

The Amazing Son in Law Chapter (Charlie Wade)

CHAPTER 2603

Charlie really didn't expect that Hank, who I just met yesterday, is still a great man in the field of economic management. Hank felt that he had nowhere to find any place to break through the iron shoes, and at the same time, he was not only sweating for his old Man.

He naturally knew that, um, the old father-in-law Jacob's feelings for Aunt came from the heart.

But in the final analysis, the old man has a cowardly character, and he is always suppressed by Elaine's aura. While thinking about renewing the relationship with Matilda, he has no courage to divorce Elaine. If this continues, he and Matilda simply There can be no results.

But Hank is different.

Not only is this man highly educated and capable, his appearance, temperament and even living habits are far superior to Jacob, and he does not have the shackles and fetters of Elaine. If he really launches a fierce offensive against Matilda, then Jacob's winning rate will definitely be greatly reduced. .

Thinking of this, Charlie couldn't help but shook his head. Jacob's future was always in his own hands. If he still didn't dare to take a step forward, then he passed happiness and couldn't blame others.

Now, his top priority is to find a way to have a good chat with Hank and see if he can be used as his own.

Immediately, he immediately sent a WeChat message to Doris Young, and said: "Doris, you can make an appointment with Professor Hank for me, so I want to see him and see when it is convenient for him."

Doris Young quickly replied: "Master , Do I want to tell Professor Hank your true identity? Or tell him your current public identity?"

Charlie thought for a moment, and said, "Just tell him directly, and say that your boss wants to see him.

Doris Young replied Said: "Good master, I see. "

Charlie waited for about ten minutes, and Doris Young replied: "Master, Professor Hank said that the time period from 9:30 to 10:00 is OK. If you want to see him, you can go directly to his office.

'Good!' Charlie said with a smile: "Then I will be there on time at half past nine!"

Just when Charlie was about to go to Aurous Hill University of Finance and Economics, Mai and his great-grandson Mike had already driven to the gate of Aurous Hill University of Finance and Economics.

The taxi driver said, "Two, this is Aurous Hill University of Finance and Economics. However, taxis are not allowed inside. If you have something to do, you can walk in first. I will wait here.

Okay.

Mai . smiled slightly and said,

“Mike, let’s go in and go around. “

Mike nodded, get off Father to help open the door, then helped Father the car came out.

Then, Mike told that the driver:” Master, leave a phone now, while there is any thing to facilitate contact.

The driver hurriedly said: “Boss, don’t have to be so troublesome. I’ll be waiting for you here. Anyway, you must enter through this door or exit through this door. When

Mike thought it was true, he nodded and walked with grandpa. Stepping into the gate of Aurous Hill University of Finance and Economics. As soon as he entered the door with his front foot, he heard the sound of the engine speeding up behind him, and even heard the tire slipping due to the rapid start of the vehicle.

He subconsciously turned his head and saw that he was alone. The taxi with the 2,000-dollar wallet was gone.

Mike was so angry that he blurted out: “Hey! You bastard, stop !”

Mai smiled and patted him. On the shoulders, he said earnestly: “It’s a good sign to avoid disasters. Don’t be so angry.