

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 2879

Zayne was completely wilted.

Although he wanted to add another 100 million US dollars to Charlie to change himself at least a decent living condition, he now has not so much money to spend.

Father banks has a very close control over the financial power of the family. Although Zayne is the eldest son, he also has a lot of real estate and various assets, but he has not much money at his disposal.

The entire Banks Family's capital expenditure is basically through family credit, and money can be spent, but the money must be under the control of the family's financial system.

Lord Banks is not stingy, but has a strong desire for control. Even if he buys an airplane for hundreds of millions of dollars, he is not reluctant, but he must be known and approved before he can spend the funds.

Once the Banks Family dares to be behind If he spends a lot of money, or transfers the money from the family credit to his own small vault, he will inevitably be severely punished by the family.

In order to consolidate financial power, the family's financial team is completely at the mercy of Lord Banks alone. They will audit the capital expenditures of each Banks Family's heirs every once in a while.

The severity of this audit is comparable to investigating financial crimes. Therefore, none of the descendants of the Banks Family dared to spend money on the back of the old man.

Before Zayne bypassed the old man and paid Hunter (Hamid) US$100 million, it was a cut beforehand. If he did such an operation in peacetime, he would inevitably be severely punished by the old man.

So Zayne also knew very well that after the first time, he couldn't have the opportunity to repeat his tricks again.

Maybe the old man has stopped his family credit now, and besides he doesn't even have a phone call, it is impossible to get money to give Charlie, so there is no other way but forbearance at the moment.

After greeting Zayne, lili hurried away.

Leave Zayne alone in this dilapidated courtyard.

Syria is warm and rainy in winter, and when Zayne was at a loss, a heavy rain poured on his head.

He hurriedly hid in the room, seeing the rain getting worse and worse, making the entire yard muddy and desperate.

Although Syria's winter is relatively warm, when it rains, the temperature drops directly to about 10 degrees.

Coupled with the dampness and coldness, Zayne soon became a little unable to carry it, so he could only quickly spread the bedding and wrapped it in a blanket to listen to the sound of rain outside.

While feeling bored, Zayne subconsciously looked up at the wall and found that where the top of the wall was connected to the roof, many water marks had leaked out of nowhere.

Zayne hugged his legs and sighed and cursed inwardly: "It seems that this stupid house is not only dilapidated, but it is also damn water leaking. It's fine for water to seep. It's best not to F*cking rain..."

As soon as he finished speaking, his forehead suddenly felt cold.

It turned out that rainwater seeped from the roof, gathered into a drop of water, and dripped on his forehead.

Zayne touched his forehead, wet, and couldn't help crying and cursing: "F*ck! Really damn the rain leaking?! God, you're still endless?! Don't keep playing with me! Who can stand it?!"

Unfortunately, no one can hear his questioning.

Even if the soldier standing guard next door could hear it, he couldn't understand it at all.

At the same time, Zara, the eldest daughter of Zayne who was not hopeful, formulated a three-year plan for herself after a day and night of rest and thinking.

She has always remembered what Charlie said, letting herself become the Patriarch of the Banks Family within three years.

Although it sounded like a fantasy, she didn't want Charlie to look down upon herself.

Therefore, she decided to work hard for this goal starting from today.

And her first plan was to thoroughly announce to the public the news of her and her mother's safe return.

The reason for doing this is on the one hand to deter her grandfather Lord Banks, on the other hand, it is also for the safety of herself and her mother.

She was worried that Lord Banks would not let her mother go in the future, so she decided to make this matter a little bit more influential.

In this way, the attention of the people of the whole country will be attracted by this matter.

No one dares to risk the world's unrest under the attention of the people of the whole country.

Therefore, the bigger the trouble, the more passive grandpa will act in the future and the safer he and his mother will be.

So she found her grandfather and asked her to help contact the media. She was going to hold a press conference this evening about what happened to her and her mother in the Aurous Hill Tunnel.

The media, the police, and the people of the whole country have been waiting for the whereabouts of Zara and Deana's mother and daughter. Zara believes that as long as the news is released, this conference will surely arouse great attention.

To this end, she also contacted several popular video live broadcast platforms in China through friends.

This time, she intends to broadcast live directly online.

As a result, various media, websites, and news apps quickly received news. The thorn family announced that Deana and Zara, who had been missing for many days, had returned to Aurous Hill safely. More details will be held tonight. All people announced.

This news immediately swept the country!

Hundreds of millions of people have been following this case, and even many netizens have been discussing various possibilities about Zara and Deana on the Internet.

Among them, most people think that their mother and daughter must have been killed.

But a small number of people still believe that miracles will happen, thinking that God will take care of the poor mother and daughter.

Now, the event that everyone has been following for a long time has finally settled!

It turns out that Deana and Zara are really alive!

As a result, everyone began to look forward to the live broadcast of the evening conference.

Everyone wants to see with their own eyes, this mother and daughter are safe and sound!

The news that Zara was about to hold a press conference reached Lord Banks's ears, and it frightened him all of a sudden.

He guessed that Zara must hate him in his heart, so he could predict that he would definitely become a target at Zara's press conference.

Although his reputation has been messed up, he really doesn't want to be lashed by the people all over the country...

No matter how strong a person's mental endurance is, it is also limited.

If only a few people scold themselves occasionally, most people can resist.

But if dozens of people scold themselves all day long, quite a few people will feel a lot of pressure.

If tens of thousands, millions, or even tens of millions of people are overwhelmingly cursing, no matter how thick-skinned people are, they will not be able to withstand this pressure.

If resentment is also a kind of energy field, the resentment that Lord Banks carries is afraid that half of China can be enveloped in it.

Over time, this kind of torture has greatly consumed his fighting spirit, and made him develop a kind of: Go to your mother, I just go to the Maldives islands to take care of the old, no matter what his mother does. idea.

It's just that the desire for power in his heart is equally strong, so these two forces often compete in the bottom of his heart, which makes him quite a headache.

Today, Zara suddenly wanted to hold a press conference, which immediately made him anxious.

So, he called Fitz and asked, "Fitz, I will ask you, do you know what your sister is going to say at the press conference tonight?!"
