

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 2868-2870

Just when ppl was full of resentment, someone in the car shouted angrily: "The Elms family has announced to the public that anyone who leaves will not be allowed to go back!"

For a while, everyone was shocked.

They didn't expect that they would abandon the Elms family and raise another branch, but they did not expect that the Elms family gave them a trick to draw their salaries.

Now, they are abandoned sons of the Elms family.

Elder banks, who was far away in Southaven, was also very depressed.

This morning, he heard almost all bad news one after another.

At first, Lord Elms (Wilfred) suddenly turned back.

Then, it was Lord Elms (Wilfred) who suddenly became the number one martial artist in China.

The most painful thing is that things that originally belonged to oneself became better after they didn't belong to oneself.

For example, a girl who once looked down upon an ex-boyfriend suddenly became a master after a breakup, and then married Bai Fumi, the girl might be depressed for a lifetime.

Although Lord Banks has no love for Lord Elms (Wilfred), Lord Elms (Wilfred) was originally a subordinate of the Banks Family and served the Banks Family. To put it ugly, he is a dog of the Banks Family.

But now, he has turned against the Banks Family, and his strength has doubled after turning against the head. How can this not be depressing?

Lord Banks now feels that the world seems to be against himself.

He wanted to betray Xion, but Xion just disappeared. The Japanese rummaged the coast of Japan, but she could not be found.

I wanted to kill Deana, but Deana was rescued by a powerful mysterious man. I wanted to kill her to protect the reputation of the family, but I didn't expect that the reputation of the family was not successfully maintained. On the contrary, I became infamous and embarrassed. Everyone yelled and beat the rat crossing the street.

Now the Elms family has made such a big movement again, which makes his heart very uncomfortable.

In addition to these, his second son and eldest son have disappeared one after another, and the Chinese master who saved his grandchildren in Japan has also become a huge potential threat to him.

Thinking of this, Lord Banks muttered to himself with extreme depression: "I lifted a rock by myself, hit my own foot, a stone fell from the sky, and the damn hit my own foot. There is still a master in the dark, constantly moving. I picked up a rock and smashed it on my foot. I tossed and tossed, except for loss or loss. I didn't get any benefits. What the hell is this?"

While being bored, his cell phone rang suddenly.

The call was an unfamiliar call from Aurous Hill.

He hurriedly connected, only listening to a man on the other end of the phone saying coldly: "I have arrived in Aurous Hill. This is my latest contact information. Within the next seven days, I will stay in Aurous Hill and try to find what you are looking for. If you can't find him within seven days, I'll go back to the UK directly. The deposit you paid will not be refunded!"

As soon as Lord Banks heard this voice, he blurted out with excitement: "Oh, master Felix! You have finally arrived in Aurous Hill! You must be very tired after traveling all the way from the UK? Would you like to rest in Aurous Hill for a few days?"

The other party said coldly: "No, I will start to do things right away. If you have any valuable clues, you can tell me."

Lord Banks hurriedly said: "master Felix, things have made a little progress. I didn't have any clues about the mysterious person, but now I probably know that this person is of Japanese Chinese descent, and he is not very old, at most 27-8. He is up and down, but his strength is extraordinary. It is said that even the Japanese ninja is not his opponent. He can deal with several by himself! master Felix, be careful!"

The other party said disdainfully: "What's so great about Japanese ninjas? It's like someone who has never killed a ninja. I think there was a Japanese ninja who had offended me back then. He was really strong. I would definitely not be his opponent when facing me. So what? He didn't know it, so he was poisoned by the gu poison I raised, and in his sleep he cut open his own stomach with a ninja knife. When he died, he had a bed of internal organs. It is said that his wife saw it at the time. I was scared to death."

Lord Banks said in surprise: "I have long heard that master Felix's methods are extraordinary. Since you have such skills, Banks can be completely relieved. I am waiting for the good news of master Felix's victory!"

The other party snorted and said: "I declare that someone likes killing people invisible and likes killing masters the most. I like to see those so-called masters who die in my hands for unknown reasons, but they continue to die. I don't know why I died. This feeling, like a god, can control everything!"

Lord Banks was so excited that he blurted out and asked, "master Felix, can you kill a four-star warrior?"

"Four-star warrior?" The other party asked in surprise: "Do you know a four-star warrior? As far as I know, there are no four-star warriors in the country for a long time, right?"

Lord Banks gritted his teeth and said: "Yes, one just came out this morning!"

The other party smiled, and said: "Four-star warriors are not easy to kill. If you want me to try, you can double the money to me."

The extremely depressed and extremely angry anger in Lord Banks's heart had long burned him in discomfort. Hearing this, he said without hesitation: "master Felix, money is not a problem, but you have to kill the Aurous Hill master first."

The other party hummed and said: "Don't worry, I will kill him first, and then I will talk to you about the four-star warrior."

After all, I directly hung up the phone to Convenience.

The master Felix mentioned by Lord Banks is a Chinese metaphysical master who he commissioned from the UK, whose full name is Felix M .

Huaxia has had a line of metaphysics since ancient times. Fengshui mysteries, Qigong insects, and even the Book of Changes, Bagua, and Qimen Dunjia belong to the line of metaphysics.

However, due to the vast land and resources of China, the customs, habits, and preferences of different regions are different, so metaphysics is generally more prosperous in the south.

In particular, Hong Kong has been the bridgehead for the development of metaphysics in the past two hundred years.

In Hong Kong, feng shui masters and metaphysical masters are not feudal superstitions believed by the poor.

On the contrary, the richer people are, the more obsessed Feng Shui metaphysics is.

There are many top wealthy people in Hong Kong who are worth over hundreds of billions or even over 100 billion U.S. dollars. These people, without exception, believe in metaphysics very much.

Not only the top wealthy believe that, even the stars in the entertainment circle are extremely fond of Feng Shui metaphysics.

In Xuanfeng, he started his career in Hong Kong and grew up to become the most famous master of metaphysics on Hong Kong Island, and even became the queen master of the Hong Kong Li family.

More than ten years ago, the Li family wanted to transfer funds and business to the UK, so they invited Felix to go to the UK. Felix didn't want to stay stuck on a small Hong Kong island, so he went to the UK and established his own clan.

In the past ten years of Felix in the UK, relying on the resources of the Li family, he has indeed made considerable progress. Not only did he make a lot of money, but he also recruited many disciples.

However, he did not expect that the Li family made major mistakes in strategic direction in recent years, so that while the wealth continued to shrink, the reputation was getting worse and worse, and it was likely to become a mouse on the street.

This led to Felix also being implicated.

He doesn't understand Feng Shui fortune, and he is good at Miao Jiang Gu technique and some insidious things that hurt others and self. After the Li family started to behave as a human being, he immediately drew a line with him, so that Felix's income in recent years has been straightforward. Decline, now it is helpless to run out to make money by myself.

This time, Lord Banks asked someone to find him, offered him a price of 100 million pounds, and asked him to come to Aurous Hill to kill someone. Felix had never used the insidious methods he had learned to harm people in his entire life, so faced with such a high reward, Naturally, without any hesitation, he just packed up and rushed over from England.

However, although this task was rewarded a lot, it was relatively tricky.

The most nonsense is that he still doesn't know who he is going to kill.

In the past, when he helped others to do things, they would directly tell him the information about the competitors he wanted to target.

For example, the other party's surname, birth date, where the ancestor is, and even where the ancestral tomb is, will be investigated first, and then he will start directly after he obtains the information.

This time, Lord Banks didn't know the specific clues of the mysterious master, so he could only ask Felix to come over and let him use his metaphysical methods to find the person first, and then kill him!
