

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 2908

their overall strength will far exceed those of martial arts, so this time, I plan to integrate the two together so that the Elms family can use martial arts to help you and Don Albert's men to improve their own abilities and melee strength, and then match them with hot weapons. In this way, the overall strength will be even greater. balanced."

Charlie said, "In addition, Isaac, your subordinates who have undergone special forces training should in turn help the Elms family familiarize themselves with thermal weapons and other advanced technologies. This is their shortcoming. Without improvement, the overall combat effectiveness will still be greatly limited."

Immediately afterwards, Charlie sighed: "When I went to Japan before, I also fought against Japanese ninjas."

"Some Japanese ninjas are similar to Chinese warriors. They are still in the era of physical combat and cold weapon attacks. However, there are also a group of Japanese ninjas that can keep up with the times and incorporate a lot of modern technology."

"One thing that impressed me is that their paragliders made of ultra-black paint and a propulsion fan with a silent lithium battery fly fast in the sky at night. Not only are they fast, ordinary people on the ground can't detect it. This is the organic combination of traditional ninjas and modern technology. I think this is an idea worth learning from."

Isaac Cameron nodded immediately and said excitedly: "Master, I understand what you mean, that is, both parties must work together to fill each other's shortcomings."

"Yes." Charlie said seriously: "You two, you must choose your most trusted subordinates and let them practice martial arts with the Elms family. I will regularly give them some blood relief pills to help them quickly improve their strength. ."

The Blood Rescue Heart Pill was not worth mentioning to Charlie, but for ordinary people and martial arts practitioners, the improvement effect was very obvious.

Charlie plans to select 40 or 50 people with potential and trust from Isaac Cameron and Don Albert's men, and let them practice martial arts, and then use some blood relief pills for them. Improve physical fitness and strength.

For four to fifty people, there is no need for a blood-saving heart-saving pill each time.

It only needs to dissolve four or five blood-saving heart-saving pills in the water, and let them take it evenly to have a good effect.

In this way, every once in a while, they will use the Blood Rescue Pill to gradually help them improve. I believe that within a year or a half, they will be able to reach the level of a two-star warrior or even a three-star warrior.

If you really have 40 or 50 three-star warriors under your hand, it is definitely a force that cannot be underestimated. Pulling to Japan, you can easily wipe out a ninja family.

Moreover, there is Xion next to him. Now Xion is already the best among the three-star warriors. If she helps her again, she will soon become a four-star warrior like Lord Elms (Wilfred).

Even in the near future, Charlie will be able to make Xion overtake Lord Elms (Wilfred) and become the only five-star warrior in the country.

In this way, he would hand over the newly trained team and the warriors sent by the Elms family to Xion to be under the unified command. With Xion's abilities, he would definitely be able to maximize the capabilities of these people.

Charlie was accustomed to fighting alone before, but after experiencing so many things and getting to know Hamid, he realized that no matter how strong the ability to fight alone, there are times when he can't do it alone.

So, now is the best opportunity to completely change your mind!

At that time, not only will Japan be shocked, but even if it is deployed to Europe and America from a long distance, the combat effectiveness will be no problem!

The Rothschild family is indeed very powerful. It has countless hidden assets and private weapons all over the world. However, if they are given dozens of three-star warriors who are good at using thermal weapons, it is probably the Rothschild family. Can not afford!

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 2908