

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 2887-2888

Zara's guess of Fitz was indeed accurate.

The first thing Fitz did after returning to the room was to immediately report to Lord Banks what he had just talked to her.

When Lord Banks heard what Fitz said, Zara decided to accept legal sanctions at the press conference tonight, and his whole person suddenly felt extremely anxious.

He naturally has a way to protect himself from legal punishment, and what he is really worried about is that if she does this, he will never come back.

This is because as long as they have not broken the law, the people of the whole country will not easily forget this matter. In that way, as long as they are still in the public eye, the people will feel that they are a criminal who should go to jail.

In this way, no matter where he goes, he will be beaten like a rat in the street.

In terms of fame, I will never stand up.

Just when he didn't know how to stop Zara from condemning himself at the press conference, Fitz gave another message that made him jaw-dropping.

Fitz said: "I've explored Zara's tone. It seems that she might have an affair with that mysterious master. I think that mysterious master knew that Zara came to Aurous Hill, so she came here. Yes, this also explains why he was able to rescue Zara and my mother as soon as the incident happened!"

After hearing this, Lord Banks's entire palm was full of sweat.

He found that things have indeed been developing in the worst direction.

I was afraid that Zara and Deana would survive, but neither of them came back just like everyone else.

I was afraid that Zara was saved by the Japanese master of Chinese descent, and he was indeed the result;

I was afraid that there was a person behind Zara who had been supporting him, but I didn't expect that the two of them really seemed to have a love affair with their sons and daughters.

In this situation, the best solution Lord Banks can think of is to quickly repair the relationship with Zara.

Other than that, there seems to be no better choice.

If you can repair the relationship with Zara as soon as possible, you can temporarily stabilize Zara's emotions and behavior. Not only will the trouble of the press conference be saved, the threat of the mysterious master will also be much reduced.

In that case, you can also win more initiative.

Maybe you can let Zara put down your guard completely, so as to find out the specific information of the master through her, and then find a way to solve the master completely, and then find a chance to send Zara abroad under house arrest, and all crises will be eliminated. It can be lifted.

Thinking of this, Lord Banks made up his mind and said to Fitz: "I will call Zara immediately and see if I can persuade her."

Fitz hurriedly said: "Grandpa, if you want to call Zara at this time, doesn't she know that I have secretly withdrawn the money with you?"

Lord Banks said indifferently: "With Zara's cleverness, even if I don't call her, you suddenly go back and ask her about this, she should have already guessed it."

With that, Lord Banks sighed again and continued: "Maybe the reason why Zara told you this is to use your mouth to pass these words to me, and then come to negotiate terms with me."

Lord Banks still knows his granddaughter very well.

Zara was so smart when she was a child, she was definitely not comparable to her other grandchildren, and she couldn't really be led by Fitz.

Fitz felt his cheeks hot after hearing Grandpa say this.

Fitz knew that his younger sister was indeed smarter than himself, but the words of the old man did hurt his self-esteem somewhat.

At the same time, he couldn't help asking from the bottom of his heart: "Could it be that Zara is really borrowing my mouth to send a message to the old man?!"

Lord Banks didn't have the time to care about Fitz's mood at this time, and said: "If you do, let me call Zara."

After all, he hung up the phone and called Zara.
