

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3047-3048

Zara banks was in a good mood when she heard her mother's words. She took her mother's arm and said with excitement, "Mom, Charlie called grandpa in front of me today and said on the phone that he was going to find him. Afterwards, it scared him out of look..."

"Really?" Deana couldn't help asking: "Charlie is really going to find your grandfather to settle the accounts?"

"That's not true." Zara banks explained: "Charlie thinks, now go to grandpa to settle the account. There is no practical benefit to him. Instead, it makes my uncles, aunts, and the Wade family cheaper."

"Yes." Deana said in agreement: "So many people in the Banks Family are looking forward to your grandfather's accident more than Charlie. If Charlie really does anything to him, the other Banks Family members will wake up with laughter if they are dreaming."

Zara banks smiled and said: "So my benefactor said that he just gave a false shot, scared grandpa, and then asked grandpa to ask me for help. He just hung up the phone, and grandpa called me. It was really unexpected. Things are like gods."

Deana counted and nodded. With a soft smile: "In fact, this is not a singular thing. Charlie blocked the other roads. He only left him your exit. It was like a barrier lake. Where did he leave a hole? , The water will naturally flow there."

After that, Deana said again: "Charlie is helping you again. Your grandfather is so threatened by him, I am afraid that he can only ask you to help save his life, and he will not dare to think badly about you in the future."

"Yes." Zara banks said with a smile: "Moreover, in order to flatter me, he also offered to give me the island of Maldives, the one he kept for his retirement."

"Oh!" Deana said in surprise: "That's really good for him, don't you really want it?"

Zara banks earnestly said: "He wants to give it to me, of course I have to, I have to tell him, I will fly to the Maldives tomorrow, and Banks ( Butler )will transfer the property rights to me in the Maldives."

Deana couldn't help sighing, "It's useless if you want that island. It's better to leave it to him for retirement. The older you are, the more you value the place for retirement. This is not a simple matter of investing more than two billion yuan. My son, it was his thought. I guess he was polite to you, but I didn't expect you to really want it."

Zara banks snorted and said with a bit of anger, "Then I don't care, he will hold it if he gives it to me. I don't care if he is sincere."

"You kid..." Deana sighed and said seriously: "You have to be forgiving and forgiving, not to mention that he is your grandfather after all."

Zara banks shook his head and said, "I am not as generous as you. I can at best not hold him accountable for what he did, but I will never forgive him."

Deana shook his head helplessly, and asked her: "You want the island to be of no practical use. Even if you go on vacation, it will be over for ten days a year."

Zara banks said: "I don't want to go for a day. Let's keep it, if there is any use in the future?"

"Okay." Deana smiled and joked: "Or it can be reserved for your future dowry, by the way, it can also be used as a wedding venue. Many celebrities and wealthy people are popular to go to the Maldives to book a wedding on an island, right??"

Zara banks blushed pretty face. She replied shyly: "I don't know what year or month it was. Anyway, I want this island. Even if I don't use it, I'm happy to leave it there."

"Good, good." Deana nodded and said: "You have decided, Mom will not interfere."

Zara banks smiled sweetly and asked her: "Mom, then you will go to the Maldives with me tomorrow? Let's fly there early in the morning and it will be there in seven or eight hours. It is estimated that the formalities will take up to two hours and then fly back. In this way, you can arrive at night."

After that, Zara banks said again: "And we don't take civil aviation, just arrange a business jet to sleep all the way."

Deana smiled slightly and said, "I won't go. I don't want to meet the Banks Family, even Banks (Butler) doesn't want to see it. Would you like your brother to accompany you?"

"My brother?" Zara banks curled his lips: "I'm still not looking for him. If you don't want to go, I'll go by myself."

"What's wrong?" Deana asked curiously: "A conflict with your brother?"

Zara banks hesitated for a moment and shook his head.

She didn't want to tell her mother that her brother had already completely fallen to his grandfather. After all, this was only her own speculation, and everyone had their own ambitions. It was understandable that her brother had fallen to his grandfather.

So, she explained: "Stefanie Sun's concert will start in a few days. Brother is busy these two days."

Deana nodded slightly, and said, "Your brother seems to have a real feeling for Stefanie Sun."

"Yes." Zara banks said: "He has liked Stefanie Sun for a long time, and he has been looking for opportunities to close his relationship and take the opportunity to confess."

Deana sighed. Said: "The girl from the Sun family is indeed very good, but..."

Zara banks asked curiously: "Just what?"

Deana paused and said with emotion: "It's just that the Sun family and the Banks Family have not dealt with each other. I think it is impossible for Mr. sun to let her daughter marry the Banks Family."

Zara banks said: "If my elder brother is in love with her, and the two are happy, then Uncle Sun should not be able to stop it? After all, freedom of love and freedom of marriage are now advocated."

Deana smiled bitterly: "The girl from the Sun family probably won't like your brother."

Zara banks asked puzzledly: "Mom, in your eyes. Is my brother's competitiveness so poor?"

Deana explained: "It's not that your brother's competitiveness is poor, but that Charlie's competitiveness is too strong."

"Charlie?!" Zara banks asked in surprise: "What does this have to do with him?"

Deana said: "Charlie and Stefanie Sun had a long-term marriage contract. Before Charlie had been missing for so long, the Sun family did not give up looking for him. Now it has been confirmed that Charlie is still alive and is still so good. How could the Sun family let go??"

Zara banks couldn't help but blurt out: "But Charlie has been married a long time ago! Don't the Sun family know?"

Deana looked at her and asked helplessly: "You also know that Charlie is married, but are you willing to let it go?"

Zara banks was speechless.

Deana continued: "Look, you are the daughter of Charlie's enemy. Speaking of it, there is a natural gap between you and Charlie, but even so, you are unwilling to let go. The Sun family and Charlie's parents are family friends, and the daughter and Charlie has a marriage contract and already has such a close foundation, it is even more impossible for others to let go."

Zara banks was silent for a moment, and suddenly exclaimed: "I understand! I finally understand!"

Deana asked curiously: "What do you understand?"

Zara banks said with a face full of enlightenment: "I finally understand why Stefanie Sun is such a big star, the first concert of this year's tour is scheduled to be in the second-tier city of Aurous Hill !"

"Before my brother and I were very surprised. According to common sense, she must first start in a few first-tier cities and then go to second-tier cities when a big star like her is on tour!"

“Furthermore, she is a native of Eastcliff. It is the best choice to start her first concert directly at the biggest Olympic venue in front of her house. There is absolutely no reason to stay close, zoom in, and run thousands of kilometers to open the first concert in Aurous Hill ...”

“The reason she chose to come to Aurous Hill must be because of Charlie!”
