

The Amazing Son in Law Chapter (Charlie Wade)

CHAPTER 2656

At this moment he was in a small courtyard.

there were only three earthen houses in this small courtyard, which looked very dilapidated.

Charlie used his aura to perceive his surroundings and found that there was no sign of anyone in these three earthen houses, so he went Prepare to start from this courtyard and move little by little to the central square of the village.

When he was parachuting, he saw the opposition park four helicopters in the central square.

It can be seen that the opposition regards the central square as the most defensive place. Since the expensive helicopters are parked here, then Charlie It is believed that the eight hostages, including Ziva Hank, should also be detained near the central square.

Charlie passed through the deserted small courtyard just now, and when he was about to pass through another small courtyard, there was footsteps not far away, so he immediately took a step back.

Re-hidden inside the wall of the abandoned courtyard.

Immediately afterwards, two middle-aged soldiers in desert camouflage uniforms walked over while holding a gun while talking.

What surprised Charlie was that they didn't speak Arabic, but English. What Charlie didn't know was that English is also the common language of Syria.

Although the teaching level and per capita education level here are very low, due to the fact that in recent years It is always invaded by Europe and the United States, so English has become their second mother tongue.

These opposition soldiers also received secret funding from Europe and the United States in the early years, and even Europe and the United States sent professional coaches to them to help them improve their combat effectiveness.

At that time, the coaches from Europe and the United States almost all spoke English, and the textbooks were also practical English. So over time, the English level of Syrian soldiers and opposition soldiers has been greatly improved. It is not a big deal to speak English.

At this time, one of them said to the other: "Amit said on the walkie-talkie that five people were struck by lightning on the mountain, three were killed, three were injured, and two of the three were injured. The situation is very urgent. They The commander was asked to send a helicopter to the rescue, but the commander did not agree.

CHAPTER 2656 / 2

The other person shrugged, spread his hands helplessly, and said: "The commander is impossible to agree.

We are currently in short supply of aviation kerosene, and the remaining stock cannot satisfy the four helicopters for several takeoffs and landings. It is necessary to save everything to deal with emergencies.

How could it be possible to waste one take-off and landing for the two wounded

. He said with emotion: "There is not much diesel left. Fortunately, the government has not started to organize offensives. Otherwise, our Helicopters and tanks can support a day at most. "The previous person couldn't help complaining: The world's oil is in the Middle East, but we are short of oil to this point. It is really ridiculous.

Another person laughed: "We only have high crude oil production, but the strength of oil refining is too great. It's bad.

This time the commander wanted to knock out a sum of money from the Americans and then introduce a set of oil refining equipment. In that case, we will have our own fuel supply in the future. The man said with emotion: "I just don't know if the Americans are willing to give it. Money, among the eight people, it seems that there are no particularly good family conditions. If you can't get a penny back, it will be troublesome." The other person disdainfully said, " Just kill everything that is troublesome."

Having said that, he deliberately lowered his voice and said, "The commander said, if the Americans don't pay today, they will just kill the eight Yankees.

During the process, they will record the video and send it to mainstream media all over the world.

Before making the American face sweeping , the man couldn't help but rub his hands and said, "Hey, I like that blond woman. I haven't tried the taste of a Western woman yet.

I don't know if I have this opportunity to experience it. I haven't touched it for three months. I miss the woman. The other man gave a lewd smile, nodded and said: "I prefer that black-haired oriental woman, which has a illusory oriental mystery." The previous person smiled and said, "Let's do it for a while. Go over and take a look. If you have a chance, move the guards away, and then take the two women to another room, and let's talk about the addiction first."

"Good to see, maybe have a chance anyway, or how long they will be executed, so, it might make us die well before as 'caring concern'

They said, laughing out loud together.

At this point Suddenly, there was a pair of big hands, grabbing the necks of the two people from behind, making them not only unable to move, but also unable to make any sound.

This is, the owner of the big hands, said in English: "I don't want to die. ,

It was Charlie who threw the snatch away and talked.
