

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3037-3038

Lord Banks said seriously: "Zara, it is not that our Banks Family has never engaged in a joint venture with others, but the premise of the joint venture is that we have absolute controlling shares. This is actually very important. We must hold the initiative in our hands. Now that Ito Yihiko wants to control, then we have to leave a way for ourselves, otherwise, if everything is led by others, it would be too passive!"

Zara banks heard this and said in a serious tone: "This is not the same as yours. If I want to leave a complete divestment right now, the Ito family will definitely make the same request. If the other party hasn't It's okay to do it, but if the other party sweeps us out before we solve the problem, what should we do? Not everyone has to do things in our mindset."

Speaking of this, Zara banks said again: "In addition, since you have paid me the Ocean Shipping Group as compensation, I also hope that you can abide by your promises and respect my operational decisions."

Immediately, Zara banks changed his conversation and said, "Of course, I will honor my promise to you. After talking with Mr. Ito for a while, I will immediately communicate with My who save my life and try to persuade him."

Lord Banks could only say angrily: "Okay! That being the case, I will never interfere with your operational decisions in the future!"

Before hanging up the phone, Zara banks reminded: "By the way, things in Maldives are easy to do. Or I will go there tomorrow. It should only take seven hours to fly by. If it is more efficient, it will take one day. The transfer will be completed."

Lord Banks on the other end of the phone rubbed his chest and said dejectedly: "Okay, tomorrow I will let Bank's Butler fly to the Maldives too!"

After hanging up the phone, Lord Banks was relieved, but his expression was still very ugly.

The islands in the Maldives, but he used it to be polite, but he didn't expect Zara banks to accept all orders, and he couldn't wait to complete the transfer, which made him feel very painful.

This is the old-age place he prepared for himself, and its significance is no less than the heavy coffin that the ancient old man prepared for himself in advance.

The ancients said that the coffin was originally meant to be a set of expensive and heavy coffins before death. Many old people regard the coffin as more important than life, because after death they have to sleep in the coffin, which is not a last resort. Give it a hand.

Although modern people don't think so much about what's going on behind them, they still pay special attention to old-age care. Everyone wants to be able to take care of them when they are old. That's why so many people are desperately going to the South to buy properties and prepare for the future. .

The same is true for Lord Banks. He has painstakingly developed an island in order to enjoy the most luxurious old-age life there in the future.

But right now, he hasn't retired yet, so the island has already been handed over to Zara banks.

Although distressed, he felt a little relieved when he thought that Zara banks might be able to help make peace and let himself escape for his life without worrying about it.

On the other hand, Zara banks was not excited about getting the island.

For her, she just wanted to make Lord Banks hurt. As for the transfer of the island to herself, she didn't bother to enjoy it.

And she knew very well that her mother was even more unlikely to go.

Mother herself doesn't catch a cold for these luxurious enjoyments, so at the moment her biggest wish is not to go to some holiday resort to relax, but to renovate the old house where Bruce lived as soon as possible, and then live in that small courtyard to see things. Thinking of people.

So she said to Charlie: "Master Wade, the island in the Maldives was built by my grandfather with great effort. The environment is indeed very good, but my mother and I are not very interested, or I will borrow flowers to present the Buddha. , Give it to you."

Charlie waved his hand and smiled: "You are not interested, and I am not interested. For me, where I live, there is actually no essential difference."

Zara banks said against his will: "If you have time, you can also take your wife and family to relax, otherwise the island will be idle."

Charlie smiled and said, "I understand my good intentions. As for going or not, let's talk about it later."

Zara banks nodded, and said: "Then I will go to the Maldives tomorrow to complete the transfer of ownership, and then I will complete the establishment of the joint venture company with you."

Charlie said: "Okay, this is not in a hurry for these two days. After all, there is still a lot of preparatory work. Looking back, I will ask the person in charge of this business on my side to contact you. In the future, the two of you will cooperate and operate this together. Block business."

"Okay!" Zara banks hurriedly said, "Zara will let you arrange everything."

After talking with Zara banks, Charlie asked Ito Emi to send her out of Shangri-La, while Charlie himself and Isaac Cameron went to his office.
