

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 2957-2958

With Mike's support, Mai hurried back to the room.

At this time, the room was in a mess.

Both he and Mike's suitcases were opened and searched, and the Feng Shui compass was wrapped in silk and satin and placed in the suitcase.

And part of the RMB exchanged by him and Mike when they came to China, as well as some emergency U.S. dollars, were not lost in the box.

Mai was very nervous, and blurted out to Mike: "I didn't lose money, and I didn't lose other things. Just lost the compass..."

Although Mike is not good at learning arts, he also knows that the compass is a treasure of the Mai family. It is said that from the first generation of ancestors who engaged in Feng Shui metaphysics in the Mai family, it has been passed down to today.

Let alone how much this thing can be worth, the meaning of this inheritance alone cannot be measured by money.

More importantly, this feng shui compass is continuously blessed by the ancestors of the past dynasties. It can already be called a magical instrument. Use it to check Feng Shui, divide gold and fix acupoints, and the accuracy is much higher than that of ordinary compasses!

The descendants of the Mai family have relied on this compass to aspire to the masters of Feng Shui. If this compass is lost, the ability of the Mai family to watch Feng Shui will be greatly reduced in the future.

So he hurriedly said to Mai: "Grandpa, let's call the police!"

Mai nodded repeatedly and blurted out: "Yes, call the police! Hurry up!"

At this moment, Isaac Cameron stepped in and said: "Don't be too nervous, two of you, I have already reported to the police."

The grandfather and grandson turned their heads to look at the visitor, and saw that the other party was dressed in a suit and leather shoes. He looked like a different person. So Mai asked, "This gentleman, I wonder if you are?"

Isaac Cameron hurriedly said: "Oh, I forgot to introduce. My self, Isaac Cameron, is the general manager of the Shangri-La Hotel."

As he said, he said with a look of ashamedness: "I, as the manager of the hotel, are extremely sorry and ashamed when such a thing happened. When I learned that there was a burglary, I rushed over as soon as possible, and I came here. People have already called the police on the road, and I believe the police will be there soon.”

When Mike heard that Isaac Cameron had called the police, he gave up the idea of calling the police.

At this time. Mai asked with some irritation: “Mr. isaac, your Shangri-La is a world-renowned hotel chain, and I have not stayed in your hotels all over the world once or twice!”

“In the past, no matter what Shangri-La hotel I stayed in, the security and service were very well done. There has never been a case of losing something. Even the waiter’s tip is unconventional. They only take the cash on the bed. Others No cash will move anywhere!”

“But, it’s your hotel alone. A bad incident of burglary will happen! And I have stolen my most valuable family heirloom! It’s too much!”

Isaac Cameron smiled awkwardly and hurriedly apologized: “Oh, Mr. Mai, I’m really very sorry. I am also surprised that such a thing will happen in our hotel. To be honest, this is the first time since our hotel opened...”

Talking. He couldn’t help asking: “Mr. Mai, I wonder if your family heirloom treasure is very valuable? Could someone stare at your family heirloom treasure to steal it?”

Isaac Cameron’s kick immediately kicked the ball to Mai’s feet.

This is exactly what Charlie taught him.

In Charlie’s words, this trick is called “returning troubles.”

You come to question me? Okay, then I will directly question you in reverse.

You accuse me of poor security here, and I will say vaguely that you may have been targeted by others. As for who is eyeing you, you have a ghost in your heart and think about it yourself.

And the interesting thing is that even went into Mai’s room and stole something. It was Isaac Cameron who showed Charlie live video on his mobile phone, and Charlie chose the compass.
