

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade )

Chapter 2893

Lord Banks's painful cutting of the meat made Zara on the phone relieved.

The so-called press conference, the so-called result justice, and procedural justice, for her formerly, absolutely did not allow any moisture to be mixed in it.

But for her now, the main thing is that she can achieve the results she wants, and she can compromise.

And the result she really wanted was Bank's ocean shipping business.

Although this business is now in trouble because of what Lord Banks has done, Zara is confident that this business can be brought back to life.

Ocean shipping business has high profits and great potential, and it is definitely the most promising sunrise industry at the moment.

Moreover, the Elms family's business has been hit hard and cannot be revitalized. Now that the old man is looking for this business, the old man can still accept it through gritted teeth.

But if he asks him for those industries that are currently operating smoothly and are highly profitable, he may not be able to agree.

So, Zara said to Lord Banks: "Grandpa, since we have reached a consensus, please arrange for Bank's Butler to come over before dark, and try to sign the contract before the press conference."

Lord Banks had no other words, and immediately said: "I will let Bank's Butler go by helicopter now, and it will be over an hour soon!"

Zara said: "Okay, then I'll wait for him."

Lord Banks hung up the phone, his face was already dark to the extreme.

He couldn't help muttering to himself: "I know the fitz, I want you to know the joy of fish, but I didn't expect you to be the only one who is not satisfied! Grab me a little bit and want to bite me such a big thing. Piece of meat, you good granddaughter, you really make me admire!"

After that, he gritted his teeth hard, picked up the landline phone on the desk, pressed the quick dial, and said, to butler, come to my study!"

Half a minute later, Bank's Butler knocked on the door of the room by the way, pushed the door in, and asked respectfully: "Master, are you looking for me?"

Lord Banks said in a cold voice: "You bring my legal director, and then bring all the equity information of our shipping company, the company's articles of association and official seal, and go to Aurous Hill urgently."

Bank's Butler asked puzzledly: "Master, what do you want him to do with me and take these materials to Aurous Hill?"

Lord Banks gritted his teeth and said: "I want you to go to Aurous Hill and change the shipping company to Zara. From now on, the shipping company will be hers alone."

"Ah?!" Bank's Butlers's chin was almost astonished, and he blurted out: "Master, you...are you...are you kidding me?! For such a big shipping company, just give it away?!"

Lord Banks asked in return: "Otherwise? Zara is a good girl now! My reputation will be in her hands in the future, and if she really asks me to surrender in front of the people of the whole country, then how can I settle this matter? Matter? I don't want to think about turning over again in the future!"

"Besides, there is a mysterious master behind this girl. I am not sure now, whether I can kill him before he attacks me!"

Bank's Butler asked quickly: "Master, the British Master has arrived in Aurous Hill, right? Is there any progress on his side?"

"Not yet." Lord Banks said: "Although Aurous Hill is a small city, it has a population of nearly 10 million. It is as difficult as climbing to the sky to find someone, so we still have to give him some time!"

Bank's Butler said quickly: "Master! In my opinion, you might as well call Lord Elms (Wilfred) yourself. This old thing is now a four-star warrior. If you can convince him and let him protect you personally, your safety will be guaranteed. Greater protection, and there is no need to worry that the expert will come to trouble you!"

Lord Banks sighed: "Lord Elms (Wilfred) didn't leave any leeway before. I think he is determined to draw a clear line with us. Asking him now will probably be useless."

After that, Lord Banks said again: "Even if Lord Elms (Wilfred) still has a chance, it will never be possible to find a breakthrough in a short while, so you should go to Aurous Hill first, first give the shipping company to Zara and stabilize her. Go through today's hurdle safely."

Bank's Butler nodded, and said respectfully: "Good lord, I am ready to set off now!"
