

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3116-3117

Hearing that Claire had new customers again, Charlie didn't think much about it.

Claire's company has two business lines, one of which is decoration design and the other is decoration undertaking.

Among them, decoration design is Claire's main business, because she is good at design.

As for the decoration business, she is more of a supervisor, and the specific work must be outsourced to the decoration company.

At present, the design work of the Emgrand Group has been completed long ago, the actual decoration has been carried out in an orderly manner, and is gradually on the right track, so Claire and part of the energy of the employees have been released and began to look for other projects.

After breakfast, the couple drove out of the house together, and Charlie drove Claire to the old city.

After the car drove a certain distance, Charlie said to Claire: "My wife, tell me the detailed address you are going to. I will open a navigation system, and I can also check the traffic information by the way."

Claire opened the mouth and said: "I really don't know the specific house number, but I know it is near the Catholic Church in the old city, or you can drive there first."

Charlie couldn't help being a little surprised when he heard this.

This is because the old house where he lived with his parents when he was a child happened to be very close to the church in the old city.

He couldn't help but wondered: "Whether his wife's new client is Zara banks's mother, Aunt Deana, right?"

Thinking of this, Charlie felt like he was thinking too much.

Due to the large number of historical buildings in the old city, many old houses are not allowed to be demolished and turned over, but there are still a large number of citizens living there, so Claire's client shouldn't be Deana, right?

At a certain moment, Charlie also thought about asking his wife vaguely, such as her new client's last name, but he gave it up after thinking about it.

When he drove the car to the Catholic Church in the old city, Charlie turned left under Claire's instructions. Seeing that he was getting closer and closer to the old house where he lived in childhood, Charlie felt more and more uncomfortable. Premonition.

Sure enough, when the car drove to the alley of the old house, Claire pointed to the old house clearly and said, "My husband, my client is that house. Just park the car at the door. "

Charlie sighed inwardly: "This really deserves to come and I can't hide it."

Immediately, he pretended to ask Claire casually: "My wife, I have something to do later, do you need me to wait for you here?"

"No need." Claire hurriedly said: "If you have anything to do with you, I guess it will be all morning on my side. After this is done, I will take a taxi to the hotel of the Emgrand Group by myself. In the evening you go. Pick me up there."

"Okay." Charlie breathed a sigh of relief.

What he thinks now is that it is best not to meet Deana and Zara banks mother and daughter under this situation.

So, he parked the car slowly at the door of the old house, ready to wait for Claire to get out of the car, and then leave quickly.

However, what is afraid of.

As soon as he stopped the car, a black Mercedes car stopped behind his car.

The driver was a middle-aged male. After he got out of the car, he immediately opened the two rear doors, and Zara banks and his mother Deana walked down from left to right.

At this time, Claire also pushed the door and got out of the car.

The mother and daughter just saw Claire from behind, so Deana shouted in surprise: "Manager Claire!"

Claire hurriedly turned around, saw Deana, hurriedly smiled and said, "Hello, miss deana!"

Deana smiled and said, "Why Manager Claire came so early?"

Claire said hurriedly and politely: "Auntie, we still have a lot of refurbishment this time, so I will come over early to confirm with you in detail."

Deana nodded, pointed at Zara banks next to him, and said to Claire: "Manager Claire, let me introduce to you, this is my daughter, Zara banks."

After all, she said to Zara banks: "Zara, this is the owner of the design studio I told you, Claire."

Zara banks nodded slightly, and said politely: "Hello, Manager Claire!"

Claire hurriedly said, "Don't call me Manager Claire, just call me Claire."

After that, she saw Deana introduced her daughter to herself, so she was polite and naturally had to introduce her husband, so she hurriedly turned sideways and said to Charlie in the car: "Husband, Come down and say hello to Aunt and Miss banks."

In fact, Charlie sat in the car and saw Deana and Zara banks behind him through the rearview mirror of the car.

Just when he was thinking about driving away quickly, he didn't expect his wife Claire to let himself go down and say hello to them.

In this situation, it is definitely impossible for him to leave directly with the accelerator pedal.

So he had to bite the bullet and got out of the car.

As soon as Charlie got out of the car, he was recognized by Zara banks with excellent eyesight.

Just as Zara banks's eyes widened and he blurted out a word of kindness, Deana was also astonished. He never expected that the designer he was cooperating with was actually Charlie's wife.
