When Lord Thorne heard this, he immediately angered: "You guy, there is such a good way, why didn't you use it early?"

Now that face recognition is so developed, as long as Deana and Zara have left images before monitoring, they will be able to find them. come out."

Dalton said helplessly: "Dad, the supercomputers of the Academy of Sciences usually have a lot of tasks, ranging from cloud image analysis for weather forecasts to orbit calculations for Mars exploration, almost all rely on supercomputers. One of their supercomputers, In the past few months, I have been operating at 100% full load.

Although I have some rights, I can't delay national affairs!"

When Lord Thorne heard this, he couldn't help but nodded in agreement: "The important matter of the country is important, let's not use power for personal gain."

Dalton hurriedly said: "Dad, don't worry, their supercomputer will be able to vacate one of them at noon tomorrow.

There will be a window period of about 6 hours, so I coordinated with them to use the 6-hour window period.

I came to calculate all the surveillance videos around Aurous Hill, but the amount of data is huge, but the supercomputer's computing power is also very strong.

I asked the experts there and estimated that it would take about 4 hours to run all the data down. It will not delay their follow-up work."

Lord Thorne breathed a sigh of relief and said, "This is good...this is good..."

After speaking, he looked at his second son, Logan , who had been doing business, and said:

, after this incident, you must donate a sum of money to the Academy of Sciences, which is regarded as a payment to the Academy of Sciences."

Logan said without hesitation: "Don't worry, Dad, if they can find Deana and Zara through supercomputer calculations, then I will donate 100 million. If they can't find it, I will also donate 50 million!"

Just when the Thorne Family pinned all their hopes on the supercomputer.

The Les Cullinan was speeding all the way on the outskirts of Aurous Hill, and soon stopped at a sparsely populated intersection in the suburbs.

Afterwards, Isaac Cameron handed Deana a mobile phone and said, "Ms. Deana, you can call your family."

Deana checked his head, took the phone, and pressed a number without hesitation.

This phone is the cell phone of Lord Thorne, the old man of the Thorne Family.

Lord Thorne was in a meeting with his children. He didn't expect that his mobile phone rang suddenly, and when he saw an unfamiliar number, he was a little angry, so he directly pressed to answer, and asked in a bad tone: "Who? What's the matter?"

On the other end of the phone, Deana choked up and said, "Dad...it's me...I'm Deana..."
