr. Wade, if you really decide to make more of the medicine, please make some for the Moore family too. We're also more than willing to pay you ten million dollars for the pill!"

At this time, Charlie Wade replied faintly, "I don't need your money but I will definitely make some more of the pills again since it is not a lot of trouble anyway. Since all of you are so sincere, I'll make sure to give each one of you the pills when I make it."

"Mr. Wade, you are really the benefactor of the Moore family!" the middle-aged man from the Moore family exclaimed excitedly. When he saw that Charlie Wade was still standing, he quickly brought a stool over before he wiped it clean and said, "Please have a seat, Mr. Wade."

Reuben also hurriedly poured a cup of tea before he served it to Charlie Wade in a respectful manner. "Mr. Wade, you must be thirsty. Please enjoy this cup of tea."

Jasmine could only stare at Charlie Wade in shock because she was at a complete loss for words.

She really did not expect Charlie Wade to be so skilled and powerful.

He was just the son-in-law of the Wilson family. So, why wasn't he tempted by the offer of twenty million dollars at all?

Could it be that he was more powerful than he looked?

But why would such a powerful person settle as the son-in-law of the Wilson family?

At this time, Anthony sighed as he said, "Mr. Wade, you really are an incredible person! You're so skilled but you have such a humble heart. Even if I lived for another hundred years, I could never be compared to you..."

Chapter 246

In Anthony's opinion, he could not even compare to Charlie Wade even if he lived another fifty years.

This man's medical skills were unfathomable. What was even more unbelievable is the fact that he could actually produce such a fine magical pill. He was simply a godlike existence!

At this time, Xyla's face was flushed red and she did not know what else to say. In fact, she was not convinced by Charlie Wade's skills at first but she was utterly convinced now!

After that, Charlie Wade said to Anthony indifferently, "Dr. Simmons, even though the medicine that you bought is actually effective for your internal injuries, it is still lacking a few ingredients. Therefore, the effect of the pill is only about twenty percent effective for your condition. Please give me some time so that I can produce the completed pill for you. I believe your internal injury will be healed completely after taking the pill."

"Mr. Wade, thank you! Thank you so much!"

Anthony felt extremely grateful and he knelt down in front of Charlie Wade as he broke down in tears.

Xyla also quickly knelt down beside her grandfather before she said, "Mr. Wade, thank you for your kindness."

Anthony replied, "Mr. Wade, I know that you do not have any connections in the northern region but I know some very important and influential people after working in the medical field for so long. I don't know how I can ever repay your kindness. Therefore, I hope that you will not hesitate to approach me if you need any medicinal herbs or help in the future."

Charlie Wade nodded.

Anthony came from a generation of doctors who had been practicing medicine in the family for a very long time. Moreover, being a very famous doctor who had been practicing medicine for a long time in the northern region, he would definitely have a lot of connections and resources that the Moore family probably did not have.

If he had help from the Simmons family, it would definitely be easier for him to find any medicinal herbs that he needed in the future.

At this time, Lord Moore who had not been moving all this while, suddenly coughed as he opened his eyes.

Everyone turned around to look at him in shock!

Lord Moore had already been unconscious for such a long time but today, he actually sat up on his bed, all by himself!

This...this...

The middle-aged man from the Moore family did not even dare to take a big breath because he was afraid that this was all just his own hallucinations!

Moreover, some of the other doctors had already said that Lord Moore's condition was very critical and he would not survive for more than a few days.

This was the reason why Reuben specifically invited the famous Dr. Simmons and his granddaughter here to take a look at the old man. In fact, the old man showed some improvements and there was an obvious change in the color of his complexion as soon as Xyla performed the acupuncture for Lord Moore. However, it seemed as though there was nothing else they could do for him.

The middle-aged man had initially thought he would have to start preparing for the old man's funeral. Unexpectedly, Charlie Wade stepped up and started performing acupuncture on the old man instead.

Charlie Wade even said that the old man would wake up in half an hour but no one expected the old man to actually wake up when half an hour passed by!

Furthermore, the old man had a rosy complexion and his eyes were white and clear. He looked so much better and healthier than he was before he fell ill!

This was simply amazing!

Anthony exclaimed out loud at this time, "Mr. Wade! You said that Lord Mooore will wake up in half an hour and he really woke up in exactly thirty minutes and not a minute late at all!"

The Moore family members were also amazed. Charlie Wade was really incredible. He was really a master!

At this time, the middle-aged man quickly stepped forward and asked the old man, "Dad, how are you feeling?"

Lord Mooore looked at his son with a complicated and confused expression on his face. His eyes were shining brightly as though he was rejoicing after avoiding a disaster. "I thought I was going to die but I really did not expect to wake up again."

The middle-aged man pointed at Charlie Wade before he yelled excitedly, "Dad, this is all thanks to Mr. Wade! He saved your life!"

Lord Mooore turned around to look at the direction that his son was pointing at and he was startled when he saw the young man. After a short while, he said, "Thank you, young man. I won't forget what you've done for me."

Charlie Wade smiled as he replied, "I only put in a little effort. I cannot claim the credit for myself."

After that, Charlie Wade pointed at Anthony and his granddaughter before he said, "Dr. Simmons and his granddaughter have also done a lot to save your life. I can't take sole credit for this."

Chapter 247

Anthony really did not expect Charlie Wade to say good things about him and his granddaughter at this time. He was very grateful and humble as he said, "Lord Mooore, Mr. Wade is too humble. In fact, Mr. Wade was the one who helped you avert this crisis. If not for him, we wouldn't have been able to wake you up."

Lord Mooore nodded before he said politely, "I have already heard of your reputation since a long time ago. Please do not belittle yourself, you are too humble. I really appreciate your kindness and effort in coming all the way here to treat me. Please do not hesitate to look for me if you need the Moore family's help in the future."

After that, Lord Mooore looked at Charlie Wade before he said, "Mr. Wade, thank you for saving my life. Please do not hesitate to ask me if there is anything that the Moore family can do for you in future. I owe my life to you."

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "Lord Mooore, you're too polite."

After he was done speaking, Charlie Wade realized that it was already getting late. Therefore, Charlie Wade quickly said, "Lord Mooore, you have just recovered from a serious illness and I will not advise you to use too much energy or overwork yourself. It would be best if someone looked after you and you should rest more. I shan't keep you up, so if it is okay with you, I will leave first."

Lord Mooore hurriedly replied, "Mr. Wade, you saved my life! How much are you charging for your consultation fee? I do not mind paying you double the amount!"

Charlie Wade replied indifferently, "There is no need for you to pay me any consultation fees at all. The reason I'm here today is because Jasmine is my friend and it's only natural for friends to help one another."

Jasmine was shocked when she heard Charlie Wade's words.

Charlie Wade was obviously giving credit to her in front of her grandfather. After all, Lord Mooore was the only one who would be deciding how much property and money each of the Moore family members would be inheriting from him and what role they would be playing in the family business in the future.

If any one of them could get into Lord Mooore's good books, then they could possibly become the future leader of the Moore family business, which was what she had been looking forward to all this while...

Charlie Wade was helping her take one big step closer to her goal by giving her all the credit today!

At this time, Lord Mooore turned around to look at his granddaughter, Jasmine, before he nodded and said, "Okay, very well then! Jasmine, make sure to thank Mr. Wade for saving your grandfather's life!"

Jasmine quickly bowed before she replied in a serious tone, "Don't worry, Grandpa! I will definitely repay Mr. Wade for his efforts!"

"Okay." Lord Mooore nodded in satisfaction before he laughed heartily.

Reuben, who was standing not too far away, had a very ugly expression on his face as soon as he heard Charlie Wade's words.

Jasmine had taken all the credit for his grandfather's recovery and it seems as though his future looked rather bleak at the moment...

Charlie Wade did not stay in the Moore family mansion for too long. When he saw that Lord Mooore was already recovering, he told him that he would be leaving so that he could rest more.

Lord Mooore decided to personally walk Charlie Wade to the door.

At this time, Anthony also decided to leave with his granddaughter. Charlie Wade asked Anthony to stay at a hotel in Aurouss Hilll for a few days so that he could contact him as soon as he prepared the medicine for him.

Anthony was very thankful and said goodbye to Charlie Wade in a respectful manner as he watched him get into Jasmine's car.

After that, Jasmine started to drive Charlie Wade back to the city.

On the way back to the city, Jasmine suddenly said, "Mr. Wade, thank you so much for everything you've done today."

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he said, "This is just a very small matter so you don't have to be so polite! Who knows if I would need your help in the future?"

Jasmine quickly replied, "Mr. Wade, you can rest assured that I will never refuse any of your requests for help!"

After that, Jasmine looked at Charlie Wade's side profile before she asked in a tentative manner, "Mr. Wade, if you aren't too busy, I was just wondering if you'd like to sit down and have a drink with me?"

She had a thousand doubts about Charlie Wade and she wanted an answer for all the questions she had! Moreover, she realized that she was also starting to feel an irresistible attraction towards Charlie Wade. She wanted to get to know him better and she wanted to learn more about all the secrets he was keeping to himself.

Chapter 248

Charlie Wade looked at the time on his watch and he felt that it was not that late anyway. Moreover, he had not had any alcohol in a really long time. Therefore, he nodded before he said, "Alright then. You can choose the place!"

Jasmine was overjoyed at this time and she hurriedly replied, "I know of a great bar!"

After that, Jasmine stepped on the accelerator as she drove towards the city center.

...

Jasmine drove them downtown to a bar named Sunny.

Jasmine stopped her car in front of the entrance of the bar before she passed her car keys over to the young boy working as the valet. After that, she quickly led Charlie Wade into the bar.

As soon as the waiter saw her, he greeted her in a respectful manner, "Good evening, Miss Moore! Would you like to go to your usual spot today?"

Jasmine nodded and the other party quickly replied, "Please come with me."

There was a dance floor on the first floor of the bar and the atmosphere was pretty lively because there was a DJ on the scene. At this time, the waiter led the both of them to the second floor. The second floor was completely empty and there were not many seats available on this floor. Anyone sitting on the second floor could watch the lively scene happening below with not much disturbance at all. Moreover, it was easier for them to have a conversation on the second floor as the music was not as loud as it was downstairs.

As soon as she sat down, Jasmine instructed the waiter immediately, "Bring me two bottles of the best 1982 Chateau Lafite Rothschild."

"Okay, Miss Moore."

The waiter bowed respectfully before he left and returned very quickly with two bottles of red wine.

The waiter opened the bottles of red wine before he poured it into a decanter. When Jasmine saw the waiter standing there, she said, "Go down and tell your boss not to bring any other guests to the second floor."

"No problem, Miss Moore," the waiter bowed respectfully before he retreated immediately.

At this time, Charlie Wade quickly asked out of curiosity, "Do you own any shares here?"

Jasmine smiled before she replied, "This bar was opened by a member of the Moore family."

Charlie Wade nodded as soon as he heard her words and he replied, "It seems as though the Moore family is really a very big and powerful family."

As soon as Jasmine heard Charlie Wade's words, she smiled before she replied, "We're just a regular family. Even though there are obviously not many families who could match up to the Moore family in Aurouss Hilll, there are many families who are wealthier and more powerful than we are beyond Aurouss Hilll. There's the Scott family, the Lester family, the Hamilton family, the Osborne family, the Duncan family...and the most powerful families such as the Swire family and the Wade family."

Charlie Wade simply smiled without saying anything at all.

The Wade family? That was his family.

However, he had yet to figure out if he wanted to go back to his family yet.

Anyway, Charlie Wade felt that his life was actually pretty good right then. He owned Emgrand Group and he had more than tens of billions of dollars in cash. Moreover, he had also discovered infinite possibilities from studying the Apocalyptic Book.

In contrast, he would be subjected to so many rules if he returned to the Wade family. He would not be the free man that he was right now.

Jasmine poured a glass of red wine for Charlie Wade before she poured one glass for herself. After that, she handed one glass of red wine over to Charlie Wade before she said, "Mr. Wade, I'd like to give you a toast!"

Charlie Wade took the glass of wine in his hand and he looked at Jasmine's pink and rosy complexion before he smiled and said, "Jasmine, whenever you drink, you should always have a reason to drink. You should ask yourself if there's anything you'd like to celebrate or commemorate or if there is something you're upset or happy about! So, why don't we talk about what we are celebrating or commemorating before we drink each glass of wine? What do you think of my suggestion?"

Chapter 249

Jasmine smiled after listening to Charlie Wade's special request. After that, she said, "Okay, let's do that! Since this is the first glass of wine, I'll start first!"

After that, Jasmine cleared her throat before she smiled sweetly and said, "This first glass of wine is to thank you for saving my grandfather today! I'd also like to thank you for doing me this big favor today!"

Charlie Wade nodded and smiled as he said, "Okay, then let's drink this glass of red wine immediately!"

After he was done speaking, Charlie Wade lifted his wine glass before he gently touched it against the wine glass in Jasmine's hand. After that, he finished the entire glass of red wine in one go.

At this time, Jasmine also finished her entire glass of red wine immediately. After that, she smiled before she asked, "Mr. Wade, why don't you tell me why we should be drinking this second glass of red wine?"

"Okay," Charlie Wade smiled. "This second glass of red wine is to celebrate fate and destiny! Even though there are so many people in this world, it is simply because of fate that both of us met and got to know one another! Therefore, we should celebrate fate!"

"Okay!" Jasmine replied and she smiled as she yelled out, "Let's drink for fate!"

Immediately after that, Jasmine refilled their glasses with more red wine before she said, "This third glass of wine is to celebrate Mr. Wade's superb skills and abilities! Today, I got to witness Mr. Wade's ability to treat illnesses and save other people's lives. Moreover, I'm now even more certain that it was not a mere coincidence that Jack Yalerman was struck to death by thunder and lightning! Would you like to explain yourself, Mr. Wade?"

Charlie Wade smiled in a casual manner as he said, "Well, who knows whether it was a mere coincidence or not? Only the heavens knows! As for mortals like you and me, I can only say that this is a secret that shouldn't be revealed!"

Jasmine nodded and she laughed and looked into Charlie Wade's eyes before she said, "Well, then let's drink in order not to reveal this secret!"

"Let's do it!"

After a few glasses of wine, Jasmine was already feeling a little tipsy.

Even though she could really hold her liquor, she had already drank several glasses of red wine at one go.

At this time, it was Jasmine's turn to give her toast and say something before they drink.

Jasmine looked at Charlie Wade with her eyes wide open and a tipsy expression on her face as she said, "Actually Mr. Wade, I've recently discovered that you're actually a pretty good person."

"Pretty good?" Charlie Wade chuckled before he asked out of curiosity, "What do you mean by that? How am I good?"

"You're good in so many ways," Jasmine replied earnestly. "You're so much more interesting than the other people I usually meet or encounter. Many of the people that I've met would usually try to flatter me or treat me well because they have some other ulterior motives. That's the reason I think you're a good person."

"What?" Charlie Wade replied as he laughed. "So, do you think I have no ulterior motives for getting closer to you?"

Jasmine nodded before she replied, "I feel as though you're a little detached from the world because you're hiding something."

Chapter 250

At this time, Charlie Wade quickly asked out of curiosity, "What do you mean?"

Jasmine replied in a serious manner, "Mr. Wade, you look like a very simple and casual person but you're actually very skillful and capable. However, despite being very capable, you're not arrogant at all. After getting to know you better, I realize that you won't try to show off your skills or abilities but if anyone touches your limit or challenges you, you won't hesitate to show them what you are capable of. Moreover, the methods that you use to counter-attack or defend yourself is usually very unpredictable and quite unlike how an ordinary person would react."

After that, Jasmine continued speaking, "Most importantly, I really don't understand why you'd choose to become a stay-home son-in-law of the Wilson family when you're actually so capable and talented. The Wilson family is just a regular and second or probably third-rate family. I think you can definitely do much better because you have so much potential in you. Don't you feel that way at all?"

Charlie Wade did not answer her question but he asked her another question instead. "Then, where do you think I belong if not in the Wilson family?"

Jasmine replied seriously, "I think that someone like you should be married to a prestigious top-notch family. I believe that many powerful and wealthy families would be dying to marry their daughters to you because you are so skillful and capable."

At this time, Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "What's the point in that? If someone were to get married because of the family's interest, then there would be no element of love in the relationship at all. Why would someone in a powerful and wealthy family be willing to marry a person she has no feelings or affection for? Moreover, if the guy marries into her family, wouldn't he be living under the control and command of her family for the rest of his life?"

Jasmine replied naturally, "Of course! This has always been the way it is in all the powerful and wealthy families. They're always particularly strict with their daughters. For instance, the children of powerful and wealthy families would always be required to attend the top aristocratic school in the city to have excellent knowledge and good social etiquette. Our families have also strictly forbidden us from contacting any members of the opposite sex and we're not allowed to fall in love with someone else on our own."

"What?" Charlie Wade asked in surprise. "We're in the twenty-first century now! Why does it seem as though the wealthy and powerful families are more feudal compared to those people in the past?"

"This is not feudalism," Jasmine replied in a serious manner. "This is the survival rule for upper class families."

"The law of survival?" Charlie Wade asked. "What do you mean by that?"

At this time, Jasmine quickly explained, "We need to have joint partnerships and collaborations, and we also exchange resources with other prestigious families. Therefore, there is only one rule in the Moore family, that is, all direct members of the Moore family have to obey the marriage arrangements that the elders in the Moore family decides on. There's no room for any discussion on this matter."

"In the past, the Moore family had even set a rule that the members of the Moore family would have to intermarry within the family, with all marriages arranged between the cousins. Therefore, it is normal for one cousin to marry another to prevent wealth dilution or money from leaving the family. However, since there's now a prohibition on marriages between relatives within three generations in this country, this rule has already been cast aside. However, there are some of my blood relatives who still marry our own cousins abroad."

"Our family rule has already been greatly relaxed and we're no longer required to marry our own cousins. However, we're still required to marry someone from a similarly wealthy and powerful family. Even though the other party's family cannot be more powerful than our own, their status should not be much lower than our own."

After that, Jasmine sighed as she continued speaking, "Our family believes in the value of cooperation and they'll always find ways so the men from other families would marry into our family and similarly, the woman from other families would have to marry into our family. All members of the Moore family would have to focus on the interest of the Moore family as a whole and we're not allowed to disobey any marriage arrangements made by the elders in the family."

Charlie Wade sighed when he heard Jasmine's explanation. After that, he said, "It seems as though there are also many troubles that you face as a member of a powerful and wealthy family. It seems as though the money a person has, the greedier they become."

Charlie Wade knew that he would also be placed in a similar position if he were to return to the Wade family now. The Wade family would definitely try to exert control over his life and they might even look down on the Wilson family. If things got complicated, Charlie Wade believed that the Wade family would also attempt to force him to divorce Claire Wilson just so they could get him to marry another woman from a similarly wealthy and powerful family instead.

It seemed as though he really should not return to the Wade family.

As he thought about this matter to himself, Charlie Wade suddenly asked, "By the way, Jasmine, I think you're also at the age where you should be getting married. Has your family already arranged for your marriage yet?"

Jasmine shook her head before she replied, "Well, the elders were initially making the necessary marriage arrangement for my cousin Reuben. His marriage was decided on a long time ago and my grandfather has arranged for him to marry the daughter of a very wealthy and powerful family in the northern region. However, when Grandpa was about to arrange my marriage, he fell seriously ill and they decided to postpone this plan instead. Since my grandpa is already recovering, I believe he'll start planning my marriage soon..."

Chapter 251

Charlie Wade laughed helplessly after hearing Jasmine's words. "It seems as though you do not want to be bound to the rules of the Moore family."

Jasmine nodded before she said, "I really do not want to be bound by the rules of the Moore family but I have no other way out of this."

"Why" Charlie Wade asked in a serious manner. "I think your grandfather might change his mind after this near-death experience because of his critical illness. Furthermore, you're the reason his life was saved and he's able to live healthily for a few more years. If he's really grateful towards you, you can take advantage of this opportunity to ask him for the freedom to love and decide on the man you'd like to be married to. I believe he'll definitely give you the freedom to choose your own husband."

Jasmine smiled bitterly and she shook her head before she said, "That's impossible. Even if Grandpa really loves me and feels bad for me, he wouldn't dare agree to that."

"Why?" Charlie Wade asked with a puzzled expression on his face. "Isn't your grandfather the head of the Moore family? He's the one in control of the entire Moore family and anything that he decides on would be the final decision. What would he ever be afraid of?"

At this time, Jasmine replied in a serious manner, "The Moore family has developed over the years before finally becoming what it is today. All the members of the Moore family are bound by the rules set for the family. As long as everyone obeys the rules, the Moore family will always be united and indestructible. If anyone is given the freedom to break any of the rules, then the Moore family will definitely crumble and suffer a huge loss as no one would abide by the rules anymore."

After that, Jasmine continued speaking, "The Moore family has had to endure so much hardship before growing to become the powerful and wealthy family it is today. The reason why we could do it is because every one of us had the interest of the family at heart and none of the members of the Moore family has ever broken the rule."

Charlie Wade sighed before he said, "Jasmine, I've always thought that you were a very strong and powerful woman. I really did not expect you to be bound at the mercy of others too."

"That's right!" Jasmine replied as she sighed. "There's no way out of this as long as I am a member of the Moore family."

As she spoke about it, Jasmine shook her head before she raised her wine glass and said, "Mr. Wade, let's not talk about all these unhappy things anymore. Come on, drink up! I'll toast you again!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he raised his wine glass and said, "Alright then. This glass of red wine is to celebrate freedom!"

Jasmine was slightly startled at this time.

For freedom?

She did not have any freedom at all.

Even though she was very depressed, Jasmine forced a smile before she nodded and said, "Yes! Let's drink to our freedom!"

Jasmine was already starting to get drunk after drinking this glass of wine. She stared at Charlie Wade before she sighed and said, "Do you know how many times I wished that I was born into an ordinary family instead? I feel that my life would not be so difficult if that was the case. I wouldn't have to face so many rules and constraints in my life and I think I'd be so much happier. Even though I hold such a high position and have endless wealth because of my family, I don't have the chance to feel any real happiness."

Charlie Wade smiled slightly and said, "Do you also know that there are also many ordinary people who are actually more envious of people who are as rich as you are? This is because they wouldn't need to worry about money or how they are going to make ends meet. Haven't you heard people saying that they'd rather cry in a BMW than laugh on a bicycle? You might think that you'd feel very happy and content to be born into an ordinary family but this kind of ordinary life is precisely what many people are trying to get rid of! At the end of the day, isn't making more money the reason why everyone is hustling and working hard?"

At this time, Jasmine looked at Charlie Wade with a serious expression on her face before she said, "Mr. Wade, you don't seem to care about making money at all! You weren't even interested in the twenty million dollars that they were offering you just now. In fact, you could've already made a lot of money if you would just sell the pills for ten million dollars each. However, you chose to give the pills away for free instead. Why does it seem like money means nothing to you at all?"

Charlie Wade smiled indifferently as he thought to himself. He did not care about money because he was not short of money at all.

However, Jasmine did not know about the times he needed money desperately in the past.

In the past, Charlie Wade had actually asked Lady Wilson to lend him some money during her birthday banquet so that he would be able to pay for some medical expenses.

Initially, Charlie Wade thought that Lady Wilson would definitely lend him the money since she believed in Buddhism and it was a Buddhism teaching that stated there would definitely be good karma for every good deed done in this lifetime.

Chapter 252

Who would have known that Lady Wilson was just a believer in Buddhism on the surface, but she was actually an extremely greedy and shameless person within!

At that time, he would have been willing to kneel down in front of anyone if that person offered to give him one million dollars.

No one can resist the attraction of money when they are in need.

Those who are able to really treat money as dirt are those people who have more than enough money to spend.

What was ten or twenty million dollars to Charlie Wade now? He had tens of billions of dollars in his bank account and Emgrand Group made tens of billions of dollars in profits every year. He did not know what else he could spend his money on anymore.

Therefore, what was the point of him accepting the twenty million dollars from them now? He would rather not take the money, but instead allow them to pay homage to him and to treat him as their benefactor just so they would show him more respect in the future.

That was what he really wanted.

But how could he tell Jasmine what he was thinking?

Right now, Jasmine feels that he was a saint who could actually treat money like dirt.

If that was the case, then he would simply allow her to continue thinking that way, then.

At this time, Jasmine continued drinking her red wine as she muttered to herself, "Actually, I can tolerate everything else but I really don't want to be manipulated and controlled by the Moore family when it comes to matter involving my own marriage. I don't want to be a pawn that is controlled and used to advance the Moore family business. I don't want to give my youth and happiness away. I don't want to follow in my mother's footsteps and repeat all her mistakes..."

Charlie Wade asked out of curiosity, "Was your mother's marriage also arranged?"

"Yes." Jasmine nodded before she said, "After marrying my father, my mother was never happy in her life. She was so depressed for so many years until she finally passed away at a very young age."

Charlie Wade vaguely remembered Albert telling him that Jasmine's mother had given her the diamond necklace before she passed away more than ten years ago.

Since Jasmine should be around twenty-five or twenty-six years old, Charlie Wade estimated that her mother had probably died when she was around ten years old. In that case, her mother must have been really young when she passed away.

Jasmine took another sip of red wine and she played with the wine glass in her hand before she said apologetically, "Mr. Wade, I'm sorry that you had to listen to me talk so much nonsense."

Charlie Wade hurriedly replied at this time, "Jasmine, please don't say that. I'm glad that you can confide in me because this shows that you trust me."

Jasmine nodded before she wiped the tears from the corner of her eyes. After that, she said, "Mr. Wade, I really want to thank you for everything that you have done for me today. You didn't only save my grandfather's life but you also listened to me complaining and spewing so much nonsense about my life. Thank you for being such a good friend!"

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "You don't have to be so polite with me if you regard me as your own friend! If friends are too polite, then it seems as though the friendship isn't real."

"Yes!" Jasmine replied as she nodded. "It is already getting late, Mr. Wade. I will send you home."

Charlie Wade waved his hand immediately. "You don't need to send me off. I don't think that you should be driving in this condition so you should also find a driver to take you home."

Jasmine nodded and said, "Don't worry about me! The female manager here can drive me home later. I need to send you home first!"

Chapter 253

Jasmine returned to the Moore family mansion after sending Charlie Wade home that night.

Lord Mooore did not listen to Charlie Wade's instructions to rest in bed. Instead, he was sitting in the living room at this time as he spoke to Jasmine's father and uncle who were reporting the entire family situation to Lord Mooore at this time.

As soon as he saw Jasmine arriving back at the Moore family mansion, Lord Mooore waved his hand before he said, "Jasmine! I've been waiting for you to come home!"

"Grandpa!" Jasmine replied in a respectful manner before she asked, "Why are you waiting for me?"

At this time, Lord Mooore replied, "You were the one who invited Mr. Wade here today, weren't you? Can you give me a detailed account of how you met him?"

"Okay, Grandpa!"

Jasmine hurriedly explained herself. "Mr. Wade and I met by chance at Vintage Deluxe. At that time, Mr. Wade was with his father-in-law..."

"Father-in-law?" Lord Mooore asked as he frowned immediately. "Mr. Wade is already married?"

"Yes." Jasmine nodded immediately.

"What a pity! That's a real pity!" Lord Mooore replied as he shook his head and sighed. "This is really such a pity!"

At this time, Reuben hurriedly replied, "Grandpa, don't worry! I've already heard some news about Mr. Wade and it seems as though he is the son-in-law of a really incompetent and small family."

"A small family?" Lord Mooore felt even more puzzled at this time. "Which small family has the ability to get such a good son-in-law?"

Reuben smiled before he replied, "The Wilson family. Grandpa, I bet you've never even heard of this name before."

"Yes, I've never heard of this family."

Lord Mooore frowned before he said, "Since the Wilson family is just a small family, then I guess that it wouldn't be that difficult. There is still hope for us."

After that, Lord Mooore looked at Jasmine before he said, "Jasmine, go on..."

Jasmine continued speaking, "At that time in Vintage Deluxe, Mr. Wade's father-in-law accidentally overturned one of our antique vases. After that, Mr. Wade repaired the antique vase with some incredible craftsmanship and he not only repaired the antique vase but also doubled the value of the antique piece. After that, I started paying more attention to Mr. Wade."

Immediately after, Jasmine started explaining the entire process of how she got to know Charlie Wade to her grandfather.

When Jasmine explained that Charlie Wade was the one who called for the thunder and lightning that struck the metaphysics master, Jack Yalaman, to death at the banquet hosted by the White family, everyone sitting in the living room was stunned!

"Jack Yalaman? Jack Yalaman..." Lord Mooore murmured. "I heard of this name a long time ago. I heard that he has a very mysterious and incomparable ability. Is he dead now?"

"Yes!" Jasmine replied with a face full of admiration for Charlie Wade. "Mr. Yalaman was very arrogant and disrespectful towards Mr. Wade and everyone else at the banquet at the White family mansion that day. In order to teach him a lesson, Mr. Wade called for thunder and lightning and within a few seconds, a bolt of lightning came out of thin air and struck Mr. Yalaman dead in an instant..."

"Oh my god! What kind of supernatural powers does he have?" Lord Mooore asked in shock.

The other members of the Moore family were also very frightened at this time.

He called for lightning to kill the famous metaphysics master? This...this was too unbelievable!

After that, Jasmine continued her story. "After that, another Feng Shui master from Hong Kong tried to deceive me out of my money. However, Mr. Wade saw right through him and he was the one who helped me to reverse my fortune by destroying the 'dragon encapsulation formation' that I was trapped in in my bedroom.

Jasmine continued talking about how amazing Charlie Wade was and after listening to Jasmine's story, Lord Mooore was also impressed with Charlie Wade. He also admired and looked up to Charlie Wade because he was the one who saved his life today.

After sitting in silence for a short while, Lord Mooore sighed before he said, "The Wilson family is really lucky to get such an amazing son-in-law! Mr. Wade is not an ordinary man. He's really a god!"

At this time, Reuben could not help but say, "Grandpa, don't you think that it's an exaggeration to call him a god?"

"You think I'm exaggerating?" Lord Mooore replied in a cold manner, "Do you really think that thunder and lightning will fall from the sky if you call for it? He could do it, so don't you think that he has some supernatural powers? People with supernatural powers like him deserve to be called a god!"

After that, Lord Mooore looked at Jasmine with a serious expression on his face before he said, "Jasmine! Grandpa has a task for you!"

Chapter 254

Jasmine hurriedly replied, "Grandpa, please tell me what you want me to do!"

Lord Mooore suddenly said, "I want you to make Mr. Wade the son-in-law of the Moore family!"

"What?" Everyone present in the living room, including Jasmine, could only stare at Lord Mooore in shock.

At this time, Jasmine felt a burst of excitement in her heart.

However, she was still very cautious and she said, "Grandpa, Mr. Wade...is already married."

"So what?" the old man replied in a firm manner. "I don't care if he's already married or if he has many wives or mistresses. Even if he has a lot of children, we'll have to win him over! I want to have a son-in-law like him. If he is the son-in-law of the Moore family, then the Moore family business will definitely increase exponentially and we'll also be able to rise up the ranks among the other powerful and prestigious families. The Moore family will finally have the opportunity to become one of the most powerful families in the country!"

Jasmine hesitated for a moment but she had a very strong expectation in her heart.

After that, she looked at Lord Mooore before she replied, "Okay, Grandpa. I understand."

Lord Mooore laughed before he said, "Good! Good! Good! If you get Mr. Wade to become the son-in-law of the Moore family, I will make you the next head of the Moore family, Jasmine!"

Everyone was shocked when they heard Lord Mooore's words.

How could he give the position of the head of the Moore family to a woman?

However, Lord Mooore had just made her a promise!

And he had never broken a single promise in his life!

For the first time in their lives, all the members of the Moore family had their own thoughts about this matter...

...

When Charlie Wade finally returned home, it was already ten o'clock at night.

As soon as he got into the house, he was surprised to see his whole family sitting in the living room with a solemn expression on their faces.

When Elaine Ma saw Charlie Wade, she started questioning him immediately. "Charlie Wade, where did you go? Do you know what time it is right now? How could you go out for so long? Do you still regard this as your house?"

Charlie Wade was about to reply to Elaine Ma's questions but at this time, Claire Wilson suddenly frowned and said, "Mom!"

Elaine Ma could not continue questioning Charlie Wade anymore.

After Charlie Wade placed some vegetables on the table, he asked in a casual manner, "What are you guys talking about? Why do all of you look so solemn?"

Jacob Wilson asked, "Did you hear about the big news in Aurouss Hill today?"

"What news?"

"Millenium Enterprise has already gone bankrupt because all the other companies have decided to terminate their partnership with the company. Moreover, all the creditors of the company also showed up at their front door today to demand for their money. The company went bankrupt overnight and they owe several billion dollars in foreign debt. The boss of the company, Peter Murray, was so desperate that he jumped off a building today and he's now in a vegetative state..."

Charlie Wade acted as though he was completely unaware of this matter and he asked in surprise, "Oh? Really? That's so unfortunate."

Jacob Wilson shook his head and sighed before he said, "Peter Murray used to be the most dominant figure in the real estate industry in Aurouss Hilll. He used to be so rich and powerful. I wonder who he offended and why he'd actually end up like this."

"People like him deserve to go bankrupt," Claire Wilson Wilson replied with a cold expression on her face without an ounce of sympathy for a pervert like him who tried to take advantage of her.

At this time, Elaine Ma sighed as she said, "So, do you know how risky it is to start your own business, Claire Wilson Wilson? If you start losing money, you might also be forced to take your own life!"

After that, Elaine Ma looked at Claire Wilson Wilson and said, "I think you shouldn't be starting your own business. The risk is too high! You should just return to work for Wilson Group. Your grandmother has already promised me that she'll make you the director of Wilson Group and you'll have a fixed annual salary then. Wouldn't that be much better than starting your own business?"

Chapter 255

Claire Wilson Wilson was very puzzled when she heard her mother persuading her to return to work for Wilson Group again. Therefore, she could only ask her mother, "Mom, what kind of ecstasy did Grandma feed you? Why are you always forcing me to go back to work for Wilson Group?"

Elaine Ma was very anxious at this time and she quickly replied, "If you work for Wilson Group, you'll be getting a fixed annual salary. Isn't that better than starting your own business? What if you lose all of your money because you chose to start your own business? What should your father and I do, then?"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied in a firm manner, "Mom, stop trying to force me! I'm never going to return to work for Wilson Group. Even if I have to beg for food on the streets, I would never return to work for Wilson Group in this lifetime! I might have to beg for food but I'll never lose my own pride or dignity!"

Elaine Ma glared at Claire Wilson Wilson before she said, "Are you doing all just to preserve your own pride or dignity?"

After Elaine Ma was done speaking, he started crying as she complained in an aggrieved tone, "Wilson Group is about to go bankrupt. If it really does shut down, then your father and I will not be receiving our pensions! You should know very well that we'll have to rely on this pension for our retirement fund when we grow older! Moreover, even if your grandmother doesn't think highly of your father, he still has a stake in Wilson Group! If you refuse to return to the company, we'll also lose our dividends then! What are we going to do in the future?"

Claire Wilson Wilson blurted out immediately, "Mom! The Wilson family deserves to go bankrupt because they don't know how to manage their own company! Even if they go bankrupt today, I think they deserve it because they've brought it upon themselves!"

Elaine Ma started to lose her temper at this time. "Claire Wilson Wilson! What are you talking about? We've already been part of the Wilson family for a long time and you've already worked for Wilson Group for many years. Don't you feel anything at all if Wilson Group goes bankrupt just like this? Claire Wilson Wilson, can you consider going back to work for Wilson Group for my sake?"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied immediately, "Mom, I've always done everything that you want me to do. You asked me to give you most of my salary and I obeyed. You asked to be put in charge of our family's finances and I gave in to you. Dad and I have never had any objections to you managing all our money. I've already given in to you all the time and I think you should show me a little respect. I really don't wish to go back and work for Wilson Group, and I want to start my own business and do something for myself. Can't you just support me for the first time in your life?"

Elaine Ma knew that she was wrong but after listening to Claire Wilson Wilson's words, she sat down on the sofa and kept crying as she said, "Why is my life so difficult? I've worked so hard to raise my daughter and I thought that I could depend on her to marry a good and capable husband. Who can ever understand why your grandfather insisted that you marry someone like Charlie Wade? Now, my daughter doesn't even care about me or bother to listen to my advice anymore. Tell me, what's the point of staying alive if my family doesn't even care about me anymore?"

Claire Wilson Wilson felt extremely angry and frustrated when she saw her mother complaining about how miserable her life was. Therefore, she started to lose her temper and she said, "Mom! Can you stop taking out your anger on Charlie Wade all the time? Charlie Wade is very promising now and he's taking good care of our family. Once the renovations are complete, you'll be able to move into the biggest villa at Thompson First because of Charlie Wade! Can't you just be grateful and stop complaining already?"

Elaine Ma continued crying as she said, "What do you want me to be grateful for? So what if we move into the villa? We have to live in fear because who knows when the White family will change their minds and decide to kick us out of the villa?"

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed before she said, "Mom, I can't tolerate this anymore if you are going to continue crying and complaining all the time. Please stop it or I'll move out of this house with Charlie Wade."

"You..." Elaine Ma started getting anxious at this time and she stood up and said, "Do you really want to live apart from us?"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she replied, "Yes. Charlie Wade and I have already been married for so many years. It's time for us to move out."

"No!" Elaine Ma blurted out immediately. "Absolutely not!"

Claire Wilson Wilson looked at her mother with a serious expression on her face before she said, "Mom, if you're going to continue to force me to go back and work for Wilson Group, I'll move out of this house with Charlie Wade immediately. If you stop talking about Wilson Group, then I won't move out. You can make the decision on your own."

Elaine Ma looked at Claire Wilson Wilson and she could tell that she was not kidding. At this time, she suddenly realized that she was already testing Claire Wilson Wilson's limits by taking things too far.

If she continued crying and creating trouble for her daughter, she knew that Claire Wilson Wilson would definitely move out of the house with Charlie Wade without any hesitation. At that time, she would have no choice but to fend for herself.

Chapter 256

If that was the case, she would not even have the opportunity to live in the villa that Zeke had given to Charlie Wade after the renovation was completed.

Elaine Ma gave in immediately when she thought about this.

At this time, she could only sigh before she said, "Okay, I'll choose to be supportive of you, then. I won't mention Wilson Group anymore, okay?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was finally satisfied and she nodded before she said, "Alright then, we won't move out, then."

Charlie Wade could not stop himself from showing a thumbs up gesture at Claire Wilson Wilson when he witnessed her showdown with her mother.

His wife was really incredible. Even though it was not apparent, Claire Wilson Wilson was always very effective at handling all the critical moments.

Jacob Wilson did not say anything so far but when he saw his daughter who rarely lost her temper finally getting angry and frustrated, he came forward and said, "Look! Why should you be fighting? Isn't it good for the family to be harmonious and happy?"

Elaine Ma glared at Jacob Wilson with a sharp expression on her face as she said, "You didn't even say a word before this and you suddenly have so much to say now? Even though Charlie Wade is useless, he even got us a villa and we now have a new place to live in. What about you? What have you done for the family? All you know how to do is to play with some antiques every now and then. You're the most useless person in this family!"

"Hey!" Jacob Wilson got frustrated when Elaine Ma started to push the blame to him. After that, Jacob Wilson quickly said, "Elaine Ma! Don't you dare despise or look down on me! Have you forgotten how amazing I was when I made a few hundred thousand dollars by selling some medicine?"

At this time, Elaine Ma looked at Jacob Wilson with a disdainful expression on her face as she said, "If you get arrested for fraud, don't expect me to save you or to take out any money to bail you out!"

"You are really a b*tch!" Jacob Wilson yelled out angrily. "Can you stop looking down on others? I'm talented at investing in antiques, okay?"

After that, Jacob Wilson rushed into his bedroom before he brought out a pen holder and said with an arrogant expression on his face, "Look! I'll show you what I found today! This item is worth at least a few hundred thousand dollars!"

Elaine Ma replied in a disdainful manner, "When are you ever going to wake up and face reality? Do you really think it's so easy to deceive others? Do you think that everyone is as foolish as you are?"

Jacob Wilson stomped his feet angrily at this time before he said, "Don't look down on others if you have no understanding of antiques at all! This pen holder is from the Qing Dynasty and I only spent five thousand dollars to buy it. I've already sent a picture of this pen holder to Zachary and he's willing to pay three hundred thousand dollars for it!"

Charlie Wade glanced at the pen holder in Jacob Wilson's hand and he was really surprised.

If the pen holder was really from the Qing Dynasty, then it might really be worth a few hundred thousand dollars. However, Charlie Wade could already tell with just one glance that the pen holder in Jacob Wilson's hand was obviously made with modern craftsmanship. It would probably be worth no more than a hundred dollars.

The seller was obviously treating Jacob Wilson as a fool when he sold him the pen holder for five thousand dollars.

Charlie Wade could understand how Jacob Wilson would be so easily fooled. However, at this time, Charlie Wade could not help wondering why Zachary, who was an antiques dealer, would actually pay Jacob Wilson three hundred thousand dollars for this pen holder. Zachary was the type of person who would invest in a cheap bargain and then try to rip his customers off instead. Since this pen holder was obviously fake, why would he be willing to spend three hundred thousand dollars on it instead of simply offering Jacob Wilson one hundred dollars for it?

When Jacob Wilson said this, everyone looked at him with an incredulous expression on their faces.

Elaine Ma asked Jacob Wilson in surprise, "Are you telling me that someone wants to spend three hundred thousand dollars for this tattered thing? I don't think that you'll even be able to sell it for fifty dollars!"

Jacob Wilson replied in a triumphant manner, "Why would I lie to you? If you don't believe me, why don't you take a look at my message history?"

As soon as he said this, Jacob Wilson took out his cell phone before he opened his text message and clicked on a voice note sent to him by someone called Zachary.

Zachary's voice sounded over the phone at this time. "Uncle Jacob Wilson, you've got a very good pen holder in your hands! I do think the pen holder is really from the Qing Dynasty! Why don't you sell the pen holder to me instead? I'll give you three hundred thousand dollars for it!"

Elaine Ma was very surprised and she quickly said, "Oh my god! You were telling us the truth! Jacob Wilson, you're incredible. You bought the pen holder for five thousand dollars but you actually sold it for three hundred thousand dollars! If you do this a few more times, we'll be rich!"

Jacob Wilson hummed before he asked, "So, are you convinced now? Are you finally convinced?"

"Yes, I'm absolutely convinced!" Elaine Ma replied immediately. After all, Elaine Ma had always been a fan of money. She would always support anyone who had money. As soon as she heard that Jacob Wilson had sold the pen holder for three hundred thousand dollars, she quickly forgot everything that she had said and she simply smiled and said, "My husband is really amazing. I can't believe that you actually have such incredible skills in antique trading! It seems as though Charlie Wade is still the most useless one in this family."

The expression on Charlie Wade's face changed immediately. What had this to do with him now? Had Jacob Wilson already forgot that he was the one who made the herbal pills that he successfully sold the last time round?

However, at this time, Charlie Wade felt that he really had to look for an opportunity to ask Zachary who he was selling the pen holder to. What Zachary was doing was equivalent to giving his father-in-law money for free!

Jacob Wilson handed the pen holder over to Charlie Wade with a look of excitement over his face as he said, "Charlie Wade, please bring this with you to Antique Street tomorrow and help me pass this to Zachary. He said that he'll prepare three hundred thousand dollars in cash for you and you can bring the money home for me then."

Charlie Wade nodded immediately. "Okay, Dad."

Jacob Wilson was very satisfied and he continued speaking, "Charlie Wade, you should accompany me to more antique trades and events in the future. Perhaps if you keep following me, you will be able to develop an eye for antiques just like me. After that, we'll be able to make a fortune together! What do you think about that?"

Charlie Wade could only verbally agree but all that he was really thinking in his mind was all the trouble that Jacob Wilson had caused him in the past. How could Jacob Wilson actually have the audacity to ask him to learn from him? Has he forgotten all about the antique vase that he broke in Vintage Deluxe? If Charlie Wade had not been there with him at that time and if Charlie Wade did not help him repair the antique vase, Jacob Wilson would have already been locked up in prison! How would he ever be able to afford to pay for the antique vase?

However, after thinking about it, Charlie Wade felt that his father-in-law was just like a young boy. He only wanted to do anything that he liked and that made him feel good about himself.

...

Early the next morning, Jacob Wilson called Charlie Wade eagerly and asked, "Charlie Wade, can you go and look for Zachary already? I want you to pass the pen holder over to him as soon as possible so you can collect my money for me!"

Charlie Wade nodded before he asked, "Dad, you are not coming with me?"

Jacob Wilson replied, "I'm going to attend an event hosted by the Calligraphy and Painting Association today. They've invited me to attend the meeting and a conference! After joining the conference, I'm certain that I'll be invited to many internal auctions for paintings and calligraphy!"

Charlie Wade could only reply helplessly, "Okay then, I'll go to Antique Street to look for Zachary, then."

Since Jacob Wilson had already instructed him to do so, Charlie Wade would head to Antique Street to look for Zachary.

Claire Wilson Wilson was also taking a break from work today and since she was feeling bored, she told Charlie Wade, "I'll go with you."

Charlie Wade nodded and said, "Alright then, let's drive your car there."

Claire Wilson Wilson replied, "I'm tired, I don't feel like driving today. You can drive instead."

Chapter 258

"Okay, I'll drive."

The couple drove to Antique Street together.

Since it was the weekend, there were many people at Antique Street.

Zachary had already opened his stall for a long time on Antique Street. Therefore, he has his own permanent booth on the street. Charlie Wade could find him as soon as he entered the Antique Street.

At this time, Zachary was holding a fake jade pendant in his hand as he was bragging to a foreign couple. "I am telling you that this jade pendant was worn by the emperor of the Ming Dynasty before he passed it to his grandson and the generation after that. After many twists and turns, the jade pendant finally fell in my hands..."

"Is it really that valuable?" the middle-aged man asked in surprise. "How much does this jade pendant cost?"

Zachary grinned before he replied, "Since we're fated to meet today, I'll sell this jade pendant to you for just one hundred and eighty thousand dollars. After leaving Antique Street, you can actually sell this jade pendant to an auction house for at least one million eight hundred thousand dollars!"

The woman smirked before she replied, "If you can sell this jade pendant for ten times the amount out of Antique Street, then why didn't you do that yourself? Do you really think we are fools? Come on, husband! Let's get out of here."

After that, the woman dragged her husband away from Zachary's stall.

Zachary started cursing angrily at this time. "Damn it! When did all these foreign tourists become so smart?"

When Charlie Wade saw what happened, he smiled before he approached Zachary. "So Zachary, are you still trying to cheat your customers?"

"Oh!" Zachary exclaimed when he saw Charlie Wade. He quickly bowed before he greeted Charlie Wade immediately. "Mr. Wade, why are you here today?"

After greeting Charlie Wade, Zachary noticed Claire Wilson who was standing next to him. "Oh! This must be your wife, Mr. Wade. She's such a beautiful woman!"

Charlie Wade simply replied, "Stop flattering me! The reason why I am here today is because I heard that you want to pay my father-in-law three hundred thousand dollars for a pen holder?"

"Yes, yes, yes!" Zachary nodded as he replied excitedly. "Your father-in-law is really amazing to have found such a rare piece of treasure. That pen holder is worth at least three to four hundred thousand dollars! He's really amazing!"

At this time, Charlie Wade pulled Zachary aside before he whispered, "Zachary, stop fooling me. Everyone on Antique Street can see that this broken pen holder is a fake. The only person who doesn't know that is none other than my father-in-law. Now, tell me why you are willing to pay three hundred thousand dollars for this fake pen holder? Come on, tell me the reason now."

Zachary quickly replied, "Mr. Wade, I wanted to honor you because you're a really incredible man. Not too long ago, your old man came to me with two magical pills and after reselling it, I managed to earn at least two million dollars. The more I thought about it, the more uneasy I felt. It would be inappropriate for me to keep all the money to myself when you were the one who made the pills, right?"

As soon as he spoke, Zachary continued smiling before he said, "That is why I thought of another way to share the profits with you. I know that money does not mean anything to you at all. Therefore, I thought that I'd be able to share the profits with you through your father-in-law instead."

Charlie Wade sneered before he said, "Yes, Zachary. You took the magical pills from my father-in-law and you paid him a few hundred thousand for it when you were making millions out of it. Do you really think you'd be able to atone for your sins by simply offering me three hundred thousand dollars for a pen holder?"

Zachary started trembling in shock as he replied, "Mr. Wade, please forgive me! If you aren't satisfied, I'll give you all that money. I don't want anything else, I only want your friendship."

Zachary knew very well that he cannot afford to provoke Charlie Wade. After all, Charlie Wade was a very powerful man who had connections with many powerful and wealthy people in Aurouss Hilll. Everyone regarded him as the greatest metaphysics master because he had actually destroyed a couple of metaphysics masters from Hong Kong. So, Zachary only wanted to please Charlie Wade.

At this time, Charlie Wade simply glanced at Zachary before he said, "Forget it. My father-in-law doesn't know the value of the pill and he felt that he had already taken advantage of you when you gave him five hundred thousand dollars for the pills. So, let's just leave it as it is."

After that, Charlie Wade looked at Zachary before he said, "However, I hope that you won't hesitate to help me if I require your help in the future. Do you understand what I am saying?"

Zachary quickly smiled before he replied, "Don't worry, Mr. Wade. From now on, I'll do whatever you want me to for you!"

Chapter 259

Charlie Wade nodded in satisfaction when he saw how obedient Zachary was.

In fact, Zachary was a very clever man and he would definitely be useful to Charlie Wade in the future since he is indeed very capable and full of ideas.

After that, Charlie Wade told him, "Zachary, I'll definitely treat you well if I'm satisfied with your behaviour."

Zachary hurriedly clasped his fists together before he said, "Don't worry, Mr. Wade. I'll definitely make sure you're satisfied!"

Charlie Wade could not help but smile at Zachary's flattery. "Do you know that I really feel like hitting you because of how shameless you look right now?"

Zachary laughed before he said, "Mr. Wade, I know how ugly my face is but you should also know that money is never ugly!"

After that, Zachary took out a black box from under the seat before he handed it over to Charlie Wade. "Mr. Wade, this is the three hundred thousand dollars in cash that I'm supposed to give your father-in-law. Please check if the amount is correct."

Charlie Wade waved his hand before he said, "It's okay, I'm leaving now."

Zachary suddenly asked, "Mr. Wade, aren't you going to walk around Antique Street?"

"No, I won't be walking around the street today," Charlie Wade replied immediately. "After all, nine hundred and ninety nine out of ten thousand items displayed on Antique Street are fake. What's the point of shopping here?"

Zachary nodded before he said, "Alright then, please have a safe journey. I'm about to close my stall too."

Charlie Wade then asked out of curiosity, "Where are you going? Why are you closing up so early?"

After that, Zachary replied, "I'm going to the small commodity market to buy some goods. It seems as though no one is really interested in fake jade anymore. Therefore, I'm going to the commodity market to buy some copper coins instead. I can get the fake copper coins in the commodity market for one dollar each and I can sell it for one to two thousand dollars on Antique Street."

Claire Wilson Wilson was shocked when she heard Zachary's words and she exclaimed immediately, "You're buying them for one dollar apiece and you're about to sell them for one to two thousand dollars each? Isn't that exploitation?"

Zachary scratched his head before he replied, "Well, that is how things work on Antique Street. If I sell the copper coin for one or two dollars, the other stall owners on Antique Street will kill me!"

At this time, Charlie Wade could only stare at Zachary as he said in a helpless manner, "Can't you do something that doesn't involve cheating or deceiving an innocent person?"

Zachary looked at Charlie Wade with a bitter expression on his face. "Mr. Wade, if I don't deceive people on Antique Street for a living, I'll definitely starve to death!"

At this time, Charlie Wade replied helplessly, "Alright then. Good luck to you."

Since the small commodity market was on the way back to their house, Charlie Wade said to Zachary, "Why don't you come with me? I'll give you a ride to the commodity market."

Zachary really did not expect someone like Charlie Wade to offer him a ride. Therefore, he was extremely excited and he quickly packed up as he thanked Charlie Wade. "Mr. Wade, thank you for being so generous and kind. Thank you, thank you."

Charlie Wade waved his hand before he said, "Okay, stop your nonsense and just get into the car already!"

...

As soon as they left Antique Street, the sky turned gloomy and after a short while, there was a thunderstorm as heavy rain fell from the sky.

It had been raining recently and the urban area would always be flooded because of the heavy downpour.

The rain was very heavy at this time and the traffic radio station also reminded all the car owners to avoid several main roads that had already been closed due to floods from serious water accumulation.

Therefore, Charlie Wade could only choose to use a detour from the outskirts of the city.

Zachary was very anxious and excited as he sat in the back seat of the car. He secretly took a picture of Charlie Wade's side profile while he was driving before posting the picture on his social media profile with the caption, "I would never have imagined that I'd ever be fortunate enough to ride in Mr. Wade's car."

A lot of people began leaving comments below his post! Most of them were asking Zachary not to forget them now that he was actually in touch with someone like Charlie Wade.

Zachary felt very proud of himself at this time.

Charlie Wade was not driving fast and when he passed a secluded street, he suddenly saw a car that was parked on the side of the road.

The car was an old black Mercedes-Benz and it was parked crookedly on the side of the road. A woman walked out of the car in a hurry at this time.

When Charlie Wade saw that both the front tyres of the Mercedes-Benz were already flat, he assumed that this was the reason the woman had stopped the car.

Charlie Wade did not want to be nosy and he planned to continue driving. However, at this time, Claire Wilson Wilson looked out the window and she saw the woman who had just walked out of the Mercedes-Benz. She was stunned for a moment before she exclaimed, "Charlie Wade! Stop the car! I think it's Loreen's car!"

Charlie Wade stopped the car immediately.

Chapter 260

Claire Wilson Wilson pushed the car open before she hurried out of the car with an umbrella in hand.

Charlie Wade rushed after Claire Wilson Wilson as soon as he saw her getting out of the car.

"What happened, Loreen?"

Claire Wilson Wilson asked as soon as she rushed over to Loreen.

"Claire Wilson Wilson? What are you doing here?" Loreen asked as soon as she saw Claire Wilson Wilson. She was trembling because she was drenched from the heavy rain.

She looked extremely surprised and embarrassed, as though she did not want her best friend to see her in such an awkward manner.

Claire Wilson Wilson held the umbrella over Loreen's head and she quickly replied, "I happened to pass by this road with Charlie Wade when I saw you by the side of the road. What happened to you?"

Loreen quickly replied with an annoyed expression on her face, "Let's not talk about it anymore! My company sent me out on an errand today and they gave me a car to do so. That's the reason why I drove out to meet the customer in this care today. However, even before I could meet up with the customer, I realized that I had punctured my car tyres! Moreover, it wasn't only one tyre that was punctured, but two! I'm so annoyed right now!"

Charlie Wade felt a little puzzled at this time.

It was normal to experience a flat tyre when driving.

However, under any normal circumstances, a flat tyre would only occur when sharp objects such as a nail or iron wires accidentally pierce the tyre. Therefore, generally only one of the tyres would be punctured.

It seemed a little suspicious that both sides of the tyres were punctured at the same time.

Therefore, at this time, Charlie Wade simply said to Loreen, "The rain is getting heavier and heavier. It isn't safe for you to stay out here alone. I think it's best for you to leave your car here and hitch a ride back to the city with us first. We'll call for help to fix your car once the rain stops."

Loreen nodded before she sighed and said, "I guess that's my best option now."

As Charlie Wade was leading them back to the car, Charlie Wade suddenly heard the sound of something breaking through the sky in a very swift manner.

At this time, Charlie Wade also saw a silver light bursting through the sky in the heavy rain!

Moreover, this silver light was coming straight at Loreen!

Charlie Wade did not even think about it and he instantly stretched out his hand before pulling Loreen into his arms.

At the same time, he suddenly heard a loud crashing sound and a sharp dagger was pierced directly into the front hood of the black Mercedes-Benz!

The dagger was as thin as a willow leaf and it was extremely sharp and shiny.

Even though the hood of the car was made of hard metal, this extremely thin and sharp knife cut through it like it was bean curd!

There was total silence as everyone's eyes were fixed on the flying dagger.

Fortunately, Charlie Wade managed to pull Loreen away on time. Otherwise, the flying dagger would have cut straight into Loreen's forehead. Since Charlie Wade pulled Loreen away, the dagger brushed her cheeks a little and the sharp blade cut off a little of her hair. It was really thrilling!

Loreen came from a very powerful and wealthy family and even though she had experienced many storms in her life, she could not stop herself from screaming when she realized what was happening.

Immediately afterwards, two more daggers flew towards them and Charlie Wade frowned as he held Loreen in his arms as he avoided the flying daggers in a swift manner.

The flying blades were really fast and Charlie Wade would not have been able to avoid the daggers if he did not practice the exercises in the Apocalyptic Book. He would not have been able to save Loreen or protect himself!

Loreen was also extremely shocked at this time!

Unexpectedly, someone in Aurouss Hillll was after her life!

Moreover, what was even more unexpected was the fact that Charlie Wade was the one who saved her twice!

At this time, Charlie Wade held Loreen tightly in his arms as he raised his head in the heavy rain.

He could see an off-road vehicle parked not too far away. At this time, a person inside the vehicle was staring at him with a blank expression on his face, as though he did not expect Charlie Wade to save Loreen from the flying daggers that were aimed directly at her.

"Who do you think you are? How dare you ruin my brother's plan?"

At this time, two men stepped out of the off-road vehicle.

The two men were full of murderous intent as they walked towards Charlie Wade.

Chapter 261

Among the two people who were walking towards them, the one standing in front was dressed in white.

He was wearing a white silk cloth and his clothes fluttered in the air. What was even more surprising was the fact that there was not even a drop of rain on him at this time.

The other man was dressed in black and he had a very strong and sturdy body.

Moreover, he could see that the two men had formed a barrier around their body, as if isolating the rainwater from themselves.

Charlie Wade glanced at the two men and he realized that they could both fight very well.

At this time, Zachary, who was sitting in the car, looked out the car window and his face turned pale immediately, as though he had just seen a ghost! At this time, he opened the car door before he tried to run away.

Charlie Wade had very quick eyes and he quickly grabbed hold of Zachary's collar before he said, "Why are you running away?"

"The Butcher Brothers...they're the Butcher Brothers!" Zachary yelled in panic as he struggled to set himself free from Charlie Wade's grasp. "Mr. Wade, please let me go. I don't want to die in their hands..."

The sturdy man in black snorted as he said, "So, it seems as though you're quite knowledgeable since you know who we are. However, none of you can leave before we get what we came here for today."

"The Butcher Brothers?"

Charlie Wade stared at the two men and he frowned as he thought about their identity.

He could vaguely remember seeing news about the Butcher Brothers, which was broadcasted on the television station when he was preparing dinner at home last year.

The news stated that they were a pair of vicious robbers who had kidnapped the son of the richest man in Lancaster before demanding a huge ransom of eighty million dollars.

However, the richest man in Lancaster refused to pay the ransom and instead, he chose to pay the armed forces one hundred million dollars to arrange for his son to be rescued from the kidnappers instead.

The armed forces in Lancaster were the top in the provinces and they had a very huge army at their disposal.

Moreover, the leader of the armed forces was also extremely famous for his combat skills.

At that time, everyone had expected the robbers to kneel down and beg for mercy after they were caught.

Unexpectedly, the armed forces could not find the richest man's son even after searching for him for seven continuous days.

In the end, the leader of the armed forces decided to dispatch the entire armed forces to search for the robbers. However, the robbers had managed to run away.

After the robbers escaped, they cut off one of the richest man's son's ear as a threat before demanding a ransom of three hundred million dollars instead.

From this incident, the strength of the Butcher Brothers were apparent and it seemed as though no ordinary person would be able to escape from their clutches once they had become their target!

This time, the Butcher Brothers had come for Loreen and it was obvious that they intended to kill her.

The expression on Loreen's face changed drastically at this time as she said, "I've always kept a very low profile in Aurouss Hilll and I have never fought with anyone here before. Why would you want to kill me?"

The sturdy man sneered before he replied, "We have no grievances with you and we don't know who you are. In fact, we're just doing what we're getting paid to do."

At this time, Loreen blurted out immediately, "Who is it? Who wants my life?"

The sturdy man smiled before he replied, "You're already a dead person, so why are you asking so many questions?"

Charlie Wade stood in front of Loreen and his wife, Claire Wilson Wilson in a defensive manner before he said, "What? Do you really think you'll be able to kill her in front of me? Did you ask for my permission first?"

The man dressed in white replied coldly, "Who do you think you are? We've both already killed so many people. Someone like you doesn't even deserve to be killed by me!"

After that, the man dressed in white continued speaking, "However, since you're getting in our way and causing so much trouble for us today, you'll also die in our hands today!"

Claire Wilson Wilson and Loreen's faces turned pale immediately.

They were frightened because these two brothers were obviously murderers who had lots of blood on their hands.

At this time, Charlie Wade turned around and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, get into the car with Loreen and wait for me inside. Don't worry, leave this to me!"

Chapter 262

Claire Wilson Wilson was really unwilling and she did not want to leave Charlie Wade behind. "No, I don't want to! I want to stay with you!"

At this time, Charlie Wade replied in a cold manner, "Go now! If you stay behind with me, you'll only distract me and it won't be good if all of us get hurt then!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she led Loreen to their car.

Loreen staggered as Claire Wilson Wilson pulled her away and at this time, a white stone slipped out of her pocket and fell to the ground.

Charlie Wade sneered as he stared at the Butcher Brothers. "You're both nothing but two ants to me and you're telling me that you're going to get rid of me? I guess you must both be really tired of living!"

The study man smirked before he said, "Why don't we see who's the ant here?"

After that, the sturdy man rushed over to Charlie Wade as he tried to punch him in the face. His fist was so strong and it felt as though he would smash Charlie Wade's face directly.

However, Charlie Wade saw the punch coming at him and he said lightly, "I guess you really don't want to live anymore."

After that, Charlie Wade lifted his leg before kicking the man hard in his groin.

Even though the sturdy man dressed in black had very fast movements, he was not as fast as Charlie Wade!

In an instant, he could no longer see where Charlie Wade was and immediately after that, he felt a sharp pain in his crotch!

"What!"

The sturdy man started screaming as he placed his hands over his crotch. He yelled out in pain as he lay on the ground.

Blood gradually leaked out from his pants.

The sturdy man felt that he was going to faint because of the pain and he screamed, "Elder brother...my crotch...my crotch..."

The man dressed in white really did not expect Charlie Wade to be able to dodge his brother's attack. What was even more incredible was the fact that Charlie Wade not only escaped the attack, but Charlie Wade even injured his younger brother badly with one blow!

The expression on his face changed immediately as he glared at Charlie Wade.

He could tell that Charlie Wade was also a very impressive fighter.

Moreover, he had very powerful inner strength.

Charlie Wade seemed like a warrior who had been practicing how to fight for more than a few decades!

However, he was just a young man in his twenties. The man dressed in white did not know how to fight Charlie Wade because he knew that even if he fought against him, they would probably end up in a tie.

At this time, Charlie Wade stepped on the face of the sturdy man with the soles of his shoes before pushing his head into the muddy water as he said with a playful smile on his face, "Weren't you very arrogant with me earlier? So, why does it feel as though you've just lost your manhood?"

The gravel on the ground scratched the man's face and blood started flowing out from his cheek. He endured the pain and humiliation as he screamed, "Elder brother, cut him up! Cut this kid up!"

He was still feeling the pain from Charlie Wade's unexpected kick earlier and if he was just an ordinary person and not a fighter, he would have already lost his life.

Now, he did not even care about his manhood anymore. All he wanted was Charlie Wade's life!

The expression on the face of the man dressed in white changed when he saw Charlie Wade stepping on his younger brother's face as he continued insulting him.

He did not care how powerful Charlie Wade was. All he could think about was how he was going to kill Charlie Wade to avenge his brother!

At this time, he roared in anger, "I'm going to skin you alive before eating your flesh!!"

Charlie Wade smiled playfully before he replied, "You're going to eat my flesh? With all due respect, with your lousy skills, you are not even qualified to eat my shit!"

"You..."

The man in white was going crazy!

The Butcher Brothers were infamous in Aurouss Hilll. How could he possibly endure this kind of humiliation and insult?

He gritted his teeth in anger as he shouted, "I'm going to kill you!"

Chapter 263

In the next second, everything was a blur. The figure of the man dressed in white was now a phantom as he flew towards Charlie Wade.

As soon as the man dressed in white punched the air, a wave of air set off around him as he forced the rain around him to disperse backwards involuntarily.

Whenever the rain drops touched his fist, the rain would immediately turn into steam.

"He was prepared to kill!"

Zachary was horrified and he wanted to crawl and hide under the car.

At this time, Loreen, who had just been pulled into the car by Claire Wilson Wilson, was also so frightened that she was holding her breath. She was extremely nervous and anxious at this time because she was afraid that her savior would die here today because of her.

Even though Claire Wilson Wilson was also feeling very nervous, she felt that Charlie Wade would definitely be able to defeat the two men.

Charlie Wade simply glared at the man dressed in white with a cold expression on his face.

He was not afraid of the deadly glare in the man's eyes at all. As soon as the man dressed in white got closer to him, Charlie Wade grabbed the man's fist before twisting it a hundred and eighty degrees!

There was the sound of the crackling of joints, which was then accompanied by the violent howls from the man dressed in white. His entire palm was completely dislocated and deformed and his bones and veins were all broken. His entire wrist was drooping at this time.

"Elder brother!"

The sturdy man on the ground yelled immediately.

Charlie Wade did not even look at him but he simply stepped on the man's face again.

Snap!

The sturdy man's chest hit the ground as he swallowed a few mouthfuls of muddy water. After that, he coughed out a mouthful of blood and his body shook uncontrollably for a short period of time before he suddenly stopped moving completely.

"Brother!" The man dressed in white felt as though he was going to collapse anytime soon. He felt that his eyes were about to pop out of his socket and he gathered all his strength to go in for the last blow.

At this time, the man dressed in white squeezed his right hand into the shape of an eagle's claw before he flew around in the air, leaving the afterimage of a dozen hand shadows in the air.

However, Charlie Wade did not move at all.

The man in white suddenly rushed at Charlie Wade, as he prepared himself to attack Charlie Wade in the eyes with his finger.

He had already concentrated all of his energy onto his finger so that he would be able to kill his enemy with just one blow!

He was prepared to poke Charlie Wade in the eyes socket and he was certain that this concentration of energy would pierce right through Charlie Wade's eyeball, and since it would be pierced so deeply into his eye socket, he would be able to pierce through Charlie Wade's brain!

Moreover, he was confident that this concentration of energy would shatter Charlie Wade's brain like a watermelon!

At this time, Charlie Wade simply glared at him with a cold expression on his face as he laughed.

"Unbelievable!"

Charlie Wade raised his hand and casually slapped the man across the face. No one knew that Charlie Wade had actually accumulated a lot of reiki in his palm and that this slap was in fact more ferocious than a car crash!

Boom!

The man dressed in white fell to the ground as soon as Charlie Wade slapped him!

There was dead silence all around them.

Claire Wilson Wilson could not help but rub her eyes vigorously in disbelief.

Zachary was also stunned.

Were these two men really the Butcher Brothers?

Their strength seemed a little inconsistent compared to the rumors that he had heard!

How could someone as powerful as the Butcher Brothers fall to the ground when Charlie Wade slapped him?

How was this possible?

The man dressed in white collapsed to the ground and he was shocked when he found out that he could not get up.

Chapter 264

Even though it looked like a simple slap, when the slap hit him, all the reiki that Charlie Wade had been accumulating rushed and penetrated into his head, rushing along his body along the meridian as it burst all the important veins in his body.

Since his important veins had already burst, he also lost all of his skills!

The man dressed in white was horrified as he yelled out in pain.

How could anyone have such strong spiritual energy and reiki? He really could not fathom who Charlie Wade was.

How was it possible for anyone in Aurouss Hilll to have such incredible skills?

Moreover, he felt as though Charlie Wade's skills were incomparable.

Where did this guy come from?

He had come here with his brother to kill, why did it seem like they were the ones getting killed instead?

At this time, Charlie Wade punched the man in his abdomen and with just one punch, the man in white felt as though he had become a completely useless person. He could not even move his hands and feet at this time and it felt as though he was one step away from death.

Charlie Wade pulled the man up as he stared at him with a condescending and cold expression on his face. After that, he asked in a cold manner, "Who sent you here to kill Loreen?"

The man dressed in white felt completely defeated at this time. For a warrior like him, he felt that living was worse than death. He could feel his spirit and energy completely destroyed and he said in a desperate manner, "Just kill me! Let me die with dignity!"

Charlie Wade replied in a cold manner, "Dignity? You don't deserve anything at all! If you refuse to tell me the identity of the mastermind who instigated you to kill Loreen, I'll break all the meridians in your body and make sure you cannot even blink your eyes for the rest of your life. After that, I'll hand you over to the police since you're a wanted criminal and I'll probably be able to trade you for a lot of money. I'll let you rot in prison until the day you die!"

The man dressed in white was horrified at this time. "Please, please let me off. I'll tell you who the perpetrator of the crime is if you just give me a way out."

Charlie Wade replied, "Okay, tell me who it is and I'll give you a way out of this misery."

The man dressed in white hesitated for a moment before he blurted out, "The person who paid us to do this...is Loreen's cousin...he told us to make sure that Loreen doesn't make it out of Aurouss Hilll alive!"

Charlie Wade nodded before he replied faintly, "If that's the case, then you can go to hell now..."

After that, Charlie Wade punched the man and killed him directly.

Loreen was shocked after hearing what the man had just said. Her cousin wanted her dead?

What exactly happened at home? Why did he want her dead in Aurouss Hilll? Why was he so cruel towards her?

At this time, Zachary slowly crawled out from under the car and he noticed the white stone that Loreen had dropped on the ground.

He picked it up and he was about to hand it back to her when he realized what he was holding in his hand.

"Miss, isn't this the peace and wealth pebble? Why do you have it?"

Loreen was shocked and she asked Zachary in surprise, "You know what it is?"

Zachary scratched his head before she smiled and said, "Of course! I sold this pebble to Mr. Wade. After that, he didn't know where he lost it. He even came to me to ask me if I had another similar pebble like this."

Unfortunately, this is the only peace and wealth pebble in the world. That's why I could not find a similar one for Mr. Wade..."

Loreen could not believe her ears and she felt as though someone was ripping her chest apart at this time as Zachary's words continued echoing in her ears.

Loreen murmured, "Are you sure that this is the only peace and wealth pebble in the world?"

"Yes, the one and only!" Zachary replied affirmatively. "There would never be two exact same leaves in this world, nor would there ever be two of the exact same pebbles in this world! I recognize the shape of this stone. This is definitely the peace and wealth pebble!"

After that, Zachary sighed as he said, "It's really a pity I've not been able to find a similar pebble for Mr. Wade ever since he lost this."

"Mr. Wade?"

"He kept it from me for such a long time..."

The savior that she had been longing for, the dream lover that she had secretly been in love with, turned out to be...him!

She was actually in love with her best friend's husband, Charlie Wade!

Loreen felt so desperate at this time and she felt as though she was going to burst into tears.

She wanted to scream and she wanted to ask what could possibly be more ironic than this in this world?

Chapter 265

At this time, Loreen felt as though she had just been struck by lightning!

She stared at Charlie Wade and she felt as though she had just been placed in a really unexpected situation.

Charlie Wade did not know that Loreen had recognized that he was her savior.

Charlie Wade simply sneered after getting rid of the Butcher Brothers.

The Butcher Brothers? Even though their names sounded extremely cool, they were nothing more than a pair of wild dogs!

Zachary had a terrified expression in his eyes.

The Butcher Brothers had already gone on a rampage and killed countless people for so many years. Moreover, they had never lost any battles in their lives.

Everyone in the southern region was afraid of them.

Who would have expected the Butcher Brothers to actually die in Charlie Wade's hands today? Zachary felt that this was really unbelievable.

Was Mr. Wade really that impressive?

At this time, Charlie Wade glanced at the two bodies that had already turned cold on the ground before he turned around and looked at Loreen, who was in a state of trance. He gently reminded her, "Loreen, since your cousin has already hired the Butcher Brothers to kill you, I believe he'll definitely try to do it again. You should pay more attention to your safety these few days and it would be best if you can hire a bodyguard to protect yourself."

Loreen looked at Charlie Wade with an extremely complicated expression on her face. After calming herself down and adjusting her breathing, Loreen bit her lips gently before she whispered, "How am I supposed to find a suitable bodyguard at such short notice..."

Loreen was struggling with the conflicts in her heart.

First, someone in her family, her own cousin was trying to kill her. Secondly, the mysterious man that she had fallen in love with turned out to be her best friend's husband.

Loreen felt very tortured by the truth and she felt very miserable and helpless.

Moreover, Claire Wilson Wilson did not know that her best friend was actually in love with her husband.

Therefore, Claire Wilson Wilson stepped forward and hugged Loreen before she patted her on her shoulder as she comforted her. "Loreen, don't worry too much. Since Charlie Wade can fight so well that he even defeated the Butcher Brothers, you could always ask him to protect you in the future. You can simply pay more attention to your own surroundings and whenever you don't feel at ease, you can always call him to protect you!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was just thinking that it was only natural for Charlie Wade to help her to protect her best friend since he could fight so well.

She did not know that her best friend was in love with her husband.

Loreen initially felt very disappointed. However, as soon as she heard Claire Wilson Wilson's words, she felt her heart beating erratically and she was immediately filled with joy.

She did not feel depressed that the man that she was secretly in love with was Charlie Wade, nor did she lose the feelings that she had for him.

On the contrary, she thought of Charlie Wade as a superhero because he had saved her life again today. If not for Charlie Wade, she would not have been able to escape calamity twice!

This was also the reason why her feelings for Charlie Wade increased tremendously. She felt a lot more affection for Charlie Wade now that she knew of his identity compared to when he was just a mysterious person to her.

Loreen knew that it was immoral and not right for her to be in love with her best friend's husband.

However, she also knew that Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson were only husband and wife because Claire Wilson Wilson's grandfather had insisted on their marriage. Both of them did not have any feelings for each other.

When Loreen was chatting with Claire Wilson Wilson a few days ago, Claire Wilson Wilson even told her that they were both still sleeping separately despite being married. Claire Wilson Wilson would sleep on the bed while Charlie Wade slept on the floor.

Chapter 266

So, did this mean that she would not be letting her best friend down even if she was in love with Charlie Wade?

Perhaps her best friend would even be relieved if she got together with Charlie Wade in the end!

As she thought about this, Loreen hurriedly said to Charlie Wade, "Then let me thank you for the trouble in advance, Charlie Wade!"

Charlie Wade smiled at Loreen before he replied, "No, it's no trouble at all."

His smile made Loreen's heart beat even quicker at this time.

Even though reason told her there was no hope for her since Charlie Wade was her best friend's husband, she could not help but to have all sorts of weird thoughts running through her head due to the emotional impulse she was feeling.

Charlie Wade did not know of what was going through Loreen's mind at this time. Therefore, he gave Loreen his phone number without any hesitation.

At this time, Zachary stepped forward before he said in a flattering tone, "Mr. Wade, you're really incredible! Even someone as frightening as the Butcher Brothers could not defeat you at all. You're really a god among men!"

After that, Zachary quickly knelt down in front of Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade looked at Zachary with a cold expression on his face as he said, "So, Zachary, did you try to run away earlier because you felt that I wouldn't be able to defeat the Butcher Brothers?"

"No! No!" Zachary replied and he turned pale immediately. After that, he hurriedly explained, "Mr. Wade, you've misunderstood me. Why would I possibly doubt your strength or abilities? I was just confused earlier so please don't take it to heart..."

After he was done speaking, Zachary trembled as he continued saying, "Mr. Wade, I think you're really a god! I really admit it now. From now on, I won't worship any gods from the sky or earth but I'll only worship you alone, Mr. Wade!"

Claire Wilson Wilson could only shake her head helplessly as she looked at Zachary. After that, she asked Charlie Wade, "So, what should we do now? You killed the Butcher Brothers. Should we call the police?"

Charlie Wade thought for a short while before he replied, "Why don't you get into the car first? I'll resolve this matter immediately."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she got into the car with Loreen and Zachary.

After watching the three of them get into the car, Charlie Wade took out his cell phone from his pocket before he called Isaac, the spokesperson for the Wade family and the person in charge of Shangri-La.

As soon as the call was connected, Isaac greeted Charlie Wade in a respected voice. "Mr. Wade, what can I do for you?"

Charlie Wade replied in a calm voice, "I had an encounter with the Butcher Brothers. They tried to come at me, and now they're dead and their bodies are lying by the side of a secluded road. I don't want any trouble at all. Could you send someone to deal with this on my behalf?"

As soon as Isaac heard Charlie Wade's words, he could not help but gasp in shock. "Mr. Wade, you got rid of the infamous Butcher Brothers? They're a pair of very famous robbers in the southern region! They're extremely ruthless and cruel but no one is able to defeat them."

At this time, Isaac was very excited as he said, "Mr. Wade, you're really amazing. If the Wade family finds out about your strength, it will definitely cause a huge commotion!"

Charlie Wade replied in a calm manner, "It's enough that you know about it. I don't want the Wade family to find out about this matter. Otherwise, I'll never forgive you!"

Isaac respected Charlie Wade's request and he replied in a respectful manner, "Okay, Mr. Wade. You can rest assured that my lips are sealed. I'll send someone to deal with it immediately."

Charlie Wade was satisfied and he hung up the phone before he walked towards the car.

After getting into the driver's seat, Charlie Wade started the car in a calm and composed manner as though nothing had happened.

At this time, Loreen, who was sitting in the back seat, could not stop staring at Charlie Wade's side profile.

The more she stared at Charlie Wade, the more she felt that she really adored and worshipped him. She was completely in love with him.

Chapter 267

When they drove into the city, the terrifying storm gradually subsided as if nothing had happened earlier.

Then, a spring breeze dispersed the stormy cloud and a rainbow hung in the sky like a painting. Everyone looked upwards, mesmerized in nature's beauty.

Charlie Wade stopped the car at the entrance of the antiquity commodity market and dropped Zachary off here.

As soon as Zachary got out of the car, he bowed at Charlie Wade respectfully and said, "Thank you, Master Wade!"

Charlie Wade looked at him and said flatly, "Zach, don't ever tell anyone about what happened today, do you understand?"

"Yes, of course! Don't worry, Master Wade," Zachary said in a gracious and serious tone. His face was full of admiration as he regarded Charlie Wade as a godlike figure.

Charlie Wade nodded and drove away. Zachary, on the other hand, stood on the same spot and watched him leave, not daring to move even when the car had disappeared from his sight.

Charlie Wade sent Loreen, who still remained in the car, directly to the hotel.

Loreen had always lived in Shangri-La ever since she arrived at Aurouss Hilll. The hotel's security team was among the top in the city and it was one of the Wade family's properties. Loreen's cousin would never dare to attack Loreen here even if he borrowed courage from a lion.

Loreen shot a complex and complicated glance at Charlie Wade throughout the journey even after she got out of the car, as if there was a huge boulder smacking her heart. She had a lot to say to Charlie Wade. She wanted to thank him, apologize to him, and say how much she regretted looking down on him and misinterpreting him.

But she couldn't say all these in front of Claire Wilson Wilson.

There were a few times when her words were hanging by her mouth and she swallowed them back.

When Loreen walked to the lobby entrance, Claire Wilson Wilson hugged her and said gently, "Loreen, remember to call Charlie Wade when you're in trouble, don't ever put yourself in danger."

Loreen nodded and replied, "Don't worry, Claire Wilson Wilson, I will."

Charlie Wade was a little jealous when he watched Claire Wilson Wilson hugging Loreen. He could count on one hand how many times his wife had hugged him but she and her bestie had been hugging each other ever so often. He was utterly jealous.

What he failed to notice was Loreen's envious gaze at Claire Wilson Wilson.

Since Loreen was Claire Wilson Wilson's best friend, Charlie Wade decided to give Loreen as much protection as he could gather. When the ladies were bidding farewell, he sent a text message to Isaac. "Send a message to Eastcliff's Thomas family on my behalf. If anyone dares to assault Loreen Thomas again, I'll wipe them off the face of this earth!"

As the Thomas family had way much less power than the Wade family, he believed they would not dare to make a move for the time being.

As soon as they returned home, Claire Wilson Wilson hurried to the bathroom to take a shower and change into fresh clothing because she was drenched by the rain.

Charlie Wade handed over all the money that Zachary had given him to Jacob Wilson.

Jacob Wilson took the three hundred grand and laughed triumphantly. "Haha! This is just the beginning! Next time, I'll use the same tactic and earn three million from him. Finally, it's my opportunity to provide a good and comfortable life for this family! Hahaha!"

Charlie Wade smiled awkwardly and thought to himself, 'Sigh, my dear father-in-law, please spare Zachary from your stupor. I have no idea how much that dude can earn from the deceptions and scams, but he's lost three hundred grand to you alone! I bet he'll still buy scrap and junk from you since you're my father-in-law and he can't afford to piss you off, but you're going to make him bankrupt sooner or later!'

Although Zachary was a dishonest trader, he was not a bad person and it wouldn't be nice to always take advantage of him.

So Charlie Wade cleared his throat and started, "Dad, I think you'd better not deal with Zachary so often. That dude is such a dishonest person and you'll get the short end of the stick one day if you keep mingling with him."

Jacob Wilson scowled disdainfully. "Hush! What do you know? You're always out fortune telling for those people and that's a scam! We're running a very serious and earnest antique business here! Don't be such a busybody if you don't know anything, just watch and see for yourself!"

Chapter 268

Looking at the condescending Jacob Wilson who was walking on the path of no return, Charlie Wade shook his head dejected and returned to his room.

Claire Wilson Wilson had already taken her shower and she put on lavender silk spaghetti pajamas.

Her pajamas exposed her shoulders. Her skin was so soft and smooth like the silk pajamas and the pajamas barely covered her back and hugged her figure snugly. Charlie Wade felt his throat going unusually dry tonight as he stared intensely at Claire Wilson Wilson.

She was lying sideways on the bed. The thin and silky pajamas lay on the graceful curves of her body like artificial skin. The skirt covered her thighs and her long fair legs stretched out lazily on the bed.

Claire Wilson Wilson blushed timidly as she noticed Charlie Wade's intense glare that she chided, "Stop looking at me like that, it's not like you haven't seen it before."

Charlie Wade plastered a sheepish grin on his face. "Dear, you're so beautiful that it's never enough."

Claire Wilson Wilson rolled her eyes at his ridiculous remark but there was a spark of delight in her eyes.

Charlie Wade really surprised her today. All the while, she thought that Charlie Wade had some menial skills in fortune telling as well as martial arts, but she never expected him to be so powerful and awesome.

He had even saved her best friend's life at a critical moment like that! It was extraordinary!

She couldn't help but ask, "Charlie Wade, tell me, how did you become so powerful all of sudden? You can even defeat the Butcher Brothers so easily."

Charlie Wade grinned smugly. "It's a secret, but I'll tell you if you let me kiss you."

Claire Wilson Wilson smacked her lips in slight annoyance and said with a blush, "Dream on!"

Charlie Wade was aroused by the sight of Claire Wilson Wilson's seemingly seductive posture. He quickly turned around and opened the closet to take the quilt, but was stunned by the sight.

The closet was empty and the quilt that he always used to lay on the floor had disappeared.

"Darling, where's my quilt?" Charlie Wade asked.

Claire Wilson Wilson gasped as if something struck her mind and said, "I threw it into the washing machine."

Charlie Wade was speechless since he did not have anything to lay on the floor for him to sleep on. He sighed, "I can't sleep on the floor without the quilt. I'll sleep on the sofa, then."

"Idiot," Claire Wilson Wilson teased. She went to her closet, took out her quilt, and gave it to him. "Use mine."

As Charlie Wade held the quilt, there was a faint fragrance wafting from the white quilt. Charlie Wade said excitedly, "Dear, you're so nice to me."

Claire Wilson Wilson shot an ambiguous glance at Charlie Wade and huffed, "Let's go to sleep."

Charlie Wade nodded. Hugging Claire Wilson Wilson's quilt, he smelled the faint fragrance on it and felt jittery and excited.

If they went on like this, he would be able to sleep with his wife soon, wouldn't he?

Then, Claire Wilson Wilson said, "Oh yes, I'm going to be quite busy with my studio for these two days. I've already set up the office, it's time to go and get some projects and work done. Stay at home and keep Dad company, don't let him go to Antique Street and buy useless stuff, okay?"

"Why don't I help you out at your studio? You don't have to pay me, I can perform tasks like wiping the table, vacuuming the floor, and making coffee!"

Claire Wilson Wilson smiled. "You don't have to. There's nothing to do at the studio anyway and if there is, it's going to be me drawing and coming up with the design drafts. There's really nothing you can help me with, so you'd better stay at home and do the household chores."

Chapter 269

Claire Wilson Wilson went to her new office early the next morning.

Meanwhile, Charlie Wade rode his electric scooter to the wet market.

As Claire Wilson Wilson was very busy with her office lately, he specially bought some nutritious ingredients in order to cook some nice dishes for her.

After he finished shopping, Charlie Wade walked out of the market and stumbled upon Loreen.

"Charlie Wade!" Loreen shouted his name, thrilled and overjoyed.

Charlie Wade was surprised. "Hey, Loreen, what a coincidence!"

Loreen looked at Charlie Wade and mumbled hesitantly, "Yes... erm, no... no, I... I..."

Charlie Wade tilted his head, confused. "Speak slowly. Have you encountered any problems recently?"

Loreen's face turned into a bright shade of red. Actually, she had waited for him outside Claire Wilson Wilson's house early in the morning and had been following Charlie Wade all the way.

Loreen cleared her throat, mustered some courage, and said, "I... I'm actually here to thank you for saving me yesterday."

Charlie Wade smiled. "It's my pleasure, I saved you because you are Claire Wilson Wilson's best friend, that's all."

He found her appearance out of the blue peculiar and he got the answer.

Loreen shook her head and continued firmly, "Charlie Wade, actually... actually I know that you didn't just save me yesterday. The other day at the Aurous Bistro, it was you too."

Charlie Wade's heart skipped a beat nervously. How did she know about the Aurous Bistro's incident? He was wearing a mask then, she shouldn't know!

He quickly denied. "Perhaps you've gotten the wrong person? I've never been to the Aurous Bistro or whatever the name of the place is, it must've been someone else."

Loreen glanced at him, complex feelings flooding her eyes and emotions. There was aggrievance, passion, and a slight resentment in them.

Why couldn't he just admit it? Was she so worthless in his eyes? Why didn't he want to admit that he saved her?

The complex emotions were replaced with tears as she started, "When Harold invited me to dinner at Aurous Bistro the other day, some rich guy came to bother me and Harold caused some trouble with him. Then, he got some gangsters to ambush us at the entrance of the restaurant. At the critical moment, Harold dumped me there and escaped, and there was this masked hero who appeared out of nowhere and knocked everyone down and saved me from them. Besides, you..."

Loreen's face was turning into a much brighter red. They had quite an intimate skinship moment where Charlie Wade took off her pants...

Of course, she was fully aware that Charlie Wade intended to save her life rather than to have some unspeakable and malicious thoughts.

Charlie Wade's face, on the other hand, almost turned green. Holy crap, why would she go there and why did she touch a sore spot? Could he admit to such doings?

Of course not!

All hell would break loose if Claire Wilson Wilson found out about what happened between him and her best friend!

"Loreen, there must be some misunderstanding. Yes, I can fight very well, but that doesn't mean that I saved you."

Then, he quickly added, "Even if it did, I only saved you once yesterday!"

Facing Charlie Wade's denial, Loreen sighed quietly and took out the peace and wealth pebble from her pocket.

"What about this pebble? How do you explain it?"

Charlie Wade glared at the pebble in disbelief. Wasn't it the pebble that he had lost for some time and couldn't find anywhere? Why was it with Loreen now?

Could it be that he dropped the pebble when he rescued her at the Aurous Bistro and she picked it up?

Chapter 270

It was no wonder he couldn't find the pebble after that day, he had dropped it! Coincidentally, or rather, unfortunately, Loreen had picked it up...

How could he explain it? Damn...

Charlie Wade bit his lips sheepishly and said in a casual tone, "What do you mean? It's just some ordinary pebble."

Loreen looked Charlie Wade in the eyes and said sternly, "Don't lie to me! Zachary has already told me that this pebble is yours—it's the rare, one and only peace and wealth pebble!"

Charlie Wade pursed his lips and looked away, silently cursing Zachary for spilling the beans!

Since Loreen had grasped the conclusive evidence, Charlie Wade could only confess with a reluctant nod, "Okay, fine, I'll admit that I was the one who rescued you at the Aurous Bistro, but I was simply around the neighborhood when I saw you! Please don't tell Claire Wilson Wilson!"

He fell silent after confessing. They stumbled upon an awkward silence for a while.

Charlie Wade felt quite embarrassed and awkward. He didn't know how to face Loreen since his great effort of concealing his identity had been exposed to Loreen.

Loreen, on the other hand, felt a surge of turbulent waves crashing inside her. Her mind was chaotic with complex and troublesome thoughts.

Loreen stared intensely at Charlie Wade. Her mouth gaped and shut several times and she was unable to blurt a word. Finally, she mustered up the courage, took a step forward, and stood about a fist away from him.

"Charlie Wade, I... I like you!"

Charlie Wade twitched his lips in shock. He took a step back and said, "Loreen, I'm your best friend's husband, you..."

Loreen gritted her teeth and uttered, "So what? I know you and Claire Wilson Wilson don't have any feelings for each other! You guys got married purely because of her grandfather. So, I'm not stealing my best friend's husband—technically, I'm stealing her fake husband."

Then, she grabbed his hand, placed it above her heart, and said in the most loving and passionate tone, "Charlie Wade, I'm equally as beautiful as Claire Wilson Wilson is, my body is also quite hot compared to hers, and better still, I'm the eldest daughter of the Thomas family. I love you more than she ever will and I'm willing to do anything for you."

Charlie Wade snatched his hand away and said, utterly shocked, "Loreen, it's absolutely impossible for us to be together, I can't betray Claire Wilson Wilson. Besides, I believe it's just a momentary impulse. Don't have your mind on me, it's not worth it."

Hearing the rejection, Loreen said in a stubborn voice, "No, I had a thought about it all night. Charlie Wade, I fell in love with you since you saved me the first time, and I'm hopelessly in love with you after the second time!"

Then, she screamed loudly, "I like you! I love you! Believe me, if you get together with me, I'll never let anyone look down on you! I'll be the companion who is always by your side and I'll support you forever!"

Charlie Wade managed a bitter smile upon her remark.

The only thing Loreen knew was that he was her savior, but she didn't know that he was the chairman of Emgrand Group and the young master of Eastcliff's Wade family. If he didn't want to be looked down upon, he could immediately reveal his identity. The whole world would bend their knees upon him and worship him.

However, he couldn't care less about a tacky life like that.

Besides, he couldn't say it out loud either. It would hurt Loreen too much and risk exposing himself unintentionally.

Loreen kept a stubborn and affectionate gaze on him. "It doesn't matter if you reject me now, but I won't back down. I'll prove to you with my actions that I love you more than Claire Wilson Wilson, and I'm a more suitable partner than she is! I'm willing to follow you forever even if I can only be your secret lover!"

Charlie Wade sighed helplessly. "Loreen, you aren't thinking straight right now. I think you'd better think about it carefully. I need to go now, I have some cooking to do at home. Bye."

Then, Charlie Wade quickly started his electric scooter and rode away like he was running away from a venomous snake.

He figured that she was traumatized by the shocking incidents that had happened to her recently that induced such an unbelievable hallucination inside her head. As soon as he kept himself away from her for two days or so, she would drop that thought like a hot cake.

However, Loreen's eyes were still serious and firm as she watched him leave. She said to herself, "Loreen Thomas, don't back down, you can do it!"

Chapter 271

After returning home, Charlie Wade threw the encounter with Loreen out the window.

However, after calming down, he suddenly remembered that he hadn't refined the medicine he had promised Anthony Simmons and the Moore family.

For them, the medicine was simply the most amazing medication the world could provide.

But in Charlie Wade's opinion, it was merely one of the most common medicines in the Apocalyptic Book. If he could refine and produce the more powerful and magnificent medicines recorded in the book, he wondered if it could bring back the dead or even make someone immortal?

Despite its possible miracle, those magnificent drugs required a lot of exotic and rare ingredients, some of which he hadn't even heard of. Most importantly, a lot of them were primers that needed reiki to refine into usable materials. He was just a beginner in producing medicine and there's still a long way to go. Hence, he needed to tread slowly and cautiously.

Nevertheless, Charlie Wade was willing to refine and produce medicine for them because he wanted to accumulate more experience in this department and enhanced his skills.

He didn't have the ingredients for the medicine in his hands, but it was the Moore family's responsibility to look for them since they wanted him to do the job. Thus, he took out his phone and called Jasmine.

Lately, Jasmine had been contemplating how to keep in touch with Charlie Wade and spend more time with him.

Her grandfather had stated that whoever was lucky enough to have Charlie Wade as their son-in-law would have family prosper and be successful. It was nothing but a huge waste for Charlie Wade to be with an insignificant family like the Wilsons.

The best way was to make a powerful and extraordinary pair. Only the most prominent family in society was eligible for a son-in-law as extraordinary as Charlie Wade.

How could a godlike figure be with a menial commoner?

Her grandfather's words lingered in her mind. The more she thought about it, the stronger her passion towards Charlie Wade grew with a tinge of longing.

She wanted to call Charlie Wade more often, meet each other more often, and also keep in touch more often, but she was afraid that Charlie Wade might notice her too-obvious actions.

Jasmine had always been a proud and elegant lady. She could be regarded as the noble princess that was everyone's focus in Aurouss Hilll. The daughters of other families were dull in comparison with her existence. She was beyond the reach of all the men in Aurouss Hillll.

Jasmine had never had any feelings for any man until now—Charlie Wade was the first.

Unfortunately, he was a married man, a live-in son-in-law.

Jasmine found it to be very ironic. She was uncertain and doubtful as to how to make a move on Charlie Wade and develop something passionate out of it.

This time, Charlie Wade's face occupied her mind. Just as she was daydreaming about Charlie Wade, he received a call from him! She shrieked excitedly like a child getting candy.

She answered the call and her voice was slightly shivering when she asked, "Hi, Master Wade, how can I help you?"

Charlie Wade chuckled softly and said, "Miss Moore, I plan to start refining the medicine tomorrow but I need some ingredients. I hope you can help me out with it and send them over to me."

Jasmine was absolutely thrilled when she heard that Charlie Wade was finally going to produce the medication.

The Moore family had been waiting for Charlie Wade's miracle medicine eagerly, but they hadn't heard any news from him and they dared not to urge him. After all, he had promised to give it to them for free, how could they rush him albeit his generosity?

Jasmine quickly said, "Don't worry, Master Wade. Send me the list and I'll immediately find them, the best quality of them all, and send them over to you!"

Chapter 272

"That's great, thanks!" Charlie Wade said with a smile. "Remember to prepare more of them, I have other uses for them."

Charlie Wade had all the money in the world for those ingredients but he needed a reliable channel to get them from. Good medical ingredients are like fine pieces of antique relics that are not easy to come across. For things that were precious, money was not the main issue, but a legitimate way to get them was instead.

His foundation in Aurouss Hilll was very shallow compared to the Moore family's influence and power in the city. They would have their trustworthy resources in every aspect here.

As soon as Jasmine ended the call, she received a list of medicinal ingredients from Charlie Wade. Immediately afterward, she called Graham Quinton.

Although the Quinton family was not as prominent as the Moore family, their main trade and business revolved around antiquities, cultural relics, and Chinese herbal medicine.

Even Charlie Wade didn't know that Graham was literally the largest supplier of medicinal ingredients in the entire southern region. This was mainly because Graham never did over-the-counter business but rather directly dealt with the major pharmaceutical factories as well as chain pharmacies. He only dealt with wholesale business, not retail.

Jasmine recounted Charlie Wade's list on the phone and said, "Mr. Quinton, may I know if you can get these ingredients for me? I want the best quality in a large quantity!"

A thought struck his mind as he listened to the items she asked for and then asked, "Miss Moore, may I know if these ingredients are for Master Wade?"

"Yes," Jasmine admitted honestly due to their friendly acquaintance. "Mr. Quinton, you should have heard about how Master Wade saved my grandfather's life a few days ago. He was generous enough to give our family some magical medicine, so I'm preparing the ingredients for him."

"No problem, Miss Moore! I'll get it ready in no time and send them directly to Master Wade."

"Mr. Quinton, I don't think it will be appropriate for you to send the items to him."

"Miss Moore, since we're friends, I'll be honest with you. I'd also like to ask Master Wade for a magical elixir for emergency purposes, and I wish to do so when I send him the ingredients."

Jasmine pondered upon his remarks. Even if she didn't let Graham send the items personally, he would visit Charlie Wade for the medicine too, so she might as well do him a favor with the delivery.

So, she chuckled and said, "Oh, I see. Of course, I don't have any opinion on it, but, Mr. Quinton, please take a second look before you deliver the ingredients to Master Wade. I don't want any errors!"

"Haha, definitely, Miss Moore! I'll provide only the best to Master Wade!"

"Okay then. Please get ready for the materials and deliver them to Master Wade. Thank you very much!"

Graham almost squealed like a little girl when he ended the call.

His daughter, Aurora, the hot and stunning lady, asked out of curiosity when she saw his father giggling excitedly, "Dad, what are you doing there? You're so weird."

Graham laughed out loud. "Good news!"

"What is it?"

"It's Master Wade!" Graham was so excited his tongue got twisted.

Aurora's heart skipped a beat. Master Wade?! The amazing Master Wade?

She asked, her face blushed slightly, "Dad, Master Wade, he... what about him?"

Graham blurted out, "Master Wade is going to produce magical elixir! Miss Moore asked me to prepare medicinal ingredients for him. I'm going to ask him for one too!"

Chapter 273

Ever since she had been taught a lesson by Charlie Wade, Aurora had thoroughly realized that humbleness and modesty were crucial as there was always someone better than she was.

When she learned about Charlie Wade's supernatural abilities, admiration and shame started to root inside her heart towards him.

She was ashamed because she intended to duel with him, not knowing what she was up against.

Nevertheless, girls with feisty and lively characteristics like herself were easily attracted to a much stronger man because this kind of man was the only one who could subdue their feistiness.

Therefore, from then on, Aurora regarded Charlie Wade as her biggest and the most admirable idol. When she heard that Charlie Wade wanted to produce a magical elixir, she exclaimed, "Wow, I didn't know that Master Wade can even make medicine. That's incredible!"

Graham sighed. "Frankly, I don't know how powerful Master Wade is! We've only seen scraps of it! I heard that, a few days ago, even the genius doctor Anthony Simmons paid homage to Master Wade's medical skill! His old injury had made tremendous progress thanks to Master Wade's medicine!"

"Oh my goodness!"

Aurora's eyes widened in shock and her jaws almost dropped to the floor!

She had a knack or two about traditional Chinese medicine since her family was involved in the medicinal ingredients business.

Anthony Simmons was one of the top Chinese medicine masters in the country. He could be considered as the top expert in terms of seniority, which made booking an appointment with him extremely difficult even for prominent leaders and tycoons. She had never expected that the young Master Wade was not only skillful, but his skills were recognized by an experienced master like Anthony!

Aurora felt that her heart was filled with fascination and adoration all over again towards Charlie Wade.

A man with his abilities was the ideal partner that women would dream to be with, especially a stubborn and influential woman like herself! She would only surrender to such a powerful man willingly. Thus, her heart was beating wildly as she thought about him.

Graham was a little stunned when he saw her daughter's face turning into a shade of red, then he realized that his daughter seemed to have a little bit of crush for Charlie Wade...

Something was playing in his mind. He cleared his throat and said, "Aurora, I'll go back to the office to get the ingredients. When they are ready, you'll send them to Master Wade tomorrow morning."

"Me?" Aurora asked in surprise, "Why me? Didn't you say that you want to go?"

Graham chuckled. "You are about the same age as Master Wade, it's easier for young people to mingle well than me."

He paused for a short while before continuing, "Well, frankly speaking, although Master Wade is very powerful and skillful, he is a very low-key person and has been the live-in son-in-law of the Wilson family for several years."

Aurora nodded. "Yes, I heard about it too, but I don't get it. Why would he be the lowly live-in son-in-law despite all his powers and abilities? They can just get married normally if they love each other so much, why would he lower himself to marry into the family?"

Graham sighed and said, "This is where Master Wade is unpredictable and mysterious! There's nothing to reproach if they are genuinely in love, but I've heard people say that he and Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson have not consummated their marriage. Claire Wilson Wilson's mother told people that he can't even sleep on the same bed as Claire Wilson Wilson at home—he has to sleep on the floor!"

"What?!" Aurora was shocked. "They let Master Wade sleep on the floor...they are too much..."

"That's because they don't know how awesome Master Wade is! In my opinion, I think it might be one of the ways for Master Wade to cultivate his power. Many people in the world practice asceticism for various reasons."

"Oh, I see." Aurora nodded. "Master Wade is really amazing!"

Chapter 274

Graham put on a sullen face and said earnestly, "Darling, before long, Master Wade will be so successful that he'll spread his wings and soar into the sky like a proud eagle! Until then, all the families in Aurouss Hilll, no, even families across the country will curry favor with him. They'll send their most beautiful and charming daughters into his embrace! Baby, you have to seize the opportunity when you deliver the materials to him!"

"Huh..."

Aurora blushed a timid red. "Dad, what are you talking about... I don't understand... what opportunity..."

"Yes, go on with your act," Graham squinted at her and teased. "I can see that you admire him very much, don't you?"

Aurora lowered her head shyly, her face now as red as a cherry tomato. She nodded slightly.

Graham continued, "I have a hunch that a real master like Master Wade will not stay in the small den of the Wilson family for too long. One day, he'll leave them. So, you must act fast! Establish a good relationship with him as soon as possible. You can even start building the foundation of your feelings!"

Then, Graham looked towards the sky and sighed. "If our family is able to get an amazing son-in-law like Master Wade, our family's fortunes will prosper and flourish in the next century! At that point, we'll realize our ancestors' aspirations and make the Quinton family the top in the country! Our ancestors will be so proud and pleased with the family's achievement!"

Aurora shuddered when she heard her father's determination and wiped off the shyness on her face.

Her father was right. This was not as simple as love and passion.

This was the key for the family to break through the cursed chain of fate and change their fortune!

It was such a precious and rare opportunity for their family to change their fortune!

Many families had flourished and disappeared within a span of a century, but there were also many families that had survived a century without being able to progress further.

The Quinton family was the latter!

If they could grab the chance and ride Charlie Wade's bandwagon into success, they would prosper like a super family!

This was really an excellent opportunity that might not come in a century!

Extraordinarily, the chance seemed to descend into his hands. If he could marry his daughter to Charlie Wade and make him his son-in-law, the Quinton family could change their family fortune and blossom!

Gosh!

The strong sense of mission in running towards Charlie Wade right away had already set her heart. Therefore, she hurriedly said, "Dad, go ahead and prepare the ingredients! I'll deliver them to Master Wade tomorrow!"

Graham nodded knowingly and said, "Put on a nice, pretty dress and a little makeup. Although my daughter is not Aphrodite, you're definitely a gorgeous woman. You'll be even more dashing if you dress up!"

Aurora blushed shyly again, but she nodded and said in a serious tone, "Dad, don't worry, I won't let you down!"

"Tomorrow, when you see Master Wade, tell him that the Quinton family respects him very much and will always be at his service whenever he needs our assistance. Besides, tell him that we've been in the medicinal ingredient business for nearly a century. Whenever he needs anything, he can just tell us and we'll fulfill his orders!"

"Moreover, please ask him if he can give us a magical elixir. We will be very grateful for it! I believe that he will not refuse your request when you say that!"

Chapter 275

Early the next morning, Charlie Wade was about to go out to the market when he received a call. It was Aurora, the Quinton family's hot pepper.

Aurora's coquettish voice resonated through the phone. "Master Wade, are you at home now?"

"Yes I am. Why? How may I help you?"

"My dad has asked me to deliver some medicinal ingredients to you and he's said that it's Miss Moore's order. May I know if it is a good time to visit you now? I'll come over if it's a convenient time for you."

Claire Wilson Wilson was out early, busy with her new office, while Jacob Wilson had gone out with Elaine Ma to the Thompson First mansion to check the progress of the renovation. Charlie Wade was alone at home right now, so he replied, "Okay, come over then."

"Okay! I'll be there soon!"

A few minutes later, Charlie Wade heard a knock on the door.

He opened the door and saw Aurora. She was wearing a beige dress, her long wavy hair cascading over her shoulder and her cheeks painted with a pinkish timid blush. She looked extremely beautiful and ladylike today with a piece of big luggage in her hand.

"Mas... Master Wade, hi... I... I'm Aurora Quinton, do you remember me..."

Aurora stuttered, very nervous and agitated.

She tossed and turned all night the night before as her father's remark about Master Wade's importance to the future of their family had been continuously lingering on her mind.

Charlie Wade was the only image that kept appearing in her mind.

She was a blossoming youth, after all. They would love to have a handsome, rich, and capable man as a husband!

She looked around and realized that there was no one in the world who was on par with Charlie Wade! He was the absolute candidate of a perfect husband!

Even if her father didn't urge her to get in touch with Charlie Wade, she was already attracted to him.

Charlie Wade had no idea why Aurora was so nervous. He remembered the last time he saw her, she was still the feisty and savage young lady who wanted to challenge him. Why did she turn over a new leaf today? It was as if the feisty hot chili pepper had suddenly turned into a refreshing and juicy cucumber!

He asked curiously, "What's going on with you today? Why are you so different from your usual self?"

Aurora mumbled timidly, "Master Wade, I'm sorry for being so ignorant and pompous last time, I hope you can forgive me..."

Charlie Wade smiled. "Wow, impressive." He then turned around and said, "Don't just stand by the door, come on."

Aurora nodded anxiously and carefully dragged the luggage into the house.

Charlie Wade was quite surprised to see her carrying the luggage with great effort. She was a strong woman who was very fit and athletic, and some brawny guys were not even at her level. From the exhausted looks on her face, it seemed that the luggage was very heavy.

He asked curiously, "What's in the luggage? Why is it so heavy?"

"These are the medicinal ingredients my father prepared for you. They're top-quality ingredients that you can never find in other parts of the world!"

Then, she placed the luggage on the living room's floor and opened it.

Chapter 276

It was all the best medicinal ingredients laid out in the huge luggage! Some of them were so rare that Charlie Wade couldn't even buy them!

Bewildered, Charlie Wade looked at Aurora and asked, "Where did your father get so many wonderful ingredients?"

"Well, frankly speaking, our family owns a diversified range of business, one of them being medicinal materials. Our ancestors were medicinal material merchants since the late 19th century, and we had our own delivery team that gathered the best medicinal materials from all over the country and sold them to the rich and famous in the city. We've been in this business ever since."

Then, she started hurriedly, "Oh yes, my father says that if you need anything in terms of medicinal materials or ingredients in the future, you can tell us directly and we'll do our best to meet your needs!"

Again, Charlie Wade was astonished.

Ever since he accidentally obtained the Apocalyptic Book, he was mesmerized by its incredible and mysterious contents. There were a lot of methods and prescriptions for the medicine refinery but there were many medicinal materials that he had never even heard of.

He was in the middle of a dilemma about it but never did he expect the Quinton family to be a family of medicinal material merchants with a century-old heritage!

It was indeed sheer luck and fortune!

He grinned gleefully and said, "Good! Very good! With your family's assistance, my medicine refining will be made much easier!"

When Charlie Wade mentioned the medicine refining, Aurora pursed her lips and hesitated for a while before she mustered up the courage and knelt on the floor with a thud.

Charlie Wade was startled by her sudden action and asked in surprise, "Hey, what are you doing?"

Aurora put her hands together and pleaded, "Master Wade! My father heard that you'll be producing a magical elixir and he yearns for it. He reminded me again and again to ask you if you could.. could.. could.."

Aurora mumbled for a long time but was unable to finish her sentence.

Growing under a loving and affluent upbringing, she had always been admired and adored by others since she was a child. She had never begged anyone for anything, not even once! Therefore, this timid young lady was embarrassed to speak up her real needs.

Charlie Wade's curiosity was ticked as he looked at the proud girl who had suddenly become so timid and shy, but he knew exactly what she wanted even if she didn't say it out loud.

He smiled and said flatly, "Does your father want the medicine too?"

Aurora nodded like a bobbing head doll and said frantically, "But we understand if you don't want to, no worries!"

Charlie Wade chuckled.

The medicine that he was about to refine for Anthony and the Moore family was nothing more than the lowest-grade medicines in the Apocalyptic Book. It was not as magical as they thought it was.

It was very easy and effortless to refine the medicine as long as he had the raw materials. In fact, it would be easier than baking! All the Quinton family was asking for was medicine, he couldn't refuse them.

Most importantly, he would rely on them to prepare medicinal materials for him. If he could take them in and make them his disciples, getting medicinal materials would be as simple as ABC.

Hence, he chuckled at Aurora, who was blushing timidly with red eyes, helped her up, and said, "I can give your father the medicine."

"Really?" Aurora shrieked in overjoy.

"Of course. Even if it's not for your father, I can't say no to such a cute face."

Charlie Wade meant it as a joke to ease the mood, but Aurora was blushing even redder after hearing it! Her heart almost jumped out of her body!

In order to get on her good side, Charlie Wade smiled and said calmly, "Very well then. Since my fate with your family is intertwined, I'll give your family two pieces after I produce it!"

Chapter 277

Be it Graham or Aurora, one magical elixir from Charlie Wade was what they could ask for. It was their biggest jackpot! With the magical elixir, they could revive their family members who were halfway through heaven's gate and it would mean a lot for a wealthy and powerful family like theirs.

However, they had never expected Charlie Wade to be so generous as to give them two!

Aurora starred in a daze as if Charlie Wade's word was a form of lightning that had struck her point-blank. She looked intensely at Charlie Wade, her eyes covered with foggy mist, and tears as large as beans rolled down her puffy pinkish cheeks. She sobbed as she said, "Master Wade... you... are you serious?"

Charlie Wade laughed. "Why? Do you think I'm just bluffing you?"

"Oh, no! No!" Aurora shook her head hurriedly, her tears flying, making the entire scene rather adorable and hilarious.

She wiped her tears and said in a sobbing but grateful voice, "I just can't believe it... Thank you! Thank you so much!"

Then, she bowed respectfully. She believed that if her father was here, he would do the same.

Charlie Wade chuckled at her reaction and said, "Miss Quinton, go back and tell your father that I, Charlie Wade Wade, am the man of my words. After the magical medicine is refined, I'll give him two of them, but he has to promise to assist me by all means whenever I need something from the Quinton family and he'd better not ever try to fool me, do you understand?"

Aurora nodded and squealed excitedly, "Okay, I understand, Master Wade! Thank you!"

Then, she said timidly, her face as red as an apple, "Master Wade... you can call me Aurora..."

Charlie Wade nodded. "Okay, Aurora, come on and get up now."

Aurora blurted out, "Okay, okay!" Then, she slowly and gingerly raised to her feet.

"We're about the same age, you don't have to be so polite and formal around me."

"My father had taught me to be polite and respectful towards elders and masters. Master Wade, you have such extraordinary and remarkable powers and the formality is a sign of respect towards you."

"Haha! In our previous few meetings, you looked so feisty and hot-tempered like a spoiled little rich girl. I've never imagined that you'd have such a cultivated and knowledgeable side. I'm amazed."

Aurora squealed like a deer inside though she was also a little embarrassed.

No, she was neither cultivated nor knowledgeable.

Before today, she was still the unruly and feisty little hot pepper. She didn't see eye to eye with anyone and verbal disputes were part of her usual self.

However, when it came to Charlie Wade, she was utterly humble and reverent in addition to her father's ardent expectation of her. Hence, subconsciously, she wanted to be a well-behaved and adorable kitten in front of him.

Looking at his watch, he said, "Aurora, thank you for the materials, but I have to go to the market now. Let's go."

Aurora realized that she was taking up Charlie Wade's time, so she nodded profusely and said, "I'm sorry for getting in your way, Master Wade..."

Charlie Wade shook his head with a chuckle. "Don't overthink it. Go home and tell your father that I'll contact him once the medicine is ready."

"Okay, Master Wade!"

Charlie Wade held her arms and helped her to her feet. He kept the materials in the kitchen before heading out.

At the gate of the community, Aurora kept on bowing and thanking him before she got into her car and reluctantly left the place.

As for Charlie Wade, he returned to his usual deadbeat loser look, dragging a small cart for grocery shopping—a free gift from a washing powder brand—and walked to the small wet market near his home.

Chapter 278

With her heart still racing and beating violently, Aurora returned home feeling extremely thrilled and overjoyed.

Meanwhile, in the Quinton family villa, Graham was waiting for her anxiously.

He wondered if Charlie Wade would agree to his request of the magical elixir.

After all, the Quinton family was slightly higher ranked than Zeke White's family in terms of social standing but they paled in comparison with Jasmine Moore's family. He was afraid that Charlie Wade would look down upon his family although he vowed to be his loyal follower.

Even if the Moore family wanted to butter Charlie Wade up, would there be a chance for him to showcase himself with the Moore family in the way?

As he was pacing back and forth, worried, Aurora came back. He quickly ran out as soon as she parked her car in the villa's courtyard.

"Aurora, how did it go? Did Master Wade agree to our request?!"

Tears drenching her eyes again when she nodded repeatedly.

"Yes, Dad! He agreed to our request!"

"That's wonderful!" Graham howled and laughed loudly.

"Dad, Master Wade said that he'll give us two!"

"What?!" The laugh froze on Graham's face and was replaced with surprise.

"Two?! He wants to give us two?! Master Wade wants to give us two magical elixirs?! Are you sure?!"

Graham felt as if he had run out of breath all of a sudden.

Aurora nodded again and said in an earnest tone, "Yes, he wants to give us two magical elixirs, I heard him correctly!"

"Oh my god!" Tears flooded Graham's eyes as well. "Does it mean that he wants to help our family too?"

"Yes! Master Wade said that he wants our full cooperation whenever he has any demands for medicinal materials in the future."

"Wonderful, Aurora, that's great news! Master Wade wants to help our family! With his help, our family will prosper and flourish to the next level!"

Then, he asked curiously, "By the way, when he saw you, did he have any special requests?"

Abruptly, Aurora's whole face and neck were painted in a shade of bright red. She stuttered shyly, "Master Wade, he... he said... He said..."

"Argh! What did he say?"

Lowering her head timidly, she mumbled, "Master Wade said that he can't say no to such a cute face..."

"Hahaha!" Graham laughed out loud and exclaimed, "Marvelous, darling, marvelous! It seems that Master Wade will become my son-in-law one day!"

Aurora muttered shyly, "Dad, what are you talking about..."

"Anything is possible, Aurora! Keep up the good work!" He was still very excited at this point. "With his powerful and magical abilities, his behavior and characteristics must be very different from that of ordinary people. He certainly doesn't care about people's views and moral restraints—otherwise, why would he stoop so low and be the mediocre Wilson family's son-in-law? So, darling, you must take persistent action. Try to make your move on Master Wade, or better still, have his child! Then, our family will thrive on a whole new level!"

Aurora was so embarrassed that she wanted to hide like an ostrich. She covered her face and uttered, "Dad... what are you talking about? You're embarrassing me!"

She stomped her foot and ran back to her room...

Chapter 279

The news about Charlie Wade's refining magical elixir spread like wildfire among several upper class families in Aurouss Hilll.

Zeke White of the White family, Finn Baxendale of Treasure Pavilion, and Don Albertt Rhodes of Heaven Springs heard the news. They were eager to ask Charlie Wade for the medicine, but Zeke was the only one who really voiced out his request.

Zeke was confident to do so since he had expressed his sincerity to Charlie Wade and had even given him a Thompson First villa worth a hundred million dollars.

He went to Charlie Wade's house in the afternoon since he was at home and asked for the magical elixir as Aurora did.

Of course, Charlie Wade didn't turn down his request since he was quite comfortable to give him commands. His son and nephew were a bit stupid and badly behaved, but he had taught them lessons and now that Zeke was treating him with full respect and docility, there was no need to be stingy over one pill.

Zeke bowed and thanked him profusely after getting an affirmative answer. The wealthier a person was, the more afraid they were of death. For them, the magical elixir was like a miracle drug that they wanted to keep for emergency use.

After sending Zeke home, Charlie Wade retrieved the ingredients and started to refine a batch of pills.

He used only one-tenth of the ingredients to make thirty pills. Moreover, because he had used a full prescription and its quality was much better than the previous batch, the effect was ten times greater than the old batch.

If the previous batch could treat most moderate internal injuries and had some effects on the healing, then this batch could almost cure and heal fatal internal injuries. Even the old and stubborn illnesses that had tormented Anthony for many years could be cured with only half a pill.

If someone was being chased by a hitman and was fatally wounded, he could survive by taking the pill.

After refining the elixir, Charlie Wade kept twenty for himself and called Jasmine, Anthony, Graham, and Zeke to inform them about the news and of his intention to host a banquet at Don Albertt's Heaven Springs restaurant tonight to distribute the magical elixir.

Everyone was ecstatic when they received the call.

Master Wade was truly the real master! He could refine the magical medicine so quickly, almost as fast as making bread!

That night, they went to Heaven Springs in advance and awaited Charlie Wade's arrival.

He prepared dinner for Claire Wilson Wilson, Jacob Wilson, and Elaine Ma before informing them that he had a reunion with an old friend from the orphanage and slipping out of the house.

When he arrived at the entrance of the Heaven Springs, Zeke, Graham and his daughter Aurora, Jasmine, Anthony and his granddaughter Xyla, as well as Don Albertt were standing by the door and personally greeted him.

Heaven Springs was closed for the day as it was reserved purely for Charlie Wade.

They spruced up themselves when Charlie Wade arrived and greeted him graciously. "Welcome, Master Wade."

Charlie Wade smiled slightly at them and said, "You guys are early. What time did you arrive?"

Jasmine smiled politely and said, "Master Wade, it's rare and exclusive for you to organize such a dinner. We must arrive earlier to show our respect."

Jasmine deliberately dressed up for today's dinner. She put on an elegant and classy black long dress, the tulle lining hugging her perfect and slim curves. It wasn't very revealing or seductive, but had a rather different kind of charm and allure. Her outfit, coupled with her beautiful facial features, radiated her aura to the fullest.

Charlie Wade couldn't help stealing a few glances at Jasmine, who was truly dashing tonight.

If he compared her with Claire Wilson Wilson, their outlook and body were almost equal, but in terms of temperament, Claire Wilson Wilson was a few grades beneath Jasmine.

After all, Jasmine was the daughter of the prominent Moore family. Her temperament was definitely more classy than an ordinary woman.

Meanwhile, Aurora walked towards Charlie Wade and bowed as she blushed again.

Unlike the mature and sentimental Jasmine, the unique fusion of Aurora's heroic appearance with the aura of a timid young lady was a special blend.

Aurora wore light makeup, the natural heroine vibe from her body emphasizing her characteristics like the snow lotus on the iceberg, which was very chilly and alluring.

However, after she acknowledged her feelings towards Charlie Wade, she blossomed like a flower under the spring sunshine that added a little tenderness and gentleness in her aura.

She looked at Charlie Wade with a layer of pinkish blush painting her cheeks.

An alarming gaze appeared on Jasmine's eyes, a woman's instinct made her subconsciously see Aurora as a threat. She thought to herself, 'Does Aurora Quinton have feelings for Master Wade?'

Her grandfather had told her to attract Master Wade's attention and make him the Quinton family's son-in-law, and she was tempted by the proposal as well. Did Aurora share the same thought as she did?

Ignorant to the ladies' mental challenge, Charlie Wade wore a light smile on his face and said to everyone, "Remember, you don't have to be so formal and solemn with me. I like things to be casual and spontaneous, I hope you'll treat me the same."

They waved their hands quickly to express their disagreement.

Graham started in a gracious tone, "With your status and influence, we must treat you with utmost honor and respect, Master Wade. That's the rule!"

Zeke continued, "Master Wade, you are the supreme master of Newton and the savior of us all. We're willing to wait for you even for an entire day."

Anthony put his hands together and said, "Master Wade, your clinical and medicinal skills are extraordinary. Everyone in the field will admire and adore you if they know about your superb skills."

Charlie Wade nodded reluctantly and uttered, "Alright then, let's not just stand here. Let's go inside."

Jasmine put up a gentle smile. "Master Wade, this way please."

Charlie Wade walked ahead and the rest of the people followed him, keeping their distance as a token of respect.

As they entered the Diamond Suite of Heaven Springs, all the dishes were served on the table.

Charlie Wade invited a few guests tonight, but they were all important figures in Aurouss Hilll. If any outsiders saw such an extravagant ensemble, their jaws would definitely drop to the floor.

As the owner of Heaven Springs, Don Albertt started in a humble tone, "Master Wade, thank you for choosing Heaven Springs as your dinner venue. This cuisine has been specially prepared for you and your honorable guests. The spread is much more lavish than the usual Diamond Suite menu, while the wines are century-old vintage wines airlifted from France. I hope you'll enjoy tonight's dinner."

Don Albertt had long been exposed to Charlie Wade's impressive abilities and skills, but tonight's guests completely shocked him.

Jasmine Moore of the Moore family, Graham and Aurora of the Quinton family, Zeke White of the White family, and Anthony Simmons and his granddaughter.

All of them were prominent and influential figures in Aurouss Hilll, but they were as harmless and humble as little sheep when they stood in front of Charlie Wade. It made Don Albertt, who was from the underworld, even more inferior!

Chapter 281

Don Albertt didn't dare to speak loudly as the significant figures of the city gathered together. Even though they were in his restaurant, he walked behind everyone and wagged his tail at Charlie Wade like a pug, hoping that he would bat an eye at him.

Looking at the extravagant spread and the decoration, Charlie Wade smiled at Don Albertt and said, "Good job, Albert. Thank you for the arrangement."

Albert smiled like a child receiving candy and said, "It's my pleasure to serve you. Please have a seat."

Charlie Wade nodded and sat in the main seat of the table.

Albert bowed graciously at Charlie Wade and said, "Please just call for me if you need any assistance, I'll be waiting by the door!"

Then, he gingerly exited the suite and stood by the door like a waiter.

Albert Rhodes was the king of the underworld in Aurouss Hilll, but right now, he was nothing but a good-for-nothing thug. He was not yet qualified to sit at the table with Charlie Wade and his distinguished guests—it was already lucky enough for him to be able to talk to Charlie Wade.

As soon as Charlie Wade sat down at the main seat, Jasmine followed closely and sat to the right of him. They were seated so close to each other with only the small gap between them that Charlie Wade could even smell the faint perfume from Jasmine's body.

According to the sitting etiquette, the most distinguished person sat at the head seat, while the people next in rank would be seated on both sides of the head seat.

Among them, the Moore family was the most prominent. Hence, Jasmine, as the representative of the Moore family, naturally sat next to Charlie Wade.

Therefore, the other empty seat next to Charlie Wade had become the hottest chair that everyone was vying for.

Graham nudged Aurora lightly and said to Charlie Wade, "Master Wade, my daughter has admired you for a long time ever since she had the honor to witness your superb power and regards you as her idol. Could you let her sit beside you just so she can get to know you better?"

Jasmine arched her eyebrows and glanced rather ambiguously at Graham.

Zeke, on the other hand, cursed Graham for being a shameless sly fox by sending his daughter to get closer to Master Wade. He was very frustrated mainly because he had no daughters. If he had a girl, there's no way Graham could make a move on Master Wade so easily.

Aurora's face was as red as a cherry tomato. She was feeling very shy and embarrassed.

She admitted that she liked Master Wade and her father had told her to grab her chance whenever she could, but it was quite embarrassing to do so in front of so many people.

Regardless of the embarrassment, Aurora was a straightforward person, she cleared her throat and said, "Master Wade, please allow me to take the seat next to you."

Charlie Wade was taken aback and said flatly, "You're welcome to. Please have a seat."

Aurora grinned gleefully as she thanked him and hopped to the empty seat next to Charlie Wade.

Anthony was envious at the scene. In fact, he had wanted his granddaughter to sit next to Master Wade, but his hesitation encouraged Aurora to cut the queue and grab the empty seat.

It was quite impossible to make Xyla Master Wade's woman, but it would be an absolute honor and blessing if Master Wade would keep Xyla as his student and apprentice.

Chapter 282

This was because of Charlie Wade's superb medical skills which were even better than his own ancestral medical skills. Therefore, he felt that it would be great if Xyla was fortunate enough to serve Charlie Wade in the future, as she would have the opportunity to learn more about medicine from him.

This was also one of the reasons why he had wanted to bring Xyla along for this dinner.

Of course, the second reason was that he wanted to seek treatment from Charlie Wade.

He had already been tortured by his internal injuries for more than half his life, but he finally had the opportunity to get healed now!

As he thought about this, Anthony gave Xyla a long look, hinting to her that she should look for an opportunity to get closer to Charlie Wade.

Xyla understood her grandfather's intentions immediately and her cheeks turned crimson red as she felt extremely embarrassed.

Lowering her head, she could feel a strong wave in her heart. From time to time, she raised her head slightly to look at Charlie Wade as she squeezed her palms together.

Charlie Wade was the most talented and skillful doctor she had ever seen. He was not only a genius, but he was also superior to others in terms of his character and appearance. It would not be an exaggeration to describe him as a rare gem in this world. However, Xyla knew very well that she would never be worthy of someone like Charlie Wade.

Aside from Xyla, Aurora and Jasmine were also staring intensely at Charlie Wade, and their gazes were set on him, their eyes never moving away from him.

Charlie Wade did not realize that the three young women were all staring at him, and he simply looked up at everyone and raised his cup. After that, he smiled before saying, "Everyone, it is truly fate that allowed me to get to know each and every one of you here in Aurouss Hilll. We should get to know one another better during this banquet today. Who knows if I would need any of your help in Aurouss Hilll in the future?"

As soon as he raised his cup, the crowd around the table also lifted their cups because they did not want to be slow.

Jasmine hurriedly replied, "Mr. Wade, you are being too polite. Do not hesitate to let us know if you need any of our help in the future. We will definitely help you if we can."

Anthony also spoke up at this time. "Yes, Mr. Wade. Your medical skills are simply superb, and I truly admire you very much. If you have any requests or instructions in the future, I will definitely get it done for you!"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly before he said, "Okay! Let's make this glass of wine count!"

"Mr. Wade, cheers!"

Everyone drank the glass of wine together, and no one dared to put down the wine glass before Charlie Wade did.

After Charlie Wade had finally put down his wine glass, he took out a box that he had brought along with him.

Everyone stopped all their movements and stared at the box, filled with excitement.

They knew that the item in the box had to be the magical pills that everyone was thinking about!

Charlie Wade looked around at the crowd of people before he spoke again. "This is the medicine that I made this time."

Sure enough!

Everyone was extremely excited.

They could not wait to see the medicine that Charlie Wade had concocted this time.

Opening the box slowly, Charlie Wade revealed the ten pills nestled inside the box. Upon doing so, he said lightly, "Everyone, these are the pills that I have concocted this time, and it is at least ten times more effective than the previous pills."

"Ten times?" Everyone exclaimed in shock.

They would have been satisfied with the same magical pill as last time, but who would have expected Charlie Wade to make a pill that was ten times more effective than the previous one?!

At this time, Charlie Wade spoke up again. "I dare not say that this medicine will revive the dead or turn the living into an immortal, but I know that this pill will be able to strengthen your physical body, prolong your life, and cure diseases. If you are breathing your last breath, you will be able to live a few more years after taking this medicine. However, you should be extremely cautious when taking this pill. Do not take the entire pill in one go because it might be too strong for your body to handle!"

Everyone was really surprised. How could this medicine possibly be so amazing?

Chapter 283

The pill that Charlie Wade was holding in his hand was simply the medicine that he had concocted according to the prescription in the Apocalyptic Book. However, it was making everyone extremely excited.

The crowd of people waited patiently as they stared at the crystal clear pills in the box, and they could feel their accelerated breathing.

Amongst these people, Anthony was the oldest, and he was the most excited. This was because he knew that Charlie Wade had a very unusual talent that even he could not comprehend at all.

He had been suffering from a serious internal injury that had not been fully healed, and this internal injury had caused him to suffer from illnesses and bad health for more than half of his life.

The last time he had tried some of the pills made by Charlie Wade, his symptoms had improved a lot even though he had not been fully cured.

When he heard that the effect of this new medicine would be ten times more effective than the pill that he had tried previously, Anthony could not contain his excitement any longer. After all, he would finally be able to heal his old wounds and internal injuries that had plagued him for more than half of his life.

If Charlie Wade's magic medicine could truly relieve him of all his ailments, that would be the best thing that had ever happened to him!

Jasmine was also brimming with excitement.

Even though Charlie Wade had already saved her grandfather by performing acupuncture for him, her grandfather's body was still very weak physically. If he were to live longer, he would have to rely on Charlie Wade's magical pill to sustain him and give him strength.

At this time, Jasmine stared at the magical pills before she stared at Charlie Wade with a set of very intense eyes.

Graham was also very excited, almost yelling out in joy because he would be getting two of Charlie Wade's magical pills today!

Charlie Wade continued speaking, "There are some problems that cannot be easily overcome by modern medicine nowadays such as diabetes, kidney failure, and other malignant diseases. However, I assure you that if you are suffering from any of these diseases, you will be cured by taking this pill."

Everyone was even more shocked when they heard Charlie Wade's words.

Even though the diseases that Charlie Wade had just mentioned were very common, these were difficult diseases that could not even be cured by modern medicine even if they sought treatment abroad from the best doctors.

This was especially so for a disease such as diabetes, which was commonly referred to as an undead cancer because there was absolutely no cure for it!

However, Charlie Wade was saying that his medicine would cure all of these diseases.

This was simply a miracle!

Everyone could only sigh because Charlie Wade was indeed a genius.

Aurora's beautiful face flushed crimson red as she blushed, and her bright, sparkling eyes were fixed on Charlie Wade. She knew that she had to seize the opportunity to get closer to Charlie Wade because he was really one of a kind.

Xyla was also looking at Charlie Wade with a look of admiration in her eyes.

Charlie Wade's skills and abilities were something that she could never imagine in her life. She was certain that she would be able to cause a huge sensation in the entire medical world if she could just learn some trivial medical skills and knowledge from Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade could tell that everyone was already eager to receive the pills at this time, so, he smiled faintly before he said, "Alright then, let me distribute the pills."

Everyone could no longer contain their excitement, full of expectations.

Charlie Wade stood up as he took out one of the pills before handing it to the oldest guest, Anthony, as he said, "Mr. Simmons, this is for you."

Anthony was trembling all over, and he knelt as he held his hands respectfully over his head as he said humbly, "Mr. Wade, thank you for the medicine! You are truly a very kind person, and I will definitely do everything that I can for you in this lifetime! Thank you, Mr. Wade."

Charlie Wade smiled before saying, "Mr. Simmons, you are too polite. I believe that both of us were fated to meet."

After saying that, he placed the pill in Anthony's hand.

Anthony was so grateful that tears started welling up in his eyes. When he thought about how he had been tortured and tormented by his illness for more than half of his life, he subconsciously wanted to pop the pill into his mouth to free himself from the pain completely.

Chapter 284

Charlie Wade stopped him immediately and said, "Mr. Simmons, this medicine is too strong for you. You should only take half of the capsule to cure your old injury and illness. You should keep the remaining half of the capsule because it can prove to be of great use to you in the future."

Anthony was shocked because he really could not believe that he could be cured with just half of this pill.

This was utterly amazing!

As he thought about it, Anthony took out the dagger that he kept in his pocket and cut the pill in half. After that, he put one half of the pill into his mouth immediately.

Everyone stared at him intently as they waited for a miracle to happen.

A few seconds after Anthony had eaten the pill, color returned to his face immediately, and his complexion turned pinkish in an instance. He also began sweating profusely.

Anthony could feel a warm and magical current running through his body now.

He felt that his body was akin to the dried up mottled and cracked earth, and this warm and magical current was mild clean water which was filling up and nourishing all the cracks in the cracked earth at the moment.

He could feel his old and stubborn wound slowly repairing itself, and his eyes widened in disbelief.

"Mr. Wade, this... this pill is truly amazing! My old injury and illness have plagued me for decades, but I am completely healed in a mere few minutes!"

Anthony burst into tears immediately.

In recent years, he had been tortured by his illness and had already collapsed a couple of times. He did not want to stop treating people, but whenever he treated people, he was also putting himself in danger because he could drop dead anytime. Therefore, he had truly been living a painful life.

However, he was now completely cured after eating half of Charlie Wade's pill.

If this was not amazing, there would be no other words to describe this!

Grateful!

Anthony knelt before Charlie Wade as he continued weeping. "Mr. Wade, you are indeed the greatest man that I have ever met in this world. If you do not despise me, I would like to treat you as my father and teacher."

After suffering and going through so much pain because of his illness, no one would understand the excitement that he was feeling because he had finally recovered and would not need to go through all the ups and downs any longer.

Everyone could not help but feel even more admiration for Charlie Wade when they saw Anthony recovering on the spot.

This pill was worth much more than tens of thousands of gold bars. They would not even sell it to anyone.

Charlie Wade looked at Anthony before he helped him up to his feet and said, "Mr. Simmons, I understand what you are feeling, and I am thankful to be of help to you. However, I hope that you will not kneel to me so casually in the future as you are still my elder after all."

Anthony hurriedly replied, "How could I not show how grateful I am to you when you are my benefactor?!"

Charlie Wade did not continue speaking when he saw how stubborn Anthony was. After that, Charlie Wade turned around and looked at Jasmine as he held the box of pills in his hand. "Miss Moore, this medicine is for Lord Moore."

Jasmine hurriedly knelt before Charlie Wade, and just as Anthony had done before, she raised her hands above her head. "Thank you, Mr. Wade. Thank you for the pill and your kindness to the Moore family. We will never forget what you have done for us!"

Charlie Wade nodded and smiled before he took out two pills, hiding one in his sleeve while placing the other pill in Jasmine's hands.

Jasmine was very excited and happy when she received the pill and was about to carefully put the pill away when she felt another round object rolling into her palms.

She chuckled as she looked up at Charlie Wade who was staring at her with a smile on his face. After that, he winked at her, and Jasmine understood what he meant immediately.

Charlie Wade was giving her an extra pill, and he wanted her to be discreet about it.

Jasmine was very happy and touched at this time. She would never have imagined that Charlie Wade would give her two pills.

Besides, he had given her the second pill secretly. Did that mean that he was giving the second pill to her, and not her grandfather?

Chapter 285

To be honest, giving another pill to Jasmine meant nothing to Charlie Wade at all.

However, this was of great significance to Jasmine.

At this time, Jasmine felt extremely touched and moved by Charlie Wade's action, and she felt that he was protecting and looking out for her.

As Jasmine continued to stare at Charlie Wade, he walked up to Zeke before holding out a pill. "Mr. White, this pill is for you."

Zeke shuddered all over and he quickly knelt like everyone else as he waited respectfully.

Charlie Wade placed the pill in his hand, and Zeke blurted out, "Thank you, Mr. Wade! Thank you for the medicine. I will unquestionably obey all of your orders in the future!"

As he stared at Zeke who was kneeling on the ground, he said lightly, "Mr. White, your son and nephew have caused me a lot of grievances and anger in the past. If it were not for you, they would not be in this world anymore."

Zeke chuckled as he hurriedly replied, "Thank you, Mr. Wade. Thank you for your mercy and kindness."

Charlie Wade simply replied, "Make sure that the younger generation in your family learns how to behave and act like a decent human in the future."

Zeke nodded hurriedly. "Don't worry, Mr. Wade. I will definitely give them a warning!"

"Okay." Charlie Wade nodded slightly before he continued, "Keep the medicine well. It might be able to save your life in the future."

Zeke's face flushed with excitement as he held the pill in his hand. "Mr. Wade, do not hesitate to ask me for anything if you need the White family's help in the future."

After that, it was Graham's turn.

Charlie Wade had already promised to give Aurora two pills. Therefore, he gave one pill to Graham, and another to Aurora.

Both father and daughter knelt before Charlie Wade immediately.

Graham quickly thanked Charlie Wade as he expressed his gratitude. "Mr. Wade, my family will always look up to you and do all that we can for you in the future!"

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he nodded in satisfaction.

It seemed as though Charlie Wade had already given the pill to everyone present, but suddenly, he thought of something and called out loud, "Albert, come in!"

Don Albertt, who had been guarding the door all this while, came in and asked, "Mr. Wade, what can I do for you?"

Albert placed his hands in front of himself as he respectfully spoke to Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade nodded slightly before he smiled and said, "The both of us have already known each other for quite some time, and I sincerely respect your hard work and diligence. Therefore, I have also prepared one pill for you today."

Albert was stunned when he heard Charlie Wade's words. He felt as though his head was going to explode!

He had been waiting outside the door the entire time and had heard what Charlie Wade had said about the effects of the medicine. Moreover, he knew about Anthony's instant recovery as soon as the latter had taken the medicine.

However, Albert knew very well that someone of his status would never be able to get his hands on such medicine. After all, why would Charlie Wade give such a precious pill to someone like him?

He would have never expected Charlie Wade to give one of these pills to him. When he heard that Charlie Wade was going to give him one of the pills, he knelt before him without any hesitation whatsoever.

"Mr. Wade, I am just a rough person and I do not know how to give a beautiful speech. However, I can promise to serve you for the rest of my life, and I will even walk through fire for you!"

Albert was so touched that he could not stop himself from kneeling and thanking Charlie Wade continuously as he took the pill from him respectfully. He was so excited and treated the pill as though it was a priceless treasure.

Chapter 286

Charlie Wade waved his hand as he said, "Okay, don't worry. Just make sure to help me whenever I ask for your help in the future. I will not forget your contribution."

Albert quickly replied, "I will never let you down!"

When everyone saw Charlie Wade giving the magical pill to Don Albertt, they were all shocked beyond words.

Even though Don Albertt had a reputation as one of the top mobster bosses in Aourouss Hilll, he was nothing to them. Hence, they could barely believe that Charlie Wade would not hesitate to give someone as insignificant as Albert the pill simply because they knew each other.

This...

Charlie Wade really treated his own people very fairly.

Albert continued kneeling in front of Charlie Wade as he wept.

"Mr. Wade, I really did not expect someone like you to even think of someone as insignificant as me at all. I am truly very grateful for your kindness..."

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "Albert, to me, everyone in this world is equal. I do not judge a person by their status or identity, but I judge a person based on their character and personality. Do you remember my classmate, Douglas? In terms of status or even strength, he is definitely more inferior compared to you and your brothers. However, when he was lying in the hospital and could not even commit suicide, I still helped and protected him. Why? Simply because he is my friend. If you are my friend, no matter how low your status or identity is, I will never forget you."

Albert's heart trembled, and he could not stop the tears from rolling down his cheeks. He choked as he said, "Mr. Wade, I will do everything to the best of my ability for you in the future!"

Charlie Wade placed the pill in Albert's hand before saying, "If you follow me, you have to understand that you don't need to be the greatest person in this country. As long as you do everything for me sincerely and with all of your heart, I will surely protect and look out for you for the rest of my life!"

Charlie Wade meant what he said.

He had endless wealth. He had tens of billions in cash, and his company was worth hundreds of billions of dollars.

Moreover, in terms of strength, Charlie Wade could rely on them to give him extraordinary skills and strength.

Therefore, as long as Albert steadfastly followed him, he would not let him suffer.

Charlie Wade's words made everyone present have even more admiration and respect for him.

They were determined to follow after Charlie Wade with all of their hearts!

At this time, Zeke took out a smart bracelet key before holding it out to Charlie Wade. "Mr. Wade, this is the smart bracelet key for the Bugatti Veyron Hermes special edition that I have already ordered for you. You can pick up the car at the auto showroom when it is officially launched tomorrow!"

The ordinary Bugatti Veyron was priced at twenty-six million dollars, whereas the Hermes special edition was priced at forty million dollars.

Before Charlie Wade could say anything, Graham quickly took out another smart bracelet key before saying in a hurry, "What a coincidence, Mr. Wade! I also ordered a sports car for you, and it is waiting for you to collect it from the auto showroom. I bought you a limited edition ONE-77 Aston Martin."

The Aston Martin One-77 was priced at forty million dollars.

Both Zeke and Graham would not have expected such a coincidence.

Zeke looked at Graham with an annoyed expression on his face before he blurted out, "Graham, why did you get Mr. Wade a sports car just like me? Are you trying to copy me on purpose?"

Graham replied confidently, "Why would I want to copy you? I simply thought that Mr. Wade should be driving the best sports car in town. That is the reason why I specifically ordered the Aston Martin ONE-77 for him!"

When Anthony saw that both of them were giving gifts to Charlie Wade one after the other, he quickly took out a yellow sandalwood box and placed it in front of Charlie Wade. Upon opening the box, there lay a very beautiful pair of wine glasses made of porcelain.

Anthony told Charlie Wade immediately, "Mr. Wade, these wine glasses have been handed down by my ancestors ever since the Ming Dynasty, and it is one of my favorite antiques! I want to give this to you today, and I hope that you will enjoy using it, Mr. Wade!"

When Jasmine saw everyone else giving gifts to Charlie Wade, she did not dare to fall behind since she had already received two magical pills from Charlie Wade. Therefore, she quickly took out her checkbook and wrote a cash cheque before offering it to Charlie Wade. "Mr. Wade, this is a cash cheque for one hundred million dollars. Please accept this as a small token of my appreciation."

Chapter 287

Charlie Wade honestly did not expect that these people would unexpectedly give him all these gifts.

Moreover, the gifts that they were giving him were extremely expensive.

Both sports cars cost at least forty million dollars each.

The wine glasses from the Ming Dynasty were worth more than fifty to sixty million dollars.

Moreover, Jasmine even wrote him a cheque for one hundred million dollars.

To be honest, Charlie Wade felt very indifferent toward all these gifts.

First of all, a sports car was too showy, and he did not really like that.

He did not like the wine glasses all that much either because he rarely used things like that.

As for the money, the last thing he needed in life was money.

However, when Charlie Wade saw that the four of them were filled with so many expectations as they were eager for him to accept their gifts, Charlie Wade thought for a moment before accepting their gifts indifferently. "Okay, I will accept these gifts. Thank you."

Since they wanted to thank him and follow in his footsteps, he should accept their gifts.

When everyone saw that Charlie Wade was willing to accept their gifts, they smiled in relief.

Charlie Wade casually stuffed the one hundred million dollar cheque and the two smart bracelet keys into his pocket before putting the box of wine glasses aside. After that, he said lightly, "Alright, let's eat now!"

Everyone hurriedly replied, "Eat! Let's eat!"

Just then, Don Albertt stood and said, "Mr. Wade, I will continue to keep guard outside the door."

Charlie Wade nodded without asking him to stay.

This was because he knew that the people seated around the table would not be able to accept it if Albert were to have dinner with them.

After all, no matter how good his character or personality was, Don Albertt was still a mobster boss, whereas the rest of them were all one of the richest or wealthiest people in town.

After dinner, Charlie Wade declined Jasmine's offer to send him home and decided to walk home alone instead.

Jasmine thanked him once again before driving her limited edition Bentley back to her villa.

As she gripped the steering wheel with one hand and the two magical pills in her other hand, Jasmine wondered whether she should give both of the pills to her grandfather, or whether she should keep one of the pills for herself.

If she gave both the pills to her grandfather, she would feel a little depressed because she would be missing out on this magical pill herself.

However, if she kept one of the magical pills for herself, she could not help but wonder if her grandfather would be furious if he found out about it in the future.

After putting some thought into it, the desire to possess the magical pill for herself overcame all the other worries in her mind. Jasmine carefully put the magical pill into the glove compartment in her car as she decided to hold on to the second pill first. If she needed it in the future, she would use it. If she had no use for it but her grandfather needed it, she would give it to him then.

When that time came and if Jasmine successfully saved her grandfather's life twice with the magical pill, she believed that he would surely treat her differently.

After she had arrived back at the villa, Lord Mooore was lying on the sofa as he eagerly awaited Jasmine's return.

When Charlie Wade had come to his house previously, he did not manage to improve the physical condition of his body even though he had managed to save his life. He was still feeling rather fragile and sickly. After several days of rest, he was starting to feel slightly better, but he still needed someone to help him if he needed to stand up or walk.

For an arrogant and proud man like him, the physical inconvenience was one of his biggest regrets in life.

Therefore, he was really pinning all of his hopes on the magical pill concocted by Mr. Wade to regain his health and agility.

Chapter 288

If Jasmine was able to bring back the magical pill, Lord Mooore felt that he would surely be able to get rid of all his current trouble and ailment, and he would be able to regain the feeling of being as strong as he was ten or twenty years ago as soon as he had eaten the medicine that Charlie Wade had prepared.

When Jasmine came into the living room with the magical pill in her hand, Lord Mooore struggled to sit upright as he asked in a trembling voice, "Jasmine, did Mr. Wade give you the medicine?"

Jasmine nodded before handing the pill over to her grandfather. "Grandpa, this is the pill that Mr. Wade has concocted this time. You should take it as soon as possible!"

"Good! Good! Good!" Lord Mooore repeated it several times in excitement. "Did Mr. Simmons take the pill?"

"Yes, he took it," Jasmine replied. "Mr. Simmons only ate half of the pill according to Mr. Wade's prescription. However, even with just one half of the pill, all of his old injuries and illnesses were cured immediately! It was simply amazing."

Lord Mooore became very excited when he heard her words. "That's amazing! Hurry, bring me a glass of water! I want to take the medicine now."

The maid hurriedly brought him a cup of warm water.

All the members of the Moore family stood in front of the old man because they were all curious to witness the miraculous healing moment.

In fact, all the descendants of the Moore family hoped that the old man would be able to live for a few more years so that he would be able to continue protecting and looking out for them. Therefore, they sincerely hoped that the old man's health and physical condition would improve greatly after taking the magical pill.

The old man quickly swallowed the pill with the warm water. After taking the pill, Lord Mooore could immediately feel a burst of energy sweeping through all the meridians in his entire body.

Lord Mooore felt as though someone was repeatedly injecting him with a burst of energy, and he tried to stand up without relying on his wooden cane.

Everyone around him was very anxious as they were afraid that the old man would fall. Therefore, they were all prepared to step forward and catch him if he fell.

Unexpectedly, the old man stood up effortlessly!

He did not need to use any strength or force, and he stood up without shaking at all.

Lord Mooore could feel a surge of power in his legs, and he immediately summoned the courage to start walking.

He took his first step forward without any hesitation at all.

No hurry, no panic, no tiredness, no rush, no shaking, and no breathlessness at all!

Everyone was shocked by this!

Wasn't he a dying man just a few days ago? He looked like a middle-aged person now!

Lord Mooore quickly regained his strength and control over his own body. He was so excited and quickly tried to walk a few more steps, and each of his steps was fast and steady!

This made him extremely excited, and he laughed as he exclaimed, "This is amazing! This is simply amazing! Mr. Wade is really a God!"

Then, Lord Mooore turned around to face Jasmine as he said seriously, "Jasmine, if I can get a good son-in-law like Mr. Wade, I will be able to live at least until I am a hundred years old! Your father, uncle, brother, and yourself will also be able to live a long and healthy life! Once our family can live up to a hundred years old for three consecutive generations, we will be a very strong family that can not be shaken at all!"

Jasmine was stunned.

Her grandfather was a dying man, but Charlie Wade had saved his life. Even after saving his life, her grandfather had still been very sick and exhausted.

Yet, as soon as her grandfather had taken the medicine prepared by Charlie Wade, it seemed as though he was twenty years younger in an instant! It would not be surprising if her grandfather lived for another twenty years! By that time, he would have become a centenarian!

How many centenarians were there in this world? Very few!

Moreover, if the head of a wealthy and prestigious family could live beyond a hundred years old, it would be very good fortune for the family because the family would be able to grow under his guidance.

As soon as the head of the family died, there would immediately be fallouts and internal fights amongst the members of the family.

There had been so many cases where families fell apart after the head of the family passed away because the descendants could not agree with one another. Thanks to Charlie Wade, the Moore family would be able to continue prospering for at least another twenty years!

Chapter 289

That night, everyone who received the magical pill from Charlie Wade could not sleep at all.

Jasmine, who personally witnessed the miracle happening to her grandfather, was also very excited.

When she thought about the magical pill that Charlie Wade had given to her secretly, she could feel a warm current surging through her heart.

She would never be able to forget Charlie Wade's kindness and generosity toward her.

At this time, Aurora, the hot and spicy pepper of the Quinton family was also having insomnia as she thought about Charlie Wade.

After her father had received the two magical pills from Charlie Wade, he had immediately given one of the pills to her as soon as they had gotten home. After that, Graham had told her to hide the precious pill well.

Therefore, Aurora kept the pill close to her, and her body temperature and fragrance were already imprinted on the pill.

Aurora was filled with happiness when she thought about the fact that this pill was given to her by Charlie Wade.

Meanwhile, Charlie Wade, the man behind all of this, was currently lying on the floor next to his wife's bed as he had a really good night's sleep as someone's son-in-law.

Claire Wilson Wilson headed to her studio early the next morning.

After so many days of preparation, her studio was finally complete and officially ready to open.

Charlie Wade offered to help her many times, but she wanted to build up her own business with her own two hands.

Charlie Wade completely understood her feelings. After leaving the Wilson family, Claire Wilson Wilson had been thinking about how she could finally prove herself so that the Wilson family would not be able to look down on them.

At this time, Charlie Wade was neatly dressed as he headed out to the market to buy some groceries. After putting his hand into his pocket, he was suddenly reminded of all the gifts that everyone had given to him last night.

Two smart bracelet keys for luxury sports cars, a pair of antique wine glasses, and a cheque for one hundred million dollars.

Since the antique wine glasses were placed in a relatively large sandalwood box, Charlie Wade placed the box inside his closet. Initially, he had thought of placing the smart bracelet keys and the cash cheque for one hundred million dollars into his closet, but he had given up on the idea after some consideration.

This was because he knew that his mother-in-law would come into their bedroom and look around when she had nothing better to do. The last time Graham had given him the jade bracelet, Elaine Ma had taken it and worn it herself even before Claire Wilson Wilson had had the chance to do so.

If his mother-in-law were to find out about the one hundred million dollars cash cheque and the smart bracelet key for the two luxury sports cars, she would unquestionably try to claim it for herself.

Most importantly, Charlie Wade would not know how to explain himself if she found out about it.

The one hundred million dollars cheque would be enough to scare her to death three times.

Therefore, Charlie Wade decided to bring the smart bracelet keys and the cheque with him as he headed to the vegetable market.

As he was making his way to the market, Graham made a phone call to him before asking, "Mr. Wade, did you like the sports car I gave you?"

"Ohh..." Charlie Wade replied, "I have not seen it yet."

Graham quickly responded, "The car is at the Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center. If it is not convenient for you to go there, I can get someone to send the car to your house instead."

Charlie Wade replied, "No, please do not send it to my house. I will make time to check it out at the exhibition center."

The neighborhood that Charlie Wade was currently living at was very ordinary, and each of the houses there was worth only two to three million dollars. There would certainly be a huge commotion if there were two sports cars that were worth more than forty million dollars each parked in the neighborhood.

Therefore, Charlie Wade felt that he should park the sports cars in the villa at Thompson First instead since he would not need to worry as they had a private basement parking in the villa.

After arriving at the vegetable market, Charlie Wade received a phone call from Douglas, his good friend from university. Douglas asked him over the phone, "Charlie Wade, where are you?"

Charlie Wade replied, "I am shopping in the vegetable market. What's wrong, Douglas? Do you need my help?"

Chapter 290

Douglas was a little hesitant as he said, "Well, I came to the Aurous International Auto Show today..."

Charlie Wade knew that Douglas was a fan of cars, and cars were one of his favorite things in this world. When he was still in college, he had saved up a month of his living expenses just so that he could go out of town to watch the auto show.

Charlie Wade smiled before he asked, "Did you go there to see cars again?"

"Yes." Douglas replied before he said, "This time, there are several world-class limited edition sports cars on display. It would be a rare opportunity for me to take a look at the cars."

After that, Douglas continued speaking, "Oh, by the way, I did not call you to tell you about cars."

Charlie Wade replied, "Why are you looking for me, then?"

Douglas hesitated for a moment before he said, "Well, I was just walking around the exhibition hall when I saw your wife."

"My wife?" Charlie Wade asked in surprise. "Why did she go to the auto show?"

"I do not know either," Douglas replied immediately. "She was with another man. That's the reason why I decided to call you to ask whether you knew about this."

Charlie Wade frowned immediately.

Why was Claire Wilson Wilson at the auto show with another man?

Why hadn't she told him about it?

Although both of them did not communicate much, they would tell each other about their daily plans. However, Claire Wilson Wilson did not tell him that she was going to the auto show with another man. Was she hiding something from him?

Even though Charlie Wade was the young master of the Wade family and even though he was well respected by many wealthy and powerful men in Aurouss Hilll, he still lacked confidence in his relationship with Claire Wilson Wilson.

He was also worried that Claire Wilson Wilson would succumb to temptation. After keeping silent for a moment, Charlie Wade quickly said, "Thank you for informing me, Douglas."

Douglas replied, "Charlie Wade, my mom just called me to go home to deal with some family issues. I have to go back home now. I think you should come and keep an eye on Claire Wilson Wilson..."

"Okay," Charlie Wade replied. "I will look for you later. You should go and get busy already."

After hanging up the phone, Charlie Wade parked his car at the side of the road before hailing a cab to the Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center.

The Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center was a large-scale real estate project specializing in undertaking various exhibitions. Most of the large-scale exhibitions in Aurouss Hilll would always be held here.

After entering the exhibition hall, Charlie Wade looked around and realized that he was surrounded by many ordinary citizens who were here to look at cars. The surrounding platforms were all filled with various luxury cars.

The first car that Charlie Wade saw was the Audi A8, and there were many other luxury cars in the exhibition hall including luxury sports cars such as Lamborghini and Ferrari. The highest platform was located at the center of the exhibition hall, and there was one red and one black luxury sports car sitting on top of the platform.

These two sports cars were the ones given to Charlie Wade by Zeke and Graham.

An Aston Martin ONE-77 and a Bugatti Veyron Hermes edition.

These two super luxurious cars were the highlight of the auto show, and many people and reporters were surrounding the cars at this time

There were also two strong and tough-looking security guards standing beside the cars at this time. The security guards stood at the front and back of the luxury sports cars so that the crowd of people would not be able to touch the expensive cars.

The host began introducing the cars at this time. "These two cars have already been sold. Therefore, it is a personal item. You can look and you can also take pictures of the cars, but you are not allowed to touch the cars. Thank you for your cooperation."

At this time, a reporter asked, "The auto show has just begun and the two cars have already been sold? Is it convenient for you to reveal who these two rich men who bought the cars are?"

The host smiled before he replied, "We are not talking about two rich men. In fact, one rich man owns both of the cars here."

"One?!" The reporter exclaimed in disbelief. "The two luxury sports cars were bought by the same person?"

"Yes." The host nodded before he said with a smile, "These two cars belong to the same man!"

Chapter 291

The host's words stunned everyone present in the exhibition hall.

These two cars were top-class luxury sports cars. There were just a few of these cars in the whole country, and an ordinary person could only see it in an auto show like this. The same man actually owned both of these cars?!

Both of the luxury sports cars could not simply be bought with money!

The Aston Martin ONE-77 could only be bought by members of the Aston Martin brand. Moreover, the member would only be eligible to buy the car if he already owned three or more Aston Martin sports cars worth more than tens of millions of dollars each.

That was the basic qualification criterion for the member to be eligible to buy the car. The Aston Martin ONE-77 was very limited and there were only seventy-seven units of this car in the entire world. This particular one in the exhibition hall right now was the one and only Aston Martin ONE-77 in the country!

It was even more difficult to buy the Bugatti Veyron Hermes special edition sports car because Bugatti itself only served the world's richest people! Since this sports car was a special collaboration with Hermes, it was even more expensive and limited!

To think that these two cars had actually been bought by the same person. This proved that the identity and status of this person were incredibly shocking indeed!

However, Charlie Wade's focus was not on the two cars.

He was looking for Claire Wilson Wilson amongst the crowd of people.

He continued looking around for the longest time but he could not find Claire Wilson Wilson at all. When he was ready to give up, he suddenly heard a man standing next to him say, "Claire Wilson Wilson, come and take a look at these two cars. These two sports cars are the best in the world, and it is my first time seeing it today!"

Charlie Wade turned around as soon as he heard the man's voice, and he saw Claire Wilson Wilson with another man and woman.

The man was wearing a suit and leather shoes, whereas the woman was dressed in a slim-fit dress. However, the woman could not be compared to Claire Wilson Wilson at all.

Claire Wilson Wilson smiled slightly as she walked behind the man and said, "Mr. Grant, I do not know much about cars."

The person that Claire Wilson Wilson referred to as Mr. Grant laughed before he said, "Well, I did a lot of research on cars. After all, our convention and exhibition center often undertakes a lot of auto show activities."

When Charlie Wade saw that Claire Wilson Wilson was keeping her distance from the man and that she was calling him "Mr. Grant", he instantly felt relieved, because he quickly guessed that she was only here to talk business with him.

Since his wife was here because of business, she might misunderstand him if she caught him hanging out here today. Therefore, Charlie Wade tried to slip away before she noticed him.

Unexpectedly, just as Charlie Wade was trying to leave, Claire Wilson Wilson raised her head and spotted Charlie Wade almost immediately. "Charlie Wade! What are you doing here?"

Charlie Wade did not expect to be discovered by Claire Wilson Wilson, so he replied in a hurry, "I came here to look at the cars, my dear wife. Why are you here?"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded and did not think too much about it. After that, she quickly introduced her companions to Charlie Wade. "Charlie Wade, this is Mr. Jason Grant from the Grant family. The Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center belongs to them. They were one of the partners of the Wilson Group, but they had already stopped all forms of collaboration and partnerships with the Wilson Group. The Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Hall will be undergoing a renovation in two days' time, and Mr. Grant invited me here to talk about a formal collaboration."

Then, Claire Wilson Wilson introduced the woman standing next to Jason to Charlie Wade. "By the way, this is Jessica Zanders, my former high school classmate. She is now working as Mr. Grant's secretary."

At this time, Jessica glanced at Charlie Wade with a shocked expression on her face as she said, "Claire Wilson Wilson! I heard from some of our high school classmates that you married a useless man who is a live-in son-in-law. It turns out that he really is a very ordinary person."

Jason smiled faintly as he stared at Charlie Wade with hostility in his eyes although he hid it very well.

Chapter 292

Jason had always been interested in Claire Wilson Wilson, and he knew about Charlie Wade's existence, but he had never met him before.

When he finally realized that the man standing in front of him was none other than Claire Wilson Wilson's husband, Jason looked at Charlie Wade before pretending to ask him curiously, "I wonder what you are doing now, Charlie Wade?"

Charlie Wade simply replied, "I am a vagrant now."

There was a flash of disdain in Jason's eyes as soon as he heard Charlie Wade's words. Truth be told, he had already had a good impression of Claire Wilson Wilson when she was still working for the Wilson Group. He had deliberately looked for Claire Wilson Wilson when he heard that she had already started her own business. Therefore, he was the one who had intentionally thrown out the order for the refurbishment of the convention and exhibition center before inviting Claire Wilson Wilson over here today.

At this time, Jason felt as though he had to show off his status in front of Charlie Wade. Therefore, he looked at Charlie Wade before he smiled and said, "Charlie Wade, I don't think you should be here today. All of the people who came to participate in the auto show today are all famous and wealthy people from Aurouss Hillll. Aren't you afraid that you will embarrass Claire Wilson Wilson by showing up here today?"

The expression on Claire Wilson Wilson's face changed immediately as soon as she heard Jason's words because she did not expect Jason to ridicule Charlie Wade. Consequently, Claire Wilson Wilson naturally felt a little uneasy at this time.

However, before Claire Wilson Wilson could say anything, Charlie Wade's eyes turned cold before he replied indifferently, "Do you really think that this auto show is that great? I would not even be here today if it weren't because of my car."

"Your car? Do you even know your own place?" Jessica asked as she stared at Charlie Wade with a contemptuous expression on her face. "Don't you know that all the luxury cars on display here today are worth at least a few million dollars each?! I don't think you can even afford to buy one of the wheels here!"

Jason laughed before he said haughtily and arrogantly, "Charlie Wade, I understand people like you. You are just a regular live-in son-in-law who is living off your wife and her parents. So, are you hoping that Claire Wilson Wilson will buy you a car so that you will be able to lift your head high?"

Just then, Claire Wilson Wilson spoke up with a cold expression on her face. "Mr. Grant, Charlie Wade does not need me to buy a car for him. In fact, Charlie Wade was the one who bought me the car that I am driving right now."

Jason was taken aback because he did not expect Charlie Wade to be able to buy Claire Wilson Wilson a car.

Jessica continued staring at Charlie Wade in disdain before she sneered, "Are you sure you can afford to buy Claire Wilson Wilson a car?"

Jessica looked at Claire Wilson Wilson before asking, "Claire Wilson Wilson, what car did your husband buy for you? Is it a Cherry QQ?"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied immediately, "Charlie Wade bought two cars for our family. He bought me a BMW 520, and he bought a BMW 530 for my father."

Jessica was slightly surprised. "I truly did not expect your husband to be able to afford to buy you a car."

At this time, Jason shook his head as he smiled contemptuously. "BMW 520? That is the car that the servants in my house are driving. How could a BMW 520 be good enough for someone like Claire Wilson Wilson?"

Immediately afterward, Jason looked at Charlie Wade before saying, "Charlie Wade, a BMW 520 is a very cheap car. You only need to pay a hundred thousand dollars for the down payment and you can take a loan to pay for the car. However, all of the luxury cars here today are worth millions of dollars. If all you can afford to buy is just a BMW 5 series, I don't think you should be at this auto show at all. You should also know that there are two expensive and very luxurious sports cars at this exhibition today. You should take a look at it so you know your own place and where you should stand."

Charlie Wade smiled indifferently before he pointed at the two luxury cars on the highest platform in the center of the exhibition hall. Then, he asked, "You said that I would not be able to afford any of the luxury cars in this auto show today. If so, let me ask you, those two are the top luxury sports cars in the world. Can you afford to buy those two cars?"

Jason sneered. "I can afford to buy any luxury car in this auto show except for those two cars. What about you? Even if you're interested in any of the luxury cars here today, I'm sure you will never be able to afford one!"

Chapter 293

After he was done criticizing Charlie Wade, Jason turned around and spoke to Claire Wilson Wilson. "Claire Wilson Wilson, I attach great importance to our collaboration this time. To express my sincerity toward you, you can pick any one of the luxury cars here today aside from the two cars in the center of the showroom. Pick any one of these cars since it is already time for you to replace the junk BMW 520 that you are driving right now. How about the Audi RS8? It is a very powerful car, and it is perfect for you!"

Jason had been coveting Claire Wilson Wilson for a long time, and the reason he invited Claire Wilson Wilson over here today was that he wanted to use his wealth and power to win Claire Wilson Wilson over under the guise of renovating the convention and exhibition center.

Jessica knew that Jason had always been interested in Claire Wilson Wilson. Therefore, she hurriedly said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, this is a token of appreciation from Mr. Grant. You should not refuse his kind gesture."

However, Claire Wilson Wilson rejected his offer immediately as she said, "Thank you, Mr. Grant, but I cannot accept such an expensive gift from you."

Jason laughed as he said, "The Audi RS8 is just two million dollars. It is nothing but a little pocket change to me. As long as you like it, I will pay for it and give it to you now."

Charlie Wade looked at Jason coldly as he said, "No, thank you. We already have our own cars, and even if Claire Wilson Wilson wanted a new car, she would not accept a car from you."

"In that case, would you be the one buying her a new car instead?" Jason quipped satirically. "I am not trying to look down on you, but which car would you be able to afford to buy for Claire Wilson Wilson in this showroom today?"

Charlie Wade stared at Jason playfully as he pointed at the Aston Martin ONE-77 and the limited edition Bugatti Veyron on the highest platform, smiling and saying, "How about those two cars that you could not afford to buy?"

"Oh, please!" Jason thought that Charlie Wade was ridiculing him on purpose because he could not afford to buy those cars. Therefore, he replied coldly, "Do not be so arrogant, young man. I've already told you that I can afford to buy all of the cars in this exhibition hall today except for those two cars. Can you afford to do so?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "If I am going to give Claire Wilson Wilson a new car, I would give her one of those two cars."

"Hahaha!" Jason laughed out loud before saying, "Do you even know what sports cars those are? You are just blowing a whistle here. I am not despising you, but those two cars are guarded by the security guards. You will not even be able to get near the cars, let alone buy it!"

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "I think you are the one who would not be able to get near the cars. You can't even touch the cars, right?"

Jason sneered immediately. "The Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center belongs to my family. Do you think that I do not have any power at all? If I wanted to touch the cars, do you really think the security guards would not give me any face?"

Charlie Wade shrugged as he replied, "I think that you are just the same as I am. If I can't touch the car, you can't touch it either. We are both in the same boat."

Jason exploded as soon as he heard Charlie Wade's words. Gritting his teeth in anger, he said, "Do you honestly think you are worthy enough to be compared to me?"

Charlie Wade nodded as he said, "Why, of course. As I said, there is not much difference between the both of us. If you do not believe me, why don't you go and try touching the cars?"

"Okay!" Jason accepted Charlie Wade's challenge without any hesitation at all. "Just wait. I will show you that I can touch the cars whenever I want to."

After saying that, Jason walked through the crowd of people as he headed toward the highest platform.

Charlie Wade had a cold expression on his face at this time.

Graham and Zeke had given those two cars to him, and they had already hired and paid for the security guards to look after the cars.

In fact, the security guards had been given instructions to ensure that no one else touched any of those two cars before Charlie Wade.

If Jason managed to touch the cars today, Charlie Wade would just look for the two of them to settle the score with them. At the very least, he would have to punish them for this crime!

But then again, even if Jason managed to touch the cars, so what? He would just take out the smart bracelet keys from his pocket and sit in the car himself. Charlie Wade wondered how Jason would react to that.

Chapter 294

Jason walked past the crowd of people before walking toward the security guard and saying, "Brother, I am the deputy general manager of the Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center. My family owns this convention and exhibition center. Could you allow me to step closer to appreciate the two cars at a closer distance?"

"No!" One of the security guards who had recently retired from the army replied firmly. "Our boss has already instructed us not to allow anyone to approach the cars. Only the owner of the car is allowed to approach the cars!"

Jason was very angry and frustrated at this moment.

D*mn! He was really not allowed to touch the cars at all.

This was extremely embarrassing. Moreover, this exhibition center was owned by his family!

If he was truly not allowed to touch either of the two cars, wouldn't that mean that he was exactly the same as Charlie Wade?

No! Jason could not afford to lose face to Charlie Wade.

Jason suppressed the frustration that he was feeling as he continued speaking to the security guards in a gentle tone. "Brother, I am also a car enthusiast and I own this exhibition hall. Just allow me to step in and take a closer look at the cars for a brief moment. I promise that I will definitely treat you well in the future."

The security guard was a veteran soldier with an upright personality. Therefore, he declined Jason's request without any hesitation at all. "Sir, I am just going to repeat myself one last time. If you are not the owner of these cars, you are not allowed to approach or get closer to these two cars!"

When Jason saw that the other party was refusing to give him any face at all, he was extremely angry and annoyed. Gritting his teeth angrily, he threatened the other party. "Do you know that my family owns this exhibition center? You are just a security guard, but you actually dare to go against me? Do you want me to get you fired immediately?"

The guard replied, "I am sorry, but I am a security guard working for a security company. I am not a security guard working for the Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center. Even if you are the boss of this exhibition center, you have no right to control or fire me at all!"

"You!" Jason was very embarrassed at this time. "You are ridiculous!"

After that, Jason yelled, "Do you believe that I can chase you out of my exhibition center right now?!"

The other party looked at Jason with a blank expression on his face as he said, "We have already signed a contract with the management team of Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center because we are renting this spot in your convention center today. So, you have completely no right to chase me out of the exhibition center. Moreover, my job is to protect the safety of this car. If you have any other questions or opinions, please do not hesitate to contact my boss directly."

Charlie Wade walked up to Jason, smiling before he asked, "Oh, Mr. Grant, what is the matter? Are you so furious because the security guards refuse to allow you to get closer so that you can touch the cars? It seems like we are the same after all!"

Jason glared at Charlie Wade and glanced at Claire Wilson Wilson with an embarrassed look on his face.

He had been bragging earlier, but it seemed as though the security guard refused to give him any face at all. He really could not touch the two cars even though he really wanted to prove that he could do so. This was such a shame!

When Jessica saw the frustrated expression on Jason's face, she quickly said to Charlie Wade, "You are nothing but a peasant, so who are you to compare yourself to Mr. Grant? Do you believe that I will ask the security guards to chase you out of the exhibition hall right this instant?"

Just then, a reporter stepped forward with a camera in his hand and said, "Brother, the security guards already told you that you are not allowed to touch the cars. So, please stop causing a scene here. You are blocking all of us, and we cannot take any good pictures of the cars at all."

The crowd of people also echoed, "Exactly! Why are you so desperate to touch the cars? Just take a look at it from afar!"

"He must be one of those vain people who want to touch the car and take a picture of himself touching the car to post it on his social media account!"

The expression on Jason's face was very ugly at this time. If he was not allowed to touch the cars, wouldn't he be the same as Charlie Wade?

As he thought about this, the expression on his face darkened as he approached the security guard once again. "I am giving you thirty seconds to move away. If you still try to block my way, I will chase all of you and these luxury cars out of my exhibition hall immediately! Let me see how you are going to proceed with the auto show, then!"

Chapter 295

At this time, a manager dressed in a suit hurried over as soon as he heard the commotion.

There was a group of sturdy and muscular bodyguards following closely behind him.

"What is happening? Who is causing a commotion here?"

When Jason saw the manager, he asked him arrogantly, "Are you the person-in-charge?"

"Yes." The man nodded before he continued speaking, "I am the executive manager of the auto show exhibition. My name is Luke Marshall. You are?"

Jason snorted before he said, "I am Jason Grant, the owner of the Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center!"

Luke nodded slightly before he replied, "So, you are Mr. Grant. What is the matter?"

Jason spoke to him coldly, "Your subordinates are truly very incapable! I want to go up to the platform so that I can take a closer look at the cars, but he refused to let me do so. What do you mean by that? Are you looking down on me?"

Luke smiled before he replied, "Sorry, Mr. Grant, but these two cars have already been bought by a customer. We are just waiting for the customer to pick up the cars. Since these two cars are so rare and expensive, we cannot allow just anyone to touch the cars if they are not the owner."

Jason frowned before he said, "Does that mean you are not going to give me face as well?"

"I am really sorry, Mr. Grant," Luke replied immediately. "I cannot give face to anyone on this matter. We have received very specific instructions that no one is allowed to touch those two cars as long as they are not the owner of the cars."

Jason was extremely furious. He could not believe that Luke would turn down his request in front of so many people, especially since Claire Wilson Wilson was also here right now!

He was furious!

Well, they could not blame him for going crazy, then!

Jason shouted angrily, "Okay! Since you are so powerful, I believe that our small exhibition center is too small to accommodate you. Please take all your cars and leave the exhibition hall immediately!"

Luke replied, "Mr. Grant, don't you think that this is too much? We have already signed the contract, and we have already paid upfront for the rental of this exhibition hall. Do you really want to breach the contract?"

"So what if I choose to breach the contract?" Jason replied in annoyance. "I would rather pay you the liquidated damages as long as I can get rid of you immediately!"

At this time, Jessica hurriedly persuaded Jason in a low voice, "Mr. Grant, if we breach the contract, we will have to pay three times the amount that the other party has paid for the rental of the exhibition hall. If the chairman finds out about this matter, he will surely be angry..."

Jason was stunned again.

Charlie Wade laughed as he said, "Mr. Grant, do you mean to tell me that someone of your status cannot even touch those two cars at all? Is it honestly that difficult for you to touch the cars? To think that you are the general manager of the Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center! This is such a shame!"

Jason replied angrily, "Who said that I cannot touch those cars?!"

After he was done speaking, Jason turned around and pushed Luke aside before saying, "I will touch those two cars today no matter what happens! If you do not want to cause any trouble, you'd better stand aside. Otherwise, I will definitely teach you a lesson!"

Luke was very anxious when he saw Jason rushing toward the limited edition Aston Martin ONE-77. He hurriedly called for the security guards to stop him.

Jason did not expect that the security guards would really try to stop him. Therefore, he yelled out loudly, "I want all the security guards in the exhibition center to come over to me now!"

Even though the security guards who were guarding the cars were hired from an external party, there were a lot of security guards working for the exhibition center itself. Who was afraid of whom?!

When Luke saw the security guards working for the exhibition center running toward them, he called Graham immediately because he was afraid that there would be a conflict.

Chapter 296

"Mr. Quinton, there is a Mr. Grant from the Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center who is insisting on touching the Aston Martin ONE-77. There is a fight going on right now. What should I do now?"

Graham was extremely shocked, and he immediately burst out, "I bought that car for Mr. Wade! I don't care who wants to touch the cars. Other than Mr. Wade, no one else is allowed to touch the cars! If anyone tries to touch the car, I want the security guard to break his hand!"

Luke hurriedly replied, "Mr. Quinton, the Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center belongs to the Grant family. Wouldn't it be a little too much if we did that?"

"So what?! Who cares about the Grant family!" Graham yelled violently over the phone. "The Grant family is nothing to me! I am giving you an order right now. If that kid with the last name Grant dares to lay a finger on the car that I bought, I want you to get out of Aurouss Hilll, and you'd better pray that I never see you again!"

Graham had just gotten the two magical pills from Charlie Wade yesterday and had been so excited that he could not fall asleep at all throughout the entire night. Now, someone was actually trying to touch the car that he had bought for Mr. Wade?

The Grant family could not be compared to the Quinton family at all. Moreover, Graham had Charlie Wade to support him. Therefore, he was not worried about Jason Grant at all.

Luke could feel his heart wavering when he heard Graham's words. When he looked up, he realized that Jason had already brought a few security guards with him and was choking the security guard who was guarding the car.

Jason said arrogantly, "If you refuse to get out of the way, I will ask my men to deal with you immediately!"

Luke was trembling in anger. Was this how he was going to treat the security guards who were merely doing their job? Moreover, these security guards had already undergone extensive training, so how could the security guards at the exhibition hall be compared to them at all?

Besides, he had already received instructions from Graham, and he was afraid that he would also be in trouble if something went wrong. Therefore, Luke pointed his finger at Jason before he said, "Hit him! I want you to beat him up. Even if you kill him today, Mr. Quinton will surely look out for you."

The security guards hired by Graham could no longer tolerate Jason's terrible attitude. He was really itching to teach him a lesson. As soon as he heard Luke's order, he rushed toward Jason as he yelled, "Brothers, let's teach this guy a lesson today!"

After saying that, the security guard punched Jason directly in the face before saying, "I have wanted to hit you for a very long time, you b*stard!"

Jason was shocked that the security guard really dared to hit him. He yelled angrily, "I am from the Grant family, and this is my establishment! You actually dared to hit me?!"

"Screw you!" The security guard who used to be a veteran soldier yelled as he raised his leg and kicked Jason hard in his stomach.

As soon as he was kicked, Jason fell to the ground and clutched tightly onto his stomach as he rolled around on the ground.

The security guards working at the convention and exhibition center could not be compared to the security guards hired by Graham. After a short while, all of them were already laying on the ground after getting beaten up.

Jessica rushed over to Jason's side as she cursed angrily at the security guard. "Are you guys looking for death? You actually dared to hit Mr. Grant?! Do you know the Grant family? They will never let you off!"

At this time, Luke simply replied coldly, "The Grant family? Let me tell you something. This car was bought by the head of the Quinton family! He said that the Grant family is nothing to him at all, and he asked Mr. Grant to challenge him if he dares to do so."

"The Quinton family..." Jason was dumbfounded when he heard Luke's words.

Jason was in pain, but he was also terrified at the same time.

The Quinton family?

The Quinton family was one of the most powerful and wealthiest families in the whole of Aurouss Hilll! They were second only to the Moore family!

Besides that, the Quinton family had always had a good relationship with the Moore family.

In contrast, the only thing that the Grant family had was this exhibition center. There was a vast difference between the Quinton family and the Grant family. How could he possibly stir up trouble with the Quinton family?

Jason ignored the pain that he was feeling in his body as he said apologetically, "I am sorry! I am truly very sorry! I did not know that this car belongs to the Quinton family. I am sorry..."

Chapter 297

Jason was extremely frightened, but he was also very furious and angry at this time.

He had gotten beaten up in the convention and exhibition center that he owned, and he even had to kneel and apologize to the person who had beat him up. Most importantly, he was beaten up and humiliated in front of Claire Wilson Wilson. This was the biggest humiliation that he had ever suffered in his life!

However, Jason knew that he could not afford to provoke the Quinton family. Therefore, he could only curse at Charlie Wade in his heart.

He felt that all of this had only happened because Charlie Wade was the one who had challenged him to touch the car. As a result, he had been beaten up and humiliated in front of Claire Wilson Wilson. He had to exact revenge on Charlie Wade! He had to make him pay for what he had done today!

At this time, Luke quickly ordered the security guards, "Okay, stop beating him already."

The security guards stopped hitting him immediately. The security guards working for the convention and exhibition center had already been badly beaten up, and they were all lying on the ground.

Charlie Wade stared at Jason who was sitting on the ground and smiled as he said, "Mr. Grant, it seems as though you really have no way of touching those two cars at all!"

Right then, Jason hated Charlie Wade to death, and he honestly did not expect him to continue provoking him at this time. Jason glared at Charlie Wade as he cursed, "Charlie Wade! You are the reason why I am suffering this humiliation today! I will make sure that you pay for this!"

Charlie Wade smiled as he replied, "What? Did I do anything wrong?"

After that, Charlie Wade looked at Claire Wilson Wilson who was standing next to him before asking, "My dear wife, please tell me whether I did anything wrong?"

Claire Wilson Wilson felt a little embarrassed at this time because she was placed in a tough spot. She had indeed been very annoyed and angry when Jason was ridiculing Charlie Wade earlier. However, she truly did not expect things to turn out like this.

The reason why she did not lose her temper at Jason earlier was simply that she was hoping they could still collaborate on the refurbishment of the exhibition center.

However, Claire Wilson Wilson was filled with disgust when she finally saw Jason's true colors. Therefore, she looked at him seriously before she said, "Mr. Grant, you were the one who started provoking Charlie Wade in the first place. You were also the one who insisted on touching the car, and that is the reason why you got beaten up. What has this got anything to do with Charlie Wade? I hope that you will be able to tell right from wrong and stop causing trouble for Charlie Wade!"

When Jason realized that Claire Wilson Wilson was also filled with resentment and looking down on him, he glared at Charlie Wade, gritting his teeth as he yelled, "You useless piece of trash! I will teach you a lesson."

Charlie Wade looked at him in shock as he asked, "What did you call me?"

Jason replied, "I called you a useless piece of trash! Are you deaf?"

At this time, Jessica, who was standing at the side, also chimed in and said, "Charlie Wade, you are nothing but a useless son-in-law who is living off his wife and her family. You should be glad that Mr. Grant is only calling you a piece of trash."

Charlie Wade was not mad at all. He simply smiled before saying, "You said that I am just a useless piece of trash, but it seems as though you cannot touch those two cars at all, even getting beaten up because you wanted to do so. Why don't you tell me who is truly the piece of trash?"

The crowd of people burst into laughter as soon as they heard Charlie Wade's words.

The expression on Jason's face was extremely ugly at this time. Gritting his teeth, he said, "Don't act as if you will be able to touch the cars if you want to. Why don't you show me whether you will be able to touch the cars?"

Jason thought that he would be the one fooling Charlie Wade this time.

If Charlie Wade fell for his trick and tried to touch the cars, he would certainly get beaten up as well.

When that happened, Jason would be able to save a little bit of face for himself.

However, Charlie Wade unexpectedly replied very calmly, "What is the point of simply touching the car? Would you like me to test-drive the car for you instead?"

"Hahaha!" Jason sneered immediately. "Test-drive? Who do you think you are? You are just a useless piece of trash and you actually think you will be able to test-drive those cars today? If you could even touch the doorknobs on the cars, I will admit defeat immediately!"

Jason was not afraid to challenge Charlie Wade because Luke and his men were all guarding the cars anyway. If Charlie Wade actually tried to touch those cars, he would certainly get beaten up too!

Charlie Wade smiled and pointed at the Aston Martin ONE-77 in front of him before he asked Claire Wilson Wilson, "Wife, would you like to take this car out for a drive? If you want to, I will bring you on a drive right now!"

As soon as she heard Charlie Wade's words, Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly pulled him aside before whispering, "Charlie Wade, what are you doing? Do you really want Mr. Grant to win?"

At this time, Jason struggled to stand up before sneering at Charlie Wade. "Charlie Wade, what are you trying to prove? Do you even know anything about this car? Did you know that there are only seventy-seven units of these cars in the world and that none of them are available for sale in the market? You are dreaming of driving this car when my dad has not even sat in this car before!"

Charlie Wade shrugged as he replied, "This is my car. Why can't I take it for a drive?"

Chapter 298

Jason laughed even louder when he heard Charlie Wade's words. "Charlie Wade, are you addicted to lying? Do you even know your own place or status at all? Do you really think you have the qualifications to ride in this car?"

Jessica also said disdainfully, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I am honestly disappointed that you have married such a useless person who likes to boast."

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson felt completely helpless and could only stare at Charlie Wade with a disappointed expression on her face.

Was this guy seriously mentally retarded? Did he truly not understand the consequences of his actions even on an occasion like this?

Charlie Wade could not be bothered to explain himself, and so, he simply took out the two smart bracelet keys from his pocket before waving them in front of Luke who was in charge of the auto show. After that, he asked lightly, "Have you seen these before?"

Luke was shocked when he saw the smart bracelet keys in Charlie Wade's hands.

After that, he suddenly recalled what Graham had told him over the phone.

Oh my God!

Was this young man Mr. Wade?!

It seemed like it.

They were all calling him Charlie Wade Wade!

Therefore, Luke quickly bowed down as he said humbly, "Hello, Mr. Wade! I am sorry that I did not notice you before."

After he was done speaking, he quickly pointed at the two cars behind him before saying, "Mr. Wade, you can drive these two cars away anytime you like. If you do not want to drive it back yourself, we can arrange for the transport company to send them to your house."

The crowd was stunned at this scene.

Jason was so shocked that his eyes looked as though they were about to pop out of its sockets. Jessica was equally dumbfounded.

Luke dared to order someone to beat Jason up, but he had actually bowed and greeted Charlie Wade so politely as though the latter was his grandson?!

What was even more incredible was the fact that according to Luke's words, these two sports cars belonged to Charlie Wade?!

What was going on!?

Claire Wilson Wilson was also very surprised and did not know what was happening.

However, Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly had a vague idea of what was going on when she recalled that Zeke had given Charlie Wade the villa at Thompson First.

Charlie Wade must have gone around giving Feng Shui advice to the rich people again!

Just then, Jason hurried over to Luke before saying, "Mr. Marshall, this must be a terrible mistake. Charlie Wade is known to be the poor son-in-law of the Wilson family! He is not the person you think he is!"

Jessica stared at Luke before chiming in, "Exactly! Mr. Marshall, just look at Charlie Wade. He is so poor, how could he possibly afford to buy such an expensive sports car? I think that he probably bought those two bracelet keys online and brought it here to the showroom to pretend that these cars belonged to him! You should not be fooled by him!"

Charlie Wade snorted before he led Claire Wilson Wilson toward the Aston Martin ONE-77.

The security guards who were adamantly protecting the cars from being touched by others naturally stepped back and made way for Charlie Wade when they saw Luke being so polite to him.

Charlie Wade held Claire Wilson Wilson's hand as he led her toward the driver's seat. As soon as they approached the car, Charlie Wade suddenly heard a beeping sound.

The headlights, which looked like shark eyes, lit up immediately!

The LCD screen and ambient light in the car also lit up at the same time.

At this time, the Aston Martin ONE-77's iconic pair of scissor doors rose up automatically

Chapter 299

Everyone on the scene was shocked when Charlie Wade unlocked the Aston Martin ONE-77 with the smart bracelet key.

They could only exclaim in their hearts: The Aston Martin ONE-77 actually belonged to Charlie Wade!

Jason was also dumbfounded at this time. What was happening?!

Wasn't Charlie Wade just a broke son-in-law?

How could he possibly afford to buy such an expensive car?!

Jessica was also stunned. "This... this is unbelievable. How could this man possibly afford to buy an Aston Martin ONE-77 when he was such a poor and useless man?"

Then, Charlie Wade led Claire Wilson Wilson to the passenger seat before smiling and saying, "My dear wife, why don't you get into the car? I will take you for a spin!"

Claire Wilson Wilson looked at Charlie Wade with a confused expression on her face as she asked, "Charlie Wade, is this car really yours?"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Of course. The key is already in my hand. Why would I lie to you?"

After saying that, Charlie Wade quickly whispered into her ear, "Wife, to be honest, Graham lent this car to me so that I can experience driving this car for a short while. I deliberately pretended that this car belonged to me because Jason was provoking me earlier! Please do not expose me in front of him!"

Truth be told, Charlie Wade was not very interested in these two cars because he felt that they were too showy. Moreover, if Douglas had not told him that his wife was here today, he would not even have bothered to come here to collect these cars.

Besides, Charlie Wade understood his wife's personality. She would never want to drive such a showy car out on a daily basis.

That was the reason why he made up that lie. After taking his wife on a drive in this car so that she could experience it for herself, he would hand the two cars over to Luke for safekeeping.

When Claire Wilson Wilson found out the truth, she was instantly relieved.

She was really afraid that Charlie Wade would continue giving Feng Shui advice to rich people because she was afraid that he would eventually get into trouble.

Since someone else was just lending him the car so that he could experience it, she did not need to worry too much.

As she thought about it, Claire Wilson Wilson felt a lot more relaxed, and she was also curious to find out more about the Aston Martin ONE-77.

Even though Claire Wilson Wilson was not a vain or materialistic woman, she also wanted to sit in and experience such a luxurious sports car for herself.

Therefore, she bent over slightly before settling inside the passenger seat of the super luxurious Aston Martin ONE-77!

Charlie Wade did not get into the car immediately. Instead, he simply looked at Jason and Jessica before he said, "A piece of trash will always be a piece of trash. You should go back and make more money before you come out and embarrass yourselves again!"

Having said that, Charlie Wade got into the driver's seat before turning on the engine.

Within a few seconds, the sports car's powerful engine roared throughout the entire exhibition hall.

Claire Wilson Wilson had never driven such a luxurious car before. After getting into the car, Charlie Wade sat in the driving position and swallowed hard before gripping the steering wheel excitedly as he started the car.

The top luxurious Aston Martin ONE-77 slowly rolled down the slope on the other side of the booth as Charlie Wade drove out of the exhibition hall.

The powerful roar of the engine caused a huge sensation in the exhibition hall.

Jason was completely stunned. Did the car truly belong to that piece of trash? What was going on?!

Jessica was also pale as she thought about it. She had insulted Charlie Wade so much earlier, but he actually owned two of those super-luxurious sports cars?

She could not help but mutter, "No, this is impossible! How could the useless son-in-law of the Wilson family afford to buy those cars? How did he get hold of the car keys?"

Jason could not accept reality either. Gritting his teeth, he said, "That piece of trash must have stolen the car keys!"

Luke was very angry when he saw that these two idiots were still insulting Charlie Wade at this time. They were indeed asking to die!

Luke turned around and stared at Jason and Jessica before yelling angrily, "You have already offended Mr. Wade, and you are still barking like a mad dog here?"

Then, he quickly instructed the security guards, "Hit him hard!"

Jason was immediately knocked to the ground with three punches and two kicks from the security guards. After that, they grabbed his hair before punching him in the face repeatedly until his face was completely swollen.

Chapter 300

Jessica was also beaten until her hair was disheveled and her mouth was crooked at this time. Jason could not help but yell out in pain.

After beating them up, Luke ordered the security guards to throw them out of the exhibition hall.

Jason lay on the concrete floor as he yelled angrily, "D*mn it! Who the hell is this Mr. Wade?!"

Jessica also said angrily, "He is just the son-in-law of the Wilson family. I think that he is just a driver. How could he possibly have any status at all?!"

Blood was already spewing out of Jason's mouth as he yelled, "That useless piece of trash! I will never let him off so easily."

Gritting his teeth, he continued, "And Claire Wilson Wilson! She will never be able to escape from me!"

Therefore, the Aston Martin ONE-77 was driven out of the exhibition hall just like that.

The super luxurious sports car aroused the attention and curiosity of countless people on the street.

Claire Wilson Wilson also felt that it was a very thrilling and novel experience as this was her first time riding in an Aston Martin.

After all, it was the top supercar in the world, and any young person would want to have the opportunity to experience it at least once in their lifetime.

However, Claire Wilson Wilson only wanted to experience it.

After driving for a short while, Claire Wilson Wilson said to Charlie Wade, "Let's drive the car back to the exhibition center. I do not want to spoil the car."

Charlie Wade replied, "Why are you so worried? Mr. Quinton is a very nice person."

"I don't think that it is very appropriate to take advantage of him," Claire Wilson Wilson replied earnestly. "Anyway, since we have already experienced what it is like to ride in an Aston Martin ONE-77, let's return the car so that we can go home."

Charlie Wade nodded when he saw how persistent Claire Wilson Wilson was.

After that, he drove back to the exhibition hall before parking the car back on the platform.

As soon as he got out of the car, Luke greeted him respectfully before he asked, "Mr. Wade, how does it feel to drive the sports car? Are you satisfied?"

Charlie Wade nodded before he said in a low voice, "First, I want you to find a place for me to store these two cars safely. I will take these cars from you when I need to use them."

Luke did not ask too many questions, simply nodding as he said, "Mr. Wade, you can rest assured that I will help you keep these cars safe!"

Charlie Wade smiled in satisfaction. "Then, I will go home with my wife first."

"Please let me send you home, Mr. Wade."

"No need!"

Claire Wilson Wilson could not help but sigh on the way back home. "Initially, I thought that I would be able to try and negotiate a partnership with the Aurouss Hilll Convention and Exhibition Center. That way, I would be able to invite them to attend my opening ceremony tomorrow. However, it looks as though that is not happening anymore."

Charlie Wade asked Claire Wilson Wilson, "Dear wife, will you be officially opening your studio tomorrow?"

"Yes, that's right," Claire Wilson Wilson replied immediately. "After so many days of preparation, I think I am finally ready to open my studio officially."

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson said melancholically, "It's truly a pity that I will not be able to invite anyone with a good reputation to come for my opening ceremony. I have only invited a few of my classmates, you, and my parents."

Charlie Wade nodded, but he was thinking in his heart, 'Who said that you would not be able to invite anyone with a good reputation? Your husband will get it done for you!'

Doris from Emgrand Group, Jasmine from the Moore family, Graham from the Quinton family, Zeke from the White family, the mobster boss, Don Albertt, and also Finn from Treasure Pavilion.

They were among some of the most high profile and powerful people in Aurouss Hilll, and they were all calling him their master. As long as he gave them an order, they would undoubtedly drop by his wife's studio to attend her opening ceremony. When that happened, his wife's business would surely cause a huge sensation in Aurouss Hilll.

As soon as he thought about it, Charlie Wade immediately sent out some text messages on his cell phone.

"My wife's studio will be officially opened tomorrow. Please make some time to come over and join us for the opening ceremony. The address is..."

After sending his text message, Charlie Wade kept receiving text replies.

The first to reply was Jasmine. "Mr. Wade, don't worry! I will definitely come over to congratulate your wife tomorrow!"

After that, Graham replied: "Thank you for the invitation, Mr. Wade. I will definitely come over to join you for the opening ceremony tomorrow!"

Zeke replied: "Mr. Wade, I will make sure to bring my son and nephew along with me to congratulate your wife tomorrow! After all, I really want those two rascals to apologize to you in person..."

In fact, everyone was very excited to receive Charlie Wade's invitation because they felt that it was a good opportunity for them to get closer to him.

Claire Wilson Wilson initially had some qualms about her opening ceremony tomorrow. She would never have expected her husband to prepare a grand opening ceremony for her!

After getting back home, Claire Wilson Wilson quickly washed up so that she could rest earlier and prepare for the opening ceremony of her studio tomorrow morning.

Charlie Wade also went to bed early that night and all that he thought about that night was how he was going to make his wife the most talked about person in Aurouss Hilll tomorrow.

...

The next day was the day that Claire Wilson Wilson had scheduled for the opening ceremony of her studio.

As Claire Wilson Wilson did not have much money since she was just starting her own business, Claire Wilson Wilson rented a small office in the slightly remote Bright Star Building.

Even though Bright Star Building was a subsidiary property owned by Emgrand Group, it was not worth mentioning at all. Emgrand Group could not be bothered to operate the building on their own and they rented the office units out to some intermediary companies.

Initially, Charlie Wade was planning to ask Doris to vacate one of the floors in Bright Star Building for his wife to use as her office.

However, as he thought about it, he felt it would be too difficult to explain it to Claire Wilson Wilson. Therefore, he decided to allow Claire Wilson Wilson to use her own money to rent a small office in the building instead.

At this time, Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson were both standing outside of the small office as they waited for the arrival of the guests.

Claire Wilson Wilson had already sent some invitation letters out to several partners that she used to work with in Wilson Group in the past and she even plucked up the courage to send an invitation letter to Doris from Emgrand Group. However, she was still a little nervous because she did not know if any of those guests would show up.

It was very difficult for her to start up a company on her own and if her opening ceremony was a failure, everyone in the industry would definitely look down on her.

When Charlie Wade saw the anxious expression on Claire Wilson Wilson's face, he quickly assured and comforted her, "My dear wife, it's still early. When the time comes, all the guests will definitely be here. Don't worry too much about it."

The scheduled opening time was ten o'clock in the morning and it was just a little after nine o'clock right then. Therefore, it was only normal that no one had arrived yet at that time.

A short while later, Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly received a phone call.

After answering the call, she found out that it was the receptionist at the front desk of Bright Star Building informing her in advance that the Wilson family was here to visit.

When Charlie Wade heard the voice over the phone, he was very surprised. "The Wilson family? What are they doing here? Did you send them an invitation letter?"

Claire Wilson Wilson shook her head before she said, "Why would I invite them to my opening ceremony after our disagreement? Perhaps the reason why they're here today...is to laugh at me. The receptionist told me that Grandma came here in person with my uncle's family. Charlie Wade, I hope you won't have a confrontation with them later."

Charlie Wade nodded before he smiled and said, "As long as they don't try to stir up any trouble, I promise not to engage in any arguments with them. Today is supposed to be a happy day."

Chapter 302

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded, the frown between her eyes indicating her anxiety.

Soon, from the outside passage, Lady Wilson's slow walking pace sounded, paired with the sound of her cane hitting the floor. Behind her were Christopher, Harold, and Wendy.

Harold, who was beaten up and arrested some time ago, had just been bailed out by Lady Wilson from the police station. Thus, he was full of resentment and hatred as he glared at Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade, of course, couldn't care less.

Today was his wife's office's opening ceremony, he didn't want to have any conflict with these hooligans. He would not jump on them as long as they kept themselves decent.

Wendy walked ahead and sneered, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you didn't even say hi to grandma, when did you become so rude?"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied flatly, "I was kicked out of the Wilson family, so, in other words, we are not related!"

"D*mn it!" Lady Wilson banged her cane to the ground hard and said furiously, "You are a descendant of the Wilson family, and we are related by blood. You were born as one of us, and when you die, you'll be our family's ghost too!"

Charlie Wade said sarcastically, "You're a little double-standard, aren't you? When you kicked her out of your family, you said that she was not part of your family, yet now, you claim that she is one of you, alive or dead? Isn't that a little too contradicting?"

Harold grit his teeth and said, "Shut up, loser! You don't have any say here!"

Charlie Wade glared back at him. "Did you not have enough punches the other day? Do you want me to loosen you up a little?"

Harold cowardly shrank his neck inward like a turtle and stepped aside.

He had already tasted Charlie Wade's strength firsthand when he had tried to take over the villa, so he now knew that he was not on par with Charlie Wade regardless of the number of people he had. Hence, the best he could do was to remain silent.

Claire Wilson Wilson pursed her lips and turned her gaze toward Lady Wilson, saying, "Sorry, you are not welcome at my opening ceremony today. Please leave now."

"Opening ceremony?" Lady Wilson burst out in disdain. "Claire Wilson Wilson, do you truly think that someone will come to your door if you operate a small studio like this?"

Christopher giggled contemptuously and chimed in, "I heard that you even sent an invitation to Emgrand Group, am I right? Did it ever cross your mind how the Emgrand Group would look at your tiny little office?"

"That's right," Lady Wilson interjected. "Claire Wilson Wilson, after all, we are a family. It's important to stay united and in accord. You are my granddaughter, you have my blood in your body. How long do you want to fight with me?"

She continued with her brainwashing. "Look at you, working in such a dilapidated office by yourself without any money or resources. Why don't you come back to the Wilson Group? I'll let you be the director just like before, and you can work for me like you always did. I'll give you the shares of the company and even elect you as the successor. What do you say?"

The Wilson family was not doing very well now.

The Emgrand Group had broken off their collaboration with them and even blacklisted them, and in addition to that, the White family had called off their engagement with Wendy. She couldn't count on Harold at all.

Lady Wilson's only hope was to get Claire Wilson Wilson back to her company, and hopefully, it could break the unfortunate chain and make a breakthrough in their business.

Maybe Claire Wilson Wilson could even get the Emgrand Group's contract back! That way, the other companies would come to them for more projects, and she could reverse their situation in no time.

Never did Lady Wilson expect that Claire Wilson Wilson would simply shake her head and say calmly, "Thanks, but no thanks. I'm not interested, I just want to do my own thing."

Christopher sneered. "Claire Wilson Wilson, I suggest you have some self-consciousness. Don't you see how desolate your office is at your opening ceremony? Did anyone come to congratulate you? Do you honestly think you can make it work? I bet you'll go bankrupt before you start!"

Charlie Wade's expression was full of disdain. "It's none of your business! I can make the prominent figures in Aurouss Hillll come and congratulate Claire Wilson Wilson whenever I want!"

Chapter 303

Harold smirked and said in a sarcastic tone, "Charlie Wade, go ahead with your drama. I bet your so-called acquaintances are just some low-life gangsters and nobodies. Do you really think you're so influential and powerful? I don't believe you're able to invite any prominent figures!"

Wendy chimed in the sarcastic bandwagon. "A loser like Charlie Wade is best at bragging. If no one attends your opening ceremony, you and this office will become Aurouss Hillll's laughing stocks. Let's see how you'll get jobs or projects then!"

Claire Wilson Wilson didn't show any expression as she listened to the insults but anxiety slowly brewed in her heart.

To put it bluntly, opening ceremonies were occasions that displayed company owners' network connections and resources.

If many guests were to attend the opening ceremony, it would show that the company had a strong business network and foundation especially if VIPs were among the guests. Such news would spread around their circle and many people would regard the company as reliable and trustworthy.

However, if they didn't have any guests on the day, it was like making an announcement to the public that their company had no network connections and resources. No one would dare seek the company even for the tiniest project.

It would be a great pleasure if Emgrand Group could send someone to attend the opening ceremony, but Claire Wilson Wilson wasn't certain if they would entertain her.

At that moment, Lady Wilson spoke. "Claire Wilson Wilson, look around you, it's almost ten now but there's no one here except us. I don't think you can gain anything in this small office. Why don't you return to Wilson Group and help us? Not only would you have a steady job but it's also better than receiving cold stares from others."

When the Wilson family found out that Claire Wilson Wilson's company was about to open, they had contacted some previous partners who had good relationships with them and asked them not to attend her opening ceremony. They obliged after learning that Claire Wilson Wilson was part of the Wilson family and declared that they would not collaborate with her in the future.

That was also why Lady Wilson was confident that there would not be any distinguished guests today. It would devastate Claire Wilson Wilson even further and she would be able to control her better in the future!

Indeed, Claire Wilson Wilson was very anxious and agitated right now. She bit her lips and stomped nervously.

Charlie Wade took her hand and said in an earnest tone, "Dear, so what if there aren't any guests today? I'm here with you and that's enough!"

Claire Wilson Wilson looked back at him, nodding with a smile and feeling a warmth wrapping her heart.

Lady Wilson, on the other hand, sneered and said, "Charlie Wade, you're overly confident, aren't you? What good are you here? Can you bring big shots here? Can you get her projects and jobs? Without the support of Wilson Group, you're driving yourself to a dead end!"

Charlie Wade said arrogantly, "Claire Wilson Wilson's company will definitely only get better! Wilson Group in its heyday is nothing to Claire Wilson Wilson, let alone Wilson Group that is on the verge of bankruptcy! To be more successful than she was with you guys is a piece of cake for Claire Wilson Wilson!"

"Huh, cocky fellow!"

Lady Wilson felt that she was greatly insulted upon hearing Charlie Wade said that Wilson Group was on the verge of bankruptcy and Claire Wilson Wilson could do better than Wilson Group in its glorious moment! She stomped her cane to the floor angrily and growled, "You're just a loser who married into our family, how dare you raise your voice here!"

Charlie Wade smiled slyly. "Raise my voice? Haha, I'm just stating the facts. If you don't believe me, let's just wait and see!"

Harold sneered. "Alright, Charlie Wade, we'll wait and see if you can expand this company."

The minutes passed by and the opening ceremony was approaching.

Claire Wilson Wilson was getting more and more flustered. She kept shifting her gaze between her watch and the main door.

Charlie Wade tried to comfort her to no avail.

Chapter 304

He was perplexed and casual though. He had already sent an invitation to Emgrand Group, so Doris Young would and must attend.

She was probably preparing the gift since she was not here yet!

Christopher put on a pompous expression and said, "Well, do you still think you're so well connected?"

It was almost ten o'clock. If there were any guests coming, they would have arrived at the door by then.

However, the entrance was empty and quiet. Apparently, no one would show up.

Wendy said in a cocky tone, "Dad, the loser said it doesn't matter if they have no guests today, he alone is enough. I wonder how powerful he is? Does he really think he's somebody here in Aurouss Hilll?"

At this moment, the voice from the front desk resonated from a distance away. It seemed that she deliberately raised her voice.

"Announcing the arrival of Mr. Travis Lane of Lancaster..."

Travis Lane?

Charlie Wade was a little bewildered. The last time he had met Travis was when the White family brought Jack Yalaman to set up the metaphysics competition and he killed Jack by summoning the Thunder Order. He didn't invite him to his wife's opening ceremony, why was he here?

The Wilson family was equally stunned!

Travis Lane? The richest man in Lancaster? Why was he here?

As soon as Travis arrived at the door, he walked straight into the office where Charlie Wade was standing.

The Wilson family exchanged surprise and peculiar glances with each other. Christopher walked ahead and said, "I met a businessman from Lancaster a few days ago and I heard he's quite close to Travis Lane. Could it be that he'd introduced me to Travis Lane?"

Then, Christopher spruced up his attire and went ahead to greet him.

Lady Wilson and the rest of the clan didn't dare to be cocky. They followed him sheepishly.

As the chubby Travis walked into the office, he ignored Christopher, who marched forward to greet him. Instead, he went straight to Charlie Wade and said in a shrill tone, "Mr... Mr. Wade, I've finally made it."

As everyone watched in bewilderment, Charlie Wade nodded calmly and asked, "Why are you here?"

Travis said respectfully, "Mr. Wade, it is your wife's new office's opening ceremony today. I must come to congratulate you and your wife!"

Christopher caught up with them and interjected with a wide smile on his face, "Hi, Mr. Lane, you're here! Let's go inside and have a chat. It's not appropriate for you to stand here and talk..."

Travis was trying to butter Charlie Wade up, so he was agitated when someone interrupted their conversation. His smiling face suddenly darkened and he squinted at Christopher like a king staring at a lowly peasant before he said coldly, "Who are you? Don't you see that I'm talking to Mr. Wade?"

Awkward, Christopher cleared his throat and tried again, "I'm Christopher Wilson...May I know if Mr. Mark from Lancaster even mentioned me to you?"

Travis frowned irritably and said, "I don't know you and I certainly don't know any Mr. Mark. I'm here today to congratulate Mrs. Wade on her office's opening!"

Chapter 305

Travis Lane's remarks sent a shock wave across the office and the Wilson family members blinked in astonishment.

Did he actually come to congratulate Claire Wilson Wilson?!

He was the richest man in Lancaster!

When and how did Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson strike up the relationship with him?!

Christopher was utterly shocked. He had never expected the man to be so rude to him and snap at him right in front of everyone. Embarrassed, he quickly retreated and stood aside.

Wendy frowned in confusion and whispered to Harold, "Hey, is this chubby man really the richest man in Lancaster? Why does he feel like an actor hired to impersonate as a ploy to fool us? Why would any prominent figure be so kind and respectful to a loser..."

Harold shook his head and whispered back, "Yeah, I don't think he's real too..."

None of the people present had ever seen Travis Lane before, but they had heard the rumors about his notoriety and strictness in managing his business. The man looked nothing like the version in the rumors as he talked softly and gently with Charlie Wade.

Travis took out an exquisite box from his bag and handed it to Claire Wilson Wilson. "Mrs. Wade, congratulations on the opening of your company, please accept my little gift."

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little astonished. She didn't invite Travis nor did she even know him, so she was wondering if she should accept the gift.

Charlie Wade smiled and nudged her softly. "Dear, it's a congratulatory gift. You should accept it..."

Claire Wilson Wilson took the box shyly and wanted to put the box away but Wendy urged from behind her, "Claire Wilson Wilson, it's a gift from Mr. Lane. Shouldn't you let us take a look?"

"Yeah, Mr. Lane is a big boss with a net worth of hundreds of billions of dollars, his gift must be very expensive," Harold added.

Claire Wilson Wilson looked at Charlie Wade for a hint, then slowly unwrapped the box under everyone's gaze.

Inside the exquisite gift box was a crystal-clear jade pendant.

The pendant had no impurities at all and the emerald jade sparkled under the light, illuminating its translucent and bright texture.

Lady Wilson locked her gaze at the pendant as if her eyes were hooked on the jade completely.

She recognized the pendant—it was The Breezy Moon that was auctioned off at Eastcliff some time ago!

It was sold at a high price of fifty million dollars to an ultra-rich man in Lancaster. She had never thought that the buyer was actually Travis.

Her eyes turned green as she stared at the pendant. If the Wilson family got hold of it, it could reverse their misfortune!

Wendy said in an envious tone, "Huh, I didn't know that someone would actually come here. I wonder what kind of luck they've had to have known Mr. Lane..."

As she finished, the front desk's loud announcement resonated again, "Miss Claire Wilson Wilson Wilson, your congratulatory gifts are here!" It followed by an ear-deafening rumbling coming from outside.

Everyone walked out of the building and when they looked up, they saw how the square of the building had been cleared and a huge helicopter was slowly descending.

Then, the entire staff of the building started to get busy.

They moved one flower basket after another and one gift after another from the helicopter into Claire Wilson Wilson's office.

Chapter 306

The entire building started to get very lively and chaotic out of sudden. A simple opening ceremony had created such an extravagant scene that even involved a helicopter!

Everyone poked their heads to look at the few people standing in front of the office.

Claire Wilson Wilson was in a daze. She had indeed invited some people, but they were not very close to her and she didn't know anyone who could afford a helicopter.

Someone in the crowd exclaimed, "Isn't that flower basket the legendary Tiffany limited edition? I heard that one flower basket costs more than one million dollars!"

"Wow, look at all those flowers! I don't think I've ever seen them before, they're so beautiful!"

"These are Dutch tulips! The exclusive Dutch tulips are very expensive, a single bulb can cost anywhere from thousands or even tens of thousands of dollars! And there's even Blue Enchantress Hydrangeas and Juliet roses...wow, these are all rare flowers! You can't cultivate them here in our country, they can only be airlifted from abroad!"

"It's no wonder they needed to dispatch a helicopter! I guess they were transported here directly via helicopter upon arrival at the airport from abroad!"

"From the looks of it, the Tiffany flower basket alone costs one million, while those precious flowers also cost half a million per basket..."

"Hmm, there are a total of...twenty baskets...so the total price of those flowers is more than five million dollars, am I right?"

"Oh my god, who would be so generous to gift flower baskets costing five million dollars for an opening ceremony?!"

"Yes! Moreover, the flowers won't survive for long, they'll wither within days. This is so lavish..."

Lady Wilson, who was witnessing the scene, gulped anxiously.

She loved to plant flowers and the Wilson family villa's garden was filled with various kinds of flowers that she had planted herself.

However, she felt heavy-hearted to buy the bulbs of the rare flowers from abroad due to their expensive price tag, especially the most classic red and white tulips from the Netherlands which could cost up to ten grand.

Wendy watched the scene and her eyes widened. Then, she turned to Lady Wilson and whispered, "Grandma, I remember that you really liked the Dutch tulips but you didn't buy them because they were too expensive and resorted to cheaper local tulips which cost a few hundred dollars instead. How can these people give Claire Wilson Wilson such a valuable gift?"

Wendy's words echoed into Lady Wilson's ears. She gritted her teeth in jealousy when she thought of her cheap local tulips which paled in comparison to Claire Wilson Wilson's Dutch tulips! She wondered if she could take a few and plant them in her garden to see if they could survive...

At this moment, the front desk shouted, "Announcing the arrival of Miss Doris Young, the vice-chairman of Emgrand Group, Miss Jasmine Moore, Mr. Zeke White, Mr. Graham Quinton, and Anthony Simmons to the opening ceremony of Mrs. Wade's company!"

The announcement not only surprised the Wilson family, but it also shocked the entire staff of Bright Star Building.

Although Emgrand Group owned the building, they rarely intervened in the activities here. Unexpectedly, the vice-chairman, as well as so many of Arouss Hilll's prominent figures, had actually come to this humble building to attend Claire Wilson Wilson's opening ceremony!

The sudden appearance of so many VIPs at Bright Star Building had added a mesmerizing blast to the building. It also made people wonder about Claire Wilson Wilson's background—they were curious as to how she had invited so many big shots to her opening ceremony.

The Wilson family members were also dumbfounded and wondered how any of this could happen to Claire Wilson Wilson?!

Claire Wilson Wilson herself was equally dumbstruck. Hearing these names was enough to make her jump in jittery.

After all, the Wilson family was in despair right now, and she knew full well that she could only be regarded as a poor and ordinary newcomer who had just started her business. She hadn't even had a foundation of her reputation in Aurouss Hillll yet.

So, why did these big shots attend her opening ceremony?

Was it...because of her husband, Charlie Wade?!

Chapter 307

A passage appeared immediately as the crowd of onlookers made way and stood to the side as if there were invisible barriers.

Doris and Jasmine, two charming belles who donned very formal and elegant dresses with smiles on their faces, walking side by side from outside towards the door.

Behind them were Zeke White along with Kevin and Gerald, Graham Quinton along with Aurora and Adam, and Anthony Simmons and his granddaughter Xyla. They walked in a group like a team of Avengers.

Albert Rhodes walked behind the pack.

Wendy's eyes widened in shock and disbelief as she stared at the scene.

These people were all prominent figures in Aurouss Hillll that rarely appeared in public places, but they gathered here to congratulate Claire Wilson Wilson, which made her envious and agitated!

She was always on her high horse previously with her background as the daughter of a wealthy family and one of the most outstanding young people in the city. She was pretty and attractive, tall and slim, and she was regarded as one of the beautiful goddesses of the upper social class of the city.

She had been competing with her cousin in all aspects for so many years.

She thought that she had found a good husband and could finally crush her cousin, but now, everything she had paled in comparison to Claire Wilson Wilson. Her family she was so proud of was like a pile of rubbish compared to the guests that Claire Wilson Wilson invited.

There was a huge gap between her and Claire Wilson Wilson!

"Claire Wilson Wilson, what kind of shitty jackpot did you strike?!" Wendy glared at Claire Wilson Wilson and growled with an undisguised tone of jealousy.

Claire Wilson Wilson ignored her simply because she was in a trance as well. She nudged Charlie Wade and asked, "Did you invite these people?"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Yes. I've provided them with some Feng Shui and fortune-telling services and I built my friendships with them from there."

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed heavily and massaged her forehead dejectedly..

She had repeatedly told Charlie Wade not to deceive people with these unreliable methods. Not only did he ignore her warnings but he had expanded his service of deception and extended his claws to the prominent figures now.

What if these people found out his deception eventually? They would be dead meat!

She wanted to persuade Charlie Wade to stop, but before she could speak, Doris and Jasmine had already stood in front of them.

Jasmine spoke first.

She glanced at Claire Wilson Wilson unobtrusively, then stretched out her hand and said with a polite smile, "Mrs. Wade, congratulations on your opening day. I hope you can extend your business to us if we need any design services in the future!"

The Wilson family stared at the scene, dumbfounded. It was obvious that Jasmine was handing the business into Claire Wilson Wilson's hand, but it sounded like Jasmine was humbly asking for Claire Wilson Wilson's help. What did Claire Wilson Wilson do to receive such a humble reaction from Miss Moore?

Claire Wilson Wilson offered her hand nervously and shook Jasmine's hand. She said in a rather anxious and shrill tone, "Thank you, Miss Moore!"

While they were talking, Jasmine was checking Claire Wilson Wilson out and vice versa.

In terms of physical appearance, Jasmine and Claire Wilson Wilson were on par, but Claire Wilson Wilson could never be at the same level when it came to the natural noble and elegant temperament.

Claire Wilson Wilson couldn't help but feel a little inferior when she thought of it.

Jasmine started, "Mrs. Wade, you are Master Wade's wife, which means you are my patron too, so please be casual around me!"

Chapter 308

Sure enough, they were here because of Charlie Wade...

Upon hearing that, Claire Wilson Wilson took a peek at Charlie Wade, who was greeting the other guests, and somehow, a tinge of jealousy slowly arose inside her..

She did not expect that the distinguished daughter of the Moore family would respect her husband so much. He was full of mystery right now.

Then, Doris approached them, shook hands with Claire Wilson Wilson, and said, "Congratulations, Mrs. Wade. Emgrand Group has several projects that are awaiting your discussion!"

"Seriously?!" Claire Wilson Wilson exclaimed in shock.

Previously, the sixty million dollar contract with Emgrand Group was enough to make the whole Wilson family excited and thrilled. She would be on cloud nine if she could get a six million dollar contract from them!

Doris smiled and answered, "Of course, Mrs. Wade. We now have a total of nearly three hundred million dollars in interior design and renovation projects. We'll have the contract ready right away if you can accept and manage it!"

The Wilson family, who were listening to their conversation, had their jaws opened so wide that they almost dropped to the floor!

A three million dollar project?!

They wanted to give it all to Claire Wilson Wilson?!

Could someone knock some senses into the vice-chairman of Emgrand Group? With their power and status, why would they want to flatter the insignificant Claire Wilson Wilson?

If the Wilson family could get a mere 10% of the entire project, it was enough to reverse their misery and stabilize their company!

Lady Wilson felt as if someone had stomped on her heart repeatedly. If she had known that Claire Wilson Wilson was so capable, she would pull her back to the family even if she had to kneel in front of her!

With this playing in her mind, she decided that she had to get Claire Wilson Wilson back no matter what, along with Emgrand Group's projects!

At this moment, Zeke brought his son, Kevin, and his nephew, Gerald, to approach Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson.

Zeke started, "Mrs. Wade, congratulations and best wishes on your grand opening! You are the first the White family will approach when we have any interior design and renovation projects in the future!"

Flattered, Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly said, "Thank you, Mr. White."

Kevin and Gerald stepped forward and said in a respectful tone, "Congratulations, Mrs. Wade!"

The two men were so submissive and humble and they trembled when they saw Charlie Wade. Charlie Wade had become the guardian angel of their family right now, so their respect for Claire Wilson Wilson was genuine and sincere.

Wendy, who was standing not far away, watched the White family approaching Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson with agitation and irritation.

Staring at Gerald, whom she had always loved so much, she felt bitter and miserable. She was supposed to marry him by now, she was supposed to be his wife and the daughter-in-law of the White family.

But he was treating her like a stranger. Not only did he block and blacklist all her contact information but he also didn't even bother to look at her.

The scene that frustrated her the most was that the man she loved so much was being so respectful and gracious around Claire Wilson Wilson. She had become the total loser in this scenario!

Wendy couldn't help it anymore. With tears rolling down her cheeks, she barged forward, grabbed Gerald's arm, and said, "Gerald! My dear Gerald! Why didn't you call me..."

A layer of thin ice covered Gerald's face. He took his arm out of Wendy's clutch and said coldly, "Sorry, I have nothing to do with you right now. I'm here to congratulate Master and Mrs. Wade, please behave yourself!"

"Me? Behave myself?!" Wendy wailed loudly, her tears flowing like two streams of rivers. "Gerald White! We've been together for so many years and I was your fiancée. I even carried your child and now you want me to behave myself? You used me, then dumped me! You behave yourself first!"

Chapter 309

Wendy was feeling so sad and hurt right then.

She had invested all her hopes and dreams of a beautiful and happy life on Gerald alone, but he pushed her into the abyss of misery with his own hands!

Not only did he dump her after messing up her feelings but he even showed such strong dislike and disgust towards her in front of so many people!

It was totally unacceptable! Her wrath of fury nearly exploded right there and then!

Gerald was unusually calm and emotionless at her wailing and accusation. He said coldly, "It's normal to fall in love and break up, what has it to do with respect? Please stop pestering me."

Charlie Wade walked towards them as he assumed Wendy was about to cause a scene.

Blood drained from Gerald's face as Charlie Wade came at them and quickly explained, for fear that Charlie Wade would dismiss him for this situation. "Master Wade, please calm down. It was this shameless b*tch who jumped at me and threw a tantrum.."

Wendy glared at the exchange in shock. Gerald, who was quite fond of her in the past, had cast her aside like an old shoe now. Moreover, he even called her a shameless b*tch in order to curry favor with Charlie Wade!

She was so infuriated!

All her patience went out the window at this moment. She roared hysterically, "Are you all f*cking blind?! Charlie Wade is just a f*cking moocher, a loser! Why do you bow at him like he is some kind of king?! Why?!"

Gerald sucked in a breath in bewilderment. He slapped her and shouted, "Shut up, you b*tch! Who do you think you are? How dare you criticize Master Wade? I'll kill you right now!"

Lady Wilson was agitated as she watched her beloved granddaughter being humiliated. She walked up and said coldly, "Mr. White, please control your nephew! He's going overboard"

"Going overboard?!" Zeke squinted at her and sneered, "Truth be told, if not for Mrs. Wade's grand opening day today, I'd break her leg for what she's just said! I simply don't want to spoil the mood today!"

Then, he continued, "Besides, who the f*ck do you think you are? You want me to control my nephew? Do you think I'm unaware that it was you who ordered Harold Wilson to snatch the villa that I gave to Master Wade, you old witch? I spared you because of Master and Mrs. Wade. If you blurt another nonsensical statement from your mouth, I'll slap you! Try me!"

Lady Wilson could feel a chill running up her spine and she began to tremble in fear.

She was so used to being a tyrant in the Wilson family and she wanted to establish the same domineering image when she was out of the house, but...

But...she had lost power!

However, even if she still retained her influence, she had no right to criticize Zeke to his face...

If he really jumped on her and slapped her, there was nothing she could do about it...

So, she frantically blurted, "Mr. White... I'm sorry, it's my bad. I'm being irrational and rash, please forgive me..."

Zeke squinted at her like she was a disgusting creature and snarled, "Get lost, then!"

She sheepishly did as he said and stood at the side immediately.

Wendy, on the other hand, had lost her mind due to the devastating blow.

She stretched her arms abruptly and hugged Gerald while pleading, "Gerald, why are you so cold towards me?! I love you very much, I've always loved you! I gave you my everything—my body, my heart, everything! Why did you call off our engagement? Please, I beg you, please give me another chance. Let us start over, okay?"

Gerald was aggravated as Wendy clung onto him stubbornly like a koala. His face was filled with annoyance as he tried to break free from her clutches to no avail.

Chapter 310

Gerald was fully aware that he had nearly offended Master Wade because he was deceived and brainwashed by these fools. Fortunately, Master Wade was the bigger person and forgave his wrongdoings. Otherwise, he would have brought disastrous harm to his entire White family.

Now, this shameless Wendy had the nerve to attempt reconciling with him?!

It was like pushing him back into the fire pit!

He shoved Wendy away and kicked her in the stomach as she fell to the floor and growled, "Wendy Wilson! From now on, get the hell away from me! If you come at me again, I swear to God I'm going to kill you!"

Wendy sat on the floor in a trance as if she had been struck by lightning.

Looking back at Gerald's face in a furious grimace, she found it so strange and unfamiliar. He didn't look like the man who was once in love with her at all.

Although Claire Wilson Wilson was a little agitated by Wendy, they were cousins, after all. She couldn't bear seeing her being insulted like this, so she said to Gerald, "Mr. White, you and Wendy were once in love. Even if you can't be lovers, you don't have to be enemies, do you?"

Gerald immediately bowed at Claire Wilson Wilson and uttered, "Yes, Mrs. Wade! It is my mistake for handling it badly, please forgive me!"

Wendy stared in disbelief. Gerald was so ruthless and harsh to her, yet he was treating Claire Wilson Wilson with full respect...

She turned her head at Claire Wilson Wilson. Instead of feeling grateful, her heart was filled with hatred and resentment as if it was shouting, "It was that b*tch Claire Wilson Wilson! It was all her fault for what happened to me right now!"

Had it not been for the b*tch and that deadbeat moocher husband of hers, she would have married Gerald by now! She would have lived a happy life as the wealthy Mrs. White and she could bring the Wilson family to a higher level. The Wilson family would not have reduced to such a pitiful level!

It is all your fault, Claire Wilson Wilson!

Your fault!!

Your fault!!!

You b*tch!!!

The disheveled Wendy with her bloodshot eyes suddenly jumped up and rushed towards Claire Wilson Wilson with her arms extending at her.

"B*tch! I'm going to kill you! It's all your fault! I'm going to kill you now!!!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was shocked when Wendy suddenly ran towards her. She quickly moved backwards and tried to hide from her assault.

Charlie Wade grimaced in irritation and was about to hit Wendy when Albert marched forward and slapped Wendy hard on her face. She fell to the floor again.

Albert shouted indignantly, "What are you? How dare you try to assault Mrs. Wade! I'll kill you!"

He urged his men who stood behind him, "Come here, drag this b*tch outside and give her a good beating!"

Two burly men in black came out from behind, pulled Wendy up, and dragged her out.

Christopher frantically called, "Please, my daughter is immature, please forgive her!"

Albert's eyes were filled with irritation and anger. "What are you! Stop bugging me or I'll kill you too!"

Chapter 311

Christopher was trembling in fright as Albert growled at him.

He had no doubt about Albert's remarks. As someone who was regarded as the king of the underworld and had ruled the underworld for many years, killing two people was a piece of cake for him.

He looked desperately at the two brawny men who were dragging Wendy and went up to Claire Wilson Wilson to ask for help. "Claire Wilson Wilson, could you please talk to them? She's your cousin, how could you just watch her being taken away?"

Claire Wilson Wilson pursed her lips and said to the brawny men, "Please stop, she was confused...she didn't mean to hurt me..."

Claire Wilson Wilson found Wendy irritating, but they were cousins, after all. She couldn't bear seeing her being beaten by these men.

Albert looked back at Charlie Wade and waited for his orders.

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "Why are you looking at me? Listen to what my wife says, then..."

Albert ordered his men, "Since Mrs. Wade has stated her view, let them go!"

Charlie Wade nodded and turned his gaze at Lady Wilson. "See? I told you, you're not welcome here. Get lost when I ask nicely, or I'll let Albert's men kick you out of here!"

The enraged Lady Wilson clutched her fists and clenched her jaw furiously. She trembled so violently that she couldn't even stand still, but she didn't dare to stay there any longer. Christopher took her arm and they quickly walked out.

Wendy, on the other hand, was still yelling hysterically, "No! I don't want to leave! I want to kill the b*tch! Let go of me! I want to kill her!"

Albert kicked her mercilessly and growled, "Shut up or I'll cut off your tongue!"

Terrified at his sister's maddening behavior, Harold helped her up and said hurriedly, "Wendy, let's go home!"

Lady Wilson sighed repeatedly as she walked out of Claire Wilson Wilson's new office. Her intention today was to mock Claire Wilson Wilson and induce her to return to the Wilson family with a little pressure. Unexpectedly, Claire Wilson Wilson was not on the same page anymore, with so many prominent figures backing her up! It seemed that the Wilson family could no longer deceive her into returning to their side..

Lady Wilson was feeling extremely depressed and upset. Since Claire Wilson Wilson did not have any intention to return to the Wilson family, there went their only hope to revive the family. Bankruptcy and the end of their business was the only resort now. If only she had known it would come to this...

Claire Wilson Wilson could finally heave a sigh of relief after the Wilson family left in disgrace.

However, the lively atmosphere in her office made her nervous again.

The VIPs were gathering under her roof but her office was too small to accommodate so many people and it was not very convenient to move around. Then, she saw many Bright Star Building's staff hustling around her office, serving the guests snacks and drinks.

The building belonged to Emgrand Group, after all. One phone call from Doris was enough for these people to put their work aside immediately and come to help at Claire Wilson Wilson's office.

Doris walked to Claire Wilson Wilson and said, "Mrs. Wade, Bright Star Building is our property. Since you've chosen to open your office here, we have something for you in return."

She gestured at a middle-aged man and said, "This is Bobby Hinton, the manager of this building. I've told him that in the future, the offices on this floor will gradually be emptied out for your use."

Claire Wilson Wilson waved her hands frantically and said, "Oh no, Miss Young, you don't have to do that. This office is enough for the time being since I'm the only one working here. I have no use for such a large space. Besides, I can't afford it..."

Bobby hurriedly handed over a check with the value of a hundred and eighty grand written on it and said, "Mrs. Wade, this is the one-year rent that you've paid in advance. For your information, we will bear all the rent, utilities, property fees, air-conditioning fees, and heating fees of your office in the future!"

Chapter 312

Claire Wilson Wilson said nervously, "Oh, no, I can't make you do that..."

Charlie Wade took her hand and said with a gentle smile, "Dear, since Miss Young would like to offer her help, just accept her kindness as a form of respect."

"Huh, it's not that I don't want to accept her offer, but that's too much help..."

Charlie Wade took the check from Bobby and put it in Claire Wilson Wilson's hand. "Since Miss Young said that it's free, keep the money. Emgrand Group is a large company with a net worth of hundreds of billions of dollars, they won't mind your menial rent. Besides, you'll have projects and collaborations with them in the future. Let's not make everything so formal and rigid."

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little moved when she listened and pondered upon Charlie Wade's remarks.

He was right. Emgrand Group was the largest company in Aurouss Hilll and the company alone was comparable in scale to the entire Moore family. If she made things complicated with Doris Young because of the hundred and eighty grand check, it might probably make Doris feel that she was being stiff and uncompromising.

So, she accepted the check graciously and said, "Thank you very much, Miss Young!"

Doris smiled gently. "We are partners, we should help each other."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded and handed the check back to Charlie Wade. "I don't have pockets on my dress, please help me keep it."

"Okay!" Charlie Wade slipped the check into his pocket and said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Let me introduce you to Miss Moore. The Moore family has some renovation projects that I think you'll be interested in."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded, but she didn't feel like chatting with Jasmine because she felt inferior and mediocre when she stood by Jasmine.

More importantly, she could feel some hostility hidden behind Jasmine's generous and polite smile.

A woman's intuition is never wrong. Deep down in Jasmine's heart, she was thinking that one day, she could snatch Charlie Wade from the Wilson family to the Moore family, hence the inconceivable hostility towards Claire Wilson Wilson. Apparently, Claire Wilson Wilson could sense the hostility from Jasmine as well, but she simply hadn't figured out where the hostility came from and why.

She looked at the time and it was already past 10 am. Her parents were supposed to be here by now. She tugged Charlie Wade's sleeves and asked, "Charlie Wade, Mom and Dad aren't here yet. Why don't you call them and ask them about their whereabouts?"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Maybe there is a traffic jam on the way..."

He and Claire Wilson Wilson had woken up very early today as they had to arrive at the office earlier to clean up the place and prepare for the reception. Before they went out the door, they had even told the parents to come before ten for the opening ceremony.

It was ten minutes past ten now but they still hadn't arrived.

Charlie Wade took out his phone and was about to make a call when Claire Wilson Wilson's phone suddenly rang. She quickly answered her phone as it was from her mother, Elaine Ma.

Elaine Ma's frantic voice resonated through the phone, "Claire Wilson Wilson, we had an accident! Your dad has been sent to the Silverwing Hospital. Come quick!"

Chapter 313

"What?!" Claire Wilson Wilson shrieked in panic. "How's Dad? Where are you now?"

Elaine Ma's trembling voice echoed with a mixture of shock and sobbing. "We're at Silverwing Hospital. Your dad was unconscious after the accident, come here quick!"

Never did Claire Wilson Wilson expect to receive such bad news when she was celebrating the grand opening with joy..

She cried into the phone, "Okay, I'll go there right now!"

Charlie Wade heard the conversation clearly and realized the seriousness of the matter. He turned to the guests and said, "I'm sorry guys, Claire Wilson Wilson and I have to leave immediately. Please make yourself comfortable here!"

Under normal circumstances, it would be rude for the host to leave the guests aside, but since these people were Charlie Wade's fans, they didn't mind it.

Hence, Charlie Wade drove his wife straight to the hospital.

After he parked the car at the parking spot, they quickly went straight to the ICU.

They pushed the ward door open and saw Jacob Wilson lying on the bed with his eyes closed tightly. He was in a coma. Elaine Ma sat by the bed, staring at her husband in a daze. There were bloodstains on her body and her face as pale as a sheet of paper.

Blood drained from Claire Wilson Wilson's face, her eyes filled with tears. She rushed to their side and asked anxiously, "Mom, how's Dad? What happened?"

Elaine Ma's eyes were swollen and red. She said with a sob, "We were on the way to your opening ceremony when a muck truck ran the red light and crashed into our car. Your dad is in a very critical condition now."

Claire Wilson Wilson turned to the doctor who stood in the ward. "Doctor, how's my father?"

The doctor answered, "Don't worry, he's in a stable condition for the time being."

Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade heaved a sigh of relief.

After a short pause, the doctor said again, hesitating, "But..."

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned in confusion. "But what?"

The doctor sighed and continued, "But the patient's spine was injured in the accident and he might be a quadriplegic when he wakes up..."

Quadriplegic—paralysed from the neck down.

In that case, he would become a living dead who has lost the ability to function independently, which was only slightly better than a vegetative person.

Upon hearing the news, Claire Wilson Wilson felt dizzy all of a sudden, as if the sky was spinning right before her eyes. She would have collapsed to the floor if Charlie Wade hadn't been swift enough to hold her.

If her father really became quadriplegic, it meant that he could only lie in bed and lose the ability to function. He could do nothing!

It was living hell!

She quickly asked, "Doctor, is there any way to cure the spinal injury?"

The doctor shook his head. "Basically, there isn't a cure. To date, there are no cases of quadriplegics who have been cured. The best we can do is have the patient sit up by himself and the rest is out of our hands. It's best for you to be mentally prepared..."

Claire Wilson Wilson's tears flowed like rivers. Then, she turned to Elaine Ma and asked, "Mom, are you okay?"

Chapter 314

Elaine Ma looked very pale and shocked. She said, "Oh, I'm fine, my head simply hurts a little. The doctor checked on me and he said that I'm okay, it's just that your father...the truck had hit his side..."

She wailed loudly.

It was a fatal blow to her that her husband might end up being permanently quadriplegic.

After a thorough investigation, Charlie Wade discovered that the muck truck had already escaped after the accident. Elaine Ma and Jacob Wilson were unconscious after being hit by the truck, so they couldn't see the truck's license plate nor any significant feature of the truck.

Later, they were sent to the hospital by Good Samaritans.

Elaine Ma's situation was slightly better. She was sitting in the front passenger seat at the time, so she was unconscious after the accident and suffered some bruises and minor injuries. She woke up after arriving at the hospital.

Jacob Wilson, on the other hand, was unlucky. Sitting in the driver's seat, he suffered a major impact as the truck had hit his side and he ended up in this miserable state.

Charlie Wade sighed dejectedly and thought, 'God is so unfair.'

Although Jacob Wilson was an egoistic boaster who loved to pretend to be an expert despite his lack of knowledge, he was not a bad person overall, only a little cowardly and foolish.

However, the accident had caused him to be permanently quadriplegic. If he didn't do something right now, he would be in misery for the rest of his life.

On the contrary, Elaine Ma was not only a typical snob, but she was also a wicked shrew who wanted to marry her daughter off like it was a trade for the sake of wealth and glory. She had no moral standards or any line in her life.

And then what? She ended up fine!

Charlie Wade couldn't help but sigh, an evil thought brewing in his mind. Why wasn't Elaine Ma the one on the bed and at the risk of being quadriplegic?

If she was disabled, he would finally have a leisurely life in the Wilson family...

At this moment, the door of the ICU opened and two figures walked in.

Charlie Wade's face suddenly darkened when he laid eyes on the young man walking in front. He was Jason Grant, the man he had humiliated at the auto show yesterday.

Behind him was a middle-aged man carrying a medicine chest with a big red cross on it.

Claire Wilson Wilson asked, "Mom, why is he here?"

"Oh, I asked him to come. Jason knows the hospital director. He was here visiting his relatives when we were admitted to the hospital. When he saw our conditions, he immediately arranged for your dad to be admitted to the ICU."

Then, he put up a warm smile and said affectionately, "Jason, you must be tired from all the arrangements. Come, have a seat!"

Jason plastered a smile on his face and said, "It's okay, I'm not tired."

Then, there was a swift change in his expression when he suddenly saw Charlie Wade standing behind Elaine Ma.

The disgusting loser was here.

Yesterday, at the auto show, it was because of Charlie Wade's interference that he was humiliated in front of Claire Wilson Wilson.

Since then, he hated Charlie Wade down to the marrow of his bones.

Besides, he didn't think that Charlie Wade would be so incredible. He had been finding a chance to unravel his disguise.

His wrath of fury started to burn when he saw his nemesis standing in front of him. At the same time, he intended to reverse the bad impression made and regain Claire Wilson Wilson's favor.

Elaine Ma sighed heavy heartedly, wiped her tears, and said, "Jason, a while ago, the doctor said that Jacob Wilson might be paralyzed for the rest of his life. What should I do..."

Jason pointed at the middle-aged man behind him and introduced him to Elaine Ma. "Don't worry! This is Joshua Lynch, a famous Chinese medicine doctor in the country and I've invited him to treat Uncle Jacob Wilson! Don't worry, with his skills and professionalism, Uncle Jacob Wilson will heal in no time!"

Chapter 315

As soon as Elaine Ma heard that Jason had brought a renowned doctor to their ward, she shrieked in excitement and said, "Oh, Jason, thank you so much! Thank you for coming, Dr. Lynch!"

Jason smiled lightly and said, "You're welcome, I'm just offering some help whenever I can."

Then, he turned and respectfully said to Joshua behind him, "Dr. Lynch, this is Uncle Jacob Wilson, please check on him."

Joshua stepped forward and said in a confident tone, "Don't worry, he hurt his spine, didn't he? Although it sounds like a horrible injury, I can assure you it's a piece of cake for me."

The doctor gasped in surprise. "As far as I'm concerned, no one can cure spinal injuries. Even the richest people in the world can only lie on the bed after they have injured their spine. Just look at Stephen Hawking—he is so bright and awesome, but he's only able to sit in a wheelchair for the rest of his life and can only move three fingers due to motor neuron disease. Why are you so confident?"

Joshua laughed and said in an arrogant tone, "Because I have a magical elixir. If the patient takes it, he will recover in no time."

Then, he reached into his bag and carefully retrieved a crystal clear pill that was cut in half.

He lifted it into the air and said pompously, "Look, this is the magical elixir I've developed! It can even revive a vegetative person, let alone cure a spinal injury!"

Claire Wilson Wilson, who was sobbing quietly, asked, "Does the pill really work?"

"Of course!" Joshua stroked his beard and said, "This is the world's number one magical elixir. It was made with the essence of life and painstaking effort by an expert with great medical skills before he passed away. It's a priceless treasure. If it wasn't for Mr. Grant, I would never have taken this medicine out."

Charlie Wade grinned after he saw the small pill in Joshua's hand.

It was the pill from his preliminary refining attempts to heal Jacob Wilson's injury earlier, wasn't it?

The effect of the pill was actually one-tenth of the actual product. It was good enough for the general injuries, but it would not work wonders on serious injuries and illnesses.

He found it rather funny when Joshua treated it like an invaluable treasure. He even held it so carefully for fear that he would break and damage it.

However, Charlie Wade shrugged indifferently—it was just a stupid little pill that he could mass produce as much as he wanted!

The magical elixir that he had refined for the second time could indeed heal Jacob Wilson's spinal injury and make him recover, but he was certain that the half-finished product in Joshua's hand would fail.

Hence, Charlie Wade shook his head and said, "Forget it, Dr. Lynch. You can't cure my father-in-law's injury with your pill."

Jason sneered contemptuously. "Charlie Wade, who the f*ck do you think you are? How dare you question Dr. Lynch's authority here?!"

Joshua laughed loudly like he had just heard the funniest joke ever and said, "Buddy, just shut up if you don't know anything. Do you know Anthony Simmons, the famous Chinese medicine expert? His old injuries were cured by my magical elixir! This is the special drug that even medicine experts recognize but you're calling it useless! Don't make me laugh!"

Everyone in the ward gasped in extreme shock!

Who was Anthony Simmons?

He was the eminent authority in Chinese medicine. His medical skills were superb and he had helped a lot of people throughout his life. He didn't accept just any case, and even if one was rich and powerful, it didn't mean that they could see him as they pleased!

Even his own injuries that he was helpless of were cured by the magical elixir developed by Dr. Lynch! How amazing was that?!

And now, Charlie Wade had the nerve to say that the pill didn't work?! He was kidding, right?!

Chapter 316

Elaine Ma's face twisted into a disdainful grimace and she shouted, "Charlie Wade, just shut up, you loser! Who do you think you are?! You have no say in this!"

She shot daggers at Charlie Wade and growled, "Stop messing with Dr. Lynch's treatment. Get out!"

Charlie Wade frowned in dismay.

At the same time, he thought, 'Could it be that Joshua was the first to buy the pill from Zachary? If so, he must be the one who sold the pill to Anthony Simmons for five million dollars, that dishonest and profiteering prick!'

Jason must have spent a lot of money to hire him.

At this moment, Jason sneered, thinking that he had something on Charlie Wade, "Charlie Wade, you deadbeat loser. You must be pretty good with your mouth, huh, since there's absolutely nothing you can do here? You and your bluff!"

Then, he slapped his hands together as if something struck his mind and said, "Oh, I get it! You questioned Dr. Lynch because you don't want Uncle Jacob Wilson to get better!"

"Huh, I'm bluffing?"

Charlie Wade could endure Elaine Ma's ridicule and insult, but it didn't mean that he could do the same with Jason. He sneered and replied, "I know Anthony and I've never heard him say he was cured by this idiot here."

Jason laughed out loud. "Charlie Wade, you're so funny! Did you say you know Anthony? You might as well say that you know the president of the United States!"

Joshua was unhappy when Charlie Wade called him an idiot, so he squinted at him pompously and chided, "Young man, you're weak but your blabber is very impressive! I bet you've never even read a single medical book! How dare you call me an idiot!"

He pointed at Charlie Wade arrogantly and growled, "You, apologize to me right now! Otherwise, I won't save the patient!"

Blood drained from Elaine Ma's face. She shouted, "Charlie Wade, you want to kill my husband, don't you? You useless moocher! Do you plan to kill my husband first, then me, so you can snatch our possessions?!"

Charlie Wade frowned at her like he was looking at a crazy person.

'Did you just claim that I want to snatch your possessions? Did you even have any, to begin with? I doubt you can even fork out a few million dollars right now! Do you think I want to take that lousy three-room apartment of yours? I have tens of billions in my account that I didn't know how to spend, as well as a hundred million dollar check from Jasmine in my pocket, and you're accusing me of wanting to snatch your possessions?' Charlie Wade thought to himself.

This was the biggest joke in the world!

Jason interjected, "I think Charlie Wade is plotting something evil. You'd better be careful or he'll make your life miserable!"

Claire Wilson Wilson tugged Charlie Wade's arm and said, "Charlie Wade, let Dr. Lynch try."

In spite of the commotion, Dr. Lynch sat on his high horse and snorted coldly, "Buddy, you'd better get on your knees and apologize to me or I won't treat the patient!"

As soon as he finished saying this, a frigid voice suddenly came from outside the door. "Who is it? How dare he summon Master Wade to kneel before him? Does he want to die?"

Chapter 317

Following the direction of the sound, everyone looked towards the door and saw a middle-aged man in a smart suit walking into the ward. Jason and Dr. Lynch freaked out as soon as they saw the man, their faces turning green and their mouths wide agape.

He was the dignified king of Aurouss Hilll's underworld, Don Albertt Rhodes!

What the hell was going on?!

Why was he here?

Before Jason and Dr. Lynch could react to his appearance, the next scene made them dumbfounded as if they had been struck by lightning!

A group of people barged into the room like a SWAT team. They were Doris Young, Zeke White, Graham Quinton, Travis Lane, Anthony Simmons, and so on! These people were prominent figures in Aurouss Hilll and Lancaster!

They walked directly to Charlie Wade, bowed and greeted respectfully, "Master Wade!"

Charlie Wade asked curiously, "Why are all of you here?"

Don Albertt answered, "Master Wade, we came as soon as we heard about your father-in-law's accident, hope you don't mind our sudden intrusion."

Charlie Wade smiled. "Thank you, you're so considerate."

His tone was relaxed and casual, but the short remark was enough of a compliment to make these VIPs blush in excitement and they even shivered a little due to the thrill.

Elaine Ma squinted at the scene in devastation and thought, 'Oh damn! Charlie Wade the crook has gotten worse and worse in his deception! So many VIPs are falling for his tricks, what if his deception is exposed one day? He'll kill us all!'

She didn't believe that Charlie Wade was talented at all. She knew Charlie Wade's past very clearly. He became an orphan at the age of eight and was sent to a welfare home. When he was a teenager, he worked various part-time jobs including being a delivery man, an air-conditioning service man, and even the hazardous high rise window cleaner. Later, he was brought home by Lord Wilson and married Claire Wilson Wilson.

If he really was so competent, why had he led such a miserable life for all these years, then?

Jason was utterly speechless at the scene, especially when he saw Jasmine Moore among the crowd!

She was the distinguished daughter of the Moore family!

The Grant family was a tiny existence compared to the majestic Moore family and even his father was in no place to meet her as they pleased!

But the beautiful and charming Jasmine Moore was so respectful and gracious towards Charlie Wade the loser!

How could it be?!

Jason couldn't comprehend why the wealthy and elegant lady would condescend to Charlie Wade the deadbeat moocher! Hence, he cleared his throat and blurted out of surprise, "Miss Moore, why do you call him Master Wade? He's just a deadbeat loser, have you mistaken him for someone else?"

Jasmine's face darkened and she chided, "Shut up! How dare you question Master Wade?!"

Graham, who was standing beside her, sneered coldly, and said, "Master Wade is the only true dragon in the entire world with unimaginable power and strength. How could we have mistaken him for someone else?!"

Zeke added, "That's right! Master Wade is highly respected and honorable in Aurouss Hilll, who do you think you are to address him by his first name, you b*stard?!"

Chapter 318

Don Albertt shot Jason an intimidating glare and said, "Master Wade is our leader, your disrespect to him is equivalent to making us your enemies. If you dare blurt a single nonsensical statement again, I'll break your leg!"

Jason's face turned green and blue as the VIPs chided him continuously, shocked and speechless.

At this moment, Anthony yelled coldly, "Come here, Joshua Lynch!"

Joshua shuddered in astonishment when his name was called.

Others might not know it, but he knew very clearly whether his magical elixir had cured Anthony's illness. He could still deceive them earlier, but now that the real man was here, his bluff would be exposed!

Nevertheless, he stepped forward with his head hanging low and greeted, "Master Simmons."

Anthony rebuked angrily, "I heard you say that you cured my illness with that pill in your hand, is that true?"

Joshua started frantically, "I'm sorry, Master Simmons. I was just talking nonsense and bragging about something I didn't do, please forgive me..."

Actually, Joshua knew full well that after he had sold the pill to Anthony, he did state that the pill was quite powerful and that it had relieved his injuries very well, but it was not so miraculous as to heal it completely. Earlier, he was simply bragging to boast about the pill's effect, but he had never expected to see Anthony appear right in front of him.

He was extremely nervous and edgy as the majestic Anthony stood in front of him. Though he was regarded as a well-known Chinese medicine doctor, he paled in comparison to Anthony, who was the president of the Chinese Medicine Association. If he offended him, his license as a Chinese medicine doctor could be revoked.

All his hard work in his whole life would go down the drain by then...

Anthony didn't want to forgive Joshua so easily. He shouted at him coldly, "You've insulted Master Wade, apologize to him right now!"

Joshua felt annoyed by Anthony's demand. Why? Why did he have to apologize to that loser? Even if he bragged about his ability, it didn't mean that he was worse than Charlie Wade!

He pursed his lips in agitation and said, "Master Simmons, I admit that I did lie about your part, but that Wade dude was talking nonsense. He insulted my drug, so why should I apologize to him?"

A layer of furious gloom covered Anthony's face. He dragged Joshua aside and chided, "You fool! Do you know who made the pill you're holding? It was Master Wade's work! How dare you show off your skill before an expert? Idiot!"

"What?" Joshua cried out in disbelief, "Charlie Wade Wade made this pill?"

Anthony said coldly, "Frankly, Master Wade refined a more effective and powerful magical elixir a few days ago. My old injuries were fully cured by his magical pill! How dare you question him?!"

Joshua shuddered in jittery, sweat drenching his forehead. He quickly explained, "Master Simmons, I'm so sorry, I didn't know that Master Wade was the one who refined this pill. I wouldn't have done what I did if I had known it..."

Before he could finish, Anthony interjected furiously, "It's too late! After this, I'll suggest to the health department that they permanently revoke your medical license!"

Blood drained Joshua's face as he listened to Anthony's announcement. Cold sweat drenched his body and he started shaking in panic and fear.

Then, he regained his composure, knelt in front of Charlie Wade with a loud thump, and pleaded as he wailed, "Master Wade, please, I'm sorry, please accept my apology! Yes, I lied to everyone! I didn't make that pill, I simply bought it. I didn't even know if it's able to cure quadriplegics, I just took it out to fool you... Please, please, I'm sorry for looking down on you and for offending you, please forgive me!"

Kneeling on the floor, he slapped himself and apologized profusely. Tears covered his face, body, and the floor...

Chapter 319

Elaine Ma and Claire Wilson Wilson watched the situation unfolding with a stunned expression, while Jason was even more shocked and bewildered.

Elaine Ma expected the genius doctor to treat her husband, but who would have thought that he would apologize to Charlie Wade, admitting that he was fooling them with the magical drug...

Jason's face turned green in anger and embarrassment. He clenched his fists tightly, feeling that his entire reputation was being stamped and humiliated by Charlie Wade. However, he refused to believe that Charlie Wade was as powerful as these people claimed and he was unwilling to admit defeat to the loser.

Unexpectedly, Don Albertt suddenly sneered at him and asked Charlie Wade, "Master Wade, what should I do with this Grant kid?"

He didn't dare to make his own decision in front of Charlie Wade, or he would have attacked Jason immediately for his rude attitude towards Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade said flatly, "It's up to you."

Don Albertt grinned viciously upon Charlie Wade's remark, but before he could summon his men to move, Graham frowned in agitation and asked, "Wait, I heard from Luke Marshall that you caused a scene at the auto show yesterday and offended Master Wade, didn't you?"

"Huh? No, I...I didn't...I..." Jason stuttered, panicked and frantic.

Although he was on the losing side yesterday, he did invite trouble for himself by provoking Charlie Wade. From the looks of it, they wanted to settle two scores together.

Don Albertt laughed coldly and said, "Alright then, it seems you were messing with Master Wade yesterday, you blind dog! Okay, I'll let you know the price to pay for offending Master Wade!"

He summoned his men and said, "Guys, throw this ignorant b*stard out the window now!"

Jason was so shocked and scared that his pompous and cocky disguise was dismantled right there and then. He knelt and cried, "Charlie Wade, I'm sorry. Please, I beg you, please forgive me. I won't do it again, please..."

Charlie Wade smirked, "Hmm, I thought you were quite adept, no? I'm just a deadbeat loser, why are you begging me for mercy?"

Jason wailed pathetically, his tears and snot covered his face messily. "Charlie Wade, please, I'm sorry! I'm the deadbeat loser! I'm the biggest deadbeat loser in the world! Please spare my life, please forgive me..."

Charlie Wade kicked him out of his way and said coldly, "You ignored me yesterday, so I'm stepping on you today! Get lost!"

Then, he shouted to Albert, "What are you waiting for?!"

Albert trembled slightly and ordered his men, "What the f*ck are you waiting for? I'll throw you out of the window, you idiot!"

Don Albertt's men lifted Jason up immediately and threw him out of the window. It was followed by a series of agonizing screams.

Claire Wilson Wilson covered her mouth in disbelief. Her heart was pounding vigorously and her mind went blank.

They were on the third floor. What if they killed him?

She and Elaine Ma rushed to the window and looked down.

Fortunately, Jason was still alive. He was laying on the lawn, clutching his legs and screaming constantly. Luckily for him as well that they were at the hospital, so the doctors and nurses rushed to his side and sent him to the emergency unit immediately.

Claire Wilson Wilson heaved a sigh of relief upon the scene. She was a little disgusted and irritated by Jason's constant pestering and his repeated insults towards Charlie Wade. Now that his legs were obviously broken, he wouldn't be able to pester her again and it was quite a relief for her.

In the midst of the commotion, Charlie Wade went to Anthony quietly, retrieved the second batch of the pill from his pocket, and whispered, "Mr. Simmons, I need your help. You'll be the one to treat my father-in-law later and give him this pill."

Chapter 320

In fact, on their way to the hospital, Charlie Wade had planned to treat his father-in-law himself. He was positively certain that his pill could heal a spinal injury with ease.

However, after he arrived at the hospital, he found out that Jason was there with Dr. Lynch and Elaine Ma would definitely stop him from interfering with their involvement. Besides, he worried that the magical elixir that came out of nowhere would raise suspicion and it would be hard for him to explain himself.

Now that Anthony was here, he was the convenient shield to handle the matter. Anthony's reputation and stature would be an excellent cover-up for Jacob Wilson's treatment. After all, it was more credible if the medical miracle was created in his hands.

Anthony understood his concerns, yet he couldn't help but be surprised. "Master Wade, a spinal injury is commonly complex regardless of Chinese or Western medical treatment and there's no way to cure it by far. Are you sure your magical elixir will work?"

Then, he showed an apologetic expression and continued, "Pardon me, Master Wade. I don't mean to doubt your pill, but I don't get it, it's beyond my understanding..."

Charlie Wade said flatly, "Don't worry, this pill can repair the damage to his spine."

Anthony exclaimed in shock, "Wow, in that case, it will be a medical miracle if your father-in-law is cured. It'll shake the world if the news gets out and I wouldn't dare take such prestigious credit..."

Charlie Wade smiled. "You should know that I don't seek fame and honor. Besides, I'm not in the medical profession and I'm not a suitable candidate to do such things. You, on the other hand, are a different case. If you can cure spinal injury with Chinese medicine, it will be a tremendous miracle to the Chinese medicine field. The world will view Chinese medicine differently and will pay utmost respect and admiration to you and the field, so please don't refuse my request."

Anthony pondered upon his words. He nodded, accepted the pill, and said, "Master Wade, thank you for the opportunity!"

Charlie Wade quickly said as if something abruptly struck his mind, "Oh yes, by the way, only half the pill is needed to treat spinal injuries. You can keep the remaining half."

Anthony trembled in shock..

Did he hear him correctly? Only half a pill was enough for a spinal injury-induced quadriplegic? This... this was amazing!

The more exciting part was that Charlie Wade was actually giving him the remaining half of the pill..

It...it was simply the greatest reward ever!

He had taken the pill that Master Wade had given him and was grateful for it. The pill had treated the old injuries he had sustained for his entire life, but his fate with the magical elixir only lasted for a while. Everyone still had the pill with them except for him.

Although feeling a bit regretful, he was embarrassed to ask from Charlie Wade again before he could repay his kindness. But now, Charlie Wade actually wanted to give him the remaining half of the pill!

He was extremely excited and moved by his generous gesture! With the half portion, he would have one more life-saving elixir in the future! Anthony was so excited that he wanted to kneel before Charlie Wade to thank him.

Anthony choked for a bit and nodded. "Master Wade, thank you for your generosity and kindness. I'll forever be in your debt!"

Charlie Wade looked at him warmly and said, "Alright, hurry up and begin your treatment. My wife is very anxious now."

Chapter 321

Indeed, Claire Wilson Wilson was very worried about her father's situation.

She didn't expect that Dr. Joshua Lynch, whom Jason had invited, to actually be a quack doctor.

Now that Joshua had been exposed, who could she find in Aurouss Hilll to heal his father?

Charlie Wade brought Anthony to her and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, this is Dr. Anthony Simmons, a famous doctor. He can cure Dad's injury."

Claire Wilson Wilson and Elaine Ma were overjoyed when they heard it! They never thought that Anthony Simmons, the renowned doctor in the country, would be willing to treat Jacob Wilson.

Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly said, "Dr. Simmons, thank you for your help!"

Anthony smiled and said, "Don't worry, Mrs. Wade. I owe Master Wade a big favor and I'll try my best."

Then, he walked to the bed, took out the pill, carefully cut it in half, and gingerly put it into Jacob Wilson's mouth under everyone's intense gaze.

Everyone held their breath and anticipated.

Jacob Wilson's doctor was watching vividly. Although he didn't believe that Chinese medicine could cure spinal injury, the man standing in front of them was the famous Dr. Anthony Simmons, so maybe a miracle might really happen.

Jasmine, Zeke, Graham, and Albert recognized the pill instantly since they had received it from Charlie Wade and they wondered how powerful the magical elixir really was. Could it really cure quadriplegia?

Then, suddenly, Jacob Wilson trembled slightly. His extremely pale and sickly face began to turn into a blushing shade of red. His eyes that were tightly shut slowly opened.

When Jacob Wilson opened his eyes, he felt a jolt surging his body, making his body as warm as toast. He was feeling utterly comfortable and soothed.

Moreover, the agonizing pain that seemed to come from his bones was slowly dispersing!

Then, he tried to sit up, which stunned everyone at the scene!

Jacob Wilson literally sat up from the hospital bed purely on his own!

Everyone was shocked after witnessing such a scene as if they were watching an ancient-old pharaoh sit up from his grave!

Claire Wilson covered her mouth in astonishment and joyful tears flowed down her cheeks. Sure enough, Anthony Simmons was the grandmaster of Chinese medicine with magical hands. He had literally cured her father's quadriplegia!

The rest of the crowd was impressed as they witnessed Jacob Wilson's recovery before their eyes, their admiration for Charlie Wade growing!

They knew that the pill that was given to Jacob Wilson was the magical elixir that Charlie Wade refined, which they had also obtained. Now that they had witnessed how powerful the elixir was that it could cure quadriplegic with only half a pill, they were extremely excited and thrilled!

They couldn't help but sigh as they thought, 'Master Wade is truly magnificent! The pill that he made can instantly cure spinal injury, it's a miracle!'

Anthony, who was watching Jacob Wilson, was so shocked and astonished that he almost fainted!

This was indeed a medical miracle! Even the most advanced Western medicine could not cure a quadriplegic and he did it by using only half of the magical elixir!

He carefully put the remaining half of the pill into the inner pocket of his suit.

It was the magical elixir that Master Wade rewarded him! He must keep it safe and would not trade it for all the treasure in the world!

Chapter 322

At this moment, as Jacob Wilson felt the astonishing changes in his body, he stared blankly in a daze and disbelief.

He vaguely remembered that he was involved in an accident and he couldn't move at all, was he not?

But now, why did he feel as if nothing had happened to him? He felt energetic and strong, even better than before the accident!

What was going on?

Jacob Wilson was so confused and perplexed. He asked, "Claire Wilson Wilson, what...what happened to me?"

Claire Wilson Wilson regained her composure. She rushed to her father and said as she cried, "Dad, you had a car accident and was almost paralyzed, but thanks to Dr. Simmons, you're okay now."

Then, she walked towards Anthony and said gratefully, "Dr. Simmons, thank you so much! If it weren't for you, my dad wouldn't have recovered."

Before she could bow at Anthony, he quickly stopped her as he thought to himself, 'Actually, you should be thanking Master Wade. Without his elixir, he couldn't have cured his father's injury. Truth be told, it was Master Wade's medicine that helped your father recover.'

But when he remembered Charlie Wade telling him that he didn't want to expose himself, Anthony put on a polite smile and said, "You're welcome, Mrs. Wade. It's my honor."

Had it not been for the Master Wade's magical elixir, even he couldn't have a way to cure the spinal injury and the quadriplegia.

The doctor was equally stunned. His hands trembled as he looked at Anthony and said, "Dr. Simmons, you've created a world-class medical miracle! You can win a Nobel Prize in Medicine with the pill you used! This is a major event that benefits all of mankind!"

Anthony plastered an awkward smile on his face and said, "Oh no, you're too welcome. I just happened to get this magical medicine by accident. Otherwise, I wouldn't be able to heal the paralyzed patient to normal even with all the skills I have."

The doctor sighed, "The magical medicine is a miracle in itself! A lot of people can benefit from it if it is mass-produced!"

Anthony shook his head. "I'm sorry but this medicine is refined by someone with extraordinary powers. It's extremely rare and precious and I only have half of it left, let's not talk about mass production."

"Oh, that's too bad..."

Claire Wilson Wilson hurried forward and asked, "Doctor, may I know when my father will be discharged based on his condition right now?"

"Hmm, I've just taken a look at Mr. Wilson's condition. The spinal injury has been healed and other injuries to the body have recovered very well. However, I suggest that he be admitted to the hospital for a few days for observation. It's a good time for him to have a good rest too."

Anthony added, "That's right, Mrs. Wade. Recovery is more important than the treatment, I'd also suggest that Mr. Wilson take a few days to rest in the hospital. Let's see how he's doing later."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded at them. "Okay then, thank you for the suggestion and advice!"

Charlie Wade looked at the crowd and said, "Everyone, thank you for coming here to see my father-in-law, I appreciate that! He has just recovered from such terrible injuries, so why don't we let him rest quietly?"

They nodded knowingly. Since Master Wade had spoken his mind, it was best to leave as soon as possible so as not to cause chaos to his family. Hence, they greeted farewell to Charlie Wade respectfully as they exited the ward.

As Charlie Wade was seeing them out, Elaine Ma said to Claire Wilson Wilson in a worried tone, "Claire Wilson Wilson, Charlie Wade the loser has become more and more deceptive now! He's even fooling those VIPs! He's signing a death wish!"

Chapter 323

Claire Wilson Wilson felt very embarrassed after hearing this warning from her mother.

She also felt that Charlie Wade was taking a big risk by giving Feng Shui advice to all these rich and powerful figures. In fact, it was equivalent to him walking a tightrope on the Grand Canyon, which was a very dangerous feat indeed.

There were so many Feng Shui and metaphysics masters who had deceived many celebrities in the past, but they had all suffered a terrible death.

If Charlie Wade continued giving Feng Shui advice, who would know what would happen in the future?

When Elaine Ma saw the worried expression on Claire Wilson Wilson's face, she knew that she had already succeeded in brainwashing her. Therefore, she quickly struck the iron while it was still hot. "You should divorce Charlie Wade as soon as your father is discharged from the hospital! Otherwise, who knows what will happen when this group of rich and powerful people find out that Charlie Wade has been deceiving them all this while? What are we going to do if our family has to suffer because of him?"

Then, Elaine Ma continued speaking, "Didn't you see what happened to Jason Grant? He was not given the opportunity to even speak or explain himself and was thrown out the window immediately. How are they going to treat Charlie Wade when they find out that he has been lying to them all along?"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson replied in a displeased manner, "Mom, how could you say that? Charlie Wade just asked a genius doctor to save dad. Aren't you just trying to sow discord and break us apart?!"

"Why can't I say that?" Elaine Ma replied angrily. "Do you know that his current situation is similar to investing in financial insurance? I do not know when there will be a thunderstorm! Once there is a thunderstorm, Charlie Wade will be left with nothing at all. Nothing!"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied seriously in turn, "Mom, no matter what you say, I will never divorce Charlie Wade!"

Even though Claire Wilson Wilson had said that, she could not help but feel very worried.

She was not afraid that Charlie Wade would be causing harm or implicating her or the Wilson family in the future. Rather, she was just worried that Charlie Wade would be facing a lot of dangers in the future.

As she thought about this, she felt that she should persuade Charlie Wade to ask him to stop giving other people Feng Shui advice in the future, lest he invite more trouble for himself.

Upon hearing Claire Wilson Wilson's words, Elaine Ma yelled angrily, "You are seriously pissing me off!"

As soon as her voice fell, Charlie Wade returned to the room after sending everyone off.

Elaine Ma wanted to continue speaking, but the attending doctor came over to say something.

"By the way, I need one of you to register and go through the hospitalization procedures soon. After that, we will start our follow-up rehabilitation and nursing procedures."

"Okay!" Claire Wilson Wilson replied as she looked at Charlie Wade. "Charlie Wade, do you have the one hundred and eighty thousand dollars cheque that Doris refunded to you earlier?"

"Yes." Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "I will go and settle the hospital bills and registration procedures now."

After that, Charlie Wade turned around and left the ward again.

Elaine Ma was very anxious when she heard that there was a cheque worth one hundred and eighty thousand dollars, and she hurriedly asked, "Cheque? What cheque are you talking about? Where did you get the cheque?"

Claire Wilson Wilson quickly replied, "Miss Doris from Emgrand Group gave me the cheque because they are refunding me for the office rent that I paid. They are allowing me to rent the office lot in the Bright Star Building for free."

Elaine Ma was very excited as she exclaimed, "Is there such a good thing? Wow! We've saved one hundred and eighty thousand dollars!"

Then, Elaine Ma hurriedly asked the doctor, "By the way, doctor, how much is the hospitalization fee?"

The attending doctor replied, "Since the patient has already recovered, the only fee that you need to pay is for the rehabilitation and nursing care. It should be about two thousand dollars a day. You can just pay a deposit of twenty thousand dollars first."

When Elaine Ma heard that they only needed to pay twenty thousand dollars, she quickly worked out the math in her mind. The cheque was for one hundred and eighty thousand dollars! If she paid the deposit of twenty thousand dollars, she would still have one hundred and sixty thousand dollars left!

As she thought about it, she hurriedly informed Claire Wilson Wilson, "I will go with Charlie Wade to deal with the registration and payment!"

Having said that, she ran out of the ward to catch up with Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade was walking toward the registration counter at this time when he suddenly heard the sound of rushing footsteps behind him. He turned around and saw that his mother-in-law, Elaine Ma, was already directly behind him at this time.

Elaine Ma stood behind him as she tried to catch her breath and said, "Charlie Wade, give me the cheque. I will go and settle the hospitalization fees!"

Charlie Wade did not know that she was coveting the remaining one hundred and sixty thousand dollars, and so, he said, "Mom, you can just go back to the ward and accompany dad. I will go and settle the bill."

Elaine Ma glared at him before she said angrily, "Why are you talking so much nonsense?! I said that I will go and settle the bill! Give me the cheque now! You can just go back to the ward and help Claire Wilson Wilson!"

Chapter 324

Charlie Wade shrugged helplessly before he took the cheque out of his pocket and handed it over to Elaine Ma. "Mom, here's the cheque."

Elaine Ma took the cheque excitedly, and filled with joy, she ran directly to the registration counter.

When Charlie Wade saw the anxious and excited expression on Elaine Ma's face, he knew that Elaine Ma was planning to keep the balance of the money. He sighed before he headed back to the ward.

After Charlie Wade had arrived at the ward, Claire Wilson Wilson asked out of curiosity, "Did my mom manage to catch up to you?"

Charlie Wade nodded before saying, "Yes, mom wanted me to give her the cheque so that she could pay the hospitalization fee instead."

"Okay." Claire Wilson Wilson could only nod helplessly.

She had always known that her mother was very materialistic. Moreover, she was always greedy for money! Claire Wilson Wilson knew that Elaine Ma would definitely have all sorts of ideas in her mind, and she would definitely be up to no good since she already knew that there was a refund of one hundred and sixty thousand dollars from the cheque.

However, Claire Wilson Wilson could not say anything. After all, she understood her mother's character and personality very well. If Claire Wilson Wilson did not allow her to do as she pleased, her mother would most certainly cry and act as though her life was very miserable in front of her.

At this time, Elaine Ma hurried over to the registration counter before placing the cheque in front of the cashier and said, "I am here to pay for Jacob Wilson Wilson's hospitalization fee."

The cashier nodded and opened Jacob Wilson's file so that she could look through his hospitalization information. After that, she said, "You can pay a deposit of twenty thousand dollars today. We will charge you again if there are any extra charges, and we will refund you if there is excess payment at the end of his hospitalization."

"Okay." Elaine Ma could not hide her excitement as she pushed the cheque toward the cashier and said, "You can use this cheque to pay for the deposit, and you can transfer the balance of the money into my personal bank card."

Having said that, Elaine Ma took out her bank card and handed it over to the cashier as she said, "You don't need to rush. Just make sure that you transfer the balance into this bank card."

The cashier nodded before she picked up the cheque. However, the cashier was stunned when she glanced at the cheque.

Elaine Ma was also surprised when she saw her reaction, and she thought that the cashier was just trying to make things difficult for her. Getting annoyed, she asked the cashier, "What's wrong with you?! Hurry up and proceed with the payment and transfer! I am rushing because I have something else to do after this!"

The cashier quickly regained her senses. When she saw the frustrated and furious expression on Elaine Ma's face, the cashier also felt a little annoyed. Then, she threw the cheque at Elaine Ma before she said, "I think you must be a patient from the psychiatric department. Aren't you?! Why else would you pay for a hospitalization bill with a one hundred million dollar cash cheque? You didn't take your medicine today?"

"What? One hundred million dollars?" Elaine Ma frowned before lowering her head and picking up the cheque from the ground. After glancing at the cheque, Elaine Ma was utterly shocked by the number of zeroes written on the cheque!

Elaine Ma muttered to herself as she counted the number of zeroes on the cheque.

"One, ten, one hundred, one thousand, ten thousand, one hundred thousand, one million, ten million, one hundred million..."

Elaine Ma was shocked and she blurted out, "It's one hundred million! This is a one hundred million dollar cash cheque!"

The cashier could not hide her anger any longer and said, "Are you insane? Do you truly think that you would be able to fool me with this fake cheque? Do you believe that I will dial 110 right now to report you for fraud? You must be insane!"

Elaine Ma came back to her senses and was so shocked that she was already breaking out in cold sweat.

Oh my God!

Something terrible had almost happened to her!

How could this one hundred million dollar cheque even be real?

Her daughter had clearly said that the cheque was for one hundred and eighty thousand dollars. Therefore, this one hundred million dollar cash cheque unmistakably belonged to Charlie Wade!

That stinky brat! He was already so used to lying to the rich and powerful people that he must have gotten addicted to lying! How could he carry a fake one hundred million dollar cash cheque around with him?! He had almost gotten her into trouble!

Elaine Ma did not know if Charlie Wade did it intentionally or unintentionally. However, she was certain that she had evidence of his deceit now.

Who gave him the courage to lie to her?! Elaine Ma was very annoyed and she knew that she would have to confront Charlie Wade in front of her daughter so that she could see this cheque for herself!

No matter what it was, she had to make sure that her daughter divorced this big fat liar today!

Chapter 325

Charlie Wade was in the ward with his wife, Claire Wilson Wilson, as they accompanied and chatted with Jacob Wilson.

Suddenly, the door was kicked open as Elaine Ma charged into the room aggressively.

As soon as she entered the ward, Elaine Ma held out the one hundred million dollar cash cheque in her hand before yelling, "Charlie Wade! You b*stard! How dare you try and cheat me?!"

Charlie Wade was taken aback, and he asked in surprise, "Mom, what are you talking about? When did I try to cheat you?"

Elaine Ma ignored him and ran directly to Claire Wilson Wilson as she complained, "Daughter! Look! You have to divorce this big fat liar today! There is something wrong with this guy! He even tried to cheat your own mother! How can you forgive him?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was very puzzled and she asked, "Mom, what happened?"

Elaine Ma handed the cheque over to Claire Wilson Wilson before saying, "Look! Your husband must be crazy! He actually gave me a fake one hundred million cash cheque, and the cashier at the registration counter almost called 110 to report me for committing fraud!"

"What..."

Charlie Wade cursed in his heart. This... this had to be the one hundred million dollar cash cheque that Jasmine had given him to thank him.

D*mn it! He must have placed it in his pocket and mixed it up with the one hundred and eighty thousand dollar cheque!

It was over. Everything was over now.

How could he possibly explain this to Claire Wilson Wilson?!

Claire Wilson Wilson took a look at the cash cheque, and the expression on her face changed immediately. After that, she blurted out, "Charlie Wade, what is going on? Why do you have a fake cash cheque worth one hundred million dollars? Are you really engaging in fraud now?"

Charlie Wade hurriedly explained himself, "Dear, this is all a misunderstanding!"

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned before saying, "What the hell is going on here? You'd better explain everything to me now, Charlie Wade."

At this time, Elaine Ma suddenly cut in, "What else is there to explain?! This cash cheque is quite obviously a prop that he carries around with him when he goes out to deceive others! He accidentally gave it to me today! Hmph! I think that it is truly fortunate that he gave it to me! Imagine what would have happened if he actually tried to deceive someone with this fake cash cheque?"

Then, Elaine Ma looked at Claire Wilson Wilson before she said in a distressed manner, "Claire Wilson Wilson, he is even brave enough to commit fraud worth a hundred million dollars now! Are you sure you can still trust someone like him? If you don't divorce him today, he will unquestionably get our whole family into trouble!"

Claire Wilson Wilson had a cold expression on her face as she looked at Charlie Wade. "Charlie Wade, if you do not explain yourself and tell me the truth about this matter today, I will truly consider divorcing you! I can accept it if you are poor and useless, but I really cannot accept it if you choose to steal, kidnap, or commit fraud just to earn some money. If that is the case, I will not be able to live with you at all!"

Charlie Wade looked at Claire Wilson Wilson with an aggrieved expression on his face as he said, "Wife, just listen to me. I will explain everything to you. I bought this one hundred million dollar cash cheque from the funeral shop."

"The funeral shop?" Both Claire Wilson Wilson and Elaine Ma were taken aback, and they asked, "What is it for? What happened?"

Charlie Wade sighed as he continued explaining himself. "Didn't I tell you that my old man died when I was eight years old? He appeared in my dream two days ago and told me that he was constantly bullied by others because he had no money to spend down there. So, he asked me to burn him some money..."

As he spoke about it, Charlie Wade sighed as he continued, "I did not dare to delay it any further, so I went to the funeral shop to ask about this matter. The owner of the funeral shop recommended this cash cheque to me and said that burning one cash cheque that is worth one hundred million dollars is much more useful than burning many other smaller notes. Moreover, it is more energy-saving and environmentally friendly. I thought of burning it at the intersection tonight, but I unexpectedly gave the wrong cheque to mom instead..”

Upon hearing this, Claire Wilson Wilson asked suspiciously, “Charlie Wade, are you telling me the truth?”

Charlie Wade nodded hurriedly before he said, “Yes, I am telling you the truth! Just think about how much bad luck we have experienced lately! Moreover, who would try to commit fraud with a cash cheque worth one hundred million dollars? No one would fall for it! Even a hospital cashier would not fall for this trick!”

Claire Wilson Wilson thought about it for a moment and she felt that what Charlie Wade said was very true.

No one would believe that the one hundred million dollar cash cheque was real anyway. Therefore, it was not suitable to be used as a tool for fraud.

Chapter 326

As she thought about it, Claire Wilson Wilson calmed down a little before handing the cash cheque over to Charlie Wade. “Keep it properly and make sure that you burn it for your dad tonight. Don’t mix it up with any other cash cheques in the future! Otherwise, who knows if something bad might happen?”

Charlie Wade nodded in a hurry before he said, “Don’t worry, dear. I know I should be more careful in the future.”

After that, Charlie Wade hurriedly took out the cheque for the one hundred and eighty thousand dollars before handing it over to Elaine Ma and saying, “Mom, this is the real cheque. Here, take it!”

Charlie Wade continued flattering Elaine Ma as he said, “Mom! Fortunately, you realized my mistake! Otherwise, we would undoubtedly lose out on a lot of money if I burned the wrong cheque!”

Elaine Ma glared at him furiously. If it weren’t for the one hundred and eighty thousand dollar cheque, she would not have let him off so easily.

However, who would say no to money? She had to take the cheque and keep the remaining one hundred and sixty thousand dollars for herself!

Charlie Wade heaved a huge sigh of relief when he saw that Elaine Ma had already taken the cheque from his hand. He had been too careless and almost caused a big accident because of his mistake. Fortunately, his brain was able to react fast enough..

Then again, his mother-in-law was a little too smart for her own good. If she found out that this one hundred million dollar cash cheque was real, she would definitely jump out of the window right now because she had made such a huge mistake!

Just as Charlie Wade was feeling a little relieved, they suddenly heard an old and anxious voice coming from outside the ward. "Jacob Wilson! Jacob Wilson! My son, how are you?! Mom is here to see you!"

Charlie Wade frowned as soon as he heard those words.

Shortly after, Lady Wilson walked into the ward with a walking stick in her hand, accompanied by Christopher, Harold, and Wendy.

Lady Wilson had an anxious and distressed expression on her face. Her eyes were bloodshot, and she looked as though she had just been crying.

As soon as she walked into the ward, she broke into tears as she hurried over to Jacob Wilson who was lying on the hospital bed. She kept sobbing as she said, "Jacob Wilson! Jacob Wilson, when I heard that you were in a car accident, I was so scared that I almost died of a heart attack. How are you feeling now? Are you okay?"

Even though Claire Wilson Wilson was still a little disgusted with this group of people, she did not want to turn them away because after all, they were here to visit her father. Therefore, she stepped forward before she said, "Grandma, my father is feeling much better already. Charlie Wade invited a genius doctor over to heal dad's injuries."

Lady Wilson heaved a sigh of relief as she said, "That's good. That is really good news."

At this time, Jacob Wilson also replied, "Mom, don't worry. I will not die so easily."

To be honest, Jacob Wilson was still very dissatisfied with his own mother.

However, no matter unhappy or displeased he was with her, she was still his mother, and they would always be family. How could he possibly have no feelings for her at all?

Moreover, Jacob Wilson also felt very touched when he saw that his mother was so worried and concerned for him that she was crying so much.

Lady Wilson continued crying as she reprimanded herself and said, "Jacob Wilson, this is all my fault. I did not show you how much I cared for you and how much I loved you before this. After finding out that you had gotten into a car accident, I was so worried and afraid. I felt so many regrets because I was afraid that you would leave this world without ever finding out how much I loved you, my dear son."

The old lady was crying and sobbing bitterly at this time. "Jacob Wilson, I am sorry that it seemed as though I did not care about you throughout all these years. It is not that I did not care about you. I was just very harsh on you because I wanted you to grow up and learn even faster. I am so sorry that you have had to suffer silently all this time. Please forgive your mother for being so harsh on you..."

Jacob Wilson felt his heart tightening and he subconsciously burst into tears.

He had always been complaining about his mother because he did not understand why his mother was always so biased and why she only loved and cared for his brother.

He did not understand why his mother would always support and encourage his brother, but no matter what he did, his mother always felt that he was wrong!

This hatred had already formed a knot in his heart after so many years.

However, after listening to his mother and seeing the tears that she was shedding because she had been so worried about him, the knot in his heart began to loosen immediately...

Chapter 327

Charlie Wade frowned immediately.

He was not a member of the Wilson family. He did not have the so-called family-bond and blood relations with them. Therefore, he could tell at a single glance that Lady Wilson was up to one of her bitter tricks once again.

The Wilson family was now in a desperate situation. If they could not revive the Wilson Group, it would unquestionably fall apart, and the old lady would instantly fall from the top to the bottom.

Lady Wilson was someone who had worried about her face and reputation all her life, and she would rather die than accept the fact that she would be poor and destitute. Therefore, she had to wrack her brain to find a way to turn things around for the Wilson family.

First, she had tried to bully and trick Claire Wilson Wilson into joining the Wilson Group again. However, Claire Wilson Wilson did not give in to her request.

After that, she had tried using money to try to get a breakthrough from Elaine Ma. However, Elaine Ma failed to convince Claire Wilson Wilson into returning to the Wilson Group.

Now, she was trying to target Jacob Wilson so that she could find a breakthrough as soon as Jacob Wilson caved in.

This might very well be her last chance.

Meanwhile, Jacob Wilson was already falling for her trap.

He could feel the knot in his heart loosening, and the respect that he had already lost for his mother suddenly reappeared in his heart.

Jacob Wilson shed tears before he said, "Mom, I do not blame you at all. I know that I am not as capable or as smart as my elder brother. I know that I was not born to be a great or successful person. I must have disappointed you a lot. I am sorry..."

Lady Wilson grabbed Jacob Wilson's hand tightly before she choked and said, "Good son. You are my good son. As long as you understand my intentions, it is completely worth it, because even if I die today, I can die in peace!"

At this time, Christopher hurried forward as he sobbed and said, "Mom! Don't always speak about dying so easily! Jacob Wilson and I have already lost our father. We cannot afford to lose you too, mom!"

After wiping the tears off her face, Lady Wilson said, "As long as the both of you have my best interests in your heart, I will be smiling even if I die tonight!"

Then, she continued speaking, "The both of you are brothers, so you should always take care and look out for one another. If both of you are united and of one mind, you will definitely be invincible! As the saying goes, 'When two brothers think alike, it is more than gold can buy'. If both of you can stick together and remain united, I will not need to worry about the Wilson family anymore! We will undoubtedly be a very strong and powerful family!"

Christopher nodded in acknowledgment when he heard his mother's words. "Mom, you are right! I understand now. From now on, I will make sure to work hand in hand with Jacob Wilson to make the Wilson family even stronger than it is now!"

Jacob Wilson had a very excited expression on his face, and it was clear that he had already fallen for the old lady's tricks.

Charlie Wade could not help but sigh because the old lady was truly amazing. She had all sorts of tricks up her sleeves, and she could actually manipulate and convince Jacob Wilson so easily by just saying a few words!

Still, this was what he had already expected!

Jacob Wilson was also moved by his mother and his brother's words, and he sobbed as he said, "Don't worry, mom. I will work together hand in hand with my elder brother in the future."

Lady Wilson was very excited and happy when she heard his words, and she blurted out, "Good! Good! Great!"

At this time, Lady Wilson turned around and looked at Harold and Wendy who had their heads lowered and had been keeping silent all this while.

"I want both of you to apologize to Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade now! Even though both of you are not really Claire Wilson Wilson's brother and sister, you are all cousins no matter what it is! Blood runs thicker than water, so how could both of you mistreat Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade all the time?"

Having said that, the old lady glared at Wendy before she shouted, "And you, Wendy! How could you try to hit your own cousin at the opening ceremony today?! Who gave you the courage to do so? I want you to apologize to your sister now!"

Harold and Wendy lowered their heads and bowed before they said with great piety, "Claire Wilson Wilson, we know that what we did before was wrong. Please forgive us! We will never do anything to hurt you again in the future!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little caught off guard at this time. This was because this was the first time she had ever seen Harold and Wendy apologizing and admitting their mistakes in such a humble manner. She knew that both of them had to be struggling internally to put their pride aside and apologize to her.

However, since both of them had already apologized, Claire Wilson Wilson also replied kindly, "It's okay. We can just forget whatever happened in the past..."

Lady Wilson was overjoyed, and she quickly said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Claire Wilson Wilson, your father is still in recovery now, so it is very important for us to take good care of him. Even though the Wilson family villa might be a little old, the environment there is definitely better than the community you are currently living in. Why don't you and your whole family move back into the Wilson family villa?"

Chapter 328

Christopher hurriedly agreed before he said, "Yes, Claire Wilson Wilson. I think that it is very important for your father to build up his health again. He should recuperate in a good environment with a good mood! So, why don't you listen to your grandmother and come back to live in the Wilson family villa? I will also hire a few nannies to take care of your father twenty-four hours a day!"

Jacob Wilson, who was lying on the hospital bed at this time, felt extremely moved when he heard what his mother and brother had just said.

His heart felt a little shaken, and he could not help but say, "Claire Wilson Wilson, why don't we move back, then..."

Claire Wilson Wilson felt a little conflicted.

She did not know whether her grandmother was being sincere or whether she was just pretending.

However, when she saw her grandmother, father, and uncle holding hands and crying together, she also felt very touched.

She had to think of her father. If he could move back into the Wilson family villa and live in a comfortable environment with a calm mood and proper care, he would definitely be able to recover and regain his health even more quickly.

At this time, Elaine Ma also persuaded her, "Claire Wilson Wilson, this is such a great opportunity! What are you waiting for? Why don't you agree to move back to the Wilson family villa already?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little hesitant at first, but when she saw that her parents seemed keen to do so, she opened her mouth and replied in the spur of the moment, "Alright then, we can move back..."

Lady Wilson was very happy and felt extremely excited.

It was done!

Hahaha!

Her mission was a success!

Sure enough, she was still the most capable! Jacob Wilson was just a useless and gullible fool, Elaine Ma was just a materialistic woman who only cared about money, Charlie Wade was a piece of trash who only knew how to deceive others, and even though Claire Wilson Wilson seemed to be rather capable, she also fell for her trick at the end of the day!

As she thought about this, Lady Wilson felt very proud of herself!

Christopher could not help but secretly give his mother a thumbs up, filled with admiration for his mother.

Even though his mother was old, she was indeed the best at plotting. She knew that they would surely succeed in tricking them to move back into the Wilson family villa if she started working on Jacob Wilson first. After that, it was easier for Lady Wilson to work on winning Claire Wilson Wilson over because she would be easily influenced by her father. This was completely perfect!

When Charlie Wade saw that his wife was about to be fooled, he hurriedly said, "Grandma, uncle, it would be great if all of us could move back into the Wilson family villa. That would be no problem at all. After all, we are all family, and it would be great for all of us to live together, but ..."

Harold frowned before he yelled at Charlie Wade coldly, "But what?! What is wrong with you? Don't you know your place in the Wilson family? Why are you talking so much when this has nothing to do with you at all?!"

Lady Wilson raised her hand before she slapped Harold and said, "How dare you speak to your brother-in-law in that manner? Don't you have any respect for your elders at all?"

Harold was stunned when his grandmother slapped him, but he immediately understood why she had done that.

D*mn it! He had almost gotten into trouble because he could not stop himself from mocking and humiliating Charlie Wade!

Just a few moments ago, he had been pretending that he had already repented, but here he was, humiliating and ridiculing Charlie Wade as soon as he had the opportunity to do so! If Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade realized that he was just pretending, his grandmother's perfect plan of tricking Claire Wilson Wilson and her family into moving back to the Wilson family villa would be ruined!

As he thought about it, Harold became flustered and quickly said to Charlie Wade, "I am sorry, brother-in-law. Please forgive my wretched mouth! I cannot control myself! Please forgive me and please do not hold it against me."

After saying that, Harold slapped himself twice to prove that he was being very sincere.

Charlie Wade could not help but sneer when he saw what Harold was trying to do. It seemed as though the Wilson family was willing to give up everything just so they could carry on with their act...

Chapter 329

To expose their true colors, Charlie Wade said, "I already said that it is no problem for all of us to move back into the Wilson family villa. After all, we are family. However, Claire Wilson Wilson's studio is already operating, and so, I would like to remind everyone in advance that Claire Wilson Wilson will not be returning to work for the Wilson Group in the future."

"What?" Lady Wilson yelled out loud. It seemed as though someone had just stepped on her tail. She jumped up in an instant before she said, "How could I allow that to happen? I've already said that the whole family should not only be living together, but we should also cooperate and work hard together so that the Wilson family can be strong and powerful. How can you come back to the Wilson family villa but not work for the Wilson Group, then?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "Grandma, didn't you say that the reason why you are inviting us to move back into the Wilson family villa is because of my father-in-law's health? I thought that you simply wanted it to be convenient for him to recuperate and regain his health? Therefore, whether we move back into the Wilson family villa and whether Claire Wilson Wilson decides to work for the Wilson Group again is two completely separate matters. We should not confuse these two matters. Don't you agree?"

"No!" Lady Wilson shouted in response immediately. "Since your whole family is already moving back into the Wilson family villa, you have to return to work for the Wilson Group!"

Then, Lady Wilson tried to work her charms on Claire Wilson Wilson again. "Claire Wilson Wilson, you have just opened your studio and you have no business or customers yet. Furthermore, it will be very difficult for you to run the business all by yourself. How would you possibly be able to handle all the stress and pressure on your own? Don't you think it would be better for you to close down your studio and come back to work for the Wilson Group instead? Your life will surely be easier and much more comfortable that way!"

Finally, Claire Wilson Wilson also realized that there was something unusual in Lady Wilson's words.

It seemed as though Charlie Wade was right. The only reason why Lady Wilson was inviting their family to move back into the Wilson family villa was that she wanted her to return to work for the Wilson Group! Lady Wilson's invitation and concern for her father were all fake!

If that was truly the case, Lady Wilson was merely putting on an act just so she could convince her to come back and work for the Wilson Group. Everything that she was doing was just so that she could manipulate and trick her.

Was all of this just a performance? Were they just putting on an act?

As she thought about it, Claire Wilson Wilson felt a cold chill run down her back.

Fortunately, Charlie Wade had reacted fast enough! Otherwise, she would have been fooled, and she would have stepped right into the old woman's trap!

Thus, Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly replied, "Grandma, I am really very grateful that you have invited our family to move back into the Wilson family villa. However, Charlie Wade is right. Even if we move back into the Wilson family villa, I will not go back to work for the Wilson Group because it is two completely separate matters. So, I have to tell you in advance that my family can move back into the Wilson family villa, but it will be impossible for me to go back to work for the Wilson Group. I want to work on my own studio and focus on my own business."

When Lady Wilson saw that Claire Wilson Wilson was so determined, she absolutely hated Charlie Wade with all of her heart.

She had already put on such a great performance and had nearly successfully convinced Claire Wilson Wilson, but Charlie Wade just had to ruin everything for her!

D*mn it!

Hence, Lady Wilson decided to work on her bitter tricks once again. She started crying as she said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, do you really hate your grandma so much? Since you are already moving back home, why are you still unwilling to work for the Wilson Group? I thought that our family will be working hard together to strive for new growth and heights. Why do you want to work on your own studio and business instead of growing the Wilson Group with the family?"

After saying that, Lady Wilson wiped the tears off her face before she said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, are you still unwilling to forgive your grandma?"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson replied seriously, "Grandma, this matter has nothing to do with forgiveness. I have already forgiven you a long time ago. However, I seem to understand something clearer now. It is not a solution to depend on someone for the rest of my life. This is because I know that I can lose everything that I work for in the blink of an eye as long as it is not my own business. I have no control over it at all. The best way for me to have control over my own life is if I start my own business and build a career for myself. Therefore, I choose to focus on my own business instead of returning to the Wilson Group!"

Jacob Wilson and Elaine Ma tried to persuade Claire Wilson Wilson. "Claire Wilson Wilson, why are you still so stubborn? Wouldn't it be great if you could return to work for the Wilson Group? It would surely be better to work for the Wilson Group instead of doing your own business!"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied without any hesitation, "Dad! Mom! This is my personal decision so please do not try to convince me or get me to change my mind. I have already made my decision, and I will not change my mind."

Lady Wilson knew that she had been completely defeated.

If Claire Wilson Wilson was unwilling to return to work for the Wilson Group, it would be useless and cumbersome for her to even try to talk to Jacob Wilson or Elaine Ma.

Therefore, she could only grit her teeth as she unleashed her secret weapon!

Chapter 330

Lady Wilson trembled as she walked toward Claire Wilson Wilson and knelt directly in front of her!

Everyone in the ward was shocked at this time!

Who would have ever imagined that the haughty and arrogant Lady Wilson would kneel in front of Claire Wilson Wilson?

This truly was a shock to everyone!

Even Christopher did not expect his mother to actually be willing to kneel in front of Claire Wilson Wilson and beg, just so that she would be able to trick Claire Wilson Wilson into going back to work for the Wilson Group.

She had been so strong and arrogant throughout her entire life, always trying to control and manipulate everyone around her. How could she possibly kneel in front of someone else like this? Why would she kneel in front of Claire Wilson Wilson?

Claire Wilson Wilson was also surprised and dumbfounded at this time. She quickly replied, "Grandma, what are you doing now?! Please get up! We can amicably discuss things."

Lady Wilson continued kneeling in front of Claire Wilson Wilson before she said apologetically, "Claire Wilson Wilson, what your grandmother did in the past was wrong! I know that everything was my fault. I should not have chased you out of the Wilson Group. I sincerely apologize to you for my mistake. Claire Wilson Wilson, please forgive your grandmother and come back to help the Wilson Group again. The Wilson family cannot survive without you! If you refuse to come back to the Wilson Group, it is truly over for the Wilson family! Please, Claire Wilson Wilson. Grandma is begging you now. Please come back to the Wilson Group!"

Lady Wilson's attitude toward Claire Wilson Wilson had changed completely, and she was no longer the arrogant old woman who always used her position as the head of the family to control and coerce Claire Wilson Wilson into doing something that she did not want to do. Right now, she was simply pleading and desperately begging Claire Wilson Wilson to help the Wilson family. It seemed as though she genuinely regretted her past actions.

The Wilson family was in danger of going bankrupt and losing everything they had. Therefore, Lady Wilson knew that even if she had to kneel and beg, she had to make sure that she did everything she could to get Claire Wilson Wilson to work for the Wilson Group again.

Otherwise, the Wilson Group would really be ruined in her hands!

When Christopher saw his mother kneeling before Claire Wilson Wilson and desperately begging her, the expression on his face changed immediately. Quick as a flash, he dragged Harold and Wendy along with him as all three of them knelt beside Lady Wilson to beg Claire Wilson Wilson to return to the Wilson Group.

Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly felt a little lost as she witnessed this scene.

She had never expected that Lady Wilson, who had always cared about her own face and reputation more than her own life, to actually kneel and apologize to her in front of so many other people.

It seemed as though the Wilson family was completely desperate.

When Lady Wilson saw that Claire Wilson Wilson was still indifferent, she continued sobbing as she spoke, "Claire Wilson Wilson, please have some pity for your poor grandmother. The Wilson family cannot live without you. Please, Claire Wilson Wilson. Please come back and work for the Wilson Group!"

After that, Lady Wilson continued kneeling as she kowtowed to Claire Wilson Wilson three times with a miserable and distressed expression on her face, making it seem as though she was going to continue kneeling until she died unless Claire Wilson Wilson agreed to help the Wilson family.

"If you knew that things would turn out this way, why did you mistreat Claire Wilson Wilson in the first place?"

At this time, Charlie Wade walked up to Lady Wilson before he said coldly, "Grandma, thank you very much for coming to visit my father-in-law today. We really appreciate it. However, it would be impossible for Claire Wilson Wilson to return to work for the Wilson Group."

After saying that, Charlie Wade issued an eviction order and said, "Please leave this place immediately!"

Lady Wilson immediately stopped crying and glared at Charlie Wade as she said, "Charlie Wade, when you had nothing at all, the Wilson family provided for you and gave you food, clothing, and a place to live. Don't you feel a little grateful at all? Why are you trying to sow discord between Claire Wilson Wilson and the other members of the Wilson family now?"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly before he said, "I am sorry, grandma, but the person who fed me and provided for me was Claire Wilson Wilson and my parents-in-law. You have never given me anything and all you have ever done is to mock me and call me a piece of trash! Why should I be grateful to someone like you?"

Then, the expression on Charlie Wade's face changed before he snorted, "Don't think that I do not know what your plan is. I know that you are just trying to trick and manipulate Claire Wilson Wilson into going back to the Wilson Group because you want her to help the Wilson Group secure some contracts and partnerships with the other companies so that you can revitalize the Wilson Group again. Am I wrong?"

Chapter 331

Lady Wilson became flustered as soon as Charlie Wade suddenly exposed her true motives.

She thought that she would be able to deal with Claire Wilson Wilson's family easily, and she thought that it would be especially easy to deal with Charlie Wade since he was nothing but a piece of trash. Lady Wilson thought that it would not be that difficult at all and thought that Charlie Wade would certainly feel grateful and happy as long as Harold and Wendy apologized to him.

However, she did not expect Charlie Wade to be the one to see right through her act.

When she saw that her true motives had already been exposed, Lady Wilson hesitated for a moment before she said, "We are all family here, so we should all be working together so that our family can prosper! Wouldn't it be a joke to the public if word spreads that our family is running two different companies?"

Charlie Wade sneered before he replied, "The richest man in Hong Kong, Li Ka-Shing, and his son are also running two completely different companies. So, is anyone making a joke out of them? I think that you have ill intentions, and the truth is that you are simply trying to make use of Claire Wilson Wilson so that she can revive the Wilson Group on your behalf!"

"You... you..." Lady Wilson was so angry that she was completely at a loss for words. At this time, Christopher who was standing at the side yelled immediately, "Charlie Wade! Watch what you are saying. Please remember that you are nothing but an outsider in the Wilson family!"

Charlie Wade ignored him and simply looked at his wife before saying, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you must keep your eyes open. Some people are just trying to manipulate you and make use of you. Do you remember what happened with the Emgrand Group? Do you remember how they treated you after you won the sixty million dollar contract with Emgrand Ground? On the surface, they said that they wanted to promote you to become the director of Wilson Group, but what happened in reality? At the banquet, they made the public announcement that Harold would be promoted to become the director of the Wilson Group instead! Do you want to go through a similar situation again?"

The expression on Claire Wilson Wilson's face changed immediately.

At this time, she finally understood everything that was happening.

She was utterly thankful that her husband was giving her a reminder, otherwise, she would most likely be fooled by them again.

When Harold saw that their plan was already falling apart, he stood up and pointed his finger at Charlie Wade before he said, "Charlie Wade! You stinky piece of trash! Do you honestly think you have the right to speak up here? Are you trying to stir up trouble within our household? Are you that tired of living?!"

Charlie Wade looked at Harold with a cold expression on his face before he asked, "Why? Are you sick of pretending to be humble and nice to us already? Let me tell you something, Harold. When you see me in the future, you'd better be polite and respectful to me. Otherwise, I will just give Don Albertt a call so that he can instruct his subordinates to hunt you down so that you will not be able to stay in Aurouss Hilll anymore!"

"D*mn you, Charlie Wade!" Harold yelled furiously. "Who do you think you are?! You're still trying to fool me? Don't think I don't know what you've been up to! All you know how to do is to deceive others with a trick or two! I can't wait to see how these people are going to deal with you when they see through your tricks one day!"

Charlie Wade sneered as he replied, "At the very least, they have not seen through my tricks now. They are still very respectful to me, even calling me their master!"

After he was done speaking, Charlie Wade said contemptuously, "Do you want to continue putting on an act now? Okay, then. I will call Albert immediately!"

Having said that, Charlie Wade took out his cell phone before dialing Albert's phone number and turning on the speaker of his phone.

Harold's face turned pale immediately, and he started breaking out in cold sweat.

Was this guy truly calling Don Albertt?

If Don Albertt were to instruct his men to hunt him down, wouldn't he be done for? He would be finished!

As he thought about this, Harold tried to persuade Charlie Wade as he said, "Charlie Wade, Charlie Wade, I was just joking around with you. Please don't take it so seriously. After all, you are still my brother-in-law, and we are a family."

Charlie Wade smiled indifferently before he replied, "We are not a family."

Right after that, the phone call was connected.

Don Albertt greeted Charlie Wade respectfully, "Hello, Mr. Wade. What can I do for you?"

Charlie Wade glanced at Harold before saying, "Albert, if I want you to hunt someone down right now, how many men can you send to go after that person?"

Chapter 332

Albert replied instantly, "Mr. Wade, I have men all over Aurouss Hilll. I have men in most of the nightclubs, bars, karaoke bars, and construction sites. As long as you give me the order, I will instruct my men to hunt that person down and kill him immediately! I will make sure that I send men out on the streets to look for him every day and I will make sure that he wishes that he had never been born in this life!"

Harold was so frightened at this moment and quickly knelt in front of Charlie Wade as he cried and begged for his life. "Charlie Wade, Charlie

Wade, my good brother-in-law, I was just joking around with you. Please just disregard me and just let me go. Please..."

Charlie Wade glanced at Harold coldly and asked, "Why? You're not pretending to be indestructible anymore?"

"No, no. I will not pretend anymore. I will not pretend anymore..." Harold replied immediately. He was already scared to death, how could he possibly dare to act in front of Charlie Wade any longer?

If Don Albertt gave his men the order to hunt anyone down in Aurouss Hilll, all of his men in Aurouss Hilll would definitely give all they could to hunt that person down!

After all, this would be the perfect opportunity for them to please Don Albertt!

Meanwhile, Charlie Wade continued holding the cell phone in his hand as he said icily, "Since you are not pretending, let me see just how sincere you are. Otherwise, I will assume that you are just saying this in the spur of the moment. I know you very well. I know that if I let you go today, you will still try to come against me another day."

Harold trembled in fear because he knew that Charlie Wade would not let him go so easily. Therefore, without even saying a single word, he quickly kowtowed three times in front of Charlie Wade, banging his head hard on the hospital floor.

"Charlie Wade, I was wrong! Please forgive me. I am giving you my most sincere apology! Please do not ask Don Albertt to hunt me down!"

At this moment, Harold was feeling a ton of regrets in his heart.

Was there something wrong with his brain? Why did he have to challenge and go against Charlie Wade time and time again? Wasn't he seeking his own death? He should have just waited until Don Albertt figured out the truth and hunted Charlie Wade down himself instead of provoking Charlie Wade. If Charlie Wade really ordered Don Albertt to send his men to hunt him down, he might not even be able to live to see the sunlight tomorrow!

When Christopher saw his son kneeling and bowing in front of Charlie Wade, he became very angry and said, "Charlie Wade! Don't you think you are overdoing it? Why are you acting like a bully?!"

Charlie Wade simply asked, "You said that I'm a bully?"

Then, Charlie Wade lifted his cell phone before speaking once more to Albert, "Albert, I want to add another person into the list. I want your men to hunt down and get rid of this pair of father and son!"

Albert responded immediately, "Okay, Mr. Wade! You can rest assured that as long as you give me an order, I will make sure to get it done as soon as possible! I will make sure my men hunt them down and teach them a lesson! Just tell me their names!"

Christopher was also trembling in fear at this time.

D*mn it.

He certainly did not expect Charlie Wade to be so cruel.

He had only said that the latter was a bully and he was actually giving Don Albertt an order to hunt him down and get rid of him as well?!

How could he possibly put up with this nonsense!

At this point, Lady Wilson finally realized the mess they had gotten themselves into. She was afraid that her son and grandson would get hurt again, therefore, she hurriedly said, "Charlie Wade, please just let them off and we will leave right now. Just pretend that we did not come here today..."

Charlie Wade shook his head. "That will not be possible. You are already here, so how could I possibly assume that you did not come here today?"

Lady Wilson trembled as she asked, "Then, what do you want us to do now?"

Charlie Wade replied indifferently, "I want you to tell Claire Wilson Wilson, my father-in-law, and mother-in-law, the true purpose of your visit today. If you are honest and truthful enough, I might spare them and let them off. I will even pretend that you did not come here today. However, if I feel that you are not truthful or sincere, then I am sorry. I will make sure all the men in Aurouss Hilll will be hunting them down tonight!"

Chapter 333

As soon as he heard Charlie Wade's words, Harold, who was kneeling on the ground, was already frightened to death. He cried out as he hurriedly said, "Grandma, hurry up and tell them the truth! Please tell Charlie Wade the truth now! If you don't, I will truly lose my life, grandma!"

Christopher was also afraid that they would be facing a lot of trouble. Therefore, he hurriedly pleaded, "Mom, just tell them the truth now."

Lady Wilson had already given up struggling at this time, and she sighed like a rooster who had already been defeated in a fight before saying, "Charlie Wade is right. The reason why I am here today is just that I was planning to trick all of you into moving back to the Wilson family villa. My main purpose in doing that was just because I wanted to manipulate and trick Claire Wilson Wilson into going back to work for the Wilson Group."

Then, Lady Wilson tried to push the blame away from herself as she blurted out, "But I..."

Charlie Wade interrupted her before she could finish her sentence. "But nothing. Since you have already explained your true purpose for coming here today, you can leave now."

Lady Wilson looked at Charlie Wade bitterly before she said, "Charlie Wade, you have to let me finish talking. I have my reasons for doing what I did."

Charlie Wade replied coldly, "You are only facing all these hardships because you asked for it! You brought them upon yourself and you have no one else to blame but yourself!"

After that, Charlie Wade continued speaking, "If you know what is best for you, you will just keep your mouth shut and get out of this ward before anything else happens! If you leave right now, I can also pretend that this incident never happened. Otherwise..."

At this point, Charlie Wade gave his order to Don Albertt, who was still waiting on the other end of the line. "Albert, if you hear an old lady trying to talk back at me again, I want you to immediately give an order to your men to hunt Christopher Wilson and Harold Wilson down!"

Don Albertt responded immediately, "Mr. Wade, don't worry! I will surely carry out your instructions!"

Lady Wilson was utterly defeated, and she nodded to herself as she accepted her failure. Then, she raised her hand as she beckoned the rest of them and said weakly, "Let's go."

Christopher, Harold, and Wendy, who had already been silent for a long time, quickly helped Lady Wilson up to her feet before they left the ward.

After they had left, Jacob Wilson let out a long sigh before he said in a depressed voice, "I honestly thought that my mother had finally realized her mistakes and turned over a new leaf. Who would have known that it was all just part of her plan?"

Meanwhile, Elaine Ma was lamenting, "If the Wilson Group collapses, we will lose our pensions..."

Claire Wilson Wilson looked at Charlie Wade before smiling and saying, "Charlie Wade, thank you so much for what you have done for me. If it weren't because of your reminder, I would have been fooled, and I would have stepped right into their trap again."

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I am your husband. Why are you so polite to me?"

Then, Charlie Wade continued speaking, "For the next few days, we need to let dad rest well in the hospital. I will take care of him. Claire Wilson Wilson, you can focus on building up your new company so that the Wilson family will not have the opportunity to look down on you!"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she said seriously, "I know! I will certainly go all out this time!"

When Lady Wilson returned home, she was in a trance and felt as though she was about to collapse.

Not too long ago, she had just hosted a big banquet in the hotel because the Wilson Group had successfully signed a huge contract with Emgrand Group.

Yet, in the blink of an eye, the Wilson family were now treated as outcasts and were going bankrupt!

The Emgrand Group had decided to cease all partnerships and collaborations with them, and they had also blacklisted the Wilson Group. Now, the Wilson Group had lost many other partnerships with other companies, losing all of its revenue.

At the same time, the company was also facing a large amount of capital expenditure.

For instance, they had to pay for the rental of the office building, the salaries of all their employees, the construction costs for all of their projects, and also the material costs that they owed to all of their suppliers.

Chapter 334

Now, the Wilson Group was akin to a bag of rice with holes in it. To begin with, there was not much rice in it. However, the rice was now all rushing out of the bag, and the bag was almost empty!

What was even more annoying was the fact that her most beloved granddaughter, Wendy, had originally had the opportunity to marry Gerald from the White family. Yet, the White family had also decided to abandon the Wilson family.

Therefore, the Wilson family no longer had the support of the White family.

As she thought about it, Lady Wilson could not help but shed tears immediately.

Over the past few years, she had been in charge of taking care of the Wilson family and heading the operations of the Wilson Group. However, she had never expected the Wilson Group to end in this situation with her at the helm.

If this continued any further, the Wilson Group would not only have to shut down completely, but they would also face a huge amount of debt. If that happened, Lady Wilson was afraid that they might not even be able to keep this old villa of theirs!

All of this had happened because of her own greed and selfishness.

If she had not tried to seize the villa that the White family had given to Charlie Wade in the first place, Jacob Wilson and Claire Wilson Wilson would not have disowned the Wilson family!

If Claire Wilson Wilson did not leave the Wilson Group, Emgrand Group would not have turned against the Wilson Group.

At this time, Christopher was also on the verge of collapse.

Their family business was at stake, his daughter had lost her happiness, his son had lost his future, and he had been repeatedly humiliated by that piece of trash, Charlie Wade..

Christopher wanted to do something to help the Wilson family, but it seemed as though there was nothing he could do at all.

Wendy had been crying ever since she had come home, and this truly broke Christopher's heart.

Therefore, he could not help but ask Lady Wilson, "Mom, is there honestly no hope for the Wilson family and the Wilson Group anymore?"

Lady Wilson shed a few tears before she said, "I do not know what else to do anymore. If we do not declare bankruptcy and close down the company, the amount of debt that will subsequently accumulate will unmistakably crush us..."

Christopher choked as he said, "Mom, can't you ask some of your old friends for help? Why don't you ask around and see if anyone is willing to invest a sum of money in the Wilson Group so that they can help us to pull through this period of difficulties?"

"Invest?" Lady Wilson asked with a bitter smile on her face. "Who would still dare to invest in the Wilson Group now that we have already been blacklisted by Emgrand Group? Those old friends of mine are all avoiding me, and none of them will answer my calls or reply to my text messages at all. I don't think that there is truly anyone that we can call a true friend in this world! Everyone is just using one another for the benefits!"

Harold suddenly said, "Grandma, if you say that there are no friends in this world and that everyone is just using one another for benefits, then, how is Charlie Wade friends with so many wealthy and powerful people? Moreover, those people sincerely respect him and even call him their master! What benefits could Charlie Wade possibly give to them?"

At this time, Lady Wilson replied, "Even though Charlie Wade is just a piece of trash, he is unmistakably good with his words. I heard that these wealthy and powerful people respect him and are so polite to him simply because he gives them some Feng Shui advice. I think they are all fools! Charlie Wade is no different from those fake old fortune-tellers who sit under the trees by the roadside!"

Harold had a puzzled expression on his face as he asked, "If so, why do so many wealthy and powerful people believe in what he says?"

Lady Wilson replied, "They believe in him because he has not made a mistake yet! Charlie Wade is just like those fake Feng Shui masters in the past who were all very good at fooling and deceiving people. However, at the end of the day, everyone discovered the truth and realized that they were just liars!"

As she spoke about this, the old lady continued speaking with a cold expression on her face. "In my opinion, Charlie Wade will definitely make a mistake very soon. When that time comes, all these wealthy and powerful people will realize that they have been tricked and deceived by him. After that, they will surely teach him a lesson!"

Harold looked at his grandmother expectantly before he said, "I can't wait! I can't wait to see Charlie Wade getting chopped up and fed to the dogs!"

Lady Wilson replied bitterly, "Yes! Don't worry, that day will definitely come!"

Chapter 335

As the Wilson family were busy crying and cursing at Charlie Wade, two Rolls-Royce suddenly stopped in front of the Wilson family villa.

Then, six bodyguards dressed in black stepped out of the two cars. One of the bodyguards quickly opened the rear door of the car at the back, and a middle-aged man in his fifties stepped out of the car.

The man was very presentable, and he was dressed in a top-notch handmade suit from a branded designer brand. He looked very dignified.

The middle-aged man stepped out of the car with a copy of the Wilson family tree in his hand as he asked his assistant, "Is this the Wilson family in Aurouss Hilll?"

The assistant nodded before he said, "Yes, Mr. Wilson. I have already checked with the Civil Affairs Bureau and confirmed that this is indeed the Wilson family in Aurouss Hilll."

"Alright, then." The middle-aged man nodded and looked at the Wilson family villa before he said, "I did not expect the Wilson family in Aurouss Hilll to be so desolate. I guess they really are our poorer relatives..."

The assistant hurriedly replied, "Mr. Wilson, why don't we leave now? It would be rather annoying for us to get involved with these poor people."

The middle-aged man waved his hand slightly before he said, "Even though we have already lost contact with the Wilson family from Aurouss Hilll for a long time, my father told me that someone from the Aurouss Hilll Wilson family saved his life during the Resistance War. My father had always wanted to come over to thank him personally but he did not have the opportunity to do so because he had been paralyzed in bed all this time. Therefore, I sincerely wanted to come and thank the Wilson family in Aurouss Hilll on my father's behalf. Moreover, I also want to sort out the genealogy of our ancestors so that I can write them in."

The assistant asked again out of curiosity, "Mr. Wilson, what is the story behind your family tree?"

The middle-aged man replied, "The Wilson family was very big back then. Everyone in the Wilson family used to live together in the same village. However, when the Resistance War broke out, everyone fled for their lives and got separated. My father and the ancestor of the Wilson family in Aurouss Hilll were distant cousins. As they were escaping, my father was hit by a bullet and almost died. However, the man from the Wilson family in Aurouss Hilll carried him on his back so that they could escape."

The assistant exclaimed in shock. "Wow! To think that there is such a relationship and history between this Wilson family and your family."

"Yes." After that, the middle-aged man sighed before he said, "Go and knock on the door."

Meanwhile, all the members of the Wilson family were sitting together as they wept and cried miserably. When the doorbell rang, Christopher quickly wiped the tears off his face before he walked out to the courtyard to open the door.

Christopher saw a middle-aged man who was a few years older than him standing outside the gate with an arrogant expression on his face. When Christopher saw the six bodyguards and two Rolls-Royce parked outside his front door, he knew that this was not an ordinary man. Therefore, he could not help but ask, "How can I help you?"

The middle-aged man smiled slightly before he asked, "Are you a descendant of the Wilson family?"

Christopher subconsciously nodded before he said, "Yes, I am a member of the Wilson family. What can I do for you?"

The middle-aged man introduced himself at this time. "Hello. My name is Kenneth Wilson, and I am the head of the Wilson family in Eastcliff."

"The Wilson family in Eastcliff?" Christopher asked in bewilderment. "What do you mean? I have not heard of it before."

The middle-aged man smiled before he said, "We share the same ancestors, and we could be considered distant relatives. My father and your father were distant cousins, so I guess we could also be considered distant relatives."

Christopher asked in surprise, "Are you also a member of the Wilson family?"

"Yes." Kenneth nodded before he said, "The reason I am here today is mainly that my father entrusted me to visit you so that I can express my gratitude to your father in person. Besides, I would also like to get to know you better so that we can keep in touch in the future."

Upon saying that, Kenneth took out a business card from his pocket before he handed it over to Christopher. "This is my business card."

Christopher took the name card in his hand and was dumbfounded as soon as he glanced at it.

Kenneth Wilson, the chairman of Modestway Group?

Modestway Group was a very famous public-listed group!

Christopher was very happy and quickly said, "Chairman Wilson! I have admired you for a very long time!"

After that, he hurriedly explained, "Chairman Wilson, what is the relationship between your father and my father? My father had already passed away more than three years ago."

Kenneth sighed before he replied, "Oh, that is truly unfortunate. My father also passed away last year. Before he left, he was still asking for us to bring him to see the person who saved his life. I did not expect his benefactor to leave one step before him..."

Chapter 336

As he spoke of this, Kenneth was filled with emotion as he said, "Since the brothers already missed out on one another for so many decades, perhaps they would have the opportunity to meet in heaven, then."

Christopher nodded before he said humbly, "Chairman Wilson, why don't you come in and take a seat."

Kenneth nodded before he laughed and said, "Alright, then. I am sorry to bother you!"

"No, no, you are not a bother at all!"

Christopher hurriedly led Kenneth through the courtyard into the living room. Then, he hurriedly introduced Lady Wilson to him. "Mom! This is the chairman of the Modestway Group, Kenneth Wilson!"

Lady Wilson was stunned.

Modestway Group?!

That was an extremely famous public-listed group!

Why was the chairman of Modestway Group here in their home?

Even though she was very puzzled, she still got up to greet him, filled with excitement. "Oh! Welcome to our house, Chairman Wilson. Please forgive an old lady like me for not giving you an appropriate welcome!"

"No, no, don't worry about it." Kenneth smiled as he extended his hands slightly. Suddenly, he caught a glimpse of Wendy who had been crying for a long time. Her eyes were red from her heartbroken weeping. As Kenneth glanced at her, he could not help but feel that this girl was indeed very beautiful even though she had such a pitiful expression on her face. He could not help but feel his heart beating a little faster.

Wendy was so depressed that she did not notice the new guest in her house was silently looking at her with greed in his eyes.

Lady Wilson quickly invited Kenneth into their living room before saying, "I did not expect Chairman Wilson to pay a visit to our house! I am truly honored to have you here as our guest!"

"You are too polite." Kenneth smiled before he said, "If I am not wrong, you must be the head of the Wilson family, right?"

Lady Wilson hurriedly replied, "Yes. Chairman Wilson, you can just call me Lady Wilson. You don't have to be so polite."

Kenneth nodded and said, "The reason why I am here today is that I want to fulfill my father's last wish before he passed away."

After that, Kenneth quickly explained the history that his father had shared with the old man of the Wilson family in the past.

The ancestral home of the Wilson family was located in a small mountain village. Almost everyone in that village shared Wilson's last name. In fact, all of them belonged to a large family that had developed for hundreds of years. Since the Wilson family had already developed so much, there were thousands of people in their family. At this time, most of them had already exceeded five different generations, and they could not be regarded as blood relatives anymore.

When they were still teenagers, Kenneth's father and Christopher's father were barely related to one another since there were already up to seven or eight generations between them. However, no matter what it was, both of them were still very close to one another, and they regarded each other as distant cousins.

Later, when the Resistance War began, the Wilson family had run for their lives in a panic, and everyone had gotten separated at the time. Fortunately, Kenneth's father did not lose his life that day.

After everyone had gotten separated because of the war, none of them had been able to find one another anymore.

When Kenneth's father had been on his deathbed, he was still asking and instructing Kenneth to find a way to thank his benefactor on his behalf.

However, Kenneth had not taken his father's words seriously. Even though he promised to help his father, he had forgotten all about the promise he made to his father on his deathbed.

It was only until a few days ago when Kenneth kept having the same nightmare of his old man complaining and scolding him that he suddenly recalled the promise that he made to him. Kenneth consulted a fortune teller, and the master had told him that his father's last wish was so strong to the point that if he refused to fulfill his wish for him, the old man would continue to haunt him in his dreams.

That was the reason why Kenneth had decided to spend some money to hire some people to look around before they finally found some clues leading to the Wilson family in Aurouss Hilll.

Upon hearing this, Lady Wilson cried out in excitement.

This was indeed a light at the end of a dark tunnel!

The Modestway Group was a publicly-listed group with a market value of tens of billions of dollars. If Kenneth just snapped his fingers, he would surely be able to help the Wilson family and save them from their misery!

Chapter 337

As she thought about this, Lady Wilson could not help but feel very excited as she said to Kenneth, "Oh, Chairman Wilson, your father was truly a good man who was very grateful to his savior! He actually remembered everything that happened even after all these years."

Kenneth nodded and sighed before he said, "After all, he was his benefactor and savior. My father has not forgotten everything that he had done for him even after so many years."

Then, Kenneth took out a high-end jewelry box from his pocket and handed it over to Lady Wilson, saying, "My father passed this to me on his deathbed and told me that I had to deliver this to his savior no matter what. Since Lord Wilson has already passed away, I will just hand this over to you instead, Lady Wilson."

Lady Wilson thought that Kenneth's father must have planned to give her a rare treasure to thank the old man for saving his life. Therefore, she quickly opened the jewelry box excitedly and looked inside the jewelry box.

However... it turned out to be a rusty bullet!

What the hell was this?!

Lady Wilson stared at Kenneth before she asked, "Chairman Wilson, this is..."

Kenneth hurriedly replied, "This is the bullet that hit my father's leg back then. His savior used a pocket knife to dig it out of his leg, and my father had been keeping it with him ever since that day. Before he passed away, he told me to pass this to his savior as a keepsake."

Lady Wilson almost cursed out loud.

What the heck?!

Her husband had saved his father's life, and all his father had wanted to give him was a rusty old bullet to commemorate that day?!

Was this how they were going to repay his kindness?!

This rusty old bullet was not even worth a single penny! Moreover, it had also entered a human body before. Why was Kenneth giving her this useless item?! He might as well reward them with eighteen million dollars so that they could tide through the difficulties they were facing now!

As she thought about this, Lady Wilson heaved a huge sigh of relief before saying, "I really did not expect your father to be such a kind and righteous person. I guess if he found out that our Wilson family is now facing a crisis, he would definitely offer us a helping hand, right?"

Kenneth was startled by this. A poor relative was indeed a poor relative. They had just met and she was already trying to ask him for money?!

However, since he was here to help the old man reciprocate his good wishes, he did not want to be rude to Lady Wilson. Thus, Kenneth asked, "Lady Wilson, I wonder what huge crisis your family has encountered?"

Lady Wilson quickly replied, "We own a company engaging in construction and refurbishments called the Wilson Group. Our business was booming, but we are currently experiencing a problem in our capital chain, and our company is going bankrupt. It would be great if we had some money to pull through these tough times."

Kenneth nodded slightly before he smiled and said, "Lady Wilson, you look like a very blessed person. Don't worry too much! I believe that the Wilson family will surely have good luck to pull through this crisis!"

Lady Wilson genuinely wanted to curse at Kenneth after listening to his words.

The reason why she had told him about their family crisis was that she wanted him to feel grateful toward her and offer to give them some money to pull through the crisis. After all, his father owed her husband a huge favor for saving his life! Shouldn't he repay his kindness with something more valuable instead?

In the end, all Kenneth said was that she looked like a blessed person and that the Wilson family would surely be able to survive this crisis!

If it weren't for his distinguished status and identity, Lady Wilson would have already slammed Kenneth's face against the bench!

Just then, Kenneth could not help but look at Wendy who still had a desperate and pitiful expression on her face. He smiled before he said, "Lady Wilson, it seems as though you have not introduced the other members of your family to me?"

Lady Wilson looked toward the direction that Kenneth was looking at, and based on the expression on his face, she could immediately tell that he was interested in Wendy.

Right then and there, Lady Wilson suddenly had an idea.

Chapter 338

As she thought about it, she hurriedly introduced Christopher as she said, "This is my eldest son, Christopher."

Kenneth nodded slightly at Christopher, but he did not seem interested in him at all.

Then, Lady Wilson introduced Harold to him. "Chairman Wilson, this is my grandson, Harold."

Harold greeted him in a hurry, "Hello, Chairman Wilson! Please take good care of me in the future!"

Kenneth simply nodded and kept his eyes on Wendy even though Lady Wilson had not introduced her to him at all.

At last, Lady Wilson smiled as she introduced Wendy to Kenneth. "Chairman Wilson, this is my granddaughter, Wendy."

At this, Kenneth heaved a huge sigh of relief.

This was his first time visiting the Wilson family, and he was initially worried that Wendy would turn out to be Harold's wife. If that was the case, he would not have a chance to proceed with his plan at all.

However, when he heard that she was also a member of the Wilson family, Kenneth suddenly felt a fire burning in his heart.

Even though Wendy was not the most beautiful person in the world, she was still a beauty. Otherwise, Gerald from the White family would not have been interested in her in the first place.

It was truly a pity that Wendy had always lived in the shadow of Claire Wilson Wilson, who was one of the top beauties in the Wilson family and also in Aurouss Hilll. Therefore, Wendy had had no opportunity to stand out at all.

However, now that Claire Wilson Wilson was not around and since Wendy's eyes and nose were red because she had been crying, this really ignited the desire for a man to protect and care for her.

When Lady Wilson saw that Kenneth was interested in Wendy, she hurriedly said, "Chairman Wilson, Wendy is already twenty-four years old this year and is still single. If you know of any suitable young men, please introduce him to Wendy."

In truth, Lady Wilson was not hoping for Kenneth to introduce someone to Wendy. She was simply trying to tell Kenneth that her granddaughter was still single, and he still had a chance to try and get her if he wanted to!

Kenneth was especially tempted by this.

He was already getting older, and his wife was also aging. He had already lost interest in his wife ever since a long time ago.

Moreover, since he had come to Aurouss Hilll on his own, his wife was not with him, and this was his opportunity to fool around if he wanted to. If he could take advantage of this opportunity to have some fun with Wendy, that would unmistakably be the best thing that could happen to him.

As he thought about this, Kenneth took the initiative to stretch out his hand to Wendy before he smiled and said, "Miss Wendy, you are so beautiful, so how is it possible that you do not have a boyfriend?"

It would have been better if he had not said this. As soon as he said this sentence, Wendy's eyes turned red once more, and tears started flowing down her cheeks.

She was feeling very upset and uncomfortable.

The Wilson family was in trouble, and she was going to lose everything that she ever wanted. Gerald treated her like a plague god and was avoiding her at all costs. He was not only refusing to marry her, but he would not even look at her or meet up with her when she asked him to.

She felt so miserable, but it seemed as though her cousin, Claire Wilson Wilson, was having the time of her life. There were so many wealthy and powerful people who had attended her opening ceremony. So, how could she possibly be compared to her? How could she not feel angry at all?! She felt very annoyed and desperate at this time.

When Kenneth saw that Wendy was crying again, he suddenly felt very distressed. He hurriedly asked, "Oh, why are you crying, Miss Wendy? Why are you crying?"

Lady Wilson quickly replied, "Didn't I tell you that our family is facing a huge crisis now? Wendy has a very deep affection for the family company and she feels very upset because it seems like the Wilson Group is going to go bankrupt! She has been begging me to find a way to save the company for the past two days, but I am just an old lady, so what could I possibly do to save the company? There is nothing that I can do, and I can only watch in distress as my precious granddaughter cries because she is so upset..."

Kenneth did not even think about it and he said to Wendy, "Miss Wendy, if you need help, please do not hesitate to approach me! I am quite capable, so why don't you let me help you instead?"

Chapter 339

Lady Wilson was overjoyed when Kenneth said that he would be willing to help the Wilson family.

However, Wendy was not happy at all.

Her focus was not on the Wilson Group whatsoever.

In truth, she did not care about the Wilson Group.

All she wanted was to marry a rich young man so that everyone would be envious of her and look up to her!

Moreover, the Wilson Group was just one of the properties owned by the Wilson family. What did it have to do with her anyway?

What saddened her the most was the fact that Gerald was so indifferent toward her, and she also felt very uncertain about her future.

Wendy had no care about what would happen to the Wilson Group at all!

When she saw how indifferent Wendy was, Lady Wilson hurriedly nudged her before she said, "Wendy, why are you in a daze? Hurry up and thank Chairman Wilson!"

Wendy was taken aback and looked up before she asked, "Why should I thank him?"

Lady Wilson became angry when she heard this. "Of course you should thank Chairman Wilson because he is willing to help the Wilson Group! Are you stupid?!"

Hearing this response, Wendy blurted out immediately, "I only care about Gerald! I do not care about what is going to happen to the Wilson Group at all!"

"Stupid girl!" Lady Wilson was so angry that she raised her hand and gave Wendy a slap across her face.

Lady Wilson started yelling, "I am already so worried about the future of the Wilson family and the Wilson Group, and yet, the only thing you are worried about now is Gerald from the White family?! You are frustrating me to death! Why can't you help to relieve my burden instead? You are really so useless!"

Wendy was dumbfounded because her grandmother had slapped her for no reason at all. After a short moment, Wendy cried out loud, "You are insane! Why did you hit me?! What has the Wilson Group got to do with me? I do not even work for the Wilson Group! So, why are you hitting me? If you can hit me, why don't you go and hit that b*tch, Claire Wilson Wilson, instead?"

Lady Wilson was stunned.

She had never dreamt that Wendy would actually dare to disobey her.

She was just about to lose her temper again but Wendy turned around and ran out of the house.

This...

Lady Wilson was so embarrassed and yelled at Christopher, "Go after her and bring her back here!"

"Okay..." Christopher nodded awkwardly. "I will go after her now."

Lady Wilson also felt very embarrassed as she looked at Kenneth. "Chairman Wilson, I am truly sorry that you had to witness that. I feel utterly embarrassed. You must think of us as a joke now."

Kenneth was indeed feeling a little embarrassed at this time. However, he smiled before saying, "I feel that Miss Wendy has been stimulated and triggered by something. What happened?"

"Well..." Lady Wilson sighed before she said, "Don't mention it. This is all because we have a despicable son-in-law in the Wilson family!"

After that, Lady Wilson confided in Kenneth and told him how Charlie Wade had caused Claire Wilson Wilson and Jacob Wilson to disown the Wilson family. Lady Wilson also blamed Charlie Wade for causing the Wilson Group to fall from its former glory, even saying that Charlie Wade was responsible for destroying Wendy's marriage contract with the White family.

However, Lady Wilson did not tell the truth as it was.

The version of the story that she told Kenneth was filled with lies, and she pushed all of the blame to Charlie Wade and Jacob Wilson's family. She said that they had betrayed the Wilson family, and they had even forced her to get on her knees and beg them.

Kenneth felt somewhat uncomfortable after hearing Lady Wilson's words, and he could only sigh as he said, "Wow. This is too much. I really cannot believe that there are such unscrupulous children and grandchildren nowadays!"

Lady Wilson wiped the tears from her eyes before she looked at Kenneth and pleaded, "Chairman Wilson, you are the chairman of Modestway Group.

If you would be willing to help us, the Wilson family will definitely be able to make a comeback..."

Chapter 340

"Oh..." Kenneth smiled awkwardly before he said, "Well, to be honest, I have to be very prudent when it comes to investing. First of all, I would have to look at the specific condition of the Wilson Group, and I would have to determine if there is any value in investing in the company. After that, I would have to determine how much money I want to invest in the company and how long it would take before I can get my investment back. I can only decide whether to invest in the Wilson Group after considering all of those options."

Lady Wilson knew the mess that the Wilson Group was currently in. Moreover, based on their current situation, no one would possibly want to invest in the Wilson Group at all.

Why would they do so? It would be useless for them to invest tens of millions of dollars in the Wilson Group. After all, if Emgrand Group had chosen to blacklist the Wilson Group, no one else would want to cooperate and work with the Wilson Group anyway.

Moreover, the Wilson Group was involved in renovation and refurbishment works. This kind of business required other people's cooperation with them. If everyone refused to work with them, they would only be an idle company with nothing to do at all.

Hence, based on the current situation, no one would invest in the Wilson Group unless it was a fool who had no better place to spend their money.

Lady Wilson could tell that Kenneth was an extremely shrewd man, and he would never be willing to help them out unless he could get something in return.

Thus, Lady Wilson thought for a moment before she said, "Chairman Wilson, why don't we do this instead? Since you are already in Aurouss Hilll and since we are family as my husband is also connected to your father, I feel that we should try to communicate more and try to get to know each other better. So, why don't you stay at the Wilson family villa while you are here in Aurouss Hilll?"

Kenneth thought for a moment before he replied, "Well, I am still an outsider after all. Wouldn't it be a little inconvenient for me to live in your house? After all, Miss Wendy would also be here..."

In fact, an old fox like Kenneth knew exactly what he was doing. Therefore, he had also thought everything through before he spoke.

If he asked Lady Wilson directly whether Wendy would also be living here, he would reveal his true intentions immediately.

However, if he phrased his question to make it sound as though he did not want to be of an inconvenience to Wendy, he would be able to get an indirect answer from the old woman.

If Lady Wilson said that he did not need to worry because Wendy would not be staying here, it would be pointless for him to stay here, and he would decline her invitation immediately.

However, if Lady Wilson said that he would not need to worry since they were family and this would not cause any inconvenience to Wendy whatsoever, this would mean that Wendy was also staying here, and he would accept her offer immediately.

In truth, Lady Wilson knew of Kenneth's intentions.

The reason why she had invited him to stay at their house for a few days was because she was planning to persuade Wendy and get her to look for an opportunity to get closer to Kenneth.

If everything proceeded as planned, Kenneth would definitely be willing to invest in the Wilson Group.

Kenneth was the chairman of Modestway Group, and if he decided to invest in the Wilson Group, it would not only solve their financial problems, but he would also act as a strong background for the Wilson family. At that time, the Wilson family would be able to return to their former glory!

Lady Wilson smiled before she said, "Don't worry, Wendy is a very sensible girl. She will definitely welcome you to live in our house. Besides that, even though our villa might be a little old, it is still a standalone villa, and no outsiders will find out that you are living here."

Kenneth relaxed immediately before he nodded and said, "Then, I will accept your kind invitation. I also have some business that I have to deal with in Aurouss Hilll over the next few days. I will take advantage of this opportunity to get to know you and your family better before I consider whether I want to invest in the Wilson Group or not!"

"Okay!" Lady Wilson smiled excitedly. "That's great. I will get someone to clean up the guest room now."

After that, Lady Wilson lowered her voice before she said, "Chairman Wilson, to tell you the truth, Wendy's room is right across the guest room that you will be staying in. Please do not hesitate to look for her if you need anything."

Kenneth was extremely excited when he heard this.

Perfect!

The old lady had really planned everything out for him!

Even though he had plenty of money and no shortage of women around him, if he messed around outside, his wife would definitely find out about it.

However, if he stayed at the Wilson family villa, and if anything happened between him and Wendy, he did not need to worry about his wife finding out about them!

After all, in her eyes, this was his own family, and he was only here because he wanted to fulfill his father's dying wish. Therefore, she would not have any doubts at all!

This was the perfect choice for cheating!

Chapter 341

Wendy ran out of the house after getting slapped by Lady Wilson. However, Christopher stopped her before she could run out of the courtyard.

Christopher persuaded her to come back into the house, but she refused to do so. Wendy felt that the reason why she had ended up this way was because of Lady Wilson. If it weren't for her, would she be in such a miserable state, then?

Thus, Wendy was very angry at this time and wanted to run as far away from home as she possibly could.

However, she dispelled that idea when she heard her father's words.

At this time, Christopher said earnestly, "Wendy, where are you going to go if you run away from home? You don't even have a job, and you will have nowhere to live outside! After all, you are a girl, and it is impossible for you to go out to work so that you can rent a place to live now, right? I know that your grandma is wrong, but what else can we do besides sticking to your grandmother? After all, she is still the head of the Wilson family!"

Wendy was silent for a moment as she mulled over her father's words.

Sure enough, if she decided to leave the Wilson family villa, she would have nowhere else to go. Moreover, Wendy knew that she would definitely be made a laughing stock if the second young lady of the Wilson family was caught wandering on the streets with nowhere to go.

Therefore, she could only say aggrievedly, "Dad! Grandma is just too domineering and authoritative! I cannot tolerate her anymore. Why don't we move out..."

Christopher sighed before he said, "Move out? If we move out now, we will have nothing left! Your grandmother can only live for a few more years, at most. Once she passes away, the Wilson family villa and the rest of the assets belonging to the Wilson family will belong to us, then. This is our house. If we decide to move out now and your second uncle and his family suddenly decides to move back into the Wilson family villa, wouldn't we lose everything, then? We will have nothing left if that happens."

Wendy came to a sudden realization when she heard this.

Even though Claire Wilson Wilson's family currently did not have a good relationship with Lady Wilson, if they moved back into the Wilson family villa, they would definitely try to take advantage of the situation and keep the villa for themselves!

As she thought about it, Wendy burst into tears again. After that, she said, "But I cannot live like this anymore! I can't stand her any longer..."

Christopher had no choice but to comfort his daughter. "Don't think about it anymore. After all, we have a guest in our house now. We cannot leave a bad impression and appear as a joke to our guests. After he leaves, I will give you some money so that you can travel and relax, okay?"

Wendy nodded slightly as she agreed with her father's suggestion. "Okay, then..."

When Wendy finally followed her father back into the villa, Lady Wilson had just sent Kenneth into the guest room and was walking down the stairs.

As soon as Lady Wilson saw that Wendy had returned, she rushed toward her before speaking apologetically, "Wendy, I was wrong earlier. I am sorry that I acted on impulse and hit you. I want to apologize to you and tell you how sorry I am. I hope that you will be able to forgive me."

Lady Wilson was hoping that Wendy would be able to change Kenneth's mind. Therefore, the first thing that she did as soon as Wendy came back was to take the initiative to apologize to her.

Wendy also did not expect her grandmother to take the initiative to apologize to her. In fact, it was really rare for her tough and arrogant grandmother to apologize to anyone. Therefore, Wendy felt much better after her apology.

Then, Lady Wilson took Wendy's hand before she brought her to the sofa in the living room. After that, she said earnestly, "Wendy, do you know that our family is facing a huge crisis now?"

Wendy nodded. "Yes, grandma. I know that."

"Since the White family annulled your engagement to Gerald, everyone in Aurouss Hilll thinks of you as a joke. Although grandma does not want to mention this, this is the truth, and you should know it too, right?"

As soon as she heard Lady Wilson's words, Wendy started crying again.

Everyone in Aurouss Hillll knew that she was the woman who had been rejected by the White family. Even if she wanted to marry another rich man, it would be absolutely impossible.

At the very least, it would be impossible for her to do so in Aurouss Hillll.

Chapter 342

Wendy knew that her future was very bleak.

Lady Wilson wiped the tears off her face before she said seriously, "Wendy, you used to be the princess in our house. I have always spoiled you, your parents spoiled you, and your brother also spoiled you a lot. You did not focus on your studies, and even after graduating, you refused to go to work, but that was still acceptable then. However, that was all in the past. Our family is not what it used to be, now. Wendy, you have to change. You have to learn how to be more mature so that you can share some responsibility on behalf of the Wilson family. Otherwise, our family will only suffer more and more."

Wendy nodded before she said, "Grandma, I am sorry. I was too playful in the past and I did not learn anything at all. I am sorry that I could not do anything for our family..."

Lady Wilson squeezed Wendy's hand before she said earnestly, "Wendy, everything is already in the past. You are, and you will always be, my precious granddaughter. How could I possibly blame you for anything at all?"

After that, Lady Wilson said earnestly, "Now, there is an excellent opportunity for you to achieve multiple benefits in one go. You will not only be able to solve our family crisis, but you will also have an opportunity to rise up again. Do you want to grab hold of this opportunity?"

When Wendy heard her grandmother's words, she became very excited and replied immediately, "Yes, grandma! I would like that!"

As soon as Christopher and Harold heard Lady Wilson's words, they also gathered around them.

Christopher was very excited at this time, and he quickly asked his mother, "Mom, what kind of opportunity is that?"

Lady Wilson then spoke seriously, "I am talking about Chairman Wilson. The one who is living in the guest room upstairs, Kenneth Wilson!"

"Him?" Christopher asked again. "Did he promise to help us already?"

"No." Lady Wilson shook her head before she said, "He told me that we are not related to him, and he only came here today because he wanted to fulfill his father's dying wish. He has no obligations to help us in any way."

Christopher did not understand what his mother meant, so, he continued asking, "So, what do you mean then?"

Lady Wilson replied immediately, "I am saying that Wendy should seize this opportunity to get closer to Kenneth! I can tell that he is interested in Wendy."

Christopher was shocked at this time, and he blurted out immediately, "Mom! Are you asking Wendy to spend the night with him?! He is even older than me!"

"So what?!" Lady Wilson retorted. "Is there an issue just because he is much older? Gerald was also not very young, but Wendy dated him for so long, even having an abortion because of him! What happened in the end? He only hurt Wendy and broke her heart. What else did he give her?!"

Christopher replied anxiously, "No matter how it ended, the relationship between Gerald and Wendy was a normal relationship between a loving couple! Chairman Wilson is already an old man!"

Lady Wilson said solemnly, "So what if he is already an old man? He is rich and powerful, and he has all sorts of connections and resources. Wendy will be able to get whatever she wants as long as she decides to follow him."

Christopher waved his hand vigorously before he said, "No way! No way! I will not let that happen! I can accept what happened between Gerald and Wendy, but as her father, how could I accept an intimate relationship between Wendy and Chairman Wilson?"

"You can't accept it?" Lady Wilson snorted before she said, "Then, can you accept being a poor man? If the Wilson Group goes bankrupt, what are you expecting to inherit from me? This old villa? Don't forget that the Wilson Group owes the bank a lot of money! When we file for bankruptcy, the court will issue an order to take this villa back from us! It does not really matter to me since I would not be able to live for much longer anyway, but what are you going to do? What is going to happen to your family? Are you all going to live in a broken and old building like Jacob Wilson and his family?"

Christopher was speechless at this.

He did not want to betray his daughter, but he did not want to be poor either...

As he was at a loss, Wendy, who had been silent for a long time, suddenly spoke up and said, "Grandma, if he can help the Wilson Group, I will be willing to spend the night with him. However, I have one condition."

Lady Wilson asked excitedly, "What is your condition?"

Wendy grit her teeth before she said, "I want to become the director of the Wilson Group. I want to hold the previous position that Claire Wilson Wilson held when she was still working for the Wilson Group."

Chapter 343

After taking a shower that night, Wendy only wrapped a towel around herself before she knocked on Kenneth's room door.

Wendy did not come out of Kenneth's room again that night.

Early the next morning, the expressions on Christopher and Hannah's faces were very ugly, and they felt extremely embarrassed and awkward when they saw Kenneth walking down the stairs with Wendy.

When Kenneth realized that the couple might not be satisfied with him because of the relationship between Wendy and himself, he quickly said without any hesitation, "I have decided to invest eighty million dollars in the Wilson family to help you rebuild the Wilson Group. To prove my sincerity, I want to transfer ten million dollars to the Wilson Group today. I will pay the remaining seventy million dollars to the Wilson Group within a month!

As soon as he heard these words, everyone in the Wilson family was extremely excited.

Christopher and Hannah no longer felt as embarrassed or uncomfortable as they did before, and they immediately treated Kenneth as their valuable guest.

Lady Wilson was naturally very excited at this time. Kenneth had just announced that he would be transferring ten million dollars to the Wilson Group immediately! Lady Wilson would not need to worry anymore since the Wilson Group would be able to commence its operations with Wendy as the director!

The Wilson family was so glad to have overcome this crisis, and they even felt like celebrating this joyous moment with a pair of firecrackers!

Kenneth accepted the compliments from the Wilson family with a smile on his face.

After that, he immediately asked his company's finance department to transfer ten million dollars over to the Wilson Group so that they could temporarily tide through their financial difficulties.

At the same time, Kenneth also personally transferred five million dollars to Wendy as her pocket money.

After all, he knew that Wendy had gone all out to serve him and make sure that he enjoyed himself thoroughly last night. Kenneth was really very satisfied with her performance as he was already in his fifties and he had not experienced this kind of excitement in a very long time. Wendy made him feel young and robust again.

So, after just one night, he could feel his love and affection for Wendy increasing greatly, and he even thought of keeping her as his mistress for a long time.

After transferring the money to the Wilson Group, Kenneth said to Lady Wilson and Wendy's parents at the dining table, "Lady Wilson, Christopher, and my family, I hope that you will agree to the gratuitous request that I am going to make now."

Lady Wilson was still trembling with excitement and she replied joyously, "Chairman Wilson, we are all family. Please do not speak to us so politely. Just tell us what you want. You are not only an elder of the Wilson family, but you are also our benefactor! The Wilson family will never dare to turn down any of your requests."

Kenneth glanced at Wendy before he said, "Since Wendy and I are also in agreement for this relationship that we share now, I believe that there is true love between the both of us regardless of the difference in our age. So, I hope that you will agree to let Wendy become my lover. I promise that I will definitely help the Wilson family with all of my strength and I will never mistreat Wendy. I will love her and dote on her with all that I can!"

Even though Wendy was still somewhat resistant toward the old man, she had no resistance to his money at all. After receiving five million dollars from Kenneth as pocket money, she was naturally very happy to hear that Kenneth would like to keep her as his lover. As long as she held tightly onto Kenneth, she would not have to worry about anything in the future. She would have as much money and power as she wanted to!

Lady Wilson was also very excited when she heard Kenneth's words, and she agreed on the spot as she said, "Chairman Wilson, since both you and Wendy agree to this relationship, naturally, I will also raise my hands in favor of the both of you being together!"

Christopher felt that it was somewhat difficult for him to accept this, but when he thought about the future of the Wilson family, he finally said, "Alright, then. The both of you can decide on this matter on your own. We have no opinion over this matter."

However, Hannah was still a little dissatisfied and she said, "Chairman Wilson, I heard that you already have a family. Wendy is not even married yet. If word about your relationship spread out to the public, how is Wendy going to get married to anyone in the future?"

Kenneth replied immediately, "Don't worry. When the time is right, I will definitely make Wendy my wife!"

The whole family was very excited when they heard this.

He was going to marry Wendy?!

Wouldn't the Wilson family be part of the public-listed group, then?

This was simply amazing!

To show his sincerity, Kenneth also said, "I believe that all of you know that I have a lot of businesses in Eastcliff, and I am also the chairman of the Eastcliff Chamber of Commerce. I will definitely try to help the Wilson family in every way that I can, and I will make sure that the Wilson family becomes the top and most powerful family in Aurouss Hilll!"

The Wilson family was overjoyed by this!

Wendy began crying in front of her grandmother, her parents, and her brother, as she hugged Kenneth's waist.

Chapter 344

She felt that she finally had a chance to shine!

Kenneth continued speaking, "By the way, there will be a decoration industry summit in Aurouss Hilll in two days. I have also received an invitation to attend the summit. I will bring all of you with me on that day, and I will introduce the Wilson Group to everyone before making an announcement that I have already decided to invest in the Wilson Group!

At this time, Wendy asked coquettishly, "Kenneth, how are you going to introduce me to everyone, then?"

Kenneth smiled before he said, "You will have to suffer a little grievance for the time being, okay? I will tell everyone that I am your uncle. When the time is right, I will divorce that old woman at home, and I am going to marry you and make you my wife!"

Wendy was overjoyed and she whispered, "Kenneth, that's great news! I want to stay by your side and grow old with you!"

Kenneth touched her smooth hand before he said, "Don't worry, my love. I will make sure that both of us stay together forever!"

The Wilson family was not anxious to announce their resurgence to the public. Therefore, Charlie Wade did not know about this at all.

For the past few days, Charlie Wade had been running back and forth from the hospital to their house as he was tasked with the responsibility of looking after the old man who was recuperating in the hospital.

Jacob Wilson was no longer in a critical condition and only needed to continue resting in the hospital for a few more days so that he could fully recover.

Therefore, Charlie Wade had been cooking and delivering meals to Jacob Wilson over the past few days.

The news that Jacob Wilson's paraplegia had been cured spread throughout the hospital and caused a national sensation.

Very few people in the medical field could actually believe that there could be such a medical miracle in the country!

However, many people were relieved when they heard that this was the work of the genius doctor, Anthony Simmons.

Everyone in the country knew about the genius doctor's medical skills, and he was very reputable in the medical field.

Since he had successfully cured a patient with paraplegia this time, Anthony's reputation rose even higher. He was now one of the top medical practitioners in the country.

Countless reporters flocked around Anthony because they wanted to interview him, and many reporters even flew in from abroad to request for an interview with him. At the same time, many top pharmaceutical companies also wanted to collaborate with him so that they could come up with a treatment and drug for paraplegia. However, Anthony turned down all of their requests.

After all, he did not want to take advantage of Charlie Wade's ability to steal the limelight. He knew very well that these abilities did not belong to him, but Charlie Wade!

To express his respect and gratitude toward Charlie Wade, Anthony decided to stay in Aurouss Hilll!

He felt that the only way that he would be able to repay Charlie Wade's kindness was if he chose to stay in Aurouss Hilll. Therefore, he decided to open a medical clinic in Aurouss Hilll, where he would be able to provide medical treatment to patients, and also where it would be convenient for him to carry out any of Charlie Wade's instructions at all times.

His granddaughter, Xyla, was very excited when she heard that her grandfather had decided to stay in Aurouss Hilll. She was so excited that she was completely at a loss for words.

After all, she was at the age where she wanted to get married and was easily attracted to men.

Which woman would be able to resist the charm of a powerful and capable man?

Xyla had long been fascinated by Charlie Wade, and the only thing she would think about whenever she closed her eyes was Charlie Wade's handsome and indifferent face.

She knew that Charlie Wade was already married. However, just like the other girls, Xyla felt that Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson were not that deeply in love with one another. Therefore, she felt as though she still had a chance to win Charlie Wade over.

If she could stay in Aurouss Hilll, she would have a higher chance of getting together with Charlie Wade.

After delivering Jacob Wilson's meal to him, Charlie Wade was on the way back home when he received a phone call from Anthony. Anthony told him respectfully over the phone, "Mr. Wade, I have already rented a shop near Mrs. Wade's studio, and I have decided to open a medical clinic. I will be staying in Aurouss Hilll for the long term. If you have any instructions or assignments for me, please do not hesitate to call me and ask for my help anytime!"

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "Okay. Thank you for your thoughtfulness."

Chapter 345

Early the next morning, Claire Wilson Wilson woke up early and put on some makeup.

After putting on her makeup, Charlie Wade felt a little excited because she looked extremely beautiful.

However, he asked Claire Wilson Wilson out of curiosity, "Dear wife, you usually go to work without putting on any makeup. Why are you putting on makeup today? Are you meeting anyone important?"

On any other normal day, Claire Wilson Wilson would always leave the house with a bare face because she already had a pleasant and beautiful appearance. She had a pink and rosy complexion, and she rarely needed to put on any makeup at all.

Claire Wilson Wilson replied earnestly, "Today is the decoration industry summit in Aurouss Hilll. Why don't you come with me? It is rare for the organizer to invite me to attend the summit even though I just started my company. This is a good opportunity for me to emerge and make a name for myself in the industry. Therefore, I must make sure that I strive to gain a foothold in the industry so that I will be able to perform well in the future."

Charlie Wade asked with a surprised expression on his face, "Who is the sponsor for this summit? You just started your company, so why would they invite..."

Claire Wilson Wilson smiled before she answered, "The summit is hosted by Emgrand Group! The vice-chairman of Emgrand Group, Doris, sent me an invitation letter."

"No wonder..." Charlie Wade usually did not care about any of the group's affairs, thus, he did not know that Emgrand Group was the organizer of the summit.

Moreover, he had a feeling that Doris had intentionally organized this summit because his wife had just started her company, and Doris wanted to help Claire Wilson Wilson expand her company's popularity.

To put it plainly, this was all just a set up so that his wife could perform onstage.

After she was done putting on her makeup, Claire Wilson Wilson asked Charlie Wade to put on a suit before they left the house together.

When they arrived at the meeting place, it was already overcrowded. There were many middle-aged men dressed in suits and leather shoes, and they were all accompanied by beautiful girls on their arms.

Charlie Wade had no contacts in the decoration and refurbishment industries, and so, he had no acquaintances there today. However, Claire Wilson Wilson had already been in this industry for a long time since she had been working for the Wilson Group before this. Hence, she met and greeted a few acquaintances after entering the meeting place.

As Charlie Wade was accompanying Claire Wilson Wilson while she chatted with some of her acquaintances, he suddenly realized that a crowd of people was surrounding a middle-aged man, all at once. They were all praising and cheering for him.

Charlie Wade's eyes were extremely sharp, and he could tell at one glance that the woman standing next to the strange middle-aged man was none other than Wendy!

At this time, he could not help but ask Claire Wilson Wilson out of curiosity, "Wife, hasn't the Wilson Group gone bankrupt? What is Wendy doing here?"

Claire Wilson Wilson also glanced in that direction before she shook her head and said, "I am not very sure, but I heard from my mother that the Wilson Group received funds from an investor who decided to invest in the Wilson Group. The Wilson Group has already begun running their business operations as usual for the past few days."

Charlie Wade could not help but frown.

Invest in the Wilson Group? Who would do that?

Aside from the Wilson family's conflict with the White family, the Moore family, and the Quinton family, anyone would have heard the news that Emgrand Group had already blacklisted the Wilson Group. Why would anyone actually invest in the Wilson Group and help the Wilson family now? Was there something wrong with this investor's brain?

Just then, two people near Charlie Wade were whispering amongst themselves, and Charlie Wade heard one of them saying, "Hey! Isn't that Kenneth Wilson, the chairman of Modestway Group?"

"That's Chairman Wilson?!" the other person exclaimed. "So, he is also the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce?"

"Yes, that's him!"

"How could someone from Eastcliff become the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce?"

"The Modestway Group has a lot of businesses all over the country, and the main reason why he became the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce is that the Moore family did not bother to compete with him for that position. Otherwise, the Moore family would have taken the position as the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce."

Charlie Wade continued frowning as he listened to their discussion.

Chapter 346

It turned out that the man that Wendy was embracing was none other than the chairman of a public-listed company in Eastcliff!

Not only that, but the other party's last name was also Wilson? Was he their relative?

Charlie Wade could not help but ask Claire Wilson Wilson, "Dear, do you know of the relationship between the Wilson family and this person named Kenneth Wilson? Is he a distant relative?"

"I don't know..." Claire Wilson Wilson replied. "I have never heard of him before..."

"That's strange..." Charlie Wade murmured. "Normally, the chairman of a public-listed company with a market value of tens of billions of dollars would not mix with someone on the low-end such as the Wilson family, let alone someone such as Wendy. Do you think that they are having an inappropriate relationship?"

Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly replied, "Don't talk nonsense! That man looks older than my uncle! How could they possibly be committing adultery?"

At this time, Wendy was very happy and excited as she was surrounded by a crowd of people. She was finally in the center of attention!

Kenneth, who was standing next to her, was not only the chairman of a public-listed group, but he was also the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce! All the businessmen gathered here today naturally wanted to get closer to them so that they could curry up favor with him!

When Kenneth introduced Wendy to the crowd of people, he referred to her as his niece and the future heir of the Wilson family. At this time, Kenneth also took the initiative to announce that he had already invested in the Wilson Group. All of a sudden, the crowd of people were all very polite and respectful toward Wendy.

Even those who could not be bothered about the Wilson family in the past suddenly offered to collaborate with the Wilson Group because they wanted to get into Kenneth's good books. They quickly exchanged business cards and phone numbers with Wendy, hoping that they would be able to collaborate and work with her.

Wendy was naturally very excited because she finally understood what kind of treatment people from the upper-class society received from the public, and she finally understood what it felt like to have power.

Everyone had looked down on the Wilson family in the past, but after she had decided to embrace Kenneth, Wendy immediately became the person that everyone wanted to collaborate and work with in the renovation and refurbishment industry.

Wendy now realized how materialistic everyone was!

At this time, she could not help but think of Claire Wilson Wilson. Didn't Claire Wilson Wilson think that she was so great? Didn't she make fun of her because the White family had annulled her engagement with Gerald? Now, she had not only gotten involved with Kenneth who was much wealthier and more powerful, but she had also become the director of the Wilson Group! Even her grandmother had to treat her with respect! How could Claire Wilson Wilson possibly be compared to her?

As Wendy thought about this, she knew that Claire Wilson Wilson would also be participating in this industry summit since she had just started her own business and had set up her own studio! She began to wonder if Claire Wilson Wilson was already at the summit.

Therefore, she tiptoed before she looked around the crowd of people to look for Claire Wilson Wilson's figure.

As expected! An extremely beautiful figure suddenly appeared in front of her eyes!

It was none other than Claire Wilson Wilson!

Moreover, that piece of trash, Charlie Wade, was also with Claire Wilson Wilson!

Wendy gritted her teeth bitterly.

She would teach Claire Wilson Wilson a lesson today, and she would humiliate her as much as she had been humiliated before!

As she thought about this, Wendy grabbed Kenneth's arm before she said, "My cousin and her useless husband are also here. Why don't we go over and say hello to them?"

Kenneth nodded before he said, "Wendy, since both of them insulted and humiliated you so much in the past, I will make sure they pay the price for their actions today!"

Wendy was so moved, and she blurted out immediately, "Kenneth, you are so kind to me..."

Kenneth smiled slightly before he said, "Isn't it only natural for me to treat you well?"

After that, Kenneth sneered before he said, "Where are your cousins and that piece of trash that you were talking about? Take me to meet them now! I will teach them a lesson today so that they know how to behave themselves in the future. I will also make sure that everyone in the Chamber of Commerce blacklists them today! Who gave them the courage to bully my woman?! I think they are tired of living!"

Chapter 347

Wendy was very excited when she thought about how she would finally have an opportunity to take revenge on Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade. She held Kenneth's arm excitedly as she led him toward the both of them.

As soon as they approached the couple, Wendy said arrogantly, "Oh, look who's here! It turns out to be the woman who was evicted from the Wilson family and the son-in-law of the Wilson family who is nothing but a piece of trash! Are both of you even qualified to participate in this summit?"

Upon saying that, Wendy looked Claire Wilson Wilson up and down before she snorted arrogantly, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you have just opened your studio and you don't even have a single employee under you now! Do you really think your company has the right to participate in an industry summit like this? I think Emgrand Group must be blind to invite you to participate in the summit today!"

When Charlie Wade saw that Wendy had already approached them, he simply asked in a cold voice, "Wendy, you were just kneeling before us as you begged for mercy the other day. Your grandmother even slapped you for being disrespectful toward me. Have you forgotten that? I think you should worry about yourself instead."

When Wendy heard Charlie Wade mentioning her moments of despair, she was furious and shouted immediately, "Charlie Wade! How dare you speak to me in this manner? Do you really think that I am still the same Wendy as I was before? Let me tell you something. From now on, you will have to kneel before me if you wish to speak to me!"

Charlie Wade replied disdainfully, "I don't think there is anyone in this world who can make me kneel before them. I will never kneel before anyone else for no reason at all! Moreover, do you really think you are that great to have the ability to make me kneel before you? Just who do you think you are?"

Wendy yelled contemptuously, "Charlie Wade, do you think you are so great just because you can fool some of those wealthy and powerful people? Do you actually think you can trample all over the Wilson family? The Wilson family is not what it used to be anymore!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he asked, "Have you finally found someone to save the Wilson family?"

Wendy pointed at Kenneth before she said arrogantly, "This is Kenneth Wilson, the chairman of Modestway Group! He is also a part of the Wilson family now! He has already decided to invest in the Wilson family so that we will be able to grow the Wilson Group! He will support us from now on. Charlie Wade, you are nothing but a useless piece of trash and you dare to be so arrogant in front of me now? Believe it or not, Kenneth can make sure that Claire Wilson Wilson's studio and business are blacklisted if he just speaks up! At that time, you will have nowhere else to go in Aurouss Hilll!"

Then, Wendy looked at Claire Wilson Wilson with a vicious expression on her face as she shouted, "Claire Wilson Wilson! Didn't you think that you were really awesome? Didn't you think that Emgrand Group would be able to help you blacklist the Wilson Group?"

"Let me tell you something. Feng Shui has already changed around here! Now that Chairman Wilson is on our side, the Wilson Group will not be blacklisted, and we will continue rising up to the sky!"

"And you, Claire Wilson Wilson! I will make sure that everyone in Aurouss Hilll will blacklist you and your studio! You will be left with nothing at all. At that time, you will kneel and kowtow before me and grandma to ask for mercy!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was indifferent as she was faced with this series of performances by Wendy. Instead, she simply replied in a cold and indifferent manner, "Don't worry. Even though I am not a very powerful or capable person, I am still a better person than you are. You knelt before me just to beg me for money, but I will never kneel before you because of money!"

Wendy did not expect Claire Wilson Wilson to be so indifferent even though she was threatening her. It seemed as though Claire Wilson Wilson was not afraid of her at all!

Claire Wilson Wilson's tough attitude made Wendy even more furious!

Wendy continued yelling, "Claire Wilson Wilson, how can you still be so arrogant even when you are about to lose everything that you have? Okay, fine! Just wait and see how Chairman Wilson is going to make you and your family get thrown out to the streets because you are going to lose everything!"

Charlie Wade looked at Kenneth who was standing next to Wendy before he asked with a smile on his face, "According to Wendy's words, it seems as though you are here to avenge the Wilson family?"

At this time, Kenneth was just staring at Claire Wilson Wilson.

Even though Wendy was a beauty, Kenneth did not expect Claire Wilson Wilson to be so much more beautiful compared to Wendy. He was temporarily absent at the moment because he was appreciating Claire Wilson Wilson's exceptional beauty.

Moreover, he was feeling a little uneasy.

He had already spent fifteen millions dollars for someone like Wendy, who was far less attractive compared to Claire Wilson Wilson!

He had invested ten million dollars in the Wilson Group and had given Wendy five million dollars to spend as her pocket money.

However, he did not expect a useless son-in-law like Charlie Wade to actually be blessed enough to have a wife that was as beautiful and gorgeous as Claire Wilson Wilson. Kenneth felt that this was indeed very frustrating and annoying!

Chapter 348

Kenneth looked Charlie Wade up and down before he sneered and said, "You are that useless son-in-law of the Wilson family?"

Charlie Wade replied lightly, "Yes, I am. How can I help you?"

Kenneth replied coldly, "I heard that you insulted and humiliated Wendy a lot in the past. I am going to slowly make you pay for what you did to Wendy!"

Charlie Wade nodded before he said disdainfully, "Well, we do not have all day. If you want, you'd better avenge her right now, then."

Kenneth initially thought that he would be able to make Charlie Wade kneel and beg for mercy if he just revealed his identity and said a few ruthless words to him. However, he did not expect that a piece of trash like him would actually have the audacity to speak to him in such a disrespectful manner! Kenneth grit his teeth before he said, "Young man, you seem to be very haughty and arrogant. Do you know who I am?"

Charlie Wade smirked before he said, "You are nothing but a piece of trash to me. I don't care about your identity at all."

Kenneth was furious and said, "Even though I, Kenneth Wilson, am not from Aurouss Hilll, I am also very reputable and powerful here! You are the first person who dares to speak to me in this manner!"

Charlie Wade put away his cynical smile before he stared right into Kenneth's eyes and said word by word, "In Aurouss Hilll, even if you are a tiger, you will have to lie down before me. Even if you are a dragon, you will have to lower your head for me. Because I, Charlie Wade Wade, am the one and only real dragon in Aurouss Hilll!"

Kenneth was taken aback by Charlie Wade's sharp gaze, and he had to force himself to calm down before he recovered his senses. Then, he sneered,

"Wendy is right! You are nothing but a piece of trash who likes to brag! Do you truly think that someone like you could actually be a dragon? You are really making me sick! In my eyes, you are nothing but a worm!"

After that, Kenneth deliberately looked at Claire Wilson Wilson before he smiled and said, "Miss Claire Wilson Wilson, I have already heard about your beauty ever since a long time ago. Now that I have finally seen you in person, I have to admit that you really deserve to be called a beauty. I do not understand why you want to spend the rest of your life with this useless husband of yours. Why don't you follow me instead? I will not mistreat you, and I will make sure that you have a better future!"

After he was done speaking, Kenneth pointed at Wendy before he said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Look. Wendy agreed to follow me and be my woman, and I gave her five million dollars as her pocket money. If you agree to be my woman, I will give you ten million dollars!"

Claire Wilson Wilson glared at Kenneth before she said angrily, "You are so shameless!"

Kenneth laughed as he said, "Even though I might be a little shameless, I can assure you that I am still very good in bed. I can guarantee that you will definitely fall in love with me after spending one night in bed with me!"

Charlie Wade could not tolerate it any longer and he raised his hand and punched Kenneth in the face without any mercy at all!

Bam!

Kenneth collapsed to the ground in an instant as soon as Charlie Wade punched him.

His nose was broken, and he had also lost four of his front teeth with just a single punch.

All of a sudden, everyone who was in the hall concentrated their attention on Kenneth who was lying on the ground in pain.

No one would have ever imagined that someone would actually dare to hit Kenneth Wilson!

This person was not only the chairman of Modestway Group, but he was also the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce. He had a very high status, and he was an extremely powerful and wealthy man. Whoever dared to hit him must be tired of living!

Meanwhile, Kenneth, who was lying on the ground with blood all over his face, pointed a finger at Charlie Wade as he yelled out in pain and anger, "You! You piece of trash! You actually dared to hit me?! I am going to kill you!"

Charlie Wade replied, "I am not only going to hit you, I am going to abolish you!"

As soon as he was done speaking, Charlie Wade raised his leg and stepped on Kenneth's crotch before saying, "Chairman Wilson, didn't you say that you enjoy spending the night with women? Well, from now on, you can just say goodbye to women!"

Chapter 349

When Kenneth saw that Charlie Wade was stepping on his crotch, he was so frightened that he turned pale immediately.

Even though he believed that Charlie Wade was just a piece of trash that he could get rid of with a snap of his fingers, he knew that he would definitely lose his manhood if Charlie Wade stepped on his crotch again!

Even if he could get rid of Charlie Wade in the future, how would that benefit him? He would have already lost his manhood by then!

As a man, especially as a wealthy and powerful man like him, there would always be plenty of women around him. No matter what it was, he could not afford to lose his manhood! How was that different than Charlie Wade taking his life?

Therefore, he hurriedly begged for mercy, "Brother Wade! Brother Wade! If there is anything, we can just amicably discuss this!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Why? Are you afraid?"

There was cold sweat all over Kenneth's face, and he nodded repeatedly before he said, "I was wrong! I know that I was wrong! Please forgive me for my ignorance. Just let me off this time."

In fact, Kenneth had other plans in his mind. After keeping his manhood, he would then hire someone to come and teach Charlie Wade a lesson and kill him for humiliating him today!

How could Charlie Wade possibly not know what was going through Kenneth's mind at this time? He was just like a cat playing with a mouse. Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Alright, then. Since you are so desperate for my forgiveness, I want you to call me your father."

The people at the scene were all shocked!

Was this young man really so cruel?

He wanted Chairman Wilson to call him 'father'?

Was this young man actually tired of living? What was he trying to do?

Kenneth also had a very ugly expression on his face at this time.

There were so many people watching this scene right now, and Charlie Wade wanted him to call him 'father'? He was already old enough to be this young man's father!

If Kenneth really called Charlie Wade his father today, he would definitely be a laughingstock in the future!

However, right now, Charlie Wade was in control of his manhood, and no matter how much power he had, or no matter what background he came from, there was no way for him to get out of this situation...

As Kenneth was at a loss at what he should be doing, Charlie Wade suddenly said, "Oh, I did not expect Chairman Wilson to choose your own face and reputation over your manhood. Alright, then. If that is the case, I will fulfill your wish! You should just say goodbye to your manhood now!"

After saying that, Charlie Wade lifted his foot as he prepared to stomp on Kenneth's crotch again.

At this point, Kenneth was so frightened that he wet himself, and a large puddle of yellow liquid pooled under his buttocks. Kenneth also cried out loud, "Father! Father! I was wrong, dad! Please allow me to keep my manhood!"

After that, Kenneth began weeping miserably.

He made a terrible mistake! He should have brought his bodyguards here with him.

If his bodyguards were with him, Charlie Wade would not have had the opportunity to humiliate him! He even had to embarrass himself in front of so many people and call Charlie Wade his father!

Kenneth could not wait to teach Charlie Wade a lesson!

Everyone in the hall could not help but exclaim in shock when they heard Kenneth calling Charlie Wade his father.

The chairman of Modestway Group had wet himself because of a young man?! What was even more surprising was that he actually called the young man his father! This was simply too shocking and outrageous!

When Wendy witnessed the scene that had unfolded before her, she shouted angrily at Charlie Wade, "Charlie Wade! You even dared to lay a finger on Chairman Wilson? This time, your life is over! You're dead meat!"

Kenneth felt very embarrassed, and he looked at Charlie Wade with an indignant expression on his face as he asked, "Are you satisfied? Can you let me go now?"

Charlie Wade nodded before he smiled and said, "Okay! Since Chairman Wilson is so obedient and since you have already called me your father, then, of course! I have to fulfill my promise and not step on your crotch again!"

Kenneth finally heaved a huge sigh of relief.

However, in the very next second, Charlie Wade sneered before he said, "I still have to tell you that I will make sure you will not be able to use your manhood in the future. I felt that instead of letting you weep as you stare at a mound of rotten flesh, it would be better for me to let you stare at a perfectly normal but unusable piece of flesh. That would definitely be much more interesting!"

Chapter 350

Kenneth did not understand what Charlie Wade was saying, and he subconsciously asked, "You... what do you mean?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "It's okay. I will not step on your crotch, but I will abolish your manhood!"

After that, Charlie Wade used his toes to hit Kenneth's abdomen, and some spiritual energy flowed out of his toes at this time.

Ever since he had studied the , Charlie Wade had already grasped and learned how to control his qi. This trace of qi that he had just released could cut off Kenneth's nerves, making it completely impossible for him to use his manhood.

However, Kenneth did not know what Charlie Wade was doing when he gently tapped his lower abdomen with his toes.

He also did not notice that he had already lost his manhood at this time. In the future, he would only be able to look at his man part, but he would never be able to use it again.

Now, Kenneth was indeed very furious and terrified, and he was just eager to flee out of this place so that he could bring his bodyguards back in with him and order them to beat Charlie Wade to death before they crushed his manhood!

As he thought about it, he ground his teeth and asked, "Can I leave now?"

Charlie Wade asked him in return, "Who are you talking to?"

Kenneth replied angrily, "Of course, I'm talking to you!"

Charlie Wade asked yet again, "Then, who am I to you?"

The expression on Kenneth's face was very ugly at this time. He was a smart man, and he obviously understood the meaning behind Charlie Wade's words. He wanted him to call him 'father' again!

D*mn! This was absolutely humiliating! He could not stand it anymore!

Hence, he said angrily, "Charlie Wade! Don't take things too far! You told me that you would let me go as long as I called you my father once! Why are you going back on your words now?"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Because I am shameless..."

After he was done speaking, Charlie Wade glared at him with a cold expression on his face as he said, "If you don't call me your father now, I may accidentally step on your crotch. Please do not blame me when that happens!"

Kenneth was really afraid and could only grit his teeth as he said, "Okay, you win!"

In his opinion, since he had already called Charlie Wade his father, he had already lost face anyway. Therefore, Kenneth felt that it would not hurt him to call Charlie Wade his father again. The most important thing right now was to make sure that he could escape from Charlie Wade so that he could go out of the hall and call for his bodyguards!

Therefore, he pleaded, "Dad, can you please be magnanimous and let me go..."

Charlie Wade nodded in satisfaction before he said, "Dear son, since you are being so obedient and respectful, I will forgive you. Get out of here now!"

As soon as he heard Charlie Wade's words, Kenneth hurriedly crawled out of Charlie Wade's range before running out with Wendy.

Since Kenneth had wet himself earlier, there was a trail of his urine all over the smooth floor, and it was a very disgusting sight.

When everyone saw how pathetic Kenneth looked, they could not help but laugh amongst themselves. Kenneth heard their ridicule, and he felt as though he was repeatedly stabbed with a hundred daggers. Thus, he hastened his steps so that he could leave the hall as soon as possible, but unfortunately, he slipped and fell.

There was a burst of laughter throughout the hall, and Wendy hurriedly tried her best to help Kenneth up to his feet before both of them left in a hurry.

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson looked at Charlie Wade with a worried expression on her face as she said, "Charlie Wade, Chairman Wilson is actually a very powerful man. Aren't you afraid that he will retaliate against you in the future if you provoke and humiliate him like this?"

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he said, "Dear, didn't you hear what I said earlier? Even if he is a tiger, he would have to bow down before me, and even if he is a dragon, he would also have to lower his head in front of me! Kenneth Wilson is nothing in Arouss Hilll!"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied with a concerned expression on her face, "I know that you have a close friendship with some of the wealthiest and most powerful people in Arouss Hilll, but they might not necessarily agree to help you in the future! What will you do then?"

Charlie Wade patted her gently on her shoulder before he said, "Dear wife, you can doubt everyone in this world, but you must never doubt your husband!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was startled when she saw the confidence on Charlie Wade's face.

She discovered that her useless husband actually had a domineering and arrogant side to him!

Chapter 351

Just as Claire Wilson Wilson felt that there was a tremendous change in Charlie Wade, Kenneth, who had just escaped from the hall, returned with four bodyguards by his side!

These four bodyguards were the four most capable bodyguards working for him, and each of them had extraordinary strength and fighting skills.

In his opinion, it would be easy for these four bodyguards of his to kill Charlie Wade!

However, he did not want to kill Charlie Wade in front of the crowd of people.

He wanted to force Charlie Wade into submission and call him his 'grandfather' in front of everyone here today! After gaining back his own face, he would then destroy Charlie Wade's manhood!

After that, he would look for another opportunity to get rid of Charlie Wade in the future!

Everything that he was going to do today was just to relieve all of his pent up anger. Kenneth knew that the only way he would be able to relieve all the hatred that he was feeling inside was by killing Charlie Wade!

After all, he had already lived for more than fifty years, and he had never felt as embarrassed or humiliated as he felt today.

After rushing into the venue with his bodyguards, Kenneth pointed at Charlie Wade before he shouted, "I will give one million dollars to the person who destroys his manhood today!"

One million dollars was a huge sum of money to the bodyguards. Therefore, as soon as they heard Kenneth's words, all four of the bodyguards had a grim expression on their faces as they rushed toward Charlie Wade simultaneously!

When Claire Wilson Wilson saw the bodyguards rushing at Charlie Wade, she screamed out in fright and wanted to pull Charlie Wade away.

However, Charlie Wade stood still without moving at all.

Escape? No way!

He was Charlie Wade Wade! How could he possibly be afraid of this kind of battle?

He was not in the slightest bit afraid at all!

Moreover, Charlie Wade had already mastered all of the fighting skills that he had studied from the , so he was certain that these bodyguards would not be a match for him at all!

The four bodyguards stared at Charlie Wade as though he was a bundle of banknotes! They were all afraid that they would lose out on the money if they were one step too late, so they all rushed at him desperately.

Charlie Wade smiled as his eyes locked onto the movements of the four bodyguards at the same time. At this time, Charlie Wade was just patiently waiting for them to rush at him so that he could destroy them immediately!

One of the bodyguards who had practiced sprinting quickly took the lead and smiled before he said to Charlie Wade, "Young man, you must be tired of living! Who gave you the courage to mess with Chairman Wilson? I am going to kill you!"

As soon as his voice fell, the bodyguard had already appeared in front of Charlie Wade.

Just as everyone thought that Charlie Wade would face a severe beating, Charlie Wade suddenly jumped on the spot before kicking the bodyguard in his chest.

Bam!

The bodyguard who was about one hundred and ninety centimeters tall flew back immediately!

With just one kick, Charlie Wade had already broken fourteen of his ribs!

There were only twenty-four ribs in a human's body, and Charlie Wade had already broken more than half of them with one kick!

As the bodyguard hit the ground after flying a certain distance, blood began spurting out of his mouth, and he looked very miserable and pitiful.

By then, the three bodyguards who were left behind had already caught up.

All of them were rushing forward as they marked Charlie Wade as their target because they were all afraid that they would lose out on the one million dollars.

As a result, they did not expect this young man to suddenly become a powerful human cannonball, and he immediately kicked the three of them, instantly knocking them to the ground!

"Wow!!!"

Everyone witnessing the scene could not help but exclaim out loud.

No one would have imagined that Charlie Wade would have such a powerful kick!

At this time, one of the women at the scene exclaimed, "This! He is just like Ip Man!"

Charlie Wade glanced at her before he sneered, "Ip Man? Even if there are ten Ip Man's in this world, he could never be compared to me, Charlie Wade Wade!"

Charlie Wade was not bragging!

Even though the martial artist, Ip Man, was truly very strong, he had not exceeded the scope of an ordinary person.

On the other hand, since Charlie Wade had been studying and practicing everything that he learned from the , his body had been physically and internally strengthened by the spiritual energy. Therefore, no matter how strong an ordinary person was, they would never be able to compete with Charlie Wade!

By now, the first bodyguard who was kicked in the chest by Charlie Wade had already passed out.

The remaining three bodyguards were all lying on the ground, wailing and crying out loud because they had suffered numerous fractures all over their bodies.

Chapter 352

The bodyguards had a horrified look in their eyes as they stared at Charlie Wade!

Why was this young man so scary?! The three of them were attacking him at one go, and yet, they were actually defeated by just one young man? They had lost their combat effectiveness just like that?! This... this young man was simply a God!

Charlie Wade walked toward the three bodyguards before he stared at them with a cold expression on his face. "Since you enjoy being a dog for others, I will make sure that you can only crawl on the ground in the future!"

After that, Charlie Wade stepped on one of the bodyguard's right leg!

Snap!

The man's right kneecap was crushed immediately.

After that, he raised his foot again and subsequently crushed the opponent's left kneecap.

When the other two bodyguards saw this, they were all trembling in shock!

After that, the two bodyguards began crying and begging Charlie Wade for mercy.

Charlie Wade replied coldly, "You are all hooligans who are crueler than anyone else when it comes to hurting other people. However, when you are hurt, you are more cowardly than anyone else! If I let you go today, you will definitely show this vicious expression on your face when you deal with people who are weaker than you in the future! I have to destroy you today for the sake of the people!"

Following that, regardless of their crying and pleading, Charlie Wade crushed all of their kneecaps.

Snap! Snap! Snap! Snap!

There were now three more people who would not have the ability to stand on their own two feet again in this world!

Everyone at the scene was shocked by Charlie Wade's ferociousness.

Kenneth and Wendy were also trembling in fear at this time!

Kenneth would never have imagined that Charlie Wade would be so cruel and strong!

He never expected Charlie Wade to defeat all four of his most capable bodyguards just like that!

He had destroyed them completely.

They were all pro fighters, and one of them was actually the national fighting champion just a few years ago!

Kenneth felt his legs going soft, and he felt cold in the spot where he had wet himself earlier.

He turned around silently as he tried to escape.

No matter what happened, he could not allow himself to fall into Charlie Wade's hands...

At this time, someone suddenly yelled, "You, old man! Are you trying to escape after provoking Mr. Wade?"

Immediately after that, the crowd of people made way as Don Albertt walked in with a group of men behind him. Albert sneered before he stopped directly in front of Kenneth.

Kenneth looked at him with a panicked expression on his face before he asked, "You... who are you?"

Slap!

Albert gave Kenneth a tight slap across his face without even responding to his question.

There were five fingerprints on Kenneth's face as he said furiously, "Who do you think you are? You actually dared to hit me?! I am the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce!"

Slap!

Albert did not show him any mercy at all and gave Kenneth another slap across his face.

"Chairman? I don't care if you are the chairman! If you are disrespectful toward Mr. Wade, you are courting death for yourself!"

Kenneth was very furious, but he was also frightened at this time. Therefore, he hurriedly said, "This is all just a misunderstanding! A misunderstanding! There is just a simple misunderstanding between Mr. Wade and myself. I am going to leave now. I'm leaving now!"

"You want to leave?" Albert smiled contemptuously before he said, "Have you asked for Mr. Wade's permission to let you leave?"

Kenneth hurriedly turned and faced Charlie Wade before he pleaded in a trembling voice, "Charlie Wade, Mr. Wade, this is all just a misunderstanding. Those four guys wanted to create trouble for you and I could not stop them! They already got the ending that they deserve now! Please just let me go now..."

Charlie Wade nodded and smiled before he said, "Okay, of course I can let you go. After all, I've already let you go once."

After that, Charlie Wade looked at Kenneth with a playful expression on his face as he said, "But what should you do so that I will let you go? Do you need me to teach you what to do?"

Kenneth was afraid that Charlie Wade would disable him just as he did to his bodyguards. Therefore, he quickly knelt to the ground before he cried and begged, "Dad, please, please just spare your son this time..."

Don Albertt was stunned, and he blurted out immediately, "Oh, my God! You are really pathetic!"

Kenneth smiled bitterly before he said, "I will tell you the truth. I have already learned my lesson..."

Chapter 353

Contemptuous mockery echoed around them.

Kenneth was such a wuss! He had called Charlie Wade 'dad' three times over the course of a few minutes!

Was he really the chairman of the renowned Modestway Group? He was such an embarrassment to himself and his company!

Regardless, Kenneth couldn't care less about any of that!

A great man knew when to yield and when not to.

You had to be alive, and only then could you use your manhood, right?

If you were dead, what good was your manhood, then?

So, he quickly went toward Charlie Wade to butter him up. "Dad, please be merciful and forgive me, please! I swear, I'll be forever in your debt, daddy!"

Charlie Wade waved his hand and laughed. "You should have called me dad earlier when I asked nicely. It's too late now."

Kenneth gaped in surprise, thinking that Charlie Wade wanted to mess with him. He pleaded desperately while tears drenched his cheeks, "Dad, please, I'm sorry, daddy! Please forgive me..."

Charlie Wade looked at Wendy who was standing in a daze and said flatly, "Wendy Wilson, your sugar daddy is already on his knees. Why are you still standing?"

Wendy was startled at his remark and mumbled, "What... what do you mean..."

Kenneth stretched his hand out, violently pulling Wendy down on her knees as he chided, "Did you leave your brain at home, idiot? Don't you know you need to kneel before you can speak to my dad?!"

Kenneth's desire to survive was way stronger than reputation, dignity, and honor. This was his last resort.

Wendy knelt on the floor like a stone statue, not daring to move nor speak. Kenneth glanced at Charlie Wade desperately and asked, "Daddy, are you happy now?"

Charlie Wade shook his head. "Not really."

Kenneth's heart skipped a beat. "What can I do to make you happy?"

A mischievous smile appeared on Charlie Wade's face as he said, "Call me 'Grandpa'. Let me see how it makes me feel. If I'm happy with it, I can consider letting you go."

Kenneth wished he could die right there and then.

He had to be out of his mind today. Why did he want to cause trouble with Charlie Wade in the first place?! Not only did he not get anything beneficial from it, but he had run out of luck!

He was beaten, forced on his knees, had had to call Charlie Wade daddy, had peed his pants...

And now, he had to call Charlie Wade 'Grandpa'...

It was the ultimatum of embarrassment...

Seeing his hesitation, Charlie Wade asked coldly, "Why? You don't want to?"

Kenneth trembled in panic and said, "Yes, yes, I do!"

Then, he knocked his head to the floor and cried loudly, "Grandpa! I'm sorry, please forgive me!"

Charlie Wade frowned. "Who am I?"

Tears flowed down Kenneth's cheeks like rivers. "You're my grandpa!"

"And who are you?"

"I'm your grandson..."

Charlie Wade nodded with a sly smile. "Good. Never knew I could be a grandfather at such a young age. In that case, I'll spare you."

Kenneth breathed a sigh of relief and was about to stand up and leave when...

"Hold on!" Charlie Wade stopped him. "You want to leave just like that? Don't you have to say something first?"

Chapter 354

Kenneth bit his lips, enduring the humiliation and anger in his heart as he respectfully said to Charlie Wade, "Grandpa, can I go now?"

Charlie Wade patted his cheek and said, "Okay. Go now, my dear grandson!"

Tears of humiliation fell from Kenneth's eyes as he turned around and walked out tremblingly.

Wendy hurriedly followed him out of the venue as well.

They walked as fast as they could, worried that Charlie Wade would stop them again, but Charlie Wade had lost all interest in teasing them.

Kenneth's penis had completely malfunctioned now, he would be trapped in extreme despair for the rest of his life!

After they went out, Don Albertt rushed toward Charlie Wade and said, "Master Wade, I'm sorry for being late. It's my fault for letting you waste your time and effort with that trash. I'm willing to accept any punishment for my negligence."

Charlie Wade waved his hand indifferently and asked, "Why are you here? Isn't this the summit for the construction and decoration industry? Are you in this field, too?"

"Yes!" Albert chuckled and answered, "I am the biggest supplier of cement and sand in Aurouss Hilll, which means that I'm the prominent middleman in the construction industry. So, they invited me to the summit."

Charlie Wade was aware that the cement and sand business was regarded as the gray area in the construction industry, thus, it made sense for Albert to be involved in this since he was from the underworld. Hence, he nodded and said, "Don't do so many harmful and destructive businesses. Stop bullying the honest and ordinary people."

Albert said with a sheepish smile, "Yes, Master Wade, thanks to your lesson, I've come clean a long time ago, I wouldn't dare to do those harmful things now..."

Charlie Wade nodded with a satisfying smile.

Albert pointed to the four injured bodyguards and asked, "Master Wade, what about these people?"

"The fainted guy, break his leg and throw him out of here. Throw them a little further away to not affect my mood!"

Albert nodded and ordered his men, "Hey, didn't you hear what Master Wade said? Go, go, start your work!"

The men bowed. "Yes, Master Wade!"

Then, they broke the knee of the guy who had fainted first and dragged the four lifeless men toward the door.

Without his bodyguards, Kenneth could only drive by himself. He drove Wendy to the hospital for the injury on her face and then drove back to the Wilson family villa.

Kenneth was whining in pain the whole way, the wrath of fury burning furiously inside him.

Wendy gritted her teeth and said indignantly, "Dear! Charlie Wade, that loser, even dared to lay his hands on you! The nerve he has! You can't let him off the hook!"

A gloomy disdain hovered over Kenneth's face. His eyes were as cold as daggers, and he growled, "Of course! I'll kill him! I'll even skin him alive and break all his bones! No one has dared to treat me this way ever!"

Wendy grinned wickedly. Her disgust toward Charlie Wade was at its highest peak now, and she bet Charlie Wade wouldn't live long once Kenneth targeted him.

Wendy said in a cold voice, "Dear, take me with you when you do it. I want to torture him. I want to see him beg me for mercy!"

Kenneth punched the back of the seat violently and said, "I'll grind that b*stard to dust!"

"That's awesome!"

Wendy knew that with Kenneth's background and wealth, it would be a piece of cake to get rid of Charlie Wade.

They were on the losing side today simply because they hadn't brought enough men. Would Charlie Wade survive if Kenneth brought dozens of men next time?

Charlie Wade would be as dead as a doornail by then!

As her imagination ran wild, she already felt the thrill of revenge inside her!

She leaned toward Kenneth and said in a coy voice, "Dear, since that loser will be dead in your hands sooner or later, please don't be so angry now. It's bad for your body."

Then, she fiddled with his hair and whispered, "When we get home, I'll make you happy..."

Chapter 355

Kenneth was so pissed off right now, and Wendy was a convenient tool for him to vent his anger out so that he didn't burn himself in the wrath of fury!

As soon as they returned to the Wilson family villa, Kenneth dragged Wendy out of the car and rushed into the house.

Christopher, Hannah, and Lady Wilson were sitting in the living room. When the parents saw Kenneth and Wendy rushing upstairs straight away without greeting them, a tinge of awkwardness hovered on their faces.

Lady Wilson cleared her throat and said, "You guys should be grateful that Kenneth is fond of Wendy. Stop overthinking it."

Christopher nodded reluctantly and answered, "Mom, I'm not overthinking it. I just feel a little awkward."

Lady Wilson chided disdainfully, "What's so awkward about it? You're getting paid for it, aren't you? The five million dollars that Kenneth gave to Wendy, is it in your hands now?"

"Yes, mom, it's with me."

Lady Wilson sighed and softened her tone a bit. "See? If Wendy and Kenneth are getting more and more intimate, he may even give you fifty million dollars! The money will go into your pocket by then, right? Think about it."

Christopher felt a sense of relief inside him upon his mother's remark.

The sole reason why they had approved of the relationship was because of money, pure and simple.

Kenneth had invested 10 million dollars in the Wilson Group and had even given an extra five million dollars to Wendy as her pocket money. It was a lot of money, and this was just the beginning. Over time, he would have invested even more money in the Wilson family.

All the awkwardness and uneasiness dispersed from Christopher's thought. He pulled his wife back to their room on the first floor.

As soon as he entered the room, he said anxiously, "Darling, remember the ordinary residential area that we saw at the Thompson First the other day? The down payment is five or six million, and we've only managed to save enough for the down payment but not the renovations and furniture. But now, with Wendy's five million and our money, it's more than enough for us to buy the Thompson First house!"

Hannah was thrilled at first, but very soon, she sulked in dismay. "No, I don't want to live in the ordinary residential area. Jacob Wilson's family and Charlie Wade the loser will be staying in the villa area. Do you want me to live outside of them and be their guards? No way!"

"Hmm, what about this? We have nearly ten million dollars now, we'll talk to Wendy tomorrow and ask her to persuade Kenneth while they're having a good time and see if he can sponsor us another few million dollars. Then, we'll have enough money for the down payment of the villa!"

Although Thompson First's villas cost hundreds of millions of dollars per unit, the prices of other villas in Aurouss Hilll were not too high. A single-family villa was normally around 20 to 30 million dollars, so even after deducting the 40% down payment, they would still have enough money in hand.

However, renovations and furnishings were a huge expense that might need an additional three to five million dollars which the couple couldn't afford. However, if they could get Kenneth to sponsor them a little, the problem would be solved!

Hannah shrieked a little excitedly and said, "Hey, do you think Kenneth will subsidize us a little more?"

Christopher chuckled. "I think he will for the sake of Wendy. He seems to be quite fond of her, don't you think?"

Hannah nodded, a gleeful smile pasted on her face. "Actually, from the looks of it, Kenneth is a much better companion for Wendy. At least he is more generous and lavish than Gerald, that b*stard. After so many years of being together, our Wendy even aborted a child for him, but he never gave Wendy any pocket money!"

Christopher nodded and sighed furiously. "Yes, you're right! The White family are crooks, liars, and b*stards!"

Hannah waved her hand in contempt. "Argh, forget about them. They'll pay for what they did to us and our baby girl. Let's talk about the villa instead. There are quite a lot of villas in Aurouss Hilll, why don't we drive around tomorrow to take a look?"

"Okay! Let's go to the Golden Crown Park first. I heard that their villas are pretty nice!"

As they were talking about the villas, suddenly, there were violent noises from upstairs.

Chapter 356

The noises seemed to be coming from Wendy and Kenneth's room. Christopher and Hannah exchanged curious glances and quickly rushed out to see what had happened.

At this moment, Wendy ran down the stairs with her disheveled clothes and a weeping voice.

Christopher saw the reddish palm print on her face and frantically asked, "What's wrong, Wendy? Did Kenneth hit you?"

Wendy wailed innocently, "Dad, Mom, I don't know why, but his manhood suddenly stopped working! I tried all kinds of methods, but... but it's still the same. Then, he got angry and slapped me..."

"What? Stopped working?" Christopher asked in surprise, "What do you mean? What happened?"

Wendy couldn't care less about the embarrassment and hurriedly explained, "That! His manhood! It just won't get erect, no reaction at all!"

"Huh?!" Hannah shrieked, "Is it because of his age?"

Wendy shook her head. "No! He was okay last night! But I don't know why, today, it suddenly couldn't work..."

Christopher finally understood why his daughter had been slapped. It was normal for a man to lose his mind when his manhood suddenly malfunctioned.

Just then, Kenneth hurriedly ran down the stairs in his robe.

Hannah quickly stopped him and asked, "Kenneth, what's going on? You could have used your words to tell Wendy what she did wrong, why did you lay your hands on her?"

Kenneth's face twisted into an agonizing grimace as he yelled, "Stop your f*cking nonsense and take me to the hospital right now!"

Christopher was a little upset by Kenneth's rudeness. He wanted to argue with him when Lady Wilson walked toward them and said in a deep voice, "Christopher! Stop standing there like a fool and go start your car! Kenneth's health is the most important thing right now!"

Christopher shut his mouth since Lady Wilson had demanded him to do so. He quickly grabbed his car key and rushed Kenneth to the hospital.

On the way, Kenneth cursed Charlie Wade over and over again while his expression was as painful and distressed as he could muster!

He finally understood what Charlie Wade had meant earlier—Rather than stomping it into a lump of rotten flesh, it was better to make him depressed by looking at the intact but useless manhood.

D*mn it! His words had come true!

He didn't know what the b*stard had done to him, but he had deprived his sexual functionality so stealthily and quietly!

How did he do it? He clearly didn't harm his manhood physically!

Why had his manhood suddenly stopped working!

Truth be told, he had been taking extra care of his sexual function for many years. He had spent millions and millions in supplements and exercises so that he could remain active sexually and was even better than the young people in their twenties!

What had Charlie Wade done to him?!

The more Kenneth thought about it, the more panicked and uneasy he was, and he felt that Charlie Wade was very peculiar and mysterious!

He prayed that his disorder could be cured, but what if it couldn't? What was the point for him to stay alive?!

Chapter 357

The Silverwing Hospital.

Since it was already night when they got to the hospital, they could only wait for their turn at the emergency department.

After lining up for twenty minutes, it was finally their turn, and the first thing the doctor asked was, "Yes? What made you come here?"

Kenneth shooed Christopher out of the ward before saying to the doctor, "Doctor, I think I'm impotent all of a sudden. Can you please check what happened to me?"

"Impotent?!" The doctor gaped in bewilderment and said, "Impotence is a neurological disorder, it doesn't fall under emergency cases. I suggest you come again tomorrow morning to the andrology department directly and let the doctor there check it out for you. We at the emergency department mainly cover emergency cases such as headaches, fever, accidental injuries, or spasmodic diseases."

Kenneth growled indignantly, "My impotence is an emergency case! Can't I see you for treatment right away?!"

The doctor cleared his throat and started in an awkward tone, "Throughout my years as a doctor, I've never heard of sudden impotence... This disorder has a sequential process. It is okay at first, and then, its performance starts to deteriorate slowly. Then, gradually and eventually, it becomes dysfunctional..."

Kenneth's face turned into an ugly shade of red as he didn't expect the doctor to describe the disorder in such a detailed manner, and he shouted, "Are you a f*cking idiot? I asked you to check me! I don't need a lecture right now! Shut up and do your job!"

His blunt remarks enraged the doctor, and he blurted, "What is wrong with you? I told you that your case is not under our care. Shout at me again and I'll ask the security guards to throw you out of here!"

"You..." Kenneth grit his teeth furiously. After a short pause, he pointed at the computer and said coldly, "You, google Modestway Group!"

"Huh?" The doctor frowned in confusion.

"I want you to google the Modestway Group!"

The doctor was stunned by his crude attitude, but his hands went over the mouse and keyboard reflexively, opening the browser and starting searching the Modestway Group.

When he clicked into the company's website, he saw the portrait of its chairman, Kenneth Wilson.

Huh? The man in the picture looked very similar to the grouchy man sitting in front of him.

Oh, shit! He was a big-shot...

The doctor switched his attitude and tone to a milder version and said respectfully, "Oh, Mr. Wilson, welcome to our humble hospital. I'm sorry for not recognizing you, please forgive me..."

Then, he quickly said, "Well, please tell me again what happened, and I'll see if I can arrange for you to be admitted to the hospital right away and have a specialist check on you."

Kenneth's expression softened a little bit, but he was still grumpy. "Nothing happened in between. It was fine yesterday, and then suddenly, it became unresponsive today."

The doctor asked curiously, "Is it totally unresponsive?"

"Yes!" Kenneth growled gloomily, "Totally, completely!"

"Hmm, maybe it has something to do with the nervous system. Mr. Wilson, I'll ask the neurologist to come and check on you right away, is that okay?"

Kenneth waved his hand in irritation. "Hurry!"

The doctor hurriedly called his colleague at the inpatient department to arrange the test and admission to the hospital. After all, at this hour, all the outpatient doctors had already gotten off work. The only doctors available at the moment were the inpatient department and the doctors on the night shift.

Coincidentally, one of the doctors who were on duty tonight was the attending doctor when Jacob Wilson had suffered the spinal injury a few days ago. The doctor donned a serious expression as he performed a series of tests on Kenneth and looked at the various results.

Laying on the examination bed, fear and horror flooded Kenneth's mind.

He couldn't feel his manhood at all, almost as if it had disappeared into thin air. He closed his eyes and shuddered in dismay.

He had always been active sexually. If his manhood was completely useless, he might as well just die...

Chapter 358

Sensing the unusual silence and intensity, Kenneth asked, "Doctor, how is it?"

The doctor shook his head helplessly and answered, "Mr. Wilson, I'm afraid that we can't fix your problem. Based on our test and results, it shows that you suffer a disorder that we call penile necrosis, which means the nerves around your penis have suffered irreversible damage. I'm so sorry."

"Could it be that your hospital is not good enough?" Christopher asked.

The doctor squinted at him in annoyance and said, "With the current medicine and technology, we can cure the damaged nerves and let it slowly recover, but we can't do anything about the necrotic nerves. It's like encountering a car accident. Some people can recover slowly, but some will never stand again."

Then, he turned his glance back toward Kenneth and said in a solemn tone, "In your case, no one in the world can do anything about it. It can't be cured."

"What?! Argh! How can this be!!!"

Kenneth's face was as pale as a sheet of paper. He blurted in despair, "I have money! Ten million! Is it enough? Can you cure my manhood with ten million dollars?!"

Again, the doctor said seriously, "Nerves are like human life. Even if you're dying, there is still a chance to save you, but if you're dead, you're dead. No one can bring the dead back to life."

Then, he continued, "Ten million, you say? You can't bring the dead to life even if you have all the money in the world. Look at Steve Jobs. He was a very rich man, wasn't he? Still, he died from pancreatic cancer when he was in his 50s!"

Kenneth's heart skipped a beat. He was in a daze as if he had been struck by lightning.

Was that it?!

Did the doctor mean to say that he would be impotent for the rest of his life?!

After all those years of hard work, he had made so much money so that he could enjoy his lavish and free life after his retirement!

If his manhood forever malfunctioned, what else was there for him to stay alive?

As the thought ran through his mind, the renowned business tycoon, Kenneth Wilson, covered his face and wept loudly, tears streaming down his face.

Christopher, who was watching the scene, felt hot flashes in his eyes and almost burst into tears as well.

As a man, he could understand Kenneth's pain very much.

At the same time, he clutched his legs tightly and thought to himself that he would protect his manhood no matter what it took! A man was not a man when his little brother was useless!

Just then, the doctor suddenly said, "By the way, Mr. Wilson, honestly speaking, I think that there may be someone who can cure your disorder!"

"What? Really?!" Kenneth shrieked excitedly. He grabbed the doctor's hands and said in a stuttering voice, "Who... who is it? Tell me!"

The doctor donned a mysterious smile. "He does not work in our hospital!"

"Then how do you know that he can cure nerve necrosis?! Didn't you just say that it is irreversible?"

"Yes, indeed, but only he can cure it! He cured a patient who was paralyzed from the neck down. I saw it with my own eyes! I bet your case is a piece of cake for him since you're only paralyzed 'locally'."

Kenneth couldn't hide his excitement any longer. He blurted out, "Who is he? Where is he? Tell me now!"

The doctor smiled. "Mr. Wilson, I can introduce him to you, but don't you think a referral fee should be in place?"

Kenneth immediately took out his checkbook and swiftly wrote a cheque for one hundred thousand dollars to the doctor, saying, "I'll give you another nine hundred thousand if the man you introduced can really cure me!"

The doctor took the cheque from Kenneth and looked at it with starry eyes. Then, he said, "There is a genius doctor in Auruos Hill, Dr. Simmons. He cured a quadriplegic patient in our hospital a few days ago, which was a miracle in our neurology field! He has a clinic in the city, Serene World Clinic. If you see him, maybe he can cure you."

Kenneth was stunned for a moment, and asked joyfully, "Dr. Simmons, could you be referring to Anthony Simmons by any chance?"

Chapter 359

"Oh? Do you know Doctor Simmons?" The doctor asked curiously.

Kenneth laughed delightedly. "Of course, and it's more than an acquaintance! The famous doctor you mentioned is our family's friend! Back then, when he was down and out, it was our family that helped him to rise again and achieve what he has now. I didn't know that he stays in Auruoss Hillll now, that's great!"

He jumped up from the bed and urged Christopher, "Hurry, get me to Dr. Simmons's clinic now!"

After asking for the address of Anthony's clinic, Christopher quickly drove Kenneth to Serene World Clinic.

As soon as they arrived at the clinic's entrance, Kenneth hopped off the car and dashed into the clinic anxiously when he saw a man that seemed to be a clinic staff pushing a young man with crutches out of the door.

The young man limped miserably while pleading, "Sir, sir, please, I beg you! Please inform Dr. Simmons that I need his help. I'll give him five million dollars if he can fix my legs!"

The clinic staff said coldly, "Sorry, Mr. Grant. Dr. Simmons said that you have offended his savior, so he will not attend to you no matter how much money you pay!"

Then, he continued, "By the way, Mr. Grant. You've come here every day for the past few days to the point that it disrupts our normal business. Dr. Simmons said that he will call the police if you come back tomorrow!"

The young man on crutches whined with a painful grimace, "Please, sir, can you please convey my message to Dr. Simmons? I'll give you a million dollars as my messenger!"

The clinic staff pushed him out the door and growled, "Please, just go, and don't come back again!"

Christopher recognized the young man!

He was Jason Grant!

Rumor had it that he had offended Charlie Wade at the auto show. When Jacob Wilson had been hospitalized, once again, he had caused a scene in disagreement with Charlie Wade and was shoved out of the window from the ward on the third floor of the hospital by Don Albertt, breaking his legs in the process.

Christopher hurried forward and asked in surprise, "Hey, Mr. Grant, what happened to you?"

"Uncle Wilson?" Jason recognized Christopher too. He sighed dejectedly and said, "Look at me. My legs were broken, and it's quite severe. The doctor said that I might not be able to walk properly again for the rest of my life, so I'm here to seek help from Dr. Simmons. However, he didn't even want to see me and kicked me out..."

Christopher was startled and asked, "Is it because of Charlie Wade that Dr. Simmons is not willing to see you?"

"Yes..." Jason grit his teeth and cursed, "I didn't know that even the renowned Dr. Simmons would be bewitched by that crooked liar!"

Kenneth was equally surprised. "Oh? What's going on? Does Uncle Simmons know Charlie Wade too?"

Christopher nodded. "Yes, and they seem very close too, but I don't know what's going on between them."

Kenneth sneered, "Hah! My relationship with Uncle Simmons is at a different level than him! I've known Uncle Simmons from when I was three years old, it has been more than 50 years now!"

Then, he walked into the clinic with a smug look and shouted, "Uncle Simmons! Help me, Uncle Simmons!"

The clinic staff who had just kicked Jason out said, "Sir, we're already closed. Please come back tomorrow if you want to see the doctor!"

Kenneth hurriedly said, "Uncle Simmons and I are old friends! He is my family friend!"

Anthony heard the commotion and emerged from his room. He was surprised by what he saw and blurted out, "Kenneth? When did you come to Aurouss Hill? Why are you here?"

Kenneth answered, "It's a long story. Anyway, Uncle Simmons, there's something wrong with me, you must help me..."

"Okay, calm down, tell me what happened."

Kenneth sighed and started explaining his condition.

Anthony frowned as he listened to Kenneth's description of his unusual disorder.

Chapter 360

Penile necrosis?

This was an extraordinarily tricky problem!

There was no known effective way of treating this problem in both Chinese and Western medicine. If it was truly necrosis, it was essentially untreatable.

Anthony hurriedly asked, "How did it happen? What did you do? Penile necrosis is a very rare disorder!"

Kenneth didn't want to talk about his embarrassing incident, so he mumbled, "I don't know how, but it happened just like that. I went to the Silverwing Hospital to have it checked, and the doctor said that it was necrosis..."

Then, he wailed and pleaded, "Uncle Simmons, please help me! Only you can help me now!"

Anthony felt that the problem was trickier than he could handle. Even with his medical skills, the most he could do was stabilize the necrosis so that his penis didn't wither, but it was impossible to cure the necrosis and restore its function...

He sighed and said, "Kenneth, necrosis is universally known to be a tricky and difficult problem to solve. It is very serious, and I'm afraid there's nothing I can do..."

Kenneth said urgently, "Uncle Simmons, I heard from the doctor at the hospital that you can even cure a patient who was paralyzed from the neck down. I'm only paralyzed right there, why can't you do anything about it?"

"Frankly speaking, it's not incurable, but the cost of the treatment is too high," Anthony continued hesitantly, "I have a magical elixir from my savior, and the effect of the pill is very amazing and powerful. I think you'll get better after taking only half a pill."

Kenneth grinned from ear to ear and pleaded, "Uncle Simmons, please give the pill to me, then! You can't just stand there and watch me become impotent!"

Anthony was a little reluctant, and he said earnestly, "Kenneth, truth be told, I intended to keep the pill for emergency purposes. You know, healers do not heal themselves. I'm very old now, I may need to use the pill to save my own life when I'm dying someday..."

Kenneth hurriedly knelt on the floor and cried, "Uncle Simmons, you must help me! For the sake of my father and the many years of friendship between our two families, you must help me!"

Anthony pondered for a moment, his heart pounding vigorously as he struggled with his thoughts.

After a while, he heaved a long sigh and said, "Okay, fine. I'll give you the pill..."

He had received a favor from Kenneth's father many years ago, and although he had repaid their favors by being their family doctor for several decades, he couldn't be indifferent to Kenneth's disorder.

When Anthony finally yielded, Kenneth yelled in excitement and thanked Anthony over and over again.

Just as Anthony went to retrieve the magical elixir that he kept like a priceless treasure, Xyla rushed into the clinic from outside.

The overjoyed Kenneth saw the young and beautiful Xyla and said with a wide smile, "Hey, Xyla! Do you still remember me? I'm Uncle Wilson!"

Xyla glared at him in shock as soon as she saw him, and her heart skipped a beat when she saw her grandfather taking out the magical elixir that Master Wade had given to him. She dashed toward him and whispered, "Grandpa, what do you think you're doing?!"

Anthony heaved another long sigh and said, "He's injured, so I'm giving him this pill to return his family's favor..."

Xyla shrieked in panic. "No, Grandpa, you can't do that! You've already repaid their favors thousands of times! Besides, about that wretched Kenneth Wilson, do you know who he offended today?!"

Anthony quickly asked, "Who?"

"Master Wade!"

Chapter 361

Anthony was extremely dumbfounded upon hearing Xyla's remark! He asked, "What? Are you saying that Kenneth offended Master Wade?!"

"Yes!" Xyla nodded profusely. "Moreover, I heard that it was quite an intense fight. He even flirted with Master Wade's wife, saying that he would give her 10 million dollars just to spend a night with her!"

Anthony's face turned into a grimacing shade of red. He didn't expect that Kenneth had offended Master Wade to such an extent! Who did Kenneth think he was anyway!

His mind ran wild with angry remarks.

'Master Wade has helped me with the generosity and kindness that I can never repay. What about you, Kenneth? Yes, your father helped me back in the days, but I have already repaid my debt to the Wilson family for being your family doctor for several decades! Besides, your father has already passed on. I no longer have any obligation toward your family. I can still lend a hand to help you by all means if you had simply injured yourself, but you picked a fight with the wrong person! You offended Master Wade! Master Wade's enemy is my enemy!'

Anthony's expression was so dark, almost as if a thunderstorm was about to hit him. He walked toward Kenneth, which made Kenneth a little nervous.

Before Kenneth could speak, Anthony started with a cold and emotionless tone, "Let me ask you something. Did you cause a scene with a guy by the name of Charlie Wade Wade today?"

Kenneth nodded honestly. "Oh, Uncle Simmons, do you know him? That f*cking b*stard humiliated me in public! Don't worry, he won't be alive for long. I'll kill him sooner or later!"

Anthony sneered contemptuously. He pointed to the door and shouted, "Get out of here now!"

Kenneth was shocked. "What?! Uncle Simmons, what's going on?"

Anthony said in a stern voice, "Don't call me uncle. From now on, I cut all ties with you and your family, and I will have nothing to do with you anymore!"

Kenneth stood in a daze.

Anthony was like the beacon of health and youth for him and his family. After all, it was easy to make money, but you couldn't buy health with all the money in the world.

If he broke all ties with Anthony, he would be chided and punished when he returned to his home!

More importantly, if he walked away now, he couldn't get the magical elixir that Anthony had promised him!

What about his manhood? What about sexual pleasure and happiness for the rest of his life?!

He frantically asked, "Uncle Simmons, what the hell is going on?! There must be some kind of misunderstanding!"

Anthony snorted. "Let me tell you this! Master Wade is not only my savior but also the only true dragon in the world! Your disrespect and rudeness toward Master Wade are equivalent to slapping my own face! For your father's sake, I will spare your life, but get out of here right now! And don't you dare show up in front of me again!"

Chapter 362

"Master? True dragon?" Kenneth blurted out in a shocked tone. "Uncle Simmons, is something wrong with your brain? How could you be deceived by that crook? He is not a master or a true dragon, he is just a useless live-in son-in-law... a moocher! The Wilson family that he is married to, they treat me like a king! They even gifted Wendy Wilson to me as my escort and companion. He is just a lowly ant compared to me!"

Then, he continued in an indignant voice, "Uncle Simmons, do you honestly think that deadbeat loser is worth it for you to protect him with all costs and even cut ties with our family? Are you going to ignore the years of friendship between our families?"

"B*stard!" Anthony's face twisted into a resentful grimace. He picked up the medicine pestle on the table and slammed it into Kenneth's head fiercely while cursing, "You and your blasphemous mouth! Get out of here right now!"

Kenneth couldn't manage to avoid him, and the pestle knocked his forehead with a great force, causing it to swell up immediately.

He gritted his teeth in pain and shouted, "F*ck you, you f*cking old man! You believe in that crooked liar and you even dared to beat me! I'll f*cking kill you!"

He picked up a nearby chair and prepared to throw it at Anthony.

Despite his age, Anthony was very lean and flexible. He had become even more agile especially after Charlie Wade had cured his old injuries with the magical elixir. His strength, speed, and stamina were incomparable to an obese middle-aged man like Kenneth.

Anthony twisted his body slightly and dodged the chair easily.

After the first failed attempt, Kenneth picked up another chair in irritation and shouted, "F*cking old man, if you want to live, give me the pill right now! Otherwise, I'll kill you today!"

"Asshole, how dare you beat my grandpa? Take this!"

Xyla rolled up her sleeves in great anger and dashed toward Kenneth.

It was a norm for a family of traditional Chinese medical science to learn martial arts and self-defense. The Simmons family was not only a master of Chinese medicine but also a family of martial arts. Even Xyla—who was not carrying her grandfather's last name—was very athletic and frisky, and so, it was a piece of cake to defeat a large and slow man like Kenneth.

Before Kenneth could respond to her warcry, Xyla kicked him, and he fell to the floor. Then, she pressed her shoes against his throat and commanded coldly, "Get the hell out of here or I'll kick your ass!"

Knowing that he was on the losing side, Kenneth hurriedly crawled out of the clinic while cursing, "F*ck you, you old man, just wait and see! I'll make you pay for what you did to me today!"

"B*stard!" Anthony shouted angrily. "Get the hell out of here! I don't want to see you again!"

Kenneth fled the clinic as though he was running away from zombies, his face green from the shock and hatred.

Christopher quickly greeted him and asked, "Kenneth, how is it? Has Dr. Simmons cured you?"

Kenneth growled bitterly, "Hah! That ungrateful old fart said that he didn't want to treat me because I offended Charlie Wade, his so-called savior. Not only that, he even beat me and kicked me out of there!"

Christopher didn't expect that a prominent figure like Anthony Simmons would be bewitched by Charlie Wade, the deadbeat skunk. He sighed, "This Charlie Wade is really going places!"

Kenneth shouted, "Just wait and see, all of them! Anthony Simmons, Charlie Wade Wade, just wait and see, I'll bury them alive! I'll make them pay!"

Christopher had had enough of Charlie Wade's attacks, but he had never had a chance nor the ability to seek revenge from him, so he had always been very frustrated and agitated. Besides, he was desperately envious of the Thompson First villa that Zeke White had given to him!

If Kenneth could really kill Charlie Wade as he claimed, his brother and his family would have nothing to rely on, and they would be like dying fishes on a chopping board!

If so, the villa would eventually be his!

Hence, he resisted the gleeful delight in his heart and hurriedly said, "Kenneth, you are absolutely right! Charlie Wade Wade is an ungrateful b*stard! Even after all those years of staying with us, he keeps bullying and insulting us. Now, he even dares to bully you! He deserves every bit of payback and revenge from us!"

Chapter 363

Indeed, Kenneth wanted to kill Charlie Wade right there and then.

However, he realized that it was not wise to act impulsively—the mighty dragon was no match for the native serpent.

He knew clearly that he was no match to Charlie Wade right now.

It seemed that Charlie Wade was quite powerful and strong, meaning that he had to be skilled in martial arts and self-defense.

It was very hard to go after a man who was knowledgeable and tenacious. He had to get someone who was on par or more powerful than Charlie Wade to go against him, otherwise, it would all go down the drain!

Still, the most important thing right now was to fix his impotence. He would be in living hell otherwise!

Kenneth's wrath toward Anthony started burning again upon this thought!

The f*cking old coot! Clearly, he had a pill that could cure him, but he didn't want to give it to him!

In fact, he had even kicked him out of his clinic for that loser, Charlie Wade! D*mn!

Meanwhile, Christopher was worrying about Kenneth's situation. If he couldn't be fixed, what would happen to his daughter? Was it the end of their relationship?

If so, how could he ascend to the pinnacle of his life?

So far, they had only received 10 million dollars of investment from Kenneth. It was still 70 million dollars short of the 80 million that Kenneth had promised them in the first place. He doubted that Kenneth would give them the 70 million dollars if his impotence persisted!

Hence, he was even more anxious than Kenneth and hoped that he could restore the latter's sexual function.

He cleared his throat and asked with concern, "Kenneth, since the old coot is so ignorant and foolish, do you want me to get a few people to beat him up and snatch the pill from him?"

Kenneth waved his hand in irritation. "No, the old dog and his granddaughter are very strong. More importantly, he has a lot of VIP patients. We're asking for trouble if we go after him."

Anthony Simmons was a renowned doctor in Chinese medicine. He was highly respected by many VIPs and wealthy families in Eastcliff and several other big cities. Although Kenneth was quite influential himself, he couldn't even make it into the top 30 of the most prominent figures that Anthony knew.

Hence, he didn't dare to go against Anthony rashly. He could only try to find another way to cure his disorder.

Suddenly, a person popped into his mind, and he said to Christopher, "Oh yes, I have a friend who owns a pharmaceutical factory in Aurouss Hill. It is one of the top companies in the country too. I'll contact him tomorrow."

Christopher breathed a sigh of relief. "Wow, I'm glad to hear that! I'm really afraid that you can't recover."

"Go to that pharmacy and buy me some viagra!"

"Okay!" Christopher parked his car on the roadside obediently, walked into the pharmacy as he was told, and bought a large box of viagra for Kenneth.

Kenneth said quickly, "Let's go home now, I want to try it with Wendy!"

There was a tinge of awkwardness on Christopher's face. Kenneth had literally blurted out in front of him that he wanted to try the effects of viagra with his daughter.

However, since they had already done the deed, there was no point in being upset and annoyed by it. So, he spruced up his feelings and drove home quickly.

Chapter 364

Serene World Clinic.

Anthony was still huffing and puffing in annoyance.

Two people had come to his clinic tonight asking for treatment, and they both had offended Master Wade!

Jason Grant, the guy who had tried to show off before Master Wade at the hospital the other day that led him to an unfortunate ending—Don Albertt threw him out of the window on the third floor and broke his leg. He even had the guts to come here to seek treatment!

And then, there was Kenneth Wilson!

The most hateful and shameless b*stard!

He had nearly given that b*stard the magical elixir before learning about his beef with Master Wade!

If he had really cured Kenneth, he would be biting the hand that fed him, wouldn't he?!

He turned to Xyla and sighed, "Oh my goodness, Xyla, luckily you got here in time, otherwise, I might have already given Kenneth the magical pill!"

Xyla shuddered at the thought. "Grandpa, I heard that Master Wade was the reason why Kenneth is impotent!"

"Oh, I see!" Anthony mesmerized in awe. "Master Wade is truly powerful, seeing as he could destroy the penile nerve secretly! Even the best surgeons cannot be so precise in manually removing the nerves..."

"He deserves it for what he did to Master Wade!"

Then, Xyla added, "Grandpa, I think you'd better make your stand with the Wilson family. If Master Wade somehow learns about our relationship with their family and misunderstands you, it will not do any good to us!"

"You're right!" Anthony nodded. "I'll call Mrs. Wilson right away and explain everything to her."

Next, Anthony took out his phone and called Barbara, Kenneth's mother.

Barbara Wilson was 83 years old this year. There was a Chinese saying that went, 'reaching the age of 73 or 84, you will go to hell even if the Grim Reaper doesn't invite you'. It meant that there would be two major obstacles of the elderly, which were at the age of 73 and 84, they were most likely to be rather weak and fragile, which might lead to death.

The legends that paired with the saying were the two great saints in ancient China.

Confucius passed away at the age of 73;
Mencius passed away at the age of 84.

Even the sages like Confucius and Mencius couldn't escape from the curse of 73 and 84, let alone normal people. Thus, these two numbers were regarded as the critical junctures of life.

On Barbara's first major hurdle, she had suffered a serious illness when she was 73 years old.

At the time, Anthony had rushed to Eastcliff and prescribed nine different drugs to her, managing to keep her alive and kicking.

This time, as she was approaching her second major hurdle, she knew that the hurdle would come at a devastating speed and strength. It might be even more dangerous due to her age. Therefore, she hoped that she could invite Anthony over before her birthday this year.

Thus, when she received Anthony's call, she sounded delighted and joyful. "Anthony! I was just about to call you! It will be my 84th birthday next month, are you free? I would like to invite you to my birthday banquet! What do you think?"

Anthony knew very well that Barbara was going to have her second hurdle this year. If it weren't for what had happened today, he would have gone there uninvited before her birthday and personally taken care of her so that she could live safely to her 90s.

However, he couldn't go anymore because of Kenneth's offenses toward Master Wade!

Besides, he had already repaid enough of their favors for all these years of services.

He cleared his throat and said flatly, "Barbara, for all these years, I've been treating and caring for the Wilson family. I think I've repaid enough favor of your husband's kindness toward me. Therefore, from now on, I want to cut ties with your family!"

Chapter 365

Barbara gaped in utter shock and asked frantically, "What?! Anthony, what are you talking about? We've been friends for so many years, how could you cut ties with us just like that?"

Anthony's serious voice sounded, "Barbara, I am very grateful for Brother Wilson's help. When I needed it the most, he was a friend indeed, and I've repaid the favors to your family for so many years without asking for anything in return. Gratitude and consideration are my principles, you know that, right?"

"Of course!" Barbara answered. "But I don't understand, why do you want to make a clean break with us all of a sudden? If it's my mistake, tell me, I'll correct it!"

"No, Barbara, it's not your fault. Actually, it's your son, Kenneth."

"Kenneth?" Barbara said in surprise, "What about him? Did he offend you? But he's in Aurouss Hillll right now!"

"Yes. I'm in Aurouss Hillll too," Anthony said earnestly, "And I saw Kenneth. To be honest, he didn't do anything to me, but he offended my savior. The man is very important to me, so much so that I owe him my life. So, for the sake of gratitude to my savior, I have to draw a line with the Wilson family. Sorry."

Barbara's heart skipped a beat in panic.

Oh dear, had her son actually enraged Anthony in Aurouss Hilll? That b*stard!

Anthony was a well-known Chinese medicine master in the country that was famously acquired among the prominent figures for his service. In fact, there was a saying that circulated in the social circle of dignitaries in Eastcliff that went 'Anthony Simmons can outsmart the Grim Reaper and extend your life!'. It meant that as long as Anthony took the shot, even a dying person could live for a long while. This was simply a dream for the rich and powerful!

Stanley Ho, the Macau billionaire businessman, had spent millions of dollars on his medical bills alone to extend his life using various high-tech methods. To him, life was more precious than his money!

What could you do if you had a hefty wealth but your life was coming to an end? You would end up the same as the rest of the people, laying in the wooden coffin and buried six feet under.

Hence, the more powerful and rich a person was, the more desperately he yearned for Anthony.

All the rich and powerful in Eastcliff were envious of the Wilson family due to their close friendship with Anthony. It would be a very difficult task to seek treatment from Anthony no matter how much they were willing to spend, but due to their acquaintance with Anthony, he would visit the Wilson family annually for a medical checkup and treatment.

Barbara's husband, Kenneth's father, had been diagnosed with cancer a decade ago. Thanks to Anthony's effortless care and treatment, his life was prolonged for a few more years, and he had only passed away last year at the age of 86.

Barbara hoped that she could live to her nineties or even over a hundred years old with the help and support from Anthony, but instead, she received the bad news that knocked her socks off. She frantically pleaded, "Anthony, please, I beg you, please don't lower yourself to Kenneth's level and be offended by him. He is your junior, after all. I hope you can forgive him for whatever he did you wrong by. I'll call him later and teach him a lesson, then I'll ask him to apologize to you..."

Anthony cut in flatly, "Never mind, Barbara. It doesn't matter. If I'm the one whom he offended, I can surely forgive him, but no, he messed with the wrong person. He offended my savior. So, this is the end of the conversation, I won't change my mind. I wish you good health and a long life. Goodbye!"

Anthony ended the call immediately, switched off his phone, and said, "Xyla, lock the door, let's go back to the hotel."

Meanwhile, Kenneth and Christopher were on the way back to the Wilson family villa.

Kenneth rushed to the living room as soon as they returned to the villa, poured himself a glass of water, took out the viagra, read the instructions, and asked, "So, one at a time?"

Lady Wilson blushed timidly when she saw him directly taking out the medicine.

Hannah even looked to the other side out of awkwardness.

Wendy, on the other hand, was a little excited.

Kenneth had been very cold and distant to her ever since he had become impotent.

Chapter 366

Wendy no longer got any pocket money from Kenneth, nor did he mention anything about the rest of the investment anymore.

From the looks of it, it seemed that she would get more monetary benefits from him only if she helped him regain his manhood quickly.

Otherwise, Kenneth would unquestionably abandon her and the entire family.

So far, the 10 million dollars that Kenneth provided was only enough to stabilize the current chaos in the Wilson Group. It was far from enough to bring the company back to its peak.

Christopher stood beside Kenneth and said, "One pill at a time will do, it has a very powerful effect."

Kenneth nodded, then, he took out three pills and swallowed them.

He grabbed Wendy's hand and urged her, "Wendy, let's go upstairs now." He hoped that this medicine would work wonders.

Wendy quickly nodded. She wrapped her arms around Kenneth's and said coyly, "Dear, let's go back to our room and try again."

Kenneth pulled Wendy back into the room. Then, they started the foreplay. Wendy tried the best she could to help him achieve pleasure and find his manhood.

Unfortunately, no matter what tricks Wendy tried on him, it still didn't work!

Frustrated, Kenneth swallowed three more pills, but he didn't feel the sensation that it suggested... he felt nothing!

His mood slumped to the lowest point at this moment.

Seeing Wendy still wriggling and squirming on him, he kicked her off the bed in annoyance and shouted, "I don't need you anymore, get lost!"

Wendy was afraid that Kenneth would hit her, so she quickly said, "Dear, calm down. I'm sure we can find a way to cure you soon!"

"Argh! Get lost!" Kenneth growled fiercely and threw a pillow directly at her.

Not wanting to enrage him further, Wendy quickly wrapped her clothes around herself and ran out of the room.

Kenneth lay on the bed alone, huffing and puffing in agitation.

When a man successfully reached the pinnacle of his life, his most desirable dream was to have countless gorgeous women surrounding him, living the best life possible.

Alas, impotence had literally ended it all! What was the use of having these women with him?

No, he couldn't accept this fate!

Just when he was still wallowing in resentment, his phone rang.

It was his mother.

He hurriedly answered the call humbly, "Hello, mother, why are you up so late?"

Barbara's furious voice echoed from the other end of the line. "You brat! What did you do?! Are you trying to kill me? Do you want me dead at the age of 84?!"

"Mom, what are you talking about? Why would I want to kill you?"

"Argh, you nasty b*stard!" Barbara shouted. "Let me ask you, why did you offend Anthony Simmons? He wants to cut ties with our family, do you know that? Do you know how much it will cost our family?"

Chapter 367

Kenneth shivered in shock from his mother's ferocious remark.

Just because he had caused a scene with Charlie Wade, not only did Anthony not want to help him, but he wanted to cut ties with his whole family too?

What kind of drug had Charlie Wade fed him that he was so mesmerized and bewitched by him?!

Agitated and enraged, Kenneth suppressed his emotions and said, "Mom, that old coot is unreliable! He's a crook!"

Barbara shouted angrily, "I don't care what you do, but you'd better bring Anthony to Eastcliff on my 84th birthday to check on me and treat my old illnesses. If you don't, just wait and see!"

People were more selfish as they got older.

The older they were, the more afraid they were of death, wishing to live for as long as they could. Barbara didn't want to know about the feud between Kenneth and Anthony. All she hoped for was for Anthony to remain as her personal doctor.

With Anthony around, she could probably live until over ninety years old for sure, but without him, she might not even be able to pass this year's hurdle.

Kenneth was bummed out by his mother's scornful blame. He wanted to explain himself and complain, but Barbara didn't want to hear any of it. She ordered her demands and immediately ended the call.

Exasperated, Kenneth vented his anger by smashing the furniture and breaking things in the room. Finally, he picked up his phone to call Anthony, trying to ask for his forgiveness and beg him to continue treating his mother.

However, Anthony's phone was turned off.

It made Kenneth even more frustrated.

However, he didn't dare to disobey his mother, so he quickly put on his clothes, went out of the house, and drove to Anthony's clinic.

The clinic's door was shut tight when he arrived at the entrance.

Kenneth grit his teeth in agitation when suddenly, he saw two figures walking out of the dark alley not far from him.

One of them was limping and looked quite familiar to him.

Kenneth quickly hid around the corner to observe them closely. As they were approaching him, he saw that it was a man in his fifties with a young man in his twenties walking together.

The young man was leaning on a crutch in one hand and a huge green gasoline drum in the other.

The middle-aged and slightly balding man was supporting the limping young man with one hand and also carrying another green gasoline drum in the other.

Kenneth recognized the young man. He was being kicked out of the clinic when he had come to seek Anthony's treatment today.

It seemed that the men were attempting to set fire to Anthony's clinic since Anthony refused his service!

The young man was Jason Grant, the guy that had offended Charlie Wade in the hospital and had been thrown out of the window by Don Albertt.

The incident had broken his legs, which resulted in his limping. He hated Charlie Wade for what had happened to him. He planned to find Anthony to treat his injuries before going after Charlie Wade to settle the score, and yet, Anthony didn't even let him into his clinic!

He returned to the hospital and complained to his father, Justin Grant. Agitated, they had bought two barrels of gasoline and decided to burn Anthony's clinic down.

They planned to set the Serene World Clinic on fire to teach Anthony a lesson, and then find a way to seek revenge from Charlie Wade.

At this moment, Kenneth heard Jason ask Justin, "Dad, do you think the old coot lives in the clinic?"

"How would I know?" Justin said coldly. "Besides, who cares? If he does live inside, it serves him right to be burned to death! D*mn, how dare he be so ignorant to you! D*mn it!"

Jason cursed in dismay, "D*mn it, the old coot doesn't even want to help me! Burning him to death is such a cheap lesson for him!"

Chapter 368

Jason opened the barrel cap and said, "Dad, I think it's better to pour the gasoline in through the rolling shutter so that the gasoline is fully spread inside. Then, when we light the fire from outside, the fire will spread around so rapidly that even the cockroaches won't be spared!"

Justin nodded and snorted, "Good! Let's burn them to ashes, these sons of b*tches!"

Although Justin was not among the successful pioneers in Aurouss Hilll, he was the city's number one when it came to spoiling his son rotten.

Their families had only ever had a single male heir for several generations. After giving birth to several daughters, Justin had finally gotten a son, Jason, so he had been pampered and spoiled in every way possible since young.

When Jason had been in elementary school, his teacher had punished him by caning his palm once because he was the troublemaker in class, disrupting the classroom's order. Justin had then brought some guys to school and had broken the teacher's right arm, leaving him permanently disabled for life.

When Jason was in junior high school, he fought with a boy at school and was defeated. Justin had then hired someone to create a car accident that rendered the boy into a vegetative state.

There were countless similar incidents like these throughout Jason's upbringing.

In Justin's opinion, the only consequence for anyone who bullied his son was death!

Since Anthony didn't want to treat his son's broken legs, he should die!

Charlie Wade was the cause of his son being in such a miserable state today, thus, he should die!

Hence, he mustered a plan. He would burn Anthony to death today and kill Charlie Wade according to his planned scheme tomorrow!

Just as the father and son were about to pour the gasoline out of the barrel, Kenneth worried that they might truly burn Anthony to death, so he jumped out anxiously and shouted, "Hey! Calm down!"

The father and son were shocked by the shout!

They had thought that no one would be around to notice them at night, however, a man had appeared out of nowhere abruptly.

Amidst the surprise, Jason recognized Kenneth and said, "Hey, aren't you the guy who came to see Anthony today? Why? Are you trying to help him?"

Kenneth waved his hands anxiously and said, "No way! I don't care if the old dog is alive or dead! That magical pill that he talked about, he takes it around with him all day long. I believe his magical pill can not only heal your legs, but also my disorder. If you guys burn him like this, his magical pill will be destroyed as well!"

Jason gaped in shock!

The guy was right!

Why didn't he think about it!

Indeed, Anthony had a magical elixir with him that could even cure quadriplegic caused by spinal injuries. The pill would certainly work perfectly on his broken legs.

If he killed him in the fire, he would lose the chance to heal his legs, wouldn't he?

He was a little hesitant all of a sudden.

Kenneth started again, "Guys, I have an idea. Don't burn his clinic first. Let's find a way to kidnap the old dog, snatch the pill from him, and only then, kill him!"

Justin frowned suspiciously. "Huh? Do you have beef with the old dog, too?"

"Of course!" Kenneth growled indignantly, "He is my arch-enemy! I want to kill him too, but first, I must get the magic pill to cure myself!"

Jason said, "In that case, let's join hands, then. We'll kidnap the old dog first, force him to hand over the magic pill, and then, we'll kill him and toss him into the sea!"

"Great!" Kenneth nodded. "If so, let's exchange contact details. Find a time tomorrow to further discuss the details!"

Chapter 369

Justin and Jason didn't know that Anthony only had half a magic pill, but Kenneth knew.

He knew because he had nearly gotten it from Anthony in the afternoon.

He didn't dare to go up against Anthony himself, but if he passed the duty to the ignorant father and son duo, he could sit back and enjoy the fruits of their work with just a few simple tricks.

For example, he could first imitate a few pills based on the real thing that he had seen today. Then, after they had kidnapped Anthony, he could search for the authentic pill on Anthony's body and slip the fake pills together. Until then, not only could he cure his impotence, but he could also blame Anthony's death on them!

Justin, on the other hand, didn't overthink it.

In his opinion, the enemy of his enemy was his friend. Since they had the same enemy, they could be comrade-in-arms. The more the merrier. Besides, they could divide the risk evenly, so why not?

As for the magic pill, he didn't know how much Anthony had, but to him, Anthony had to die regardless because he and his son were very pissed with him right now.

Hence, he exchanged phone numbers with Kenneth and agreed to make time for a phone call the next day. Then, he and Jason left the clinic with the gasoline drums in tow.

Kenneth was rather complacent about his plan. He quickly drove back to the Wilson family villa, planning to make some dough, add some black paint, and knead out some sphere-shaped dough that imitated the pill.

Meanwhile, in another car, Jason asked his father, Justin, "Dad, so what's the plan for tomorrow? Is it still the same as we planned? We lure Charlie Wade out and kill him, then, we meet with this guy to kill Anthony Simmons together."

Justine nodded. "Yes! We kill Charlie Wade first, then, we get that magic pill from Anthony and heal your legs!"

"That's awesome!" Jason shrieked excitedly. "If we can get the magic pill, I don't have to be a cripple anymore!"

Justin smiled. "Son, don't worry. I won't let you limp forever. I'll even trade my legs for you!"

Then, he added, "Let's go home and take a rest. Tomorrow, call Elaine Ma and proceed as we planned!"

"Alright, dad!"

The next morning, Charlie Wade bought breakfast at home. When Elaine Ma had finished her breakfast, she went out to play cards with her friends.

Elaine Ma loved playing cards. Whenever she was free, she would go to her friend's house to play cards.

Just as she exited the house and walked toward her friend's place, her phone rang.

She took out her phone and was surprised to see that it was Jason. She quickly answered the call. "Hey, Jason, what's the matter?"

Ever since Claire Wilson Wilson had married Charlie Wade, Elaine Ma had only had one thing in mind, and that was how to get her daughter to divorce Charlie Wade and then marry her into a wealthy family.

At first, she had wanted her daughter to marry Wendell Jones, but the Jones family had suddenly gone bankrupt overnight. What was even more mysterious was the fact that Wendell and his family had disappeared out of the blue and never appeared in Aurouss Hillll again.

Then, she had wanted her daughter to marry Kevin White, but he had been slapped ten thousand times by Don Albertt's men while helping her to get her money back from a scam, and he too had disappeared.

A few days ago, she wanted her daughter to marry Jason Grant, but after he had been thrown out of the window of her husband's ward, he had disappeared as well.

Truth be told, Jason was the best candidate as her daughter's husband at the moment.

Although he had brought the crooked Dr. Lynch to treat her husband to no avail, he was a victim of the doctor's scam as well, thus, Elaine Ma had never really blamed him.

Chapter 370

On the contrary, Elaine Ma blamed herself for what had happened to Jason. She felt that he shouldn't have received such a harsh treatment since he meant well in the first place.

So, when she received Jason's call, she was over the moon, but also a little guilty.

Jason's earnest voice sounded on the phone. "Auntie, I'm sorry for what happened at the hospital the other day. I was deceived and brought a fake doctor to treat Uncle. I'm very sorry and I haven't gotten the chance to apologize to you..."

"Oh!" Elaine Ma said. "Hey, Jason, what are you talking about! I have always been very grateful for your kind intentions, and I'm sorry for what happened to you. I should be the one to apologize to you!"

"No, Auntie, it's my fault for not validating Dr. Lynch's credentials first."

Then, he added, "So, I would like to invite you for lunch someday so that I can apologize to you personally if that's okay with you."

Elaine Ma was thrilled and overjoyed by the invitation!

Frankly speaking, she didn't feel that Jason was wrong at all in this matter.

On the contrary, she felt that Jason was actually one of the victims of the incident. He had even broken his leg because of Charlie Wade the loser. She felt sorry for the innocent man.

Moreover, Jason's call made Elaine Ma's impression of him a little better.

Just look at him! He was rich, kind, generous, and so respectful toward her! He was an excellent husband for her daughter!

If she could just get her daughter to mingle with Jason more often and kick the ignorant Charlie Wade out of her house, her daughter could marry a rich guy soon!

More importantly, the Grant family had a convention center where renovation projects would be humongous. If he was with her daughter, her daughter would get all the projects, wouldn't she?

In fact, if she subcontracted the projects to other companies, she could earn a price difference there, couldn't she?

This prospect was much better than when she was with Charlie Wade the loser!

She concluded that it was extremely hard to find a nice guy like Jason, and was determined to seize this opportunity for her daughter!

She quickly said, "Oh, Jason, you're too welcome! You don't have to do that..."

"It's no big deal, Auntie. This is what I should do!"

Jason heard the enthusiasm in her tone and quickly added, "Also, to express my sincerity, I've also prepared a million-dollar gift for you!"

A million-dollar gift?!

Elaine Ma grinned from ear to ear instantly!

Wow! Jason was so kind and generous!

A million-dollar gift... she would be rich!

Hence, she hurriedly agreed to the invitation and said, "Jason, let me know the time and place, I'll be there on time!"

Jason said with a smile, "Auntie, let's meet at the Divine Lounge on Hazel Street. It's the best seafood restaurant in Aurouss Hilll. The time will be noon, see you at the entrance then."

"Okay!" Elaine Ma answered delightedly.

Jason started again, "Auntie, please don't tell Claire Wilson Wilson about our plan. I'm arranging an apology ceremony for her and I need your help!"

Elaine Ma replied, "Of course! You young people are romantic all over! Okay! I promise I won't spill the beans to her!"

Chapter 371

Elaine Ma spent the rest of the morning daydreaming repeatedly about the million-dollar present that Jason had prepared for her. What could it be? She didn't even have the mood to play cards anymore and quickly rushed to the Divine Lounge to meet up with Jason when it was time.

What would the gift be? Jewelry? Diamonds? Cash? A cheque? Or something else?

For people like Elaine Ma who were on the fiddle, Jason's lucrative gift was such an alluring attraction.

The other day, when she had used Claire Wilson Wilson's cheque to pay for the hospital bill and exploited 160,000 dollars from it, she was so happy that she had grinned over her cleverness for days.

Hence, the thought of getting a million-dollar gift from Jason immediately sent her to cloud nine!

At 11.30 am, Elaine Ma bid farewell to her friends, took a taxi, and went straight to the Divine Lounge.

When she arrived at the restaurant, she stood by the door as agreed and waited for Jason to come.

Soon, a brand new black Mercedes Benz slowly rolled to a stop in front of her.

Then, the car door opened, and a young man in a suit and leather shoes stepped out of the car.

It was Jason.

He was very handsome and stylish. The only downside was that he was limping.

A lot of ladies were attracted by Jason's cool looks and the awesome Mercedes Benz, but when they saw that he was limping, they sighed dejectedly and walked away.

All of these minor expressions from the onlookers fell into Jason's sight and made his blood boil. He hated Charlie Wade and Anthony to the core and wanted them to be wiped off the face of the earth completely.

However, Elaine Ma was standing not far from him, so he suppressed the anger and hatred, limping toward Elaine Ma with a gentle smile on his face.

"Hi, Auntie. Sorry to keep you waiting."

"Oh, no, Jason, I just arrived..."

Then, she peeked at the brand new Mercedes Benz behind Jason and asked in surprise, "Oh, is that your new car?"

Jason smiled politely. "Yes. It's a Mercedes Benz S500. I just got it from the showroom today. It's not very expensive anyway, just over 1.6 million."

Then, he handed the car key to Elaine Ma and said, "Auntie, please accept this key."

Elaine Ma frowned in confusion upon taking the key and asked, "Jason, what is the meaning of this?"

"Auntie, this is the gift I told you about over the phone! I saw that Uncle and Claire Wilson Wilson both have a BMW, but you don't have a car yet. It's such a pity for someone of your status."

Elaine Ma was extremely thrilled. "Oh, Jason, you shouldn't have! This is so expensive!"

Despite her remark, she was clutching the car key tightly in her hand and had no intention of returning it to Jason.

Of course, Jason sensed this and said, "Honestly, Uncle and Claire Wilson Wilson are driving the lower class BMW 5 Series, their combined total doesn't even exceed a million. This S500 is so much better and luxurious than theirs, I think you are very suited to drive the classy Mercedes Benz. It is my little token of affection, so, please accept it."

Elaine Ma was over the moon!

She was the stereotypical representative of the kind of a snobbish and greedy mother-in-law!

Chapter 372

There was nothing in her mind but money!

For her, the most important element she looked for in a son-in-law was that they must be rich and willing to spend money on her. Otherwise, they were nothing but stinky sh*t in her eyes no matter how good they were.

A man like Jason was the best candidate for a son-in-law because he was willing to spend money on his mother-in-law!

He was already so generous and had given her a Mercedes Benz as a gift even before he was together with her daughter, what would happen if Claire Wilson Wilson married him? Would he give her a big mansion or a lavish yacht?

She was extremely delighted, and her imagination ran wild!

However, she still had to be polite superficially. Grabbing Jason's arm, she said earnestly, "Jason, I'm touched by your generosity, but the car is very expensive. Would it truly be okay if I accepted it just like that?"

"Why wouldn't it be?" Jason answered. "Auntie, it's my token of appreciation, just take it!"

Elaine Ma grinned like a dog with two tails upon his serious expression. She put the key into her handbag and said happily, "Then, I'll accept it graciously! Thank you so much, Jason!"

Her naked expression of greed and snobbishness fell into Jason's cautious glance instantly. He sneered secretly and thought that the plan he and his father had hatched would be realized successfully thanks to Elaine Ma's snobbery!

As this thought ran quietly through his mind, he politely smiled and said, "Auntie, don't just stand here at the door, let's go in."

Elaine Ma nodded with a wide grin. "Sure, sure, let's go in, then!"

When they walked into the restaurant, Jason asked the waiter to take them to the reserved seat and ordered a table of expensive and lavish cuisine.

In the middle of their lunch, Jason cleared his throat, put on a guilty tone, and said, "Auntie, I'm sorry for bringing a quack to visit Uncle at the hospital the other day. It was my mistake, I'm sorry!"

Elaine Ma donned a warm smile. "Silly child, don't be! I've never blamed you! You were a victim too!"

Jason nodded. Then, he glanced at Elaine Ma and said sincerely, "Auntie, frankly speaking, I like Claire Wilson Wilson. I want to marry her and make her my wife, I wonder if you will be okay with it?"

Elaine Ma shrieked excitedly, "Of course, of course! I completely agree! Honestly, I've already regarded you as my future son-in-law!"

Jason sighed, "Thank you for supporting me, but I'm worried that Claire Wilson Wilson still holds a grudge against me. If we don't resolve the misunderstanding between us, I don't think I can be with her ever."

"Hush, it's just a small matter. You guys can just talk it out! I can even help you talk to her!"

Jason knew that this was the perfect timing to make his move. He said, "Auntie, actually, I planned to apologize and confess to Claire Wilson Wilson in person. I have an idea. My family has a mansion by the river. I'll set up a candlelight dinner tonight, buy some flowers, and do some decorations around the house. Please bring Claire Wilson Wilson to the mansion so that I can apologize to her in person and make a confession. Maybe, if she's okay with it, she'll agree to be with me!"

"Wow! Jason, you are so attentive, I'm impressed!" Elaine Ma blinked delightedly and continued, "Okay, I'll call Claire Wilson Wilson now!"

Then, she took out her phone and was about to call Claire Wilson Wilson.

Jason grinned slyly, but he said in an earnest tone, "Auntie, please don't tell her that it was my idea, she may not want to come if she knows!"

Then, he added, "Tell her this instead. Tell her that your friend has a mansion by the river that needs renovation and wants to hire her to take on the project. She is so ambitious, I'm sure she will say yes when she hears that there is a business opportunity waiting for her. Then, you can come with her and be my wingwoman when I confess to her!"

Elaine Ma blurted out, "Wow, that sounds like a brilliant plan! Okay, let's go with your plan!"

A tinge of sinister vibe flashed across Jason's eyes as he thought to himself, "Later tonight, I'll get my hands on Claire Wilson Wilson first. And then, after charming this old vixen, I'll trick Charlie Wade into coming to the mansion and kill him!"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson, Charlie Wade, and Jacob Wilson had just finished having lunch at home.

As Charlie Wade was heading to the kitchen to clean up the dishes as usual, he suddenly received a phone call from Xyla.

As soon as he answered the call, Xyla replied in shame as she said, "Mr. Wade, what are you doing now?"

"I'm just at home." Charlie Wade replied in a casual manner. After that, he asked, "What's wrong? Is there anything you want to tell me?"

At this time, Xyla quickly replied, "The reason why I'm calling you today is because I want to report something to you."

"Speak."

Xyla hurriedly explained herself at this time. "So, this is what happened. Yesterday, Jason Grant and Kenneth Wilson came to my grandfather's medical clinic begging him to treat them! My grandfather did not know that Kenneth had offended you and he almost gave him the other half of the magical pill that you'd previously given to him!"

Out of curiosity, Charlie Wade asked, "Why? Does your family have a good relationship with Kenneth? Why would your grandfather be willing to give him such a precious medicine?"

Charlie Wade knew very well that Anthony regarded the magical pill that he gave him as a rare treasure and he knew that this pill was very important to Anthony.

Since it was such an important item, why would anyone give it to someone who they did not know or someone who was just an ordinary acquaintance?

At this time, Xyla hurriedly replied, "My grandfather and Kenneth's father were very close friends in the past. Both of them shared a close relationship in the past and they've both always been very close throughout the years."

After that, Xyla also told Charlie Wade about everything that her grandfather and the old man from the Wilson family had gone through together in the past.

After Charlie Wade heard Xyla's explanation, he realized that the Wilson family was actually the benefactor who had helped Anthony in the past.

Moreover, he found out that Anthony had been repaying the kindness of the Wilson family for so many years just because of the small favor that he had received in the past. This made Charlie Wade feel more respect and admiration for Anthony.

What made him even more satisfied was the fact that Anthony could distinguish between right and wrong and he did not hesitate to break off all connections with the Wilson family just because of him.

Even though Charlie Wade was the young lord of the most prestigious and powerful family in Eastcliff, he left the Wade family with his father when he was still a young boy. When his father died unexpectedly, he had to run around to survive and he was eventually brought to the orphanage where he grew up.

Charlie Wade understood the importance of gratitude and repaying kindness because of the time that he spent in the orphanage.

The auntie at the orphanage had raised him up and treated him so well. Therefore, when she fell ill, Charlie Wade did not mind all the insults, mocking, and criticism that the Wilson family hurled at him and he still mustered up the courage to borrow money from them just so he could treat her illness.

Claire Wilson Wilson was the one who helped him then and even if he really had no respect for the Wilson family, he could not leave Claire Wilson Wilson without repaying her for her kindness.

It was precisely because he knew that Anthony had the same character and perception as him that he started to have a better impression of him.

It seemed as though Anthony would become one of his loyal followers in future.

Since Anthony was so loyal to him, Charlie Wade decided to reward him for his loyalty.

As he thought about this, Charlie Wade decided to head to Serene World Clinic later in the afternoon to give Anthony another of his magical pills.

After all, Charlie Wade concocted thirty of those pills at one go and after giving out some of the pills, he still had about twenty pills left with him.

Charlie Wade had already mastered the concoction of the pills and since he could control his own qi and spiritual energy after studying the Apocalyptic Book, it did not cost him anything at all to make the pills.

Moreover, Charlie Wade wanted to let the people in Aurouss Hill understand that he was someone who would give distinct punishments and rewards for their actions.

If you did something bad, then you would be punished.

However, if you did something good, then you should be rewarded!

Since Anthony had done very well this time, Charlie Wade wanted to pay him a visit in the afternoon so that he could reward him with another magical pill that he would have never dreamt of.

Therefore, Charlie Wade asked Xyla immediately, "Will your grandfather be at Serene World Clinic in the afternoon?"

"Yes." Xyla asked excitedly, "Mr. Wade, are you planning to come over?"

Chapter 374

Charlie Wade simply replied, "Yes, I will come over and take a look later in the afternoon."

"That is great, Mr. Wade!" Xyla yelled excitedly before she said, "Let me tell Grandpa the good news now. He must be very excited!"

After he was done cleaning up in the kitchen, Charlie Wade came out of the kitchen and he saw that Claire Wilson Wilson was already ready to leave the house. After that, he asked, "My dear wife, are you heading to your studio now?"

Claire Wilson Wilson shook her head before she said, "No. Mom called me and she told me that she has a friend who's interested in renovating a villa. Therefore, I'm heading there to check it out."

At this time, Charlie Wade replied in a hurry, "Which area are you heading to?"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied immediately, "The villa by the river."

Charlie Wade smiled before he replied, "That's perfect! Can you drop me off at Serene World Clinic on the way to the villa? I want to pay a visit to the genius doctor, Dr. Simmons."

Claire Wilson Wilson was very surprised and she asked, "Are you going to see Dr. Simmons? Why don't I come along with you, then? Let's buy something for him before we pay him a visit! I really want to thank the genius doctor for healing my father!"

Claire Wilson Wilson felt very grateful towards Anthony because she had always felt that he was the one who cured her father of his paraplegia.

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Don't worry about it, Claire Wilson Wilson. You can just drop me off at the clinic and you can go and get busy with your work. I can see the doctor on my own."

Claire Wilson Wilson replied, "That wouldn't be appropriate..."

Charlie Wade smiled as he replied, "There is nothing inappropriate with that. After all, Dr. Simmons has a really weird character so he might not be too happy if so many of us gathered in his clinic all of a sudden."

When Claire Wilson Wilson heard this, she nodded before she said, "Alright then. You can visit him first today. If it's possible, please make an appointment with him so that we can treat him to a nice dinner one day!"

"That sounds like a good idea!"

...

After that, the couple left the house together and Claire Wilson Wilson drove Charlie Wade out of the city.

When they arrived at the Serene World Clinic, Charlie Wade got out of the car before he told Claire Wilson Wilson to drive carefully. After that, he walked into the clinic.

At this time, Anthony was seeing a patient in the medical hall and when he saw Charlie Wade coming into the clinic, he was very excited and he quickly stood up and greeted him immediately. "Mr. Wade, you are here!"

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he said, "You can go ahead with your work first. Don't worry about me."

Anthony nodded before he called for Xyla, who was busy dispensing medicine at this time. "Xyla! Mr. Wade is already here. Come out and entertain him first!"

Xyla quickly dropped everything that she was doing before she walked over to Charlie Wade with a blushing face.

"Mr. Wade, you're here!"

Xyla's voice was very crisp and sweet and she had a very innocent smile on her face. Besides that, Xyla also had two shallow dimples which made her look particularly affectionate.

What surprised Charlie Wade even more was that Xyla was not like any other women who always had a faint fragrance of perfume around them. Instead, Xyla carried a faint fragrance of medicine and herbs around her.

Most of the people who worked in a pharmacy or medical clinic would always carry a strong scent of medicine around them. However, Xyla had a very pleasant fragrance and it even had a soothing effect on him.

Charlie Wade looked at Xyla before he laughed and said, "Now that your grandfather had already recovered, are you retreating and working behind the scenes instead?"

"Yes." Xyla smiled before she said in a sweet manner, "But I am not always in the background. Grandpa will see up to five patients every day and I'll see the rest of the patients."

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "Your medical skills are already very superb. I believe that it won't be long before you become a famous young genius doctor in Aurouss Hilll."

"How would that be possible?" Xyla blushed as she replied shyly, "My medical skills are still not as good as my grandfather. Moreover, my medical skills can never compare to yours, Mr. Wade."

At this time, Anthony escorted a patient out of the clinic before he said to the other patients in the medical hall, "Dear patients who are waiting for a consultation, I have a distinguished guest with me here today and I have to entertain him now. Therefore, I will need to suspend all consultations for a short while. Please forgive me."

After that, Anthony walked towards Charlie Wade before he bowed respectfully and said, "Hello, Mr. Wade."

Chapter 375

When Charlie Wade saw Anthony saluting and bowing before him, Charlie Wade waved his hand before he said, "Mr. Simmons, you don't need to be so polite with me. You don't need to call me Mr. Wade either, you can just call me Charlie Wade."

"How could I possibly do that?" Anthony hurriedly bowed before he said, "Mr. Wade, you are my master, so how could I possibly address you by your first name?"

When Charlie Wade saw how stubborn and persistent the old man was, he did not continue to persuade him. Instead, he simply said, "I heard that Jason Grant and Kenneth Wilson came to see you yesterday?"

Anthony was very surprised at this time. "Mr. Wade, how did you find out about this?"

Xyla stuck out her tongue before she said, "Grandpa, I was the one who told Mr. Wade about this..."

Anthony started to reprimand Xyla immediately. "Young girl! Mr. Wade is so busy with his own daily affairs, so how could you bother him with something as trivial as this?"

Xyla felt very aggrieved at this time.

The reason why she had called Charlie Wade was not because she wanted to ask for credit on behalf of her grandfather. Instead, it was simply because she wanted to look for an opportunity to talk to Charlie Wade.

After all, she had always regarded Charlie Wade as her idol and she admired him even more than she admired her own grandfather. Therefore, she really wanted to look for an opportunity to talk to him even if it was just a mere phone call.

However, she could not possibly make a phone call to Charlie Wade if there was nothing for them to talk about, could she?

Therefore, she decided to report the events that had happened yesterday to Charlie Wade.

However, she did not expect her grandfather to scold her instead!

In fact, the reason why Anthony yelled at Xyla was simply because he was worried that Charlie Wade would misunderstand him. He was afraid that Charlie Wade would think that he was the one who had asked Xyla to call him so that he could get more credit for himself. He did not want Charlie Wade to misunderstand him and think of him as someone who wanted to take credit for everything.

When Charlie Wade saw the aggrieved and miserable expression on Xyla's face, he smiled before he said, "Mr. Simmons, this is just a small matter. Please don't scold Xyla because of this."

At this time, Anthony hurriedly replied, "Mr. Wade, I'm sorry for embarrassing myself in front of you."

Charlie Wade waved his hand before he said, "Mr. Simmons, when you found out that Jason and Kenneth had offended me in the past, you refused to treat them. This means you're loyal to me and showing me respect. I'll remember what you have done."

Anthony quickly replied, "Mr. Wade, you've done so much for me and you showed me so much kindness when you saved my life. I can only do so much to ease your worries and troubles. You don't have to be so polite to me."

After that, Anthony pointed at the Serene World Clinic signboard before he said in a serious manner, "I made this decision to stay in Aurouss Hill and open a medical clinic because I want to be able to help you and carry out your instructions whenever you need my services. This is the only way I'll be able to repay your kindness!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "You really are a very loyal man."

After that, Charlie Wade took out the magical pill from his pocket before he handed it to Anthony. "Mr. Simmons, this is the same magical pill that I've given you previously. Even though I've not specifically demonstrated it, based on ancient records, a dying man would be able to prolong his life for another five to ten years after taking this pill. Therefore, I've decided to give you this pill today. You should keep it with you because it might be useful to you in the future."

Anthony looked at the pill and he trembled as he fell to his knees. After that, he said in a trembling voice, "Mr. Wade, you can't do this. You've already given me one of these pills prior to this and I've not been able to repay your kindness. How could I possibly receive such a big gift from you?"

When Xyla saw that her grandfather had already gotten down on his knees, she knelt down beside him as she rested her slender hands on her knees and looked at Charlie Wade with her bright and watery eyes.

Charlie Wade had given this magical pill to a few people. Even though every one of them knew that this magical pill was extremely precious, the person who understood the value of this medicine the most was none other than Anthony.

First of all, Anthony had been practicing medicine for his whole life. Since he was so proficient and knowledgeable in medicine, he knew how powerful this magical pill was and he knew that he could not possibly find a second one in this world.

Secondly, Anthony was already growing older and the older he got, the better he understood his own fate. Even though he was a genius doctor who was very famous, after living for more than eighty years, it was very possible for him to quietly pass away in his sleep one day.

This magical pill had the ability to prolong the life of a dying man! This meant that Anthony would be able to extend his life for several years because of this magical pill that Charlie Wade was giving to him!

Of course, Anthony would love to have this magical pill. However, he did not dare ask for it!

Chapter 376

As the saying goes, he should not be rewarded for a merit.

Anthony felt that all he did was to refuse to treat Jason and Kenneth. In his opinion, he did not deserve to receive such a precious medicine from Charlie Wade because of this small act of his.

However, it did not matter to Charlie Wade at all.

If he really wanted to make this medicine, he could easily make thousands of these magical pills in a single day.

The main reason why he did not want to make so many of these pills was because he wanted this magical pill to remain precious and valuable.

Therefore, giving Anthony an extra magical pill meant nothing to Charlie Wade at all.

Charlie Wade said in a light manner, "Mr. Simmons, since you want to stay by my side and share my worries, then you should also know that I will always reward and punish people for their acts. I think that you did very well and I feel you deserve to be rewarded. Therefore, it is only natural for me to reward you. You don't have to be so polite with me. If I give you a reward, you should just accept it."

Anthony started to shed tears out of excitement before he kowtowed in front of Charlie Wade and said, "Thank you, Mr. Wade! Thank you, Mr. Wade!"

Xyla also hurriedly bowed before Charlie Wade with her hands placed respectfully as she said, "Thank you, Mr. Wade!"

Charlie Wade looked at Xyla and he smiled before he said, "Xyla, raise your head and look at me."

Xyla hurriedly raised her head before she looked at Charlie Wade with an embarrassed expression on her face as she tried to avoid eye contact with Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade looked at Xyla before he smiled slightly, "In the future, when the time is right, I will also give you one of these magical pills. By then, you would definitely be able to take your medical skills one step further."

The magical pill functioned to treat and restore the bodies of the elderly, while it could provide more energy to the meridian points in younger people.

After a young person takes one of these pills, they are able to strengthen their own bodies to a great extent and they would be able to greatly enhance the meridians in their body.

Qi is the most important value in traditional Chinese medicine and a doctor requires a higher concentration of internal qi in their body. If someone with insufficient qi performs acupuncture or moxibustion, it would not be effective even if they have some knowledge about acupuncture.

This was the main reason why many famous doctors had strong physical strength.

Xyla burst into tears when she heard Charlie Wade's words. At this time, Anthony, who was next to her, was also very excited and he hurriedly said, "Xyla, hurry up and thank Mr. Wade for his kindness!"

Xyla came to her senses immediately and she quickly kowtowed in front of Charlie Wade. She choked as she said, "Thank you, Mr. Wade! Thank you!"

As Charlie Wade was giving medicine to Anthony at Serene World Clinic, Claire Wilson Wilson had already driven to the riverside villa in the suburbs.

As soon as she arrived outside the villa area, she called her mother, Elaine Ma and said, "Mom, I've already arrived at the riverside villa. Where is your friend?"

Elaine Ma was anxiously waiting for Claire Wilson Wilson in Jason's villa at this time.

After receiving the call from Claire Wilson Wilson, she replied excitedly, "This is a high-end villa area. The management is very strict and they won't allow any cars to enter. You can just park your car at the parking lot outside. I'll come and pick you up now!"

"Okay." Claire Wilson Wilson replied, "I'll just wait for you at the entrance, then."

Elaine Ma hung up the phone and she had an excited expression on her face as she hurriedly told Jason and his father, Justin, "Claire Wilson Wilson is already here! I'll go and pick her up now!"

Jason hurriedly pointed at the heart-shaped roses and the candles at the entrance before he said, "Auntie, I hope that you will not make a mistake and say anything unnecessary. I don't want Claire Wilson Wilson to know that I am waiting for her here. I want her to see this romantic scene as soon as she steps through the door!"

Elaine Ma smiled from ear to ear as she said, "Oh, Jason! Don't worry. I won't reveal anything!"

Chapter 377

Jason's father, Justin, had not said a single word and he simply looked at Elaine Ma up and down. He felt that even though this woman was a little older, she was still a very charming woman. Moreover, she could be considered a more gorgeous and charming woman among all her peers.

At this time, he was looking at Elaine Ma with a greedy expression on his face as he thought to himself that when Claire Wilson Wilson arrived later, he would immediately tie both of them up! After that, he would be able to have some fun with Elaine Ma.

If he had the time, he could even have his way with the young and beautiful Claire Wilson Wilson then!

As he thought about this, he smiled before he said to Elaine Ma, "Oh, Miss Elaine Ma, if Claire Wilson Wilson agrees to get together with Jason, then we can even be in-laws in future!"

Elaine Ma looked at Justin before she nodded and said in a flattered manner, "Yes, Mr. Grant. It would be a great blessing to our family if we could become in-laws in future!"

Justin smiled before he said, "I think that our children will definitely be a good match for each other!"

Elaine Ma agreed with him immediately. "Mr. Grant, I feel the same way you do! Our children are both so capable and talented. They really are a perfect match! Don't worry, when we get home, I'll definitely get Claire Wilson Wilson to divorce that useless piece of trash Charlie Wade!"

After that, she looked at Jason before she hurriedly said, "Jason, you mustn't think badly of Claire Wilson Wilson just because she is married. In fact, she has always guarded and protected her own body even after getting married to Charlie Wade!"

Jason was also very excited at this time.

Guarded her own body?

Did that mean that Claire Wilson Wilson was still retaining her own chastity?

Oh my god! That was great!

Today, he would be the first person to make love to Claire Wilson Wilson, the famous beauty in Aurouss Hilll!

As he thought about this, he was extremely excited and he wished that he could defile Claire Wilson Wilson on the spot immediately.

Elaine Ma was only thinking of all the petty gains and she could not see through the viciousness in Jason and Justin's hearts at all. She didn't even know that catastrophe was already imminent. Instead, she simply smiled before she said, "Okay, I'm going out for a short while to bring Claire Wilson Wilson here."

The father and son walked her out of the villa and both of them were very excited when they returned into the villa.

Jason could not help but ask his father, "Dad, Claire Wilson Wilson is such a beautiful woman. Don't you think it would be a waste to kill her after raping her?"

Justin replied in a cold manner, "We have to kill them. If we kept her alive, there will definitely be plenty of problems in the future!"

After that, Jason said, "Why don't we kill Elaine Ma and Charlie Wade first? After that, we can lock Claire Wilson Wilson up in the basement. Our villa is soundproof and it's located so far away from the other villas. No one would ever find out about her!"

Justin's eyes lit up immediately as he said, "Do you mean that you want to keep Claire Wilson Wilson locked up in the basement?"

"That's right!" Jason replied. "Otherwise, don't you think it would be a waste to kill such a beautiful woman just like that?"

Justin thought for a moment before he said to Jason, "Alright then, let's do it this way. Let's trick Charlie Wade into coming here before we kill him first. After that, we'll have our way with Elaine Ma and Claire Wilson Wilson before we kill Elaine Ma. Next, we will imprison Claire Wilson Wilson in the basement of the villa. You can have her every Monday, Wednesday, Friday, and Sunday, while I'll have her on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays then!"

Jason was stunned. He did not expect his father to actually want Claire Wilson Wilson for himself too.

However, it did not matter because if he thought about it carefully, they would have to kill Elaine Ma after killing Charlie Wade. At that time, Claire Wilson Wilson would definitely be filled with hatred for him.

He would only have two choices then. He would either have to kill her or imprison her so that he could use her whenever he wanted to.

Since she was just a source of entertainment to him, it would not hurt him to share her with someone else.

Therefore, he nodded before he said, "Okay, Dad. I'll follow your arrangements."

Justin started beaming before he said in a cheerful manner, "That's perfect, then!"

Chapter 378

After that, he took out a black pistol from his waist before he checked it and said in a cold manner, "Alright then. After Charlie Wade arrives, I will just shoot him in the head directly! I will avenge you immediately!"

Claire Wilson Wilson did not know anything at all.

She waited for her mother by the entrance of the riverside villa and at this time, she suddenly saw Elaine Ma trotting out to meet her.

Elaine Ma quickly opened the small gate before she said, "Claire Wilson Wilson! Come in!"

Claire Wilson Wilson also waved at her mother.

After that, Claire Wilson Wilson could not help but asked her mother, "Mom, why haven't I heard of this friend of yours who lives at the riverside villa before this?"

The riverside villa was located on the river bank and it was one of the local high-end communities in Aurouss Hilll. The people who lived here were all very wealthy and powerful and they were obviously beyond Elaine Ma's ordinary circle of friends.

Elaine Ma grinned before she said, "It's one of my old classmates. He recently bought a villa here and he is thinking of renovating the villa. He said that he has a budget of eight million dollars to cover the renovation of his villa! Don't you think that it is really a big deal?"

Claire Wilson Wilson smiled before she said, "Of course, any home renovation that costs over a million dollars is a great deal to me."

Elaine Ma smiled and said, "That's good! Let's head over there now so you can take a look at the layout of the villa and come up with a rough interior design for the renovation of the villa!"

"Sounds great!"

After that, Elaine Ma brought Claire Wilson Wilson to Villa 8 before she rang the doorbell.

As soon as the door opened, Jason greeted them warmly with a smile on his face. "Hello, Claire Wilson Wilson. It's been a long time since I last saw you."

Claire Wilson Wilson was taken aback for a moment and the expression on her face turned cold immediately. She ignored Jason before she turned around to question Elaine Ma who was standing directly behind her at this time. "Mom, is this the friend that you were talking about?"

Elaine Ma replied awkwardly, "Well, Claire Wilson Wilson, don't be angry. Jason has a surprise for you!"

Jason nodded hurriedly before he revealed the heart-shaped roses and candles that he had already lined up in front of the door.

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson asked Elaine Ma angrily, "Mom, did you join forces with Jason to lie to me?"

Elaine Ma hurriedly said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, please listen to my explanation. Jason is really sincere about you..."

Jason also hurriedly explained, "Claire Wilson Wilson, this isn't your mother's fault. I was the one who asked for her help to invite you over here today."

Claire Wilson Wilson glared at Elaine Ma with a cold expression on her face before she said, "Mom, I'm really very disappointed in you!"

After that, Claire Wilson Wilson turned around as she was prepared to leave immediately.

However, Elaine Ma hurriedly blocked her path and she tried to persuade her at this time. "Claire Wilson Wilson, this is all my fault but I'm not lying to you. I'm doing this for your own good. Jason really wants to discuss some work collaboration with you and he really intends to renovate his villa."

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned before she said angrily, "I am not on the same wavelength as this person at all!"

Elaine Ma glared at her as she said, "What are you talking about? Jason has already lowered himself and he gave in so much just because he wants to apologize to you. Look how nice this kid is! So, what are you still saying here?"

After that, Elaine Ma continued urging, "Since you are already here, just listen to me. Try and communicate with Jason and if things don't work out between both of you, you can still talk about the renovation project then, okay?"

Without even waiting for Claire Wilson Wilson to respond, Elaine Ma pushed her directly into the villa!

Chapter 379

Elaine Ma did not know that she was not only pushing her daughter into a fire pit at this time, but she was also pushing herself into one.

Elaine Ma was only hoping that Claire Wilson Wilson could clear up all the misunderstandings that she had with Jason and she also hoped that Claire Wilson Wilson would be able to develop a good impression of Jason at this time.

If everything proceeded as planned, then Claire Wilson Wilson would finally divorce the useless piece of trash, Charlie Wade, and then she could marry Jason instead.

Claire Wilson Wilson could not help but feel a little annoyed and frustrated as soon as she was pushed into the villa by her mother.

She knew that her mother was a materialistic person who had no morals at all but she thought that Elaine Ma would have a limit.

However, she could not believe that her mother would actually gang up with someone else to deceive her. This made her feel really disappointed!

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson turned around because she wanted to leave the villa immediately. Unexpectedly, Jason closed the door before locking it behind him.

Claire Wilson Wilson glared at Jason with a cold expression on her face as she said, "Jason Grant, please let me out now!"

"Claire Wilson Wilson, since you're already here, why do you want to leave so soon? Why don't you take a seat so that we can have a chat instead?"

Jason stood in front of Claire Wilson Wilson as he stared at her with fiery and intense eyes. He looked at her slender and long legs, her slender waist, her perfect figure, and her beautiful face and he could not help but feel very excited..

This woman really exudes charm all over her and his heart was already beating frantically because of her.

Claire Wilson Wilson looked at him with disgust before she said coldly, "I have nothing to chat with you so please let me go now!"

At this time, Elaine Ma quickly spoke up and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, why do you have such a bad attitude? Just sit down and have a good chat with Jason!"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied coldly, "I have nothing to say to him!"

After that, Claire Wilson Wilson pointed a finger at Jason before she said in a warning tone, "Jason, please get out of my way. I want to leave now!"

Jason looked at Claire Wilson Wilson with a cold expression on his face before he suddenly laughed out loud.

At the same time, the expression on his face suddenly turned very cold and sinister as he said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, who do you think you are? The reason I've called you here today is because I feel you're good enough for me. Stop playing hard to get or you're really going to suffer later!"

The expression on Claire Wilson Wilson's face changed immediately and she asked, "Jason, what are you going to do?"

"What am I going to do?"

Jason laughed before he said in a nasty tone, "Of course I want to do you!"

As soon as she heard his words, Claire Wilson Wilson was shocked and she felt extremely terrified. She wanted to run out of the villa immediately.

However, before she could even take a step forward, Jason grabbed hold of her wrist and she could not move at all.

Claire Wilson Wilson yelled angrily at this time, "Let go of me!"

Jason stared at her pretty face before he smiled and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, you're really getting more and more beautiful every day. I really wish that I could just make love to you right now!"

At this time, he looked at Claire Wilson Wilson's beautiful face and her perfect figure and the look on his face changed immediately.

Chapter 380

Jason had always dreamt of getting Claire Wilson Wilson's body.

After all, Claire Wilson Wilson was known as the number one beauty in Aurouss Hilll. Moreover, she really deserved this title. She was really the best of the best.

Now, this almost perfect woman would become his soon. This made him feel very excited!

Elaine Ma, who was standing next to Claire Wilson Wilson, looked at Jason with a look of disbelief.

Didn't Jason say that he wanted to apologize to Claire Wilson Wilson before confessing his love for her?

What was going on now?

Elaine Ma hurriedly stepped forward before she stopped him and said, "Jason, what's going on? That isn't what you told me!"

"Stop talking!" The expression on Jason's face changed before he kicked Elaine Ma to the ground immediately. After that, he sneered before he said, "Did you really think that I'd asked you to call your daughter over here just so I could confess my feelings to her? Become your son-in-law? You must be daydreaming!"

After that, he continued speaking with an icy expression on his face, "Do you really think that a snobbish and materialistic person like you would be worthy enough of being my mother-in-law? Let me tell you. I just want Claire Wilson Wilson and I'm not the only one interested in Claire Wilson Wilson—my father is interested in her too!"

At this time, Justin came over with a pistol in his hand and he smiled before he said, "Son, you're only half-right. I'm not only interested in Claire Wilson Wilson but I'd also like to sleep with Elaine Ma! I love women who are still so charming even at this age!"

Elaine Ma's face turned pale immediately. She was so frightened and she blurted out, "You...you can't do this. This is against the law!"

"Who cares about the law?" Jason asked as he cursed out loud. "The only reason why we called you two here today isn't just because we intend to rape both of you, but we're also going to call Charlie Wade over here so we can shoot him to death! That piece of trash! Who gave him the right to break my leg? I'm going to shoot him right in his head in front of both of you!"

Elaine Ma cried out in fright at this time. "Jason, that's your personal grievance with Charlie Wade, so why are you taking it out on us? This has nothing to do with us! I don't care what you do to Charlie Wade, but please just let us go now, okay?"

"Let you go?" Jason said contemptuously. "You must be dreaming! Today, neither you nor Claire Wilson Wilson will be leaving this villa!"

Elaine Ma continued crying as she said, "Jason, I know that you aren't a bad person. The only reason you're acting this way is because Charlie Wade broke your leg. I'm begging you, please just let me leave with Claire Wilson Wilson and you can do whatever you want to Charlie Wade. Okay?"

"I'm not a bad person?" Jason laughed as he squatted down and stared right at Elaine Ma's horrified face before he smiled and said, "To tell you the truth, the reason why you and your husband, Jacob Wilson, got into an accident the other day was because of me. I paid the truck driver two hundred thousand dollars to deliberately run a red light so that he would ram right into Jacob Wilson's BMW. This was the reason why he became a paraplegic!"

Claire Wilson Wilson felt very angry as soon as she heard Jason's words.

She blurted out immediately, "Jason! Why did you do that? What have my parents ever done to you?"

Jason laughed before he said, "Your parents did not offend me but I did it because I like you. I like you but you refuse to even look at me! I like you but you refuse to give me a chance! Since you're so stubborn and arrogant, then I have no choice but to create opportunities for myself!"

After that, he continued speaking, "If I did not forcefully cause your dad to end up in that state, I would not have been able to get a doctor to treat your father. If I did not get someone to treat your father, how would I possibly be able to win your favour and finally be able to sleep with you?"

"Hey..." Jason sighed as he gritted his teeth and said, "It's really a pity though! The doctor could do nothing for your father and at the end of the day, that piece of trash Charlie Wade actually got someone to treat and cure your father instead! Otherwise, you would've already become my woman!"

"All of this is Charlie Wade's fault! He ruined all of my plans! He is also the one who asked Don Albertt to throw me out of the window. That's the reason I broke my leg! I must exact my revenge on Charlie Wade today!"

Claire Wilson Wilson yelled at Jason at this time, "Jason Grant! Aren't you afraid of retribution at all?"

"Retribution?" Jason asked as he smiled.

"It's okay. As long as I get to sleep with the most beautiful woman in Aurouss Hilll, I don't care if I am struck to death by thunder and lightning! However, before that happens, I'll have to enjoy myself first!"

Chapter 381

Claire Wilson Wilson was frightened by the vicious expression on Jason's face.

Elaine Ma was also panicking at this time.

At this time, Elaine Ma really felt like slapping herself.

How could she be so materialistic? Why did she have to insist on matchmaking Jason with her daughter?

This was great. She got her daughter and herself into deep trouble...

After that, Elaine Ma looked at Claire Wilson Wilson before she said in a guilty manner, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I really didn't know this would happen. I'm really sorry for dragging you into this matter..."

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed as she cried but she did not say anything at all.

Jason stared at Elaine Ma before she gritted his teeth and said, "I really didn't want to do this to you. I originally wanted to get the doctor to cure your husband so Claire Wilson Wilson would feel grateful towards me. I thought that she would finally agree to get together with me if she felt grateful to me for saving her father..."

Speaking of this, Jason cursed out loud, "Who would've known that Charlie Wade, that piece of trash, would actually stand in my way? Otherwise, Claire Wilson Wilson would've already been my woman today! You can only blame yourself for having such a son-in-law."

Elaine Ma sat down and screamed out loud, "I knew that Charlie Wade was nothing but trouble! I really did not expect that after living off our family for so many years, he would still cause both of us to end up in this kind of situation..."

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson said indignantly, "Mom! You should know very well that this isn't Charlie Wade's fault at all! Don't you understand what's happening now?"

Elaine Ma cried before she said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, why are you still protecting that useless piece of trash now? Things have already come to this stage and you're still protecting him? Do you even see me as your mother anymore?"

At this time Jason felt very troubled with all the noise that Elaine Ma was making and he frowned as he said, "Alright, stop making so much noise over here. It doesn't matter who's protecting who. Whatever it is, neither of you are escaping from this place today!"

After that, Jason looked at Elaine Ma with a nasty smile on his face as he said, "Aunty Elaine Ma, didn't you want me to become your son-in-law? Do you want me to become your lover instead?"

Elaine Ma's face turned pale in fright after listening to Jason's words.

She would have never imagined that Jason, who had told her that he wanted to marry Claire Wilson Wilson and become her son-in-law, would be such an upright gentleman on the surface but was in fact such a scumbag!

After Jacob Wilson was involved in the car accident, Elaine Ma was very grateful towards Jason for arranging for him to be transferred to the ICU ward and for asking the genius doctor to take a look at him.

When Elaine Ma saw that Jason had broken his leg, she felt even guiltier about this matter.

As a result, this was all an act that Jason had directed and acted all by himself!

Jason was the real culprit here and he was the reason why her husband and herself were involved in the car accident!

Was he really human?

She was already so much older than he was and she would probably be of the same age as his mother but he did not want to let her go?

He was really a scoundrel!

She felt so much regret in her heart!

If she had chosen not to listen to this scumbag and if she did not trick her own daughter, Claire Wilson Wilson, into coming here, they would both not have fallen into such a dangerous situation!

This was a terrible mistake!

When Jason saw Elaine Ma trembling in fright, he sneered before he said, "Don't worry, I won't touch you now. I'll trick Charlie Wade into coming over here first and I'll break his arms and legs then so he can watch me doing both of you in front of his very eyes. After that, I'll use my father's pistol to shoot him in the head!"

After that, Jason grabbed Claire Wilson Wilson's bag before he took her cell phone out and called Charlie Wade.

At this time, Charlie Wade had just come out from Serene World Clinic when he received a phone call from his wife. He was just about to ask her how her business meeting had gone when he heard Jason's voice over the other end of the line.

Chapter 382

"Oh, Charlie Wade. You didn't expect me to be the one calling you?"

"Jason Grant?" Charlie Wade asked in a cold manner. "Why is Claire Wilson Wilson's cell phone with you?"

Jason sneered before he said, "Because your wife is in my hands now! I'm ready to take off all of her clothes now because I want to enjoy her body!"

After that, Jason said once again, "Oh, by the way, I heard that Claire Wilson Wilson is still a virgin? Hahaha! Charlie Wade, you're really useless! You've already been married to Claire Wilson Wilson for more than three years and you haven't even slept with her? Don't worry, I'll destroy her virginity for you today! Hahaha!"

Charlie Wade was furious at this time and he yelled out in a cold voice, "Jason! I'm warning you now. If you dare to hurt my wife, I won't let you off just like that!"

"Damn you!" Jason said in a cold manner. "You have twenty minutes to come to the riverside villa. If you don't arrive in time, then I can't guarantee that your wife will still be a virgin! She might even lose her life! Hahaha!"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson yelled out loud, "Charlie Wade! You mustn't come here! They have a pistol!"

Jason slapped Claire Wilson Wilson across her face as he cursed, "Damn it! Who said that you can speak now? If Charlie Wade doesn't come over, you'll definitely be dead today!"

Charlie Wade gritted his teeth before he said in a stern manner, "I'm the one whom you want to kill! Don't hurt my wife. I'm coming over right now."

Jason said, "You're only allowed to come here alone. Otherwise, I will shoot your wife and your mother-in-law in their heads!"

Charlie Wade hung up the phone and he hailed a cab before he headed straight to the riverside villa.

He felt that his heart was about to explode and he wanted to break Jason into pieces!

Jason was also feeling very excited at this time. He felt as though he was about to lose control of himself.

He was certain that as long as Charlie Wade came to the villa, he would definitely die today! He would definitely suffer a horrible death!

At that time, he would finally be able to take revenge on Charlie Wade for breaking his leg! Moreover, he would be able to defile Claire Wilson Wilson and take her virginity in front of him!

At that time, Charlie Wade's hands and feet would have been completely useless after he shot him and he could only watch helplessly as he raped Claire Wilson Wilson in front of her. He was convinced that Charlie Wade would definitely be extremely desperate at that time.

Hahaha!

Jason was very excited as he thought about this.

At the same time, Justin, who was next to him, felt that he was already starting to lose control.

Both Elaine Ma and Claire Wilson Wilson were so beautiful and he really did not want to wait anymore!

Since he had to leave Claire Wilson Wilson to his son first, then he might as well enjoy himself with Elaine Ma first!

As he thought about this, he walked up to Elaine Ma with a smile on his face before he said, "Your son-in-law will take another twenty or thirty minutes to come here. Why don't we both go to the bedroom and have some fun first?"

Elaine Ma was furious at this time and she stood up immediately. At this time, Elaine Ma raised her hand to give him a slap as she said, "You're an old and disrespectful thing! I will kill you, you b*stard!"

Unexpectedly, Justin grabbed her hand before she could slap him.

Justin stared at Elaine Ma who was glaring at him with a fiery expression in her eyes before he laughed and said, "Miss Elaine Ma, I hope you're not assuming that I have no strength at all just because I'm old! I'll show you how strong and capable I am, and I'm sure you'll definitely enjoy it!"

At this time, Jason suddenly laughed before he said, "Dad, I think we should force Charlie Wade into having sex with his mother-in-law later after breaking his hands and legs. After that, we can take some videos of them and upload it on the Internet! That would definitely cause a huge sensation in Aurouss Hill!"

Justin laughed before he replied, "Let them be despised and looked down on by everyone even after their deaths! That is a fantastic idea!"

Chapter 383

Elaine Ma was shocked at the father and son's vicious plan!

She yelled out, "Both of you are worse than beasts! I'm going to bite you to death!"

Justin slapped Elaine Ma directly across her face as he sneered, "Damn you! B*tch! You'd better behave yourself!"

After that, he grabbed Elaine Ma by her hair before he dragged her towards the bedroom inside.

Elaine Ma kept resisting and Claire Wilson Wilson wanted to rescue her but Jason did not give her a chance to do so. He grabbed her arm firmly and she could not move at all.

Justin really did not expect Elaine Ma to have such a strong personality and such a fierce temper! Therefore, he yelled at her in a furious manner, "Damn it! Do you not believe that I'm going to shoot you, you b*tch?"

At this time, Jason suddenly spoke up and said, "Dad, Charlie Wade might arrive anytime soon. If you aren't done by the time he arrives, I'm afraid I won't be able to deal with him on my own."

Justin hesitated for a moment before he kicked Elaine Ma aside and said coldly, "Alright then. In that case, I will kill your son-in-law first before I deal with you!"

Elaine Ma was trembling in fright at this time. Charlie Wade was her only hope now. The only chance for her daughter and her to survive was if Charlie Wade was capable enough to get them out of this villa. If Charlie Wade was not that capable, then there was a high probability that the three of them were going to die here today.

As she thought about this, Elaine Ma could not help but cry because she felt so much regret in her heart.

Why did she do this?

Very soon, Charlie Wade, who was desperate to save Claire Wilson Wilson, arrived at the riverside villa.

As soon as he got out of the car, he called Claire Wilson Wilson's cell phone immediately. After connecting the call, Jason asked in a cold manner, "Did you come here alone?"

Charlie Wade replied immediately, "Yes, I came here alone!"

Jason walked towards the window and he looked out the yard before he said, "The gate is unlocked. You can let yourself in. Do not try any tricks! I want you to put your hands over your head when you come in. Otherwise, I'll shoot Claire Wilson Wilson immediately!"

"Okay." Charlie Wade agreed immediately and he pushed the gate open and he raised his hands over his head before he walked through the courtyard.

Jason felt relieved when he saw that Charlie Wade had come here by himself.

After opening the door, Jason threw a pair of handcuffs at Charlie Wade before he said, "Here, I want you to handcuff yourself now! Don't try any tricks!"

Claire Wilson Wilson yelled out loud at this time, "Charlie Wade! Don't enter the villa! They're going to kill you!"

Charlie Wade gave her a reassuring look from a distance but he was already feeling the urge to kill Jason in his heart.

He was going to kill Jason today!

Charlie Wade did not say anything and he quickly handcuffed his own hands before he lifted his hands and asked, "Are you satisfied now?"

Jason laughed before Justin walked out towards the courtyard with a pistol in his hand. After pointing the pistol at Charlie Wade, he said in a cold manner, "Get in the villa."

Charlie Wade replied indifferently, "Fine, I'll go in."

After that, both of them walked into the villa.

At this time, Jason was very excited!

He had been looking forward to this day for a very long time. He had been looking forward to this moment where he would finally be able to kill his enemy!

Chapter 384

Wasn't Charlie Wade very great? Didn't he know Don Albertt? Didn't he throw him out of the window?

Now, he was going to take his life!

After stepping into the house, Charlie Wade looked at Claire Wilson Wilson with an apologetic expression on his face as though he wanted to say, "Claire Wilson Wilson, I'm sorry I'm late."

Claire Wilson Wilson did not know whether she felt surprised, happy, worried, or afraid when she saw Charlie Wade coming into the villa to save her.

However, Claire Wilson Wilson did not know why she felt very safe and secure when she saw Charlie Wade standing in front of her.

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly cried out, "Husband...my husband..."

Elaine Ma, who had been kicked to the ground, suddenly came to her senses as she crawled over and grabbed hold of Charlie Wade's thigh as she said, "Charlie Wade, my dear son-in-law. I'm glad that you're here to save your mom now! If you had come one step later, I would've been a gone case!"

As she said that, she pointed a finger at Justin and his son before she cried out, "Do you know that this b*stard, Jason, lied to me? He told me that he wanted to confess his love to Claire Wilson Wilson and he asked me to trick Claire Wilson Wilson into coming to his villa. However, he only wanted to take advantage of Claire Wilson Wilson and he even had some weird ideas about me! He nearly scared me to death. Tell me what's going to happen in the future if he really did something to me?"

Charlie Wade could not help but frowned.

He finally understood that the reason why his wife was in this situation was all because of his mother-in-law.

At this time, he was so angry and he really wanted to slap his stupid and arrogant mother-in-law.

However, he knew that it was not the time to teach Elaine Ma a lesson. The most important thing was to settle Jason and his father, Justin first.

As he thought about this, Charlie Wade looked at Claire Wilson Wilson before he said in a soft manner, "Don't worry, dear wife. Just leave everything to your husband!"

Claire Wilson Wilson continued crying as she looked at Charlie Wade. After a short while, she wiped the tears off her face as she said, "Charlie Wade, why are you so stupid? Why did you come here to die in vain?"

Charlie Wade smiled indifferently before he said, "My dear wife, don't you know that many people in Aurouss Hillll say that your husband is a real dragon on earth? Why would I die so easily?"

"Hahaha!" Jason laughed out loud as though he had just heard a joke. "Charlie Wade, you said that you are a real dragon on earth? Don't be ridiculous! You are nothing but a worm I can easily crush under my feet!"

Charlie Wade glared at Jason with a cold expression on his face before he said, "The grievances between men should be resolved privately between men. Why are you kidnapping women to get what you want? If you are really a man, you should let Claire Wilson Wilson and my mother-in-law go now. After that, you can kill me or do whatever you want to me then."

Jason sneered as he said, "You are too naïve! Do you really think that I'll be able to get rid of all my hatred by killing you? Let me tell you something! I'm going to sleep with your beautiful wife in front of you before I kill you! I'll also register a social media account under Claire Wilson Wilson's cell phone number so I can upload an intimate video of us on the social media account! I want to let the whole world know that you, Charlie Wade, has been made a cuckold even before your death!"

As he talked about it, Jason gritted his teeth as he said, "The name of the social media account will be Super Smelly Piece of Trash!"

Jason hated Charlie Wade to the core but killing him alone was not enough to relieve his hatred. Therefore, he really wanted to register a social media account with Claire Wilson Wilson's cell phone number so that he could upload an intimate video of himself with Claire Wilson Wilson on that account! After all, it would be impossible for anyone to trace this back to him since this account was registered using Claire Wilson Wilson's cell phone number.

That way, even after Charlie Wade's death, the video of him being made a cuckold would still be circulating around the Internet.

He would kill him with his bare hands and watch as people continued to mock and humiliate him after his death! This would be the best thing!

Charlie Wade looked at Jason before he sneered and said, "If you're really going to register a social media account for me, then make sure that you set the username as 'The Dragon Son-in-Law'. Oh, by the way, remember to use a picture of a dragon as my avatar so that it would be befitting of me."

At this time, Jason laughed contemptuously before she said, "What's wrong with you? You're still so cocky and arrogant even when you are about to die, aren't you?"

Charlie Wade replied indifferently, "The both of you are the ones who are going to die, not me!"

Justin frowned before he pointed the pistol at Charlie Wade's forehead before he gritted his teeth and said, "Young man, do you believe that I will pull the trigger and kill you now?"

Charlie Wade sneered before he said, word by word, "No. I don't believe it."

Chapter 385

"Damn it!"

When Justin saw that Charlie Wade was not taking him seriously, he sneered before he said, "You're really very cocky! Good! Since you like to act tough, I'll let you taste what pain feels like today, then! I'll destroy your manhood now!"

At this time, Jason hurriedly said, "Dad, don't rush to destroy his manhood! I still want to take a picture of him having intercourse with his mother-in-law! Why don't we break his hands and legs first? After that, we'll play around with him!"

"Alright then!" Justin grinned before he said, "Let's break his hands and legs before we do a live broadcast of him!"

Elaine Ma and Claire Wilson Wilson turned pale immediately because they were both in shock. Justin pointed the muzzle at Charlie Wade's thigh at this time.

He looked at Charlie Wade before he sneered, "This is the price you have to pay for provoking my son!"

After that, he got ready to pull the trigger.

At this time, Charlie Wade quietly released some spiritual energy from his hand, causing Elaine Ma and Claire Wilson Wilson to fall into deep sleep.

When Justin saw that the two women had already fallen asleep, he was shocked and he blurted out, "What happened? Did they faint out of shock?"

"Perhaps." Jason replied, "What a disappointment! I really wanted them to watch as we broke Charlie Wade's hands and legs!"

Justin replied, "That's easy. You can get some water to splash on them to wake them up! Of course, they'll both have to witness this spectacular performance today!"

When Charlie Wade saw that his wife and mother-in-law were already in deep sleep, he did not have to hold back anymore. He sneered before he said, "Do you really think you'd both be able to destroy me just because you want to?"

Justin pointed his pistol at Charlie Wade before he said, "Charlie Wade, are you really going to continue being so arrogant even when you're facing death? No matter how awesome you are, will you be able to defeat the speed of my bullets?"

Jason was also very confident at this time and he said, "Charlie Wade, if you kneel down and beg me for mercy now, perhaps I can leave your legs alone so you can still have a good time later!"

In his opinion, even if he peeled off Charlie Wade's skin, he would not be able to relieve his hatred!

He wanted to drink Charlie Wade's blood and eat Charlie Wade's flesh before cutting him up into pieces and feeding him to the dogs!

As soon as he heard Jason's words, the expression on Charlie Wade's face changed immediately and in the blink of an eye, the stainless steel handcuffs suddenly broke into pieces!

Justin and Jason were stunned by this scene!

What kind of monster was Charlie Wade? How could he possibly break the stainless steel handcuffs with his bare hands?

Jason hurriedly said, "Dad, this guy isn't normal. Let's kill him now!"

Charlie Wade sneered before he said, "You're still thinking of killing me now? Too late!"

After that, Charlie Wade raised his hand slightly as he held a piece of ornament in his hand.

This was the Thunder Order that Charlie Wade had used to strike Jack Yalman to death with thunder and lightning!

Justin was a little dumbfounded and he did not know what Charlie Wade was holding in his hand.

However, his instinct told him that this thing was unusual!

He was afraid that things would get out of hand and he tried to pull the trigger.

At this time, Charlie Wade yelled out, "Thunder, come!"

As soon as his words fell, thunder and lightning started flashing all over his body. The sight was so magnificent that it seemed as though he was a dragon!

There were bolts of lightning all over the room.

The entire living room was as bright as day at this time!

Both the father and son could not react at all as they saw a white glow in front of them. After that, there was the endless rumbling sound of thunder in their ears.

Both of them felt as though they were trapped in a sea of thunder and lightning at this time and they were so scared and frightened!

Chapter 386

As they looked at Charlie Wade, they realized that there was thunder and lightning surrounding him, as though a dragon was descending into the world!

Jason yelled out in panic, "Dad! What the hell is that? Hurry up and shoot him now! Hurry up!"

Justin trembled in fright and he could feel his legs going soft immediately. After that, he blurted out, "I...I cannot move my hand at all. It seems as though Charlie Wade had just summoned thunder and lightning from the sky..."

Jason panicked at this time and he said, "No one would be able to summon thunder and lightning in this world! I think he's just putting on an act because he is afraid that we'll shoot him to death!"

Charlie Wade sneered before he said, "Jason, if you really do not believe that I am a god-sent dragon on earth, then I will let you witness it for yourself!"

After that, Charlie Wade looked at Justin before he said in a cold manner, "Justin Grant, don't forget that your son was the one who sent you to your death today!"

After that, Charlie Wade raised his hand towards Justin before he yelled, "Thunder, come!"

After hearing a loud bang, there was a ray of light around Justin and these strong rays of light blinded Jason for a moment!

When the light finally dissipated, Justin, who had been alive just a few seconds ago, was already dead. He was lying on the ground and his body was completely burnt even though he was still holding the pistol in his hand. However, there was no trace of life in him at all.

Jason was dumbfounded when he saw what happened to his father.

Damn it! How did he become like this?

He was still standing in front of him just a few seconds ago, and now it seemed as though his father had been killed by the thunder and lightning summoned by Charlie Wade?

He was a living person!

How could Charlie Wade possibly summon thunder and lightning to strike him?

Jason was trembling uncontrollably at this time and he was really frightened. He could not comprehend or understand what was happening at all.

Was Charlie Wade really a dragon sent from the heavens?

But wasn't their society always anti-feudal superstition? If people believed in science, then how could there possibly be a dragon in this world?

However, his father had already turned into coal in front of him. His body was completely burnt and it was as dark as charcoal. He had witnessed this with his own eyes!

When Charlie Wade saw the frightened expression on Jason's face, he sneered. "Jason, do you believe me now?"

Jason's eyes widened as he stared at Charlie Wade as though he had just seen a ghost. His legs suddenly went weak and he knelt down in front of Charlie Wade as he broke out in cold sweat.

It wasn't until this very moment that he suddenly realized why all the wealthy or powerful men such as Don Albertt, Zeke White, and Graham Quinton, who were all reputable and important people in Aurouss Hilll, actually had so much respect for Charlie Wade.

If Charlie Wade was really an immortal who could summon thunder and lightning just by raising his hand, then how could he possibly not be afraid of him?

Charlie Wade's powers were supreme!

He could not afford to offend someone like Charlie Wade.

Jason felt very desperate at this time.

He quickly crawled towards Charlie Wade.

After that, he kneeled before Charlie Wade as he apologized continuously, "Charlie Wade, Mr. Wade, please. I know I was wrong. I will apologize to you now. I'm sorry for everything that I've done. I didn't touch Claire Wilson Wilson at all. Please just let me go. Please spare my life.."

Charlie Wade looked at Jason and he sneered before he stretched his hand towards his legs and said, "Thunder, come!"

Boom!

At this time, lightning suddenly struck Jason's legs!

Jason was so frightened at this time and he could only feel that his legs had already gone completely numb, as though he had lost consciousness. He looked down at his legs and he realized that his legs had already turned into coal!

"Ahh...ahh..." Jason could not believe his own eyes. Therefore, he tried to touch his legs with his hands.

Even though his legs looked like two pieces of coal that had already been burnt into ashes, and even though they seem to retain their original shape, as soon as Jason touched his legs, it immediately turned into ash!

Chapter 387

When Jason saw that his legs had already turned into ash that was floating in the air, he was so frightened that he started crying out loud. He really could not comprehend what was going on.

Only then did he finally understand that Charlie Wade was really a dragon sent from the heavens and he was not even a bug in front of Charlie Wade.

After that, Charlie Wade said in an indifferent manner, "Ever since you set your eyes on my wife, you have only one path before you! Death!"

As soon as he heard this, Jason was so afraid that he could not stop trembling uncontrollably.

Death?

As he thought about this, Jason broke down completely and he cried bitterly as he begged, "Mr. Wade, I've already lost my legs. I'm a completely disabled person now! Please. Please just let me off now."

Charlie Wade sneered before he said, "Don't you want to accompany your father? Don't forget that he died because of you!"

"No, I don't want to! I don't want to die!" Jason waved his hands as he yelled hysterically.

Death?

He was still so young! How could he possibly have the courage to face death?

He wanted to continue living in this world.

Charlie Wade looked at him with a playful expression on his face before he sneered and said, "Don't you find it better for you to continue living in this world than to die?"

Jason nodded in horror!

Of course, it would be better for him to live than to die!

Who would not want to survive?

Charlie Wade replied coldly at this time, "This proves that you're not suffering enough now!"

After that, Charlie Wade raised his hand before he said, "Thunder, come!"

Another shot of lightning struck Jason's crotch immediately.

In a blink of an eye, Jason felt his crotch go numb completely. He realized that his crotch had already turned to ashes!

Jason grabbed a handful of ashes from his pants before he cried out loud.

This was his manhood!

It had already turned into ashes.

However, Charlie Wade was not ready to let him go.

Charlie Wade looked at him before he said playfully, "Well, since you can still hold the ashes up in your hands, this proves that you aren't completely disabled!"

After that, Charlie Wade walked up to Jason before he raised his hand and said, "Thunder, come!"

Immediately after that, there were two flashes of lightning!

Jason could see with his own two eyes that his arms were turning into coal at this time.

He was so frightened and his body shook uncontrollably. After that, his arms that had already turned into coal snapped off his shoulders with a click before they fell to the ground and formed a pool of ashes.

At this time, Jason had completely lost all of his limbs! He looked at Charlie Wade before he begged pathetically, "Charlie Wade...please let me off...I'm already in such a miserable state now, so please just let me live. I'm begging you, Charlie Wade. Please..."

Jason continued crying as tears ran down his cheeks.

Charlie Wade shook his head before he said in a cold manner, "I've already told you that you're about to die today since you set your sights on my wife and actually had dirty thoughts about her! The reason why I didn't kill you immediately is because I wanted you to feel despair!"

Jason panicked and he quickly said, "You...you...aren't you afraid that someone would find out that you killed my father and I? Don't you know that my family is very powerful? Someone will definitely find out about this and you'll have to pay the price for your actions today!"

Charlie Wade rolled up his sleeves before he kicked the pile of ashes aside. After that, he sat cross-legged in front of Jason before he smiled and said, "Jason, do you know what my true identity is?"

Jason shook his head with a blank expression on his face.

Chapter 388

There was something he wanted to say but he did not dare say it.

'Aren't you just the useless son-in-law of the Wilson family, the famous piece of trash?'

When Charlie Wade saw that Jason did not dare to speak up, he smiled before he said, "You must think that I'm just a stinky piece of trash, right?"

Jason did not dare to answer.

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he said, "To tell you the truth, I'm the young lord of the Wade family in Eastcliff and I'm also the chairman of Emgrand Group. Do you think your family could possibly be more powerful than mine?"

Jason was terrified at this time.

The Wade family?

Wasn't that the most wealthy and powerful family in the country?

Why...

Why would the young lord of the Wade family in Eastcliff come to Aurouss Hilll to become the son-in-law of the Wilson family?

Jason could not understand this fact at all and he said, "I don't understand...I don't understand at all. If you really are the young lord of the Wade family, then why are you willing to stay as the useless son-in-law of the Wilson family? Why are you willing to get criticized and ridiculed by everyone? You could easily make the Wilson family kneel before you with a snap of your fingers. Everyone in Aurouss Hilll would bow before you..."

Charlie Wade replied in a calm manner, "Well, mortals aren't qualified to see the true face of the dragon and there is no need for the dragon to reveal its true identity."

After that, Charlie Wade looked at the time before he said, "Alright then, it's almost time, Jason. Hurry up and catch up with your father before he goes too far away! Perhaps you'd be able to catch up with him and keep him company..."

Jacob Wilson started crying out in fear but Charlie Wade did not give him a chance to say anything at all. Charlie Wade simply stood up before he grinned at Jason and commanded, "Thunder, come!"

There was a loud bang and after the frightening thunder and lightning, Jason left this world, filled with regrets. He had already turned into ashes completely and there was no trace of him left in this world.

Charlie Wade looked at his wife and mother-in-law who were still fast asleep before he took out his cell phone and called Albert.

As soon as the phone call was connected, Charlie Wade quickly instructed, "Albert! I'm at the riverside villa. Please bring a few men and cars with you. Make sure to bring some gasoline too."

Albert quickly replied, "Alright, Mr. Wade! Don't worry, I'm already on my way!"

About ten minutes later, Albert arrived at the riverside villa with a group of people.

Charlie Wade asked them to drive the cars into the courtyard before he said to Albert, "Give me your car. I want to take my wife and mother-in-law home. I want you to set fire to this villa and burn it down to the ground."

Albert nodded before he opened the door of his Mercedes-Benz for Charlie Wade.

After that, Charlie Wade placed his wife and mother-in-law in the back seat before he told Albert, "Speak to the media and tell them not to make any reports on this matter."

"Alright, Mr. Wade," Albert agreed immediately.

...

Charlie Wade drove away from the riverside villa before he returned to his house in the city.

After the car stopped downstairs, he gently woke his wife and mother-in-law up.

As soon as they had both woken up, they were still worried and filled with fear. However, when they saw that they were sitting in the car and

Charlie Wade was looking at the both of them with a concerned expression on his face, they were both a little shocked.

Claire Wilson Wilson quickly asked, "Charlie Wade, what happened? Why are we here? Where's Jason and his father?"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly before he said, "They've already fled out of fear because they're guilty of the crime of kidnapping! The police are hunting them down now."

"Huh?" Claire Wilson Wilson exclaimed as she said, "How did you manage to escape with both of us?"

Charlie Wade replied, "I called the police before I went to the riverside villa. When they were about to kill me, the police arrived at the scene. The father and son were both so afraid that they started to make their escape immediately. I guess they would never dare to return to Aurouss Hilll..."

When Claire Wilson Wilson recalled how courageous Charlie Wade was when he dashed to the riverside villa to save her, tears welled up in her eyes and she said, "Dear husband, thank you..."

Charlie Wade smiled as he said, "Why are you being so polite with me? I'm your husband and this is what a husband should do for his wife!"

For Charlie Wade, everything that he did was worth it as long as he could hear Claire Wilson Wilson thank him, her husband!

Chapter 389

At this time, Elaine Ma heaved a huge sigh of relief before she patted her chest and said, "It's a blessing! It's really a blessing today! I was almost destroyed by Justin today..."

Claire Wilson Wilson looked at her before she said helplessly, "Mom, can you have a conscience whenever you do anything in the future? Can you not be so materialistic and foolish? I don't know what we would have done earlier. If not for Charlie Wade, we'd both be dead today!"

Elaine Ma knew that she was wrong but she said in a reluctant manner, "What's the matter? I'm also a victim in this matter! Besides, this incident only happened because of Charlie Wade! Everything started from Charlie Wade! If he did not provoke Jason in the first place, then we wouldn't have encountered this kind of danger at all. This is all Charlie Wade's fault!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was really angry at this time and she yelled, "You're really unbelievable!"

After that, Claire Wilson Wilson pushed the door open and she got out of the car before heading into the house immediately.

When Elaine Ma saw Claire Wilson Wilson running into the house in a hurry, she hurriedly opened the car door before she chased after her.

Charlie Wade also hurriedly followed behind without saying anything.

After getting into the house, Charlie Wade realized that his father-in-law was not at home. Therefore, Elaine Ma said to Claire Wilson Wilson, "Claire Wilson Wilson, please make sure not to tell your father what happened today, okay? Do you hear me?"

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson asked her, "Why? Didn't you say that you weren't in the wrong? Do you have a guilty conscience?"

Elaine Ma retorted at this time, "Why would I have a guilty conscience? I just don't want your dad to be worried! We're both fine now, so what is the point of telling him about this matter and making him angry and worried for no reason at all?"

Claire Wilson Wilson replied, "If you still refuse to admit your mistake in this matter, then I'll definitely tell Dad about this matter so he can judge who's right and who's wrong!"

Elaine Ma hurriedly said, "Okay, fine. I admit that I made a mistake, okay? All of this is Jason's fault! Who would've actually expected that he'd even have dirty thoughts about an old woman like me? He even said that he'd give me a Mercedes-Benz S520! I didn't even have a chance to drive it yet!"

When Claire Wilson Wilson heard Elaine Ma talking about a Mercedes-Benz S520, she quickly asked, "What Mercedes-Benz 520 are you talking about, Mom? What's going on here?"

Elaine Ma realized that she had said something wrong and she hurriedly explained, "Oh, Jason called me and told me that he wanted to apologize to us. He also said that he would like to give me a Mercedes-Benz so that I would have a car to drive myself around the city. I thought about it and since both you and your dad already own your own cars, I thought that it would be great for me to have my own car too. At the same time, I thought that you would also be able to get some money out of the renovation job. That was the reason why I agreed to meet him!"

After that, Elaine Ma added, "But the only reason why I did all this was because of you and our family!"

Claire Wilson Wilson was very angry and she said, "Can you stop saying that you are doing this for me or our family? Can you stop making up all these excuses to justify yourself? If not for Charlie Wade, I'd be dead today! You would be dead too! Moreover, we would've died horrible deaths without anyone finding us. If both of us are gone, how do you expect Dad to live on in this world all by himself? Charlie Wade risked his own life to save us but you didn't even thank him! Mom, do you know how disappointed I am in you?"

When Elaine Ma heard Claire Wilson Wilson's accusations against herself, she immediately sat down on the ground and started crying and screaming.

"Oh my god! Why is my life so miserable? I only have one child in this life and she's actually pointing a finger at me and scolding me! What's the point of me living in this world? There is no point for me to continue living in this world. Just let me die already!"

As usual, Elaine Ma thought that if she kept crying, Claire Wilson Wilson would definitely compromise and give in to her.

However, Claire Wilson Wilson did not have any intentions of compromising at all today.

She looked at Elaine Ma in disappointment before she said, "Mom, why do you do this every time you make a mistake? Why do you refuse to confess and admit to your own mistakes even when you know it's your fault? You're always hoping that others won't hold you accountable for your actions and if anyone does do so, you'll keep crying about how miserable your life is just so you'd be able to get out of it. Do you really think that other people would always accommodate your actions and forgive you without pursuing the matter further?"

Elaine Ma continued with her performance and she kept crying and wailing. "I feel so bitter right now! MY own biological daughter is talking to me like this. Doesn't she know that her parents are greater than anything else on earth? No matter what a parent does wrongly, a child should never blame her own parents! Tell me, how am I going to continue living in this house in the future? I can't live here anymore. What is the point of staying alive?"

Claire Wilson Wilson shed a few tears before she said, "Mom, if you're going to act like this all the time, then I'm going to move out of this house with Charlie Wade. I still have some savings and it won't cost me too much to rent a one-bedroom apartment..."

Chapter 390

After that, Claire Wilson Wilson said to Charlie Wade, "Husband, go and pack up now!"

Charlie Wade nodded as he said, "Okay, I will go now."

Claire Wilson Wilson took out her cell phone before she said to Elaine Ma, "I'm going to call dad and tell him that I'm moving out today. I won't be living with the two of you in future. No matter what you do wrong in the future, I won't blame you or scold you again!"

Elaine Ma panicked immediately.

In this life, her one and only hope was Claire Wilson Wilson.

Otherwise, if she had to depend on Jacob Wilson, she would never have the chance to turn things over in this life.

This time, Claire Wilson Wilson seemed to have a very determined attitude. If she really called Jacob Wilson, then there would be no room for reversal.

So, Elaine Ma rushed over and hugged Claire Wilson Wilson's legs before she cried and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, please don't leave me! Claire Wilson Wilson, please don't leave your mom. I know that I'm at fault. I know that I'm in the wrong. This is all because I was petty and materialistic! I promise that I will change in the future, okay? Please give your mom a chance to repent!"

Claire Wilson Wilson stared at her mother with a blank expression on her face. "Mom, if you really know that you are wrong then you should be apologizing to Charlie Wade for everything you said. Besides that, you should also thank Charlie Wade for saving our lives today!"

Elaine Ma subconsciously replied, "Why should I thank that piece of trash? Isn't it only right for him to save us?"

Claire Wilson Wilson was furious and she stomped her feet before she said, "You're still calling him a piece of trash?"

Elaine Ma hurriedly changed her words and said, "I was wrong, I was wrong. He isn't a piece of trash. You're right, I'll apologize to him now!"

After that, Elaine Ma stood up before she went to Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade's bedroom. After that, she reluctantly said, "Charlie Wade, I'm sorry for speaking to you so harshly before this. Please do not take it to heart."

Elaine Ma hesitated for a moment before she continued speaking, "And, well, thank you for saving us today."

In fact, Charlie Wade was very annoyed with Elaine Ma. It was not because of her bad attitude but he was annoyed because Elaine Ma's greed and shameless personality had almost brought harm onto Claire Wilson Wilson.

For Charlie Wade, as long as Claire Wilson Wilson was safe and sound, it did not matter to him if Elaine Ma was dead. He would not feel upset at all.

However, if Claire Wilson Wilson got hurt because of Elaine Ma, he would not be able to forgive Elaine Ma at all even if she died ten thousand times!

He felt that everything that happened today was really scary and annoying. Fortunately, Claire Wilson Wilson was safe and nothing had happened to her. However, Charlie Wade knew that it would not be right for him to lecture his mother-in-law in front of Claire Wilson Wilson.

If his mother-in-law would just repent and have a little more conscience after what they had gone through today, then that would be great.

As he thought about this, Charlie Wade secretly decided to give Elaine Ma one last chance. If she dared to cause trouble again, then next time, he would order some people to break her legs so that she would be wheelchair-bound for the rest of her life.

If she could still cause trouble while she was wheelchair-bound, then he would just make sure that he beat her up until she turned into a vegetable!

Chapter 391

Since Elaine Ma had already admitted to her own mistake and guaranteed that she would never do something like this again, Claire Wilson Wilson became soft-hearted and she decided not to pursue the matter further.

When they were both alone, Claire Wilson Wilson told Charlie Wade, "Charlie Wade, my mom is always like this. Please don't blame her too much. As long as she realizes her own mistake and is willing to turn over a new leaf, we should give her a second chance."

What could Charlie Wade say? After all, she was Claire Wilson Wilson's biological mother and his mother-in-law. Therefore, he could only smile as he said, "I understand, Claire Wilson Wilson. You don't have to worry about me. You can decide on this matter on your own. I'm your husband and she's my mother-in-law, so I won't blame her for anything she does."

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she hugged Charlie Wade gently and said, "Dear husband, I'm really grateful to you. If it weren't because of you, Mom and I wouldn't have been able to leave that place alive..."

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Okay, don't mention it. You don't have to keep thanking me!"

"Mm..." Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she said, "We should postpone moving out then. What do you think?"

Even though Charlie Wade really wanted to move out with Claire Wilson Wilson, he wanted to respect Claire Wilson Wilson's decision.

Therefore, he smiled before he said, "I don't mind moving out nor if we continue living here either. It doesn't matter that much to me."

After that, Charlie Wade seemed to recall something and he said, "By the way, the renovation for the villa at Thompson First is almost done. After the renovation is completed, we can move into the villa as a family."

Claire Wilson Wilson was a little overwhelmed and she said, "That villa belongs to Mr. White after all. Wouldn't it be very troublesome for us if we've already moved in as a family and he decides that he wants to take back the villa one day?"

"It wouldn't be troublesome at all." Charlie Wade smiled, "Zeke has already transferred the ownership of the villa to me. I'm now the legal owner of the villa and he won't be able to take the villa back from me anymore. Besides that, we'd be able to lead a quieter and more peaceful life in the future. After all, if we moved into the huge villa, there would be several floors in the villa. We can live on the third floor while our parents can live on the second floor. This way, we will be able to meet them less and we would have more freedom. What do you think?"

Claire Wilson Wilson thought about it and she felt that what Charlie Wade said really made sense.

She had always wanted to escape from the troubles of this family but sometimes, she felt that she did not have the rights to do so. After all, she was still her parents' biological child, so how could she possibly move out just like that?

However, it was very difficult to deal with this kind of situation sometimes.

Therefore, if they really moved into the villa, life would definitely be a lot easier. Everyone's bedroom would not be located on the same floor and they could minimize any interference and have some free time to themselves.

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded before she said to Charlie Wade, "If that's the case, then we should move into the villa as soon as the renovations are complete!"

A villa was burning at the riverside villa at this time.

The fire truck arrived at the scene and it took them a long time to finally put out the fire. However, everything inside the villa had already been reduced to ashes.

The firemen entered the site and they noted that there were no human bodies or remains inside the villa, which proved that this fire did not cause any casualties at all.

A fire with no casualties was naturally not worth any mention, so no one paid much attention to the sudden fire that burned down the whole villa.

In fact, the reason why the firemen could not find any corpses or human remains was because Justin and Jason had already been reduced to ashes by Charlie Wade's Thunder Order. Therefore, the remains of their ashes were fused with all the other objects in the room and since the ashes were so fine, it was completely impossible for it to contain any DNA components at all.

This was how both the father and son from the Grant family completely evaporated from this world.

Everyone in the Grant family was very anxious at this time.

They did not know where the father and son had gone and no one knew about the horrible and terrifying plan that they had come up with to retaliate against Charlie Wade. The villa that was burned down was owned by their family but even though the villa was burned down to ashes, there were no casualties! Therefore, the Grant family thought that the father and son had gone missing!

After that, the Grant family offered a cash reward of five million dollars to anyone who had any information about Justin and Jason. They even posted photos of the two all around the city.

However, no one could find the two persons who had disappeared into thin air. They left no traces or clues of their existence back in this world.

Chapter 392

At the same time, Kenneth, who had his manhood destroyed by Charlie Wade, was waiting for Justin's phone call at home.

Last night, he saw the pair of father and son pacing up and down the entrance of Anthony's Serene World Clinic. It seemed as though the both of them were trying to light up Serene World Clinic with gasoline. It was then that Kenneth realized that he would be able to use these fools to his own advantage.

He originally thought that he could fool both of them into getting rid of Anthony. After that, he would swap out Anthony's real medicine with the fake ones he had already prepared.

As soon as he got his hands on Anthony's real medicine, he would be able to restore his manhood to its former glory.

However, even though Justin said that he would call him today, he did not call him at all. This made Kenneth a little anxious.

He did not know Justin's name and he could only keep dialing the phone number that had been given to him. No matter how many times he called, the call could not be connected because it was not in the service area.

The more he could not reach Justin, the more irritated Kenneth was.

Lady Wilson, Christopher, Hannah, their daughter, Wendy, and son, Harold, were all standing at the side as they looked carefully at Kenneth who was sitting on the sofa at this time.

"Damn it! This dog! He's really pissing me off! He isn't trustworthy at all!"

After that, Kenneth dialed Justin's phone number again and he found that the call was still not going through. At this time, Kenneth had a really gloomy expression on his face.

He felt that he was on the verge of collapse. Without his manhood, he was nothing more than a living eunuch, so he could not wait to get his hands on Anthony's miraculous medicine.

However, he knew all about Anthony and his abilities. Therefore, he did not dare to provoke him directly.

When Wendy saw that Kenneth was getting more and more irritated, she hurriedly stepped forward before she said, "My dear, what's wrong with you? Who are you trying to call? Why are you so irritated right now?"

At this time, Kenneth replied with a black face, "I'm calling a b*stard but I don't know his name!"

Everyone in the living room exchanged glances with one another. They could not help but wonder why Kenneth would want to make a phone call to someone whose name he did not even know.

At this time, Harold suddenly received a text message from an Aurouss Hilll group chat. The owner of the group chat posted a message stating: "Jason and his father, Justin, are both missing. The Grant family is offering a cash reward of five million dollars to anyone who has any clues or information about them. If anyone has any information about the father and son, please go and get the money so that you can buy everyone a drink!"

Immediately afterwards, the owner of the group sent a photograph of the father and son to the group chat.

Harold muttered in surprise, "Wow. How could Jason and Justin suddenly disappear?"

Wendy also asked in surprise, "Brother, isn't Jason the same guy that became a cripple because Charlie Wade threw him out of the hospital window two days ago?"

"Yes." Harold continued speaking, "Both of them went missing today..."

After hearing their conversation, Kenneth immediately thought of the father and son who were carrying gasoline in their hands last night. He quickly asked, "Who is this Jason that you've just mentioned? Do you have a picture of him?"

"Yes." Harold hurriedly handed his cell phone over to Kenneth as he said, "Look, Chairman Wilson. These are the two who have disappeared mysteriously today."

When Kenneth saw the picture of the father and son, he suddenly exclaimed, "Damn it!"

Damn it!

What happened?

They were going to get rid of Anthony today but the mentally retarded father and son suddenly disappeared today?

Could it be...could Charlie Wade be the mastermind behind their disappearance?

Chapter 393

When Kenneth thought about the fact that the disappearance of the father and son of the Grant family might have something to do with Charlie Wade, Kenneth could not help but feel very nervous.

If Charlie Wade could really let the father and son evaporate from the face of this world, then he was afraid that Charlie Wade would also get rid of him..

Moreover, since the father and son had already disappeared, he would not be able to get his hands on Anthony's magic medicine.

After all, there would not be any substitute for a dead man and he should not do anything to provoke Anthony at this time.

As everyone was keeping silent, Lady Wilson suddenly looked at Kenneth in a flattering manner as she said in a humble manner, "Mr. Wilson, should we head to one of the big hospitals in Eastcliff instead? Perhaps you'd be able to find a cure for your illness then."

Kenneth was the final life-saving straw for the entire Wilson family and Lady Wilson felt even more anxious than him at this time. If Kenneth could not restore his manhood, the Wilson family would definitely miss out on the remaining seventy million dollars that he had already promised to invest in the Wilson Group.

"Yes, Mr. Wilson. Even though Dr. Simmons is a reputable and famous man, he's always hanging around that piece of trash Charlie Wade. I believe that there would definitely be other genius doctors who are more capable than him!"

Christopher also chimed in because he wanted to get into Kenneth's good books.

As soon as their voices fell, the expression on Kenneth's face became even uglier. He gritted his teeth as he said, "Shut up! I know what that b*stard Dr. Simmons is capable of! If he is unwilling to treat me, then it would be useless for me to go to any hospitals in Eastcliff."

At this time, Wendy anxiously said, "Kenneth, is Dr. Simmons the only genius doctor in the entire Aurouss Hilll? Should we try looking for someone else instead?"

Wendy did not have any love or affection for Kenneth. However, she felt that she had already paid such a high price but it seems as though she did not get much benefit at all. How could she be content with this?

Christopher suddenly thought of something and he quickly said, "Chairman Wilson, didn't you say that you have a friend who runs a pharmaceutical factory? Do you want to contact that person and see if he'd be able to help you out?"

The expression on Kenneth's face changed immediately as soon as he heard Christopher's words. He had been so focused on getting Anthony's magic medicine that she had forgotten all about that.

The Weaver family in Aurouss Hilll owns a large pharmaceutical company and they were one of the most reputable names in the pharmaceutical industry.

Moreover, Kenneth had a very good relationship with the young lord of the Weaver family. The two of them often fooled around together. Now, he would probably be Kenneth's last hope in Aurouss Hilll.

The young lord of the Weaver family was also a devil just like him.

If Kenneth were to ask for his help, he would have to start from this aspect.

At this time, Kenneth looked at Wendy with eyes filled with dissatisfaction and disgust.

He had already spent fifteen million dollars for this woman and he only managed to spend two or three nights with her before he became a eunuch. This was really one of the most expensive women that he had ever played with!

Since he had already lost his manhood, he could no longer engage in any intimate moments with Wendy. Therefore, it was useless for him to continue keeping her by his side. It would be better for him to bring her over to the young lord of the Weaver family so that she could please him instead.

As he thought about this, Kenneth looked at Wendy before he smiled and said, "Wendy, make sure that you dress up nicely tomorrow. I'm bringing you along with me to see a friend..."

It was rare for Kenneth to smile and talk to her in such a nice manner these few days. Therefore, Wendy was overjoyed and she nodded in a hurry. She did not know what was going through Kenneth's dirty mind at this time.

...

The next day, the news of the disappearance of the father and son of the Grant family continued spreading around the city.

However, Claire Wilson Wilson and Elaine Ma did not pay too much attention to the matter because Charlie Wade had already told them that the father and son had absconded out of fear that they would be punished for their crime.

Since they were absconding, it was only natural for them to disappear from the face of this world.

Kenneth contacted the young lord of the Weaver family in advance before he brought Wendy with him to one of the exclusive private rooms in Aurouss Hilll later that evening as he anxiously waited for the arrival of the other party.

Chapter 394

Wendy dressed up very beautifully today. She wore a black figure-hugging dress that was worth over a hundred thousand dollars. The dress revealed her beautiful curves and figure and she put on heavy makeup tonight.

Even though she was not as beautiful as Claire Wilson Wilson or Jasmine, she could easily get most men excited after putting on some makeup and dressing up in some revealing clothing.

When she heard that she was going to meet the young lord of the Weaver family, she was also a little excited.

Although the Weaver family was not one of the top families in Aurouss Hilll, it was still a much stronger and more powerful family compared to the Wilson family.

Now that the Wilson family was still struggling, Wendy also hoped that she would be able to get to know more wealthy and powerful people. If she was fortunate enough, she might have the opportunity to bring some improvements and business to the Wilson family.

Kenneth and Wendy continued waiting in the private room for a short while when someone suddenly pushed the door open.

At this time, a middle-aged man dressed in an Armani suit walked into the room. The man had his hair combed to the side and he looked very wretched. He was also wearing a Patek Phillipe watch on his wrist.

A man who looked about one or two years younger than him was carrying a bag in his hand as he followed behind him. He looked like his assistant.

Kenneth stood up before he smiled and said, "Brother Jeffrey, come and have a seat inside."

The middle-aged man smiled before he said, "Chairman Wilson, you're such a busy man and you've not visited Aurouss Hilll for the longest time! What brings you here today? I'm also really flattered that you've actually asked me out!"

As he spoke, Jeffrey suddenly saw Wendy who was sitting next to Kenneth and his eyes lit up immediately.

Jeffrey smiled before he said, "Wow, Kenneth. Who's this beautiful girl beside you? Why didn't you introduce her to me?"

Kenneth pulled Wendy over to him as he said with a smile on his face, "Brother Jeffrey, let me introduce you to her. This is my niece, Wendy."

"Oh, it turns out that she's your niece. It's no wonder that she's so beautiful."

When Jeffrey heard that Wendy was Kenneth's niece, he smiled and nodded gently. At this time, his eyes flashed with greed as he reached out his hand towards Wendy and said, "Miss Wendy, I'm so lucky to meet you today."

At this time, Kenneth said to Wendy, "Wendy, this is Jeffrey Weaver, the general manager of Weaver Pharmaceuticals. Weaver Pharmaceuticals is a well-known pharmaceutical company in Aurouss Hilll and they are doing very well in the pharmaceutical industry."

Wendy hurriedly shook hands with the other party as she said, "Hello, Mr. Weaver!"

Jeffrey took off his suit jacket before he threw it towards the man who was standing behind him at this time.

The assistant missed his throw and the suit jacket fell on the ground.

There was a look of dissatisfaction in Jeffrey's eyes as he glared at the man before he started cursing at him. "Garbage! You can't even do something as simple as this?"

"I'm sorry, Elder Brother. This is all my fault...please don't get angry." The other man's face turned pale and he quickly picked up the suit jacket on the ground before he wiped off the dust on it.

Jeffrey got even more upset and disgusted after hearing the man's words. He walked towards the man and slapped him across the face before he said, "Liam, how many times must I tell you that you're just an illegitimate child? Who gave you the rights to call me your brother? I am not your brother! Get out of here and wait for me outside."

Even though Liam was slapped across the face, he did not dare to refute or retaliate at all. Instead, he nodded in a humble manner, as though he was already used to this kind of treatment. After that, he slowly retreated as he said, "Alright, I understand, Elder Brother."

After he was done speaking, Liam hurried out of the private room.

"What a disappointment! Damn it!"

As Jeffrey continued cursing, Kenneth suddenly asked, "Brother Jeffrey, is that your brother?"

Jeffry replied coldly, "He's just an illegitimate child! He isn't my brother!"

After that, Jeffrey turned around to look at Wendy before he asked, "Miss Wendy, you're so beautiful. May I know if you have a boyfriend?"

Chapter 395

As soon as Wendy heard his question, she did not answer but she looked at Kenneth with an awkward expression on her face.

She did not dare to say that she had no boyfriend because she was Kenneth's lover.

However, she did not tell any outsiders that she was Kenneth's lover. After all, Kenneth had a family of his own. She did not want to ruin or break his family apart. If that was the case, and if she said that she was his lover, then she would definitely cause more trouble for him. If that happened, she would only be making things difficult for herself.

Unexpectedly, Kenneth was actually very straightforward at this time. He did not bother to hide the truth and he simply smiled before he told Jeffrey, "Brother Jeffrey, let me tell you the truth. Wendy is actually my lover. However, I hope you'll keep this to yourself and not tell anyone else about this."

Jeffrey felt very regretful at this time. He initially thought that Wendy was Kenneth's niece. Who would have known that it was just a cover up and she was in fact just his lover.

Even though he was interested in Wendy, he would not dare to steal Kenneth's woman. Therefore, he could only dispel all these thoughts in his heart.

Kenneth naturally saw the look of greed in his eyes and he smiled to himself as he continued chatting with Jeffrey.

At this time, Kenneth deliberately asked Jeffrey, "By the way, Brother Jeffrey, how has your father's health been recently?"

Jeffrey sighed before he said, "Not that good. The old man had partied too much when he was younger and he's paying the price for his actions now. Therefore, his health is suffering a lot now."

Kenneth asked again, "I heard that the old man used to have a lot of romantic relationships in the past?"

"Of course he had plenty of them!" Jeffrey replied helplessly. "Don't you know that my father was just like me? He was very handsome and young back then and he would always coax and spend the night with all sorts of women whenever he went out to buy medicinal herbs and medicine outside. He would always find the opportunity to sleep around whenever he could do so. As far as I know, he had more than twenty lovers in the past! That's even more than I have!"

"Wow!" Kenneth exclaimed immediately. "Your father was really such a womanizer when he was young?"

Jeffrey nodded before he said in a helpless manner, "Otherwise, how else would I have a half-brother who is an illegitimate child? In fact, my father has several other illegitimate children out there but they're all daughters. When my grandfather found out that my father had an illegitimate son out there, he insisted on bringing him back to the Weaver family home because he said that a son of the Weaver family should not be left to suffer outside."

After that, Jeffrey continued explaining, "I'm not the only one who doesn't want to look at this b*stard child. My father doesn't even want to see him at all! However, there's nothing else we can do. Since he has already recognized his ancestors and since my grandfather was the one who invited him into the Weaver family, we have no choice but to keep him with us. He usually does some menial tasks for us."

Kenneth had always known that the Weaver family had two sons. The eldest son was none other than Jeffrey Weaver while the younger son was the illegitimate child, Liam Weaver. Liam was a result of his father's romantic relationship with one of his lovers a very long time ago. However, even though the Weaver family had already taken him into their own home, no one knew who he was and not many people had seen him before.

It seemed as though Liam really grew up in a very tough and miserable environment.

At this time, Kenneth suddenly asked out of curiosity, "By the way, Brother Jeffrey, since your father used to be a womanizer in the past, he must have an extraordinary ability in that area. Did he use any secret tricks or medicine?"

Jeffrey nodded before he smiled and said, "How did you know? My father really had a secret. He accidentally stumbled upon it when he was out on a trip when he was much younger. The medicine apparently works to strengthen and nourish the kidneys, thus greatly improving a man's ability to perform in that area."

"Seriously?" Kenneth asked in surprise. "Then, do you still have that recipe?"

Jeffrey said, "What should I say about this medicine? When he was younger, my dad used it for about twenty to thirty years. It seems to be really useful. I heard that my father could actually perform more than ten times in a single night when he was out buying medicinal herbs and ingredients in the past! People even gave him the nickname 'Weaver Fourteen Times'!"

Speaking of this, Jeffrey sighed as he said, "I was initially thinking of utilizing this prescription for mass production later. However, after analyzing the components of the medication, the researcher found out that this medicine causes kidney and liver toxicity. Just look at my old man! He's only in his early sixties but his livers and kidneys are almost completely exhausted. The doctor said that he'll only be able to live for another two to three years at most."

Chapter 396

Kenneth's originally delightful face suddenly became very heavy.

Even though it was very important for him to regain his manhood, his life was even more important!

He should not risk his own life just so that he could continue fooling around with women, right?

When Jeffrey saw the sudden change in his expression, he asked in a curious manner, "Chairman Wilson, are you...facing any unspeakable difficulties now?"

Kenneth had a helpless expression on his face before he said, "You're right, Brother Jeffrey. I'm a living eunuch now. I can't do anything at all! I paid a visit to the hospital and the doctor said there's no way for him to help me at all. Therefore, you have to help me!"

After that, he hurriedly asked, "Would it be too toxic if I used the medicine that your old man used just once or twice? Could you let me try the medicine for myself?"

Jeffrey quickly replied, "Brother, I wouldn't advise you to try that medicine at all! It wouldn't be worth it at all if you harmed your own body in the end."

After that, Jeffrey continued speaking, "My family is currently undergoing research to conduct further studies on this prescription. We hope to make an improvement to it. If we succeed in our research, we won't only be able to strengthen the male masculinity but it also has a strong restoration and repairing effect on a man's ability!"

"Really?" Kenneth asked excitedly, "That's great! When will the medicine be released?"

At this time, Jeffrey replied, "However, we're still short of one medicinal herb. In order to complete the medicine, we'll have to wait for the Chinese Medicine Expo that will be held in two days' time in order to be able to buy the medicinal herbs."

Kenneth was overjoyed! Two days was nothing at all. If he could be completely cured and regain his manhood, he did not even mind waiting another two years!

Kenneth hurriedly said, "Brother Jeffrey, would you mind selling me the medicine after it is completed? I really need it."

How could it not be a necessity? He was now a living eunuch. If he really lost his manhood, then he might as well cut it off.

Jeffrey was placed in a tough spot and he sighed as he said, "It's not that I don't want to help you, brother. The medicinal herbs used in this medicine are really very precious. We can only produce one set of this medicine in the early trials..."

After that, Jeffrey glanced at Wendy before he smiled and said, "However, it isn't entirely impossible for me to help you..."

How could Kenneth possibly not know what was running through Jeffrey's mind at this time? He showed a smile that every man would understand before he said, "Wendy, from now on, you'll be Brother Jeffrey's woman. Thank him on my behalf and make sure to serve him as well as you served me. Do you understand?"

When Jeffrey heard Kenneth's words, he was suddenly very excited.

He had already longed for something to happen with this beautiful woman as soon as he saw Wendy.

However, he was a little disappointed when he heard that Wendy was Kenneth's niece.

Unexpectedly, Wendy turned out to be Kenneth's lover instead. Moreover, Kenneth also directly pushed her into his arms in order to get the medicine from him.

He did not have to put in any effort at all.

Chapter 397

Wendy felt a little unwilling inside.

She hoped that she could continue to become Kenneth's lover and she hoped that Kenneth could introduce her to more wealthy and powerful people.

This way, with the help of Kenneth's connections, she would be able to get more contacts and gradually become a very powerful woman in Aurouss Hilll.

At that time, not only would she be able to obtain a lot of benefits for herself, but she would also be able to bring about a lot of benefits to Wilson Group. Moreover, Wendy would also become a very prominent leader and figure of Wilson Group.

Unexpectedly, she was nothing but a tool to Kenneth. In an effort to obtain the medicine to regain his manhood, he was so willing to hand her over to Jeffrey just like that?

She wanted to continue being Kenneth's lover and she wanted to continue living an upper-class life. However, she did not want to be a plaything shared among the upper-class men. As soon as people hear about her reputation as a plaything, then she would never be able to marry into a wealthy and prestigious family in her lifetime!

Therefore, she quickly took Kenneth's hand before she said, "Kenneth, I love you so much and I want to be with you. I don't ever want to leave your side..."

Kenneth was very upset with Wendy at this time because he felt that out of all the women that he had played with before, Wendy was the least cost-effective one.

Therefore, he was anxious to get rid of Wendy now in exchange for one last benefit.

Giving Wendy to Jeffrey would be the best decision that he could make today.

After all, he had already lost his manhood so he could only look at Wendy but he could not make use of her at all. However, if he gave Wendy up to Jeffrey and if he managed to find a cure for his illness, then he could continue looking for other women in the future.

Therefore, he looked at Wendy with a cold expression on his face before he said, "Don't play around with me now. If I ask you to accompany Brother Jeffrey, then you'd better listen to me and accompany him! Why are you spouting so much nonsense now?"

Wendy had an aggrieved expression on her face as tears fell down her cheeks. She started crying as she said, "Kenneth, didn't you get together with me because you liked me? If you really liked me, then why would you give me to someone else?"

Jeffrey felt a little uncomfortable now and he said, "Oh, Chairman Wilson, since Miss Wendy has such a deep affection for you, then please don't make things difficult for her anymore!"

At this time, Kenneth raised his hand before he gave Wendy a slap as he said, "You're just one of the women I'm fooling around with! If I ask you to do something, then you'd better obey me and get it done immediately! If you refuse to accompany Brother Jeffrey today, I'll withdraw my investment from Wilson Group and I'll make sure that the Wilson family goes bankrupt immediately. After that, I also want you to return me the money that I gave to you! You should know what would happen to the Wilson family if I choose to withdraw my investment!"

Wendy was stunned when she heard Kenneth's words and a sense of humiliation instantly surged in her heart.

What was the use of feeling humiliated?

Could she turn down Kenneth's request just because she felt humiliated?

It was very simple for her to reject Kenneth's request. She could just say that she would not do it.

But what would happen after she rejected his request?

After turning down his request, everything would return to the way it was. The Wilson family would have to file for the bankruptcy of Wilson Group and her dream of being a socialite would be completely shattered.

Therefore, Wendy could only force a smile and said, "I agree, I agree. I promise to take good care of Mr. Weaver."

Kenneth sneered before he said, "I'm glad you know your own place!"

After that, he pushed Wendy into Jeffrey's arm before he smiled and said, "Make sure that you satisfy Mr. Weaver tonight!"

Jeffrey hugged Wendy excitedly before he smiled and said, "Wendy, I'll get a hotel room and we can get to know each other properly tonight!"

Wendy quietly wiped the tears off her face and she was filled with resentment at this time.

She was the young lady of the Wilson family and she was once sought after by countless numbers of people. She used to be so haughty and arrogant. When she was looking for a boyfriend, she would not even look at a guy if he was not part of the rich second generation of a wealthy and powerful family.

However, who would have expected her to end up in this state today after she had exhausted all of her resources?

Chapter 398

After she was abandoned by her fiancé, Gerald, she became Kenneth's lover. Unexpectedly, Kenneth simply regarded her as a tool and plaything that he could just throw to Jeffrey. Who would Jeffrey push her to after he got tired of her then?

At this time, she could not help but think of her cousin, Claire Wilson Wilson.

Claire Wilson Wilson had never put some much thought into men. Moreover, Claire Wilson Wilson had never been in any relationship before and she married Charlie Wade without any hesitation at all. However, even though Charlie Wade was just a worthless piece of trash, he would never allow her to be insulted in this manner...

In contrast, she might not necessarily be a winner.

Jeffrey hugged Wendy tightly in his arms as he said to Kenneth with a wry expression on his face, "Don't worry, Kenneth. I'll send you the medicine to restore your manhood as soon as we have fully gathered the prescription for the medication."

"Fantastic!" Kenneth replied with a smile. He was very relieved at this time. "I will wait for your good news with peace of mind, then!"

Jeffrey nodded before he looked at the time on his watch. He felt very anxious and excited to spend time alone with Wendy. Therefore, he smiled at Kenneth before he said, "Kenneth, it's getting late. Why don't we call it a night, then?"

Kenneth knew that Jeffrey could not wait to spend the night together with Wendy. He could not help but feel a little envious at this time.

However, he nodded in a generous manner before he smiled and said, "Alright then! Let's call it a night. Both of you can leave first!"

After that, Kenneth looked at Wendy before he said, "Wendy, make sure that you satisfy and serve Mr. Weaver well. Do you understand?"

Wendy nodded and she could only say, "Yes, I understand..."

That night, Wendy became Jeffrey's lover.

Even though Wendy was deeply disgusted with spending the night with a different man, Jeffrey was very amazed and pleased with her performance.

That night, Jeffrey felt as though he had found his youth again because of Wendy.

Therefore, after having sexual intercourse with Wendy, Jeffrey hugged her before he said, "Wendy, you no longer need to accompany that old man, Kenneth, anymore. You should just follow me and stay by my side in a steadfast manner and I'll make sure you lead a good life."

Wendy finally felt a little better after listening to Jeffrey's words.

If Jeffrey could provide her with a better life, then it would not be a bad idea for her to stick by his side.

After all, even though he was not as rich as Kenneth, he was much younger than Kenneth. Moreover, Jeffrey did not seem like the kind of man who would casually give her away to someone else.

Early the next morning, news of the disappearance of the father and son from the Grant family continued festering.

At this time, the Grant family had already raised the cash reward to ten million dollars. Many of the young men and punks on the street were all looking for the father and son because they were all hoping to get rich overnight.

However, it was a pity that the father and son had already been wiped out from the face of the earth.

After having her breakfast, Claire Wilson went to the studio and Jacob Wilson went for his Antique Association meeting because he had been spending some time studying antiques with some of the masters there recently. As for Elaine Ma, even though she was almost frightened to death yesterday, she had already put on heavy makeup to play mahjong today.

Charlie Wade was home alone and he was mopping the floor when he suddenly received a phone call from Jasmine, the eldest daughter of the Moore family.

Charlie Wade answered the phone as he continued mopping the floor.

Jasmine's gentle voice sounded over the phone and she asked in a respectful manner, "Mr. Wade, are you at home now?"

"Yes." Charlie Wade then asked out of curiosity, "Are you looking for me?"

Chapter 399

Charlie Wade asked, "Why are you looking for me?"

Jasmine smiled slightly before she said, "Well, the Moore family has invested in a high-end entertainment club and I want to give you an All Access Supreme VIP membership card. I am waiting outside your house now."

Charlie Wade replied in a casual manner, "Alright then, you can come in. I'm home."

Jasmine hurriedly replied, "That's great! I will come over now."

Charlie Wade hung up the phone after that.

A few minutes later, Jasmine rang his doorbell.

As soon as he opened the door, Charlie Wade's eyes lit up immediately.

Jasmine was wearing a long, black evening gown and it was a very tightly fitted dress which showed off her thin waist and beautiful curves perfectly. Her long and fair legs shone like a beautiful piece of jade under her dress.

Coupled with her glamorous and elegant face, Jasmine really looked very beautiful and exquisite.

Charlie Wade could not help but take a few more looks at Jasmine because she was so beautiful today.

"Mr. Wade."

In fact, Jasmine had intentionally put on makeup and a beautiful dress before she came here today. She could not help but feel very happy when she saw Charlie Wade staring intensely at her.

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "Please come in and have a seat."

After they sat down in the living room, Jasmine took out a VIP card made out of pure platinum before she handed it over to Charlie Wade in a respectful manner.

"Mr. Wade, this is the All Access Supreme VIP membership card for Glorious Club. I only have one of this card made and you are the only owner of this platinum card. This is just one of my gestures to show my appreciation for you. You can pay a visit to Glorious Club whenever you want to and you'll be able to enjoy free privileges for a lifetime."

The Glorious Club had just opened and it was a hot topic of discussion among the upper class society in Aurouss Hilll lately.

Since it was a high-end entertainment club opened by the Moore family, the overall investment was very high and it took several years before the club was finally completed. Glorious Club could be regarded as the top high-end business club in Aurouss Hilll.

Many of the wealthy and powerful figures would also gather in this club because it was the Moore family's business.

The more such wealthy and powerful figures gathered here, the more people wanted to talk about businesses, collaborations, and partnership contracts at this business club. Therefore, even before the Glorious Club officially opened for business, it was sought after by countless people and everyone wanted to become a member of the Glorious Club.

However, in order to ensure that it retained its status and reputation as a high-end business and entertainment club, there was a very strict threshold for membership of this club.

The Glorious Club membership was divided into four different levels, namely the Classic membership, the Silver membership, the VIP membership, and the VIP Gold membership. As for the All Access Supreme VIP membership card that Jasmine had given to Charlie Wade, it was one of a kind and the public did not know about its existence at all.

Among these membership levels, the lowest ordinary Classic membership fee was one million dollars, the Silver membership fee five million dollars, and the VIP membership fee more tens of millions of dollars.

If anyone wanted to become a VIP Gold member, they would have to be a patriarch with family assets worth tens of billions. Otherwise, it would be completely impossible.

Charlie Wade had no interest in this kind of matters but he did not want to turn down Jasmine's goodwill.

Therefore, he took the All Access Supreme VIP membership card in his hand before he smiled and thanked Jasmine for her kind gesture. After that, he placed the membership card into his pocket.

At this time, Jasmine looked at Charlie Wade and she hesitated for a moment before she spoke up in an awkward manner, "Mr. Wade, I actually have another pathetic request. I wonder if you'd be able to fulfil my request for me?"

Chapter 400

Charlie Wade replied lightly, "Tell me about it."

Jasmine hurriedly replied, "Mr. Wade, our family has invested more than one billion dollars in Glorious Club and it is regarded as a relatively large investment for our family. I am afraid of us making any mistakes. Therefore, I hope you'll be able to come and help me take a look at the club to see if the Feng Shui of the club is good. If there are any problems, I'd like to stop any disaster from happening before it's too late."

Jasmine was a little nervous at this time because she did not know whether Charlie Wade would agree to her request. Therefore, she could only stare anxiously at Charlie Wade with her big and bright eyes.

Charlie Wade smiled faintly as soon as he heard Jasmine's words. The Moore family had already performed well and Jasmine had always been very loyal to him. Moreover, Jasmine even came to his house personally to ask for his help and she was also very polite and respectful towards him. So, Charlie Wade felt that it would not hurt for him to go over to take a look at her club.

Therefore, he nodded before he said, "If that's the case, then I'll come and take a look at the club with you."

Jasmine hurriedly replied, "Thank you, Mr. Wade. Thank you for taking time out of your busy schedule to help someone like me. My car is parked outside and we can leave any time you want. When would it be convenient for you?"

Charlie Wade replied, "We can leave now. I would like to see how your club is doing."

Jasmine was overjoyed and she hurriedly followed Charlie Wade out of the house in a respectful manner.

A short while later, Jasmine's Rolls-Royce stopped at the entrance of Glorious Club.

The Glorious Club was located at one of the most prosperous areas in Arouss Hilll.

In fact, the Moore family had already started this project a few years ago and it had only recently been completed.

The club was designed by a few top domestic architects and interior designers in the country. The decoration style of the exterior of the club was not just very trendy but it was also extremely luxurious.

As soon as the car stopped at the entrance, a waiter quickly opened the door before Jasmine and Charlie Wade got out of the car.

After getting out of the car, Jasmine said respectfully to Charlie Wade, "Mr. Wade, please follow me."

Charlie Wade nodded before he looked at the facade of the entire club.

The exterior of the Glorious Club looked very rich and magnificent and there was a trace of nobility in the luxurious design of the club. The two white marble stone pillars had dragons carved all over them and it was very lifelike and daunting.

Charlie Wade realized that from the moment he stepped into the club, the floor was covered with a layer of handmade Arabian wool carpet.

The kind of wool carpet cost tens of thousands of dollars per square meter and the entire hall was probably thousands of square meters large. Therefore, the amount of money they had spent on the wool carpet alone was probably tens of millions of dollars!

Jasmine walked by Charlie Wade's side in a respectful manner as she pointed at the walls around the hall that was tens of meters in height. After that, she told Charlie Wade, "Mr. Wade, these murals are all world-class cultural treasures, with each one of these murals worth tens of millions of dollars."

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "There's a country in the Middle East called Abu Dhabi. The grand mosque there also has this sort of decoration and feel to it. However, I feel that the decoration and interior design of this club is just right and not religious at all."

"Yes." Jasmine said in a careful manner, "After all, I know that many people in our country are atheists and we aren't used to promoting too much feudal superstitions. Therefore, in designing the club, we've tried to avoid all sorts of religious and cultural styles from the very beginning."

After she was done speaking, Jasmine pointed at the very huge crystal chandelier that was hanging ten meters above them. The crystal chandelier was not only very huge in size but it was also very bright and it made the whole room look as though it was daytime with all the bright lights.

Jasmine continued speaking, "Mr. Wade, this crystal chandelier is made out of natural crystals and it weighs about 8.8 tons. The Moore family managed to purchase this crystal chandelier only after putting in a lot of effort and using many of our connections to get it from Europe. After that, we specially assembled it in Austria before airlifting it to Aurouss Hilll.

Charlie Wade replied, "For all businesses to prosper, it is very important for the lights in the place of business to be bright and not too dark. The dimmer the light, the more it would affect the Feng Shui of your business. Therefore, you should never save money on lights!"

Jasmine nodded before she said, "Thank you for your reminder, Mr. Wade. I'll definitely keep it in mind."

After that, Jasmine smiled before she said, "Mr. Wade, the top floor of the club isn't open to the public. Aside from members of the Moore family, you're the only one who can go up to the top floor of the club since you are the holder of the All Access Supreme VIP membership card. Why don't we go ahead and take a look at the top floor now?"

Charlie Wade nodded slightly. "Okay, sure."

Chapter 401

The Glorious Club had fifteen floors.

Aside from the lobby on the first floor, the other fourteen floors were used as entertainment venues.

Amongst them, the second to tenth floor contained private rooms with various sizes and styles. Even the private rooms for the ordinary Classic members were also extremely luxurious, not to mention the private rooms meant for the VIP Gold members. Those private rooms were simply befitting of a king!

As for the eleventh to the fourteenth floor, there were swimming pools, a sky garden, as well as fitness and entertainment facilities for the members to use.

Among all of the floors, the fifteenth floor was the most luxurious.

As they arrived on the fifteenth floor, Charlie Wade could sense the extreme luxury around him as soon as he stepped out of the elevator.

The decoration and design for this floor was simply magnificent and every single corner of the floor was extremely luxurious and elegant. There was basically nothing wrong with the Feng Shui and design of the entire floor.

As Jasmine walked beside Charlie Wade, she continued introducing the fifteenth floor to him. "Mr. Wade, this is the most luxurious floor in the entire club. It's also equipped with a semi-outdoor infinity pool, a presidential suite, and a private dining room. If you want to listen to music, we can even host a small concert here. Mr. Wade, if there are any singers you fancy, I can hire them to come here and personally sing for you on the fifteenth floor."

After that, Jasmine quickly added, "By the way, I heard that a very famous girl group will be coming to Aurouss Hilll for a concert. One of their members has been very popular recently and she has even been named as one of the most popular artists in the entertainment industry now. The Moore family happens to be one of their sponsors. If you're interested..."

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he waved his hand and said, "Forget it. I'm not really interested in the entertainment industry."

Jasmine nodded before she said, "Yes, the entertainment industry is indeed a little messy and complicated. If you like some other top singers, I can also invite them here to sing for you."

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "Okay, I'll definitely let you know if I have the need."

"Okay!" Jasmine smiled again as she said, "What I mean to say is that you don't need to be so polite with me, Mr. Wade. If you have any needs or requests, please don't hesitate to let me know. I'll definitely do everything within my ability to satisfy you."

Jasmine was blushing a little when she said this. After all, she was the arrogant and glamorous young lady of the Moore family and she rarely felt so embarrassed in front of another man.

In fact, Jasmine had always kept her grandfather's advice close to her heart.

She wanted to find a way to make Charlie Wade the son-in-law of the Moore family.

Moreover, Jasmine also really liked a man like Charlie Wade, who not only had strength and ability, but was also very humble and down-to-earth. Therefore, she had already fallen in love with Charlie Wade a long time ago.

When Jasmine said those words, she was not just expressing her gratefulness towards Charlie Wade but also her love for him in a subtle manner.

However, Charlie Wade did not get the meaning behind her words and he simply thanked Jasmine graciously. After that, Charlie Wade said, "At a single glance, the Feng Shui of this club is actually very good. However, no matter what it is, I think it's necessary to be more cautious and careful when it comes to Feng Shui matters. Therefore, I'd like to visit each floor of this building just so I'll be able to look through the place thoroughly."

After that, Charlie Wade said in a light manner, "Jasmine, why don't you get going and I'll just look around the club on my own?"

Jasmine quickly replied, "I'll come along with you!"

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "There's no need to. I need to be calm and focused when looking at Feng Shui. It is better for me to go on my own. You can just wait for me here."

Jasmine did not insist on accompanying Charlie Wade and she simply said, "Mr. Wade, if you need anything, please do not hesitate to give me a call..."

Charlie Wade nodded before he walked right to the elevator.

Charlie Wade went down from the fifteenth floor before he paid every floor a visit to look through the Feng Shui of the place.

He looked thoroughly at each floor before he finally arrived at the second floor.

As soon as he stepped out of the elevator, Charlie Wade felt that the decoration and design of the second floor was very luxurious too. Charlie Wade could tell that the designer had put in a lot of effort into designing each floor of this club.

However, Charlie Wade also felt that the Feng Shui of the second floor was merely satisfactory.

Chapter 402

The Feng Shui at Glorious Club was indeed exquisite to a certain level. However, in Charlie Wade's opinion, there was nothing extraordinary about it.

In fact, an ordinary person might feel that the Feng Shui here was very good but to Charlie Wade, the Feng Shui on the second floor was just like a glass of plain water. There were no advantages or harm to it, but it was also bland and tasteless.

Since Charlie Wade had already made a promise to Jasmine, Charlie Wade did not mind taking action and raising the Feng Shui of Glorious Club to a higher level.

At this time, Charlie Wade thought to himself as he combined all the Feng Shui secrets that he had studied in the Apocalyptic Book before he came up with all sorts of ideas to improve the Feng Shui of this location.

Just then, a woman's voice suddenly sounded behind him.

"Charlie Wade, you piece of trash! What are you doing here?"

As soon as he heard this, Charlie Wade frowned before he turned around. At this time, he saw Wendy and a man dressed in a white Zegna suit walking over to him.

The man was not any ordinary person but he was none other than the eldest son of the Weaver family, Jeffrey Weaver.

Jeffrey Weaver was smitten with Wendy and he really loved her ever since Kenneth had given her to him.

He even promised Wendy that he would definitely take good care of her in the future.

In fact, Wendy was initially very reluctant to be treated like a plaything that Kenneth could easily hand over to someone else. However, when she saw that Jeffrey was really affectionate and sincere towards her, she willingly became his lover.

In Wendy's opinion, even though the Weaver family was not as strong or powerful as Kenneth or Modestway Group, they had at least one billion dollars in assets. This was much more than the Wilson family's asset.

Therefore, after becoming Jeffrey's lover, Wendy quickly regained her former pride and arrogance.

Since it was Glorious Club's opening today, Jeffrey had specifically spent five million dollars to obtain a Silver membership so that he could let Wendy experience and see the club for herself.

As soon as Wendy entered Glorious Club, she was shocked by the level of luxury here and she suddenly felt as though she was a socialite from the upper-class.

However, as she was immersing herself in this feeling and experience, she suddenly saw Charlie Wade, the person whom she hated to the core.

It felt as though she had just seen a fly when she was enjoying a delicious and scrumptious feast.

Disappointing!

This was really disappointing!

She was so disappointed and all that she wanted to do was to get rid of this fly!

Otherwise, he would definitely destroy her experience of enjoying her luxurious feast!

Of course, it would be even better if she could swat this fly to death.

When Jeffrey saw Wendy firing a cannon at this young man who was dressed in casual clothing, he tightened his arm around her waist as he asked in a curious manner, "Wendy, is this Charlie Wade, the stinky son-in-law of the Wilson family that you were talking about?"

"Yes, it's him!" Wendy said as she gritted her teeth. After that, she glared at Charlie Wade before she said, "This man here has been known as a notorious waste ever since he was in college! I really didn't expect him to be able to step into the Glorious Club!"

As Jeffrey had been lingering around Wendy for the past few days, he had heard her mentioning some of the history of the Wilson family and he also knew how much she hated Charlie Wade.

Therefore, since Wendy had just decided to become his lover, he wanted to please her even more so she would willingly stay by his side and remain loyal to him. Jeffrey looked at Charlie Wade before he sneered and said, "Young man, is Glorious Club a place where you can come and go as you please?"

Charlie Wade had a cold expression on his face as he replied, "And why can't I be here if I want to?"

"Why can't you be here?" Jeffrey grinned before he replied, "Because you aren't worthy!"

Chapter 403

Charlie Wade laughed out loud upon Jeffrey's remark. He was not agitated by it but instead, he looked at him with a calm smile and asked, "So, tell me, why do you feel that I don't belong here?"

Jeffrey glared back at him in a pompous look and snorted, "Huh, do you really need me to tell you that? Of course you don't belong here! Look at your disheveled clothes—f*ck, you look even worse than those valet parking boys!"

Charlie Wade chuckled. "What I wear is my choice. Does Glorious Club have a dress code its customers are strictly required to follow?"

Jeffrey sneered. "Of course not. You can wear whatever you want, but this is a members-only club! Non-members are strictly prohibited!" He glanced at Charlie Wade disdainfully. "Are you a Classic member here?"

Charlie Wade shook his head lightly. "No."

"Then, are you a Silver member?"

"No."

A scornful sneer resonated. "Don't tell me you're a Gold member!"

Charlie Wade spread his hand casually. "No."

Jeffrey laughed. "Hahaha! Oh my god, you pathetic little moocher! Are you telling me that you are a VIP member? As far as I know, no more than ten people can obtain VIP membership in Aurouss Hilll!"

Charlie Wade smiled gently and harmlessly, showing two rows of white teeth. "Nope, try again."

Jeffrey frowned in confusion. "What the f*ck are you then? I bet you sneaked in when no one was looking to get a free meal here, am I right?"

Wendy, who was standing beside Jeffrey, chided sarcastically, "Of course he did! He's just a loser who was kicked out from our family, how could he possibly be a member here? He definitely sneaked in here like a pathetic loser he always is!"

Then, she glared at Charlie Wade and groaned, "Charlie Wade, you've come to the wrong place today! This is the Moore family's newly opened high-end Glorious Club and today is its soft launch. The invited guests are all prominent figures in the city. How dare you sneak in here and create trouble! Aren't you afraid that the security guards are going to drag you out and beat the crap out of you?"

Charlie Wade wore an innocent expression on his face. "I'm a member here, why would the security guards want to beat me?"

Jeffrey sneered. "Are you f*cking messing with me now? There are only four membership tiers here, Classic, Silver, Gold, and VIP! You are none of these four, how dare you claim that you are a member here?"

Charlie Wade answered in an earnest tone, "Believe it or not, I really am a member here. I'm not in one of these four tiers, but I'm an All Access Supreme VIP member. I belong to the fifth tier. Don't you know that?"

"Shut up!" Jeffrey said contemptuously, "Just shut the f*ck up! Didn't you see the introduction board in the lobby on the first floor? There are only four tiers in total! You're really good at making things up, aren't you! All Access Supreme VIP my a*s! Aren't you afraid of offending the Moore family with your bullsh*t?"

Charlie Wade shook his head helplessly. "You're so weird. I'm telling you the truth here, why don't you believe me?"

"You want me to believe you?" Jeffrey laughed out loud as if he had just heard the funniest joke ever. "Do you think you can trick me, little deadbeat loser? I'm Jeffrey Weaver!"

Charlie Wade asked curiously, "Are you famous? Why haven't I heard of you before?"

Jeffrey sneered, "Weaver Pharmaceuticals, have you heard it before? I'm the general manager of the company."

Charlie Wade shook his head. "I'm sorry, I haven't heard of it."

Jeffrey's face turned gloomy, thinking that Charlie Wade was taunting him deliberately. "Buddy, you're in trouble today. You barge into this place although you're not even a member and claim that you're a what-what Supreme VIP member. Who the f*ck gave you that name? You're such a big liar!"

Charlie Wade shook his head again, took out his membership card, and said, "See for yourself, this is my membership card. It says 'All Access Supreme VIP', doesn't it?"

Chapter 404

Jeffrey took the card and frowned immediately as he laid his eyes on the card.

First thing first, the workmanship of this card was exceptionally good! It was so much better than his Classic membership card!

But he had never ever heard of this Supreme Member level of Glorious Club! There were obviously only four membership tiers!

Jeffrey had an answer in his mind—Charlie Wade had forged the card!

Damn it, this stinky loser was so bold! How dare he forge the Moore family's club's membership card! It was almost like he forged a bank check!

So, he crossed his arms pompously and snorted, "Buddy, you'd better apologize to me right now and get the hell out of here! Don't make me call Uncle Oscar, the Moore family's butler. Do you know what kind of relationship I have with Uncle Oscar? He and my dad are buddies!"

Actually, Jeffrey's father had nothing to do with Uncle Oscar. They were from the same hometown and personally knew each other for a slightly longer time.

Oscar had been working with the Moore family for many years and earned reputable honor in the family. It could be said that other than the prominent figures in the Moore family, he was the foreign member who had the most influential power and the highest honorable status in the family.

In terms of status and honor, he was much stronger than the king of the underworld, Don Albertt Rhodes.

Don Alberts's infamous reputation caused him to be feared and unlikeable in the public, but Oscar was different. He was the representative of the Moore family on many occasions.

Hence, Jeffrey often talked about Oscar, assuming the majesty of his power to scare people.

When Charlie Wade heard that he knew Oscar, he giggled and said, "Oh, I forgot to tell you that Miss Jasmine Moore herself gave me the Supreme VIP card. Didn't you just ask who the f*ck gave me the name? Lo and behold, it's Miss Moore."

"F*ck you!" Jeffrey taunted, "Miss Moore gave you the name—do you really expect me to believe that sh*t? Do you think you can just brag like there's no tomorrow? Let me teach you a lesson, you little loser. Sometimes bragging can kill you, do you know that?"

Charlie Wade asked curiously, "Why? Is it poisonous?"

"Motherf*cker..." Jeffrey huffed dejectedly and cursed, "Do you think that's funny? You're being disrespectful to Miss Moore! If she finds out, you're going to be so dead!"

Charlie Wade chuckled. "I think you're the one being disrespectful to Miss Moore."

Wendy leaned towards Jeffrey and said, "Jeffrey, don't waste your time with this deadbeat loser. Just call the security guards over and tell them what he said just now. I bet the guards won't let him go so easily! Then, call for Uncle Oscar and ask him to teach this loser a lesson. Destroy him so he loses his manhood forever!"

She assumed that Charlie Wade must have something to do with Kenneth's impotency. He must have done something evil to Kenneth. She resented him so much for this and hoped that someone could destroy him as well.

Jeffrey patted Wendy's hand and said, "Don't worry, my dear. I'll call for the security guards right now and beat the crap out of him!"

Then, he shouted, "Where are the guards? Come here quick! Someone's pretending to be a member of the club and is even defaming Miss Moore!"

A solemn and hoarse voice resonated immediately, "Who's making all that noise? What's going on?"

Charlie Wade looked up and saw Oscar walking towards them!

Chapter 405

As Oscar's loud growl echoed across the hall, Jeffrey plastered a wicked smile across his face. He looked at Charlie Wade and mocked, "Uh oh, Uncle Oscar is here. You're so dead, loser! Even the gods can't save you now!"

Then, he turned to Oscar, pointed at Charlie Wade, and complained, "Uncle Oscar, there's a loser here who's not only pretending to be a member of this club but is also being disrespectful to Miss Moore. You must teach him a lesson!"

Oscar frowned at the director Jeffrey pointed, but his aging eyes couldn't see so well, so he couldn't recognize Charlie Wade from a distance. He could see Jeffrey though, as they were standing closer to each other.

Since Jeffrey was the son of his old pal, he was more familiar with him and trusted his words, so he urged sternly, "Who is it? Guards, take him down!"

Several brawny security guards rushed towards them aggressively.

Wendy was extremely thrilled. She glared at Charlie Wade and sneered as she said, "Haha, Charlie Wade, you're so dead today!"

Charlie Wade grinned. "Don't worry, you'll go before me."

Wendy stomped her feet angrily. "Damn it, you and your braggy mouth! Jeffrey, ask them to tear his stinky mouth off his face!"

Charlie Wade ignored them, he turned to Oscar and shouted coldly, "Oscar Watts, you addlepatetd twit, you're pretty powerful and brave, aren't you? Do you want to take me down?"

Everyone was dumbfounded when he shouted!

Wow, did he wish to die faster? How dare he call Oscar an addlepatetd twit?!

They would just wait and see how Oscar would kill him next! Rumors had it that Oscar was very horrible when he was furious!

Oscar hadn't been angry for many years! He would definitely be so pissed by the loser now!

However, to everyone's surprise, Oscar shivered in fear at the sound of that voice!

He could vaguely make out the voice to be Master Wade's, so he instinctively looked up and bumped into Master Wade who was highly regarded even by Lord Mooore!

He shuddered in shock upon the sight, all the fearsome temperament disappeared from his body. He bowed at Charlie Wade graciously and said, "Master Wade, I didn't know it was you. I'm so sorry..."

Everyone froze like an ice statue at Oscar's unexpected reaction!

What...

What the hell was going on here?!

Why did the honorable Oscar Watts apologize to Charlie Wade the deadbeat loser?!

Before anyone could figure out what was going on, Charlie Wade said coldly, "I heard that you're highly regarded in the Moore family, but I think you shouldn't be on a higher level than Lord Mooore, right?"

Charlie Wade didn't plan to spare Oscar so easily, not caring if Oscar was innocent. He wanted to settle the score with him because Jeffrey had used Oscar's name to taunt him, claiming that his dad and Oscar were great buddies! Oscar would pay for it simply because of Jeffrey's ignorance! Hence, Jeffrey would be Oscar's target if Oscar was upset by Charlie Wade's action.

Oscar instantly knew that he was in trouble when Charlie Wade mentioned Lord Mooore!

Chapter 406

Without another word, Oscar dropped to his knees in front of Charlie Wade and said, his voice shuddering and pious, "Master Wade, please forgive me for anything I've done wrong. Please pinpoint my mistakes and I'll correct them immediately!"

Charlie Wade nodded. He looked down at him, pointed to the bewildered Jeffrey, and asked, "That guy over there claimed that you're his father's best buddy, is it true?"

Oscar glanced at Jeffrey and quickly said, "His father and I are from the same hometown. We can barely be regarded as acquaintances, but definitely not buddies."

"Okay," Charlie Wade nodded again and asked, "That kid and his sl*t have been using your name to insult me, threaten me, and even want to kill me. What's your take on it?"

Oscar understood instantly. Charlie Wade's resentment towards him was completely derived from Jeffrey the b*stard. He growled at Jeffrey loudly, "B*stard! Come and apologize to Master Wade for what you did, you a*shole!"

Jeffrey blinked in astonishment, not understanding what was going on.

What Master Wade? Why? How?

He was just a deadbeat loser, wasn't he? Was Oscar out of his mind?

Jeffrey blurted reflexively, "Uncle Oscar, that piece of shit is just a loser. Why do you kneel down to him? You're the representative of the Moore family! Moreover, he defamed Miss Moore. Punish him for that!"

The outraged Oscar shivered furiously.

Did he literally ask him to punish Master Wade? Was he f*cking crazy?

In the upper class of the social society in Aurouss Hilll, who was unaware of Master Wade's name and fame?

Lord Mooore had recovered because of Master Wade's acupuncture and magical elixir!

The entire Moore family regarded Charlie Wade as a godlike figure, paying him the utmost respect and graciousness!

No matter how prestigious his status was in the family, he was still the servant in the family. If even the prominent figures in the Moore family saw Master Wade as a deity, then he, as their servant, should pay him similar respect too!

Lord Mooore, the head of the Moore family, had the following most spoken quote at home every day recently: "I wonder when my family can get Charlie Wade, the real dragon on earth, to be under our wings. I can't wait to make him my grandson-in-law..."

Therefore, in Oscar's view, he saw Charlie Wade higher than that of Lord Moore!

Now, the ignorant b*stard Jeffrey had gone on to say that he and his father were buddies and even offended Master Wade in the process. He was trying to kill him!

Oscar stood up indignantly, slapped Jeffrey across the face, and urged the guards around him, "Come, press him down on his knees! That woman too!"

Jeffrey didn't expect that Oscar would slap him. He was about to voice out his confusion when he felt two strong forces pressing on his shoulders, causing him to drop to his knees.

Wendy was totally bewildered. She was in a daze even when she was pinned to the floor.

Oscar had his hands on the floor. He looked up at Charlie Wade and said with a panic, "Master Wade, it's my mistake for making the wrong kind of friend. I didn't know that he has such a b*stard son. Don't worry, Master Wade, I'll teach him a lesson myself and let him know the price of offending you!"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "Nah, I'm just a nobody who carries little authority, so what if he offended me? It doesn't matter. Besides, he knows you and he calls you by your first name, so I have to take it even if he hits me!"

From his sarcastic remark, Oscar knew that he was not ready to forgive him. He knocked his head against the floor repetitively and pleaded, "Master Wade, please tell me what's bothering you. Please tell me what I can do to ease your anger. I'm willing to do anything, even if I have to beat myself to death!"

Charlie Wade waved his hand. "You don't have to do that. I just want to know what you'd do if someone insults Miss Moore."

Then, he pointed to the Supreme membership card in Jeffrey's hand, and said, "Miss Moore gave me this card and she even set the specific title 'All Access Supreme VIP' as a form of respect to me. But then, when it came to that fellow, the title has become a stupid name made up by some stupid people. Let me ask me, does this mean he's calling Miss Moore stupid?"

Oscar turned his furious gaze at Jeffrey and asked in a gloomy and murderous tone, "You little Weaver boy, do you wish to die???"

Chapter 407

Jeffrey was so frightened by Oscar's murderous glare that he trembled in fear, but he cleared his throat and said, "Uncle Oscar, there isn't such a thing as a Supreme VIP member on the information board in the lobby on the first floor. He made it up! Don't be fooled by him!"

"That's right!" Wendy sneered too, not knowing she was in the midst of big trouble. "I've never seen anyone so shameless and pompous in my life! He pretended to be a member, fabricated a membership tier, and even forged the membership card! He has no respect for the Moore family!"

Wendy wanted to wipe Charlie Wade off the grid so badly that she linked Charlie Wade's behavior with humiliating the Moore family together so the Moore family would not forgo Charlie Wade's wrongdoings.

But she completely ignored the relationship between Charlie Wade and the Moore family.

Even if she did not believe that Charlie Wade the loser would have the connections and resources that he claimed from the upper-class circle and refused to believe that Charlie Wade was highly respected in the upper-class society, that was the fact.

Oscar trembled in wrath at their snide remarks. He shouted at them, "Don't you know that Miss Moore specially came up with the Supreme VIP member title for Master Wade? There's only one person in the whole world eligible for this title! You brute savages have offended Master Wade and Miss Moore! I won't let you go today!"

"Huh?!" Jeffrey's heart skipped a beat. Did he just say that the Supreme VIP member really existed?! And it was set up by Miss Moore herself?

Didn't it mean that he had literally insulted Miss Moore?

Oh goodness...he was leading himself to a dead end!!

Oscar looked back at Charlie Wade and asked, "Master Wade, they have insulted you in so many ways. How do you want me to punish them?"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "These two people are so obscure and they keep shooting the sh*t out of their stinky mouths. I think it would be best if you can neutralize the sh*tty breath in their mouths."

"Master Wade, why don't I get a few gallons of perfume and pour it down their throat?"

"Oh no, Oscar, we're civilized people who do things the civilized way. Perfume is a high-concentration chemical product. It's fine to spray a little on your body, but it's fatal if you drink a few gallons of them. Their mouths are stinky but they don't have to die for that."

Jeffrey and Wendy looked at Charlie Wade in disbelief. They didn't expect him to spare them just like that. It was quite surprising and astonishing...

Oscar asked hurriedly, "Then, what do you think I should do?"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly and said, "Well, since sh*it is coming out of their stinky mouths, I think it's best to neutralize them with something bashful. I have an idea, take them to the men's room and let them lick the urinals clean! If they don't want to do it, proceed with the perfume feeding."

Oscar nodded. "Okay! Come on, boys!"

Jeffrey and Wendy exchanged horrified glances. Jeffrey was a man and he knew how dirty and disgusting the urinals were...

He crawled to Oscar and pleaded, "Uncle Oscar, please, for my father's sake, please forgive me..."

Chapter 408

Oscar said coldly, "Okay. If you don't want to do it, I'll ask my men to bring ten kilos of concentrated perfume from the warehouse—five kilos for each of you. You can't leave until you finish drinking it!"

The Glorious Club had a total of fifteen floors with a vast area on each floor. Each floor was filled with very classy and expensive imported fragrances everywhere. Hence, the club kept an extremely large stock of perfume.

Jeffrey shuddered in fear, his face turning green when he heard that he had to drink five kilos of perfume.

In the five kilos of perfume concentrate, at least half of it was alcohol as well as various chemical additives, mush additives, and antiseptic additives. If he really drank the five kilos of perfume, even Hades couldn't stop him from dying!

Oscar was agitated by Jeffrey's hesitation and shouted to the guards, "If they don't want to do it, beat the crap out of them first for starters!"

"Yes, boss!"

Under his command, the brawny guards surged forwards and surrounded Jeffrey and Wendy.

Without another word, the guards raised their fists and punched them.

Before they could react to the situation, punches and kicks were laid on Jeffrey and Wendy and they wailed in painful agony. Tears and snorts combined with their blood, causing a miserable and horrible sight.

Jeffrey, who was in great pain, struggled from the assault and pleaded, "Uncle Oscar, no matter what, I'm still your Silver member. I spent five million for that! You and my dad are friends! Even if we're ordinary people, we're your customers—you can't hit me!"

Oscar's face twisted in a furious grimace. "Just because you're a member here, that doesn't mean you can provoke our Supreme VIP member! Let me tell you something—the entire Moore family pays the utmost respect to Master Wade, but you offended him. Who do you think you are, you little piece of sh*t? I'll refund you your membership fee tomorrow but from now on, you'll be permanently prohibited from entering Glorious Club!"

Jeffrey's eyes were as red as a tomato and he nearly went crazy by Oscar's remark! He signed up as the Silver member with his money, how could they cancel his membership just like that?

But he didn't dare argue with Oscar now.

A guard came with a few large bottles and said, "Mr. Watts, here's the perfume."

Oscar nodded. "Alright! If they refuse to drink it, pry their mouths open and pour perfume into it! Five kilos each, I want them to drink every single drop of it!"

The guards rushed forward and pinched Jeffrey and Wendy's mouth wide open.

Then, two guards each took a two kilo perfume bottle up. When they unscrewed the lid, a strong fragrant aroma overflowed from the bottle, and the smell was so strong that it choked them.

Oscar stared mercilessly at Jeffrey and Wendy and said coldly, "I think your bodies won't rot when you die after drinking so much perfume. I'll find a wasteland to bury you two and perhaps you'll both be unearthed as mummies a few centuries later!"

Their faces were as white as a sheet.

They didn't want to die!

They thought that drinking perfume was a mere threat, but they didn't expect it to be real. In this case, licking the urinals seemed to be the mildest punishment ever!

Hence, they crawled towards Oscar and said in unison, "Please forgive us, Uncle Oscar! We'll lick the toilets as you say!"

Chapter 409

Everyone knew that the urinals in the men's washroom were disgusting, but licking it wouldn't be fatal.

But if you drank five kilos of perfume, you would definitely die!

Jeffrey and Wendy were very arrogant, but this was a matter of life and death.

So what if they licked a urinal? It wasn't a big deal, they could just rinse their mouth and brush their teeth a few times!

Since they had chosen the urinal-licking punishment, Oscar ordered, "Boys, drag them to the men's washroom now!"

The security guards dragged Jeffrey and Wendy to the men's washroom on the second floor like they were dragging two dead dogs. Oscar asked Charlie Wade, "Master Wade, would you like to oversee it?"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Of course! How can I miss such an interesting thing?"

Oscar escorted Charlie Wade to the washroom.

The guards pushed Jeffrey and Wendy to one of the urinals and said coldly, "Go on, what the hell are you waiting for?"

Jeffrey trembled with fright at the hoarse voice, but he didn't dare to inch forward.

Although the washroom in Glorious Club was relatively clean, he could still smell a strong urine odor from the urinal which made him feel nauseous.

Similarly, Wendy was having goosebumps by the disgusting smell and she almost fainted.

Oscar was irritated by their slow movement and shouted, "Hurry up! I'll get you to face the music if you still stare in a daze like fools!"

They shuddered at Oscar's yell. Jeffrey sucked in a breath and leaned forward first.

Seeing he had made the first move, Wendy followed him and leaned forward with her eyes shut tight.

Jeffrey's face was turning green and black and he grimaced in an ugly twist after doing it. He looked at Oscar and begged, "See, Uncle Oscar? We did it. Can we go now?"

Oscar turned his gaze at Charlie Wade and asked, "Master Wade, what do you say?"

Charlie Wade crossed his arms in front of his chest and sneered, "What is that? You're kidding me, right? What a joke!"

"Master Wade, what do you mean by that?"

Charlie Wade pointed to the inside the urinal and said, "There, you guys can split the job in half, fair and square."

Everyone in the scene was stunned..

Master Wade was relentless!

Jeffrey collapsed on the floor, dumbstruck. Wendy cried out loud and begged Charlie Wade on her knees, "Charlie Wade, please, you're my cousin-in-law. I'm sorry for being ignorant and childish, could you please forgive me? Please!"

Jeffrey rubbed his hands together and pleaded, "Please, Master Wade, give us some mercy, please spare us..."

Charlie Wade nodded. "I'm giving you mercy. I'll let you go as soon as you finish the eight urinals inside here."

Jeffrey's face twisted in a bewildered grimace, tears drenching his cheeks. "Master Wade, there's too many! Besides, one is so big and no one can stand this..."

Chapter 410

"Oh, you can't stand it?" Charlie Wade chuckled and said to Oscar, "Call Albert and take these two to his dog-fighting ring. Chop them up and feed the dogs like what we did to Mr. Lannerd!"

Oscar nodded immediately. "Yes, Master Wade!"

The other day, the fraudulent Feng Shui master from Hong Kong, Mr. Lannerd, was exposed because he had deceived Miss Moore and was thrown into the dog-fighting ring by Albert.

Albert was quite an expert in doing this kind of thing. He was already familiar with it.

Jeffrey and Wendy were frightened by Charlie Wade's threat. There was no room for them to bargain, they had to accept their fate.

Jeffrey blurted for the sake of his life, "Okay, I'll do it! I'll do it!"

Then, he instantly rushed towards the urinal.

Wendy wailed, her tears flowing down her cheeks like rivers.

This was the worst humiliation she had suffered in her life and it was also the worst torment...

Charlie Wade didn't want to stay here to watch their licking skill, he said to Oscar, "Remember, you must make sure that they clean all of it before letting them go!"

Oscar nodded. "No problem, Master Wade, I'll watch them myself."

Charlie Wade turned around and walked towards the exclusive elevator. Oscar followed behind him closely to escort him away.

Before Charlie Wade went into the elevator, Oscar said nervously, "Master Wade, I'm very sorry for what happened earlier, it is my mistake, I hope you can forgive me."

Charlie Wade said flatly, "Keep your eyes on them. I'll let it go as long as they clean the urinals up nicely."

Oscar nodded frantically. "Don't worry, Master Wade, I'll watch them like a hawk and if they fail, I'll screw them over!"

Then, he started again hesitantly, "Erm, Master Wade, I'd like to ask for a favor from you..."

"What is it?"

Oscar bowed at him respectfully and said, "Master Wade, please don't tell Miss Moore about what happened. Please, I beg you! I'll be forever indebted to your kindness!"

Charlie Wade understood Oscar's concern. At the end of the day, Oscar was nothing more than a servant of the Moore family, but Charlie Wade was a distinguished figure that the Moore family wanted to curry favor with. If Jasmine found out about what happened earlier, she would definitely punish him for his mismanagement and even fired him from his position as butler.

Charlie Wade knew that Oscar was innocent in this case, and he was being used in unfortunate circumstances. Since he was sincere and polite, Charlie Wade nodded to his request. "Okay, I'll do you the favor. Cut all ties with that sort of person, otherwise, I won't be so gracious."

"Okay, no worries, Master Wade. I will draw a clear line with that kind of person in the future. I'll even break my own leg if it happens again!"

Charlie Wade nodded and waved his hand. "Okay, go now."

"Thank you, Master Wade!"

Chapter 411

Charlie Wade entered the elevator and went to the top floor, the 18th floor. He found Jasmine and told her his overall opinion about the Feng Shui of the club.

Jasmine was a little disappointed when she heard that the Feng Shui was unremarkable and blunt. It seemed that the Feng Shui master she hired previously was not very great at his job.

She asked anxiously, "Master Wade, do you have any idea on how to improve the club's aura?"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly. "Have someone planted two pine trees on the first floor, placed in the southeast and northwest corners facing each other. Then, replace the two stone pillars at the main door with stone lions, not a male and a female, and definitely not a lioness and a cub. It must be two male lions, and you must not place them in parallel. Their eyes must be at a 90-degree angle. Have someone make two gold foils and press them under the stone lion. By doing this, you can form an auspicious configuration of two lions gathering wealth."

Jasmine asked reflexively, "May I know what the perspective behind the configuration is?"

Charlie Wade explained calmly, "The gathering of wealth with two lions is Feng Shui for wealth with the lions as its main elements and the pine trees as the supplement. These, alongside the combination of the gold foil and the existing structure in the club, will bring the wealth and prospect of the club to the next level once the pattern is done."

Jasmine was astonished and amazed. She had never heard of the method that Charlie Wade suggested. At the same time, she was impressed by Charlie Wade's extraordinary ability. He could present such an amazing effect with just a simple guide, he was truly amazing!

Just as her grandpa had said, Master Wade was indeed the real dragon among mankind!

Jasmine said gratefully, "Thank you, Master Wade, thank you so much! I'll allow my people to do as you say right away!"

Charlie Wade nodded. He looked at his watch and realized that it was almost time for him to go home and make dinner.

He said to Jasmine before he left, "Remember what I told you, hurry and arrange for your men to make the arrangements. It's getting late, I have to go now."

"I'll see you off then."

"No thanks," Charlie Wade answered, "I'll go to the second floor to meet Oscar, I saw him just now on my way up."

"But I can't let you leave alone..."

"Alright then. Take your car and wait for me outside the lobby on the first floor. I'll drop by to say a quick hello and then we'll go."

"Okay, Master Wade. I'll wait for you in the car."

Charlie Wade didn't intend to meet Oscar at all, but the main reason was that he wanted to see how Wendy and Jeffrey were doing.

When he came to the washroom on the second floor, they had just licked the second urinal.

Their faces were as pale as snow, and the floor was full of their vomit filth. Oscar quickly greeted, "Hi, Master Wade!"

Charlie Wade frowned in dismay. "What is this? Just the second one? Don't you think they're a little too slow?"

"Master Wade, they had almost emptied their bile juice by now..."

Charlie Wade said coldly, "Give them an hour. If they can't finish licking all the urinals here within an hour, go and lick the third floor's washroom too!"

"Yes, boss!" Oscar nodded, and then shouted to the two of them, "Do you hear him? Hurry up! Otherwise, there will be eight more urinals waiting for you!"

Both of them trembled in shock. Wendy even spat out a mouthful of bile, but she wiped her mouth and continued licking the urinal.

At a certain moment, Charlie Wade wondered if he was being too harsh towards a woman.

Chapter 412

On second thought, nope, she got what she deserved!

Wendy was the femme fatale with a heart as malicious as snakes and scorpions! There were so many occasions where she had instigated others to insult him and she had even wanted to rob his manhood! If it wasn't for his connections and ability, he would have died from her schemes.

So, he merely gave her a lesson that she would never forget for the rest of her life!

Charlie Wade said to Oscar, "I'm leaving now, Miss Moore is waiting for me downstairs. Supervise them carefully. If I find out that you've let them off the hook easily, I'll hunt you down!"

Oscar bowed frightfully. "Don't worry, Master Wade, I'll keep my eyes on them at all times! I won't spare them!"

"Okay." Charlie Wade nodded and turned away.

After he left, Wendy and Jeffrey increased their speed and licked the disgusting urinal faster in fear of being punished for their slowness.

When they finally finished licking the right urinals, their tongues had almost detached from their mouth and the smell on their tongues was so disgusting and unbearable as if they had been marinated in urine for a year.

No words could describe the horrible smell in their mouths. Their whole body was soaked in a disgusting and irritating smell.

They wanted to rinse their mouths with tap water, but Oscar didn't agree to their request for fear that Charlie Wade would blame him for having mercy on them. He hurriedly asked his men to kick them out of the club.

Once they were out, they plunged into the fountain pool at the main entrance and washed. They rinsed their mouths and washed their faces, hands, and tongues as if they had never showered before. After more than half an hour of washing, their mouths still stank with the awful smell. They collapsed dejectedly, wishing that they could just cut off their stinky tongues and throw them into the sewer.

Wendy wailed frustratedly beside the fountain as she could still smell the disgusting smell from her mouth. She almost lost her mind from the irritation she felt from Claire Wilson Wilson earlier. Now, because of Charlie Wade, she was almost at the brink of becoming insane.

Jeffrey was no better!

Damn it, he had never been so humiliated before in his life! It was so f*cked up!

The point is, what and who gave Charlie Wade such an honor? Damn, Oscar was the majestic and distinguished butler of the prominent Moore family, but when he saw Charlie Wade, it was like a mouse meeting a cat from the way he licked his boots! Damn!

Jeffrey turned his gloomy face at Wendy and asked, "What is this f*cking Charlie Wade's background, seriously?!"

"He's a deadbeat loser! He lost his parents at eight, grew up in the orphanage, then married into our family as a live-in son-in-law! He's nothing but a miserable loser!"

Jeffrey frowned in disgust. "Oh my god, can you stay further away from me when you talk? Your mouth is so f*cking smelly!"

Wendy threw a sideways glance at him, thinking, 'Damn it, you smell too! I'm not avoiding you, how dare you be disgusted by me?'

She wanted to tell him the same thing, but she didn't dare to provoke him, so she moved a few steps away from him.

Jeffrey started again, "Then why are both Oscar and Miss Moore so respectful to the b*stard?"

"I don't know! I'd also like to know why! Last time, he didn't even dare to talk back when I scolded him in front of everyone. During meals, he had to apologize to me if I poured water on his head. When our family had a gathering, he was not allowed on the table and he had to sit at the side with the rest of the servants to serve us. During the New Year's Eve dinner, I even slapped him for breaking a plate..."

Wendy sighed dejectedly and continued, "I don't why the loser has become a godlike figure all of a sudden. Suddenly, everyone is calling him 'Master Wade'. The tides have turned now, many people who want to insult him end up being insulted themselves..."

Then, she added in a surprised tone, "Oh yes! Kenneth! He's sexually strong and competent for his age and he's even better than a young man, but after a conflict with Charlie Wade, he suddenly became impotent. We still don't know if it's Charlie Wade's doing, nor when and how he'd done it..."

"F*ck!" Jeffrey gritted his teeth in dismay. "I must take revenge on him for what he's done to me! I need to talk to Kenneth about our future plans!"

Chapter 413

In her Rolls-Royce, Jasmine sent Charlie Wade all the way to the supermarket.

Soon, the majestic Rolls-Royce stopped in front of the supermarket. Charlie Wade said to Jasmine as he exited the car, "Thanks for the ride. Bye."

Jasmine nodded at him, her expression complex and ambiguous. "Have a nice day, Master Wade. You're always welcome at Glorious Club, please come to enjoy the facilities whenever you're available, I'll always be there and will personally serve you myself."

Charlie Wade smiled lightly and replied, "Okay, I'll drop by when I'm free. Bye."

Jasmine nodded. "Okay, Master Wade, bye."

She bid farewell to Charlie Wade respectfully. As she watched him disappear into the crowded supermarket, she sighed, crestfallen.

She felt very unjust and disappointed when Charlie Wade, the true dragon with superb strength, had to rush to the supermarket to buy ingredients to make dinner before his wife got off work.

She had met Claire Wilson Wilson before. Indeed, Claire Wilson Wilson was very beautiful and elegant as she did, but Claire Wilson Wilson paled in comparison in terms of temperament, education, ability, and family background.

She had received aristocratic education since young and she would carry the same gracious and noble temperament even when she mingled with the descendants of European royal families.

She graduated from Harvard University, while Claire Wilson Wilson graduated from Aurouss Hilll. Their educational backgrounds were very far apart.

She was now in charge of half of the Moore family's business, where each of the industries she controlled made steady progress, whereas Claire Wilson Wilson couldn't even set foot on her tiny little Wilson family. She was crushed by her grandmother and cousin, she had no firm ability, she was incompetent, and she didn't have a strategy on how to become stronger!

Claire Wilson Wilson was even worse when it came to their family background!

The tiny Wilson family was already on the verge of bankruptcy and Claire Wilson Wilson had just opened her own office. It widened the gap between them!

However, she had one thing that was better than her!

She had a good husband!

This was what made her so jealous of her!

How could a woman as incompetent as Claire Wilson Wilson have such a good husband by her side, who would stay beside her so loyally and affectionately?

She was so excellent in all aspects, but why couldn't she find a man as good as Charlie Wade as a husband?

Jasmine was born proud and never envied anyone, but Claire Wilson Wilson was the first person she was so envious of!

In her opinion, a man as capable and powerful as Charlie Wade should be with a woman who was perfect in every aspect like herself! It would be the perfect match made in heaven!

There were times she wanted to confess to Charlie Wade and tell him what she thought of him, but she gave up after careful consideration.

It's not that she didn't want him to know how she felt, but that she wasn't sure if it was a sure win.

If she expressed her feelings rashly, Charlie Wade might feel repulsed towards her and even disgusted. She wouldn't want that to happen!

After years of staying in the complicated Moore family and in the business world, Jasmine had long developed a precise instinct in judging the situation and acting accordingly.

Hence, she could only suppress her feelings for Charlie Wade for the moment and only confess to him once she had spent more time with him and accumulated enough feelings for Charlie Wade to fall for her!

Chapter 414

After getting home and finished making dinner, Jacob Wilson, who had been out all day, came home first, then followed by Claire Wilson Wilson who had been busy at work the whole day.

After all the food was served on the table, Elaine Ma hurried back happily and said proudly, "Hey guys, I won more than seven grand from playing cards today!"

Jacob Wilson gasped reflexively, "Wow, dear, that's awesome! Seven grand a day, that's two hundred and ten grand a month!"

Claire Wilson Wilson frowned, displeased. "Mom, I don't mind if you play cards occasionally in your leisure time and a little winning is understandable too, but seven grand a day? Isn't that a bit too much? Careful not to get addicted, it's very risky!"

Elaine Ma waved her hand in disdain and snapped, "Hey, I know what I'm doing, don't you come to lecture me about it. My card mates are a bunch of rookies, they are far worse than me. I can win even with my eyes closed! Don't you know your mom's nickname around here? The Queen of Cards, that's me!"

Claire Wilson Wilson sighed helplessly and massaged her forehead, ignoring her.

In the middle of dinner, an incoming message notification beeped on Claire Wilson Wilson's phone. She looked at it and asked Charlie Wade, "It's the weekend tomorrow, do you have any plans?"

"Plans? The usual—going to the market, cooking, doing laundry, and cleaning the house."

"Loreen messaged me, saying that she's booked a suite at the hot spring hotel and she's asking us to join her. I'll say yes if you don't have any special plans."

"What? Hot springs? And you want me to go too?"

Claire Wilson Wilson nodded. "She booked a two-room suite just to invite us, we'll take a room and she has a room by herself. She said that she hasn't had a chance to invite us for a getaway after being here for so long."

Elaine Ma spruced up alarmingly and blurted, "Claire Wilson Wilson! It's a girls-only trip, why do you want Charlie Wade to go? No, he can't go! He has to stay at home and do the household chores!"

"Mom, she invited him herself! Of course he has to go and we must go together!"

Elaine Ma glared at Claire Wilson Wilson and huffed, "No way! If you share a room, what if he does something to you? You'll be at a big loss!"

Charlie Wade finally understood his devilish mother-in-law's true intention. She was worried about that..

Claire Wilson Wilson was irritated by her mother's remark and said in a cold tone, "Mom, Charlie Wade and I are husband and wife. We'll settle our own affairs, you don't have to worry about us."

Elaine Ma slammed her utensils agitatedly and growled, "Why? I'm your mother, it's my business!"

Claire Wilson Wilson chided back angrily, "Some things are not yours to mind! Keep yourself in line!"

Elaine Ma slammed the table furiously. "I'm your mother, all your business is my business! I'm in charge of your whole life!"

Claire Wilson Wilson blurted, her rebellious fury ignited, "This is none of your business! I said it, Charlie Wade must go! No one can stop him! If you want to stop him, I'll move out!"

"You..." Elaine Ma's face was turning red but she recoiled. Claire Wilson Wilson's threat to move out was Elaine Ma's Achilles' heel.

She cleared her throat sheepishly and said, "Alright, fine, go ahead then, but you'd better be careful or you'll regret it!"

Then, she turned to Charlie Wade and said to him with a coy smile, "My dear son-in-law, what if you don't go with them tomorrow and come to play cards with me at my friend's place? I'll give you two thousand dollars as pocket money!"

Elaine Ma had thought it through. If she couldn't knock sense into Claire Wilson Wilson's head, Charlie Wade was her next target. If she could persuade Charlie Wade not to go, Claire Wilson Wilson wouldn't blame her for that, would she?

However, Charlie Wade simply smiled faintly and said, "Mom, I don't play cards, you know that. I think the hot springs trip with Claire Wilson Wilson sounds like a better plan."

Chapter 415

Honestly, Charlie Wade didn't want to go. In fact, he would even reject Claire Wilson Wilson's offer if it wasn't for Elaine Ma meddling between them like that.

The reason why he didn't want to go was that he was rather repulsed by Loreen right now.

Ever since Loreen found out that he was her life savior and her dream lover after he rescued her for the second time, she had been confessing to him repeatedly.

Now that she asked his wife to the hot springs and insisted on inviting him, his wife might be the cover for her real intention of wanting to see him.

It would be very awkward and unpleasant if he did go.

However, he was irritated and annoyed by Elaine Ma's babbling and nagging.

'You don't want me to go, huh? I will go then! Bite me!'

Elaine Ma didn't expect Charlie Wade to disobey her. She was panting and huffing with anger, but she couldn't say anything in front of Claire Wilson Wilson.

Since Charlie Wade had agreed to go, Claire Wilson Wilson said, "Loreen booked rooms at Champs Elys Spa Resort in the suburbs, it is said to be the property of Shangri-La Hotel. I saw the reviews, it's quite a nice place indeed. She'll pick us up from here tomorrow.

Charlie Wade nodded. "Okay, I'll just follow you."

"Remember to pack a pair of swimming trunks, you must wear those in the hot spring."

Charlie Wade chuckled. "Then don't you have to wear a swimsuit too, dear?"

"Of course! Obviously!"

Elaine Ma hurriedly interjected, "Claire Wilson Wilson! You cannot wear a bikini! Pack the least revealing swimsuit! I don't want Charlie Wade the b*stard to take advantage of you!"

Then, she added as something struck her mind, "Oh yes! I have a set of facekini in your size! Do you want it? I'll take it out for you!"

Facekini was a swimsuit worn by middle-aged women at the beach. It was not only in one piece and very tightly wrapped, but the most horrible part was that it wrapped the whole face in like a three-hole balaclava for eyes, nose, and mouth. Someone wearing it would be like a terrorist but in a swimsuit!

When you put on the facekini, your face would be buried under the hideous mask and become a monster without a face and expression no matter how beautiful or ugly you are..

Claire Wilson Wilson stomped angrily when her mother suggested that she wear a facekini. "Mom, are you the devil? I'm only in my twenties, why would you want me to wear the ugly facekini! Why don't you let me soak in the hot springs wrapped in a trench coat and sweatpants instead?"

Elaine Ma said with a serious face, "I don't want you to be taken advantage of! Just look at Charlie Wade, sneaky and perverted like a fox. You must be careful!"

Charlie Wade was extremely furious.

'Damn it! I should have let Jason and his father Justin jump on you, rape you, and kill you that day! Why did I rescue you anyway? It's just a waste of my energy and time!'

Claire Wilson Wilson was frustrated by her mother too. She quickly finished her dinner and went back to her room with Charlie Wade.

When they were packing, Claire Wilson Wilson chose a swimsuit that was neither too revealing nor too sexy, but looked very casual and comfortable instead.

Charlie Wade was simple, a pair of boxer shorts was enough for him.

The next morning, when they had packed their bags, Loreen called and told them that she was waiting downstairs.

Chapter 416

Before going out, Charlie Wade was still a little hesitant and reluctant.

He didn't know how to deal with a passionate and bold girl like Loreen. He didn't want to hurt her feelings and more importantly, he didn't want to betray Claire Wilson Wilson.

He was in a complete dilemma right now.

He was worried that Loreen would confess to him again during the hot springs getaway and she might make an even bolder move too.

On the other hand, since he had promised his wife, it was impossible to retract his promise, so he could only go ahead with the plan.

As they went downstairs, they saw Loreen poking her head out of a Mercedes-Benz and saying, "Charlie Wade, put the luggage in the trunk and sit in the back. Let Claire Wilson Wilson sit in the front and chat with me on the way!"

"Okay!" Charlie Wade nodded, put the luggage in the trunk, and squeezed into the back seat.

When he sat down, Loreen turned and winked at him shyly.

Pretending not to see it, Charlie Wade stretched himself and said, "Oh, I'm so tired. I didn't sleep well last night, so I'll catch a nap now."

Then, he closed his eyes and pretended to fall asleep.

Loreen was a little disappointed with his reaction and understood why he did so, but she couldn't say anything since Claire Wilson Wilson was there.

Moreover, she had expected the cold and indifferent treatment from Charlie Wade, but it didn't matter, since she had already liked him, she buckled herself up and was ready to fight this protracted battle with him. She didn't feel guilty as well because she knew that Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade did not consummate their marriage.

Loreen started her car and drove to the outskirts. After an hour or so, they arrived at the foot of a majestic mountain, and not long after, they reached the entrance of Champs Elys Resort.

Champs Elys Hot Springs was the only natural hot springs resort in Aurouss Hilll and was located at the foot of Mount Lanris. There were several natural geothermal hot springs in here, and the Shangri-La Group had bought the hot springs and the entire mountain and developed Champs Elys Resort.

Champs Elys Resort was very expensive with its wonderful and all-rounded services and facilities, so only the rich could afford to stay here.

Even so, the rooms were very hot-selling. It wasn't only the wealthy people in Aurouss Hilll but the people in surrounding cities as well who would flock to this place for its amazing hot springs.

It was the weekend today and the business here was booming. They could hardly find an available parking spot in the parking lot.

Behind the wheel, Loreen circled the car park several times until she finally found an empty parking space. Thrilled, she looked around to make sure no one was waiting for the spot and quickly drove towards the empty space.

She adjusted the car and was ready to reverse and park. Just when her car was almost entering the space, a Maserati suddenly drove towards them at a high speed!

The Maserati was so fast, it drifted swiftly at the corner and rushed towards the empty space where Loreen was about to park. Loreen freaked out by the scene and she couldn't step on the brake in time, so her car continued to reverse.

With a loud and shrill squeak, the rear of Loreen's car scratched the Maserati's side.

Loreen regained her composure and quickly stopped her car. She couldn't help but frown and complained, "What the hell? Did they literally try to steal my spot? That's so rude! Don't they know what first-come-first-served is?"

At this moment, a young man wearing a flashy leather jacket and a greasy hairstyle came out of the Maserati.

His face darkened horrifically when he glanced at the scratch on the side of his car!

He gritted his teeth in dismay before he walked up to Loreen's car and banged the window hard as he yelled, "F*ck you! Are you f*cking blind? Can't you see that I was going to park at this spot? Damn it, you scratched my brand new car! Come down right now, motherf*cker!"

Chapter 417

Loreen was very upset and pissed as well. She was the daughter of the Thomas family and there was no way she would take the blame so innocently, so she pushed the door, got out of the car immediately, and shouted back, "Hey, shut up! It's your fault in the first place! Can't you see I was reversing into the spot? Are you f*cking blind? How dare you scold me first!"

The young man did not expect that Loreen would talk back at him. He yelled, "Oh my f*cking god, another stupid female driver! Nine out of ten dumbest drivers on the road are women! Can you even f*cking drive? If you can't, go back to your mother's womb and learn how to drive before you come out again, don't embarrass yourself like this!"

Then, he added, "I've just bought this car for a hundred grand and you've scratched it, goddamnit! How much do you want to pay?"

Loreen frowned and retorted, "Hey, first things first! I saw the space first and was already halfway into it when you came out of nowhere and tried to snatch the spot! It was your fault! How dare you scold me first?!"

The young man growled in great dismay, "What? Can't I scold you since you are in the wrong? It's justified! Besides, I'm not only scolding you but I'm also going to slap you!"

Then, the man stretched out his hand and wanted to grab Loreen's hair. Loreen was shocked by his rudeness and hurriedly backed down.

Claire Wilson Wilson shouted, "Charlie Wade, come quick! We need help!"

The young man glared at Claire Wilson Wilson and snorted, "Wow, such a beauty. Sleep with me tonight and I'll let this slide!"

Then, he stretched his arm and wanted to pull Claire Wilson Wilson into his embrace, but his arm was firmly grasped by a pair of sturdy hands.

The young man frowned indignantly as Charlie Wade grasped his arm and shouted, "Hey, where did you come out from, f*cking idiot? Let go of me!"

Charlie Wade swung his arm aside and said as his face darkened, "It's normal to have some accidents on the road, isn't it? Can't we just talk this through? Why must we be so harsh and rude?"

The young man glared disdainfully at Charlie Wade and said, "Huh, I have nothing to say to you f*cking poor faggots! Three people in a broken old Mercedes that isn't even worth a dime second-hand! Who do you think you are to be so bossy around me?"

Then, he pointed to his Maserati and said coldly, "You scratched my car. Tell me, how do you plan to compensate for it?"

Charlie Wade frowned. "We saw the parking spot first, so we were here first and we parked first. You ignorant brat came out of nowhere and tried to steal our spot, so why should we compensate for your damage?"

"Why? Because of your f*cking broken car, that's why! You have no right to park here! You're not in the position to offend me!"

Charlie Wade smirked instead and said, "Well, we won't provide compensation since it isn't our fault. Let's call the police then and let them judge. I think they'll say that you are solely responsible for this misfortune and you should compensate us, do you understand me?"

The young man gritted his teeth and cursed, "F*ck you, shut up! Police, you say? Do you not think I can easily end your life with just a simple command?"

At this moment, a plastic-face woman with heavy makeup walked out of the young man's car. She pointed at Charlie Wade and said contemptuously, "Hey you, f*cking loser. Shut the hell up, will you? Did you know I have three million followers on Facebook? If you don't want to compensate us, I'll post your poor friends' pictures on my page and ask my fans to hunt you down!"

The young man put up a flattering and coy smile and said, "Hey darling, why did you come down? Hurry and wait in the car, I can handle this!"

Chapter 418

The young man turned back to Charlie Wade with a vicious look and cursed, "Hey, kid, you'd better compensate us while I'm still asking nicely! My girlfriend and I want to go to the hot springs, so be a good dog, and get the hell out of here!"

Charlie Wade said coldly, "What if I don't want to?"

The young man sneered. "A bunch of poor, pretentious jerks. Wait here, I'll let you know the consequences of not paying."

Then, he took out his phone and started calling someone. "Hey, Mr. Hicks, I came to your resort and some idiots scratched my car at the bloody parking lot. They've refused to compensate me and are messing with me right now. Get some guys here right away!"

After ending the call, the young man smirked and said, "Loser, I'll give you one last chance to to compensate me for the damage and apologize to me right now. When Mr. Hicks comes here later, you're gonna be so dead!"

Loreen was afraid that Charlie Wade would get hurt so she quickly said, "Okay, fine, it's my unlucky day today. How much do I have to pay you?"

"You scratched my car, so there goes the original paint of the car, it's the pain of a lifetime! You have to pay half the price of the car! I'll give you a discount—forty grand!"

"What? Forty grand?!" Loreen shrieked, annoyed. "You're bluffing! Even if we go to the Maserati workshop, the paint for one side of your car will cost only around five hundred. In addition to some plate works, it will only cost one thousand five hundred tops!"

"What the f*ck? One thousand five hundred?!" The young man spat on the floor rudely, almost spitting on Loreen's feet, and cursed with a mouthful of yellow teeth, "Are you f*cking kidding me? Do you know what I do for a living? Do you think you can settle with just a thousand plus dollars? Let me tell you, forty grand, not even a dime in discount! Pay the full price or I won't let you off this perimeter! If you don't have enough money, don't worry, you can leave your ID card and your details and give me an IOU. The interest is ten grand a day, and it's compounded interest!"

"What the hell!! You...this is blackmail!"

Claire Wilson Wilson chided angrily, "If you keep on being so unreasonable, we'll call the cops!"

"Go ahead! Call as you please!" The young man said contemptuously, "Oh... I'm so scared... Bah! I'm not afraid of you! I'm well connected with the cops and the underworld!"

Loreen admitted to her bad luck. She wouldn't mind the money at all, not even if it was four hundred grand! She didn't want to cause trouble to Charlie Wade.

The reason she had invited them to the resort was to meet Charlie Wade and have more chances to be with him. She didn't want Charlie Wade to get involved because of her and she didn't want this to spoil Charlie Wade's mood.

She gritted her teeth in annoyance and blurted, "Fine, forty grand then. Give me your bank details, I'll transfer the money to you right now."

"Oh damn! Are you serious?!" The young man himself didn't expect that she would give forty grand so easily!

Initially, he had assumed that they would bargain the value and he would settle at two thousand dollars. It was still a huge steal for him.

But he didn't expect that she would give her forty grand, no questions asked!

Damn it! This was a f*cking profit!

But at this moment, Charlie Wade stopped Loreen and said coldly, "Hold on a minute, don't give him a single penny. I'm curious to see what the outcome for today is!"

Chapter 419

The young man was outraged when Charlie Wade suddenly stopped Loreen and was so direct with him. He growled, "Okay, jerk, if you want to be killed, be my guest! I'll strip my last name off if I don't beat you half to death later!"

Charlie Wade said flatly, "Since you like to show off so much, I can suggest a new last name for you—showoff."

"Motherf*cker!" The young man was so pissed that he was about to jump on Charlie Wade any second now.

Right at this moment, a chubby middle-aged man sprinted towards them with a few brawny guards in tow.

The young man smiled as soon as he laid eyes on the chubby man. "Hey, Mr. Hicks, I haven't seen you in a few days, you're getting bigger now. It seems that you have quite an enjoyable life, huh!"

Mr. Hicks giggled and said, "Mrr.. Lloyd, how can my life be comparable to yours? I'm just one of the menial staff members under Mr. Cameron, unlike you with your big and diversified family business."

Then, he quickly asked, "By the way, Mrr.. Lloyd, what's going on here?"

The young man pointed at Charlie Wade and said coldly, "This jerk here is so pompous. He scratched my car but he doesn't want to pay me. He has quite a stubborn mouth too, he keeps on babbling and babbling. Settle him!"

Mr. Hicks nodded and eyed Charlie Wade contemptuously. Charlie Wade was wearing ordinary unbranded clothes and he did not have the temperament of a rich kid. In addition, they drove an old-style Mercedes-Benz.

Mr. Hicks concluded that they were not from any strong background, so he put up a cocky tone and said, "Kid, did you bring your senses out with you this morning? Do you know who you've offended?"

"Who?" Charlie Wade asked indifferently.

Mr. Hicks looked at the young man and said, "He is Marcus Lloyd, the son of the multimillion-dollar Lloyd family. He's someone you can't touch!"

Then, he added coldly, "If you don't want to get into trouble, listen to me. Pay him the money and move your car away, don't waste Mrr.. Lloyd's time."

Charlie Wade frowned in agitation. "You're so funny. Before you even ask us any questions, you've already assumed that it is my fault and you want me to compensate him for the damage, huh?"

Mr. Hicks snorted. "Oh my, another pathetic loser. Look around you, dog. Look at all the cars parked here, then look at your car! Which of the cars here are less than two hundred grand? What makes you think that you can park your crippled Merc here?"

Charlie Wade looked around. "Well, I don't see a sign saying you can't park a car costing under two hundred grand."

"What the f*ck!" Sensing Charlie Wade's ignorance, Marcus kicked the taillights of the Mercedes-Benz hard and it broke.

Then, he cursed, "Damn it, I've had enough of you! Who do you think you are, babbling here like a mad dog, pathetic jerk? I'll break your legs if you don't shut up right now! You don't want to pay me the money? Fine! Let those two idiot ladies keep me company tonight then!"

Marcus stretched his arms, trying to grab Claire Wilson Wilson, who was standing next to Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade frowned in dismay. He stood in front of Claire Wilson Wilson and Loreen, grabbed Marcus's arms, and pushed him away.

The enraged Marcus shouted, "Motherf*cker, how dare you fight back! It's their honor that I look up to them. If you try to stop me again, I'll kill you! Do you hear me?"

Charlie Wade squinted his eyes slightly, cold and sharp. He glared at Marcus and said, "Don't burn any bridges, you're only pushing yourself to a dead end."

Marcus pushed Charlie Wade back and shouted, "Wow, b*stard, you want to be a hero, huh? I want to burn all the bridges, what can you do to me?"

Mr. Hicks gestured at the guards to surround Charlie Wade and the others. He warned, "Loser, let go of Mrr.. Lloyd right now! If you hurt him, you're gonna pay for it!"

Ignoring him, Charlie Wade raised his leg and kicked directly on Marcus's stomach, sending him flying.

Marcus felt a sharp pain coming from his stomach as if his intestines had been smashed. He growled loudly, "Mr. Hicks, kill him! Damn it, he kicked me! Kill him! I'll be responsible for everything!"

Just when Mr. Hicks wanted to give the order, there was a voice coming from inside.

Chapter 420

"Hey, what's going on? What's with the noise?"

Mr. Hicks shuddered in shock when he heard the voice. He turned around and said respectfully, "Don Albertt, are you done with your hot springs? How is it?"

"Good," Albert answered indifferently and then asked, "What are you doing there?"

Albert said this while walking towards the parking with his men.

"Oh, it's just some pathetic jerk hitting Mrr.. Lloyd. I was about to avenge him. The kid isn't very capable but is very skittish."

Clutching his stomach, Marcus greeted, "Hi, Uncle Rhodes, long time no see."

Albert looked at him and laughed. "Oh, it's you, Marcus! Hey, what's wrong with your charisma? How can you be beaten in Aurouss Hill? You put your father's reputation to shame!"

Albert and Marcus's father were quite close, so Marcus could be considered his nephew. He spoke rather directly and in an elderly manner.

Marcus didn't dare to talk back to Albert, so he said sheepishly, "Uncle Rhodes, I bumped into some miserable jerk. I'll let him know the price of hitting me later!"

Albert snorted. "Haha! I'm curious to see who's bold enough to hit you."

Albert walked forward, pushed aside the guards, and looked at the crowd. He stumbled upon Charlie Wade, who was looking emotionless.

Charlie Wade looked back at Albert and said with a coy smile, "Albert, you're quite nosy, huh?"

Cold sweat immediately appeared on Albert's forehead!

Never did he expect that it was Master Wade who was being surrounded by the guards!

At this crucial moment, he secretly rejoiced that he didn't say anything excessive earlier. If he were to accidentally anger Master Wade, he would be dragged into the misery as well!

Last time, he was given the magical elixir thanks to Master Wade's generosity. Then, he had already expressed his utmost loyalty to Master Wade. He would forever be his servant till the day he died! He nearly screwed himself this time! It was so close!

Albert bowed respectfully and said, "Master Wade, I didn't know you were here..."

Everyone was dumbstruck upon the shocking scene...

The infamous Don Albertt was so respectful and gracious to a pathetic jerk! What was happening?!

It was so f*cking weird!

Charlie Wade pointed at the young man and asked faintly, "Do you know this kid?"

Albert was not a fool. He knew that Marcus must have offended Master Wade. Regardless of his friendship with his father, Albert marched forward, slapped Marcus hard on his face, then sent him to collapse to the floor. Then, Albert grabbed his hair and slammed his head against the concrete floor!

With a loud thump, Marcus heard ringing in his ear. He was dizzy and disoriented.

Resisting the severe pain, Marcus asked, "Uncle Rhodes...why...why did you hit me?!"

Albert glared at him, and slammed directly onto Marcus's head!

"How dare you offend Master Wade! You have a death wish, don't you?!"

Chapter 421

Mr. Hicks, the manager of Champs Elys Resort, was completely dumbfounded at that scene.

He couldn't comprehend what was happening, neither did his guards. None of them dared to move an inch.

Marcus wailed loudly, "Uncle Rhodes, please stop! What the hell is going on?"

Albert stomped on Marcus's face while growling, "Marcus Lloyd, you feel so powerful and majestic because I treat you like my own nephew, don't you? Huh! Who gave you the right to be so cocky outside?!"

Marcus cried, horrified, "Uncle Rhodes, why are you so pissed? Tell me and I'll fix it!"

Albert kicked him while cursing, "Master Wade is my lifesaver, my hero, but you, b*stard, you insulted him! Go to hell!"

Marcus realized that he had messed with someone he shouldn't. He wailed and pleaded, "I'm sorry, Uncle Rhodes, I'm so sorry! I'll apologize to Master Wade. Please, please forgive me! It's all my fault! Please! I'm willing to compensate him for his loss!"

Albert looked disdainfully at his Maserati and sneered, "Oh, you're driving a new car, I see. You're so cocky and proud because of it, aren't you? Guys, smash his car! I want to hear it being crumpled into pieces! Oh, driving a f*cking Maserati makes you so arrogant, huh!"

"Alright, boss!" The men in black behind Albert cheered. They grabbed clubs and sticks and hurled them towards the Maserati.

The plastic lady inside the Maserati screamed in terror and rushed out of the car.

Albert knew at first glance that the lady was not decent. He ordered his man, "Hey, get that plastic girl here and force her to her knees!"

Then, the men grabbed the lady and pushed her onto the floor.

She shouted in agitation, "What do you think you're doing? I warn you, I have millions of fans on Facebook! I'll expose all of you!"

"Motherf*cker!" Albert slapped her across the face, denting her prosthetic nose. He pointed at her and cursed, "A small-time Internet celebrity is trying to threaten me, huh! Do you know who I am?"

"Who knows who you are, f*cking old man?!" the plastic lady growled.

Marcus was shocked. He slapped her and shouted, "Are you crazy? He's Don Albertt!"

After she went back to the car, she was taking selfies with the Maserati's steering wheel and was ignorant of what was unfolding outside the car. When she heard about Don Albertt, she shivered in fear and said, "Don Albertt, I... I'm sorry! If I had known it was you, I wouldn't have talked back at you like that..."

Albert demanded, "Unlock your phone and give it to me!"

The plastic face didn't know what he wanted to do, but she dared not disobey him. He was the king of Aurouss Hilll's underworld, after all, so she could only obey his demand obediently.

Albert took her phone, clicked on Facebook Live, started a live broadcast, and said loudly as he pointed the camera on her face with the crooked nose, "Come, look at the camera and say 'I am a f*cking sl*t who flirts with rich kids', and say it ten times!"

The plastic face trembled as she saw Albert was doing a live broadcast and pleaded, "Please, Don Albertt, you can't do that... I have a lot of fans...What should I do if they see me like this..."

"You don't want to say it, huh?" Albert nodded and gestured at his men. "Boys, tie her up and take her to my KTV lounge. Keep her there as the hostess for three years. If she runs, beat her to death."

"Yes, boss!" The men hurried forward.

The plastic face pleaded, crying and begging, "No, please! Okay, I'll say it! I'll say it..."

Albert pointed the camera back at her and shouted coldly, "Hurry up!"

Tears messed up her makeup as the plastic face mumbled, "I'm a f*cking sl*t who flirts with rich kids..."

After repeating that ten times in a row, Albert stopped the live broadcast and posted the video on her page as a permanent post before he slammed the phone to the floor and broke it into pieces.

Chapter 422

This way, she couldn't delete it even if she wanted to.

Next, the sound of crackling and smashing resonated endlessly. The brand-new Maserati was smashed into a pile of scrap steel very quickly.

Marcus shuddered. He knew that he had made a big mistake this time, so he wrapped his arms around Albert's leg and pleaded, "Uncle Rhodes, I'm so sorry, please forgive me, please!"

"Forgive your head!" Albert kicked him hard on his chest. He turned to Charlie Wade and asked, "Master Wade, how do you want me to deal with them?"

Charlie Wade glanced at Marcus, disheartened, and smirked, "Well, the kid is very interesting. He likes to curse and talk crap with that filthy mouth of his. Oh yes, by the way, I heard that some guys were dragged to the toilet to lick urinals two days ago for the same reason. Do you know about that?"

Of course!

It happened at Glorious Club. Jeffrey Weare had brought a girl with him and offended Master Wade. Then, Oscar, the head butler of the Moore family, forced them to lick eight urinals. The news spread in Aurouss Hill like wildfire and became a laughing joke among the people.

Oscar didn't dare to expose Charlie Wade's identity, so no one knew who Jeffrey and his girl offended that resulted in such a horrible punishment.

Marcus was one of the people who laughed at Jeffrey for being tricked into something so horrible. He even said that he would resist by all means if he were the subject.

Charlie Wade's words sent him trembling in fright.

No, he didn't want to end up like Jeffrey. He didn't want to lick the urinals in the men's washroom...

He crawled towards Charlie Wade and pleaded, "Please, Master Wade, I'm sorry for belittling you, please forgive me. See, my car is destroyed, please forgive me..."

Charlie Wade smiled faintly. "You seemed to like calling me 'pathetic jerk' just a while ago. It seems that you're particularly interested in the words 'pathetic jerk', aren't you?"

"Oh, no, no!" Marcus waved his hands and shook his head frantically. "I'm the pathetic jerk! That's me!"

Charlie Wade nodded, "Okay, since you know that you're the pathetic jerk, then I'd suggest that you engrave those words on your forehead so everyone else knows that too. Is it okay?"

Marcus dropped to his knees and wailed, "Master Wade, please spare me! I'm willing to pay you five million! No, make it ten! Please!"

Charlie Wade shook his head. "No. I'm poor, but my mind is not, so I'm not interested in your money. Besides, you scared my wife. Do you really think a little money of yours can settle that?"

Then, he asked, "Albert, do you have a knife?"

Albert gestured at his men and they produced a sharp folding dagger.

Albert handed the dagger to Charlie Wade respectfully and said, "Master Wade, please proceed."

"Please proceed?" Charlie Wade glared at him in dismay. "Do you think a worthless pathetic jerk like him is worthy of me personally doing it?"

Albert gasped in shock. Only then did he realize how big a mistake he had committed!

Yes, he shouldn't let Master Wade's hands be dirtied by Marcus's filthy blood, let alone engrave words on his forehead!

He said hurriedly, "Okay, Master Wade, I'll do it!"

Charlie Wade nodded and urged, "Engrave them a little deeper. I want him to have this scar for the rest of his life!"

Chapter 423

Albert was stunned when he heard Charlie Wade's command. He picked up his dagger immediately before instructing his subordinates, "Come over here and hold onto his head for me."

Marcus was extremely frightened at this time and struggled, shaking his head desperately as he was unwilling to let someone engrave the words 'pathetic jerk' on his forehead. These were the two words that he would use to scold and speak ill of others every day!

Over the past few years, Marcus's family had come into some money, and ever since he had become a little wealthier, he had been acting even more like a tyrant.

Whenever he went out and saw the garbage collectors, he would call them pathetic jerks.

When he went out on the street and saw that other people's cars were not as good as his own, he would also call them pathetic jerks.

Some time ago, a high school student had accidentally poured a cup of milk tea over his Dior jacket. After that, out of anger, Marcus had beat the high school student until the student had had a concussion and falling unconscious. When the high school student's parents arrived, he had also scolded them, "Your whole family is so poor and pathetic! Even if I sold all of you as slaves, I would not be able to get enough money to get a new replacement for my Dior jacket!"

After he was done speaking and insulting the entire family, he had left without paying them any medical expenses at all.

Just last night, when he wanted to go out for dinner, he saw that there was a traffic jam on the road. Thus, he drove his Maserati up on the sidewalk, forcing all the pedestrians to move aside and all the cyclists had to carry their bikes to the side of the road to make way for him. However, one of the old men moved a little slower, and this frustrated Marcus. He had immediately gotten out of his car and kicked the old man into the pile of bushes by the side of the road before spitting on his face and cursing at him. "D*mn it! Who gave you the courage to stand in my way?! This time, I'm only kicking you, but if I see you again, I will kill you, you f*cking old man!"

After that, Marcus drove away immediately.

And now, he was the one who had tried to take someone else's parking space and he was also the one who had ended up hitting Doris's car. Yet, instead of admitting his own mistakes, he reprimanded Doris and criticized Charlie Wade, calling him a pathetic jerk when he tried to speak up for Doris. The degree of Marcus's arrogance was evident.

If he had the words 'pathetic jerk' engraved on his forehead, this would actually be the perfect punishment for him since it would really match his character and personality!

When Albert saw that the young kid was struggling back and forth as he refused to let him engrave those words on his forehead, he immediately grit his teeth before saying, "If you cooperate with me without struggling any further, I will simply engrave the two words on your forehead. However, if you want to continue struggling and fighting me, then, I am sorry but I will not only engrave the words 'pathetic jerk' on your forehead, but I will also engrave those words on both your left and right cheek!"

After that, Albert had an unusual expression on his face as he said, "By the way, aren't you acting all haughty and arrogant because your dad made some money over the past two years? Should I arrest your father and bring him here to engrave the words 'pathetic jerk's father' on his forehead too? After that, I will tell him that this is all thanks to you!"

Marcus was truly frightened out of his wits by now.

Even though the Lloyd family had some money, it was simply impossible for them to go against Don Albertt.

He was the infamous mobster boss in Aurouss Hilll and could easily chop his whole family up with a single butcher knife!

Besides that, Albert also had the Moore family backing him up, because everyone in Aurouss Hilll knew that Don Albertt worked for the Moore family.

Even if Albert was just a person who was carrying out orders on behalf of the Moore family, he was not someone that he could afford to offend at all!

If he really had the words 'pathetic jerk' engraved on his forehead, how was he going to face people in the future?

Moreover, if he resisted and Albert brought his father over here to engrave the words 'pathetic jerk's father' on his face, how would his father possibly have the face to meet anyone else in the future?

When that time came, his father would be so furious that he would probably skin him alive!

Therefore, he could only cry out loud as he begged pitifully, "Uncle Albert, please be merciful. Can you just engrave the words a little smaller?"

"Shut up!" Albert yelled as he gave Marcus a tight slap. "How dare you try and bargain with me at a time like this?!"

Marcus was crying desperately as he was absolutely terrified and felt that he was being seriously wronged. However, he did not dare to say anything anymore.

Albert then instructed his men to hold on to Marcus's head as he prepared to engrave the words on his forehead.

Charlie Wade quickly took out his cell phone before turning on the video recording function.

Even though Marcus had begged Albert to engrave the words a little smaller, would Albert dare to neglect Charlie Wade's instructions?

Chapter 424

Therefore, Albert carved the words as big and deep as he possibly could!

The word 'pathetic' occupied half of Marcus's forehead.

Moreover, Albert really wrote the words terribly! It was remarkably ugly!

The way that he wrote the word 'pathetic' was not even at the standard of a primary school student!

When Albert looked at the word he had already engraved on Marcus's forehead, he laughed before he said, "Sorry, Mr. Wade. I am actually not used to carving words with a knife. It's really ugly..."

Charlie Wade chuckled before he asked, "Tell me the truth, Albert. How many years have you studied in the past?"

Albert laughed again before he replied, "I have studied for many years, Mr. Wade. I even graduated from primary school! However, I have to admit that I did not study hard during the six years that I was in primary school..."

Charlie Wade nodded before he replied, "It's okay. If you carved the words too beautifully, you would be letting him off too easily."

Marcus felt as though he was completely out of breath when he heard their conversation.

The pain he was feeling on his forehead right now was completely insignificant. What was most important at this moment was the fact that he was already disfigured!

Albert looked at Marcus's bloodied forehead before he took out a wrinkled piece of toilet paper from his pocket and wiped the blood off the latter's forehead, saying, "Come! Let me carve the other word!"

After that, Albert began carving the second word.

This time, Albert also carved the word 'jerk' as big and as deep as he possibly could. It was indeed very eye-catching!

After he was done, Albert turned around with a satisfied expression on his face before he asked Charlie Wade, "Mr. Wade, what do you think of my work?"

Charlie Wade stopped the video recording and nodded as he said, "I think you did a pretty good job."

Albert smiled before asking once again, "Now, how should I deal with this plastic face over here, Mr. Wade?"

Charlie Wade replied calmly, "I want you to keep an eye on these two people from now on. If Marcus dares to remove those words engraved on his forehead or if he even dares to grow a longer fringe to cover those words, I want you to kill him immediately. As for this plastic face, if she dares to fix her crooked nose, I want you to disfigure her entire face! Also, if she dares to go on any live broadcast or social media in the future, I want you to break both of her legs!"

The two people who were kneeling on the ground were completely startled when they heard this.

In fact, Marcus had been thinking about finding a plastic surgeon as soon as he returned home to remove these scars on his forehead. Moreover, he really had been thinking of growing his fringe a little longer so that he could cover his forehead with his fringe for the time being. Who would have known...

Charlie Wade wanted him to have the words 'pathetic jerk' engraved on his forehead for everyone to see for the rest of his life on this earth!

Moreover, the plastic face had also thought of logging into her social media account to delete the video that Albert had posted as soon as she could. After that, she would find a plastic surgeon to fix her broken nose so that she could look beautiful once again.

Unexpectedly, Charlie Wade was not only forbidding her from getting her nose fixed, but he was also prohibiting her from using any social media accounts or doing any future live broadcasts. How could she continue being an internet celebrity in the future? How was she going to continue lying to all her poor fans? How could she possibly hook up with any more rich second generations then?

Both of them continued crying and begging for mercy as they hoped that Charlie Wade would not shut down and destroy their future just like that.

Charlie Wade was completely unmoved and simply said to Albert, "Albert, remember what I have instructed you to do today. If anything goes wrong, I will definitely come looking for you!"

Albert straightened up his back before replying seriously, "Yes, Mr. Wade! You have nothing to worry about. I will make sure that I keep a close eye on these two in the future!"

After that, he ground his teeth before glaring at the two troublemakers and said coldly, "I want the both of you to remember what I am going to say now. I want both of you to come and check in with me every week from now on. If either of you dares to miss checking in with me for even just one week, I will issue a hunting order on you. At that time, every single one of my men in Aurouss Hillll will be hunting you down. Even if you try to escape to another province or city, I will make sure that I send my men there to hunt you down until they hack you to death! Do you understand?"

Chapter 425

At this time, Marcus and the plastic face were completely desperate and worried about their future.

Charlie Wade felt much more relieved after giving them their punishment. Then, he spoke to Don Albertt.

"These two people are really giving me a headache. Ask them to get lost now."

Albert quickly nodded his head before kicking Marcus and saying, "Aren't you going to get up and get lost now?"

Marcus quickly stood up and ignored the dirt on his body as he hurriedly prepared to escape with the plastic face.

Albert gave him another violent kick on his ass and Marcus fell to the ground again. After that, Albert said, "Listen up, both of you. I want you to come to my mansion in one week to report to me! If you do not appear in front of me, I will make sure to hack both of you to death!"

"Don Albertt, don't worry. We will definitely show up.."

Both of them quickly agreed before fleeing in panic, not even leaving a trace behind.

Then, Albert walked up to Charlie Wade before asking, "Mr. Wade, are you satisfied now?"

Charlie Wade turned around and looked at Claire Wilson and Loreen. When he saw the strange expressions on their faces, he asked them immediately, "Wife, Loreen, are both of you satisfied now?"

Claire Wilson hesitated for a moment before she said, "Charlie Wade, don't you think that it was a little cruel of you to treat them like that?"

At this time, Don Albertt hurriedly interjected. "Mrs. Wade, you don't know anything about that man. Marcus Lloyd is a b*stard. He loves to bully those who are poorer than him all the time! I cannot even keep track of how many poor people he has already bullied in his life. What's most annoying is what he did last year. He drank too much during winter one night because he was in a bad mood, and when he saw a homeless tramp who was sleeping by the roadside, he walked up to him and attacked him, killing him in the process. All the bad things he has done is truly horrifying!"

Claire Wilson exclaimed in shock as soon as she heard Albert's words. "Is that man really such a horrible person?"

Albert nodded before he continued, "He likes to bully the people who are poorer than him. The poorer anyone is, the more he would mistreat and bully that person!"

Loreen spoke up at this time and said, "Then I guess he really deserves it. Who gave him the right to bully the poor?! What a b*stard!"

Albert hurriedly replied, "Miss Loreen, you are right! It is only right for Mr. Wade to give this kind of punishment to someone like him."

Charlie Wade replied immediately, "Albert, stop praising me and putting me up on a pedestal already. You should go get busy with work now. I am going to go and enjoy the hot springs with my wife."

Albert hurriedly pointed his finger at the manager of the hot spring resorts before he said, "Mr. Wade, how do you want me to deal with this person, then? Should we just let him go or do you want me to engrave something on him too?"

Charlie Wade replied lightly, "He is nothing more than a dog working for others. Ask him to leave his job immediately and I do not want him to show his face in Aurouss Hilll ever again. If any of your men see him in Aurouss Hilll in the future, please do not hesitate to chop him up at once!"

The manager, Mr. Hicks, had been silent prior to this, but as soon as he heard Charlie Wade's instructions, he hurriedly shouted, "Don Albertt, don't you dare mess around like this! You know that the Champs Elys Spa Resort is the property of Shangri-La. You should know that Chairman Cameron will not let you off so easily!"

Mr. Hicks felt that Albert thought that he was very awesome because he had the Moore family backing him up, however, he felt that he could count on Chairman Cameron. After all, Chairman Cameron was the spokesperson for the Wade family, and the Wade family was definitely stronger and more powerful compared to the Moore family!

Albert sneered before replying, "Alright, then. Why don't you call Chairman Cameron and see if he will be able to protect you or not?"

"Alright!" Mr. Hicks heaved a sigh of relief before he took out his cell phone and called the chairman.

The phone call was connected very quickly.

Mr. Hicks hurriedly said, "Chairman Cameron, Don Albertt is causing trouble here! He carved the words 'pathetic jerk' on Marcus Lloyd's forehead with a knife and also broke Marcus's girlfriend's nose. Now, he is also trying to kick me out of Aurouss Hilll and wants to forbid me from ever coming back again. Chairman Cameron, you have to save me!"

Isaac asked in surprise, "What is going on over there? Can you pass the phone over to Don Albertt so that I can speak to him personally?"

Chapter 426

Mr. Hicks quickly handed his cell phone over to Albert before he said, "Don Albertt, Chairman Cameron is looking for you."

As soon as Albert picked up the cell phone, Isaac reprimanded him over the phone immediately, "Don Albertt, what is the matter with you? Who gave you the right to make trouble on my territory? Are you trying to go against me now? Aren't you being a little too arrogant?!"

At this time, Albert earnestly replied, "Chairman Cameron, I am not the one causing trouble here. In fact, Marcus was the one who offended Mr. Wade, and your manager, Mr. Hicks, was the one who wanted to help Marcus teach Mr. Wade a lesson! So, what do you think of this matter, then?"

Isaac blurted out immediately, "Mr. Wade? Are you talking about Mr. Charlie Wade Wade?"

"Of course I'm talking about him. Which other Mr. Wade would I be talking about?" Albert asked as he laughed.

Isaac was shocked!

Unexpectedly, a dog under his hand had just bitten its owner!

D*mn it!

Therefore, Isaac quickly said, "Albert, I want you to put the phone on speaker now!"

Albert immediately turned on the speaker of the cell phone, and at this time, all of them could hear Isaac's angry roar from the other end of the line. "Mr. Hicks, you b*stard! Are you really that short-sighted? How could you possibly afford to offend Mr. Wade?! Are you that sick of living in this world?"

Mr. Hicks was shocked when he heard Isaac's words and could not help but tremble in fright. "Chairman Cameron, I do not know this Mr. Wade nor who he is..."

Isaac continued scolding him through the phone, "You brought this upon yourself so don't blame me for not showing you any mercy."

Then, Isaac spoke to Albert again, "Don Albertt, what did Mr. Wade instruct you to do?"

Albert quickly replied, "Mr. Wade wanted me to dismiss and drive him out of Aurouss Hilll immediately! He also told me to give him a beating if I ever see him around Aurouss Hilll in the future!"

Isaac replied, "Alright, then. Don Albertt, can you also do me another favor?"

Albert hurriedly replied, "Yes, Chairman Cameron. Please give me your orders."

Isaac spoke coldly, "Please help me beat Mr. Hicks up until he is half-dead before you let him go!"

"Okay, sure!" Albert replied as he smiled before hanging up the phone.

By this time, Mr. Hicks was already sitting on the ground in fright. Just who was this young man? Why was Chairman Cameron also showing him so much respect?!

Mr. Hicks quickly crawled over to Charlie Wade and started kowtowing in front of him as he begged for mercy. "Mr. Wade, please let me go. I have been living in Aurouss Hilll ever since I was a young child. My parents, my relatives, and all of my friends are in Aurouss Hilll. If I cannot come back to Aurouss Hilll anymore, what is the point of me staying alive, then?"

Charlie Wade replied coldly, "As the manager of the Champs Elys Spa Resort, I believe that Chairman Cameron must have given you a lot of money as your salary. Including the bonus that you receive yearly, I would think that you make at least one or two million dollars a year. You could have led a very good and prosperous life in Aurouss Hilll with that sum of money. Instead, you chose to work for someone like Marcus and even ordered the security guards working for the Champs Elys Spa Resort to help Marcus beat up some of the other guests. You deserve what is happening to you right now!"

Then, Charlie Wade asked again, "Did you know that the security guards and all the employees, including you, are hired by the Champs Elys Spa Resort? The Champs Elys Spa Resort is the one giving you your salary so that you can help everyone and give each and every one of your guests the most excellent customer service so that they can enjoy their stay here. You should have treated each of your customers fairly, but instead, you chose to help someone like Marcus! You even helped him beat up the other guests. Was this truly the job that you have been instructed to do?"

Mr. Hicks cried out loud, "Mr. Wade, to tell you the truth, the only reason why I helped Marcus was because I knew that he had a little background. I wanted to befriend him, and that was the reason why I was confused for a moment as I was simply trying to please him and get into his good books..."

Charlie Wade sneered as he said, "Well, then, you will have to pay for your mistake!"

After that, Charlie Wade looked at Albert before he asked, "Albert, why aren't you taking action yet? What are you waiting for?"

Chapter 427

When Albert saw that Charlie Wade was already losing his patience, he hurriedly waved his hands and instructed his men, "Beat him up now!"

A group of strong men rushed forward immediately before surrounding Mr. Hicks, and they started punching and kicking him. They only stopped when he had already been beaten almost half dead.

Mr. Hicks lay on the ground as he cried out in pain. However, the worst had yet to come. At this time, Albert suddenly said coldly, "I will give you half a day to leave Aurouss Hilll. If I still see you loitering around Aurouss Hilll tomorrow, I will kill you with my bare hands!"

The dying Mr. Hicks coughed weakly before saying, "Don Albertt, please have mercy on me and give me two days of grace at least. Let me treat my injuries before I leave..."

"You can go to the next province to receive treatment instead!" Albert replied icily. "Call your family and ask them to hire an ambulance to take you away. Make sure that you stay away from Aurouss Hilll from now on! If you die, make sure that you die in another place! Moreover, you are also not allowed to come back to Aurouss Hilll for your burial ceremony! Otherwise, I will definitely dig up your grave and dispose of your ashes so that no one can pay their respects to you anymore!"

Mr. Hicks was so frightened that he could not help but to freeze in place as he lay on the ground for a long time.

This was just too cruel!

He would be better off dead!

He was not allowed to come back to Aurouss Hilll, and he could not even be buried in Aurouss Hilll after his death?!

Right then and there, Mr. Hicks really wanted to die.

However, he knew that he could only blame himself.

Isaac had placed him in charge of the Champs Elys Spa Resort because he wanted him to serve the customers well and make sure that every one of them was given the fair and right treatment. However, to make life better for himself, Mr. Hicks would always favor certain customers over the others. What was even worse was the fact that he actually instructed the security guards working for the Champs Elys Spa Resort to beat up other guests because of Marcus. This was a serious case of negligence on his behalf!

He even dared to provoke an honorable guest that even Chairman Cameron had to be so respectful toward. Charlie Wade was already being very gracious, and he was already showing him a lot of kindness by allowing him to live.

Therefore, Mr. Hicks could only tremble while he took out his cell phone as he cried and asked his family to help him hire an ambulance so that they could send him to the next city to receive treatment for his injuries immediately.

After he was done dealing with Mr. Hicks, Albert looked at Charlie Wade before he smiled and said, "Mr. Wade, do you want me to accompany you to get your check-in procedures done?"

Charlie Wade shook his head before saying, "Forget it. You should finish dealing with this matter. I can go in by myself."

Albert nodded quickly before he said, "Alright, then, we will not leave yet. Mr. Wade, you can call me anytime you need me."

Charlie Wade nodded before he looked at Claire Wilson Wilson and Loreen and said, "Let's go in first."

Loreen finally regained her senses at this time as she looked at Charlie Wade with eyes that were filled with unconcealed love and admiration.

This really gave everyone around him a sense of security.

As long as he was by her side, she felt very at ease. Loreen felt that she would not be afraid even if the sky was falling.

The Champs Elys Spa Resort was a Japanese-style private hot spring.

All the customers had a private suite. There was a yard covering an area of about one hundred square meters behind the suite, and the private hot spring was located in the yard.

The water in the hot spring was drawn from the underground hot spring, and it flowed into the hot spring pool continuously, twenty-four hours a day. Therefore, the temperature of the hot spring was always at a very suitable and optimum level.

When Isaac found out that Charlie Wade was here, he hurriedly arranged for his hotel staff to upgrade their rooms to the best of the top-notch suites, and they were assigned to two super large and luxurious bedrooms. Even the hot springs in their private suites were much larger compared to the other rooms! They also had a more pleasant and beautiful view of the scenery from their rooms.

As soon as they entered the room, Claire Wilson Wilson and Loreen were very happy as they looked at the environment and the scenery outside the room. Loreen hurriedly urged Claire Wilson Wilson and said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, hurry up and change into your swimsuit quickly! Let's jump into the hot spring to relieve our fatigue!"

"Okay!" Claire Wilson Wilson nodded and agreed immediately as she was also very happy.

Charlie Wade had originally thought that he would have the chance to see his beautiful wife changing into her swimsuit. Unexpectedly, both the girls went into the same room instead..

Chapter 428

When Charlie Wade saw this scene unfolding before him, he knew that only the two beautiful women could look at and appreciate one another. He felt that there was no hope for him anymore.

Therefore, Charlie Wade went into the other room and changed into the shorts that he had brought with him today.

Since Charlie Wade changed into his shorts relatively quickly, the two women had still not come out of their bedrooms after he came out of his room.

He then headed out into the courtyard first before slowly entering the huge hot spring pool.

Charlie Wade could not help but let out a huge sigh of relief as the warm water gradually covered his body.

After a short while, he heard the sounds of footsteps approaching him. Claire Wilson Wilson and Loreen had already changed into their swimsuits and were walking toward the yard at this time.

Charlie Wade raised his head to look at both of them and his eyes lit up immediately.

The swimsuit that Claire Wilson Wilson was wearing was slightly conservative, but it also outlined her perfect figure, her fair skin, and her long and slender legs. This made Charlie Wade's heart beat frantically.

Moreover, Loreen, who was seated next to her, was dressed in an even bolder manner. Even though Elaine Ma had prevented and refused to allow Claire Wilson Wilson to wear a bikini, Loreen was wearing a beautiful pink bikini at this time!

This particular bikini only covered the important parts of her body, whereas the rest of her body was in clear view. Therefore, anyone could clearly see her beautiful and perfect figure.

She was not inferior to Claire Wilson Wilson in terms of her body figure, and Loreen was actually incredibly beautiful too. However, since she was dressed in a bikini which was even bolder and skimpier than Claire Wilson Wilson's swimsuit, she really outshone Claire Wilson Wilson this time!

When Loreen saw the surprised and overwhelmed expression on Charlie Wade's face, she could not help but smile to herself. After that, she threw a gentle loving look at Charlie Wade before flashing a shy but charming smile at him.

When Charlie Wade saw her charming smile and the fiery look in Loreen's eyes, he could feel his heart throbbing uncontrollably.

However, he could only pretend not to notice it as he quickly withdrew his gaze out of fear that he would not be able to restrain himself. Moreover, he was also afraid that Claire Wilson Wilson would notice that something was amiss.

Both the women continued walking toward the hot spring as they swayed their waists naturally, and they looked like models with their perfect figures and beautiful faces. In Charlie Wade's eyes, this was truly the most wonderful bikini and underwear show he had ever seen in his life.

When both of them had finally reached the hot spring pool, they dipped their slender legs into the water before plunging into the water, one after the other.

Since this was the first time Claire Wilson Wilson was wearing a swimsuit in front of her husband, she was also feeling a little shy and embarrassed. Therefore, she grabbed Loreen's hand and they stayed about two to three meters away from Charlie Wade as they whispered amongst themselves, chatting about some topics that would only be relevant to girls.

However, Loreen's thoughts were clearly on Charlie Wade at this time.

As she was chatting with Claire Wilson Wilson, she would secretly glance at Charlie Wade from the corner of her eyes from time to time.

To prevent his wife from catching them in the act, Charlie Wade could only turn his back on them as he closed his eyes and rested in the hot spring.

The two women continued chatting for a short while, but since the warm water in the hot spring made their body feel so relaxed, they could not help but feel sleepy at this time.

Furthermore, Claire Wilson Wilson had been feeling exceptionally exhausted recently. She had been dealing with a lot of issues, and since her company had just been opened, she had been busy hustling, and it was only reasonable for her to feel so exhausted.

Claire Wilson Wilson could not help but feel unprecedented tiredness as she was surrounded by the warm spring water, and shortly, she felt remarkably sleepy.

Ten minutes later, Claire Wilson Wilson was already leaning against the hot spring pool with a towel against her face as she fell fast asleep.

Charlie Wade had also closed his eyes to rest his mind at this time. However, he suddenly felt the water around him surging. When he opened his eyes slowly, he saw that Loreen had already swum over to him, and her fair and tender body was already by his side.

Charlie Wade opened his mouth to say something, but before he could speak, Loreen stretched out her finger and placed it on his lips gently. After that, she said in a low voice, "Claire Wilson Wilson has already fallen asleep. Don't wake her up."

Charlie Wade glanced at Claire Wilson Wilson to make sure that she was truly asleep. After that, he breathed a huge sigh of relief before he said, "We should not be so close to one another, especially not in front of Claire Wilson Wilson!"

"Claire Wilson Wilson is already fast asleep!" Loreen laughed before she continued, "Moreover, I just wanted to come over to thank you for what happened just now. You're the one who saved me again..."

Charlie Wade had a calm expression on his face as he faced Loreen's sudden confession. He merely replied, "We just happened to meet a few scumbags, and that is why I decided to teach them a lesson. Don't take it to heart."

Loreen replied seriously, "No matter what it is, I would really like to thank you!"

After that, Loreen sat down beside Charlie Wade and quickly stretched out her hands as she hugged him in her arms.

Both of them were wearing very little clothes, and Charlie Wade could instantly feel Loreen's smooth and tender skin rubbing against him.

Charlie Wade's body tightened immediately and he quickly said, "Loreen, don't do this. I don't want Claire Wilson Wilson to see us acting like this."

Loreen chuckled before she asked, "Does that mean I can hug you and do whatever I want if Claire Wilson Wilson cannot see us?"

"That's not what I mean..." Charlie Wade replied helplessly.

Loreen hugged him a little tighter before she said stubbornly, "I want to hug you, and it would be best if Claire Wilson Wilson could see us acting like this now. After that, both of you can file for a divorce so that you can finally be with me instead!"

At this time, Charlie Wade had a righteous expression on his face as he said, "How can you say something like that? You are Claire Wilson Wilson's best friend!"

Loreen replied seriously, "I know that you and Claire Wilson Wilson did not get married for love! Claire Wilson Wilson only married you because her grandfather insisted on doing things his way. That was the only reason she agreed to marry you. I also know that both of you do not have a substantial relationship and have not even consummate your marriage, so how could you possibly call yourselves husband and wife?"

As she spoke about this, Loreen suddenly became very emotional. "Since both of you have no feelings for each other and since your marriage is just all for show, why don't both of you just let each other go and set yourselves free? Seize the opportunity to get a divorce so that you can find your one true love instead! Isn't that better for everyone else? The both of you will not be wasting each other's time, then!"

Charlie Wade waved his hand before he said, "You do not understand my feelings for Claire Wilson Wilson at all."

Loreen asked, "Then, do you understand my feelings for you?"

Charlie Wade nodded before he replied seriously, "I understand how you feel about me, but I am afraid that I cannot accept your feelings for me. I'm sorry."

"Why?!" Loreen asked aggrievedly. "Why would you rather hold on to a loveless marriage instead of pursuing your true love?"

At this time, Charlie Wade replied, "I have already made it very clear to you last time. The both of us are not suitable for one another at all. Even if I really end up divorcing Claire Wilson Wilson one day, both of us will never get together. What's more, I do not have the slightest intention of divorcing Claire Wilson Wilson. Therefore, I feel that it is totally meaningless for you to continue wasting your time on me."

Loreen snorted before she replied softly, "I am willing to waste my time on you! I am in love with you!"

Charlie Wade could only reply helplessly, "You are just being stupid. Instead of wasting your time on someone like me, wouldn't it be better for you to find a single man who has not been married and has no girlfriend yet so that you can start a serious relationship instead?"

Loreen's big and sparkling eyes were filled with tears as she choked and sobbed, "Charlie Wade, my heart already belongs to you. I have already fallen in love with you ever since you saved me the first time. After experiencing and going through so many ordeals with you, I am already hopelessly in love with you..."

Then, Loreen blushed as she said, "I even dreamt of you last night..."

"You dreamt about me?" Charlie Wade asked in surprise. "What did you dream about me?"

Loreen replied, "I dreamt that both of us went back to Thomas' family mansion together and got married there. And then..."

"And then what?" Charlie Wade asked again.

Loreen blushed even more as she replied, "Then, I gave you a fat baby boy..."

Charlie Wade curled his lips before he said, "Did you know that dreams are always a reverse of reality?"

Loreen replied immediately, "I wouldn't mind giving you a beautiful daughter too. I would like that as well."

Charlie Wade really had a headache as he saw the serious expression on Loreen's face.

Finally, Charlie Wade emphasized once again, "Loreen, we really can't be together... you don't understand me at all..."

Loreen had a dull expression on her face as she said, "Even if I really do not understand you, I can slowly get to know you better. It doesn't even matter to me if you choose not to divorce Claire Wilson Wilson as long as I can secretly love you and be by your side. Even if I had to secretly love you for a lifetime, I am more than willing to do so..."

Chapter 430

Charlie Wade was completely at a loss for words at this time. What did Loreen mean? Was she willing to become his mistress and underground lover just because of him?

Still, how could he possibly agree to this kind of request?

First of all, his feelings for Claire Wilson Wilson were real, and he was really sincere toward her. Even though Claire Wilson Wilson had been initially dissatisfied with her grandfather's arrangement, she finally agreed to marry Charlie Wade although her whole family was laughing and ridiculing her for her decision. Of course, Claire Wilson Wilson had never looked down on him before.

Furthermore, when the auntie who had taken care of him in the orphanage fell ill, Claire Wilson Wilson was the one who lent him the money so that he could pay for her medical expenses. Charlie Wade would never be able to forget Claire Wilson Wilson's kindness.

So, how could he possibly agree to let Loreen become his lover?

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson, who was fast asleep, suddenly moved a little.

Charlie Wade was startled and quickly pushed Loreen out of his arms.

Loreen glanced at Claire Wilson Wilson, and when she saw that Claire Wilson Wilson was not fully awake yet, she immediately moved her face forward and kissed Charlie Wade gently, her lips touching his lips delicately for a split second.

Before Charlie Wade could regain his senses, Loreen was already blushing as she slowly swam away from him.

Charlie Wade could not say anything about the sudden kiss because he saw that Claire Wilson Wilson was about to wake up.

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson stretched her body a little as she slowly opened her eyes and said, "Oh! It's so comfortable to soak in the hot spring! I've been feeling so tired lately, but now, I feel as though all of my exhaustion has been relieved at once!"

Then, Claire Wilson Wilson turned around to look at Loreen and was surprised to see that the latter's face was flushed red. "Loreen, the spring water is not that hot, so why is your face so red?"

Loreen rubbed her cheeks in embarrassment before she smiled and said, "Yes, the spring water is not hot, but the point is, there is such a beautiful woman lying beside me at this time. How could I possibly not feel hot when I look at you?"

As she spoke, Loreen stretched out her hand to poke Claire Wilson Wilson.

Claire Wilson Wilson quickly avoided her hand and Loreen rushed toward her immediately. Claire Wilson Wilson then splashed some water on Loreen, and both of them continued fighting and having fun in the hot spring pool.

Loreen had a plumper figure, and Charlie Wade felt dizzy as he watched her large movements in the water. Moreover, Claire Wilson Wilson was also not inferior to Loreen. He felt that this was indeed a very beautiful scene to watch.

Charlie Wade could feel the heat rushing through his body at this time. To calm his mind, Charlie Wade plunged into the water as he submerged his head underneath the water so that he did not have to continue looking at the girls.

When Loreen saw this, she deliberately teased him, "Hey, Charlie Wade! Why are you submerging your head in the water? Aren't you afraid that you will drown?"

Charlie Wade spat out a bunch of water bubbles before raising his head and saying, "Um, I'm already done soaking in the hot spring pool. Both of you can continue soaking here, and I will go and get you some drinks."

Claire Wilson Wilson hurriedly replied, "Okay, Charlie Wade. I'm also feeling a little thirsty now. Please get me a glass of iced Coke!"

Charlie Wade nodded. "Okay!"

Loreen also replied, "Then, I want an iced Sprite!"

"Okay." Charlie Wade got up quickly before he escaped from the hot spring pool.

There were two beautiful women next to him. One of them was his wife, and the other was the woman who was willing to become his lover. Both of them were so scantily clad at this time. If he continued staying inside the hot spring pool, he was afraid that he would really lose control of himself.

Moreover, Claire Wilson Wilson currently had no intention for them to consummate their marriage at all.

Even though Loreen was deeply in love with him, he was already someone else's husband, so Charlie Wade naturally could not do anything with her.

Therefore, Charlie Wade felt very frustrated because he could only look at these two beautiful and amazing women but could not touch them at all.

This was really very frustrating, and it made him feel utterly miserable!

Chapter 431

As Charlie Wade, his wife, and Loreen were bathing in the hot spring pool, Marcus, who had had the words 'pathetic jerk' engraved on his forehead and his plastic girlfriend who now had a crooked nose had hitched a ride in a dilapidated van back to the city.

At this time, Marcus, who was sitting inside the van, kept his bloodied forehead covered out of fear that the van driver would see the words engraved on his forehead.

Both of them had stopped the van on the way out of the Champs Elys Spa Resort. They had negotiated with the van driver and come to an agreement that the van driver would send both of them home for two hundred dollars. Right now, all Marcus wanted was to get home as soon as possible. He did not want any more trouble!

However, the van driver could see the blood that was oozing out of Marcus's forehead from the rearview mirror.

After observing him for a long time, he could not help but ask in surprise, "Young man, are you hurt?"

Marcus replied angrily, "This has nothing to do with you! Just continue driving safely and stop asking me so much nonsense!"

The driver felt a little unhappy at this and said, "Do you honestly think that I am worried about you?! I am only asking you because it seems as though your forehead is bleeding continuously! I don't want you to stain my car seats with your blood!"

As soon as Marcus heard the van driver's words, he exploded and burst out immediately, "D*mn it, you pathetic jerk! Your van is worth only about forty to fifty thousand dollars at most! Are you really afraid that I will dirty your pathetic van? You are ridiculous!"

Marcus was already used to using his catchphrase, 'pathetic jerk', and it seemed as though he would not be able to kick this habit even if he had the words 'pathetic jerk' engraved on his forehead. This was the reason why it was commonly known that it would be easy to reform a country, but it would be almost impossible to change a human's nature!

The van driver never expected to be scolded by a person who was hitching a ride in his van. Therefore, he lost his temper and he blurted out immediately, "Are you seriously uneducated?! How can you possibly use such foul language!"

Marcus was so annoyed at this time that he felt as though he wanted to die. When he saw the angry expression on the van driver's face, he burst out recklessly, "D*mn it! Don't you admit that you are just a pathetic jerk? Who the f*ck do you think you are to talk to me in this manner? Do you believe that I can get someone to take your pathetic life with just a single phone call?! No one would call about a pathetic jerk like you even if you were to die today!"

The van driver was really very angry when he heard Marcus's words. At this time, he was driving through an intersection in the city center when he saw a traffic police car parked on the corner of the intersection as there were police officers on duty. The van driver quickly drove toward the police car before he stepped out of the van and said, "Officer, there is a person who is hitching a ride in my van, and he just threatened to kill me. I suspect that he might be carrying some weapons on his body. This is a serious threat to my safety!"

When the police officers heard this, they quickly stepped out of their car and surrounded the van. After opening the back door, they shouted at Marcus and the plastic face who was sitting inside the van. "Put your hands up over your head and get out of the van immediately!"

Marcus then realized that he was in trouble.

This was the downtown area!

If he had to put his hands over his head to step out of the van, wouldn't it be absolutely impossible for him to hide the fact that he had the words 'pathetic jerk' engraved on his forehead?

Therefore, he made up his mind that he would never step out of the van, dead or alive!

Marcus then said to the police officer, "What are you doing? I'm just hitching a ride home, so how am I bothering you in any way? Can you hurry up and ask the van driver to come back and drive me home right now? Otherwise, I will not let him off!"

When the police officers saw how arrogant and domineering Marcus was, they knew that he was definitely not a good man. Furthermore, the police officers could see Marcus covering his forehead and the blood that was constantly oozing out of it. Thus, they could only assume that he had just participated in an aggressive fight involving weapons. This kind of person typically had a criminal record, and most of them were fugitives. The police officers felt that if they were lucky, they would be able to catch one of the fugitives today!

The police officers exchanged glances with one another before one of them took out the pepper spray that was used by police officers for law enforcement purposes. After that, they said to Marcus, "I am giving you one last warning. Put your hands over your head and step out of the van for inspection purposes now. Otherwise, we have no choice but to deal with you in accordance with the law!"

Marcus was extremely annoyed and blurted out, "D*mn it! I know the captain of your team, Officer Wiles! He is a good friend of my dad. If you are not convinced, you can call him immediately and ask if he knows Marcus, the son of the owner of the Lloyd Group!"

The police officer sneered before he said, "The son of the Lloyd Group? You are really good at bragging! You are already hitching a ride in a van, and yet, you dare to say that you are the son of the Lloyd Group?"

Are you telling me that the Lloyd Group cannot afford to give you a car and you have to hitch a ride in someone else's van?"

Marcus really hated it when anyone doubted his identity and status. Moreover, he hated it whenever anyone tried to talk back to him or taunt him. When he saw the police officers ridiculing him, he yelled immediately, "D*mn it! You are just a bunch of pathetic jerks, but you actually dare to doubt my identity? Do you believe that I am going to call your captain right now?"

Chapter 432

The police officer replied coldly, "Okay, then. You are insulting a law enforcement officer now! That means that you are blatantly resisting the law! Don't blame us for taking actions against you, then!"

As soon as he had finished talking, the police officer took out his pepper spray and aimed it directly at Marcus's face before spraying it on the latter's face.

Marcus could feel the burning pain in his eyes at this time, and he subconsciously reached out his hand to rub his eyes, completely forgetting that as soon as he removed his hands, the two bloodied words that were engraved on his forehead would be instantly exposed.

"Oh, my God..." One of the police officers exclaimed out loud. "Just look at him! He has some words engraved on his forehead!"

"What kind of tattoo is that? That's really very hardcore!"

"Hahaha! It's no wonder why this young kid likes to call other people a pathetic jerk. It is simply because he has the words 'pathetic jerk' engraved on his forehead!"

When Marcus heard this, he hurriedly raised his hands in an attempt to cover his forehead. However, amidst all this commotion, his eyes were so swollen and painful that he did not notice the few police officers reaching out to him.

Immediately afterward, Marcus was dragged out of the car before the police officers pressed him to the ground.

The police officer immediately placed his hands behind his back before they handcuffed him. This way, he would not be able to try to escape, and there would be no way he could possibly cover the words 'pathetic jerk' that were engraved on his forehead.

The police officers then took Marcus and the plastic face to the side of the road before telling them to squat down there. After that, he made a phone call back to the police station to ask them to arrange for a team to come over and bring them back to the police station for further investigation.

As it so happened, this was the most crowded intersection in the city center!

Almost everyone passing by could see the young man with red, swollen eyes squatting down by the side of the road. However, what was most frightening was not the fact that his eyes were red and swollen because of the pepper spray. What stood out the most was the two huge words that were carved on his forehead: 'pathetic jerk'...

Many people took out their cell phones to take pictures of him, and Marcus could not help but feel very embarrassed. He jumped around on the spot as he tried to turn around so that he could have his back facing the people and he would not be facing the passersby.

However, the police officer stopped him and held him in place before saying coldly, "Don't move. Don't you like to call everyone a pathetic jerk? Well, we are giving you the opportunity to exhibit these words to the public and citizens here!"

Marcus wanted to die on the spot...

If he knew that things would turn out like this, he would not have offended the van driver in the first place. If he had simply tolerated and controlled his temper, he would have been home by now.

Just then, an old BMW suddenly parked at the side of the road. A young man stepped out of the car before he approached Marcus and said, "Mrr.. Lloyd, what is going on here? Ouch! What happened to you? Who carved those words on your forehead?"

Marcus had been desperately trying to hide his face as he kept his head lowered, but he suddenly heard someone referring to him as 'Mrr.. Lloyd'. He truly wanted to die at this time. The last thing he wanted right now was for someone to recognize him, but someone just had to recognize him now...

He was so mad and furious that he felt as though he could kill someone!

He raised his head to look up at the young man who looked a little familiar to him, and he asked him immediately, "Who the hell are you?"

The man hurriedly explained, "I am Harold! Harold from the Wilson family. We enjoyed a meal together before this with the young lord of the White family, Gerald. Don't you remember me?"

Marcus ground his teeth and looked up at Harold before he spat a mouthful of bloody sputum at him and cursed, "F*ck you! You are just someone from the lowly Wilson family and you actually dare to come over here to insult me? Are you seeking your death?"

Chapter 433

Harold was also slowly losing his temper.

What the hell was this?

He had seen Marcus being handcuffed at the side of the road by the police officers. That was the reason why he decided to come over to say hello to him. However, he did not expect this guy to actually curse at him and spit at his face instead. This was f*cking disgusting!

Harold said angrily, "Mrr.. Lloyd, you are too much! I just came over to ask you about the situation out of concern since we are friends. So, how can you treat me like this?!"

Marcus yelled immediately, "Who the f*ck do you think you are? Do you really think that a poor man like you is actually worthy enough to become my friend?! You are nothing more than a pathetic jerk in my eyes! Are you trying to butter up to me so that you can get closer to me? Get lost!"

"I..." Harold felt seriously wronged.

However, he did not dare to go against Marcus at all. After all, Harold knew very well that the Lloyd family was countless times more powerful and stronger compared to the Wilson family, who was already on the verge of bankruptcy. Harold knew that things would not end well if he offended Marcus in any way.

Therefore, he could only use his sleeves to wipe the spit off his face before he said, "Sorry for offending you, Mrr.. Lloyd."

After that, he turned around and walked back toward his car before he drove away immediately.

Harold felt very angry and bitter.

Who the heck did Marcus think he was?!

This was so maddening!

At the same time, Marcus was also feeling very terrible.

He could not help but sigh at his unfortunate fate. He was planning to go home in a low-key manner, but who would have known that he would turn out to be an exhibition piece at the busiest intersection in the city center instead?

Many people took pictures of him with their cell phones, and some of them even posted those pictures on their social media account. There were even people who gave him the nickname 'Aurouss Hilll's No. 1 Pathetic Jerk'.

In no time, Marcus's deed had quickly spread throughout Aurouss Hilll.

It was a very tormenting night for Charlie Wade at the Champs Elys Spa Resort.

He had initially been planning to share a bed with his wife, Claire Wilson Wilson.

Alas, Loreen had insisted on sharing a room with Claire Wilson Wilson, saying that it would be a great opportunity for them to spend time together as best friends. Charlie Wade did not know whether Loreen was deliberately doing this or whether it was completely unintentional.

Whatever it was, Charlie Wade could only sleep alone in the other room.

The next day, Charlie Wade was already prepared to check out and return to the city after waking up. However, the two women were still reluctant to leave, and they decided to soak in the hot spring pool for the whole morning before finally checking out reluctantly.

After bathing in the hot spring pool, both women looked especially radiant and beautiful.

Isaac himself came in to handle their checkout for them after their stay.

He also apologized to Charlie Wade and Claire Wilson Wilson again and again before warning all the employees on the spot that he would fire them if he found out that any of them was treating each customer differently or favoring one customer over the other.

The entire workforce at the Champs Elys Spa Resort finally realized the importance of serving every customer in a fair manner.

After that, Isaac also took the opportunity to walk Charlie Wade and the other two women to the entrance.

Isaac was initially planning to walk Charlie Wade all the way to the carpark, but Charlie Wade gave him a subtle look before he said, "We will head to the carpark to pick up our car before going back to the city directly. Mr. Cameron, you don't need to walk us there."

Isaac got the hint immediately and knew that Charlie Wade did not want him to follow them around anymore. Therefore, he quickly said respectfully, "Alright then, Mr. Wade. Have a safe journey home."

After stepping out of the Champs Elys Spa Resort, Loreen stretched her waist enchantingly before she said, "Ahh! It was truly very comfortable to soak in the hot spring pool. Claire Wilson Wilson, if it's fine with you, wouldn't it be really nice for us to be able to stay for a few more nights before returning to the city?"

Claire Wilson Wilson could only smile as she replied, "My company has just opened and there are so many things that I need to do. How could I possibly extend my stay here for a few more days?"

Chapter 434

At this time, Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly asked, "Don't you have to go back to work?"

Loreen stuck out her tongue before she said, "Well, my job was originally to run around outside. Moreover, I have never met the chairman of Emgrand Group before ever since I started working there. Therefore, he has no way to control me at all. In a way, I am actually an unsupervised employee. So, I guess it is okay for me to skip work occasionally."

After that, Loreen spoke up once again. "Since both of you have something on, I will send you home first."

Upon arriving at the carpark, Charlie Wade realized that Don Albertt was standing next to Loreen's car. Moreover, the spot where Loreen's car had been badly scratched yesterday had also been repaired.

When Albert saw them walking toward the car, he immediately greeted Charlie Wade respectfully. "Mr. Wade, did you have fun?"

"Not bad." Charlie Wade looked at the rear of the car for a few moments, and when he realized that it was looking as good as new, he knew that Albert had already arranged for it to be repaired. "You did very well."

Albert hurriedly said, "Mr. Wade, I happened to know someone working at a nearby auto repair shop. Therefore, I asked some of the workers to come over with some tools to repair the car. Are you going home now? Do you need me to send a few people to escort you home?"

Charlie Wade waved his hand quickly as he turned down Albert's proposal. "No, you can get busy with your own things now. We can go back on our own."

"Alright then, Mr. Wade. Please do not hesitate to call me anytime if you need anything else," Albert replied as he arched his hands and bowed respectfully before he left with his men.

Claire Wilson Wilson could not help but shake her head helplessly as she stared at this scene. After that, she said to Charlie Wade, "I truly do not know what is up with these people and why are they treating you so respectfully."

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Can't it be just because I have my own abilities?"

Claire Wilson Wilson gave him a blank look before she replied, "Do you mean your Feng Shui mastery skills? The more they believe in you now, the more vicious the revenge they are going to exact on you when they find out that they have been fooled by you in the future! You should really be more careful."

Charlie Wade simply smiled without arguing with Claire Wilson Wilson.

After that, the three of them got into the car before heading back to the city.

On the journey back, as Loreen was driving, she suddenly asked, "Claire Wilson Wilson, are both of you going home, or are you headed elsewhere?"

"We're going home," Claire Wilson Wilson replied immediately. "You should also go home and rest so that you will be fully re-energized for work on Monday!"

Loreen nodded before she said, "Alright, then. I will send both of you home before I head back to the hotel."

Claire Wilson Wilson was surprised by this and asked Loreen, "Are you still staying at the hotel?"

Loreen hummed as she said, "Where else would I be living if not at the hotel? I have been living at Shangri-La all this time."

Claire Wilson Wilson asked again, "Isn't it very lonely for you to be living at the hotel all by yourself? Why don't you buy a house in Aurouss Hilll instead?"

Loreen smiled bitterly before she replied, "It's more troublesome and even lonelier for me to buy a house here. It's much better for me to live at the hotel. After all, there is someone to clean up my room every day and I can also call for room service and food delivery whenever I feel like eating. Moreover, I can even get someone to do my laundry for me and send it up to my room when it's dried and ironed!"

For people like Loreen who came from a rich family, they often relied on spending money to save time and effort.

Claire Wilson Wilson continued asking, "Then, what is going on with your family? Has your cousin been targeting you lately?"

"Not anymore," Loreen replied immediately. "However, I have already filed a lawsuit with my family, but they said that there is insufficient evidence, and they cannot be sure that everything that I said is true. Nevertheless, my cousin seems to have stopped trying to do anything funny and I have a feeling that he won't dare to do anything to me anymore."

As she said that, Loreen looked at Charlie Wade who was sitting in the backseat through the rearview mirror and made a 'thank you' gesture at him.

She knew very well that Charlie Wade was the one who had warned those in the Thomas family who were targeting her at that time. This was the reason why they had been so restrained lately.

Therefore, Loreen really could not keep count of the number of times that Charlie Wade had already saved her.

Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly felt very distressed for Loreen. Her best friend had come to Aurouss Hilll to work and yet, she could only live in a hotel by herself all this while. Moreover, she was also betrayed, targeted, and hunted down by her own family..

As she thought about this, Claire Wilson Wilson suddenly said to Loreen, "Loreen, the White family gave Charlie Wade a villa at Thompson First. When the renovation for the villa is completed, you can move in and live with us!"

"Really?" Loreen asked as she was very excited at this point.

Claire Wilson Wilson smiled before she replied, "Of course! You're my best friend, Loreen, so why would I possibly lie to you?"

Chapter 435

Very soon, the pair of best friends, Claire Wilson Wilson and Loreen, had made a pact to live together in the villa at Thompson First in the future.

Both the women were very happy at this time, but Charlie Wade was a little depressed.

Claire Wilson Wilson was indeed a very innocent person. She did not even realize that Loreen had always been trying to get closer to her husband!

Claire Wilson Wilson even invited Loreen to move into their villa to live with them. His silly wife! She was inviting and leading a wolf directly into their room!

However, Charlie Wade could not explicitly refuse this kind of thing. Moreover, he did not have a solid reason to refuse.

Therefore, even if he was dissatisfied, he could only hide his feelings for the time being.

On the other hand, Loreen was extremely ecstatic.

If she could truly move into the villa with them, she could spend time with Charlie Wade day and night! In that case, the possibility of her getting together with Charlie Wade was much greater!

After a short while, they finally arrived in front of their house. After bidding farewell to Loreen, Claire Wilson Wilson and Charlie Wade got out of the car as they got ready to step into the house.

Just then, an old man saw both of them getting out of the car, and he hurriedly walked over to meet them.

Charlie Wade could tell that it was Anthony at a single glance.

Claire Wilson Wilson was very excited when she saw Anthony, and she greeted him before she said respectfully, "Dr. Simmons, why are you here? I have not had the opportunity to thank you properly for saving my father the last time."

Anthony hurriedly waved his hand before he said, "Mrs. Wade, you don't have to be so polite. You are most welcome. I do not dare to take all the credit for everything that happened last time. The reason why I am here today is because there is something that I have to discuss with Mr. Wade."

"Why don't you come into the house and talk instead? My father has a good tea collection, and since you are here, he will surely be more than happy to take it out to entertain you," Claire Wilson Wilson said as she tried to invite Anthony into the house.

However, Anthony smiled before he politely declined her invitation. "I just have a few words that I want to say to Mr. Wade, so I do not want to bother you or your father today."

When Charlie Wade heard the polite exchange of words between the both of them, he knew that it would never end. Therefore, he interjected them immediately as he said, "Claire Wilson Wilson, why don't you go into the house first? I will just talk to Dr. Simmons for a short while."

Following that, Claire Wilson Wilson quickly replied, "Alright then, make sure that you give Dr. Simmons the best treatment that you can."

Claire Wilson Wilson turned around to go into the house only after Charlie Wade had nodded in agreement.

After Claire Wilson Wilson had left, Anthony bowed respectfully to Charlie Wade before he said, "Mr. Wade, I am looking for you because there is something that I have to report to you."

Charlie Wade nodded and said, "Please go ahead and speak."

Anthony hurriedly replied, "There will be a Chinese Medicine Expo in Aurouss Hill tomorrow, and I heard that there will be a three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng to be auctioned off. The whole Chinese medical profession is extremely shaken by this news because it is really rare for such a medicine to be auctioned off at an expo like this. Therefore, I would like to ask you if you would like to go and have a look at it with me tomorrow."

"A three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng?"

Charlie Wade could not help but think to himself for a moment.

According to the records in the , the purple ginseng was indeed a very rare and good herb. Moreover, a three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng was a very rare and precious medicinal material!

If he could lay his hands on this rare treasure, he would be able to refine some very powerful pills, such as the rejuvenation pill that could even bring the dead to life!

As he thought about this, Charlie Wade nodded before he promised, "Alright, then. I will go and take a look with you."

Anthony hurriedly replied, "Okay, Mr. Wade. I will go and sort out the invitation letter immediately. I will come and pick you up in the morning tomorrow."

"Alright. It's a date."

"Then, I will take my leave first," Anthony said as he bowed respectfully.

"Please go ahead." Charlie Wade nodded before he turned around and walked into his house.

Chapter 436

Early the next morning, Anthony came over to pick Charlie Wade up so that they could head to the Chinese Medicine Expo.

Charlie Wade did not expect that the Chinese Medicine Expo would also be held at the Aurouss Hill Exhibition and Convention Center that was owned by the Grant family.

The last time that he was here, Jason had been very arrogant in front of him. However, at this point, Jason and his father, Justin, had already been turned into ashes, and there were completely no traces of them in this world anymore.

This corresponded with the phrase 'Her face is gone now, where to unknown, yet; peach-bloom beams on a spring winds flow'.

As soon as Charlie Wade stepped into the exhibition and convention center, he looked around the building and realized that there were missing person's notices of Jason and Justin on the walls.

The Grant family had already increased the cash reward to thirty million dollars, but there was still no news of the father and son's whereabouts at all.

No matter what it was, these efforts were destined to be futile.

When Charlie Wade and Anthony walked into the hall, they saw Graham and Aurora immediately.

The Quinton family engaged in all kinds of business involving medicinal herbs and materials. Therefore, they were also one of the exhibitors at the Chinese Medicine Expo and had to come early in the morning to prepare for the exhibition.

As soon as Graham saw Charlie Wade, he stepped forward excitedly before he bowed and said respectfully, "Mr. Wade, you're here!"

Aurora seemed to be a little worried, and she looked extremely haggard at this time.

However, as soon as she saw Charlie Wade, she was in a much better mood and walked up to him shyly before she bowed respectfully. Then, she smiled before she greeted him, "Hello, Mr. Wade."

Charlie Wade nodded slightly, and after staring at Aurora for a moment, he knew that she was hiding something. However, since she did not want to say anything, he did not want to pry into her personal matters. Therefore, he simply said, "Aurora, you do not look very well. You should rest more."

Aurora blushed as soon as she heard Charlie Wade's words because she truly did not expect Charlie Wade to worry or show any concern for her at all. Moreover, this was the first time he had expressed concern for herself. Aurora could not help but feel very happy, and she could only nod repeatedly.

At this time, Graham also said respectfully, "Mr. Wade, are you here for the three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng?"

Charlie Wade nodded before he asked, "Do you have any inside news about it?"

Graham smiled before he said, "This three-hundred-year-old super high-quality purple ginseng has been acquired by a medicinal herb company near the mountains in the Northeast. I heard that the starting price for the auction this time is five million dollars. In fact, five million dollars is not a very high price because purple ginseng is actually worth a lot of money. It is estimated that the final bid will definitely end up being more than thirty million dollars in the end since the price-performance ratio would not be too high."

Charlie Wade nodded in acknowledgment.

High-quality purple ginseng was of little use to any ordinary people or Chinese doctors.

The purple ginseng, Ganoderma Lucidum, or also known as the Cordyceps Sinensis, were all precious and rare medicinal herbs that would basically have little to no use at all if they were eaten directly. They would have the effect of strengthening the body, but they would not have the ability to cure any diseases at all.

Therefore, if someone wanted to exert a good medicinal herb to its maximum effect and potential, it would have to depend on the combination of the prescription and the person's ability to refine and concoct the medicine.

The prescription was, in fact, the most important thing. The same ten medicinal materials used to form a prescription could either cure a disease or kill a person.

After all, the fundamental importance lies in the different proportions of the ten different medicinal herbs. Simply put, a difference in the proportions of the medicinal herbs could produce such a big gap and difference, what more if there were several different medicinal herbs in the prescription itself?

Aside from a good prescription, the ability to refine good medicinal herbs into a good medicine was also very important.

If someone did not have enough ability to refine or concoct a good medicine, even the most powerful medicine would become an ordinary one.

If the person had a very strong ability, then even an ordinary medicine could turn out to be an extraordinary one.

Moreover, if a person was excellent in all the various aspects, an extraordinary medicine with ten points could turn out to be a miracle pill worth a hundred points.

Charlie Wade was the kind of person who could turn an extraordinary medicine into a miracle pill.

Coupled with his secret prescriptions, he would be able to concoct and produce really rare and magical medicines.

Therefore, the purple ginseng would prove to be very useful to him, and it would not make much sense if it ended up in someone else's hands.

If Charlie Wade could get his hands on the purple ginseng, he would be able to refine and concoct a medicine that was even better than the pill he had given to each of them the last time!

Chapter 437

At this time, Charlie Wade suddenly heard several familiar voices behind him.

One man suddenly said, "Chairman Wilson, don't worry. As long as we can get our hands on the three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng, we will have all the medicinal herbs that we need for our new prescription to be completed! By then, we will definitely be able to cure your disease! Everything will be as good as new, then!"

The man who had just spoken was none other than Jeffrey from the Weaver family.

He was also the same man who had been forced to lick the urinal just a few days ago.

At this time, Kenneth from the Wilson family in Eastcliff said, "Oh, I really have to thank you in advance then, Brother Jeffrey! When my illness is cured, I will definitely strengthen all the collaborations with the Weaver family! When that happens, my family and I will definitely give and provide all the resources that the Weaver family needs in the future. I assure you that our strong alliance will definitely last a lifetime!"

Jeffrey was very excited when he heard this, and he replied, "Then, I will also have to thank you in advance, Chairman Wilson! Hahaha!"

Charlie Wade turned around and saw that it was none other than Jeffrey and Kenneth who were walking towards him at this time.

Moreover, Wendy was also accompanying the both of them.

Right now, Wendy no longer had the embarrassed and humiliated look that she had when she had been forced to lick the urinals the other day. She held a limited edition Hermes bag in one hand as she held onto Jeffrey's arm with her other hand. Currently, she had a very arrogant look on her face, almost as though she was a socialite from the upper-class family.

There was a man following behind them, and he somewhat resembled Jeffrey. Charlie Wade did not know this guy as he had never seen him before. This person was none other than Liam, Jeffrey's half-brother, the illegitimate child who had always been dismissed by the Weaver family.

As soon as Charlie Wade saw them, the few people also noticed Charlie Wade standing in front of them.

Kenneth, Jeffrey, and Wendy all had a deep hatred of Charlie Wade, and all three of them hated him to the core. As soon as they saw him, they were suddenly filled with anger, and they really felt like tearing him apart right then and there.

Jeffrey was even more angry and frustrated when he saw Charlie Wade. He felt as though he could feel the extremely disgusting taste and smell of the urinals in his mouth as soon as he saw Charlie Wade.

Wendy too could not help but feel like retching as she thought about what had happened a few days ago. Even after so many days had passed, she still could not taste anything with her tongue, and she felt as though there was a stinky lingering taste on her tongue. All of this was all because of Charlie Wade!

As soon as they saw Charlie Wade, Kenneth, who had the strongest background and was the most powerful amongst the three of them, took the lead to speak. He ground his teeth before saying, "It turns out that it's you. It seems as though we meet again, you piece of trash!"

Charlie Wade smiled indifferently before saying, "Last time, you were calling me your father and grandfather in such a refreshing manner. Now that we're meeting again, you are already calling me a different name? You really are a very unfilial grandson, don't you think?"

Kenneth clenched his fists tightly together, and there was hatred in his eyes as soon as he heard Charlie Wade's words.

That incident had made him lose face, and it had somehow made him lose his manhood as well. It was the biggest embarrassment and the greatest shame that he had ever felt in his life!

However, Kenneth knew that he could not possibly beat Charlie Wade, and besides, he did not have the guts to challenge him again. Therefore, he could only sneer as he said, "A good man will not suffer from any immediate losses. You are just a piece of trash, so what would you know about all this, anyway? Don't think that you are that great just because you know how to fight! This world is a very dark place, so you'd better be careful when you are walking alone at night."

Charlie Wade sneered in response. "Well, I think you can only bend, but you cannot stretch now, right? So, have you been able to regain your manhood during this time?"

Chapter 438

Kenneth ground his teeth angrily when he heard Charlie Wade saying that he could bend but could not stretch!

"Don't be so arrogant!" Kenneth cursed at Charlie Wade. "I will definitely regain my manhood sooner or later! When that time comes, I will not spare you at all!"

Anthony reprimanded Kenneth at this time, "Kenneth! I've already warned you many times not to be disrespectful and impolite toward Mr. Wade! You should not be offending Mr. Wade! If you target Mr. Wade again, don't blame me for turning my back on you in the future!"

Kenneth became even more frustrated and furious when he saw Anthony speaking up for Charlie Wade.

In fact, his mother had been urging him to repair and make amends to his relationship with Anthony as soon as possible. Moreover, she also wanted Kenneth to invite Anthony to attend her 84th birthday party at Eastcliff.

However, Anthony was truly very stubborn!

Kenneth did not understand why Anthony would be hanging around this piece of trash, Charlie Wade, all the time. Why was he so polite and respectful toward him?

However, Kenneth did not dare to disobey or be disrespectful toward Anthony in public. Therefore, he could only say angrily, "Uncle Simmons, you should keep your eyes wide open! There are so many scammers in this world nowadays, and there are many elderly people who are deceived by those who have ulterior motives in this society. Some of them are also leading you to buy and believe in all of their lies so that you would recognize them as your master. However, you should make sure that you do not fall for these kinds of shrewd tricks!"

At this time, Jeffrey, who was standing at the side, also smiled disdainfully as he said, "These kinds of trashy liars can only survive in a small place like Aurouss Hilll. However, he will only be able to jump around and continue cheating people for a few more days. After all, wouldn't he be afraid that his tricks will be unveiled and people would find out that they had been cheated all along? I think it will only be a matter of time before everyone discovers that they have been deceived by him!"

Charlie Wade simply smiled as he said, "It seems as though the toilet at the Glorious Club was not big enough? You still have a very stinky mouth. Well, the toilets at the Aurouss Hillll Exhibition and Convention Center are very big. I think there are about twenty or thirty urinals in the men's toilet. Do you want to try it too?"

The expression on Jeffrey's face was very ugly at this time, and he was also a little afraid. He stuttered as he said, "You... you... don't think that you can just make a fool of me and do whatever you want in Aurouss Hillll!"

Graham had been standing at the back as he watched the entire scene unfolding before him. When he saw Jeffrey targeting and insulting Charlie Wade, Graham immediately stepped up to defend Charlie Wade with a cold expression on his face. "Jeffrey, who do you think you are? Who gave you the right to speak to Mr. Wade in this manner?"

The Quinton family was one of the Weaver family's biggest medicinal herbs suppliers. Moreover, both their families had already been collaborating and working together for the longest time. Graham really did not expect Jeffrey to be so impolite and disrespectful toward Charlie Wade!

Truth be told, Jeffrey had not seen Graham earlier because he had been so caught up with Charlie Wade's sudden appearance. At this time, Jeffrey simply glanced at Graham before he said in disdain, "Graham, our families have been working together for more than ten years now. So, why are you defending and speaking up for this piece of trash?"

Graham snorted before he said, "Mr. Wade's ability is not something that someone like you would ever be able to comprehend. If you insult Mr. Wade, you are also insulting the Quinton family. If that is the case, from now on, the Quinton family will cut off all ties and all forms of collaboration with the Weaver family. We will no longer supply any medicinal herbs to the Weaver family in the future!"

The expression on Jeffrey's face changed slightly as soon as he heard Graham's words. He knew that they would definitely be in trouble if they lost all supplies from the Quinton family as they were one of their biggest suppliers.

However, Jeffrey did not want to lose face if he gave in. Therefore, he ground his teeth before he replied coldly, "The Weaver family will continue to prosper in the pharmaceutical industry even without the supplies of medicinal herbs from the Quinton family. However, I am afraid that the future of the Quinton family will not be all that bright if you cut off all ties and collaborations with us. Am I right about that?"

Graham remained absolutely calm and composed as he said, "The Quinton family's medicinal herbs are well-known throughout the country. Even if we lose out on our collaboration with you, it will not leave a huge impact on the Quinton family. However, if the Weaver family loses the Quinton family's medicinal herbs and materials, I can't wait to see how you are going to guarantee the quality of the medicine that you produce in the future!"

At this time, the middle-aged man behind Jeffrey suddenly stepped up to apologize to Graham. "Sorry, Mr. Quinton. Please do not mind my elder brother. He was just joking earlier. Our families have been cooperating and working together for so long, so we should not just terminate our cooperation in such a rash manner. It would not do either of us any good at all..."

Before he could even finish speaking, Jeffrey turned around and kicked him before he said, "Liam! Who told you that you have the right to speak up here? How am I supposed to deal with you now? Do you even know your own place and status? You are nothing more than a worthless b*stard child! If you continue speaking nonsense here, I will send you back to where you belong!"

Chapter 439

Liam fell to the ground as soon as Jeffrey kicked him in the stomach. He could only hold onto his stomach as his face flushed red from the pain.

However, he did not dare to say anything anymore. Liam simply stood up quietly before he stood behind Jeffrey once more without saying anything anymore.

At this time, Charlie Wade glanced at Liam once again.

Charlie Wade felt as though he could see a shadow of his former self in Liam.

He was despised, looked down upon, and even humiliated by others, but he could only choose to bear it and stay hidden as he waited quietly for his chance to rise.

Just then, Wendy nudged Jeffrey before she said, "My dear, don't get angry because of a piece of trash and a worthless b*stard child. Let's go in and check out the expo now."

Jeffrey nodded immediately.

Charlie Wade was simply a piece of trash to him, and Liam was just a b*stard child in his eyes. Even if he had already suffered a huge loss because of Charlie Wade, he really did not think that Charlie Wade was a great or incredible person at all.

However, Jeffrey was still waiting for an opportunity to retaliate against Charlie Wade and relieve all his hatred.

For his part, Charlie Wade could not be bothered to continue arguing with this group of people. After all, the only reason why he had come to the Chinese Medicine Expo was simply because of the three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng.

As for Kenneth and Jeffrey, if they continued to taunt him and act as though they could deal with him, he would definitely take his time to deal with them slowly.

After Kenneth, Jeffrey, and the others had walked away, Anthony shook his head before he sighed and said, "This Kenneth is really too self-conceited!"

Graham also chimed in and said, "Mr. Wade, Dr. Simmons, why don't we go into the hall as well? Don't let those people ruin or affect our mood today."

Charlie Wade smiled as he said, "Of course. Don't worry, I will not be affected because of a bunch of clowns."

The few of them walked into the center of the exhibition hall and saw that there were various exhibition counters for all sorts of different Chinese medicinal herbs and materials. There were many different medicinal herbs and materials on display.

Graham quickly invited Charlie Wade to check out his booth. The Quinton family was worthy of being recognized as a medicinal herb and material dealer for a history of over a century. Their booth had more than a dozen display cabinets, and a variety of medicinal herbs and materials filled the countertops.

Graham told Charlie Wade, "Mr. Wade, if there are any medicinal herbs and materials that you need, please do not hesitate to let me know. I will give it to you immediately."

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "After getting my hands on the three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng, I will be able to concoct a new medication. I will tell you what kind of herbs and materials I will need at that time."

Graham replied immediately, "No problem, Mr. Wade. If you have any requests, just say the word, and I will definitely do my best to get anything done for you!"

Charlie Wade continued looking around the exhibition hall, but he did not see any medicinal herbs or material worthy of his attention. This made him feel somewhat disappointed.

It seemed as though most of the medicine and herbs here could only be regarded as ordinary goods. There was nothing special about it at all.

After walking around for a short while, it was almost time for the auction. Thus, Charlie Wade headed straight for the auction hall with Graham and Anthony.

The entire auction hall accommodated a few thousand seats, and it was a very large and spacious area.

There was a transparent booth with glass on all sides set up at the front of the auction hall, and the three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng sat in the center of the booth.

Charlie Wade was extremely delighted when he saw the purple ginseng.

He could immediately perceive the strong medicinal power and properties of the purple ginseng. According to his knowledge and eyesight, even though it was said that this purple ginseng was three hundred years old, it was in fact almost four hundred years old, and the quality of this purple ginseng was even better than what he had imagined.

Chapter 440

There were many kinds of ginseng in this world. Common ginseng, American ginseng, red ginseng, purple ginseng, and wild ginseng. Amongst them, the rarest and most expensive of them all was none other than the purple ginseng.

Moreover, ginseng itself had a lifespan, and most of them could not live for more than a hundred years. Therefore, if a ginseng plant was not picked, it could easily become a century-old ginseng or a few-hundred-year-old ginseng. After that, it would eventually come to an end.

Any ginseng that could live for two or three hundred years was the best type of ginseng. Furthermore, any ginseng that could live for more than five hundred years was very precious and extremely rare. Some people who had been collecting ginseng for their entire life might not even have the chance to see it at all.

As for the ginseng that was more than a thousand years old, it was even more valuable than anything. It almost only existed in legends, and it was really rare for anyone to take it out at all.

Therefore, this three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng was already an extremely precious and valuable treasure.

At this time, the auction hall was already overcrowded with people. Most of them were people who came from the Chinese medicine field who had come from all over the country. There were also some old Chinese doctors who could be called the masters of Chinese medicine.

Amongst them, many people were familiar with Anthony, and upon seeing Anthony, most of them quickly stepped forward to congratulate him.

Truthfully, the reason why they were congratulating him was because he had successfully created a miracle in medicine history by successfully curing paraplegia.

However, deep down, Anthony felt ashamed.

Everyone thought that he was responsible for treating the high-level paraplegia, but he was the only one who knew that the credit belonged to Charlie Wade and Charlie Wade alone. However, Charlie Wade wanted to keep a low profile, and that was the reason why he wanted Anthony to take the credit for the cure instead.

At this time, many people gathered around Anthony as they asked him about the secret to curing paraplegia. Anthony quickly replied, "Actually, I was not the one who had the skill and ability to cure high paraplegia. In fact, a magical medicine that I obtained by chance exerted a huge therapeutic effect for the patient."

Someone asked immediately, "Dr. Simmons, can you publish the prescription for this magic medicine? Once it is published, it will definitely benefit all mankind!"

"That's right!" Someone chimed in immediately before he said, "Dr. Simmons, after you publish the prescription for the magic medicine, you may even get a Nobel Prize in medicine!"

Anthony simply brushed them off as he said, "Forget it. It is indeed a hidden secret that would be very inconvenient for me to reveal."

Just then, a young man dressed in a suit and leather shoes approached Anthony before he bowed slightly and said, "Hello, Dr. Simmons. My name is Ichiro Kobayashi, and I am the chairman of Kobayashi Pharma."

Anthony nodded slightly before he said, "I have heard about Kobayashi Pharma before. Is there a reason why you are looking for me today?"

Ichiro looked at Anthony with a serious expression on his face before saying, "Dr. Simmons, our Kobayashi Pharma is the strongest pharmaceutical company in the whole of Asia. There were many popular classic drugs that were developed and produced by Kobayashi Pharma. I believe that with such strength and power, we definitely have the ability to support and carry forward your prescription for the high-level paraplegia so that we can sell the medicine to more than two hundred countries around the world. Therefore, I sincerely hope that you are willing to sell the prescription to us!"

Anthony frowned as soon as he heard the other party's words. After that, he said, "If I remember correctly, many of the medicine and drugs that you carry were not developed by your company. In fact, those medicines were prescriptions from Chinese medication!"

The so-called Japanese medications were all actually ancient Chinese medication prescriptions.

Since Japan and Korea were deeply influenced by Chinese culture in ancient times, it was only natural that their medicine was also taught and learned from Chinese medication. Now, all the pharmaceutical companies in those two countries were all engaging in selling prescriptions that they claimed to be their own when they had clearly plagiarized the Chinese medications.

Because these ancient Chinese medications were recorded in some pharmacopeias, there was no clear patent copyright protection on those prescriptions. This was the reason why many Japanese and Korean pharmaceutical companies could plagiarize various prescriptions from the Chinese medicine dictionary. After that, they produced the medicine and drugs as their own before selling it all over the world.

It would have been fine if they made it clear that these medications in fact originated from ancient Chinese prescriptions. However, these companies were always very shameless, and they always publicized that they were the ones who had developed and come up with the prescriptions on their own.

Moreover, there were even some shameless people who would describe the ancient Chinese medications as a medicinal prescription that had been handed down to them by their ancestors in their own country. That was the main reason why many consumers around the world thought that these medicines were really the historical heritage of Japan and Korea.

This kind of blatant plagiarism had made Anthony and many old Chinese medicine practitioners feel really indignant!

At this time, Ichiro suddenly said arrogantly, "Dr. Simmons, I want to correct your mistake. All of the medicines and drugs at Kobayashi Pharma have been developed and produced by our company based on the essence of our Japanese traditional medication!"

Chapter 441

When Anthony heard Ichiro's open denial, he replied coldly, "I remember that you have three types of medicine that are marketed all over the world, namely the stomach powder, clear throat powder, and an eczema lotion. All of these three medicines originated from Chinese medication. One of it is from the Chinese physician, Zhang Zhongjing's 'Treatise on Febrile and Miscellaneous Diseases', one of it is from 'The Han Dynasty's Medicinal Report', and the last one is from the 'Compendium of Materia Medica'. Am I right?"

The expression on Ichiro's face was a little ugly, but he continued denying it even at this time. "Dr. Simmons, are you joking? Those ancient Chinese pharmacopoeias one or two thousand years ago are basically rubbish without any clinical application and scientific basis at all. Why would such a big pharmaceutical company like Kobayashi Pharma use this kind of backward pharmacopoeias from one or two thousand years ago? This is really insulting!"

When the other Chinese physicians and doctors in the hall heard Ichiro publicly insulting the essence of the ancient Chinese medicine that was left behind by their ancestors, they could not help but scowl and curse in their hearts.

Anthony replied in a righteous tone, "It just so happens that I will be free for the next few days. After the Chinese Medicine Expo, I will personally write up three research papers that include the prescriptions as well as ins and outs of all three types of the medicines that you are selling and marketing all over the world. I will also include a detailed record of our ancient pharmacopoeia. After I have sorted them out and published everything, it is really up to you to justify yourself!"

Ichiro's face turned black as soon as he heard Anthony's words.

He was the vice-chairman of Kobayashi Pharma, and the company had been founded by his own father. Therefore, naturally, he knew all the details of the company.

The reason why Kobayashi Pharma could grow to its scale today was entirely because of their reliance on the prescriptions recorded in the ancient Chinese pharmacopoeia.

Since the Japanese were very good at packaging, they simply took the ancient Chinese prescriptions and packaged them to a certain extent before declaring and promoting the fact that they had spent a lot of money on researching and coming up with the new prescriptions on their own. This had immediately opened up the market and increased the demands for the medication because of their very good curative effects.

However, Kobayashi Pharma had always been reluctant to admit that their drug formula was indeed plagiarized from the ancient Chinese pharmacopoeia. Anthony had always been very dissatisfied with this fact, but he had never found an opportunity to protest about this matter.

Unexpectedly, he had met Ichiro here today, and he naturally wanted to seek justice for Chinese medicine.

Ichiro truly had not expected Anthony to accurately state the origins for the prescriptions of their three top medications. Out of fear that Anthony would actually publish a paper on the origins of those medications, Ichiro hurriedly said, "Dr. Simmons, is it really necessary for you to publish a thesis on the prescription for the medicine? I was just thinking of collaborating with you to come up with a new type of medicine. If you are agreeable, we can work together. However, if you are not agreeable, we can just choose not to work with one another. Why should we try to make things difficult for one another?"

Anthony replied seriously, "Since you are going to blatantly deny that you have plagiarized the ancient Chinese medication, I have nothing else to say to you anymore. Goodbye."

Then, Anthony continued speaking, "By the way, no matter what it is, I will definitely write the thesis."

Ichiro ground his teeth as he looked at Anthony. After a short while, he decided to hold back his anger and simply nodded before he said, "Well, since you are not willing to collaborate and work together with me, I will not try to force you to do so, Dr. Simmons."

After that, Ichiro continued speaking, "I do not want the prescription for the medicine anymore. Instead, can you sell the medicine to me? I am willing to pay fifty million dollars for the pill. My father was involved in a car accident the year before this, and he is still lying in bed because of high paraplegia. As his son, I really hope that I will be able to cure him!"

Anthony was shocked when he heard Ichiro's offer of fifty million dollars.

He quickly glanced at Charlie Wade. After all, the magic pill belonged to Charlie Wade in the first place. If Charlie Wade was willing to sell Ichiro one of his magic pills for fifty million dollars, the decision would really be up to him, then.

However, Charlie Wade secretly waved his hand at Anthony.

He did not care about fifty million dollars at all. Moreover, Charlie Wade did not want to sell his medicine to a Japanese guy who would plagiarize Chinese medication even if the latter offered him fifty million dollars for a single pill.

When Anthony saw Charlie Wade waving his hand, he immediately replied, "Sorry, Mr. Ichiro. The medicine has already been used up and I am afraid that there is no more of the same pill in this world now."

Ichiro gritted his teeth before he nodded with a gloomy expression on his face. After that, he said, "Dr. Simmons, I understand. I will not try to force you to do anything anymore."

Chapter 442

After he was done speaking, Ichiro turned around and left immediately.

At this time, Charlie Wade said to Anthony, "This Japanese man seems a bit insidious. If he really thinks that you have the prescription for high-level paraplegia, you should be more careful. After all, once this magical pill is mass-produced, he would be able to gain absolute wealth in this world."

There was a movie called 'I am not the God of Medicine' not too long ago, and it was about a Chinese leukemia patient. Since he could not afford the extremely expensive medicine produced by Western cultures, he could only go to India to buy some imitation medication.

Through this movie, you could actually see how black-hearted those large pharmaceutical groups could be just because they wanted to make some money. When a new drug was developed, a patient needed to spend at least twenty to thirty thousand dollars a month to afford the medication. What else could the patient do?

Kobayashi Pharma also wanted to get their hands on a few special drugs that they could mass-produce to sell at a high price. That was the reason why they had set their sights on Anthony.

In truth, Ichiro felt that if he had the prescription to create a pill that could cure high paraplegia, it would be equivalent to having a powerful tool for collecting money.

A person with high paraplegia was unable to get out of bed, walk, or even urinate voluntarily. This often made the patients feel that it would be better for them to be dead than alive because if they were alive, their families would have to suffer alongside them.

If a billionaire suffered from high paraplegia, he would definitely be more than willing to fork out fifty million dollars or more just to receive a single pill that could cure his disease.

If a billionaire like Bill Gates had high paraplegia, he could actually charge him fifty billion dollars for the medicine!

As for the poor people who had high paraplegia, Ichiro did not care about their life or death at all. What did it have to do with him anyway? He would never sell the medicine at a cheap price!

However, Ichiro had not expected Anthony to directly decline and turn down his request. Therefore, he could not help but feel a little angry.

Since Ichiro had already conducted his investigation before meeting Anthony, he knew that Anthony still had the magical pill that could cure high paraplegia.

Ichiro only needed to find a way to get his hands on the magical pill. After that, he would be able to bring it back to Japan with him so that his company's pharmacists could analyze and study the ingredients in the magical pill so that they could eventually create the magical pill on their own!

Anthony could already figure out what was going on in Ichiro's mind. After all, it would be impossible for a man with such huge interests to give up so easily. Anthony knew that Ichiro would definitely look for other ways and methods to get his hands on the magical pill.

Therefore, he told Charlie Wade, "Please be rest assured, Mr. Wade. I will be careful."

At this time, Charlie Wade replied earnestly, "It is useless for you to be cautious. You have to understand the principle that everyone is innocent until they are proven guilty."

Anthony hurriedly asked, "Mr. Wade, what do you think I should do then? I have been carrying the magical pill that you gave me around with me at all times. If they were to try and snatch it away from me, then..."

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he said, "I will temporarily refine a few more pills for you later, and you should carry those pills around with you. If someone tries to take the magical pill from you, you should give them those pills instead."

In Charley's memory, he recalled that there was a kind of 'Terminal Lucidity Pill' recorded in the . This kind of pill was actually a type of poison. The patient would show great recovery in just a short time after taking the pill. However, after regaining his life and energy, the last of his body's energy would be completely exhausted, and he would suffer sudden death.

Charlie Wade did not know whether Ichiro's father truly had high-level paraplegia, but if Ichiro tried to steal the magical pill from Anthony, he would definitely be out of luck then!

Chapter 443

Moreover, it was not that difficult to refine the Terminal Lucidity Pill.

All that was needed was just some of the more common medicinal materials.

As it was not time for the auction of the purple ginseng to begin yet, Charlie Wade took advantage of this opportunity to look for Graham before he gave him a list of a dozen medicinal herbs and materials that he needed.

Graham hurriedly gathered all of the medicinal herbs and materials for him.

After that, Charlie Wade went to the lounge that had been rented by Graham before refining four of the Terminal Lucidity Pill on the spot.

Chinese medication was always made out of different medicinal herbs and materials. Therefore, after boiling the herbs, no matter what the medicine was for and no matter how different it was, the color of the medicine would still be dark brown.

It was also the same for pills.

The color of the Terminal Lucidity Pill was almost the same as the previous magical pill that he had concocted before this. Moreover, Charlie Wade deliberately made the size of the Terminal Lucidity Pill the same size as the magical pill before this. That way, no one would be able to tell the difference with their naked eye.

After he was done, Charlie Wade returned to the auction hall and gave Anthony the four pills when no one else was paying any attention to them. Charlie Wade also took back the remaining one and a half magical pill from Anthony so that he could keep it safe for him for the time being.

Then, it was finally time for the auction of the rare three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng.

The host quickly stepped on stage before he said, "Next, we will start bidding for our final medicinal herb! The three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng! Before we begin the auction, we would like to invite the world-renowned Dr. Simmons to come onstage to personally appraise this superb purple ginseng on our behalf!"

Anthony had already agreed to the organizer's request for him to appraise the superb purple ginseng on stage before attending the expo. Therefore, when the host called for him, Anthony quickly walked toward the center of the stage before taking the superb purple ginseng in his hands.

After carefully identifying and inspecting the purple ginseng, Anthony said, "Everyone, in my humble opinion, the actual lifespan of this superb purple ginseng is actually about three hundred and fifty years or even more. Therefore, I believe that this purple ginseng can truly be said to be the best amongst the best! So, you can all rest assured today!"

Everyone present at the scene exclaimed out loud as soon as they heard Anthony's words.

They initially thought that the purple ginseng was three hundred years old. However, who would have expected it to be more than three hundred and fifty years old instead? This was simply amazing!

Charlie Wade could not help but look at Anthony in admiration at this time. This was because Charlie Wade did not expect Anthony to be able to tell the actual age of the top quality purple ginseng. It seemed as though Anthony truly had a very strong Chinese medical background and skills.

Just then, the host smiled before he said, "Dr. Simmons is a well-known doctor who has studied and specialized in both ancient and modern medicine. Just a few days ago, Dr. Simmons actually cured a patient with high paraplegia and created a medical miracle. Therefore, I believe that everyone can rest assured that this is indeed a superb purple ginseng based on Dr. Simmons' honest appraisal."

When Anthony returned to his seat, he suddenly heard someone speaking behind him. "Dr. Simmons, high-level paraplegia is a terminal illness that cannot possibly be cured by Chinese or Western medicine. How did you cure it? Why am I still in disbelief that you can really cure it? Tell me the truth, was it simply luck?"

Anthony turned around as he looked in the direction of the voice. After seeing who it was, Anthony smiled before he said, "Chelsea Fox! What are you doing here instead of staying at the National Medical Center?"

The National Medical Center? The people around them could not help but exclaim in shock when they heard Anthony's words.

The National Medical Center was very prestigious, and any representative of the National Medical Center was of the highest level of medical skills in the whole country!

Chelsea laughed when she heard Anthony's words and said, "I just came here today to see if you really could cure high-level paraplegia. Since it sounds so mysterious, I do not completely believe it at all!"

Anthony smiled slightly before he said, "It might really just be rumors, then! You honestly do not need to believe it at all."

Chelsea was stunned because she did not expect Anthony to be so humble. She had expected him to be more direct. However, since he had blatantly denied curing high paraplegia, Chelsea did not know what else to say.

At this time, the host said, "We will start the bid for the three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng now. The starting price for the purple ginseng is five million dollars. Each increase in the bid should not be less than one million dollars. Everyone, you may start bidding now!"

The host smiled before he stood aside immediately.

As soon as he was done speaking, Jeffrey, who was seated in the back row, quickly raised his placard before yelling, "Ten million dollars."

Everyone was left speechless because no one expected the price of the three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng to be doubled in the first bid itself.

Chapter 444

Jeffrey knew that if people continued bidding for the premium purple ginseng, the price of the purple ginseng would probably cost twenty to thirty million dollars in the end. Therefore, he simply doubled the price of the purple ginseng in the first bid just so that he could frighten some people away. He was also hoping that he would be able to take the purple ginseng away at a lower price instead!

"Eleven million dollars." A middle-aged man in the hall also shouted as he raised his placard.

Jeffrey glanced at the man in disdain before he raised his placard again and said, "Fifteen million dollars."

"Sixteen million dollars."

Someone spoke up again.

"Twenty-five million dollars," Jeffrey yelled as he held up his placard again.

In fact, Jeffrey was simply helping Kenneth to participate in the auction this time. Kenneth would be the one bearing the price of the bid today. Therefore, he did not feel distressed at all.

The price of twenty-five million dollars made many people think of giving up.

Even though the rare purple ginseng was very good and effective, the effect of the plant was very limited. Therefore, twenty-five million dollars was already a very high price to pay for the ginseng.

At this time, someone in the hall suddenly shouted, "I will pay thirty million dollars for it!"

Everyone hurriedly looked around only to discover that the bid was actually made by Charlie Wade who was seated next to Anthony.

Jeffrey and Kenneth really did not expect Charlie Wade to be challenging them in this auction. Therefore, both of them exchanged glances with one another before Kenneth directly took over the placard in Jeffrey's hand and held it up, yelling, "Forty million dollars!"

Kenneth knew very well that Charlie Wade was a very difficult person to deal with. If he was adamant about challenging him, the price of the purple ginseng would definitely end up being very high!

Moreover, Kenneth knew that it would be absolutely impossible for Charlie Wade to be able to afford the purple ginseng. He merely assumed that Charlie Wade must have known that he would need this superb purple ginseng to restore his manhood, and that was the reason why he was deliberately raising the price so that he could cause more trouble for him.

That was why Kenneth called for forty million dollars immediately because he wanted to scare Charlie Wade off.

Unexpectedly, Charlie Wade raised his placard again before saying lightly, "Fifty million dollars!"

Charlie Wade had the cash cheque for one hundred million dollars that Jasmine had given to him sitting inside his pocket at this time.

Not too long ago, Charlie Wade had accidentally given this cheque to his mother-in-law, Elaine Ma, by mistake, and it had almost caused a huge catastrophe. Therefore, Charlie Wade had been looking for an opportunity to use this cheque. As he thought about it, he had finally decided that he could just use the one hundred million dollars to buy the purple ginseng today!

Anyways, besides the one hundred million dollars cash cheque, Charlie Wade had a lot of money in his bank card. In his eyes, this cheque was just a piece of waste paper that he did not know how to deal with. He was actually glad that it would finally come in handy today.

As soon as Kenneth heard Charlie Wade bidding for fifty million dollars, Kenneth almost fainted in anger.

He gritted his teeth before he said to Jeffrey, "That horrible piece of trash! He is deliberately fighting with me! Fifty million dollars?! How could he possibly afford to pay fifty million dollars for the purple ginseng?!"

Jeffrey also nodded as he cursed, "That kid is really a very bad and trashy person! This purple ginseng is worth, at most, twenty million dollars. It is truly a waste to buy it for fifty million dollars! In fact, it is actually a very foolish move!"

Kenneth ground his teeth again before he said, "D*mn it! I will bid against him one last time. I do not believe that he will be able to outbid me!"

After that, Kenneth raised his placard before he yelled, "I will pay sixty million dollars!"

By this time, Kenneth was certain that Charlie Wade would not dare to call for a price higher than sixty million dollars.

Unexpectedly, Charlie Wade raised his placard without any hesitation as he yelled, "I will pay eighty million dollars!"

Kenneth stood up and exploded immediately as he yelled, "What do you mean by this, the one with the last name Wade? Why the hell are you trying to outbid me for this purple ginseng?! Are you sure you can afford to pay eighty million dollars for it?!"

Charlie Wade smiled as he replied, "You are such a good grandson. Don't worry, grandpa can afford it!"

Chapter 445

Many people at the scene knew that Kenneth had once knelt before Charlie Wade and had called him his father and grandfather. Therefore, they laughed out loud as soon as they heard Charlie Wade's words.

Kenneth, not wanting to lose any more face, grit his teeth as he said, "Okay, then! You really have the guts! I will pay ninety million dollars for it!"

Jeffrey tugged at his sleeves before he said, "Chairman Wilson, ninety million dollars is way too expensive for the purple ginseng! That thing is not worth that much money. Don't act so impulsively and be fooled by that b*stard!"

Ninety million dollars just to buy that purple ginseng?! No ginseng was worth that much money unless it was for a ginseng that was more than a thousand years old!

Even though Kenneth was extremely rich, he was not an extravagant or wasteful person. He already felt a burn in his pocket when he had to spend fifteen million dollars just to have sexual intercourse with Wendy. Kenneth could really feel the hole in his wallet now that he would have to spend ninety million dollars on a piece of ginseng.

But no matter what, he had to find a way to cure himself!

It had already been so many days, and he still had no feeling down there at all. It was as though there was nothing there whatsoever. If this continued even longer, Kenneth felt that he would really lose hope in life.

Therefore, he made up his mind that he would only pay ninety million dollars for the purple ginseng and nothing more than that!

At this time, Charlie Wade calmly held up the placard in his hand before saying, "Then, I will pay one hundred million dollars for it!"

Kenneth trembled uncontrollably as he cursed out loud, "What are you trying to do, you piece of trash?! Do you really find it that enjoyable to stir up trouble and mess around with me?"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly before he replied, "Well, I am simply interested in the purple ginseng. Of course, I have no choice but to bid for it then. What is the matter? Are other people not allowed to bid for something just because Chairman Wilson is interested in it?"

Kenneth continued cursing, "Do you think I don't know anything about you? You are just the useless son-in-law of the Wilson family! The entire Wilson family does not even have one hundred million dollars, so how could you possibly have that much money?"

Then, Kenneth turned around to look at the host before he said, "I suggest that you drive this guy out of the auction hall! He is just stirring up trouble here. He cannot possibly have so much money to pay for the purple ginseng!"

Anthony frowned and said out loud, "You can put all of Mr. Wade's expenses under my tab today. I have more than enough money to pay for it."

Graham also spoke up at this time. "Mr. Wade can also use the Quinton family's funds any time that he wants to!"

Everyone inside the auction hall was shocked when they heard Anthony and Graham's words.

Who was this young man? Dr. Simmons was an internationally-renowned doctor, and Graham was the head of the Quinton family.

Why would both of them be so willing to pay for him? Moreover, it was not a small amount. This was one hundred million dollars!

Charlie Wade smiled before he said, "Don't worry. It's just one hundred million dollars so I can still afford it. After all, I happen to have a one hundred million dollar cash cheque in my pocket. It has already been sitting in my pocket for more than half a month and is starting to get on my nerves. I am glad that I finally have the opportunity to use it today."

Kenneth replied contemptuously, "What do you think you are bragging about now? Do you really think that everyone here is a three-year-old child? You have a one hundred million dollar cash cheque in your pocket? Do you even know how much money that is?"

Charlie Wade smirked before he said, "You are seriously the trashiest old man I have ever seen in this world."

Charlie Wade then took out the one hundred million dollar cash cheque that Jasmine had given to him out of his pocket. Since the cheque had already been sitting in his pocket for so many days, it was all crumpled up and looked like a piece of waste paper.

Charlie Wade raised the cheque in his hand before speaking to the host, "Sir, why don't you send your financial staff over here to check the authenticity of the cheque?"

Kenneth sneered as he said, "D*mn it. It is just a piece of waste paper and you dare to say that it is a cheque for one hundred million dollars? If it is really a cheque for one hundred million dollars, I will use one hundred million dollars to wipe my ass tonight!"

Charlie Wade ignored him as he continued holding up the cheque indifferently.

At this time, the host brought his financial staff over to Charlie Wade so that he could hand the cheque over to them. After inspecting the cheque for a short while, the financial staff immediately said, "This cash cheque has a face value of one hundred million dollars. It is an authentic cheque."

Everyone at the scene was shocked!

This young man actually treated a one hundred million dollar cheque like a piece of waste paper in his pocket?!

What would he have done if he had accidentally lost it?!

What if the cheque accidentally slipped out of his pocket while he was squatting at the toilet?

Chapter 446

What if he had accidentally thrown the cheque into the washing machine to wash with his clothes?

Oh my God! It was shocking for them to even think about it.

Kenneth's face twitched faintly in anger. He really did not understand why this piece of trash could actually have so much money. Wasn't he just a useless son-in-law of the Wilson family?

Charlie Wade asked the host, "Since no one can outbid me and since I can afford to pay one hundred million dollars for it, the superb purple ginseng should belong to me now, right?"

The host regained his senses and said immediately, "Now, I am going to announce that this three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng belongs to..."

Before he could finish his sentence, Kenneth hurriedly said, "Stop! I am going to increase the bid now!"

Everyone at the scene was shocked yet again.

The auction had begun at five million dollars, and the bid was already at one hundred million dollars now. Was he really going to continue bidding and increasing the price?

The purple ginseng was not even worth that much money! Were these two people insane?

Jeffrey hurriedly reminded him, "Chairman Wilson! It is truly a waste to spend one hundred million dollars just to buy that piece of purple ginseng. You could do so much more with this amount of money! Why would you want to waste it just like that?"

At this time, Kenneth quickly asked, "If I can't get my hands on the purple ginseng, what about your new medicine? How would I be able to cure my illness, then?"

As both of them were talking, a middle-aged man who was slightly bald rushed over to them before he said to Jeffrey, "I am sorry, Mr. Weaver. I am late because I was waiting for the laboratory results!"

The person speaking was the chief pharmacist at Weaver Pharmaceutical. He had just rushed over here from the pharmaceutical factory after checking out the benefits and uses of the purple ginseng on behalf of Jeffrey.

Jeffrey hurriedly asked, "Professor Cruz, I am so glad that you're here. Do you think that the piece of purple ginseng on stage is worth a hundred million dollars?"

"One hundred million dollars?!" Professor Cruz shook his head as he laughed slightly. "It is not worth that much money. The market price for a three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng should only be thirty million dollars at most! No one should be paying a higher amount than that. Only a fool would buy a three hundred years old purple ginseng for one hundred million dollars..."

"What about Chairman Wilson's illness, then?" Jeffrey asked immediately.

At this time, Professor Cruz replied with a confident expression on his face. "In fact, we do not need to use a three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng to concoct the medication. All we need to do is find a few one-hundred-year-old purple ginseng and purify it so that we can use that instead. The market value for a one-hundred-year-old purple ginseng is only about one million dollars. Five of them would only cost you five million dollars. Moreover, the price-performance ratio for the five one-hundred-year-old purple ginseng far exceeds that of the three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng."

As they were discussing this matter, the host suddenly asked, "Chairman Wilson, are you going to add to the bid or not? Please state the specific amount directly. Otherwise, it would be very difficult for us to continue the bid."

After listening to Professor Cruz's words, Kenneth felt confident that he should not allow himself to be taken advantage of. Therefore, he decided to give this opportunity to Charlie Wade and let him waste his money instead.

Kenneth immediately shook his head before he said, "I have decided not to bid anymore. It is simply mentally retarded for anyone to spend one hundred million dollars on just a piece of purple ginseng! Only people who have no brains would do this kind of thing!"

Everyone in the hall started booing him immediately.

If you do not have the money, just admit that you do not have the money. If you are reluctant to spend the money, just admit that you are reluctant to do so. Why would you call someone else mentally retarded just because they were willing to spend that amount of money? Why was he such a sore loser?

Kenneth felt very irritated as he was booed by many people, but he did not dare to say anything at all. Therefore, he could only bite the bullet and endure the humiliation in silence.

No one would say no to money anymore. He did not think that it was worth spending so much money just to save his own face and reputation.

At this time, the host quickly announced, "One hundred million dollars once."

"One hundred million dollars twice."

"One hundred million dollars three times. Deal! Congratulations, Mr. Wade!"

Charlie Wade nodded in satisfaction before he looked at Kenneth and said, "Well, let me just give you a friendly reminder now. You will never be able to cure your illness or restore your manhood with any medicine at all. So, I would like to advise you not to waste your efforts!"

Chapter 447

Everyone looked at Kenneth at this time.

Kenneth felt very ashamed and annoyed, and he cursed out loud, "You are the impotent one! Your whole family is impotent! I am still very able and well!"

Charlie Wade smiled faintly before he said, "Whoever is impotent would know for themselves. Some people cannot get hard where they should and only have a hard mouth. What is the point in that?"

Everyone laughed out loud at this time.

Was it true? The famous and reputable Chairman Wilson had really lost his manhood?

It seemed as though it was true. Otherwise, why would he try so hard to bid for a premium purple ginseng? Moreover, he was even here with Jeffrey from the Weaver family today.

Everyone here today was people from the medical field. Everyone knew that the Weaver family was currently studying a new drug that could strengthen male virility and greatly restore a person's manhood. It seemed as though the reason why Kenneth and Jeffrey were here together today was simply because Kenneth wanted to be the first person to test the drug?

Kenneth ground his teeth in anger as he blurted out immediately, "You with the last name Wade! Don't try and give people the wrong assumption here! I am still a very able man!"

"Well, you even gave your own lover away to someone else, and you are still saying that you are an able man? If you are truly so capable, why would you give your woman away to someone else?"

Kenneth's face flushed red in anger before he sputtered angrily, "You... you... what are you talking about?!"

Wendy also questioned him angrily, "Charlie Wade! Why are you ruining other people's innocence for no reason at all?!"

When Charlie Wade saw the angry and desperate expressions on their faces, he simply sneered as he looked away. He could not be bothered to continue arguing with them. Therefore, he simply took the three-hundred-year-old purple ginseng from the host before he spoke to Anthony and Graham, "Alright then, there is nothing else that I am interested in here anymore. I am leaving now."

Having said that, Charlie Wade stood up as he prepared to walk out of the auction hall.

At this time, Anthony and Graham hurriedly said, "Mr. Wade, let us send you home!"

"No need." Charlie Wade waved his hand slightly before he said, "I can go home by myself. Both of you should stay here and socialize with everyone."

As he spoke, he glanced at Ichiro who was secretly staring at Anthony from not too far away. After that, Charlie Wade quickly reminded Anthony, "Dr. Simmons, if anyone tries to steal the medicine from you today, make sure that you do not resist or fight back. You should just give it to him if he wants it that badly. Do you understand?"

Anthony smiled before he nodded immediately, "Mr. Wade, don't worry. I understand!"

At this time, Aurora had her eyes on Charlie Wade. In fact, she was feeling a little anxious when she saw that he was about to leave. After hesitating for a short while, Aurora suddenly spoke up in a low voice, "Mr. Wade, can I walk you out?"

When Charlie Wade first saw Aurora today, he could already tell that she had something on her mind. However, she did not dare to talk about it. Now that she had finally found the courage to speak up, Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "Alright then, you can walk me out."

Aurora looked at Charlie Wade with a grateful expression on her face and said, "Mr. Wade, please come with me!"

Then, Aurora accompanied Charlie Wade to the door.

Charlie Wade looked at Aurora who was still hesitant to speak before he asked, "Aurora, tell me honestly. Do you have something on your mind?"

Aurora bit her lower lip gently as she asked embarrassedly, "Mr. Wade, you could tell that I had something on my mind?"

Chapter 448

"It is already written all over your face. So, how could I possibly not know?"

Charlie Wade smiled slightly before he said, "If you have encountered any difficulties, please do not hesitate to ask for my help. You can just tell me about it."

Aurora subconsciously touched her cheeks, and she could feel that her cheeks were burning hot.

Even though she was originally a very brave and cool person with a cheerful personality, she would always be very shy and embarrassed in front of Charlie Wade.

After calming herself down, she spoke up seriously, "Mr. Wade, there is indeed something on my mind. I want to ask you for your help."

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "Okay, tell me about it."

Aurora explained, "Mr. Wade, I have a very good friend in college. She used to have a very lively, cheerful, and positive personality. However, I feel that she has been brainwashed by her boyfriend recently, and it seems as though she is doing a lot of extreme things nowadays. There was one time when she even tried to jump off a building after fighting with her boyfriend. She only stopped because I kept persuading her not to jump. After that, her boyfriend continued brainwashing her and she even tried to swallow some sleeping pills to commit suicide. I only managed to save her after telling my teachers about it..."

As she spoke about this, Aurora had a sad expression on her face, and she continued, "But now, it seems as though my best friend has already been completely brainwashed by her boyfriend. She did not even thank me for saving her life, but instead, she feels as though I am the one who destroyed her relationship with her boyfriend. She already quarreled with me a couple of times and has severed all contact with me. I felt that there was definitely something wrong with her over the past few days and I wanted to try and persuade her, but she scolded me once again. I am honestly afraid that something bad will happen to her if this continues..."

Charlie Wade asked in surprise, "Brainwashed? Is her boyfriend selling her?"

Aurora shook her head before she explained, "No, it's not a pyramid scheme. I gathered some information and found out that this is actually a very popular means of chasing, conquering, and controlling girls amongst guys nowadays."

Aurora continued speaking indignantly, "These scumbags seem to pursue girls before they make these innocent girls fall in love with them on the premise that they loved them too. However, they are only trying to control these girls so that the girls would be willing to do anything for them, even going as far as to die for them just to please them. However, many of these innocent girls are sinking deeper and deeper into it and they eventually suffer serious injuries. Some of these girls also end up losing their lives because of these scumbags! They are simply a bunch of unforgivable b*stards!"

Charlie Wade frowned before he asked, "There is actually a scumbag like this?"

"Yes!" Aurora replied immediately, "Before this happened to my best friend, I really did not expect that there would be this kind of scumbag in this world. However, after looking into it, I discovered that there are actually many scumbags like this! They simply take pleasure in playing around with women and have no conscience at all!"

Charlie Wade replied coldly, "Each of them owes their lives to great women who gave birth to them, but they are actually taking pleasure in playing around with women? These kinds of scumbags are simply the scum of society!"

Aurora replied indignantly, "This guy is not just a regular scumbag, and this is not the first time he is doing something like this. Last year, a girl in our school was pregnant, and she jumped down from a building. I heard rumors stating that he was the one who instigated her to do so. Furthermore, he also repeatedly insulted another girl because she did not lose her virginity to him. As a result of that, the girl felt that she was very dirty and unclean, and she left behind a suicide note stating that she wanted to get rid of her own filth. After that, the girl committed suicide by jumping and drowning herself in the river. I even heard rumors that about four to five girls were also forced to drop out of school because they were suffering from mental disorders because of his constant abuse. Two of those girls eventually died..."

Charlie Wade could only frown. He had never thought that there would actually be this kind of scumbag in this world. Therefore, he quickly said firmly, "In that case, I will make sure that I look into this matter for you! You should arrange for me to meet up with you and your best friend."

Aurora was so excited and relieved that she burst into tears immediately. Then, she grabbed Charlie Wade's hand before she said, "Mr. Wade, if you are willing to make a move, we will definitely be able to save my best friend!"

Charlie Wade replied, "Since this kind of thing comes from constant psychological hints at work, I am not sure whether I will be able to relieve your best friend from the other party's control and manipulation. However, I will try my best to help you."

Aurora nodded repeatedly, "I believe that you can do it!"

After that, Aurora said, "Mr. Wade, why don't you come to my school tonight? I will bring you to meet my best friend."

"Okay," Charlie Wade replied. "If it's possible, I would also like to see the scumbag who is toying around with your best friend. Is he also from your college?"

"Yes!" Aurora replied. "He is one of the most handsome guys in school and has a great reputation. He is handsome, rich, and very good at coaxing girls. That is the reason why so many girls always fall for him, and that is also the reason why he could destroy so many girls!"

Charlie Wade sneered before he said, "Alright, then. I would like to meet a scumbag like him who tries to use psychological hints and manipulation to control someone else. I would really love it if I could give him a taste of his own medicine!"

Chapter 449

Charlie Wade made an appointment to meet up with Aurora at the Aurous University of Finance and Economics where she was studying later in the evening. After that, he returned home with his three hundred years old purple ginseng.

On the way home, Charlie Wade called Don Albertt and Isaac respectively, telling them that someone was thinking of getting their hands on the medicine in Anthony's hands. Therefore, he asked them to send someone to protect Anthony in secret as they kept an eye on Ichiro.

As Isaac had already spent many years in Aurouss Hilll, he had undue influence in the city. Charlie Wade asked Isaac to set up a secret post directly at the airport to keep an eye on Ichiro so that he would not be able to leave Aurouss Hilll so casually.

He knew that Ichiro had to be planning to take the magical pill away from Anthony so that he could bring it back to Japan with him to analyze and study its ingredients.

Therefore, Charlie Wade was planning to set a big trap for Ichiro.

Meanwhile, Ichiro had completely no idea that Charlie Wade would have already woven an invisible net and laid out such a huge trap for him.

Later that evening, Charlie Wade went to the Aurous University of Finance and Economics to meet up with Aurora as promised. When he arrived at the university, Aurora was already waiting for him outside the school gate.

When Aurora saw Charlie Wade, she hurriedly stepped forward before she said anxiously, "Mr. Wade, it seems as though my best friend is planning to jump off the building! Please come and take a look with me!"

Charlie Wade hurriedly asked, "What is the current situation?"

Aurora replied, "I was secretly observing my best friend in the cafeteria during dinner. The scumbag was scolding her again and even gave her a tight slap across her face before he left. My best friend kept crying, and she has been wandering by the artificial lake for a long time. I am afraid that she will lose control of herself and act rashly! A few of my classmates are keeping an eye on her now!"

Charlie Wade nodded before he said, "It should not be too late. Take me there immediately."

In fact, Charlie Wade had already used his cell phone to look up the details that Aurora had told him about. It was referred to as the art of chatting in the scumbag circle, and it had now developed into a somewhat deformed and abnormal state.

These people took pleasure in toying around with women and hurting them, and they were completely immersed in the situation as they found extreme pleasure and enjoyment in doing so.

Many of these girls were easily confused and manipulated, and they would do things to hurt themselves. Some of them would even be willing to sacrifice their own lives to please the men.

Therefore, Charlie Wade was very anxious and furious at this time, and he simply wanted to meet the girl so that he could find out what was going on with her.

The Aurous University of Finance and Economics was very famous, and it was one of the top three financial universities in the country. The university covered a vast area, and it had a very beautiful scenery surrounding it. Moreover, there was also a very large artificial lake inside the campus.

Aurora quickly led Charlie Wade toward the artificial lake, and a girl who was hiding in the dark said, "Aurora, you're finally back! Luna has already been wandering by the lake for a long time. I am really scared that she will act rashly and jump into the lake!"

Aurora hurriedly asked, "Where is she now?"

The girl quickly pointed at a dark shadow near the artificial lake that was not too far away and said, "She's over there!"

As soon as Charlie Wade looked at the direction that the girl was pointing at, he saw that the dark shadow had already jumped into the lake with a splash.

The few girls screamed in fright, and Charlie Wade ran over to the girl and dove into the lake without any hesitation at all. After that, he quickly grabbed hold of the girl who was about to sink to the bottom of the lake.

The girl was courting her own death intentionally, and when she felt that someone was picking her up and pushing her toward the surface of the water, she started crying and shouting, "Don't save me! Don't save me! Let me die! I am not pure! I am not clean! I've let Kian down! I've betrayed his love for me..."

Chapter 450

Charlie Wade dragged her to the shore as he reprimanded her coldly, "Your parents are the ones who gave you your body, hair, and skin! Don't you think that you are letting your parents down by hurting yourself just because of a scumbag?"

The girl continued wailing, "Please, just let me die. Let me die now. I am just a dirty and impure person. I am too ashamed to face my parents now. I am only bringing them shame by staying alive. They will only be free when I am dead..."

Charlie Wade dragged her to the shore with ease before he finally threw her on the grass and yelled at her furiously, "D*mn it! You should not only be living for yourself, but you should also be living for your parents! They worked so hard to raise you and nurture you until you became an adult. They watched over you as you grew up, and they provided for your education. You should not be committing suicide by jumping into a lake just because of a scumbag like him! You should become a talented pillar so that you could make your parents proud by contributing to the country and society instead!"

The few girls around her were also crying at this time as they persuaded her, "Luna, why are you so stupid? Do you really think that it's worth hurting yourself just because of that scumbag?"

The girl called Luna broke down and kept crying as she said, "I am so dirty. I feel so sorry toward him. If I do not die, he will also feel very tortured because of me. I do not want him to feel tortured at all. I want him to be happy..."

Charlie Wade could not help but frown at this time.

It seemed as though Luna had been seriously brainwashed by the other party!

Charlie Wade immediately said to the other girls, "You should all step aside first. Let me chat with her privately for a short while."

The other girls were a little hesitant, but Aurora was looking at Charlie Wade with eyes filled with admiration. After that, she quickly said to her classmates, "Let's step aside for a short while. We should let Brother Charlie Wade try to persuade her."

The other girls quickly nodded as soon as they heard Aurora's words, and they retreated a distance immediately.

Luna was soaking wet as she sat on the muddy ground on the shore as she muttered to herself, "Let me die. A filthy woman like me does not deserve to be alive at all. I want to use my death to prove to Kian that my feelings for him are real. Yes. I have to use my death to prove to him that I truly love him very much..."

Charlie Wade could tell that Luna was already very confused and her mind was in utter chaos.

Someone must have repeatedly instilled this kind of psychological hint in her that she was dirty, filthy, and she deserved to die. Over time, she would unswervingly think that she was indeed a very filthy person who should be dead!

This kind of psychological manipulation required more than half a year to deepen, ferment, and breed continuously.

In other words, the scumbag had already been brainwashing her for more than half a year so that she would try to take her own life!

Right then, Charlie Wade suddenly thought of a powerful psychological hypnosis technique that he had learnt from the . Thus, he gathered a little spiritual energy in his body and focused it on his fingertips before tapping Luna lightly on her forehead and saying, "Luna, look at me."

Luna was immediately hypnotized and she raised her head obediently to look at Charlie Wade.

Charlie Wade asked, "Can you tell me what is going on?"

Luna replied blankly, "I had a boyfriend when I was still a freshman, and I gave my virginity to him on impulse. After that, I met Kian. He had been pursuing me for a long time and I really like him very much. However, he knows that I am not a virgin. He would feel very disgusted with me every time we have sexual intercourse and he will beat me, scold me, and say that I am a very filthy person. He would also say that I betrayed his trust and I am letting him down..."
