Charlie pointed to the soldier next to him and asked him: "If I Change, put on his clothes, can you take me there?"

the man said stammeringly: "If you change into his clothes and put on a mask, you should be able to enter the yard However, once you are in the cellar, the guards in the cellar will definitely ask about your identity and your intentions. This is because our commander has clearly requested that these eight people must be strictly guarded. Therefore, even if you go in, it will inevitably be exposed.

As he said, he hurriedly added: Moreover, if you act on them, it is likely to alarm the guards outside. There is only a narrow staircase in and out of the cellar. Once you find it outside, you can't escape at all, and you only need to go inside. Throwing a grenade, none of the people in it can survive

Charlie said indifferently: "You don't need to worry about it, you just need to bring me in."

The man nodded and said nervously, "I am I can take you in, but I still have to remind you that if you are a little careless, I, you, and the eight people may die in it.

Charlie smiled slightly: "If you don't cooperate with me, you It's possible to die inside. "

The man said quickly: "I am worthy of my cooperation.

“coupled with the weapon he did not want to kill me too long distances impossible. “

“And as long as he shoots, everyone He will focus his attention here, and he himself will not be able to escape by then!

“Because of this, I think he is less likely to shoot!

“If you look at it this way, it is more cost-effective to escape!

Charlie smiled slightly, and said with an apologetic expression: “I'm sorry, I just blocked your nerve center with aura, you can't move anywhere below your neck now. When this is said, it's not just this immobile soldier. , Even the guy who was caught by Charlie was frightened.

They didn't understand what aura is, but this thing could make a living person suddenly unable to move. This ability is far beyond their normal Cognition.
