

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3045-3046

At this moment, Zara banks has left Shangri-La and came to the old house photographed by his mother Deana.

Deana has contacted a local decoration company and plans to renovate this old house. She is also looking forward to moving in for a few days after the renovation is completed as soon as possible, so she is very concerned about this matter.

When Zara banks arrived in front of the old house yard, Deana was in the yard, happily telling a designer about his renovation plan.

Zara banks separated the fence door, and saw her mother look happy, and she felt very relieved in her heart.

She knew that now, her mother really wanted to live for herself.

It's not just mom.

She felt that from now on, she should also live for herself, no longer suffer any fetters from the Banks Family, and strive to live the way she hopes.

Deana was explaining the design direction he wanted to the designer, and suddenly caught a glimpse of his daughter standing at the gate of the courtyard. In surprise, he hurriedly waved at her and said, "Know the Zara, come here!"

Zara banks smiled and opened the door and asked Deana: "Mom, have you thought about how to decorate it?"

Deana nodded, pointed to the young female designer next to her, and said happily: "I have almost communicated. The decoration idea is mainly nostalgic. Mom still hopes to have a sense of time."

Zara banks said with a smile: "Then use modern materials and techniques to construct in the style of twenty years ago. Now the materials and techniques have been greatly improved, so that quality, environmental protection and comfort can also be ensured. S*x these."

The female designer on the side nodded repeatedly and said: "You are right, our general idea now is to use modern materials and craftsmanship to make nostalgic and retro styles, and then try to make this old house more comfortable and livable."

After speaking, the female designer said again: "By the way, Aunt Deana, your specific design plan has to wait for our boss to come up with a set of detailed design drawings, especially some functional parts, and let our boss think The way to do concealment works, you want this retro style, so self-heating, central air-conditioning, fresh air system and wireless network, we have to make it as concealed as possible, otherwise it will appear very abrupt."

Deana smiled and said: "By the way, your boss told me about it that day, saying that you can replace the current wooden beams with metal structures and then paint them with wood. This way, it looks like wood. There is no difference between the house beams, and the metal structure can also be used to exit the air ducts, and then make the air outlets the same color as the house beams. As for the fresh air system, the ground air supply is used, and the air outlets are hidden in the skirting. I think this plan is pretty reliable. Please tell your boss and help me refine the specific plan. It is best to make a rendering for me."

The female designer said without hesitation: "Good Aunt Deana, I will tell our boss when I go back, and try to make these projects concealed."

After speaking, she asked again: "By the way, Aunt Deana, are you really not going to harden the ground of the yard? Now this kind of muddy ground is hard to manage when it rains."

Deana waved his hand: "Except for the roads in and out, I still don't harden it. When the spring starts, I will sprinkle some grass seeds. When the lawn grows, it must be very beautiful."

After that, she asked again: "By the way, are you a native of Aurous Hill?"

The other party nodded and said, "Yes, Aunt Deana, my home is only a few kilometers away."

Deana pointed to the wall of the house and the withered creeper on the fence of the courtyard, and asked: "Do you think these creepers can grow in spring? This house has been idle for a long time. I really don't know about these creepers. The wall tiger is dead or alive."

The female designer smiled and said: "Aunt Deana, Wall Climbing Tiger is very vigorous here. Regardless of the cold weather, it seems to be a dead branch and rotten leaves, but new buds will grow in the spring. When the time comes, the front wall can be fully covered. This kind of old red brick house with green wall creeper is very beautiful!"

After a pause, the female designer said again: "Moreover, if there is a wall climbing tiger, the effect of heat insulation and sun protection is particularly good. In summer, the temperature in the house can drop a few degrees."

At this time, Deana seemed to have seen the lush look of the wall-mounted creeper, and said with excitement, "That's great! By then, the grass in the yard will also be a large piece of green, matched with the red brick walls in the yard. , Qingshi Road, and the wall of creeping tigers all over the wall, think about it, you know it must be very beautiful!"

The female designer nodded and said, "The bluestone road in your yard will grow moss after the rain in summer. That way, it will be more beautiful, but you must be careful when you walk and be careful of slipping."

After speaking, the female designer checked the time and said: "Aunt Deana, I know all your needs, or I will go back and communicate with our boss first, and give you the design plan as soon as possible. Strive to allow you to live in in the summer."

"No problem." Deana said with a smile: "That's really hard work, If you have any progress, please call me at any time."

"Okay." The female designer nodded and said: "Then I will leave Aunt Deana first."

"I send you!"

Deana sent the female designer to the door, and then turned back.

Seeing that Zara banks was looking at the yard with a look of longing, he couldn't help asking: "Zara, what are you looking at?"

Zara banks couldn't hide his yearning and said, "Mom, you can also leave a room for me when the time comes. I want to live here with you too!"

Deana smiled and said, "It's okay to stay in the room, but don't forget, Harvard Business School will open in August. Didn't you plan to leave in May before?"

Zara banks's expression suddenly hesitated.

She hesitated and struggled for a moment, then gathered up the courage and said seriously: "Mom, I have already considered carefully and don't plan to go to Harvard."

Deana didn't seem surprised by her decision, and asked calmly, "Did you think about it?"

"Think clearly!" Zara banks nodded and said firmly: "I went to meet with Charlie today and have decided to cooperate with him in the ocean transportation business. Then I will package and integrate the entire ocean transportation group. Hold 49% of the shares and be the second shareholder."

Deana slightly nodded and said, "Charlie's character and ability can be trusted. You can give him all the resources in your hand to operate, and you can finish your studies by yourself."

Zara banks shook his head and said: "My benevolence is also just starting to work in this field. It is when there is a shortage of people. If I go to school at this time, wouldn't I be able to help him? So I still want to stay and follow The person in charge over there worked together to manage this business well."

Deana looked at her daughter, smiled knowingly, and said, "After all this, you actually want to stay because of Charlie?"

Zara banks didn't expect that after she had packed so much and explained so much, she would still be seen through by her mother.

So, she didn't hide it anymore, and nodded gently.

Deana sighed, touched her hand, and said seriously: "Mom has tasted regrets and unwillingnesses, so no matter whether the result is good or bad, now that you have decided, just let it go! Anyway, mom. All support you!"
