

The Amazing Son in Law Chapter (Charlie Wade)

CHAPTER 2655 / 1

Hearing Charlie's reply, several people in the cabin were shocked to speak.

Isaac Cameron's three views have been completely subverted, and he subconsciously said: "How is this possible?"

Although Anthony was relieved, he was equally shocked and said: "Isaac Cameron, could it be you who miscalculated the data? ? "

." impossible "Isaac Cameron says with conviction:" I parachute jump for so many years, never a fault in the data calculation! "

Anthony frowning:" then I really can not figure out this time, has been The silent Isaac Cameron said: "Don't worry, the real strength of the young master is much stronger than you think! We will go back with peace of mind, and prepare to meet the young master at the predetermined place!"

Immediately, the transport plane turned in the air. A big circle began to return to Beirut, the capital of Lebanon.

But Charlie concealed his figure and breath all the way, in the fastest time, all the way from the middle of the mountain to the foot of the mountain.

Because of the thicker rain clouds, the lighting conditions are getting worse. Although it is only in the afternoon, the visibility is almost the same as after the sun sets.

Such lighting conditions further reduced the chance of Charlie being discovered. In addition to the thunder blast that killed several soldiers, all the opposition soldiers were a little restless, so the vigilance around them was naturally greatly reduced.

At this time, the village where the reactionaries were stationed was no more than a step away from Charlie.

Charlie can even see the densely arranged bullet holes on the low walls built with loess in the village.

Since the entire village is located in a narrow valley, the buildings of the village are divided into crescent-shaped sections. The outermost buildings are almost surrounded by a wall of nearly two meters high. The village only leaves one south and one south. Two entrances to the north.

At the entrance and exit of the village, there is a Middle Eastern-style stone arch, guarded by soldiers on both sides.

CHAPTER 2655 / 2

Outside the village, many soldiers carrying guns and live ammunition walked back and forth along the fence, and on the roofs of many earthen buildings in the village, there were many sentries with AK47s standing guard.

However, Charlie could see that the soldiers patrolling and standing guard were relatively loose as a whole, and most of them just paced back and forth with their guns in hand.

In fact, this group of opposition forces, although their individual combat strength is average, and their weapons and equipment are not advanced, they have sufficient combat experience.

The more combat experience you have, the easier it is to make empirical mistakes.

They have experienced all kinds of wars, including encirclement and suppression, encounters on narrow roads, and decisive battles, but they have never experienced individual infiltration.

Regardless of whether it is a government army, an opposition group, or a Kurdish armed force, the biggest drawback is that the combat effectiveness of individual soldiers is not good, and the energy of one person is really limited. Therefore, everyone is operating in groups. No matter how bad it is, there are seven or eight people and two or three heavy vehicles. With a machine gun pickup truck, no one has a pit in his head and a person goes deep into the enemy's nest alone.

Precisely because they had never experienced such a thing, when they were defensive, they did not regard individual penetration as a defensive focus.

Their energy is used to monitor whether the government has sent large-scale motorized troops, whether it has sent warplanes, whether it has deployed heavy artillery at long distances in advance, and they are not so concerned about the situation other than these.

Charlie found the patrol team's gap and quietly touched the outside of the wall in a very short time.

The point he chose was relatively lax, and it belonged to the blind spot of the sentries on both sides of the building, and was the best breakthrough point.

Charlie, who was as light as a swallow, jumped outside the wall, and the person directly climbed over the wall and fell silently on the inside of the wall.
