

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3011-3012

At this moment, Zara is also worrying about the next ocean shipping business.

Although this piece of cake is very large, it is in a state where it cannot be eaten in the stomach while holding it in the hand.

After all, the entire business of the Banks Family has been blocked, and he hasn't been able to run these resources for the time being.

In fact, she really wanted to meet Charlie, tell Charlie about this, and then strive to cooperate with Charlie and revitalize these resources.

However, she was also worried that Charlie would be disgusted with herself and the Banks Family. After all, her father, and even her family, had been against the Wade family for a long time, and might even be inseparable from the death of his parents.

Therefore, she has no plans for her next step at the moment.

Fortunately, the Ocean Shipping Group has just changed to his own name, and Zara feels that he has at least some time to make long-term plans.

And at this moment, Lord Banks had already given his brother an order, asking find a way to find out how she was going to operate the Banks Family ocean transportation group.

What Lord Banks fears most is that Zara strikes the iron while it is hot and directly sells the assets of the entire ocean shipping group.

If this is the case, then I really can't make it back.

After all, the group is now under the name of Zara, and all resources and property are at her disposal. If she splits and sells the group, no one is qualified to stop it.

Although the Banks Family was restricted from continuing to operate this business, they were not restricted from selling their assets. Therefore, once Zara turns the ocean shipping group into money and deposits it in her own account, even Lord Banks has a day. It is impossible for those with great ability to take back the money, and then redeem the entire ocean shipping group that was sold.

Precisely because Fitz got the order from the old man, he surrounded Zara early in the morning, doing everything possible to inquire about Zara's next plan.

He even proposed that he could temporarily stop a few pieces of business in his hands, and then try his best to help Zara run the ocean transportation group.

In his words, Zara is his younger sister. Now that this business has been brought in, whether it is a blessing or a curse, the brother himself must stand up and help his younger sister bear it.

Grandpa's family admired Fitz's attitude very much. He felt that he was going to stand behind his sister at all costs, but only Zara understood in his heart that all the things his brother said were not sentimental at all. Sincerely, but intended to test.

Her brother's deliberation also made her feel very disgusted and anxious deep in her heart.

Now she is afraid that she really can't protect this piece of business that she has finally taken back.

Therefore, I wanted to see Charlie even more urgently.

She wanted to have a chat with Charlie, and asked if Charlie had any good suggestions.

However, she didn't know whether Charlie wanted to see herself.

After thinking about it, she still plucked up the courage and asked Charlie on WeChat: "mr wade, do you have time to meet with me?"

Charlie suddenly received Zara's WeChat and couldn't help being a little surprised. Although he didn't know why Zara wanted to see him, he felt that it should be related to the Ocean Shipping Group.

So Charlie replied: "How about this afternoon?"

Zara hurriedly said, "No problem! I don't know where more convenient to meet?"

Charlie thought for a while, then said: "Go to Shangri-La. I will give you the contact information. If you contact Ito Yohiko of the Ito family, you will say that you are going to visit him at Shangri-La. Then you will go directly to his suite, and I will be there. Meet you there."

Charlie felt that the current Zara must be closely monitored by the Banks Family. If he meets her outside, there is a high probability that he will not be able to avoid Lord Banks's eyes and ears.

Therefore, it is better to let Zara come directly to Shangri-La.

If it hadn't been for Ito Yuihiko who happened to live in Shangri-La, Zara's arrival in the industry of the leaf family of Shangri-La would definitely arouse Lord Banks's vigilance.

However, because Ito Yuhiko is here, it is completely reasonable for Zara to see Ito Yuhiko, and Lord Banks will certainly not doubt it.

After all, Zara is now looking for an export for her ocean shipping group. It is natural and logical to go to Ito Yuhiko to talk about cooperation.

The more logical it is, the easier it is for Lord Banks to relax his vigilance.

Moreover, Shangri-La is Isaac Cameron's site, and Lord Banks's eyeliner will never get in. So it is impossible for Lord Banks to know who Zara came to Shangri-La.
