

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3009-3010

After the exposure from the Banks Family, Charlie didn't worry about him. After all, Zayne and James were in his own hands, and Felix was killed by himself. If the Banks Family wanted to deal with themselves, they had no killer moves, and they didn't need to worry at all.

And what he was really worried about was Zara.

Once she cooperates with herself, Lord Banks will definitely be very angry, and maybe he will be angry at Zara by then.

After all, the Banks Family and the Wade family have feuds, and they are each other's biggest rivals. If Zara cooperates with him, then in the eyes of Lord Banks, it is tantamount to betraying the Banks Family and throwing himself into the enemy camp.

Although Charlie also wanted to find a shortcut for his own business, this shortcut should not be based on putting Zara in a dangerous situation.

To put it bluntly, in that case, I might harm her.

So, he waved his hand and said to Jasmine, who didn't know the truth, "Although I know Zara, after all, my business hasn't improved at all. At this time, going to her for cooperation is equivalent to an empty glove white wolf. At that time, it is likely to give others a feeling, as if I am threatening to save others and forcing them to cooperate with me. This is a bit of moral kidnapping."

After listening to Jasmine, she nodded softly in understanding.

She knew that Charlie was a person and would never use it as a bargaining chip to negotiate terms with each other just because she had saved others.

Asking Charlie to do such a thing does not fit his character.

However, Doris Young knew the identity of Charlie's young master, and therefore guessed Charlie's true thoughts.

So she said with some emotion: "I heard that Lord Banks, the Patriarch of the Banks Family, is sinister and despicable. For the so-called honor of the family, she can plan and kill her own daughter-in-law and granddaughter. I think that Lord Banks will never sit back and wait for such a large amount of business, and maybe he will start Zara when the limelight of Zara passes."

Speaking of this, she said seriously: "After all, there have been real cases of guilty crimes since ancient times. Zara, a weak girl with such a large piece of business in her hands, is equivalent to a five-year-old. My child, holding millions of cash, went out for a walk in the dead of night. I don't think she can keep it at all. Maybe she will be affected by it."

Doris Young's words made Charlie a little worried.

He knew that what Doris Young said was true, and Lord Banks at the moment was only subject to Zara, so he chose to sacrifice one of his legs to settle things down.

However, as the limelight of this incident gradually passed, Lord Banks, who had lost the leg of ocean shipping, would only feel more and more uncomfortable, and it was more and more likely that this leg could grow back.

By then, Zara will definitely face great danger.

Looking at it this way, cooperating with Zara might not have harmed her. To some extent, it might still be protecting her.

Thinking of this, he said very solemnly: "In this way, sara is still advancing according to the original plan. After all, whether we cooperate with Zara or not, we must first do the company registration, license application and resource integration work. Otherwise, even if we get Zara's resources, we won't be able to use it."

"As for whether Zara can cooperate, I will find a chance to chat with her!"
